UNFERMENTED WINE! Prepared for Sacremental and Dietic Uses by

F. WRIGHT, Manufacturing Chemist, KENSINGTON HIGH STREET, LON-DON, W.

THIS WINE is guranteed to be the juice of the finest grapes of the Cote D'OR, ANDALUSIA, and the MEDOC. It is perfectly free from ALCOHOL, and is guaranteed to be PURE GRAPE JUICE. It has stood the test of 22 years continuous sale in every climate, and is now used in upwards of 3,000 Churches of all denominations. The mode of manufacture is a slight modification of a well-known ancient practice, and effectually preserves the grateful flavour and the rich nutritious qualities of the grape unimpaired. It is therefore admirably adapted to cases of debility and fever, in which the stomach is too weak to digest other food. Children suffering from febrile ailments drink it with avidity, even when all other food has been refused.

From Wm. Wallace, Esq., F. C. S., Glasgow

"City Analyst's Laboratory, Glasgow.
"I have made a careful chemical analysis of the sample of Unfermented Wine received on the 29th ult., and have found it to have the composition of the fresh juice of ripe grapes, and to be entirely free from Alcohol, as well as other extraneous substances, with the exception of a trace of a preservative agent which is harmless. It is pleasent to the taste, and there cannot be a doubt as to its being perfectly wholesome.

perfectly wholesome.

N. B.—The sample here referred to was submitted to analysis for the information of the Elders of a large Church in Glas gow, which was then contemplating the use of Unfermented Wine, and was obtained from Mr. Wright's agent in the ordinary course of business without his knowledge. The result of the Analysis is kindly placed at the disposal of Mr. Wright by the Church Officers referred to.

Dr. F. R. Lees, F. S. A., Edin., "I am quite satisfied with the 'atand have the utmost confidence in its purity. I have found it very beneficial in several cases of consumption and fever, and eagerly desired by the patients,"

Rev. S. G. Potter, D. D., Vicar of Holmcroft and Chaplain to Earl of Desart. "I bave for some time felt that Unfermented Wine—pure juice of the grape—should be the wine used at the Lord's Supper. We therefore, use your Unfermented Wine, which is very excellent and Again: "Do see those boys! wading through every mud-hole and ditch! I declare, they are enough to wear out the patience of Job Only yesterday Eddie tumbled down in the mul, and I had every rag of his clothes to wash; they look as dirty as pigs."

"How lucky it is they have neat mother! They are no nicer children or neater dressed than yours, Anna. I wonder how you manage to keep them so?"

"It is no wonder at all; I work all the time." "Of course you do, but they won't be children long, Anna!" "I should hope not; it would kill me if they were. It is enough to vex a saint to have to wash so five great tearing boys to wash and mend for !"

"They are none too many, Anna; we have none to spare; they are nice, healthy, good children."

"If you had to wait on them as I do you would sing a different song. Mea never know anything about the care of children, but women have i all to do."

"I know it is wearing, but after all, the little fellows pay their way they bring love and sunshine with

"Pshaw! I cannot see the sun shine they bring; they fetch dirt and confusion; I used to keep my house in order, but just look at it now! Everything is topsy-turvy"

But if Mrs. Hyde could not see the sunshine the little people brought, she saw the sha lows that fell ove the house when two of them sickened and died. Maybe she thought that their little muddy boots would never track her clean floor again, but if she did think of that, it was never known, and she only fretted more. "The two sweetest and smartest of the boys were the ones that were taken-it is always so,"

"I never saw any difference in my children, Annie; they were all alike precious to me. It was hard to part with any, I could not have said that I have a choice. God took those He chose-it was not for us to say"-her husband remonstrated.

"There it is -no choice! as if anybody couldn't see that you always thought more of Rube than of Eddie! You always took Rube when you went to ride; I should think you would have something to think of now, Eddie is gone."

"I always tried to do my duty by my children; I do not think I have to reflect upon any injustice to any of them."

He did not say that he took Rube because his mother fretted at him most and he was more roguish than his quiet brother Eddie, who was always a delicate boy.

Years passed and the three boys advanced towards manhood. They were full of life and loved fun, and

To A Waterfowl BY WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT

Whither, midst falling dew, glow the heavens with the Far, through their rosy depths, pursue
Thy solitary way?

Vainly the fowler's eye
Might mark thy distant flight to do wrong,
As, darkly painted on the crim
Thy figure floats along. Seek'st thou the plashy brink Of weedy lake, or marge of river wide, Or where the rocking billows rise and sink

On the chafed ocean side? There is a Power, whose care Teaches thy way along that pat coast,—
The desert and illimitable air, —
Lone wandering, but not lost.

All day thy wings have fanned At that far height, the cold thin atm sphere;
Yet stoop not, weary, to the welcome land,
Though the dark night is near.

And soon that toil shall end, on shalt thou find a summer home, an rest,
And scream among thy fellows; reeds shall bend
Soon o'er thy sheltered nest.

heart Deeply hath sunk the lesson thou hast given, And shall not soon depart.

Hs who, from zone to zone,
Guides through the boundless sky thy certain flight,
In the long way that I must tread alone,
Will lead my steps aright.
