Ottawa, April 12. — At noon today
It is still Monday on Parliament Hill, though it is Tuesday in other parts of the capital and the dominion. "Goodof the capital and the dominion. "Good-morning! It is a nice morning yesterday, isn't it?" That is something like the greetings that are being passed by weary legislators, upon whose continued efforts the sun has set and risen again. It is the first real all-night again. It is the first real all-night again, but on the present occasion it is upon ships of peace, not ships of war. The naval blockade went fourteen lays, with but one Sunday intermission, and there were 24 hours in each shortly before dawn broke Dr. Blake sion, and there were 24 hours in each day. That was before closure was invented, however. Now that closure is vented, however. Now that closure is on the statute books there can never be another like it. PROCRASTINATION

Case of Dependents Causing Much Worry to Some People.

The work of supplying information and of filing returns shows no signs of slacking off at the office of the inof what constitutes a dependent is a thing that appears to afford great dif-ficulty to many people, and the officials are kept busy putting matters in their true light. For example, one man claimed that his mother who was liv-ing with him and his wife, was a deendent, and on this being looked into was found that far from being in the position of a dependent this woma was the mainstay of the family

Another case was that of a grown-up to a single man, and who, instead of being a dependent, was looking after the house and was quite capable of earning her own living. Sometimes it earning her own living. Sometimes it happens that two individuals claim the same dependent, and, of course, this is an impossible position, and is not permitted by law.

At the present time when so many inquiries are pouring in, it is pointed out by the income tax officials that if a policy of procrastination is per-sisted in, either in the filing of returns or in asking for information, some people will find that they have made a flooded by inquiries towards the end of the month, it is extremely probable that a large number of these must remain unanswered.

The formal request of street railway employees for a wage scale of 52 cents an hear was forwarded to Charles Currie, president of the road, at Akron, Ohio, today. As soon as some pronouncement in regard to it is received from him it is probable that another conference of the company officials and the union executive will be called. A three-hour discussion Monday failed to produce any definite results. The representatives of the men stood firm by their request for 32 cents an hour. While company officials would not accede to this they made no counter-proposals. PROTESTS DELAY IN CONFIRMING GRANT TO Silk Shirts and WESTERN UNIVERSITY

Shortly before press time today the police in this city discovered that Henry Jack Williams, one of the three captured bandits, had given a fictitious name. His real name is William Henry Baughan. Melbourne, April 12.-The whole countryside appears to be search his guests before allowing them to ride in his car or run the risk of havwanted by the police for complicity in the hold-up and murder at Melbourne on Monday. A vigorous search is being made in every direction in which the fugitive may have headed, and the woods and swamps are being assiduously searched in the hope that he may be lurking in the neighborhood.

So far, however, no capture has been made, but the authorities are confident that the man may be located before he has got very far from the scene of the crime.

On Monday evening, a farmer named George Corcoran saw a man answering to the description of "Pat" on the second concession of Caradoc. He went down a sideroad and thence across a field. When last seen the fugitive was south of the Grand Trunk Railway tracks, and was heading in the direction of London.

When first seen by Mr. Corcoran, the man was lying down at the side of the road on the town line, about half a mile south of the old second concession. Mr. Corcoran asked how he was, and the man replied that he was all right. He had sandy hair and a fair complexion, and wore a peaked cap. He did not wear glasses, although he was wearing them when he left Melbourne. The man was of a medium height and fairly well built. The shoes which he wore were not of the rough description worn by farm hands, but were of a lighter make. He also had on a grey

He was afterwards seen going in the direction of some vacant farm houses, and it is thought that he may have taken refuge in some of these buildings.

Acting on this theory, the police are making a thorough search in this quarter and may possibly locate the mysterious fugitive.

and will be put in operation tomorrow. One of the outstanding features of these changes will be a readjustment of the party line system, by which it will be possible to have about 2,000 additional lines to draw upon as occasion requires and opportunity affords. Of course, in this connection, it is out of the question to imagine that in the event of these additional lines being applied for, they can be installed all at once, because it can readily be understood that the work of installation will take considerable time, and that the work must necessarily be spread over a considerable period, but applications will be considered in their proper order, and it will only be a matter of time until the telephone service of London is such that it will be one of the best served cities in Canada.

At the present time as many as 80,-000 calls per day are handled at the local office, and the amount of work that this entails upon the operators can well be judged. With the extended upon that this entails upon the operators can well be judged. With the extensions which are now to be entered upon the number of calls, will, of course, be greatly increased, and it follows, as a matter of consequence, that the equipment necessary for coping with this has to be greatly extended.

This extension of the operating apparatus has already been carried out in anticipation of the improvements in the service which take effect on Wednesday.

Yesterday The Advertiser was shown the large operating room on the upper story of the extended buildings on Clarence street, and had an object lesson on the additions which have been made to the switchboard accommodation in order to handle the new party line system and the large number of additional telephones which will be the consequence of the facilities now being provided.

Give Suffix Letter.

A practical demonstration of the operation of the new party line installations was given to The Advertiser by the local manager, C. H. Beard. Under this system the suffix "W" is placed at the end of the telephone number of the one part, and the suffix "J" is appended to the number of the other party, and it is extremely important when sending in a call to quote the suffix letter as well as the number, in order that the operator may make the proper connection, the "W" number being distinguished on the keyboard by the color black, while the "J" number is distinguished by red.

tion, the "W" number being distinguished on the keyboard by the color black, while the "J" number is distinguished by red.

Under the former system it was unnecessary to quote these letters, and they were merely used for the convenience of the operator, so that the proper call could be answered, but, as indicated, it is now highly necessary that they be used along with the number. Under the old system three distinct numbers were involved in the group, but now one of these has been released in each case, and this is how such a large number of additional telephones will be available as time goes on.

Standardization of Methods.

A revision of certain numbers is also being effected, so that the grouping system may be made more perfect, and generally speaking, a complete standardization of the methods is taking place, so as to bring London into line with the other large cities.

Another important change which will take place coincidently with the initiation of the new party line system on Wednesday is the issues of a smaller sized and more compact telephone directory. The new directory, with a page about half the area of that which has hitherto been in use, will also put into effect a method of listing which is at once more convenient and more logical than the old style. When you look in the directory, preparatory to making a call, you are looking first of all for a certain surname, then come the initials, and, by way of further verification, the occupation and address of error in repeating it are reduced. In adopting this style of listing, where the eye travels the full width of the column from left to right before getting the number, it was desirable to get away from the wide column with the useless blank space as in the old type of directory. The narrow columns make for accuracy and speed in calling numbers, as has been proved in larger cities, where three, four and even five columns per page have been adopted.

Saving in Paper.

The new directory, besides being more convenient and legible for subscribers consul present.

Other improvements in the general operation of the system are in contemplation, and will be announced in due time, and every effort is being made by the management to give London the most up-to-date service that is available.

Attention of G. W. V. A. Called To Anti-British Article in Iconoclast.

Secretary J. W. Cunliffe of the local Great War Veterans' Association, received a communication from J. R. Patterson, 28 Simpson avenue. Toronto, Monday, which included an extract from the Iconoclast, a paper published in Chicago and edited by "Hon." Charles Windle. The article was published in the March issue of the paper.

The extract reads: "Was such civilization worth saving? Is this heartless old hag, England, clothed in garments of lust, loot and murder, worthy of the life of the humblest son of Columbia who died in France? He thought he gave his life for the honor of a Vestal Virgin about to be ravished by the Hills. America threw all her resources into the fight with the same idea, but we find instead of a Vestal Virgin we fought to free a vile old Prostitute that she might parade her shame and infamy throughout the world."

Mr. Windle spoke in Toronto recently under the Liberty League auspices. In reference to the announcement that Mr. Windle will come to London on Friday next to speak in the Armorles in the interests of the Liberty League, a member of the local referendum committee said: "I cannot believe that the veterans of this city will allow such a man of the calibre of Windle, who is anti-British, to speak here.

Mr. Cunliffe refused to say what action would be taken by the veterans, but it is expected that an apology will be asked for.

The duty of the liver is to prepare and secrete bile and serve as a filter to the blood, cleansing it of all impurities and poisons.

When the liver becomes lazy, slow or torpid it is not working properly, and does not supply sufficient bile to thoroughly act on the bowels and carry off the waste products of the system, hence the bowels become clogged up, the bile gets into the blood, constipation sets in and liver troubles follow.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Fills quickly remove the secretions, clear away the waste and effete matter by acting directly on the liver, and making the bile and secretions.

No announcement was made of the settlement of the action brought by the St. Marys Milling Company against Angus McMaster of Ekfrid Township. The plaintiffs claimed $316.33 as the rebate due them on the price paid the defendant for a car of wheat. It was alleged that there was a small shortage and that in addition it was necessary to reclean the grain with a certain amount of wastage. The defendant declared that there was no provision as to the quality of the grain.

Claiming breach of contracts which caused them damages to the extent of $348.50, M. White & Son reached a settlement with the defendants, the Brantford Metal Company. Originally the plaintiffs were given judgment on account of failure of the defendants to enter a defence, but later, by consent of the parties, the Brantford company were allowed to put in a defence.

CLEVER PRODUCTION OF "THE OPEN DOOR"

One-Act Play Staged by the Drama League Enthusiastically Received.

When between 400 and 500 people crowded into the Cronyn Memorial Parish Hall last evening to witness the presentation of Alfred Sutro's attractive one-act drama, "The Open Door," by J. Stanley Meredith and Mrs. Lyne-Brone it was a public appropriement Evens, it was a public announcement that the London Drama League had increased its membership to an enormous extent during the past few weeks, for every one of the audience was a member. And rumor has it that also a large percentage of the new membership was unable to be present last night. The presentation of the play, however, and a dramatic reading of Browning's poem, "Tocatto of Galluppi," which preceded it, further proclaimed publically that the Drama League is an institution worthy of support, because it stands for the study of drama in its most artistic form.

"The Open Door" is a masterpiece of chaste dramatic art, and it had a beautiful setting last night, when into the "blue room" of the play, were whimsically introduced the old gothic windows of the church hall. Mrs. Lyne-Evens, as Lady Torminster, was a brilliant interpreter of the part. Her delightful languor, her poise and her temperament made itself felt upon her audience, impressing them subtly with the character of the women she portrayed. Mrs. Lyne-Evens is a consummate artist, ont only in the "getting-across" of her lines, and in her stage presence, but in the simple art of smoking a cigarette. J. Stanley Mrs. Wm. Earnshaw, Apsley, Ont., writes: "Last winter I caught a bad cold, had a sore throat and a terrible for. I could not sleep at night. I tried quite a few remedies, but they did not on many years ago, and in which the London quite a few remedies, but they did not one work of the part. I tried quite a few remedies, but they did not one much good until I got Dr. Wood's new parts ago. and in which the London quite a few remedies, but they did not one much good until I got Dr. Wood's new parts ago. and in which the London quite a few remedies, but they did not one much good until I got Dr. Wood's new parts ago. Evens, it was a public announcement that the London Drama League had increased its membership to an enor-mous extent during the past few weeks, meredith, playing opposite her, was seen in a role such as the London public has not seen him in since the days of the governor-general's competition many years ago, and in which the London public might well wish to see him soon again. As "Sir Geoffrey Transome," the only other actor in the play, his work was indeed excellent. Still further to his credit goes the plans for the exquisite stage setting and the direction of the play.

The theme of the play is the common one of love for another man's wife, but with this difference, the little drama is played with an "open door" and bridled passion, finding its dose in a chaste "farewell." An exquisite little play in an exquisite setting, exquisitely well done, is what can be said of it.

The presentation of the Browning selection was also a piece of dramatic art. It was introduced by a delightful paper on the "Toccato of Galluppi" by Miss Grace Blackburn, who directed the presentation. Miss Gladys Wright acted as the reader, while prophetic voices from the scenes came forth from the dimly-lit stage, and then Miss Helen Baker, Miss Shirley White, Rev. G. Q. Warner, Mr. Reynolds and Bateman Edwards were speaking. The musical accompaniment to the whole was beautifully rendered by Miss Madeline Simson. A group of piano numbers from Debussy by Miss Madeline Simson and a tenor solo, "Mother Earth," by Rev. G. Q. Warner, brought this most excellent program to a close. A pretty feature of the evening was the presentation of a large armful of roses to Mrs. Lyne-Evans and to Miss Grace Blackburn.

MAY APPLY THE CLOSURE. The indications from Ottawa are that it is the intention of the Government to force through, by closure if necessary, the interim supply bill presented by the minister of finance on Thursday last, and which was withdrawn on that day because of a technicality. When the bill was first introduced the Government fully realized that it would not go through without strong objection on the part of the Opposition, which takes the same view that, while salaries and other pressing needs must be met, moneys for other purposes cannot be voted blindly, or without review of very item. Premier Meighen intimated frankly that he would rely upon his majority to put the bill through. Hence, if the Opposition continues to object, closure may be employed, and that soon, for the Government needs the money. The total amount of the bill is in the neighborhood of a hundred million dollars, and even the

"For many reasons," said Mr. Foster, in touching on this phase of the subject, "speculators are no longer investors in Canadian lands Their money is being turned to other channels. There has been no effort in recent years to interest men with capital. Moreover, of the many corporations formerly dealing in land and financed by capital from the United States, only two or three remain active. "On the other hand, during the last few years war prices prevailed in the United States as elsewhere, and practically every commodity brought top figures. Renters were brought top figures. Renters were making money on high-priced land in the States, intending to move eventually to cheaper land in Canada or elsewhere. The slump in prices for grain and cattle last autumn made it possible for thousands of these farmers to move. As a result, the influx of settlers has been retarded by at least the proportion of these farmers who had intended moving to Canada. "The burning problem in Canada today is more people. In this connection let it be said that Canadians must organize at home, not

Canadians must interest themselves in the new settlers socially, educationly and financially. They must eve the newcomer of any po feeling that he is entering into a country where customs are different from those with which he has been surrounded. This will be a powerful aid to all immigration

Through the efforts of the Can Government immigration in the United States and the immigration department of the Canadian National Railways, working in close co-operation, about 5,000 families located along the lines of the Canadian National Railways in 1920. These people brought with them many millions of dollars in cash, besides over a thousand cars of household and other personal effects. Such records as are obtainable show that the average amount of land taken up by American settlers is well over a half-section

"Railway statisticians, according to the Monetary Times, have computed that a farmer with his famoperating a half-section in Western Canada, produces a gross annual revenue to the railways of $743. These figures are regarded a many observers placing the amount at practically $1,000.

"On this basis, 5,000 settlers op erating a half-section each provide an annual revenue to the Canadian National Railways of from $3,500, 000 to $5,000,000. "The figures give material for serious thought. For one thing, they clearly show how essential it is that everybody in Canada join in the task of making the problems of the incoming farmer as light as pos-sible. Certainly everybody in Canade benefits from the settlement of new lands and development of the country. Such development can best be brought up to full speed by the co-operation of all Canadians at home.

TAXING CONSUMPTION.

[Topeka State Journal.] The American Government has, in the past, derived its tax revenues almost wholly from consumption taxes, in the form of duties on imports, and taxes on liquors and tobacco. Of $1, 150,000,000 total tax revenue collected during the Civil War over 75 per cent came from consumption taxes, while in 1913, 95 per cent of the late Govon merchandise sold. Here is unques tionable evidence that the American people are not facing any new problem in a sales tax of 1 per cent when year after year they have been paying 35 per cent to 60 per cent and even higher taxes in the prices of imported goods without so much as questioning transaction. A minimum tax of 1 per cent will liquidate our enormous war debts, and the American people will forget their present tax worries be able to give their entire attention to business. The sales tax is bound to be met in a straight-forward, honest manner by practically 100 per cent of the community. It cannot be and it is so small that no one would Baldness of the common type may be said to be of systemic or constitutional origin in every case, never a local condition merely. Therefore no mere "hair tonic" or remedy or treatment applied to the scalp can be properly said to restore the hair.

There are certain local conditions which do cause special types of baldness, however. Among them are tinea (ringworm), favus, ezzema, and seborrheic inflammation of the scalp (oily dandruff).) Such local disease conditions, of course, call for appropriate local treatment by the physician or skin specialist, and not by barbers, hair-dressers and self-styled beauty doctors. If she will write to me I could supply her with ome real nice patterns as I have made three just lately and they all look real nice. But, listen, Boxites, don't you think it would have been more interesting to read Ura Kidd's Pal's letters had we known that they were only dreams she was relating when telling about the Franklin car and all those extreme luxuries? But let us all wish her luck and that those dreams may all be realized some time in the future. Aren't the letters that Heart of the Night Wind sends in interesting.

Wet Grounds Gave Buzz the Time To Lay Off Two More Try-Outs For Berths

Old Guelph Champs, and Who Hit Like Fiend Game, Going, and Babb, a Second Sacker.

[By G. H. Townsley.] DELAWARE, Ohio, April 11.—
Wet grounds kept the infielders off the diamond today, but the outfielders were given a chase this morning and again this afternoon, when Wetzel took his aggregation of Londoners out of the cages, where they have been working since Friday. The entire crowd was given a romp on the turf to keep them off the sore arm list. Two more of the rookie bunch were released today when Buzz called for the togs of Babb, an aspiring second baseman, and Benzie, who was trying for any berth, infield or the garden. Late this afternoon Carmen and Wheeler put in their appearance and immediately asked for their togs. They did not arrive in fime for practice, but they were an anxious pair when they spied Buzz and his bat swingers on the Ohio Wesleyan lot. The rest of the veterans are to get in tonight, and are ordered to report Tuesday before noon. Whether the remainder of the training season will be an uphill fight against the elements, no one knows, but the weatherman promises rising temperature and fair skies, the one ray of hope today, which was a considerable improvement over Sunday.

SOCCER KICK-OFFS

With the exception of the avalanche started against Grand Trunk Wasps by Public Utilities, nothing untoward happened in the opening games of the London and District League except an awfully good brand of soccer. Public Utilities must be connected up with some of the "juice" they work with, the pace they've set on their two appearance. However, some of the knowing ones say they are riding for a fall, and have the ditch aiready picked out for them.

The attendance, considering the weather, was extremely good, and augurs well for the season. Last year attendance crept from the odd few to hundreds, and almost into the thousands at the end of the season. That following will be on hand to start the next games off this year, and some real crowds ought to develop from this start.

Resta's Going To Test Cars At Brooklands

Conflicting Opinions in House Regarding Proposal of Premier Drury.

Bill Is Passed Which Will Simplify Financing of

[Special to The Advertiser.]
TORONTO, April 11.—Contending, despite all assurances to the contrary, that Premier Drury's bill to facilitate assessment reform meant higher taxes, two Toronto members, J. E. Thompson and Hon. Thos. Crawford, vigorously opposed the measure in committee of the Legislature today. Hon. G. H. Ferguson, Conservative leader, was against it, and so was J. A. Calder, Liberal member for North Oxford. H. Means Redistribution.

To the insistent declaration of Conservatives that lower assessment on land than on improvements meant higher taxes, Premier Drury replied: "It doesn't affect taxation. It simply affects a redistribution of taxation. If I had a house and a lot and the assessment on my house was lowered, and that on my land was raised, so that the total under the redistribution simply equalized the former total assessment, it would not matter to me."

Motion Carried.

A motion by J. B. Sinclair (Antigonish) for the production of all papers regarding the taking over and operating of Dalton Sanatorium carried.

In support of his resolution Mr. Casgrain declared that the present service given was unsatisfactory to residents all along the route, and the vessel used was too P. F. Casgrain (Charlevoix-Montgomery) moved a resolution declaring that an up-to-date steamship service would be established between Murray Bay and Tadousac, Quebec. In support of his resolution Mr. Casgrain declared that the present service given was unsatisfactory to residents all along the route, and the vessel used was too small. She was unable to make the trip during rough weather.

Edmond Savard (Chicoutimi-Saguenay) supported the resolution. He considered the Government had neglected its duty in withdrawing the subsidy for the ferry service. Responsibility had been passed to the Quebec Provincial Government.

Were Without Mall.

An appeal to Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce, had been unavailing, and, accordingly, fifteen to twenty parishes extending from Tadousac to Labrador, had found themselves without mail for some weeks. A population of from 12,000 to 15,000 had nesday be held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon instead of at 2 as at the beginning of the session. Speaking in support of the resolution, Mr. Fielding advocated a continuance of the Wednesday evening recess, which provided members with an opportunity to keep social engagements. He thought that the support of the House would be Monday.

There was little or no business done after 11 o'clock at night. Members of committees were supposed to attend them in the morning, and if the House sat until the small hours, it was very hard on them. It was very foolish on them. It was very foolish on the sat until the small hours, it was very hard on them. It was very foolish on the sat until the small hours, it was very hard on them. It was very foolish on the local was not being made by them.

Opposes Resolution.

H. S. Stevens (Vancouver Centre) opposed the resolution. Members from a distance who were forced to stay in Ottawa from the beginning to the end of the session, objected to restricting the hours. They were willing to sit later if the business could be put through, and they could get home. Mr. Stevens said that there was a regular exodus of members from Quebec and Eastern Ontario on Friday, and many of these members did not return until Tuesday. The result was that a sort of unwritten law had developed that no serious business should be taken up on either Friday or Monday. This was wrong. If speeches were limited, to, say, 20 minutes, and members attended all the sittings, the House would make more progress.

Dr. Michael Clark (Red Deer) agreed with Mr. Fleiding that it was unwise for the House to meet at 2 o'clock on Wednesday. He was opposed to restricting the sittings to 11 o'clock. He did not agree that very little business was a poor demand and prices slumped with Mr. Stevens that Mr. Fleiding himself had made many clever speeches much later than 11 o'clock. He agreed with Mr. Stevens that Monday and Friday should be taken as seriously by the members as any other days of the week.

FROST DID LITTLE

DAMAGE AT CRAIG

AILSA CRAIG, April 11.—The damage from frost in this district will not be vary heavy, as far as can be judged by reports from the countryside. Farmers are very busy with their spring work, and are making good progress.

The funeral of Rachel McLean wife of William J. Smith, was held from her late home on the 18th concession, West Williams, on Saturday afternoon, and Williams, on Saturday afternoon, and was largely attended. She was in her 38th year, and was only ill a few days, having died on Thursday. Besides her husband, she leaves her mother, Mrs.

Nelly McLean; one sister, Mrs. Ernest Philips, Falkirk; two brothers, James, in the West, and Alexander of the townline west. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Geddes, with interment to Nairn Cemetery. Mrs. George Stevenson of London is a sister of Mr. Smith.

Lloyd Saunders, who has been an employee of Adams' bakery for the past year, has resigned his position and sold his house here to Charles George. Mr. Saunders and family intend going west to make their future home.

Donald McCallum has moved from town to Springbank, where he has secured a position with Mr. John Stewart.

Prosperity Without Parallel

The growth of the City, the excellence of the management, and more cosmopolitan attitude of Torontonians towards their hotels has caused the earnings of the King Edward Hotel, since the bar was abolished, to exceed all previous returns.

These conditions have brought great profit to those who bought King Edward Hotel Securities a few years ago. They have not only received their bond interest regularly, but their Common Stock (given as a bonus) is now paying them 10%.

An equally profitable investment is offered to buyers of the 8% Cumulative Preferred Shares of the King Edward Construction Company Limited. They are assured of 11% on their money as follows: 8% on their Preferred Shares unconditionally guaranteed, and 10% on their Common Stock Bonus (as soon as the hotel addition is in operation).

For these reasons we recommend this investment. This investment will yield 11%. Write now for descriptive circular.

Corns Will Go

while you sleep-if you do this

APPLY Blue-jay to a corn tonight—the liquid or the plaster. It is done in a moment. The corn ache will end; the removal of the corn will begin. Hour by hour Blue-jay will gently undermine that corn. In a little while the corn will loosen and come out.

The way is easy, gentle, sure and scientific. A famous chemist perfected it. A laboratory of world-wide repute prepares it.

Millions of corns every year are removed by it. Countless people, by its use, keep free from corn pains always. Cease your wrong methods. Try this modern, this efficient way.

There is no need for harsh treatment, no need for soreness. And paring is futile and dangerous.

All about you are people delighted with the Blue-jay method. Find out what they know about it. Try it to-

AT PUSSYFOOT

Meeting Broken Up by Noisy Gang At the Armories.

WERE POWERLESS Temperance Speaker Finally Escorted To Ferry For Detroit.

[Soccial to The Advertiser.]

WINDSOR. April 11.—Hostile demonstrations prevented W. E. "Pussyfoot" Johnson, American prohibition advocate, speaking in the armories here tonight. Not only did the opposition to the "dry" forces drown out all attempts of the chairman, Dr. J. W. Brien of Windsor, and Rev. Dr. F. J. Oaten of Toronto, to address the gathering, but followed Mr. Johnson to the wharf, where police and friends hurried him aboard the ferry for Detroit amid the hisses and boos of a gathering of about 1,000, and a shower of missiles. "Goodby, Pussyfoot. Go home." were the parting shouts of the crowd.

Bricks Hurled.

A number of bricks were thrown at "Pussyfoot." while he was passing down Ouellette avenue, between Chatham and Pitt streets. One of the bricks struck Police Inspector Mort Wigle a glancing blow, while two other officers were also struck. At the dock the crowd was held back by the officers to allow "Pussyfoot" to board the ferry when the gangplank was hurriedly raised, Inspector Wirele accompanying Mr. Johnson to Wigle accompanying Mr. Johnson to Detroit.

Over 4,000 people crowded the armories, and from the time the meeting opened until it closed there was a continual din from all parts of the building. Police stationed in all sections were powerless to subdue the crowd, which, with cheers and singing and boos, kept up an unbroken attack on the platform. Even Chief of Police Thompson, who appeared on the platform and appealed to the audience to give a Canadian, Rev. O. C. Gray, a local minister, a chance to speak, was drowned out in the noise. out in the noise

Made No Attempt.

"Pussyfoot" Johnson did not enter the armories until shortly after 8 o'clock, when his appearance was greeted with cheers and booing This meeting was to have been the last he was to address in his Ontario tour for the "dry" forces, he having spoken in St. Thomas earlier in the day. He made no attempt to speak. Opposition was centred in the gallery at the back of the building, where the "wet" forces had been well erganized.

"The reception was all right, and was a regular bootleggers' convention," said Mr. Johnson to members of the press. "The drys say that the wets are disorderly, and the wets came tonight and proved it."

He stated that while he had quarrelled with a crowd in Kingston for some time, the opposition here was greater, while possibly not any more intense than in the eastern city. "It's a fine windup for my Ontario trip," he said. Mr. Johnson leaves for Columbus tomorrow.

Many Turned Away.

Long before the time of opening the building was crowded, and thousands were unable to gain admittance as the right wore on. The meeting opened by singing the National Anthem, led by the Salvation Army Band. Then Dr. Brien attempted to speak, but could not be heard owing to outbursts. A number of solos were rendered by a local singer, Slater Davidson. Rev. Dr. Oaten then made an effort to address the gathering, but when he could not get a hearing dicta, ed a statement to the members of the press.

demonstrations of the crowd by the playing of a number of hymns by the Salvation Army Band, in which many of theorowd joined, while the "wets" at different times staged their own songs, among the number being "How Dry I Am." Banners were displayed to the crowd by the "drys." and then some of the "wets" mounted the platform waving a British flag which hung on the wall amid the wild demonstration.

When it was seen that it would be impossible for anyone to get a hearing. "Pussyfoot" Johnson slipped out through a rear door in the building, and escorted by police and friends, made his way to the dock. JOHNSON EXHAUSTED.
ST. THOMAS, April 11.—"Pussyfoot" Johnson faced a big audience, mostly women, at the Star Theatre this afterneon. Mr. Johnson appeared to be completely exhausted, and his vocal cords to be sorely in need of some lubricants.
His voice was unheard outside the front seats of the auditorium. The time of Mr. Johnson,s stay was so limited, as he had to catch the train for Windsor, that he did not get beyond a whispered appeal, to those in hearing distance to stand by the great and saving principles of prohibition, and not to fail in their responsibilities to their families and the community.

responsibilities to their falling and the short stay in the city were a disappointment to the large crowd of sympathetic auditors. He would have had the discussion all his own way without interruption. Outwardly very liftle interest is shown in the campaign by the opponents of the affirmative.

APOLOGIZES FOR ENGAGING WINDLE

Col. Hendrie Says It Was An Error in Judgment.

HAMILTON. April 11. — Lieut.-Col. William Hendrie of this city, who introduced Charles A. Windle to the people of Hamilton last week, when Windle spoke under the auspices of the Citizens' Liberty League, has made a public apology in a statement in which he says that the Liberty League engaged Windle on his record in the Scottish fight between the prohibitionists and the antis, and did not learn of his anti-British propaganda in the United States until too late to prevent his Ontario tour.

States until too late to prevent his Ontario tour.

Col. Hendrie says, with reference to the anti-British paper of which Windle is editor:

"In March, 1921, there appeared in his paper, uncontradicted as yet, whether written by him or not, I know not, and it does not matter, a venomous attack on England, her past and her people. This cannot be overlooked, and those behind the Citizens' Liberty League would sconer go down to defeat than support a cause by such methods.

"I, therefore, offer an apology to our citizens for an error of judgment in taking Mr. Windle on his Scottish tour reputation and introducing him to our people. At the same time, I extend a like apology to those who sat on the platform with me at the meeting, their action no doubt being influenced by the

AT THE GRAND.

Almost six years ago when this old world first began to stir from its prudish simbers and to drag the covers from the sufferings and horrors, the children of her secret sins, one of the greatest sermons ever written on the morals of the human race was adapted to the motion picture screen under the name of "Damaged Goods." On Monday, for the first time since its creation, this famous film flashed a grave and the resulting flashed with the suffering in the form of acrossing the first time since its creation, this famous film flashed a grave and there is an extraction of the secret was provided to the motion picture screen under the name of "Damaged Goods." On Monday, for the first time since its creation, this famous film flashed a grave and the resulting flashed with the surface of the picture proved itself to be in no way offensive or suggestive. The delicacy with which the difficult subject was treated protective, even the moressage was given to the world. In a most direct and forceful manner.

It is flootheelly the best picture of its lacked all the crudity and much other between the flashed and well-connected story which gave ample scope for all the world. In a most direct and forceful manner, and well-connected story which gave ample scope for all the warnings which its creators wished to give the world. All service the wind dealty, sinch-working, foothsome syphilis." In a rather restricted was it tells the manner in which the deadly, sinch-working, foothsome syphilis." which gave ample scope for all the warnings which its creators wished to give the world.

The picture deals entirely with the great lurking enemy of mankind, the deadly, silent-working, loathsome syphilis." In a rather restricted way it tells the manner in which the disease is spread, laying practically the whole blame on the street girl and her associates, forgetting the while to warn against the many other ways in which the scourge is spread among the innocent. After dealing with infection, the story describes the symptoms and the effects of the disease on the infected person, laying great stress on the danger of the scourse when allowed to run its course unchecked. Perhaps the most potent warning is issued when the suffering of the innocent children born to syphilitic parents is portrayed.

when the suffering of the innocent children born to syphilitic parents is portrayed.

With great force the play exposes the quack doctors and their guaranteed three-month cure. It showed the foolishness of prudishness in dealing with the vital problem, and scathingly attacks those who would cry out against unfortunate victims, when they themselves are pure through good fortune rather than through virtue. Despite all its warning, the picture carries a ray of hope to despondent victims, for it also shows what science can accomplish in the treatment of the curse. Unfortunately, the pay could not deal with all other forms of venereal disease, which through the years have menaced the human race. But, perhaps, it is just as well, for by specializing its message it becomes more forceful.

The play dealt with the sufferings of a conscience-stricken young man of a good family who had become infected while drunk on the eve of his marriage, and who, despite the warning of his physician, married a pure, innocent girl. It will be unfortunate if anyone in this city fails to see the picture, for it has a message for everyone.

Throughout the course of the play splendid support is given to Mr. D'Orsay and his leading lady by all members of the cast, with the result that those who witnessed it were reluctant to see the curtain fall on the last scene, and left the theatre with a feeling that they would like to see it all over again.

The staging was good, and while the delight of the whole production depends mainly on the exaggerated presentation of the English mannerisms, this exaggeration is in no degree overdone or offensively handled. In fact, the most English of Englishmen could not fail to enjoy watching the play and the understanding of the quiet satire and wit running through the dialogue.

During the third act Mr. D'Orsay took the opportunity of three or four recalls to express his great appreciation of the

One of the most remarkable picture lays ever brought to this city is plays ever brought to this city is "Kazan." which is being shown at the Allen Theatre on the first four days of this week. It is adapted from James Oliver Curwood's thrilling story of the same name, and depicts in the most remarkable manner the wild life of far Northern Canada, the various scenes being so vivid that the spectator experiences all the emotions of one gazzeroen the actual scenes with all their ng on the actual scenes with all their hrills.

It is a gripping tale of a great malmute dog named "Kazan," who goes back to the wild state after the murder of his master. He is the enemy of all mankind until he comes into contact with beautiful Joan Raddison, who befriends him and sets him free from his brutal keepers. He then joins a wolf pack and becomes its leader, and has an opportunity while leading the pack of showing his appreciation of the one who befriended him when the wolves swoop down on the girl and a man trekking through the wildest part of the great northland. Kazan fights off the wolves in one of the most thrilling scenes ever depicted, and saves the same girl on two other occasions from a human wolf. He also takes a terrible revenge on the slayer of his master.
