The Heir of Rosedene

OR, The Game-Keeper's Hut

CHAPTER XXXI. IN THE GAMEKEEPER'S HUT. "Ah, yes, that horrible, horrible money!" murmured Edna, drooping...

And rare wine. Cyril—the boykin, and light-hearted Cyril of old—put one arm round each of the ladies, and cried, laughing: "Come along! I'll show you how a keeper can eat!"

And now I find there isn't, I'll discharge that hussy of mine! The impudent mix declared that the bells were going to be rung—why, what's that?" she broke off, as the bells suddenly pealed out hilariously.

what you deserve, but you've got an angel."

The Old Marquis;

OR, The Girl of the Cloisters

CHAPTER I. IN THE SUNLIGHT. OUR forefathers, those extremely wise forefathers who are always held up to us foolish ones as examples and shining lights, had a custom of inscribing over the doors, or the fire-places of their principal rooms, some inscription from the philosophers or poets which was supposed to remind them that man is mortal, and that honesty is the best policy.

EE SPEAKING FROM EXPERIENCE EE THE DOCTOR: "My wife's restless and nervous. Give him a Steedman's Powder and he'll soon be all right."

Invariably traveled in a close carriage, which whirled him through the village and up the drive to the house, velling him as completely as if it were a hearse, and he in a coffin inside it.

No woman was ever allowed to penetrate into these apartments, for women his lordship held in abhorrence, notwithstanding that in his youth he had done them homage and won their love.

Italy Critical Situation

PARIS, March 22.—The Italian delegation to the Peace Conference has unanimously decided to withdraw from the Conference...

RECEIVED FAVORABLY. LONDON, March 22.—The representatives of the mine owners met last night discussed the coal commission, but no decision was reached.

REPARATION CLAIMS. PARIS, March 22.—Further information regarding the reparations conference here yesterday betwixt Premier Lloyd George and Clemenceau and President Wilson became available to-day.

PEACE IN A MONTH. PARIS, March 22.—When informed of a statement by Colonel House to British newspapers last night that the Germans were expected at Versailles in the next few weeks and it will be "light."

PARIS, March 22.—(Havas).—A semi-official German note explaining the reason for breaking off negotiations at Posen, says that it has been impossible to reach an agreement, especially regarding...

Italy Wants Fiume.

Critical Situation Created By Her Demand--France Insists on Line of Rhine River.

AN ITALIAN THREAT.

PARIS, March 21. The Italian delegation to the Peace Conference has unanimously decided to withdraw from the Conference unless Fiume is assigned to Italy, contemporaneously with the conclusion of peace.

THE RHINE THE KEYSTONE.

PARIS, March 21. (Havas).—The Rhine is our only line of defence. I do not demand an armistice, but if we do not secure that armistice frontier we will have fought in vain. This statement was made by Marshal Foch in an interview in the Matin to-day in discussing the last days of the war. The Marshal said, "It was the wonderful soldiers who gave us victory. My only merit was to have had faith and never to have wavered. We signed the armistice in spite of the certainty of crushing the German armies to avoid killing more men and because it gave us everything necessary to a French victory."

RECEIVED FAVORABLY.

LONDON, March 21. The representatives of the miners at a meeting last night discussed the coal commission, but no decision was reached. It was stated, however, that the Sankey report created a favorable impression as a business-like document, and the general view is that a three-fold strike has been averted. The transport workers claim a notable victory, and it is believed the Government is meeting both the miners and the railway men in a spirit which promises a peaceful settlement.

REPARATION CLAIMS.

PARIS, March 21. Further information regarding the Conference here yesterday between Premier Lloyd George and Clemenceau and President Wilson became available to-day. Concerning the rejection of the Allied reparation claims against Germany to about forty billion dollars, it was learned that the proposal was to spread the payment over forty years. On this basis the principle with interest would amount to eighty billion dollars as the utmost that can be expected. A serious division of opinion exists over the allotment of damages among the Allied Powers. The French claim priority for the destruction of invaded regions, while the British insist on an allotment on the basis of war costs. It is generally conceded that France has suffered the largest material loss, while Great Britain has supposed the largest burden of taxation on her people. The United States has put in a maximum claim for loss of life and property during the war, aggregating a little less than a billion dollars.

PEACE IN A MONTH.

PARIS, March 21. When informed of a statement by Colonel House to British newspapers last night that the Germans were expected at Versailles in the next few days, other week and it will be about right.

GERMAN SAILORS REFUSED TO MAN SHIPS.

PARIS, March 21. (Havas).—A semi-official German note explaining the reason for breaking off negotiations at Posen, says it has been impossible to reach an agreement, especially regarding the Presidency of the Commission, controlling the situation there. The Germans say they are considering the appointment of a President by Pope Benedict, while the Entente nations desire the permanent inter-Allied armistice commission to name the presiding officer. The Supreme Council will consider the Posen situation to-day, and will take up measures to be carried out against the Germans, to bring about a cessation of hostilities in the province of Posen.

SWISS TO USE RHINE.

PARIS, March 19. (A.P.).—The commission on international waterways, ports and railroads of the Peace Conference has decided to recommend to the conference that Switzerland should be given the navigating facilities on the Rhine river, which she has made demands.

AMENDING TREATY.

PARIS, March 19. (A.P.).—The military terms of the treaty of peace have been amended by the elimination of the clause providing for the control of Germany's armament for an indefinite period. Admiral Benson of the United States Navy pointed out that the original terms committed the United States to a virtual indefinite occupation of Germany, and it was chiefly on his insistence that the terms were modified. It was also pointed out that control of any portion of Germany for such a period would delay the return home of American troops and would amount to annulling of sovereignty of Germany. As amended the terms provide for control through the time fixed for the delivery of materials of war guns and ships, but not through the period during which the war damages will be paid by Germany.

OTHER AMENDMENTS.

PARIS, March 21. Among the amendments to the Covenant of the League of Nations suggested at the meeting of neutrals yesterday, were several which urged an increase in the number of secondary countries admitted to the Executive Council of the League, the reduction of armaments and the control of munitions manufactures.

SINN FEINERS SECURE RIFLES.

DUBLIN, March 21. The biggest raid by Sinn Feiners to secure arms which has as yet been recorded, took place yesterday morning at the air-drome, near Santry, six miles from here, when Sinn Feiners numbering nearly forty overpowered the soldiers on guard and seized 80 service rifles. There were only three sentries on duty and eight more soldiers were resting in a guard hut.

WHERE DO THEY STAND?

BASLE, March 21. The President of the German armistice commission at Spa, has presented a note to the inter-Allied delegates asking if Germany should consider as true a statement in the French and British press, that the Treaty would be ready for the signature as soon as President Wilson agreed, but that Germans would allowed neither to discuss nor modify the documents, according to Berlin advice.

New Odd Fellows Lodge

"COLONIAL" NO. 125.

Last night marked a new era in the development of the great order of Oddfellowship, in this country, in the institution of the above Lodge in this city. The Initiating Officer was Bro. W. T. Quick, P.G., assisted by Bro. Chas. Gille, Grand Secretary; Bro. Simon Butler, Grand Treasurer; Bro. J. C. Phillips, Grand Marshal; Bro. Duncan Cook, Grand Warden; Bro. Robt. Young, Chaplain. Thirty-one charter members were called forward by Bro. Quick, and after due examination and instruction were presented with their Dispensation. Immediately after institution the new Lodge was called upon by the Initiating Officer to elect their officers, and after election the installation was proceeded with. The following are the officers for the term ending December 31st, 1919:—

- I. P. G.—Bro. H. M. Mosdell.
- N. G.—Bro. F. Gordon Bradley.
- V. G.—Bro. H. C. Carey.
- R. Sec.—Bro. Edwin Ebsary.
- F. Sec.—Bro. Isaac Sparkes.
- Treas.—Bro. Alan Clarke.
- Warden.—Bro. Phillip Dwyer.
- Conductor.—Bro. Dr. Herbert Rendell.
- Chaplain.—Bro. Jackson Roberts.
- R. S. S.—Bro. Maxwell Colton.
- L. S. S.—Bro. Fred. J. Searle.
- I. G.—Bro. R. G. Silverlock.
- O. G.—Bro. J. Johnston.
- R. S. N. G.—Bro. G. W. R. Hierarchy, P. J.
- L. S. N. G. Bro. G. R. R. Parsons, P. G.
- R. S. V. G.—Bro. Roy Scott.
- I. S. V. G.—Bro. David Johnston.

After installation the Noble Grand thanked Bro Quick and his assistants, for their services so excellently performed, and extended to them and their Lodge, the greetings of Colonial Lodge, and an invitation to be present at future meetings.

The personnel of the Lodge is a strong one, and its success is assured from the start, as both officers and 3rd degree members possess in a marked degree the ability and energy which make success certain.

Fat and Famous.

Mr. Taft, an ex-President of the U. S. A., is mentioned as President Wilson's successor at the board of the Peace Conference. He is probably the stoutest man in public life; at any rate, the stoutest man with an international reputation.

Fate and fame have not very often been combined, perhaps because stout men are generally inclined to be easy-going, and therefore lacking in that push which brings a man to the fore. The only great statesman one can recall who was really a fat man was Charles James Fox, as can be seen by his effigy in the Palace of Westminster, where he would make three of his great rival, Pitt the younger.

The only fat poet one can recall is Jamie Thomson, the author of "The Seasons." He was a comfortable, lazy slovenly man, of whom it is related that he would eat peaches off the wall, not taking the trouble to take his hands out of his pockets to pluck them. Yet, despite his lazy disposition, he managed to write one of the longest of English poems, as well as "The Castle of Indolence"—a castle in which he habitually dwelt.

Mr. G. Chesterton, one of the stoutest of living celebrities, has on more than one occasion made up in the character of the Sage of Fleet Street with most excellent success. It is a little remarkable, too, that one of his closest friends, Mr. Hilaire Belloc, is almost as famous for his bulk as he is for his criticism of military operations, his poetry, his history, and his fiction.

THE WEST END BAZAAR, 51 Water St. West.

Some years ago Southend suddenly grew ashamed of its name, which appeared to smack of cockles and wrinkles and the coster's barrow, when it wanted to be aristocratic. Just in the nick of time came the development of Westcliff, quite a swanky suburb for despised East End-ridden Southend. But to-day the Thames watering place has ceased to be snobbish, and is glad it stuck to its old appropriate name.

Slough had a similar experience. Perhaps its good people thought of the Pilgrim's Progress and the Slough of Despond! Perhaps they worried because strangers bagged over the pronunciation, and called it "Slough" and "Slow." So that as it may, it was seriously proposed to re-christen the town Upton Royal. However, acting on its motto, "Slough and sure," the suggestion was shelved.

But the most curious case was Rugby. Through no fault of his own, the town was connected, with the convict Palmer, and the good people, thinking an everlasting stain was upon the old name, wrote to the Government proposing they should find a new name. It was then that Lord Palmerston made the suggestion which made all England laugh—namely, that they should call their town after him.

Just before the war Pudey, in Yorkshire, wished to change its name, because so many people were consigned there instead of the other place. It did not come off, and Tykes are still told to "Go to Pudey."

Go immediately to our Show Room, 137 Water Street, at the head of Job's Cove, and inspect this WONDERFUL Engine that is made here in NEWFOUNDLAND; see for yourself that this is the best engine ever sold in the DOMINION and, remember that it can be completely taken apart and put together with but one Tool. A man who has never run an engine before can start and operate it with ease.

Comparing All.

Look at the Wonderful

Mechanical Features, its simplicity,

The "CHAMPION" is not a five or ten year old model; it is the very latest in design. It is made by our own countrymen, the Factory giving employment to a great number of mechanics. It is delivering engines NOW; and is able to stand back of its goods, giving you the best that money can buy.

The Company has just contracted for, and are having constructed within the City limits, a much larger than the present one we are in, and exactly suited to the requirements of engine building. This property covers over two acres. After Spring deliveries are over, the Company will at once commence the building of engines up to Two Hundred Horse Power, and will export to Canada and elsewhere.

Big Modern Concrete and Steel Factory,

Buy an engine that will run continuously on Kerosene, not a made over Gasoline engine. Remember the Factory and Repair Parts are in St. John's, where you may obtain any parts or assistance at any time.

Whether or not you buy an engine, you should be part owner in this money-making investment opportunity. Shares can be purchased for TEN DOLLARS each at J. J. Lacey and Company's Office, City Chambers, or from any of the Directors.

The Majestic.

Yesterday afternoon and evening the "Majestic" presented the "Fruit of Desire," a "world film" directed by the celebrated W. A. Brady—to large audiences. This picture features the well known actor Robert Warwick and illustrates the successes and reverses of an ambitious young American who left the farm and came to the city convinced that he could make his way in the world of commerce. His association with a great woman working in a partner realizing the "Fruit of Desire," is an inspiring story, while the illustrations of the steel manufacturing plant are highly interesting. The picture will be on again this afternoon and evening.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—Allow me a space in your valuable paper to make a few remarks about the way our mail service is conducted. Our mail was posted on the 10th of March, and there it remains, trusting to an old postman. But that is not the way for it has to be through twelve hands before it reaches Renewal, and it is said, is sworn. I think that the Postmaster General should look to this before it is too late.
Now, Mr. Walsh and Mr. Devereaux, let the people see what you can do in this matter. If you can get the train to come through two feet of snow it will be a question if she can be stopped by fog this summer. Now, Mr. Walsh, the feather is in the side of your hat already, try and get it higher, and have the train run and look out and have the men that are carrying the mail duly sworn, and Trepassy will put the feather on the top of your hat next fall.

A Surprise Party.

On Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. J. B. Mitchell, who graciously entertained in the interests of the W.C.T.U., a surprise party was given to one of its members, Mrs. Russell, who is shortly leaving to make her home in Halifax. One of our most active members, always to the fore in deeds of kindness, sparing neither herself nor her purse at the call of need, her bright smile and cheery word an inspiration to others; even when her heart was bowed under the great sorrow which has darkened so many lives during the war. Mrs. Russell has endeared herself to every member, and we would assure her that our pleasure in planning and giving the little remembrance was as great as hers in receiving it. The presentation took the form of a silver bread tray suitably engraved, and an address of appreciation with good wishes for the recipient's welfare and happiness in her new home. Mrs. Russell was deeply moved and thanked the union for their loving thought and kind wishes. A delightful evening was spent, and the members who were present wish to thank Mrs. Mitchell for her generous welcome and kind hospitality.

Handel's "Messiah."

On Wednesday, March 23, 1919, Handel's greatest oratorio, the "Messiah," was, for the first time, performed in England, at Covent Garden Theatre, in London. Born at Halle, in Saxony, on February 23, 1685, George Frederick Handel lived in Italy from 1706, but in 1710 came to England, where he found his work more welcome. He died in London on April 14, 1759, and was buried in Westminster Abbey. It occupied him 33 days to compile his oratorio, and it was first performed on April 13, 1742, at Dublin, when the receipts were given to the charities of that city. His first commemoration was held at Westminster Abbey on May 28, 1742, when King George III., his wife Queen Charlotte, and about 3,000 persons were present. The band included 245 singers and 245 instrumental performers; and the receipts of three days amounted to £17,746. The centenary of his death was celebrated by a great Handel Festival in the Crystal Palace, Sydenham, in June, 1857, with 2,765 vocalists, and 393 musicians; receipts reaching about £33,000, which £15,000 were profits. Handel Festivals have been held frequently since.

How Men React to Wo

Do women really dress for men or are their efforts in the sartorial line directed wholly at other women? And if they do dress for men, does the average man really appreciate their efforts? This time honored question came to the surface the other night as a man's comments on the clothes of a young woman.
The feminine contingent was remarking on the possible cost of a very smart silk jersey which was strikingly ornamented by a broad band of some sort of angora material round the knees.
He thought it was a sweater round Her Knees.
"Was that an expensive dress?" said the Authorman, "I didn't know. And I thought that thing around her knees was a sweater. I thought he was probably cold and had draped that round her knees to keep warm. She was sitting down most of the time when I saw her, and I wondered why she didn't take it off when she went up stairs."
Now the Authorman is distinctly more observing than the ordinary man. He has to be for his profession. And yet, that was his reaction to what was unquestionably a very smart dress.
Do Men Like Pretty Clothes or Smart Clothes?
It has always been my theory that a man likes pretty and becoming clothes irrespective of cost or style. We all know how the men of the house will admire some inexpensive little morning dress that happens to be his favorite color and claim our smartest costume if he happens to consider it unbecoming.
But I have lately modified this theory to this extent. A man may like simple becoming clothes when he is in the home, surrounded by wife and children, but when he sees his wife out in the world with smart expensive clothes about her, he isn't satisfied with her appearance unless she looks smart, too. He may not know just what constitutes this smartness.

Does 's' is Kin: of Husband Evil? One often hears generalizations about the husband who insists that his wife wear the most modest and conservative styles and then chases after the woman who goes to all the style extremes. Personally, I never met or had any first hand information about such a man. I wonder if he really exists, or is he just an imaginary type? Perhaps some letter friend can tell me.

GRACE OF FIGURE IN MIDDLE AGE.

The modern woman of middle age strives to preserve her graceful lines and the rose bloom of her complexion quite as much as does her debutante grand-daughter.

The natural tendency is for the body to gain in weight when a woman advances in years, and if you aim to retain the youthful figure of your younger days you must exercise—and exercise more than you ever have before.

Superfluous flesh is apt to collect about the waist, hips and abdomen when you reach forty or thereabouts, and this always means "good-bye" to grace, youth and beauty of line. The minute you notice that you are gaining weight exercise both night and morning, no matter how tired you may be.

A series of exercises which will keep flesh from accumulating about the waist and abdomen consists of the following movements: stand erect with the hands on the hips. Bend the knees and bring the body to a sitting posture, as low as possible. Rise again and repeat many times.

The Russian Menace.

The Allies are not yet prepared to recommend a cure for the Russian situation, either as a Russian problem or as one affecting the peace of Europe. The former American ambassador at Petrograd, Mr. David Francis, predicts disaster if Allied troops are withdrawn from Russia, saying:

"If the Bolshevik government remains in control of Russia peace in Europe is, in my opinion, impossible. Germany will exploit Russia if this disorder continues, and instead of having lost the war Germany will win, and in ten years she will be stronger than she was in August, 1914."

Mr. Francis was in Russia during many months of the revolution and his opinion of the danger is not to be set aside lightly. Yet it would appear that Germany is not in any position to exploit Russia, having first to set its own house in order. At present blood runs in the streets of Berlin and Germany itself is virtually in a state of revolution. By sea and by land the German fighting forces will be reduced so greatly by the peace terms that the Germans will be unable to undertake aggressive operations in Russia for the purpose of expanding their own military strength. If, on the other hand, Bolshevism sweeps over Germany, the Allied powers, which will long maintain heavy military forces in France, will see that the turmoil is confined to Teutonic and Russian territory. But even if this be the outlook, Russian conditions constitute a political and military menace of grave proportions. Allied policy with respect to Russia today is really a waiting one having no firmer basis at the moment than the hope that the Russian people, weary of bloodshed and violence, will recover their senses. It is expected that Allied refusal to send a great army into Russian territory will prevent Bolshevist leaders from combining the various domestic factions on the plea that such co-operation is necessary to save the land from foreign enemies. Bad as the situation is, there surely is little ground for the fear that Germany, by combining with Russia or by exploiting it, can become stronger in ten years than it was in 1914. Germany's house is on fire and the conflagration will scarcely be put out by pouring the oil of Russian revolution on the flames.—St. John Telegraph.

Luck!

Five years ago a woman of Goldstone, in Surrey, was fondling a calf, presumably putting her hand into its toothless mouth, when her wedding-ring disappeared. A short time ago the cow was purchased and killed by an Oxford butcher, who, knowing the animal's peculiar history made a search and actually recovered the lost ring from one of the beast's internal organs.

A gentleman was once busy in his garden, when he missed a diamond ring he wore. A year later, while examining a young pear-tree to see how the graft had taken, he noticed his ring encircling the thin trunk of the pear-tree. It had evidently slipped upon the stalk in the act of grafting.

A lady while dressing placed her rings on a small saucer containing oatmeal used for washing her hands, and left them there for some little time. When she returned they she missed one of them which contained a bloodstone.

Long afterwards, when repairs required the removal of the wainscot, a skeleton of a mouse was found with the bloodstone ring encircling its neck. It had evidently visited the dressing-table attracted by the meal, and thrust its nose through the ring and carried it off.

A gentleman went to Broadstairs with his daughter, and whilst they stood on the jetty one morning he let his diamond ring, which he had idly removed from his finger, slip through the grating.

HABITS.

There are habits good and habits bad. And habits merry and habits sad. As a general rule they are easy to make. And once we've made them they're hard to break. But every one of us makes a few. Because it's a natural thing to do; Some of us smoke, and some of us swear. Some of us grumble too much at care. But the world would brighten as never before if we'd get the habit of smiling more.

What a glorious earth, this world is growing to be. If we lit a light for all men to see! Suppose we made it a rule, each day, A word of comfort and cheer to say To the troubled men, that we chance to meet.

As we walk the crowded and busy street; Wouldn't our circle of true friends grow. And our griefs depart like the melting snow?

What a glorious vein of joy we'd find If we'd get the habit of being kind.

There are habits bad and habits good. But this is true if we understood. The habits good are as hard to break As the vicious ones that we often make.

We could comfort the weary and sick and sore. If we get the habit of smiling more. And leave full many a friend behind. If we had the habit of being kind. Oh we could lighten the world's distress. If we'd get the habit of helpfulness.

A former teacher in a Chinese University has brought to America the oldest alarm clock in the world. It was used for hundreds of years to awaken the gods that they might hear the prayers being offered them in Ging Ding (Golden Top) Temple on Mount Omei, the most sacred of all Buddhist mountains. I have always felt friendly toward the Celestial, but that I have discovered in them the inventors of the alarm clock, I am going to change my allegiance. No doubt their gods are more even tempered than I am, or that clock would never have survived centuries. — "Argus" — in Morning chronicle.

THE READING HABIT.

I feel sorry for the wight who can't sit down with a book, and experience delight in his cozy inglenook; who can't wrestle with the bards, storing knowledge in his head, but must play a game of cards, or go yawning off to bed. Let me have a stack of tomes, piled about me on the floor, tales, biographies and pomes, and my heart will crave no more. Then the weary world may wag any blamed way it may please, and the night hours will not drag, but will scoot like bumble bees. I don't care to talk a streak, or to argue politics, or to listen for a week to the silver tattered hicks; I am tired of croknoke and of checkers and of chess; poker puts me in the hole, so does bridge whist, more or less. All the games I know are bores, and increase my load of woes, when the tempest howls outdoors, and there is no place to go. Bring me then a stack of books, while my neighbors yawn and nod, and the evening to me looks like a present from the gods.

At its best labor in primitive times was but a form of slavery, the nations of Northern Europe being accustomed to the notion, chiefly owing to their associations with the Southern countries where market slavery was an institution.

We Are Showing An Impressive Array of

NEW WALL PAPER

We know positively that persons are affected by their physical surroundings and it stands to reason that color and design must play an important part in the home life, and must be carefully considered when choosing Wall Paper. This fact alone should surely convey a sense of systematic purchasing of wall covering, and you will find the most complete appreciation of this in the selection we have made for Spring.

Over 300 of the Latest Patterns for the Parlour, Dining Room, Den, Library, Bedroom, or any room in the House.

They are all exquisite designs and beautiful color combinations from the leading American and Canadian manufacturers.

This wall paper store is generally acknowledged to be the leading wall paper house in Newfoundland.

Under the able management of Mr. Hiram Young, it is showing a steady advancement, continually adding more satisfied customers to its already extensive number.

Any advice regarding up-to-date wall covering, color blending, etc., will be cheerfully given by Mr. Young.

MINERS REPRESENTATIVES CONFERENCE.

LONDON, Mar. 21. One hundred and fifty delegates, representing the Miners of the United Kingdom, met this morning to discuss the interim report of the Coal Commission, of which Justice Sir John Sankey is Chairman, issued last night, and decided as to whether there would be a strike or peace in the mining industry. The conference met without any recommendation from the executive officers of the unions. Before them was the Sankey report, which recommended seven hours of work underground for the miners instead of eight, from July 1st, 1921, subject to the economic conditions of the industry, with an increase in wages of two shillings per shift for colliery workers, now under the sliding scale, and an advance of one shilling for workers under sixteen years. An effective voice in the direction of the mines for the colliery workers was recommended, as was the substitution of the Nationalization or unification by National purchase or joint control, for the present system of ownership and system of working.

ANOTHER APPLICANT.

LONDON, Mar. 21. German-Austria has expressed a desire for independent representations at the Peace Conference, according to Berlin advices reaching here.

GERMAN SEAMEN REFUSE.

LONDON, Mar. 21. A Central News despatch from Amsterdam says, German seamen at Hamburg have decided that they will not man ships carrying Entente troops.

GRAVE SITUATION IN EGYPT.

LONDON, Mar. 21. The situation in Egypt is becoming worse, and at the present time is distinctly grave, a Reuter despatch from Cairo says. General Allenby, the Commander in Palestine, will reach Cairo Tuesday. The large forces of troops already in Egypt are being re-ordered.

THE CONFERENCE HAS THE WORD.

PARIS, Mar. 21. "The first result to be obtained is Peace, and the quickest peace possible," said David Lloyd George, the British Premier, in a statement printed in to-day's issue of the Excelsior. "All internal events in every country, allied or enemy," continued the Premier are dependent on that Peace, which we expect and desire to come at the earliest possible moment. Pending this everyone is living in a state of expectation and uncertainty. Commerce and industry are kept in a kind of stagnation, which can only be removed by Peace. I shall then remain in Paris, unless something unexpected arises, until the text of the Peace Preliminaries are definitely drafted, and ready for submission to the German delegates, not let me say for discussion but simply for signature".

SWISS INTEREST IN MONROE DOCTRINE.

PARIS, March 21. After completing the examination of the first fifteen articles of the draft of the League of Nations' Covenant, yesterday, the representatives of the neutral states, in conjunction with a committee of the League of Nations' Commission had before them for examination to-day the remaining articles, the examination of which would be concluded at this session. The first fourteen articles were passed by without suggestion of material amendments. Among pending amendments is one giving the neutral states a representation of eight members on the Executive Council, and another by Switzerland, relative to the Monroe Doctrine and the safeguarding of national sovereignty.

STILL HOLDING ON.

PARIS, March 21. Reports from Odessa, as to the situation in that part of the Ukraine are conflicting. General Franchet Desperry, the Allied Commander in Chief in the Near East, was expected at Odessa Thursday, and it is believed that important decisions were awaiting his arrival. La Liberté says that all information concerning the possible evacuation of Odessa by the Allies is premature. The greatest difficulty of the Allied forces there, the paper says, arises from the lack of food. The paper believes that if the Allies do leave Odessa, they will retain Sebastopol and other strategic points.

POSTPONED TILL WEDNESDAY.

LONDON, March 21. The Triple Alliance—the Railway men, Miners and Transport Workers, at a conference to-night, reviewed the whole position of the Mine, Railway and Transport Workers, and passed a resolution recommending that the railway men continue at work, pending further negotiations with the Government, with a view to removing the deadlock. This action is interpreted to mean that there will be no strike before next Wednesday.

ANOTHER ENTRY.

LONDON, Mar. 21. Another entry for the $50,000 prize offered by the Daily Mail for the flight across the Atlantic, was made to-day in behalf of Major J. C. P. Wood, pilot, and Capt. C. C. Wylie, navigator. They propose to make the attempt in an airplane of 375 horsepower, capable of a speed of 95 miles an hour when carrying a weight of 2,632 lbs. Major Wood has had considerable experience as an aviator, while Captain Wylie, in addition to his flying experience, has been navigating the destroyers in mid-Atlantic.

LIPTON WILL DO IT.

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., Mar. 21. A cablegram was received by the Corinthian Yacht Club to-day, from Sir Thomas Lipton, stating that he was sailing on the Aquitania, and would reach the United States about March 25, where he would confer with American yachtsmen about the resumption of international yacht racing.

NOON.

PRUSSIAN CABINET RESIGNS.

COOPENHAGEN, March 21. A despatch received here from Berlin says the Prussian Assembly on Thursday, adopted a bill providing for the resignation of the Prussian Government, and that thereupon Premier Hirsch formally tendered the resignation of his cabinet. The Premier was requested to retain his function pending the formation of a ministry.

BOLSHEVIKS WANT ARCHANGEL.

ARCHANGEL, March 21. The ambitions of the Bolsheviki war office for the offensive during the present month, as learned from prisoners taken by the Allied forces, indicate that Trotsky, the Bolsheviki Minister of War and Marine, has ordered that all efforts be made to capture Archangel in March. Such a feat, however, seemingly is impossible, and there is no lack of confidence in Allied military circles in Archangel that the Americans and other troops will be able to check any offensive made by the Bolsheviki.

AUSTRALIAN INDUCEMENT.

MELBOURNE, Aus., Mar. 21. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—The Commonwealth Government is offering a prize of fifty thousand dollars for the first successful flight from Great Britain to Australia that is undertaken by Australians.

Police Court.

A returned soldier was before court on three charges: drunkenness and disorderliness; using obscene language, and violently resisting arrest; and for the larceny of a pair of gloves. At 12.20 last night he applied for a bed at the Seamen's Institute, and while there he stole the gloves. Policemen being called in he became unruly, eventually, however, being put under arrest. He was drunk at the time. He had to sign bonds for $200.

A man was charged with the non-support of his son, a 16-year-old lad of police record fame. He had to sign bonds to support him.

Two young lads were charged with cutting wood on the property of another man. They were each fined $1.

Splendid Bidding.

At the Board of Trade Rooms at noon to-day Hon. S. Milley auctioned a section of seats at the Casino for Capt. Campbell's recital, the sum of $1,522.00 being realized. The highest price paid for single seats was $65, Mr. Percie Johnston taking two. Other bids were $100 and $140 for 10 seats. The proceeds of this magnificent sale go to the various city orphanages.

To remove grass stains from white flannels, take equal parts of yolk of egg and pure glycerine, apply to the stain and leave on for an hour or longer, then wash in the usual way.

Even when there is cream in the coffee, the stains can be removed from the most delicate silk or woollen fabric by brushing the spots with pure glycerine and rinsing in lukewarm water.

Public Notice!

Mr. Lewis J. Bartlett has been appointed by the Government in place of the late Mr. Ell Whiteway to attend to the movement of patients to and from the various public institutions with headquarters at the Public Health Office, St. John's. Medical Practitioners, Rolling Officers, and others are hereby notified that patients shall on no account be sent to St. John's without first receiving assurance from Mr. Bartlett that they can be admitted or, in the case of the General Hospital, that cots will be available upon their arrival. It has been brought to the notice of the Government that sick people sent on without authority have been caused much additional suffering and hardship in boarding houses in the city, in some cases with risk of permanent injury to their health, for which of course they themselves or their advisors have been responsible. Cases other than emergency cases coming to St. John's without the proper authority will run the risk of being immediately sent back to their homes, so as to prevent undue suffering, as it is impossible to provide accommodation for all applicants under existing conditions. The Editor's Nightmare.

At midnight the Editor lay in his bed. The lights all turned out and his little prayer said: "The troubles of daylight, its bustle and its worry—For publishing day is a trying one, very—Were all laid to rest with the stillness of night. When a grim apparition appeared in sight!

"I've come," yelled the spectre, and jumped on his chest. "To haunt you for ever, and banish your rest; Take heed, Mister Editor, I and my sprites, Having spotted all your days, will now spout all your nights; For millions and millions call me their Leader, My prey is your peace, and my name 'Constant Reader!'"

The spectre then gave a blood-curdling yell. And lo! from all sides there came rushing pell-mell A mob of cute Queries in bodily form, A chattering, clattering, pattering swarm. And, taunting and gibing with fenshish delight, They st. rmed him with questions and mocked at his plight.

Round and round ran the rout, no less-hur'er so rapid, they queried long, lank, and thin, queries hay and rapid, Nonsensical queries and queries insane. Identical queries again and again, Round his bed ran the rabble with twist, trot, and twirl. Till the Editor work with his hair out of curl!

Girls! Have Wavy, Thick, Glossy Hair Free From Dandruff

Save your hair! Double its beauty in a few moments—try this!

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scrub robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fash, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If you hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a bottle of Knowlton's Danderine and your hair will be thick and glossy. Apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

Murdered Superior Officer.

The court martial at Fort Kearney, U. S., which tried Lieut. Perry for the murder of his superior officer, Captain Posner, found him guilty and recommended the death sentence. Perry confessed he had deliberately followed Capt. Posner to San Diego after he had been refused leave of absence by him and informed him that the commandant of the camp had sent him to bring the Captain back to camp. The car was driven by a soldier from the camp, and on the way there Perry deliberately shot Posner, who died within a few hours from the effects of his wounds. The only reason known for the murder is that given by Perry himself: "The reason is this, as they'd say in the army slang: Capt. Posner was riding my trail, and when any man does that in the army there are only two things to do. One is to get out. Another way—the way I learned in Alaska—is to get the man who's riding you. And I did."

Havana Police Resent "Fake" Fight Stories.

Havana, March 14—The attention of the judicial authorities here has been called to the declaration made by Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion that his bout with Jess Willard, in this city four years ago, was a "fake." A written report on the incident has been made by a lieutenant of detectives. In closing his report, which includes the translated version of Johnson's statement as published here yesterday the detective says: "From the foregoing it may be seen that if this story is true, the people of Havana were deceived and defrauded, and that it is desired to repeat the event with the same or a similar combination."

The report adds that "although these events occurred some time ago, they have become known through their publication, and Johnson, who is here on his way to Mexico, may evade any responsibility which he may have incurred."

Have Your Friends Who Suffer?

You have friends who are discouraged, who seem to have lost all interest in life, and whose sufferings are acute—because they are afflicted with Kidney or bladder trouble?

Here is your golden opportunity to be a real friend to your friends. Tell them about GIN PILLS—what they have done for others, and about the thousands who have found relief by taking this remedy.

Parade your friends to try them, if only a sample box. Mrs. James Harris of Port Rowan took the advice of a friend and wrote us for a free sample. Her husband had suffered for some time with lame back and Kidney Troubles. He became so bad, work was almost impossible. She sent him a trial, which he did, and to-day he is almost entirely cured."

The case of W. T. Baldwin, of Smithville, Ont., is similar in many respects. Mr. Baldwin suffered from a pain in the back for over three years. Finally on advice from friends he tried GIN PILLS, with the result that he obtained relief from his pain after taking the first box.

There is no need for anyone to invest a cent in GIN PILLS until they have received a sample free and tried them. Write to-day, telling us to send a sample box free to your friend's address.

Days of the Windjammers.

(Philadelphia Ledger.)

The glorious clipper ship days, when the windjammer was queen of the seas, were recalled when the big four-masted ship Valparaiso, under the French flag, hauled out of her berth at the foot of Dock street, and started on her voyage down the Delaware river for Nantes, France, with one of the largest and most valuable cargoes, valued at more than $1,000,000, ever shipped across the Atlantic in a sailing vessel from this port.

A rousing send-off was given this square-rigged craft by the old-time sailors who gathered at the pier to see the vessel sail. Passing steamships, tug and wharves gave a parting salute their whistles and the dipping of their colors. The crew of the Valparaiso lined the decks and acknowledged the salutes with cheers. With its sister ship, the Atlantique, which is now here loading a similar cargo for France, the Valparaiso is noted for her fast sailing qualities.

Years ago hundreds of these windjammers came to and sailed out of this port. To-day only a few of these old-time craft remain afloat. Another of these, the Severn, a three-masted sailing vessel of the old navy, has been chartered to load a general cargo at this port for France.

Ice Barrage at Niagara Falls.

On Sunday, March 22, 1903, pedestrians crossed the river bed of Niagara where human feet had never before trod, owing to an ice jam near Goat Island diverting the water to the Canadian side, and almost drying up the American rapids. Thousands of people thronged to witness a sight that they had never imagined possible. Above the ice jam the water was three feet higher than usual; below, it still ran close to the mainland, but practically the entire river bed was bare. Men, women, and children romped about regardless of the possibility that the breaking of the ice jam might submerge them at any moment. Many mementoes were taken from spots not likely to be visible again for ages. Between Green Island and Goat Island, and between Goat Island and the mainland, people walked at will, while the glory of the falls was reduced to a thin trickle. Something similar happened to the Canadian side in 1848.

Private Prisons.

The Royal Cells.

Probably few people are aware of the existence of the five private prisons in England.

To begin with there is a prison at Windsor Castle where refractory servants, butlers, etc., employed at the Royal residence are lodged by the authorities when guilty of an offence. Though it is a good many years since the last prisoner was lodged there, the power to place anyone behind those prison bars still remains.

Cells at Buckingham Palace.

There is also a private prison at Buckingham Palace. Offenders, before committed to the precincts, are tried by the "Board of Green Cloth," consisting of the Lord Steward, the Treasurer Comptroller, and the Master of the Household. This unique body of magistrates can try offences ranging from high treason to petty theft, and when found guilty the prisoner is sent to this Royal prison.

Perhaps the most extraordinary of all private prisons is the Clock Tower of the House of Commons, where more than one refractory member of the "House" has been confined. It is the Speaker who has the power and right to order any person there if it really becomes necessary. Such an experience once befell the late Mr. Charles Bradlaugh and also several prominent Irish politicians.

Proctor's Punishment.

The strange survival at Oxford, in virtue of which the duly appointed proctors of the University have the power to imprison whom they believe to be a hindrance to the welfare of the town, is also of marked interest. The person upon whom they cast a disfavourable eye need not be a criminal; it is simply a matter of opinion with these proctors, who can deal out punishment as they please and brook no interference from the law.

Nails Eleven Feet Long.

A Scientist has estimated that in a life-time of seventy years a man grows nails which, if it were possible to preserve them uncut, would reach the length of 7 ft. 9 in.

Exactly on what argument this statement is based it is hard to say for a better observation will show that during the greater portion of a man's life he cuts his nails on an average once a week, and at each paring removes a sixteenth of an inch, or the equivalent of a quarter of an inch per month, working out at three inches a year. This would give him a growth of 7 ft. 9 in. during the thirty years he lives between twenty and fifty. In the other forty years, when the growth is less rapid, he would certainly produce four feet of nails, so that 11 ft. is a better average for the nail producing capacity of a man.

It should be noted, however, that the growth of the nails on the right hand is, in most people, more rapid than those on the left hand, and it may be that the scientist in question has based his argument on the slower growth of the left hand nails.

Another curious point is that the rate of growth of the nails depends directly on the length of the finger; thus the nails on the two middle fingers of men grow more rapidly than those on the first and third fingers respectively, and these in turn are more speedily in the growth than those on the little fingers.

CHAPTER III

When Singer found that Dr. Sall did not want him, he wished to take him up as an inmate of the city. With this object in view an interview was held at the home of the com. Alex. Dr. Sall by the com. Alex. Sall. The meeting was attended by most of the members; Dr. Sall stated that he knew no other way, and Dr. Sall, who had been a student for holy of the Church of America and had been sent out to some place in the State of Georgia. He got on with his work very well, but failed to pass for some reference made to him. Dr. Sall turned down. There were some references made with an intention that that had fallen through. The fates seemed to be against Dr. Sall in every way, and Dr. Sall did not see much for sympathy at him up other purpose. Dr. Sall did seem to know that what Singer had Hyde Park for about a year before he replied to the ad. Nobody knew but I learned it from Singer on.

When Dr. Sall decided to a Singer, they arranged for their Newfoundland, and so far as Dr. Sall had been satisfactory. But all did not state why he failed to send Singer to Bonavista as at intended; nor did he state why he seemed so desirous of getting rid of him up, although he was very keen on it, nor did he make direct plea whatever for him. Dr. Sall if he could really commend his man to us, but he was not able to do so. The result of the committee had decided that Mr. Sall was not the sort of man for the Y.M.C.A. By this decision the last chance of Singer being recognized or engaged by the Y.M.C.A. was gone, and he was thrown on his own resources. Now having no resources, he was burdened and an idler on the com. Dr. Sall seemed to think that the serious breach had occurred in his life about his love affairs, but there had been a big disappointment in his life; and he said that Singer had told him his story more fully, he felt sorry for him, and he wished to help him. Dr. Sall had commendable charity, but did not seem to have exercised judgment like justice in his decision to let Singer to last. To have engaged a man in England, and sent him out to Newfoundland, and permitted him to be burdened and an idler on the com. FROM MY SCRAP-BOOK.
BY THE CUB-EDITOR.

We wonder why it is that nobody has ever written in thundering tones of denunciation of the unequal distance between railway ties. It seems pitifully inconsistent for great writers like our own Newfoundland scribes to go into minute details of what happened years ago when, right at hand, here lies a subject fraught with such fearful importance and one causing more pain to both mind and body than any other affliction ever forced upon a long-suffering public. And it shows how disgracefully incompetent and lacking in foresight were the framers of the Railway Act. Why we earnestly ask, why cannot we have a standard distance between these ties? It is too much to ask of those who grind us down in the dust that they may be the gainers in filthy wealth? Have the consciences of such become so warped and strained that they can regard our soul-torn cries for this improvement with indifference and apathy? Beware! we advise: the grim and unshaken determination of every love-sick swain of this ancient city is that these terrible conditions cannot continue much longer, and rising to a sympathetic heaven is the solemn and uncompromising avowal. WE MUST HAVE A UNIFORM DISTANCE BETWEEN RAILWAY TIES! Needless to state, we give this movement our unequalled support, and to show how sincere we are, we assure our readers that we have no intention of standing for election, now, nor at any time.—C.-E.

CATCHING COLD.
The late Mr. F. C. Selous, the great traveller and hunter, did not believe so much as most people in the bad effects of getting wet. He said that he had never caught a cold through being wet so long as he had kept out of doors. With plenty of fresh air that exercise a man can stand a tremendous amount of exposure and hardship.

Freedom of speech means practically, in our modern civilization, that we must only talk about unimportant things. We must not talk about religion, for that is illiterate; we must not talk about bread and cheese, for that is talking shop; we must not talk about death, for that is depressing; we must not talk about birth, for that is indelicate.—G. Not in This World.
(From the Toronto Star.)
Many people are promising themselves that, at the first opportunity, they will get into a flying machine and see how they like riding in the sky. And why not? But a story is told of a Toronto editor who, being up at Leaside Camp, was invited by one of the officers to hop into his aeroplane which he did. The machine rose and circled a couple of times over the aerodrome, and landed. The aviator apologized because he could not keep his visitor up longer as he was just going on duty. "But," said he to the editor, "the next time I see you I'll fly you up to Camp Borden and back." "That man," said the editor later, "will never see me again in the world."

Early Start.
The advance guard of the Lunenburg and LaHave fishing fleets have arrived in Halifax for bait and other supplies, before proceeding to the Banks. The schooners include the Selma Creaser, Donald A. Creaser, Irene M. Corkum, Marjorie E. Backman, Norman L. Conrad, and Kathleen C. Creaser, all of which came from LaHave, and entered and cleared at the Customs yesterday. Owing to the mild winter, the fleet is able to get away earlier this year, and with this advantage the season should be a most profitable one.

Great Skin Cure Stirrs Country.
A new scientific discovery for skin diseases is attracting the attention of all doctors in Newfoundland and Canada. This discovery has instant relief to the most aggravated cases of Eczema and allied diseases and brings about permanent cures in a fortnight. It is called the D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema.

Apparently no case of eczema can stand against this simple remedy. D. D. D. Prescription. As soon as the first few drops of this cleansing, soothing liquid are applied, the itch is gone.

D. D. D. cures because it penetrates the skin and washes away impurities, unlike greasy salves which merely clog the pores and aggravate disease. D. D. D. penetrates to the disease germs, kills them and then soothes and heals the skin.

D. D. D. is better used with great success for all forms of Eczema, Bad Leg, Pimples, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Ulcers, Barber's Itch and in fact all skin diseases.

Test this great cure; don't delay. Get a bottle of D. D. D. Prescription to-day. Sold Everywhere.

MARK TWAIN'S CAREER.
Mr. Samuel Longhorne Clemens (otherwise "Mark Twain") was born at Florida, Missouri. He spent most of his boyhood on the banks of the Mississippi, at Hannibal, a loafing, out-at-elbows, down-at-the-heels, slave-holding little town, where Hick Finn and Tom Sawyer had some of their marvellous adventures. The great author had very little education, for his father, a gentleman who owned slaves like his neighbors, but was not in favour of slavery, became a bankrupt; and young Clemens, when only about twelve years of age, had to enter a printing office and earn his living by setting type. At fifteen he left his native place, and wandered through the States as a printer; becoming a river pilot, a gold-miner, and several other things before he found his true vocation.

With baggy trousers, a roll of paper (MS) under his arm, and continually muttering under his breath? That Poeticus was a poet. Poets rarely have more than one shirt, being obliged to lie abed white about once a year. It is while they are thus hidden from view that they write the great poems on the Futility of Wealth. Origin of a Famous Hymn.
(From the People's Home Journal.)
The origin of the celebrated hymn, "God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform," was a curious incident in the life of its author, William Cowper, the English poet. Cowper, a deeply religious man, was subject to attacks of the blackest melancholy. During one of these attacks he determined to end his life by throwing himself into the Thames River. He hired a cab to take him to the river, but a dense fog so confused the cabman that after driving about for an hour he admitted to the passenger that he was lost. Cowper, alighting from the cab in order to give the driver more careful directions for reaching the bridge, found that his wanderings had brought him back by his own door. Strongly affected by what seemed to him almost a divine interposition, Cowper dismissed the cab, hurried to his room and wrote his famous hymn.

Tells How to Stop a Bad Cough
Surprise results from this famous old home-made syrup. Easily prepared and costs little.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat-ache, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick relief, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth). Pour this in a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This makes 16 ounces of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is rare for a cough to persist.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Be absolute to get the real Pinex, or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

My last communication I made reference to some of the old seal-makers, planters and master-mariners who made an epoch of their own in the history of our country as heroes from frozen pans. I shall now endeavor to give a short biographical sketch of a few of them, fearing that as stimulating my communications I to overlook them, having so much to describe in the invaluable letters and of Mr. Kelson. To my mind these are the men of our country, as they embody the customs of our people, the various business transactions, the fluctuations in trade, the chief articles of commerce and the means of the outside world and the markets, and scores of other interesting matters which give through knowledge of the men, the men in which our ancestors lived and conducted their business 100 years ago.

Another interesting item in articles is how clearly the prices and judgment and discrimination of the forefathers displayed in providing against all possible future difficulties, the grasp possessed by them with regard to the markets in and the effects wars, epidemics, etc., would have upon the prices of their products. They seemed to be prepared for any and every emergency and ward off loss where others would be completely wiped out in the general catastrophes which have succeeded at various periods in our history. With the very limited means of communication at their disposal in many days it is wonderful how they were able to keep in touch with the European markets, and conduct their business successfully, and in many instances pile up large fortunes, some retiring to England, Ireland, Scotland and subsequently occupying prominent positions in the political and civic affairs of these countries. We have only to look back at the names of Kemp, Bowring, Griefen and others to establish the truth of our statement. It has often been stated by so-called historians and

(H. F. SHORTISS) ARTICLE 6.

In my last communication I made reference to some of the old seal-killers and master-mariners who made an epoch of their own in the history of our country as heroes of the frozen seas. I shall now attempt to give a short biographical sketch of a few of them, fearing that some of my communications I overlooked them, having so much to write in the invaluable letters of Mr. Kelson. To my mind these men of Mr. Kelson are the real heroes within themselves the manners and customs of our people, the various business transactions, the fluctuations in trade, the chief articles of food and raiment in use, the means of communication with the outside world and the markets, and scores of other interesting matters which give a thorough knowledge of the man-ner in which our ancestors lived and conducted their business 100 years ago. Another interesting item in the letters is how clearly they show judgment and discrimination of the market with regard to the chief articles of the forest; the display in products against all possible future fluctuations, the grasp possessed by them with regard to the markets and the effects of wars, epidemics, would have upon the prices of products. They seemed to be well versed in all the emergencies which would befall them at various periods in our history. With the very limited means of communication at their disposal in those days it is wonderful how they managed to keep in touch with the various markets, and conduct their business successfully, and, in many cases, pile up large fortunes, some returning to England, Ireland, Scotland and subsequently occupying prominent positions in the political and civic affairs of these countries. We have only to look back at the names of Kelson, Gribble, and others to establish the truth of the statement. It has often been said by so-called historians and was given a chance to conduct business without being in the grasp of the octopus which so long controlled and muzzled the business affairs and liberty of the people of this country. For generations certain families occupied the chief positions in the country, handed down from father to son, until, at last, the people woke up, demanded their rights and obtained them. Why it was not so very many years ago that an Irishman and those outside the ring marked out by those petty tyrants, were permitted to erect chimneys in their houses, and old Mr. Vey, about 1828, had to erect a sort of tower on the top of his house, inside of which he built the chimney, unknown to the authorities, who were beginning to lose ground in their power and influence and were afraid to pull it down. That was on the same ground as is situated the well-known tinmith shop of Mr. Walter Clouston at the foot of Market House Hill in St. John's. The fact in this particular clique of combination for many years that they possessed exclusive rights to do as they pleased. But I digress and must return to the old heroes of Trinity mentioned in my last letter.

Wreck of the "William."
In the fifties the brig William, Capt. Eagan, on a passage from Poole to Trinity became a total wreck near Torbay. The disaster occurred at 9 o'clock in the night in the month of February. Capt. Eagan went on deck and said to the mate William White, "It is very thick weather, Billy, and my reckoning will be run down in ten minutes, and I am going to have to fore the night." White looked out under the mainmast, saw land, and cried out "Hard down, land!" and scarcely had he spoken when the man on lookout forward cried, "Land." The vessel not having sufficient head-way, and the sea rough, mid-stayed and went on the rocks. Capt. Eagan turned to White and said, "Billy, if any man can reach the shore you are the man." White jumped in the water with a line, and failed twice, but on the third attempt he reached the rock with the line in his mouth. He made the line fast on shore and all the crew, with the exception of William Wiltshire, escaped. They did not know where they were, and walked a considerable distance until they found a resident's house in Torbay. Their clothes were frozen and some of them were terribly frost-bitten. They were well treated by the hospitable people of Torbay. Capt. Eagan lived for many years afterwards and brought in many loads of seals. The last vessel he was in was the brig "John." He had his vessel employed in bringing seal from Sydney during the summer and fall, supplying the citizens with this necessary article. The last voyage made to Hamburg, Germany, with oil, skins, etc., a vessel was sailing for Newfoundland, and Capt. Eagan wrote a letter, and sent his son, James, who was mate with him, on board the ship, but to relate the son was never heard of afterwards. It was thought that he was lost in the river owing to the strong tide. There was a mural tablet erected to Wiltshire in the old St. Paul's Church at Trinity, and is probably still to be seen in the Mortuary Chapel. Capt. Eagan went to Trinity from Groat's Cove when very young and amassed quite an amount of property. He had a beautiful dwelling house in which Magistrate Sweetland afterwards lived for many years. He had also two other houses one in South West Arm and the other on the Nuddick. He was a descendant of one of the fish smugglers of whom Mr. Kelson writes.

Familiar Names.
The Colemans, Bartholomew and Joseph, were highly respected people and carried on the fisheries, seal and cod for many years with great success. About 1854 Bartholomew left Green Island Cove and built a house in Trinity to have a good harbor for his vessels. About 1858 he had three full loads of seals lying off his premises one Sunday afternoon in the brigantine Challenge, Syren and Emerald Isle. They dealt largely with the great firm of Baine Johnson & Co. St. John's. The late Mr. Robert Grieve presented Bart. with a splendid English gold watch and chain in consideration of his success in the fisheries. Joseph Coleman commanded the brigantine Noel at the sealfishery for several years. During the summer months of 1860, George Gent, who afterwards died in Bombay, India, while in command of a large ship from a Scotch firm, had charge of the Noel. Capt. Stephen Crocker was also great seal-killer and was a dealer of Baine Johnson & Co. For a number of years he commanded the brigantine, which was a liberal and other vessels. There were several brothers of the Conolly family, also seal-killers and planters. They handed down from father to son. Success, and were dealers of Bowring Bros.

Had Faith in Visions.
Old skipper Jim Morris was a very successful seal-killer in the old Dart, Venus is now about ready to sail from Pond with a cargo of old fish and Mr. Garland's ship "Brothers," I understand left Bonavista Bay with a cargo only a fortnight ago. We have had occasion to repair a part of the Mary's rudder iron, and have met with the greatest difficulty owing to the quality of the iron which is so brittle in such a case cannot be avoided. I understand that some real Swedish, first opportunity, for such work. By a letter from Mr. Cox of Fogo, dated 22nd July, the prospect of a voyage is said to be gloomy unless a change for the better takes place very shortly. I have now the pleasure of congratulating you on the safe arrival here of all your vessels, the Active having just dropped anchor, since I wrote the foregoing, and I feel the greatest satisfaction in adding that from her invoice the cargo seems to be exactly what I wished for. I am well aware of the difficulty and trouble attendant on collecting together such a variety of articles as you have sent out this Spring must be very great. I notice also the heavy amount of the invoices and you may depend on my best exertions in disposing of the goods in such a manner as to cover all expenses. Nothing will afford me greater happiness than to be able to make you good returns. I observe what you have said about not being able to charter a vessel with salt. I believe I shall be able to make it hold out. I forgot to mention before that I had from St. John's per Swallow 150 hhd. at 15/- per hhd., payable in the Fall, thinking my letter would not reach you in time to send any. Paddick has been very useful this Spring and Summer, but I shall not think of keeping him past the Fall unless he agrees to a great reduction in wages. MAGIC BAKING POWDER

The use of the ordinary kinds of baking powder is not attractive to the woman that regards purity and nutrition as important factors in home baking. Women are coming more and more to realize that Magic Baking Powder is the perfect baking powder and that foods containing it have increased nutritious value.

hunting, hearing cries on shore from the cliff, went to their rescue, lowered ropes over cliff and pulled them up to safety. The ledge of the cliff, upon which they were, was so narrow that they could not move or sleep, fearing they would topple over into the sea on the rocks, a distance of forty or fifty feet. But I must get on with Mr. Kelson's letters, or I shall be a centenarian before I have finished.

Pleased With Cargo.
Trinity, Aug. 2nd, 1815.
Mr. Robert Slade,
Sir,—I hear Messrs. Slat & Read's Venus is now about ready to sail from Pond with a cargo of old fish and Mr. Garland's ship "Brothers," I understand left Bonavista Bay with a cargo only a fortnight ago. We have had occasion to repair a part of the Mary's rudder iron, and have met with the greatest difficulty owing to the quality of the iron which is so brittle in such a case cannot be avoided. I understand that some real Swedish, first opportunity, for such work. By a letter from Mr. Cox of Fogo, dated 22nd July, the prospect of a voyage is said to be gloomy unless a change for the better takes place very shortly. this neighborhood some years. I am sorry you were prevented by the disturbances in Europe from visiting Trinity and other places where disturbances will occur next season, I remain, Sir, Your humble servant,
WM. KELSON.

P.S.—Ann Kelson has her humble respects to Mrs. Slade and to return thanks for her present of pickles, etc.
Lunatic Passenger.
Trinity, Aug. 5th, 1815.
Sir,—Captain Gaynor being still here this is merely to say I have never engaged any other vessel, excepting Irish. I have had a great deal of trouble with Jonsick. He soon got tired of work, stole one of our punts in the height of the fishery, attempted to desert. I caught him in the middle of Bay, lodged him in goal for a week and on his promising good behaviour for the future, let him out and tried him again. He was not many days before he again refused to work, and in addition to that injustice declared to several of the servants that if I did not send him home he would set fire to the Room and then cut his own throat. The moment this reached my ears, I, of course, was alarmed, had him immediately imprisoned until an opportunity offered for St. John's, to which place I have sent him, hoping of never seeing anything more of him. I have before in my letter No. 10 hinted to you respecting the disturbance of Joseph Curli and I now enclose more copies of letters to and from Catalina in order that you may be able to judge if the business is conducted. Unless circumstances induce me to alter my opinion between this and the Fall, I shall certainly remove him at the close of the business, collection of fish at Trinity amounts at present to between 4 and 5,000 qts., and as the weather of the last 7 or 8 days has been fine and a continuance seems likely, I have no doubt but the "Active" will soon be dispatched. Curli I have no doubt, is of such a jealous nature, as not to admit of an assistant in the shop and Counting House branches which he is not content to fill) I shall not hesitate at saying I think him unfit to have the management of a concern such as yours at Catalina. Please inform Messrs. John Slade & Co. that I write Mr. Cox every opportunity enclosing him extracts and copies of my letters from Portugal. The last hhd. of Tobacco we had from Liverpool is very good, will soon be gone, and I wish you could secure some more of the same quality. My letters Nos. 11, 12 and 13 went per Mr. Garland's "Augustus" for Poole on the 4th inst., and as I have forwarded copies via St. John's, I consider it superfluous to do the same per this chance. I take the liberty of enclosing a Poole letter for Messrs. John Slade & Co., and wishing the "John and Elizabeth" a better market than the late accounts from abroad seem to warrant. I remain, sir, with best endeavours,
Your humble servant,
WM. KELSON.

August 31st, 1815.
I have directed Capt. Hamon to call off Port Bar, on Messrs. Page Noble & Co., and if the cargo be discharged there or any other Port, in time, to take in a good ballast of salt and return to me. Should the cargo unfortunately meet with no market without going a long distance and thereby be detained till too late to think of beating out here, in that case, to take freight for some Port or a ballast of salt for Poole agreeably to your letter No. 11.

VALVE-IN-HEAD
Buick
MOTOR CARS

Make your Motoring season an enjoyable one by owning the Car that all other motorists look upon with envy—the Buick Six is the most envied car in St. John's.

The Buick is always ready to take you anywhere you desire to go—it never falters.

When you press the starting pedal of the Buick, you are assured immediate response—the Delco starter is always on the job to turn over your engine every time you require it.

Buick Cars are luxuriously equipped, and upholstered in genuine black leather—no imitation. Strength of construction is an inherent quality of all Buicks. With the new Sixty Horsepower Valve in Head engine sixty miles an hour is easily accomplished, besides hills are made short work of.

A new and valuable feature is the entirely enclosed valves and engine, thus keeping out all grit and dust and giving longer life to the car, consequently the Engine is noiseless.

We shall be happy to let you look over our 1919 Buick Six which recently arrived—you will be convinced why it is the most envied car once you have examined it.
