U.S. SUBMARINE RAIME; 35 MEN MISSING

UNDERWATER CRAFT SINKS OFF R.I. COAST

Steamer Reports Saving Only Three Of Crew

SHIPS GO TO AID

Vessel With Survivors Aboard Reported Now On Way To Port

Canadian Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 26—Thirty-five officers and men of the United States submarine S-51 apparently perished last night, when the coastwise steamer City of Rome rammed and sank the submarine 14 miles east of Block Island, R. I. Only three men, Dewey Kile, M. Lira and A. Green, are reported by naval communication to have been saved.

STEAMER REPORTS.

The first intimation of the disaster was the receipt early this morning by the submarine base at New London, of a message from the City of Rome, bound from Savannah for Boston. The message said:

"Collided with sunken submarine S-51. Three men saved."

A wireless message was broadcast ordering all vessels in the vicinity to hurry toward the scene to render what aid they might.

Thirty-seven men comprised the personnel of the S-51. The officers in addition to Lieut. Dobson, included Lieut. G. Bannerman and Lieut. Harlow M. Piro. The S-51 was attached to the patrol force of the Atlantic fleet station was New London.

ON FRAGILE CRUISE.

The City of Rome is owned by the Ocean Steamship Company, and plies regularly in the freight and passenger service between Savannah and Boston. The S-51 left New London, September 25, on what was said to be a practice cruise into the Atlantic.

The theory prevailed early this morning that she possibly was submerged when struck by the City of Rome. A message received from that vessel about 5 o'clock this morning said that after the impact, and the saving of the three men, nothing else could be found.

The S-51 was 1,600 tons, burden submerged, and of 2,600 tons burden running on the surface. She had a four-inch gun forward and five torpedo tubes using 21-inch projectiles.

RAMMED LAST NIGHT.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 26—The steamship City of Rome is proceeding to Boston with the only three survivors she was able to rescue after ramming and sinking the United States submarine S-51, off Block Island, according to a radio communication received at the navy yard here from her commander shortly after 5 o'clock. The message said the City of Rome rammed the submarine at 10:24 p. m. and continued:

"Rescued Dewey Kile, M. S. Lira and A. Gier. Nothing else could be found. An oil spot showed up where the S-51 went down. Am proceeding to Boston. Expect to arrive about 2 p. m."

MASSEY IS AGAINST HIGH PROTECTION

Says He Never Believed in it and Supported Reciprocity.

Canadian Press.
PORT HOPE, Ont., Sept. 26—"I have never been a believer in high protection. My lack of belief in that doctrine is not due to any sudden conversion, but due to my approaching the problem many years ago as a student, and also by relations today. As a man of business, I think it is wrong."

This declaration by Hon. Vincent Massey, newly appointed minister in the King government, was outstanding in Mr. Massey's opening campaign speech here yesterday.

UNFITTED TO CANADA.

"In 1911," he proceeded, "I had the honor of polling my first vote on behalf of reciprocity, because I was one of those who believed that our national existence was not imperilled by a business arrangement with our neighbors. I believe our national sentiment is based on something deeper than the shifting figures of a tariff schedule. High protection I believe to be not in the interests of this country. I believe the pendulum is swinging against high protection, even in those countries having high tariff, but I believe protection is peculiarly unfitted to Canada. It would imperil the very fabric of Confederation itself."

IDLE U.S. GOLD BLAMED FOR POOR WORLD TRADE

Trouble Attends Canadian Imports Through New York

BY A. M. BELDING
Staff representative of The Telegraph-Journal and The Evening Times-Star, who is now on an active canvass of Canadian importers and exporters in behalf of the more general use of Canadian ports.

MONTREAL, Sept. 25—The time when Saint John was fighting for recognition as a winter port was recalled today when Mr. Galley of the C. P. R. and myself called on Drummond, McGill & Co., Ltd., and met John D. Paxton. Mr. Paxton cherishes a local paragraph from the old Saint John Sun, which announced that Johnny, the Beaver Line office boy, was in the city and would like to live there. He was "Johnny," and that was thirty years ago. Mr. Paxton said the house with which he is now connected uses Canadian ports only, and he could not see how a patriotic firm could do otherwise when a service was available. Moreover, the shipper or importer by the Canadian route can keep control of his goods, but he cannot do so when an American port is used. "I wish you all success," said Mr. Paxton, "for you are engaged in a very important work, and you may rely on our hearty support."

MR. FOULDS of the Australian and New Zealand Steamship Company, was interested in that $12,000,000 worth of Canadian traffic with the Pacific Commonwealths which passed through American ports last year. He remarked that its addition to the volume of his company's business would be of much benefit. Both he and Mr. Brown conjectured that motor cars might figure considerably in the total. I must go to Ottawa in search of information regarding traffic in general through American ports.

Davies, Irwin & Co., Ltd., are interested in West India trade. Mr. Stewart showed up some very juicy oranges from Jamaica. The people there would like to trade with Canada. Mr. Stewart was in Central America last year and found the people keen for trade with Canada. His firm uses Canadian ports only, except in such cases as that of getting goods from West Africa, where there is not an adequate Canadian service.

One hundred per cent. Canadian and British is Z. Hebert, president of the long established wholesale house of Hudson, Hebert & Co., Ltd. He has been president of the Canadian Club and Chamber of Commerce, and the standing orders of the house are that Canadian ports must be used in their business when a service is available. On the few occasions when goods have come via New York there was always trouble. Mr. Hebert is by no means the only one who has told me of delay and trouble and a lack of consideration for Canadians at the port of New York, but no other was quite as vigorous and picturesque in the expression of his opinion of our dollar-chasing neighbors to the south; while none could be more emphatic in asserting a whole-hearted Canadianism and love of British institutions.

MR. JORDAN, speaking for the National Drug Company, said they used Canadian ports exclusively, unless there was no Canadian service or the circumstances were very exceptional. He also referred to trouble attending business through New York, where little attention was paid to Canadian representations. Mr. Poudin, of Poudin & Co., Ltd., said their policy was to use our own ports, but some goods from the Orient had to be brought by way of New York at times because of a poor Canadian service by steamer to various ports there. D. G. McPherson, of Watson Jack & Co., Ltd., said all their importations came by the Canadian route, except from Newcastle-on-Tyne in winter, when there was no service from that port to Canada.

I have yet to meet an importer or exporter who does not sympathize with the mission on which I have been sent by The Telegraph-Journal and Times-Star. I have also been impressed everywhere in this city by the alertness of the Canadian Pacific in keeping constantly after business for the port of Saint John. "He can tell you—he gets our business," is a remark repeated over and over again with reference to Mr. Galley or Mr. Stewart, when either of them introduced me to the head of a firm or of its shipping department. I have not learned of any active campaign in behalf of Portland, Maine, but the C. N. R. runs these to its own terminals, and the steamship lines it serves are of course out after business—for Portland.

Turn Clocks Back 1 Hour At Midnight

DAYLIGHT TIME ends tonight for 1925 in Saint John, and a duty for the head of the house tonight will be to turn back the clock an hour before going to bed. Those who neglect this very important item will probably arrive at church tomorrow morning to find the doors closed and an hour's wait ahead of them before the service begins.

Daylight time came into effect this year at midnight on Saturday, May 3.

BRITISH ENVOY SAYS WAR GAINS HELD AT HOME

Says England Loaned Billion a Year Before Conflict

CAN'T DO IT NOW

Improvement of Economic Conditions All Over Globe Is Sought

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—United States gold lying idle instead of being employed in the development of world business has resulted in "a complete collapse in world trade," according to Lieutenant-Colonel Vernon Willey, chairman of the Federation of British Industry, who arrived yesterday on the Aquitania.

Lieut. Colonel Willey, accompanied by Guy H. Lacoek, director of the Federation's activities, came to the United States to confer with United States industrialists on a program designed to bring Britain and the United States into close co-operation in stabilizing and improving economic conditions throughout the world and reopening world trade.

BRITAINS POSITION.
Prior to the world war, British loans to other countries to stimulate world trade, he said, but since the war, had not had the funds to do so. Gold which poured into the United States during the war has not been returned to the International Trade channels, he said, and this situation has led "to the demoralization of world trade."

As a barometer of the trade collapse, he pointed to the immense ocean tonnage which he said, was now laid up and which cannot be returned into the trade routes so long as the distribution of gold remains so unequal.

U. S. ALTERNATIVE.
The United States has two alternatives if she wishes to prosper, Lieut. Colonel Willey said, either she must physically transport part of the gold back to Europe, or she must follow Britain's pre-war example, and advance foreign loans in order to keep world trade healthy and alive.

New South Wales Trade Board Moves to Meet Higher Living Costs.

OTTAWA, Sept. 26—The New South Wales Board of Trade has just made a fresh declaration regarding the basic wages for the state. It has fixed the living wage for adult males at £2 4s. 6d. per week, for adult females at £2 2s. 6d. per week, being an increase of 2s. and 1s. respectively. The reason for granting the advance is that there has been a distinct upward trend in the prices of commodities since the end of 1924.

UNION IS BLAMED

Cardiff Conservative Says Parsee Should Have Been Denied Membership

Canadian Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 26—Nearly 200 members of 41 parliaments of the world are expected here this week-end, as delegates to the twenty-third conference of the Inter-Parliamentary Union, which will be held in Washington from October 1 to 7.

Describing the body as an "unofficial parliament of parliaments," Arthur Deering Call, director of the conference, who opened New York headquarters yesterday, said the program would include discussion of international law, an European customs agreement, the problem of national minorities, control of the drug traffic, reduction of armaments, and parliamentary government. Results of the debates will be embodied in resolutions, which will be taken back to the various bodies represented by the delegates, who will urge the adoption of the measures.

CONTOVERSIES BANNED

Controversial subject and current political problems will not be debated, according to Mr. Call, who expressed the opinion that the incident caused by the revoking of a United States visa granted S. Saklatvala, Communist member of the British House of Commons, who intended to attend as a member of the British delegation, would not be brought up.

The New Leader, a Socialist organ, stated today, however, that a protest before the union would be made by Rennie Smith, Labor member for Penistone, and by at least one other leading delegate.

UNION IS BLAMED

Blame for the Saklatvala incident was placed on the council of the Inter-Parliamentary Union today, by Captain Arthur Evans, Conservative member for Cardiff, Wales, who arrived in New York recently. He said the British delegation, an admitted opponent of parliamentary government, should not have been permitted to become a member of the union.

The British party, as a whole, he asserted, felt "greatly relieved" because the Communist M. P. is not to be among their delegates, but regretted that the United States government had been forced to take the action, barring Saklatvala.

TO DISCUSS U. S. ACT.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 26—Declaring that the recent exclusion from this country of S. Saklatvala, British Communist M. Mr. Smith is a member of the British delegation to the inter-parliamentary union in Washington.

The Union recently informed him it would furnish legal aid if he desired to fight his case in the courts.

PRICE OF MILK GOES UP MONDAY

Will Be 14 Cents Quart Retail on That Day Agreement of Producers and Distributors is Completed—Supply Short Today.

The price of milk will go up to 14 cents a quart on Monday, according to an announcement made this morning by a member of the Milk Dealers' Association. This increase follows the yielding to the demands of the producers yesterday afternoon to pay 60 cents a can of 5 lb. shipping point. The milk strike is now officially ended, although the supply will not be back to normal until tonight. It was said today that both sides made concessions yesterday in reaching the final agreement.

The new agreement calls for 50 cents a can from Sept. 15 to May 31. The original demand was to have it retroactive to Sept. 1. The dealers refused a demand that all the milk be taken from Sussex and Rothery, and this was finally dropped after much discussion. J. F. Tilley, manager of the Purity plant, said this morning. He said his plant already receives a large supply from Pettitville and elsewhere, and he did not intend to stop this.

This morning, as many of the producers had separated their milk last night before learning of the settlement, the supply was considerably short of normal, but all the dealers were reported as having received part of their supply. The dealers will receive further shipments on the noon train, and with the arrival of this evening's train it was thought the city's supply will be normal.

Mr. Tilley said that the new price, effective on Monday, would be 12 cents quart wholesale and 14 cents retail.

It was also decided to apply to the next session of the legislature for authority to advertise and sell real estate one year in arrears for taxes, as one means of keeping down the amount due each year.

It was reported that at the present time there was the sum of $20,000 in uncollected taxes due in the parish. It was decided that the county secretary would advertise with the advertising for sale of all properties in arrears.

APPEAL DISALLOWED. An appeal from the estate of Hon. William Pugsley on the valuation of the properties located in Glen Falls was disallowed by the assessors.

PORTLAND IS LOSING STAND AS COMPETITOR

BY A. M. BELDING. MONTREAL, Sept. 25.—That Portland has become less formidable as a competitor of Saint John, and that our port is assured of a brighter future if certain disabilities are removed, was the emphatic assertion of the representative here of several steamship lines in the Atlantic. "In the first place," he said, "you need more facilities. They must be provided. You are likely to have congestion in the harbor during the coming winter with consequent delay of steamers. A steamship line should be secured of a berth and opportunity to discharge and load without being shifted about the harbor and paying water charges higher than those at Portland.

JAPAN OFFERS PLAN FOR CHINESE RADIO

State Department is Considering Proposal for Operation of Wireless.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The State Department recently received a new proposal from Japan in an attempt to settle the controversy which has arisen over the granting of conflicting radio contracts by China to the Federal Telegraph Company and the Mitsui Company of Japan.

While officials refused to discuss the character of the latest Japanese proposal it is understood that it contemplates a co-operative arrangement for the operation of a wireless station by both nations. No reply has yet been formulated by the State Department, which is considering the question, and no indication has been obtained as to what attitude the American Government will take towards the Japanese proposal.

MONOPOLY CLAIMED. In the numerous exchanges of views between the two Governments in the past Japan has contended that the Mitsui contract, which was signed in 1918, and which antedates the American contract by three years, was a monopoly. The United States Government looks upon the Japanese contract as a violation of the "open door" policy in China, and insists upon the right of the Federal Telegraph Company to negotiate a contract, since there is no violation of existing treaties.

The situation is further complicated by protests filed by the British and Danish Governments against the granting of these contracts, Great Britain claiming to have a prior monopoly from China, while the contract of a Danish firm negotiated in 1917 was cancelled as the project was held to be German, following a protest of the allied Ministers.

REPORTED HITCH IN FORD SHIP DEAL

DETROIT, Sept. 26.—A hitch in Henry Ford's agreement to purchase 199 ships from the United States Shipping Board for $1,700,000 is reported. Although the agreement was reached between Mr. Ford's representatives and the board on August 4, the contract has never been signed, and there has been some speculation, both here and in Washington, as to what the Ford company intends to do.

Mr. Ford, it is said, wants to take over the ships, pay for them and dispose of them as he sees fit, with the understanding that none of them will be resold. The Shipping Board, on the other hand, is said to want to know what Mr. Ford intends to do with each vessel.

The probability is that the contract will be signed in an altered form, but whether this will be satisfactory to both parties is not known.

Diamond Wedding Breakfast Same as That 60 Years Ago

SELBY, England, Sept. 26.—The diamond wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warrington, Yew Tree Farm, Cawood, near Selby, which was celebrated the other day had many novel features. The diamond wedding breakfast was similar, in every detail to their wedding breakfast, and it was served in the same room.

"Everything is just the same," said Mrs. Warrington to a press representative. "My husband brought me to this house sixty years ago, and we are going to finish our lives here. We are both eighty-four."

Mr. Warrington has been connected with the village church for seventy years. At the time of his wedding he was a Sunday school teacher, and last Easter he retired from the position of church warden, which he had held for forty-five years. He has been a farmer for fifty-five years.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Warrington were born within a few hundred yards of their present home.

The Government is another matter. It is believed that Ford wants to scrap most of the vessels, but put a small number of them in his own service.

Children Were Separated During Dewey Parade in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Twenty-seven years ago George Howard, then 10 years old, and his brother Sam, 12, left their home on the east side of New York City and went to Fifth Avenue to see the parade in honor of Admiral Dewey, who had come to New York City, for recognition of his services in the Spanish-American war. The boys became separated. George returned home and an alarm was sent out for Sam. He was never located.

George remained with his parents until they died and some years ago he established his home in Whitestone. Two days ago a stranger appeared. He was not recognized at first, but he soon established his identity as the missing brother. There was a joyful reunion.

Sam told his relatives that he had wandered to Texas, where he became a cowboy. Several months ago he decided to return and look up his family. He says he is tired of life in the West and plans to remain here.

THE ELECTIONS.

A little more than a month from today the people of Canada will elect the members of the new House of Commons. What will that House of Commons mean for the Maritime Provinces?

The leaders of the two old parties have come to the Maritimes and have gone away, having been heard by great audiences, having evoked some of the customary signs of party enthusiasm, and having presented for the edification of the people the platforms upon which they are appealing for support.

A review and examination of what the leaders and their supporting speakers had to say in Saint John and in the Maritimes generally will leave in the minds of people in this part of the Dominion the impression that so far as Maritime interests are concerned, and Maritime sentiment, the education of Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and of Right Hon. Arthur Meighen is not yet complete. Unfortunately, their utterances in these provinces were more vague than satisfactory. We do not profess to know which of them, after October 29, will be in a position to carry out any of the promises made during this campaign. People in the Maritimes are compelled to remember, also, that they have had promises on the eve of other elections and that neither party can rightly claim that in office it made good the pledges given when the election bugles were blowing.

Both leaders, if we are to judge from what they said in these provinces, have failed to realize the depth of Maritime sentiment with respect to our disabilities and the injustices we have suffered, or to gauge the depth of the feeling existing in this part of Canada and the existing resolution to continue the fight for Maritime betterment, so far as that betterment depends upon policies, expenditures and activities within the control of the federal authorities.

No promise given these provinces is convincing until it has been translated into an act of Parliament. We must keep that in mind.

Both parties are professing satisfaction over the outlook for support in these provinces. Of much more importance is the outlook for the support of the Maritime case in the next House of Commons and the treatment of these provinces at the hands of the next incoming government, whatever its political complexion. The Maritimes must continue to fight for justice, not for charity or for special advantages to the detriment of other parts of Canada, but for a full share of the benefits flowing from federal policies due us as partners in Confederation, paying now—as we have from the time of Confederation without a reasonable return—our per capita share of the national expenditures.

The campaign thus far leaves us without convincing assurances as to the use of Canadian ports rather than American ports, without any satisfactory commitment as to the taking over of the Valley Railway, with no binding pledge concerning the Maritime share of immigration expenditure and activities. Nothing definite has been said about additional C. N. R. terminal facilities here, about the construction and utilization to the traffic limit of such facilities as are clearly necessary. There has been no reference to the Institute put upon in continuing the sales tax upon our canned fish and lobsters while canned fruits and vegetables in the other provinces have been freed from that tax. What the work of the Railway Commission in equalizing freight rates means for British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, we already know fairly well; but as to what it will mean, or can mean, for the Maritimes, we are left pretty much in the dark.

The Maritimes elect twenty-nine members of Parliament. Manifestly, whatever the political affiliation of those who are chosen, the people of these provinces will expect them, whatever party is in power, to stand up resolutely in defence of Maritime interests. If they should prove to be merely tame followers of any administration their usefulness as representatives of the people would be negligible.

The greatest mistake any party leader could make today would be to fall into the easy assumption that after October 29 nothing more will be heard about Maritime betterment or about Maritime discontent with existing conditions. The feeling in these provinces is of no such temporary character, and it is not to be allayed by promises or generalities. It will demand performance and delivery.

It would be an error of the first order to think that the people in this part of Canada today are deeply moved by devotion to either of the old parties. They are waiting to be shown

Their votes on October 29 cannot be accepted as reflecting satisfaction with the treatment they have received from either party in the past. If they receive reasonable satisfaction at the hands of the next administration that is in power undoubtedly they will continue to support that administration. But if, within the first year or two it holds office, it has not met Maritime demands for justice, then, most certainly, the electors in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island will have a rod in pickle for that government and will make use of it at the earliest opportunity.

It is quite possible that such an opportunity might not be long distant, for among the chances at present is that another general election may be necessary at no distant day, although the general interests of the country would be better served by the creation of a government with a sufficient majority over all other groups to enable it to legislate firmly and boldly for the benefit of Canada.

THE BRITISH SAILOR.

The high traditions of the British merchant service are well maintained. The civilized world had frequent occasion to pay tribute to the sterling courage and self-sacrifice of British seamen, not only of the navy but of the merchant vessels during the great war, and in time of peace the heart of the British sailor responds as quickly as ever to the high call of duty and to the dictates of humanity.

Referring to a recent instance in which the captain of a British liner changed his course in the midst of a storm to go upon an errand of mercy, the Baltimore Sun says: "A British liner left her course to seek a German ship to transfer to the anti-air enemy a tiny package of rare antimony necessary to save a woman's life. The action of Captain Gemmel of the Tuscania in turning back on this mission of humanity Captain Wittstein of the Muenchen calls one of the most gallant acts ever performed by a captain of a merchant vessel. And yet a few short years ago the two men, both naval reservists, would have been as eager to sink each other's ship, with all aboard, as they were this week to cooperate in aid of a single passenger stricken in mid-ocean. Loyalty to strange gods makes human beings sponsor curiously inconsistent actions. But there is one loyalty, that of gallantry in time of need, in which the British merchant seaman is seldom known to fail."

This fine American tribute is well deserved. The reference to inconsistency of action, however, scarcely seems sound. In time of war, courage and loyalty are devoted to the triumph of the right cause. In time of peace, when help is needed, the British seaman obeys calls for prompt action without any thought as to the nationality of those in need. Helplessness, peril, the considerations which dictate humane action, no matter what courage or sacrifice it may involve, these bring into play those qualities which have ever characterized the men of British stock who go down to the sea in ships.

Lies slumbering here one William Lake; He heard the bell but had no brake. At fifty miles drove Alle Pidd; He thought he wouldn't skid, but did. At sixty miles drove Jim Magee; The front wheel crumpled—R.I.P. At ninety miles drove Eddie Shaw; The motor stopped, but he went on. Beneath this stone lies William Raines; Ice on the hill—he had no chains. Here lies the body of William Jay; Who died maintaining his right of way.

Reposes here one Adolf Lutte; He turned his head to watch a cutie. And Roger Red is parked in this'n; He did not stop nor look nor listen. Hi Holt, who lies in this here casket; Turned in his seat to move a basket. You see here no pedestrian's stone; They have a graveyard of their own.

Testing a Fakir, (Victoria Colonist.) The Egyptian Fakir Tahra Bey has been giving a demonstration of his powers before a Paris panel of doctors and some 100 members of the public. The demonstration is described as follows:

Having thrown himself into a cataleptic trance and suffered a stone weighing 200 lbs. to be shattered on his body by blows from a hammer, he emerged therefrom with a shudder and announced that he was quite insensible to pain. Five doctors thereupon transfixed various parts of his body with knives and needles. Four of them announced themselves perfectly satisfied; but the fifth declared that he had detected evidence of pain and a change in the pulse during the operation. As the fakir was moving about and talking quite happily with an armory of grisly instruments still in him it did not seem to matter. The fakir asked that the weapons should be removed from his person and promised that the wounds should bleed or not at will. None of them bled at all, and in a few moments there was no trace even of a scar. Another test to which the fakir submitted was that of remaining buried for 12 minutes. He threw himself into a cataleptic trance and was tested by the doctors, who found no trace of breathing or blood circulation. He was then put in a coffin, his nose and mouth were stuffed with cotton wool, the remaining space filled with sand and the lid closed. The coffin was then buried in a heap of sand. When the coffin was opened the fakir was discovered ghastly pale, but otherwise none the worse. He claims to have been buried in Greece for 28 days. He was regarded by the Parisian audience as a very remarkable man and is about to go to London to give demonstrations there.

The Man Behind the Gun.

(The Nation, New York) "Give me a junk pile and a genius to run it," said an experienced Wall Street man the other day, "and I will buy stock with confidence. Give me the best established industrial corporation in the United States with a book value of twice its selling price but with well-meaning nonentities to run it and I will sell it short for investment with absolute assurance."

Every word of that is true. There is a theoretical permanence about a railroad proposition, safeguarded by maximum rates, which can operate for a time on second-rate management. But the railroad will drift into receivership sooner or later. The socialist idea that management is the chapter of accidents. Given an industrial company whose active head does not know the business, however expert he may be in some other business, and the stockholder can kiss his dividends good-bye. That is what management means. The socialist idea that management ignores the whole story of mankind. The genius who builds up the United States Steel Corporation is not worth fifty thousand or a hundred thousand or two hundred thousand dollars a year.

He is worth all he chooses to ask and he is the cheapest thing the corporation buys. He means both prosperity for the corporation and a good livelihood for quarter of a million families.

Put in an inefficient man, and if he does not actually wreck the whole show he will hurt it so much that its prosperity will disappear, and with it half of its employees. Give an inferior man any corporate bank, in the United States or elsewhere, and he will make competitors faster than he will make customers. Put him at the head of a National Bank with a free hand and he will be borrowing money at the pawnbrokers' in five years. You cannot equalize labor. The shirker and the skilled artisan will always be unthinkable spiritual years apart. How can you equalize labor at its best with competent management? Indeed, labor should vote "capital" of that kind the highest possible wages for its own employment depends upon the service competent management performs.

What Are "Plus Fours"?

(Toronto Globe) "Plus Fours," as applied to golf costumes in a recent news item in the Globe, must have aroused some curiosity outside the elect thereof. It sounded highly professional and perhaps carried a suggestion of slang. Anyway, a reader at Saginaw, Michigan, was curious about it, and did some investigating. At length a fellow friend enlightened him, and this is the way the Saginaw reader reports: "I am always curious to learn the origin of these counterfeited efforts in the world of philology. After various inquiries, one day I dropped down in the elevator and procured the professional dictum of my tailor on this interesting subject. He tells me that three or four years ago some smart fellow in London conceived the brilliant idea of lengthening the knickers and creating the droop. Forthwith, and in pursuance of his inspiration, he added four inches to the garment. Hence the name. The practice spread around the world, and ran its erratic course for a brief few months, until the style was found to look so undignified that all self-respecting sartorial artists reverted to the original dimensions."

League To Rescue Girls From Turks

GENEVA, Sept. 26.—Thousands of girls sold into slavery in Asiatic Turkey as a result of Armenian deportations during the Great War may be rescued now, under a new movement started by the League of Nations. The League Assembly Friday appropriated $150,000 to be employed in the rescue work, which already is in process, but has been hampered by lack of funds. It is estimated that 2,000 girls can be saved in the region of Ras-Elt-Ain, the centre of the district, where, in 1916, the adult remnants of the deported Armenians were massacred and thousands of the children were sold into the domestic slavery.

Maple Leaves in October. The maple leaves are now blood red, and soon they will be falling. To lie on ground 'neath snowy bed 'Till spring again is calling.

The blood red leaves are tingled with gold. 'Tis just a little message To cheer me on through winter's cold. A kind of spring-time presage— For then the leaves will all seem gold, Birds will sing, and squirrels play, And life and love forget the cold. In the gift of God's new day.

Speak to my heart when in sorrow, O Lord through this that I see, Help me to hope for tomorrow, Hope for the glory to be. Calvary's cross with its anguish, Points the way on through the tomb; He will not leave me to languish, Glory will chase away gloom. A. J. P.

Echo of the Bathing Season. First Girl—Wouldn't your mother be awfully angry if she saw you in that swimsuit? Second Girl—I should say she would. It's hers.

Not Too Intimate. And now the story is told of a dentist who remarked, "Don't stretch your mouth so wide, madam; I intend to stand on the outside."

Caught. Wife: "How many fish was it you caught in Saturday, George?" Husband: "Six, darling—all beauties."

Wife: "I thought so. That fish shop has made a mistake again. They've charged us for eight."

The Melancholy Truth. "You look tired!" "Yes, I've had a bad day. That office boy of mine came in with the old story of getting away for his grandmother's funeral, so just to teach him a lesson I said I would accompany him."

"He took you to the baseball game, I suppose?" "No such luck! He told the truth for once. It was his grandmother's funeral!"

COPP TO SENATE; FOSTER NAMED TO SUCCEED HIM

REORGANIZATION DUE AFTER THE ELECTION

New Treaty Between Canada and Australia Effective October 1

OTTAWA, Sept. 25.—Hon. Arthur B. Copp, who has held the post of Secretary of State since the general election of 1921, resigned that portfolio today and was appointed to the Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator George W. Fowler, whose home was in Sussex and latterly in Ottawa.

Hon. Walter E. Foster, former Premier of New Brunswick, was appointed to succeed him as Secretary of State.

These two appointments were announced this evening by the Prime Minister following this afternoon's meeting of the cabinet and after he had a brief interview with His Excellency the Governor-General when formal approval to these changes was given.

It was intimated by the Prime Minister that a further reorganization of the cabinet would occur subsequent to the general election next month.

NAMES WILL BE HELD UP

Premier King also announced that while the various selections for the Advisory Tariff Board might be made in the next short time, it was unlikely that the announcement of the appointments would be made until after the elections.

It was stated, too, that the new trade treaty between Canada and Australia, and which was ratified by the Parliaments of the two Dominions, would be proclaimed in effect in Canada on October 1, as it has already been proclaimed by the Australian Government.

Reorganization of the cabinet following the election will be necessitated in the first place by two ministerial vacancies caused by the appointment to the Senate of Hon. Dr. H. S. Beland, Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, and of Hon. Charles Murphy, Postmaster-General.

Whether or not the D. S. C. R. post will be filled after the election remains to be determined, but it has been intimated more than once that it would be abolished and the work now done there be handed over to the Department of National Defence.

Hon. Dr. Walter E. Foster, whose appointment as Secretary of State in succession to Hon. A. B. Copp, was announced at Ottawa last night, is president and managing director of Vassie and Co., Ltd., wholesale dry-goods dealers. As a leading merchant of the city he has long been associated with movements to promote its commercial prosperity. He is a past president of the Saint John Board of Trade and a member at present of the Port Committee.

DEFEATED IN 1912

He first entered politics actively when he ran as a Liberal in Saint John City in the provincial election of 1912. He was defeated by the Conservatives in the whole province, Messrs. Dugal and Pelletier, of Madawaska, being successful in that contest. Mr. Foster was chosen leader of the Liberals of New Brunswick in 1914, succeeding Hon. C. W. Robinson. He ran in Saint John County in the provincial election of 1917. His party was victorious in the province but he was defeated by a small margin. He was offered a seat and elected in Victoria county. He served as Premier from 1917 until early in 1923 when he resigned, being succeeded by Hon. Dr. P. J. Veniot.

In 1920 Dr. Foster contested Saint John City and his party was again victorious in the general election.

The development of hydro-electric power under public ownership was one of the chief planks in Dr. Foster's platform on this occasion. The subsequent construction of the hydro-electric plant at Masouah was a result of the people's endorsement of his policy. Mr. Foster being known as "The Father of Hydro in New Brunswick."

When Premier Veniot enlarged the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission shortly before the last provincial elections in August he named Dr. Foster as one of the members. He resigned a few days ago following the defeat of the Liberal Government.

Dr. Foster holds an honorary LL.D. degree from the University of New Brunswick. He is a native of St. Martins and 31 years old.

Dr. Foster was not in the city last night when news of his appointment came, having gone to Montreal Thursday evening with his daughter, Miss Joan, who is sailing this morning for England to take post-graduate studies at Oxford University. It was said at Dr. Foster's summer home in Rothesay that he was due to arrive in Ottawa last night.

None of these meets would be a championship meet, but total points would decide the issue.

PAPER RAPS PRO. HOCKEY TACTICS

Regina Leader Pleads For Development of the Amateur Game.

Discussing the sale of the Regina pro. hockey club and players to Portland, Ore., and the outlook in the Western Canada League, the Regina Leader says in an editorial, in part, as follows:

"Cold-blooded commercialism has been the ruin of many good sports, and has turned centres of sport before now into centres of disgust. Let the hockey magnates, above all, take heed. It is critically suggested in a despatch today that the influence of the Patricks in Western professional hockey mainly against the retention of Regina's hockey franchise, and for the reason that they can see more money in the larger Coast cities than on the Prairies. But it may be assumed that the Patricks know the business so far as that is concerned. We are neither concerned with that nor with the reasons of the transfer of the franchise to Portland. What is appalling to the public, which supports these present-day parallels to the gladiatorial combat of the Colosseum is the blatant commercialism of the magnates. No question of moral obligation seems to carry any weight. Overshadowing all is the hunt for the dollar. Like an infectious disease, it inoculates the owners, and, through them, the players. In the resultant scramble the interests of the public are submerged. Professional hockey in Canada has become so largely a matter of dollars and cents that last year, both in the East and West, the Stanley Cup games furnished a battleground for fight for the ultimate dollar, both on the part of the magnates and the players. On the one hand, the public was squeezed to the limit by a complicated system of play-off games; on the other, the players banded themselves together to demand the utmost, and one team, which really won the right to play, was suspended because the players wanted a larger share of the money they were earning for the promoters. Now our spectacular winter sport is to be adopted by the larger cities in the United States, and the evil will become more pronounced. What will happen is not hard to foresee. There will be the inevitable scramble for Canadian players, with the dollar magnet as the attraction. Let them scramble. Canada probably will lose most of its talent in the rush. There will be a reversal to the old days when amateurs provided a local rivalry as keen or keener than in the professional days. The supporter of sport for sport's sake will be back among us. And just as Regina turned out in thousands to see its champion Juniors play, and then turned over the cash in its pockets to support them on a long trip away, in search of further honors, so will it do for future home-town boys. Our own boys we have always among us. Let us give them the encouragement we were wont to waste on strangers. With a clear field, there is more prospect for the development of good amateur hockey than ever, if the public will realize it, and a great opportunity to forget the taste of commercialized sport."

POWDER BLUE FOR MEN'S OVERCOATS

LONDON, Sept. 26.—Revolutionary changes in the shades and colors of men's overcoats are forecast by the mentors of styles in fashionable Seattle Row. The dark blue nap cloth, which was much in favor last year, is relegated to the background and "powder blue" is to take its place. The only alternative, they say, the fashion dictators, is a very dark brown.

The coat will be double-breasted and will set very close to the figure. It must be heavier than the knee. There will be only two buttons, whereas last year there were three, the top button being left open.

Apart from overcoats little change is predicted for men's clothing. Grays and browns will be the predominant colors. Double-breasted lounge coats will not be much in vogue, whereas the old type of coat with three buttons and only the centre one buttoned is coming into its own again. As for trousers, there is a tendency to abandon the cuffs for flowing straight legs having plenty of width. Evening dress fashions will not change.

NATURE'S WARNINGS

Danger Signal That Everyone Should Take Seriously.

Pain is one of Nature's warnings that something is wrong with the body. Indigestion, for instance, is characterized by pain in the stomach, and often about the heart; rheumatism by sharp pains in the limbs and joints; headaches are a sign that the nerves or stomach are out of order. In some ailments, such as anaemia, pain is so prominent. In this case Nature's warning take the form of pallor, breathlessness after slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, and loss of appetite. Whatever form these warnings take, wise people will not ignore the fact that many diseases have their origin in poor blood, and that when the blood is enriched the trouble disappears. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are most helpful in such cases because they purify and build up the blood to its normal strength. In this way it tones up the nerves, restores the appetite and gives perfect health. Miss Hazel Bernit, of Arnprior, Ont., had proved the great value of this medicine and says:—I am a young girl and have been working in a factory for the past four years. For two years I had been in such poor health that at times I could not work. I was thin and pale, and troubled with headaches and fainting spells. I doctored nearly all this time, but it did not help me. My mother advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using them for a while I could notice an improvement in my condition. I used nine boxes and can truthfully say that my health is restored. When I began taking the pills I weighed 97 pounds and now I weigh 114. I feel that I owe my good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and hope other ailing people will give them a fair trial.

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ARTS EXPOSITION OUTDOES OLYMPICS

Attendance in Four Months is 8,523,496—Single Day's Record is 293,263.

PARIS, Sept. 26.—Parisians were greatly deceived by the Olympic Games of 1924. They were expecting hundreds of thousands of athletically inclined visitors who were to enrich the coffers of business places. Thousands came where hundreds thousands were expected and Paris was disappointed. This year while preparations were being made for the International Exposition of Decorative Arts, its organizers declared that it would attract millions of visitors. Parisians smile knowingly. They had their lesson with the Olympic Games and they knew what to expect.

But the Parisians were deceived again. The Exposition is a great success from the point of attendance. It has attracted far more visitors than most optimistic would ever have dared to guess. Official statistics show that in the four months, from May to August 31, there were 8,523,496 admissions. The greatest single day's attendance was 293,263, on August 30. The Exposition ends in October.

He had been working in his garden in the evening, retiring about 9 o'clock. He died half an hour later. He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Alben Oulton, Bale Verte Road, N. B.; five sons, William, Walter, George, Harry and Paul, and three daughters, Ella, Sadie and Susie. He had many relatives and friends in Westmorland.

N. S. Fishermen Are Chased By Gale

CANSO, N. S., Sept. 25.—A strong northwest gale swept down this afternoon upon the shore fishermen off this port and caused great damage as well as endangering the safety of vessels and crews. Late tonight it was believed that all vessels had been accounted for as having made safe anchorage at some point along the shore.

The tug Margareville made two trips to the Banks to bring in cripples while others just managed to reach a haven of safety with sails torn to shreds and rigging gone. The steam trawler Rayondor was out this afternoon to give assistance if needed but reported by radio that not a sail was in sight.

BEAR KILLS GIRL

OTISVILLE, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Dorothy Craig, nine years old, died at the office of a physician here from wounds suffered when she was attacked by a supposedly tame bear.

The bear—one of two kept chained in a tent in the yard of Dorothy's father, James Craig—snapped its collar and attacked the child as she was at play. The bear knocked the little girl to the ground and began tearing her throat.

Leo Shovel and Blake Newkirk hastened to aid her and beat the bear with a plank in a fruitless attempt to make the animal release the child. When Mr. Craig reached the scene he attacked the bear with a knife, but the animal did not release its hold on the little girl until a neighbor had sent a bullet through its head. The mate also was killed.

The bears were caught as cubs in the mountains near here three years ago.

FAKE NOTE IN W.C.T.U. MURDER IS ADMITTED

Pastor's Wife Says She Wrote Missive to Scare Husband From Town HOTEL CLERK TAKEN BUT NOT CHARGED State Agents Say Crime Near Solution But Withhold Information.

CEBAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Sept. 26.—The murder of Mrs. Myrtle Cook, prohibition leader, on Labor Day night, has taken on renewed interest through additional developments. One was the confession of Mrs. C. S. Kleckner, wife of the minister of the Christian Church who preached Mrs. Cook's funeral sermon, that she was the author of the unsigned note of warning to her husband home last night, and the other was the arrest of Columbus, Neb., of Fred Deurburg, former hotel clerk there.

CLERK ARRESTED. Deurburg was arrested after he had jumped through a window of a railroad coach. He told police that a gang of white darters whom he had tipped off to State agents had followed him to Nebraska, and he feared they would kill him.

While the State does not connect him with the murder of Mrs. Cook, he was described by the Columbus police as being the man who was under the belief that she was one of the persons trailing him. Mrs. Cook, with her dying breath, mentioned the name of a well-known Vinton man, but the State agents say it was not Deurburg.

On the day of Mrs. Cook's funeral Mrs. Kleckner told State agents that while her husband was conducting a service, two masked men entered her home, asked if her husband was a Klansman and when informed that he was not, insisted on searching the house for Klan regalia. They left in an automobile and bloodhounds followed their trail, but were never able to overtake them.

Last night a note was found pinned to the door of the Kleckner home. It read: "Mr. Kleckner, you was brought here by Mrs. Coow, wasn't you? Be careful, young man, didn't you call on Mrs. Cook some time ago? Take care, young man, look out—A friend."

State agents questioned Mr. Kleckner's typewriter, compared its type to that in the note, and pronounced them the same. Mrs. Kleckner then confessed that she had written the note because she wanted to leave Vinton and thought the note would frighten her husband into moving elsewhere. Kleckner refused to believe that his wife was guilty.

State agents said that they had obtained valuable information which they believed would lead to an arrest in the next day or two. They declined to disclose their information, but said a coroner's jury would be reconvened if they believed the evidence they would disclose would be sufficient to warrant an arrest.

"The murder of Mrs. Cook is practically solved," they said. State agents expressed the opinion that Mrs. Kleckner's story of the Klansmen's visit to her home was born of imagination and they are trying to get her to confess that it was a hallucination.

Miss Ederle To Try Channel Next Year

Gertrude Ederle, the 18-year-old American girl who recently attempted to swim the English Channel, said that she had "many suspicions and even facts" against her manager, James Wolfe, and threatened that if the Women's Swimming Association did not make them known within the next 30 days she would make public the charges herself. She added she would try to swim the Channel again next year.

CAPE GRIS NEZ, France, Sept. 26.—Ishak Helmy, the Egyptian swimmer, announced that he has completed arrangements with James Wolfe to condition him next year for another attempt at the English Channel. Helmy does not blame "Old Bill" Burgess for his failure this year, but is convinced that Wolfe's training methods are more effective. Old salts here hold Wolfe in high esteem as a channel trainer and Gertrude Ederle's recent criticism of him caused much comment.

ASK REMOVAL OF LYNN PRINCIPAL

Parents of Pupils Sign Petition; Assault Charge Laid in Court.

Teacher Denies Accusation, Saying He Merely Gave Boy Spanking.

BOSTON, Sept. 26.—Charging that Archibald Coldwell of Lynn is "unfit" to be principal of the Roby Grammar School at Saugus, a group of parents of pupils attending the school started to draw up a petition to be circulated among the citizens of the town, asking the school board to remove him from the position.

At the same time that the parents were starting the ousting movement, a summons was issued in the Lynn District Court ordering the school board to appear there on Oct. 3 to answer allegations of assault and battery on Frank S. Russell, 13-year-old Saugus Boy Scout, a pupil at the school, Tuesday afternoon.

The allegations were made by the boy's aunt, Mrs. John G. Holmes, wife of a former selectman of the town. The boy's legs and back were bruised and lumps were raised on his thighs, Mrs. Holmes declared, under the lash of the leather strap which Principal Coldwell applied while he held the boy with his knee to the floor of his office.

But in face of the removal effort and the court summons, Principal Coldwell, a large man weighing more than 200 pounds and standing more than six feet, is unflinching. Denying that the punishment he had administered to the boy was brutal, or that it lasted half an hour, Mr. Coldwell said he had taken the boy across his knee in the

SPEAKING as Protestant chaplain at the Municipal Home, Rev. R. Taylor McKim said recently he considered there was every urgent need for some institution to care for the feeble-minded of Saint John, and that for the lack of such shelter the feeble-minded now enjoying a dangerous liberty were greatly aggravating conditions of sodin Saint John at present than they had at any time in the past.

While Mr. McKim thought there might be a difficulty in keeping the feeble-minded restricted in an institution, as there was now a difficulty in keeping them within the Municipal Home when they had been received there, he thought it quite possible that some form of occupational therapy provided which would retain their interest and make them happy in their surroundings.

SPEAKS OF CONDITIONS.

For the last ten years Mr. McKim has been chaplain to the Home or acting chaplain as the assistant to the late Archdeacon Raymond. He has only the highest praise to bestow upon the administration of the Municipal Home under Superintendent E. L. Woods and Mrs. Woods, but said that the numbers of feeble-minded who must now be cared for in the Home made its management no easy matter. He had never reckoned what proportion of the inmates could be classed as feeble-minded, and was not trained to judge of the degree of mental deficiency, but he spoke of actual conditions where there are two or three of those of low mentality housed in one of the wards of the Home and these feeble-minded roam the whole ward with pranks and outcries at night time.

CHARGE ON COMMUNITY.

He found that very often those of low mentality had developed immoral tendencies, and that in spite of the great vigilance things that should not happen did happen. The daughters of feeble-minded men, born in the home, when they got out, were very quickly a prey for evil and were a real menace to the community, spreading disease and bringing into the world feeble-minded children, who were to be a further charge upon the community. At large he did not believe that they could be influenced for good. He found that they might appear to receive

"Spokesmen for The People Not Mouthpieces of Party"

Premier Greenfield, of Alberta, is quoted in the Vancouver Sun as stating that Canadian newspapers hinder rather than facilitate government by their criticism.

The statement is challenged by our Western contemporary, which maintains that "the difference between newspapers of fifty years ago and newspapers of today is that old-time editors were interested in parties, while modern editors are interested in good government."

This, perhaps, is too sweeping a declaration. No newspaper millennium has dawned yet. The old, hide-bound, through-thick-and-thin party organs are still with us—but in lesser degree and with greatly depreciated influence.

More and more all citizens, no matter what their political affiliations may be, are reading and respecting those newspapers that seek to serve rather than aim to please—that are spokesmen for the people, not mouthpieces for a party.

Political parties cannot count upon the support of such newspapers. They must earn it. This may be inconvenient, sometimes, for the politicians. But it is reassuring, always, for the public.

Wearing Suits Longer Bankrupting Tailors

LONDON, Sept. 26—American visitors to London this summer have saved many a West End tailor from approximate bankruptcy. There was hardly an American visitor, it is said, who did not take back with him at least one suit, and some ordered as many as 20.

Even with these sales the situation in the tailoring industry is described by the secretary of the Master Tailors' Federation as "almost catastrophic." "The trouble is," he continued, "that due to the shortage in money, people are wearing their suits longer than they used to do. The renovating and pressing shops are prosperous, but the manufacturing tailors are having the struggle of their lives to make ends meet."

Brazil Rubber Exports Show Large Increase

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 26—As a result of phenomenal rises in rubber prices recently, exports of raw rubber from Brazil have increased considerably during the past few months.

More than 2,500,000 pounds of raw rubber was exported from the port of Manaus, principal port on the Amazon River, in June. Although exact figures for July and August are not as yet available it is known that rubber exports during those months considerably exceeded the 2,500,000 pounds exported from Manaus in June.

BEATTY EXPECTED TO QUIT THIS YEAR

Admiral Madden Regarded as Probable Successor as First Sea Lord.

LONDON, Sept. 25—Earl Beatty is likely to resign his position as First Sea Lord at the Admiralty before the conclusion of this year.

There is no definite period fixed for anyone to hold this very important office, but in recent years few have held it beyond five years. At Christmas Lord Beatty will have been at the Admiralty for that period. There is high probability that another and even more important administrative position will fall to him.

Admiral Sir Charles Madden is regarded as the probable successor to Lord Beatty at the Admiralty. Sir Charles, it will be recalled, was the right hand of both Earl Jellicoe and Earl Beatty with the Great Fleet during and immediately after the war.

SMUGGLING CHARGE IS NOT SUSTAINED

Thomas Cogger, of this city, who was arrested on Thursday charged with unlawfully smuggling or clandestinely introducing into Canada 50 cases containing about 415 gallons of alcohol to the value of about $300, was adjudged not guilty when he appeared before Magistrates Melvin Mawhinney and Frank Daley at Mace's Bay yesterday for preliminary hearing, and released from custody.

G. Earle Logan, who had associated with him J. Frank Frauley, appeared for the accused, while Dr. W. B. Wallace conducted the prosecution. Charles H. B. Wright, customs and excise computing clerk, testified that on August 18, he found 83 gallons of alcohol in a woodpile in the property of Frank Hoyle, valued at $800 over and above customs dues. Frederick Nice corroborated this evidence. C. B. Lockhart, collector of customs at the Port of Saint John, was present at the hearing. After the evidence of the two witnesses Dr. Wallace moved for an adjournment for the purpose of securing more witnesses. Strenuous objection to this was voiced by Mr. Logan, and he was upheld by the court. The magistrates dismissed the information, giving Mr. Cogger a clear certificate.

E. church in the Maritime Provinces and has been pastor of important churches in Chicago, Bermuda, Amherst and Halifax coming here from the latter city where he had been stationed for the last two years. Mr. Morgan will preach at both services in St. Philip's tomorrow.

MINIATURE CARS FOR LONDON SHOW

Will be Real, Substantial Affairs, Some With Four-wheel Brakes.

LONDON, Sept. 26—Motor cars to compete in size, economy and price with motorcycles are expected to be a feature of the London Motor Show which opens here in the latter part of October.

They are to be real, substantial cars in miniature and not make-shift affairs such as with one exception flooded the English market a few years ago and shortly thereafter bankrupted most of their promoters.

One—and possibly two—of the new cars will be powered with an engine of only five horsepower, while another will have a four cylinder engine of only seven horsepower. This latter can be completely equipped even to four-wheel brakes.

One of the new selling "stunts" which several of the motor car manufacturers are expected to take up is that of delivering the car to the purchaser not only fully equipped even to the minutest detail, but also with the tax paid.

ALL HAVE POSITIONS

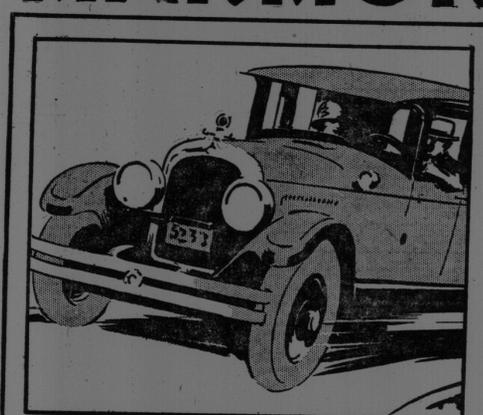

All our graduates of last year have positions. Our limited enrollment assures you painstaking and personal instruction.

We will accept just 6 more students for the next class which opens October 5. Apply NOW.

The NEW MARMON

Another Reason Why "It's a Great Automobile" Under the hood of a Marmon there is something different which no expert road driver cares to challenge—TWICE

THE NEW MARMON is a great automobile because it has the "hang of the road." In it you will find one thing especially that you have never found in any other motor car—namely, its cat-like ability to stay on its feet and stubbornly stick in perfect balance—no matter what the roads or the sudden emergency. Due to its wristy alertness and its ability to maintain a steady speed with far less effort, it can clip many valuable minutes from your running time and still stay within the law. It carries on—no matter where the road leads—with utter mechanical nonchalance. Somehow Marmon engineers have so manipulated the car's center of gravity, and so scientifically calculated the anti-road forces with which every car has to contend, that the Marmon's new type of road-cling gives you some sort of great, new feeling of ASSURANCE never before experienced. These amazing qualities of performance and roadability are available in a wide range of body styles incorporating the most advanced ideas of design. They are luxurious, roomy and richly appointed. Four of these models—including two new body styles—are now available at exactly open car price.

Conway Speaks Highly of Kindly Treatment Here

THE highest honors in Maritime amateur baseball, the magnificent shield valued at $250, will be decided next week between Charlottetown, P. E. I. champions, and the winners of the Springhill-Watermen series for the championship of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, which enters the second game stage here this afternoon on the East End grounds at 8 o'clock.

ALLBON TO PITCH. Manager Conway, dubbed the "McGraw of Nova Scotia," spoke highly this morning of the kindly treatment already accorded his boys by the locals.

Speaking to his team's prospects today, Manager Conway said he honestly believed Springhill would win. "Those boys of yours caught Allbon on a bad day over in our town. He was not going right, and I think you will see something different here today. It has been a mystery to us how we did not manage to win that game on Wednesday, considering the fact we had 14 hits of Hannah, and all the more remarkable in view of the fact that only one of our three runs was earned.

Gene Tunney's Knockout of Bartley Madden Was a Big Surprise

Along The Sport Trail

By JOHN J. DUNLOP.

TODAY IS THE big day in Maritime baseball circles with Springhill and the Watermen facing each other in what local fans hope will be the deciding game of the Maritime semi-finals. After a very successful season through the three provinces, particularly Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, amateur baseball is winding up in a blaze of glory following the elimination trials in the two provinces.

SAY SCHOFIELD CAR SPEEDING

Jury's Verdict Delivered in Matter of Rotheasy Avenue Fatality

Say This Caused Conditions to Confuse Knox in Control of His Car.

"That Lillian Knox came to her death as the result of injuries received by being struck by an automobile and that owing to the excessive speed of the Schofield car on this particular curve caused the conditions to confuse Knox in control of his car, thereby causing the said Harry Knox to apply his brakes suddenly which caused the Knox car to skid inwards, by which, in our opinion, was the cause of the accident," was the verdict brought in by a coroner's jury after one hour and a half deliberation on the evidence presented in the inquest into the death of Mrs. Lillian Knox, wife of Harry Knox, 81 Sewell street, on Sunday.

The jury consisted of Charles E. Farrand, foreman; J. Arthur Lindsay, A. Judson Dryden, Isaac Webber, Charles Ledford, Joseph H. Stanton and Thomas W. Trot.

Harry Knox testified that he had been driving about even with the second window of the street car coming to town. He had stayed in the same relative position from about Fernhill cemetery to the place where the accident occurred. He had been on the own side of the road. Just before his own side of the road, he had passed between him and the street car.

SAW CAR COMING

He had been surprised when he saw the Schofield car coming at a very fast rate, he said. It appeared to be trying to swing over from the left side of the road. He had applied his brakes and held the wheel hard. In an instant the other car had struck him on the front bumper, just in front of the left front wheel, turning him around sideways to the track. He had looked around and seen his wife flying through the air.

When he had reached her she was dead. He could not recognize her because of the blood. Both her eyes had been knocked out of her head, he continued.

He told of hearing Mr. Schofield mention a "roan" car while at the hospital but said he had seen no such vehicle. He thought he had been going about 15 or 18 miles an hour.

When asked how far his car had gone after the striking, he declared the police had measured every distance but his. He thought it had gone about 18 feet.

He said the Schofield car had come off the west side of the road at an angle. When it had turned the curve, he thought it had been off the asphalt on the wrong side. It stayed on the wrong side for some distance.

DUTY OF JURY

When asked by Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., representing Mr. Schofield, if he had told someone on Sunday night that he knew nothing of what had happened, he replied that that was between me and the gatepost. When asked if, in case he had said this, it were an untruth, he said that they were not the people to find out things but the jury was.

He had not noticed any jolt on the rear that might have swerved him and he did not think that putting on his brakes caused him to swerve. He gave some measurements that did not quite check with those of the officers.

Mr. Schofield was recalled. He said the road was in good condition as far as he knew. He had held the right side of the road for some time before the accident. Speaking of his statement that a maroon car had been involved, he said he had told the officers that he believed a maroon car had struck Knox and swerved him into the wrong side. The Knox car was running towards the street car when the collision occurred, he said, in answer to G. H. V. Byles, K. C., representing Mr. Knox.

ADDRESS TO JURY

Coroner H. A. Porter, in addressing the jury, declared that the case was peculiar in that the accident had happened in broad daylight on a place in the road generally regarded as broad and safe and where there was no traffic congestion.

He reviewed what was known of the accident and the measurements taken at the time. They must remember, he said, that estimates of speed made by drivers going in the opposite direction to the cars involved were apt to be magnified.

According to Knox's evidence of the rate of his own car and the distance traversed, the Schofield car could not have been going as fast as 30 miles an hour. Both had agreed that the cars were not parallel but differed as to which one was turned from the direction of the road.

The whole matter boiled down pretty well to a question of which was on the wrong side of the road. They must be guided greatly by what they saw on the road.

Without influencing their judgment, he said, he wished to remind them that

N. S. Swimmer Tries to Evade Police; Nabbed

LUNenburg, N. S., Sept. 25—An odd kattle with the police took place here this afternoon when Laurie Feener, an expert swimmer, sought on a serious charge, leaped overboard from a towboat into the icy waters of the harbor, 200 yards from shore.

Diving whenever the pursuing police boats approached and swimming underwater he put up a half-hour's struggle to elude his pursuers, but wind and tide favored the law and he was taken from the water almost unconscious and lodged in jail.

The road was 32 feet wide, that each car took only about 6 or 7 feet, and that one must have been materially on the wrong side to cause the accident.

He called their attention to the distance Mrs. Knox was thrown, about 27 feet, and said he did not know where she would get her impetus from except from the speed of the car in which she was.

In regard to the statement by Mr. Knox that he had brought the car almost to a standstill, and that his car had gone to the track after the blow, he said he thought it must have had some momentum at the time.

The jury left the court room at 9.50 o'clock. A few minutes later they returned to inquire as to the speed limit at that point, and the law was read to them.
