London that sorrowed last week in the news of the death in action of Lieut.-Col. H. C. Becher on June 15, is beginning to feel the effects of the aftermath of that great engagement that exacted such a toll of death from the finest battalion of the first contingent—the 1st or Western Ontario Battalion—of the 1st Infantry Brigade.

Today the grim messages from the Militia Department at Ottawa were received in four London homes notifying the next of kin of the wounding of some loved one. No dates are given, but presumably the engagement in which they fell is the same as that in which Lieut.-Col. Becher and so many officers lost their lives.

In another London home came the news of the serious illness of a son, a son who left with the brave boys of the first contingent, and who contracted lung trouble while serving King and country in the trenches.

Stratford, too, and other Western Ontario cities and towns are today receiving their quotas of these grim official messages that tell of the losses of the gallant fighting first. More are expected momentarily almost, for the survivors have already told of the terrific decimations of their ranks made during the past month.

WIFE OF PTE. KINSELLA ALREADY IN ENGLAND.

Pte. Jas. Kinsella lived in London at 129 Duchess avenue. He was a plaster contractor working for himself. His wife, Mrs. Annie Kinsella, who is named as his next of kin, left some time ago for England, and is now there. Her present address is unknown, and it was to the Duchess avenue address that the official notification of the wounding of her husband was sent.

On his insurance policy, taken out by the city, his age was given as 33 years.

The message from Ottawa did not give particulars beyond the fact that Pte. Kinsella had been officially reported wounded.

NEPHEW OF SEC. ELLWOOD IN CASUALTY LIST

Corp. William Oliver Ellwood is a nephew of Oliver Ellwood, secretary of the public utilities commission. Prior to his departure with the 7th Regiment draft of the first contingent, he was employed as a plumber in this city. In a letter received by his uncle a short time ago he referred to the fact that he had been appointed as an armorer-corporal.

The official notice of his having been wounded was sent to his stepfather, George Thompson of Byron postoffice.

Secretary Ellwood received a letter from the corporal on June 14. It was dated from the "Reserve Trenches" on May 28. In this letter he declared that he expected to be relieved very shortly as they had been in the trenches for some time. Among other things he mentioned was the fact that he had visited a German trench a few days before. Beyond a stack of rifles and a number of dead Germans there was very little to be seen, he reported.

Sergt. John Barnhill, now of the artillery, and formerly of the London police force, had been over to see the infantrymen from this city a day or so before. Both Sergt. Barnhill and Lieut. Herb Scandrett of the Battery, were well, said Corp. Ellwood.

CONTRACTED LUNG TROUBLE IN TRENCHES

Pte. Archie Waddell, prior to his leaving this city with the first contingent, resided with his mother, Mrs. M. Waddell, 243 Adelaide street. He was employed for a number of months as a G. N. W. telegraph messenger.

According to the information the boy's mother has received he contracted lung trouble while in the trenches at the front, and is now in a serious condition in one of the military hospitals in France.

Waddell was a member of the 1st Battalion.

WOUNDED LONDONER PROMOTED ON FIELD

Sergt. E. Clifford Bendle, wounded in the back by shrapnel, lived with his parents at 224 Ottaway avenue. Before joining the first contingent he was a member of the 7th Fusiliers, holding the rank of sergeant. He gave up his stripes to enlist. At the front he was made a scout, and was promoted to the rank of sergeant on the field of battle.

Sergt. Bendle was a member of "A" Company, 1st Battalion, and is well known in London military circles. He took courses at Wolseley Barracks for two winters. He was at one time an employee of the London Box Company.

In a recent letter to his parents he stated that he had managed to get through some of the recent big battles without a scratch.

NOT SURE THAT IT WAS BROTHER

Pte. George Edward Moore left with the 1st Contingent under the late Lieut.-Col. H. C. Becher. He resided here with his sister, Mrs. Helen Headley, 262 Simcoe street.

The official message Mrs. Headley received today stated that Pte. Moore had been wounded in the head by shrapnel and was in a hospital (name not given) in France.

To an Advertiser reporter Mrs. Headley stated that she was not positive that it was her brother, as the official message gave the wrong regimental number despite the fact that they had all the other information correct.

Pte. Moore, when he enlisted, was an employee of the C. N. W. Shoe Company, and in a letter received from him yesterday he mentioned that so far everything had gone well with him.

STRATFORD BUGLER DEAD; THREE MEN WOUNDED.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Stratford, June 26.—The first casualties among the Stratford men of the Western Ontario Battalion in the recent fighting have begun to come in. Private messages from the militia department today announced that Bugler Allan Wraith had died of wounds, while Lance-Corp. Albert Brown, Ptes. Arthur Hoyle and Henry E. C. Turner, all of Stratford, had been wounded.

BRITAIN WATCHING GERMANY'S MOVES

Will Germans Drive For Warsaw, Paris or Calais Is Question.

WARSAW IS MOST LIKELY

Shells Still Needed By British —Plenty of High Explosives.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 26.—With a breathless expectancy which seems to be reflected in the pause at the present moment on both battle fronts on the continent, the British public is awaiting the next move on the European chessboard. It is conceded that this move is Germany's and that it may be made against either Warsaw, Paris or Calais.

Some German activity has been reported in the Argonne which may indicate a drive in the direction of Paris, but the closing of the Belgian frontier may mean the transfer of veterans from the eastern front for another attempt to break through to the English Channel.

Warsaw First.

Many persons believe, however, that no great offensive movement will be attempted along the western front until another effort has been made to reach Warsaw, against which position the Germans are said to be bringing big guns from Essen.

No great activity is to be noted along any of the minor fronts.

Shells Still Needed.

The Italians claim to be engaged in consolidating the positions they have won along the Isonzo River, while from the Dardanelles come reports of enormous losses suffered by the Turks in defending the peninsula from the attacks of the Allies.

The question of munitions is still absorbing public attention in Britain. The House of Commons has been assured by Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, that Great Britain has sufficient high explosives for her own use and that she need have no concern over her food supplies, but that the requirements for shells are still acute.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 26.—The supplementary naval estimate, issued today, provides for the addition of another 50,000 officers and men to the navy.

This would bring the total personnel for this year up to 300,000 officers and men. The last vote of 250,000 men was made in February.

GERMAN SOCIALISTS PUBLISH DETERMINED APPEAL FOR PEACE

Call on Germany To Make First Advances and Condemn Any Thought of Annexation — Still Assert That Fatherland Was Attacked by Enemies.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, via London, June 26. — The board of directors or managing committee of the Social Democratic party in Germany has caused to be published in the Vorwaerts a full page appeal for peace.

This interesting document calls for a peace, under certain circumstances, which will make possible friendships with neighboring nations, and it sets forth most clearly the opposition of the party to territorial conquest and annexation. The people want peace, it declares, and the Government is called upon, in the name of humanity, to make known its readiness to enter peace negotiations.

Demand an End.

The appeal is published under the heading "Social Democracy and Peace." It begin with a reference to the fact that the Socialists foresaw the coming of the war. They worked vainly for an international understanding, but when war did come they placed themselves at the disposal of the fatherland. It then refers to the declaration of the party made in the Reichstag August 4, 1914, which said: "We demand, as soon as safety has been secured and our opponents are inclined to peace, that the war be brought to an end through a peace which will make possible friendships with neighboring nations."

No Annexation.

The appeal closes with these words: "The managing committee (Vorstand), of the Social Democrat party, always has been opposed to a policy of conquest and annexation. We now raise anew our sharpest protest against every effort and every proclamation the purpose of which is the annexation of foreign territory and the oppression of other nations, efforts and proclamations which have become public in Germany, particularly through the demands of great economic associations as well as through the speeches of leading non-Socialist politicians.

"Even the recital of such efforts serves further to postpone that peace which is warmly desired by the whole nation. The people want peace. If this war, which daily demands new sacrifices, is not to draw itself out needlessly, to endure until the full exhaustion of all the nations in it, one of the participating powers must offer the hand of peace.

Germany Should Act.

"Germany who, attacked by greatly superior forces, has thus far victoriously defended herself against all her enemies, brought their starvation plan to nought and demonstrated that she is unconquerable, should take the first step to bring about peace.

"In the name of humanity and culture and supported by the favorable military situation brought about by the bravery of our comrades in arms, we demand of the Government that it make known its readiness to enter peace negotiations in order to put an end to this bloody conflict.

"We expect our Socialist comrades in other belligerent lands to exert their influence on their own governments in this same sense."

Fighting With Mines in Champagne Continues To the Allies' Advantage.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, June 26.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of hostilities reading as follows:

"Considering the front as a whole, last night passed with relative quiet. In the region to the north of Arras there is nothing to report, with the exception of some infantry engagements, accompanied by a lively cannonading, between the Souchez sugar refinery and the national highway between Bethune and Arras.

"Our progress as been checked by the condition of the ground, which in certain places has been rendered almost impassable by the recent storms.

ITALIANS STEADILY WORKING OUT PLAN

OPERATIONS DEVELOPING

Enemy Uses White Flag in Order To Deceive Allies.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, June 25, via Paris, June 26.—The official statement issued tonight at the headquarters of the Italian general staff was as follows:

"Our reconnaissances extended beyond the front in the Tyrol-Trentino region in Cadore and Carniola, indicate increased activity on the part of the enemy in the work of reinforcing and placing new batteries. We are frustrating this work by the efficacious fire of our artillery and the bold operations of small detachments.

Operations Develop.

"In Carniola on the night of June 24-25, the enemy vainly renewed his attacks against our line from Valgrande to Valpiccolo.

"Our operations along the Isonzo are developing methodically in spite of the manifold natural difficulties of the ground and the many artificial obstacles skillfully accumulated for a long period and placed by the enemy. Our infantry, supported by the fire of field and heavy batteries, advances bravely and tenaciously, however.

White Flag Trick.

"An Austrian battery, which for some days has been disturbing our troops by its fire, causing especially serious damage to villages by injuries to their inhabitants, was located today and made the object of a well-directed fire from our artillery. Immediately afterwards a large white flag with a red cross was hoisted from a villa near the location of the battery with the evident purpose of deceiving us and stopping our fire."

ALL WOULD LIKE TO FIGHT SIDE BY SIDE WITH ANOTHER REGIMENT LIKE THE "PATS"

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

London, June 26.—Major Arthur Haggard makes public a letter from a private in the Shropshires, who writes: "Our brigade was nicknamed the Stonewallers, because no regiment comprising it ever lost a trench. We have been highly complimented on this fact alone by the general.

"The Princess Patricias is one of the regiments in this brigade. It has made itself a great name by its gallant conduct. Anyone in the brigade will voice this opinion: 'I should like to fight by the side of such another regiment.' Our brigade feels the Pats' heavy losses very keenly."

The wedding took place at Erith today of Pte. Charles Sherwood, 10th Battalion, Canadians, wounded at La Bassee, and now in the hospital at Erith. His bride, Miss Hannah Stonehouse, has come from Winnipeg recently.

A guard of honor from an English battalion, encamped in the neighborhood, was posted at the church.

GERMANS ALL THROWN BACK OVER DNIESTER

Last Remnants of the Force Taken Prisoners On 23rd Evening.

ONLY MAKE ONE ADVANCE

Czar's Troops Forced To Give Way in the Orzyc Valley.

[Canadian Press.

Petrograd, June 25, via London, June 26.—The following Russian official statement regarding the progress of hostilities was given out here tonight:

During the course of the night of June 24 and the whole of the following day in the Shavli region an artillery duel proceeded with advance guard encounters on the front Latzkovo-Popeliary and along the right bank of the Niemen River. To the west of the Middle Niemen, the German offensive during the night between the Kovno-Wirballen Railway and the Amalva marshes, was repulsed by our fire.

Gave Way in Valley.

"On the Narew front the fighting was confined to sharp artillery firing and local outpost encounters. The firing was most violent during the night of the 21st in the district of the Omulew and Orzyo Valleys. After artillery preparation the Germans took the offensive along these rivers, but were soon stopped. In this action we took in the Omulew section eighty prisoners, but in the Orzyc Valley we were forced to give way. One of our works was completely destroyed by the enemy's annihilating fire.

Enemy Repulsed.

"On the Vistula front, south of the Philica, the enemy yesterday thrice attempted to make headway with weak effectives west of Coeleff, but were repulsed with great losses.

"On the Tanew front in the direction of Zolkiew and Lemberg there was no important change. The enemy attempted to attack us along the railway leading from Lemberg to Kamenka and Brzezany.

"On the Dniester River during the night of the 23rd, we drove back beyond the river the remainder of the Germans who crossed the previous day in the Kozany district.

Remnant Captured.

"In the region of Martynoffstany on the evening of the 23rd we captured the remnants of the enemy who had crossed the Dniester, altogether 15 officers and about 700 men. Notwithstanding the disastrous results of these crossings the Germans and Austrian attempted the very same night to throw their forces across the Dniester by bridges constructed south of Bukaszowics, they having previously only crossed near the village of Rousedyvny. The fighting continues.

"On the rest of the Dniester front below the points mentioned there is no change."

400 SERVIANS ON WAY TO THIS CITY

Reservists Leave Chicago and Intend To Sail For Europe.

TWENTY-THREE ARRESTED

Held in States For Alleged Violation of Country's Neutrality.

[Canadian Press.]

Chicago, June 26.—Twenty-three reservists of the Servian army alleged to be United States citizens, either native-born or naturalized, were held by federal officers here today for appearance before a United States commissioner for examination as to a violation of the nation's neutrality.

The reservists were taken into custody by fifteen United States deputy marshals as they were leaving, with about four hundred of their countrymen for London, Ont., last night. They were to sail from Canada, it was reported, to join their regiments fighting with the Allies. Other members of the party, which occupied seven coaches, were permitted to leave after the train had been delayed four hours.

At 2 p.m. today, 150 Montenegrins, according to information received at the military headquarters here from Ottawa, passed through this city on the C. P. R. from Chicago, bound for Montreal.

The Montenegrins were supplied with food by the military headquarters at the station.

Secretary Tells Naval War College New Weapons Must Be Found.

LESSONS FROM THE WAR

Would Make American Navy Greatest in the Whole World.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Newport, R. I., June 26.—Revolutionary changes in naval warfare must be devised to bring the United States navy up to date, Secretary Daniels declared today.

In a speech that at times bordered on the sensational, he told the naval war college that submarine development and airships' utility have held Germany's and Britain's biggest fighting ships behind land-locked barriers for the first year of the great world war. Old things have passed away, he asserted, and he called on the members of the college to find the new weapons which will make the American navy the greatest weapon of offence and defence in the world.

Those who heard his speech interpreted it as a plea for great fleets of sea-going submarines and aerial craft.

MORE LICENSES MIGHT GO WITH BENEFIT TO ALL

Commissioner Dingman Regrets Action of Board Is Circumscribed.

ONLY FOUR LIKELY TO GO

Vice-Chairman Thinks Further Reductions Now Would Be Rather Too Drastic.

"DRY" HOTEL FOR LONDON

Gordon Wright Announces Project For $250,000 Temperance Hotel.

Vice-Chairman Dingman of the Ontario license commission, who with his two colleagues, Commissioners Smith and Dane, has been conducting a personal investigation of the hotel situation in the city, frankly stated, in his reply to the committee of temperance workers who interviewed the commissioners today to protest against any further extension of the four licenses it had been decided to cut off, that he regretted that three months' extension of their licenses had not been given in the case of several other hotels besides those affected by the commission's decision.

As the case stood, he explained, their action must be circumscribed to some extent by that decision. In the case of hotels which had been given licenses for another year, he thought the rescinding of those licenses would be rather more drastic treatment than the commission would feel itself justified in giving to the proprietors of the hotels, and he therefore did not hold out any hope that more than the four licenses already dealt with would be cut off.

On the other hand, he clearly indicated that his own opinion, which, of course, did not necessarily reflect that of the other members of the commission, was that several hotels which had been granted licenses for another year were equally eligible with those to whom a three months' extension had been given to be dealt with in a similar way.

Small Town Hotels.

He went on to say that in his opinion London was not well supplied in the matter of hotels, and that too large a proportion of those existing were of the type found usually in smaller towns.

He expressed delight with a statement made by Gordon Wright to the effect that a number of businessmen had made arrangements to go into a project for the erection of a large hotel which would contain accommodation for some two hundred guests and in which a hall suitable for conventions and similar meetings would take the place of a bar. He was very interested in this scheme and asked Mr. Wright a number of questions about the details, the answers to which apparently pleased him greatly.

Inspect Twenty Hotels.

He stated that he and the other two commissioners had had a very busy time yesterday and this morning, that they had visited twenty hotels and had inspected them very thoroughly from basement to attic. They had been seen, perhaps, he added, at their best. They had found that very undue prominence was given to the bar in most cases.

The deputation which waited on the commissioners was a large one, and the several speakers had their facts well martialled so that their arguments were very convincing. Rev. J. H. Boyd, who was the first speaker, stated that when the commissioners decided to reduce the number of licenses in the city by four, the temperance people were of opinion that the matter was closed, and were very much surprised therefore when, ten days ago, they had learned that the liquor men were not content to let the matter rest there.

It would not have been necessary, he said, for the commissioners to have come here at this time if it had not been for the action of those who, from motives of self-interest, had attempted to defend the traffic which was doing

HOPING TO MAKE LONDON MODEL PUBLIC HEALTH CITY

DR. H. W. HILL.

Director H. W. Hill Has Optimistic Future Planned for Here.

Dr. H. W. Hill, who has been on leave of absence for twelve months, and who during that time has been acting as secretary to the Minnesota Public Health Association, returned to London today, and has resumed his duties as director of the Institute of Public Health.

He stated to The Advertiser that he was not prepared at present to outline a program for the future, declaring that before he could do this he would need to get into touch with the situation as it is now. He said, however, that he was prepared to tackle the questions of public health in the broadest possible way, and that he hoped to make London a model not only for Ontario, but for the whole Dominion, in the matter of public health.

BUY AT HOME IS ADVICE IN FRANCE

Finance Minister Points to Advantage to Country.

Appropriation of a Million and a Quarter Asked for Three Months' Expenses.

PARIS, June 25.—7:15 p.m.—The bill appropriating 5,600,000,000 francs ($1,120,000,000) to cover Government expenses for the three months beginning July 1, was passed almost unanimously in the Chamber of Deputies today. The vote was 492 to 1.

PARIS, June 25. — 6 p.m. — Alexandre Ribot, French minister of finance, in a speech in the Chamber of Deputies today, on the bill appropriating 5,600,000,000 francs ($1,120,000,000) for the three months, beginning July 1, said he recognized the necessity of France buying as little abroad for the requirements of war as possible. This plan, he asserted, would be one of the most important economies of the country. It would tend also to facilitate exchange, although up to the present there had not been the least monetary depreciation, French credit was intact, and France felt no embarrassment, notwithstanding all her requirements.

M. Ribot said that in April public subscriptions amounted to 995,000,000 francs ($199,000,000) and that in May the public took 1,007,000,00 francs ($201,400,000) in national defence bonds. The Minister of Finance in measured and sober eloquence said he could affirm once more that the people of France would go to the end, no matter how long the war might last, and that in the midst of her difficulties France had taken a vow which she should keep. The country, he declared, would reject indignantly anyone showing weakness for an instant.

Deputies Applaud.

The deputies listened in silence to the statesman, the proceedings being in remarkable contrast to the disordered session of yesterday. The deputies more than once rose to their feet as a mark of respect, applauding the speaker. Premier Viviani exclaimed once, upon what he called M. Ribot's magnificently successful effort in behalf of the workmen's pensions, and to this the Minister of Finance replied: "This is not the hour to recall the stages of my career. I have lived, I have acted, and in aging I try not to constrict my ideas."

Upon finishing his explanation of the bill M. Ribot was surrounded by his ministerial colleagues and others, many of whom had been his political opponents, all offering congratulations, while the members of the House stood and tendered him an ovation.

SARNIA COMPANY RECEIVED THREAT

People on Frontier Want Extra Protection—Many Wild Rumors.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, June 25.—One of the most interesting topics on the street corners of this city since the explosion at the Peabody overall factory in Windsor is what steps have been taken by the Government to protect this frontier place from any attacks that might be made by German or Austrian agents.

It is known on the best of authority that one at least of the local concerns manufacturing munitions of war has received threatening letters during the past day or so and that steps were taken by the militia to give the necessary protection.

Guard with Ball Ammunition.

On the morning of the 24th a body of soldiers in heavy marching order was seen passing up through the streets of the south ward en route from one of the plants in that section where they had been moved the evening before and where they kept watch during the night, with rifles loaded with ball ammunition and with their bayonets fixed.

The watch did not develop anything, but three vagrants were arrested in the yards of the Pere Marquette Railway and appeared in court. They were given their freedom, with the exception of one, who is only fifteen years of age, and is being held to learn where he came from, as it is suspected that he escaped from some boys' school.

A wild rumor is running about the city today that when the men were arrested they had in their possession several sticks of dynamite, but this is absolutely denied by the chief of police.

Firm Did Receive Letter.

In conversation with a prominent manufacturing man of the city today, The Advertiser learned that a threatening letter was received in the city on Wednesday and it is the opinion of several men well acquainted with these facts that the mass of these letters which have been sent broadcast over Ontario are mailed from some central point in the States and that they are the work of a well-organized body of Germans, who are taking this means of working on the minds of the owners of plants and making it cost thousands of dollars for extra protection in the form of guards, fences and other things.

Want Extra Policemen.

At the present time some of the concerns are trying to get the city to supply them with special protection in the form of extra police, who would be employed in patrolling the sections near the plants. The city police commission, however, does not take that view of the matter so far, and the mayor at least believes that it is not the place of the city to provide extra police protection to any private concerns, but that such work should be provided by the Government.

According to the military authorities, the city will have to pay for every cent expended if the troops have to be used to protect private concerns in the city.

HAY WILL BE LIGHT.

AILSA CRAIG, June 25.—The frost of Wednesday and Thursday nights did very little damage in this locality. Some sections, especially low-lying ground, suffered most. The crops in the surrounding country are looking splendid, with the exception of clover and hay.

GARLAND'S CLERK GAVE DRUG PROFITS TO HIS EMPLOYER

Scenting Trouble, M. P. Gave Money Back—Commission Gets Truth.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, June 25. — The royal commission inquiry into war purchases by the Borden Government had an uncomfortable afternoon, but it secured disclosures. It was established that W. F. Garland, the Conservative member for Carleton, got the money representing the profits from the sale of drugs and surgical supplies to the Government by his clerk, Ernest Powell.

In the morning it was shown that Garland, M.P., and Shaver, the Bauer & Black agent, got the order from the Government. Garland would not have the business handled in the name of his firm, and the contract therefore was made out in the name of Powell, the clerk.

The wholesale firm, Bauer & Black, were paid from money received from the Government, the balance representing profits, were deposited on special account. Powell drew out the profits and gave them to the Conservative member. When the public accounts committee got busy last winter, the member returned the profit money to the clerk and had him return it to the Government.

It will be remembered that Garland stated to Parliament that he had no financial connection with the transaction. When the clerk was put on the stand, Garland, the member, was put out of the courtroom. Powell, the clerk, hesitated, stumbled, and was painfully reluctant throughout his examination.

He had to be forced by Sir Charles Davidson to admit the part his employer had in the transaction. After he was relieved Sir Richard McBride, premier of British Columbia, took the stand and swore that $1,150,000 was actually paid for two submarines in the Pacific coast, and that no part of the payment went into a campaign fund.

LUXEMBURG FED BY AID OF FRANCE

Grand Duchy Gets First Consignment—In Desperate Situation.

PARIS, June 25.—5:35 p.m.—The arrival of the first consignment from Switzerland of foodstuffs to be supplied to Luxemburg until the harvest is ready caused the greatest rejoicing today in the grand duchy. The situation in the grand duchy has been desperate for some time. At the end of March the population already had been given bread cards, limiting the consumption of bread to seven ounces daily, and later this amount was reduced to four ounces. In the middle of April the mayor of Luxemburg announced that that city alone required 6,000 barrels of flour and 1,000 barrels each of barley, beans and rice, to stave off starvation until the crops were available. The country districts of the industrial town of Echternach are even in a worse plight.

The Luxemburg Government sought relief through the American commission for relief in Belgium, which, however, was powerless to act, as it lacked the co-operation of Great Britain and Germany. The British Government claimed that as Germany had forcibly occupied the grand duchy, she must feed the population. This Germany formally refused to do, whereupon Great Britain declined to permit the passage by way of Holland of foodstuffs destined for the grand duchy.

France, however, always sympathetic towards her French-speaking neighbor and grateful for the generous assistance rendered to French refugees in the northern departments by the Luxemburgers, readily consented to supply the needs of the people by way of Switzerland under proper guarantees. These now have been furnished in the person of Swiss officers, who accompany every train, and who are charged with the control and disposition of the flour, and with the right to inspect warehouses.

KINCARDINE LADIES HAVE "CLOSE SHAVE" IN AUTO COLLISION

Driver of Party of High School Girls Did Not Turn Out—None Hurt.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

KINCARDINE, June 25.—Two young women—Miss Morrison, daughter of Postmaster Morrison, and Miss Greaves, school teacher—were hurled from the tonneau of a big touring car, driven by Ruben Wittig of Bruce County, when the big machine, head-on, collided with another car, run by Meredith Hunter, son of William Hunter, of the Hunter Bridge and Boiler Works, on Queen's street, about 8 o'clock.

Beyond a few scratches and a severe shaking-up, they were uninjured. The hoods of both cars were battered in. The front axle of Wittig's car snapped in the smash.

The cars were running in the centre of the road, when the accident occurred. Hunter explained that he did not turn out because he heard another car approaching from behind.

In Hunter's car were a party of students from the local high school, Misses Campbell, Shewfelt and McKay. They were uninjured.

BODY OF NEEDHAM TO BE SENT HOME

PARIS, June 25. — 4:50 p.m. — The body of Henry Beach Needham, the American writer, who was killed last week in an aeroplane accident, which also resulted in the death of Lieut. R. A. J. Warneford, of the British Royal Naval Flying Corps, was transported yesterday from Versailles to the St. Lazaire station. From this station the body will be sent to Bordeaux, there to be placed aboard a ship for America.

AMERICANS FAIL TO OBSERVE PASSPORT RULES

Seventeen of Them Are Detained at Liverpool.

LONDON, June 25.—During the last month seventeen Americans who have arrived on six steamers have been detained for the lack of passports or for failing to have attached thereto the photographs of all members of their families more than fourteen years of age. The cases for all of these have been referred to the home office, with the consequent detention of the passengers on the steamers in the Mersey.

TWO ARRESTS IN WALKERVILLE CASE

Both Foreigners, One Claiming To Be Canadian Born.

DETROIT GERMAN HELD

Refused to Disclose Place of Residence—No Charge Is Laid.

WINDSOR, June 25.—Two men, one a Detroiter, have been arrested in Ford City, Ont., almost simultaneously with the discovery of 40 sticks of dynamite in some weeds near the plant of the Gramm Motor Truck Co., in Walkerville.

Edward Morand, chief of police of Ford City, who with Provincial Policeman James Smith and Abe Nash, found the explosive Wednesday and Thursday says he believes the dynamite was secreted in the field by parties who intended to return for it to use in a dynamite outrage similar to that of last Monday at the plant of the Peabody Co.

No charge has been registered against either of the prisoners. They are being held for investigation according to the Ford City police.

Same Brand as Before.

The dynamite is of the same size as found early Monday morning under the Windsor armory.

It was unattached to fuse or wire.

Part was found Wednesday, and the rest Thursday. Nine sticks were lying close together, about 100 feet from the Gramm concern's building, while the remainder was scattered through the field. It was taken to the Ford City police station, where it is being held.

Patrolman Smith says he believes the dynamite was thrown away by some person who had it in his possession for unlawful purposes and abandoned it when he thought the authorities were on his trail.

A foreigner, who, according to the Ford City police says he is a Dutchman, but Canadian born, has been arrested and is being held for investigation.

Refused To Give Address.

The Detroiter arrested gave his name as William Lafler, but declined to reveal his address in Detroit. He is 45 years old, and has been employed by the Tate Electric, Limited, a limousine manufacturing concern.

It is understood that the Tate concern is making alterations in its plant, preparatory to the manufacture of ammunition. For this reason, the police see a plot to blow up this factory as well as that of the Gramm Company, which some time ago manufactured a quantity of munitions. The Gramm plant is idle at present. The two factories are not far apart.

The Tate concern has asked extra protection. It now has four special watchmen. Thirty-six extra sentinels are now on duty at the Ford Motor Company plant in Ford City, and fifty-odd are scattered about the town.

Dynamite for Future Use.

Chief Morand of the Walkerville force, who located the dynamite at the Gramm Company plant, gave out a statement tonight that he did not believe any attempt was on foot to blow up the Gramm plant, but that the explosive was being hidden there, and at a proper time would have been removed. The fact that the charge was ready to be connected with a battery, lends some color to this theory.

FIVE DROWNED OFF NEW BRUNSWICK SHORE

Crew of Fishing Smack Lost in Storm Within Sight of Land.

[Canadian Press.]

St. John, N. B., June 26.—Four men and a boy were drowned in the recent storm which swept the north shore. They were the crew of a small fishing smack, owned and commanded by Jean Hachey, of Isle Lemeque.

While the storm was raging on Wednesday afternoon, residents of Tabusintac saw the vessel rolling in the huge billows. They made ready for a dash with a lifeboat should the vessel be blown within a reasonable distance of the shore, but the night closed in and only madness would have been a motive of further attempt at rescue. When morning came the craft was seen far up on the beach. Four bodies, clad in oilskins, were floating in the cabin, which was full of water. One of them was Jean Hachey, the owner of the vessel. In a small storehouse forward was found the body of his son, a young lad.

CROSSING DNIESTER IS DISASTROUS FOR THE GERMAN HOSTS

Remnants Are Driven Back, Losing Prisoners—But Effort Continues.

[Canadian Press.]

PETROGRAD, June 25 (via London, June 26.—3:48 a.m.)—The following Russian official statement regarding the progress of hostilities was given out here tonight:

"During the course of the night of June 24 and the whole of the following day, in the Shavli region, an artillery duel proceeded with advance guard encounters on the front Latzkovo-Popeliary and along the right bank of the Niemen River. To the west of the middle Niemen the German offensive during the night, between the Kovno-Wirballen Railway and the Amalva marshes, was repulsed by our fire.

"On the Narew front the fighting was confined to sharp artillery firing and local outpost encounters. The fighting was most violent the night of the 21st in the district of the Omulew and Orzyc valleys. After artillery preparation, the Germans took the offensive along these rivers, but were soon stopped. In this action we took in the Omulew section 80 prisoners, but in the Orzyc Valley we were forced to give way. One of our works was completely destroyed by the enemy's annihilating fire.

Enemy Thrice Repulsed.

"On the Vistula front south of Plica the enemy yesterday thrice attempted to make headway with weak effectiveness west of Coeleff, but were repulsed with great losses.

"On the Tanew front in the direction of Zolkiew and Lemberg there was no important change. The enemy attempted to attack us along the railway leading from Lemberg to Kamenka and Brzezany.

"On the Dniester River during the night of the 23rd we drove back beyond the river the remainder of the Germans, who crossed the previous day in the Kozany district. In the region of Martynoffstany on the evening of the 23rd we captured the remnants of the enemy, who had crossed the Dniester, altogether fifteen officers and about 700 men. Notwithstanding the disastrous results of these crossings the Germans and Austrians attempted the very same night to throw their forces across the Dniester by bridges constructed south of Bukaszowice, they having previously only crossed near the village of Rousedyvany. The fighting continues.

"On the rest of the Dniester front below the points mentioned, there is no change."

BIG DREDGE ARRIVES FOR KINCARDINE WORK

Powerhouse Allowed to Run Shy of Coal—Expensive.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

KINCARDINE, June 25.—The Marleton dredge arrived last evening. The tugs Horton and Forest had the equipment in tow. The dredge is supposed to make the harbor so that vessels of deeper draught will be able to enter.

The coal at the power house was run so low that a carload had to be imported to keep the machinery running. There was lots of coal got last fall to supply all requirements, but some officials, it is said, were so benevolently disposed as to sell a large quantity. The water and electric light commission thus has had to pay freight by rail, which amounts to, in this case, about $99.

HON. DR. MONTAGUE DENIES STATEMENTS MADE BY HOWARD

Says Simpson Had Nothing To Do With Prices—Hearing at a Hotel.

[Canadian Press.]

WINNIPEG, June 25.—Hon. Dr. Montague, ex-minister of public works, giving evidence before the royal commission this afternoon, denied evidence given by V. W. Horwood, in Minneapolis, that Dr. R. M. Simpson, ex-president of the Manitoba Conservative Association, had anything to do with fixing prices on contracts in connection with the Parliament Buildings.

"I never discussed the Parliament Buildings with Dr. Simpson," he said, "and if Dr. Simpson had spoken to me about a contract, any friendship between us would have been at an end."

Dr. Montague was examined principally in connection with contracts let to Thomas Kelly & Sons. He will take the stand again on Monday morning, as the commission will not sit on Saturday.

The commission went to him and sat in the vice-regal suite of the Royal Alexandra Hospital, with the general public excluded, out of consideration for the former minister's health.

Had Contract Changed.

The former head of the public works department was questioned at length regarding a contract for $215,000 let to the Kelly firm covering grillage only in the south wing—grillage, it was stated, being simply beams superimposed on the foundations. Shortly after the war session in September, 1914, Dr. Montague said he went through the Kelly contracts and found that while for $230,000 the contractor had undertaken to supply both grillage and steel for the superstructure for the north wing, the south wing contract at slightly less than that amount covered the grillage only. This seemed inconsistent to Dr. Montague, and Kelly interviewed, agreed to make the contract include a large quantity of structural steel also. This was done.

Was Cancelled.

The contract at $802,000 for the dome, which was let and later cancelled, was also gone into. Dr. Montague stated that he had nothing to do with recommending the contract or letting. When he returned to his office after an illness a few days after the last election he found this contract, or Sir Rodmond Roblin told him of it. As there were no plans in existence for this part of the work of which he knew, and as he wished to have plans prepared by an able engineer, he advised Sir Rodmond to cancel the contract, if possible. The need of this good plan was foremost in his mind, he said. The contract was cancelled and records of it destroyed. Dr. Montague would not admit that his real reason in advising its cancellation had been his desire to protect the province from heavy financial loss.

Dr. R. M. Simpson's box in the vault of a local trust company may now be opened. A cablegram was received this afternoon from Dr. Simpson, who is now in France, giving the royal commission his permission to examine the contents of the box.

The alleged contents of this safety box have figured quite prominently in the evidence before the commission.

HALF A MILLION MORE READY FOR THE FIELD

Germany Will Place 18 New Army Corps in Action by End of July.

ZURICH (via London), June 25.—7:10 p.m.—According to an authoritative military source, Germany will be able to place eighteen more army corps in the field by the end of July.

These are composed chiefly of the second category of the landsturm, comprising men who have never performed military service, but are in training and reserve, which have been resting in the interior of Germany. It is calculated these new forces will about equal in number the exhausted troops returning from Galicia, who will be granted partial rest, doing service as inland reserves.

TAGEBLATT BEGINS TO PET AMERICA

Editorial in Chancellor's Paper Meant To Influence Tense Situation.

APPEALS FOR SANE VIEW

Denies That Germany Is Indifferent To Possible War With States.

By Carl, W. Ackerman.

Berlin, via The Hague, June 16.—A strong editorial in the Berliner Tageblatt, a powerful exponent of the German Chancellor's policies, was expected today to have a most important influence on the German-American situation.

The Tageblatt, in its first comprehensive survey of the misunderstanding growing out of the sinking of the Lusitania, appealed to the people both of Germany and of America to view the situation sanely and not to be misled by "jingoes."

To Check Reaction.

The editorial, it was the opinion here today, will go a long way toward checking the reaction which is expected before the next German reply is sent to Washington.

The points that the German Chancellor's newspaper makes are:

It denies that Germany is willing to draw America into the war.

It denies that German-American attacks on President Wilson were inspired by the German Government.

"Silly" Statements.

It declares that reports that Germany was indifferent to the possibilities of war with the United States are "silly and irritating."

It declares each country apparently was misinformed about the attitude of the other.

It expresses confidence that "broad-minded" Americans will not accept the charges made against Germany by "inspired" newspapers.

STORMS CHECKED

gonne the fighting with mines has been going on, and to our advantage."

GERMAN STATEMENT.

Berlin, June 26—Via London.—The official communication issued today by the German army headquarters staff was as follows:

"In the western theatre: Close-range fighting, which has proceeded uninterruptedly for some days around the portion of our positions which remained in the hands of the enemy north of Souchez and half-way between Souchez and Neuville, has come to an end. During the night the last of the French soldiers were driven out of our trenches. So recently as yesterday evening the enemy received strong reinforcements at this point, as they also did on both sides of the Lorette Height. As they advanced to attack south of Souchez they were beaten off.

"In the Champagne, near Souain, we blew up a portion of an enemy position.

"East of Perthes the French accidentally destroyed by a mine some of their own defensive works."

Hard Fighting.

"On the heights of the Meuse, at Combres, hard fighting is going on.

"On both sides of the Detranches road the enemy brought up troops four deep over a front of three kilometres (1.8 miles long), ready for an attack. They everywhere broke up under our fire. Where the enemy pressed forward into our trenches he was beaten off with heavy loss and driven back in the fray which followed. In an attack made by us afterwards we captured an enemy advanced position east of Detranches. In this district the enemy still holds a small part of a trench which he captured on June 20.

"Attacks made by advance patrols of the enemy near Leintrey, east of Luneville, failed.

Claim Upper Hand in Air.

"Since the commencement of the great struggle near Arras our airmen have been struggling with those of the enemy for mastery in the air. This struggle has caused losses on both sides, but ours have not been in vain. For some days we apparently have had the upper hand.

"In the eastern theatre:

"A Wurttemburger regiment stormed the Russian positions southeast of Ogienda, north of Przasnysz, and on both sides of the Murowka, and held the positions taken against several counter-attacks, even against those made at night. The booty amounts to 636 prisoners and four machine guns.

"In the southeastern theatre:

"The army of Gen. Von Linsingen is is continuing its attacks on the northern bank of the River Dniester. The right bank near Halicz still is held by the enemy. Since the beginning of their attack on this river on June 23 they have taken 3,500 prisoners.

"Between the Dniester and the district east of Lemberg fighting continues."

TAKES CHANCE; ESCAPES

License Inspector McCallum Has Close Call In Park.

License Inspector McCallum had the closest kind of a call for being bodly hurt in Victoria Park yesterday afternoon through the carelessness of two auto drivers in turning the wrong way. The inspector was caught so that he could not get out of the way of either car without turning his wheel into a tree. It was an even chance that even by doing this one of the autos would crash into him. He took the chance, however, and the auto just grazed him and a second later he landed against the tree and escaped unhurt.

"I never had such a close call in my life," said the inspector. "I shook for an hour after. Neither of the chauffeurs even stopped to see if I were hurt."

DENIES THEFT CHARGE

Alleged Wire Thief Protests Innocence in Police Court.

John Collins, arrested last night by Detectives Thomas Nickle and Harry Down on a charge of stealing a quantity of bonded wire from the hydro electric department, was remanded until Tuesday for trial today by Police Magistrate J. C. Judd when he entered a plea of not guilty.

Trembling like a leaf Collins said. "I am not guilty of that charge; why I was not even in town yesterday."

According to the police Collins stole the wire and cut it up into strips and disposed of it to a junkman, who will likely be summoned to court as a witness in the case.

HIGH HANDED ACTIONS OF L. AND P. S. COMMISSION

Adverse Criticism Follows Order To Connect With M. C. R. Without Authority and Other Acts of Like Ilk.

That those in charge of the new electric line to Port Stanley are guilty of much high-handed action and a good deal of reckless extravagance with the taxpayers' money is the opinion of several citizens who have been watching the work.

As an example of what railwaymen call unprecedented high-handed action in this district, workmen yesterday were ordered to connect the new line with the Michigan Central tracks near Wellington street. It is usual in a case of this kind to ask the railway's permission at least. This, it is claimed, was not done in any way, and just as soon as the M. C. R. officials in St. Thomas learned what was planned they sent a telegram to their local man, telling him to have the work stopped. It was stated today that no connection will be made yet, but the workmen are going ahead plowing up the street for the new siding, which it later planned to connect with the M. C. R. main line near Wellington street.

That Pole Incident.

A few days ago the Port Stanley commission erected cement and steel poles on the G. T. R. property, north of Bathurst street. A G. T. R. official promptly came over and ordered their removal. This was done, as the Port Stanley people had no right to do what they did.

It was stated to The Advertiser today that as a result of somebody's blunders no less than twelve of the towers with cement bases, used for carrying feed wires, were built in absurd places, and had to be dismantled, and the cement either buried or broken up.

"This cost several hundred dollars of the taxpayers' good money," said one man who has been watching things. "Any child should know that the towers ought not to be built where the hydro men put them."

Ask to See Records.

Ed. Grant, a son of Assessment Commissioner S. Grant, who has been appointed accountant, it was stated today, recently went to the accountant of the London and Lake Erie Traction Line and later to the accountant of the London St. Railway wanting full information regarding their record systems and business methods. In both cases, it is stated, he was refused.

"Pure and simple nerve," said one man today. "The idea of a man going and wanting others who have worked years to get good record systems into shape to give them all the benefits of their years of work."

LIBERALS "PERMITTED" TO PAY $535 IN TAXES

City Allows Them Privilege of Spending This For Hyman Hall.

A meeting of the board of trustees of the Liberal Club was held yesterday afternoon, and an interesting document was presented as part of the treasurer's financial statement. This was the 1915 tax bill. The Liberals may have been denied any part in the civic administration of the past few years, but they are privileged to participate in paying of a good share of the cost, the cost of last year's extravagance falling due this year in the form of an extra $135 taxes.

The total taxes on the Liberal Club property this year amount to $535, which with other heavy items of maintenance necessitates the raising of a considerable sum by subscription, even though the building has not been used for some time by the club proper. Hence the trustees decided to invite Liberals to make voluntary contributions to the fund.

The hall was used last year by religious organizations on a number of occasions. During the war the board has been glad to have had the privilege of providing accommodation for the Red Cross Society, but after the war perhaps some arrangement will be made to utilize the fine auditorium on Sundays for church purposes, in which case the assessment department would no doubt be pleased to class the Liberal Club among the institutions entitled to tax exemption.

CONSOLATION TRIP STARTS ON MONDAY

Five Fair Londoners Will Tour St. Lawrence As Advertiser Guests.

All aboard for Toronto, the Thousand Islands, Montreal, Quebec, the Saugenay, Montmorency Falls, St. Anne de Beaupre and dozens of other points of interest.

Five happy young women who failed to capture The Advertiser's trip to the coast and San Francisco, yet who made a splendid standing in the grand contest recently closed, are leaving on Monday morning at nine o'clock from the G. T. R. station on a delightful eight days' trip down the St. Lawrence and up the Saugenay.

Miss Pearl Crawford, Lovett street; Miss Winnifred Colbert, Dundas street; Miss Florence Widden, Wortley road; Miss Francis Rankin, Oxford street, and Miss Josephine Benenatti, Albert street, have been anticipating this enjoyable outing ever since the end of May, and early Monday morning their grips will be packed and waiting when the baggageman calls. Shortly after an automobile will call at the home of each to convey the fair tripper to the station. No special demonstration has been arranged as a sendoff, but doubtless a number of the friends of the young ladies will be down to bid them "bon voyage," and it is also probable there will be representatives of the firms and organizations that nominated them and assisted them throughout the campaign.

After eight days' sightseeing they will arrive back in London Monday evening, July 5.

LIEUT. BISHOP IS A BRANTFORD MAN

Mentioned for Bravery by Sir John French.

EDUCATED AT RIDLEY

Joined Middlesex Regiment at the Opening of the War.

Arthur Leonard Bishop, of the 2nd Battalion, Middlesex Regiment, who has been mentioned in dispatches by Field Marshal Sir John French for bravery in action, is a Canadian, having been born in Brantford, and educated at Ridley College, St. Catharines, and the Military College, Kingston, where he resigned his rank of battalion sergeant-major at the outbreak of the war to accept a commission in the Middlesex Regiment.

He has served continuously since November, and was wounded at Fromelies on May 9, where he lost his right eye, and is now convalescing in London.

so much harm to the city and to the young men of the city.

Improperly Signed.

The petitions presented to the commission with this end in view, he declared, were improperly signed. The names of men appeared on them who were prepared to go into court and swear that they not only had not signed them, but had not seen them. In the case of the petition signed by members of the Western Fair Board, the president of that body had publicly stated that he had not given any authority for his name to be included. At least one name on another petition was that of a wholesale liquor dealer doing business in the neighborhood of the hotel on behalf of which he signed, and who himself had been fined for a breach of the liquor license act.

Later local License Inspector Galpin denied that this was the case. He stated that the man in question, although convicted in the first place, had appealed successfully from the decision of the convicting court.

Mr. Boyd also mentioned the names of several other hotels in the city whose proprietors had been convicted of breaches of the law, among them the Windsor, the Savoy, the Walper House and the Metropole. In the case of the Savoy he declared that three convictions had been recorded within fifteen months.

Were Against Bartender.

Mr. Dingman immediately asked how it was that the license of this hotel had not been suspended as a consequence of this fact. When it developed that one of the three convictions was against a bartender and not against the proprietor, however, he admitted that "that makes a difference."

Rev. H. H. Bingham spoke with particular reference to the Windsor Hotel, the proprietor of which, he stated, was only a tenant and, therefore, would not be a very extensive loser if the license were taken away. The four hotels on Whiskey Row, of which this was one, he declared, were not essential for the accommodation of farmers. In fact an investigation had shown that the aggregate number of guests in the four for seven days was only twelve, whereas 187 people had been served with liquor in one day.

Not Necessary for Stables.

The hotels were not necessary either to supply stabling for farmers coming into town, for as a matter of fact the stables in every case were sub-let and the prices charged with higher than in any other town in Ontario. The Men's Federation was prepared to guarantee the farmers stabling accommodation if the licenses of these hotels were cut off, and had gone to the extent of securing options on suitable properties. Twenty replies had been received to advertisements asking for people to supply the necessary capital.

Calls Them Fraudulent.

Prof. J. H. Bowman referred at some length to the methods employed by the liquor interests to get signatures to their petitions, and characterized them as not only spurious in many cases but actually fraudulent, since many of the men whose names appeared on them had denied signing.

The Queen's Park Hotel, which was the only one to which he referred specifically, was, he said, not a hotel in the proper sense of the term, since it did no legitimate hotel business. It did do a small boarding-house business, and to that extent injured the keepers of other boarding-houses, but no register of guests was kept.

Mr. Dingman.—"They have had thirty-eight guests' names on the register for the past week."

Not Legitimate, He Says.

Professor Bowman went on to say that only about fifteen of the hotels in the city did a legitimate hotel business, and concluded: "We believe you will go not only as far as the people have demanded by their vote, but as far as your judgment tells you you should go."

Asks for Six Cut Off.

Rev. G. N. Hazen reviewed what had been said by the other speakers and suggested that, as the whole question of the licenses had been reopened apparently, the temperance people felt justified now in asking that six licenses should be cut off as the citizens had requested by their vote. He referred also to the spurious nature of many of the petitions presented on behalf of the four hotels of which the licenses had been revoked, but Mr. Dingman pointed out that it was unnecessary to go into this matter as the petitions had not very much weight with the commission in any event.

Gordon Wright appeared as the representative of the citizens and businessmen of No. 1 ward. As an old commercial traveller, he said, he was convinced that the amount of legitimate hotel accommodation in the city was inadequate. He had been interested from the beginning in a project which was now well under way for the construction of a hotel and business block of six or eight stores. The company would work under a $250,000 Dominion charter, and already a substantial part of the requisite capital was in sight for subscription as soon as the shares were available for allotment.

Presents Farmers' Petition.

Mr. Wright presented a very extensively signed petition from the farmers and residents of the rural districts contiguous to the city, expressing sympathy with the wish of the citizens for a reduction in the number of hotel licenses and repudiating the claim that the hotels were made necessary for the accommodation of farmers. He also had a petition signed by most of the businessmen within two blocks asking that the commission keep to its decision to cut off four licenses.

Mr. Dingman expressed gratification at the fact that so large a deputation had been present, and gave his assurance that the arguments put forward should have the most careful attention of the commission. He expected that a final decision would be reached within a few days.

Temperance Workers Plan a Compaign For County-Wide Prohibition.

City Saloons May Be Wiped Out On Straight Majority Vote.

The success of the Canada temperance act campaign in Perth this week and in Huron last year has been so gratifying to temperance forces, that it was stated today that campaigns will probably be undertaken in Middlesex and Elgin in the near future. It was stated to The Advertiser today that the Middlesex campaign would probably be brought on first, perhaps next year. Temperance workers all through the district are enthusiastic over the prospects for success.

"We wouldn't have a chance of losing on a straight majority vote in this county," said one man today. "We probably could not carry London on a three-fifths vote, but we could win easily on a fifty-fifty basis. The county would give a good majority against the saloon. Many Londoners and others who might not have voted against the bars a year ago would gladly do so now, as a result of what they know about the way hotelmen have treated soldiers. Lieut.-Col. Wigle and others have stated publicly that the greed of hotelmen to get soldiers' money, even after they are intoxicated, is shameful. The hotelmen have nobody but themselves to blame for the sentiment that has been aroused against them."

Prof. J. H. Bowman is out of the city today, and his views on the matter of a C. T. A. campaign could not be learned.

KRUPPS SENDING GUNS TO POLAND

Seems To Indicate the Enemy Will Make Attack On Warsaw.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 26.—A Central News dispatch from Amsterdam says several trains loaded with heavy guns have left Essen for the German front on the Bzura River in Poland, where it is believed they will be used in an advance against Warsaw.

More Expected.

Since the fall of Lemberg military experts in London have expressed the belief that the Austro-German allies would not be content with forcing the Russians beyond the borders of Galicia, but would attempt to continue their terrific drive and capture Warsaw, the capital of Poland. On previous occasions the Germans have hammered their way to a point almost within artillery range of Warsaw, but have been driven back by the forces under the direction of Grand Duke Nicholas.

Continue In Poland.

The success of the Teutonic allies in the Galician campaign was due largely to a preponderance of artillery and the expenditure of an overwhelming number of shells. If additional heavy guns have been sent from Essen, where the famous Krupp works are located, it would seem to indicate an intention to continue in Poland operations of a similar nature.

ROUMANIA LETTING SOME SOLDIERS GO

Dispatch Says Action Taken At Instance of Ministers.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, June 26—Via London.—According to the correspondent of the Mittag Zeitung in Bucharest, Roumania, the Roumanian Cabinet has voted to disband a part of the army and give the soldiers long furloughs. The action was taken, it was stated, at the instance of the Premier and Minister of War, M. Bratiano, who explained that "negotiations with Russia would require a long time."

FLOODS RAGING ROUND DISTRICT OF CALGARY

Heavy Damage Expected — City's Natural Gas Supply Is Cut Off.

[Canadian Press.]

Calgary, Alta., June 26.—What may prove the worst flood in the amount of damage caused, in Calgary's history, is now raging in the Bow and Elbow Rivers. The latter is not so bad, but the Bow rose five feet during the night, and is still rising at the rate of four inches an hour. Three million feet of lumber in the shape of logs, belonging to the Eau Claire Lumber Company, have been washed down the river through the breaking of a boom at Louise bridge, in the heart of the city. The Centre street bridge is threatened, and heavy damage may result in Sunnyside and Riverside. A man is reported washed away from the Mission bridge.

Calgary, Alta., June 26.—Calgary is without natural gas today and nearly every big industry, including the newspapers, is paralyzed. A flood at Okotoks has caused a Canadian Pacific Railway washout and broken gas mains which cannot be repaired until the Canadian Pacific repairs its roadbed.

Five mud and rock slides just east of Field, on the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, occurred during the storm. Repair gangs are now trying to open up the line. Passenger trains to and from the west are delayed owing to this. Efforts are being made to minimize the delay by detouring trains via southern lines.

GOT OFF LIGHTLY.

[Canadian Press.]

Medicine Hat, Alta., June 26.—While the high wind last night did comparatively little damage in Medicine Hat, rain flooded many cellars and caused streets to run rivers of water. An inch and a half of rain fell in 30 minutes. The fall of hail was slight, and no reports have been received of damage to crops in this district.

The town of Redcliff, four miles west, got the full force of the wind, however, and half a dozen industries sustained serious damage. Two residents were taken to the hospital with broken bones caused by flying debris. A cigar factory, planing mill, iron ornamental works and knitting factory suffered the loss of roofs and a number of untenanted shacks were demolished.

ENGINES ORDERED.

Kingston, Ont., June 26.—The Canadian Locomotive Company has received a rush order from the Dominion Government for fifteen heavy engines to be used on the Intercolonial Railway. Work on them has already begun.

FORMER LONDONER DIES IN HAMILTON

Hon. Samuel Barker, Member for East Hamilton, Had Noted Career.

EDUCATED IN LONDON

And Was Resident Here Subsequently for a Number of Years.

[Canadian Press.]

Hamilton, June 26.—Hon. Samuel Barker, member of the House of Commons for East Hamilton and a privy councillor, died at 7 a.m. today. He chatted on the veranda with friends last night, and was taken seriously ill during the night. Just as he was about to leave his bed this morning he fell back dead. He had been in poor health for some time.

The body of the late M. P. is being brought to this city for interment, for he was a former resident of this city, and was a brother of Mrs. W. H. Bartram. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed, but it is expected that a son-in-law will arrive here this afternoon for this purpose.

Death Unexpected.

W. G. R. Bartram, solicitor, a nephew, was notified of his uncle's death by telegram early this morning. Although Mr. Barker had been ill for some time his death was unexpected.

Mr. Barker was a son of the late S. W. Barker, at one time mayor of this city. He was born at Kingston, Ont., May 25, 1839, but in his early years came with his parents to reside in London. Mr. Barker received his education at the London District Grammar School, and here commenced his study of law, being called to the bar in 1863.

For some time he was a member of the famous old law firm of Becher, Barker & Street. He was one of the "old school" London lawyers, who have found for themselves niches in the hall of fame of Canadian judiciary. Two weeks ago he was elected second vice-president of the Union Trust Company.

Resident of London.

Mr. Barker was married twice, his first wife being Isabella, daughter of John Cruickshank of this city. Some time after her decease he married her sister Helen, who survives. For some years Mr. Barker was a resident of this city, being a director of the Huron and Erie Savings and Loan Society. Upon removing to Hamilton in 1872, he became solicitor and general counsel of the G. W. Railway Company of Canada, and later general-manager of the N. and N. W. Railway, both of which roads have since been merged with the Grand Trunk. In recent years Mr. Barker has been actively engaged in many business concerns in Hamilton and Toronto. Since 1900, he has been Conservative member for Hamilton. While residing in London, Mr. Barker was an alderman and chairman of the finance committee.

He is survived by his widow, his son, Charles G. Barker, of Niagara Falls customs staff; Mrs. R. M. Hamilton and Mrs. C. H. Pennefather of Peterboro, and the Misses Florence and Francis Barker at home.

NEW COUNCILS GET TEMPLARS' CHARTERS

Five Receive Them At Meeting in Salvation Army Citadel.

Charters were presented to five new councils of the Royal Templars of Temperance, organized recently in this city, at a joint meeting of temperance people and the members of the lodges, held last night in the Salvation Army Citadel on Clarence street. The new lodges will be named Spencer Senior, Spencer Junior, W. W. Buchanan Senior, W. W. Buchanan Junior, and London and Middlesex District.

The councils were formed in London to give an added impetus to the fight for prohibition, those at the head of the temperance cause believing that united effort in the form of organized temperance workers is necessary.

Rev. J. H. Boyd, pastor of the Adelaide Street Baptist Church, acted as chairman and introduced the speakers, all of whom spoke of the effective work which the Royal Templars will be able to carry on in London.

With such an effective organization of the temperance forces, the voice of the temperance people in London will speak loudly and effectively at the next election, several speakers declared emphatically.

The meeting adopted a resolution thanking the Ontario License Board for its decision to reduce the number of tavern licenses in this city by three, and urged the board to stand by its decision.

Grand Councillor Controller Morris, of Hamilton, Percy A. North, editor of the Templar of Hamilton, and Grand Secretary McMillan of Toronto, presented the charters of the newly-organized councils. Grand Organizer H. S. Scott of the Royal Templars described his work in London in the organization of the councils, upon the invitation of temperance workers in this city.

Brief addresses were made by R. H. Wade, A. P. Yeo, Professor Bowman, Gordon Wright, Thomas Leah, F. W. Robbins, representative of the International Order of Good Templars, Mrs. Thornley, representing the W. C. T. U., Frank Ram, Alderman H. B. Ashplant, Brigadier Bettridge of the Salvation Army.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

Death of W. J. Gibling.

The death occurred Saturday morning, June 19, of an old and well-known Stratford resident, in the person of William J. Gibling, in his 78th year. Mr. Gibling was a son of the late William J. Gibling of London, who was the contractor for the first brick sewer constructed in Stratford on Downie street in 1872-73. Mr. Gibling was a bricklayer by trade, a staunch union man, a member of Albion Lodge, No. 1, S.O.E.B.S., of Toronto, and a Liberal in politics. He came to Canada from England in 1870, and after residing in London, Ont., for three years, moved to Stratford, where his first work was on the Merchants Bank, Albert street, under the late Mr. Filey. In 1880 he went back to London, Ont., his youngest son being lost in the Victoria disaster on May 24, 1881. Later he moved to Toronto, but returned to Stratford in 1893, where he has resided ever since. His wife died seven years ago. He leaves three brothers, Alfred of California, Walter of Strathroy, and Samuel and one sister, Mrs. Clark, of London, Ont. Two daughters, Mrs. T. H. Walker of Winnipeg, Mrs. E. Cook of Stratford, and one son, George H. of Toronto, and eight grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

ROY BEAUFORE FREED.

ST. THOMAS, June 25.—Roy Beaufore appeared before Magistrate Maxwell today, charged with obtaining a watch from Governor Luton of the county jail under false pretenses. After listening to the evidence, the magistrate dismissed the charge, on the grounds of insufficient evidence to show that accussed knew the watch was stolen property. Beaufore got an order from Eacrett, the prisoner in jail here, charged with passing a fradulent check at Port Stanley, to obtain the watch from the governor, and raise some money on it to enable him to telephone friends in Sarnia. Beaufore stated he did not know that the watch was stolen from J. D. Kingston of Port Stanley.

WRENCH SLIPS, INJURING TWO.

ST. THOMAS, June 25.—While working on repairs at one of the pumps at the waterworks, D. McVicar was knocked unconscious and had a rib broken, and W. A. Allan was cut and bruised around the head, when a wrench attached to a pipe gave way.

COTTON STEAMER FREED.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 26.—The American cotton steamer Leelanaw, which has been under detention at Kirkwall, Scotland, since early June, has been been allowed to proceed to Archangel to discharge there her cargo, consigned to Russia.

The Leelanaw was detained because her cargo, destined for Russia, was consigned by way of Gothenburg, Sweden, which country forbids the export of cotton.

It was explained shortly after the Leelanaw's detention that because of the prohibition by the Swedish Government of cotton exports, the British Government desired some assurances that the cotton would reach Russia.

TURKS HURLED BACK; LOSE 143,000 MEN IN FIERCE ATTACKS

ATHENS, June 25.—A Hitylope dispatch reports fierce fighting on the Gallipoli Peninsula since Tuesday. The Allies, successively assaulting the Turkish positions, carried several trenches.

The Turkish losses in killed and wounded or missing since the commencement of the fighting, is estimated at 143,000.

A French cruiser on Monday bombarded the island of Casteloriso, occupied by Greece. Twenty shells were fired at the monastery.

"GAS DEVILS!" YELL CANADIANS AS THEY CHARGE

Enemies Throw Up Hands and Shout "Comrades!" To Victors.

OFFICER'S FINE HEROISM

Lieut. Campbell Supports a Machine Gun On Back While Corporal Fires.

LONDON, June 25.—Further particulars of the gallant work achieved by the Western Ontario battalion last week came to hand tonight. The battalion was subjected to heavy fire on the left. When it went forward and captured for the time being three trenches the charge was led by Major Smith, the battalion having been reinforced by men from the 101st Edmonton Fusiliers. A number of Edmonton men were among the wounded.

If the division on the left had been able to advance with the same rapidity as the rest of the line the trenches would undoubtedly have been held, but in face of a terrific German fire the Canadians were obliged to relinquish them. The first forward movement was made by mine explosions under the leading enemy trench. Dust and debris assisted in obscuring the Canadian advance, nevertheless the Germans maintained a hot local fire.

The Canadians advanced, shouting "gas devils," which appears to have been agreed upon as the battle cry. On arrival at the first trench a number of Germans were found chained by the waist and padlocked to machine guns.

"The majority of the Germans had already gone," said an Edmonton man today who took part in the engagement, "but some remained pumping lead into us as long as they could. When we reached them they threw up their hands, crying: 'Comrades!'"

Lieut. Campbell's Heroism.

A thrilling story is narrated concerning the heroism of Lieut. Campbell of the machine gun section. After reaching one of the enemy's trenches he was unable to get a satisfactory position for his machine gun. It was when the Germans began pouring a heavy fire not only from the front, but on the left of the Canadians, Lieut. Campbell, desirous of meeting the attack on the left, knelt down in a trench and supported the gun on his back while a corporal fired it. Campbell was severely wounded. The men of the battalion speak in high terms of his brilliant example and courage at all times.

A number of wounded have just arrived in England, many being treated at the Canadian hospital at Clivedon.

RUSS CAPTURE 130,000 MEN DURING GREAT RETREAT EAST

Also Get 300 Machine Guns From the Enemy While Being "Defeated"—May Retreat Further Until Favorable Position Has Been Occupied.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, June 26.—2:58 a.m.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Mail, commenting on the fact that the Russian army has remained intact during seven weeks retreat in Galicia, says this army has inflicted tremendous losses on the enemy, having captured in the course of these operations 130,000 men, nearly 300 machine guns, and sixty cannon. He continues:

"That the Russian flanks are firm is proved by their successes on the Dniester and Tanew Rivers. The military organ, the Russky Invalide, suggests that the only thing that now matters is to keep the enemy occupied, while Russia's allies in the west are getting up strength. It is generally conceded that the Russians will evacuate more territory, if it is necessary, in order to find favorable positions on which to make a stand."

Heavy Fighting on Dniester.

Heavy fighting is still proceeding along the most crucial sector of the Dniester battle front in Galicia between Zurawana and Halicz. There is some conflict over the situation, according to the official reports. The Russians claim that they have punished the Austro-German forces there and that, by rushing up reinforcements, they have compelled them to retreat across the river. Berlin admits this reverse, but the Austrian communication says the Teutonic attack there is making progress.

North of this area and still farther north, over the frontier in Poland, the Austro-German advances are sweeping forward. Whatever the outcome of the struggle along the Dniester, the Russian armies have met with such reverses that, in the belief of military experts, from the standpoint of the Allies, the western theatre seems to be the only quarter which holds out the possibility of a decisive action during the summer.

Reports as to West Differ.

The French and German claims relative to fighting on the western front are widely at variance. Military observers here believe that the French still have their eyes on Lille, with its factories and railroad lines, and advance the theory that the recurrent and persistent attacks week in and week out along virtually the same section of the German front prove this.

Though meeting with the hardest resistance on the Dniester, the initiative in the east still rests with the Austro-Germans. Few military writers care to hazard a guess of what their next move will be. It is argued by them that the situation in the west may at any moment become pressing and that Germany and Austria may be forced to be content with having recovered Galicia and broken the Russian offensive without seeking further to humiliate her at this time.

GERMAN VERSION.

BERLIN, June 25 (via London), June 26.—1:05 a.m.—With reference to the statement in today's official communication regarding Gen. Linsingen's partial retirement to the south bank of the Dniester River, special dispatches received from Czernowitz, Bukowina, describe the desperate exertions of the Russians for several days to regain their lost ground on the Dniester line and in Bessarabia.

The fighting, according to these dispatches, has been uninterrupted for four days and nights and the Russians wasted the lives of their troops by recklessly marching them in masses into the Austrian fire. Large heaps of Russian dead, it is asserted, lie before the Austrian trenches.

The fighting is declared to be particularly desperate eastward of Zale Szczyky. The Russians are said to be charging repeatedly along the river. At a few places they have succeeded in fighting their way to near the Austrian positions, but suffered frightful losses and were compelled to retire before the determined Austrian resistance.

Similar scenes, it is asserted, are being enacted daily in Bessarabia. The Russians fighting here have been recruited chiefly from the home guards and by levies on the eastern provinces.

WHAT VIENNA SAYS.

VIENNA, via London, June 25. — 10:55 p.m. — The following official communication was issued today:

"Between Halicz and Zurawna (in Galicia) fighting is proceeding. Counter-attacks by the Russians on the north bank of the Dniester have been repulsed. Our attack is progressing.

"Advancing from Zydaczow yesterday we captured Chodorow. Otherwise the situation on the Dniester is unchanged, as is the case with the situation east of Lemberg and near Rawa Ruska and on the Tanew (to the northwest of Lemberg).

"In Poland the Allies are pursuing the Russians, who are retreating toward Zawichost, Ozarow and Sienno."

THRILLING STORY OF NAVAL BATTLE

Underwater Boat Attacks German Cruiser and Escapes.

ITSELF BADLY DAMAGED

Crew Unable to Learn Extent of Damage Done to Prussians.

PETROGRAD, June 25. — Thrilling details of a fight between a Russian submarine and a squadron of German warships are given in an official statement issued here today. The submarine torpedoed one of the German warships, but immediately afterward collided with its victim, sustaining severe damage. Despite the damage, it managed to escape.

The official report follows:

"The submarine picked up the smoke of the enemy's vessels on the horizon at 9 p.m. When she had approached within suitable distance, the submarine dived. By means of its periscope it learned that German warships made up a squadron of ten ships of the line and a number of torpedo boats.

Avoiding German Explosives.

"To prevent the enemy from seeing the periscope, the submarine's commander decided to steer to the port side of the squadron, between the enemy and the sun. Knowing that German torpedo boats trail a special explosive contrivance for the destruction of submarines, her commander decided to make a frontal attack. Keeping the periscope above the water, the submarine approached the leading torpedo boats and about 10 o'clock passed on the port side at a distance of from 45 to 60 yards, the periscope being kept six inches above the water.

"Wishing to operate outside the line of torpedo boats the submarine drew to the left under the prow of the second torpedo boat and sank to a depth of 50 feet. At this point the crew distinctly heard the noise of the warship's screws. At a depth of 35 feet the submarine again raised its periscope, at this moment sighting the starboard side of the leading warships, which were cutting across the course of the submarine at a distance not more than 50 yards.

Collides With Cruiser.

"The submarine's commander ordered the boat to dive again after firing a torpedo. The firing of the torpedo was immediately followed by a collision. A terrible crash was heard. The whole submarine trembled. Electric bulbs burst. Crockery and all kinds of articles flew about. Something above cracked and gave way.

"The submarine listed 25 degrees to the starboard and the sailors were unable to keep their feet. They clung to anything they could find.

"Nevertheless all orders were carried out with speed and accuracy, and the submarine was kept at full speed. Owing to the fact that it was the hull of the vessel which struck the submarine she was able to regain her balance beneath the battleship.

Loud Explosion.

The submarine went down 75 feet below the surface, but there was a loud explosion, and the commander, fearing that the boat would collapse, owing to water pressure, rose to a depth of 60 feet. Then the sound of a large vessel near by compelled him to dive again to a depth of 80 feet. Repeated attempts to rise were vain for some time. Every time the submarine rose the crew heard the screws of the battleships and torpedo boats, which had broken their line, and which were cruising back and forth above the submarine.

"When water began to enter the submarine, probably owing to damage to the periscope, and the boat began to lose her buoyancy, her commander ordered that the supplementary tank be blown out. Toward midnight, taking advantage of the darkness, the submarine rose carefully to the surface and made for shore. It was under water from 7:29 p.m. until 11:30 p.m. The damage to the periscope prevented the submarine from ascertaining the success of its attacks."

TORNADO STRIKES PART OF ALBERTA

Two People Killed, Ten Injured and Much Property Damaged.

CALGARY, Alta., June 25.—Two people were killed, ten were injured and property damage of half a million dollars done at Red Cliffe, near Medicine Hat, and the section of Grassy Lake almost obliterated—the toll taken by a tornado almost similar to the Regina cyclone that swept through the district of Calgary tonight.

With almost all wires down details were meagre and the amount of damage may be even greater when the final census is taken.

The tornado struck Grassy Lake, a small town on the Medicine Hat-Lethbridge line, about 7 o'clock, tearing the roof off the hotel, wiping out two lumber yards, wrecking the drug store, blowing a whole freight train off the track and completely demolishing a farmhouse. In the house were Mrs. Olsen and her four children. The mother and a girl of ten years were instantly killed. Three small children were badly injured. They were rushed to the nearest hospital.

The tornado sweeping on played havoc with crops. It struck Red Cliffe a few moments later. Almost the whole of the business area was laid in ruins, and in the collapse of buildings no less than seven people were injured, three severely.

WAS READY TO SPEND MILLIONS ON PLANT

Ontario Company, However, Was Unable To Get Shell Orders.

TORONTO, June 25.—Mr. Frederick Nicholls, president of the Canadian General Electric Company, commenting on Lord Curzon's criticisms of the delivery of shells from Canada, stated that he had made a proposal to the war office to invest two or three millions in a plant, provided he could secure an order for a million shells.

He received a reply that no further supplies of ammunition were required. The allotment of orders, he said, was now so absurdly small that no serious investment in suitable machinery was warranted.

ITALIANS PREPARE TO ENTER AUSTRIA BY HISTORIC ROUTE

Advancing Toward Tarvis From Two Sides—Big Guns Dominate Valley of Upper Isonzo.

UDINE, via Paris, June 25.—Slowly, owing to the difficulties of mountain warfare, but steadily and with grim determination, the Italian forces are advancing both from the east along the Fella Valley and from the south through Predil Pass, towards Tarvis, which is the pivot of the classical roads along which every great invasion of Austria from Italy has occurred.

From Javorcek, which is about 5,000 feet high, the heavy artillery of the Italians is sweeping the valley below as far as Plezzo, which lies four miles away in a direct line. The big guns also dominate the whole valley of the upper Isonzo River and threaten Predil Fort. Though the defenses did not prevent Napoleon from passing this position in 1797, these fortification and also those in the Fella Valley were strengthened and co-ordinated in 1904. Two of the forts have been provided with the best modern artillery of the widest range.

The plan of Gen. Cardona, the Italian commander-in-chief, seems to be to attempt an invasion of Austria through the region around Tarvis, threatening the right wing of the Austrian army having headquarters at Laibach and obtaining as an immediate consequence relief from the pressure of the Austrian forces along the Tolmino-Trieste front.

WHAT VIENNA HAS TO SAY.

VIENNA, via London, June 25.—The following official statement was issued today:

"On the Tyrolean-Carinthian frontier there have been several artillery combats.

"East of Rohini on the frontier coast two enemy attacks early this morning were repulsed. Heavy artillery fire has been directed against the bridgehead at Gorizia and the height that borders the plateau of Cormons."

News of Men In Training For Great War

FEVER FOLLOWS WOUNDING OF LONDON VOLUNTEER

Corp. Fred Summers, in Letter Home, Describes the Engagement and Subsequent Events.

Corp. Fred Summers of the 1st Battalions, in a letter to his mother, residing on Lyle street, written in the Rochdale Auxiliary Military Hospital, Lancashire, vividly describes how he was wounded while with his company when attemptisg to gain ground in the battle of Ypres.

"We received word that the French were retreating," stated Corp. Summers, "and then we were lined up on a road and started on the march. We went about four miles and then halted for half an hour behind a farmhouse. This was to give us a rest, prior to our meeting the Germans. Shortly we were moving along a ditch, with 'Jack Johnsons' whistling over our heads and bursting about ten yards beyond us. We had another short rest, and then received word that the Germans were about 2,000 yards in front of us.

"Bullets were flying all around us as we got out of our trench and started to charge across a field. I shall never forget it as long as I live. Shells and bullets were covering nearly every inch of the ground. The Germans had dug themselves in on a hill. They were on one hill and we were coming down the other. I got about 500 yards down the field, and my section was a few yards in front of me, when a shell dropped between me and the section. I felt as though I had been hit in the leg with a hammer. I looked down and saw I had a hole in my shoe, so I started to come back as best I could. I looked around and saw that half of my section were wounded and following me to the dressing house to have our wounds attended to. After my foot got better I had fever, and am now in the English hospital. At this writing I am getting along fine."

Ira Summers, father of Corp. Summers, a member of the Princess Pats, who returned to the city on furlough some months ago, is now a member of No. 3 stationary hospital, Shornciiffe, England, where he returned some time ago.

THE DIARY OF MARS

The left bank of the River Dniester has been entirely cleared of the Teutonic troops who forced their way across at two points early this week, according to the latest Russian official statements, but the Austro-German forces are making desperate efforts to effect a passage elsewhere.

Bridging operations were begun by the Germans and Austrians south of Bukaszowice on the very night the remnants of the detachments which had previously crossed in the Kozany district and in the region of Mrtynoffstany were being driven back in the former and captured in the latter region, the Russians report. The battle still is raging at the new point of contact, they add.

Nearly everywhere else along the eastern front the drive of the Teutonic allies have been at least temporarily checked, according to the latest Russian claims. The report mentions specifically a breaking up of the German offensive to the west of the River Niemen, in the Arzyc and Omulew valleys and on the Vistula front south of Plock. A later accretion to the force of the German drive in the Orzyc region is indicated, however, the Russians reporting they were forced to give way because of an annihilating artillery fire. No important change in the situation to the east of Lemberg is reported.

Military observers are watching the progress of this fighting in eastern territory and reported movements of German troops in interior lines without venturing much more than vague speculation as to whether these operations will be followed by another Teutonic drive at Warsaw or renewed activity on a huge scale by the Germans along the western front.

The Italian armies are continuing their work of keeping clear the ground in front of them in the Tyrol-Trentino and in Cadore and Carniola by artillery fire and isolated infantry operations, the official report says. Progress is being made along the Isonzo, according to the Italian statement, despite the natural difficulties of the ground accentuated by artificial obstacles placed by the Austrians.

The most recent definite news from the Dardanelles is in the shape of a report by the Turkish war office that on June 23 a Turkish patrol had destroyed a party of the invading forces and captured arms and other war booty.

CAPT. BROWN, GALT, WAS NOT KILLED.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GALT, June 25.—Pte. Lynn Pattinson of Preston obtained somewhat of a record in being reported killed, then alive and finally wounded, but Capt. R. R. Brown of this city evidently promises to give the popular Prestonian a race for the record. On Saturday last Capt. Brown was reported as having been killed on June 15 in the battle of Festubert, in which the 1st Battalion suffered such heavy losses, but today in a list of the Canadian wounded, the Galt officer's name appears, stating that he is in a hospital at Boulogne, and to make sure that he was not overlooked in the recorded, the name appeared twice.

This was very welcome news here, and the many friends of the popular officer rejoiced at the news that he was alive. This morning the war office, London, was cabled asking for further particulars concerning the Galt man.

MANY MOUNTED EVENTS IN 7TH C. M. R. SPORTS

Troopers Will Have Opportunity To Display Their Horsemanship.

The public will have an unequalled opportunity this afternoon to judge of the horsemanship of the men of the Mounted Rifles, for the items on the program for the field day to be held in Queen's Park are of a nature to bring out the men's ability to handle and ride their mounts to the utmost.

The events are nine in number, and seven of them will be horseback competitions, while two are footraces open to the whole division. The first will be a Victoria Cross race, in which the contestants will ride from a given point to a line of dummies supposed to represent wounded men, dismount, pick up the injured, remount and ride back to the starting point.

This will be followed by a costume race. In this the men ride to a point where they pick out and don from an assortment a comic costume and return. An umbrella race comes next on the program. The horsemen have to race a certain distance, pick up and open an umbrella, and return.

A jumping match for sergeants, a wrestling contest and a boot-and-shoe race, in which the men have to ride without their boots, select their own footgear from a jumbled heap, don it and ride back, are other mounted events. The open events are a 220-yard hurdle race and a mile relay race.

COMPETITION EFFECTS LOWER BREAD PRICE

"Boosting" Blenheim Bakers, Excuse Cut oy Drop in Flour.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BLENHEIM, June 25.—Blenheim bakers have again a uniform price for a-pound-and-a-half-loaf of bread, namely six cents. A few weeks ago the two local bakers concluded that they would have to charge seven cents per loaf and they did so. The London bread continued to sell at six cents and in larger quantities. Another local man went into the bakery business, and with the English style of loaf, had a good trade at six cents.

This morning the announcement went out from the higher-priced man that flour had dropped fifty cents and so they were dropping the price to six cents per loaf.

MANY VOTERS MISLED BY C. T. A. BALLOT, SAY PERTH ANTIS

Fear Now Expressed In St. Marys That Taxes Must Rise.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ST. MARYS, June 25.—An aftermath of the Canada temperance act vote yesterday is that the anti-temperance party claims that one of the strong factors in their defeat was the misleading wording on the ballot papers, which was thus: "For the Petition;" "Against the Petition," and that many who wished to retain the present license system voted "For" instead of "Against."

Many ratepayers in town fear increased taxation to make up the loss of value on four of the hotels that will close up when the time limit is reached.

It is reported that young Clifton Langford, who suffered a terrible death yesterday in his father's sawmill at Granton, was in town here yesterday forenoon doing some business.

The businesss treets of the town are again being tarred today.

The Maxwell Maple Leaf Band rendered their first open air concert of the summer season last evening and was highly appreciated.

BRUCE COUNTY WOMEN MEMORIALIZE PREMIER TO CUT WET CANTEEN

Claim That Mothers Are Withholding Consent for Sons to Serve Empire.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

PAISLEY, June 25. — The 27th annual convention of the Bruce County W. C. T. U. convened in Knox Church on Thursday and Friday. Mrs. Ashcroft of Wiarton presided.

Delegates were present from all parts of the county.

The following resolution was passed: "Whereas, we believe that the legalized liquor traffic is one of the national sins which incurs the just displeasure of Almighty God, and most especially so when, during the worldwide war, the foodstuffs used in the manufacture of the liquor that materially unfits our soldier boys for service are needed both to feed the armies and for home consumption; and, whereas, Canadian mothers consented to their boys going overseas to fight for the liberty and honor of the motherland and her colonies, with the distinct understanding that no liquor would be allowed them, and are now withholding their consent because of the wet canteen; therefore be it resolved, that the Bruce County Women's Christian Temperance Union, in convention assembled, do hereby deplore the persistent furnishing of the wet canteen overseas to our Canadian soldiers, and the rum rations served on the firing line, and hereby vigorously protest against the same; and that a copy of this resolution be sent to Premier Borden."

Officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows: President, Mrs. Ashcroft (re-elected); first vice-president, Mrs. H. B. Putnam, Paisley; second vice-president, Mrs. James Halliday, Chesley; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Simpson, Wiarton; recording secretary, Miss Smellie, Chesley; treasurer, Mrs. Moore, Teeswater

Assistant Adjutant of 34th Is in Hospital As Result of Accident.

While mounting his horse just before parade at the camp ground last night, Assistant Adjutant Lieut. John Peat of the 34th Battalion, fell and is now in Victoria Hospital, suffering from slight internal injuries.

The stirrup iron is thought to have caught in the saddle when the officer was mounting, and he was pitched on his side to the ground. The injured officer's home is in Petrolea.

GERMAN IN SIMCOE MUST SHOW LETTERS ERE MAILING THEM

Peter Peterson Fined $1 for Having Firearms—Says Boy Owns Gun.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SIMCOE, June 25.—Peter Peterson, a German in the employ of the Simcoe Woolstock Company, who was arrested here early in the week and remanded pending information from Ottawa, was arraigned before Police Magistrate W. C. Jackson at 11 o'clock this morning and fined $1 and costs on the charge of being an allen and having a firearm in his possession.

Peterson was living in a tent, just outside the town and close to the property of his employers.

A 13-year-old boy, named Waffle, also a German, did the cooking for Peterson, and, according to Peterson's testimony, the 22 rifle and ammunition belonged to the boy.

After imposing the fine, the magistrate allowed Peterson to go on parole. He will report to the chief of police once every week, and has taken an affidavit to submit all his correspondence to the chief before mailing.

WHEAT IS DAMAGED TO SOME EXTENT IN FEW KENT SECTIONS

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, June 25. — The farmers of Kent County, who have been interviewed regarding the wheat crop for the present year, seem to vary in opinion. There are some who state that the crops in some parts of the country have been ruined by the frost.

It is said that some of the wheat in Dover will not be worth the cutting.

Other reports from Harwich state that the wheat crop will be the best in years. There seems to be no doubt that in some sections of the country the wheat crop has been badly damaged, but it is not thought that the loss will be serious.

CLOVER SHOWS INJURY.

BLYTH, June 25.—The heavy frost of Thursday night did considerable damage in this locality, especially to the garden stuff on low land. The clover in some sections was also blackened. The fall wheat, which promises a good crop, and of which so much more was sown than usual, is commencing to head out, and is in great danger of being frozen, but as far as can be learned, this frost did not affect it.

"MISSING" NOW OFFICIAL NOTICE

Mrs. Groshaw Receives Delayed Report on Her Son.

SAYS FEW ESCAPED

Soldier With Pte. Groshaw in Trenches Declares Such Was Case.

A delayed message from Ottawa has reached Mrs. Groshaw, matron of the Home for Incurables, stating that her son, Pte. W. Groshaw of the 48th Highlanders, is missing. It was understood by the military authorities that "Billy" Groshaw's home was in Toronto, owing to the fact that he was with the Highlanders, and a telegram announcing him as missing was sent there. The message was unclaimed, and the end of last week the name of "Groshaw, Toronto," appeared in the Toronto News in the list of missing. Inquiry in Ottawa brought about the discovery of the mistake.

The mother and other relatives of the gallant young soldier have for weeks been enduring greatest suspense, which has been intensified by news received from England, Groshaw, with other members of his regiment, including several who had been drafted from the 17th Battalion, Nova Scotia Highlanders, was in the trenches when the Germans made the night attack that was the beginning of the battle of Langemarck. A lance-corporal managed to escape, and, arriving in England, informed a former corporal of the 17th Battalion, who knew "Billy" well, that he believed very few escaped, as the Germans had gassed the trenches and were upon his comrades before they could get away.

COL. SHANNON BACK

D. O. C. Returns To Duty After Two Days' Illness.

Col. L. W. Shannon, who has been confined to his home with a slight illness for two days, returned to the barracks late this afternoon.

THE DAWN OF YOUNG WOMANHOOD

Girls upon the threshold of womanhood often drift into a decline in spite of all care and attention. Even strong and lively girls become weak, depressed, irritable and listless. It is the dawn of womanhood—a crisis in the life of every girl—and prompt measures should be taken to keep the blood pure and rich with the red tint of health. If the body is not in a healthy condition at this critical stage, grave disorders may result, and future life become a burden. Deadly consumption often follows this crisis in the lives of young women. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have saved thousands of young girls from what might have been life-long invalidism or early death. They are a blood-builder of unequalled merit, strengthening weak nerves and producing a liberal supply of rich, red blood, which every girl needs to sustain her strength.

Over and over again Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved their value to women and girls whose health was failing. Miss Jennie Gereau, St. Jerome, Que., says: "At the age of eighteen my health was completely shattered; I was suffering from anaemia with all its attendant evils. The trouble forced me to leave school. I suffered from headaches, was tired and breathless at the least exertion. I had no appetite and my face and lips were literally bloodless. A good friend advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and thanks to this great medicine I am again enjoying good health, with a good appetite, good color and a spirit of energy."

Every anaemic girl can be made well and strong through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

CONSTIPATIENTS

Read This—

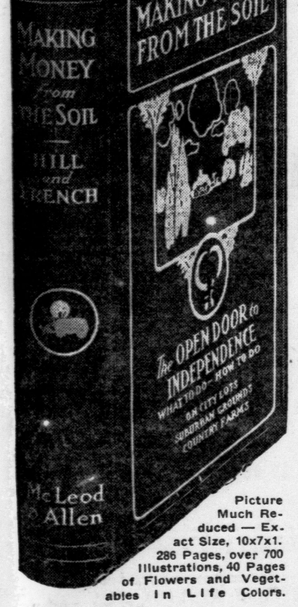

It must be remembered that the bowels should move freely once a day to ensure perfect health. When such is not the case the poisonous waste material is absorbed into the system, thus producing a self blood poisoning.

The causes of Constipation are many and varied. Among the more common may be mentioned poor stomach digestion, a deficiency of bile in the intestines, a lack of secretion in the bowels, and a want of the natural muscular contraction of the intestines from above downward.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt, sold everywhere at 25c and 60c, stimulates and restores the stomach digestion, increases the flow of bile into the intestine, causes a flow from the intestinal glands, and restores the natural downward action of the intestines, rendering it easy to secure a free action of the bowels, which is one of the most important requisites to health. 1

ITALY DOING WELL.

ONE of the greatest military surprises in history was the distinguished conduct of the Greek army in the late Balkan war. The pitiful failure of that army in the war against Turkey just fifteen years before had somewhat discredited the Greeks even with their friends. "Too bad," it was said, "they have the Pyrrhic glance as yet, where is the Pyrrhic phalanx gone?" But when the Hellenic army, as reorganized under the regime of Venizelos, crashed into the Turks in 1912 and later through the Bulgarians as well, the world woke up to the arrival of a new and vigorous military power. Ancient Greece had come to life again.

At the opening of the Balkan war a German cartoon represented the Greek army as all running "a marathon race for home to tell the news of the victory." The sneer will never be repeated.

But upon the entrance of Italy to the present war the German press was similarly facetious at her expense. The Italian army was a crowd of "organ-grinders and mandolin players." After all, the Germans are rather fond of music, too.

It may be admitted that Italy is a young nation. Her success against Austria in 1866 was far from distinguished. The Italian forces were beaten by Abyssinians at Adua in 1896. Perhaps the Italian victory in Tripoli was a little labored. But the deliberate and cunning manipulation of the Italian armies during the last month, the conspicuous courage and brilliant strategy which has captured position after position in an almost impossible country, all go to show that the Italians are as good cannon-grinders and machine gun-players as there are in the business. They are furnishing an unpleasant surprise to the Huns, not so sensational a surprise of course as that of the Greeks, because Garibaldi and his men had shown what stuff was in Italy, but still something of a surprise to Germany's swelled head. Ancient Italy also is coming to her own.

MR. WHITE FOR THE DEFENCE.

A FEW days ago, in a political address, the Hon. Mr. White undertook the defence of the Dominion Government's financial transactions. He is well qualified for the task and doubtless did the best he could. But this is one of those cases in which the less the defendant has to say for himself the better. The Finance Minister seemed to think that the easiest way of escaping blame was to try and shift it on to other shoulders. He excuses himself by accusing his predecessors.

He did not deny that the money to be raised by the war tax does not go to defray the expenses of the war, because the entire appropriation for the war is borrowed money. He did not deny that the ordinary expenditure of the country had increased rapidly before the war broke out, because the figures in the public accounts, and his own estimates at the last session of parliament, show it. So he undertakes to attribute the demand for more money to two causes. His predecessors left large enterprises to be paid for, and the country has been expanding so much that its expense increased. According to Mr. White, Laurier and prosperity are really the ones to be blamed.

Of course, the items he charges up to the Liberals are the two railways—the Northern and the Transcontinental. Now the facts in these two cases cannot be hidden. The Liberal Government gave assistance to the Canadian Northern for the construction of its lines opening up the Northwest, just as the provincial governments did. And it required the company's rates to be under the control of the railway commission. The Conservative Government of British Columbia made the arrangement which carried the road through that province free from any restrictions as to rates, and which necessitated the raising of more money. Whether it was wise or not for the present Dominion Government to give additional aid is beside the question. So far as the Liberals were concerned, they have nothing to be ashamed of or to regret.

The Liberal Government undertook to construct the unproductive sections of the Transcontinental, and the G. T. Pacific was to take them over and operate them. But the present Government lowered the standard of the line, and gave the G. T. P. an excuse for refusing to operate it. If Sir Robert's ministry have to run the unprofitable sections of this line, at a great cost to the country, as seems to be the case, their predecessors are not to blame.

As to the expansion of the country calling for greater expenditures, that is a poor excuse. Contraction began as soon as the Conservatives came in. And there was no just ground for any material increase in the cost of managing its affairs. There are no more Indians to be looked after now than three years ago, but the cost of the Indian Department has run up from $1,449,000 to $2,182,000. The work done by the Dominion Lands Department was at its maximum during Liberal management, but the cost has increased the last three years more than 50 per cent.

The only department where there has been legitimate expansion is that of the Postoffice. The adoption of rural free delivery by the Liberal Government has been carried on by their successors, and, of course, there has been a necessary advance in the expenses of that department. At the same time, many small postoffices have been abolished; many of the rural delivery contracts are only old mail contracts re-arranged; so that the actual cost of the new service should not be as great as might be expected. To meet the increased outlay the Liberal Government left this department with a surplus of nearly one million and a quarter per annum. That should have been sufficient. But it is not. By March, 1914, it was down to a little over $100,000, and now it has gone. The expenditure of the last year of Liberal rule was a little over $9,000,000; the present Government appropriates over sixteen and a half million for the current year.

In a few departments alone, viz., public works, postoffice, Dominion lands, customs, Indians, immigration, mines, fisheries, and civil government, the cost has run up from $33,234,000 in 1911-12 to $59,979,000 in 1915-16. No such increase can be justifiable. A moderate advance would not have called for criticism, but nearly doubling in a few years cannot be defended, even by as clever a man as Mr. White.

LOSS AND GAIN?

ANOTHER Norwegian steamer gone! How they must either love or fear Germany in those Scandinavian countries to stand this sort of thing.

In the time of Napoleon the northern states of Europe formed the "armed neutrality" to resist or demonstrate against certain pretentions of Great Britain as Mistress of the Seas. Surely the time is now nearly ripe for at least an "armed neutrality" of Holland, Norway, Denmark and Sweden against the piracy of Germany. Or are citizens of Scandinavia and Holland making so much money in buying and selling supplies to Germany that peace under the German pirate is too profitable?

HUGE WAR LOSSES.

AT the present rate of losses how long can the Great Conflict last? A French military expert, who has made a specialty of the losses in the present war, says that up to April 1st the Teutonic allies had lost almost 7,000,000 men, 4,000,000 Germans and 3,000,000 Austrians. Considering the terrific fighting that has been the daily rule at both fronts since April 1st, figuring at the same rate as the French expert, 9,000,000 is a conservative estimate of the German and Austrian losses up to date.

The French casualties are placed at close to 2,000,000 men, and those of the British, at all points where they are engaged, and in their naval warfare, should be well over 300,000. Estimates of the Russian casualties put the grand total at 3,000,000; Belgium at 200,000, Servia 200,000, and Turkey 300,000. Roughly this puts the Teuton losses at 9,000,000, and the Allies at 6,000,000. This makes the casualties for the both sides about 15,000,000, and of this number, according to Hilaire Belloc, the greatest of all war critics, at least 6,000,000 are dead or out of the fighting for good by reason of their wounds.

These are staggering figures. If the war is to continue for another two years it will surely be a war of annihilation for some of the nations engaged. If it narrows down to a struggle of extermination the Allies, and especially Great Britain, will be in a better position to last it out than the enemy, as they have their sons and friends the world over to draw from.

CANADA'S TRADE.

VI.

CANADA undoubtedly will be able to increase her trade materially with the republics of South America, China and Japan, Russia, and other foreign countries, if the proper goods are offered and are energetically pushed. The Canadian salesman should become a familiar figure in other lands, because the same aggressive methods will be required there as in domestic trade.

South America is a large, wealthy country, which has traded extensively with Germany because Germany has cultivated it. With the war this trade has been lost, and the South American Republics are disposed to snuggle up closely to the United States. The Pan-American Union recently organized at Washington was intended to bring the republics of America closer together in trade matters, and undoubtedly it will prove successful. The United States is building up a merchant marine which will seek to follow the American trade routes first of all. The opening of the Panama Canal will assist.

In 1912 South America imported merchandise valued at almost a billion dollars. Over one-quarter of this was from Great Britain, with the United States and Germany pushing each other hard for second place. Canada's share in this was small,—about $2,500,000.

Two-thirds of the southern continent's imports are for Argentina and Brazil, but they comprise to a great extent the same line of articles which Canada imports. Of these two countries Canada's trade is greater with Argentina, where in 1912 she sent unmanufactured timber worth about a million and a half dollars, chiefly spruce. However, Argentina's total imports of unmanufactured timber amounted to ten times this, and she imported manufactured timber worth over five million dollars. Of this latter trade Germany got one-quarter.

Argentina, being like Canada, an agricultural country, her imports of manufactured goods are extensive. From Germany she has been getting iron and steel products, machinery, electrical supplies, automobiles, all kinds of hardware and textiles, jewelry, paper and wood pulp, and fancy foodstuffs. She buys considerable agricultural machinery, chiefly, however, from the United States. She buys fish, some of which goes from Canada, and foodstuffs of other kinds which this country could supply in greater quantities than in the past. In paper, hardware and textiles, Argentina has purchased in large quantities from Germany, and these are products which Canada can supply.

Brazil's imports are about one-third those of Argentina's, and are about of the same character. The country has a large German population, and almost one-sixth of the imports have come from Germany. From Canada she purchased in 1912 a little less than a million dollars' worth of products, chiefly codfish. The largest imports from Germany were cement, earthenware and porcelain, arms and ammunition, motor cars, hides and skins, industrial machinery, locomotives, railway accessories, textiles, sewing machines, machinery for electricity, iron and steel manufactures and rice. Brazil's imports from Britain exceed those from Germany, however, by $25,000,000, more than half the total value being in coal. The other South American countries have spent sixty million dollars a year in Germany.

Russia has been Germany's fourth best customer, and France her fifth. Their aggregate purchases amounted to about three hundred million dollars a year. Canadian manufacturers should have little difficulty in capturing some of this trade, and some of Japan's thirty million dollars' worth of purchases, if the proper goods are offered. A new steamship line is already established between Vancouver and Vladivostok. Russia's buying power is enormous; she wants practically everything in manufactured articles. In the past she has bought agricultural implements in large quantities from Canada. With the new and united spirit which has taken hold of the Russian people, the country, after the war, is likely to surpass all others in material development. It is a field rich and ripe for every Canadian manufacturer.

China and Japan have purchased thirty million dollars' worth of products in a year from Germany. They include the usual manufactured articles shipped to other countries, but Japan has taken a large amount of paper and cardboard, a line in which Canada has had a very small share, and which, it would seem, could be developed enormously.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Russians have gone away back, but they are not going to sit down.

Temperance made a clean sweep of John Barleycorn's trenches in Perth.

Mr. Bryan says the war is a "causeless" one. But is that any reason why we should permit the Hun to walk over us?

The Germans claim to have scored the greatest victory of the war. And their losses have been also the greatest in the war.

The Princess Pats and Col. Becher and his men have set a high mark for courage, dash and devotion to duty, and the Canadians while they can never surpass it will never drop below it.

Although they overran Galicia for six months, the Russians leave it with a clean record as to treatment of civilians. Germany has long sneered at the Muscovites, calling them barbarians, but there have been no massacres, no vandalism, no torturings, such as marked the Hun sweep into Belgium.

That German-American convention at Detroit to protest against the export of war munitions to the Allies should pass a resolution of gratitude to Mr. Bryan. The Commoner when he deserted President Wilson gave them a lead in their plans to hamper the United States Government to the benefit of Germany.

If the Germans do throw vast reinforcements against the Allies in the west they will likely meet the same defeat as marked their other drives at Calais and Paris. On those occasions the Allies were outnumbered ten to one, but they broke the Hun offensive. Now they will be on more equal terms as to numbers. And Joffre and French have been backing up every advance with strong defences.

TO THE OTTAWA.

[W. Wilfrid Campbell.]

Out of the northern wastes, lands of winter and death,
Regions of ruin and age, spaces of solitude lost;
You wash and thunder and sweep,
And dream and sparkle and creep,
Turbulent, luminous, large,
Scion of thunder and frost.
Down past woodland and waste, lone as the haunting of even,
Of shrivelled and wind-moaning night when winter hath wizened the world;
Down past hamlet and town
By marshes, by forests that frown,
Brimming their desolate banks,
Your tides to the ocean are hurled.

MANITOBA'S SHAME.

[Hamilton Spectator (Con.)]

No longer can we cherish the hope that the leading members of the late Manitoba Administration were not directly concerned in the villainy unearthed in connection with the construction of the new Parliament Buildings.

THE WEEK IN REVIEW

LEMBERG, the capital of Galicia, which since a few weeks after the opening of the war has been in the hands of the Russians, once more reverts to the Austrians by the withdrawal this week of the Grand Duke Nicholas before the great Teutonic drive. But the Russian retreat has been carried out with admirable steadiness, the rear-guard actions of the Russians inflicting heavy losses on their pursuers, and the capture of the city is by no means a decisive triumph. Gen. Mackensen sought to encircle the Russians and so capture or destroy the entire army, but the Russian commander was too clever to be caught and has retired in good order, his army intact. It is still some distance to the Russian border, and the Germans and Austrians have plenty of heavy fighting ahead before the enemy can be driven from Galicia. The Russians have been able to cause heavy losses to the Austrian section of the drive which has been attacking from the south and southeast. Repeatedly this army has been thrown back and many prisoners taken. In the fighting in Bukowina, too, the Russians have been uniformly successful. Elsewhere in the eastern zone of the war on the long battleline, extending from South Poland to the Baltic, there has been only desultory fighting for some time. Now, however, it is believed that the Germans will move on Warsaw, hoping to take That great city before turning to the help of the Austrians against the Italians or trying once more to get through to Paris or Calais. It is now well established that the success of the Teutons in Galicia has been due to the lack of munitions on the part of the Russians. Despite this heavy handicap, the latter are unbeaten. The Germans claim to have taken 60,000 prisoners in the course of the fighting of the last few weeks, but the Russians also have taken many thousands of the enemy.

RUSSIANS WITHDRAW FROM GALICIAN CAPITAL

ON Tuesday the Allies made a fine gain on the Gallipoli Peninsula, cleaning up five hundred yards of Turk trenches and holding them all day against furious counter-attacks. This success was made about fifteen miles up the peninsula, and is part of the plans to break away to positions that dominate the fortifications of the straits. Nothing has been reported for some time as to the work of the fleets at the Dardanelles. It is thought the menace of the submarines, which sank the Majestic and Triumph, has for the time being rendered the warships inactive. In this connection it is reported that seven German submarines have entered the Mediterranean by way of Gibraltar. This is farther from their base than any German submarine has dared to go since the war commenced, and suggests that somewhere in the Mediterranean the Germans have secret supply stations. With British, French and Italian warships patrolling day and night it will be difficult to keep these places secret for long.

SOME GOOD NEWS FORM DARDANELLES

THE Italians continue to fight a way towards Trieste and Goritz, but daily the opposition becomes heavier, and it will require a strenuous campaign to capture these two Austrian cities. During this week the advance on Trieste from Monfalcone was commenced, but it has been slow, owing to heavy reinforcements rushed to the defence of Austria's great port. The Italians are making better headway towards Goritz, having reached Plava, midway between the frontier and Goritz, where heavy artillery actions are in progress. On Sunday the Italians performed a notable feat of arms by scaling Mount Nero in the Carinthian Alps and carrying the Austrian trenches at the bayonet's point. In the Tyrol the operations have come to a standstill, owing to snowstorms.

FIGHT FOR TRIESTE GROWS MORE FIERCE

IN the Vosges, in the Argonne, in Alsace and Lorraine, the French keep nibbling away at the German lines and are making steady progress. At one point in Lorraine they are within five miles of the German frontier. In the Argonne district they are driving hard in an attempt to get through to the Rhine. Paris reports that in the Vosges mountains and around Arras the Germans are falling back. Their counter-attacks are furious, but the French so far seem to have always regained any ground taken. North of Arras the fighting has shown no let up for weeks, and here, too, all the gains of the Allies, sometimes made at fearful cost, have been held. In Alsace, the French have carried the village of Metzeral and are within big-gun range of the German town of Muenster, in German Alsace.

FRENCH ARE CLOSE TO GERMAN BORDER

During the week reports of a great battle at La Bassee on June 15 came through. This was the fight in which the Western Ontario contingent took a gallant part. In this engagement Col. Becher of London and twelve other officers were killed, while the losses amongst the men are said to have been unusually heavy.

On Wednesday Dunkirk was subjected to an all-day bombardment by German guns twenty miles away. Some civilians were killed and considerable material damage done.

IN the House of Commons on Tuesday, Lloyd George, minister of munitions, announced that drastic steps were to be taken to secure an adequate supply of munitions. The labor leaders had promised, he asserted, that the workingmen would rally to the task, and that they would be given seven days to make good. The alternative will be compulsion. "Slackers" are to be punished after appearing before a court made up of a labor representative, an agent of the employer, and one of the Government. Strikes and lockouts will be illegal, and a maximum figure will be placed on the profits of employers. The workingmen will be expected to give all their working hours to the production of shells and other war material. The union representatives have opened 180 recruiting stations for this industrial army, and all are invited to enlist.

LLOYD GEORGE ISSUES AN ULTIMATUM

THE British cruiser Roxburghe, one of the swiftest in the British navy, was torpedoed in the North Sea on Sunday, but was not seriously damaged, and was able to make port for repairs. The Belgians have captured the German town and fort of Kissegnies in German East Africa.

CRUISER TORPEDOED IN THE NORTH SEA.

AN unexpected turn to the war has taken place in the Balkans. The Servians instead of advancing against the Austrians appear to have abandoned the campaign there altogether, and are busy overrunning Albania. They have already taken Durazzo, Albania's best seaport. The reason of this is a mystery, but it is not likely the move has been made without the sanction of the Allies, as Great Britain is financing the Serbs.

TEN MINUTES With the Short-Story Writers

A RUNG ON THE LADDER.

By Blanche I. Goell.

I walked out of the office, grinding my teeth at the fate which bound me nine hours a day to uncongenial clerical work. I have it in me to do bigger things; but no man can climb the ladder of success without a start.

I boarded a car, sat down, and began to read the advertisements pasted above the heads of the passengers. Because I have long studied the art of writing advertisements, because my applications for a chance to prove myself have been refused by half a hundred firms and corporations, because I still believe that I could do good work, I studied each card, as is my custom, long and carefully.

The one directly opposite me read thus:

The Girl Sitting Next to You in This Car Will Be Delighted If You Send Her a Box of WINSOR'S CHOCOLATES.

I turned and looked at the girl sitting next to me. I'd never seen her before, but she was good to look at. It occurred to me that, whether or not she would be delighted to receive the box of Winsor's chocolates, I would be delighted to send it.

I have come characteristic common to great men. With me, to think is to act. I reached a swift decision. I drew forth a notebook and a safety inkpencil, and turned to the girl.

"Your name and address, please," I said in businesslike tones.

For one instant surprise and disdain played on her features. Then she shrieked.

"Oh—oh—oh!" she screamed.

Even at this crisis I noted that she had a sweetly feminine and very charming scream; not one to make your hair stand on end, but rather one to coil tenderly about your heart-strings. All this I felt, but did not reason out on the flash.

Now, it was not anything in my appearance that caused the shriek of terror from the girl sitting by my side—the girl who, the advertisement told me, would be delighted if I sent her a box of Winsor's chocolates. It was a threatened collision between a heavily laden auto-dray and the electric car in which we were riding. The collision came, the shock threw the girl heavily against my shoulder; a fuse blew out underneath the car, and instinctively I held the girl in my arms and shielded her from the frantic beasts of passengers, who, crazed and senseless, fought their way over one another toward the exits.

The excitement soon abating, and the car being half empty, I immediately rose to the official duty devolving upon me. I am an underling in the legal department of the street railway company. Still keeping an observant eye upon the girl who would be delighted to have me send her a box of Winsor's chocolates, I advanced upon the remaining passengers, secured their names and addresses, their opinions as to the responsibility for the accident—when such was favorable to the company—their freedom from injury, disclaimers of damages, and so on. Then, smilingly, all peril and confusion over, I returned to the girl who had sat by my side.

"Your name and address, please," I repeated; but she placed a trembling hand upon my arm.

"Oh, will you see me off this dreadful car to the sidewalk?" she implored.

She was shaking from head to foot. With a second swift glance, I realized that she was unsused to travel in the mode of conveyance common to the proletariat. I instantly acceded to her request to pilot her across the danger-zone lying between the car track and the curb.

I felt the girl quiver on my arm and breathe a deep sigh of relief when we gained the sidewalk.

"Thank you!" she murmured, withdrawing her hand and moving as if to dismiss me. Then she turned with a little gesture of apology. "I—I am unnerved today," she explained "I was driving home from the East Side—there was a manhole with a loose cover—my horse fell and broke his leg—a policeman had to shoot him. I'd had poor Bobs eight years!" Something caught in her throat, and she forced back a sob. "So I took a car. Then this collision—"

"Shall I call a cab—put you in a taxi?" I volunteered.

"No, I will walk," she decided. "The air will refresh me."

She seemed too nervous and exhausted to be left alone, stranded thus on the perilous reefs of a great city's swirling streets.

"Will you permit me to escort you?" I asked, presenting my card.

She scrutinized me closely, then acquiesced. We walked up the avenue together. Once, as a speeding taxicab skidded and dashed against the curb, she shuddered and clutched my arm. To me it seemed but a second before we turned off the avenue, and she stopped in front of a handsome house on a side street.

"My father will thank you for your kindness to me," she said.

A fine limousine had drawn up in front of the house just before we reached it, and I had seen a distinguished-looking man ascend the steps. Expecting dismissal, yet doggedly faithful to my first intention, I again whipped out my note-book and inkpencil.

"Your name and address, please," I said, resuming my businesslike manner.

"Oh!" she cried in alarm, "you don't mean to summon me in any court?"

"No!" I reassured her. Then I looked gravely into her brown eyes. "I will explain. An advertisement in the car which we were riding declared that the girl who sat next to me would be delighted if I sent her a box of Winsor's chocolates. You were the girl who sat next to me. You see, your name and address are essential."

Bursting into a merry peal of laughter, she ran up the stone steps, then turned and called to me:

"Come!"

I needed no second invitation. In the broad hall stood the distinguished-looking man who had left the limousine.

"Father," she cried, "here is a young man who interprets the advertisements in the street cars literally!"

"Young man, explain yourself," ordered the father, turning to me with great severity.

But I was not to be cowed by him. I stood my ground.

"Sir," I returned, "under the sign, seal, and name of Alfred H. Winsor, I was this day assured that the girl sitting next to me in the street car would be delighted if I sent her a box of Winsor's chocolates."

"Have you dared to annoy my daughter?" he exploded, advancing threateningly.

The girl quickly interceded.

"Oh, no, father! Why, he saved me in an accident!"

I cast her a grateful glance, but mustered all my dignity to meet the assault of the father.

"Sir," I said, with the moral courage inherited from generations of self-respecting ancestors—"sir, Alfred H. Winsor is considered a man of standing in the community. I have but acted on his advice. If you object to my manner of procedure, you should interview him."

At this the girl began to laugh again, but the man bit his lip and blustered.

"I shall see Rollins about this!" he sputtered.

Rollin's fate was no concern of mine. I drew myself up for my ultimatum.

"Sir, I shall send your daughter a box of Winsor's chocolates."

"Which she will be delighted to receive," put in the girl, flashing another splendidly loyal little smile at me.

"That advertisement—" he began angrily.

"Mr. Winsor employs a poor advertisement writer," I announced. "I could write better things myself. I am trained to the art."

"Father, he saved me!" interposed the girl again. "There was a car accident."

Suddenly he flung back his head and laughed, a great boy's bellowing laugh. The girl chimed in. I didn't see the joke. Then he turned toward me abruptly.

"Young man, would you like such a position?" he demanded.

"At a proper remuneration, yes," I returned.

"Well, I think I'm going to give you a chance to prove yourself," he said. "Wait a moment."

He disappeared through one of the big rooms opening from the square hall. The girl and I looked at each other for a moment. Then her long eyelashes fell. I took a step toward her.

"What is your name and address?" I repeated.

"I am Dorothy Winsor," she replied. Then her brown eyes brimmed over with mischief. "But you have put away your note book!"

"Because I have written your name on my heart," I answered very slowly and clearly.

For another instant we looked at each other. Then her father reappeared.

"Here's your appointment for tomorrow, young man—at my office." Then he added, as an afterthought: "You see, I happen to own Winsor's factory, roof and basement, and every chocolate in it."

Then I saw the joke. He nodded good-by to me, and the girl shook hands. I walked down the steps and along the street, not treading on mere matter. My head was held high, my heart was happy. I had firm hold on the first rung!

FOUR MILLION VOLUNTEERS FOR THE BRITISH ARMY

[London Daily News.]

In the conduct of war facts are the only things that count. Illusions are worse than useless; they are dangerous, nature like gravitation. It is not an article of faith. It is simply a system which the free genius of our sea-girt race has tried and proved. Before they discard it they will ask whether it has broken under the burden of their greatest war, waged against their greatest enemy. They will require proof that it has broken. Up to the present no proof of its breaking has been produced.

On the contrary, all the avilable evidence has vindicated the efficiency of the voluntary system which is the breath of our freedom. Rhetoric and sentiment and sophistry have no bearing on this matter. They are irrelevant, whatever specious form they may assume. The most convincing proof of the valiant efficiency of the voluntary system is the fact that Lord Kitchener is satisfied with it. The nation rightly regards Lord Kitchener as its greatest soldier. Its faith in him is unshaken and unshakable. In all his speeches he has declared that he is absolutely satisfied with the virile quality and the superabundant quantity of the incomparable soldiers which the voluntary system has produced. He has at every stage of the war got all the young warriors he asked for, and more. This is a shining fact which cannot be gainsaid. We glory in it.

Training and Equipment.

At one period the ardent torrent of eager patriots overflowed the reservoirs, and the war office was forced to check the spate of valor by raising the height standard from 5 feet 4 inches to 5 feet 6 inches. That, again, is a splendid fact which cannot be denied. Probably it would have been craftier to enroll the fighting men and send them back to their homes until the military authorities were able to enroll a full regiment, house, feed, clothe, train, and equip them. But the warriors were aye ready, and when Lord Kitchener summoned them they came back proudly. He has never called in vain. His latest call is for another 300,000 volunteers, and he is getting them as fast as he can handle them. Once more, these are heroic facts which cannot be controverted.

It is known that Germany, with all her military expertise, cannot train and equip more than 800,000 men at the same time. We do not know how many soldiers are now being trained and equipped in this country, for the enemy must be hoodwinked; but it is certain that Lord Kitchener would have called for more than 300,000 men if more were needed and more could be handled. If our youth were flung at the war office faster the machine could not digest it. This is another fact which cannot be passed by rhetoric. On October 19 the Morning Post published a letter from an officer at the front in which he said:

"I think the recruiting in England is the most wonderful part of the whole war. Where on earth are they putting them, and how on earth do they clothe and feed them?"

Four Million Volunteers.

But the nation has freely given far more than 500,000 men. The army estimates in February provided for 3,000,000 men. These, and perhaps more than these, are serving. In that total are included the men in the navy, in the mine-sweepers, in the armed auxiliary vessels, in the patrols, in the naval volunteer battalions. Moreover, at least a million men have been rejected as physically unfit, a proportion of 25 per cent. That gives us a grand total of 4,000,000 men who have volunteered. Here again is an effulgent fact which rebukes the fearmongers.

The military correspondent of the Times on November 7 stated some facts which are staggering. He said that "even an angel from heaven could not meet all the wants of these vast forces." He gave startling figures:

If we take boots, our normal peace issues for one year are only 245,000 pairs, but at present there are, delivered or on order, 6,500,000 pairs for first outfit and upkeep for six months only. We usually issue 114,000 pairs of woolen drawers a year, and have now 7,000,000 pairs on order for half a year. Instead of 43,000 greatcoats we have 1,500,000 in hand; instead of 250,000 service dress jackets, 5,250,000 are coming along; not to speak of 5,000,000 pairs of trousers, 4,500,000 pairs of puttees, 11,000,000 shirts, 11,000,000 pairs of socks, besides caps, pants, Highland shoes, cardigans, towels, field dressings, and so on in the same relative proportions.

All these things, as well as new warships, rifles, bayonets, guns, cartridges, shells, caissons, transports and foodstuffs must be produced and paid for.

Necessary Service.

Mr. Lloyd George has told us that 2,000,000 men are engaged in producing munitions and equipment. And they do not suffice. If we add these 2,000,000 to the 3,000,000 already under arms, and to the million rejected volunteers, we get 6,000,000. The total number of males of military age in the United Kingdom is not more than 8,000,000. There is therefore a margin of about 2,000,000. Of these a certain number is required to keep the essential machinery of industry and society going—seamen, miners, railwaymen, agricultural laborers, shipbuilders, transport workers, commercial workers, civil servants, policemen, postmen, scavengers, dustmen, sewermen, carpenters, plumbers, painters, etc. I doubt whether fewer than 1,500,000 men could carry on the vitally necessary services of the nation. That leaves a margin of 500,000 men. And Lord Kitchener, be it noted, asks for 300,000, and will get them.

In the face of these facts it cannot be said that the free voluntary system has failed. It has not failed. It has succeeded superbly. Its heroic success has raised the price of coal and food, and everything else. It has perilously impaired the power of the nation to finance and to arm ourselves, our dominions and our allies. Our exports are the sinews of war for ourselves and for France, Belgium, Russia, Italy, Servia, and other potential allies. I have shown what free voluntary service has done in ten months of war. Those who belittle what M. Millerand, the French war minister, has described as our "superhuman efforts" are traducing their own country and their own countrymen in the eyes of our allies and of our enemies. There is nothing we will not give to our country except the freedom to be free to give it. All we can give her we give. But we give as free men.

Puritan and Fichu Collars Newest Neckwear Fads

The new neckwear display in the shops is unusually attractive this summer, and grows more interesting day by day. The large new Puritan or Quaker collars, as they are called, in some of the shops, represent the most pronounced neckwear fad of the season.

They are large and cape-like, falling almost to the waistline at the back, extending in a round point, low over the shoulder and cut in square points at the front. The collar follows the base of the neck at the throat and finishes with a cravat or loosely knotted ribbon. These collars are plain and tailored in effect, with picot or hemstitched edges, and are made of linen or sheer material.

Wide flat fichu collars, too, are shown this year in fine sheer materials. They fall rounded in the back, low over the shoulders and taper to points in front, the pointed ends often being slipped under high girdles at each side of the front, and not shaped at all.

Some of the fichus of point d'esprit or net, bordered by plaited frills of the material, are charming and are offered in various sizes and shapes. These, of course, require draping, and both the graceful draping and effective wearing of a fichu are ticklish matters, to be approached in a spirit of serious artistic understand and effort.

A vogue is predicted for the absolutely simple wash frock, with fichu or big collar of sheer lingerie, with plaited frill or lace trimmed, for its only ornament, and the idea is an excellent one, simplifying tubbing problems. If the collar or fichu is very pretty the effect provided is that of extreme daintiness and smartness.

Great Variety in Frills.

The plaited frill is much in evidence this season, and is offered in every imaginable variation and in every degree of fineness. There are frills of lace, frills of linen, lace trimmed; frills of white, with narrow borders of color; frills of black tulle and frills of white tulle, and frills of black and white tulle combined, the plaited white frills over the black, or the black over the white. Black moire ribbon is often combined with the black and white tulle.

Black moire ribbon is introduced into much of the modish neckwear this season. For instance, a high standing collar at the back may be seen with a narrow cravat of the black moire encircling the neck, and tied in a smart bow at the front, or perhaps finished with a buckle or an ornament.

A BLOUSE FASTENING.

A pretty fastening for a blouse is to have two tucks that meet in front. Just beyond them set a row of buttons on each side. Then make a ring of crochet silk, about three-fourths of an inch across, by winding it round the finger several times, and crocheting over it. Give it a twist in the middle to make it like the figure eight and tack it. Fasten one end around one button, and leave the other loose to button. Silk braid is pretty, too, for these loops, and loops are popular this season.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

The "tailored maid" in midnight blue seems to be just as popular in June as she was at Eastertime. The sombreness of the "midnight darkness" is lightened a bit by cuffs and collars of old gold or tan—and these glowing tints, by the way, are much smarter for cuffs and collars than white linen.

The first monument to be erected on the battlefield in memory of those who have fallen in the present war is that now being completed at the extreme point reached by Gen. Von Kluck's army in the advance on Paris. It stands beside the Meux-Barcy roads, near the first graves to be met with in this district. The monument, which is the work of Territorial Engineers, consists of a truncated stone pyramid, bearing the following inscription engraved in red letters, on a grey marble slab: "To the memory of the soldiers of the army of Paris, who fell for their country on the battlefield of Ourcq."

Miss Arnoldi Tells Women How Articles Are Stored, Listed, Packed and Distributed to Men in Trenches---Linen Shower Continues Next Week.

One hundred and forty thousand three hundred and forty-one articles packed and shipped for distribution among Canadian soldiers at the front, out of some 159,425 articles received, is the splendid record of achievement which Lieut. John Arnoldi of the Canadian Field Comforts Commission reported yesterday afternoon to members of the I.O.D.E. Red Cross Society and other patriotic women workers assembled in Cronyn Hall.

Miss Arnoldi, who has been actively engaged in this branch of work in England ever since the first Canadian contingent went there, is now on a six weeks' leave of absence, during which she is recuperating her strength, and using every opportunity of interesting women in Canada in the work of soldiers' comforts.

At Valcartier First.

Miss Arnoldi told the ladies present yesterday of how she came to undertake this work. She, with Miss Plummer of Toronto, was sent last summer by the Toronto Women's Patriotic League to the mobilization camp at Valcartier to superintend the distribution of supplies to the soldiers. They found the bales that had arrived in great disorder, and at once set about organizing a system whereby confusion might be avoided, and the supplies dispensed where most needed. Later, when the contingent sailed for England, Major-Gen. Hughes established the Canadian Field Comforts Commission, with Miss Arnoldi and Miss Plummer as leading members of the staff.

Distributing Supplies.

Their duties in England, the speaker explained, were well systematized. The commission is at present quartered in the barracks at Shorncliffe. Here are two large packing rooms. In the first, all the boxes are unpacked, the contents sorted, listed, and the list turned into the desk, where acceptances are made. The goods are taken into the second packing room, and stored and shelved, every article having its individual place. From the shelves, as requisitions from the various officers in command are received, the workers pack bales to ship to France. Any hospital supplies are sent in wooden boxes. Each bale must not weigh more than 56 pounds, and generally contains an assortment of socks, shirts, handkerchiefs, underwear, candles, cocoa, books, sweets and notepaper. The bales, being accounted "war stores," are sent by military transport to Southampton, and from thence by boat to France. The commission is under no expense, being a Government body.

While only 140,341 of the 159,000 articles received had been distributed, the speaker explained that the remainder were heavy woolen things, socks, mufflers, etc., which were of no use to the men at the present time. These had been carefully packed in camphor, and would be stored until the cold season began and warm clothing became a necessity.

Present Needs.

As to what the present needs were, Miss Arnoldi explained that socks, sweets and money (outside of the hospital supplies) were the greatest requirements, while for tobacco there was constant demand. She read extracts from several letters received from commanding officers at the front in appreciation of the parcels sent, in practically every instance the greatest thanks were sent for socks.

"The socks were very welcome," "The socks and other things you have sent are what the men need most." "The socks arrived at a very useful time, as we had just finished a long march, and I anticipate another one tomorrow," were some of the messages from the men commanding in the trenches.

Through an arrangement with the Queen Mary's Needlework Guild, articles that had to be purchased, such as gum, tobacco, sweets, tooth brushes and powder and notepaper, could be bought at wholesale prices by the commission.

Miss Arnoldi stated that the commission was hoping to arrange for more frequent transportation from Canada to England. Government boats were now sailing three or four times a week from Montreal and Halifax, and this should facilitate shipping.

The speaker emphasized the need of properly addressing private parcels to insure delivery to the right persons. It was not infrequent that private parcels came addressed to "John Smith, Canadian Contingent," without number, company or battalion.

Tribute to Nurses.

A warm tribute was paid to the nursing sisters from Canada by the speaker. During the flood-time at Salisbury camp, when 1,500 men were in the hospital and 500 of these in tents, the nurses worked practically night and day without rest. "They waded about in their long rubber boots with never a word of complaint, and a gentle smile for every patient. I wish you could hear how the Canadian boys spoke of "Our Sisters," said Miss Arnoldi, amid applause.

A very hearty vote of thanks was passed to the speaker for her instructive address, Mrs. Niven, who presided, conveying the same to Miss Arnoldi.

ADVERTISER PATTERNS

1334—A Pretty Summer Frock—Costume for Misses and Small Women.

Of most engaging simplicity is this attractive style, with vest and panel portions. The kimono sleeve and side portions of the waist are cut in one. The round neck is youthful and becoming. For linen, linene, batiste, lawn, dimity, gingham, or chambrey, this style will be found excellent. It is equally desirable for serge, taffeta, poplin, voile, grenadine, challie or repp. It will lend itself nicely to embroidered materials or to combinations. The pattern is cut in three sizes: 16, 18 and 20 years, and requires 5 yards of 44-inch material for an 18-year size. The skirt measures about 3¼ yards at the lower edge.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

Pictured here is a charming garden party hat of natural leghorn with covering of figured pussy willow silk. A narrow cording appears at the base of the crown. Velvet ribbon is oddly arranged over the front of the brim and ties in a loose loop at the back. A tiny bouquet of moss roses adds a bright touch of color.

CANADIAN BORN.
(Published by Request.)

We first saw light in Canada, the land beloved of God;
We are the pulse of Canada, its marrow
and its blood:
And we, the men of Canada, can face
the world and brag
That we were born in Canada beneath
the British flag.

Few of us have the blood of kings, few are of courtly birth,
But few are vagabonds or rogues of doubtful name and worth;
And all have one credential that entitles us to brag—
That we were born in Canada beneath
the British flag.

We've yet to make our money, we've yet to make our fame,
But we have gold and glory in our clean colonial name;
And every man's a millionaire if only he can brag
That he was born in Canada beneath
the British flag.

No title and no coronet is half so proudly worn
As that which we inherited as men Canadian born.
We count no man so noble as the one who makes the brag
That he was born in Canada beneath
the British flag.

The Dutch may have their Holland, the Spaniard have his Spain,
The Yankee to the south of us must south of us remain:
For not a man dare lift a hand against the men who brag
That they were born in Canada beneath
the British flag.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letter can be answered privately.]

This for Lulu B.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am quite interested in your page, and, seeing a little column in your page I thought I would like to answer Lulu.

I have been wishing to come in contact with a soldier's wife. I have a nice-sized house and one room doing nothing, she could have the use of, and also the use of dining-room and kitchen, with green fields surrunding, for a small sum each month. If Miss Grey would kindly get me her address, perhaps we could come to some understanding, as I am sure she would be comfortable.

Please excuse the writing. Wishing you every success. Thank you in advance. MADGE.

Ans.—This is a very kind offer, Madge, and may result in mutual benefit for you and Lulu B. I am sorry you omitted to send your address. Are the green fields out in the country, or do you live on the city's outskirts? If Lulu B. sends me her address for you, I shall notify you in the Mail Box column, so you may then send me yours.

Sporting Papers.

Dear Miss Grey—This is my first time to visit your page. I read your page with great interest every night and find it very helpful and amusing. Now, if you will answer a question or two for me I will be very much obliged, and will try and return your kindness.

1. Could you tell me one or two of the best sporting papers in Canada or the United States, and the price?

2. What do you think of my writing? Thanking you in advance, I am,

A. B. W.

Anes.—1. Our sporting editor gives this information for you: The Sporting News, of St. Louis, Mo., is a paper devoted to baseball news, and the Sporting Life, of Philadelphia, Pa., deals with baseball and trap-shooting. Both publications are printed weekly. The Horse World, of Buffalo, N. Y., and the Canadian Sportsman, of Grimsby, Ont., are weekly publications dealing with horse racing. They would no doubt send you their subscription rates if you wrote them.

2. Have seen better and have seen worse.

This Letter a Joke.

Dear Miss Grey,—I've been a long and interested reader of your columns, and have at last decided on asking your advice on a matter which greatly concerns my future happiness. For some time past my wife and I have not gotten along as well as we should. We have no children, but my wife claims she is overworked; in fact, she sometimes positively refuses to cook the meals, and goes into the parlor, sits in an easy chair, and reads a novel; if I remonstrate, she flies into a towering rage. She went to a quilting bee the other day, and did not get home until 12 o'clock p.m., and when I told her she should not do such a thing, she hit me with a flatiron. I really don't know what to do. Now, Miss Grey, I love my wife, for at times she is one of the most lovable creatures you ever saw. It is just at times that she gets those spells; could you advise a course to take in the matter? Would you let things go on as they have and try to put up with it? Try and let me know your ideas in regard to the matter as soon as you can through your columns. Hoping to see my letter in print soon, believe me, I remains, yours very sincerely,

ANXIOUS.

Ans.—If the handwriting in this letter had not been so absolutely feminine, I might have been more ready to believe that it was bona fide. However, as I think it rather the effort of a would-be joker, do not deem it necessary to voice my opinions. Of course, if I am wrong in my suspicions, I apologize in advance.

Two Kinds of Beauty.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you please answer the following questions?

1. Could you tell me of anything that will make the hair curl? I do not mean just the short hair in front, but all of it, in one big curl. Mine is very straight.

2. Would you please publish the meanings of stamps on envelopes?

Thanking you and wishing you every success with your corner.

JUNE ROSES.

Ans.—I'd just love to tell you how to gain your heart's desire, if I could, but alas, it is beyond my powers. We'd all love to be beautiful outwardly and inwardly; to most of us the former is impossible, so let's cultivate all the inward beauty we can.

2. Published but a few days ago, child; however, here it is once more:

"Canadian Born."

"Amherstburg Boy" asked for publication of a poem, "Canadian Born," by Pauline Johnston—about the only one of her poems of which I had no copy. Since then, copies of the verses have been received from "A Subscriber," "Soldier's Wife" and "A Reader of Your Page." To all, our thanks are due, and the poem appears today.

Would Need Training.

Dear Miss Grey,—I would like to go with the Red Cross to the front and help with the Canadians. Please state how I can go and quickly. A. E.

Ans.—Dear woman, unless you have had experience in nursing and could qualify as a nurse, I fear there is no chance of your being accepted by the militia department. At the present time there is over a thousand names of trained, experienced Canadian nurses enrolled on the waiting list at Ottawa, and choice will, of course, be made among these for service at the front, if a further contingent of nurses is sent. Am sorry to discourage you, but these are the plain facts.

Ingrown Toenail.

Dear Miss Grey,—Kindly answer as early as possible through your helpful column:

1. How can an ingrown toenail be cured?

2. How can warts be removed, and what causes them?

Thanking you in advance. W. W. B.

Ans.—Here are two methods, practically with the same idea, which have been recommended by readers of this page:

(a) Trim straight across the nail; don't cut off the corners. Now with a three-cornered file cut a notch into the quick, not deep enough to bleed; keep the notch filed down. The corners grow toward the notch. With proper care should be well in six months.

(b) A sure cure—take a piece of broken glass and gently, but firmly, scrape the centre of the toenail from flesh out to the end of the toe; scrape just as thin as can be borne.

2. Have you tried touching the spots with carbolic acid two or three times a day? This is sometimes efficacious, although it may require a month for the warts to entirely disappear.

What causes them? Why, any ten-year-old will tell you that it's toads, of course!

Cold Sores and Pie.

Dear Miss Grey,—Will you kindly answer me a few questions in your valuable paper?

1. A cure for a cold sore on the lip; also canker sores?

2. A recipe for a cream pie; also a cocoanut pie?

Thanking you in advance. I remain. ANXIOUS.

Ans.—1. Once it has appeared there is little remedy for a cold sore, except time. The bothersome thing has to run its course. Applications of cold cream or camphorice help to keep it from drying and cracking. Sometimes to apply turpentine quite liberally to the spot in its early development prevents it forming.

For the canker sores seek to remedy the original cause—often disordered stomach or blood, and you should have no more trouble. To pulverize a little burnt alum, add equal amounts of sulphur and sugar, is a cure, not very pleasant, for external treatment. Place a pinch on each spot and allow it to dissolve.

2. Cocoanut Pie—Use the yolks and a little of the whites of two eggs, butter the size of a walnut, a small one-half cup sugar, pinch salt, and one good cup of milk. Cook in double boiler until it begins to thicken, then stir in two teaspoons cornstarch that have been wet with a little cold milk, and lastly add one cup shredded cocoanut. Pour the filling into a ready-baked pie shell, and add the egg whites beaten to a stiff froth with a little sugar and vanilla flavoring.

Cream Pie.—To a pint of milk, add three tablespoons sugar, the beaten yolks of two eggs, and a pinch salt; wet two tablespoons (level) cornstarch with a little cold milk, add to the first mixture, and cook over the fire in a double boiler, remove from fire and add vanilla flavoring. Have the pie crust ready baked, fill the shell with the cream filling, and spread the beaten whites on top; brown slightly in the oven. This should make filling for two pies.

A Canadian Woman's Magazine.

Perhaps too few women are aware of the excellent qualities of a monthly publication, "The Women's Century," established in Toronto some three years ago by the editor, Mrs. Campbell-MacIver. The idea of the founder was to have the magazine a representative organ of the organized women of Canada, and she has made every effort to keep the publication up to the high standard set in the first few numbers. Business difficulties in the first year of its existence, however, has made it necessary—although the magazine has now been put on a self-supporting basis—for the owners to consider turning the Century over to a company of businessmen, unless the women of the country come to the rescue and lend it support. The magazine is the official organ of the National Council of Women and also devotes space to W. C. T. U. and other nationally organized work, and Mrs. Campbell-MacIver suggests that members of these societies will not be pleased to see the magazine managed by men. Several members of the National Council and other prominent women are purchasing stock in the Century, hoping to enable the present editor and founder to continue her excellent work. It is believed that if a few more women would lend their support by buying shares, which are exceedingly low in price, a progressive, typical women's magazine could be placed upon a sound basis and be a far-reaching influence among Canadian women. Mrs. Tilley or Mrs. Boomer of this city will gladly furnish any particulars.

LONDON PULLS LEAFS DOWN BY WINNING BIG BATFEST

Kerley and Graham Are Pounded Hard, But Locals Make Fewer Misplays Than Guelph and Bunch Hits More Often.

[BY BERT PERRY.]

DOC. Reisling's Indians chased G. Naughty Lee's Leafs from out of the attic of the Canadian League over in Tecumseh Park yesterday afternoon. If you should happen to take a peek at the standing of the teams in Mr. Fitzgerald's baseball league today you will find that Billy Cristall's Hams are lamping the lofty view from the top deck and Mr. Lee and his athletes are glimpsing the scenery from one of the portholes. That's what Mr. Lee and his gang get for visiting our baseball park at a time when the home boys are trying to convince the fans that they are a real ball club and not a flock of counterfeits.

Pretty Easy to Get Runs.

It was quite a pastime yesterday. One of those kind of games where about everything on the calendar is pulled off at one time or another. Runs were pretty cheap. They were retailing about 10 cents a dozen in some session when this London team was out to get them, and the visitors also bought a few at that figure. They haven't been as cheap over in Tecumseh Park since the first day the Leafs arrived here last month, when the score was something like 17 to 6 in our favor. The home lads did not go that high yesterday, but they went far enough to make it convincing. The final count was 11 to 6.

Matt Kirley was on the mound all through for the tea-leaves. In about five of the eight frames London played, quite a few of the Guelph boys were wounded, as Knotty Lee might say. When the demon diamond stars of Mr. Reisling were not driving in runs, the visiting team was booting a few over just to keep the game from lagging. Six errors were credited to Guelph, and they all figured in the scoring.

Graham Hit Hard and Often.

Alexander Graham, the long distance hurler, was on the mound for the Tecumps, and while the pastime was concluded in the regulation nine spasms, Alexander did enough pitching to last for a couple of ordinary games. The visitors got just as many hits off him as London did off Kirley, but they did not bunch them with the same effectiveness as the locals. The Tecumsehs were not given to booting the ball to such an extent as their opponents, either. This helped to keep the club of Mr. Lee from crossing the pan with too much frequency, no doubt.

London started off nicely by scoring two runs to Guelph's one in the first innings. They added another in the second frame, and looked to have a firm grasp on the joust until the third and fourth, when the visitors tied it up and went into the lead by a single counter. London again tied it up in the fourth and took a three-run lead in the fifth. The men of Mr. Lee were not to be denied, however, and they cut down the lead to one run by getting two in the sixth. London's half of the sixth, however, put the contest on the shelf of certainty. Four runs, three of which were nothing but gifts, were registered in this frame, and from then on the visitors subsided. That is, all the visitors but G. Knutty Lee. G. Naughty wouldn't subside if you tied him at the bottom of a well and filled it up with water. He would likely shoot enough hot air into the water to evaporate it all before it had a chance to smother him. Knotty never gives up, and that line of talk of his is entertaining if nothing else. He has a lot of "pep" on the coaching lines and he keeps his team fighting.

Locals Ran Wild on Bases.

The London team was running wild on the bases at different times. The boys are showing a lot of speed and taking chances at every opportunity. Eddie Lamy and Cy Reidy had a couple of purloined sacks each to their credit, while Harry Myers also pilfered second. Eckstein scored from first base in the fifth on Schaffer's single to centre. Brown's throw was wide or the play at the plate might have been close. Cy Reidy was caught at the plate trying to score on Eckstein's fast drive to centre in the second inning. Cy was on second and the ball went out to centre so fast and Brown made such a nice return to the plate that he did not have much time. The play was close at that.

Schaffer and Eckstein were the heavy clouters of the afternoon, each getting three safeties in five times up. Eckstein had a double in his three, both he and Lacroix getting two-baggers when Kirley tried to fool them on one of his slow balls. Lamy was the only other member of the local club to get more than one hit.

Myers' Stop Ended It.

Lusk, who was hit on the head by a pitched ball in Thursday's game, was replaced by Myers at third base. Harry did not have a thing to do in the field until the last man came up in the ninth inning. Then he made a beautiful stop of Grieves' fast hopper and threw him out at first, ending the game. Guelph had a man on third and second at the time, and Myers' stop probably prevented a rally that might have made the Leafs dangerous.

Quite a number of ladies attended the game yesterday, taking advantage of the day set aside for them by the London club. There was quite a sprinkling of paid admissions, also.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

The bout lasted five rounds, Miller having the better of it. He was knocked over the ropes with 32 seconds to go, resulting in a sprained knee. Being unable to continue, the decision was given by Referee Clayton Wildfang to Drummonds, notwithstanding Miller having the better of the fight, and it should have been declared a draw, according to the opinion of the judges.

Two preliminary bouts were pulled off. A. Scheutz of Berlin getting the decision over Ed Novak in three rounds. O. Burkhardt of Berlin defeated Charles Morgan, late of London, England, in three rounds.

Brantford Outfielder's Work Was Feature of Brant's Win From Saints Yesterday.

BRANTFORD, June 25. — "Buster" Burrill's two-bagger in the eighth inning, after Mullin had singled, gave Brantford the winning run in a pitchers' battle here today with Stewart's Saints. THOUSANDS WILL VIEW AUTO RACE

Big Crowds Flocking To Chicago Speedway To See 500-Mile Contest—21 Cars Start.

Speedway, Chicago, June 26.—Thousands of persons at an early hour today were on their way to the new two-mile automobile speedway, advertised as the fastest in the world, to witness the 500-mile Derby participated in by 21 of the best known drivers in the country.

The drivers have two 500-mile marks to shoot at. First comes the Brooklands, England, mark of 94:75 miles an hour, made in 1913 by Resta, Chassagne and Guinnes, who relieved each other at intervals of a twelve-hour grind, and the Indianapolis record of 89:84 miles an hour, established by Ralph De Palma, who won the Hoosier classic this year.

Predictions were made that the De Palma record would be overwhelmed, based on practice records over the board track. Enthusiasts declared that the winner would have to average 97 miles, but the more conservative questioned whether the Brooklands record would be beaten.

Keene, Hughes and Devore withdrew before the start of the race, owing to accidents to their cars in practice yesterday. They reported to Fred Wagner, the starter, this morning that they had been unable to make repairs overnight.

The start of the race was delayed half an hour to allow Bob Burman to replace a broken piston rod.

At 9:30 the parkway space around the big oval was filled with automobile parties and the grandstand was filling slowly. A mist which hinted at rain apparently discouraged the crowds from coming early.

YALE BEAT HARVARD IN ALL THREE RACES

Varsity Crew Won By Six Lengths and Set New Record.

OLD ELI IS JUBILANT

First Time In Many Years That the Blue Has Swept the Day.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 25.—For the first time in many years, Yale University crews swept the river in the annual dual regatta with Harvard, and tonight Eli Alumni and undergraduates are cheering their three crews and Coach Guy Nickalls until the din is deafening. Notwithstanding delays, due to rough water and accidents, the English-coached eights of the Blue, with characteristic bulldog determination, fought for victory from early forenoon until dark, defeating in turn the junior, varsity and freshman eights of the Crimson.

New Record Established.

Victory was exceedingly sweet to the Elis, for the inter-varsity regatta records have to be searched for many years to find a Yale triple victory, although similar Harvard successes are of more frequent and recent occurrence. To add to the joy of the Blue, the varsity eight established a new up-stream course record in winning the big race, which is likely to stand for years.

Fully 10,000 spectators witnessed the contests from the observation cars which followed each race along the banks of the Thames, while the river shores were populated by throngs, ranging from hundreds to thousands, at every point of vantage.

Not a Fluke Victory.

Chief interest centered in the outcome of the varsity race, when the Yale oarsmen demonstrated that the eight-inch victory of last year's English-coached crew was not a fluke by winning today's contest by almost six lengths. The time of the race was: Yale, 20:52; Harvard, 21:12⅘.

The freshman race, rowed in semi-darkness over a mile and a half course, was won by the Yale first-year crew by approximately one length, the time being: Yale, 8 minutes 5 seconds; Harvard, 8 minutes 10 seconds.

The junior varsity two-mile race, rowed this forenoon, was won by Yale by three-quarters of a length. The time was: Yale, 10:40; Harvard, 10:43.

STRATHROY LOST.

STRATHROY, June 25.—The Clerks' baseball team of this town was defeated in Parkhill this afternoon by a score of 4 to 3.

STRATFORD DEFEATED WOODSTOCK W.F.A. TEAM

WOODSTOCK, June 25.—In a scheduled W. F. A. fixture here tonight before a large crowd, Stratford Seniors defeated the local football team in a hotly-contested game by a score of 2 to 1.

The visitors had the edge on the local team in the first half, during which they secured both their tallies. In the last period, Woodstock took the offensive and netted one goal, but the superior defence work of the Stratfordites was too much for them and they were unable to overcome the early lead secured by the visitors. McMillan and Skinner played the most effective game for the locals.

A HEAVY-HITTING GAME.

The two tail-enders in the City Baseball League played a scheduled league fixture tonight, resulting in the First Baptists defeating Knox by a one-sided score of 22 to 12. Heavy batting by both teams featured the game.

News of the Movie World

Geraldine Farrar Now Movie Star

Popular Prima Donna First of Great Singers to Break Into Photoplays.

Geraldine Farrar, the popular prima donna, and the first of the great singers of today to break into the movie game, is now established in a charming bungalow in Los Angeles, where she will be until the end of July, posing for motion pictures.

She and her party went to the coast in a private car. When she arrived in Los Angeles, she was received by the mayor of the city, school children, who threw roses in her path, and a large number of Boy Scouts, as well as a host of citizens.

From the first, Miss Farrar declared she has been interested in her work before the camera, so different from appearing before an audience in real life.

Just at present, she is posing for Bizet's "Carmen." The directors of the film company, have a number of other masterpieces ready, in which the great singer will likely be featured.

The films carrying her gracious personality throughout the country, will ultimately reach the smallest towns, where she is known only by means of the talking-machine.

Censors Ban War Pictures

Actual Battle Scenes Cannot Be Shown On Ontario Movie Screens.

War pictures have been banned on movie screens in Ontario.

The announcement comes from Toronto, and is the ultimatum of the provincial board of censors, after a consultation with military authorities at Ottawa.

For some time past, photoplay audiences have been entertained by thrilling war pictures, said to be taken at the front and within range of the thundering guns of the Allies and the allied foe. While the war pictures are undoubtedly entertaining and just what the movie public is anxious above all else to watch, the board and military have decided for reasons not made public, that the battle scenes must no longer be flashed before the gaze of enraptured audiences.

Pictures of troops marching will be permitted, it is said, and undoubtedly the popular reviews of men in training and pictures of camp life, will also be allowed. But the actual scenes of desperate struggles, where armies are held in death grips, will no longer be found on the bill of Ontario moving picture theatres.

BALTIMORE OVERWHELMED.

"THIRD DEGREE" IN BRITISH COURT

Alleged Wife Murderer Witnesses Reconstruction of "Bath-Tub" Case.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 26.—George Joseph Smith, husband of three wives who died in their baths, and who is now on trial charged with the murder of one of them, whom he married as Beatrice Mundy, had today to face the ordeal of a partial reconstruction in court of the scene immediately after the death of Alice Burnham, second of the three brides.

The bathtub in which Alice Burnham met her death was placed on a table in the courtroom, while a physician, Dr. Billings, illustrated how, when he was summoned to the house where the couple lived, he found Smith supporting his wife's head just above the surface of the tubful of water. The witness testified that the woman's head was toward the narrow end of the tub. A previous witness had testified that he had found an abnormal quantity of woman's hair at the round, broad end of the tub.

Evidence was then introduced to show that Smith had purchased annuity insurance from a company after the woman's death. The trial judge explained to the jury that the significance of the evidence was that the prisoner in October told an insurance agent he would have $2,000 or $2,500 to invest in an annuity on his birthday in January.

"On the arrival of his birthday in January," said the judge, "he did have such a sum to invest, and that money was insurance money, payable upon his wife's death."

The case of the third bride, Margaret Lofty, was then opened. She died in her bathtub in a house in Highgate. After a brief testimony court was adjourned until Monday.

SEAMEN'S ACT THE CAUSE.

[Canadian Press.]

Stanley Dollar, the second vice-president, said the company probably would move its headquarters to that city.

Stanley Dollar said the company objected to the clause in the seamen's bill providing that all vessels under American registry must carry crews 75 per cent of whom speak the same language as the captain.

Voice of the People

The Radical Club.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

"A Peaceful Citizen" finds fault with a "New-born Institution": The Radical Club, because the debates and lectures there given "only disturb the peaceful mind and create dissatisfaction with the present beautiful world which is so beautifully arranged that every man has his chance to develop his ability in his material and intellectual welfare.

This is a common view of life and of how things are ordered and arranged on this sublunary sphere. But is it in accord with the facts?

Does not war prevail on land and sea? Do lions, tigers, wolves, hyenas on the one hand, and sharks, sword-fish, devilfish, killer-whales on the other, suggest peace and harmony? Not forgetting in our hasty survey German submarines! which recalls the well-known lines, somewhat modified:

Lives of Germans oft remind us
We may make our lives the same,
And departing leave behind us
Victims in the briny main.

Amongst the lower animals and German war lords the ethics of the tiger and the morals of the crocodile are in vogue, and this does not make for peace. So much then for "Peaceful Citizen's" philosophy of life.

The Radical Club requires no defence. As our French allies would say, that club is "Sans peur et sans reproche," a thing of beauty and a joy forever. A RADICAL.

[Canadian Press.]

Chicago, June 26.—A general shutdown of Chicago's building industry, which, it is said, will throw out of employment more than 200,000 workers, went into effect today. The action was taken at a meeting last night of representatives of the allied building and material interests as an answer to the referendum vote of 16,000 striking carpenters, who overwhelmingly defeated the proposal to arbitrate all questions in dispute.

The carpenters have been on a strike since April 30.

WHAT THIN FOLKS SHOULD DO TO GAIN WEIGHT

Physician's Advice for Thin, Undeveloped Men and Women.

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves, and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, resign themselves to life-long skinniness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered regenerative force makes fat grow after years of thinness, and is also unequalled for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable discovery is called Sargol. Six strength-giving, fat-producing elements of acknowledged merit have been combined in this peerless preparation, which is indorsed by eminent physicians and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, and efficient.

A month's systematic use of Sargol should produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying highly concentrated fats to the blood. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional fats that thin people need are provided. Leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it.

While this new preparation has given splendid results as a nerve tonic and vitalizer, it should not be used by nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh.

MAJ. D. B. BENTLEY PUT IN BUSY TIME

Sarnia Doctor's Hospital Handled 2,500 Wounded Within Five Days.

AFTER YPRES BATTLE

Dressing Stations Were Twice Shelled By Enemy—Had To Be Moved.

London, June 15.—Major D. B. Bentley, of Sarnia, Ont., who recently took command of a convalescent home some miles from Folkestone, had an extremely warm time at Ypres with the 2nd Canadian Field Ambulance.

"We had three men killed and seventeen wounded during those three days," he informed the Mail and Empire. "Our dressing station at Ypres was shelled, and we moved on to Brielen; then we were shelled again and had to move on to Vlaemertinghe. It was April 26 that we reached Vlaemertinghe, and we remained there two days, at the end of which our troops left the trenches, and I was recalled to England. During the first 24 hours we dressed 684 wounded, and I think a fair estimate of the number of cases by our corps during four or five days would be at least 2,500. They were not all Canadians, but included Ghurkas, Sikhs, Algerian French, English and Canadians, and even a few Germans. At Vlaemertinghe, where we did the heaviest work, we had five rooms that would average 30 feet square, three of them on one side and two on the other side of a courtyard. We used one room as an admission ward, and the floor was constantly covered with wounded men. In the next room we had five improvised operating tables, which were also occupied all the time. Most of the time I ran two tables myself, and, while so occupied, my assistants were busy preparing men for treatment, removing clothing and mud."

Major Bentley, who is a nephew of David Bentley, of Montreal, said that the field ambulances had little choice in finding shelter from the enemy's artillery, as the fields were in such bad condition that the dressing stations had to be close to the highroad, and the latter was naturally the object of the German guns.

For Convalescent Soldiers.

The institution of which Major Bentley now has command is the nucleus of a large scheme for the establishment of a Canadian military convalescent hospital. An old and beautiful country residence has been given by Col. Wayland of Fort William, Ont., for this purpose. The intention is to provide 500 beds for Canadians who have been discharged from hospital, but who still require good feeding, fresh air and healthy surroundings. Experience has shown that this stage of recovery has been a dangerous time for men away from home and friends.

"Monkshorton," the name of this hospital, is five or six miles from Hythe, and a little farther from Folkestone. It is off any main road, and is not served by rail or road car. The house—in which the officers' quarters are, together with three or four rooms for certain patients—dates back to 1702, when it was a monastery—hence the name. There is a very large park on which canvas tents and wooden hutments will be erected. Water is laid on and shower baths have already been provided. There is a generating plant for electric lighting, garage and stabling, and ample warehouse accommodation for clothing and food.

May Be Ontario Hospital.

There is some likelihood that this institution will be taken over by the Ontario Government in fulfillment of its recent offer. Richard Reid, agent-general, with Surgeon-Gen. Jones and Col. Hodgetts, Red Cross commissioner, visited the place last week and made a report to his Government. I understand the trio were very pleased with what they saw, but concluded that the $100,000 voted would not be sufficient to equip and maintain a 500-bed institution. Far away from the crowds, it has a very soothing effect upon men whose nerves have been shattered. Among the few patients who have been admitted, Major Bentley said there were two who were so overwrought that they were startled if spoken to, but they had already shown great improvement.

The staff is composed of Major D. B. Bentley, O. C., Sarnia, Ont.; Capt. W. H. Scott, Edmonton; Capt. Lyon, Vancouver; Capt. Cooper, Prince Albert; Capt. Caron, Q. M., Quebec.

TURKS CLAIM VICTORY

Say They Destroyed Allied Party and Captured Munitions.

[Canadian Press.]

Constantinople, June 25, via wireless to Berlin and London, June 26. — An official statement issued today at the Turkish war office said:

During the night of the 23rd, one of our right wing patrols surprised and destroyed an enemy party near Seddul Bahr, putting its machine guns out of action, besides capturing rifles, ammunition and other war booty."

GUARD BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SUMMER

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentery, come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they do come on suddenly to cure them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during hot weather as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

To Have Perfect Skin Throughout the Summer

These days the face needs special care and attention. Flying dust and dirt, the beating sun, are severe on any skin. Their despoiling effects are best overcome by the application of pure mercolized wax. This keeps skin and pores in a cleanly condition, the complexion beautifully white and spotless. Discolored, freckled and roughened cuticle are actually absorbed by it. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is sufficient to completely renovate a soiled complexion. It is used like cold cream, allowed to remain on over night, and washed off in the morning.

As the skin tends to expand in warm weather, causing wrinkles to form, a good astringent lotion should be used. Dissolve 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pt. witch hazel. Bathe the face in this during the heat of the day or before going out for theatre or social affair. It is a remarkable skin tightener and wrinkle eraser.

GERMANS ATTEMPT TO JUSTIFY GASES

Say British and French Were First To Use This Weapon.

'COMMUNICATION' QUOTED

Alleged French Instructions On Use of Gases Used As Excuse.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, June 25, via London, June 26. —A semi-official statement has been issued here explaining and defending the German use of asphyxiating gases.

The first point made is that the British and French employed such means before the Germans, and in addition to the earlier statements of the German official war reports concerning such alleged use, the statement now cites the text of a communication said to have been issued by the French ministry of war, describing two sorts of projectiles designed to produce a stifling gas, and the mode of their usage. This communication is said to have been dated February 21, before the Germans employed gas in their attack upon Ypres.

"Quotes" Statements.

This circular, which it is claimed emanated from the French war ministry, is headed "Remarks Upon Projectiles With Stifling Gases," and says, among other things:

"So-called projectiles with stifling gases produced in our central workshop contain a fluid which pours out after explosion gases which inflame the eyes, nose and throat. There are two sorts thereof—hand grenades and cartridges."

The circular then purports to describe both kinds of the projectiles, remarking: "The purpose of the hand grenade is to make the vicinity and place where it is exploded untenable. Its effectiveness is materially decreased by a strong wind.

Other Instructions.

"The cartridges are intended for use at a greater distance than the grenades. They can be thrown or fired from a pocket pistol. They have the same purpose as the grenades, but owing to the small amount of fluid, they should be fired in considerable numbers simultaneously."

"Under the heading "Precautionary measures to be employed in attacks in which such projectiles with stifling gases are thrown," the circular says the vapors caused by such projectiles will not prove fatal, at least in small quantities, and that their effects will be only of temporary duration, depending on atmospheric conditions. The attacking troops, it says, should be provided with protective glasses and instructed that unpleasant sensations in the nose and throat are not dangerous and will not be permanent.

Tries Justification.

The German statement refers to alleged reports published in American newspapers that the Lusitania carried 250,000 pounds of tetra-chloride of tin, consigned to the French Government and intended for the production of asphyxiating gases. Speaking of alleged efforts to arouse American sympathies against Germany for her use of gas, the statement says the proviso against the use of gas in The Hague convention, adopted against the votes of the American delegates, was added to the protocol of the meeting, that it had not been proven that shells with asphyxiating gases were an inhuman or unnecessarily cruel method of war. The German statement finally compares the use of gas with the inundation of fighting areas, instancing the flooding of the region of Nieuport by the Belgians some time ago, and argues that both methods are equally humane and that an enemy merely needs to withdraw to escape their effects.

MUST HAVE PASSPORTS

Americans Warned on Leaving for Europe To Have Photos on Documents.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 26 — Americans leaving here today on board steamships for Europe were warned by agents of the various lines to provide themselves with passports, with photographs of all members of their families more than fourteen years old. This was in part due to receipt of information that during the last month seventeen Americans have been detained upon arrival in Liverpool for failure to carry such documents.

Any allen leaving New York for Europe is permitted to travel on a steamship of his own nationality without a passport, but most of the lines reject all other passengers not so identified. This rule, it was learned, has been put into effect by the Holland-America, French, White Star, Scandinavian-American and Italian Lines. Considerable delay in the landing of passengers at Liverpool is said to have been caused by persons who, having been naturalized in the United States, declare when they arrived in England that they are British subjects.

LONDON EDITOR DEAD

Alexander Kenealy, of Daily Mirror, Gave Life to Journalism.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 26. — Alexander Kenealy, editor of the London Daily Mirror, died today at the age of 51 years.

Mr. Kenealy, who was born in Sussex, England, devoted all of his life to journalism. He joined the staff of the New York Herald in 1882 and represented that paper on Rear Admiral Peary's first Arctic expedition. He became a member of the New York World staff in 1895, and was its correspondent with the American fleet is the Spanish war.

Mr. Kenealy began newspaper work in London as news editor of the Daily Express in 1901. Three years later he went with the Daily Mirror. Under the nom de plume of Montagu Vernon Ponsonby, he wrote "The Preposterous Yankee," and he also was the author of "The Letters of Alphonse Le Mouton."

NO CONTRABAND OF WAR ON AMERICAN LINE STEAMERS.

Mr. H. G. Thorley, Toronto, passenger agent for the American Line, has received advice from his New York office that the United States mail steamers of the American Line, plying regularly between New York and Liverpool, have not been carrying and will not carry ammunition, munitions of war, or articles destined for the use of the armed forces, or of any government department of a belligerent state, or articles consigned to the authorities of a belligerent state. The American Line steamers are carrying all kinds of general traffic which they carried prior to the war, and which are usually shipped during normal trade conditions.

British Are Prepared To Defend Flanders Against Any Attack

LONDON, June 26.—1:30 a.m.—"In Flanders we have made provisions for defence, however great the attack. Our numbers there are adequate for any task, and our turn will come." Thus spoke Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, in an address at West Hartlepool last night.

"We are learning now," Mr. Runciman added, "how to deal with the submarine menace, and it is truer now than when the statement was made in April, that we have enough explosives for our own use. We also are overcoming our shortage of munitions."

TOWN IN ALBERTA BLOWN TO PIECES

Redcliffe Suffers $500,000 Damage in Cyclone Without Loss of Life.

[Canadian Press.]

Redcliffe, Alta., June 26.—Damages estimated at half a million dollars was done here early last evening by a cyclone, which wrecked a large part of the town. No lives are known to have been lost.

The cyclone seemed to strike the whole town, and in all directions buildings were blown down, roofs lifted, telephone poles blown over, and when the storm had subsided the town was almost a total wreck. Almost every large building was more or less damaged and a number of private houses wrecked. So far no deaths are reported, but about a dozen people were seriously injured. In one two-story frame building owned by Mr. Rosin, his mother and brother were caught in the wrecked building, and it was with some difficulty the firemen succeeded in getting them out from under the debris. Mrs. Rosin had her collarbone broken and her son suffered a broken leg.

Buildings Damaged.

Among the most important buildings damaged were the Ornamental Iron Works, a planing mill, a cigar factory, Spaulding's warehouse, the Overland Departmental Store, the Redcliffe Club, a knitting mill, the Laurel Hotel, the Goodie Block, O'Fallen's greenhouse, Crow's Block, and Dr. Brown's Block. All these buildings are three-story brick, and in most cases roofs and top story are a total wreck.

Among the private dwellings damaged were some of the finest in the town. Almost every house in the residential district was more or less badly hit. Some only had the chimneys blown off, while others had their kitchens, porches and verandahs blown away.

Narrow Escape.

The private residence of the manager of the Royal Bank, one of the finest in the town, had the roof completely blown off, and the city standpipe, close by, had the top carried 200 yards out onto the prairie.

One residence, occupied by Mrs. Ross and two grandchildren, was completely demolished, and the old lady had just reached the street a few seconds before the building disappeared.

Scarcely any of the smaller buildings are left standing, and the streets are literally covered with broken timbers, tin roofing and shingles.

All four vessels will be brought to New York, two of them to engage in coastwise trade and two in trans-Atlantic trade. In order to bring them through the canal connecting Lakes Erie and Ontario, it was stated, it will be necessary to cut the vessels in two, as they are longer than the locks. The two sections of each vessel will be joined together at Montreal. All are of the whaleback type and built of steel.

Foote, who was about 45 years of age, had been in this camp for two or three days, looking over properties in which he had large investments. He was unmarried.

Eldridge was mining engineer of the Kerr Lake Mine. He was unmarried, about 25 years of age. His relatives live in Philadelphia.

ANTI-BELL PURCHASE DEFEATED IN BLYTH

New Directorate of Rural Phone Company Is Two-thirds "Pro."

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BLYTH, June 25.—The annual meeting of the Blyth Rural Telephone took place today, with a larger number of the subscribers in attendance than is usual, on account of the dissatisfaction a number hold concerning the purchase of the Bell Telephone interests in Blyth. It was understood a determined effort would be made to oust the old directorate and appoint directors favorable to the anti's interests. The new law is that there shall only be three on the board, so there were a number who had to drop out, but the antis were only successful in re-electing one of their number. The result of the ballot was as follows: L. Hill, 69; John Potter, 67; John Bingham, 66; R. C. McGowan, 64; John Ellis, 61; S. McVittie, 54. To be certain the ballots would be counted fairly, the following three ministers were appointed scrutineers: Revs. Jewitt, Farr and Turner.

WABASH FARM HAND ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Joseph Young Unconscious When Cut Down From Beam.

WABASH, June 25.—An attempted suicide was made yesterday by Joseph Young, an elderly farm laborer, at the home of Archie Phillips, where he was employed. About 4:30, another of the farm hands, Thomas Smith, went to the driveshed and found Young dangling from a beam with a strap around his neck. When cut down he was unconscious.

Dr. R. N. Fraser of Thamesville was immediately summoned, and after he had examined the unfortunate man, took him in his auto back to town, from where, a few hours later, he was sent to the Chatham Hospital.

Mr. Young has at different times threatened to end his life. If he recovers he will be placed in some institution.

GENERAL SHUT UP IN SECRET PRISON

Austrian Commander Cut Off From Communication With His Friends.

GRAND DUKE'S ACTION

Auffenberg Was Going To Publish Book On Failure of Chief.

Venice, June 20—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The story of the fall of Gen. Baron Auffenberg from his position as commander of one of the most powerful of the Austro-Hungarian armies to an incommunicado cell in an unnamed prison, is one of the most closely-guarded secrets in Vienna. Austrian newspapers are not allowed to even mention his name, and inquirers even in the Hungarian House of Deputies have been advised to let the matter drop.

From information which has just reached Venice, it appears that the general was summarily arrested as he was about to leave for Switzerland, and has not since been allowed to communicate even with his family or lawyers. His object in going to Switzerland was the publication of a volume of memoirs, in which he hoped to establish his innocence of mismanaging the Austrian campaign against Servia by putting the blame upon the shoulders of the Austrian commander-in-chief, the Archduke Frederic.

The Explanation.

The following explanation of Gen. Auffenberg's rise and fall comes from personal friends of the general. It is in general agreement with such facts of the case as have been previously established.

"Gen. Auffenberg, as a former minister of war, and one of the great soldiers of the empire, was placed in command of the armies which undertook the invasion of Servia at the beginning of the war. This invasion ended disastrously; the Austrians were defeated with tremendous losses and retired back across the frontier in disorder. There was a hasty investigation in Vienna, and the investigators reported that Gen. Auffenberg was mainly responsible, owing to his gross mistakes of strategy in planning and carrying out his offence. They recommended that he be suspended from his command.

The Excuse.

"But it seemed unwise to the military powers to thus draw public attention to the extent of the disaster in Servia, so it was decided that Auffenberg's retirement should be attributed to ill-health brought on by the strenuous exertions of the campaign, and that the title of baron should be conferred on him to support the impression that after all nothing really serious had occurred to the Austrian forces in Servia. The new baron was ordered home, and placed on the retired list among 'officers at the disposition of the Emperor for future military service.'

"The general came home reluctant and mystified, and began some quiet investigations of the situation. As soon as he found out that he was blamed for the failure of the Servian campaign he demanded that his side of the story should be heard. He got no encouragement in offidial circles, but it became generally known among military men that he planned to re-establish his own reputation by showing that the blame for the failure must be attributed to the Achduke Frederic.

Condemned Archduke.

"In one case, for example, the general declared to a group of military men: 'I will not be made the scapegoat for an archduke who ought never to have been entrusted with the supreme command of the imperial forces, but who ought rather to have been locked up in his palace in Vienna to prevent his meddling in the conduct of the war.'

"This remark, together with others of similar nature, reached the ears of the archduke, and the latter's influence was exercised to bring about the downfall of the general. The climax came when Auffenberg asserted that, having failed to secure a hearing in official circles, he would prove his own innocence and the archduke's blameworthiness by writing a book on the war and having it published in Switzerland.

"To prevent his flight into Switzerland and the publication of the threatened book, Emperor Francis Joseph himself stepped in and ordered him arrested and placed in solitary confinement until the end of the war. He was committed to prison by imperial order without the semblance of a trial or investigation, and was not allowed to communicate with the outside world. Questions addressed to the Government in the Hungarian House of Deputies were answered with the statement that the Government could not at this time deal with a purely military matter in parliament."

HYDE PARK.

HYDE PARK, June 23.—The progressive tea given under the auspices of the Foreign Missionary Society, Wednesday afternoon in the Presbyterian schoolroom, proved eminently successful, both financially and otherwise. Between courses the following ladies contributed to the program: Mrs. (Dr.) Ross, Misses Skippon and Johnson, Bessie Jaynes, Miss MacKenzie, Miss Parkins.

The entrance pupils met at the home of Dr. Ross and presented their teacher, Miss Davey, with a sterling silver souvenir as a token of their appreciation of her services during the past term.

D. Barclay received a letter from Los Angeles, Cal., apprising him of the safe arrival of his sister, Mrs. K. Cummings, who left this village two weeks ago to visit her brother and sister whom she has not seen for over twenty years.

JAPANESE OFFICERS COMMIT HARA-KIRI

Rather Than Face Disgrace of Surrender at Lemberg.

[Canadian Press.]

Tokio, Japan, June 26.—Major Nakajima and Capt. Hashimoto, Japanese officers fighting with the Russian army at Lemberg, committed harakiri when the Galician capital fell, rather than suffer what they considered the dishonor of being made prisoners of war, according to official advices received from Petrograd.

Harakiri is a Japanese method of committing suicide, formerly widely practiced by military officers. In the days of the old Samural system officers killed themselves when it became necessary to surrender the troops under them.

Nervous Prostration and Heart Troubles

Nervous Prostration, or Neurasthenia, is one of the worst forms of nerve trouble and brings about a general weakness of the whole nervous system.

The symptoms presenting themselves are headache, a feeling of depression, disturbed and restless, unfreshing sleep, often troubled with dreams, fright when in crowded places, dread of being alone, horror of society, fright at travelling, muscular weakness, sense of fatigue upon effort, etc.

When the nerves become affected in this way the heart generally becomes affected, too.

All are curable if taken in time.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just what you require at this time. They strengthen the nerves and build up the whole system.

Mrs. John Hewson, Caledonia, Ont., writes: "I feel it my duty to let you know the great benefit your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. I suffered for four years with heart trouble and nervous prostration. I was so bad I could not go upstairs without sitting down at the top before I could go to my room. I could not sleep nor could I lie on my left side, for it would seem as if my heart would stop. I thought my time had come. I was doctoring with the doctor, but didn't get any benefit. I took eight boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and am enjoying good health."

Price, 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto.

TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT EASILY AND QUICKLY.

If you are overstout the cause of your overstoutness is lack of oxygen-carrying power in the blood and faulty assimilation of food. Too little is being made into the harder tissue of muscle and too much into little globules of fat. Therefore you should correct the malassimilation and increase the oxygen-carrying power of the blood. To do this, go to any good druggist and get oil of orilene, only sold in original packages and in capsule form, and take one capsule after each meal and one at bedtime till your weight is reduced to what it should be on all parts of the body. The effect of oil of orilene in capsule form is remarkable as a weight reducer and it is perfectly safe.—E. J. T.

WOMEN FROM 45 TO 55 TESTIFY

To the Merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound During Change of Life.

Westbrook, Mo. — "I was passing through the Change of Life and had pains in my back and side and was so weak I could hardly do my housework. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compcund and it has done me a lot of good I will recommend your medicine to my friends and give you permission to publish my testimonial."—Mrs. Lawrence Martin, 12 King street, Westbrook, Maine.

Manston, Wis.—"At the Change of Life I suffered with pain in may back and loins until I could not stand. I also had night-sweats so that the sheets would be wet. I tried other medicine but got no relief. After taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to improve and I continued its use for six months. The pains left me, the night-sweats and hot flashes grew less, and in one year I was a different woman. I know I have to thank you for my continued good health ever since."—Mrs. M. J. Brownell, Manston, Wis.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled in such cases.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

JUNE WEDDINGS

MANN—SCOTT.

A beautiful outdoor wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Wm. Scott, 4th concession, Delaware, when his daughter, Emma B., was married to Clifford A. Mann, a popular produce merchant of this city. The ceremony took place under an arch erected on the lawn, while the guests were assembled under the large trees. Rev. Mr. Wilson officiated. The bride was given away by her father. Her wedding dress was of white silk crepe, draped and trimmed with real lace, with bridal veil and orange blossoms. She carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley. The bridesmaid was Miss Elizabeth Scott, sister of the bride, whose dress was of white voile trimmed with lace. The groom was supported by his brother, Milton Mann, of this city. Miss Gertrude Prior, cousin of the bride, dressed in old rose silk with a corsage bouquet, played the wedding march. While the register was being signed, Miss Myrtle Robinson sang "Love Is Mine." A reception was held among the trees, after which all partook of the dainty wedding breakfast served in a marquee on the lawn. The presents were numerous and well chosen, showing the high esteem in which the bride is held by her many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Mann left for Toronto, Buffalo and other points. The bride's travelling suit was of khaki silk with pink blouse and hat to match. The young couple were met at the station by a number of their city friends and were given a hearty send-off. Mr. and Mrs. Mann have both been residents of London for the past few years.

LAURIE—MANN.

The bride, who was unattended, w[ore] attired in a travelling dress [of] laflamme blue silk poplin, with a c[or]sage bouquet of sunset roses, and [lily] of the valley, and a grey and b[lack] milan sailor hat. The bride was giv[en] away by her grandfather, John Ma[nn] of Brantford, Ont. The home [was] beautifully decorated with pink [and] white peonies and orange blosso[m] banked with palms. R. E. O. A. CALL TAX MEETING

Will Discuss Present Year's Rate in Victoria Park, It Plans.

RAP SCHOOL TRUSTEES

Blame Them For Increased Taxation in City of London.

The city tax rate and the tax notices just issued last evening furnished material for one of the liveliest meetings the Real Estate Owners' Association has ever held. As a result of what was told by various members, the association plans to call a mass meeting of taxpayers in Victoria Park or some similar place to discuss the situation and arrange what action shall be taken to impress the council and school board.

"I am satisfied that over five thousand people would come in a hurry when we call a public mass meeting," said one R. E. O. A. member. "All over the city I hear of nothing but the exorbitant rate. The council and school board have got to stop their reckless spending."

Another member expressed it as his opinion that next year's tax rate will be 35 mills.

There was a general tendency on the part of those who spoke to blame the school board for spending so much money.

"We are rapidly getting to a point where the city will be unable to secure any more money," said another man. "London should be one of the most prosperous cities in America by its location, but the policy the councils have been pursuing would wreck a gold mine."

After more discussion the following resolution was passed:

"Resolved, That this association is pleased with the tax rate for 1915, and hereby commend the same to the ratepayers of this city who have been voting prosperity upon debenture issues; that for 20 years this association has had a hard and uneven fight with civic follies and unnecessary municipal fads; and while the taxes are high this year, they will be higher in the future; and London is fast becoming too expensive a place to live in, and the values of real estate are going to suffer materially, while the growth of our city will be considerably retarded."

[AS]K COURT TO ANNUL [CO]NTRACT FOR $800,000

[Q]UEBEC, June 25.—An action taken [to] annul a contract valued at $800,000 [was] entered here today on behalf of [Vic]tor Ouellet, Alderique Simoneau and [Ro]bert Fraser of Cape St. Ignace [aga]inst the Royal Trust Company and [the] Dorchester Electric Company of [this] city. The plaintiffs claim irregu[lari]ties in the contract.

[R]ecently, the Royal Trust Company [of] Montreal, advertised on sale, all the [pro]perty belonging to Dorchester Elec[tric] Company of Quebec city, and the [pla]intiffs want the courts to have the [Ro]yal Trust turn back to the company [the] said property.

[C]HARGED WITH PERJURY IN GETTING MARRIED

[S]ummons Awaiting Port Huron Lothario in Sarnia.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, June 25.—A summons has [be]en issued here for the arrest of [Le]onard Lamott of Port Huron who, it [is] charged, committed purjury in swear[ing] out a marriage license in Point Ed[wa]rd on Wednesday when he was mar[rie]d to a girl of that place.

The complaint has been made by the [gir]l's parents, who say that the girl [is] only seventeen, while her husband [sw]ore that she was eighteen.

Lamott is supposed to be in the [St]ates, but will be deported if found.

TINGED BUT UNHARMED.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WHALEN, June 25. — The frost of [W]ednesday and Thursday did little or [no] damage to the growing crops in this [vi]cinity, though some garden stuff [sh]ows signs of being nipped on top, [an]d with a good, warm rain soon this [se]ction of the province should see the [be]st crop in years.

Corn and roots, as well as potatoes, [a]re looking excellent. Hay has picked [u]p a lot in the past two weeks and [w]ill be a fair crop.

PORT STANLEY.

PORT STANLEY, June 25.—The following donations of new cotton were received by the I.O.D.E. and rolled into bandages: Mrs. Price, Mr. D. McDonald, Mrs. Grimmond, Mrs. Dunn, Mrs. Berry, Mrs. A. Clark, Miss Cornell, Mrs. Quinn. Hundred and two bandages were the afternoon's work. Next week another bolt of cotton, purchased by the chapter, will be rolled, and one afternoon devoted to make hospital shirts.

Miss Ivy Manning had as guests on Thursday Miss Lillian Manning of London and Miss May Weller of Leamington.

On Monday evening next the I.O.D.E. will receive a part of the proceeds of the movies at the Lyric, Stanley Beach.

The Anderson Co., Limited, of St. Thomas, treated their employees to a picnic here yesterday.

Rev. S. H. Eastman of St. John's Church, being absent in the interest of Knox College fund, the services in his church on Sunday will be in charge of Rev. Mr. Langill of Fingal in the morning, and in the evening by Rev. Mr. McIntosh of London. The evening service will be of interest to young people.

On Saturday afternoon the ladies of the Methodist Church will hold a food sale on the lawn of Mrs. George Williams, Bridge street.

The State of Ohio made her regular trip on Thursday.

The I.O.D.E. is anxious that a flag be raised at the school, and made an appeal to the school board, but the members feel that at present they are not in a position financially to attend to the matter.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Anthony of Buffalo and Miss Gladys Berry motored to the home of their parents, Captain and Mrs. Mark Berry, and will remain for a few days.

Mrs. James Morgan and children and Mrs. Charleston and son of Detroit are guests of Thomas Morgan.

Douglas McTavish of Muncey has arrived to enter the employ of Finlay and Nicholas.

Frank Fraser spent yesterday in London.

ITALIANS FORM LOCAL RED CROSS

On Authority of Italian Consul, London Society Is Formed.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

The London Organization Will Start Its Work At Once.

Acting on the authority of the Red Cross Society of Italy, transmitted through the Italian consul at Montreal, a number of the prominent Italians in the city have organized a branch of the society here with the following officers: Chairman, C. Catalano; treasurer, Joseph Dambra; secretary, Jos. D. Cusolito.

The headquarters of the new branch probably will be either at the Marconi Club or the Italian Benefit Society. Both organizations are interesting themselves in the work and are quite willing to help by providing accommodation or in any other way.

Subscriptions will be forwarded to the counsel at Montreal and by him sent to the headquarters of the society in Italy. Each subscription list will be stamped with the seal of the consul, so that the bona-fides of collectors can be easily determined.

WABASH SOCIAL SUCCESS.

WABASH, June 25.—A successful ice cream social was held last evening on the Wabash recreation grounds, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society. The evening being unusually warm, a large crowd turned out about 5:30 to witness the baseball game between Wabash and Thamesville. This resulted in a score of 8 to 5 in favor of the home team.

The proceeds of the evening were $125, besides some additional sales of ice cream at the close.

MOVEMENTS OF STOCKS UNCERTAIN THIS WEEK

Some Railways Are Especially Affected — Steel Shares Firmer Than Others.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 26.—Weekly market summary: The movement of stocks this week was mostly uncertain, with currents of heaviness in the later dealings. This was particularly true of the securities comprising the southwestern group of railways, notably Missouri Pacific, Rock Island, Missouri, Kansas and Texas and Denver and Rio Grande. All these issues registered several declines, due mainly to uncertainty regarding their future.

Other securities, including high grade investment issues, were under frequent pressure as a result of the huge new British war loan. Domestic war specialties were comparatively heavy and inactive, and coppers lost more of their recent advance on continued shading of prices for the refined product.

Steel Firmer.

United States Steel and allied shares were firmer than other industrials on the steady improvement in the trade. The mills of the large companies are working nearer to full capacity than at any time in recent years, and indications point to a substantial increase in earnings of the Steel Corporation for the quarter now expiring.

Foreign exchange was again a factor of importance, all European remittances disclosing greater weakness, with some belated recovery in London bills on additional gold imports from Canada.

Record Exchanges.

French and Italian exchange were at record-breaking discounts, the decline in the Paris rate being the more confusing from the fact that the new French loan made by our bankers was supposed to neutralize sales of bills on Paris.

Crop news was variable, with signs of more deterioration in the Southwest.

Monetary conditions show greater ease, a logical outcome of the enormous supplies of cash held by reserve institutions in all sections of the country.

WOUNDED PROGRESSING.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

London, June 26.—Capt. McKillop of Toronto and Capt. Arthur of Calgary, both mentioned in dispatches, are just now patients in the Canadian Hospital at Letouquet, making rapid progress.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

LOCAL MARKET

Wheat is unchanged at $1 10 per bu.

Vegetables are steady, and form the chief part of the markets.

Butter and eggs were steady and firm. Eggs still sell at 22c per dozen retail. Butter is fairly plentiful.

GRAIN.

Winnipeg, June 25.—Trading on the wheat market was quiet today and prices stronger generally. The export inquiry here was improved, although there were no new transactions reported. In the cash department offerings were light against a fair demands for Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 grades of wheat by exporters and dealers with Ontario connections. For coats, barley and flax the demand was poor.

Total inspections on Thursday were 125 cars against 309 cars last year. In sight today were 70 cars.

Wheat futures closed 1⅝c to 2⅛c higher; cash, 2c to 2¼c higher; oats, unchanged to ⅝c advance and flax ⅜c to ⅞c higher.

Cash grain:

Wheat—No. 1 northern, $1.27½; No. 2 northern, $1.26¼; No. 3 northern, $1.22; No. 4, $1.20; No. 5, $1.13.

Oats—No. 2 Canadian western, 54½c; No. 3 Canadian western, 52¾c; extra No. 1 feed, 52¾c; No. 1 feed, 51¾c; No. 2 feed, 50¾c.

Barley—Not quoted.

Flax—No. 1 N. W. C., $1.49¾; No. 2 Canadian western, $1.46¼.

Chicago, June 26.—Notwithstanding that wheat showed strength at the start today, depression later prevailed. The bulge at the outset was due to higher quotations from Liverpool, and to a forecast of unwelcome showers in the domestic winter crop belt. Buying, however, was only of a scattered sort, and there was no sign of fresh export transactions. After opening ¼c to ⅝c up, prices receded to below last night's level all around.

Liverpool, June 26.—Wheat—Spot was steady; No. 1 Manitoba, 11s 4d; No. 3, 11s 1d; No. 1 northern (Duluth), 11s 1d; No. 2 hard winter, 11s 1d.

Corn—Spot quiet; American mixed, new, 7s 11d.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

Liverpool, June 26.—With a big increase in the number of cattle to Birkenhead this week, coupled with a slow weak market, there has been a reduction in value, and good quality Irish steers and heifers are now making 20 cents per pound, sinking the offal, with exceptional qualities at 21 cents. WALL STREET.

New York, June 26—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Aside from further weakness in Missouri Pacific, which declined a point to within a fraction of its low record, but soon recovered, trading in stocks at today's opening was virtually featureless. Dealings were contracted with slight gains in the better known issues, including United States Steel, Amalgamated Copper and some of the more speculative industrials. United States Rubber opened at a moderate advance, but soon reacted on fairly large offerings. Elsewhere further improvement was recorded, Reading and Canadian Pacific rising a point each.

Noon.—Reading was the feature of today's market, advancing three points. No definite news accompanied the rise, but the familiar rumor of a possible distribution of assets resulting from the recent supreme court's coal decision, was again current. Lehigh Valley, Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific were in fair demand at gains of a point or better. Steel, Amalgamated and Union Smelting, with a few war and motor shares, improved correspondingly. These gains were partly offset by a further decline of three points in rubber, making a loss of 14 points for the week, and recurrent weakness in Missouri Pacific and Rock Island. The closing was strong. Bonds were irregular.

Blaze Destroys Property of John Gosnell Near Ridgetown.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

RIDGETOWN, June 25.—John J. Gosnell, living about 3 1-2 miles east of town, had his fine big barn, drive shed and implement house destroyed by fire yesterday, together with a horse, a sow, six cows, two calves and all of his implements; also about 300 bushels of grain.

The cause of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at about $3,500 with an insurance in the Howard Mutual for $2,200.

LEAD STOCKS

The advance of one hundred per cent in the market price of lead foreshadows a similar increase in the market value of producers of the metal, whether silver-lead or zinc-lead producers, of the same character as that now being enjoyed by the Coppers.

We advise the immediate purchase of the lead stocks for increased investment yield and speculative profits, justified by the tremendous increase in earnings.

Our immediate recommendations are:

SILVER KING CONSOLIDATED, IRON BLOSSOM,
STEWART MINING, STANDARD SILVER-LEAD, SUCCESS MINING, PRINCE CONSOLIDATED.

In the event you are unacquainted with the details of financial and physical conditions of these properties, ask us to send you a complete detailed report.

THE BEST SERVICE ON NEWS AND ORDERS.
"NO PROMOTIONS."

J. P. Morgan said:

"A man might earn fifty dollars a day, yet if he spent fifty dollars daily, he would be practically a poor man. How much you are worth means, Not what you earn, but what you save."

No man's earning capacity is so small that he cannot save a little every week. This amount placed in our savings department will earn you 3½% compound interest and will quickly grow into a respectable sum. Start it with a dollar this week.

GOOD REPORTS OF CROPS IN THE WEST

Enough Rain For the Present, and Warm Weather Wanted.

[Canadian Press.]

Winnipeg, June 26.—The report of crop conditions along the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, issued here today shows that in most districts crops are in good condition. Reports from representative points assert crops are "in excellent conditions," "progressing favorably," "in best condition," "growing nicely," "in good condition, etc., while one or two reports say "fairly good condition." Most points state that there has been enough rain for the present and warmer weather is required. Local damage from frost is reported from a few points, while hail and cut worms are mentioned each from one place.

MUST CUT THE WEEDS.

BLENHEIM, June 25.—A decree has gone out from the chief of police that residents must cut all noxious weeds, not only on their properties in town, but also on the streets adjoining their properties. Some time ago the council passed a bylaw authorizing the constables to see that this was done, and now the chief is giving a warning that the bylaw will be enforced. Residents must comply or pay for the work being done.

NO LADIES VISITING BRITISH HEADQUARTERS

George Moore Gives Lie to Stories About Sir John French.

New York, June 26.—In New York George Gordon Moore, native of Wyoming, Ont., now a naturalized American, and intimate friend of Sir John French, denies some of the rumors which have been given some credence, concerning the conduct of British headquarters at the front.

Mr. Moore has seen more of the British war than any other civilian. He says the story of trouble between Sir John and Lord Kitchener is absolutely ridiculous, and as to the story that too many ladies have been entertained at headquarters, he says: "I know of only one lady being there, Lady Eileen Roberts, who was there when her father died."

Come To South London on July 1

AND SEE THE MANY ADVANTAGES FOR MAKING YOUR NEW HOME HERE : : : :

Most important to the homeseeker, available building sites here are much closer to the centre of the city than in any other district, and lot prices are low yet.

More homes were built in South London during the past year than in any other part of the city. New roofs are to be seen throughout all this section, and South London is now having more paving and city improvements than ever before.

Land values in this district will soon ADVANCE. With the paving of such main streets as Ridout, Elmwood avenue, Wortley and Wharncliffe road, South London takes on new energy and a great stride forward.

MANOR PARK Building Lots Are Your Opportunity Today

Over 400 families have bought their home sites in this beautiful property during the past year. Twelve months ago there was just one house on Manor Park—today there are 50 houses, a store and a church up, and many more will build this season.

MANOR PARK

IS EXCEPTIONALLY WELL LOCATED, having WHARNCLIFFE ROAD for its eastern boundary and Tecumseh avenue, Briscoe, Langarth and other streets crossing it. The Ridout street cars run within one block of the property, and the conductor will tell you where to get off.

If You Own Your Own Home—

YOU HAVE NO RENT TO PAY.

No one can buy your home unless you decide to sell, and if you do sell, you get the money.

It provides for old age and the rainy day.

East or west, home is best.

If you make any improvements in a rented house the result is the landlord's. If you improve your own house the results are your own.

You must own your own home eventually. Why not start today?

300 LARGE BUILDING LOTS IN MANOR PARK TO SELECT FROM.

Any lot can be bought on the easy terms of five dollars down and five dollars monthly. No interest is charged. You can start to build as soon as the first payment is made. When 400 shrewd homeseekers and investors have been on the property, have looked at it from every angle, and decided on the ground that they would build their homes THERE, or saw profits ahead, why should you longer delay in inspecting this property that other men see is of great advantage to them?

OUR AUTOMOBILES are ready almost any time to take you to see Manor Park building lots without any expense or obligation on your part to buy. We want you to see the lots. Year's Graduates of Conservatory In Fine Recital

Gifted Students Delight Large Audience With Clever Numbers.

The London public was afforded an opportunity of judging for itself the ability of this year's graduates of the London Conservatory of Music, in a recital, given last night in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, by gifted students, who have completed their courses in singing, elocution and piano and met the requirements of the examiners. Of these, Miss Madeleine Simson has taken post-graduate work in piano and received the degree of Fellow of the London Conservatory of Music. Of the piano pupils awarded the Licentiate standing, Miss Helen McIntyre, Dorchester; Miss Grace Harvey, Parkhill, and Roy Davidson, Lambeth, the first concluded her piano work a couple of years ago, only this summer completing her theory examinations required for full graduation and consequently she did not take part in the program. Miss Elizabeth Rennie of Zurich was the graduate in the vocal department and Miss Olive Robinson in elocution.

Miss Rennie has a soprano voice of exceptional sweetness and considerable range and power, especially pleasing in the middle tones. Towards the close of her share of the program, she gained in confidence and her last selection Tosti's "Good-bye" to which a violin obligato was played by Miss Dewey, was sung with much artistic feeling.

Miss Robinson's selection was an excellent test number, or arrangement of "Enoch Arden." The narrative was quietly related without the exaggeration of dramatic effect which is a temptation to young elocutionists.

Miss Madeleine Simson's playing of the Schubert Sonata, in B major, and also the Chopin Impromptu, in C sharp, was brilliant, musicianly, and revealed a gift for memorizing of an unusually high order. To quote Rev. Mr. Norwood, who presented the diplomas, her work is "intellectual."

Miss Grace Harvey, who of this year's graduates has captured the Heintzman & Co. scholarship, valued at $50, plays with the assurance that comes from genuine talent, expert tuition and thorough preparation of her work. Her tone is delightful, and she possesses the ability to grip the interest of her audience. The accompaniment on second piano to her last number, "Polonaise Brillante" (Weber), was played by Mr. Thomas Martin.

Roy Davidson also revealed an unusual endowment of artistic temperament and individuality in interpretation.

Rev. R. W Norwood, in eloquently addressing the graduating class, declared that no nation can lay claim to greatness which does not express itself in art, plastic, poetic or tonal. Pioneers come into a country to make it livable. He would not underrate the supreme importance of commerce and construction work. But he would reiterate his postulate that Canada will not be able to lay claim to nationhood until Canadian singers are singing their own songs and seers are uttering messages. A reaction of intellect and spiritual forces at the end of the war was prophesied, and also that Canada will produce greater melodies and greater songs, a greater art than has yet been known. Entire confidence in the genius of the Canadian people was declared to be the foundation of this belief.

Ugliness he declared to be immoral, and expressed his conviction that the churches of the future will return to their positions of patrons of fine arts. In that day less will be spent on mechanical accessories for pipe organs, and more in the development of musical human voices. The spiritual power of a people, he concluded, is in its art. God is the great artist and the great artists are most truly his children.

Following his address Mr. Norwood presented the diplomas and prizes to the graduates in a most happy manner. Throughout the evening the girls taking part in the recital were literally deluged after each number with bouquets and baskets of flowers.

L. AND P. S. LINE TO OPEN JULY 22

Formal Ceremony Will Take Place At Noon On That Date.

DELEGATES ARE ASSURED

Representatives To Be Taken Over Road—Banquet In Evening.

The electrified London and Port Stanley line to the lake will open July 22.

This was definitely announced at a joint meeting of the city council, the utilities commission, the board of trade and the railway commission, held last night. The formal opening ceremony will take place at noon, when Mayor H. A. Stevenson after an introductory address will turn on the power and the first train will get under way.

Take Delegates Over Line.

The delegates will be taken over the line to Port Stanley, and time will be allowed for an inspection of the equipment and rolling stock. On the returning to this city the entire party will be banquetted at the Masonic Hall. A business meeting will follow in the evening.

Details regarding the exact arrangements will be submitted to the hydro-radial union for approval.

Arrangements are being made to invite a number of newspaper men from American cities to be present for the event. Invitations will be extended to papers in Detroit, Cleveland, Pittsburg, Canton, Erie, Buffalo, Rochester and Toledo, to have representatives here as guests of the city. In addition, Canadian newspaper men from nearby cities and towns will also be present.

Representatives from the trades and labor council, the Builders' Exchange, Bankers' Association, Western Fair board, board of health, board of education, Retailers' Association, Greater Middlesex Association will also be invited.

Many Delegates Assured.

Delegates will not be lacking, according to T. J. Hannigan, secretary of the Hydro-Radial Union, who in a communication read at the meeting last night, stated that there would be no difficulty in securing representatives.

Committees named to look after the different phases of the opening, follow:

Catering—T. W. McFarland, Ald. Manness, A. E. Silverwood, Ald. Simpson, Oliver Elwood, Gordon Philip.

TO RUSH PAVING FOR OUT-OF-WORKS

Special Council Meeting Is Called To Avoid Delay in Getting Work.

SOLDIERS ALL INSURED

Practically Every Londoner Fighting Overseas Covered —Lights on Alarms.

Only two members of the board of control put in an appearance for the regular meeting yesterday and, in the absence of a quorum, only business of lesser importance was transacted. His worship, who was absent in Toronto, had requested that matters of importance be left over, and this was done.

A representative of the State Life Insurance Company was present to make an offer to insure any soldiers of the third contingent who have not yet been covered, or any men who may be recruited for future contingents. He stated that the company was writing insurance on the Stratford, Sarnia and other Western Ontario men, and would be prepared to accept another million dollars worth of risks.

His company, he said, would be prepared to issue unmodified 20-year endowment policies, unmodified, but would want premiums for three years paid in advance, and in addition the payment of $5 for each man medically examined, to cover the cost of the examination. He declared the company did not want to make money on this proposition and was intending to carry soldiers' insurance separately on its books practically at cost, in order to establish itself in Canada.

Practically All Troops Insured.

Controller Moore pointed out that practically all the soldiers of the contingents at present mobilized had been covered, but suggested that later on it might be possible to do business. The representative therefore will renew his offer later.

A report from General Manager E. V. Buchanan of the utilities board was received, in which he stated that the cost of placing red lamps on all fire alarm boxes would be about $8 each a year. As there are 75 boxes this would mean a total of $600. No action was taken.

A letter was received from the owners of the McCormick property asking for a meeting some time next week for the purpose of talking over the question of sewer connections. It was decided to meet them on Tuesday.

Ald. Wilson and Donnelly appeared to make complaints of the non-watering of certain of the city streets. The former declared that Hyman street had not been watered for sixteen days, and that he had been unable to get any satisfaction from Garbage Superintendent Dodd when he mentioned the matter to him. He was promised that the matter should be taken up with the superintendent.

Want Paving Rushed.

On the assurance of Ald. Donnelly that the council would be unanimous in agreeing to the acceptance of the lowest bid for pavement construction, which failed to pass at a special meeting of the council earlier in the week, on account of a technicality, it was decided to call a special meeting for Monday at 5 p.m. to deal with this matter. Both controllers and aldermen felt that the work should be commenced as soon as possible, to give employment to men now out of work.

M. P. McDonagh, chairman of the public library board, came as a peace emissary to state that, if the council would provide rooms in the East End town hall by September 1, and would finance the board to the extent of $500 in addition to the levy which has been made already, it probably would be possible to open the East End library this year without making any further levies. The council will be asked to deal with this.

BLYTH RED CROSS CIRCLE.

BLYTH, June 24.—There was a good attendance at the regular meeting of the Red Cross Circle on Thursday, and it was decided to give $35 for an invalid's wheel-chair for the Canadian hospital at Cliveden, England, the chair to be named Blyth. The following goods were shipped this week to headquarters at London, Ont.: One comforter, 2 pillows, 57 pillow slips, 10 sheets, 1 parcel old linen, 1 parcel old cotton, 350 cheesecloth handkerchiefs, 22 nightshirts, 30 Turkish towels, 2 crash towels, and 28 pairs socks.
