deputation representing the manufacturing industries province, waited on Premier this morning, with the request that the Government take some steps to stimulate the immigration of skilled mechanics to this country. The deputation, which was headed by Hon. William Harty, president of the Canada locomotive works, at Kingston, included Mr. J. O. Thorn, of the Metallic Roofing Company; F. B. Polson, of the Polson shipyards and boiler works; R. Moffatt, of the Moffatt stove works, Weston, and several other gentlemen, representing large industries in this and various parts of the province. It was pointed out that in the iron industries there was a shortage of $5,-000 men in the amount of skilled labor required for present purposes, without reference to the possibility of expansion. This shortage is likely to be increased in the near future owing to the establishment of such new works as the Deering Company's plant at Hamilton and the Canada Foundry Company at Toronto. locomotive works at Kingston will also, it is expected, double the capaof its plant. As an illustration it was shown that a Toronto firm had to refuse an order for fifteen boilers owing to the impossibility of obtaining mechanics

It was urged upon the Premier that the Government having declared itself in the matter of obtaining farm laborers and or workmen for the beet industry, should not overlook the matter of skilled labor. The deputation stated that the manufacturers were willing to pay good wages, $2 25 to $3 per day, and that there was no wish on their part to overcrowd the of postage upon newspapers and peribut simply to obtain the mechanical skill absolutely necesernment did nothing more than adgreat market for skilled labor in this province, it would be a useful step. matter. The Canadian Manufacturers'

Association has been making inquiries throughout Canada as to the shortage in skilled labor which in all industries is reported to be large. * Claims He Can Restore Sight.

Paris, March 6. - Prof. Peter Steins claims to have discovered the secret of restoring sight to the blind. The announcement is published in the Revue des Revues by Dr. Caze, who explains how Prof. Steins tested on him a wonderful apparatus of Prof. Steins' invention, by which he is not only able to restore lost sight, but to give vision to those who have never known it. Prof. Steins took Dr. Caze into a dark room and bandaged his eyes so he could see nothing. He heard the professor walk to and fro, strike a match and light a lamp. Then he felt an apparatus fixed around his temples, whereupon he instantly saw a dim light, which enabled him to distinguish surrounding objects. Presently the light became stronger, and Dr. Caze was able to count the professor's fingers when they were held up before him, and to enumerate other things in the room. Just as he was feeling that his vision was clearing further, and he was convinced that he would soon see normally, Prof. Steins suddenly removed the apparatus, and Dr. Caze was in total darkness. Prof. Steins' claim rests on the theory that man does not see with the eye, but with the brain, the eye only serving to receive the image which the optic nerve transmits to the seat of perception. If, then, the image can be transmitted to the brain without eyes, a blind person can see as well as anybody else. The professor's apparatus has the same scientific basis as the telephone, with the substitution of light for sound. Dr. Caze states that several other physicians have experimented with the apparatus, but none of them is able to explain how the astounding results are obtained.

Kipling's Imperial Poem

The full text of Rudyard Kipling's latest poem, "The Settler," is appended. It is written in commemoration of Mr. Chamberlain's mission to South Africa, and is prefaced with his farewell words at Cape Town, spoken on Feb. 24:

"I leave this shore more convinced than ever that the forces-the natural forces—that are drawing you together are more potent than those evil influences which would tend to separate you. * * * Above all, South Africa needs the best capacities of all of its children.

Here where my fresh-turned furrows run and the deep soil glistens red, I will repair the wrong that was done to the living and the dead: seless bullet fell, and the barren shrapnel burst, I will plant a tree, I will dig a well against the heat and the thirst. Here in a to the land, where no wrong bites to the bone, will lay ny hand in my neighbor's hand, and together we will atone For the set folly and the red breach and the black waste of it all;

Giving and taking counsel each over the cattle-kraal, Here will we league against our foes-the hail-stroke and the storm-And the red and rustling cloud that blows the locusts' mile-deep swarm: Frost and murrain and the floods let loose shall launch us side by side

In the holy wars that have no truce 'twixt seed and harvest-tide. Earth where we rode to slay or be slain our love shall redeem unto life; We will gather and lead to her lips again the waters of ancient strife From the far and fiercely-guarded steams and the pools where we lay in wait,

Till the corn cover our evil dreams, and the young corn our hate. And when we bring old fights to mind we will not remember the sin-If there be blood on his head of my kind, or blood on my head of his kin-For the ungrazed upland, the untilled lea cry, and the fields forlorn:

"The dead must bury their dead, but yet-ye serve an host unborn." Bless then, our God, the new-yoked plow, and the good beasts that draw, And the bread we eat in the sweat of our brow according to thy law; After us cometh a multitude-prosper the work of our hands

That we may feed with our land's food the folk of all our lands! Here in the wastes and the troughs of the plains where the healing stillness lies, And the vast benignant sky restrains, and the long days make wise-Bless to our use the rain and the sun and the blind seed in its bed, That we may repair the wrong that was done to the living and the dead!

cording to weight or measure The hearing today foreshadows an early report of the commission to President Roosevelt, as it practically the only issue which remains unsettled in the minds of the commission. The session was secret. The following statement regarding the meeting was given out by the commission late this afternoon: anthracite commission met today fer the purpose of a consultation with the counsel and representatives of the miners and the coal operators to enable the commission to avoid any misunderstanding as to matters under consideration, but not to submit to the parties any conclusions reached by the commission or any form of any award. One of the difficult subjects with which the commission has had to deal is that of paying for coal by weight rather than the car. Various methods have been suggested as a substitute, some of which were not touched upon at length in the voluminous testimony before the commission. It was necessary, therefore, for the commission to meet counsel on both sides and have a free and frank talk with them. Such a consultation could not have taken place had it been open to the public. No additional testimony was asked nor offered. The commission is hard at work upon its report, sitting late at. night and making endeavor to reach a speedy conclusion, but just when a

There will undoubtedly be at least a ten per cent advance in the pay for mining, to take effect from the time the miners returned to work last October. The per diem employes will not have their wages increased, but will be recommended for the same pay for a day of nine hours. The system of pay will be regulated. Wherever practicable, the operators will be required to pay by weight, instead of by the car, and elsewhere by the lineal yard. The miners will have check docking representatives at their own expense. This will practically amount to a second increase in wages. There will be indirect recognition of the union, which will come when the findings are submitted by President Roosevelt to John Mitchell, as president of the miners' union.

The cause of the strike, as found by the commission, will not be comforting to the coal mining companies.

The boycott will be condemned, and the principle will be laid down that a miner has a right to work without molestation, even though he does not belong to the union. KENT OIL WELLS IN GOOD SHAPE

A North Oxford Family's Loss-Good Success of a Sarnia Railway Man.

They have commenced to rebuild the Delhi canning factory. A branch of the Traders' Bank has been established at Thamesford. Dr. A. N. Hayes, of Sarnia, has been appointed associate coroner for Lambton. George E. Johnson, of Sandwich East, died on Tuesday of consumption, at the age of 40 years.

Mr. J. C. Day has purchased the farm from Mrs. Albert Percy, Copenhagen, for the sum of $3,850.

Mr. E. A. Smith has sold 64 acres of the Ayerst farm, at Iona Station, to Mr. W. Walsie for $2,500. Mrs. Robert Conway died on Monday evening at the family residence, "Fairview Farm," Guelph Township, at the age of 72 years.

The measles, which have been so prevalent among the children of Avonbank for the last month and a half, are now nearly stamped out. Game Warden Quallins, of Windsor, Ont., reports geese and swans flying northward, a sure indication of the advent of spring. A robin was seen in town about a week ago.

There is great excitement in South Buxton over the smallpox scare in Cedar Springs and Blenheim. News comes that T. L. Pardo's model farm is quarantined, and it is said that there are several cases near the lake shore in Raleigh.

Mr. Fred Bivour, Wellesley, sold his farm to Dan Gerber for $5,950 last Friday. He will most likely take possession of it soon. Mr. Moses Bast disposed of his 50-acre farm and purchased a 100-acre farm from Joseph Boshardt, of Cross-hill.

The minor details of the new Episco-palian Church at Walkerville alone re-main to be perfected, and work will soon be commenced on the erection of the elegant structure. The church will be built at the head of Second street. Mr. Thomas Trow sold a farm in Downie, owned by W. Hoffmeier, by public auction on the market square, Stratford, on Saturday, to Mr. H. Herman, of Harmony, for $6,100. There was a large crowd present, and bidding was keen. Messrs. Alfred Mountain and Adam Stevenson, Avonbank, have been again successful in taking prizes in the Macdonald seed grain competition, the former taking second for fall wheat and the latter seventh for the province.

The death of John M. Hohner, of Sebastopol, on Friday last, removes another well-known figure. Deceased was born in Wittimberg, Germany, very nearly 77 years ago, and became a resident of Tavistock in the earlier days of its history.

Chatham News: The Chatham Oil Company's well on the Edwards farm is pumping steadily and a good stream of oil is the result. Everything is now in first-class shape at this well, and the new pumping rig is doing its work in a very satisfactory manner. Drilling is going ahead on the new well on the Suitor farm, and everything is looking bright. The well of Smith & Amsden, of Detroit, close to Charing Cross, which was shot recently, is not of a paying nature. The McRae well, in the Cedar Springs district, is still pumping regularly, and is a good, steady producer.

Sarnia Observer: The many friends of Mr. Wm. Holmes, well known to railway men from Toronto west, will be pleased to learn that he has been promoted to trainmaster of the G. T. R., with headquarters at Belleville, Ont. Mr. Holmes started to work for the G. T. R. as a cleaner in Point Edward shop; was promoted to fireman, engineer, road foreman of engines. He resigned the position of road foreman a short while ago to accept the position of mechanical expert for the Galena Oil Company, with headquarters at Montreal. As an evidence of his ability the G. T. R. offered him, and he has accepted, the above position. His many friends in Sarnia and vicinity will wish him every success, more especially the men who worked with him while he was engineer. This, we believe, is the first instance of a locomotive engineer being given an official position in the transportation department, and his old friends will always wish for him that success which is sure to come to a worthy man.

BRITISH ARMY ESTIMATES

An Expenditure of $171,225,000 Is Asked-New Naval Station.

London, March 6.-The British army estimates for 1903-04, issued yesterday, called for a total expenditure of $171,-225,000, and provide for 235,761 men, exclusive of the troops in India. The estimates include $20,000,000 for special expenditure in connection with South Africa. Premier Balfour announced in the Touse of Commons that the admiralty has decided to establish a new naval station at St. Margaret's Hope, on the north side of the Firth of Forth. The unprotected condition of the British coast, bounded by the North Sea, has been the subject of considerable comment. When a rumor of the Government's intention to establish a naval to excited comment in Germany, where it was held that it showed distrust of the suggested base could only be intended to meet a possible attack from Germany.

Statement of Mrs. Georgia Stanley Who Died in the Denver Hovel. FOOTWEAR

Denver, Col., March 6.-There is considerable speculation here as to the antecedents of Mrs. Georgia Stanley, who died yesterday from asphyxiation due to inhaling fumes of coal gas in a hovel where she was found by her neighbors in an unconscious state, lying on a bed beside the dead body of Major Marshall Hurd, an aged veteran of the civil war. In a notebook found among her effects appears the following: "Brother George's for-tune was estimated at $35,000,000, but at this writing I suppose it is $400,000,000. To think how rich brother George is and how poor I am!" Nothing definite is known of the brother except that it is believed he lived at one time in Spain or the Barbadoes. Some time ago Mrs. Stanley's poverty-stricken condition was brought to the attention of the Dean H. Martanhart, of St. John's Cathedral. He communicated with Sir James Grant, of Towho, Mrs. Stanley claimed, was her half-brother. A reply was received to the effect that Sir James was not Mrs. Stanley's half-brother. No arrangements have as yet been made for Mrs. Stanley's burial. Major Hurd, who was an engineer in the army of the Cumberland, will be buried under the auspices of the G. A.

next year, the belief prevailed in some Gunn and Secretary Blackwell, A Better Appetite.

Old stockmen say, "As long as a horse eats, he is all right." Doctors say the same thing to people, except that they use a little more professional language. It is true, however, that one's desire to eat, acts pretty accurately upon one's physical condition. As long as a child eats, the mother does not worry about it; but let the child get peevish and refuse to eat, and soon the lines of care and anxiety show on the mother's countenance. From your own experience, which is the final and best test for all such questions, you know that whenever you do not feel like eating, you do not feel like doing much of anything else. All this goes to show that about the first sign of physical disorder is failing appetite, and likewise, about the first sign of recovery is the return of the appetite. Hutch Tablets will make you eat like a "farm hand." It will make you hungry between meals. Just as you were when you were young and growing. How will it do this? "People who criticise us do not come around to discover the facts for themserves," said Mr. Jeffery. The question of light literature was discussed on a motion by Mr. Gunn to discontinue the purchase or rebinding of that class of books. The motion met with objection from Mr. Manigault, the chairman of the library committee, and was finally withdrawn for a motion by Mr. Macbeth, recommending the library committee go slowly in the purchase of newly-published novels. Mr. Gunn was asked to name the authors of "light literature" or "trash," but he

MAY USE TOWN'S NAME.

Mr. Stratton's Decision in Norwich Broom Factory Case.

Norwich, March 6.-Norwich claims the right to use the name of their own town in a new industry. The citizens have organized a broom and brush company, to be known as the Norwich Broom and Brush Company, capital of $40,000, to take the place of Thomas Bros., who removed to St. Thomas. Thomas Bros. objected to the word Norwich being used in the name, and claimed the exclusive right to that word as broom manufacturers. The question was debated before Hon, J. R. Stratton, Provincial Secretary. The minister decided that the citizens forming the new company were entitled to use the word Norwich, and granted the charter, as asked, to the Norwich Broom and Brush Compan Limited.

FEEDING BRITAIN IN TIME-OF WAR

The English Premier Favors a Royal Commission

TO REPORT ON THE OUESTION

The Inquiry Would Include the Conditions of Maritime Warfare and the Protection of Commerce.

London, March 6. - Replying to a large and influential deputation which visited the foreign office yesterday to urge the appointment of a royal commission to inquire into the question of the food supply of Great Britain in time of war, Premier Balfour expressed the opinion that the danger Great Britain had to meet was not the exclusion of grain and the raw material necessary for the country's material existence, but the cost of introducing them, and the question of price was ultimately a question of insurance. He admitted that an inquiry into the matter was advisable, because it would tend to allay some unfounded fears, as well as show that some of the difficulties of the situation could not be wholly re-

Mr. Balfour added that he thought the inquiry ought to include the questions of insurance, conditions of modern maritime warfare, the methods by which commerce could be protected and destroyed, and the amount of the actual grain supply of the country. He hoped, however, that nothing would be done to establish a Government machinery which would injure the national commercial machinery by which

Great Britain was supplied. "After you," remarked the polite bill collector as he caught a glimpse of a

Our Water Supply.

The Water Commissioners have decided that, after the 1st of July next, no manufacturer or warehouse man shall use the city water for running his elevator; he will have to take to elec- saved themselves a heap of trouble. tric motors. This is a move in the direction of economizing our water supply, and is to be commended. The public have not been unduly alarmed over the prospects of a water famine, though realizing that such a thing is possible if they become extravagant in disposal of what they have. If care is taken in the use of city water, so that there shall be less waste of that valuable article, our supply ought to be ample for many years to come. If the railways should draw their water from the river; if the use of hydraulic elevators be prohibited; if all the large establishments are metered, and if the citizens will exercise a little moderation in the quantity of water they spread over their lawns, there should be no lack of water for As to what extent the springs in the

Col. Kitson, of the Sandhurst Military College, has been dilating on the weakness of Canada's land defenses. In having an immense frontier to protect, Canada is in a position different from the other self-governing colonies, which are exposed to attack only by sea. For this reason Canada's first duty is to strengthen her militia, and the claim on her for contributions toward the British navy is not nearly so strong as on the other colonies.

The public library board last night discreetly sidetracked a motion to banish "light" literature, and thereby The task of deciding what literature is light is a pretty heavy undertaking How for instance would the board classify "Little Red Riding Hood," fact it more nearly reflects the popular "Alice in Wonderland," "Jack, the Giant Killer," "Little Lord Fauntleroy" and "Grimm's Fairy Tales?" A certain order of mind would call these light and trashy and would oblige the young folks to read something practical and Gradgrindish. At the same time there is need for an intelligent sifting of the fiction poured out by the printing press of today. This want has been recognized and is being supplied by an eminent American critic, who is organizing a system of literary appraisal for the special benefit of public libraries. All new books will be put under the microscope and the result will guide librarians in their purchases. The decision of the local library board to go very slowly in buying new novels much room for economy when only $300 a year is spent in that class of books. There is not too much fiction in the library, as some mossbacks claim, but too little of the standard kind. No Canuda for Them.

[Chicago Journal.]

Nothing could be more ridiculous than Congressman DeArmond's proposal to annex Canada to the United ADO States, or rather to empower the President to enter into negotiations looking to that end. We do not believe that the people of the United States are crying for Canada, and we are very sure that the people of Canada are not crying for the United States. We are good enough friends and might as well that way. Such propositions as DeArmond's do not tend to strengthen friendship. We have never heard that there was the least sentiment in Canada favorable to annexation to the union. There was none at the time of our war for Dominion. The Canadians have always had the reputation of being the most loval of British subject to most loyal of British subjects and they are very proud of it. Besides, what have they to gain by union with us more than they possess already? They have a government that differs but little from our own, for in the essentials Parliament quite as independent as Congress. In will than Congress, for it is modeled after the English Parliament, and, as in England, the ministry is responsible.

SCHOOL BOYS IN A DUEL

They Exchange Shots and Draw Lots for Suicide.

Vienna, March 6.—The latest instance of the dueling mania as told by the newspapers affects two schoolboys, who resolved to make an affair of honor out of a quarrel about a schoolgirl. A formal challenge was sent and accepted. Schoolfellows readily agreed to act as seconds, believing that the affair was only in fun. When the duelists arrived at the appointed place in a wood armed with real revolvers the seconds became frightened and de-

The principals, however, remained and gravely exchanged three shots, all of which failed to do any harm. Thereupon the duelists agreed to draw lots to determine which of them should commit suicide. The loser, the same evening, attempted to carry out the bargain. He was found bleeding from a wound in the temple. It is believed that his injury is not fatal.

the Wanstead Disaster.

Toronto, March 6.-The G. T. R. solicitors are applying today at Osgoode Hall to consolidate two actions brought against the company by widows of the late Wilson Morton, killed in the Wanstead diseaster. Morton first lived in Toronto, and later in Chicago. In 1900 he received a divorce in Chicago from Amy Florence Morton, the arrested members of the Humbert his Toronto wife, which the latter now claims was secured without notice to her. He then married Maud Morton at Chicago. Both women have issued writs against the railway, and the company is seeking to consolidate the actions, and first to have the issue tried as to which is the proper widow to press the claim against the company.

is the best medicine on earth.' Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood and entirely eradicates the poisons that breed and feed disease. It cures scrofula, eczema, erysipelas, boils, pimples and other eruptions that mar and scar the skin. Pure blood is essential to good health. The weak, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people experience is commonly the effect of impure blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery not only cleanses the blood of impurities, but it increases the activity of the bloodmaking glands, and it enriches the body with an abundant supply of pure, rich blood.

BEE COLONY INSPECTION

Brood Discussed.

Addresses by Prof. Harrison and Mr. C. C. James-Resolutions.

Brantford, March 5.-The conference of beekeepers of Brant and adjoining counties was concluded here yesterday afternoon. Prof. Harrison discussed coul brood, which is very prevalent in Ontario at present. The disease is appreading, and the practical question with call was how to get rid of the with all was how to get rid of the difficulty. In Europe the methods adopted were as follows: (1) The burning method, which consisted of burning all colonies of bees, hives and all things affected by the disease. (2) Starvation by taking away combs and letting bees make new foundations.

(3) Chemical cures, as in vogue in Europe and America and used with great success. This latter method in-cluded treatment by gas and chemicals. The gas is said to be exceptionally usemethods the speaker strongly recom-

Mr. William McEvoy, foul brood inspector for Ontario, also spoke on foul brood, stating that a few years ago there was more of the disease in Canida than in any other country in the world. He traced the work of inspection in the province during recent years, and claimed that it was most successful in every particular. He did not think that county inspectors were

Mr. J. D. Evans, of Islington, thought hat the present system was faulty. There were 91 bee yards inspected last year, at a cost of $775. Of these 60 had no foul brood, a fact which, he said, might have been discovered at trifling expense. There were 10,000 bee-keepers in the province, and he suggested that the Legislature appoint one or more men in each county to inspect colonies and to report to the president of the county association.

Mr. R. F. Holterman, of Brantford, believed that every colony in the province should be inspected every three years, and that there should be an inspector in each county, whose salary should be paid by the county council and the Provincial Legislature.

Mr. C. C. James, Deputy Minister of

Agriculture for the Province, gave a brief address, in which he strongly ad-vised united action on the part of beekeepers of the province in order to further the work. The importance of the industry should be brought more carefully before the attention of the

A resolution was adopted asking the Minister of Agriculture for the Province to arrange to have Prof. Harrison investigate the results of certain treatment in foul brood diseases.

The following resolution was also adopted: "We, as beekeepers assembled, ask the Ontario Minister of Agriculture to amend the foul brood act so that wherever there is a county or disassociation of beekeepers they will have the privilege of appointing a local inspector of apiaries, subject to the approval of the Minister of Agriculture, the terms of remuneration to be fixed by the Minister, said sub-inspector to be paid out of the provincial grant for the inspection of bees.

This is the only

secret of their success. Cathartic pills never have and never can cure indigestion and stomach troubles because they act entirely on the bowels, whereas the whole trouble is really in the stomach. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets taken after meals digest the food. That is all there is to it. Food not digested or half digested is poison, as it creates gas, acidity, headaches, palpitation of heart, loss of flesh and appetite, and many other troubles which are often called by some other name. 56th Annual Report

THE YEAR'S BUSINESS.-The applications for new assurances received were 5,022 in number, and $10,687,672 in amount. The number of policies issued was 4,736, representing assurances of $9,734,002. Two hundred and seventy applications for an aggregate of $712,308 were declined-the lives coming up to the company's high standard; and the balnot was deferred or incomplete at the close of the year. compared with the previous year, there was an increase As 1,077 in the number of policies issued, and $1,972,871 in amount. of The new policies actually paid for in cash again show a satisfactory increase over previous year. These were 4,103 in number, representing new assurances of $8,398,386, constituting the largest year's business in the company's history. The total assurances now in force ful in the elimination of foul brood germs. In commenting on the various THE INCOME.—The net promises of $4,745,602 during the year.

THE INCOME.—The net premium and annuity income amounted to $2,615,171 81, and the income from interest to $1,098,968 07, including $14,-085 58 profit on sale of securities, making a total net income (exclusive of payments on account of capital stock), of $3,714,139 88-an increase of $196,522 65, as compared with 1901. THE PAYMENTS. - The death claims paid during the year amounted to $1,179,370, an increase of $16,272 over those paid in 1901. Including bonus additions the death claims, endowments and annuities paid in 1902, amounted to $1,442,920 85, while $162,457 04 was paid as surrender values and cash dividends to policyholders, making total payments to policyholders $1,605,377 89.

THE ASSETS. - The total assets at Dec. 31, 1902, as shown by the balance sheet amount to $25,964,932 50, being an increase of $1,460,142 over 1901deducting the $37,000 received from calls on capital stock, the natural increase is $1,423,142-a growth which your directors think is very satisfactory.

THE LIABILITIES. - The valuation of the company's liabilities again made on the Institute of Actuaries Hm. 31/2 per cent table for all business secured prior to Jan. 1, 1900, and on the same table with 3 per cent interest for policies issued since Dec. 31, 1899. In valuing on this conservative and stringent basis the Canada Life retains its unique position among the older established companies of having accomplished the necessary change to the higher standard of reserves. After providing for these reserves and all other liabilities, except capital stock, there remains a surplus on policyholders' account of $1,831,718—an increase of $483,012 during the year.

REVIEW. - The year just closed has been one of progress and advancement in all branches of business, and that this company has fully participated in the general growth is clearly evidenced by the figures which the directors are able to submit for your approval. The increases in assets, interest, and premium income, and in assurances in force, are very satisfactory, while the larger amount of assurances applied for indicates the growing popularity of the company in the different fields in which it is represented. While no new territory has been entered during the year, considerable progress has been made in extending and improving the organization in those States and Provinces where we were already licensed to do business. Arrangements were also completed during the year to commence business in Great Britain on the 1st of January, 1903, and having secured suitable offices in London, and selected a manager, we confidently look forward to satisfac-

The President, Hon. Geo. A. Cox, in moving the adoption of the report, spoke in part as follows:

For the first time in our history, the proposals for assurance submitted to the directors exceeded in amount ten and a half millions of dollars, and showed an increase over those offered in the previous year of $2,220,429. It it gratifying to note that over one-third of this increase was derived from our Canadian agencies.

The actual claims incurred in 1901 amounted to $1,256,206, including bonuses, while those of 1902 amounted to $1,110,006, also including bonuses. a decrease of $146,200. Our actual death claims for 1902 were materially lower than we were led by the Table of Mortality to expect. This, I am sure, will be most satisfactory to the policyholders and shareholders alike, emphasizing, as it does, the great care which has always been exercised in the acceptance of proposals for assurance. I take this opportunity of pointing out a fallacious method frequently used by inexperienced persons in comparing the death rates of different companies-that is, by comparing the average number of deaths per thousand, without regard to the age of the Company, or the duration of the risks. Without an actuarial investigation of the claims expected at each age, and a comparison with the claims actually incurred at each age, it is impossible to tell whether one company has had a more favorable mortality than another. In fact, a well managed and old-established company, with a mortality rate of 13 per thousand, may experience a much larger relative saving in mortality than a young company with an average death rate of 7 per thousand. In connection with payment of death claims, it may be interesting to mention that since the inception of the company the total claims incurred, including bonus additions, amount to $16,257,923 39. In addition to profits paid with claims, a further sum of $7,130,163 59 has been returned to policyholders as dividends, while other items, such as annuities and surrender values, increase the grand total of payments to policyholders and their heirs to $25,318,545 86; and we hold for the security of our policyholders today cash assets of $25,964,932 50. After the payment of all expenses of management and taxes the company has paid or credited to policyholders $6,731,843 in excess of the amount actually paid by them.

As stated in the report, our policy liabilities have again been valued upon the company's severe standard-the rate of interest used being 31/2 per cent for all business up to the end of 1899, and 3 per cent for business issued since that date.

Since the report was issued, we have received an official certifi-cate from the commissioner of insurance for the State of Michigan, and it will no doubt be of interest to compare this official certificate with the valuation made by the company's own actuarial department, as follows: Valuation of policies on company's own standard $23,877,612 Valuation by Michigan Insurance commissioner 22,485,879

It will thus be seen that the company holds reserves of almost $1,400,000 in excess of those required by the American standard. This large difference is accounted for by the fact that the company uses 3 and 31/2 per cent rate of interest in its valuation, while the American law requires only 4 per cent.

Once in five years the Dominion insurance department values our Once in five years the Dominion insurance department values our policy liabilities, and it will be remembered that a year ago we were able to make comparisons of our own reserves with the valuation made by the Dominion department, when it was shown that we held reserves of $2,565,198 in excess of the Dominion Government standard, which requires a 4½ per cent interest basis for business up to the end of 1899, and 3½ per cent after that date. As intimated in the report the company continues to held the unique position of being the report, the company continues to hold the unique position of being the only old-established company in Canada or the United States that has succeeded in transferring the whole of its policy liabilities to the new and higher standard of reserve.

In the history of the company, Jan. 1, 1903, will mark an epoch as being the date when the company opened business in Great Britain, with head office at 14 King William street, London, England. Thicago, March 5.—Wheat—There was a rious break 4n wheat today, the May rice declining from 7½ to 15½ c. Tractional ecoveries came late, but the closing tone was weak and heavy, indicative of still further declines, because of lack of support. Afthough the price broke through the 7% point, it was expected that resting orders on the buying side would come out, and they were not in evidence, and a rush followed to sell wheat, although bought at higher prices. The Northwest was a heavy seller all day, and large quantities of long wheat came out on stop-loss orders for both local and outside account. The recent acquisition by this company of leases on 360 acres additional in the Wheatley District makes its control of oil lands now cover 1,890 acres in all, thus increasing its assets by nearly 25 per cent, with a corresponding increase in the intrinsic value of its stock. The fact that this addition was also made without drawing a dollar from its rapidly accumulating treasury funds, evidences the intent of its directors to continue the success of the company's operations, and intent of its directors to continue the success of the company's operations, and let no opportunity pass to maintain its substantial character and leading position among Canadian enterprises.

At the customary oil field reckoning of one well to an acre, the probable output from these properties is almost beyond computation. The Wheatley property adjoins the several wells drifted and operated by the Union Gas and Oil Company, and is considered a very valuable acquisition; while President Woodward, of the Dominion Company, advises us that by the installation of the air compressor he expects to increase the output of the famous Gurd Gusher to 400 or 500 barrels a day—and this product is now bringing a higher price than any other petroleum oil on the North American Continent. Contracts are also under way for the immediate development of the Wheatley property, where a good quality of oil has been found. of oil has been found.

In view of these facts, as well as the sound financial position now occupied by the company, the directors have decided that, in simple justice to the company itself and its shareholders, the sale of stock shall

Close at 35c Saturday, March 14, and that the price shall Advance to 50c Monday, March 16.

The company is now paying dividends on one per cent monthly on par ($100 per share, fully paid and non-assessable), which at the present figure of 35c is practically 36 per cent per annum on the investment. The next dividend will be payable April 1, to all stockholders of record March 26th; but those who subscribe by March 14th will secure a 3 per cent monthly investment. We earnestly advise all who desire an interest in these wonderful fields to subscribe now, and thus make sure of the greater income, and the greater profit possible by the advanced market value of the stock.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAP-TER: The story presupposes a diplomatic intrigue between Great Britain and France, and the political parties therein. Marion Sitgreaves, niece of Sir Gordon Revelstoke, Home Secretary, is in love with Brent Noel, his young protege. But Noel, having first taken a fancy to her, has settled his affection on Margot, Sir Gordon's pretty daughter. Marion is jealous, and listens to a private conversation between Lord Reckworth (the Foreign Secretary), Sir Gordon Revelstoke and Brent. The last-named is commissioned to take a secret packet of great importance to a beautiful actress, Mlle.Juliette de Nevers, who is acting as a British spy or "agent" in Paris. Brent and this lady are very friendly with each other. Marion determines to use the facts to her own mean advantage.

"Why, Marion!" she exclaimed, when I knocked and entered. "You dressed already! Have you had a bad night?" "Yes, I have, rather," I answered. "Margot, I should like to talk with you about something. It's quite important. But if you'd prefer to hear it after breakfast I suppose I must

This meant that Potter was to go, and so she understood it. "Will you have your breakfast in your room just the same, miss," she asked me, "or will you be going downstairs?"

"I think I'll go down," I replied. If Margot were able to breakfast with her father after the conversation we were about to have, I thought that it would be wise for me to go with her, lest by any chance Noel Brent should still be in the house.

Potter went out and Margot and I were alone together. 1 sat behind her and could watch her reflection in the long mirror.

"Well," she said, "what are you going to tell me?" Two things," I replied. "One has to do with last night, and one with this morning. They are both very interesting. But first you must promise secredly that you will never breathe a word to Uncle Gordon or anyone else." "Why, of course, I won't breathe a word," she echoed. "You know, I never tell things when I'm asked not to." "You promise and swear, whatever happens to make you want to change your mind?"

"I hope I never broke a promise yet," insisted, quite indignantly. 'And I do promise you now. Has some body been proposing to you?"

"No," I replied hurriedly. told me, though, that he meant to propose to somebody else. That's the part of my story which belongs to last

A brilliant color sprang to Margot's face. But all she said was "Oh!" "You know we have been very good friends, that man and I," I went on. 'So it wasn't strange that he should confide in me." "You have often said very unkind things about your friend," retorted Margot," with a touch of irritation, "if you mean Mr. Brent." "I've only said what is perfectly true -that he is an artful flirt," I replied, quietly. "Everyone knows that. He quietly. "Everyone knows that. He's a dear, sweet fellow, and awfully good-looking and fascinating, and all that, but the question is, whether he would be safe to fall in love

"Yes, that is the question," remarked Margot in a low voice. By this tihe she was hooking up her pale blue muslin morning dress; and I could see her hands tremble-those pretty, childish-looking little dimpled hands that men said such foolish things about. I was glad that they trembled. "I-perhaps I might be able to answer it to your satisfaction, though I'm not quite sure," I purposely stammered. "What do you mean?" "I'm afraid it wouldn't be quite fair to-to anyone, for me to explain unless you're willing to tell me first whether you accepted Mr. Brent or not. Will you tell me that?" Margot had fastened her frock and had nervously taken a pink, half-blown rose from a vase on her dressing-table. Now she stood looking down at it, making an excuse of picking off the

AT THEIR CRYSTAL WEDDING So the Regular Meeting of No. 2 Com-

Merry Party Entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hart, Westminster.

The home of Mr. Henry Hart, con. 2 Westminster, was the scene of a very festive gathering on the evening of March 2, when Mr. and Mrs. Hart the entertained about 75 of their friends, general assembly at Vancouver by the the occasion being the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage. About 9 o'clock the inspiring strains of violins brought the devotees of the terpsichopital, where he is undergoing a third rean art to the room which had been arranged for dancing, and for several hours lancers, two-steps and cakewalk followed in quick succession. In the other rooms cards, games and music were being enjoyed by the remainder of the company. At 12 o'clock an exceedingly bountiful and elaborate supper was served, and when dancing was again resumed a number of the older people of the fashioned quadrilles, polkas and Scotch reels, which proved to be the hit of the evening. The number of useful and beautiful presents which Mr. and Mrs. Hart received testified to the esteem of their large circle of acquaintances. The music was especially worthy of mention, Messrs. Curry, of Derwent, being assisted by Mr. Hart and Mr. Beatty, while Mrs. McMillan, of London, presided at the piano.

The merry party dispersed about 3 o'clock a.m., carrying away memoirs of a most delightful evening, and hoping their host and hostess may have many years to come as happy and prosperous as those of the past.

cottage in the south end of the city, where it was known that there was a need for a church at that time. That was in the year 1890, and Rev. G. W. Henderson, who was at that time pastor of the Wellington Street Church, had a mission started there. Inside of two years from the time that the mission was started in that little cottage, which they had rented on Emery street, the attendance had grown so much that it was necessary to find more accommodation, and it was decided to build a mission church of their own. This was done and since that time the church has prospered and the debt has been all paid off, as stated above.
