SATURDAY EVENING, MAY 4, 1872

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

It is reported that the W. G. & B.
Railway will be opened for regular traffic to Walkerton on the 1st of June.

Mr. Jas. McQUEEN, of Ferris, has been Clerk of the Township for thirty-four years, and is good for twenty years more public service yet.

LEISURE HOUR and SUNDAY at HOME.— Mr. T. J. Day has sent us the May number of these excellent magazines. For sale at Day's Book-store.

One day last week Thomas Richardson, of Ferris, shot a rock eagle within the limits of the corporation, which measured six feet six inches from tip to tip of wings.

BALLASTING has commenced on the T.
G. & B. Railway between Mount Forest and Arthur. It is expected that the road will be completely finished by the 15th of June.

THE MOUNT FOREST, Confederate is informed that an Indian met, with his death in the vicinity of Elsherton very suddenly last week. It appears he had been drinking at a tavern there, and was struck on the back of the head with a poker, and soon after getting back to his wigwam he died.

STATIONERY.—Mr. John Anderson has sent us a nice package of stationery in a box, comprising two quires note paper; two packets envelopes, penholder, pens and blotting paper, all which he sells for 25 cents. He has just received a large assortment of these packages direct from Britain; also some beautiful book marks.

THE WOOD MARKET.—The season is fast approaching when wood will occupy a prominent place in the market quotations.
Although a reported scarcity in the manufacturing districts had a tendency to raise prices a short time since, there is now a reactionary movement; and although the opening prices are higher than usual will hardly reach the figure anticipated.

AN OLD SETTLER GONE.—We regret to record the death of Mrs. Joseph Holston, which took place in this town on Friday, at noon, after a long illness. The deceased was among the oldest residents in Paisley Block, having come in with her father, the late John Inglis, in the year 1830. She lived for many years in Guelph Township, much respected and esteemed by all her neighbors and acquaintances for her many excellent qualities and kindness of heart. About three years ago the family moved into Guelph, since which time she has been in failing health, but it was only within the last few months that her illness assumed a serious character. Thus one by one the old and well known settlers of Paisley Block are dropping off as death steps. Lewis' thought upon arrival here, Mr. Lewis' thought matters did not look just as represented, the baby being very quiet, so he determined to detain the infant until the fare was paid. Reassurance, of course, was made at Mr. Lewis' heartless conduct, but all to no purpose, the baby was taken to the ticket office, and Mrs. Kelly for that was the woman's name, was obliged to go home without her offspring. Upon examination the sick child was found to be nothing more than a bundle of clothes tied up into shape, a child's cap on what represented the head, this being formed by a string tied round the neck. It is now being carefully tended at the station here until called for by its parent.—Mount Forest Examiner.

POLICE COURT.
Before T. W. Saunders Esq., P. M.
Saturday, April 4.

George Wallis was charged with stealing a razor, the property of Thos. Thorne, on Friday. Sentenced to one month in gaol at hard labour.

Edward Jackson, for breach of By-law in selling a calf skin without paying the market fees, was fined $1. Defendant pleaded that he forgot all about getting a ticket.

Mr. CARTER stated the other night that he could not say when the bill respecting the re-adjustment of seats would be introduced. The members are beginning to see that the session will be longer than was at first anticipated. There has been as yet very little of the real work of the session done.

Local and Other Items.

AFTER an interval of 16 years, Berlin again boasts the possession of an iron foundry, which is now in full operation under the management of Messrs. Maude, formerly of Galt.

The first fair at Moorefield came off on Monday. The Enterprise says: there were a large number of cattle on the ground, and a considerable amount of business was transacted. Altogether it was a great success.

The eruption of Mount Vesuvius continues to develop startling and interesting phases. Among these are showers of sand and ashes which have barred the streets of Naples to the depth of several inches, terrible electrical phenomena, etc. The flow of lava has ceased, and with it perhaps the most imminent danger to the inhabitants remaining about the base of the mountain.

It is amusing to read some of the pa-graphs which occasionally appear in the papers. The following from the Toronto Telegraph is the greatest piece of horse ever came across.—The Credit Valley line will be essentially a farmer's railroad; for instance the general average price of barley between Toronto and the district through which the line is destined to run, for the past year, has been 9 cents per bushel; peas 6 cts per bushel; and butter 4 cents per lb.

POST OFFICE REGULATIONS.—A young man, aged 16, named Rogers, son of the Postmaster of Bloomington, County of Waterloo, has been suspected for some time of opening money letters in that office. A few days ago the usual trap was set for him by the Post Office Inspector, and on Friday a marked five dollar bill was found on him. He was immediately arrested and placed in gaol at Berlin. He acknowledges having abstracted $38 from one letter.

ADDITIONAL POSTAL FACILITIES.—The Post Office Department, it is stated, is devising a new plan for the collection of mail matters in cities. It is proposed to have "letter boxes" at a number of convenient places, and what is new about the arrangement is to have an interior box fitting closely into the exterior one, both having keys by which they can be generally locked. A collector can with a horse and buggy drive round to the several depositories once or twice a day, remove the inner box, which contains the mail matter and insert an empty one.
The collector has no access whatever to the letters as the key to the inner box is retained at the General Post Office.

DOMINION OCEAN TELEGRAPHY.—We notice that the Hon. John Young has believed to Parliament, sought to extend an Act granted to him and associates in Copenhagen and London some time ago, for the purpose of laying down an Ocean Telegraph Cable from the North of Scotland to the St. Lawrence, via the Danish possessions of Faeroe Islands and Iceland.
If this project can be carried out of sea, it will direct telegraphic communication between the Dominion of Canada and England, no one can doubt its vast advantage to the general and mercantile interests of this country.

The Liquor Traffic.
In the presentation of the Grand Jury at the close of their labors at the Westport Assizes, held in Hamilton during the past three weeks, we find the following significant sentence:—
"We find the chief of those confined in the jail on our visit were drunkards and vagrants; and we have ascertained that out of an aggregate of seven hundred prisoners, seventy-five per cent. are vagrants and drunkards. This is a sad statement of facts to make, but we consider we should not be doing our duty in withholding it from the public. More, the whole of the cases brought before the Grand Jury, with two or three exceptions, are traceable to the use of spirituous liquors. We consider that are there too other places for the sale of spirits. This evil has gradually been on the increase, and should be restricted by legislative enactment. We are informed that the city has granted licenses this year which will realize over and above the tax, the sum realized by the same source last year. This may be considered satisfactory as far as the city financing goes, but if the worthy Mayor and Aldermen would calculate carefully the cost, it would be found that it was not a financial success by any means, besides the pernicious and immoral encouragement of vice in every corner, and those who eventually fall fill the police cells and county jail. The Grand Jury could have produced figures and facts showing the evils produced by this indiscriminate and broad-based mode of issuing licenses for the sale of spirituous liquors, etc., etc.; but they restrain, believing that the Christian men and women will exercise their influence and induce the authorities everywhere to raise the revenue from a more healthy source."

There can be no other published item which shows the progress of the Dominion in material wealth and prosperity more than that which comes under the name of "Savings," especially as it is produced by the savings of the mechanic and working man. It is not for one moment to be supposed that this statement is that only which show the carefulness and providence of that class, as in every city and town in the Dominion there are private banks, and other institutions which retain, besides a deposit, and probably a low much larger interest than does the Government; yet, it must be admitted that the result as shown for in the returns made by the Government is such to inspire the country with confidence. In the year 1867 there was received on a deposit $23,517, and in 1870 $1,917,576.
The result in four years to an increase of 900 per cent.; that whilst in 1867 the balance was $201,588.89, for 1870 it was $2,469, 259.65, or equal to 1,200 per cent., so that there was a deposit actually left in the Government at the end of three years, equal to 300 per cent., on the balance of 1867, or in round numbers, over $600,000.

This must speak volumes in favor of the Post Office Savings' Department, and goes to show that notwithstanding higher rates of interest may be obtained in other institutions, yet the masses are willing to accept the security of the Dominion Government in preference to any other that may be offered, at all events to the above rates.

The Sarnia Observer says that Sheriff Flintoff, of Lambton, who has discharged the duties of that office for eighteen years, has resigned.

Mr. Greeley's Telegram

Bazine Demands a Trial by Court

New York, May 4.—The Times says of the Cincinnati convention that it should produce one good result. It should lead the present leaders of the Republican party to consider their responsibility, to stop, to study the demands of the House and to make their proceedings at Philadelphia worthy of the present crisis.
We confess that, in our opinion, such men as Grant and Colfax are infinitely superior to Horace Greeley and Gutz Brown.
The World expresses profound surprise at the result in Cincinnati. Adams, who had proved by far the strongest of all the candidates, and who had been expected to be the strongest in the convention, might have been cordially endorsed by the World as he would have been cordially supported by the Democratic party.
Greeley can receive no such endorsement, nor has he any reason to expect such support. The convention has chosen to nominate the most heated and conspicuous opponent of the Democratic party. The country called for a revener reform, but it has selected the most zealous of the party entirely free to await the developments of the immediate future and opens the way for a possible Democratic victory.

Cincinnati, May 3.—The following telegram from Greeley was received here after he had been informed of his nomination:—
"New York, May 3.
"Please tender my grateful acknowledgments to the members of the convention for the confidence they have shown me, and assure them I shall endeavor to deserve it."
(Signed) HORACE GREELEY.

Richmond, Va., May 3.—The announcement of the nomination of Greeley and Brown gives very general satisfaction to the Conservatives and Liberal-Republicans here.

Paris, May 3.—Marshall Bazaine has written to Thiers, demanding a trial by Court Martial on the accusation of commanding a capitulation. It is said that Gen. Whimpen has also asked for a similar opportunity to vindicate himself.

London, April 3.—The Memorial Di- plomatique says that the Czar has accepted Gortschakoff's resignation, and that Gortschakoff will succeed to the office of Chancellor of the Empire for Foreign Affairs.

The Cincinnati Convention.
CINCINNATI, May 3.

The balloting for the nomination of a person as President of the United States, by the Liberal Republican Convention now in session here, took place to-day with the following result:—

First ballot—Adams, 203; Greeley, 146.
Second ballot—Greeley, 245; Adams 243; Trumbull, 148; Davis, 75; Brown, 2, and Chase, 1.

Third ballot—Adams, 264; Greeley, 258; Trumbull, 147; Davis, 44; Brown, 2,
and Chase, 1.

Fourth ballot—Adams, 279; Greeley, 253; Trumbull, 139; Davis, 41.

Sixth ballot—Greeley, 319; the Illinois delegation not voting, but had withdrawn for consultation.

Greeley was therefore declared nominated on the sixth ballot.

CINCINNATI, May 3.—The whole vote 714, necessary to choice, 358. Adams has 187; Greeley 482.

The resolutions adopted by the Convention declare equality of all men before the law; Union of States, and no re-opening of questions settled by the thirteenth, fourteenth, and fifteenth amendments; removal of disabilities incurred in the rebellion; general amnesty; local self-government; supremacy of civil over military authority; respect for the habeas corpus; return to methods of peace; maintenance of constitutional limitation of power; civil service reform; single term for the presidency; a system of federal taxation which shall not unnecessarily interfere with the industry of the people, and as there are honest, irreconcilable opponents of opinion as to the merits respectively of the systems of protection and free trade, that question is remitted to the people in Congressional districts and the decision of Congress thereon wholly free of executive interference or credit; maintenance of the public debt; equalization in every form; speedy return to specie payments; recognition of the services and sacrifices of soldiers and sailors; against further grants of land to railroads or other corporations.
In foreign relations, the duty of the Government is to cultivate friendship.

Governor B. Gratz Brown, of Missouri, was nominated for Vice-President on the second ballot. The Conference then adjourned.

Rimonski election has terminated in favor of Premier Chanvane's son, by a majority of 144 over his opponent, Mr.
Fisit. The vote was, Chanvane 1,280; Mr. Fisit 1,136. Though defeated the Liberal party have reason to be proud of the energetic struggle they have made in a country so noted for its venality as Rimonski against all the power, influence corruption and intimidation of the Dominion and Local Governments and the Intercolonial Railway contractors.

An old lover was brought before the Omaha Police court a few days since to answer to the charge of drunkenness, and pleaded the constitutional provision that he ought not to be tried twice for the same offense, asking the Judge if there was something of that kind in the law.
The Judge said there was. "Then," said the inebriate, "if you'll send down to Lincoln and bring Governor Butler up here, I can prove by him that I haven't been sober for fifteen years. It is the same old drunk Judge—the same old drunk."

The Conservatives of the North Riding of Perth held a convention at Newry on Thursday to nominate a candidate for the Commons. In consequence of some of the townships not being represented, it was finally determined to adjourn until June 1st.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

OTTAWA, May 3.

THE WASHINGTON TREATY BILL.

Sir John A. Macdonald rose for leave to bring in a Bill to carry out the provisions of the Treaty between Great Britain and the United States, signed at Washington, on the 8th of May, 1871.
He said the Bill was simply for the purpose of suspending those clauses of the Fishery Act which prevented citizens of the United States from fishing in our waters. He had confined the Bill to this matter, because the question really before the House was whether the fishery articles of the Treaty would be sanctioned by this Parliament. As, however, a desire was expressed that he should enter into the subject fully on asking leave to bring in a Bill, he had examined the cognate Act laid before Congress, and found in it that all subjects, even those that did not require legislation, were represented in that Act, in order, one would suppose, to make the Act the nature of a contract, and obligatory during the existence of the Treaty, so that they could not, without breach of faith, be repealed during the existence of the Treaty. He proposed to follow the same course. The Act he now asked leave to bring in provided, in the first place, for the suspension of the fishery clauses in our Act preventing American fishermen from fishing in our inshore waters. The second clause provided that, during the existence of the Treaty, fish and fish oils of all kinds, except those of our inland lakes and the rivers bordering on them and fish preserved in oil, being the produce of the fisheries of the United States, should be admitted into Canada free of duty. The third clause provides for the continuance during the 12 years of the Treaty and the existence of the bonding system. The fourth clause provided that the right of transshipment contained in the 30th clause of the Treaty of Washington should be secured to citizens of the United States. The last clause of the Act provide that it should come into effect whenever, by an order of the Governor-in-Council, a proclamation should issue bringing it into effect. He was aware that objections might be taken to some of the clauses, from the fact that they dealt with matters of trade they should originate in the Committee of the whole; but this objection did not apply to those clauses that suspended the operation of the Fishery Act. He went on to say that he presented the Bill after the same manner as the Reciprocity Act was presented to the late provinces in 1854.
The House had a perfect right to reject the Bill, and their decision would affect whether the articles of the Treaty extending from the 18th to the 25th clause should receive the sanction of Parliament, or whether this portion of the Treaty should be a dead letter. No matter what might be the consequence of the action of this Parliament in the matter; no matter what might be the consequences in respect to the relations between Canada and England, and between Canada and the United States; no matter what might be the consequences to the present Government, it must not be forgotten that this House was fully charged with the right to reject this Bill if they pleased, and maintain the right to inshore fisheries as if the Treaty had never been made.
This power was provided in the Treaty, and had it not been the name of the Minister of Justice would not have been attached to it as a Plenipotentiary of Her Majesty. The Premier then went into a long explanation and defence of his course as one of the Commissioners, and of the course of his Government in reference to the Treaty.

Mr. Mackenzie replied at some length, after which the debate was adjourned.

The "Globe" and Mr. Gladstone.

The Globe, in a recent article on the state papers relating to the Treaty of Washington, took occasion to comment in severe terms on the sham transactions that had recently been carried on by Sir John A. Macdonald and Mr. Gladstone. The Globe simply discharged a public duty in exposing both the actors in this affair, and administering the lash with impartial severity alike to the English Parliament and the Canadian Conservative. It expressed the opinion that Gladstone had come short of his duty and staid the

OR LOVE AND HONOUR.

A TALE OF THE CLYDE. CHAPTER XXIX. JOINING THE ARMY.

On the afternoon of the fifth of August, two men were proceeding slowly along a shaded path over the vine-covered hills which skirt the river Stour, near the then frontier between France and Germany.

One was a young man, tall and well formed, with a bright sunny Saxon face, the frank and fearless expression of which spoke of a brave and a buoyant heart.

His companion was considerably older and shorter, though fully as stout. Indeed he looked of even stronger build, though probably this was owing to the fact that he was not so tall.

His dress was in some respects similar to that of his younger companion. He, too, wore a wide-awake and a loosely-fitting Norfolk shirt; but for the rest he had trousers instead of knickerbockers; his boots were heavier and thickly shod with iron; and the knotted stick from which his bundle was suspended was thorn instead of oak.

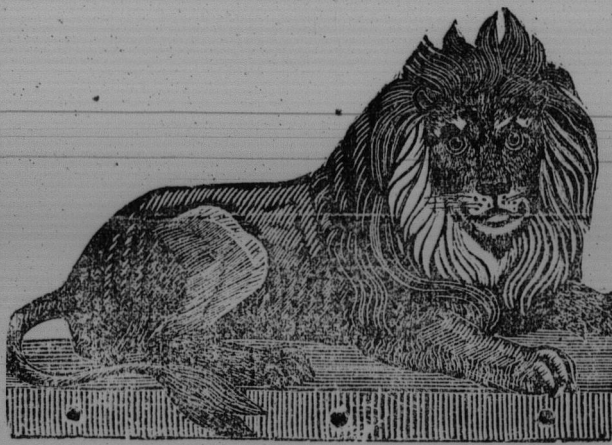

Comparing the two, the one who had last described was evidently of humbler rank than the other, though his bearing, while respectful, did not seem to be that of a common servant in his master's company.

The reader has probably guessed who the two travellers are. It will be no surprise, then, when we say that they are Edwin Allerton and Ritchie Dumbly.

They were on their way to that portion of the army which was commanded by General Steinmetz, one of the divisions of which Hermann had joined, under the command of an old friend of his father General von Goben.

At Coblenz, Edwin had fortunately met with Herr von Rheinbach, Hermann's father, and from him he received a letter to General von Goben, requesting, as a personal favor, that he would give the youth permission to accompany that portion of the army that was under his command.
