PUBLIC MUST BE PATIENT

Slow Work Ridding South Africa of Guerrillas.

Kitchener Partitioning the Country Erzeroum, Turkey, Nov. 8 last, is conby Means of Blockhouses With Wire Connections.

Lord Bufferin Recovering Very Slow-Coal Trade Alarming.

London, Dec. 10 .- The correspondent ter. of the London Times, writing from Pretoria, says that much remains to be done in the way of partitioning the country by means of lines of blockthe large districts of the Eastern Transvaal. It is found that blockhouses a mile or more apart are useless in preventing the passage of Boers at night when they are determined to cross. Nothing short of blockhouses six or seven hundred yards apart, and connected by means of formidable wire entanglements will prove effective. To thread the country in this way requires time and men, but in the opinion of the military authorities it is the only method of dealing with an enemy who refuses to and adopts guerrilla tactics. The British public must therefore be patient. North of the Delagoa Railway line the Boers are momentarily free from the presence of British columns. The mountain ranges afford endless hiding places for the enemy. Supplies are plentiful, and wheat, which finds its way all over the country, is carefully concealed for future use. It is impossible to avoid this unless the Boers are kept moving, and to effect this many more troops are reof a thousand men. THE CONCENTRATION CAMPS. Lord Onslow, parliamentary secretary of the colonial office, speaking at Crewe last Monday night, announced that the concentration camps in South Africa had now been placed under the control of the civil authorities, that no pains or expense would be spared place them in the healthiest possible condition, and that those concentrados wishing to go to the coast would be freely permitted to do so. MEMORIAL SERVICES. service in memory of the Jewish soldiers of the King who have fallen in South Africa was held in the Central Synagogue of London Sunday evening. Fully 300 troops were present. Rev. L. Cohen, Jewish chaplain to the forces, who preached the sermon, mentioned that fully two thousand Jews had fought in the Boer war, and 325 had figured in the casualty lists. As he read out the names of those who had fallen, the congregation emphasized the solemnity of the occasion by rising to their feet. The service was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem. BRITAIN'S COAL TRADE. The situation in the British coal trade is causing a good deal of apprehension and there is a resumption of the outcry against the export tax, which formed so prominent a feature of Hicks-Beach's last budget. Coal exports have decreased by 158,000 tons during the first ten months of the present year, and the average number of days worked by the collieries has generally fallen off, while in most of the principal districts the supply is in excess of the demand. The iron inwhich annually accounts for from 35,000,000 to 40,000,000 tons a year, has greatly reduced its consumption. In the face of all this new collieries which were begun and old ones which were reopened during the boom last year are increasing their capacity, and there is every probability of a con-siderably larger quantity of coal being put on the market. Prices are five shillings below the high water mark of last year, and the tendency is to drop still lower. THE CANAL TREATY. The London Times, in an editorial on the Hay-Pauncefote canal treaty, says it is hard to see how Great Britain could concede more without pretending to give what she did not possess, namely, the rights and incidents of territorial sovereignty. "That fact, however," says the Times, "would not weaken the objections of those senators anxious to oppose anything making for good relations with Great Britain. As President Roosevelt and

Dr. Fernando Sanchez, Nicaraguan minister of foreign affairs, and Wm. L. TRADE DULL. The London Times, in its financial article, says the trade returns for November are unsatisfactory, showing decreases in the values of both imports and exports. However, a great deal of this is due to the lower prices ruling. The decrease in imports equals 5.8 per cent, and that in exports of English and Irish produce 7.2 per cent. The coal shipments were less in quantity by 590,000 tons, equal-Ing 14.4 per cent. and in value by £1,-359,637, equaling 87.96 per cent. Coal shipped for the use of steamers shows an increase of 21,300 tons.

A PIG IN CLOVER. Miss Emily Hampton, of Nazeing, was summoned on Friday for keeping a pig in a manner dangerous to health. The nuisance inspector found the pig occupying the whole of one room in the house of the defendant. The animal was lying between clean sheets on a feather bed, covered with white lace counterpane, with his head resting on a pillow. The room was furnished like the usual parlor, and there were illuminated texts on the walls. The inspector said further that found the defendant kneeling at the bedside and kissing the pig and calling it a naughty boy, because it had eaten a small portion of its pillow. Miss Hampton pleaded that she had educated the pig as a Christian. She had reared it from infancy. young it used to occupy the sofa. It had always asked to be let out when it wanted to take fresh air. It never kicked the clothes off the bed, and was quiet and peaceable. Ladies and gentlemen came in carriages to see it. The magistrate gave Miss Hampton six weeks in which to find fresh lodgings. RAN AMUCK. A sentry belonging to an Indian regiment stationed at Pekin ran amuck and killed two of his comrades. A company of Punjab infantry was at once turned out to secure him. In the meantime the sentry had been shot by German troops, who then opened fire on the Punjabies. A free fight ensued in which three German privates were killed and a German officer mortally wounded, while three of the Indian troops were killed and several were wounded. The German troops have been confined to their barracks until further orders.

BOOKMAKER VS. BOOKKEEPER. Thomas Peterson Goudie, ex-bookkeeper of the Bank of Liverpool; "Dick" Burge, pugilist, and F. T. Kelly, bookmaker, of Bradford, were sums of money. The public knows arranged at the Bow street police how well the city's interests were looked court in connection with the Liverpool after in both cases. Ald. Parnell has Bank frauds. Goudie admitted he had forged checks, but disputed the aggregate amount. Counsel said he would be able to prove that after Kelly had "milked" Goudie to the extent of £72,-000. Burge got wind of the situation, conjunction with Lawrie Marks, the American bookmaker, who is said to have committed suicide, and James Mances, a bookmaker known on the American tracks, decided not to leave Goudie in the hands of The trio therefore dispatched Mances to interview Goudie, with the result that they accumulated £91,000. of which Burge received one-half, Mances one-third and Marks one-

Paris, Dec. 10.-A fashionable crowd supping at Paillard's the other night had a mild sensation when a swarthy beau left his companion, went over to the Tzigane orchestra and whispered to the leader, who promptly handed over his violin and seat. Birtwistle's candidature. It was understood, of course, that others had heart-cravings to sit as the presiding genius of the council chamber, but their modesty or discretion forbade definite announcements. It was known by everybody, for instance, that Ald. It is common talk that he would have liked to run two years ago, feeling then that the appointed hour had come, but was persuaded to the contrary when a strong candidate loomed up in the person of Mayor Rumball. Then the exigencies of municipal life necessitated a second term for the mayor, and Ald. Winnett had to curb his ambitions for another year. Now however, he believes that he sees his chance and has decided to grasp it. A week or two ago, he said to the Advertiser that he had not decided to ing cable was received by Sir Wilfrid run, but was waiting to be asked. He Laurier today: much they would like him to run, he | ter."

said that if an influential body of citizens came to him and told him how would, perhaps. Individual citizens had asked him, but he wanted the influential body. Well, the influential body didn't come, so Ald. Winnett decided that the individual citizens were enough. The truth of the matter was, he wanted to run, his intentions were to run, and influential body or no, he was going to run. So at last he has said that he is definitely in the field. He rests his claim for the public suf-frage upon his service and sacrifice to the public interest. If service and sacrifice don't pull votes, then he can't help it. He has given the people a chance to show their gratitude and it's their fault, not his, if they don'

take advantage of it.

It was said at the City Hall today that the rumor of Ald. Parnell entering the contest, helped Ald. Winnett to make up his mind and quench the public's thirst for information as to his intentions. It has been understood for some time that strong pressure had been brought to bear upon the popular South Londoner, to offer himself for the office. Whether or not he would do so was a matter for conjecture. He told the Advertiser today just where he stood in the matter. The rumors, he said, that he had been approached influential citizens was well founded. Many prominent business men had asked him to run, and, he added, you may say that I am seriously considering their request. To a large extent it depends upon how I can arrange my business affairs. If I went into it. would want to be in a position to fill the office advantageously to the city and creditably to myself. If I can arrange my affairs suitably, I will entertain the proposition very seriously." It may be said that his friends confidently expect Ald. Parnell to run, and maintain that his long municipal experience and ability, justify any desire he may have to be next year's mayor. They point to the fact that he has had an experience of local affairs that extends, with one year excepted, from 1891 to the present time. During these years he has served the city as chairman of No. 1 committee, twice chairman of No. 3 committee, and twice chairman of the board of works. He was also chairman of two of the most important sub-committees of the council that have been appointed during the past decade-the sewerage committee and the Western Fair grounds and building committee, each of which controlled the expenditure shown himself to be a careful and capable administrator of the affairs of the city, and if it should be that he will run, as his friends hope and expect, he will be a very strong candi-

RE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE. To the Editor of The Advertiser: In your issue of Nov. 28 you publish an item headed "Another Victim of Christian Science." Now, Mr. Editor, after investigation, I find that this is as far from the truth as the majority of articles published against stein, first reader of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Syracuse, says in the lay some claim to knowing who is and who is not a Christian Scientist in this city, and I state without qualification or reservation of any kind that neither Miss Lund nor Miss Stone were Christian Scientists, or ever claimed to be. In confirmation of this, and in refutation of statements regarding Miss Lund's treatment by Christian Science, Miss Stone's statement, she being conceded as having been Miss Lund's closest friend, should be most conclusive. Miss Stone says: 'Miss Lund never

According to physicians, the form of anaemia she suffered from is often produced by worry and grief, and her past life was such as to confirm that theory. She was a sufferer from this disease for the last seven years, several times being almost at the point of death, but always under the care of the best physicians. Miss Lund never made but two trips to Boston, both times for rest. During the first trip she never even met a Christian Scientist, and when the last trip was planned it was a question whether the destination should be Boston or Rupey Hill, the former place being chosen on account of friends being there to look after her. During this visit Miss Lund met two Christian Scientists, and was much impressed with their teaching. She wrote home towards the end of her visit that if her mother, her sister and myself approved, the Christian Science treatment would be tried. Our approval was not obtained, but during the passage of letters treatment was given, which was all Miss Lund ever had. Upon Miss Lund's return we persuaded her to continue the medicine. Lund's letters home, and in the quantity of drugs in our house, there is ample proof of these statements. If there is anything that would make me Christian Scientist, however, would be the change in Miss Lund from the very slight experience she had with it.'

Both Prisoners Sent to Stand Trial for Murder.

Application for Bail Will Now Be Made at Early Moment in Toronto.

Dr. Alex. Graham and Miss Emma Agnes Kilbourne appeared in police court this morning and were formally committed to stand trial on the charge of murdering the latter's infant child. The evidence, for the transcription of which the three days' remand was made, made 250 typewritten pages, containing altogether 60,000 words. The work was all done in one day by Mr. Coo and his assistants.

Miss Kilbourne wore her voluminous veil, and her face was completely hidden: Dr. Graham was accompanied by his brother, Charles Graham, reeve of Euphemia township, Lambton county. Mr. Morwood, counsel for Miss Kilbourne, was present, and waived the reading of the evidence. Mr. McEvoy was absent, so Dr. Graham answered for himself that he also waived the Cured Three and a Half Years Ago by Dodd's Kidney Fills.

Further Proof of the Permanency of the Cures Effected by This Great Remedy-A Most Convincing Confirmation of an Interesting Statement Published in the Platsville Echo, in May, 1898.

Plattsville, Ontario, December 9 .-Some three and a half years ago, The Plattsville Echo, the local newspaper, published quite an extended acount of a most miraculous cure of a well known and highly respected lady, Mrs. J. She had no appetite and could not sleep at nights. The physicians had given her up and in this pitiful and hopeless condition, Dodd's Kidney Pills found her and completely restored her to good health without an ache or pain. Her appetite returned as her general good health improved. She used in all but twelve boxes of

Nothing could be more convincing than this good woman's plain and truthful statement, and it proves beyond doubt the lasting character of the cures effected by Dodd's

Commissioner F. W. Modson Opposed to Specialties and Horse-Racing.

Guelph, Ont., Dec. 10 .- The principal features of yestreday's session of the Ontario Agricultural Experimental Union held at the O. A. C. were the addresses of F. W. Hodson, live stock commissioner, and Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief chemist United States depart-ment agriculture, at Washington, were listened to. The former dealt with the irgent necessity of prompt action for the improvement of agricultural ex-hibitions. He held that such exhibi-tions throughout Ontario were degenrating, because of lack of proper or ganization and methods, and too great attention to high price specialties in the way of skirt dancing, balloon as-censions and the like. He also condemned horse racing in connection with such exhibitions.

Wiley gave an instructive address on the culture of sugar beets and the manufacture of beet sugar. Referring to the prospects in Canada, he said the sugar beet was essentially a northern plant and produced its minimum sugar as far north as it could be grown and harvested. Interesting dis-cussions followed. The sessions were

How to Make a ROUGH SKIN SMOOTH

There are some whose skin is naturally very tender, so much so, that a slight change in temperature, either heat or cold, will cause it to become rough and scale. This is very annoying, whether it makes the skin sore or not. A trouble of this kind is due to the skin being too dry, the underlying glands not giving it food enough. It must, therefore, be fed artificially. This may be done by using OLA CREAM, a scientific skin food. OLA CREAM is not a thin, watery fluid, but is of a creamy consistency. Prepared from a valuable formula, consisting of healthful ingredients, which feed the skin, building up the tissues, supplying to the glands that which they lack to prevent roughness.

Anyone who is troubled with roughness of the skin or chapped hands will find OLA CREAM a sure preventative.

We are receiving many testimonials for OLA CREAM. We have made a study of the care of the skin, and will be glad to give any information to anyone writing us.

ONE TO THREE OF RADWAY'S PILLS, once in twenty-four hours, will PILLS, once in twenty-four hours, will secure regular evacuations from the bowels. Persons who for twenty years have not enjoyed a natural stool, and have been compelled to use injections, have been cured by a few doses of Radway's Pills. True comfort for the aged and others afflicted with Costiveness and Paralysis of the Bowels.

Persons advanced in life often suffer from indigestion and from paralysis or from indigestion and from paralysis or inability to evacuate from the bowels, likewise from urinary difficulties. We have the evidence of a large number of aged persons from 60 to 80 years of age who had daily been compelled to resort to injections to empty the bowels, have been cured by the use of Radway's Pills. Two or three pills every night in all cases insure a natural evacuation from the bowels and the regular flow of urine. In cases where there is irritation of the bladder, Radway's Resolvent should be used with the Pills. If these organs are kept regular, life may be extended to a much longer period. By keeping the Liver, Stomach, Bowels and Kidneys in a healthy condition the blood will continue pure stomach, Bowels and Kidneys in a Real-thy condition the blood will continue pure and dissolution checked. If Radway's Pills and Resolvent are used by the aged, life will be prolonged to the full measure of time. Another great end is secured by nourishing the body with these remedies —the faculties will remain in a healthy condition. A week feeble and decaying condition. BLOODTHIRSTY BOER BOY. The following story of the murder of wo British soldiers is sent from Bloemfontein:

Captain Wickham was out scouting with a party of his men, and in the course of his duties the captain and one man went into a Boer farmhouse. Here they found only a woman and a small boy—apparently about 12 or 13 years of age. Captain Wickham, after looking for arms, rode away, but finding that his man did not follow him, he returned to the house.

From what has been gathered it eems that the soldier was talking to the woman when the boy came behind and stabbed him with a knife. Then the boy took his rifle and bandolier, and when Captain Wickham came back he shot him point blank through the head.

COUNTY COURT AND SESSIONS

Opened Before Judge Edward Elliott at Noon Today.

Short and Unimportant List of Criminal Cases and Only One Civil Action.

The quarterly county court and general sessions of the peace opened before Judge Edward Elliott at the court house at 1 o'clock today. There are half a dozen criminal cases to be heard, all but one being against Indians. Only one civil case is left for hearing, it being a non-jury case. There was a fair-sized crowd in attendance on the opening of the court.

The grand jury is as follows: Wm. Yates (foreman), London; Donald Hyndman, Ekfrid; Alonzo Kilborne, Parkhill; James H. Lane, North Dorchester; Nathan McCracken, Ekfrid; Alex. McIntosh, East Williams; Geo. Neely, North Dorchester; Leonard Powell, London township; Andrew Scott, Westminster; John C. Zavitz, Lobo; Joseph Young, London; David Chalmers, West Nissouri; R. A. Gerry, Adelaide.

Joseph Alexander, Strathroy, and W. A. Young were absent, and two substitutes were chosen.

Judge Elliott, in opening his address to the grand jury, commented upon the importance of the few cases to be considered, all of them, unfortunately, being against Indians. His lordship then reviewed the cases and the law bearing upon them. In the case of George Fisher, charged with assaulting Chas. Miskokomin, the judge thought that it was one that the county should not be put to the expense of trying. In the most importthe complainant, Wm. Doxtater, is dehave been brought into the present court, owing to the low value of the articles alleged to have been stolen. The smallness of the criminal docket was a matter for congratulation to the county. The criminal cases for the past year have been fewer than any year since his lordship assumed the bench. In his first year he had himself tried in county judges' court 150 cases; during the past year both judges had tried less than 20 cases. His lordship spoke of the different causes which caused this decrease, one of them being the appointment of efficient magistrates throughout the county. His lordship urged upon the grand jury the speedy completion of their duties, so as to save expense to the county. The judge commented on the fact, that for the first time in the The judge commented on persons confined charged with murder. Mr. E. H. Waitman, fruit inspector, of Montreal, is in the city. To The Advertiser, Mr. Waitman intimated that the recently enacted fruit inspection act is working well.

"Those who still persist," said Mr.
Waitman, "in decorating their barrels and boxes with marks intended to deceive the trade, will soon find it a costly business. The law today says that if 15 per cent of the contents is poorer than the face, a fraud has been committed, and for such fraud the punishment is severe. The awards at the Pan-American are enough to satisfy us that we have the finest awards at the Pan-American are enough to satisfy us that we have the finest apples in the world; and if our fruit is put up in a way corresponding to its merits, our resources from our fruit product alone will be enhanced by millions. Those who in the past have tried to make three No. 1 barrels out of a No. 1, a No. 2 and a No. 3, will find the performance a snare and a delusion. The law says the grade shall be designated by an indelible stamp on every closed parcel. Ottawa, Dec. 10.-The war office is said to be willing to take more than the stipulated 600 men provided for in the new corps being raised for South Africa, and numbers of young Canadians are willing to enlist. Ladies Go Frog Hunting.

One of the favorite amusements of French ladies at Constantinople is frog hunting. A large party is organized, the ladies all appear in dainty Parisian toilettes, with very high heels to their boots, and each carries a long bamboo rod. The gentlemen are got up in proper costumes for "la chasse" and bear sticks. Then they all adjourn to some marshy spot where frogs abound, and begin fishing. The bait is a piece of raw meat tied to a string at the end of the bamboo.

The ladies do the fishing, and as soon as one feels that a frog has swallowed the bait, she gives a violent jerk to the rod, which brings the frog out onto land. The attendant sportsmen then fall upon the ferocious animal and slay it with their sticks. ladies also sometimes join in the last fatal act, but the men always try to dissuade them, as in their excitement they frequently mistake a man's head or foot for the frog and the sport becomes too dangerous.-London Tele graph.

waste or time: but now it was useless even for the decoration of churches that went in for pre-Raphaelitism in ritual and ornament. For he was beyond the pale even of the "P. R. B." in the extravagance of his mediaevalism; and, unlike the early members of the Brotherhood, did not redeem his mediaevalism by any striking merits as a painter. If he had only recented some employment is had only accepted some employment in another nouse of business—and there were plenty of leading houses that, our of sheer kindness and good-feeling, would have received him gladly, without ex-pecting much from his services in re-tern—he would have been acting simply as a man of common sense. But then he felt, or fancied, that he was unfitted for business by nature; and though, for Felicia's sake, he would with a good grace have put into his pocket any quantity of personal fastidiousness, he did not feel justified—and, in this feeling, he may be credited with perfect honesty—in percredited with perfect honesty-in permitting others to buy worthless services as a matter of charity. And he felt—as many like him have fancied and will doubtless fancy to the end of time—that to be able to paint a picture is to be able to sell one also. In his good days he had wixed much with ceiebrated and successful painters, and had known the great prices that their works commanded. With the unsuccessful majority he had not mixed, or he would have learned a very different lesson. But as it was to very different lesson. But, as it was, to paint, according to his experience, meant to coin gold: and perhaps, too, he made the even still more common error of mistaking inclination for genius. Any way, with the best and most honest mo-tives possible, he committed two of the gravest follies of which any one can be guilty: he refused to receive pay simply because he believed himself to be incapable of doing anything to deserve it, and he became a painter because he thought the best way to make something more can a bare living. And it is difficult to by which, from a practical point of view, was the greater folly of the two.

The studio, however, looked ambitious, if not business-like; but the contents and surroundings could not but make a man like Mr. Grode, who knew something about pictures and the way in which they are made to sell, smile. There is a certain order of painter, bordering for the most part upon the amateur which the most part upon the amateur, which cannot paint without the talismanic and stimulating influence of a velvet smokingcap. When this is so in any particular case, nothing more need be said; the type is defined, and its individual members are as like one another as peas from the same shell. Mr. Grode knew this well, and the corners of his heavy mouth, unused to smiling as they were, drew up with more than the mere shadow of a sneer when he saw the looked-for cap, very much the worse for wear, sus-pended gracefully by the side of an easel pended gracefully by the side of an easel large enough to bear one of the great battle pieces at Versailles. He was engaged in speculations upon the follies of other men, when the door opened and in came the painter himself, as goodlooking as of old, but rather thin and hungry-looking, too. His creditors had insisted upon allowing him something, and he had accepted a hundred a year under strong protest, and only on coninder strong protest, and only on con-lition that it was to be considered as I loan to be repaid one day—a sum that, bad economist, whose habits had always been very expensive, was enough to keep him from the workhouse, and no came into the room eagerly; per-hearty a smile as he was able to assume, held out his hand frankly and warmly.

So that is the way you treat me, is it?" he said, half laughingly. "Well, well, young people all suppose, and we old fellows must expect to be shoved off into the corner. I ran off with my own poor late-lamented, who's dead and gone—Lissy's mother, you know—and I don't believe we lived a bit the unhappier." Not a bit the happier, the late Mrs. Grode would have said with a will, or rather the studio of the grand ideas of his prosperous days, and with that object he always dabbled in painting, and, for a time, had worked at it with a will; and now it seemed to him the best way in which he could make his talents pay. Of course it was an insane piece of folly. To imagine or to copy Saints and Holy Families after the style of Cimabue—for in that direction, as being diametrically opposed to the taste off the world, had his own taste carried him whad been, heretofore, only a harmless even for the decoration of churches that went in for pre-Raphaelitism in ritual and ornament. For he was beyond the pale even of the "P. R. B." in the extrayagnee of the surfayagnee o now, where's Lissy? I must pretend to give her a bit of a scolding, you know."

Arthur's delicacy approached fastidiousness, and the vulgarity of Felicia's father always jarred upon him very considerably. It was a standing wonder to him how it was that such a man should have been the father of Pearl. But, after the first moment of new surprise, he took the sudden geniality for what he supposed it to mean, and remembered that posed it to mean, and remembered that the nature of the husk is no indication of that of the kernel. And, after all, no

> "Neither the one nor the other. I don't take her back, because I mean you to keep her; and I don't give my consent, because that's rather too late in the day, I take it."

one can be very outrageously astonished at another man's doing what, under simi-

"How shall I thank you for such gen-rosity? I wronged you terribly, I must onfess. I fancied that my misfortunes—"
"Well, well, say no more. Where's Lissy? Is she here?"
"Here?"

'What-aren't you man and wife?" "It is not my fault that we are not, I must own. I have pressed her to share my fortune over and over again. But she has always given me one

she has always given me one answer—that her promise to you must keep her single till she is of age."
"Then there goes my promise out of the window. I'm glad that she had so much obedience left, however. Not that she seems to have lost much by it," he thought to himself, as he looked round at the room. "Where is she, then? Not far off, I'll go bail!"

The young painter, however, did not feel by any means so genially towards Mr. Grode on account of the past as he did on account of the future. He could not prevent his voice being a little grave and stern as he replied: "She has to work for her living, like myself. She is helping the mother of her servant by mending clothes at a laundry in Bean street,

"She would have preferred starvation to breaking her promise."
Her father took out his pocket handkerchief, and even made a pretense of using it. At any rate, if he did not wipe his eyes, he blew his nose. "This has all been a sad misunder-standing," he said, "very sad-very sad, indeed. We must put all this to rights, off hand. You know where to find her,

"Perfectly." "Then come."
The two put on their hats and went forth arm in arm, as Mr. Grode insisted upon doing. Arthur was raised once more to all the delight of new-born life and perfect happiness. So Pearl was to be his wife, not in three long years, but now! This one thought long with the contractions. now! This one thought kept ringing through his heart like an unaccompanied unbroken melody, to the exclusion of all others. Mr. Grode's feelings were not quite so musical; but even he looked forward with what he persuaded himself was generous and disinterested satisfaction to the reconciliation that was about to ensue.

TO IMPROVE THE ROADS.

Toronto, Dec. 10.-There has been some misunderstanding regarding the distribution of the million dollars set aside by the government at the last session of the Legislature to improve the roads. Some gentlemen in Bruce county declare that the money is to be distributed according to the in townships, and argue that this is unfair. They, have not got the meaning out of the act which the govern-ment intended, as the deputy commission of public works said today that the government's intention was to distribute the money according to the assessed areas of the countles, and not

TURF. BAN WITHDRAWN.

Chicago, Dec. 10.-The Western Jockey Club has withdrawn the ban which at the opening of the season it placed upon the tracks in St. Louis. At the annual meeting, held here yesterday, it was decided to admit as members of the club the club department of the St. Louis Fair Association and the Delmar Jockey Club of St. Louis. Their meets will hereafter be recognized as meetings of the Western Jockey Club. The constitution and bylaws were amended so as to permit the admission of the two organizations. The only other business transacted was the election of V. Reiburn, of St. Louis, and A. S. Cella. of Chicago, as members, Martin Nathanson, C. S. Bush and A. S. Cellaya were elected stewards to serve for two years.

BASEBALL. New York, Dec. 10.—All the National League baseball magnates, with the exception of the Philadelphia owners, are here, and will begin their annual winter meeting. The matter of a successor to N. E. Young as president of the league will come up at the meeting. So far A. G. Spaulding has been midnight last night, held the same the league will consider the only prominent candidate mentioned. It was rumored last night that John T. Brush would fight Spaulding. What the league will do regarding the new minor leagues' organization and American League will also be watched with interest. Many of the big magnitude. The sprints that occurred on account of these changes and shifts there were many falls. One of the most serious occurred shortly after 3 o'clock, when walthour religed his partner, Mcrogation of the national agreement, which directly resulted in the banding together of the minor leagues through-out the country against the big body. BARROW PLEASED.

Toronto, Dec. 10.-Manager E. Barrow, of the Toronto Baseball Club, son collided with him. The crowd yellreturned yesterday from the Eastern League meeting in New York. He was late. Babcock, McLean and Hall tried well pleased with the meeting, and declared the change in the league circuit would be a great benefit. He said that another, and when the dust cleared Arthur Irwin's name had been men-away Hall was found to be uncontioned in connection with the management of the Jersey City team. Mr. Burrow, instead of coming straight home from New York, paid a visit to Wilkesbarre for the purpose of seeing Frank Bonner and prevailing upon him to reconsider his going to Cleveland, and instead go to Chicago, as the Toronto club would thereby receive some remuneration for his release.

Thought there was no help for me-at least the doctor said there was none. I went to see friends at Christinas time and there heard of the good that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery had done for them, and was advised to try it at once. Far fear that I might neglect it my friend sent to the village and got a bottle and made me promise that I would take it. I made me promise that I would take it and made me promise that I would take it. I had been getting worse all the time. I took thirteen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and ten vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pelets and used 'All-Healing Salve,' which made a complete cure. It was slow, but sure. I was taking the medicine about eight months. "I would say to all who read this; try Dr. Pierce's Colden Medical Discovery before wasting time and money."

Judge Ruled Out a Question Which Would

Washington, Dec. 9.—Judge Anderson, before whom Mrs. Bonine is being tried for the murder of James Seymour Ayres, Jr., today sustained the objection of the district attorney to the hypothetical question submitted to Dr. Corr, an exercise of Seturdate to Dr. Carr, an expert, on Saturday. The court said that to admit the question as put would only cloud the situation, and embarrass instead of instruct the jury. The question was re-framed and the witness answered that in his opinion the location of the hip wound such as received by Ayres could not be materially influenced in its height or direction by the fact that deceased was or was not walking or running. Dr. Carr was on the stand during a major portion of the day, his testimony relating mainly to the relative position of Mrs. Bonine and Ayres in Sunbeams," delivered in the First Presbyterian Church last night, by Rev. Dr. Milligan, of Toronto, was very much appreciated. He made some reminiscences in regard to his early connection with London, and of the many happy recollections it afforded many happy recollections it allorded him. A cordial vote of thanks, moved by Mr. Alexander Stuart, K.C., was tendered the lecturer. The solo by Miss Mowat was very well rendered. Rev. W. J. Clark presided at the meeting.

CHEESE OF MIDDLESEX

I welve Years on the London Sale Exchange.

Some Figures Showing Magnitude of the Local Trade.

Over $2,000,000 Was Paid Out at the London Board Meetings During This Period.

During the past 12 years, figuring on averages, no less than $2,153,124 has been paid local cheese manufacturers on the London Dairymen's Exchange. It is a big sum of money, and yet it does not represent, by any means, the total output of the factories of this district. The statistics of the period, as gathered from the records of Secretary J. A. Nelles, are highly inter-

During the past twelve years the total sales on the local board amounted to 372,191 boxes, which, at an average of 65 pounds to the box, would equal 24,192,415 pounds. The average price paid during the period was 8.9

cents per pound. The largest sales during the period were made in 1897, when 47,775 boxes were disposed of at an average price of 8% cents per pound, the lowest price being 7% cents and the highest 91/2 cents.

The sales during the past season have been the smallest during the twelve years, but 9,298 boxes having been turned over. The prices, however, were very satisfactory, the average being nearly 9 cents—8 31-32 cents, to be exact. The lowest price paid during the year was 8 1-16 cents and the highest 9% cents. There can be no doubt that sales reached the low tide mark during the past season, and that they will from now on steadily advance in volume.

The highest price was reached in 1899, when some lots went for 11% cents; the lowest price, in 1895, when $ 1-16 cents was accepted. The highest average price was obtained in 1893-

9% cents. To carry this product of the factories out of the county of Middlesex would require nearly 900 full-sized freight cars, forming a train about six miles in length. If one were to go still further and figure out the number quarts of milk required to make this quantity of cheese, some idea of the magnitude of the dairying industry of Middlesex might be obtainable.

Following is a table of the sales on

for Awhile. Colorado camp cook had to quit his job because he could not make coffee without drinking it himself and was killing him. He says he used to take a cup of coffee before he got handed in their applications for pos- his breakfast for the men, for he felt the need of keeping up his strength Y. M. C. A. and will be voted on at and his stomach troubled him so much.

"Finally," he says, "I got so bad I was taken to the hospital. The doctor told me it was a clear case of coffee poison and if I did not quit I would never get well. I had to quit in the hospital and gradually got a little better, then I took to drinking Postum Food Coffee and took it out with me to a job in the woods.

"I have been using Postum steadily for about eighteen months and have entirely recovered from dyspepsia, and all my old aches and ails. My eyes are so well now that I can see the gunsights as good as anybody, but two years ago I never could hunt because of my eyes. I know it is the quitting of coffee and using Postum that has benefited me. Nobody could have dyspepsia any worse than I had. All my neighbors thought I was going to die, but I am all right now. I have to send thirty-five miles to the city of Trinidad for my Postum but it is worth while." Wm. Green, Burwing,

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"WHEN LONDON SLEEPS" TO-NIGHT.

The attraction at the New Grand this evening will be J. H. Wallick's sensational melodrama, "When London Sleeps." A full carload of scenery is carried, and as the scale of prices is a popular one, there should be a full house.

"PRINCE OTTO" WEDNESDAY. Lovers of the writings of Robert Louis Stevenson will find one of their old friends in Otis Skinner's drama-tization of "Prince Otto." The title role is now being played by Harry Glazier, who is surrounded by a company large in numbers, and quite up to the high standard maintained by Mr. Skinner. When Otis Skinner announced his intention of making a dramatic version of the Stevenson novel there were many doubters as to the feasibility of the project. To have followed the story of the book too closely would have meant an impossible play. He has made of Prince Otto a manly, clever, daring hero, who fully understands the futility of pretending to be an important sovereign in an impossible little state.

"ONE OF THE BRAVEST." "One of the Bravest," which plays at the New Grand, at popular prices next Friday evening, should not be confounded with the cheap blood and thunder shows that roam the country. All its characters were taken from life, the play itself treating of the life of a Gotham fireman. Charles Mc-Carthy and William Cronin, who in-terpret the principal roles, have play-ed to packed houses in this play the last six years in Europe.

That quaint individual, "The Burgois announced for an engagement at the New Grand next Saturday, matinee and evening. Although "The Burgomaster" is hailed everywhere as a musical comedy, nevertheless it has more right to the significant title of opera than one would imagine, inasmuch as it contains an original book and score, and 24 specially written numbers, many of which are the rage. Some of the most pronounced hits are, "The Tough Girl Parade," "The Indian Serenade," "The padway Bathers," and "The Tale of the Kan-garoo." The sale of seats opens Thursday morning.

Acute and Chronic Rheumatism Acute and Chronic Rheumatism are equally influenced by the almost magical pain-subduing power of Polson's Nerviline, equal in medicinal value to five times the quantity of any other rheumatic remedy. Nerviline cures because it reaches the source of the disease and drives it out of the system. Nerviline is an unusually good rheumatic cure, and makes many unusual cures. Just rub it in the next time you have an attack. The immediate result will surprise you. 25c.
