

HOWELS A THOROUGH GENTLE "SYRUP OF FIGS." ... Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Clogged-Up Waste With

out grip, nausea or weakness. Nothing else cleanses and regulates your sour, disordered stomach, torpid liver and thirty feet of waste-clogged bowels like gentle, effective Syrup of Figs. Don't think you are drugging yourself. Being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics, it can not cause injury.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," and look on the label for the name—California Fig Syrup Company. That, and that only, is the genuine. Refuse imitations or other fig syrup substitutes with contempt.

Satisfaction in a Real "Party Cape"

The same pattern can be used to make a cape of pink cashmere or challie and it can be lined with white India silk, making a very inexpensive little wrap.

HIGH PROTECTION IN GERMANY.

Quoting from The Standard that "it is not the intention of the Tariff Reform party in Great Britain to establish high protection, which is the policy of Germany," the Times asks "why in the world, if the German policy produces such results as The Standard alleges, should not the Tariff Reform party in Britain eagerly desire to adopt it at once and in full?"

Taking the case of wheat, as a suitable example, for it is the most important product of the United Kingdom imports, we find that in Germany the wheat duty is practically prohibitive. It is imposed not to produce revenue but for the purpose of making agriculture attractive and remunerative and as being, in German opinion, the most economical means of keeping in the country and on the land the requisite number of men required for naval and military purposes.

It is obvious from these facts that it is impossible to compare either the intention or the incidence of the German high protection duties with the intention or the incidence of the small duties proposed under Tariff Reform for the United Kingdom. The essential differences in regard to wheat, and they apply to other products, may be stated as follows:

- (1)—The German duty is on ALL imported wheat. Germany has no overseas wheat-growing dominions or colonies. The question of imperial preference, therefore, does not arise as it does in the case of the Mother Country.
(2)—Germany gives no preference to any wheat-growing country, there have been no imports of "duty free" wheat to exercise a competitive effect on wheat prices.
(3)—The object of high German duty on wheat is to keep out ALL overseas wheat as far as possible. The object of Tariff Reform, with a proposed two-shilling duty on FOREIGN wheat, is not to keep out overseas supplies but to encourage wheat to come from the Dominions and Colonies of the Empire instead of from foreign countries.

Germany's policy of naval aggression has a direct bearing on this phase of the question. Great Britain's supply of wheat on hand is never more than sufficient to feed the country for a few weeks. The protection of the trade routes in the event of war is, therefore, a vital consideration. From this menace Germany, with her wheat-growing facilities at home, is comparatively free. She can well afford to impose prohibitive duties. The Times should now be able to understand the distinction and the difference between the low duties proposed under Tariff Reform and the German policy of high protection. Germany furnishes under a high tariff but it would be entirely unsuitable to meet British conditions.

MR. WOODROW WILSON'S VIEWS.

In the speeches of Mr. Woodrow Wilson in his campaign, light is thrown on the reasons he recently advanced commending the people of Canada for repudiating Reciprocity. It will be recalled that Mr. Wilson resented at first the refusal of Canada to accept the Agreement and asked for particulars. The information he received satisfied him that Canadians had nothing to gain by Reciprocity. I had to retire from the debate," was his candid admission, "because I found that they had adjusted their economic development to conditions which we had not yet found a way to meet in the United States."

The Democratic candidate has been campaigning in Kansas this week, and the need for reform in many branches of the public service of the United States has been the principle topic of his addresses. It is worth noting, in the first place, that the Democratic party has no revolutionary designs on the tariff, but war is declared against the trusts and "special privilege."

Speaking at Topeka, Mr. Wilson referred to an editorial in "an influential paper" regarding him which said in effect: "This is an honest man; he honestly believes that a protective tariff is unconstitutional, and if he gets a chance, being an honest man, he will upset that constitutional arrangement." "That is very good reasoning," continued the Democratic candidate, "but it is entirely inconsistent with another part of the editorial which very kindly ascribed brains to me. One of the things that every well informed man knows is that about half the people in the United States are Democrats. As a well informed man, I know that they are engaged in every kind of industry, and that they could not unite to accomplish economic murder and destruction without also deliberately accomplishing economic suicide. So far as I am myself concerned, I would with the greatest respect call the editor's attention to a little utterance which I ventured to make upon accepting the nomination for the Presidency, in which I explicitly laid down the programme which I thought we ought to pursue with regard to the protective duties. I said that they ought not to be changed except in such a way and at such a rate as would not in any way interfere with the course of sound business in the United States. I also said, and that is what makes this parenthesis applicable to my discourse, that we were going to begin with those particular items in which we found special privilege entrenched. We know what those items are. The gentlemen who enjoy the special privileges have been kind enough to point them out themselves, and what we are interested in first of all with regard to the tariff is getting the grip of special interests off the throat of Congress. We do not propose that special interests shall any longer camp in the committee rooms of the Committee of Ways and Means of the House and the Finance Committee of the Senate."

Mr. Wilson goes on to emphasize the importance of "free enterprise." "We haven't got it," he says. "What we want is free competing water routes that will enable us to handle the heavier kinds of our goods in transportation without depending too much upon the railway routes, and we haven't got them, and can't get them as things stand now. What we want is genuine conservation of our natural resources and we can't get it as things stand now. Have you noticed that the trouble about conservation is that the Government of the United States hasn't any policy at present? It is simply marking time, it is simply standing still. Reservation is not conservation." "Legitimized monopoly" is another striking phrase which Mr. Wilson uses in the charges he makes against the Government of the United States. "This business of setting up individuals or parties as special providences is one of the things that is played out. So far as my pride is concerned, I would just as leave have a malcontent boss as a beneficent boss. I don't want any boss at all."

It is not difficult to understand that with this situation in mind Mr. Wilson should arrive at the same conclusion that Canadians had adjusted their economic development to conditions which the people of the United States had not yet found their way to meet. One of the strongest arguments advanced against Reciprocity was that Canadian industries would suffer through the domination of the trusts. Under the National Policy the Dominion enjoys that "free enterprise" of which Mr. Wilson speaks. It is small wonder, then, from the Canadian point of view, he should have commended the defeat of the Agreement and "retired from the debate."

A FLAG INCIDENT.

The case of Leoric Temple, a seventeen-year-old boy and a student at the Public High School in Cedar Grove, New Jersey, who has been dismissed from school because of his refusal to salute the United States flag, is naturally of some interest to St. John, where his father, Mr. Frederick L. Temple, is well known. The lad acted on the instructions of his father, who is a Canadian, but at present a citizen of New York. As a British subject, the boy could not swear allegiance to the American flag as required by the trustees of the school.

It is gratifying to note that the United States journals that have discussed the matter do so in a broad and tolerant spirit. "Suppose," says the Pittsburg Gazette, "an American boy in a British school asked to pledge himself to the British flag—one of the American boys in Oxford University by virtue of winning a Rhodes Scholarship, for example. Or suppose one of the American students at one of the celebrated German universities asked to pledge himself to the German flag. What should we say about his attitude and answer? Why, 'Yankee Doodle' to be followed with 'Columbia' and 'fight for it if necessary and leave school.'"

The Brooklyn Eagle refers to it as an absurd flag controversy. It says that Mr. Temple, as an alien, pays taxes, and in return is entitled to education for his children. That this unquestioned right can be made to depend on the child's forced swearing of allegiance to a country other than the one his father owes allegiance to is pure imagination on the part of the school board. The Eagle says that forced oaths of allegiance may be as all right in Russia, but they are out of place in a Republic. If Mr. Temple were not proud of his British citizenship there would be something wrong with him. It concludes by remarking that if anything should convince him that he should not change his allegiance it would be the methods of the Cedar Grove School Board. The Boston Globe says the question should be settled by supposing the case of an American lad asked to swear allegiance to the British flag because he was attending an English school.

The Toronto Mail and Empire, in quoting these comments, wisely points out that with leading American newspapers taking this attitude Canadians need not worry themselves over it, but can depend upon the good sense of the American people seeing no injustice is done to Mr. Temple and his son.

THE SASKATCHEWAN ELECTION.

Facts which are now becoming generally known in connection with the recent provincial election in Saskatchewan, reveal a condition which is gravely significant. The prostitution of the franchise which took place in that election under the direction of the Liberal Government in Saskatchewan, emphasizes the danger which exists where the electoral machinery is controlled by men who have no higher purpose than that which inspired those who managed the Saskatchewan campaign in behalf of the Scott Government. British citizenship is not the basis of the franchise under the Liberal Administration in that Province.

Placards were distributed before the election declaring that it was not necessary to be a naturalized citizen in order to vote. "It matters not," said this extraordinary placard, "whether you are an Indian or a Hottentot." All that was required of these aliens was that they should vote for the Scott candidates. The votes of British subjects, substantial citizens in Saskatchewan, were killed by the votes of those included under the terms of the placard. But the election law, which is the law of Saskatchewan, says that in order to vote one must be a British subject of the full age of twenty-one years. These revelations provide a typical example of the Scott Government's methods.

Current Comment

"Militant Methods." (Kit in Canada Monthly.) Women who want the vote—who demand equality with men, who break windows and so injure many an humble and hard-working tradesman; who resort to arson and attempt murder, are not in a position to demand exclusive privileges when they behave as criminals. They should play the game better than that. One could even admire them if they showed real pluck, real courage. But this they do not do. Instead, when convicted and sentenced, they cry aloud, "It is not fair. It is not fair to do it!" Once and for ever this sort of weak violence should be put down and out.

Mixed Farming For the West. (Ottawa Citizen.) The Western Provinces of Canada are reporting a decrease in the taking up of homestead lands. This indicates that the first chapter in the book of Western Canada will soon be finished, and the second one will soon be begun. It is to be hoped that in the second chapter something will be said about the wisdom of mixed farming and the folly of robbing the soil of its native wealth, without compensation. The book will be longer if that is done.

Will It? (Hamilton Spectator.) Canada, it is stated, furnishes 90 per cent. of the world's nickel, so important a factor in the manufacture of armor plate. It may thus be assuring as the organ of the Conservation Commission asserts, that we possess such a potent weapon making for world-peace, but it is exceedingly doubtful that it will be used. The wonder is for the almighty dollar will doubtless remain predominant for some time to come.

Fastidious. (Hamilton Herald.) Lieutenant Becker desires to be tried by a jury of native Americans who have blue eyes because he himself is a native American and has blue eyes. The wonder is that he doesn't demand to be tried by a jury of New York gunmen or policemen.

The Pith of His Speech. (Columbia State.) Colonel Roosevelt said in part: "Liar."

OVERSEA FORCES OF BRITISH EMPIRE ARE OBJECTIVE OF TOUR

London, Oct. 10.—When Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton, commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean and inspector-general of the overseas forces, left London lately, he was embarking on the longest tour of inspection that has yet been undertaken and one that will occupy a year before it reaches completion.

In company with Brigadier-General Ellison of the general staff as staff officer and Major Maddocks as military secretary, he will inspect the whole of the overseas forces excepting those only of Australia and New Zealand. Every garrison and fortress in Ceylon, the Straits Settlements, the Malay peninsula will be visited, and if possible those in British East Africa will be inspected, whilst maneuvers in the Sudan and Egypt will certainly be carried out.

The Canadian minister of militia has invited Sir Ian Hamilton to make a tour of military inspection in the Dominion. The party travelled by way of the trans-Siberian railway to Shangkai, where the first inspection will take place on October 12, and where they will go to Tientsin for the purpose of inspecting the headquarters of the British garrison in North China. After four days spent in Peking a move will be made to Shanghai to Honkong, where two weeks will be occupied in the inspection of the garrison and of the important defenses.

From there the Straits Settlements will be the next objective, where the same work will be carried on, with the addition possibly of the inspection of the troops of the Sultan of Johore. In the week of December General Hamilton will find himself in Ceylon, there to mobilize the Colombo defenses and hold maneuvers. From Ceylon he will go to Suez and spend January in Egypt, the Sudan and Cyprus, where, however, the programme of events has not yet been decided upon. Some time in February Sir Ian will arrive in Malta and remain there until May, when, it is expected, he will proceed to Canada to complete his comprehensive tour.

BUILDING OF LINES IN SOUTH AUSTRALIA CALLED GOOD POLICY

Adelaide, S. Aus., Oct. 10.—Speaking in the House of Assembly recently, the commissioner of public works (Hon. R. Butler) referred to the success which has followed the vigorous construction policy pursued in South Australia during recent years. The commissioner showed that the settlement of an immense area of wheat-growing lands, but also in a direct highly satisfactory return from the workings of the railways.

Proceeding, the commissioner quoted interesting figures relating to two of the new lines, viz. that from Tallen Bend (a town on the interstate line) to Pinnaroo, and from Port Lincoln to Yellanna, on Eyre's peninsula.

In 1909-10, he said, the revenue from the Pinnaroo line was £26,000 and the working expenses £14,000, leaving a net balance of £12,000, or 6 per cent. on the capital cost. In 1910-11 the revenue was £27,000, expenditure £17,000, net balance nearly £10,000, and the interest on capital invested about 8 per cent. If, however, the extra traffic passing over the line from Tallen Bend to Adelaide was taken into account the interest return on the Pinnaroo railway would be about 14 per cent. or 15 per cent. The marvelous success of the line was further shown by the fact that the total amount yielded from the land sales in the district to recoup capital was £102,451, after deducting nearly £2,000 for expenses of survey.

The Port Lincoln to Yellanna line had in 1909-10 given £7,251 in revenue, after deducting working expenses, left a balance of £2,700, or 2.14 per cent. interest on the capital cost. In the next year the revenue was £10,828, and the working expenses £6,700, leaving a balance to the state of £4,128, or 3.14 per cent. interest.

GREATER BERLIN IS TRYING TO REDUCE HIGH PRICE OF MEAT

Berlin, Ger., Oct. 10.—Herr Wermuth, the chief burgomaster and formerly minister of finance, presided over a conference of representatives of the municipalities of Berlin and the adjoining towns which met in the town hall, with the object of considering the possibility of taking common action in combating the high price of meat.

A resolution was passed that a joint petition should be presented to the federal council requesting that the importation of frozen meat should be facilitated by the simplification of the regulations at present in force at the ports of entry in connection with inspection.

The resolution requested also that the tariff should be modified. The question was also raised as to whether it would be possible for the municipalities of Greater Berlin to combine with a view to selling cheap sea fish for the benefit of the poorer class of consumers.

A similar meeting was called by the government of Wurttemberg, when it was recommended that similar action should be taken with a view to facilitating the import of meat, especially frozen meat from Argentina.

Negatively. Have any of the ladies proposed to you during this year? Yes, 120 of them proposed that I should not call on them any more. The present high price of beef makes it more fitting for the polite class to "toast" opposition instead of oxen at the barbecue they are holding.

ST. JOHN BOY MAKING A MOUNTAIN OUT OF A MOLE HILL. H. Price Webber Began Career Here. Not in many years has St. John played a theatrical attraction which has so much local interest as H. Price Webber and his company. Mr. Webber came to St. John from East and when a mere lad, and his first employment was with a local newspaper. He grew up in this city and entered the theatrical profession when he was hardly out of his "teens." His friends in St. John have watched with interest his long successful career, and the great personal regard in which Mr. Webber is held, is one of the secrets of his success.

Unable to Work for 14 Months Complete Nervous Breakdown Left Mr. Black an Invalid—Cured by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mr. Henry Black. What a helpless mass of flesh and bone the human body is, once the nerves become exhausted. Extreme weakness comes over you, and you lose control of the limbs. The first step is paralysis. You will be fortunate if, like Mr. Black, you get the building-up process in action before it is forever too late. By forming new, rich blood Dr. Chase's Nerve Food carries new vigor and energy to every organ and every member of the human body. Mr. Henry Black, 81 St. Catherine street east, Montreal, Que., writes: "The wonderful results I obtained from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food constrain me to write this letter in order that others who suffer from nervous exhaustion and weakness may use this medicine with equally satisfactory results. As the result of overwork I became completely exhausted, and was unable to work for fourteen months. As I am the father of a family, these were sad days for me, but after I had used six boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I had improved so greatly that I continued the treatment until I was completely restored to health and strength. I now work twelve to fifteen hours a day, and keep in excellent health." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates Co., Limited, Toronto.

THE TUNGSTON ORE DECREASES SHOWN BY YEAR'S RECORD. Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—Last year there was a sharp decrease in the production of tungsten ore owing to the decrease in the demand for tool steels, in which the bulk of the tungsten produced is used, according to Frank L. Hess, in a report on this metal just issued by the United States Geological Survey. The production of domestic tungsten ore in 1911 amounted to 1139 short tons of concentrates, carrying 60 per cent of tungsten trioxide, valued at $407,887. In 1912 the production amounted to 1821 short tons, valued at $522,292.

Tungsten is used chiefly in making steels that will hold their temper when heated, but it is most generally known as supplying the element of the tungsten incandescent lamps. Diamonds are used for dies in drawing tungsten wire. At first it did not seem possible to drill small enough holes through the diamonds to make wire sufficiently fine for lamps of small capacity, but wire 0.005 inch in diameter can now be drawn in quantity.

His Bass Needed INCH MORE LENGTH. New York, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Where Knute Anderson made the great mistake of his life was in not angling for rubber fish. He fished in the Hudson river off Spuyten Duyvil and caught bass. There is a law that bass under a certain length may not be caught. How did Knute Anderson know how long the fish he was to catch would be? He knows now, for it cost him $10.

Anderson had a brand new fishing equipment, including a bamboo rod, a book of flies, trolling and jigging hooks and also a volume entitled "The Fisherman's Friend." In spite of all this, he caught a bass measuring eleven inches. The law says no one shall catch a bass less than a foot long. Therefore when Mr. Bauer-schmidt roved along, Mr. Anderson asked "What luck?" and Mr. Anderson held up a fish which did not measure up to the state regulations in the view of Mr. Bauer-schmidt, who is a fish and game warden. Mr. Anderson was taken before Magistrate O'Connell in the morning court. "I'm sorry," said Magistrate O'Connell, "but couldn't you make this fish an inch longer, so as to comply with the law?"

"Ay don't tank so," said Mr. Anderson. "Where ban dis bar fish?" Mr. Bauer-schmidt produced the fish and found it was just eleven inches long. "I wish you could stretch this fish out one inch," said the magistrate. "Ay wish dis har same ting," said Mr. Anderson, "but ay ain't able to do him." "Then I'll have to fine you $10," said Magistrate O'Connell. Mr. Anderson paid the fine and was discharged.

The Army. The first issue of the fourth volume of the Army, the paper of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A., came out yesterday. This paper deals with the work in the association and reflects credit on the boys both for their appearance and the interesting articles which it contains.

Pie Social and Concert. The pie social and entertainment held last evening in connection with the Sea View school in St. John county and taught by Miss Laura A. White, was most successful. The pies commanded good prices and a good sum was realized for the benefit of the school.

Steamer Victoria Laid Up. The St. John River Steamship Co. has taken the Victoria off the route, but will keep the Elaine and Hampstead in commission till the close of navigation. The manager of the company stated the reason for laying up the Victoria was that there was very little freight moving on the river.

Injured Child Resting Comfortably. It was reported at the hospital last evening that the little son of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Griffin, of Fifth street, who sustained the loss of one of his fingers on Wednesday evening last, was resting comfortably. For a time it was feared that the third and fourth fingers would also have to be amputated but fortunately this was not found necessary.

St. John's Progress. Armatores and Bruce are exhibiting in their office window on Prince William street, a number of fine photos, illustrating the forward movement in St. John. Among them are views of the 'Courtney Day' works, the C. P. R. developments on the West Side, and the work in connection with the construction of the automobile factory at Coldbrook.

Unable to Get Seats. Word was received in the city last evening from New York to the effect that a number of the men who left here with the intention of seeing the world series games have been disappointed. It seems the local men sent their money for tickets to a mutual friend in New York but he was unable to secure the seats. During the games these unfortunate have been haunting the bulletin boards instead of the bleachers.

Will Depend on Engineer's Report. A report was recently circulated that it had been decided to have the Valley Railway cross the river at Goudou Point. When asked about the matter yesterday Premier Fleming said no decision had been made nor would be made till a full report was received from the engineers, showing the conditions which would confront the bridge builders at the two places where crossings are proposed.

The New Government Wharf Work. The contractors who are building the new government wharf on the West Side, are rushing the work as fast as possible and expect to sink the last crib for the season in about two weeks' time. The cribs are being filled in, and will be left to settle for the winter, so as to be firmly fixed before the concrete work is started next spring. Beyond getting out timber, the contractors will not do more work during the winter.

Big Dredge Due Tomorrow. The Norton Griffiths Dredging Company expect that the dredge which sailed from Providence some weeks ago will arrive here tomorrow. The dredge was accompanied as far as Rockport by a towboat, and while the dredge was storm bound the tug started back to pick up two scows and bring them here. It is expected that the dredge which is of the type of the Fielding, will be able to make her way here from Rockport under her own steam.

The New Keith Theatre. H. L. Brown, of Philadelphia, who has the contract for the erection of the new Keith theatre on King square in the city yesterday looking over the work. Mr. Brown said last evening that he considered good progress is being made. The building should be closed in about the first of December, after which the interior will be finished. The steel for the balconies, and truss work is due to arrive in a few days. He said he expected the whole building will be completed about the middle of March.

PREPARING FOR WINTER

Salvation Army and Associated Charities Beginning Plans to Cope With Winter's Crop of Destitute Families

With the rapid approach of winter the Salvation Army and Associated Charities are beginning to formulate plans to help the destitute during the cold season. It is expected this winter will see the work carried on on a larger organized scale, and it is hoped indeterminate charities will be done away with.

Miss Grace Robertson, secretary of the Associated Charities, when interviewed by a Standard representative yesterday afternoon said at present the work of the association is almost entirely composed of finding positions for men, but during the winter this branch demands an even larger share of attention. Miss Robertson pointed out that the association feels the need of a larger staff of district workers who will call upon the poor people and show them the proper way to do things. She said in Boston the charitable associations have a large number of such workers, all of whom are doing excellent work visiting the people in a systematic manner.

A class of people who need looking after this time of year and all through the winter are the country people, who leave their farms with the idea of earning an easier living in the city. These families usually suffer the worst, especially if work is scarce. Miss Robertson also spoke highly of the work carried on by the Salvation Army, and said they were always quick to help the needy.

The Board of Control of the Associated Charities will hold its annual meeting on the last Tuesday in this month when plans for the winter's work will be mapped out. Adjutant Cummings of the Salvation Army, who is in charge of the Metro-pole, when seen with regard to charitable work said the Army would carry out its usual programme during the winter. When speaking of this branch of the Army's activities Adjutant Cummings said there was too much indiscriminate charity going on in the city. He pointed out that giving a man an order on the Metro-pole for a bed and breakfast was not helping him along, but rather making a man feel dependent on others for a living.

Arrangements have been completed for Tag Day (Saturday) which is to be held by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the A. O. H. in aid of the new hospital to be established on Coburg street by the Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent's Convent.

At a meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary in their rooms yesterday final plans were made for the day. The tagging will be done by about one hundred girls from St. Vincent's high school. They will be busy in all parts of the city, while the West End and East St. John residents will also be given an opportunity to help along the good cause. The banks to be used in the "tagging" are being supplied by the Bank of New Brunswick.

The "taggers" will start their work tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock and will continue until five o'clock. Provisions have been made for serving the volunteer workers with refreshments. Those working in the city will have luncheon at the A. O. H. rooms, Union street, and those in other parts will be looked after. With fine weather those who have "Tag Day" plans in hand are hopeful that the efforts will meet with a generous response.

URGES CO-OPERATION AMONG APPLE GROWERS

Fruit Inspector S. L. Peters Discusses Conditions of New Brunswick Fruit Growing Industry

S. L. Peters, Dominion fruit inspector, was in the city yesterday. Speaking to a reporter he said that while the apple crop in New Brunswick this year was poor, the farmers had put a considerable quantity of soft apples on the market, and that as a consequence the price had been forced down.

"The fruit growers should organize co-operative societies," he said, "then they would not overstock the market at a particular time, and by keeping a steady supply on the market could keep prices near what they ought to be." Mr. Peters said that Nova Scotia fruit growers were shipping a quality of apples to New Brunswick which they could not sell elsewhere, and that the competition of inferior Nova Scotia apples was having a serious effect upon the market from the point of view of the New Brunswick fruit grower.

NOT SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE AGAINST SLEIGH AND McCORD

Magistrate Dismisses Men Charged With Stealing From Michael Fitzmaurice—Case May Be Reopened Later

In the police court yesterday afternoon the Hon. Magistrate Sleigh and Andrew McCord, charged with stealing $80 from Michael Fitzmaurice on Saturday last, were brought up for trial. Both prisoners pleaded not guilty. Deputy Chief Jenkins acted for the prosecution and although an eye witness saw these men called considerable circumstantial evidence was presented.

It was charged that on the night of the alleged robbery the two prisoners were in company with Fitzmaurice, who was under the influence of liquor. It was shown that at one time during the evening in question Fitzmaurice had $100 on his person and with the exception of $10 it was missing the next morning.

The magistrate did not think the evidence sufficient on which to base a conviction. He then dismissed the prisoners, but at the same time gave Deputy Jenkins permission to secure more evidence if possible under which condition the men would be re-arrested and the case continued.

ST. JOHN IS A HEALTHY CITY

Enquiry At Board of Health Office Brings Word That City is Remarkably Free From Disease

At the present time there are no diphtheria cases in the city and only two houses are placarded for scarlet fever. In addition to having a boom in real estate and industry, St. John is having a boom of an even more desirable kind and should become famous as a health resort.

According to the officials of the board of health, the number of cases of infectious diseases in the city so far this year has been about 50 per cent. less than during the corresponding period last year. As the city last year had very few cases of infectious diseases as compared with other cities of similar population, this is a splendid showing.

Among the causes that have contributed to the excellent showing of the city in this respect are the improved sanitary conditions brought about by the activities of the board of health, the increase of sewerage facilities, and the work of the medical health officer.

While the vital statistics for the government year which closes shortly have not been made up yet, it was said at the office of the board of health that the death rate this year would be smaller than usual. One of the factors contributing to making St. John a healthy city is the Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, the work of which is producing better results every year.
