With these words he had passed the boundary of her endurance. She rose beautiful and brave as a leopardess her usually mild eyes, flashing fire on him, and her small hands clenched

"Wynter Leigh is an honest and true hearted man, and if there is one in the world, and until it is proven to me that he is other than that will never cease to love him!"

Then she sank into the chair, and her hands.

The farmer started grimly at her then in silence left the room.

Two days later Squire Heather bridge was filled with concern for poor Jaffer's ignorance, and declared that he would send him to school. It was shocking to see the grandson of and tried Douglas' Egyptian Liniment. He writes:

"Some time ago I had typhoid fever, was confined to bed for 4 months, and left with a running sore in my leg. I tried every remedy I could hear of, but found none to help me.

"I was prevailed upon to try Egyptian Liniment by my friends. Although thoroughly disheartened, I decided to give it a trial, and am very happy to say that the result was marvellous. The sore was soon entirely healed. To anyone suffering from ailments of a similar nature Egyptian Liniment is certainly a boon."

It is really wonderful the way Egyptian Liniment cleans out running sores and festering wounds, removes the unhealthy conditions and permanently heals. It's just as good, too, for Sprains, Bruises, Rheumatism—in fact, for everything which liniment can cure.

Children Under 13 Should Drink Lowney's

Why? As children begin to grow up, they often tire of milk and water and want to drink what Papa and Mamma drink-including tea and coffee.

The best dietetic authorities in England and elsewhere say that children under 13 should never touch tea or coffee. But after seven years of age, cocoa is recommended.

Lowney's is made from the finest cocoa beans the tropics produce. Our Montreal factory is a model of neatness and up-to-dateness

's Cocoa is thoroughly wholesome, with a delicious flavor that quickly appeals to both children and their parents.

clothes. Too often we laugh at them

In our neighbourhood there is person with the outward semblance of a man. People who see him on the street or know him casually think he deserves to be called one. People who know him better usually come to realize that he is simply a grown up child of the least desirable class. Here is a little example of the tricks by which he has earned this reputation. In company with several other young couples he and his wife used to play cards two or three evening every week. One very lovely Summer evening the rest of the company felt dis-

So angryfused to grow old was he at this refusal to yield to his with their body, preference that he not only stayed at home and played cards, but he actual ly "got mad" and refused even to speak to the offenders any more.

What do you think of that? He saw them constantly, on the street, at social gatherings and at the restaurant they all frequented, but he passed them by in stony silence. The other really have grown old but refuse to day he found himself on the street car sitting next to one of the women and alhough she was quite ready to say good morning and pass the time of day, he hid behind his paper and hugged his "mad." Do you remember what Portia says of one of her lovers? "God-made him and, herefore, let him pass for a man, That is a very expressive description of some people, isn't it?

Again, I know a hostess of a board ing house who says she has to be very careful to have all her helpings exactly alike, because there are some of her guests who would be much upset if they thought anyone else was getting an ounce more of pudding or more plums in their sauce than they.

To have grown up and lost all the glories of childhood, and not to have compensated one's self by getting rid of its pettiness and petulance, surely this is one of the tragedies of life.

WOMAN'S WISDOM.

The worried mother wakes up to hear her baby's heavy breathing—a little cough—perhaps the croup or whooping cough. She does not want to send for the doctor when perhaps the trouble does not amount to much. Finally she thinks of that medical book her father gave her, The Common Sense Medical Adviser, by R. V. Pierce, M. D. She says "just the thing to find out what is the matter with the little dear." Two million households in this country own one—and it's to be had for only 31c. in stamps—1,000 pages in splendid cloth binding. A good family adviser in any emergency. It is for either sex. This is what many women write Dr. Pierce—in respect to his "Favorite Prescription," a remedy which has made thousands of melancholy and miserable women cheerful and happy, by curing the painful womanly diseases which undermine a woman's health and strength.

"My desire is to write a few lines to let you know what your valuable medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. Margaret Zuebert, of 323 S. Bentalon Street, Baltimore, Md. "Before the storck came to our house I was a very sick woman. I wrote you for advice which was kindly given and which made me a different woman in a short time. After taking the first bottle of 'Favorite Prescription' I began improving so that I hardly knew I was in such a condition. I did my own housework—washing and froning, cooking, sewing, and the worst of all nursed three children who had whooping cough. I hardly knew of the advent ten minutes before—so easy was it. The baby is as fat as a butter-ball. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine for any woman to take when in this condition. I recommend it

Bald Jack Rose.

Says Becker Hired Him to Kill Rosen- pleaded Mr. McIntyre

New York, Oct. 12 .- Long hours of cross examination by supperless lawyers before a supperless court and jury failed to-night to make "Bald" Jack Rose vary his story of the part his hand, his elbow on the table dur he says he played and the part he says Police Lt. Becker played in the mured of Herman Rosenthal, the

"Becker told me," he said, "that he wanted Rosenthal murdered, shot, croaked or dynamited. At his bidding I got the gunmen to kill Rosenthal. After the murder I saw Becker in the morning and later talked with him over the phone. I gave the gunmen $1,000 for Becker and told them he said not to worry, but lay low, I gave myself up and became a state's witness because Becker deserted me like a dirty dog and was getting ready to throw me to the wolves."

A Long Session.

Justice Goff convened the afternoon session at 2.25 o'clock. Shortly before 9 o'clock to-night he declared it adjourned until Monday morning, after John F. McIntyre, Becker's lawyer. fying to save his own life, but he said he was telling the truth now. protested he was on the verge of collapse. Court, jury, counsel, witnesses state's witness only when the electric

"I am on the verge of collapsing,

"Proceed with the case," Justice Goff's reply. Not for thre journed.

Becker Cool.

Becker, cool and stoical, leaned or the table at which he sat, his chin in ing the long cross examination Twenty feet back, in the first row of seats usually reserved for spectators sat his wife. Her eyes were for her husband, rather than for the court Once, only once, he glanced back a her and smiled.

Rose Is Unruffled.

"Bald Jack" Rose, thick lipped, wide eared and without a hair on his glist-ening head was unruffled by the ordeal. Once he faltered when Becker's lawyer hurled question after question at him. Each ended with "And you said you lied, didn't you?" Once he leaned forward, buried his face in his hands and tottered on the stand. He seemed about to faint and the cour ceedings and windows were lowered to

Within a few minutes he was re freshed and the cross examination was self, had been a gambler and had been engaged for twenty years in illegal business. He admitted he was testi-

He said he had concluded to becom lapse. Court, Jury, counsel, witnesses and the accused had been without food since noon luncheon. Justice Goff, white-haired and of venerable appearance seemed the least fatigued of all in the court room.

"I warned you," he told John F. MicIntyre, Becker's lawyer, "early in the evening, that we would finish this

"Have you got a conscience?" de manded the lawver.

"I don't know," he said, measuring his words and facing the lawyer squarely. "I never saw it."

Was Becker's Tool. Throughout Rose declared that he had no motive of his own for killing Rosenthal, but had acted solely on Becker's directions. Time and again, Mr. McIntyre quoted alleged conver-sations between Rose and men of the underworld, apparently in an attempt to prove that Rose himself desired the gambler's death. "No such conversations ever occurred," was his stock reply to these questions.

"But you were Becker's graft collector so you say.'

"I was." Not once during the day were Rose's methods of collecting alleged graft the subject of a question.

Why Who's Who.

BY H. L. RANN.

A yellow hour dog and a fullfledged, baldheaded nemesis are enough to put a crimp any man's chances for the presidency. Clark, from his vantage point the rear seat o the Wilson band-

The coral of the houn' dog was bad enough, but it was a mere fly speck compared to the six-cylinder nemesis of William Bryan. Mr. Bryan has one of the most formidable and bloodthirsty nemesises which ever stalked ruthlessly over the prostrate physique of a foe. When he went to Baltimore he packed his nemesis in his grip. along with his toothbrush and a clean shirt, but he hadn't been in town fifteen minutes before he took it out and shook it in the faces of Messrs. Murpby and Taggart, et al.

When Mr. Clark caught sight of the Bryan nemesis, which was biting large hoies in the atmosphere in the effort to purify our politics, he became highly peeved in the region of the temper and made several important contributions to profane history. He called continued. Rose admitted time after Mr. Bryan an ingrate and various time, that he had lied, perjured himother forms of animal life, and said he wasn't afraid of any nemesis that had been licked three times hand run-triumphed on the forty-sixth ballot and has been gloating in bright purple gloats ever since. But speaker Clark has rigged up a pretty fair nemesis of his own and is camping on the trail of his Nebraska brother with a choice collection of Missouri cuss words. He is anxious to pit his nemesis against Bryan's for the gate receipts, and when this happens, hold

Speaker Clark is somewhat of the Abe Lincoln type, but is built more on the order of a dirigible balloon. When he is not thinking of the Baltimore convention he is a genial man, with a mooth artesian well flow of Pike ounty anecdote. He is one of our ost vivacious chewers of tobacco. and knows the political game from aseball to cupola. From present inlications, he will preside over the use for some time to come.

Send Out Your GOLD!

Four years ago the People's Party waxed great on what they were going to do for Agriculture, should the reins of Government be handed over to them. They were going to cut the flour barrel in two, hay was to be abundant and turned into a plentiful supply of home raised and ted beet, the hills were to be whitened with sheep which would be converted into a good and wholesome abundance of mutton, potatoes and other vegetables were to be plentiful and cheap, and most of the gold which we were told went abroad to pay for an excessive consumption of flour by the people and the large quantities of meat and vegetables imported would be kept at home. This in principle is all right, but what about the policy which was to convert the principle into practice. What good has come of it all after three years expenditure of large sums of money by the Department in charge of the Government policy? To-day the Acting Secretary of the Board of Agriculture is spending his time on the potato canker which has struck the country and threatens to destroy or seriously curtail our local supply of potatoes, a form of Agriculture which our people excel. The result therewill be that after four seasons of the Morris Agricultural policy we shall have to send more gold than ever out sourness in five minutes—that—just of the country to buy foreign potatoes. that-makes Pape's Diapepsin the Then again we find that the hay crop largest selling stomach regulator in is shorter than ever, due of course to e inclement season, but in no material way has the shortage due to that into stubborn lumps, you belch gas cause been supplemented to cope with and eructate sour, undigested food and the serious situation which now confronts the country. The Government now finds instead of keeping gold in the country, it has to take the duty off ed with bile and indigestible waste, gold abroad in greater quantities than ever to bring in foreign hay that milch cow keepers and horse-owners may such distress vanishes. It's truly askeep their cattle alive during the com- tonishing-almost marvelous, and the ing winter. There is now no room to joy is its harmlessness. talk of converting a large excess of these purposes, into meat that people These are facts which stare the country in the face at the present time after, as we have already mentioned, four summer seasons of the Morris Agricultural policy. Money has been spent achs regulated. It belongs in your rofusely and to little or no effect. Even the Placeman's Act was amended in order to allow salaries to be given to members of the House of Assembly, as Commissioners of Agriculure. A small army of paid Secretaries of Agricul-tural Societies have been appointed. There have been givings-out in pro-fusion of stock and seed. But what good has come of it all? The country is heart sick of the waste and lack of done by the late administration to put Agriculture on a proper basis has been destroyed. The policy which revolulonized Agriculture in Denmark, Ire-and, Canada and elsewhere was flouted. The attempt to put Agricul-ture on a scientific basis has been changed for a policy of givings-out. Scientific farming experts have had to give place to loud mouthed politicians talking for a living and now the Ag-neultural Soceties find they have to turn their attention not to keeping gold in the country but to sending gold out of the country to avert a grave calam-

To-Day's News.

LONDON, To-day. The war is expected to develop into a land campaign between Bulgaria and Turkey and into a naval struggle between Turkey and Greece. It is believed Turkey will concentrate her strength on an attack on the Bulgarians seperately, before the Servians can come to her aid. Much wiss Eva Martin who was unconscious will depend on whether Turkey gains for a week from a fall, will probably command of the sea, which would facilitate the transfer of her Asiatic troops to the theatre of war. OTTAWA, To-day. Hon. F. D. Monk's position with regard to the naval policy of the Government has been the subject of much speculation. ### Is There a Second Wreck?

By the schr. Reliance, Chas. Chalk, master, which arrived here yesterday from Clode Sound, we learn that on Tuesday last they sighted a schooner partly under water about 7 miles S. E. of Green Island. The Reliance launched a boat and the men went up to and examined the wreck but could not discern the name. These same men saw the schooner reported by the "Gower" S. on that same evening at the north side of Baccalieu Island. The schr. Rosie from Deer Island saw a wrecked schooner 10 miles N. N.E. of Baccalieu on the same day. The description of the wreck tallies with the account published elsewhere. One particular feature was that her foresail was newly roped and a good deal of new canvas was worked into

From crafts which arrived from Salmonier yeserday we learn that the chooner Native Lass, owned by M. CDonald, and to which reference has already been made in a message from that place, turned completely over in that harbour in a gale of S. W. wind, unday morning. The vessel was very light with no cargo on board and drag-ged from her anchors when William Waddleton and two other men boarded her and got the mainsail, jib and jumbo on her to bring her down the har-bour to safer anchorage. They had not gone 100 yards when a sudden squall hit her and she went over to the starboard in a few seconds. men quickly clambered up on the port side, hauled up the dory swinging aft and jumped into her. They were and jumped into her. They were none too soon for when they reached the dory she went completely over righted again and then filled and sank. Yesterday with the aid of a gang of men and two schooners she was refloated.

Who Complains

There is a certain type of woman whose presence is a wet blanket to others and who subtly radiates an atmosphere so displeasing that one groans inwardly when she appears. This is the woman who is always complaining.

Is there anything more tiresome in life, anything more aggravating, than complaints, complaints poured into our ears? It is not because the majority of mankind are hard hearted or that people are not symphathe. tic and willing to do what they can to help one another, but the impulse is irresistible to escape if we see one who continuously complains upon the instant of joining us.

The whole world likes grit and wants to see an individual facing life courageously. We will do anything we can to help such a person alone, but after we have listened to complaints, complaints about the business position, about the home life, about everything in general and all things in particular, all desire to help is killed, all sympathy is gone, and we wish the constant "complainer" world take herself and her troubles away, face them out alone and learn to stand upon her own feet.

And the "complainer" carries her atmosphere around with her. She is not wanted in a business office because though she may not open her lips while there to those in authority, they feel that there is something unpleasant about such a woman. The average employer prefers to be in contact with a more pleasing

In the shops customers come to the girl with the the cheerful manner behind the counter, while the one with the pretty face loses half her trade.

Strange as it may seem, it is usually the little things of life that brings he complaints to our lips. When a arge difficulty or a big trouble arises somthing within us lifts its head and aces the circumstances bravely, un-ess we are hopeless "quitters. Often the habit of complaining comes without our suspecting it or realizing how much we are indulging in that pernicious habit. It is a habit easy to acquire and as hard to throw off. The only way to do is to keep stern watch upon yourself. If possible do not even think complaints, but if you cannot help this, don t let the words slip through your lips. Shut them tight instead. office or behind a counter has increased a hundred fold. Complaints help no one In fact, they are always a hindrance, and the more we complain the more we harm ourselves. We do it from the same sort of feeling that makes a child cry, not because it helps to ourt any, but because it hasn't the trength not to do so. You cannot blame any one for isliking to have a fretful child a- to-day. and, neither can any one be expected to want a fretful woman aound. Just think of this if you ave even started the habit of comblaining, and break yourself of that habit if you want to make a success of your work and of your life. DETROIT NEWS.

Heaven Lies In Yourself.

Whatever heaven beyond may be am sure that your heaven here is the echo of your own purity, charity and truth. Whatever hell may be yonder, you cannot doubt that hell here is your own dark and wrongful passions and greeds returned to mock and to affright you. You remember that exquisite verse of Fitzgerald's Omar?

"I sent my soul throughout the invisible Some secret of that after life to

And by and by my soul returned And whispered, 'I myself am heaven and hell!''

Friends, let us begin right now. Every day we will plant noble pur-pose, unselfish deeds, helpful words. as men plant orchards for their children's children.

Every day we will lift the trumpet and send out a hearty peal of hope and love and fearlessness against an untoward world, so that in after years, or perhaps in another world the echoes my come trailing back to us in heartening sweetness.

Every day we will sing not whine that our evening may be filled with music and not weeping.

Every day we will smother the weak, unworthy, selfish, irrivable feelings, and utter only the good and the sane; we will present to the universe our love, our faith, our hope and in time all the angels will come to us bearing for our refreshment th fruit we have given. - Dr. Frank, Crane in Woman's World for

The Colonial Secretary communicated with the Marine and Fisheries Department to arrange for a steamer to go in search of the missing craft and this morning at daylight the tug the supposed disaster.

Hurt By Fall.

Going up the steep hill at the head of Adelaide Street at dusk last evening a man who had too much liquor taken fell heavily backwards, his head striking the ground with much force. People passing thought he had been seriously hurt and picked him up. He was revived a while and was then taken to the station for safety by Consts. Sheppard and Carnell.
