SAYRE INDUSTRIES STILL EXPANDING

Building New Mill in Madawaska—Ships 1,000,000 Feet From Hartland Yards for Great Britain

F. E. Sayre, the well known lumber man of St. John, whose industry means so much for Hartland, has secured large timber limits on Grand River, which empties into the St. John a short distance above St. Leonard, and will build a mill there of about the same capacity of the larger Hartland mill, capable of sawing a round 40,000 feet a day. N. E. Constantine, who came here from Antigonish seven years ago and has since been chief book-keeper to Mr. Sayre's Hartland office, has been appointed general manager and overseer of the new enterprise at Grand River, and he left on Monday to take up his new duties. Mr. Constantine's family will remain here and he expects to get a trip back to town every week or two. He is succeeded in the Hartland office by Frank R. Kelley, present police magistrate and town treasurer. Mr. Kelley has had a long experience in book-keeping for a lumber concern in northern Antigonish.

The Sayre concern has undertaken and is successfully filling one of the largest "rush" orders ever placed in this section, it being for 1,000,000 feet of lumber for immediate delivery at wharf in St. John for export to Great Britain. This order calls for 60 carloads and is filled from stock stored in Hartland yards. Twenty-four carloads were billed out last week and it is expected most of the remainder will be on the way to St. John by the end of this week. The station yard presents a busy scene with the work in hand. The immense order does not materially deplete the stock in the yards. There are still huge piles untouched, and the mill keeps sawing every day.

The Becaguimac mill was built in 1894 by A. H. Sawyer of Calais, and was equipped with gang saws. He ran the mill for ten years, when it was purchased by Mr. Sayre. Improved rotary saws were installed and the mill runs steadily six months of each year. Last year Mr. Sayre purchased the Price & Nevers mill in the lower part of the town and now operates two plants here. Nearly 100 men are employed in the summer months and a greater number in the woods during the winter. The lumber supply for the Becaguimac mill is cut on the head waters of that stream—five or six millions each winter. That for the lower mill is cut on nearly properties, in part, but the greater supply is bank logs rafted from further up the St. John.

The enterprise is easily Hartland's chief industry. Ald. A. E. Campbell has been manager of the Hartland mill since it was built 25 years ago, and before coming here was employed in the same capacity many years by the late Mr. Sawyer at Benton.

Blacksmith Shop Burned

Fire on Saturday afternoon about 3:30 destroyed the blacksmith shop occupied by Ferley Clark. Just how the fire caught is a mystery. Mr. Clark had left the premises for a few minutes and soon smoke was seen coming from the building. In a surprisingly short space of time the interior was a mass of seething flame. Furious as the fire was when the hose company arrived it was speedily brought under control.

Mr. Clark's loss is heavy, his tools and stock being badly damaged.

aged. The building was erected by the Hartland Cement Block Co., a few years ago, and was for a time used by them in their tile-making enterprise. It was the property of J. T. G. Carr at time of fire and it carried no insurance.

HAY CROP IS ALMOST AVERAGE

Potatoes and Grain, Helped by Showers Look Promising

Reports from all sections of the province state that haying is being completed after a splendid period of fine weather. Some sections report a slight improvement in the crop, due to recent rains. The crop is not so light in Carleton and the northern counties as at first thought it would be. In other parts it varied according to whether meadows were new or old. There are some very good new meadows in the central, southern and eastern countries. The older meadows, generally speaking, were inclined to be light.

The grain crop is heading out rapidly. It has a good color and if it fills properly there should be a fair crop. The straw is short in most sections, but is still growing and recent rains will be of immense benefit.

The potato crop continues to be promising. The tops have a good color and are growing well. Northumberland and Restigouche reports indicate that the crop is looking exceptionally well; Madawaska, Victoria, and Carleton counties good, with spraying being carried on generally. Other sections report crop looking promising.

In general, the pastures are holding up well and the milk flow is good for the time of the year.

Live stock of all kinds is said to be in good condition.

Fish A-Plenty

Owen Clarke, H. D. Keswick, Allen Cummings, Guy McLaughlin, William Albright and Roy Clarke went on a fishing trip to the Nashwaak last week and they report a catch totaling 1500 fishes. Owen said most of them were caught in one pool, that surged and boiled like a wash-pot with the myriads of fish. When he desired to bait a hook he found it necessary to hide behind a clump of bushes to prevent being overwhelmed by the fishy tribe.

The spot where the fishermen met such luck is remote and rather inaccessible hence the fishing ground is practically untouched.

Brighton Lodge to Celebrate Labor Day

Brighton Lodge K. of P. is now in a flourishing condition, a large number of new members having been initiated recently. On Monday next there will be installation of officers, refreshments, and a debate on the following question: "Resolved, that the United States of America won the war." A good time is assured and every member is requested to attend.

Plans are also on foot for "something doing" Labor Day, and particulars will be announced later.

Keith & Plummer Limited have a large quantity of binder twine and vinegar on which they are giving bargains. Manila binder twine, 600 feet for 25 cents. Pure apple cider or distilled vinegar, 31 cents a gallon. We pay 35 cents a pound for packed butter and 45 cents a dozen for fresh eggs.

CARLETON-VICTORIA LIBERAL DELEGATES

James Burgess, Dr. F. W. Griffin and Albion K. Foster are the Three Delegates

The Carleton-Victoria Liberal convention, called to choose delegates to the national gathering at Ottawa next week, was held on Tuesday at Andover, and was representative of both counties, and in character harmonious.

John R. Flemming was elected chairman and C. E. Gallagher, secretary of the meeting. It was moved by Andrew McCain, seconded by G. W. Upham that a committee on resolutions be appointed. The motion carried and Hon. W. P. Jones, Hon. J. F. Tweeddale, Frank Gillespie, John W. Bohan and Dr. Griffin were nominated and on motion were unanimously elected members of the resolutions committee.

It was moved by Joseph Fewer, seconded by John Holmes that a nominating committee from the different sections of the constituency be moved and, on motion, the following were elected the nominating committee:

Robert L. Simms, David Collins, James Scott, Allan Barter, William J. Gallagher, Geo. Hanson, John Fulton, Fred C. Elliott, Judson Corrie, Daniel McKellor, Allan McDougall.

While the committees were at work John S. Leighton and Geo. Upham spoke of the necessity of organization. This was followed by a motion, moved by A. D. McCain and seconded by Wm. Morgan that organization of the constituency be proceeded with. Later in the meeting it was moved that Hon. Mr. Tweeddale, G. W. Upham and A. D. McCain be a committee to recommend names of a president, first and second vice-president, secretary and treasurer to form the basis of a Liberal organization for Carleton-Victoria.

J. E. Porter also spoke while the reports of the committees were being prepared and received hearty applause.

The resolutions, as submitted by the committee, follow:

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God to remove from his sphere of earthly activities our revered and respected leader, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, be it.

Resolved, That we deplore his death at this time which seems an irreparable loss when his splendid qualities of statesmanship, great parliamentary experience, high-minded unprejudiced patriotism, together with his proven ability to meet and adjust the most serious crisis in the country's affairs makes his loss more felt, when we require men possessing his splendid qualities of character to deal with the present disturbed conditions in Canada and bring them back to a normal state where its citizens will work together for the country's prosperity and advancement, and

Whereas, The greatest war in the history of the world is now ended, we feel that we cannot let this opportunity pass without putting ourselves on record as having given recognition as well as expression to our admiration at the courage, daring and valor of our Canadian soldiers who not only brought lustre and glory to the country they represent but by their achievements contributed largely to the victory of the Allied forces in defeating the Huns, restoring peace and establishing, we hope forever, the principles of Christian liberty and democracy throughout the civilized world, and further,

Resolved, That this convention do, by this resolution, express its sincere and heartfelt sympathy

MANY PEOPLE REPORT BIG GAINS IN WEIGHT

Thousands of Thin, Frail People Restored to Health By Tanlac

Many Remarkable Experiences Told

People in all Ranks of Life Tell What Celebrated Medicine Has Done for Them

One of the most noteworthy features in connection with Tanlac and the one that stands out more prominently than any other, perhaps, is the very large number of well-known men and women from all parts of the country who have recently reported astonishing and rapid increases in weight as a result of its use.

When so many well-known people of unquestioned integrity make statement after statement, each corroborating the other, the truth of such statements can no longer be doubted.

Thousands have testified that this famous medicine has completely restored them to health and strength, after every other medicine and the most skilled medical treatment have failed.

One of the most remarkable cases on record is that of Mrs. Viola Ives, of 315 Cross street, Little Rock, Ark., whose statement appears below.

"In May of 1913," said Mrs. Ives, "I suffered a complete breakdown of my nerves and my entire system gave way. About six weeks afterwards I was carried to the hospital. I became perfectly helpless—could not move any part of my body and just lay there in bed or five months, not knowing anything or anybody. I was brought home in October, 1913, and tried all kinds of medicine and everything I was told about.

"I read about so many people getting relief by taking Tanlac and my husband got me a bottle. After taking three bottles I began to feel better. I have taken several bottles of Tanlac now and I can walk anywhere and sleep like a child. When I took my first dose of Tanlac I weighed only one hundred and twenty-two pounds. I now weigh one hundred and sixty-two—an actual gain of forty pounds since I started on Tanlac."

Texas Man Testifies

Another remarkable case was that of John M. Crabtree, a general merchant of Five Mile Station A. Dallas, Texas:

"I have actually gained thirty-four pounds on three bottles of Tanlac and I now know what it is to enjoy good health after suffering for twenty years," said Mr. Crabtree.

"I suffered with catarrh of the stomach and indigestion for twenty years and for eighteen months, before I started taking Tanlac, I had to live almost entirely on cereals. I spent nearly all of one whole year in bed and was unable to do anything at all and I fell off in weight to 118 pounds.

"After using my third bottle of Tanlac I found I had increased in weight from 118 pounds to 152 pounds, making an actual gain of thirty-four pounds—all my troubles were gone, and I was feeling like another man."

Captain Jeff D. Riggs, popular Y. & M. O. engineer, running between Vicksburg and New Orleans and residing at 2020 Pearl street, Vicksburg, in speaking of his experience with Tanlac said: "Yes, sir, it's an actual fact, I have gained twenty-five pounds on Tanlac."

"When I began taking the medicine," continued Captain Riggs, "I was simply a nervous and physical wreck and had dropped down in weight from one hundred and forty pounds to one hundred and ten."

"I have just finished my second bottle of Tanlac, have gained twenty-five pounds and feel like a new man."

MRS. CHAS. PEDEN GAINS 27 POUNDS

Was Twice Examined and Told Operation Would be Her Only Hope

I have just finished my third bottle of Tanlac and have gained twenty-seven pounds," was the truly remarkable statement made by Mrs. Charles Peden, residing at 55 Mill Street, Huntsville, Ala.

"When I commenced taking the medicine," she continued, "I only weighed ninety-eight (98) pounds; now I weigh 125 pounds, and never felt better in my life. For years I have suffered with a bad form of stomach stomach, constipation and pains in my side and back. At times the pains took the form of torture, and I was twice examined and each time I was told I had appendicitis and that an operation would be my only hope."

"I had made all preparations for the operation and called in my sister to tell her good-by, as I did not know whether I would live to see her again or not. My sister begged and pleaded with me not to allow them to cut on me and told me to wait and try a good tonic for awhile. The next day, as I returned from the consultation room, I thought of what she said, and as I had heard so much about Tanlac, I decided to try it and got a bottle."

"I never returned for the operation but just kept taking the Tanlac. Right from the start I began to feel better. The medicine seemed to take hold right at once."

"I was so happy over the wonderful improvement in my condition that I sent for my neighbors to tell them how much better I felt. I sent and got another bottle of Tanlac, and have just finished taking my third bottle and feel as if I have been made all over again a new woman."

point of service in this road, having been with the company for thirty-five years."

"I have gained twenty pounds on seven bottles of Tanlac and feel as well and happy as I did when a boy," said Mr. Weeks.

"For twenty years I suffered with nervous indigestion of the worst sort," he continued, "and at times during the past fifteen years there were times when I didn't think I would last much longer. To tell you the truth, I finally reached the point where I didn't much care whether I lived or died."

Thousands of other people all over the country have reported the same astonishing gains after taking Tanlac. Among these are: Mrs. E. O. Wilson, of 197 Bass St., Atlanta, Ga., who gained 25 pounds; Edward Reno, 1721 Broadway, Kansas City, Mo., who gained 25 pounds; Mrs. W. C. Cochran, of Juliaetta, Idaho, who gained 22 pounds; Mrs. Doll Davis, of 108 Samnel Ave., Peoria, Ill., who gained 30 pounds; Chas. E. Shaffer, 508 W. Charleston St., Portland, Ore., who gained 24 pounds; Mrs. Amelia Mann, R.F.D. 2, Ogden, Utah, who gained 25 pounds; W. S. Hukill, 7308 Park Ave., Tacoma, Wash., who gained 20 pounds; Mrs. B. W. Smith, 3113 Bardett St., Omaha, Neb., who gained 35 pounds; Fred W. Saunders, 710 Market St., San Francisco, Cal., who gained 24 pounds and many others too numerous to mention.

Tanlac is sold in Hartland by Estey & Curtis Co., Ltd., in Bristol by Dr. G. W. Somerville, in Centreville by Stevens Bros., and in Woodstock by E. W. Mait.

"I just feel like going from house to house and telling the people about Tanlac,"—A. J. Livingston, Ashland City, Tenn.

"This is really the first medicine I have taken that does what they say it will do,"—J. P. Holley, Lexington, Ky.

"I would not take one thousand dollars for what this wonderful medicine has done for me,"—Mrs. Mattie Lutes, Lexington, Ky.

Recognition of War Work in Hartland and District

We are pleased to announce to our readers that the splendid achievements of the soldiers, nursing sisters and residents of Hartland and District are going to be given direct and lasting recognition. Canada has a record she may well be proud of. No nation performed more splendid and heroic work in the World War than did our fair Dominion. But we must not lose sight of the fact that every section of our country contributed its quota of the manhood and womanhood which went to make up that great citizen army that has won such undying fame—and many of whom rest in Flanders fields.

Not by any means the least in adding to the glorious record so nobly won has been our own Town of Hartland and the adjacent country. It is only fair and just—indeed it is only right that we receive our full share of the credit.

The fighting men in trench and on battle field; the nursing sisters who went where duty called; the mother at home who gave her boys and girls to the cause; the various fraternal and benevolent societies whose efforts were untiring; all did their bit to win the fight for Democracy. Each and every one of these will now be given a place of honor in the record that is being compiled—a lasting memento to be handed down to posterity.

It is a matter that has been the subject of thought for some time. How best to commemorate the deeds of valor and heroism performed by Canadians. After careful consideration and discussing the whole problem very thoroughly it has been decided that a Memorial Volume will be issued gotten up in such a way that it will be a lasting and enduring memorial, one that will be worthy of and do justice to our soldiers and citizens—and one that may be placed in every home.

The work of producing this worthy record is now under way. Our part in the war will contain full data covering the individual efforts and achievements of our men and women overseas and at home. It will contain a biography of each and every one of our fighting men and nursing sisters, accompanied by a photo-engraving of those noble heroes and heroines. The cost of production is considerable but the cost as well as the effort of production is well worth while.

The wonderful work of the Red Cross and kindred organizations will be dealt with in detail.

Mr. S. L. Lynott, Ed. Carleton

Sentinel has undertaken the work for the district and will deal with the activities at home and for the writing of the interesting stories of the Canucks overseas the services of Lieut. Fred James have been secured. Lieut. James was Official Correspondent to the Ministry Overseas Military Forces of Canada. He holds, we believe, the distinction of being the only War Correspondent at the front who first served as a combatant soldier in the trenches.

We must give credit to the patriotism of the Canadian Associated Publishers of Ottawa and Montreal, who are producing this work, and we feel confident that when their representatives call for your assistance in making up this volume, all information will be gladly given.

In this connection we are pleased to quote the following from the June issue of the VETERAN, the official organ of the G.W.V.A. of Canada, which speaks for itself.

A Book That Will Appeal
The Canadian Associated Publishers have undertaken to produce a war record which will deal with individuals and communities, giving each that personal attention and description necessary to complete a war memorial. No expense or labour is being spared to make this book one which will appeal to every person who served either at home or abroad, during the Great War."

On Tuesday evening of last week a large number of the friends of Rev. and Mrs. Allan Sisson gathered at their home to help celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. The evening was very pleasantly spent in music and social chat. Delightful refreshments were served at a late hour, to which all did ample justice. Mr. and Mrs. Sisson were presented with a purse of money by their friends. The bride and groom were both well. The bride, Mrs. Sisson, is now residing at St. Almo. All join in wishing this couple many more anniversaries.

A reception for Clarence Chapman, Roy and Harry Dyer of Burnt Land

Brook and Henry Ogilvy and Samuel Giberson, of Oxbow, returned soldiers, was held in the Union church Thursday evening. The church was well decorated with maple leaves, tissue paper festooning, bells, flags and flowers. Mrs. Alonzo Johnson, Oxbow, was organist and Rev. A. Hatfield, chairman. A splendid program was carried out. Address to soldier was read by Mrs. D. A. Jenkins. After the presentation by the chairman each soldier in a few well chosen words thanked the people for the entertainment in their behalf. God Save the King was sung and three cheers were given for the soldiers which was responded to by three war cheers. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served at the close. The house was full but a terrific thunder shower just as the people were gathering no doubt prevented some from attending.

BABY'S GREAT DANGER DURING HOT WEATHER

More little ones die during the hot weather than at any other time of the year. Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum and stomach troubles come without warning, and when a medicine is not at hand to give promptly the short delay too frequently means that the child has passed beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in the house where there are young children. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if the trouble comes suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will relieve the baby. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

STOMACH TROUBLE

Comes When the Blood is Weak and Watery

Thin blooded people generally have stomach trouble. But they seldom recognize the fact that thin blood is the cause of their indigestion, but it is.

Thin blood is one of the most common causes of stomach trouble; it affects the digestion very quickly. The glands that furnish the digestive fluids are diminished in their activity, the stomach muscles are weakened and there is a loss of nerve force. In this state of health nothing will more quickly restore the appetite, digestion and normal nutrition than good, rich, red blood.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood, making it rich and red, and this enriched blood strengthens weak nerves, stimulates tired muscles, and awakens to normal activity the glands that supply the digestive fluids. The first sign of returning health is an improved appetite, and soon the effect of these blood-making pills is evident throughout the whole system. You find that what you eat does not distress you, and that you are strong and vigorous instead of irritable and listless. You are on the road to sound, good health and care in your diet is all you need. If your appetite is fickle, if you have any of the distressing pains and symptoms of indigestion you should begin to cure yourself at once by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

These pills are sold by all dealers in medicine or you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Crain of Bath and took away a little daughter, Margaret Olive, aged three years. She was ill only a short time with convulsions. She was a bright little child and a general favorite. Three other children survive.

The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. M. H. Manuel. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

HARTLAND, N. B., JULY 31, 1919

Carleton-Victoria Delegates

to those sorrowing for and bereaved of dear ones who have made the supreme sacrifice for the maintenance of Christian liberty and all the principles that the British flag stands for and in recognition of their irreparable loss we would convey our sympathy and condolence and we wish to further express and give our assurance of substantial support to the young men who have been maimed and injured in the war.

These resolutions were adopted and made unanimous.

Hon. W. P. Jones then addressed the meeting with great acceptance. His remarks on the grand old Liberal policies and the place occupied by the late lamented leader, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and the part played by this country in the war and our responsibilities and duties to the returned soldiers and our country fairly carried the audience off their feet.

The report of the nominating committee was received as follows: Delegates to Ottawa—James Burgess, Dr. F. W. Griffin, Albion R. Foster; substitutes, Frank Gillespie, John T. Fleming, Chas. F. Gallagher.

It was moved by James Porter, seconded by J. F. Tweeddale that the reports be received and approved unanimously. This was carried and the meeting adjourned.

Aberdeen S. S. Convention

The Sunday School Convention for the Parish of Aberdeen was held at Argyle on July 14. The meeting was opened by Rev. Mr. Pentz. After Scripture and prayer, E. Carey, county president, took the chair in the absence of the parish president.

A paper on Missions was read by Mrs. S. S. Miller, after which followed remarks on Sunday school work by Mr. Carey. Rev. J. W. Brown of Fort Fairfield addressed the meeting on the departmental work and charted the schools of Aberdeen. Only three schools, East Glassville, Glassville and Argyle have four classes. Glassville has a cradle roll besides the classes. He gave them divisions as follows: cradle roll, up to three years; beginners 4-5 years; primary 6-8; junior 9-11; young people's division (younger boys and girls) 12-14; young people's division (older boys and girls) 15 to 17; young people's department 17-24; adult, 24-80. There are also administration departments for graduates, etc., educational, including teacher training, temperance and missions.

Dr. Brown urged upon the Sunday schools the importance of the decisions for Christ.

There was a discussion on temperance and cigarettes. He advised every boy to read "The White Slave" by Henry Ford and see the deadly evil of cigarettes.

The meetings of the Session held in Glassville in March were read.

The nominating committee read the following list of officers for the year 1919-20:

Pres., Mrs. C. A. Derrah, Glassville

Vice-pres., Robt. Ronald, West Glassville

Sec., Mrs. Arthur McIntosh, Glassville

Elementary, Mrs. J. L. Robinson, East Glassville

Secondary, Wallace Hemphill, Argyle

Adult and Home, Rev. Mr. Pentz, Argyle

Administration, Robert Ronald Education, Teacher Training, Presbyterian Minister

Missions, Annie Hovey, Argyle

I.B.R.A., Phoebe Hughes, Argyle.

A vote of thanks was given the people of Argyle for the use of the church, for their hospitality, for the attendance at the convention and for the flowers in the church. Collection amounted to $4.59, for the S.S. association. Closed with prayer by Rev. M. H. Manuel and singing.

Mrs. S. S. Miller, Acting Sec.

Sanford Rogers

Sanford Rogers who died at Fort Fairfield on June 10, was formerly a resident of Bristol, where he was born, a son of the late Jeanette Bell and Moody Rogers, 63 years ago. He was twice married, his first wife being Maria Wood, who died 26 years ago. Five children survive this union—Mrs. O. S. Higgins and Mrs. Lowell Burtchell of Fort Fairfield, James and Frank in British Columbia and John in California. Mr. Rogers was married in 1895 to Mary Jane Munkler of Grand Falls, who survives him. Of this union there are also seven children, all living at Fort Fairfield, except the youngest, a little girl of five who was killed in an automobile accident on April 23. There are six brothers—David, Duncan, John and Theodore of Bristol, Weyman and Archie of Boston, and one sister, Mrs. Harry Lipsitt of Hartland.

Mr. Rogers went to New Hampshire about 20 years ago, and during the past 11 years has made his home in Fort Fairfield, being employed by Hopkins Bros. On May 30 he was injured by a pile of lumber falling on him, and died from the effects. He was a man held in high esteem in his community.

Squaw-Berries

By AGNES G. BROGAN

The brisk walk brought the color tingling to Jane's lately too-pale cheeks; it also loosened a shining strand or two of hair that had grown to a fashion of neat preciseness.

With a strange and sudden impulse she turned from the country roadway down a tree-bordered lane to the ravine. How long it had been since she, a fun-loving girl, had followed this path of wood-fragrant charm, in search of bright red berries, clustering among their shining green leaves in the moist underfoot.

Or, had the search for squaw-berries been but a youthful excuse for an afternoon in his company? she wondered. So happy, so care-free they had been together, the tall, bright-faced lad, all enthusiasm in planning his future, or "our future" as he had called it, and she, released for an hour or two from the daily care of her invalid mother.

Remembering she would gather the berries from their hiding place beneath the dead leaves, as she listened to that old, old story whose charm is ever new, "And when I come back rich and famous," he would say, "we shall be married, Jane Rose."

"Jane Rose." She loved the name as it fell from his lips. "Jane" was too plain for his "rose-girl," he told her, and the added name seemed a caress. But Jane sighed as she thought of the years of separation, necessary, if he were to become the great artist that his ambition craved. Never for a moment did she doubt his success, even now. Wonderful were his untrained sketches of wood and valley, beautiful fancies, too, filled his mind.

"The dead leaves and the snow," he told her, "signify the discouragements and hardships of life, while beneath them grow the bright berries of hope."

"And love," Jane Rose had added timidly, "for love can live through every discouragement." The young man had turned away impatiently at that, for her allegiance to the invalid mother was a never-forgotten grievance. Had it not been for the mother's exacting presence, Jane herself would have traveled with him across the ocean to the land of adventure, and realized ambition. So he had gone away, far as her eye could see his graceful, swinging figure Jane watched him down the road to the station. And that had been more than ten years ago—ten long years and until this threatening winter day, Jane's feet had never again followed the ravine path to the wood.

At first letters had come regularly from her lover; then they had grown further apart, and ceased altogether. Often she thought of him, this absent lover, and without bitterness.

Then came the time when her care was no longer needed. Quite alone, Jane prepared her evening meal and set a place at her table for one. Alone, she sat at evening looking down the long road to the village, for young friends had departed or made newer homes for themselves, while Jane had been "away," occupied with a task of love which allowed no respite.

"I'll go away," Jane murmured passionately, "I will see the world that I have missed. I will not stay forever and ever on a lonely hillside."

As if to give incentive to her decision, Jane read a sentence in the paper which came daily from the city. "Mr. John Allen Gordon," announced the society column, "has returned from abroad."

"Mr. John Allen Gordon," she called tremulously. "Would he recognize the village friends who still lovingly referred to him as 'Jack'?" Jane Rose fell to dreaming, then, of the home he might now have, and the wife he might have, and it seemed all at once that the four walls of the little home were pressing down upon her, and she must—must get away.

After that, preparations brought a new and delightful excitement. She would take the money saved from the renting of the old barn for a neighbor's automobile, and spend it all in a short city excursion. Such an extravagance seemed a sin, but this new sense of recklessness was exhilarating. Jane's eyes sparkled with an old light as she viewed the "mail order" traveling suit, with accompanying hat, gloves and shoes. Gray she had chosen for each article, a silvery, beautiful gray.

Jane was enchanted. She blushed with guilty vanity as she regarded herself in the mirror. Ten years, even in the filling of hot-water bottles, had been most kind. Her spirits sank a little as she considered that she had not one acquaintance in the big city. But she knew of the best hotels.

She glanced around the room apprehensively, hoping that the time of luxuriating would not spoil her for the coming back. And as the train rushed cityward she wondered if it could be that two people parted ten years ago might, by any possibility of chance, meet on a public city street.

The arrival at her destination discouraged this hope. Among all the straggling throng, she appeared to be regarded, not even as an individual, but as something to be hastily jostled aside.

Jane sank with a sigh of relief back into the taxi; her head trembled as she signed her name in the hotel register, but the glimmer of her spark brought back the sense of delightful adventure.

"If they could see me now," she said, "these people in Hillcrest." Dinner was a solitary affair; to be waited upon so ceremoniously embarrassed her, and she wondered uncomfortably, as she met many a pronounced stare, if anything were wrong with her attire.

After all, why did she wish to see that long-absent one? Was it to satisfy herself once and for all that he really had ceased to care? And then—he came. There was nothing unusual about it if he, a successful artist, were in the city; this hotel would be naturally the place where he would dine.

Yet the heart of Jane beat almost to suffocation, and she clasped her hands tightly to control the emotion which surged within her. And, after all, came a vague sense of disappointment. Something was lacking about the man that had been there in the youthful long ago. Was it the bright air of confidence which had pervaded his personality—or what? Jane could not tell. She only knew that his face was white and haggard as from loss of sleep, that his dark eyes burned restlessly.

A sudden light of recognition flamed for a moment in the eyes which directly met hers. Half-smiling, Jane leaned forward, her hand extended in greeting. Then her hand fell limply back upon the table, for he had turned away, deliberately ignoring her presence. Her lips trembled like those of a grief-stricken child as she rose and passed from the room. He had remembered, yet very evidently wished to see her no more. And past all the patient, weary years this fact had power to stab her with a new and poignant pain.

If he were ashamed to acknowledge his old-time friend here, before them all, Jack Gordon had changed.

She had still quite a few dollars left—she counted them over regretfully; her spirit of holiday had flown. It was, as she passed down the main street the following morning that Jane came face to face with the picture.

She did not need to lean forward, discerning his name upon the canvas; the work was so truly his own. In an art room it stood displayed, with a ticket, "For Sale."

Breathless, eager, Jane hastened into the store. "I wish to buy that picture," she said, with a fine disregard for price.

"Fifty dollars," announced the dealer, "and remarkably cheap for Mr. Gordon's work."

Jane closed her eyes in quick mental calculation. "I'll take it," she said. "Where to?" asked the dealer. "We box them carefully." And Jane gave her Hillcrest address.

Out again in the street she stopped dazedly, counting the change in her bag. She had just money enough to take her to lower Hillcrest—she would have to walk home from there. But hope, like the berries, again forced its bright way.

"He must have remembered," she murmured joyously. The placing of the picture required much care. Jane, standing upon a chair the following evening, seriously studied the question. After all, it was good to be back in the old familiar room. And then came a ringing of the bell. "If—anticipated Jane; then, smiled at the folly of her thought. She waited a moment, nevertheless, to loosen softly the waves of her hair; it was so she had worn it ten years ago. Then she opened the door.

John Gordon did not speak until he had entered the room, until his quick glance had traveled from Jane's face back to the picture.

"You—still live here?" he asked abruptly.

She nodded dumbly. "From the suite you were registered in at the hotel," he said, "as I saw you last night, from the price you paid for my very small picture, I fancied," he waved an arm about, "that you had grown away from this, that you had perhaps inherited money."

Jane spoke slowly. "I have no money," she told him.

"Then," he said, and bitterness was in his tone, "you bought the painting out of pity for me. You have heard of my failure. For all these discouraging years I've pressed doggedly on, refusing to give in. Persisting in my foolish dream of success. When I ceased writing to you it was because I could not bear to have you know of my failure, to sacrifice your life to a useless promise. When the great opportunity should come, and with it success, then I would return worthily to you." The man paused. "It did not come," he added quietly. "But stronger than myself was the yearning to see, and learn of you again. So I came back. The picture was offered as a last hope, to defray present expenses."

"When I found your name to be that of the purchaser, I realized fully the humility of my failure. Last night I wished to shrink away in my shabbiness, from your recognition. The man's voice broke huskily.

"Oh, Jane Rose, Jane Rose," he whispered, "how I deceived you with my dreams of long ago."

And Jane raised her face to his; wildly her heart was singing; forgotten were the long years of absence and neglect. What mattered poverty, or the shabby clothes of his humiliation? What mattered success or worldly failure? Love was here—love that forced its way through snows of disappointment and fallen leaves of change, love that triumphed.

"Jack," she cried tenderly and laid out her arms. And it was a long time after that the man, with a light of new purpose in his eyes, and the woman, smiling, radiant, moved forward together, to hang across the picture of "Hope."

Mrs. Margaret Payson spent last week here with friends.

Thursday evening was the occasion for a most delightful mid-summer picnic served on the grounds of R. W. Balloch by the ladies of the Episcopal Sewing Guild. Large tables, laden down with everything luscious as only the ladies in these parts can serve them, were attacked from front, rear and flank at sharp six o'clock by all the towns "Hungry Hanks," and surely all were more than satisfied. The collection taken at the table netted $51, which is to be used towards a fund for the renovation of the church's one foundation. It was rumored during the evening that more of these feasts were to follow. We hope so.

Thursday evening's storm performed a successful operation on the face of the Centreville Hotel. The posts of the floor ornate balcony across the front have been a bit treacherous and uncertain for some time, and the added weight of the heavy shower with a sharp little breeze, effectually razed it. It did a very neat job indeed and did no added damage except one broken pane of glass in the ladies waiting room.

Mrs. Scott and Miss Thelma Scott of Aroostook Jet., are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Wiggins.

F. D. Tweedie of Woodstock spent Wednesday and Thursday in town.

David Lament of Glasville was in town last week on business.
