Main Cause of the War Was Kaiser's Ambition

An Insatiable Desire For World Power Created by the Bug of Insanity, and Fostered Through the People's Indifference to Servitude.

CAUSE OF THE GREAT WAR

During the past four years the kaiser has repeatedly tried to. blame England for the war. He has been unremitting in his talk of this character to his people whenever the opportunity has arisen. The military manoeuvers prior to a declaration of war have utterly been ignored by him.

The fact that in 1913, before the murder of the Arheduke Franz Ferdinand on the fateful 28th of June, 1914, Austria notified Italy that she proposed then to attack Serbia is one bit of evidence. Also a secret military report of the German army which fell into the essession of the French government shows that Germany was aking extraordinary preparations in 1913 for an immediate war.

In an interview with King Albert of Belgium, in November of the same year, the German kaiser gave the impression that war with France was certain, and sought to win Belgium to Germany's side. Various practical measures looking to war were also taken before the Sarajevo murders.

The military laws of 1911, 1912, and 1913 greatly increased the German army. The reconstruction of the Kiel Canal was hurried to completion early in 1914. Steps were taken to stir up revolt in outh Africa and in British India.

Secret coaling orders dated June 14, 1914, two weeks before the assassainations, were issued to the German cruiser Eber at Cape Town which contemplated an immediate outbreak of war.

There is much evidence, too, relating to accumulation of war aterials, the transfer of bank balances, etc., and a circular dated zation envelopes in their possession,

Finally, the evidence is presented showing that a secret con ference of German and Austrian generals and officials was held at Potsdam, near Berlin, on July 5, 1914, and that it was at this council that the actual steps leading up to the war were agreed upon.

Notwithstanding all these facts having become known and are written in the archives of the war's history, the kaiser still persists in endeavoring to fasten the cause of the war upon his op-

. . . GERMANY ON VERGE OF REVOLUTION

The consensus of opinion of those well versed in the conditions of Germany today is, that that country is on the verge of a reform or revolution. They say that not since the revolution of 1848 has there been so much discontent among the people who live under the flag of the German nation.

The working classes, and all others excepting the upper military, are loud in their demands for a reform. And even among the upper classes of the military there are many who have grown tired of the war and long for a change where democracy will reign.

Three times within the past four years have the Hohenzollern monarchy been split upon questions that have left their mark upon the opponents in a breach that has never been healed. Once in the early days of the navy, once in the army during the conflict of 1896 and once between the government and the people and the people at the outbreak of the United States.

Each of these dissentions have left its mark in no unmistakable manner. It has left a revolutionary sentiment that the military spirit of the country can not overcome. The food shortage and other self-denials that the people have had to undergo have not had a tendency to seal up the wounds that these discussions have left.

The working classes, the independent business man, and the small tradesman are for a democratic peace. These principals are becoming so pronounced that a revolution would not be a surprise at any time.

Wheat Prices Fair and Equitable-Any Advance Would Mear Starvation-Farmers Profiting in Using Modern Methods

WHEAT PRICE FAIR AND EQUITABLE

In both the United States and Canada there have been some inpatriotic citizens who have been unremitting in their denunciations of the governments for fixing the price of wheat. These denuciations mostly come from wheat brokers or speculators, with a mattering of farmers, who have been curbed in their gambling instinct by the action of the government.

The criticizer who has taken this attitude has been looking at the matter purely from a selfish point of view. He is ignorant of the fundamental principles that lie under the governments fixing of the price of wheat nor does he consider the harm that would accrue to the majority of the world in case the price was allowed to soar to the high mark.

He has no knowledge of the bread famines of the world today; of the suffering of half of the starved people of Europe who can hardly buy a few loaves weekly because of the scarcity of wheat and where it is purchasable it is not possible to buy because of the rohibitory price.

If bread is prohibitory today to half of Europe because of the prohibitory price how many people across the water would have to go hungry if the present price was increased to $3 or $4 per bushel.

To keep a people in fighting spirit they must be fed with their natural food. That means beef for the British, bread for the French and macaroni for the Italians. In time of peace, bread constitutes fifty-two per cent of the food ration of France.

The wheat crops of France and Italy have been reduced by one-General Bernhardi said: "Our next war will be fought for the half; and if their armies are to continue to fight our battle they must be fed. Wheat never went to three dollars under fair and normal condiions. It touched that figure only because English buyers a year ago injudiciously attempted to draw the last kernel out of storage, even after the markets were exhausted. Three-dollar wheat represented not the cost of production plus a reasonable profit, for much of that crop in the west left the farmers' hands at seventy ats or less. It did not represent a true value, for that figure makes bread the most costly of all the standard foods, whereas normally and properly it is among the cheapest.

Three-dollar wheat means about three times the usual pre-war price, and that is far and away above any increase in any other staple article of life. # The Allen Automatic Wagon Brake Effective Durable Practical Nothing on the market like it for Safety, Simplicity, Convenience, Durability and Cheapness No complicated machinery to get out of order. Any teamster can attach it to a wagon and adjust it.

Most convenient because it is attached to the running gear and always ready for use regardless of what kind of load is placed upon the wagon; either for the Box or Hay Rack. It is automatically self adjusting to the grade of the hill, no attention on the part of the driver being required. A mere child can safely drive a team with a loaded wagon down a hill, where a box brake would require the strength of a man.

The fact that the brake is always operated by the pressure of the neck yoke on the lever attached to the end of the tongue does not prevent the team from backing up, as the RE-VERSE MOTION of the wheels throws the friction blocks forward, taking off all

The price of the brake places it in reach of all. No teamster can afford to be without it, that has any kind of hauling. In a hilly country this brake is absolutely indispensible. This Brake has been demonstrated in many parts of Alberta and proved out to successfully do the work. We will demonstrate it in any town for the benefit of those who use the wagon and require a SAFETY Brake.

Adams was presented with a ergetic workers in the city today Men are so prone to ignore or ambition that spelled success and dancing act. Their set gave the audience a good laugh.

Ethel Arnold and Earl Taylor gave a singing number in a creditable manner.

Faul Gordon and America were clever and funny.

The "Pan" this week was what might be termed above the avfact that the opening act is the hardest place to fill. Every audience is different and the curtain raiser is chosen chiefly to prepare the audience for what follows. Le Dent did not do anything new, but he did everything well. The company part of the name on the program was a little misleading.

Sullivan and Mason are two young men full of "pep," "Fatty" was very funny at times

"The Wail of the Eskimo," the playlet which has been seen on several occasions is one which will always find a warm reception. It is "different" and the singing just seemed to finish off the whole act. The parts were well taken, we wondered if any of the Eskimos in the audience understood what their friend 'Buck"

The "Sheriff of Hicksville" got away the best on the bill. Chas. Althoff, the sheriff, certainly knows how to be the 'hick" and kept the audience laughing all the time. Everyone was pleased with the act.

The girl act was as good as any which has been here for some time. While one could not possibly stretch the imagination enough to make little Mary Pickford look like the young lady representing her, still the idea was Pantages average for good looks by Billy Kelly and Warren Boyd.

Not since the inauguration of manner which holds the mind enltirely upon the scenes being enacted that music has won a distinction which is worthy of the highest comment. Such was our of the Sun."

While some of the parts were not as strong as might have been, still, taking the performance as a whole, it has not been surpassed

GUEST

Here are a few important do's and don'ts for all who strive to be model guests, the kind who are always urged to "come again." Do arrive at the time agreed upon as far as the matter lies within your power. In these days of late trains and annoying storms hostesses are growing more and more lenient, but beware lest your tardiness be due to your own carelessness. Do bring all the necessary clothes and small accessories for which you will have use (washcloths and towels do not come in this list, as they are provided for you by your hostess). Also he sure to pay for your own laun-dry, telephone calls, and other small things and to supply your own postage. Don't accept invitations, how-ever informal, without consulting the friend whom you are visiting; and await a confirmation of an invitation (if you are of the fair sex) by your hostess before accepting one given by a male member of the family. Don't stay so long that you wear out your welcome," nor so hort a time that you seem cold and unappreciative. Enjoy everything that is planned for you and be careful to let those about you know you are having a good time. Nothing so warms the cockles of a host's heart as to know his efforts are recognized and liked.

Do not expect the maids to do "odd jobs" for you. Your hostess will doubtless offer their services when she knows they are needed, but even then do not ask too much. Unless requested not to tip the servants, leave a small sum of money with each one who has served you.

Do send "pp.c.'s" to all the friends of your hostess who have entertained you or called on you. These are your calling cards with "p.p.c." written in either of the lower corners. These letters stand for the French words "to take leave." The cards should be mailed the day you leave town. Do send a bread and butter let-

GO STRAIGHT -- GO OFTEN GO RIGHT

IF YOU'LL LISTEN FOR JUST A MOMENT, MR. MERCHANT, YOU'LL GET SOME MONEY-MAKING TIPS!

GO STRAIGHT—There is no need of wasting time on the question: "Does Advertising Pay?" The bank accounts of a thousand millionaires who yesterday were broken scream like the siren on a fire engine: "You Bet Your Life, It Pays!" How to advertise is the big question. The first step in answering this big question is to find out who you want for customers, then go to them-Go Straight!

GO OFTEN—If your office boy, after working for you two weeks, came to you and asked for a raise, you'd call the porter and say: "Here, Steve, throw this red-headed son-of-a-gun out of the window—he's too previous!" Don't be "too previous" yourself when you advertise. Give your advertising a chance to produce—show the people that you are in earnest and on the job. Don't watch the clock—go often and you'll come back with bells on and bills in!

GO RIGHT-Selling things over a counter and selling the same things on paper are two different tasks. (One is a business and the other is a profession. You may be an excellent business man but a poor advertising man. Perhaps, the reason your advertising doesn't pull is because you write your own copy. Why don't you cut your own hair? Building an advertisement ought to be the work of a specialist.

The big fellows in business recognize this fact—why don't you? You wouldn't hire a tongue-tied salesman, would you? Lots of advertising copy is tongue-tied or worse. Then, have your ad well-dressed—Go Right!

We are anxious to help you build your business through the right sort of Advertising. Put our special Merchandising and Service Department to work for you, without obligation. It will be the best investment you ever made in your life.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We are making great plans for you readers of this progressive newspaper. We are going to give you special features that only the big metropolitan newspapers have given to their readers in the past. These new features will be added from week to week and will give you something to think about, something to instruct you as well as amuse you.

As a forerunner of the good things in store we call your attention to the big serial story "THE SPORT OF KINGS" which is started in this issue, and which run through the succeeding issues. This story is one of the best of its kind. Arthur Somers Roche, the author has produced a story that thrills you and holds you. It abounds with interesting situations. It is a turf story, a love of the thoroughbred and it abounds with the excitement of the race.

I You will note the change in the size and makeup of the Standard this week. No matter what our faults may be you will confess that we are alive, alert and active. We don't believe in lying dormant and growing stale. Just to prove it we have got away from the old stereotype page and are going to give you a more compact, up-to-date readable paper, printed on better paper and in colors that will please the eye.

This all means added expense, particularly because we are using coated paper today in times when coated stock costs a high price. This is not extravagance, however, but a step in the right direction. It means progress.

We have also got away from the local name. Our circulation today has grown and expanded among the farmers, ranchers and home people of the three provinces. We have ceased to be a city paper, but are now aiming to go into every rural home in Alberta and Saskatchewan. This does not mean that we are giving up the Calgary territory. Far from it. Its our first love and our great love. We are going to cater to and publish a local paper that will outdo our past efforts. Our city edition will cover things of local character while our Farm Edition will embrace everything of a news nature that the farmer, rancher and breeder wants.

. If you appreciate our efforts then recommend the publication to your friends. A good word won't go amiss. It may mean little to you, but lots to us. Incidentally see that your friend sends us a subscription. It is only $2.00 per year for the city edition; $1.50 for the farm edition. They are both worth every cent that is paid for them. Now is the time to do it-TODAY.

The government price of wheat does carry a profit; but even if it did not every farmer should be not only willing but anxious to devote the necessary ten per cent of his land to the raising of this greatest of all the bread grains. It is no more than his reasonable service. He would even then come far short of what thousands of our men and of our allies have done when they made the supreme sacrifice, leaving helpless women and children to shift for them-

After the war is over will come the day of reckoning, when very man will be judged by what he did or refused to do. Even now the boys going to the front are passing judgment upon the attitude of their own fathers. When the boys come home it will be they who will conduct the affairs of this country for a generation; and they, with their loyal supporters behind them, will make a careful accounting of those who cooly profited or even attempted to profit by the exigencies of war.

FARMERS PROFIT BY THE WAR

One result of the war will be the enlightenment that every one will receive. It matter not whether you are a farmer, rancher, business man or housewife the information that the government is imparting through its experts will have a great tendency to reduce cost of operation at home and in business, on the farm and everywhere. The government is giving a business schooling that can never be reckoned in dollars and cents to the people at large and is bound to react to their benefit in years to come.

As an illustration take the ordinary farm of today. The necessity of the times call for greater production and likewise in the same breath the call for troops has reduced labor. The result has been to adopt new methods for the enforced conditions. Machinery was found as the answering call for much of the labor troubles. Tractors have made it possible to do twice as much work with half of the labor and worry.

When the farmer awakens to the fact that he had to do something to take the place of the farm helper he turned to the tractor because it was practically thrust upon him. He had heard of the tractor in the past and the wonderful things it could do, but he was slow to depart from his old and staid ways. He was too used to the two old horses that had tramped up and down the fields with him. day in and day out, for many, many years to give them up without

But the government demand came and with it came information how to replace the hands. He adopted the idea and lo, he now wonders how he could have been so slow not to have adopted these money-makers in mechanical labor-saving devices before.

This is one phase of the war.

HEALTH IS THE FOUNDATION OF SUCCESS

HEALTH is absolutely necessary for any individual in order to be successful. Can you conceive of anyone living economically, living an ideal social life, acquiring the best edducation, and observing the highest type of morals, without health? It is utterly impossible. In order to be ideal individuals in all these relations, we must be in the very best of health. And in order to be in the very best of health, we must be born well, we must be reared well, we must be properly educated, and we must have a good normal foundation. Health hes absolutely at the foundation of a successful career. It is, then, extremely necessary that the child be given a right start in life.

CAN WE FOLLOW THE MASTER'S TEACHINGS?

Some day the war is going to be over. Peace will be declared and then there will be an influx into Canada of the men who are now fighting with all the proclivities of the devil. They will come here in peaceful attire expecting to grasp our hand in friendly salute, to accept our hospitality and to be one of us. To grow up with us and later their sons and daughters to become a part of our family—our race and our country.

How are we going to forget and forgive? To follow the precepts of the Good Book is our teaching. The way as laid down by the Great Master ed not too hard until this great trouble came upon us. And in this great fight and its mastery we have learned the character of men. We have seen what the true love of country means in man and woman. We have seen the sacrifices that have been made at home and abroad by family, friends and acquaintances. We have seen self-denials that were never thought of on every side. We have even done things for the good of the cause that we never expected we could do.

And of the atrocities of war we have read and heard of such things as would almost make Moses turn in his great sleep. It seems as though it would require the combined Christian spirit of every disciple of the Bible to forget and forgive the deeds that the enemy has heaped upon our kith and kin. Upon our brothers and sisters and fellow men everywhere. And in time we are going to be called upon to forget and forgive. To live in peace and harmony. To accept these men as brothers and join with them in love, hono and life. Can we do it?

COYOTES, NOT MEN, THEY ARE

A few days ago a former Calgarian, now located elsewhere, called to pay his respects. As he graphically expressed: "Having nothing to do I thought would call and see how things were going with you." Insult added to injury. His power of expression was equalled to his interest. Of that more

During his visit matters of general interest were touched upon including enment. He was loud in his denunciation of the eschewed everything that savored of Bordenism and orable plea was that Laurier would have saved the day. He confessed after much argument that Laurier would have receded from his position, had he been placed in power, and that conscription would have founded on the principals as laid down by the Good Book. If any been necessary. His whole attitude and conduct was against the government and the country.

The writer was born and bred in the States. He came to this glorious country many years ago. He had been taught, as every true American is taught, not to bite the hand that feeds you. Appreciate those that help you. Love your country but also remember that there are other countries equally as lovable. So the writer has lived, thrived and grown attached to this country. He feels he is as much a part of it as any native-born human can clean city, whose citizens believe in the higher order of life. Cal

When this visitor had finished his tirade the writer casually asked him was the sequel of the story. Neither French, Canadian, nor anything elsewas the sequel of the story. Neither French, Canadian, nor anything else—he shows the mixture of the coyote, which many of that breed have shown rakers" or "tirade-slingers" and our good citzenship be imperiled by from Quebec. But these coyote-born natives are neither French, Canadian, nor Indian. They can not even boast of the good qualities of the latter. Their animal proclivities predominate their whole existence. They are not Canadian and our fellow man has created in us a brotherly love that speaks for it is to be regretted that such beasts should be a burden to the country or be itself. That makes Calgary what it is today. permitted to live under this flag, of an honest people. Would you like to

SOME PERTINENT QUESTIONS TO DR. OLIVER

We have to apologize to our readers for again referring to the subject o Dr. Oliver. We realize that many of our readers must be bored to distraction by this unnecessary publicity. This is not a special issue of Dr. Oliver's ed by these nomenclatures whose principal purpose is money? and he is paying nothing for this free advertising. We say that many of the adherents of Dr. Oliver, as well as himself, would be glad to have us continue the publicity because the whole foundation of his success is based on publicity. We are not going to dwell on Dr. Oliver's un-Christianlike manner of tearing down the religious beliefs of those that do not believe as he does. His actions are so directly in variance to the life and teachings of the Master, Jesus Christ, whom he is supposed to imitate that we wonder how he consistely associate the two.

Dr. Oliver is a man of much mesmeric power and a strong personality. We have no doubt if we ever meet the Devil, we shall find him pleasing, affable and full of personality, otherwise, how could he have so many disciples on earth? Dr. Oliver is teaching the word of the Good Book and supposed to be living it. For this work he gets a certain per cent of the income from the collections, but should these collections fall below $15,000, then Dr. Oliver is to be reimbursed by the guarantors to this amount. This is the information that comes to us. At any rate, Dr. Oliver must be earning over $50,000

We are going to ask and we wish him to state publicly, so that we may investigate this matter and report to both governments how much of this income has been donated to charity and to the appeals of his country and to

We are going to ask the income tax commissioner to interview Dr. Oliver before he leaves, that the coffers of the Canadian government may be reimbursed for the amount that such an income is entitled to.

Canada is entitled to some of this wealth. It all must not go with him to California to be spent in enjoying the comforts of a pleasant summer's vacation while the hungry mouths of thousands of Belgians are calling for bread. What say you, Dr. Oliver, about the donations to the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. Belgian funds and others?

ANOTHER GOOD STORY FOR YOU

Well, Standard readers, we have another great treat for you. In fact, this is a rare treat if we do say it. If you like a good fictor story to idle away a few hours we have one of the best that it has been our pleasure to read: "The Light in the Clearing," by Irving Bachellor. It has no bombastic features blood and thunder, combined with robery and curdling situations, but it is a nice, clean story with a smattering of love surrounding the hero and heroine. It has all the proclivities of a good story. Around the life of a very lovable lad it is a story of reality and vitality, of honor and humor, of the love of a woman and the love of a country, with simple affections and fine ideals. To read this story is to be uplifted, enobled. To feel that nonor and integrity form the corner stone of national as well as personal character. The story we find a love of the simplier and sweet life and prevading the pages is a pungent, but kindly humor. The story is worth reading. It is worth anyone's time from the moral standpoint to say nothing of the happy moments you will enjoy perrusing it. We secured this story at considerable cost and we are going to give it to you serially so that you may spend many happy moments reading this delightful story-"The Light in the Clearing," by Irving Bachellor. It begins in an early issue. Be sure and get

AN INDICATION OF CANADA'S GROWTH

The growth of the Canadian west is seen in the remarkable strides the siness concerns are making each year. Enumerable evidences may be seen of firms which were a few years ago just starting with a small office two by four workshop, and a handful of employees now being classed a mong the leading firms of the community.

Speaking of the remarkable strides of our business firms, a striking ilistration of progress is seen in the United Grain Growers. This firm, or ssociation, has sprung up in a few years like a Chinese water-lily under cultivation. From its inception it has gone with leaps and bounds until today it reaches to the farthest ends of Western Canada and embraces every line of industry from coal mines and lumber forests, which it owns and operates, to the smallest articles that the farmer needs.

The latest adjunct to the Grain Growers' Comany is the Grain Growers' Securities Company. Organized for the purpose of supplying the farmers with land—buying and selling farms, ranches, etc., this company, to an extent, is philanthropic. It does not intend to make big money out of the organization. Only a reasonable amount will be charged to cover the cost

In fact, the growth of the parent company is founded upon a more or less philanthropic plan. The supplying of commodities to the farmer is done at such a small profit that the farmer is saved hundreds upon hundreds of dollars each season by becoming a member.

The difference between companies of this character in Canada and the United States is the difference between trusts and benevolent societies. In the States such a plan would be grabbed by one of the financial heads and the company steered to profit the owner. In Canada it is run on a benevolent plan, to buy as cheaply as possible and to SELL to the members for g bare mittance above costs. But even these little mittances are growing into enormous sums now, as the volume of business in the company increases

. The men back of the Grain Growers are bright, clever executives. Not a spend-thirsty one on the entire board. Conservative to a degree ambitious to an extent, they realize the enormous possibilities that lie within their grasp and they are taking advantage of the opportunities.

Such firms are a credit to any city. Calgary is proud to have such concerns located within its town. A few more such firms and Calgary will be giving Winnipeg a run for her position.

A WORD OF ADVICE TO THE VETERAN

The young man returning from the war today, even though he may be physically incapacitated in a measure, if he goes into business, he has the same opportunities as his fellow man. He aligns himself with and becomes a part of the city's industries.

No matter what this industry may be-provided it does not conflict with the law-it is a dignified industry and a part and parcel of the great machinery of the city.

to ,to be nursed and raised as you would anything that you wanted to see

No matter what the calling may be it will require backbone, character and good red corpuscles in the blood to bring it to a successful age.

Many of us fail to live up to our calling. We go about our duties in a half-hearted way, with only a surface ambition, and at the first rebuff from the world we turn turtle and fly to cover.

How many battles could our battalions win if they lack the tenacity to stick when the opposing armies fought them tooth and nail?

In business we must have the same bulldoze ability to fight as has been shown in battle. We must go about business the same way. We must first lay out a clear plan of procedure then we must allow for contingencies and unexpected breaks. But our main purpose—our ambition—must not be hampered by a single thought excepting success.

When we have this thought thoroughly embedded in our brains there is not belittle or condemn our fellow man is good. If we have been little doubt but that our calling will be a success. If we adhere strictly to

TRUE DESCENDANT OF THE DEVIL

I was reading one night of the doings of the army and my attention was particularly attracted to the report of the conditions of the country where the Huns were conducting their conquests. The atrocities indulged in by the German armies everywhere were appalling. Nothing seemed to be sacred to them-religion, church, innocence, age, home, body-everything that came within their reach was destroyed with an iron hand. They were inexorable in their manner, dominering in action and dastardly in their desires. The entire army from soldiers to officers seemed to be beset with a make-up of a beast. Nowhere did there seem to be the slightest semblance to manhood in their action. Their every step seemed to result in disaster, degregation and slaughter. Their paths were strewn with the bodies of the innocent: young and old. Of women and children who could have had but one thought, and that of home and something good. Not even in the mind of the most wicked could these sufferers that lined the pathway of the German army be blamed for the responsibility of the war. And these so-called German men1soldiers, and officers, in their wrath over some possible defeat to their diabolical plans had wrecked their vengeance upon these innocent wayfarers along their path. The thought then came to me that this was hell and the Huns were the imps that kept the fires going. And of the kaiser, there has never been known on earth a truer disciple and descendant of the devil, then he. Hell truly surrounds him and his followers, and the fires of hell are kept burning by them, under the guidance of the personification of the devil-Kaiser

A teaspoonful of boracic acid in a pint of boiled water is a good eyewash to use in case of styes or other affections of the eyes. FOR FALLING HAIR

Massage the scalp with the following: Quinine, 1 dram; pilocarpine, 21/2 grams; salicylic acid, 15 grams; lanolin, 1/2 ounce; petrolatum, 1/2 ounce.

FOR A ROUGH, DRY SKIN

A skin that is excessively rough and dry should not be bathed too frequently and only a pure castile soap and the softest of towels should ever touch it. Cocoa butter is a good emolient to apply.

The Hour of Better Dentistry

Our wide experience combined with the most modern equipment in Western Canada, makes it possible for us to give you Guaranteed Dentistry at a reasonable price.

Dentistry in the past has been largely a matter of guess work. That is, no dentist could determine exactly the condition of the roots of the teeth to be filled or crowned, resulting in a short time "in many cases" of sore and absessed teeth.

The X-Ray is the Dentist's Best Friend as well as the Doctor's. It reveals the hidden enemy, the center of infection hidden away at the roots of what often seems to bb perfect teeth. By the X-Ray only can it be definitely ascertained whether the teeth have hidden absesses or not.

Worker's Efficiency Depends on Good Teeth Statement by French Munition Manufacturer in Saturday Evening Post

No Stairs - - No Elevator

Andre Citroen, who has risen in two short years from obscurity to the position of France's leading munition maker, with a plant employing 9,500 employes and turning out 50,000 shells a day, has the following to say concerning the establishment in his factory of a dental laboratory for the care of his employes' teeth:

"Most of the human ills are due to bad digestion, and bad digestion In turn, comes from lack of mastication. If your worker's teeth are in good shape he can chew and enjoy his food. When the eating machinery is in good repair the human being is much more fit. One of the best human investments I ever made was to take care of my employes' teeth."

As you read this pause and consider whether your efficiency is less than it ought to be because of defective teeth. If it is, come to me and I will give you expert treatment that will put your mouth in

Teeth replaced, new sets fitted perfectly, bridgework, etc. Painless methods, moderate charges, good honest work. Consultations free. Open evenings.

REASON WHY WE SHOULD SAVE SUGAR

If you are in doubt why you should cut your supply of sugar down, say two spoonsfuls a day, we will try and enlighten you. ## U. S. DOING ITS PART

The United States is taking hold of this food shortage with the same vim and determination to overcome that it has to win other features of the war. A recent house bill calls for over eleven million dellars, to be expended for the supplying of farm labor, enlargement of extention work on the farm, and the control and prevention of diseases and pests Besides this there is another bill for a few millions for urgent agricultural necessities all to be expended within the coming year-from June 30, 1918. Besides this there are 1,500 house demonstrators going all over the states informing the women how to use potatoes and other foods. The potato market is flooded and unless 30,000,000 bushels are eaten they will rot and decay. The eating of the potatoes will save a great loss and will also save the wheat which is so greatly needed overseas.

These are a few of the movements that the United States is engaged in dom. The Bible says: but they will tend to prove what gigantic plans the United States is using to win this war. No expense is being considered when the end will justify the expense. Millions are being expanded for aeroplanes and the output will be upwards of four thousand machines a month. The amount being expended in submarine and shipbuilding is hard to estimate, but is far beyond the figures of any known expenditure in the world's history. These are only a few of the many movements that the United States is engaged in, same city used sorcery and bewitched the people of Samaria, giving out but they suffice to show that the people of that country are doing their part that himself was some great one.

DR. OLIVER OF OLDEN TIMES

Referring to the teachings of Dr. Oliver we quote the Bible for an answer to his remarks. The world has been full of false believers and religious dissenters since the time of Adam. The Bible in many instances peak of these so-called false prophets. We have taken excerpts from one particular instance to show what the Good Book has to say regarding the preached for money rather than for the good of the cause.

The Standard is an optimist, through and through. If it can not upbuild a bad one. It would not intentionally cause anyone to suffer through its mt. If, in its criticisms of the way of the illustrious Dr. Oliver, it offended or caused undue sorrow to any of his followers we are truly sorry. Sorry for their sake and sorry that their vision is so hampered by mesmerism that they can not see the faults as well as the virtues.

Dr. Oliver may be a great man. Perhaps the world has been too good to him. He forgets that there are other worlds as well as other people. Other men and women with brains, who have eyes and see, and ears and hear. Whose inborn religious sense is as strongly developed as he will ever know. Who believe in principle and live up to it. Givenchy village, the scene of recent fighting, is now in ruins. The village church has been repeatedly shelled and is practically levelled to the ground. One portion of a wall remains standing, however, and on this is a figure of Christ, which, in some miraculous manner, has escaped the fury of the German shell fire.

Givenchy village lies a wreck, Givenchy church is bars; No more the peasant maidens come to their vespers there. The altar rails are wrenched apart, with rubble littered o'er. The sacred sanctuary lamp lies smashed upon the floor. And mute upon the crucifix He looks upon it all.

The great White Christ, the shrapnel-scarred, upon the eastern wall.

The trenches running line by line through meadow fields of green, The bayonets on the parapets, the wasting flesh between Around Givenchy's ruined church ,the levels poppy-red Are set apart for silent hosts, the legions of the dead.

And when at night on sentry go, with danger keeping tryst, I see upon the crucifix the blood-stained form of Christ, Defiled and maimed, the Merciful, on vigil all the time, Pitying his children's wrath, their passion and their crime. Mute, mute, He hangs upon His Cross, the symbol of His pain, And as men scourged Him long ago, they scourge Him once again-There in the lonely war-lit night to Christ the Lord, I call: "Forgive the ones who work Thee harm; O, Lord! forgive us all."

istry today is a world wonder. It sho with the wonders of the age, for its originality its conception and the benefits to be derived from its execution.

The old days of guess work have passed and in its place has come the modern method-which does not guess but knows your trouble. To eradicate these troubles is the duty of every dentist. We know dentistry as a watchmaker knows his trade. We have given it a life long study and we are progressive enough to adopt every improvement that speaks for better dentistry.

Our installation of the X-Ray machine, while the first to be stalled in the west, is an example of our progressive spirit. The X-Ray means as much to the modern dentist as a tank does to the war. We do every form of dentistry—honestly, conscientiously and thoroughly. We specialize in crown and bridge work, as well as all forms of plate work. We also extract teeth without pain.

Worker's Efficiency Depends on Good Teeth Statement by French Munition Manufacturer in Saturday Evening Poet

Andre Citroen, who has risen in two short years from obscurity to the position of France's leading munition maker, with a plant employing 9,500 employes and turning out 50,000 shells a day, has the following to say concerning the establishment in his factory of a dental laboratory for the care of his employes' teeth:

"Most of the human life are due to bad digestion, and bad digestion, in turn, comes from lack of mastication. If your worker's teeth are in good shape he can chew and enjoy his food. When the eating machinery is in good repair the human being is much more fit. One of the best human investments I ever made was to take care of my employes' teeth."

As you read this pause and consider whether your efficiency is less than it ought to be because of defective teeth. If it is, come to me and I will give you expert treatment that will put your mouth in good order.

Teeth replaced, new sets fitted perfectly, bridgework, etc. Painless methods, moderate charges, good honest work. Consultations sheep, 53.

Cattle: Although the receipts beef cattle were light the demand, especially of the common stuff was poor and we had considerable difficul-ty in disposing of this class of beef. The buyers were willing to pay the price for good fat cattle, but very few were on sale. We quote choice fat sters 14½c to 16c; good to medium steers 12c to 13½c and common killers 10½c to 11½c. The demand for good fat cows and heifers was strong and this class of stuff held their own well. The best heifers and smooth cows would bring 13c to 14c, medium 11½c to 12½c, and common to fair killers 9c to 11c. Good bulls sold up to $9.75 and 10c, but the common kind showed a heavy decline, and were not wanted. Good fat veal sold up to 13c. There were large receipts of stockers and as has been for some time past good steers of from 800 lbs. up were the best sellers, realizing from $10 to $10.50, with yearlings at good quality of around $50 per head. Stock cowswere draggy at from $60 to $75.

Hogs: The hog market developed a weakness and opened on Wednesday at $19.50 faling to $19.25 on Thursday. day. Friday's run seling at the sam eprice. There was an average run, with Swift and Burns taking the bulk of the receipts.

Sheep: No sheep offered, We quote fat lambs and wethers 16c to 17c; fat ewes 14c to 15c.
We would advise all shippers that the keen demand for common beef has ceased and we expect to see this class of stuff continue to sell lower. There appears to be very little choice beef left in the country, but the demand will ease off as soon as there are a sufficient number of grass cattle in B. C. to fill their local demand. A large number of stockers continue to be offered for sale and we could fill your 4,400,426 orders if entrusted to us. We are ready, at all times, to advise you on matters appertaining to live-144,736 stock and we shall be pleased to assist you in any way that we can to make your stock raising ventures

Address all communications to the livestock department, United Grain Growers, Ltd.

Weekly Market Letter A. H. Mayland

There has been a very light run of beef here this week, and the choice cattle are still in good demand, while medium killers are selling from 25c to 50c lower than last week. Common beef are hard to dispose of and they are not wanted by any of the pack-ers. Would advise careful buying of grassy cattle as they are bound to go lower. There have been heavy shipments of common stockers here this week, and prices are from 50c to a $1 OATS— Open High Low Close per hundred lower on the off colored per hundred lower on the off colored and light quality stuff. ' As in the case of any mechanical machine, a certain time is required to familiarize one's self with the machinery. The fact that there are today tens of thousands of tractors in operation is sufficient evidence that the ordinary laborer can operate a tractor after spending a reasonable time in learning

The discovery that weight is not necessary to give traction to farm upon the ground is the prime re-quisite for traction, accounts in large measure for the growing popularity of the farm tractor, according to a well known manufac-

The test of a tractor is its perance of the mechanical power is demonstrated and the marked superiority of the tractor over horse demonstrated and the marked superiority of the tractor over horse curable for harvesting the tractor over ho your working conditions. You cheaper—and one that you can de-pend upon at all times in all kinds

In deciding what tractor to buy, the application of two or three sound common-sense principles 'if adopted will enable you to select a machine that will give you the fullest satisfaction and is the best value for your money.

Look first to the construction. Is the tractor simple and strongly built? Does it carry ample strength without excess weight? Are its nechanical features sound and oractical? Is it easily operated? Can the man of average intelligence run it without difficulty? Can it be used for a wide range of farm ower requirements?

These are questions that must be solved by the farmer before he plunges into the purchasing of a farm tractor. When he finds the machine that meets these requirements he has found the machine that will relieve him from farm worries and will increase his farm production and decrease his farm labor expense and troubles.

BUILD YOUR HOME IN THE CITY OR THE COUNTRY

Every form of human life wants home. It is sung into our ears by our grandparents at the cradle age. The lullaby of "Home, Sweet Home" is as familiar as the days and nights.

Parodies have been written on 'Home, Sweet Home' galore. But the fun makers have never been able to take from us that strong sense-home and wife.

Without a wife civilization would cease and without a home, life would cease. Even the heathens recognize one of the first principles of life and have their homes even though they are only huts -they are homes, with all of the rlamor and restfulness that home brings.

In a city homes make for better citizens. A town where the laboring men own their own homes s always a successful town. Laboring troubles are few and far between. Men are not prone to destroy their own property. They are more apt to protect it with might and main.

The farmer who has no home is like a fish out of water. He flops around aimlessly trying to find something that he has lost, but he knows not what it is.

No farm or ranch is complete without a home. It is a necessary adjunct to every form of endeavor. The building of a home today s not only a good investment but a safe one. Property is going up in value in the cities, in the coun-Abitibi Power, com ....$46.50 $49.60

Property may he high and land up to the market price, but it will get no cheaper. The panic of low prices has passed and in its place 68.00 a steady rise is sure to follow no 30.00 matter how long the war is prolonged.

Prices for building material can get no cheaper for many years to come. Even the wisest predict a decade before prices can drop after the war ceases.

They why wait for lower prices. You can get reasonable prices for every line of building today, from the materials for the cellar to the roofing materials on top.

Even furniture has a standard price which will not fluctuate to a lower ebb for many years to come. Build your town house now or build your country home. Be an asset in the community where you 79.50 live. Get that feeling of home 59.06 love and you will realize for the 92.00 first time in your life what true happiness is like.

There Will Be No Coal-Not for Love Nor Money - The Government Has Given Due Warning

The public spirit of the firms on this page who take this means of acquainting you with these facts should be appreciated. They can expect little money benefit because the orders for their entire supply is bound to come.

But they are patriotic and they are business men. They believe in doing their duty and so they are telling you through the columns of this page what to expect. SO BUY COAL NOW AND

The timely warning of the government to beware of the great shortage in coal that will come this fall and winter is having a good effect. The orders for coal are coming in from every conceivable point on the map. People realize the fact what a coadless winter means. Two essentials are necessary for life-heat and food. Clothing is a necessity, but of a secondary order. The first prin-CANADA ciples are food and heat. Without these two commodities life

> This winter there is going to be a great shortage of heat. Coal s going to be so scarce that the ordinary individual will not be able to buy, borrow or steal a ton. It will demonstrate its name of the Black Diamond because it will soar into the diamond class.

The miner has said this; the mine owner has said this; the coal inspector has said this; the provincial authorities have said this, and lastly the government authorities have issued warning upon warning to prepare for the inevitable and get your coal now.

No one that goes without heat next winter on account of a shortage of coal will have any cause for complaint so far as the government or local authorities are concerned. The warning is now given-in bold, black face type-BUY YOUR COAL NOW IF YOU WANT COAL NEXT WINTER.

You'll recall just such a sale last June. At the time we labelled it our "Second Annual" and this year's occurrence brings us to the third chapter, laden with value and topped with wealth of yardage goods that quite satisfy all wants. Monday evening and Tuesday morning papers carry the complete message.

Has "The Bay" struck a new cord in the Symphony of fabric style? Our interpretation of that style note would seem to indicate it. These displays, and sales that begin Tuesday, June 11th, are surely unrivalled in the path that they tread-irreproachable in both merit and pricing.

Tub Silks and Cottons, Wool Fabrics and Purest of Silks, Novelty Weaves in Cotton Linens and Union Qualties 8000 Yards of Choice Weaves

It would be useless and contrary to the Big Store's policy to arouse your expectations and then disappoint you, but we feel perfectly safe in laying a great deal of stress upon these remarkable offerings. When you see these fabrics—the entire lot, in fact you will observe how 1918 leads over other years. There is more dash and charm, more intrinistic novelty about the new fabrics than was ever seen in previous years.

Many Splendid Garments Can Be Made From These Wool and Cotton Dress Goods and Silks of Merit

You'll find many pieces of excellent quality mater ials on display at prices which will appeal to your sense of economy. The scope and variety makes the task of selecting materials for a suitable dress very easythe variety was never so extensive, the values never better, and it isn't an occasional item only, but on every line that values are so emphatically good.

Fabrics suitable for Skirts, Dresses, and Children's apparel chosen with ease from this exceptionally interesting display and the confidence that every yard represents far greater value than the price asked, and the assurance that you have all the popular weaves of the season to select from.

The War Review

The war reports indicate that with the exception of a few minor and unimportant encounters, the great fight is almost at a standstill. The climax of the week was the brilliant work of the Italian army when it routed the enemy and took many thousands of prisoners and munitions of war.

The effect of this great stroke of the Italians will be a long felt one. To stop the eenemy in their supreme effort and to retaliate by making them retire will reduce their fighting success. It means that it will take a great deal of the mettle of the enemy and this makes for success for the Italians and allies.

The British and American forces as well as the French forces are not being fooled by the inaction of the Huns. They know these enemies too well. Whatever move they contemplate now, must necessarily be seen to a certani extent by the watchful eye of the allies and a counter-attack may be assured.

The meagre reports of the present inactivity may be supplemented any day by a storming of activity from the enemies source. Their silence means preparation for some more diabolical work, but the allies are watchful and prepared.

A TRIBUTE TO CANADA

The appended appreciation of Canada appeared in a recent issue of The Boston Transcript:

"Mr Root showed his customary keen perception of the historic significance of events when, at Toronto, he said: 'We bow to this warrior country.' Our own half million of soldiers in France certainly must stand at their back much further than even his time proudest salute when the half million of Canadians who preceded them there | 1620), as Alexander the Great is said pass by The response of Canada to the call of this war was not merely the response of obedience to the British empire. It was a brave, an instant, a most spirited answer to the call of civilization, liberty and that enduring peace of the world which can be based only on the triumph of right over tered Ptolemaeus during a siege by wrong. Canada did not falter, nor bargain, nor question. She responded with her noblest manhood, and the blows which she has struck against a Charles V. is said to have interested power which has proved to be our enemy quite as much as hers have had himself in 1538 A.D., in an invention their full force in holding back the German invader from the free lands. On Vimy Ridge, that advanced points to which the Canadians carried the Two hundred years later an inventor Standard, they still stand like a rock. If the United States had answered the great call with the promptness and with the proportion of its man power with which Canada responded, the German armies would have been burled back beyond the Rhine long ago. Yes-we take our hats off to Canada.

"Mr. Root did not go a step too far ,either ,when he spoke of the elimination of annexation sentiment, both in Canada and in the United States. Unquestionably the Canadians have exercised their right of selfdetermination, and probably they have exercised it once for all. They have developed into full nationhood, but they choose to maintain their connection with the British empire. It is quite evident that the connection does not gall them, and that is because it is free. Their support of the Mother Country in a crisis which has proved to be the world's crisis does not qualify their nationhood. Neither does their assimilation to the ways and the thought of our own great republic. Their growing intimacy with the United which proved so successful that two States, through the constant exchange of manhood and the strengthening ties of business interest, has not weakened their disposition to be politically quite independent of us. And it seems that the more independent they are the better the terms become that prevail between the two peoples. We have a league of peace on this continent which bids fair to stand and prevail forever."

DID YOU THANK YOUR MAKER?

"And He will provide for you against all want, if you place your trust in Him." This Biblical expression was ably exemplified last Sunday night navy from the Holland Submarine when the rain came in torrents and showered the fields and crops of Al- Torpedo Boat Company, now the Elecberta that was slowly sweltering away for want of moisture.

For two weeks the country throughout the southern part of the province was filled with pessimistic talk. Everywhere one went you heard nothing but groans and whines over the unfortunate outlook. No rain was coming and the crops were bound to be burnt up. No matter how hard one tried to buoy them up with the thought that there was a chance of rainthe pessimists would not see it.

This went on for two weeks and each day the groaners were louder in their expression of ill omen. The thought of placing their troubles in the hands of Providence was far from them. No beacon of light was shown along their path and disaster was eminent.

Then the rain came, filled the earth with moisture and enlivened the crops for a speedy ripening. The pessimists forgot their troubles, forgot their woes-and they even forgot to thank the Great Almighty for the bless. ings that He again was showering the earth with as a token of his promises to all mankind.

But the pessimists looked neither to the right, nor to ward. Hewent his way looking for new faults to find.

our hands to strangle that power by refusing trade. It could not tax us. Our men cross the ocean to camp on the land of Lafayette, inspired by the holiest and purest motive that ever sent men into battle.

We fight, not for our freedom, but for the world's freedom; for France, to which we owe so much; for Italy, mother of genius and civilization; for tions of Christian motherhood every- ed to work as soon as it became gen-England, and for human liberty.

If there ever was a holy war, and an unselfish war, this is that war. And we are in it to the last man, the last dollar and the last day.

We cross the ocean, our men march to death gladly, to bring back nothing in their hands. We shall leave our billions and many precious lives there. Our men go to bring back victory and freedom for all the world's people. We fight for nothing else.

When will this stream of patriotism cease to flow eastward? Never, dren by pasting the address sides of few years since the searing of parts while the need for fighting lasts.

In the week that has passed one million young Americans, having reached the age of 21 in this single year ,have registered their names on Five million names were written on that roll ahead of theirs. Another five and ten millions are waiting to be written, should older men be taken. Every year, as the young men reach 21, there will be a fresh million.

Broad fields of America produce the endless millions of bushels of new grain. The homes of America, crowded cities, solitary farms, produce each year the crop of a million courageous young men, new soldiers, aged 21 And the men and the grain, the meat and the money, the powder and

There are great and powerful streams in this country, the heavy Mississippi, the waters of the Great Lakes, roaring to the ocean. Those streams with all their power are as nothing compared to the river of patroitism that you see pouring 3,000 miles away to battle.

It will keep going, it will not be stopped, it will bend and sweep away the power and vanity of autocracy. It will bring back victory to this nation, and bring that for which the nations fight—peace to the world.

THE FIRST SUBMARINES

James I. of England, is credited with being the first monarch to make trip in a submarine, although doubt has been cast on the story, as it is well known that he was one of the most timid of men. At any rate, the endeavor to explore under water dates to have employed diving bells during the siege of Tyre in 332 B.C., and history also records that a diver enmeans of a submarine apparatus. for descending into the sea at Toledo named Symons produced a submarine craft, galley-shaped, with a dome-like roof, making use of leather bottles which he filled with water for sub-

The next inventor on record was Magnue Regelius, who, in 1605, built a similar submersible, which was re garded as a marvel at its time. The first really successful submarine, however, is accredited to Dr. Cornelius Van Drobel who built and launched a navigable submersible boat in 1620 others were constructed on the same plan, and it was in the larger of these that James I. is supposed to have made his underwater trip. Drebel was a physician, and his success lay in a omposition capable of speedily restor ing to the used air a proportion of vital parts, so as to make it flit again for breathing. This secret was never discovered. The first successful modern submarine was the Holland, which was purchased by the United States tric Boat Company, in 1900.

The tractor is armored. The engine, The tractor is of the track-laying radiator, and an emergency gasoline tank are protected by steel plate onefourth of an inch thick.

On the economic side there are numerous advantages in the tractor in meeting other war needs. One is in the saving of ship space. An outfit of 16 horses would require much more space in a ship than a tractor. Some of the food that the horse consumes can be turned to human needs, and the land upon which all his food grows can be put to raising food for war workers. A horsed regiment of sixinch howitzers uses 14.7 tons of forage per day. This is true whether they are standing or at work, and they are often idle. A regiment of motorized six-inch howitzers consumes four tons of fuel, oil, and grease on a day's march of 50 miles. It requires two days for a horse regiment to traverse the same distance, and the tonnage of food consumed is four times that of the fuel used by the tractors. This represents another gain in shipe space from the standpoint of the maintenance requirements of horses compared with tractors. There is sore need of leather, and tractors here provide an important saving. The amount of leather required for an average regiment of field artilery would make 11.720 pairs of shoes. All these collateral advantages, however, sink into second place in comparison with the primary advantage of increasing the speed of the army in moving to attack. When the troops have arrived in France in sufthe speed of the artillery doubled, as against the enemy, it may well be that these new tractors will provide the very factor that will make the onslaught irresistible.

Up to this time the side under attack has had a breathing spell, at the end of a few days, to improve its position of defense or to organize a counter-offensive, while the enemy slowly brought forward its artilery. But with ficient numbers to launch a drive promised by the tests that have been made, the Germans will get no such breathing spell. The gun range of the American artillery, following

|   | Cattle: With light receipts of bee      |
|   | cattle and a very slow market the       |
|   | commission men experienced a ver        |
|   | dull week. A few choice steers sold     |
|   | from $12 to 12.50 early in the week    |
|   | but towards the end the buyers did no   |
|   | seem to want cattle and very few ex     |
|   | ceeded $11.50. We quote top steer      |
|   | $11 to $12 with few reaching the lat  |
|   | ter price; medium to good $10 to $1   |
|   | and common killers not wanted at all    |
|   | Fat cows were in better demand and      |
|   | if good realized from $9.25 to $10.2  |
|   | with medium to good $8.50 to $9 and   |
|   | common cows $7 to $8. Very few bull   |
|   | were on sale the best bringing from     |
|   | $7 to $7.50 with common bolognas $   |
|   | to $7. The stocker trade is dull and   |
|   | very few changed hands, two and         |
|   | three year old steers being the bes     |
|   | sellers some of the best bringing up    |
|   | to $10.25, but with continued dry wear |
|   | ther they will undobutedly go lower     |
|   | next week. Dry cows and heifers of      |
|   | size and quality are going back to      |
|   | grass at from $6.50 to $7.50 and year |
|   | lings are hard to dispose of at from    |
|   | est to eat                              |

$35 to $45. Top price on cattle a year ago, $3.25. Hogs: Market opened out steady at last week's price, $17.85 being paid on Wednesday, $18 on Thursday and $18 on Friday.

Top price on hogs a year ago, $14.50. Sheep: A few fat sheep were sold on a basis of $16 to $17 with wool on, or 4c less if sheared. The cattle market has taken a heavy slump and is fully four cents lower than a month ago. We would advise all shippers to hold on to their cattle for a while as the grass catale are not fat enough to kill or ship, and consequently there is little demand for them. The stocker trade is also very dull and until there is a good rain we do not anticipate any improvement in this demand. Call us up when you expect to dispose of your livestock and we will give you market conditions and billing instructions. Address your communication to the United Grain Growers, Calgary.

ALBERTA FLOUR MILLS LIMITED

Foundations for the 6,000-barrel per day mill are completed, and work has started on the super-structure.

The company has brought to their mill-site the finest of equipments to expedite the work and cut to the greatest possible degree handling and labor costs.

They have their own gravel plant on the bank of the Bow River, a quarter of a mile from the works, here the gravel and sand are washed and separated, and the rock crushed, the sand and gravel are then carted to bucket conveyors at the works, which convey same to storage bins over the two great 30 cubic ft. concrete mixers. The cement is stored in shed on track, and is conveyed by overhead belt conveyor to cement storage bins over mixers.

Reinforcing steel for the concrete is piled along the north side of excavations. 350,000 feet of lumber is piled at west end for forms, etc. There is a fully equipped saw mill and planing mill, a machine shop and blacksmith shop.

The directors offer the stock of the company to the citizens of Calgary and the Province of Alberta, and invite them to visit the offices of the company where they will be informed regarding the enterprise and conducted to the works in East Calgary where operation and construction will be explained to them.

The Story of the Farm Tractor---What Every Farmer Should Know

All Canada is Interested in Tractor Farming, Because Tractor Farming Means Progressive Farming; Farming Today Is the World's Necessity and Tractors Help to Solve the Farmer's Problems

How many mechanical horse ower would be required under average conditions to pull two 14-inch bottoms at plowing

With 5 lbs. soil resistance, which is average, 4½ h.p. would be necessary to do this work.

Five horses would be momentarily able under conditions of ideally concerted action to exert 40 to 50 h.p.

Five mechanical horse power is never anything more or less than five. It is quite apparent then that an outfit which will be subjected from time to time to sharp momentary overload, must be provided with a power reserve at least similar to that with which the horse is provided. The vital question is, how much?

> QUESTION NUMBER FOUR

What percentage of power must be held in reserve to meet the ordinary overloads?

Answer

There is no certain specified amount or percentage of power which could be said to be necessary as a reserve fund. It is, however, common practice among experienced manufacturers to allow a reserve of 35 per cent to 50 per cent in excess of the power which the engine will probably be called upon to develop. Those manufacturers who have either wantonly or from lack of experience advertised and permitted their

W. G. Hunt, Esq. Manager, General Supplies Ltd.,

Being a business man and knowing something concerning the value of a well satisfied customer, it occurred to me that a few words of appreciation relative to the Model D Moline Tractor, purchased from your firm one month ago, would not be amiss. In every respect the machine has exceeded all expectations. Without any previous experience two boys have plowed nearly 120 acres of land, and are now busily engaged in discing. This been accomplished in about three weeks time. I think the beauty in the machine lies in its simplicity, but it has everything else to back it up-lower, low cost of production, and speed.

I am also grateful to you and other members of your staff for the service you have rendered from time to time. It has been excellent, and several times the boys and myself have had occasion to speak of it.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) J. D. McARA.

THE NEED OF PAINT

The loss by decay and disintegration through lack of painting, according to Professor H. H. King, of Kansas Agricultural College, was greater last year than losses by fire. The U.S. annual fire loss is estimated at approximately $250,000,000 (in Canada it must also rank high), hence the loss from lack of paint becomes a serious problem, whether in war or peace times. Aside from loss ,the consideration of equal importance as to paint is in neat, cheerful, attractive surroundings. Nothing better defines culture and prosperity in the country than well painted buildings, a well kept lawn, and attractive lanes or roadways. Cleaning up is a good motto, but painting up and keeping it up should go with it.

Comment and Criticism

ALBERTA-WE LOVE HER!

Did you ever stop and think what a wonderful province this Alberta of ours, really is? Man and material alike, produces world-beaters in the various lines.

In grain, no wheat in the country has ever compared with the kind that Alberta has produced in the past. In quantity, as well as quality, Alberta is supreme.

In cattle and horse breeding Alberta is young, but already has made her mark on the esctucheon of fame for the wonderful animals she has produced in the different breeds.

And in men—look at the specimens that she has sent abroad to carve the name of Canada in the world's war history. They have made the name symbolic of everything that is great.

It matters not what Alberta does—she does it well. She can produce as no province can produce—whether it be men, crops or

She can instil and enthuse you with an ambition that can build pyramids and tear down mountains.

She is a life giver and a life builder. Her sunshine, her ozone, her God-given qualities are as free as the sands of the Sahara.

She is as hospitable as a millionaire miner on his first spree, and as generous, in welcoming all to her gates.

Such is Alberta—the land of perpetual opportunities.

THE COAL SITUATION

A sense of false security is one of the most subtle and dangerous conditions that afflict society. During the winter 1917-18, Canada and the United States narrowly escaped a fuel famine. Owing to the entrance of the United States into the war, matters were decidedly worse in 1918 than in the year previous, in spite of the efforts to remedy the situation. The coal was not available because transportation in the United States was held up for weeks at a time, in order to facilitate the shipment of troops and war materials.

There are indications that we may experience the same shortage next winter. Already large shipments of coal are being stalled in American railway yards. This, in turn, is making itself felt at the mines. Most coal mines have no storage yards, and, if cars are not available to remove the output, the mines close. As a result, labor conditions at the mines are being seriously upset. The scale of wages is based on the tonnage mined, and any falling off in production results in a serious hardship to the miners. It has been stated that miners who formerly earned $50 to $60 a week are now earning only $10 to $12. During the past winter, many of them would have been almost destitute if the mining companies' stores had not advanced them credit for goods. The continued lack of work is driving great numbers of miners into other industries, and, even it transportation improves, it will be difficult to get them to beturn to the mines.

These conditions should be faced fairly. A false feeling of security, with its inevitable corollary of lazy indifference now, will mean hardship and suffering next winter. Every consumer should during the summer put in the maximum permitted by the fuel controller, namely, 70 per cent of his normal consumption. In addition, wood and other fuel to replace the 30 per cent deficiency should be procured.

RT. HON. SIR ROBERT BORDEN

Sir Robert Borden has fooled them. He has risen above the clique of political jobbers who thought that he would be ameniable to their desires when he was elected and his greatness has become so pronounced that he has won a place in the hearts of the Liberals as well as the other factions.

A few months ago when his throne was tottering for want of a proper foundation the politicians of both factions laid plans to entrap him. But Sir Robert was wise in his way. He had a mind and purpose that was stronger than the will of the factions. And he fought his way—standing practically alone at times—with everything against him excepting his indomintable will and knowledge that he was right.

And as he shaped the government, its success became apparent. and they came in droves to join the procession—every faction and clan. But Sir Robert was wise and accepted few. Those that were accepted had the proclivities necessary for the government's success.

Today he stands out pre-eminently the first man of this gloriers land. A living example of honesty, integrity and ability. A sincere man—with the true precepts of patriotism that ennobles his entire maleure.

As a well known Liberal says: "The increased power of the leader of the government, his fairness, his honesty, his integrity and industry, his grasp of public affairs and his good nature and considerate treatment of friend and foe alike has raised him to a plane never exceeded by any prime minister."

Even his opponents recognize his worth.

Comment and Criticism

FAKERS MUST DESIST

"Blue sky" peddlers and "fair weather" fakers are going to have a pretty hard time of it hereafter, unless they go to work. The government's Man Power Law and anti-begging subscriptionists will have to forgo further efforts in this direction.

It is a well known fact that the country has been over-run with a perfect deluge of so-called patroitic workers, who under the name of charity have been separating the people from their hard earned dollars. Tag days have been so numerous that they have proved a national nuisance. Solicitors asking contributions on account of veterans' affairs were as frequent as flies in summer and quite as popular. Everywhere contributions were asked for this and that worthy (?) affair. Charity was being grounded and mulled around until the very name was distasteful.

But all this is now going to be changed and those "easy-ones" who have been living on the "fat of the land" through these questionable schemes will now have to resort to an honest living or the government will know why.

The Man Power Law—which is the object of national registration will classify each and every individual and woe betide that individual who does not show that he is working at something useful. The government will see that he gets a job, even though it may not be what he would like.

And the charity beggars—those that have been fleecing the public through various schemes—must now desist or get their permission from the government. The edict has been issued and for once the business man is going to have a little rest.

A LESSON TO THE PESSIMISTS

Well you pessimist, you fault-finders and trouble brooders, what are you going to have to talk about now? The people of Canada—the real people—the ones that have true instincts of brotherly love; have shown by their every action during the triumphant march of the battalion from the States, through Canada, just how they felt. All along the highways, the people turned out on masse, and such a welcoming—cheering and demonstrations of good-will was never equalled before.

Not satisfied with a continuous stream of cheering and handclapping the regiments were followed by a large majority of the spectators for miles ,the crowds never seeming to get enough of the boys. Hospitality was extended at every hand. The boys in khaki were showered with every conceivable gift that was within the power of the people.

These are the boys that are fighting your cause and are going to win for us. No parsimonious ideas predominate with them. No selfish motives for conquest. Just one deeply laden aim and desire to see that love, law and justice rules the world.

You gave them a hearty welcome. You extended every courtesy and hospitality. You assured them of your feelings that could not be denied. This was well and as it should be. And now let—the narrow-minded ones—remember this greeting and forget the bump of pessimism that has laid dormant all your lives. Cast aside this feeling and show the kind of stuff that nature intended you to be endowed with. It is in you and all you have to do is to cast away forever that feeling of gloom and distrust whenever the name of the United States is mentioned.

THE COST OF WAR

Some little idea of the cost of war and the expense of preparedness, can be gleaned from the items needed on one superdreadnaught, of the type of the Arizona.

A superdreadnaught is reputed to have storage capacity of 3,500 tons of coal and 1,000 tons of oil; and although oil can be taken on board easily enough by means of pipes and pumps, 250 tons an hour is a very good rate for an entire crew to maintain when "coaling ship." Ammunition is, of course, no less important than fuel; and every ship has to be kept stored with shot and shell of all sizes.

There is the problem of food—no light one when there are perhaps 200,000 healthy seamen to be looked after, in the British fleet alone. Of course, we do not know the actual number of men in the Grand Fleet and its attendant flotillas; but if we take it to be 200,000 (out of a total of a naval personnel of 350,000) its daily food requirements in the ordinary way would be as follows: Two hundred thousand pounds of bread, 100,000 pounds of fresh meat, 200,000 pounds of vegetables, 3,125 gallons of rum, 50,000 pounds of sugar, 6,250 pounds of tea (or 25,000 pounds of coffee), 6,250 pounds of chocolate, 9,375 pounds of condensed mlk, 12,500 pounds of jam or pickles, with condiments are required.

IF I FALTER

Up! Up! Sweeping proudly aloft,
Let the Emblem of Right—let Old Glory be flung.
Up! Up! Let humanity's flag
Mark the place of the race that from heroes has sprung.
Mark the rallying spot of the freemen of earth,
Whose God is the Lord and whose watchword "the hearth."
Faith, hope, love of the true
Symboled of old by the Red, White and Blue,
In humanity's cause, in the right to be free,
When the call is to all let none answer for me,
If I faiter.

On! On! To the beat of the drum,
With the heart of a man, with the love of his home
On! On! To my place in the sun,
Be the cost what it may, so the victory's won.
Pledged to withstand all the devils of hell,
Rather than live after Liberty's knell,
'Neath the yoke and the stroke of the enemy's rod
As a serf giving heed to an autocrat's nod.
When the call is to all though another may shrink,
Let no hand be extended to me when I sink,

If I falter.

DAILY WAR EXPENDITURE

Great Britain's daily average expenditure during the current financial quarter was £6,848,000, said Andrew Bonar Law, chancelor of the exchequer, in introducing a vote of credit of £500,000,000 in the house of commons.

Mr. Bonar Law said that the present vote, which would bring the total war credits to £7,642,000,000, would cover expenditures until the end of August.

The debt due Great Britain from her allies is £1,370,000,000, Mr. Lonar Law said, while the dominions owe £206,000,000.

An analysis of the expenditures for 69 days ending June 8, said Mr. Law, showed that while the estimated expenditures for that period had been £482,000,000, the actual expenditures had been £472,500,000.

Regarding loans to Great Britain's allies and dominions, Mr. Bonar Law said it was impossible to make any accurate estimate for the financial year, but said that, as a matter of fact, there was a reduction under this head, as compared to the estimate for the period under review which was £16.160.000 of under review, which was £16,160,000.

Over the period of 60 days ending with June 8, there was a diminuition of expenses below the estimate for four of the fighting forces, the army, navy, munitions and the air. This diminuition amounted to £15,200,000, of which £13,500,000 was on the admiralty account.

Swift's three love affairs reveal a abyrinth of mystery and unhappiness. As Thackeray said: "The book essa's abode and threw the letter in of his life opens at leaves kept by those blighted flowers—Varina, Van-disclosure. essa and Stella." These were the three women who were hopelessly caught in the love web of this most eccentric genius.

see her. Then, one day,

His bitterness toward marriage may have been due to the fact that Varina, his gloomy deanery, too ill to attend his first love, refused him; then, later, the funeral. As Stella's body was let econsidering, wrote him that she regretted her harsh decision. To this to its last resting place a cry was Swift wrote this brutal reply:

"Are you in a condition to manage mestic affairs with an income of three hundred pounds a year? Have you such an inclination to my person and humor as to comply with my desires and way of living and endeavor to make us both happy as you can?

. . Have you so much good nature as to endeavor by soft words to smooth any rugged humor caused by cross accidents of life? . . . These are the questions I have always resolved to propose to her with whom I meant to spend my life; and whenever you can heartily answer them in the affirm ative I shall be blessed to have you in my arms, without regarding whether your person be beautiful or your fortune large. Cleanliness in the first and competency in the other is all I looked for."

But Varina quite naturaly declined the honors which Swift so conscientiously dared her to accept. And as a consequence Swift was very probably moved to write these, this famous view on matrimony: 'It has many children-Repentance, Discord, Spleen Loathing." So did Swift's spleen make him view this time-honored custom.

Stella (Esther Johnson) enters next into the romatic drama of Swift's life. He saw her first when she was but 8 years old. At 15 she was looked upon as one of the most beautiful, agreeable and graceful young women

The love letters of these two are full of strangely abbreviated language meant only for their own interpretation. The contraction "Pdfr," which appears in several of Swift's epistles to Stella, has been translated to mean

Worker's Efficiency Depends on Good Teeth

Statement by French Munition Manufacturer in Saturday Evening Poet Andre Citroen, who has risen in two short years from obscurity to the position of France's leading munition maker, with a plant employing 9,500 employes and turning out 50,000 shells a day, has the following to say concerning the establishment in his factory of a dental laboratory for the care of his employes' teeth: "Most of the human ills are due to bad digestion, and bad digestion, in turn, comes from lack of mastication. If your worker's teeth are in good shape he can chew and enjoy his food. When the eating machinery is in good repair the human being is much more fit. One of the best human investments I ever made was to take care of my employes' teeth." As you read this pause and consider whether your efficiency is less than it ought to be because of defective teeth. If it is, come to me and I will give you expert treatment that will put your mouth in Military Service Act, 1917.

Men 19 and 20 Years of Age. Harvest Leave.

Leave of Absence on Ground of Extreme Hardship. Procedure to obtain Leave of Absence.

Men Nineteen and Twenty Years of Age.

It has come to the attention of the Government that there is a widespread impression that young men of nineteen years, and those who became twenty since October 13, 1917, as well as those who may become nineteen from time to time and who have been or will be called upon to register under the Military Service Act, are to be immediately called to the colours. This impression is quite incorrect. No date has yet been fixed for calling upon such men to so report for duty, nor has the question been brought before the Cabinet for decision. In view of the need of labour on the farm, it is most unlikely that consideration will be given to the matter until after the harvest is over, although of course the Government's action must be determined primarily by the military situation. There is no further obligation incumpent upon young men of the ages above mentioned who have registered or who do so hereafter, until they receive notice from the Registrars.

Harvest Leave.

Some enquiries have been received as to the possibility of granting harvest leave to such troops as may be in the country at that time. No definite assurance can be given on this point as advantage must be taken of ships as they become available. On the other hand, harvest leave will be given if at all

Leave of Absence on Grounds of Extreme Hardship.

It is desired that the Regulations respecting leave of absence in cases of hardship should be widely known and fully understood. Such leave will be granted in two cases:— (a) where extreme hardship arises by reason of the fact that the man concerned is either the only son capable of earning a livelihood, of a father killed or disabled on service or presently in service overseas, or in training for such service, or under treatment after returning from overseas; or the only remaining of two or more brothers capable of earning a livelihood (the other brother or brothers having been killed or disabled on service, or being presently in service overseas, or in training for overseas or under treatment after his or their return from overseas); brothers married before 4th August, 1914, living in separate establishments and having a child or children not to be counted, in determining the fact that the man is the "only" remaining son or brother; (b) where extreme hardship arises by reason of exceptional circumstances such as the fact that the man concerned is the sole support of a widowed mother, an invalid father or other helpless dependents.

It is to be noted that in all these cases the governing factor is not hardship, loss or suffering to the individual concerned, but to others, that is, members of his family or those depending upon him.

Procedure to obtain leave of absence.

A simple system for dealing with these cases has been adopted. Forms of application have been supplied to every Depot Battalion and an officer of each battalion has been detailed whose duty it is to give them immediate attention. The man concerned should on reporting to his unit state that he desires to apply for leave of absence on one or more of the grounds mentioned and his application form will then be filled out and forwarded to Militia Headquarters, Ottawa. In the meantime, if the case appears meritorious, the man will be given provisional leave of absence for thirty days so that he may return home and continue his civil occupation while his case is being finally disposed of.

The story of "The Mating of Marshown at the Allen Monday and Tuesday, is as unique as it is dramatic and appealing. The drama affords a splen did contrast between the frivolous show-girl type of the "Great White has a part that makes the greatest mets these demands admirably, bringing out the varied phases of the character of Marcella in a way to make all who see the picture love Marcella and remember her afterward. The picture is excellently directed by R. William Neill, who has directed all of Miss Dalton's Paramount successes.

"The Mating of Marcella" centres around Marcella Duranzo, a pretty young American girl who works as a model in a New York modiste's store. Marcella's father is an invalid, and she has had a hard time earning enough to pay his doctor's bills.

One of the customers who comes to the store where Marcella works is Lois Underwood. Lois becomes interested in Marcella in her frivolous good-natured way. Lois is married to a wealthy man, whom she does not love. She wants to get a divorce, but does not desire to spend the required six months in Reno, Nevada.

d asks her to go west and impersonois tells her that it will mean money pay doctor's bills and perhaps save e life of Marcella's father. So Marlla consents, not knowing that she ho is getting a divorce.

Curious complications develop when bert Underwood, Lois' husband, es west, and meets Marcella. Horied by the true state of affairs, Marla returns to New York, and Unrwood, who has fallen in love with er, follows. The climax is startling its thriling whirlwind ending, and one that will be more than enjoyed by all who witness it.

Big Exhibition In Full Swing

A trip to Victoria park will convince anyone that the Calgary exhibition of 1918 is to be the best ever held in Calgary. Every possible place on the grounds and in the buildings has been used to the limit to house the various exhibits. Some of the livestock exhibits started to arrive on Monday morning, and by the end of the week, over 250 carloads of exhibits will have arrived. All exhibitors have been urged to have their exhibits in place and complete by Friday evening, June 28, in order that everything will be ready for the first big day, Saturday. June 29. On that date, the children's classes will be judged by Dr. S. F. Tolmie, M.P., Victoria, B.C. The finest display of Shorthorns ever brought together in Canada will also be judged on this date. The department of agriculture was fortunate in being able to secure the services of Mr. Lawrence Ogden, of Maryville, Missouri, to place the awards in the Shorthorn classes. Mr. Ogden judged the great Shorthorn congress at Chicago, and his opinion of the wonderful exhibit he will have to look at in Calgary will be watched with much in-

On Monday, July 1, the pure bred stallions will be judged as well as the Holstein, Hereford and swin classes. This will be a day of keenest interest for stockmen, as the Hereford and the heavy horse classes are of the best quality and with the largest number of entries yet seen in Calgary. Professor H. H. Dean of Guelph, is coming to judge dairy cattle, Professor G. H. Hutton of Lacombe, will judge the swine, and William Graham, of Toronto, will judge the Clydesdales, and Archie Robison, Pekin, Ill., will judge Percherons. There are nearly 600 sheep also to be judged by Mr. James McCaig of Edmonton, on Monday.

On Tuesday, pure bred female horse classes will be judged, also Ayrshires, and grand horse parade at 8 o'clock at night.

On Wednesday, the heavy draft and agricultural classes will be judged. as well as Jersey and Red Polled cattle In the evening a parade of prize winning cattle will be held at 8 o'clock.

should be reserved for him ,the land hall be opened for entry on the following day to any returned soldier eligible to make entry.

Must Appear Before Agent Men who have at any time in the ast made application to the soldier settlement board or to the depart ment of the interior to have a quarter section reserved for them as a soldier grant should note that it is up to them to appear at the office of the agent for the district and apply for entry when these regulations come in to force. There is no priority of right on the part of any feturned soldier to have any particular quarter section held for him specially as a soldier grant, unless he holds a homestead entry on land lying alongside.

The fact that a soldier already holdng a homestead may have requested the agent or the department or the board to reserve an adjoining quarter section for him does not relieve him of the necessity of appearing at the office of the agent or sub-agent and making formal application for it as a soldier grant on the 2nd of July. If an adjoining homesteader appears before a sub-agent he must have the application wired to the agent on the 2nd of July. The soldier settlement board is to be commended for its early decision in respect of regulations which will affect so seriously the future of the soldier settlers, and the determina tion of the minister of the interior to place the services of his officers, and in fact to make his department the medium for the carrying out of these regulations will meet with general approval.

COULD SOLVE THE FOOD QUESTION

There are stored in Australia at present 6,500,000 tons of surplus wheat, And I hollers, "German swine!" awaiting transportation to where it will do the most good. Six and a half And sometimes we both lose our million tons equal nearly two and a half billion bushels, which is enough wheat to feed France and England together, or the whole United States, for a year. If we could get it here we could send all of our own wheat to our allies and still have all we need for our own consumption.

Besides the wheat, there are also 2,000,000 bales of Australian wool. enough sugar to replenish the depleted supplies of all the allies, many metals Or opens his mug to sing, which are urgently needed in all the countries fighting against Germany, hides And when he gives us "Die Watch am for leather goods-in fact, raw materials of all sorts which would be invaluable at this time in winning the war.

The problem to be solved is how to get these supplies here, and the crux And then-we "get up the wind" again, of the problem is, of course, the scarcity of shipping. The remedy is to be And the bullets begin to pingfound in rapid construction of more freight-carrying vessels, but perhaps (If we're in luck our machine gun nips more immediately in the better organization of such shipping as there is A working squad on the wing.) left in the world. So far as the first goes, Australia, like the United States and Canada, is doing her best to promote ship construction. She is building ships of steel and of wood, and is planning to build some of concrete. But shipbuilding is an "infant industry" in Australia, now being developed under serious handicaps, and the need for the ships is urgent. It seems likely pending the construction of millions of tons of new craft that a good deal could be done by utilizing to better advantage some of the shipping now existing.

This will be one of the most important subjects dealt with at the conference of colonial premiers with the British government now being held in London. Behind the proposal to take drastic measures with existing shipping is the powerful influence exerted by the Australian and New Zealand premiers, and add to this will be the obvious interest of the empire and its allies. The government itself owns most of the wheat, the greater part of the wool, and a substantial portion of the other supplies. They are urgently needed and means of getting them will undoubtedly be found.

WHY MEN FAIL EVERY YEAR

Year in and year out about 15,000 business men and business concerns fail. In good years, such as 1917, the number drops to 13,000, and in more trying years rises to 16,000 or 17,000. Since about 20,000 new concerns are set up every year, it is evident that the annual mortalities are about 75 per cent of the business births.

Why is it? asks Professor Malcolm Keir in the Independent. Why do 15,000 men fail in business every year?

The failures, he finds, group themselves under five or six heads; and, expressed in percentages, the record looks something like this: Inexperience. 39 per cent; unwise use of capital, 30 per cent; employing relatives, bad location, over-conservatism and bad accounting, 25 per cent; dishonesty, 6 per Inexperience is by far the most deadly enemy, accounting for more than six times as many casualties as dishonesty. Many a bright young man who has been a good subordinate jumps to the conclusion that he can make a success on his own account, and, without any real knowledge of buying or accounting or the problems of advertisin g and salesmanship, opens an office and hangs out his sign.

Unless such a man is exceptionally fortunate, or has older and wiser heads to guide him, he is pretty certain to be numbered withthe failures at the end of the year. With him also will be found the man successful in one line of business, who thinks that he can step over into another line with which he is only partially familiar. "Lack of capital" is given often as a cause of failure; but the real trouble, as Professor Keir points out, is not the lack, but the unwise use of capital. People, he says, have a mania for machinery. Young men starting in business load themselves up with far more equpiment than they can use or pay for, and leave too little working capital to carry on the business These are the two chief trouble makers. Then close behind them com bad location, bad accounting, the employment of relatives and over-conservatism. Dishonesty-to the credit of Canadian business-is a comparatively small factor in the record of failures.

If we are going to win this war, we must have our hearts in it. We must feel that the liberty of ourselves and the liberty of the world is something well worth fighting for with all our strength and with all our resources It is surely a cause in which we can be proud of having our hearts, and pocketbooks, and lives.

HOLIDAY DAYS NEED ADJUSTMENT

Holiday after holiday passes listlessly along in one protracted procession of odious boredom. Those who can do so escape from the cities, which break of the war. He was taken prist country. There is only one thing that ought to be the headquarters for truly national celebrations, every time The people who cannot escape endure it as best they may and long for the

All this implies a serious short-sighted policy on the part of those responsible for the up-keep of the Canadain patriotic spirit amongst the larger number of people in the country who come from foreign lands. Also it is a matter of regret that patriotic holidays in Canada should be permitted to become the subject of a pest that they are even amongst the native-born.

The United States makes July the Fourth, every year, mean something. This year ,part of the celebration was the launching of 63 ships in various parts of the country, with appropriate ceremonies. What about July First in Canada? It passed as usual with no other notice than a few flags on the houses and a slight increase in the sale of cigars.

Certain it is that Canadians do not treat any of their holidays in a really seroius manner. Good Friday has no significance. Victoria Day and Dominion Day are given up to picnics and excursions, while on Thanksgiving Day the duty of giving thanks is about the last thing on our minds. The Dominion government could do much to help the situation by doing away with Victoria Day and making Empire Day a public holiday, at the same time laying down a suitable program for its proper observance. Dominion Day, and even Thanksgiving Day, might well be dealt with in a similar manner. It is evident that in the matter of holiday observance our people need wise direction, and they ought to be given it.

attle, 1,180; hogs, 2,960; sheep, 358. Corresponding week a year ago: Horses, 374; cattle, 1,172; hogs, 2,190; sheep, 477.
Cattle: With light receipts of beef cattle and a very slow market the commission men experienced a very dull week. A few choice steers sold from $12 to 12.50 early in the week, but towards the end the buyers did not seem to want cattle and very few exceeded $11.50. We quote top steers $11 to $12 with few reaching the latter price; medium to good $10 to $11 and common killers not wanted at all. Fat cows were in better demand and if good realized from $9.25 to $10.25 with medium to good $8.50 to $9 and common cows $7 to $8. Very few bulls were on sale the best bringing from $7 to $7.50 with common bolognas $6 to $7. The stocker trade is dull and to $7. The stocker trade is dull and very few changed hands, two and three year old steers being the best sellers some of the best bringing up to $10.25, but with continued dry weather they will undobutedly go lower next week. Dry cows and heifers of size and quality are going back to grass at from $6.50 to $7.50 and yearlings are hard to dispose of at from lings are hard to dispose of at from $35 to $45.

1 op price on cattle a year ago, $9.25 l Hogs: Market opened out steady at last week's price, $17.85 being paid on Wednesday, $18 on Thursday and $18 on Friday.

Top price on hogs a year ago, $14.50. Sheep: A few fat sheep were sold on a basis of $16 to $17 with wool on, on a basis of $10 to $17 with wool on, or 4c less if sheared.

The cattle market has taken a heavy slump and is fully four cents des lower than a month ago. We would advise all shippers to hold on to their cattle for a while as the grass cattle are not fat enough to kill or ship, and consequently there is little demand for them. The stocker trade is also very dull and until there is a good rain we do not anticipate any improve-ment in this demand. Call us up when you expect to dis-

ALBERTA FLOUR MILLS LIMITED

Foundations for the 6.000-barrel per day mill are completed, and work has started on the super-structure.

The company has brought to their mill-site the finest of equipments to expedite the work and cut to the greatest possible degree handling and labor costs.

They have their own gravel plant on the bank of the Bow River, a quarter of a mile from the works, here the gravel and sand are washed and separated, and the rock crushed, the sand and gravel are then carted to bucket conveyors at the works, which convey same to storage bins over the two great 30 cubic ft. concrete mixers. The cement is stored in shed on track, and is conveyed by overhead belt conveyor to cement storage bins over mixers.

Reinforcing steel for the concrete is piled along the north side of excavations. 350,000 feet of lumber is piled at west end for forms, etc. There is a fully equipped saw mill and planing mill, a machine shop and blacksmith shop.

The directors offer the stock of the company to the citizens of Calgary and the Province of Alberta, and invite them to visit the offices of the company where they will be informed regarding the enterprise and conducted to the works in East Calgary where operation and construction will be explained to them.

BUILD YOUR HOME AND SAVE YOU MONEY

The Standard is still preaching to you the necessity for home building. The logic of home building is plain. It is economical, it is patriotic and it is your duty. The building of a home causes a feeling of stability. It means that the owner amounts to something in the community. It means permanentcy and it means thrift and saving.

'A man who has his house paid for has a nest egg that will continue to pay returns after he has passed away. it is the one substantial land mark that means something to the wife and family should an accident happen to himself or his fortune. This little haven of rest properly secured at the begining will remain an endearing mark of appreciation which the father owes to his family.

To build now is economical. Prices are as low now as they are likely to be for the next few years. It is predicted that each year that the war lasts the prices will expand and go higher. That even after the war for a number of years prices for building materials of all kinds will continue at a higher mark.

Then again the prices of rent, which are now soaring up each year, may reach such a prohibitive figure that family men may be compelled to build to avoid the high cost of living.

Build now and avoid these contingone very large bright room; dining encies that are encompassing the

You won't find prices any cheaper next year and you may not be suited as well. As demand continues and products lessen the possibilities for building material of all kinds get

The advertisers whose cards appear on this page will gladly give you all larger and providing more closet space information regarding prices, materials, labor, workmanship, in fact, they will tell you all you want to know about building.

If you want plans, costs, etc., costs, etc., and you are in doubt where o go, ask us. We recommend these advertisers and we can recommend an architect who will submit plans, ices, etc., to meet every need.

Our readers' attention and particulrly those that contemplate building, called to the advertisement of the Bishopric Products, which appears in his issue. The main idea of the management in taking this advertisement is to educate the people to the possibilities of the Bishopric Wall Board as permanent building product. The idea of the Bishopric Wall Board is to get away from expensive umber sheaving, furring strips and metal laths as a foundation for stucco work on exterior walls, or plaster for interior walls.

This modern method of home building should appeal to those who are looking for quickness of construction. The Bishopric Board answers all desires for convenience and economy. Its construction will appeal to the farmer and rancher from the fact that it is easily put up and does not require an expert to do so. For artistic bungalows the Bishopric Board has no equal. Every desirable effect may be secured through its use. For barns and granaries the product has received the highest endorsement from the well known authorities. It keeps the buildings warm and dry, the asphalt mastic ingredients being practically weather proof.

For partitions in stores and elsewhere it is a ready and convenient means of solving the renairing question when help is a question as well as an expense.

FARMERS GET YOUR LUMBER BEFORE FALL

Lumber will rise in value before winter comes. The shortage of labor and the increase in necessity for lumber will cause a shortage in the supply and is bound to increase the cost. So buy now, you farmers and ranches, while the prices are right. You must make those alterations to your place this year. Now is the time to order. BUY YOUR LUMBER NOW

"There had long been a demand for ar adequate method of protecting infantry on an advance. The fundamental purpose for which the tank is inended has long been recognized. The ancient Romans had the equivalent which are indisputable: to the tank in what was called tortoise and in the middle ages the belfry was used. In this war in particular some antidote for the machine gun was required, for the Germans had learned a than a horse. and were plentifully supplied with machine guns. The Germans did not mind how many machine guns were captured; each one was used to get the last possible man.

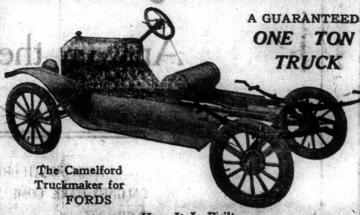

"America must be credited with both the machine gun and its antidote, for in Antwerp in 1914 a friend of mine saw for the first time an American agricultural caterpillar tractor. He wrote to me, inquiring if there was not some military use to which the idea could be put, and the invention of the tank resulted.

"Of course great secrecy had to be maintained. The first bit of camouflage used in connection with the man ufacture of the machines was the name tank. They were called tanks so that not even the workingmen who were making them would know what they were manufacturing, and the rumor was circulated among the men that they were to be used in connection with the watering of our men 'n

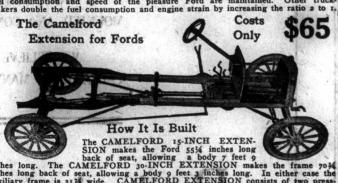

"Later, when ir became time to punch boles in their sides for the guns another story had to be invented. It was then rumered that they were snow plows to be used in Russia, and to carry out this deception each tank was sterciled with a Petrograd address, and when the tanks were finally shipped it was generally believed that they were going to Petrograd.

"In the final days of the construc tion of the tanks 700 sentries, in thee ordens, were thrown around the field in which stood the tanks. Matters were so arranged that the sentries of the outside cordon were not even aware what was going on inside. It was shortly before the first of the tanks was shipped to France, in September, 1915, that a Zeppelin hovered over the tanks one night. The Zepp, however, came accidentally, and as they did not throw a searchlight to the earth the secret was never discovered. Its crew, accordingly, departed without knowing how close they had come to making a great discovery."

Being a business man and knowing something concerning the value of a well satisfied customer, it occurred to me that a few words of appreciation relative to the Model D Moline Tractor, purchased from your firm one month ago, would not be amiss. In every respect the machine has exceeded all expectations. Without any previous experience two boys have plowed nearly 120 acres of land, and are now busily engaged in discing. This been accomplished in about three weeks time. I think the beauty in the machine lies in its simplicity, but it has everything else to back it up-lower, low cost of production, and speed.

I am also grateful to you and other members of your staff been excellent, and several times the boys and myself have had occasion to speak of it.

Yours very truly,

BENEFITS FROM CALGARY'S FAIR WEEK

The Calgary Summer Show is now a thing of the past. It came, ac mplished its object, and now has sunk into oblivon—albeit that the glory and honor will live for many days.

The benefits that Calgary derives from this fair week are hard to estimate. Many thousands of out-of-town visitors were attracted by the show and came to Calgary. Many more local citizens were visitors to the show. A majority of the local element came for pleasure. They imbibed the aroma of the pleasure bent lovers and thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

The out-of-town visitor came with a two-fold object. Many for recre tion from the arduous duties that country life in the spring imposes and others came for business. They came to learn and buy. They knew the needs that the farm exacts today and with the possibilities of future wealth that the crops promise, the farmer is preparing to buy what he needs.

The Calgary Summer Show gives him just the opportunity he desires. It gives him a chance to bring the family for pleasure and enjoyment, and enables him to see and learn of these things like tractors, farm machinery, livestock and many other things that his world needs, but he has no op-

VETERANS ARE WRONG IN THIS

A rumpus may be started by the veterans of Calgary because of the ppointment of the present incumbent in the superintendency of Banff National park. The veterans were in hopes that one of their number would be appointed, in fact, they were so sure that this would occur that they did little work to further their claims, depending on the government to wait until their wishes were expressed.

The Standard is not in accord with the two veterans who had been selected for the office. Neither man had any qualifications for the office They were not engineers, a very necessary qualification, nor did either the little deal of the special of the panel of the Ordinarily we would say, give the veterans the preference, all other things being equal. In this case they were very unequal. Ability of a rare nature was necessary for the candidate to fill this position with credit to himself. Because S. J. Clarke succeeded in the office and was not an engineer, is no reason that another could get the same results from the office.

While the Standard would have liked to have seen a Calgary man in the position, still the present appointee is a good head and capable of running the affairs successfully.

Now that the appointment has been made we believe it is well to leave well enough alone. Wasting time in needless discussion of a subject that is not likely to be changed, seems to be a needless effort that might well be forgotten at this time.

NEWSPAPER MEN'S TRIP

Unwards of thirty or more newspaper men of Canada have been invited and have accepted the invitation to go to the front. The reason given by the government for extending the invitation is that the newspaper men may opinion of disapproval, feeling that no one should criticize the action of place at approximately 650,000. see the condition of the war at first hand

To give the newspaper men a jaunting trip under ordinary circumstances | Bennett. would be a good thing and we would heartily endorse the project. Not that material good would be received by the donor, but because the poor newspaper man is entitled to all the pleasure that he can get.

But at the time when the government is clamering for money and cry-

The writer has seen many jaunting trips in the past and enjoyed the pleasure of some of them. In no case has he ver seen that the value in taken the opposite view since the courts have upheld Mr. Bennett in his dollars and cents have ever been received by the donors in return for the Nearly eevry man that has been invited on the trip is in a position to pay his expenses and not saddle the people with it. If they are so anxious of the good work that Mr. Bennett is doing almost daily for the country French artillery on the Somme surpassed anything previously known during to see the war at first hand, and this has been found necessary that they may logically and comprehensively write on the subject, why not pay their own expenses and let the Red Cross take the amount the government has donated for the expense, and let them give it to the starving Belgians.

From our point of view this jaunting trip is a clear case of extravagance without adequate returns to justify the expense to the people.

This decision was announced a few days ago at Ottawa, by Magistrate Askwith, after reviewing expert evidence at the trial of Frederick Hale, who was incarcirated on a charge of not following a useful occupation.

The evidence was that Hale was a trainer, for which he received salary and commission. The evidence showed that witnesses were present who stated that the horses would suffer if they were placed in the hands of inexperienced boys or laborers.

A member of the Dominion livestock branch of the government appeared for the defendant and stated that it was absolutely necessary that an expert trainer should handle Canadian bred horses. Several other experts appeared and gave similar evidence, with the result that the decision by the court was in favor of the defendant.

Comment and Criticism

LATE MILITARY ACT ILLEGAL

It was like a bomb from a clear sky the decision handed down by the Alberta supreme court to the order-in-council, four out of five judges conrring. The decision of the judges was that the act was invalid.

It is said that the military authorities will pay no attention to the cision until the supreme court of Canada has passed upon the validity of he act. And that they will continue to exercise their authority as heretofore, in conscripting eligibles who may be found. It is probable that the attorneys for the crown will take an immediate appeal, in which case a special session of parliament will have to be called o act on the bill in case the supreme court comes to the same decision as

The complainent to the act was the father of a boy, whom the authorties had conscripted. The father, a farmer, contends that he needs and is ntitled to the services of his son, and that the act is illegal in any event.

Should the decision be adverse to the military authorities there is no bt that a new act will be passed that will eradicate all the objectionable

In the meanwhile it is a question how many men who have been enisted under the act will apply for habeas corpus writ to get their release. fany now on the way to the front would undoubtedly do so if they were quainted with the present decision. Late reports state that many have dready applied for release under the decision.

WITH THE EXEMPTIONISTS

Referring to the recent decision of the exemption case which has caused much discussion, we are prone to think along the line of the farmer. We ave no desire to criticize the acts of the military authorities, but we still sel that when the government makes a law and backs it up with its signathis law should be as good as gold. To accept and bank on this law nd then to have the signature considered worthless—as a scrap of paper more ni keeping with the actions of the enemies we are fighting than a ast nation that is fighting for law and justice.

her's lad has an exemption and under the promise that this n was supposed to have lvegn him, has got married, making ceromises to his wife, only to plunge both of them into a sea of unlessantness by the military authorities ignoring the promise and drafting

If the government passes a law for the good of the people as a whole and we accept this law and live it and abide by it we should be entitled to all the conditions that our acceptance entails. When this act is over-ridden by other authorities of lesser degree, then it is due the people that the government protect the people from such unjust authority by compelling an observance of the act. We believe that all liberal minded citizens will gree in our contention, irrespective of the necessity of the occasion.

For those who may be doubtful about the effect of general prohibition on pusiness, it might be well to consider the fact that over $2,500,000,000 is spent each year in the United States for liquor. No matter which side of the question you are on, the facts are that this big amount of money will be spent for other goods if prohibition goes into effect in that country. It is also a fact that the earning power of a great many men will be increased. These men, it is estimated, will be able to earh over $2,000,000,000 more through abstinence—a great part of which would go into the tills of the merchants of the country.

This is only a repetition of hunreds of similar experiences of young men today. They have the ability and are willing to work. Keep them within a certain radius and they will be a uccess. Give them too much rope and they will hang themselves. Nature won't give you everything. If she gives you the perquisites in the way of ability she expects you to earn the rest. When you fail to do your part and expect self-importance to carry you through, look out for the bursting of the balloon.

Self inflation shows a striking example not long ago in a young manager who occupied a very exalted position in the theatre world, or hought he did, only to become so inflated that he burst with self-import nce. As a young man occupy inor position in a business office he was a success. He did his work well and his employers were pleased. Then came his opportunity. He became anager of a show house. The position was a good one. It allowed scope for advancement and the young man grew in influence, afluence and selfinflation. "The Open Switch" is the title of the second episode of Vitagraph's thrilling serial, featuring Hedda Nova, which will also be shown in addition to the above feature picture. Whether you have seen the first episode or not you can not afford to miss "The Open Switch." At the close of last week's chapter a terrific explosion took place just as the hero and heroine were crossing a bridge escorted by a band of Cossacks, how they escaped this untimely death will be revealed in the second episode, and there are many more hair-raising situations ombined with those in the preceding chapter. "The Woman in the Web" promises to be the most popular serial shown in Calgary to date. See this big double feature program at the Allen Monday and Tuesday.

POLITICAL GRAFT THEME OF CHARLES RAY'S PICTURE "HIS OWN HOME TOWN"

Political corruption, hyprocisy, brav ery, and honesty are the elements which combine to make "His Own Home Town," the new Paramount hotoplay starring Charles Ray, at the Allen next Wednesday and Thursday, a most notable production. Mr. Ray has thousands of admirers who have been attracted to him by his versati lity and conscientious work, and in the role he protrays in this photo-drama he appears to signal advantage.

The scenes of "His Own Home Town" are laid in a small city, which is dominated by a political boss and a few of his henchmen, including a hypocritical churchman, the father of

The Canadian Army Service Corps comes in for many words of praise for the good work of the members of the corps. As the article makes special reference to a criticism that many have made against the members of the corps it gives the writer much pleasure to repeat the high flattering words of approbation that the boys overseas feel towards the Army Serv ice Corps. In part it says:

FLY-COPS AND EDITORS NON-ESSENTIALS

We understand that the government has a number of men in Calgary today from Edmonton—men they call evidence producers, but what we call "fly-cops" and what business men call scallawags. They are nosing around trying to make trouble.

We would like to remind these men that we like the serenity of our town that our worthy chief with two officers and a detective are quite capable of taking care of all crime in Calgary. We do not like the appropriate that this recomment along the care heads.

do not like the imposition that this movement placed on our heads.

If the fatted calves have all been shorn of their wealth in Edthonton, then the government better place these men in the army or in some useful pursuits instead of hunting for trouble against the business interests of the community, trumping up evidence just to fill the coffers with fines.

Talking about non-essentials, the two greatest evidences of essentials are the editors who have time to leave their papers and jaunt around the country for months and the "fly-cop" who is levoting his time to procuring evidence.

Cleaning their own kitchen is a darn good maxim before they counsel on protecting the peace of our town.

We want this to sink into your mentality and to whe may do you some good. We never know Mr. Parker dislikes personal publicity, but we are taking an advantage which the paper is entitled to as a diseminator of news. The excepting serpent of disease drops in on us and faster, its fangs. He likes advertising and knows the value of advertising as is demoninto our body and heretofore all medicine has been in vain.

For this reason we want you to read this comment and remember it. Perhaps it may be the means of lifting you from a cloud of uncertainty and despair to a day of sunshine and hope. At least it gives those afflicted three more means of gaining health and

We may seem a little harsh upon those exponents of medical practice. The better ones will not feel it because they know we are not aiming at them—and that we are right. And the lesser lights are non-essentials.

When times are good, when commodities sell with ease, or when there is such a situation that a company or an industry has daily reports of the battles have a disconcerting effect and would no competitors to fear, there is a tendency to belittle the need of it not be better if we did not get but one authentic report, once a advertising. Coffee is a staple drink and its distributors contended that it required no advertising to get people to drink coffee. Substitutes for coffee were invented and were put on the market with an aggressive advertising ampaign. The result is that the distributors, backed by the Brazilian growers, are going to spend $1,000,000 a year in advertising coffee. When bicycles were in vogue there was a popular speedometer in use that controlled the field. The manufacturers of this article did not advertise and they lost their real opportunity to new companies that made millions on automobile speedometers.

THE DEMAGOGUES OF MEDICINE

To the ordinary mortal good and bad exists everywhere and the latter seems to predominate. Wherever life is, bad seems to go side by side with good, and to many of us it seems that in the race, bad usually has the lead.

As life seems to be made up of good and bad to the ordinary mortal, so it is seen in organizations, clubs and societies. In every gathering where two or more are combined, bad seems to have a hand. From evil intent to actual demonstration bad has a hand in the gathering and plys its trade unceasingly and unremittenly. At least, this fact seems to exist in ordinary life and the truth of it is attested by the demonstrated conditions.

The above remarks are a foreword to the following article which may bring the reader into the right frame of mind for a perusal of the comment. The intent and purpose of this comment is not to cast any reflection upon the good, that surely exists in life, as well as in organizations, but to deplore and condemn evil, which seems to predominate everywhere and has a safe resting in this particular organization we are writing about.

There is an expression that says that the medical profession is as "old as the hills." It certainly has descended from the ages and has wielded its sceptre, for good and bad, from times memorial.

In the early days of the world the medicine man, the father of the present profession, doned the garb of a grotesque being and with many clownish details (combined with herbs and other ingredients, swayed the lives of the people, up and down, depending on the faith of the patient for the results.

These medicine men had a clan of their own and they plied their trade successfully. Having no books in these days the control or position was handed down from father to son, or from one medicine man to someone whom he desired to fill his position after his

For this reason these medicine men experimented until they became very efficient in prescribing for the ordinary ailments of their followers sting of this competitor and the power which lies behind its cloak. just as the present day physician prescribes for the ills of our every day mortals.

Good and bad existed in those days and many a bad medicine man has fought with vim and determination a competitor, even administering of his powers as reliever of the needs of the sick and not behind the movement. BECAUSE THEY REALIZE TO AT-TEMPT TO INTERFERE WITH THE WORK OR TEACH INGS OF THIS MIGHTY RELIGIOUS BODY WOULD WRECK RUIN UPON THEM FOREVER. Even these ignorant exponents have a few grains of sense.

But like a rat in the night they continue to nibble and bite at the lesser organizations whch are not so well organized. With inneundoes and publicity of a character that is pub'shed without the paper giving the matter any thought they try to weave public thought to their way of thinking.

With legal attempts of a somewhat desultory character they attempt to show just cause for the attempt of the "dark ages" to wrestle from the sicken world the only hope that remains in their

They would take away the opportunity that these modern discoveries have shown are possible for the recovery for a people that medicine has already predicted as incurable and that no relief may be expected in this world. They would do all this to carry out their diabolical plan to eschew competition that the coffers of their pockets might reap the harvest.

The writer predicts that if the medical profession ever insists on the government for an enforcement of this law there will be such howl go up to heaven from the mouths of suffering humanity that the roar of it will ring in the ears of the members until death gives them relief.

One is apt to endorse a law that gives the discoverer the patented rights to a piece of machinery. It would also protect a man who makes two blades of grass grow where one grew before. These discoverers are entitled to the fruits of their efforts.

But a majority of the men of the medical profession today should be driving a dray cart in preference to prescribing for suffering humanity when a question of relief is considered. Many of them are today eiking out an existence without any just cause for following this profession, excepting an early training which greed rather than desire for good permits them to qualify.

We do not mean by this that the medical profession has no honest, conscentious members. Far from it. There are men of the profession today laboring, and using every vital force that nature has endowed them with, to relieve suffering humanity. This kind of a public benefactor is not spending any time hatching up schemes to curtail competition. They are denyng themselves every pleasure and jeopardzing their very existence to help humanity. This calibre of humanity savior and public benefactor is not spending his time in the dark corners of a back office hatching schemes to stifle competition, but is working to make sufferers God-loving,

Weekly Market Letter A. H. MAYLAND

With the light receipts at the beginning of the week, up until Friday morning, the market held steady with a little advance over fast week. Market Friday morning had a weaker tone and buyers were hanging back. We look for cattle market in the com-ing week to be a little lower as there are a great many coming to the mar-ket on Thursday and Friday. There anything but butcher steers on the market, and from 11c to 12c has been 10½c. There are quite a number of fat heavy cows on the market which are selling from 9c to 91/2c, with com-

Cattle: With fairly liberal receipts of cattle for the time of year the price on good beef was slightly stronger. Choice fat steers sold from $11.75 to $12.50; mediums from $10.50 to $11.50 and common killers which the buyers seemed more willing to bid on brought from $9.50 to $10.50. Fat cows and from $9.50 to $10.50. Fat cows and helfers were as usual in good demand and we sold one full load of 24 cows at $9.40. We quote choice fat cows and helfers at $9 to $9.40 with an occasional nice helfer somewhat higher.

Medium cows from $8 to $8.50 and common cows $7 to $8 with canners and cutters $3.50 to $5.50. There were very few bulls and oxen on saie, the best bulls sold around 7c and fat 14.813.213 oxen would realize $7.50 to $9 with Last week. 4,955,051 the best bulls sold around 7c and fat Last year. 14,813,213 oxen would realize $7.50 to $9 with canner and cutter oxen from 4c to 6½c Although a number of stockers changed hand the demand was not sufficient to clean up the yards and the prospects are that a number will be held over. Good steers from 850 lbs., up and young stocker cows to go back to grass were the best sellers—the form-er selling from 8c to 9c and the latter from $6 to $6.75. Yearlings are hard to sell and $40 is considered a good

ALBERTA FLOUR MILLS LIMITED

Foundations for the 6,000-barrel per day mill are completed, and work has started on the super-structure.

The company has brought to their mill-site the finest of equipments to expedite the work and cut to the greatest possible degree handling and labor costs.

They have their own gravel plant on the bank of the Bow River, a quarter of a mile from the works, here the gravel and sand are washed and separated, and the rock crushed, the sand and gravel are then carted to bucket conveyors at the works, which convey same to storage bins over the two great 30 cubic ft. concrete mixers. The cement is stored in shed on track, and is conveyed by overhead belt conveyor to cement storage bins over mixers.

Reinforcing steel for the concrete is piled along the north side of excavations. 350,000 feet of lumber is piled at west end for forms, etc. There is a fully equipped saw mill and planing mill, a machine shop and blacksmith shop. The directors offer the stock of the company to the citizens of Calgary and the Province of Alberta, and invite them to visit the offices of the company where they will be informed regarding the enterprise and conducted to the works in East Calgary where operation and construction will be explained to them.

AVERAGE LIFE OF FARM TRACTOR ABOUT EIGHT YEARS

The average life of a farm tractor s from 71/2 to 8 years, according to estimates furnished by over 600 experienced tractor owners on representative corn-belt farms in Illinois. This is brought out in a study conducted in 1917 and the spring of 1918 by the United States department of agriculture, a report of which is published in Farmers' Bulletin 963. The reports of the tractor owners show that the outfits are used on an average of 45 days per year.

While at first glance this may appear low, when it is remembered that on farms where horses do all the work they are used on an average of only about 100 days annually. it will be seen that where both horses and tractors are used, even though the num-ber of horses is somewhat reduced, the machine need not be expected to have employment for as many days annually as did the horses. The horses kept will stril do some of the work, which will, of course, decrease the amount to be done by the tractor. A considerable percentage of the 100 days' work done by horses represents odd jobs for which the tractor can not be used to advantage. Even if the machine were to do all the work formerly done by the horses, it would not normally be employed 100 days per year, inasmuch as it does the work more rapidly.

Farm Management an Important

It should be borne in mind, says the ulletin, that practically all farm op. erations must be carried on within limited periods, and that between these seasons there will often be no field work which the tractor can do, either on the home farm or for neighbors. The fact that weather and soil work with a tractor does not necessar ily mean that there is such work to be done. Farm management plays an the planning of a crop rotation which

Being a business man and knowing something concerning the value of a well satisfied customer, it occurred to me that a few words of appreciation relative to the Model D Moline Tractor, purchased from your firm one month ago, would not be amiss. In every respect the machine has exceeded all expectations. Without any previous experience two boys have plowed nearly 120 acres of land, and are now busily engaged in discing. This been accomplished in about three weeks time. I think the beauty in the machine lies in its simplicity, but it has everything else to back it up-lower, low cost of production, and speed.

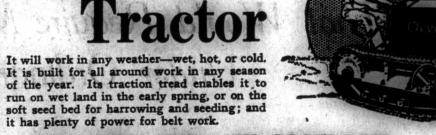

I am also grateful to you and other members of your staff for the service you have rendered from time to time. It has been excellent, and several times the boys and myself have had occasion to speak of it.

Yours very truly,

The City of Beauty Now The City of Industry

How The Ship Building Industry is Rejuvenating the Town.

If the war continues and the need of ships grow greater, Victoria will probably be rechristened "The Shipping Building City of the Canadian West," She has already gained quite a prominence in this direction although her actual production has not been as large as many of the cities on the other side of the water. That she is doing her part in this connection, however, to meet the demands of the country redounds to

Ideal conditions prevail in Victoria for shipbuffding. The harbor has been dredged to an extent that will permit vessels of any size to come and go at will. The outlet is handy and easily are unsurpassed anywhere.

When the great need for ships became apparent the Cameron Lumber Company, Limited, operating a saw mill on the upper harbor of Victoria, and the Genoa Bay Lumber Company, operating a mill on Cowichan Bay, Vancouver Island, organized a shipbuilding company under the title of Limited" and established a shipyard on the western shore of the inner harbor of the city of Victoria. Work was started thereon about June 1, 1916. After the necessary buildings had been erected and the machinery installed, the keels for three ships were laid down in rapid succession, and work thereon pushed with all possible speed.

The first ship was launched about Feb. 1, 1917. So far there have been launched by that company six fivemasted wooden schooners. These ships are 256 feet long over ali, 43 feet hold, with a carrying capacity of from 1.500,000 to 1,7500,000 feet of lumber with auxiliary power of the Bolinder with a normal speed of 7 knots when engine-driven, using oil fuel, and carry-

The Story of Victoria, Where Life is Ideal and Living a Pleasure

Victoria is the most western city of the Pacific northwest, easily reached from Seattle and Van-couver by four hours' sail on the most beautiful inland waters of the world. It is the capital of British Columbia, the nava station of the imperal government, and a military depot of the Canadian government.

It is the most western extrest of the British empire and a city which appeals most strongly to the American tourist, because it is the only opical English city on the contine

The climate of Victoria is most narkable. The average temp during 1914 was 56.3 degrees, and total rature attained was $2 degrees, and the lowest 36 degrees above sero. Daily average bright sunshine 5% 1914, has established itself as one o

It has a population of 65,000 and is one of the richest cities per capita in the world. It is a thoroughly modern and up-to-date city. Probably there The Robertson Iron Works, Shore is no other city its size with the miles street, supply most of the heavy forg- of paved streets, concrete sidewalks, ings for the steering engines and other boulevards and electric light standmachinery, for which they are fully ards-in fact, in the evening it is one equipped with steam hammers and blaze of light throughout the whole central portion.

The Lemon Gonnason Company, while a new drydock for naval and dows and house finishings for the ves. relation to the Panama canal, the rest pleting similar work for the steamers of Canada as a whole; its opportunibuilding for the imperial munitions ties for manufacturers, together with its singular scenic attractiveness and its opportunities for outdoor sport and

Its appeal to tourists consists very largely in the fact that it is different intersection of the streets regulating traffic, is the very image of the familiar London "Bobby"; the "Bluejacket" on shore leave, the "Hielan" mon" in his kilt or the Fusilier in his "busby" make you believe almost that you are in one of the many garrison towns at "home." The beautiful homes of the people set in gorgeous old English gardens, enclosed by the typical English fence or palisade; the country lanes and drives lined with the fragrant wild roses of old England, all make you feel that you have been transplanted 6,000 miles to the old

A visit to the coast that does not include a few days at Victoria cannot be justified; it is like seeing Hamlet without the Prince of Denmark. It is rather a pity to spend the time in "doing" cities that are in most of their essential features very much alike, if it means eliminating Victoria, when by a four hours' safe by steamer on one of the most beautiful stretches of inland waters in the world, your trip may take on all the characteristics of a foreign tour.

SUCCESS OF THE ARMY AND THE CROPS

The wonderful successes that our armies are attaining at the front will make up for all the losses that the country is losing in burnt-up crops. The reports are gratifying and indicate that the end of the war is in sight and the finish will be as we anticipated.

There is no doubt that this last offensive has been a mighty big one-the biggest conflict heretofore engaged in by the conflicting annies and the fact that we have overcome our enemies shows that our strength has grown in the past few months; our facilities greater and our men in better trim.

We have the United States to thank for a part of our success. Their resources-men and supplies-have gone a long way to help us. Their help has also ingendered a new feeling in the fighters of other nations that makes for success.

While there s trouble ahead when we get too sanguine over conditions, we have covered the apex of the fighting and we are now on the other side of the fence. With good luck, ability and common sense the day of peace is not of distant date. For this we should rejoice.

ABOUT OUR CROPS

The ominious talk indulged in by many firms and others are uncalled for and are retarding business before we are hurt.

Of course, there are numerous places where the crops have been destroyed-eaten up from lack of rain, BUT THE GOVERNMENT REPORTS STATE THAT EVEN THIS FAILURE HAS NOT OVERCOME THE FACT THAT WE SHALL HAVE A 7 PER CENT INCREASE IN CROPS FOR THE YEAR.

A few years ago if we had seven per cent increase on our crops at the dollar price of wheat we would have been overjoyed for nature's gift. Here we are with wheat at a price that is beyond our wildest dreams-with a crop record for the year of seven per cent over last year AND WE ARE RACK-ING OUR SYSTEM WITH DOUBT AND PESSIMISTIC

Somehow it dosen't make any difference how many gifts we have in this world. Shower some of us with gold and we would endeavor to kick against the load.

It's the make-up of the animal, not the time or conditions.

BRYANT WASHBURN AND HIS FAMILY VISIT MR. AND MRS. SLEEPING PONY

Photoplay fans need not be surprised when there presently appears on the screen, Mr. and Mrs. Sleeping Pony of Sante Fe, New Mexico. The snapshot above shows Bryant Washburn, the Pathe Star, Mrs. Washburn and the Washburn youngster, paying a call on Mr. and Mrs. Sleeping Pony, who are full blooded Sante Fe Indians. The picture was taken at the urgent request of Mrs. Sleeping Pony, who assured the smiling screen star that he was her favorite of all the dashing heroes of the movies. Mr. Sleeping Pony sneered and said he could act just as well as the hero of "Kidder & Ko." so maybe the Sleeping Ponies will some day be sure enough camera actors.

CROP ROTATION AND WEED CONTROL

Nearly every crop is accompanied by certain kinds of weeds. The weeds that thrive in a grain crop are usual ly quite different from those we find most plentiful in meadows. If small grain is grown continuously we will likely find the land becoming very weedy. These particular weeds are usually easily killed by cultivation. Some may be very bad in spring grain, but can be controled by a hoe crop. The ox-eye daisy may be bad in hay land but will give little trouble in corn The opposite is true of other weeds and give less trouble in grain or hay. It is best, then, not to grow any crop continuously that is favorable to the growth of weeds. The following is taken from Farm Weeds of Canada:

Short Rotation of Crops

"To keep farms free from weeds, few methods give such good results as a systematic short rotation of crops with regular seeding down to grass or clover at short intervals

"Weeds are most in evidence in districts where the production of cereal grains predominates and where the systematic alteration of crops is not general.y practiced. Many weeds ripen their seeds with cereal grains and the seeds are scattered during harvest. When a cereal crop is followed by early clover, the weeds in the clover

WHAT SAY YOU READERS-ARE YOU FAVORABLE?

Let's have a Good Thought Day. On that day we will make an effort through concerted thought to convey much good to the boys "over there" that is bound to redound to their benefit. We have many holidays, but we have no Good Thought Day. Some will say that we are holding good thoughts every day. Yes, no doubt we are, but to most of us it has grown into a desultory, half-interest, haphazard sort of a way that counts for little. If there is any power in thought the combination of thousands of people combined and held at the same time must have an answering effect.

A few weeks ago the United States held a Prayer Day and thousands of people prayed for the boys at the front. This prayer may not have been answered to our mind BUT SUCCESS HAS FOLLOWED THE U.S. BOYS EVERYWHERE ABROAD.

Good thought Day means no expenditure but effort. The least we can give them is this. Father, Mother, Sister and Brother may all join in this worthy movement. What say you good readers of The Standard, shall we advocate for a National Good Thought Day and when shall it be

Dear Wife:-I am writing you this letter with the idea that it may onvey to you some of the underlying principles that go to make up my existence and with the hope that perhaps it may awaken in you some pro-Civities that will make for happiness, or at least help us to fight the fight life and overcome the besetting troubles of marriagedom.

I have tried to discuss these things a great many times, but the serpent of resentment has grown too powerful in both of our make-ups to permit of a personal solution of our many difficulties.

We have been married many, many years and instead of profiting through years of discretion we have grown apart and raised in our hearts Gods of Evil, in the shape of Self-Will and Self-Denials, that surmounts every other

In some respects we are much alike in nature. We have been cursed with a domineering proclivity and this thing has grown and expanded until today it stands above us wielding the power it possesses and killing every instinct that might be born for a better life.

In faults as well as virtues we both possess many. I shall not elaborate on those of my own. You know them too well. I shall mention yours merely that you may see how the other fellow may see the situation

During our entire married life you have been possessed with this domevening party to the young ones take ineering attitude, which to you is second nature and for this reason is hid den from your view. Accept it or not as you like, you have conveyed this impression to everyone, one of dissatisfaction that is your fault. You will doubtless deny this assertion. CALGARY FIRMS PROFITEERING

What chance has the poor citizen and business man got today. Absolutely none. Despite the assurances of the food commissioners profiteering in a small way is going on everywhere. In some cases it is caused through indifference of the employes who have grown so independent, through the lack of help, that they pay little attention to the work they have to do or to the requirements that the position entails. In other cases, the business firms are charging and ROBBING the people conscientiously or unconscientiously just as the thought may be uppermost in their minds when the act

If you doubt the truth of our remarks just take three grocery stores and buy 25 cents worth of sugar. If you find that anyone of these firms give you within fifty per cent of the amound that the law laying in "The Other Man's Wife," the play that all America is says should be delivered—then your experience will be different talking about at Grand next Thursday and two following days; than ours has been.

> As an experiment take any staple line of commodity and go hoto a half dozen stores and purchase the same goods and see the differ ence in price. If any two of them agree in price then our experience has been one that is a rare case.

REPRIMAND GOVERNMENT EMPLOYES

Nor are the stores the only ones to blame. The government is doing exactly the same thing in every line of endeavor where they

The post office department is negligent to an alarming extent. Tis true that they are suffering for want of help, but common sense is not being used to save labor when it is possible.

If you want to buy Five Dollars worth of cancelled stamps to save the post office employes the labor of unwrapping packages and cancelling these stamps, IT CAN'T BE DONE-NOTHING LESS THAN TEN DOLLARS.

Imagine a law so behind the times and radical as to impose unnecessary duties upon the employes when the hardworking postmaster finds it impossible to secure sufficient help to even transmit the mail on time.

And in connecton with this subject, sad to relate, there as deays wholly unnecessary in the delivery of the mail. If you don't think so, just deposit a package addressed to a country town in the post office at five o'clock tonight and then note that it takes early days to harness this so-called love, and preserve it for yourself you forty-eight hours for this mail to reach its destination and he dehave combated it through unjust suspicion, frightened it away, until it has livered, although the town is only a hundred miles away and two

CUSTOMS DEPARTMENT OVERCHARGE

A few days ago The Standard had two packages come from the States. Both were identical and both came from the same city. They were sent because the firm wanted to be absoultely sure that we would get the cut in time for publication.

When we applied for the package the clerk assessed us forty cents for the package. The next day we called for the duplicate and HE ASSESSED US FIFTY-FIVE CENTS. Kicks were in vain. They were orders mandatory and they had the power and would carry them out. So acted the clerks.

These are only a few of the daily trials that one business man uns against. Others of a like character might be mentioned that

With all these besetting troubles, however, we are growing onward and upward in this land of sunshine and great promise, makng history for the greatest country in the world.

Thus it will be seen that the greater art of Vancouver Island is directly nnected up with the city and port Victoria as the distributing centre in island of 16,000 square miles in ea, which occupies a most conspicus position both geographically and rategically on the map of western anada. This area is one of infinite id undeveloped wealth: its forests, pai mines, mineral deposits and fishries all accessible from a lengthy past line, or by rail, open up immense ossibilities for enterprise and the inestment of capital.

Inquiries are frequently made from arbor commissioners and port authories from British dominions, European orts and the United States as to the rade of the port and the facilities aforded in the harbor of Victoria for andling vessels and their cargoes. hese inquiries have been met by the retary and copies of recent reports warded to inquirers, and about 2.000 ies of the booklet, "The Harbor and y of Victoria," have been circulated leading ports and shipping centres the world during the year.

RECORD WOOL CLIP FOR WESTERN CANADA

weel clip of Western Canada seem to have been much too conservative. It now looks as if the increase over last year's clip will be as high as fifty per cent. This is the estimate of the clip of the Southern Alberta Wool Growers Association—the largest association of sheepmen in Western Cahada. Last year the members of this association had 158,000 sheep sheared; this year the number sheared is about 225,000, or 70,000 mere than last year. It it expected that the Southern Alberta Association will have about 1,575,000 pounds of wool for sale, and that the members will realize a total amount of more than a million dollars on the clip.

Most of the wool of Alberta shee is marketed through the variou growers associations in different part of the prevince. The Pincher Cree Association—also in Southern Aberta—will have about 85,000 pound of weol for disposal which represent a fairly substantial increase over the quantity marketed by this association last year. Increases of from twenty five to fifty per cent over last year clips are also looked for at Calgary

In Saskatchewan the grading and selling of the wool is undertaken by the Co-oper-tive Branch of the Department of Agriculture. A large quantity is also handled independent by Last year the Co-operative Branch marketed for Saskatchewan farmers 223,000 peunds of weel; this year it expects to handle at least of the growing interest taken in sheep by the farmers of the wheat prevince. Manitoba also has a co-operative scheme for the handling of well, which is taken advantage of by the majority of farmers there. The wool is sent to a central point for grading and serting, and the farmers receive an advance of between twenty and thirty cents a pound on their wool, I which is sold at the best opportunity. Present indications are that at least 1250,000 pounds will be handled by the Department of Agriculture in this manner this year. This quantity is about twenty-five per cent, more than I was sold last year.
