Last week Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Blanchard received the sad tidings that the little daughter of their son Fred, New York, had been burned to death. She was playing with matches on the lawn when her clothing became ignited. Athenian friends of the family deeply sympathize with them in their sudden and very sad bereavement, Recorder: On Saturday next, at 10.30 a.m., in the chancery chambers at the court house, His Honor Judge McDonald will investigate charges made by Constable Brown against Constable Nelson Earl, of Athens, and counter charges laid by the latter and counter charges laid by the latter against the former. Several witnesses will be heard and the proceedings will be watched with interest, especially by residents of the village.

"Uneeda Rest," the camp of Mr. Jss. Sheldon on Delta lake, was visited by a jolly crowd on Friday last. Brothers and sisters, nieces, nephews and friends joined to partake of a big dinner and to enjoy the fishing and boating. During the afternoon they were visited by a photo-grapher and ended the day by three ringing cheers for their host and hostess.

Mr. D. T. Elderkin, B.S.A., representing the Eastern Ontario Live Stock and Poultry Show, was in Athens last week and favored the Reporter with a call. He is endeavorby visiting leading farming districts to awaken an increased interest in this importent show, which is to be held at Ottawa on January 20, 21, 22, 23, 24. For a prize list, address A. Comentary.—I. God's greatness (vs. 1, 2). And God spake—After the glorious and tremendous display of the special presence of God on Mount Sinai had solemnized the minds of the people and excited their awful expectations, it may be supposed that the sound of the trumpet ceased, and Jehovah Himself immediately spoke in a voice loud enough to be distinctly heard by the immense, assembled multitude.—Scott. Afterward God wrote the law with His own finger on two tables of stone, and to-day He writes it on the "fleshly tables of our hearts." These words—The words spoken are generally called the ten commanden are generally called the ten commandments; although they are sometimes called the moral law, "because they lay down rules for the conduct of men."

They are also called the decalogue. In the Old Testament they are called a covenant (Deut. 4, 13), or testimony. "They are the simple words of God's loving covenant to His people, and not arbitrary commandments to His subjects."

Strange as it may seem, the fall had resulted in no visible injuries to the woman. No bones were broken and there was not even a bruise. But the nervous shock of the fall was too much for her weakened condition, and at 4 o'clock yesterday morning she died.

Mrs. Balcom was 37 years old. Before her marriage she was Miss Fannie Climp, of Cleveland.

THIEVES UNDER BED. HUSBAND SHOT

SAID THEY WERE HAMILTON BOYS BUT GAVE ASSUMED NAMES.

Niagara Falls despatch: Dragged from nder the bed in one of the rooms of the house of R. A. Ferguson, sen., First street, about 4 o'clock this afternoon, two youths were caught red-handed in the act of robbery. At the police station they gave their names as George Smith, 17 years old, and William Wilson, 18 years old. After they were arrested and quizzed the boys broke down and confessed that they were from Hamilon, Ont, The fellow who gave his name s Smith admitted that the name was ssumed. Late in the afternoon Arthur Dodson and William Doyle, aged 18 years, re-spectively, were arrested as suspicious persons, as they are believed to be part-ers of the first pair.

About 3.30 o'clock this afternoon Mrs.

R. White, wife of the well known architect of this city, and who was also a former Hamilton resident, noticed the boys skulking about the Ferguson pre-She saw the two who were first arrested effecting an entrance through a rear window, and immediately notified Mr. Ferguson, proprietor of the Ni-agara Falls House in Main street. Mr. Ferguson started for the house immediately, and in the meantime Mrs. Ferguson notified the police. Mrs. Daniel Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, had been robbed of a watch, the ouths having gotten into her room

When the police arrived they instituted a search, and the boys were found under a bed. They were disposed to be obdurate, but under pressure of severe questioning admitted they were from Hamilton and had been following the

THE BOARDER

W ile Making Murderous Attack on Divorced Wife.

Springfield, Mass., July 8 .- James Deanty is dead as the result of a murderous attack which Maurice Hills, of Chicago, made upon his divorced wife, Hattie Hills, last night. Mrs. Hills is seriously injured. The murderer is under arrest.

The shooting resulted from a quarrel over the disposition of farm property in Long Meadow, the title to which was in Mrs. Hills' name and which Hills wished her to sell. While the dispute was going on James Delanty, a boarder in house, stepped into the room just at the moment when Hills was firing a revolver at Mrs. Hills. Without warning, Hills, fired upon Delanty twice, both bullets lodging in the head and causing his death several hours later. Another bullet struck the waman.

Or these 62 paid $500 each, or $31,000 in all, for permission to enter Canada. One hundred and eighty-five of the Chinese were individuals who had made money in Canada and had gone back to China to live on it. They had one year under the law with which to return to the Dominion.

BLOMFIELD'S COURAGE

A Former Toronto Canoeist Saves the Life of a Miner.

Edmonton, Alta., July 8:—Adrift on a log in mid stream and within an ace of drowning was the chrilling experience of a miner from the north yester day afternoon. The rescue, which was acompanied by Reg. Blomfield, the wellknown canoeist, and member of the Argonauts, was no less thrilling. The miner had come down the Saskatchewan River about seventy miles on a poorly constructed raft, which went to pieces on a sunken pier opposite the brick yard below the Groat estate. The miner managed to cling to one of the logs on the pier until rescued by Blom-

Montreal—The dry goods trade now re-ports a brisk business in all lines of sumferward well and any lines which were quite slow last month are now moving briskly. Values generally are firm. The Canadlan Colored Cotton Mills have is sued new lists showing advances of as much as fitteen to twenty per cent. on some of the cheaper lines. Threads are also higher. There has been an excellent summer business in men's and women's mer goods. Sorting orders are coming forward well and any lines which were also higher. There has been an excellent summer business in men's and women's week the store conducted by the dead ready made clothing. The demand for these kness has been brick in all periss of flames.

Canada, and while prices have generally shown very marked advances, the in-creased trade has mostly been in the bet-ter class of goods. Linens are very firm. It is expected here that fur prices will show very marked advances next season. Muskrat is showing particular strength. Hardware trade is very brisk in all lines. There is an excellent demand for small goods and for paints and oils. The Eastfollowing improvement in the fishery industries. The grocery trade is showing a good tone. Sugars and teas hold firm.
Advances in the price of the latter have led the Dominion Government to revise regulations against adulterated teas. All eas consigned for consumption must be ested by the Customs before being reeased. This covers all grades. All can ed goods are firm.

Toronto—There is now but little complaint regarding the way in which general business is moving here. Wholesale houses report a satisfactory movement of sorting lines. The dry goods trade is fairly brisk. An excellent demand is reported for all summer lines. The arrival of warm weather and its continuous rival of warm weather and its contin uation during the past few weeks has proved a very great boom indeed in this regard. To some extent the time that was lost owing to the late spring has been made up and the volume of business is now satisfactory. As time goes on and as the crop situation here and in the West takes on a more and more cheerfu tone the outlook for fall and winter trade continues to brighten. Manufacturers are receiving large orders for heavy goods, and as in other lines there will, no doubt, be much difficulty experienced in the filling of all orders. Shipments of groceries to the West and to Northern Ontario are heavy. There has all season been a heavy run on canned goods and several lines are now run out. Pieces are advancing. Hardware winter trade continues to brighten. Manuout. Prices are advancing. Hardware bolds active. Metals are firm with a brisk demand in all lines.

The general outlook for trade here is considerably brighter than it has been at any time this year. The crop outlook has been steadily improving ever since early in June, and although it was plant-ed about three weeks late it is now calculated to be but ten days behind. Indi cations now point to a heavy yield and the quality of the grain should be generally good. These facts have had a great effect upon business and a good fall and winter trade is confidently looked forward to. Summer trade good tone. Vancouver and Victoria: Wholesale trade is brisk in all lines. Groceries and provisions are being shipped in large quantities to the lumber and mining camps of the interior. Dry goods stocks are moving well and the outlook for later trade is encouraging. Great activity in the building trades and in local industries generally is responsible for a brisk demand for hardware supplies and values are firm. The clergyman sat down beside her.

Dr. Clark took her hand, and looked into her face, and then hurriedly walked away. He returned in a few minutes with a glass of wine and a biscuit, of which he forced Laura to partake.

At that moment, also, the cell door opened, and Colonel Hastings and the lawyer came out. They bowed in passing, and immediately left the prison.

It was now past four o'clock; in two hours more Laura must bid her husband a final adieu. She re-entered the cell, accempanied by her two old friends, to pass those two precious, awful hours in his company. They found Cassinove grave and collected. He greeted his friends calmly, and then drew Laura to his side, and sat with her hand clasped in his. Oh, the clasp of that loved hand, so soon to be convulsed in a violent death! Oh, the glance of those loving eyes, so soon to be closed forever! The thought was suffocating, maddening to her. All the suffering of the last few dreadful days had failed to prepare her for this hour of supreme agony. She felt that sudden death or insanity threatened her, that brain or heart must instantly give way. She breathed a silent, agonized prayer for help and instantly give way. She breathed a si-lent, agonized prayer for help and strength. Mr. Watson noticed her instrength. Mr. Watson noticed her increasing agony, and, knowing the efficacy of divine consolation in such extreme cases, he proposed that all should kneel and unite in invoking it. They knelt, and the venerable clergyman pour-

Laura had not spoken since she had een brought to Beresleigh House. All night long she lay senseless and seem-ingly without life. Dr. Clark and Rose watched beside her till long after the sun had risen.

Rose with difficulty suppressed a shriek, although the news gave her inexplicable relief, for she thought:
"His soul is no longer agonized on earth; it is at peace with God."
"You will do well to retire to rest at once. I expect Mr. Watson here very soon. He promised you know to remain soon. He promised, you know, to remain with Cassinove until all should be over, and then to come and bring his last words to his wife."

"Then I will stay till he comes, and I see how my dearest Laura bears it," said Rose, resolutely. Laura's condition seemed to chage;

Laura's condition seemed to chage; from time to time she partially opened her eyes, and meaned as one in intolerable pain. At last she spoke:

"Oh, the long, long night—the long, long night—how does he bear it?"

At this moment there came a gentle knock at the chamber door. Mrs. Maberly went to open it. A servant appeared who delivered a message, and retired Mrs. Maberly came back to the doctor and in her turn whispered:
"The Rev. Mr. Watson, if you please sir, is downstairs in the library waiting o see you."

really did commit the crime, and who has now gone to answer for it. Cassin-ove, the guiltless victim of circumstantial evidence, was to have suffered at 7 o'clock this morning. At 7 o'clock this morning Cassinove was free, and Thug-sen, the threefold murderer, was dead by his own hand!"

"For Heaven's sake, how was that?" "I will tell you all by and by. The attested dying confession of Thugsen was in the hands of the minister last night; but for the abominable routine, Cassinove might have been free last night, and we all have been saved twelve hours of anguish. The pardon was placed in the hands of the sheriff at 6 o'clock this morning. An hour later and a legal murder had been committed. There, that is all I can tell you now, for I see that Cassinove is anxious that his wife should be comforted."

"My wife! how did she pass the trying red Cassinove. (To be continued.)

'PHONE GIRLS OF MANILA. Position Sought by Members of Aristocratic Families.

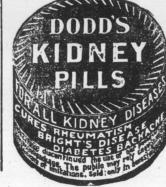

Manila telephone subscribers feel that though living in what the average American believes to be a semi-barbarous land the rest of the world has no "edge" on them in being served by comely maidens as "hello girls." The Filipino telephone operator comes from the best families of her land, and takes her work more eriously than her fair skinned sister the Occident, says the Kansas City Star. She has her servant, who is also chaperon, to accompany her to the of-fice, carrying her back to the security of her home when the gong rings on her day's work. The Spanish custom of never permitting an unmarried woman above the age of 12 years to leave the portals of her casa unaccompanied still prevails with both Spaniards and Filipinos of the bet-ter class, and their employment as telephone operators permits no relaxation of the watchful care

EARLY WOMEN AEROMAUTS.

Mme. Phible Was the First-Mrs. Sage's Elaborate Costume.

Ballooning is a sport which has always attracted women. Between 1783 and 1849 forty-nine women made balloon ascents, half of whom were English women. A quaint writer has accounted for this by noting in most ungallant language the likeness between women and balloons.

Mme. Phible, the first woman aeronaut in the world, ascended from Lynos. Mme. Blanchard was, however, the first female professional balloonist, and she ascended from Paris with her husband, the famous aeronaut, in 1783. De Fonvielle writes of her this not very reas suring epitaph: "She was born an aero-naut and died in a balloon." The Contesse Henri was another French woman who made balloon ascents about this period. She accompanied De Garnesin

The lovely Mrs. Sage was the first English woman to make a balloon ascent. She went up with Vincento Lunardi in 1784, a cat, a dog and a pigeon also being of the party. Mrs. Sage was young and graceful. She wore a plumed hat and feathers and a gossamer scarf lightly drawn about her shoulders. The morning shower had ceased, and the early robin, seeking for its breakfast, had caught sight of an early worm, Grabbing it with its bill, the robin pulled the worm partly out of the ground Then it let go, to take a fresh hold, and an English sparrow swooped down, seized the worm and flew away with it.

The robin, nothing daunted, hunted up another worm, and had nearly complet-ed the process of extraction, when the English sparrow swooped down again and English sparrow swooped down again and carried away this worm likewise. This performance was repeated six times more.

"Say, you," exclaimed the robin, losing patience at last, "why do you rob me in this measly, contemptible fash-

Potato Growing

The Ontario Department of Agriculture is making an investigation into the potato industry of the Province by Mr. H. B. Smith, B. S. A. After visiting the most important potato growing sections of Ontario, he is preparing a special report for publication. Pending the free report, which will probably show a more serious state of affairs than is generally supous state of arrains than is generally posed, the following recommendation put out with a view to impressing farmers the necessity of immediate tion. The treatment of potators to went the rot is a matter of extreme

notario produced fewer potatoes in 1906 than she ever produced in any single year in all the time the Provincial Department of Agriculture have been collecting information concerning the acreages annually devoted to farm cropa. Within the past few years the area planted to potatoes in this Province has decreased by 50,000 acres; the product by approximately 6,000,000 bushels. Present indications are that the crop of 1907 will be lighter than last year's with the high prices that have ruled for some time strongly maintained. Farmers, on the right kind of soil, who have planted a good acreage to this crop this spring, will, if they are able to successfully bring their crop to maturity, reap larger returns from potatoes than they ever bring their crop to maturity, reap larger returns from potatoes than they ever could likely derive from any line of farming in which they might engage, and it is to point out briefly one or two little things that in these days must be attended to, if potato growing is to be successfully accomplished, that this article has been prepared.

Inability to cope with the rot has been ticle has been prepared.

Inability to cope with the rot has been the great cause of failure in potato growing Ontario, yet five dollars er even less, will cover the entire cost for material and lebor required to treat one acre of potatoes with Bordeaux mixture, and this mixture properly made, and consistently and intelligently applied, is a certain preventive of rot. From experiments officially conducted at Guelph, at Ottawa, and at practically every experiment station in the United States, and from the practical experience of growth from the practical experience of growers everywhere, Bordeaux Mixture has proven the only effective remedy for petato rot. At Ottawa during the past three years, the average increase in three years, the average increase in yield from enraying with this mixture was 94.5 bushels per acre.

Bordeaux mixture for potato spray-ing is made from the following formula: Copper Sulphate (Bluestome or Blue Vit-rol 6 pounds; unslaked lime, 5 pounds; water, 40 to 50 gallons.

Ass it is inconvenient to weigh the lime and copper at the time of mixing, and quite impracticable to keep a supply of ready mixed Bordeaux on hand, stock ready mixed Bordeaux on hand, stode solutions of the copper and lime are usually prepared ready for mixing as required. To prepare material suffi-cient to treat one acre of potatoes four times, proceed as follows: Place 72 pounds of bluestone in a bag or basket and suspend it near the surface in 36 36 gallons of water in a barrel. It will dissolve in a few hours, and every gal-lon afterwards dipped from this barrel will contain exactly two pounds of blue-stone. For the lime stock mixture, take 30 pounds of fresh unslaked lime and 30 gallons of water. Slake the lime by the use of as little of the water as possible, and when all is broken down. and when all is broken down, being the solution to standard strength by adding what remains of the 30 gallons of water. Every gallon of lime mixture now contains exactly two pounds of lime. These mixtures, if kept undercover and evaporation prevented, will retain their strength all summer.

In making the Bordeaux it is immaking the Bordeaux it is important to remember that these strong "stock" mixtures must never be brought together. Pour three gallons of the bluestone solution into a 40 gallon barrel (an ordinary barrel holds between spraying of one acre of potatoes will usually pay the entire cost of such an appliance, but if none is at hand, Bordeaux may be applied in the same manner as Paris green would be applied in solution for bugs. The object is to keep the crop covered with the mixture during the season in which blight is liable to occur, and while modern spraying machinery does this a little better than anything else, there are scores of farmanything else, there are scores of farm-ers in Ontario who are obtaining quite satisfactory results from applying the Bordeaux by whatever means are at their disposal. In preparing the mix-ture where any kind of power sprayers are to be used, always strain the lime solution when mixing with the blue-stone. The lime sometimes slakes lumov and clogs up the nozzles. If required. Paris green may be applied with the Bordeaux, adding half a pound of Paris green to each barrel of the mixture.

Spraying should begin about July 15th and the vines kept covered till September. Four applications, as required, will usually accomplish this. Some have got fairly satisfactory results from one good spraying experience, the number of ap-plications may perhaps be decreased, but ordinarily it is best to use the mix-ture at 'nast four times.

Bordaux is the only effective remedy ret devised for the yet devised for the control of potato blight. It is easy to make and easy to apply, and where properly made and thoroughly applied is certain to be ef-fective. The only precautions to observe in making are to use pure, fresh materials and mix these in correct proportions and in the proper way, and in applying to keep the mixture on the vines during the season that blight is likely to appear.

All Took the Hint. A man in a small western town bought a quart of milk and on arriving home found it was adulterated with water. The

Reception to Mr. C. R. McIntosh

On Friday evening last the of St Paul's congregation and Sabbath school, with other friends, gathered in the basement of the church to bid farewell to Mr C R. McIntosh, who Dowsley Block - Athens has resigned the principalship of the Athens model school to accept a similar osition in Pertb. An interesting impromptu programme was rendered and refreshments served. During the evening an address was read to Mr McIntosh by the minister of the congregation. Mr McIntosh in replying to the address made a fine speech, setting forth the principles according to which be had tried to conduct his work and expressing his thanks for the good wishes and kind words of the

The address was as follows :--

Mr C. R. McIntosh. Dear Friend, The occasion that calls us together this evening is one to which there are many parallels in life. Again and again we find ourselves called to say farewell to triends and fellow-helpers. These changes and partings cannot but give rise to feelings akin to sadness, yet we shall do well to remember the words of a great poet and wise man, "Rejoice that man is hurled from change to change un nnceasingly, His soul's wings never

It is not to much too say that during your six years' stay in Athens the village has benefited very materially by your works. Several generations o pupils will in days to come rise up and call you blessed. We have all admired your foriginality and independence, your dislike of mere seeming at the expense of being, your enthusiasm and unfaltering fidelity to your ideas. We must also mark the fact that you have been able to control your pupils with-out recourse to physical force, your discipline having been of that higher type which results from what may be described as power of personality. We are thankful too that as Principal of the Model and Public school you have consistently endeavoured to instil the principles of Canadianism, to school your pupils in patriotism, and to fit them in mind and feeling and temper to be good citizens of our fair Do-It is our sincere opinion that from all the most important points in view your work as a teacher in Athens must be regarded as an unqualified

There is another feature of your life amongst us to which we must now refer. As members and adherents of the Church which you yourself belong, we desire to put upon record our appreciation of your kind and faithful Christian service. As a Bible Class Teacher and teacher of other classes you have been zealous and efficient. You have tried to be true to the past, as the past is pictured in the pages of Scripture, and yet true also to present needs; you have felt great reverence for the inspiration vouchsafed to men of old and yet mindful of the inspiration that may come to men to day. Again, as a member of the Church you have been faithful and diligent. You have been present at nearly all our sessions of worship, an intelligent and sympathetic hearer. Your habits of lite before the world have been clean and honorable so that no one has been discouraged or perplexed or made ashamed by reason of your example. In a word, we would say that your connection with our beloved Church and St. Paul's congregation has been entirely honorable to yourself and helpful to all who have been associated

Finally we pray that the Divine blessing may go with you in your new and larger field of work. We are glad that though you are leaving us you will not be lost to the Church or to Canada. We congratulate you on having taken what seems to us a step forward. It is to your credit that to many other good qualities you join that of healthy enterprise and praise worthy ambition. You are not content to be one of those "ebbing men" as Shakespeare calls them, who...."do so near the bottom run, By their own fear or sloth," and we rejoice that such is the temper of your mind. Let us inscribe as a parting word these expressions of Scripture which very truly represent our feelings: The Lord watch between thee and us.

The Lord bless thee and keep thee: The Lord make His face to shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee: The Lord lift up His countenance upon thee and give thee peace.
Signed on behalf of St. Paul's conregation and Sabbath School

(Rev.) I. N. Beckstedt During his term of service in Athens

IN THE KING'S NAME

The refusal of several citizens of Athens to assist the Chief in taking a prisoner to the lock-up on Saturday caused that officer to go to Brockville on Monday to arrange for a judicial demonstration that the majesty of the law has to be upheld by all good citizens when called upon in the king's name to do so. His visit to the county town is thus reported:

Recorder: Constable George Brown

Recorder : Constable George Brown of Athens was in town to day attempt ing to secure summonses against six or seven prominent residents of the village whom he claims retused to assist him in making an arrest on Saturday morning. At the time of going to press, Brown had not succeeded in his mission, as the magistrate was otherwise engaged.

Times: The Chief of Police of the village of Athens was in town this morning and while here informed some erson that he was here for the purpose of getting process issued against some half-dozen residents of Athens, charg ing them with having refused to assis him in making an arrest in that village recently. Some of the persons named by him as having refused to assist him are law abiding and law respecting citizens of the most unimpeachable integrity and good moral standing in that community where they have spent their lives. As yet the officer's search for a summons here has been unsuccess

Separate Wraps for Summer

The authority on fashions of the New Idea Woman's Magazine says in her article in the August issue that it is a well recognized fact in the modish world that some one article of dress always monopolizes the first place of interest and importance in the wardrobe. This year it is the separate wrap, from the bewitchingly airy and fetching little shoulder scarf of silk and chiffon, to the cloaks and capes of cloth, lace and pongee. This season every linen frock should have its separate jacket, tailored with the same care as miladis' cloth suits, and even over lingerie waists are worn fascinating little boleros of exquisite handkerchief linen and lace. These are described in detail, and graceful drawings show the use of appropriate patterns in a variety of attractive materials.

The Adder.
A full grown adder may measure two feet in length and about six inches around the thickest part of its body. Its movements are singgish, and of course the idea that it is capable of transferring its head from one extremity to the other every six months is due simply to superstition, The fact is that the tail of this snake does not terminate in a point, as with ophidians generally, but is stumpy and resembles the head so much that it is difficult for an observer situated at a distance of a few yards to distinguish the its being two headed, the fallacy which no intelligent observer could fail to detect.—Pioneer.

ELEPHANT IN DRAMA

First of the Big Beasts Exhibited in the Country Was a Star Performer.

With the modern circus the elephants are as inseparable in the minds of most patrons of the tented arena as the graceful riders themselves, yet the first performing elephant to be introduced to this country was not convet the first nected with a circus, says the Philadelphia Public Ledger, but made its debut as a theatrical star. This famous and now forgotten animal was the hero-ine of a drama specially written to show off its powers.

It was in January, 1831, that this marvellous pachyderm, heralded with a blast of press agents' notices equalled only by the amouncements some years later for the coming of Jenny Lind, was first shown to American audiences. As first shown to American audiences. As the beast was landed in New York that city naturally had the first taste of its histronic powers. Two Philadelphia managers fought for possession of the "star," and the newspapers and cartoonists of the time kept the public informed of every phase of the quarrel as it proceeded.

John Gallot, a French animal trainer, who, the year before had made a big success with his elephant named "Mile. "Jick" in London and the English prorinces, brought the beast to this country. While the elephant was performing three wocks' engagement in New York city in "The Elephant of Siam and the Fire Fiend," described as a "mag-pificent Eastern drama," Lamb & Coyle, managers of the Chestnut Street Theaere, sent an agent over to the neighbor-ing city to secure the prize for their Nightingales in Scotland.

The nightingale favors some districts and shuns others. Scitland it does not visit, but a century ago a patriotic Scotsman tried to establish the nightingale in that country. He commissioned London dealer to purchase nightin-gales' eggs, one shilling each being given for them. These wee well packed in wool and sent to Scotland by mail coach. A number of men had previously been engaged to take special care of all robin engaged to take special care of all robin redbreasts' nests in places where the eggs could be hatched in safety. The robins' eggs were removed and replaced by those of the nightingale, which were hatched and reared by their foster mothers. When full fledged the young nightingales seemed perfectly at home near the places where they first saw the light, and in September, the usual period of migration, they departed.

But the nightingales never returned to Scotland. It has been suggested that it was not the climate they objected to so much as the difficulty of acquiring the accent.—Glasgow News.

It is a fact that a dry goods store is a happy part of a woman's life. Watch them come, each with a little purpose in her heart or some fancy to satisfy or some dear anxiety to dispel, like blossoms in a gale, fluttering here and there, now at this counter and now at that, picking up a piece of lace here or a ribbon there or a soft texture yonder and throwing out a damty question everywhere as she goes on and on. #### BARTELS SKIPS.

SYRACUSE BREWER ESCAPED DUR-ING ARGUMENT IN COURT.

He Got Away From Officer Who Brought Him Over to Osgoode Hall-Appeal Proceedings Went On in His Absence,

Toronto despatch: Hermann Bartell, the former wealthy brewer of Syracuse, who has been in Welland jail for some weeks awaiting extradition to the United States to answer a charge of perjury, escaped from Sheriff James Smith, of Welland, yesterday at noon at Osgoode Hall in this city. Bartels was still at Half in this control of the United States and Canada on the lookout for him. He knows Canada thoroughly, he having lived at rest at Niagara Falls.

Bartels was brought to Toronto on the order of Mr. Justice Riddell, who was to hear habeas corpus proceedings in an appeal against the decision of Judge Wells, of Welland, who ordered the man into the custody of Mr. T. H. Walker, Under Sheriff of Cayuga County, New York State. District Attorney R. J. Burritt was also at the hall watching he proceedings.

While the argument of the prisoner's counsel, Mr. H. H. Dewart, K.C., was counsel, Mr. H. H. Dewart, K.C., was going on the man quietly slipped out of the door, and boarding a car suddenly vanished. Aftere a thorough search of the corridors had been made, the city police were notified. Being an old man Bartels had been allowed a little more liberty than is usual in such cases.

Bartels belongs to Syracuse, and is about 60 years old. He was convicted at Auburn, N.Y., on the charge of attempted arson, and pending an appeal was released on $15,000 bail. When he did not appear his bondsmen compre ed with the authorities for $6,000. They did not know, however, that a secret in dictment had been preferred, charging the man with perjury at his trial. His arrest was effected at Niagara Falls by Chief Constable Mains.

NEW ARRIVALS SHOULD BE MEN-TALLY FIT.

Government Inspectors Emphasize the Need for a Close Inspection and New Regulations-Saving Effected by Deportation.

Toronto, July 8.—The statement is made in the annual report of the Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities, that of the 54 male patients admitted to Toronto Asylum no less than 37 were of foreign birth, the majority of these having arrived in Canada recently. The palance were Canadians. Until regulaions are established by the Dominion Government that will require, in addition to the present examination on artion to the present examination on arrival, the presentation by the immigrants of a certificate signed by the authorities showing his residence and previous history, and that mentally and physically he is a fit subject to become a citizen of this country. Otherwise the increase of insanity and crime will continue, and the country will be put to the enormous expense of maintaining these defectives, the report states. It is estimated that the average life of an insane person in the asylum is thirteen is estimated that the average life of an insane person in the asylum is thirteen years, and that it costs the Government about $2,000 for that period. The pecuniary benefit of deportation is at once

Recommendation of Medical Council at Kingston.

Kingston despatch: The Ontario Medical Council to-day placed itself on record as strongly desirous that hygiene and temperance should be subjects of instruction in Ontario public schools and will so advise the Ministry.

The voluntary system of admission to an asylum where patients will not lose their rights of citizenship is recommended. The need for better facilities for taking care of the chronic insane at county industrial homes is regarded as important, families being thus enabled to visit the helpless ones which, through the expense incurred, they are at present deprived of.

The revenue for

The revenue from paying patients dur-ing the year increased by $113,221.17.

The advisability of removing Toronto Asylum from its present location, and the establishment of a ward for the spe-cial treatment and study of mental diseases are again discussed in the report

The total population of asylum in-mates at the end of 1906 numbered 5,972, against 5,848 on September 30, 1905. Housekeepers and wives provided the largest number of cases admitted since the establishment of the asylum, num bering 6,406, and domestic servants 3,831. Farmers numbered 4,508 and laborers

During the year, out of a total of 1,085 admissions, 322 were housekeepers 144 laborers, 130 farmers and 106 do mestic servants. These are evidently occupations to be avoided, and may account for the preference for city and store life. "In spite of additional accommoda tion for 160 patients being provided, we find that on December 31st, 1906, 66 applicants are waiting admission to the asylums, exclusive of the Asylum for Idiots, at Orillia, with only 22 vacancies. A census was recently taken in the asylums of all patients who, in the opinion of the medical superintendents, were eligible for admission to the houses of refuge in the Province, and it was found that over 900 patients could be safely taken care of in such houses of refuge. If the county authorities would undertake to take care of their harm-less chronic insane, accommodation suf-ficient for several years to come would be secured, and the removal of 900 pa-tients above mentioned would leave in the asylums the acute cases and also a very considerable number of chronic are dangerous and difficult of con trol, as well as some who require spe cial nursing and treatment. This would also enable us to admit immediately the acute and dangerous cases which should receive prompt treatment and care. These quiet chronic patients should be admitted to houses of refuge where not only the buildings and equipment, but the quality of care and treatment pro-vided will be suitable to the class or classes of the insane to be provided for classes of the insane to be provided for.

A system of inspection under departmental regulation would prevent the development of abuses and insure to the patients' comfort and proper treatment. By removing these chronic insane to the counties to which they originally belonged the difficulties of probation.

the friends to visit their helpless ones which through the expenses incurred in travelling long distances, they are at present deprived of."

During the year there were fifty-eight patients at the Hospital for Epileptics at Woodstock. Inspector Armstrong says: "Before the objects for which the institution is designed can be attained, regulations must be introduced that will npel the friends and relatives to compel the friends and relatives to leave the patients under institution care for a sufficient time to permit of the treatment being effective. It is found that as the patients improve and the friends see that they can be managed at home, and that owing to the scarcity of help and high wages they can make use of them, they remove them. The medical superintendent is helpless and cannot do more than suggest that the patients should remain and the treatment he followed up uptil such time as ment be followed up until such time as, in his opinion, the patient has improved sufficiently to be removed."

CASE.

Vere Sent Back Several Times Without Coming to an Agreement-Question of Capital Punishment a Considera-

Hope Cape, N. B., July 8.—Thomas F. Mary Ann McAuley at New Ireland, Albert county, will be tried for the third time in September next. The jury retired at noon yesterday, and at supper time last night an agreement had not been reached. On orders from Chief Justice Tuck the jury was locked up for the night. This morning the jurors reported at different times that they were not able to reach an agreement, and Judge Tuck summoned them to the court room and discharged them. He remanded Collins to jail until September 17th, when the third trial will commence. When the jury was locked up last night five stood for conviction and seven for acquittal, and the same this morning.

It is freely stated that the question of the innocence or guilt of the prisoner Mary Ann McAuley at New Ireland, the innocence or guilt of the prisoner was not a question of much argument, but the question of capital punishment seems to have been paramount.

TO BAR CONSUMPTIVES.

Persons Are Thrown Out of San Antonio Hospital.

Fort Worth, Texas, July 8.—Following the action of health officers in several Texas cities in debarring tuberculosis patients from the city hospitals the announcement that State Health Of-ficer Brumby will in a few days issue a proclamation effectually quarantining the entire State of Texas against con sumptives in the advanced stages of the disease.

There are thousands of people who come to Texas annually in the various stages of consumption in the hope of receiving benefit, and tuberculosis sanitariums have been established in various portions of the State.

The ejection of consumptives from city hospitals in San Antonio and other Texas ies has caused much indignation. At San Antonio, it is said, patients were ejected who were almost in a dying con dition, and these assert that there is nothing for them to do but to wande in the streets until death comes to their elief. Some of the men ordered to leave the San Antonio hospital are unable to walk, and for that reason have been permitted to remain.

JURY DISAGREES AGAIN IN COLLINS LILY LYNN UNCONSCIOUS AND AT DEATH'S DOOR

> Man Hunt for Albert Greenhill Results in His Capture—Has Been Taken to Richmond, Que.-The Mother's Story.

Montreal, July 8.-Word reached here this afternoon that Albert Greenhill, Collins, charged with having murdered the assailant of Miss Lily Lynn, was captured at St. Mary's, Ely, at noon groaning noise.

They told their father, and he asked Jack, the oldest boy to run up and see.
Jack says he saw a man lying in the edge of the woods, and when he approached the man got up, and he saw it was Albert Greenhill.

Mrs. Lynn told the story of the crime. "When Jack told me how they crime. "When Jack told me how they found Lily," she said, "I harnessed the horses to the wagon and we brought her down that way. Poor child, poor child. She was soaking in blood. We found four big wounds on her head. Her limbs were bruised. Her face was scratched, and on her chin was a deep bleeding wound, where the vile brute had bitten her. Close to where we found her was a rock, weighing from ten to eleven pounds covered with blood and hair. That was no doubt the instrument with which he had tried the instrument with which he had tried to batter out the poor child's life."

The Lynn family was up to this time apparently a very harmy one. Mr.
