MISSIONARIES GREETED THE NEW PRESIDENT OF CHINA

Special Correspondent of The London Advertiser Tells of the Changing of the Dragon for the Republican Flag in the Flowery Kingdom.

NEW GOVT. WILL BE ASKED TO GRANT FREEDOM OF RELIGIOUS THOUGHT

A Meeting Being Held By the Chinese Christians to Have Such a Clause Included In the New Constitution-T. E. Plewman Relates How the Republicans Won.

Within the fighting zone are the following church workers and missionaries from London and this district: Miss Ethel Mc-Pherson, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Westaway, Mr. J. L. Stewart, Rev. Charles and Mrs. Carscallen, Rev. William L. and Mrs. Mortimore, Dr. and Mrs. Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. Wallace Crawford, Miss Edna Griffiths, Dr. and Mrs Charles Elliott.

[Special Correspondence of The London Advertiser and Toronto Daily Star.] BY T. E. PLEWMAN.

Chengtu, Sze Chuan, Nov. 25.—Yesterday at the soldiers' camp adjoining our premises we saw the dragon flag of old China for the last time. This morning when we arose the flag of the Chinese Republic was flying instead, and most of the troops were going around with a white band on their sleeves, a sign that they had gone over. The majority of the shops had the new flag hung out, and the streets were crowded with a good-natured, merrymaking crowd.

For the first time in three months the city was itself again, and the people threw off the gloom that had encompassed them about of late. Every minute or two as we went along the street we saw Chinese attired in foreign dress and minus the queue. More numerous still were those whose means only permitted the purchase of a foreign cap and perhaps a pair of boots.

DISOBEYED ORDERS.

On the way to the imperial city, in the heart of Chengtu, where the Declaration of Independence was read (we plead guilty to going out against consular orders), we passed a shop that was doing a roaring business in cheap Chinese-made foreign style caps. They were sold out in no time-also the shops that made imitation foreign shoes-and in a week's time there will probably be hundreds of places manufacturing them.

There are one or two so-called foreign tailors in the city, and they will certainly reap a harvest. Just now the unsettled condition of China paralyzes the foreign trade, but the first travellers for woollen goods houses that strike this neighborhood will probably be embarrassed with the plentitude of their orders. We venture to say that the purchase of dress goods materials next year for Chinese e will be 500 per cent greater than in any previous year.

MISSIONARIES GREET PRESIDENT.

But to get back to the imperial city. After the declaration of independence was read in the presence of tens of thousands of people, the newly-appointed president, Mr. Pu, held an informal reception in the inner court, and a number of foreigners who ventured over there were rewarded with an introduction to him, and to the vice-president, Chu Tong-ling (who is also commander of the troops of the republic). The tide of fortune has changed, and Messrs. Pu, Uen, Loh, and others, who a few days ago were languishing in jail, are now at the head of the Government of the most populous province in China. Tired, but ready for the rather strenuous duties of the day, the Scottish curlers arrived shortly after noon today to try conclusions with the rinks from surrounding towns and elties in the afternoon, and the local rinks in the evening. Thirty-three were in the party, chaperoned by Mr. James MacFadden, of Toronto, secretary of the On-tario Curling Association, and known everywhere as "Jeems" MacFadden. Entertained by the City. They were driven at once to the Teumseh House, where all were enterained to lunch by the city council.

Mayor Graham welcomed the vistors in felicitous terms. He congratulated them on the good showing made so far in the trip, and hoped that when they returned to Scotland they would carry with them pleasant memories of their visit to Canada. ## CATTLE PRICES AT TORONTO MARKET

TORONTO, Feb. 1 .-- More activity is evident on the market this morning. As much of the common and medium stuff as possible is being kept off the market, and it is hoped that next week will see the market going on a better basis with higher prices and a better class of cattle. Choice butcher cattle are slightly firmer and in a little better demand. and lambs are scarce with not much evidence of a change. Receipts show 93 cars, consisting of 1,255 cattle, 1,605 hogs, 270 sheep and lambs and 145 calves. Latest trading left corn with a net advance of %c to %c oats up %c to %c to %c and hog products less expensive by 5c to 20c. The collapse of the wheat market came chiefly after the receipt of dispatches from St. Louis and Kansas City, saying it looked as if the southwest and south had been filled up with corn for a while. Texas buyers in particular were reported to be backing away. This information to be backing away. This information was something of a shock for the wheat pit as many dealers had acquired a belief that the call for corn would have prac-tically no limit. In adition Peoria sent word that export bids on corn were half a cent lower than of late. Bearish Argentine reports had caused weak opening for wheat, but the big oulge in coarse grain, especially corn sent prices for the more costly cereal skyward. The upturn was aided by state-ments that Canadian farmers faced huge losses unless 30,000 bushels of damp wheat in the west could be dried and marketed before spring. Profit-taking, however, and the setback in corn brought about in the end a complete reversal of tone. May fluctuated from $1 02½ to $1 03¾, with last sales %c net lower at $1 02½ to $1 02%. Although corn futures today cuched a new high level for the move ment the market finished weak under heavy selling on the part of commission houses. It was a subject of much discussion that the arrivals at primary points taken altogether formed a total nearly double that of a year ago. May ranged from 67%c to 68%c to 68%c, closure of the primary control of the primary ing at 67%c, a gain of %c to %c net. Cash grades were firm. Oats made new record price for the season, but buying force thereafter appeared to be spent, and a sharp reaction took place when other grain began to sag. May ranged from 51%c to 52%c to 52%c with the close 51%c, a gain of %c over last night, Fig receipts of hogs weighed down provisions. At the end pork was off 10c to 15c, lard 5c to 20c and ribs 71/2c to 121/2c WINNIPEG, Jan. 31.-There was a winnipeg, Jan. 31.—There was a very light trade, and the market was weak until near the close, when there was a little spurt. The close, however, showed a decline of %c to ½c for the morning. Oats were up ½c to ½c with a more active movement. Flax dropped 5c. Receipts were small, and but 400 cars were in sight for today. ## Draperies Made Free of Charge It Ordered Now

Now is your opportunity if you anticipate purchasing any new draperies this spring. As in the ladies' tailoring and dress-making departments in January, so with February in the drapery workrooms—usually a little falling off, but our full staff is kept on just the same, and to relieve the crowding of orders and avoid delay when the busy season is on, you have the opportunity now of selecting your drapery materials and having them made up free of charge, which is quite a consideration. But we would also remind you that as in the tailoring, only sufficient work will be taken (absolutely free of charge) to keep the staff in drapery workroom busy till end of February, as by then the orders in this line are usually more than can be handled promptly, as later, it is as a rule, about a three weeks' promise to execute work. Here is one of the things it will pay you to look after just a little ahead of time, and also avoid unnecessary worry. A few days may bring all the work we can handle, when making free will be discontinued. We therefore advise you to act quickly and not be disappointed if you need Draperies of any description We mention a few materials popular in modern decorating.

Louis Railroad, and one of the leading railroad magnates in this country died at his home here today after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Hawley had been a sufferer from nervous indigestion for some time and for the last few weeks had been confined to his house at 19 East Sixtieth street. Frequent reports that his condition was serious were denied and only yesterday Mr. Hawley said that he hoped to be down town within a week or so. His death came at 4 o'clock this morning. Among the companies of which Mr Hawley was a director were: The Colorado and Southern Railroad, Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, Evansville and Terre Haute Railroad the Minneapolis and St. Louis, the Hocking Valley Railroad, together with other corporations. Early this morning Mr. Hawley was suddenly seized with an attack heart failure, and death soon followed Notwithstanding his illness, Mr Hawley kept in constant touch with his business affairs, and occasionally received visitors at his home to discuss matters of sufficient importance

The constructive work of Mr. Hawley in the railroad field has often been compared to that of the late Edward H. Harriman. With his associates SUMMONED BY DEATH H. Harriman. With his associates Mr. Hawley controlled the Chesapeake and Ohio, the Iowa Central, the Minneapolis and St. Louis, the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, the Hocking Valley, the Toledo, St. Louis and Western, and other lines. Quite recently he was asked to undertake the readjustment of the affairs of the Wabash Railroad. The stock market was not affected by the news of Mr. Hawley's death. Thesapeake and Ohio went off 2 points. TO SCALE McKINLEY.

Seward, Alaska, Feb. 1 .- Prof. Her-

LONDON, THURSDAY, FEB. 1.

WHAT DOES MR. CROTHERS SAY?

The Hon. Thomas Crothers, minister of labor, is on the defensive. He was the subject of an inquiry recently by Hon. Charles Murphy. Mr. Murphy asked the Prime Minister whether the St. Thomas statesman or any others had promised during the Federal campaign that the Conservative party, if returned to power, would reimburse everyone who had lost money through the failure of the Farmers Bank. To this Mr. Borden replied:

"No such promise was made by the Minister of Labor. The Government has no information as to promises made by other Government sup-

The surprise of this announcement will be greatest to the Farmers' Bank depositors and shareholders. On Sept. 1, Mr. Crothers addressed a meeting at Kerwood, in a district where many Farmers' Bank victims lived-and voted. He was reported in the London Free Press as saying:

"I am in favor of indemnifying every man who lost a dollar by the operations of the management of the Farmers' Bank. Some people have said that the depositors only should have their losses made good. but I hold that others are in the same position as the depositors. INTEND TO SEE THAT EVERY MAN WHO LOST WILL BE RECOUPED."

Our local contemporary declared in its comment on Mr. Crothers' speech Imperial Parliament, and an act of that "he made it plain that the Con- the King, who will have signed it. servative party, if returned to power Carson and Chaplin are therefore on the 21st, would take steps to see rebels in the sight of the law in here, and gone to raising chickens. those who lost by the failure of the reign. Parnell and many others who Farmers' Bank, and the compensation would apply not only to the depositors but to the shareholders as well.'

On Sept. 4, Mr. Crothers made speech at Fingal, which also carried comfort to the depositors and shareholders of the Farmers' Bank. He said, according to the Conservative St. Thomas Times:

"I am in favor of indemnifying every man who lost a dollar by the operations of the management of the Farmers' Bank. Some people have said that only the losses of the depositors should be made good, but I hold that others are in the same position as the depositors. . . . WE INTEND TO SEE THAT EVERY MAN WHO LOST SHALL BE REIMBURSED.

Assuming that Mr. Crothers told the Prime Minister what the Prime Minister told Hon. Mr. Murphy, we are driven to one of two conclusions. Either the London Free Press and St. Thomas Times falsified the utterances of Mr. Crothers, or Mr. Crothers deceived the Prime Minister. If Mr. Crothers is both innocent and sensitive he will furnish an explanation.

WHERE GERMANY LEADS.

Professor Richard T. Ely, the pofitical economist of the University of Wisconsin, has lived the past year in Germany, and has published some impressions of that prodigious country. Since his last visit 20 years ago he has noted marvellous progress. Of its social phases Professor Ely says:

"When it comes to social improvement reforms I think Germany to a political meeting. "No," was the leads the world. In manufacturing reply, "I don't drink." The Winnipeg the improvement of the condition of the people, particularly in the way of insurance, is striking. Practically the whole of the population is dian politics means to the foreign newinsured against accident and sickness and variou other contingencies 'For instance, in the family with which I was living in Munich two of the servants had to undergo operations. They were provided for out of the public insurance funds. To these funds employees, employers and the state all contribute, the burden upon each is not heavy. The sum that has accumulated is enormous, and in many cases money from it has been used to build san itary houses for the working people, and these houses are considered a means of investment for the fund, just as an ordinary insurance company is apt to invest part of its resources in buildings.

All this has been achieved without faming the individual, says Professor Ely By the gyn.nastics of their schools they develop the whole physical man. There has been an immense development of educational opportunities for workingmen. The democracy of the school system and the benefits of social legislation have taken the bitterness out of the socialism that used to be preached there. The Socialists are more concerned with actual immediate reforms than with fancifu or utopian schemes.

Professor Ely's testimony agrees with that of the majority of impartial and trained observers. Without

But he was not quite himself yet. He noticed that the lights were extinguished in the corner of the second floor.
"Is that your room?" he asked, point ing to it.

Her air of blank amazement supplied a further tonic. "Queer thing!" he said. "I thought so. More of the occult, I suppose. really wished to speak to you about Mrs.

Servility is a hard word, but it is the best I can throw on the screen at the moment, and I'm real sorry If I have hurt your feelings by using it."

Medenham smiled. Each instant his calmer judgment showed more and more clearly that he could not offer any valid excuse for interference in the girl's affairs. For all he knew to the contrary, she might be tremulous with delight at the prospect of becoming a French count-ess; if that were so, the fact that he dis-approved of Mrs. Devar's matchmaking tactics would be received very coldly. Cynthia's natural interpretation of his Cynthia's natural interpretation of his allusion to her chaperon offered a means of escape from a difficult position.

Indeed, s puzzling and contradictory were they that he soon fell asleep. When he rose at seven o'clock next morning the said problems had vanished. They must have beer part and parcel with the glamor of a June night, and a starlit sky, and the blue depths of the sea of a girl's eyes, for the wizard sun had dispelled them long he awoke. But he did not telegraph

Dale brought the car to the Grand Hote good time, and Medenham ran it some istance along the front before drawing up at the Metropole. By that means he dissipated any undue curiosity that might be experienced by some lounger on the pavement who happened to notice pavement who happened to notice the change of chauffeurs, while he avoided a prolonged scrutiny by the visitors already packed in chairs on both sides of the perch. He kept his face hidden during the luggage-strapping process, and professed not to be aware of Cynthia's presence until she bade him a cheery "Good programs".

Of course Marigny was there, and Mrs.

Devar gushed loudly for the benefit of the other people while settling herself comfortably in the tonneau.

BEAUTY OF POISE

[By Cynthia Grey.]

Persons who use their minds always have poise. It is only the thoughtless ones who offend. The rattle-brained talker is an absolute nuisance at large.

What a refreshing sensation it is to meet : quiet, selfcontrolled, clever woman or man; one who can look steadily at a situation and wait.

One great fault of the modern man or woman is the lack of repose. We all do too much at a time, or rather too many things at a time. If we could only wait to finish one thing before starting upon another we would be much happier. But we must rush at our goal, rarely ever straight and direct, but generally stopping for something on the way, disconcerting our original intentions. The poise of looking straight ahead, awaiting opportunity with relaxation, refreshes and reinforces the mind for greater thoughts and expressions. The persons who think twice before speaking generally say something sensible and clever when they do speak.

Give your mind a chance to decide upon what course to take and it will, as a rule, decide for your best. I have heard men who were considered clever say: "Make a person answer quickly by frightening him and he will tell the truth."

A man may do so, but I am sure a woman would not. If a woman is hurried and frightened into answering quickly any blue in tone. vital question she will invariably answer at random, and proband set high upon the ably be accused of telling an untruth, which may be a fact, much to her subsequent embarra sment. Whereas, give a woman time The hat has no other to think before she decides to speak, and she wil at least be logical. In many cases she will outwit the cleverest man.

Bliss Carman says in his "Winged Victory": "The practical advantage of poise and its chief sanction is the opportunity it affords for spiritual precedence." That is true in the case of woman. She will always think the highest if given the time. Therefore, how necessary it is to a woman who wants to appear at her best to take time to think out her problem first, know her desires, then carefully, trustfully go about her business of realizing them, losing nothing in the deliberation but anxiety and ill temper.

What a poor example of her sex is the restless, giggling, gesticulating woman! If she thinks that she is attractive, let her look around at her really attractive sister, who is quiet, intelligent, restful; who thinks enough to be dependable; who never laughs except when she is amused; who keeps her hands quiet and her eyes steadfast Such a woman is a wonderful friend and companion; her beauty is the beauty of culture, refinement, and intelligence. She takes time to breathe deeply and develop physically.

Remember: The woman who cultivates poise simplifies

Force of habit says "porridge should be cooked all night."

But that habit was formed a long time ago when people had to make porridge out of oatmeal instead of rolled oats.

Even yet some women through force of habit, are cooking Tillson's all night, though 15 minutes is ample.

They forget that where oatmeal was coarsely ground oats, Tillson's is thinly rolled oats. So filmy and thin are the Tillson flakes that they can be cooked as thoroughly in 15 minutes as the coarse particles of old-fashioned oatmeal could be in a whole night.

Bring a quart of oysters to boil in their own liquor. Drain. Chop the oysters fine. Return the oyster liquor to the fire. Add two tablespoonfuls of Tillson's Rolled Oats. Simmer fifteen minutes. Add the oysters, rub through sieve, return to fire, add one pint of milk and cream, cook carefully until heated. Season and serve. If too thick another half cupful of cream should be added. If too thin add one beaten egg yolk.

Ingersoll, Jan. 31.—With the score three times a tie. London and Ingersoll intermediates battled an hour and 30 minutes tonight in the final game here of Group 9, before the deciding counter was notched by the "homesters." Throughout the contest the spectators were treated to brilliant hockey, London being particularly strong in individual work, while the locals pulled off splendid combination. The unanimous verdict was that the game was the best that has been witnessed here in years.

From start to finish there was very little to choose between the teams. At half-time Ingersoll was leading by 2 to 1. They notched another in one minute after the rest. London jumped to the front with four goals in almost as many minutes, and Ingersoll came back with two making the standing at full time 5 to 5. After ten minutes of overtime the teams were again tied, the score standing 6 to 6. They each scored twice in the next ten minutes and were once more tied. Australia seems to draw American boxers as the United States draws English fighters. There is a colony of Yankee fighters in the Antipodes, in which are found Cyclone Johnny Thompson, Jim Clabby, Eddie Clabby, Terry Keller, Sam Langford, Sam McVey, Frank Picato, George Unholz and Dick Cullen. Several others are preparing to join them.

The latest to make a break for the South Pacific are Buck Crouse and his manager, Jimmy Mason, of Pittsburg, who sail early in February. They will be busy, for there are several good middleweights in Australia. Crouse in the last six months has beaten some of the best middleweights in this country. He is just past 21, and gaining strength daily. He won over 25 battles last year, 16 of them being knockouts. His last victory was Victoria, B. C., Feb. 1.—The report from Honolulu that big guns have been landed at Fanning Island by the o end now, it would have cost Italy steamer Makura, confirms stories circulated here when, in November, news was brought by an Australian liner that a British-Canadian syndicate had purchased Fanning Island and Washington Island, from Father Rougier for $325,000, presumably acting on behalf of the British Government. At the time of the purchase it was announced two purchasers had bought the islands with the intention of making a coaling station at Fanning Island. Officers of the Makura and Marama, which brought the stories, said it was the intention of the British Government to make a naval base there as soon as the Panama Canal was completed. The report from Honolulu, the officers say, would strengthen the rumor.

FEW PLAYERS QUIT THE GAME AT THE HEIGHT OF THEIR CAREER Few ball players retire at the height of their careers. Fielder Jones and Bill Lange are among the few. Jimmy Callahan, White Sox manager, left baseball when he was regarded as a star. After several years in semi-pro ball around Chicago, he returned to the Sox last season, and was the prize "come-back" of the year. Callahan

was asked recently when he expected to retire for good. "Not till the boys in the left fleid bleachers tell me I ought to pick a warm spot on the bench and stay there," was his reply. Baseball probably never saw a greater all-around star than Fred Clarke Pittsburg has had a good team for years, and Clarke has always played an important part in the making. Last year Clarke slumped for a short time, and he was the target of much abuse. Clarke cannot go on forever, and he will show wisdom if he decides to manage from the bench this season Ty Cobb's career has been a round of hero worship. He dreads criticism. "I'm going to quit," he said recently, "while the public looks upon me as among the best." Cy Young, on the other hand, says he will stick as long as the fans will stand for him. "I'll stay in the big league until I get transportation to the bushes; then I'll quit baseball,' says Cy.

LET A BASERUNNER. WARM UP? "NIX," SAID BOB EMSLIE, UMPIRE Umpire Bob Emsile smiles whenever he reads about Del Howard. For years Howard was substitute first baseman for the Cubs.

One cold day the Cubs were in Boston, and the substitutes were huddled on the bench trying to keep warm. Chicago was two runs behind in the ninth when Steinfeldt singled. Howard was called to run for him. He was stiff and "Time, Mr. Emslie," yelled Howard, as he started to gallop toward second base. Emslie and the players were dazed, especially when Howard jogged back to first and started to repeat his dash toward second. Emslie stopped him. "Let me try it again," begged Howard, "I want to warm up." "When a pitcher's cold you let him warm up," argued Howard, "why ouldn't a baserunner?" But the argument did not move Emslie. Play started and Howard tried to steal on the first ball pitched, and was thrown out a mile. As he walked to the bench, Emslie remarked:

"If I'd known you were that slow I would have given you a chance to warm up. Better try steam next time."

Clarke's concise expose of the hypocrisy and legal absurdity of that position. It is inferred from the remarks of the cabinet ministers that the election will be held some time in March, probably on the 25th.

A Charge of Bribery. The House witnessed an unusual spectacle. The member for South Essex charged the Minister of Customs. on the authority of the Ministerial press reports, with visiting the riding of South Renfrew and making to the people there a "statement unequalled for reckless disregard of truth." On the same authority he accused the minister of reckless and barefaced bribery in taking the position: "Vote for Maloney, and the Borden Government will then spread money in this district for good roads." Of Dr. Reid's statements in this connection, the Rentrew Ministerial organ had said, under the caption of "Low Appeal From a Cabinet Min-"The bald way in which he handled this topic disgusted all decent men."

These were direct charges, and the House waited with expectation for Dr. Reid's defence. It was not forthcoming. The minister allowed them to go without explanation.

Mr. Clarke Arraigns.

Mr. Clarke's arraignment was scathing one. He moved the adjournment of the House in order to bring to the attention of the Government the matter of the continued vacancy in South Renfrew, now of nearly two months' duration. He charged that this was a direct violation not only of the spirit of the law but of its very letter. The act required the Speaker to forthwith issue his warrant to the clerk of the crown in chancery and decreed that the writ thereupon should acted upon the law with commendable promptness, but the Government had refused to determine the date and appoint the returning officer. For this breach of the law the minister of customs had undertaken to give a reason or pretext. It was a "statement unequalled for reckless disregard of truth." He had resorted to fiction, and invented a condition of

The study of history, continued Mr. Clarke, went to show that statesmen were always prepared to set before them some prototype, some example to follow. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had more than once spoken of Mr. Gladstone as his model, but the member for Essex had searched some time before he found a character upon which the present Government was shaping its course. "The members of this Government," said Mr. Clarke, "have evidently taken for their patron saint a notorious Secretary of State, che Nicholas Machiavelli, who decided, by fair means or foul, to put out of existence everyone who stood in his "But Graham's not in yet," shout-

"I and sorry, yery sorry, for my right honorable friend," continued the Liberal leader. "The cases are not similar," relied Sir Wilfrid. "No one resigned for Mr. Foster. There was a vacancy, and he became a candidate. My right honorable friend must not cloud the issue. Then Mr. J. E. Armstrong, whose spirations for the position of postmaster-general were rudely shattered last October, took nearly two hours of the House in presenting his resolution for the appointment of a royal commission to investigate systems of national telegraphs and telephones, wireless telegraphs and cables, parcel post and postal conditions generally, with a view to submitting information to the postoffice department such as would help to improve present conditions along the line of enlarged public ownership and operation. Mr. Armstrong, while in Opposition, made a specialty of these subects, and in opening his address today he noted that the Halifax platform of Mr. Borden had provided for nationalization of telegraphs and telephones, "with due respect to the rights of vested interests." He urged that the Government should control trunk lines of telegraph and telephone systems throughout the Dominion, thus relieving the public of the present incubus of monopolistic control and reducing rates. length into statistics bearing on the investigation now before the railway commission, charging that rates now in force were disproportionate to and capital amount invested. McGowan, of decessity for declaring itself, in the Elora, Canada, a witness produced by the Lorimer side, had admitted he Blain, Peel, urged the adoption of a was paid by the Hines crowd to testify for Lorimer; that he had a hard time getting his money; that he did not get as much as he had expected, those and finally he made them "come across" by a threat of exposure. McGowan got into the Lorimer case in a remarkable way. One Burgess, witness, introduced by counsel for the Lorimer committee, testified that while travelling on the Winnipeg flyer from Duluth to Virginia City, in Minnesota, C. F. Weihe, a brother-in-law of Edward Hines, the lumber merhant, who has figured in the case as he man who is alleged to have raised author of the outrage. $100,000 to "put Lorimer across," that he had contributed $10,000 to this fund. Burgess testiied that among other passengers on train who had heard the conersation was a young Canadian, name unknown, who was journeying to Canada. Later the Lorimer people, realizing that this testimony was perhaps vital as tending to corroborate other statements that the Hines fund of $100,000 really had existed, sought out and produced this unidentified Canadian in the person of young McGowan. The Lorimer people procured the name of McGowan from the Canadian officers of Winnipeg, where he made his declaration as required by law on entering Canada from the United McGowan denied that the conversation in the smoking compartment of the Winnipeg flyer to which Burgess testified had occurred. the anti-Lorimer people started after McGowan.

HAMILTON FINANCES.

Hamilton, Jan. 31.—City Treasurer eckie's annual statement for 1911 completed today, shows that the city spent $1,548,635 last year, and finished the year with a surplus of $28,000. The rate last year was 201/2 mills, and some of the aldermen were hopeful that it would be possible to get it back to 20 again, but in view of wholesale appli-cations for salary increases and other extra demands, Hamilton will be lucky if the rate is not up to the 21-mill mark this year.

No. 3 Committee Decided On Much New Equipment for London.

AUTO FOR THE CHIEF

Council Asked to Sanction the Pur chase of Up-to-Date Fire-Fighting Appliances.

Improvements to the fire department decided to call for tenders for an auto for Fire Chief Aitken, capable of carrying four men and a small chemical; an auto combination wagon for eight men, and 1,000 feet of hose, in addition to chemical apparatus, and a modern aerial truck estimated to cost $7,-

The request of the chief and the underwriters for more men was laid over for further information as to the annual cost, etc.

Chief Aitken also recommended that the present truck be placed in the East End Hall, but Ald. Rose thought that it should be put in No. 5 station. south of the tracks. In either case changes would have to be made in the halls, and the matter was laid over until the next meeting.

The Beil Telephone Company will be requested to furnish a tender for dividing the fire alarm system into two Matter of More Men.

The question of the addition of ten men to the fire department caused a great deal of discussion. Ald. Ashplant thought that the purchase of an auto combination wagon would relieve the necessity for additional men. A flying squadron could be sent to any locality in a very brief space, and this would put a number of men on the job early. The cost of ten men would be large, and the expense of the department was increasing very rapidly. Fire Chief Aitken insisted, however, that the men were needed, and Ald. Wright declared that the chief's recommendation was good enough for him. However, the other members of the committee thought that enough information had not been obtained, and at the next meeting it will be taken up

Fire Chief Altken submitted a form of tender for an auto for himself and an auto combination wagon, and it was ordered inserted in the local papers. Tenders must be in by Feb. 14.

FROM A FARMER'S WIFE.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: I have been reading the letters about farm life and city life, and I feel quite disgusted with some of the letters. Of course, as I am a farmer's daughter, I cannot help but feel hurt at the way some of those city people try to make out we don't have good things to eat, and what we do have isn't properly prepared. I know we don't have quite so many fancy dishes. but what we do have is generally good, wholesome food, cooked, too. I don't think "C. A." had many meals in the country, wouldn't speak so, and I don't think there are many people that get up at 4 o'clock in the winter time, and if they did surely they would need light. However, I think they are a little unfair on both sides, as the farmers are comparing the worst conditions in the city with the best on the farm, and the city folks are comparing the farmers of 30 or 40 years ago with the city people of today. I say, let everyone stay where it suits him best. Both my father and husband take The Daily Advertiser, so we surely are not 20 years behind the times. remain, yours truly, C. S. M. Glencoe, Jan. 29, 1912.

A FURTHER REPLY TO C. A.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: I read with much interest and pleasure the letters on City Vs. Country Life in Winter, until I came to the one by "C. A." Then my feelings became a little ruffled. I think any man who would make such slanderous statements in regard to farming should get at least six months' hard labor. He no doubt thinks he has the right, but his ignorance, which shows throughout his letter, leads him astray.

He says "show me the farmer who will not call you till 7 a.m." If he would come to Cowal, I could show him any number of them, for the best feeders and farmers today feed their cattle only twice a day, and it would be useless and waste of time to get up

He spoke of the farmer eating tea and prunes, and he had to keep the door locked, but the farmers around here do not need to eat prunes to keep from starving to death, for nearly every farmer makes from 20 to 50 gallons of maple syrup every spring, and with honey, plums, peaches and small fruits, of which the farmer has an abundance, they need not eat stewed prunes. They are the licensed fare of all city boarding-houses and lunch on the meat. I think he is writing from

"C. A." certainly never was on marks that I stated that the city man farm, or he would not say that they thinks only of his "salary." J. M. is do not eat butter there. It is there the butter is made and the farmers eat the best of it, and take what is left to city markets, where the city people smell it, taste it with a copper, and go off into a corner and count their money to see how many pounds they can buy.

He speaks of cutting a couple of ords of wood a day, probably that is all he could cut, but any good farmer would cut five or six cords every day privilege of living in another man's for a week, and then they would have enough ahead for a year. He writes of having a fight over a

> To Change All. Now is the chance to have it all changed, from the groundwork of the constitution up. Even if it were only brought about in Szechwan it would be a great accomplishment, for this is the greatest province in China. Paying students mostly go to Government schools, because they can then obtain office; poor students come to us because it is the only way they can obtain an education. These latter, when about halfway through college, and thus able to get fair salary as teachers for a year or two, often become independent of and desert to a Government institution to finish their education and assure themselves of the future. ## DRESSED PORK MARKET FEATURE

Offerings on Local Square This Morning Were Very Heavy.

WERE INACTIVE

Straw Is Now Commanding an Unusually High Price-The Day's Quotations.

Dressed pork was easily the feature of today's market. Owing to the large quantity offered the price was anything but active. As high as $9 per cwt was asked, but little or none was sold at that price.
Extra choice pork brought $8 50 and $8 75, but the heavier class of hogs brought only $8 or $8 25 per cwt. In comparison with the live hog quotation of $6 10 per cwt, prices are not unreasonably low. On account of the correspondingly higher prices for dressed hogs, farmers have been dressing all their pork, and the market as a result has become some-

Hay was not nearly so plentiful as yesterday, when some 20 loads were offered. Today hay sold readily at from $17 to $18 modities on the market. All that was offered today found a ready sale at $9 50 per ton. This is an unusually high price for straw. Oats sold this morning at from $1 35 to Eggs and butter were again noticeable for their scarcity. Eggs sold at 35c per

Butter advanced to 35c per lb for extra choice produce, although some sold as low as 32c in the dairy hall. Very little butter was offered, either on the open market or

YORK, Feb. 1.—Wall street, The course of stocks during the r showed a marked contrast to ay's decline. Traders took ground e market had been oversold and that it was unwise to extend operations on the other side. The incurry for stocks for covering was sufficient to force up quotations considerably during the forecart of the day. The death of Edwin Hawley had no effect on the market except on the Hawley stocks. The Copper group was helped by the large decrease in the supply of copper abroad. The U. S. Steel Corporation's reply to the Government's suit for dissolution apparently had little influence. Aggressive buying ceased after 11 o'clock and there was a gradual decline, which virtually wiped out the previous advances. # WARM CAMPAIGN

The Fight for Municipal Honors Record.

WAR ON "TWENTY-THREE"

Newspapers Lined Up Against Attempt to Regain Power by the Alleged Boodling Gang.

Montreal, Feb. 1 - The municipal campaign, which closes today with the voting, has probably been the most complicated, picturesque and vicious that has ever been known in this city practically all the elements that can posibly enter into a civic fight hav-ing been engaged in the struggle. The fight has been split up into two sections, that waged over the mayoralty and that over the city council. The board of control, being elected for four years, has not been actively in the fray, though its existence depends on how the people cast their ballots

Sturdy Fighters. To begin with, the mayoralty fight as been carried by Ald. Marcil and Ald. Lavallee, both sturdy fighters. The former stands upon a platform. the chief planks of which are ten street car tickets for a quarter, proportional taxation on the value of uildings for permanent municipal work, instead of the straight frontage tax; the abolition of the property eualification for mayor and aldermen (a bylaw to which effect, by the way. is being submitted), and authority to increase the city's borrowing power from 15 per cent of its total assessment to 25 per cent, so that the much needed work in the newly annexed districts can be undertaken at once.

Ald. Lavallee wants this borrowing power cut down, though he favors extending the limits of the city as far as possible. Ald. Marcil's strongest argument against his opponent has been that he was a member of the city council in the days of the obnoxious "twenty three," when contracts were given the highest tenderers with flagran regularity. No stain rests upon Mr Lavallee's, character, but Mr. Marcil holds that as a member of the inance committee he should have found out the malversation that was rampant. Mr. Lavallee's reply has been to get N. K. Laflamme, K. C., the law ver who conducted the examination of witnesses before the Cannon commission, which investigated the civic misbehaviors of the "twenty-three," give him a certificate of good char-

Five members of the "twenty-three" egime are seeking election, as well as ix of the men exposed by the Cannon nvestigation as guilty of malversation. The Montreal Citizens' Associa tion, which did such good work bringing about the downfall of the "twenty-three," was again organized for this campaign, and for weeks past has daily published a list of men not to vote for.

THE CO-OPERATIVE PLAYER PIANO CLUB

A Splendid Opportunity To Own Player Piano at a Very Small

A profit-sharing plan, introduced by the Williams Piano Company, that has no equal in the benefit it extends to all purchasers of Player Pianos. Every purchaser of a Player Piano from us will get a Rebate Credit for every additional Player Piano sold during this sale. A $600 Player Piano can be purchased at the club price of $475. and each Player Piano sold will reduce the price of $475 by two dollars. For example, if only ten Player Pianos are sold, each purchaser will receive a rebate credit of ten times two dollars, which would be $20; or if fifteen Player Pianos are sold, the rebate credit to each purchaser would be $30, and so on. By this co-operative club it may be possible to buy a Player Piano for the price of an ordinary piano. The terms these Player Pianos will be sold at are $10 cash and $10 heavy ice which has obstructed the monthly payments, just half the regular terms. To show our faith in the quality of this Player Piano we will let everyone have a 30-day free trial. The grand climax comes when we give to each purchaser ten rolls of the harbor did the trick.
