HOCKEY PLAYER WAS KILLED IN LAST EVENING'S GAME

Owen McCourt Struck on the Head by Charles Masson of the Ottawa Team—The Latter Now Under Arrest on the Charge of Murder

CORNWALL, Ont., March 7.—Owen McCourt, better known as "Bud," died this morning at 8 o'clock, as the result of injuries received last night at the hockey match played here between the Ottawa Victorias and the Cornwall team. Just before McCourt passed away Charles Masson, of the Ottawa team, was arrested at the Hotel Duquette, by Chief of Police Smith, on a charge of assault with intent to do grievous bodily harm. The warrant was issued early this morning by Mr. Hill Campbell, J. P., and now that McCourt is dead, the charge will be amended. Coroner Hamilton is having a jury empanelled and will hold an inquest into this incident.

McCourt received his injuries early in the second half of a match which was steadily growing in roughness up to this incident. McCourt and Throp had a little mix-up and this was followed by several slashes with sticks. It is claimed that Throp struck McCourt, who started to retaliate, when he was struck over the head by Masson, and fell on the ice unconscious. Throp about this time received a very ugly cut on the head from a Cornwall player and was unable to continue. McCourt came on again for a short time, but had to quit, and becoming unconscious, was taken to the Hotel Dieu Hospital. At the hospital an operation was performed in an attempt to relieve the pressure on the brain, but the brain was bleeding and he passed away without regaining consciousness. Masson took his arrest very calmly and asked if he could not be released on bail but McCourt died about that very time, that was out of the question. He was escorted by Chief of Police Smith to the morgue. There is also some talk of arresting Throp but so far nothing has been done in the matter.

Owen McCourt, the deceased player, was the eldest son of the late Patrick McCourt, who died here last spring. He was about 22 years of age, and a fine young man of splendid physique. He has been playing hockey for four or five years, and in 1906 he figured with some four other Cornwall boys on the Woodstock team in the O. H. A. He was a very fast player, and a quick stick handler. While quick tempered, he was not a rough player by any means and always played for the puck. He also played on the Cornwall lacrosse team part of last season.

OTTAWA, March 7.—The Federal League game played at Cornwall last night between the Victorias, of Ottawa, and the Cornwall team resulted fatally, "Bud" McCourt dying from the effects of injuries sustained during the game. Charles Masson and Wm. Bannerman, of the Ottawa aggregation are under arrest. McCourt was forced to leave the ice after being struck but soon reappeared. He grew worse, however, and was forced to abandon the game. He became unconscious and the doctors feared his brain was bleeding internally. His parents and a priest were summoned and he passed away within the hour. The game was won by Cornwall by a score of 11 to 3.

HELD UP OFFICIALS WHO WERE GETTING THEIR PAY
Daring Robbery in Moscow—Bomb Thrown at High School Official by a Small Boy

MOSCOW, March 7.—A daring hold-up occurred at the University here today. While the officials were being paid off in the banqueting hall, seven armed men entered, threatened all present with pistols, and demanded money. The intruders then fired in the air, seized $20,000, and departed, after killing a sergeant of police whom they met at the door and who was about to enter the building.

WARSAW, March 7.—A bomb was thrown at noon today into a flat occupied by Prince Artzyanski, director of the government high school. The prince was not injured. The thrower was a young man, succeeded in making his escape.

DUFFY IS OUT WITH ANOTHER CHALLENGE

Wants to Meet Wood, Logan or Belyea and Asks Them to Race Him in Victoria Rink Tomorrow Night—Logan Thinks Prizes Not Good Enough

The prizes for the sports in the Victoria Rink are on exhibition in Oak Hall window, King street. They are composed of most attractive medals and cups. Bart Duffy was approached by the Star this morning and asked the reason why he was not entered in the races to take place in the Victoria Rink. He said that he was not aware that he was not entered until he read the morning paper. He had not seen in any entry but having talked with the management of the races he thought that it was understood he was to be one of the competitors. There was one draw for the position in the 220 yards and the 410 yards which would be fair to all as the man who has the pole position in the sprints on a circular track would not give any satisfactory answer to this and any speed skater will find that the pole position is the best on these short events. That I am not afraid of tonight is not that I am afraid of Morris Wood or any other amateur. I have felt confident that I could defeat other amateurs and don't see why I should get thrown down because I won't sacrifice everything to satisfy a few who are running races. However, to show that I am not afraid to skate any amateur will meet Morris Wood, Hilton Belyea or Fred Logan in a series of two match races on the Victoria Rink tomorrow night, the races to be 440 yards and a half mile, and the best man will win. I would prefer to skate Wood.

FRED LOGAN'S EXCUSE. Yesterday Fred Logan stated through the press that he was not competing in the championship events in Victoria Rink tonight, as the officials of the Maritime Skating Association had ignored him by not asking him to skate. Mr. Logan has another reason today. He states that the prizes offered are not good enough to make it worth his while to put skates on.

MORRIS WOOD, World's champion, who will skate at this evening's races.

He said that he was not aware that he was not entered until he read the morning paper. He had not seen in any entry but having talked with the management of the races he thought that it was understood he was to be one of the competitors. There was one draw for the position in the 220 yards and the 410 yards which would be fair to all as the man who has the pole position in the sprints on a circular track would not give any satisfactory answer to this and any speed skater will find that the pole position is the best on these short events. That I am not afraid of tonight is not that I am afraid of Morris Wood or any other amateur. I have felt confident that I could defeat other amateurs and don't see why I should get thrown down because I won't sacrifice everything to satisfy a few who are running races. However, to show that I am not afraid to skate any amateur will meet Morris Wood, Hilton Belyea or Fred Logan in a series of two match races on the Victoria Rink tomorrow night, the races to be 440 yards and a half mile, and the best man will win. I would prefer to skate Wood.

MONTEAL WILL HAVE A MAXWELL MEMORIAL SCHOOL

MONTEAL, March 7.—The Protestant school commissioners at a meeting held this morning decided to erect another school on the site of that in the destruction of which sixteen children and Miss Maxwell lost their lives and to call the new edifice the Sarah Maxwell Memorial School. This will be in addition to any other testimonial to board may decide to give. It was decided too, to pay Miss Maxwell's salary for the balance of the year to her mother. Fire drills will be held in the school once a week in future. Fire escapes will also be installed and other precautions taken to prevent a recurrence of the disaster. The location of the new building will be on the ground floor. The new building will accommodate 400 pupils and two premiums of $250 and $100 to be awarded the architects who submitted the plans adjudged second and third in order of merit.

FLUSHING, Holland, March 7.—The British steamer Cambridge, belonging to the Great Eastern Railway Co. of London, grounded this morning on Nolle Plat during a fog. The sea is calm and the vessel probably will get off at the next tide. This is the second cross-channel steamer to be imperilled on this coast since the same company's steamer, the Berlin, was wrecked off the Hook of Holland a fortnight ago.

WALTER GODDARD was fined $8 in the police court for raising a disturbance on board the ferry steamer Clarence.

HE WANTS TO ESTABLISH A COLLEGE FOR LOVE MAKING

Chicago Sociologist Deplores the Fact That True Love is on the Decline, Courtship is Not Properly Carried On, and Flirting and Kindred Evils Grow in Popularity

CHICAGO, March 7.—Colleges of courtship for the reform of American love-making are needed to fit the love-lorn population of the nation for matrimony, according to Professor Charles R. Henderson, the University of Chicago sociologist. In an article on "Courtship throughout the civilized world," issued from the university press yesterday, the professor urges suitable instruction for those who are smitten with the "illusions" of love. Hasty marriages, divorces, marriages of convenience, are classed as the results of the level to which courtship and marriage have fallen. He gives as an example of the decline of true love, "where the wife is bought from the parent like a cow," or where she is compelled to marry to secure a fortune from a rich "fool." Fashionable society exhibits depraved standards and allomorphy is accepted as a substitute for rational marriages, he declares.

Professor Henderson points out as particular evils of modern love-making such perils as flirting, boasting of conquests, extravagance, accepting costly presents, ignorance of the training of children, and courtship without intent to marry.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE FAVORS IMPERIAL PREFERENCE

Unless Some Action is Taken the Colonies Will Look Elsewhere for Better Treatment

LONDON, March 7.—At today's session of the Associated Chamber of Commerce of the United Kingdom, which are holding their annual meeting here, a resolution was adopted asking the government to conduct negotiations at the forthcoming colonial conference, with the object of promoting reciprocal trading within the British empire. R. H. Beade, of Belfast, ex-president of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that city, who moved the resolution, contended that the colonies were denied preferential treatment, and that if this was refused they would look elsewhere for better treatment and Canada, in particular, would seek for reciprocity with the United States, thus leading to the disintegration of the empire.

DOUGHER EMPRESS OF RUSSIA VISITS ENGLAND

Seeks Safety There from the Dangers of Her Native Land—Police Take Every Precaution

LONDON, March 7.—The Dowager Empress of Russia arrived here this morning and was greeted at the railway station by her sister, Queen Alexandra, the Prince and Princess of Wales, and the staff of the Russian embassy. The dowager arrived in London an hour earlier than publicly announced and several foreign ministers, who had not been apprised of the change, arrived at the station after the departure of the royal party. The expedition of the empress' party was, it is understood, planned by the police, who have taken extraordinary measures for her protection. While the officials of Scotland Yard have little fear that the anarchists will jeopardize her privilege of obtaining an asylum in England, they are taking no chances, and every mile of track will be guarded. From the railway station the Dowager Empress and the Queen drove to Buckingham palace.

WELLINGTON CRONK'S HOME AT LONG REACH BURNED

Neighbors Succeeded in Saving the Furniture, but the House was a Total Loss.

The home of L. Wellington Cronk, at Long Reach, Kings Co., was completely destroyed by fire at an early hour on Tuesday morning. Mr. Cronk built and started the fire in the kitchen stove and then went to his barn a short distance away. On returning he found the house enveloped in flames. A number of neighbors were soon on the scene, and they succeeded in saving nearly all of the furniture. Mr. Cronk's loss will probably be about $1,000. He carried no insurance.

Two boys, Adam and Knight, accidentally broke a pane of glass in George Swetka's shop on Paradise row last night.

McKay, of which deceased was a member, will attend the funeral. Coroner Berry has not decided yet on holding an inquiry, but it is thought that probably one will be held.

CULPEPPER, Va., March 7.—The case of the People against James and Philip Strother, charged with the murder of William F. Bywater, their brother-in-law, was given to their jury this morning. A verdict of not guilty was returned.

QUEEN'S CARNIVAL. The carnival in the Queen's rink last evening was noticeable for many excellent costumes. Perhaps the most attractive of them was worn by Mrs. W. Carnell, who represented the Easter millinery opening. The idea was most ingeniously contrived and the air ship had created much amusement. Barry Driscoll and J. Jennings as the two Chinamen were excellent and won the applause of the spectators. There was also the usual number of clowns, old maids, and the Ladlow was not forgotten. JOHN R. RONALD. GLASSVILLE, March 5.—On Thursday, Feb. 28th, the community learned with sad surprise of the death of one of its most respected citizens, John R. Ronald. For a few days Mr. Ronald had been confined to the house from an attack of la grippe, but nothing serious was thought of until a day or two before he died. Mr. Ronald was born in Cummock, Ayrshire, Scotland. After coming to this country he lived for some time in St. John, settling in Glassville in the early sixties, a year or two after the Glass colony. With the sturdy men of his generation he shared the arduous toil of carving out a comfortable home for himself and his family from the "forest primeval."

The sons of Scotland who began life in this new land with himself are passing away one by one. He was a man of sterling integrity. The large number of people from far and near who attended his funeral testified to the esteem in which he was held by all who knew him. All felt that a good man, a tried friend had gone. He was buried in the Presbyterian cemetery at Glassville, Rev. J. H. A. Anderson of Presque Isle officiating at the service. He was twice married and leaves a widow, four sons and one daughter, brothers and sisters in Scotland and Australia. He was 68 years of age.

Her husband pre-deceased her about twenty years ago. She leaves one son, Harry D. Baird, of Woodstock and five daughters, Mrs. Ople, of Bathurst, Mrs. (Dr.) Mann, of Houlton and Miss Louise and Miss Jennie, musicians of Boston, and Miss Millie, a trained nurse of Boston. ONE KILLED IN EXPLOSION; OTHERS SERIOUSLY HURT

WEST HOPKINTON, N. H., March 6.-By the accidental explosion of a dynamite cartridge, late this afternoon, Percy Libby was killed and Joseph Perry and Clarence Richardson so injured that each will lose the sight of an eye. The two men were workmen employed in the construction of a canal at the new paper mill owned by Henry C. Davis of this place. They had set two cartridges to explode simultaneously, and after the explosion started to remove the broken rock with pick axes. Libby's pickaxe struck a cartridge which had failed to explode. Libby was 23 years old and was married only last December. He came here from Bangor, Me., about a year ago.

Two or three years ago at this season the furnaces in town were making stoves for stock; today they can't fill orders for present delivery. Household-ers are throwing out their wood stoves and replacing them with those that burn coal. It used to be the custom to change stoves in the spring or fall. With the present high price and scarcity of wood people must change between days. It is not altogether the high price of wood but the fear of being unable to get it at any price that forces people to the use of coal.-Woodstock Dispatch.

ROOSEVELT VS. ELIOT.

All citizens of the United States who feel even a slight interest in their educational institutions have now the opportunity of judging between the views expressed by two eminent men both of whom have done a great deal of good for their country. During recent visit to Harvard President Roosevelt, in the course of an address to the students, gave utterance to these sentiments: "I emphatically disbelieve in seeing Harvard or any other colleges turn out mollycoddles instead of vigorous men, and thus I do not in the least object to a sport because it is rough. Rowing, baseball, lacrosse, track and field games, hockey, football, are all of them good. Moreover, it is to my mind simple nonsense, a mere confession of weakness, to desire to abolish a game because tendencies show themselves or practices grow up which prove that the game ought to be reformed. Colleges should never feel the necessity for so much as considering the abolition of such a game as football. There is no justification for stopping a manly sport because it is sometimes abused, which abuse is in no shape necessarily attendant upon the game. We cannot afford to turn out of colleges men who shrink from physical effort or from a little physical pain. In any country courage is a prime necessity for the average citizen, and he needs physical courage no less than moral courage, the courage that endures, the courage that will fight valiantly alike against the foes of the soul and the foes of the body. Athletics are good, especially in their rougher forms, because they tend to develop such courage." Such are the words of the one man above all others who by his own personality has during the past few years exerted a great influence on the whole American nation. On the other hand, President Eliot, of Harvard, who for some time has been leading a campaign against college athletics, yesterday delivered himself as follows: "It is high time that the whole profession of teaching in school, college and university unite to protest against the present exaggeration of athletics during the period of education, and limit competitive sports between schools and colleges within reasonable bounds and assert the supremacy of intellectual and moral interests over physical interests in all institutions of education." He goes on to declare that football is nothing more nor less than a reckless causing or receiving bodily injury in fit for college use. Basketball and hockey are placed in the same category, and, according to President Eliot, should be debarred. It will be remembered that when President Roosevelt recently visited Harvard, President Eliot found it wise to accept an invitation to address the Canadian Club of Toronto. This action was harshly criticised, and though President Eliot excused himself on the ground that his engagement had been made before Roosevelt decided to visit the college, still he did not gain anything in the opinions of the people by being absent on such an occasion. His report may be taken in the nature of a reply to Roosevelt. It is weak, the effort of a man who can find few good reasons for the stand he has taken, but who is determined to stubbornly resist any attempts to bring him to a wider appreciation of modern life. It is easy to foresee that his words will fall on deaf ears after the strenuous appeal of the strenuous Roosevelt.

MR. THORNE'S REGRET.

At the meeting of the board of trade held on Tuesday afternoon Mr. W. H. Thorne expressed regret that the best citizens in St. John did not interest themselves in civic affairs. This regret is not confined to Mr. Thorne. Other best citizens feel it themselves, and are fond of saying so, but their remarks do not improve the situation. Although he may be too modest to think so, Mr. Thorne is looked upon as one of the class of which he speaks, and if he would during the next few weeks permit himself to be nominated for the mayoralty, he would be elected by acclamation. The majority of the voters here want able men at the head of affairs, and would gladly welcome to the ranks of representatives those whose opinions carry weight, instead of being compelled to toss coppers in order to decide which among the incompetent nominees shall receive the ballots. Mr. Thorne, and doubtless others almost equally well known and equally respected as citizens, need not bear any longer than they wish the pain of seeing the city ruled by men who are not fully qualified. There is an easy way out of the difficulty, and this is by a dozen of the better class of citizens offering their services to the people. Mr. Thorne, who has briefly expressed his feelings may lead the way. The Star begs to suggest that he offer as a candidate.

"Muggs," an English coach dog, owned by J. N. D. Reeves, objects so persistently to the sale of a horse by his master, the former owner is endeavoring to repurchase the horse, that it and the dog, which have been inseparable companions for several years, may spend the remainder of their lives as chums. The horse was sold to Brock Smith, of East Columbus, and when the new purchaser attempted to lead the animal from the Reeves barnyard, the dog held the latter rein with his teeth, nor would he release it until forced to do so by his master. By his pathetic, mute appeals he evinced his desire to have his equine friend stay. Recently the purchaser of the horse drove him back here and hitched him to a rack while he entered a store. "Muggs" appeared at the animal's side, and, grabbing the halter-rein between his teeth, he held it until the driver had left her erstwhile companion. The two proceeded to their home together.

CONFIDENCE.

Augustus Thomas, the well known playwright, was talking about first nights and the heartrending anxiety of them. "On my own first night," he said, "I am a pitiful object, utterly without hope, convinced in advance that my play is bound to fail. At such times I often wish I had the self-confidence that possessed Charles Reade. He, after he had dramatized his novel of 'Never Too Late to Mend,' wrote on the margin of a certain passage: "If the audience fails to weep here the passage has not been properly acted."

Among the interested visitors of the marine barracks at Washington on one occasion was a party of young girls from a Maryland town, friends of one of the officers of the barracks. They proved very much interested in everything pertaining to the life and discipline of the post.

"What do you mean by 'taps'?" asked one young woman. "Taps are played every night on the bugle," answered the officer. "It means 'lights out.' They play it over the bugles of dead soldiers." A puzzled look came to the face of the questioner. Then she asked: "What do you do if you haven't a dead soldier?"

Paul Morton, in a recent address on insurance, said of a certain proposed economy: "That would not be an economy, but an extravagance, in the long run. It reminds me of the boy and the jam. 'My son,' said this boy's mother, 'don't eat rather an extravagance to eat butter with that super jam?' 'No, ma'am, it's an economy, the same piece of bread does for both.'"

Physician's Wife-I shall soon be wanting a new evening dress, dear Physician-As right, my dear, I'll look over my list and find some fellow who can afford an operation for appendicitis.

"And why didn't you keep your housemaid, Frau Roth?" "Well, she arrived with a sewing machine, a typewriter, a camera, a portable darkroom, motor bicycle, gramophone, bath, and health exerciser to say nothing of her trunks. That was too much for our small house."

Tom-Bess said "No" to me last night, but I don't think she really could tell why she did it. Nell-Oh, yes, she could. She told me.

Tom-Did she? Nell-Yes, she said she didn't think you'd take "No" for an answer.

"Lady," began the wanderer, "kin I chop some wood for you." "No, thank you," replied the up-to-date housewife; "we cook and heat entirely by electricity."

"Nothin' I kin do to get a bite to eat?" "Yes, if you care to peel the shoeks from the electric wires I'll allow you to eat the currents."

Mrs. Harris (looking up from a letter)-I'm so glad we sent Harry to a boarding school. I knew he would make his mark. He says he is already considered one of the best scholars.

Mr. Harris-Let me see that letter. Why that isn't 'scholars,' it's 'scullers.'"

Talkers-Can you see any earthly good in a tramp? Sociologist-He never gets in his way, laboring man.

Talkers-How so? Sociologist-He never gets in his way. Visitor-Henri, I have got some nice sweets in my pocket for you. I will give you one when I go. Henri-Well, go now, can't you?

HALIFAX GARWORKS

SOON UNDER WAY

Twenty Acres of Land in City Have Been Bought for a Site

HALIFAX, N. S., March 6.-The site of the Silliker Car Company, in Halifax, has been selected and purchased and as soon as the weather permits the work of breaking ground and preparing for the erection of the buildings will commence.

It is expected that in six months after the work of excavation for the foundation begins, the factory at least in its wood-working department, will be in full operation. The site comprises twenty acres at an average cost of about $1,000 an acre. A system of sewers has been constructed sufficient for the undertaking, street railway track runs on two sides of the property, Windsor and Alton streets, and it will be connected with the Intercolonial railway by an extension of the cotton factory siding.

The appointment of Silliker assets at Amherst has been concluded and the result has been accepted by both parties. Organization of the company will be proceeded with immediately and the first call on stock subscriptions, probably 20 to 25 per cent, will soon be made. The stock located to Halifax never subscribed the sum taken being about $137,000.

SNOWBOUND EXHIBIT

AT GARDEN SHOW

Related Specimen of New Brunswick Wild Animals Shown to New York Sportsmen.

(New York Herald, March 6.) Interest of visitors at the Sportsmen's Show in Madison Square Garden yesterday centered in the exhibit of the Royal Crown Land Office, of New Brunswick. The exhibit had been snowbound for a week en route to this city.

The display was one of the most attractive of the show. In one corner of the space is located a big log cabin built of spruce, walls are covered with game exhibits of mounted animals and heads. An immense bull moose, along side of which is a tiny moose calf, all legs, like a young colt, only very much smaller, is one of the features. Caribou, a spotted deer, a red deer, a large black bear, a fine specimen of a Canadian lynx, a wild cat, a cross fox, an otter with a beautiful pelt, panels showing brook trout and two gigantic moose heads, one of them trimmed with electric lights, are among the exhibits.

New Brunswick snowshoes are shown, paddies made of maple, the tools natives use and one of the finest toboggan sleds ever seen in New York are shown. In another section are games exhibits of mounted animals and heads. An immense bull moose, along side of which is a tiny moose calf, all legs, like a young colt, only very much smaller, is one of the features. Caribou, a spotted deer, a red deer, a large black bear, a fine specimen of a Canadian lynx, a wild cat, a cross fox, an otter with a beautiful pelt, panels showing brook trout and two gigantic moose heads, one of them trimmed with electric lights, are among the exhibits.

Among the visitors were Dr. Alfred M. Dunham, of Nome, Alaska, who has never missed a Sportsmen's Show. He wore his famous fur-lined overcoat, the lining of which is made of undyed and unplucked baby seal. It shone off in the effect of being covered with a light fall of snow.

A number of pitmen at Stellarton, N. S., were idle for a few days, recently, on account of fire breaking through into one slope from some of the old workings. Several of the workmen were overcome with gas and smoke and were brought to the surface unconscious, but with medical aid soon recovered. The place where the fire occurred has been built off, and the company anticipate no further trouble from that source.

SUFFRAGISTS FORCE THEIR ATTENTIONS TO THE LIMIT

Will Compel the Authorities to Keep Them in Prison Until all Demands Are Granted

LONDON, March 7.-The woman suffragists by insisting upon martyrdom are placing the authorities in an embarrassing position. Mrs. Despard, a sister of General French and several of her fellow-fighters were released from prison yesterday after a term of confinement for participation in a riot at the House of Commons. Kier Hardie, M. P., who has a reputation of eccentricity, presided at a public breakfast given in honor of these women. Several of the suffragists delivered speeches in which they announced their purpose of forcing the authorities to keep them in prison by committing breaches of the law until such time as suffrage legislation is enacted. Since the British law is no respecter of persons, the women of the suffragists have shared the prison with the common criminals of their sex, and the regime of British prisons is remarkably severe. The question of woman suffrage comes up before the House of Commons next Friday and preparations are being made for another demonstration on that day. The regular monthly meeting of the N. B. Military Veterans will be held this evening in their new rooms in the Market Building. The annual dinner will be arranged for at this meeting.

BOAT STRUCK A SEA SERPENT? Sloop Nearly Wrecked by an Enormous Monster of the Deep

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 6.—Wild-eyed, their nerves completely shattered, and their boat almost a complete wreck, the crew of the Goldie Budd, a local fishing and pleasure sloop, arrived here Sunday night with a detailed account of an encounter with a monster of the deep so enormous in its size and so strange in its actions that not a mother's son of them will express an opinion as to what it actually was.

When six miles off Ocean City, returning from the fishing banks about two o'clock Sunday afternoon, the Goldie Budd ran afoul of a marine creature, fully one hundred feet long, with a head which the sailors declared resembled nothing so much as that of a giant rhinoceros. The sloop crashed into the side of the creature—whale, sea serpent, or whatever it was—resulting in a crash that broke the shaft of the boat's auxiliary engine, unhinged the rudder, and opened her seams so that only by balling were the crew able to make the nearest harbor, at Great Egg Inlet.

Said Capt. Parker, relating his experience: "We were sailing along before a stiff east wind, when suddenly, as the boat sank into the trough of a wave, she struck something, then slid off into the water. The shock threw me from the wheel and brought the frightened men from the cabin pell mell. The wheel was gone, our rudder broken, and the propeller twisted.

"We were taking account of these things when one of my men cried out, 'My God, what is that?' and pointed toward the stern. What I first saw looked like the head of a giant rhinoceros, only its mouth was open, and it was covered with its bumps, and from each of these it would occasionally shoot what seemed to be water, but it was not water, never want to again. I never saw anything like it before, and I never took much stock in sea serpents, but this creature was not a whale. Its body was black and must have been fully one hundred feet long, tapering toward the tail.

"The thing followed us for nearly an hour. My men nearly died of fright as they bailed and helped reset the rudder. We must have wounded the fish pretty badly when we struck it, for the water in its wake was bloody. Every once in a while it seemed to have a sort of spasmodic motion, as if it were furiously and spouting. We were about two miles from shore when the creature sank and we did not see it again.

TERRIBLE MURDER REPORTED FROM BATHEAU, LABADOR

Three Lives Sacrificed for the Possession of a Wild Duck—Tragedy Happened Last Autumn

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., News-parties who arrived here from Brigus Saturday, say that a letter has been received there by the westward route from Batheau, Labrador, telling of a terrible murder which occurred at the latter place last autumn. It appears that four men, all named Dyson, were out shooting in two boats. A man in each boat fired simultaneously at a bird, and the nearest boat rowed alongside to pick it up. One of the Dysons took the bird into his punt, but no sooner did so, than he was shot dead by the man who fired at the bird from the other boat. This enraged the chum of Dyson who was shot, and taking aim he killed the murderer of the first. The boat mate of the second Dyson retaliated by shooting Dyson No. 3 and then rowed to land and reported the matter. The awful tragedy must have happened in November last as the place was frozen out so that it would be impossible for the men to be shooting in boats, and in December they would be gone trapping. Batheau is about 70 miles from English Harbor, and it is evident the news, if true, came from there. The only justice of peace on the Labrador Coast is Mr. Fraser, at Rigouador Coast 128 miles from the scene, who, no doubt, has since heard of the affair, as he makes a trip over the coast with komatiks and dog every Christmas.

BODY FOUND ENCASED IN ICE IN A BOAT

Had to be Chopped Out—The Man Was an Escaped Lunatic

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., March 6.—The body of Henry Fremette, of this city, was found encased in ice in a skiff on the shore of Seconnet point this afternoon.

Two weeks ago yesterday, Fremette escaped from the Taunton insane asylum, and was seen by a fisherman on the coast. He was seen to reach the Atlantic ocean in a mystery of the sea not yet solved.

The skiff came ashore at 3 o'clock and in it was found the body of a man. With axes ice was chopped away so that the body could be removed. It was taken to Dr. Stimpson, medical examiner at Adamsville, and thence to the morgue. The body was found in the pockets of the clothing a letter addressed "Henry Fremette, Taunton Insane Asylum," and signed by J. C. and Philomene Fremette, 1650 Aunton Avenue, New Bedford. The New Bedford police were notified and it was found that Fremette's family were notified of his escape two weeks ago. During the last fortnight the river and bays along the coast have been ice-bound, and how Fremette came to be in the skiff and cast up by the ocean will remain a mystery. He was 22 years old.

MAY HAVE ANOTHER FREE KINDERGARTEN IN CARLETON

Citizen Offers to Assist to the Extent of Half the Expense for Four Years—Proposal Will be Placed Before West End People.

There is a possibility that still another free kindergarten will be established in St. John, making the fourth school of this kind in operation. If the proposal goes through, Carleton will be the section of the city favored and it is felt that such a school in the West End could carry on most valuable work.

The free kindergarten committee in the city have now control of three schools, and the ladies are endeavoring to obtain other source of regular income, the task of raising the necessary funds is no light one, the ladies being kept pretty busy devising ways and means for meeting the monthly expenses. Each school costs in the vicinity of five hundred dollars a year, and the securing of the total amount calls for untiring effort. Under these conditions the ladies feel that they are unable to accept the responsibility of establishing and conducting a fourth school, even though the need of such an institution is realized.

But during the past year or so several well known citizens have exhibited an active interest in the work, and have by advice and in more material ways, contributed to the success of the undertaking. There is a small committee of men, associated with the ladies, and these men have aided in spreading the interest in the work. Among those who have carefully gone into the question, primarily from a personal standpoint, is a citizen of some wealth who has investigated himself the conditions existing and has found that the schools now in operation are performing great good, and that their sphere of influence might with advantage be extended. This man has, after consideration, made a proposal to the members of the committee. He offers to assist to the extent of half the cost of establishment and half the expense for four years.

Hence the suggestion has been made, that a committee of West Side ladies be formed, to act in conjunction with the general committee, but to take control of and raise the portion of the funds required for their own school. In accordance with this, letters are being sent to the members of the West End residents, placing the proposition before them, seeking opinions, and expressing the hope that they may extend the sympathy of others. Several members of the committee met yesterday and informally discussed the question which, however, must be gone into more fully before any active step is taken.

SALISBURY AND HARVEY

LINE BLOCKED BY ICE

Miles of Rails Had to be Cleared by Hand—Train Was Stalled

HOPEWELL HILL, March 6.—If the Salisbury and Harvey Railway men thought their troubles were over last week they made a poor forecast. The rain and sleet storm of Saturday and Sunday again bringing difficulties which practically put the train out of business, and entailed additional toll for the employees and much inconvenience to travellers. The track, it seems, was not ploughed out properly, before the slush formed into ice, and when the train left Albert yesterday (Monday) morning, the rails were embedded in the frozen substance to such an extent that it was found impossible to make the trip to Salisbury. Miles of ice had to be picked from the rails by hand, and after reaching a little distance above Hillsboro, the trip was abandoned for the night, the train returning to Albert. Passengers bound for points outside the county, were compelled to secure teams at Hillsboro and drive to Moncton. No mails came in from outside yesterday. Today some further progress was made, the train getting to within a few miles of Salisbury. Two days' mail, which were driven part of the way, and brought by train over the lower part of the line, were received tonight. The track will be all cleared tomorrow. Edward O'Brien, an old resident of Hopewell Cape, is seriously ill with paralysis with which he was seized on Saturday night. His condition is precarious.

De Mille Milton, of this place, is suffering from a severe attack of pleurisy. Dr. Carnwath is attending him.

ANOTHER CASE OF SMALLPOX REPORTED

Frank Lambert, a New Arrival from England, Has the Disease in a Rather Bad Form

Smallpox was discovered last night by the board of health authorities in Mrs. Travis' boarding house on Smythe street. The patient is Frank Lambert, a middle aged man who came from England about a month ago. Lambert had, up to a week ago, been working at Partridge Island where he was a pipe-layer. When he came to the city he went to lodge at Mrs. Travis' house. Two nights ago he felt ill, and several members of the household became suspicious that Lambert was suffering from the dreaded disease.

The matter leaked out, and evidently reached the ears of the board of health physician who went to the house and examined the man. The doctor found that he was suffering from smallpox, and the authorities were at once notified. In a very short time the house was quarantined. This morning Lambert was removed to the isolation hospital in the ambulance belonging to that institution. His case is reported to be quite severe, although it has not had much time to progress.

The Star was in communication with the Island this afternoon and it was learned that no one is ill with smallpox there. A large number of foreigners are working at the Island at the water pipes.

Fourteen people are confined in the Travis house. A physician is vaccinating the inmates this afternoon. Up to the present, no one else has shown signs of the disease.
