FOOD DYING IN HIS PRISON CELL

Man Charged With Larceny Takes Morphine in Cell--Sad Drowning Accident Near Sorel--Hobbs Brought Back to Montreal and Denies Charges Against Him.

NEW YORK, July 25--Walter K. Freeman, a chemist, was arrested at his summer home at Oceanside, N. Y., yesterday, and locked up at police headquarters last night, charged by Park, Davis & Co., of Detroit, dealers in drugs and chemicals, with the larceny of $2,500, said to have been taken from the chemist's cell today. He had taken morphine and was believed to be dying, but the authorities were unable to ascertain whether he took the drug with suicidal intent. Freeman attracted considerable attention in scientific circles a few years ago by his claim that he had discovered the secret of making camphor by a synthetic process. It is alleged that while carrying on experiments under the contract with Park, Davis & Co. at his laboratory in Rutherford, N. J., he exchanged a bill head of Baker & Co., of Newark and turned in a bill to Park, Davis & Co. purporting to show that he had purchased from the Newark firm $2,500 worth of platinum. This bill, it is charged, was paid to Freeman by the Michigan firm. (Special)--A drowning accident happened at St. Louis De Bonsecours, twenty four miles from here, Fernon, Bernier and her baby and Mrs. Bouquet were all drowned while crossing the Yamaska river in a buggy. All of the bodies were recovered from New York yesterday, where he was arrested some time ago, pleaded not guilty to the charges when arraigned in the police court this morning. The case went over for hearing at a later date.

ACCIDENT TO THE DREDGE

Dipper Handle Broke This Morning and Work Stops for a Day or Two.

The Dredge Beaver met with an accident this morning that will cause a cessation of the work for a day or two. While engaged in lifting a large boiler the dipper handle broke, and it will be necessary to replace it with a new one before the work can be continued. Contractor Mayne was asked about the matter and he expected to have the new handle taken to the west side and installed tomorrow and the work would be in readiness as that work could be resumed Friday morning. Mr. Mayne said he had been expecting the dipper handle to break and he had a new one on hand which would be ready tomorrow. The dipper handle weighs about fourteen tons.

UNION IN FAVOR OF SMALLER ARMAMENTS

LONDON, July 25--The conference of the Inter-parliamentary Union, after a prolonged debate this morning, adopted the following resolution: "First--By treaty define contraband of war as being restricted to arms, munitions of war and explosives. Second--Reserve and confirm the principle that neither a ship carrying contraband nor other goods aboard such ship may be destroyed. Third--Affirm that even between belligerents private property should be as immune as sea as it is on land. The conference also adopted a resolution in favor of the discussion by the Hague conference of means to cut down the "intolerable expenditure on armaments."

SISTER ODELL WILL GO WEST

She Will Become Mother Superior of Sisters of Charity Orphanage in Saskatchewan.

Some time ago His Lordship Bishop Casey received a communication from Archbishop Langevin of Saskatchewan, asking that an orphanage be established in the western province by the Sisters of Charity of this city. As a result of this request it has been decided to send out a number of the sisters from the Cliff Street convent to found an institution where the orphans in the west can be cared for in a fitting manner. On Thursday evening next Sister Odell with three others from the local institution will leave for Saskatchewan to start upon their new work. Sister Odell has been chosen by Mother Thomas, acting superior of the Cliff Street convent, to act as mother superior of the new institution. Before taking orders Sister Odell was known as Miss Griffin. She is a daughter of Mrs. Mary Griffin, 31 Orange Street. Miss Janet Griffin, Mrs. Mc Bride, Mrs. John Ogger, of this city; Boston, are sisters, Frank Griffin of this city and Richard of Boston are brothers. After the establishment of the convent in Saskatchewan, branches will be founded in various places in the west, as the growing needs consequent upon the great number of new arrivals demand them.

NEW WAREHOUSE FOR SAND POINT

It Will be Built Similar to No. 3, and Plans Will be Prepared at Once.

At a meeting of a sub-committee of the board of works this morning to consider plans for the new warehouse on the west side, it was decided to recommend that a warehouse similar to No. 3 be built, and plans prepared accordingly. There was some talk of having steel doors put in the present structure, but after some discussion it was decided to use wood, as in the present buildings. There was also a proposal that the new warehouse be founded on build without posts, the roof being supported by a trusswork. This was, however, overruled and there will be a few of central posts as in No. 3. Signal Master Drake received word at noon today that a steamer had passed Brier Island bound inward.

KNIGHTS FIX DATE OF DECORATION DAY

The Knights of Pythias of this city have decided on Thursday, August 16th, as their annual memorial day, when the graves of the departed members will be decorated with floral tributes. As there are a number of new graves to be decorated this year, the knights hope that their many friends who have contributed flowers in the past, will again bear in mind the date this year, and assist as before. It is expected that the knights will have a very large turnout on this day. It is expected that the committee appointed to arrange for the conveyance of the west side property to the C. P. R. will meet this afternoon, with Supt. Downie, when the terms of the sale will be discussed.

ADVISES PEOPLE TO OPEN WAR AS IT WOULD MEAN RUIN

Members of Russian Parliament Issue an Independent Address Advising People to Remain Calm and Obey Czar's Mandate--Meanwhile Troops Are Massing in Moscow and Armed Revolutionists Are Burning Castles in the Interior.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 25--Count Heyden, Prince Lvov and M. Stakovich, the three members of parliament who refused to sign the address to the country issued at Ybor, July 23, today issued a separate address appealing to the people to submit quietly to the imperial decree dissolving parliament and to prepare for the election of members to the new parliament. The address points out that the emperor acted within his constitutional rights under the fundamental law and says that the signing of the address in offering this advice act from the profound conviction that it would be a crime in the midst of the present dangers to attempt to shake the power of the sovereign. After firmly setting forth the views of the members of the parliament actually coincided with the dissent from the government programme, and the ministry impossible, the address says the emperor only exercised his legal prerogative in submitting the issue again to the people, to decide whether the views of the parliament actually coincided with the sentiment of the nation. It then appeals to the people to prove by their calmness that they are fitted for self government and at the same time to show the monarch by the representatives whom they conscientiously elect that they do not intend to use force, which would be criminal madness, as it surely would provoke severe measures, adding: "The government is compelled to maintain the integrity of the state and the safety of the citizens at any price. Resistance with force not only means an enormous number of human sacrifices, but also the ruin of Russia to final economic and political ruin."

A Secret Meeting ST. PETERSBURG, July 25--A meeting of the recently organized council of workmen was held in secret last night. It was attended by delegations representing all the important factories in St. Petersburg, deputies from the League of Leagues and representatives of the Social Democratic and social revolutionary parties. The meeting discussed and accepted a proposition from the socialist party to dissolve the lower house of parliament and to prepare for the formation of a central organization to direct a strike movement throughout all Russia. The czar's new automobile, which is capable of running sixty miles an hour, is intended for conveying his majesty, and the whole city is under semi-martial law. In addition to the regular troops guarding Nicholas station, the terminus of the line connecting Moscow and St. Petersburg, a machine gun detachment is on duty there. Another Assassination WARSAW, Russian Poland, July 25--Col Salamatoff, of the gendarmes, was killed here today. The assassin escaped. Massing Troops in Moscow MOSCOW, July 25--The massing of troops in this city continues. The radiating railroad lines are carefully guarded and the whole city is under semi-martial law. In addition to the regular troops guarding Nicholas station, the terminus of the line connecting Moscow and St. Petersburg, a machine gun detachment is on duty there. Odessa is Quiet ODESSA, July 25--This city is comparatively quiet today. About 700 Jews have been arrested on suspicion of belonging to a self-defense organization. Another Strike IBGAY, Livonia, Russia, July 25--Nine thousand factory workmen here struck work today. Financial Crash Coming ST. PETERSBURG, July 25--No word of the military disorders is now published. Discussing the financial situation the Herald today points out that the quotations of Russian securities here and abroad are not a true barometer. It adds that a financial crash is impending as the government is resorting to Count Witte's system by which millions are used in Berlin and Paris to keep the czar's government from holding up. The car is of unusual size, and was built in Hungary at a cost of $20,000. It is a large, luxurious and bomb-proof automobile has just been delivered at Peterhof for the czar. THEFT CHARGED AFTER TWO YEARS

Peter Petropolis, King Street Shoe Black Will be Arraigned in Police Court Tomorrow.

An interesting case will come up in the police court this afternoon when Peter Petropolis, proprietor of a King Street shoe-shining establishment, will face the charge of theft. The complainant in this case is another Greek, named Marcus, who will be represented by J. King Kelby, W. Watson Allen, K. C., will defend Petropolis. The prosecution alleges that about two years ago Marcus sent into the Petropolis shoe-shining establishment and while there consumed in a friendly manner with the defendant. During the conversation, it is alleged, Peter Petropolis put his arm around the neck of the complainant and cleverly got possession of a pearl pin, which was lodged in the lapel of the complainant's coat. Marcus left the store entirely ignorant of his loss, and it was not until he had reached home that he missed his piece of jewelry. Immediately he looked for it, but he must have lost it. Time went on until a short time ago there was a dispute that had taken place between the members. One of the Greeks came with Peter, and forthwith went to Marcus and informed him that he could give him the information that would lead to discovery of the lost valuable. The complainant immediately enquired where his jewel was, and was informed that Peter Petropolis had stolen it two years ago. It is understood that the defendant in the case claims that Marcus lost the pin and he found it. The prosecution, however, claims if it is the case, Petropolis is even then held liable under the criminal code. All parties concerned in the case have been notified to be present in court tomorrow morning at ten o'clock. Another popular picnic is that of the Church of the Assumption which is being held at the Ferns and as usual the attendance is very large. Ample amusement is provided for the merry-makers and there is no lack of good things to cheer the inner man. St. Matthew's Presbyterian church is holding its annual outing at Westfield Beach. NO MORE FUNDS FROM JAPAN WASHINGTON, July 25--Through the state department, the American Red Cross has sent a message to the Japanese government, asking that no further contributions be made by the Japanese to the San Francisco relief fund. This action was taken because it is thought all the fund's now necessary can be raised in this country. A total of $400,000 was received from Japan for the earthquake sufferers. Weekly contributions will be made at Seaside Park to day.

WILL BE BURIED IN A STEEL CASE

And Electric Connections Will be Made With Russell Sage's Casket to Foil Grave Robbers--Relatives of Late Financier Preparing to Fight His Will.

NEW YORK, July 25--Preparations for contesting the will of Russell Sage in the event of its provisions not being satisfactory to them have already been made by relatives of the financier. Nephews and grand-nephews and other more remote relatives are said to be considering steps for legal proceedings. Mr. Sage had several brothers and sisters, none of whom is living as far as can be ascertained, but various kinsmen who bear the name and who are scattered about the country are looking to see if their family tree might not bear apples of gold. There was a report current that a nephew who had resided in this city would be among the first to take action in case he was not adequately remembered. Most of the relatives named were not on especially good terms with Mr. Sage. He had on more than one occasion given financial aid to several of them, but their ideas of life did not conform to his strict business code. Mr. Sage had relatives in Troy and his neighborhood, for it was from there he started for New York, where he made his fortune. Some of the Troy heirs have retained counsel to look after their interests, and Senator Brackett, of Saratoga, has been consulted. NEW YORK, July 25--Buried in a hermetically sealed copper envelope placed within a solid mahogany coffin, the body of Russell Sage will, today, be placed in a chilled steel case four inches thick, riveted with steel bolts, locked with a lock which can never be opened, and lowered into a grave carpeted and lined with evergreens on which the coffin will be heaped and the mound built. The steel case weighs three tons. It is seven feet eleven inches in length, two feet six inches in depth, and three feet six inches in width. Ten strong men find it a task to lift it. Immediately after the steel box and the contents are lowered into the grave electric connections will be made and will be strong so that an immediate alarm will be given if any attempt is made to tamper with the remains. The burial will be in Oakwood Cemetery, Troy, beside the grave of Mr. Sage's first wife. The coffin will cost $1,000 and the steel case with its unbreakable lock, $2,000.

Sixteen charter members have already been secured and it is expected that a number of others will decide to go into the new court before Monday's meeting. TODAY AT THE SUMMER SCHOOL OF MISSIONS

The Summer School of Missions resumed this morning in Centenary church room at ten o'clock. Rev. Mr. Crisp presiding. After devotional exercises, Rev. T. W. DeLoach, of Charlottetown, P. E. I., gave an interesting address, taking as his subject "Man and God." The speaker referred to man's complex notion of and his relation to the animal world, by which he was influenced. Man also possessed a higher, a moral and spiritual sense which must be influenced. He also dwelt at some length on man's conception of God, which in the past years had been narrowed, which in modern times has been expanding, and with the light of science our ideas as to eternity and the infinite in time and space are broader and clearer today, so that man is brought to recognize more than ever the fatherhood of God as revealed in Christ. Rev. Professor McLaughlin who was the next speaker, gave a series of studies entitled the "Missionary Idea in the Bible." The reverend gentleman in the course of his remarks referred to God in His creation and providence, and pointed out that the clear teaching of the New Testament was that God made the world. He provides for, governs and controls it; therefore the world is God's, and his purpose in the world will not be accomplished until all men recognize His supremacy.

MONEY MAXIMS

Some maxims of Russell Sage, which are said to have contributed to his success as a money getter, are now given to the world. They will enable no one to amass a hundred millions, but doubtless there is much practical wisdom in them, and some insight into the character of the man who coined some of them and adopted the others. Here are the maxims: Any man can earn a dollar, but it takes a wise man to use it. This has been my motto from the very start of my business career. I saved the first dollar I ever earned, and from that hour I have never been in debt to a human being for a cent that was not repaid when due. Society is to blame for many wasted lives. To excite envy is to make enemies. Those who live for pleasure alone do no good to themselves or to others. There is no such thing as the money cure; a good man cannot have too much money. Fifty cents is enough for a straw hat; it will last two seasons. If I had my life to live over again I would try just as hard to turn my money over and over and over again, that it might do the most good to other men. I get plenty of relaxation from an exciting rubber of whist, played at night in my own home after dinner. When the game is over my day is done. It is a surprising fact that many men endure unwarranted expenditures for no other reason than to excite the envy of their neighbors. How wicked is this! A boy who knows bargains in socks will become a man who knows bargains in stocks. When you have made your fortune it is time enough to think about spending it. The tender care of a good wife is the finest thing in the world. The longer a man lives the more mistakes he may be counted on to make. Clubs are only a place for idle men and wasteful young men. An active man builds success upon the foundation of failure; a passive man does not. Real charity is disbursed without the glare of trumpets. I think the vacation habit is the outgrowth of abnormal or distorted business methods. I fail to see anything legitimate in it. The physician may recommend a change of air for a man when he is ill; but why buy ill-health is nothing but an irreparable loss of time. Securities have been made in great quantities and sold at high prices on the idea that economies to be effected by centralization of control will give them the arbitrary values which have been placed upon them. This theory will be exploded sooner or later, for there will always be competition. When the crash comes it will be a national disaster. I fear the centralization of big industries in the hands of five or six men will prove a big mistake. When half a dozen men control the business and financial policy of a great industry a single error of judgment will plunge the whole nation into financial loss and ruin. I do not say that trusts are not a good thing; but I do say we should go slow. A wealthy man does not work for himself alone. My one desire has been to be let alone in order that I might do what I desired in my own way. In that I have not succeeded. Some people may not believe it, but it is a fact that he has been my kindest pleasure to see people succeed who have acted upon my advice.

A LOSING VENTURE

Considering Germany's standing as a military power and the Kaiser's reputation as a man looking about for a chance to make profitable and glorious war, the German venture in Southwest Africa is a surprisingly unfortunate one. It is believed to have cost about $150,000,000 in the last few years and the Hereros are as full of fight as they were seven years ago. The New York Post compares the German campaign with the American occupation of the frequently pacified but still unconquered Philippines. It says: "Official statistics of the German losses during the two and a half years' campaign in Southwest Africa are now available. Altogether 2,342 persons have perished from disease or bullets. The army proper has lost 2,120 men killed and wounded.

THE AGE OF CLAMOR

Most reforms have had to be clamored for. They could not have been obtained otherwise in reasonable time. If they had been asked for mildly and conservatively the persons whose purses would be touched would have maintained a discreet silence and the general public would not have been stirred to action. It is true that cranks, visionaries, pseudo-reformers, and mischief-makers are clamoring for unwise or vicious legislation as loudly as genuine reformers are asking for useful legislation. They attack imaginary evils as strenuously as the effects do real evils. But the false reformers are no more noisy in this age than they have been in preceding ages. Society cannot get along without clamor. It is the great agent for the removal of abuses. Those who complain the most of its strident, discordant voice are the ones who are directly or indirectly interested in the continuance of the bad conditions against which clamor is raised. Deep seated evils cannot be cured by whispering against them. -Chicago Tribune.

A REWARD OF $500

The Westmorland County Council will be generally commended for its announced decision to offer a reward of $500 for information positively clearing up the mystery of the lost Cremer children. Soon after the little ones disappeared this morning paper gave much publicity to all the known circumstances of the case, and succeeded in interesting Solicitor General Jones in the matter, with the result that the sheriff of Westmorland was instructed to investigate the case. The sheriff did so, but he lacked authority to make the expeditions necessary to cause the whole tract of country over which the children might have wandered to be searched thoroughly and systematically. Many are no doubt satisfied that the search was as thorough as was possible. Even if that be admitted the mystery cries no less loudly for solution. A matter for regret is that this reward was not offered earlier; but now it is much better than never. The fact that continued vigilance in the vicinity of the Cremer home has led to no discovery during many weeks of summer when it would appear impossible for human remains to escape detection necessarily revives several theories which attracted attention early in the case. That there is some evidence to support any one of these theories is true; but such facts as are known tend to show that some line of inquiry must have been neglected. The County of Westmorland does well to make a final bid for a definite answer to the baffling and persistent question: What became of the Cremer children?

THE MONTREAL GAZETTE REMINDS

The Montreal Gazette recalls the fact that Louis XVII. dismissed his parliament, as the Chart says does: "It did not please the king or his advisers. The king ordered it to be closed. The Tiers Etat, being the representative section of the body, met in a common hall where the members declared they would not dissolve until they had drafted a constitution for France. The Revolution, the Terror, and the Republic were the result. On whether the elected members of the Duma will have the courage and the strength to do what the Tiers Etat did in 1789, and whether the members of the present situation in Russia, and much else. If the czar could be treated it would be well that the members of the Duma should accept the situation. The work of developing a constitution can best be done in time of peace, and this is hardly a time of peace. If the representatives feel that they cannot trust the czar, no one can say what the next days and months will bring forth."

REMARKS FROM THE PUP

She's taught me that I mustn't bark at little noises after dark. But just refrain from any fuss. Until I'm sure they're dangerous. This would be easier, you see, if noises could be seen or smelt. She's very wise, I have no doubt, and plans about her pups about it. Yet, after eating every day, she throws her almost bones away. If she were really less obtuse she'd bury them for future use. But that which makes me doubt the pup is that she's not a pup at all. Those higher powers that humans boast of, but that I'm sure she lacks. Not yet her fondness for the cat. Not in our pleasant country strains her dull indifference to holes! Oh, if I once had time to spend to reach a hole's extent, I'd grab it fast without a doubt. And promptly pull it inside out! I'd drag it home with all my power to chew on it in a leisure hour. Of all the mistresses there are, she's the most to be pitied. Pain would I was myself apart. I'd like to see you with a new set of fur. But on some things I must conclude. I'd rather have a pup than a dog. -Burgess Johnson, in Harper's Magazine.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

"The man rich enough to own a motor-car has his ups and downs," said the chauffeur. "Ups and downs?" repeated his friend. "Yes, running up hills and running down people." "What's the matter with the horse?" asked a dealer of a dissatisfied customer. "Does he run away?" "Does he run away?" was the reply. "Run away! Why, he won't even walk away!" "I hear your engagement with Miss Bookie is off. How did it happen?" "In strict confidence, my friend, she got angry because I stole a kiss." "I don't see why that should provoke her—when you were engaged." "Well, you see, I stole this kiss from another girl!" "Oh, dear! How the hours do drag! I wish I knew how to hurry them on." "Why don't you apply the spur of the moment?" Mr. Know-it-Red hair always accomplishes great strength. It is natural. Mr. Wunder—"Get out! Did you ever see a red-headed chauffeur?" "At least, I can go down with colors flying," said the painter when his foot slipped on his ladder. "Watts—When a man gets down there for four hands extended to him." "Potts—Yes, few hands; but just think of the feet!" The true editorial spirit," said the optimist, "is declining." "I think you're right," agreed the struggling author, "it certainly doesn't appear to be accepting."

GIRL SLEPT 62 DAYS IN WALL ST. TURMOIL

NEW YORK, July 25.—62-year-old Elsie Taylor has been unconscious sixty-two days, on the top of the great office building at No. 60 Wall street, in the heart of the financial district. Physicians and nurses who are caring for the little sufferer, explain neurologists declare it is the strangest case to come under their observation and they refuse to predict what the end will be. The child's father is the superintendent of the building and has one of the most remarkable homes in New York. It is 375 feet above the street and never a sound from the bustle and turmoil of the crowd below reaches the sick bed. It was in the early part of May that the first signs of the disease appeared. It went through the usual stages and the child apparently was improving when she lapsed into unconsciousness, from which nothing has been able to rouse her. Doctors Northrup and Tuttle of the Presbyterian Hospital staff have charge of the case, but beyond devising new forms of giving nourishment, there is little for them to do. Monday, according to the Jewish calendar, was the first day of Ab, which among the orthodox Hebrews is followed by seven days of abstinence from meat and other pleasures of eating. The time is more rigorously observed in Europe than in this country. A prominent Hebrew resident said last night that the occasion is not especially observed in St. John.

The Late Lady Curzon.

LADY CURZON.

Lady Curzon, who died in England on Wednesday, was Miss Mary Victoria Lett, eldest daughter of the late Levi Z. Lett, of Chicago.

On April 7, 1905, in an earthquake at Simla, which damaged the vice royal lodge in which she was living she had a narrow escape from death.

After her marriage she returned with her husband to England and was welcomed to her husband's home on May 4, following the arrival of a royal salute.

On February 21, 1890 she was decorated with the imperial order of the Crown of India. Early in 1901 Lord Curzon spoke of resigning the Vice Royalty on account of his wife's health.

On the morning of May 11, 1864, General Grant was standing in front of his tent talking to a Congressman who had come from New York down into the "backwoods" to see how the tide of battle was going.

These words have just as hard a time in life as the quitter. His line of life is turned and over a message of two hundred or more words, and said to the Congressman as he hastened to him.

Steadfastness is that noble quality of the soul that enables its owner to hang right on to the end of the rope.

Webb covered the course in 1:12 hours. In the boat that accompanied Wolfe on his swim was a Scottish friend, who gave selections on the bagpipes during the performance.

W. G. Watson, of Sackville, was registered at the Dufferin yesterday.

The Maritime Board of Trade, will meet in Amherst, N. S., on August 10th, next. This will afford an excellent chance for St. John men to get an insight into the work of the board. The features of the meeting will be a discussion on the federation of Canada and the West Indies. Other subjects to be discussed, are the Metric System, and the federation of Newfoundland with the Dominion of Canada. The adoption of the metric system will be warmly supported by St. John delegates.

AT THE ROLLER RINK

The St. Andrew's Roller Rink had a very large crowd last evening, it being ladies' night. The 62nd Band furnished the music. Several fast skaters were removed from the floor, and some others were warned that the next night they should fast they would be put off. The management are determined to stop fast skating on band night, and above all "ice" night. Yesterday morning and afternoon a large crowd of beginners were present, the larger number being ladies. Tomorrow night will be band night, and after the tenth band the fast roller skating race will take place, the contestants being Hanson, Alborn, Loughey, Connolly, Dean and Wilson, the distance one mile, and the prize a silver medal given by the management; no extra charge on Thursday night for this race.

Adjusted Her Toilette in the Police Court Room and Talked Back to an Officer.

Mrs. Mary Spellman was before the court this morning, charged with keeping a disorderly house on White street, on Monday night. She pleaded guilty, not guilty, and was remanded. Officer McNamee was the first witness called. He said that he was summoned to White street, on Monday evening, having been told that a row had taken place in Mrs. Spellman's house. When the officer arrived Mrs. Wilkes, another inmate of the Spellman house, was on the sidewalk, having been put there by Mrs. Spellman, who was in a window up stairs, using profane language. She called Mrs. Wilkes some abusive names. The officer, after quieting the disturbance, reported Mrs. Spellman. This morning she was brought to court and instead of taking her place on the prisoner's bench, seated herself on one of the witness chairs. Having found a comfortable position, she began to make her toilette, fixing her back hair and making other improvements.

The Best in Canada for the Money.

Under supervision of Making and selection of materials counts for anything Our "Unrivalled $10 Suit" should be—and is—the greatest value within reach of the moderate buyer.
