FROM THE STATES.

RANGOON, Feb. 7.

Cairo despatch says Federal rank Queen of West ran by Vicksburg on Monday morning, being under fire of 100 siege guns for three quarters of an hour.

Tribune's despatch says Federal blockade at Charleston was in two circles, outer one seven miles from Fort Hunter, inner one on bar, and Confederate iron clads only drove off later.

Official report says four thousand attacked Fort Donelson, which was defended by 800. Former were repulsed with a hundred killed and three hundred prisoners.

It is rumored that the French have been defeated at Puebla, loss three thousand.

Washington de-patch to Philadelphia Transcript reports only fifteen thousand Confederates at Fredericksburg, the rest having gone to the Blackwater or Vicksburg.

American Consul at Monterey writes that millions of dollars worth of cotton were sold there, returns made in everything Confederate States need; when he wrote order for 600,000 blankets and the cotton was to pay.

Three vessel loads of arms purchased in Europe are daily expected at Matanzas.

Norfolk letter says during furious snow-storm 3d Confederate vessel, supposed York town, endeavored to run blockade of James River and got to sea.

Steamer North Star collided with steamer Ella Waller from New York for Havana last evening, sinking her in 20 minutes. Several lives lost.

Cargo of the lost steamer Ella Waller, valued at a hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars; passengers saved nothing.

Gen Banks busily planning at New Orleans; troops at Baton Rouge being thoroughly drilled.

Col Neal Dow has been cited to appear in the District Court, on charge of stealing silver ware, sugar, &c., belonging to citizens of New York.

Confederates still strengthening Port Hudson.

Expedition of two Companies from York town, advancing beyond orders was drawn into ambush, and lost thirty killed, wounded and missing, including captain and several lieutenants.

The barque Achilles sailed from Philadelphia on Monday morning week for Liverpool with a full cargo of flour and breadstuffs for the poor of the English manufacturing districts. Religious exercises invoking the divine blessing on the enterprise were held in the cabin of the ship previous to her departure.

NARROW ESCAPE OF PRESIDENT DAVIS.

A correspondent states that President Davis had a remarkable adventure and a wonderful escape the other day at Mobile. It appears that the Confederate Chief, accompanied by his staff and several others, had started on a tour of inspection to Fort Morgan when some portion of the machinery of his steam tug gave way, and they found themselves drifting out to sea. An extraordinary expedient was suggested and adopted with success. They went in a small boat, as they pretended, for the English Consul who was at that time in one of the steamers of the Federal blockading fleet. It is, perhaps unnecessary to add that the notorious rebel and his friends succeeded in regaining the "sacred soil" of the Confederacy.—New York World.

THE FRENCH PROGRAMME.—"Mulakoff" writes to the New York "Times" from Paris that he is informed that the following is the programme of the French Government at the present moment: "The Government having made an arrangement with Mr. Sliedell for a large quantity of cotton, will ask the American Government for facilities for getting it out promising them at the same time, that no contraband of war shall be introduced in exchange, and if the American Government will not consent to this, they will take it by force.

THE HEMLOCK KNOT TIED WITH A TELEGRAPH WIRE.—The Syracuse Standard states that a marriage by telegraph took place on Tuesday afternoon last between a young lady in one of the principal villages on the Oswego railroad, and an artillery soldier, on duty near Washington. The Chaplain of the bridegroom's regiment telegraphed the material question of the marriage ceremony to the lady, viz: "do you take— to be your husband?" directing her to answer "I do," and to authorize him to propose a like question to the gentleman. In two hours after the lady received the Chaplain's first message she received another announcement that the soldier and she were man and wife. This telegram is her marriage certificate. It is understood that the parents of the lady were opposed to the union, and took this method to outwit them.—The time for the ceremony had been fixed by correspondence beforehand, and the lady was in waiting when the first message was received at the telegraph office.

A BIG STICK.—A large piece of timber passed through town on Tuesday last "en route" for Port Dover. It was drawn by ten horses, and measured 70 feet in length, 4 feet through at one end and 3 feet at the other. It is intended for a mast.—[Norfolk Reformer.

THE SINKING FUND.—A correspondent to the Montreal Gazette says:—

"Was it intended that these obligations were to be eternal? And if not, what other easier mode of payment could be devised than that of a Sinking Fund? Did our Provincial financiers suggest any other way of extinguishing the debt? It is to be hoped for their sakes that Ministers will be able to invent a better pretext for allowing this scheme to drop, if such be their intention, than that suggested by the Herald otherwise the country may not feel disposed to give its confidence to a Ministry which has abandoned its only measure, and of which it can only be said 'they have done well because they have done nothing.'

Could the worst enemy of Messrs. Sanfield Macdonald and Siccotte say more true, that their only measure was a curse to the country, and their inaction their recommendation."

A correspondent of the Peterburg Express tells the following as the latest story about "Stonewall" Jackson:— "The night after the battle a council of war was held by Gen. Lee, to which all of his Generals and Division were invited. Gen Jackson slept throughout the proceedings, and upon being waked and asked for his opinion, curtly said:— "Drive 'em' in the river!—drive 'em' in the river!"

A writer in the Berkshire (Eng.) Chronicle in reply to a question asked by the editor of that paper, says:—

"I have grown both wheat and barley from oats. The way I adopted was to plant the oats thin, under a sheltered wall, in the middle of June; it then will require to be cut off about one inch from the ground, before coming into boll three times the first season; the following year it produces wheat.

PITCH PINE FORESTS IN THE BAHAMAS.

We understand that a small quantity of trees recently been produced from trees growing in the extensive pine forest of Andros Island, which realized $15 a barrel at Nassau. There are three other large forests in the Bahamas—one at New Providence, one at Abaco, and one at Grand Bahama—which under license from the Crown, could be made available for the production of tar and turpentine; and since these articles bear a high price in consequence of the civil war in America, we wonder that all our resources are not turned to account.—Nassau Guardian, Dec. 27.

GOVERNOR'S SPEECH.

FREDERICTON, Feb. 28, 1863.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor came down in the usual state-to-day, and opened the Session with the following Speech:

Mr. President and Hon. Gentlemen of the Legislative Council.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly.

Your addresses of condolence on the death of his Royal Highness the Prince Consort were duly laid at the foot of the Throne, and I am commanded to assure you that the Queen is deeply sensible of your loyal attachment and sympathy.

War continues to rage in the United States and humanity has still to deplore the spectacle of a sanguinary struggle which inflicts misery on a large portion of the human race, and of which, though so long protracted, it is impossible as yet to foretell the issue. You will, I am confident share my earnest hope that these calamitous hostilities may speedily reach their termination.

I informed you at the close of the last Session that negotiations with the Imperial Government on the subject of the Intercolonial Railroad were still pending; these negotiations have been, subsequently continued. The proposition which the delegates of Canada, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia were, in 1861, empowered to make, were not accepted by Her Majesty's Government; but, whilst declining to become parties to the arrangement then suggested, an proposal to guarantee the payment of the interest, or a loan for Railway purposes was made on behalf of the Imperial Government; and at a meeting of Representatives of the Provinces interested, held at Quebec at the request of the Governor General, on the 24th of September, it was resolved to accept of that offer.

Early in October I despatched a member of my Executive Council to England to confer with Her Majesty's Government upon the term of their guarantee in concert with Delegates from Canada and Nova Scotia. The papers relating to these negotiations will immediately be laid before you, and will, have no doubt, receive from you that attentive consideration which the paramount importance of the subject to which they relate demands. Whatever difficulties of a temporary nature may arise in carrying out this scheme, I trust it will be found that no insuperable obstacle exists to the accomplishment of an undertaking calculated to bind together more closely the different Provinces of British North America; to promote their prosperity and time of peace, and ensured their security in time of war.

The conduct of the Imperial Government has throughout these negotiations been marked by frankness, and a desire to meet, where possible, the wishes of the colonies, and we have no doubts will be fully appreciated by Her Majesty's American subjects.

My attention has been directed to the reorganization of the Provincial Militia. The long period which has elapsed since this force was last enrolled, and the entire disorganization which has consequently ensued, have rendered this task one of considerable difficulty, although that difficulty has been materially diminished by the ready and cheerful assistance and co-operation which have been very liberally given.

I have directed that report of the Adjutant General of Militia be laid before you, from which you will learn in detail the steps which have been taken to effect this reorganization, and perceive that the funds voted by you for Militia purposes have been expended with a careful regard to economy.

By the Act passed during the late Session the Active Militia force was fixed at not more than one thousand men. I am happy to inform you that the public spirit of the population has called into existence a body of Volunteers exceeding in strength the amount prescribed by law, and thus relieved me from the necessity of having recourse to a draft to complete the required number. The martial spirit which has been displayed by those who have voluntarily undertaken novel, and in some cases, irksome duties, convinces me that the men of New Brunswick are sensible of the necessity of fitting themselves if not to discharge the sacred obligation of self-defence, at least the expression of a warm approval.

I recommend to your serious attention the present condition of the Fisheries of the Province. Reports which I have directed to be laid before you will go far to show that the River and Coast Fisheries are threatened, on no distant period, with extinction. Less with confidence, on your wisdom for the adoption of adequate remedies for the evil which menace with destruction this important source of Provincial wealth.

The introduction of the Post Office money order system in the neighbouring Colonies, affording, as it does, increased facilities for the transmission by the public remittance of the money, has excited in this Province the earnest of your consideration.

Although the war in the United States exercises a baneful influence throughout the Continent, I rejoice to be enabled to inform you that commercial enterprise has been directed into new channels and is again reviving. A greatly increased activity prevails in our ship yards and there are marked symptoms of improvement in other branches of the industry.

The Province has been blessed with

A greatly increased activity prevails in our ship yards and there are marked symptoms of improvement in other branches of the industry.

The Province has been blessed with

It would, however, afford me pleasure to witness a greater amount of individual enterprise directed towards the development of the mineral resources of the Province.

Since the recess the new silver coinage has been received and put into circulation.

It affords me sincere gratification to assure you that, although the income of the past year has fallen somewhat below the estimate, the receipts on every branch of the Revenue for the quarter just expired very greatly exceed those of the corresponding period for the last two years.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly :

The accounts of the Revenue and Expenditure for the past year will be laid before you, together with the estimates for the current year.

The Act under which the existing Customs Duties are levied will shortly expire.—The questions relating to the Tariff, which will consequently arise will, no doubt, receive your early attention.

Mr. President and Honorable Gentlemen of Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen :

In again resorting to your assistance and advice it is a source of satisfaction to me to reflect that content prevails throughout the Province, and that your deliberations may be directed to the consideration of the public good, free from the distracting influence of party factions or popular excitements.—The calm and uneventful tenor of public affairs in this Province during the past year itself, evincing our fortunate condition.—Living in undisturbed tranquillity, new liberties and properties unimpaired by arbitrary violence, or exaction, in the enjoyment of an unimpaired credit, and free from the pressure of those public burdens which the exigencies of war impose, our thanks are due to Almighty God who has spared us from the calamities which have fallen so heavily on our neighboring and a kindred people.

The imputation of bad faith in the matter of the Intercolonial Railway negotiations comes with an ill grace from New Brunswick. In refusing to acquiesce in the proposed sinking fund, the Canadian delegates simply carried out the instructions of their government, which, again, were in 'perfect keeping with the letter and spirit of the arrangement entered into at the Intercolonial Conference, in this city, last autumn. It is possible that the delegates of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia may not be able to say so much. The time is nigh, however, when official explanations will set these points at rest, and meanwhile our New Brunswick friends should try to possess their souls in patience.—(Quebec Mercury.)

Bark Mary Richard's. Mosely from Dublin for St John, N. The Standard

ST. ANDREWS, FEB. 18, 1863.

THE LEGISLATIVE SESSION was commenced on Friday last. The day previous the "faithful commons" were summoned to attend His Excellency, but the House being without a Speaker, the Members were sent back to elect one, which they accordingly did on Friday morning. There were but two candidates for the office. Chas Fisher Esq, formerly Attorney General, and John C. Allen, Esq., Solicitor General, under the late Government. Mr. Fisher is called a Liberal, and Mr. Allen a Conservative, but knowing both gentlemen, we believe they are members of the same political school, and differ only on non essentials. Mr. Allen was elected Speaker by a majority of three over Mr. Fisher—the vote stood Allen 18, Fisher 15. Messrs Glazier, Cudlip, Landry, Gillmore, Stevens and Grimmer were not present whether their presence would have changed the vote or not is now a matter of no interest as the Press generally admits that Mr. Allen will discharge the duties of the office to the satisfaction of the House.

His Excellency delivered the speech at 2 o'clock—which will be found in another column. The address in reply was moved in the Commons by Mr. McClellan supported by the new member from Victoria, Mr. Beveridge. The usual committees were appointed, and 2,200 copies of the Journal ordered; no movement has yet been made towards having official debates, nor is it probable there will be; Messrs, Livingston and the "Telegraph" and Armstrong of "Globe" are in their boxes in the Reporter's gallery and will furnish a synopsis of the debates their respective papers, and full reports, speeches on "field days" Let them be well compensated for their labors, pursued in a most unwholesome atmosphere, and the public will be satisfied. Mr. Watts of the "Sentinel" is reporter in the Legislative Council.

Monday, the regular work commenced on Monday.

There has been lots of work cut out for the "collective wisdom" by some of our contemporaries—The Intercolonial Railway Bills—a Bankrupt Law—Revised Election Law—increased Representation in some Counties—and last, but not least—Direct Taxation for the support of Schools. This measure is gaining ground every year, and will be forced upon the Legislature if not voluntarily taken up. Even the "old bachelors" are strongly in favor of such a law being passed; the present having proved a failure. The Chief Superintendent of Schools has advocated the system—several districts throughout the Province have adopted it.—The Superintendents of education in Nova Scotia and Canada have given direct taxation their warm support—the people or a large majority of them are in favor of it, so it is generally admitted to be the best as well as the only method of ensuring the education of all children under certain ages; School houses would be erected of a better and more convenient class than are now used; and competent teachers would receive larger salaries than they now do. Surely those entrusted with the education of the rising generation, are worthy of not only better salaries but more consideration than they at present receive. The member who is bringing in a bill for direct taxation for the support of education, will not only secure the interests of his constituents, but also be remembered with gratitude by the youth of our country who will in a few years take the place of their seniors.

In the Illustrated London News, received by the last mail, there are two sketches by Mr. Charles C. Ward of St. George: the first showing "the start" on the Cariboo hunt, a sleigh with two horses tandem, two gentlemen in the front seat and an Indian in the back seat; the second represents "the death" of the Cariboo with the hunting party standing looking at the dead animal.—Any one in this vicinity who sees the engravings, will at once recognize the gallant Major of the second battalion C.C. Milnia D. Weimor, Esq., with his connexion Mr. Ward, (the artist) and the well known Indian Sabattis. The sketches are well executed and accompanied with a letter press description of the hunt.

RAILWAY DETENTION—We notice that several of the Railway trains in the Province were detained, owing to the tracks having been covered with ice. The trains on the Montreal and Portland Railway were some days behind time, and no less than nine engines were off the track at one time. It was only by manual labor the ice could be removed—large gangs of men were employed along the line passing through New Hampshire, and even then they took from Friday morning until Sunday evening to get from Portland to Island Pond.

We are happy to state that the trains of the N. B. & C. Railway leave and arrive with regularity.

AN INQUEST, was held on the 14th inst. before Dr. S. T. Goss, Coroner, on the body of John Mageen, which was discovered in the woods at Chamcook. It appeared the evidence that the deceased was returning from J. Gallagher's on Thursday night last with two men, but wishing to take a short cut left the road and proceeded through the woods to his house; the night was cold and dark and it is supposed that he lost his way. The verdict of the Jury was—"Accidental death by getting lost in the woods, and frozen to death."

HORRIBLE!—It appears that subjects for dissection at the Medical college New York were hard to be got; but since the emancipation policy there are more bodies (of negroes) than are required. Comment is unnecessary.

The horrible crime of Burking is rife in Montreal. A paper from that city says several persons are unaccountably missing and a living woman is said to have been rescued from a sleigh, in which she was placed between two corpses, her mouth covered with a plaster.

LEVISTON (Me.) Journal says letter from Washington to gentlemen in August represent a very favorable feeling in the department and in Congress, on granting the prayer the Maine Legislature for a grant aid in the construction of a military railroad from Bangor to the St. John.

The latest accounts from Vancouver Island (says the Boston Transcript) say that nearly the whole of the miners that have visited Victoria represents that the mines are extraordinary rich, and their discovery only in its infancy. The country upon the

A FIRE occurred at St. George on Sunday last, by which a barn owned by Mr. Wm. Danham, was destroyed together with 2 horses, 4 cows, 10 sheep, and a large quantity of grain, hay, and farming utensils—No insurance.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—We regret to learn that Mr. John Bulger, was killed yesterday, on the Railway track near the Car, stood in the middle of the track; he was warned that the Engine was backing up, but did not get out of the way, and was crushed to death by the cars.

No Glean.—According to a letter received from England our New Brunswick Cotton, has been tested, and proved to be good.

On the 13th inst. after a long illness, which she bore with Christian resignation, Susan, wife of Mr Thomas Watt, aged 52 years—died, attended by a large circle of relatives and friends.
