MAIL ORDERS

We solicit out of town orders which receive our personal attention. The length of time taken to fill orders is governed very largely by how busy we are in the department of our factory in which the particular goods are made. While we have exceptional facilities for promptly turning out goods, it is important to place orders as far ahead as possible. Orders are filled by us in the retention in which they are received, and customers can

LAST MEETING BUT ONE OF TOWN COUNCIL

Statement of the Grave Condition of the Water Supply
Laid Before Council

The last meeting, but one of the Council was held on Tuesday evening in the Council Chambers. His Worship Mayor Andrew presiding. There were present Councillors Quinn, Alexander, Lunn, Pinault and Miller.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

Two communications were read from the Halifax Fire Brigade, inviting the Chief and a detachment of the brigade
to attend the tournament in Halifax,
to take place in Aug. 1914.

Councillor Ferguson entered the meeting.

Councillor Pinault thought that owing to the state of the town's finances, that nothing be done this year, and let the matter drop. It was then motioned to place the letter on the table.

Communication read from James J.
Brown, regarding proposed lecture on "Taxation". He suggested 20th April as a convenient date, and stated that the subject of his lecture would be "Civic Revenue". It was thought by the Council that this date was not very suitable, and the clerk was instructed to write Mr. Brown and arrange the lecture for April 22nd, or other succeeding evening.

Communication read from Mr. E. A.
Poirier, requesting the use of the town hall, on the third Sunday of each month for the meetings of the Circle Restigouche Alliance Nationale.

This Council has been considering a discussion, led by Councillor Pinault, as to whether the town clerk or the Public Property Committee were empowered to rent the hall. It appeared that the clerk had rented the hall to one society, and the Public Property and Streets Committee had rented it to another society, for the same dates.
The streets committee had been empowered by the Council to rent the hall, and the clerk, who naturally concluded they had power to rent the hall also for any lengthened period.
In the end it was resolved to refer the matter to the Public Property and Streets Committee to report back at their meeting.

The following reports recommending payment of accounts were then received
and adopted:

Fire Protection	$21.15
Finance	51.79
Public Property and Streets	105.55
Public Charities	154.00

Councillor Ferguson from Fire Protection committee presented requisition from the Fire Chief for 500 feet of hose, and one hydrant suction for the engine. He stated that at the present time, there was only 2,000 feet of hose available for fires.

Councillor Pinault asked if the Committee had gone into this matter themselves or was it just the fire chief's request. Councillor Ferguson replied that this requisition for hose was embodied in the annual report of the Committee, which had been received by the Council. On a vote, the requisition was granted, Councillor Pinault voting nay.

The Public Property and Streets
Committee were granted permission to hold a meeting during which time the Council took recess. On Council re-assembling, Councillor Pinault presented report from that committee, recommending that the Council Chamber be rented to the Circle Restigouche Alliance Nationale from March 1914
for every third Sunday in the month,
at a rental of $1.50 per meeting.

Councillor Alexander stated that he would vote against the recommendation, as the facts were that the town clerk had rented the hall for three Sundays, and had accepted payment for same, and he (Councillor Alexander) could not see how the Council could repudiate the Town Clerk's action. Councillor Ferguson was of the same opinion. Answering these remarks, Councillor Pinault said that this was the first occasion that a request for renting the hall for any continued period, and no authority had been vested in the town clerk for this purpose. As a matter of fact, the authority was in the hands of the Education and Improvements Committee,
and as the Public Property and Streets Committee had been given power to make arrangements for the renting of the stores in the building, any requests for the use of the hall for any lengthened period, should have been referred also to that committee. With regard to renting the hall for any single entertainment, the clerk was cognizant of the dates the hall was booked for, and was quite a different matter. On the motion being put there was a vote, Councillors Pinault, Miller, Lunn, and Quinn. Motion carried.

G. A. C. 1914

The clerk was instructed to return
the amount paid by the other society.
His Worship stated that he was in

DIED SUDDENLY AT RAILWAY STATION

Native of Gascons Dies on Return Journey After Removal
From the Hotel Dieu

On Wednesday morning, Mr. Jos. E.
Olecamp was instructed to call at the Hotel Dieu Hospital to convey a patient named Huard of Gascons, to the railway station at Grand Point for the man's return to his home. Mr. Huard had been a patient at the hospital for the last two weeks, suffering from cancer, and had undergone an operation for the disease at the institution.

Although little hope was held out for his recovery, he was as well as could be expected, and expressed a desire to be at home. The journey on Wednesday across the ice was safely made,
and Mrs. Olecamp placed his passenger baggage on the train, and procured his ticket to Gascons. While on the train, the man was seen to be suffering, and it was deemed best to remove him to the waiting room of the station, where he remained a few minutes later. Dr.
Pinault of Campbellton and Undersecretary Graham were instructed to take charge of the remains, which were forwarded to Gascons this morning. The deceased was about fifty years of age.

recipients of a message from D. A. Stewart, M. P., that it was the feeling in the Legislature, that a clause be added to the town bill now before the house, to the effect that the Assessors post the Assessment lists in prominent places, and allow the ratepayers twenty days to appear before the Assessment Board, and object to their valuations. This would not infringe on the right of a taxpayer to appeal to the Council or even to the courts, as a last resort, but would do away with the large number of appeals which are usually made to the Council, and would mean a more complete list given into the treasurers hands. The Council did not see any objection to the clause, and by motion, it was agreed to give Mr.
Stewart to have the clause inserted.

Councillor White entered the meeting during the discussion.

Councillor Pinault presented a bill to the Council from S. M. Moore for $142.00, on account of rent which was ordered paid.

Councillor White from Electric Light
Committee presented report recommending payment of accounts amounting to $146.35. Report was received
and adopted.

In a further report, Councillor White requested permission to get prices for a suitable pump for use in the power station, so that river water may be used exclusively for their plant.

Councillor Alexander thought that when the committee were at it, they might get quotations on a pump of sufficient capacity to give fire protection by pumping river water into the town mains in cases of emergency.

Councillor White accepted Councillor Alexander's suggestion, which he thought a good one, and permission to get prices, was given by resolution.

Councillor Pinault asked that an annual report be requested from the Building Inspector. The public would like to know how the town was progressing in buildings and real estate values.

In reply to Councillor Pinault, His Worship stated that there was no report from the Education and Improvements Committee, with regard to trees or sidewalks. Considering that they were so short in finances, the committee considered it better to leave the matter open for future consideration.

Councillor Alexander brought to the notice of the Council, the condition of the town's water supply, which has been giving the officials grave concern.
The reservoir was full in the fall, and there were now taking all that was coming in the brook. From the state of affairs he was led to believe there was a break in the main somewhere,
but so far this had not been located.

The committee was fully alive to the situation, and would carry on the work of the department with as little inconvenience as possible to the citizens.

There would be a scarcity for two or three days, but he was hopeful that in a very short time all would be in good order. The frost had cut down the supply to a large degree, still there was plenty of water on Monday evening, but the pressure suddenly dropped today, (Tuesday). There was very little water running during the day,
and we had been drawing from Smith's Lake for five months, during which time there had been no rain to speak of. It was not the use of the water, but the abuse of it for which we were now paying. On the 15th of October last, there was estimated to be in Smith's Lake, 75,000,000 gallons of water. With the present shortage, we are faced with the fact that since that time, the consumption of water has reached the enormous total of over 100 millions per day per head of the population, an altogether unprecedented amount. Steps were being taken to conserve the supply, but it was thought that the worst was now over.
Council then adjourned.

SENSATIONAL CHAR- GES IN LEGISLATURE

Member For Madawaska Makes Grave Imputation Against Premier Fleming.

Fredericton, N. B., April 6.—A sensation was sprung in the Legislature tonight when Mr. Dugal, one of the opposition members for Madawaska,
gave notice of the following motion:
"I beg leave to give notice that on Thursday next I will move, seconded by Mr. Pelletier, the following motion, namely:

Whereas, Louis August Dugal, a member of the legislative assembly of this province for the County of Madawaska, has from his place in the House this day formulated certain charges against the Honorable James Kidd Fleming, Premier and Minister of Lands and Mines, which is creditably informed and believes he can establish by satisfactory evidence, and which charges are:—

That the said Hon. James Kidd Fleming, through the agency of William H. Berry, chief superintendent of scalers of the Crown Land Department of this province, and under the direct control of the said Hon. James Kidd Fleming, in the year A.D. 1913, did unlawfully extort from divers large lessees of crown timber limits within this province, a sum of fifteen dollars per square mile of their said timber limits over and above the amount of the bonus paid by them respectively as set forth in the fifty-third annual report of the Crown Land Department of the Province of New Brunswick for the year ending the 31st day of October, A. D. 1913, in pages 23 to 27 thereof, both inclusive, which said amounts so unlawfully extorted from said lessees amounted in the whole to the sum of about one hundred thousand dollars, no portion of which sum was accounted for or paid into the revenues of this province, and said moneys were extorted from said lessees
and paid to the said William H. Berry, with the knowledge and consent and under direction of the Hon. James Kidd Fleming, while occupying the said offices of Premier and Minister of Lands and Mines, and all of said moneys were so paid before the said lands were classified under the provisions of chapter eleven of the statutes of New Brunswick for the year A. D. 1913.

Therefore resolved that a committee of the House, consisting of seven members, be nominated by Mr. Speaker, to examine into the said charges, and to report whether they find the said Hon.
James Kidd Fleming guilty of solici-tating the extortion of said moneys by the said William H. Berry, and what disposition did he make thereof, to whom the said sums were paid, as well as the ultimate destination of all the said moneys, and the said committee have power to call the papers and documents and to summon and examine witnesses under oath under the provisions of chapter 5 of the Consolidated Statutes of New Brunswick, A.
D. 1913, and further resolved:

That said committee do proceed with such investigation until they have full-ly investigated such charges and reported upon same to this House."

at its Regular Annual Session in January, A. D. 1914, and partly dealt with at said session, and to take all necessary steps and proceedings, and to do all acts and things requisite in order to have the matter of the said charges heard and investigated to a conclusion, and finally disposed of, and to that end to permit and require the Committee to whom was referred the said
matter of said charges for investigation, to complete its investigation of said charges, and to hear and set upon the Report of said Committee, regard-

ST. LAWRENCE PULP AND LUMBER COMPANY

Large American Corporation are Making Vast Strides in Bay Chaleur Properties

The St. Lawrence Pulp & Lumber Company of Canada, whose incorporation, financed and controlled by William Whitmer & Sons, Inc., lumbermen, and Chandler & Company, Inc., and W. F. Fugate & Company, bankers, all of Philadelphia, was recently reported in these columns, is one of the most extensive propositions of its kind ever started in Eastern Canada. The company obtained under Crown grant a tract of some 640 square miles of spruce, balsam and cedar and pulpwood, located in the counties of Gaspe and Bonaventure, Province of Quebec. Its mills will be located on Chaleur Bay (an arm of the Gulf of St. Lawrence) at the mouth of the Grand Pabos River, which of itself forms a spacious bay. Prior to the present ownership of the property, the interests affiliated with its organization and the tract owned by Messrs. Lemaux Bros. & Company, New Orleans, La., expert timber estimators, who reported the tract superior to any they have ever estimated in the Province of Quebec, Nova Scotia or New Brunswick. The timber along some of the streams has never been touched.

The timber, they state, consists of spruce, balsam, cedar, white and yellow birch, and scattered white pine. Disregarding the pine and birch they estimate the quantities of timber on the tract, log scale, Quebec rule, as follows:

Balsam	1,212,000,000 feet
Spruce	969,600,000 feet
Cedar	121,200,000 feet

Total merchantable timber 2,302,800,000 feet

Pulp-wood 4,040,000 cords

These totals the estimators consider very conservative, especially the pulp wood, which they have stated to be 10 cords an acre. Practically there is an almost unlimited supply of pulpwood on this land, enough to turn out easy 60,000 to 100,000 cords a year. The property, they say, could easily support three saw mills of a capacity of 100,000 feet a day each.

The transportation facilities are especially good, as the tract is traversed by four main rivers, the Grand Pabos, the Little Pabos, the West River and Port Daniel River. The timber is all easily accessible by water and the topography is such that logging by rail-road is also very convenient.

As to shipping, the property is accorded the double facilities of railroad and ocean transportation. It is four days distant by water and two or three days by rail from New York and nearer in point of time to that city than the timber fields of West Virginia.

The company will have a saw mill of 150,000 feet daily capacity; a sulphite pulp-mill of 100 tons a day, and a standard gauge railroad, connecting with the Atlantic, Quebec & Western railroad. About 25 miles of the railroad, including terminal trackage have been completed, and it is now in operation into the timber limits, reaching Camp No. 1. The mills and town site are located on the northeast shore of the Grand Pabos bay and are ideally situated from an operating standpoint. The saw and pulp mills face each other on the sides of two adjoining hills. An arm of the bay runs between them and is being dredged to form a hot pond into which the logs will be dumped, and drawn out by the two mills as required. The present equipment now on the ground consists of one 70-ton Shay locomotive, an American Locomotive Company direct drive line engine, five steel flat cars for logs, an American log loader, with steam shovel attachment, tug boat, barges, etc. Thirty additional steel log cars have been ordered.—Canada Lumberman.

LIQUORS BARRED FROM AMERICAN NAVY

Order Barring the Use of Alcoholic Liquors Becomes Effective on July Next

Washington, D. C., April 6.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels' order barring the use of alcoholic liquors in the navy, effective after July 1 next, was generally discussed in naval and other circles here to-day. The order, one of the most sweeping ever promulgated by the navy department, not only abolishes the traditional "wine mess" of the officers, but will bar all alcoholic liquors from every ship and shore station of the navy.

Surgeon General Brainerd recommended it after an exhaustive investigation into the problem. While de-facto of the order, naval officers inclining to discuss for publication the vastly expressed belief it may fall of its purpose, to prevent or decrease drunkenness within the navy, in effect the order does no more than abolish the wine mess. No distilled spirits are sold in the wine mess, only wines and brandies. It is absurd to suppose that men ever become drunkards on beer or champagne. They express the opinion that the order will trespass their personal liberty and prevent their affording visitors from foreign navies the wines which they are accustomed to on their own vessels.

BOTTOMLESS LAKE

In the heart of the snow-clad Rockies, hundreds of miles west of Edmonton, lies a lake whose waters are, always troubled, into which a large river flows, but out of which there is no visible exit. The leader of a forest survey party sent out by the Dominion Forestry Branch to examine the forests in this wild region, states that the Indians shun this lake as the abode of evil spirits, and to give credence to this superstition, from time to time deep rumblings may be heard, where far below the surface the water swirls through the hidden outlet. The river that enters the lake rushed from a subterranean cave many miles down the valley, the portal of which no man has ever yet passed.

This summer the Dominion Forestry Branch sent eight survey-parties into the forests of the far West, and the story of their experiences reads like fiction. One party spent the summer in the wild region of northern Manitoba; three parties were in the hill country of Saskatchewan north of Prince Albert; one party was in the Rockies all summer; another was cut off from civilization for several months in the low-lying muskeg region of northern Alberta near Lesser Slave Lake, and two parties explored the remote upland plateaus of the Railway Belt in B. C. As one of the party chiefs writes: "A forester needs to be here, besides all other professional titles, a real bushman, an axe-man and a jumper."

The total area examined last summer was 11,000,000 acres, yet this is but one branch of the Dominion Forestry Branch's work of segregating and securing, for the proper use of the present generation and posterity, the vast areas of mature timber, young reproduction and fire-scarred debris lying between the prairies and the barren lands in the great North-West.

Girls and women of all ages want to be beautiful and attractive, but unsightly, thin and lifeless hair destroys half the beauty of a pretty face.

Illegal Deer Slaying in The Counties.—List of Convictions For Offences

Along the I. N. R. in Restigouche county, on Feb. 27th, Warden C. A. Traflet found in Alphonse Deschamps' barn, three deer skins. The same day at Thos. Bechar was convicted and fined $25 and costs, 8.85. Ulric Thibeault was convicted and fined $25 and costs, $3.85, with more convictions to follow.

Poirier, of Paquetville.

On March 20th, Warden McGrath, of Northumberland county, found three beaver skins in the possession of W. McKay McMillan, of Boistown. McMillan appeared before Justice John S. Pond, of Boistown, and acknowledged the offence. The Justice imposed the minimum fine in each case, viz: $20, or $60 in all.

MODERN METHODS IN MILK TESTING

Individual Records Should be Kept of Each Cow in The Herds.

The following is a sample of what is discovered by the simple weighing of milk and testing of samples. A four year old cow gave in one month, 920 pounds of milk, containing 35 pounds of fat. In the same herd, a five year old, gave only 380 pounds of milk, and 19 pounds of fat. Thus the first cow gave more than the other two combined.

This further fact is interesting: this particular cow was sold by a man absolutely ignorant of her value or dairy capacity. The present owner, through keeping individual records, knows her better, and would not sell her for less than thirty dollars more than he paid for her.

Another fact is worth careful attention: the total of the herd yield for a day, or a month, will never reveal these good individuals. What the owner needs to know for certain, is obtained only from a record of each cow he keeps. You can save labour and good feed by bestowing them on cows that you know are worth keeping; you will then be in a position to keep your best cows, and will not lose money by selling cows cheap.

Worthy of the world's best music

To most of us the chance to hear human playing of good music comes infrequently. Only in the great cities are the appetites of the music-hungry satisfied. Even then one can hear but a small part of all the worth while concerts.

Fortunately for those who love the music of the past, and who have the judgment to recognize in present day composers the masters of the future, there is the Edison Gramophone. It is worthy of Wagner, of Beethoven, of Brahms, of the great composers of the past. The clear, sweet tone, free from all distortion, is simply a translation of human music into your own home. Unless you have heard the Gramophone, you have no conception of these wonderful musical qualities. You must realize that each beauty could be heard to mind. Ask your Edison dealer to play out of the Blue Amberol Records—then you will know that the whole world of good music—past and present—is open to you.

ANOTHER RAILWAY ACROSS CANADA

Company Seeking Power to Sell $100,000,000 Worth of Capital Stock

Ottawa, March 31.—Parliament appears to be tiring of transcontinental projects. A few years ago to say that Canada could go along with less than a half dozen cross-continental railways was almost disloyal. With one line being transcontinental, double tracked, and the two others struggling for money to complete a single track from the Atlantic to the Pacific, the Railway Committee of the Commons this morning received a request for permission to build another line across Canada. The request received a reception so cool that it was almost frozen.

The proposal is interesting. The promoters have paid the clerk of Parliament a fee of $10,500 to ask Parliament's permission to build "The Allied Line Railway" from Point St. Charles, on the Labrador coast, across Canada, 100 miles north of another transcontinental line, to a terminus on the Pacific coast, at Dean Inlet, which is to the north of Prince Rupert. The heavy fee is owing to the fact that the company wants authority to sell $100,000,000 worth of capital stock.

Mr. Olive Pringle, counsel for the promoters, told the committee that this was the largest single fee ever paid on any bill in the Canadian Parliament.

Mr. Nickel, of Kingston, who is in difficulties with his party and his conscience over the Mackenzie & Mann applications for fifty millions, told the committee he thought that in the Canadian Northern Canada had about all the transcontinental railway projects which she could conveniently digest and that it would not be wise to turn another loose.

W. Nesbitt, of North Oxford, said that Canada is being crushed beneath a burden of railways. No one could tell how we would be able to pay for the railway equipment which we now have projected.

Mr. Armstrong, of Lambton, wanted the promoters to put off their application for a year.

Hon. J. D. Reid, who has been running the Intercolonial and the P. E. I. Railways for the government since the departure of Mr. Cochrane, said to the committee that Canada is sick and tired of railways.

Emmanuel Devlin told the committee that there should be a railway built through the Labrador peninsula to export its richness, and he saw no reason why this company should not have the right to build it if it wanted to. The road would be in the way of no one if built where it was proposed to be built.

The attitude of the committee was so hostile that Mr. Pringle offered to take half of what he first asked, and accept a charter from the Labrador coast to the centre of Canada.

While this was sinking in Mr. Barker, of Hamilton, suggested that further consideration of the bill be deferred until a later meeting of the committee, and this suggestion was adopted as the easiest thing to do for the time.

During the discussion it came out that the company had already obtained from Newfoundland the charter rights to build across the Labrador strip which Newfoundland controls.

TAKES OFF DANDEUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is more evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

BONAVENTURE
(Held over from last week)
We trust that none of the persons mentioned in this article will take offence at our remarks. It is the aim of our correspondent to report the facts in a lighter vein than heretofore, and it is to be hoped that by so doing, the news items will be more original and entertaining. If we are successful in this respect we hope to stimulate a greater interest among the residents of Bonaventure and vicinity in the Campbellton Graphic.

One day last week, both the east-bound and west-bound passenger trains of the Quebec & Ontario Ry. passed through here within fifteen minutes of schedule time. This unusual event was much heralded in advance, and a large crowd was at the station to celebrate the occasion.

a very old watch, made sometime in the dim past by a titled personage, who was manufacturer of time-pieces to the Charles and Henry, during their reigns as King of England. The spring of this extraordinary watch is wound up by means of a chain. As a relic of the good old days, this watch would be worth a fortune, but as a time-piece of today, it would not fetch more than two pence on the open market.

Madeau, the tinsmith, has lately installed the inverted system of lighting in his show windows. His goods are now displayed at night to much better advantage.

"Sunnie" Kerr is contemplating the purchase of a typewriter in his office to facilitate the handling of his increasing business. We are of the opinion that typewritten express and freight bills would be no improvement on the excellent handwriting of "Sunnie," however, some of the merchants favor the former and more modern method.

Miss Marguerite Jessup, who is at present a resident of Bonaventure, intends to enter the Campbellton Graphic's contest, and her many friends have pledged their support.

Mr. Thomas C. LeBreton thinks favorably of inaugurating a Pulitzer School of Journalism on a small scale, for the instruction of several of our younger inhabitants as newspaper correspondents. He contends that news items in general can be greatly improved upon, and as he has had no experience in this line himself, he should make an excellent instructor.

Mr. R. N. LeBlanc, with the assistance of sixteen horses and as many men, not to mention boys, succeeded in moving one of his houses from Little Bonaventure, to the main thoroughfare of Bonaventure, on Tuesday of this week.

"Spring has surely come. J. R. Bujold, the merchant, was wearing his straw hat all last week.

Mr. Alexis Bourque has officially notified the Government as to the exact date when the ice will disappear from the Bay of Chaleur. As this is a government secret, we are unable to give the date before it is announced from Ottawa.

Robin, Jones & Whitman received their stock of spring goods last week. This will be a source of gratification to many residents who have felt that the stock of our largest department store was somewhat depleted.

Mr. Elie Dechaine, of New Richmond, was the house guest of Mr. Alexander Bernard a week ago last Saturday. This news item is a trifle old, but too good to omit even at this late date.

On Tuesday, the inhabitants were surprised to hear a strange whistle from the neighborhood of the railroad station. Some say the Q. & O. Ry. have placed a new locomotive in that vice, however, we are inclined to think it is an old engine with a new whistle. We shall investigate and report more fully next week.

Mr. Preston Taylor and Mr. Willis Seavey met in consultation at the Lodge last Sunday evening, to settle the Ulster situation and dispose of the British naval problem. Both were very successfully handled and but for lack of time, we are sure that the Mexican war, the Panama Canal Tolls Act, and the high cost of living in Canada, would have been ably handled.

HOULTON WOMAN STABS A FIGHTER

Mrs. Alice Green in Jail After Defending Prostrate Man From Attack

Houlton, Me., March 30.—John Faulkner, 21 years old, is at the Aroostook hospital with two knife wounds in his back, one of which penetrates a lung, and Mrs. Alice Green, a well known and respectable woman, is in the Aroostook county jail awaiting the outcome of Faulkner's injuries. There was a desperate battle on Saturday evening near the C. P. R. railroad crossing, when Faulkner and a gang of three or four men attacked Mrs. Green's husband, Daniel Green, a blacksmith, and his brother-in-law, Fred Green, both of whom were carrying knives in their arms. She drove a carving knife into one of their assailants, Faulkner.

PROFESSOR SCORES

THE 1914 FASHIONS

Sees Advent of Crinoline in "Slight But Hideous Form".

London, March 31.—Sir Charles Waldston, professor of fine arts in Cambridge University, who is a New Yorker by birth, scathingly dissected the 1914 fashions in a lecture before the Royal Society of Arts.

As a result of his investigation in London and Paris as to the creation of fashions, the professor warned his hearers against "the insidious tactics of our domestic enemies, who, though they have not openly ventured upon the introduction of crinoline, have in slight and tentative but hideous form, introduced it in principle as a mere additional ornament of short over-skirts which are held off from the body by means of a hoop, and sometimes embellished in added grotesqueness, by dependant ornaments.

"Perhaps some day bells, castanets and other musical instruments will form part of the decoration, and the art theorists may then say that beauty of sound has been added to the beauty of form and color.

"The woman of the world, the consort of a leader in public life, is no longer the type that sets the fashion in deportment and dress: now it is the actress and the little modiste.

"The latest fashions are worn in Paris itself only by mannequins at the Longchamps races and such places, but are worn by all the rest of the world, in London, New York, Vienna and Buenos Aires.

"I have been able to trace the origin of the long shapelessly wrinkled evening glove to its use by a noted actress, who happened to have thin, ill-shaped arms."

"NA-DRU-CO DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

Proved of Great Value to Me"

"These are only one explanation for the thousands of enthusiastic letters that we receive praising Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, and that is that these tablets certainly do cure any kind of stomach trouble.

Here is a typical letter from Miss Ellen Langworthy, Canoe, N.S.:

"It is with pleasure I write to inform you that your Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets have proved of great value to me. I tried remedy after remedy but without any lasting good. Having heard of your tablets curing such cases as mine I decided to give them a fair trial. They proved satisfactory in my case."

The remarkable success of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets is such a constant reminder only to all stomach troubles, according to an experienced and successful doctor, from your long-suffering report of the value of your remedy. I am now very grateful about Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, recommended by the Campbellton and Campbellton Co., of Campbellton, N.B., and sold throughout the Province at all drug stores.

HONORABLE MENTION

IN HERALD CONTEST

Letter of Dalhousie Young Man Receives Honorable Commendation

In the contest held by the Montreal Herald and The Daily Telegraph "The Girl I want to Marry," the first prize of $100 went to Mr. William H. Hatcher, son of the late Rev. H. C. Hatcher, Methodist Minister. He was educated in the Bonaville Schools, St. John's, N.B., where he won a prize of $140, and later he attended the Methodist College in the same City, and there secured a second prize of $34.

The winner of the capital prize is attending McGill, Montreal. Among other prizes won is one of $5.00 by R. E. Lenthall, of Newport Centre, Gaspe Co., P. Q. Restigouche Co., furnishes one name in connection with the contest in the long list of honorable mention and we publish the letter, coming from a young man residing in Dalhousie. Editor, The Daily Telegraph, Montreal, P. Q.

Sir—

In picturing my wife, I've never thought of her as being beautiful. I've always been a little afraid of beauty. I always thought of her as the mother of my children, a woman kind, honorable and true—a woman of big faults and big virtues, but with so keen a sense of justice that she could weigh my faults and her own without fear of prejudice. I would not care for a woman without faults. I think I'd even love her more for being a little selfish. No girl worth loving at all, can grow to womanhood without being a little spoiled by those nearest and dearest to her. I never had much use for anyone without character enough to lose her temper. But those are trifles, like the uneven bark or thorns upon a bush, whose beauty blooms in spite of them and because of them. I should require her to be a lady in every respect, and one whose training will enable her to make a home all that it should be. The woman I mean is uplifted whether she wants to be or not by the soul that glows within, because the light was kindled before she was born, and because it's as much a part of her as the shape of her hands and the sound of her voice. Careless friends, bad advisers, the customs of the day may diminish it, but it can never be put out. That is my idea of a wife.

You will look a good while before you find a better medicine for cough and cold than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only gives relief—it cures. Try it when you have a cough or cold, and you are certain to be pleased with the prompt cure which it will effect. For sale by all dealers.

SAVE YOUR COUPONS

The "Automobile Contest" will grow in interest and you should save every coupon, as some of your friends may need them later. Always make your purchases from the twelve stores mentioned in this issue and ask for coupons.

Interesting Paper on Ideal Motherhood
Read by Mrs. D. E. Richards.

At the meeting of the W. C. T. U. held last Tuesday the following paper was read by Mrs. D. E. Richards, which is reproduced at the request of a large number of our readers:—

IDEAL MOTHERHOOD

The influence of the Mother in the Home is great, and therefore, every mother should strive to fill her position as worthily as possible. She is described as the Queen, who sits upon her throne, crowned and accepted, as none other can be. Her entourage is complete, her reign unrivalled and the moral issues of her empire are eternal.

Truly, her subjects are sometimes rebellious, yet she rules them with marvellous patience, winning tenderness and undying love.

Her memory is sacred while she lives and becomes a perpetual inspiration, even when the bright flowers bloom above her sleeping dust. Scotland, with her well-known reverence for Motherhood has said, that "An ounce of mother is worth more than a pound of clergy." Napoleon, also cherished a high conception of a mother's power, and believed that the mothers of the land could shape the destinies of his beloved France.

There is one vision that never fades from the soul, and that is the vision of mother and of home. John Randolph was once heard to say that only one thing saved him from atheism, and that was tender remembrance of the hour when a devout mother, kneeling by his side, took his little hand in hers, and taught him to say "Our Father, who art in Heaven."

Realizing all this, it is not natural that all mothers should have an Ideal Motherhood ever before them, and strive to reach, as near as possible, to its standard. There are so many apparently conflicting demands upon the time of the average mother, that there must be wise planning, and persistent living up to it, together with considerable independence of the opinions of our neighbors, who would find time to attend to the inspiring, as well as the disciplining of our children.

I think a mother's duty to her little children comes first. Certainly, her duty to her home is greater than that to the community, and grown-ups in the home are able to be more independent than the child, and are less seriously affected by neglect than children.

Then as to the ideal mother. First of all, I would have her serene, able in emergencies to do three or four things at a time without becoming cross, and able to steady and help a petulant and unreasonable child, without losing her self control. It takes

With Acute Indigestion.
"Fruit-a-lives" Cured Me.

NEWSPAPER, OMAHA, MAY 29th, 1913
"I am not a strenuous user of medicines or patent medicines, but I have taken nearly everything recommended for Indigestion and Constipation."

I have been so bad with Acute Indigestion that I was nearly in convulsions and had to be held. I have used "Fruit-a-lives" and I have not had another attack nor suffered at all with Indigestion since taking them.

"Fruit-a-lives" is the only remedy I ever used that did me any good, and I am grateful to "Fruit-a-lives" for making me as well as I am today, and everyone knows that I look in first-class health."

My husband likes "Fruit-a-lives" very much and takes them whenever he has occasion to use a remedy for Constipation."

grace to be serene, and it also takes something more, for serenity rests upon a physical, as well as a spiritual basis. It requires fresh air and sleep and wholesome meals to produce it.

Next, I would have her so affectionate, that her children might always feel certain of her love, even when weak and naughty. But this affection should never interfere with absolute justice, else the children would grow up with the idea that wrong doing is atoned for and forgiven by caresses.

3rd. I would have her a Ruler. Reverent obedience of the child to parents, is the preparation for reverent obedience of the man to God. Authority of God is not tyranny, neither is authority of a mother, when rightly used. If it is rightly used, it will be used under the feeling of tender love and affectionate interest. The children themselves will more and more come to feel that, and feeling it, to render a cheerful and willing obedience to it. We mothers should rule in love—in Christian love—but, we should rule.

4th. I would have her sympathetic, taking an interest in all her children's affairs. The mother who is never too tired or busy to bend a sympathetic ear to listen to her little one's childish griefs, is quite sure to obtain and hold her child's full confidence through childhood and young womanhood, or

ASK GOVERNMENT

TO TAKE OVER C. N. R.

Petition Being Circulated For Presentation to the Ontario Legislature

London, Ont., April 6.—The Single Tax Association of Ontario has forwarded a petition and a circular letter to the members of the legislature asking the government to take over the Canadian Northern Railway. The petition points out that as the canals and highways are under the control of the government there is no reasonable excuse why the railways should not, that the Canadian Northern Railway has applied to the Dominion government for further aid, though nearly the whole cost of the road has been supplied by the people of Canada in various ways, that the company has expressed its inability to fulfil the conditions under which this assistance was granted, and that it is not in the interest of Canada that the road should be further aided with public money while it remains a private undertaking.

manhood, as the case may be. 5th. I would have her thrifty, of course, but I should be afraid of having her too fine a housekeeper. Some how excessive devotion to an immaculate home does not seem to create the best sort of atmosphere for active boys and girls. It is apt to make them think that some other child's mother is not so fussy as theirs, and therefore they can have a better time in some other place. And when children once get the idea into their heads that their mother and their home are not the best in the world, the very foundations of Society are endangered. To many injunctions, not to touch this—and not to get that onto the floor, is down right perilous. If it results in nothing more, it is quite certain to provoke a distaste for overtidiness, which generally ends in slovenliness.

Virtues carried to excess in the parents generally produce the balancing faults in the next generation, and so the average is maintained.

6th. I would have her give a portion of her time to outside interests, those interests which would be of benefit to her family as well as herself. I think she should take an interest in the school her children attend, and let them know that she is interested in their studies. She should endeavor to get a little time for good reading. As her children grow older, this time can be more easily obtained, and it is then that she really needs to read to be interested in the literature she wishes her children to read.

Then, I think every mother owes it to her home in general, to be neat in her appearance. It is a good thing for a child to be proud of its mother.

SUFFERED EVERYTHING

For Years, Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Canadian women are continually writing us such letters as the two following, which are heartfelt expressions of gratitude for restored health:

Glanford Station, Ont.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and never found any medicine to compare with it. I had ulcers and falling of womb and doctors did me no good. I suffered dreadfully for years until I began taking your medicine. I also recommend it for nervousness and indigestion."—Mrs. HENRY CLARK, Glanford Station, Ont.

Chesterville, Ont.—"I heard your medicines highly praised, and a year ago I began taking them for falling of womb and ovarian trouble.

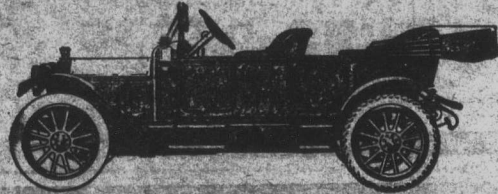

"My left side pained me all the time and just before my periods which were irregular and painful it would be worse. To sit down caused me pain and suffering and I would be so nervous sometimes that I could not bear to see any one or hear any one speak. Little speaks would float before my eyes and I was always constipated.

"I cannot say too much for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, for there are no medicines like them. I have taken them and I recommend them to all women. You may publish this testimonial."—Mrs. STEPHEN J. MARTIN, Chesterville, Ontario, Canada.

There is always hope for a boy when he admires his mother, and mothers should want to be admirable in the eyes of their children, both as far as character and personal appearance is concerned. A little extra thought about our appearance is worth while, when we regard it as a means of retaining an influence over a soul, that the world is spreading so many snares for on every side.

And lastly, and above all things, an ideal mother needs faith. Faith in her children, and genuine, hearty, loving trust in God. A Christian life lived daily through years, in the presence of children, is an immense power. They never can get away from the memory that Christ was their mothers' friend. There is a reality to it, which no false reasoning can persuade them to regard as an invention of the imagination.

PRECEPT AND PRACTICE

Many esteemed supporters of the Government appear very much shocked because the expenditure in the National Transcontinental Railway construction, through the comparatively unknown hinterland of Ontario, cost more than the engineers ordinarily estimated, and which is a story true of almost every similar railway construction, but it has nothing whatever to say about under estimates by the provincial government on the cost of work upon certain provincial bridges and the actual cost of the work to date. The difference is, comparatively speaking, enormous. The Transcript here gives a few typical bridges as follows:

Name of Bridge	Estimated Cost	Actual Cost
Horn Brook	$865.00	$ 3,266.59
North River	400.00	804.03
Meduxnakeag	125.00	838.06
Mouth	1,000.00	2,268.75
Meenac Cove	750.00	1,050.77
Stewart Mill	1,500.00	1,760.37
Brook	2,600.00	3,739.08
Baker Lake	1,200.00	1,970.00
Burnt Church	3,500.00	4,644.81
El River Bar	600.00	1,621.29
Thoroughfare	1,200.00	1,663.35
Marysville

$13,746.00 $23,627.10
It will be noticed that the estimated cost of these eleven bridges is about $13,746.00, but the actual cost up to date is $23,627.10. Now, if the representative of the Tory party cannot do any better in estimating on a few bridges, the sites of which are visible, and the distances covered by accurately ascertained data, what right have they to criticize the increased expenditure for the estimated cost of a railway built in a thirteenth century and virtually unknown wilderness away from all civilization, and exceedingly difficult of access. They had better learn how to estimate on constructing and repairing bridges, before criticizing the construction of Transcontinental railways.

many years ago, etc. His Honor showed his appreciation in his reply of the sentiments expressed so kindly towards his father and himself. There was only one criminal case before the Court, the King vs. Peter Laviolette of Upper Charlo, Restigouche Co., charged with Indecent Assault. The prisoner pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to serve during six months in the Restigouche County Jail. The Circuit was adjourned to meet again on July 7th next, when the Guilford Insurance cases will be tried. In the criminal case before the court, E. Rene Richard represented the Crown and Mr. Byrne acted for the prisoner.

At the opening of court, the barristers of the county presented to Judge Crockett, who was presiding, the following address:
To the Honorable Mr. Justice Crockett of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick:
May it please your honor. The members of the Bar of the County of Restigouche take this opportunity, on the occasion of your first visit to the County on Circuit, to congratulate you upon your elevation to the high and honorable position on the Bench of the Province, and to extend to you a welcome hand.

We are proud of the marked ability and unwavering integrity which have ever characterized the Bench of this Province, and we are assured, from what we have observed of yourself, both in respect of your career while at the Bar and of your private life, that the judiciary of the Province will lose nothing of the high standard to which it has attained, by your becoming a member of same.

We are also assured from what we have observed of the courteous and friendly attitude which you have always manifested towards your brethren at the Bar, that the relations between you as Judge, and the members of the legal profession, will ever continue to be of the most harmonious and agreeable character.

In conclusion, we trust that many years of health of body and mind, may be vouchsafed to you in which to enjoy your honorable position, and to exercise the high duties that belong to it.

Dalhousie, N. B., April 7th, 1914.
Most respectfully presented,

SPECTACULAR FIRE DOES MUCH DAMAGE

Chinese Laundry Destroyed and McKenna Block Damaged Last Saturday

(From the Gloucester Northern Light)
About 4.30 o'clock last Saturday morning, the town was alarmed by the ringing of the fire bells, and when the earliest arrivals reached the scene of the blaze, the Chinese laundry was a blazing, raging furnace. The firemen responded promptly to the alarm, but no horse was available to haul the engine to Reed's wharf, so considerable time was lost in getting the engine to its proper position. In spite of this handicap, however, three good streams were at work on the blaze inside of twenty-five minutes from the time the alarm was given. By this time, the fire had secured a good hold on the McKenna block, and the flames were shooting high over the roof. Mr. Jacob White with his horse was early on the scene, and had the chemical at the fire in a very short time after the alarm was given. It was at once put to work throwing its stream of liquid over the exposed side of Hugh Kent's store, which was threatened by the blazing laundry. This probably protected this building from serious damage, as the flames made no impression on the building.

Chief Bishop lost no time in placing his men to the best advantage, and in a very short time the result of their efforts was noticeable on McKenna's burning block. Geo. Duval distinguished himself by a sensational climb up the side of the building to the roof, with the assistance of Arthur and Wm. Gammon, and in a short time he was joined there by the Gammon brothers, who quickly had a nozzle playing on the inside of the building, through a trapdoor in the roof. After a strenuous two hours' work, the firemen succeeded in getting the fire under control, and another half hour's labor completely quenched the last traces of what had threatened to be a disastrous conflagration. Fortunately, the morning was comparatively calm, so that it was not very difficult for our able fire fighters to confine the fire to the easterly half of the large McKenna block.

Too much cannot be said in praise of the manner in which the fire ladders attended to their work. Chief Bishop

RESCUED FROM PERILOUS POSITION

Petit Rocher Young Man Fell Off Bridge Into Open Ice Water On Saturday

(From the Gloucester Northern Light)
A young man named Roy, fell off the station bridge into open water, in some unaccountable way on Saturday, and nearly perished in the icy water, before he was rescued. Mr. Ernest W. Branch heard his cry for help, and pulled him out of his dangerous position, and with the assistance of John Sargent, carried him to his sled and drove him to the Laundry Hotel where Dr. Michaud was called to render the necessary medical assistance. Beyond a severe chilling, it is not likely that the young man will suffer any serious consequences.

handled his men in masterly fashion, and the men seconded his efforts in every way.

For the first time in some years, the engine gave complete satisfaction, and the engineer, Mr. Henry Boucher, and the Fire Committee have reason to be proud of the efficient manner in which their work of the past few months has resulted in this first test of its usefulness. No further argument is needed to justify the wisdom of their course, in expending the amount they did to place the fire equipment on an efficient footing. The satisfactory way in which everything worked, gives the strongest possible endorsement to the policy of our last year's Fire Committee and Town Council.

McKenna Bros' loss will be heavy. The laundry building is entirely destroyed, and the upper storey of their store is badly gutted. Their large stock of goods was almost totally ruined by smoke and water, and some valuable papers have been lost. There was $300.00 insurance in the Sun Co. on the laundry building, $3000.00 on the damaged block and $2000.00 on the store stock in the Nova Scotia Insurance Co.

We understand that McKenna Bros. will at once commence to repair the damaged block, and in the early summer will extend it over the site of the destroyed laundry building.

The four pool tables in Palmers' Pool Room were very seriously damaged by water, which is well covered by insurance.

The decorating of your walls is quite a problem. You want them to be pleasing in color and appearance so as to make a suitable background for your furniture and pictures.

So the ideal wall finish should be artistic in texture and coloring, absolutely sanitary, and capable of being cleaned with soap and water—and durable—to avoid a too frequent expense for redecorating.

Wall paper does not meet all these requirements, the patterns and designs fade, the papers themselves collect dust and germs and cannot be properly cleaned. Sanitary experts have proven that any kind of wall paper is unsanitary, and the custom of applying new paper over the old, affords a breeding place for germs.

Kalsomine and other water paints, while clean and sanitary, have not the necessary permanency. They need frequent renewal and often rub off on ones clothing—smudges and finger marks cannot be washed off satisfactorily.

The product that meets every requirement is Sherwin-Williams Flat-tone, a durable, flat-drying oil paint made in a variety of twenty-four beautiful shades, the selection of expert decorators. This finish can be washed with soap and water, and will last for years.

Come and see us about S-W Flat-tone. It is put up in liquid form ready for use. Ask for a color card of the pleasing shades.

For Baking Success —This Oven Test

Success on some baking days can be expected no matter what flour you use. But constant success is rarer. It can be assured in only one way. The miller must select his wheat by oven test. So from each shipment of wheat we take ten pounds as a sample. We grind this into flour. Bread is baked from the flour. If this bread is high in quality, large in quantity, we use the shipment from which it came. Otherwise we sell it. Constant baking success comes as a matter of course from flour bearing this name

The Sable Lorcha

By Horace Hazelton.

It is, indeed, a very peculiar thing, how rapidly it was all created. Just a moment the weathered street stood still, while behind him crowded the rest of us—the three detectives and the two Chinamen and myself.

I saw McNish struggle for an instant to maintain his pose of indifference, and then I saw his cheeks blanch, and his little eyes widen in craven terror as he recognized the shabby, silent thing before him. His lips parted, his bared teeth clicked together, and his hands, like talons, clutched tensely his chair arms.

In that strained moment the room was strangely hushed. I know I scarcely breathed, as I nervously intently watched those two miserable creatures, the one heavily conscious, the other blind to everything save the rag pattern at his feet.

Then, like a flash, Roy stole a glance at his supposed accuser, and I saw him quiver like steel. It was as though an electric bolt had shot through his shrinking frame and limp limbs. He seemed to grow out of his seat, to rise inches taller, towering with stiffened neck and lifted head.

He dashed with any degree of accuracy what ensued, I cannot. I saw only that McNish rose and dashed to his feet, only to fall back again beneath the pounding spring of the Bursian. Then followed a pistol shot, muffled, yet sounding lethally lead against the grim silence of the chamber; and, as with one accord we leaped forward, I saw Roy roll over in a spasm of convulsions, and McNish, thus freed from his gripping hold, raise an arm and fire again, with the pistol pressed to his own temple, just as Bryan, who had been nearest to them, bravely made a grab for the weapon.

CHAPTER XXVI.

His Sister Confesses.

The death of McNish was instantaneous. Roy, with a bullet in his abdomen, lingered for three days. During that time Miss Clement became his sister confessor, and so there, drifted into our possession a host of facts which otherwise we might never have learned. Strange, many a creature that he was, he seemed to repose the utmost confidence in the gray, sweet-faced missionary, and fairly unburdened his mischarged soul to her. Those of his fellow conspirators that she promised to protect, she protected. Those that he believed to have played him false, she protected likewise. Her religion was one in which personal justice has no dwelling. "Vengeance is mine, I will repay," her Lord had admonished, and to him she was content to resign the problem of retribution.

Had I been more familiar with the Cameron town house and the town habits of its master, justice probably would not have been tricked out of having her way with two as lawless wretches as ever infested a community. I should have known then that one of the drawers of that quaint old rosewood secretary was the hiding place of a .38-caliber Colt, and in all likelihood have had it removed before McNish was capable of searching for it. As it was, Mr. Bryan took no little blame upon himself for not having been the first to discover it, though to my mind he could hardly be regarded as negligent in failing to investigate a place of furniture of so intimate a character.

The notoriety consequent upon the murder and suicide was hideously indelicate. Inspired and stimulated by the sensational press, which did not hesitate to imply what it dared not state openly, the currency of falsehood and misconception at one period came close to being disastrous. As I had foreseen, the resemblance of McNish to Cameron, coupled with the seemingly convincing fact that the tragedy had occurred in the Cameron town house, where the millionaire was supposed to be convalescent, gave excuse for persistent iteration of a rumor that, in order to preserve the name of a man regarded as above reproach and at the same time to protect the line of securities in which he had been interested, the story of a confabulation between him and McNish was spread.

No paper in the land would have had the temerity to print this as a fact, but again and again—silly and impossible as it must have appeared to all thinking persons—it was promulgated by innuendo and embodied in more or less weekly worded denials.

As a result Crystal Consolidated suffered. Bonds and stocks alike sloughed fraction after fraction and point after point. And our mouths were necessarily closed upon the truth, since that, if possible, would have been even more damaging; for while we still hoped, we could give no positive assurance that Cameron was yet alive.

Strangely enough, though the whole stretched complication had been raised momentarily with a fine-tooth comb, the kidnapping from the yacht had been so much as hinted at, but not fully, in most of the news that it was brought to light at the next electric hand-swap. Accurate information as to Cameron's present whereabouts was the news now most eagerly sought and closely by the press by Wall street as well; our failure to supply it, though excused by us on the ground that in his present nervous condition, it was imperatively necessary to keep him sequestered from interviewers—was not unnaturally arousing a suspicion that we did not possess it to supply.

If, under the strain of the tragedy and the brutal publicity which followed upon it, Evelyn Grayson had not eventually succumbed she must have been more than human. Bravely she had borne up against a whelming succession of nerve-wrenching experiences, refusing to entertain fear and fighting valiantly against discouragement, but heart and nerves had their limit of endurance; and when, on the third day, John Roy was gathered to his yellow and white fathers, and a more yellow than white evening journal ventured, more boldly than had been dared hitherto, to make the implication to which I have referred, Evelyn collapsed utterly.

As chance would have it, I myself came upon her, lying white, limp, and unconscious on the library floor, with the paper still loosely held in her right hand. The sound of her fall had carried to me faintly as I neared the closed door, and a misgiving horn of intuition rather than of any more definite cause had hastened my steps.

Having lifted her to a couch and rung for her maid I at once set about doing what I could to restore her to consciousness. But her plight was no ordinary momentary faintness. Stubbornly she refused to respond to my efforts, and those of the maid when, after hours it seemed, she came, were equally unavailing.

Alarmed, I called up Dr. Massey, only to learn that he had gone to Boston for a consultation, and that Dr. Thorne, his assistant, was operating at Roosevelt Hospital. For a moment, distressed and anxious, the names of other physicians eluded me. In despair, I opened the Telephone Directory, in hope of a suggestion, when his penultimate "gray eyes drilled into mine, that I associated it with the man to whom I had gone, not for any ailment, but to learn whether my friend, in spite of his denials, had ever been in Canada.

And it was not until ten minutes later, when he came hurriedly into the room that I remembered. The name, when I saw it, had at once struck me as familiar. I seemed to know, even, that it belonged to a physician of reputed high standing, yet it was only at the instant of his entrance, when his penetrating "gray eyes drilled into mine, that I associated it with the man to whom I had gone, not for any ailment, but to learn whether my friend, in spite of his denials, had ever been in Canada.

It took recognition was mutual. Dr. Addison gave no sign of it. His patient demanded and received his immediate attention. Hastily he administered a stimulating hypodermic, and then, himself assisted in carrying her to her room.

When he rejoined me in the library, half an hour later, it was with the glad news that she had responded gratefully to treatment, and was sleeping calmly. After thanking him for his promptness and efficiency, I said:

"You do not remember me?"
"Oh, yes, I do," he returned, almost brusquely, fixing me with his gaze. "You are Mr. Clyde. Did you get any relief from the prescription I gave you?"

I had not expected the question and was unprepared for it. In venturing an evasive reply I stammered.
"I don't suppose you even had it filled," he declared, with a grim smile that was at least partially reassuring. And I admitted that his surmise was accurate. Moreover I begged him to sit down.

"I have a confession to make, Doctor," I said, a little shamefacedly.
"It is unnecessary, Mr. Clyde," was his half-polite rejoinder, as he sank into a chair before the fireplace. "I read the newspapers, and I have come to understand many things in the past few days."

As I took a seat opposite to him, I said:
"The newspapers have been misleading, I fear, Dr. Addison."
"No," he contradicted, his tone softened. "On the contrary they have opened my eyes to a truth that was long hidden; they have made a very contrite and, I must confess, a very unhappy man of me."

"More unhappy than you can conceive, Mr. Clyde. For years I have misjudged one of the best friends Heaven ever privileged a man to have."
"But, my dear Doctor," I began, "you were not at fault, altogether; you—"

"He raised a deprecating hand. 'No, please don't,' he pleaded. 'You cannot temper it. I should have taken his word, without question. I knew his word of truth—I probably more than any one else. What right had I to conclude then, because of certain apparently irreconcilable happenings, that his word was false?'"

"We are all fallible," I said.

"All but he," was his prompt reply. And then, leaning forward, with a strained, eager look in those piercing eyes, his voice vibrant, he asked:

"Is it true that he is very ill? That he cannot be seen?"

For a scruple I hesitated.
"The newspapers have been misleading, I fear," I said again, and I judge my expression of countenance was as cryptic as my words, for my visitor's look changed instantly to one of dire perplexity.

"He is not ill!" he questioned.
"You mean—"

"Confidentially, Doctor," I admitted, "we haven't the faintest notion just how he is. He may be in excellent health or he may have ceased to exist."

"Good God!" he exclaimed, and his face was as white as his linen.

"Our best information is that he is on a steamer, a tramp-bound for China, but we have no particulars, and worse still, no verification."

It was neither fair nor consistent to conceal longer from one so justly interested the whole truth, and so, without reservation, I told Dr. Addison the story.

Before I had quite concluded, Miss Clement was announced, and when she was shown into the library, instead of permitting the physician to leave, as he made offer of doing, I presented him and insisted upon his remaining.

"I want you to tell Miss Clement about your patient, Doctor," I said. "Miss Clement is a very good friend of Miss Grayson's."

If it took recognition was mutual, Dr. Addison gave no sign of it. His patient demanded and received his immediate attention. Hastily he administered a stimulating hypodermic, and then, himself assisted in carrying her to her room.

When he rejoined me in the library, half an hour later, it was with the glad news that she had responded gratefully to treatment, and was sleeping calmly. After thanking him for his promptness and efficiency, I said:

the Flax Mills at Cork by
the Irish Girls

Cork, Ireland, April 6.—The girls working in the flax mills at Blackpool, in this county, yesterday mauled a crowd of militant suffragettes, who were attempting to do some proselytizing to the cause. The girls tore off the hats and coats of the suffragettes and hustled them around in lively fashion. The militants were punched, pinched and scratched and were finally chased away from the mills.

One suffragette was so badly injured that she had to be taken to a hospital.

MURDER STIRS UP VANCOUVER CITY

Burning Oriental Question Has Been Revived by Murder of
Mrs. Millard

Vancouver, B. C., April 6.—The shocking murder of Mrs. Charles Millard has stirred the city profoundly. The fact that she was killed by her Chinese servant, who for five years had lived in the Millard house, has brought the whole burning Oriental question to the fore here. Last night the police took special precaution to prevent the slightest chance of a riot in Chinatown, and the night passed quietly enough here. Scores of Chinese servants have been dismissed, especially in the west end and Shaughnessy Heights. Downtown restaurants and hotels are being warned that they must get rid of their Chinese or lose business.

Chief of Police McLennan and Deputy McKee say their theory is that Yong was the guilty party in the robbery which took place some weeks ago, and they are also of the opinion it was due to the fact that Mrs. Millard discovered him carrying out another robbery that she was butchered to death.

The death of Mrs. Millard was learned with regret in St. John. The murdered woman and her husband passed through that city homeward bound from Europe some time ago.

TWO FORD CARS

AND CASH PRIZES

Graphic and Twelve Leading Merchants of Campbellton Encouraging "Buy at Home"

That the Campbellton merchants are alive to the "Buy at Home" question, is evidenced by the fact that they have combined with the Campbellton Graphic and are awarding two Ford Autos, and one hundred and seventy-five dollars in gold to the persons getting the largest number of votes, as explained on two different pages of this issue of the Graphic.

Never in the history of the North Shore has such a generous proposition been laid before the people, and that they are taking advantage of this magnificent offer is fully demonstrated by the active demand for vote coupons.

One of the most vital questions the town merchants have to face to-day is the competition of large city mail order houses.

With the inauguration of the parcel post, our local merchants decided to make a strong effort to capture this trade for the home stores, thus the above offer.

The stores participating in this Automobile Contest are:

Thos. Wran, Druggist.
Leon Castin, Jeweler.
Central Book Store, Stationery, Etc.
J. F. Gallagher, Dry Goods and Ladies' Wear.
Geo. St. Onge, Groceries and Provisions.
A. A. Andrew, Andrew's Clothing Store.
Miss. Ullman, Milliner.
Ferguson Bros., Gents' Furnishings.
The Lonsbury Co., Furniture, Etc.
F. E. Shepard & Co., Ladies' Outfitters.
H. C. Montgomery, Jeweler and Sporting Goods.
I. Floyd, Butcher.

They are leading merchants in the different lines represented, and you will make no mistake by purchasing of them. Not one cent has been added to the cost of goods to make these generous prizes possible, and the merchants interested are sparing no pains to merit your patronage.

It is the hope of all that during this contest, the fact will be clearly demonstrated that it is always better to buy at home where you can examine the articles you require, and where each article is backed up by the reputation of a merchant whom you know.

A large number of candidates are at work, soliciting the support of their friends, both in the town and country to buy their goods at these stores and obtain the coveted coupons. Save your coupons, as perhaps a friend of yours may need them.

Up to noon to-day, the following names have been entered in the contest: George Dunn, John Allen, Thos. D. LeBlanc, Marie Roy, Ben Larsen, Dub Sullivan, Clarence Duncan, Fred C. Comeau, E. Boswell Malcolm, Mrs. Joseph N. Arseneault, Miss Elsie Letourneau.

The handsome Ford car is now on exhibition at the Lonsbury Company's store, and is being much admired. Vote early and often. No penalty for plural voting in this contest.

BLOOD POISONING CAUSED DEATH OF TEACHER

Fredericton, N. B., April 7.—The death of Miss Marion Burdella Snyder occurred at the Victoria Public Hospital on Sunday, of blood poisoning. The deceased had been teaching school at Burdell's Corner. A simple upon her face became infected a short time ago and blood-poisoning set in. The condition of Miss Snyder became so serious that she was sent to the hospital in this city. Her condition became steadily worse, it being found that the infection was beyond remedy. Death ensued Sunday morning.

John F. Wall of St. Stephen brother-in-law of the deceased arrived here Saturday, being summoned on account of the serious condition of Miss Snyder. The remains were sent by C. F. R. to Apohaqu. Interment will be made at La. Millstream, the home of the deceased, who was a daughter of James Snyder of that place. The deceased was only eighteen years and ten months old and had many friends in this section of the province, who regret greatly her untimely death. She attended the Provincial Normal School last year.

MUSICAL PROGRESS

BY F. DeCORREYONT
The value of graded work has been fully tested, and its universal adoption by Educational Institutions, everywhere proves its utility.

To McGill University Conservatoire of Music is due the credit of having prepared a carefully graded course, ranging from Grade VI, the lowest, to the highest, Grade I.

Local centres have been established in towns of importance, from Halifax to Victoria, where each year an examiner is sent by the University to examine the pupils who have been studying the graded course prescribed, and award certificates to the successful candidates.

Campbellton was one of the towns chosen when this system was first inaugurated, but this is the first time arrangements have been made for local examinations, and the time and place will be announced shortly. Principal Carr of the Grammar School is the local representative, and will furnish any information desired.

To be able to have the advantage of studying along the lines of a graded course of music leading to the highest degree, is no longer the fortune of a favored few, but within the reach of all who are really willing to study. We so often hear parents say, "I do not know anything about music, but I think my child is learning." Now, by this graded system, a child gets a general all around education in music, and if he fails to pass his examinations—well, there must be a reason, as there would be, if he failed in public school work. There is every reason to believe that by this system the pupil is enabled to pass from one grade to another while in the home town. Then later music, as they have in other lines is qualified to at once enter the prescribed course for musical degrees.
