Altogether this will be the musical treat of the season.

The tea given by the ladies of St. Joseph's Church on Tuesday evening last was in every respect a grand success, although the evening was a very stormy one, which prevented many from outside being present. Nevertheless a large number were present and a pleasant evening was spent by all. The tea provided was an excellent one. The different booths were tastefully arranged, and well patronized. The Citizens Band rendered a splendid programme during the whole evening, which added greatly to make the evening pass pleasantly.

The Rector, Dr. Donahoe and the ladies of St. Joseph's wish to thank their many friends for their patronage and expressions of appreciation. The sum of $250 was realized.

The ladies of the Committee who had charge of serving lunch for the members of the 85th Battalion wish to express their thanks to all those who so generously contributed donations of cake, sandwiches and cream and especially to Mrs. A. C. More who not only made but gave the coffee and to Mr. Rooney for his great kindness in giving the use of his restaurant. After the members of the 85th Band and recruits had been served a number of the 112th were asked in to share in the good things, and still there remained quantities of food. This was carefully packed in boxes and sent to the Khaki Club Rooms where it was much appreciated. Before leaving Colonel Borden expressed his thanks to the ladies for the entertainment provided for the party.

WONDERFUL BEAN GERMANY CAN'T GET

There is a little bean, sometimes green, sometimes black, but mostly yellow, more or less unknown to the general public in this country, which Germany badly wants, but can't get.

The Soya bean is its name, and it is one of the most wonderful productions of the soil we have. It can be—and is—used in manufacturing dozens of things, dynamite and high explosives being among them.

Before the war Germany was so anxious to have soya beans that the import duty was specially taken off them; now, thanks to the British navy, she can only get the beans by smuggling them in small quantities through neutral countries.

She wanted to grow them herself and because I had been successful in starting crops of soya beans in both West and South Africa, I was approached in the matter. I told the Germans that the beans would not grow in their country, which was doubtless unpleasant news to them.

Soya beans come from Manchuria chiefly; one-quarter of the cultivated ground there is occupied by the plants, which stand from one and a half to four feet in height and bear pods of about two inches in length, containing two to five seeds.

Marvelous Uses of the Bean In all, there are 300 different varieties of soya beans, and how wonderful the bean is can be seen from the following uses to which it can be put.

Human consumption, as a vegetable, like marrowfat peas, and in preparation of soups. As a substitute for meat, specially manufactured. Manufactured as a substitute for chocolate.

Preparation of macaroni. As flour for biscuits and brown bread. As artificial cream and milk. As a substitute for coffee.

Preparation of plastic substances and artificial horn. Special biscuits and food manufactured for persons suffering from diabetes, as the beans contain no sugar or starch. As a basis in the manufacture of sauces—such as the famous Soy sauce.

The beans are ground into meal for feeding cattle. In the United States the beans are fed to stallions instead of the ordinary horse bean.

For the extraction of oil and manufacture of oilcake. In China the bean cake is used as a fertilizer in sugar plantations, and in the rice fields.

In Japan the cake is used as manure for wheat and various other crops, even for cabbages, planted with the seed. In Manchuria and Japan it is food for cattle, horses, mules, and hogs.

Helps in the Making of Margarine But it is the oil of the soya bean which gives it its greatest value. The oil is used in the manufacture of:

Glycerine for making dynamite and high explosives. Soaps, linoleum, indiarubber substitute, margarine, paints and varnishes in place of linseed oil, edible goods and toilet powder, waterproof cloth, paper umbrellas and lanterns, salad oil, lubricating oil—in China, for greasing axles and native machinery—lamp oil instead of kerosene oil (it is used on English railways for burning).

The soya oil is also used for preserving sardines, and in the place of lard and cottonseed oil for cooking.

Soya beans come second on the list of China's exports, about £8,000,000 worth of them being exported from China in a year.

Owing to the shortness of notice visitors were not as plentiful as usually and deep regrets have been heard since. We cannot tell the results at this writing.

Rev. S. R. McCurdy Rev. Selden R. McCurdy, the new pastor of the Cranston St. church, Providence, R. I., received a warm welcome not only from his own people, but from the Baptists of the city. Mr. McCurdy was formerly a missionary, but comes to the church from Malden, Mass. He is a native of Maitland, Hants Co., Nova Scotia. He was graduated from Acadia College, 1895, and from Newton Theological Institute four years later. He was pastor of the church at Hudson, Mass., for one year. In 1900, he went to Bermuda as a missionary, and remained four years. He then became pastor of the First Church, Marlboro, Mass., which he served for four years. He then returned to Mandalay, where he served seven years. He returned to America a little more than a year ago, and he has since been heard on many occasions in the interest of missions.

Immigration to Canada Reduced to One-Eighth. Ottawa, March 6—The big drop in immigration to Canada since the war started is shown by the figures for immigration for 1915, given to the commons this afternoon by Hon. Dr. Roche. In answer to a question by E. M. MacDonald.

The total for the year was only 48,466, as compared with 384,878 for 1913-14 and 402,432 for 1912-13. The volume of immigration now is only about one-eighth of what it was two years ago. Almost all of the new arrivals of last year were from the United States.

German Prisoners Tell Why March on Verdun Failed.

Paris, Mar. 8—Prisoners taken at Verdun estimate the losses of the battalions which took part in infantry assaults since Feb. 25 at an average of two-thirds their total strength.

"Our officers promised us," said one, "that cannon would clear the way for us so that we could occupy the French lines almost without loss. We believed also that at each stage of our advance new artillery preparation would enable us to continue without great risk. Instead, of fire from field guns and machine guns, for hours together, were cut to pieces. The effort we made passed all measure of human strength. That is why the march on Verdun failed."

A German soldier belonging to the Sixty-fourth Infantry said:

"Our battalion started from its position in the woods on the night of March 2, with orders to occupy an earthwork to the east of Fort Douaumont. Suddenly someone called 'Here come the French.' The shock was so impetuous that it overwhelmed our lines. I fell into a hole made by a shell and lay there all night listening to the calls of the wounded for stretcher bearers. The means of them ended in the death rattle."

"There can scarcely be anything left of my company. It had already lost 1-4 of its numbers in the fighting from Feb. 21 to Feb 24. This was the finish."

Another German, a member of the Twenty-fourth Regiment, said:

"I was glad to get out of that hell. Our spirits were pretty low in all the division, because we felt that the work of taking Verdun would have to be begun all over again."

CURE IT IN ONE DAY

Coughs, and Colds, Disappear Like Magic When Hyomei is Used.

If thousands of people who suffer from hacking coughs and agonizing colds would arouse themselves sufficiently to follow this advice, they would cease to complain within 24 hours.

Here is the advice, if you take it and you are afterwards, sorry that you did, it won't cost you a penny.

Go to J. D. Clark, druggist, and purchase from him a Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) outfit. It will only cost you $1.00. Take it home; use it according to directions and if it does not cure your cough or cold, take it back and J. D. Clark will refund the purchase price.

Mrs. I. Conn, of John Street, Acton, Ont., says: "I had a swelling come near my eye which was caused by the catarrhal condition. I had to cough up the bad impurities that dropped into my throat, and it felt as if a hard cold had attacked me. Right in my head, nose and glands near. A week's treatment of Hyomei overcame my trouble. I am glad to endorse Hyomei."

When you use Hyomei you don't swallow nauseating drugs. You simply breathe in the soothing, pleasant and antiseptic Hyomei air through the little pocket inhaler that comes with each outfit. As this medicated air passes over the inflamed parts, relief comes almost at once and cure follows.

J. D. Clark sells it and guarantees it to do exactly as advertised.

Maritime Baptist—Rev. J. Willard Litch is one of the many leaders in Christian work given to the West by the East. He is now pastor of the Ruth Morton Memorial Baptist church at Vancouver. This church is still young, and not yet large, but for the past two years it has led the Baptist churches of British Columbia in the number of baptisms. Pastor Litch is held in high esteem, not only by his own congregation, but by all the brotherhood.

GOOD ADVICE TO GERMAN NAVY.

The Tageblatt (Berlin):—Let us not lull ourselves into a state of false security. The British fleet is as formidable a menace today as it has ever been. Its readiness for attack or defence is perfect and its power is imposing. The vital thing for us to know is whether this fleet will seek to attain its object—that is, to take the offensive, or if it will leave it to time to do its work. The veil which masks its designs the future alone can lift. Unless Britain's naval power be overwhelmingly exaggerated, however, our own sea dogs cannot afford to amuse themselves much longer by merely showing their teeth. To remain any longer in the seclusion of the Kiel Canal is to be ridiculous today, and tomorrow to invite defeat and humiliation.

Canned Fruits Barred Except From Colonies.

London, March 8—According to a notice issued by the Board of Trade a proclamation will be issued shortly prohibiting the importation into the United Kingdom after March 13, canned, bottled, dried or preserved fruits, except currants, unless shipped from British dependencies. After October 31, however, licenses will be issued for the importation of these products in quantities not exceeding 50 per cent of the amount imported in 1915.

POLITICAL SCANDALS

Members of the Western Legislatures Charged With Bribery and Corruption.

Western provincial government scandals have shifted from the Tory camp in Manitoba to the Liberal camps in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Three Liberal members of the Saskatchewan Government and several government officials are under arrest and members of the Alberta legislature have been charged with graft by the opposition.

In both cases the charges will go to the royal commission of judges of the courts.

The scandals come out of the so-called prohibition measure passed unanimously by both legislatures. It is charged in both cases that members and officials accepted, and in some cases demanded, bribes to stave off prosecutions, and other intrigue.

$25,000 in the sum stated in one case as having been paid by the liquor dealers association.

Three of the members of the Saskatchewan legislature who were charged are ill in hospital. There is also a charge of road graft in Saskatchewan, and an official has fled the country. Several warrants have been issued.

As a result of the affair there is great excitement throughout both provinces.

Hon. J. A. Calder attorney general of Saskatchewan, is a Nova Scotian, a native of Richmond County, if we mistake not.

Beresford Has Confidence in Navy

And He Thinks the Navy's Honor is Safe in Mr. Balfour's Hands.

London, March 9.—A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Admiralty has found a strong supporter in Admiral Lord Beresford, who, speaking today in the House of Lords on the air defence debate, said he deprecated statements suggesting naval unpreparedness.

"The navy," declared Lord Beresford, "has the most complete faith in its commander-in-chief and the present Board of Admiralty. The navy's honor is safe in Mr. Balfour's hands. I advise the country to trust implicitly in the navy which, has never failed us."

These remarks were made merely in addition to a speech in which Lord Beresford expressed the opinion that the appointment of an air minister was not called for. He thought too much money had been wasted in buying useless machines from other countries. His view was that the British should attack and smash the Zeppelins in their sheds as he did not see how they could attack them after their arrival over England.

The whole debate was rather tame, except for Lord Beresford's speech, and the Marquis of Lansdowne's announcement that the British output of aeroplanes now totalled twenty times the number produced during peace, and would again double itself during the coming summer. All the speakers recognized Zeppelin raids as a real danger. Viscount Haldane, the former Secretary for War, was optimistic. He doubted whether the British were inferior to the enemy countries in aircraft, and if so, he thought it was only temporary.

AUSTRALIAN APPLE CROP PROSPECTS.

The apple crop in Australia and Tasmania is reported to be a large one and very good in quality. It is expected that the total shipments will be as follows: Tasmania, 700,000 cases; Victoria, 300,000; South Australia, 100,000. The Australian Government has arranged for space on twenty-two transport boats for 1,250,000 cases. Most of the boats will come to London, but a few will go to Liverpool and Glasgow. The rate of freight fixed through the efforts of the Government is 65s. per ton of 40 cubic feet, or about 3 1/3 per standard box. This is the same as last year.

From the offices of the Commonwealth it is learned that in 1915 there were 330,133 cases of apples and 12,532 cases of pears exported to Great Britain. The same authority states that Liverpool merchants have handled Australian apples as follows:

(Approximately)	Boxes
1912	275,664
1913	91,937
1914	156,833
1915	68,750

Manchester brokers sold 35,000 in 1915. Glasgow brokers estimate that 80,000 cases were handled there in 1914 and about 20,000 in 1915.

Australian shipments are expected to begin towards the end of February, and to continue until the first of June. Some of the principal varieties are: Jonathans, New York Pippins, Cox's Orange, Cleopatras, Monro's Favorite.

The greatest marine tragedy of the world is before us when we look at the appalling loss of life—3130 French soldiers that found a watery grave, when the auxiliary cruiser Provence struck a mine in the Mediterranean on Feb. 26. Aboard this transport were soldiers and officers of many French battalions bound for Saloniki.

Oath of Allegiance Taken by Acadians

Mr. Ross Chipman has handed us the following oath of allegiance taken by the Acadians in 1768 or 148 years ago:

"I do swear that I will bear faithful and true Allegiance to His Most Sacred Britannick Majesty, King George the Third, and him will defend to the utmost of my Power against all traitorous, conspiracies and attempts whatsoever, against his person, crown and dignity, and I will do my utmost endeavors to disclose or make known to His Majesty and his successors all treasons and traitorous, conspiracies, or any attempts whatsoever which I shall know to be against him or any of them."

And these things I do plainly and sincerely promise and swear according to the express words by me spoken and according to the plain and common sense and understanding the same words without any equivocation, mental evasion or secret reservation whatsoever. And I do make this acknowledgement and promise heartily willingly and truly upon the true faith of a Christian So Help me God.

Signed by: Rene Gaunier, Aug'n Gearl Grivoix, Pierre Belliveau, Jean Bourg, Ben'jn Bourgeois, Rene Landry, Charles Gaunier.

The Acadians were expelled in 1755, and these, if the date is correct must have been some returned Acadians or some who had taken the oath previously and remained in the County. The Acadians after their expulsion never returned to settle permanently in this County.

Prisoner of War Should Not be Forgotten.

The lot of the prisoner of war becomes more unfortunate the longer the war lasts. Their number steadily increases. The task of supplying them with the necessities of life become more difficult and the harshness of their captors is not lessened by the progressive bitterness of the conflict.

It was easy for us to be mindful of the prisoner in the early days of the war. As time goes on we have a tendency to forget him, to regard him in the same light as the dead and the missing. But the Canadian prisoners are far from being either dead or missing. They are all known to the Red Cross Society, and some day they will be restored safe and sound, that is if we supply the means of keeping them in good health.

All who have returned from prison camps agree that the chief need of the prisoner of war is food. Mr. Henry M. Field a well known Toronto musician who secured his release from a civilian internment camp, bears testimony to the importance of parcels of food sent by the Red Cross Society.

The Society has the names of all prisoners on its lists. It has special privileges from the German Government and is able to transfer the generosity of Canadians to their brothers who suffer the hardships of German prisons. Anyone desiring to help a Canadian prisoner of war can do so easily and expeditiously through the Canadian Red Cross Society.

We have been using MINARD'S LINIMENT in our home for a number of years and use no other Liniment but MINARD'S and we can recommend it highly for sprains, bruises, pains or tightness of the chest, soreness of the throat, headache or anything of that sort. We will not be without it one single day, for we get a new bottle before the other is all used. I can recommend it highly to anyone.

RED CROSS

On Nov. 10, 1915, a shipment of Christmas stockings, 322 in all, went forward from the Kentville Red Cross Auxiliary to Nursing Sister C. M. Hare at No. 2 Stationary Hospital (Canadian) at Boulogne, France. Many inquiries concerning these stockings have been made and of their possible fate. They were sent in care of the Red Cross Commissioner in London who promised to see that they were forwarded. A recent letter from Miss Hare says: "We got three boxes of Christmas stockings here but they nearly all contained names and addresses of Ottawa and Toronto people. One box was marked Halifax and contained 70 stockings as you told me one of yours did. (The mark "Halifax" was part of shipping). So I feel sure that some of your stockings went elsewhere, as we got three boxes in all. I was awfully sorry not to get those really intended for us, but it does not matter if some Canadian hospital got them. They would be sent elsewhere to another Canadian hospital if marked from Canada and I know they were appreciated where ever they went. I had a Christmas tree and decorations sent from London in my ward, and these with the stockings made a grand display. We had them for each patient and for the orderlies and men of the unit. Our Ward was trimmed with Christmas greens and the table in the middle had a white sheet for a cloth with a runner of red crepe paper. I had tiny pots of red and white primroses for each bed. Flowers are so cheap here in the markets in the villages. The primroses cost 10 cents each and one can get a huge bunch of beautiful chrysanthemums for a couple of francs (40c). Then we had a good dinner and supper and in the afternoon our hospital had a visit from one of Miss Ashwell's concert parties who travel about France to the hospitals and Y. M. C. A. huts entertaining the men.

But Christmas seems a long time ago, and I have been waiting, hoping, by chance, I might hear of some one getting the missing boxes, as in addition I did not get one sent me from Montreal and another from St. John.

The past month I have been on night duty and we really have been awfully busy. Our convoys of wounded and sick usually come in to us between 10 o'clock and midnight. Sometimes we have a good many more admitted than our capacity and we had extra stretchers on the floors in each ward. Still we are transferring to the hospital ships and the English hospitals next day. Last night I had 121 patients, myself.

By the way we got some of the best preserves and jam I have ever seen from Mrs. DeWolfe Archibald, Wolfville, the other day."

Miss Hare's letter is dated Feb. 12, '16. She was the first nurse to volunteer from New Brunswick and has been in France since October, 1914. Should anyone who contributed stockings to this shipment hear from them please notify the corresponding secretary of the Kentville Red Cross Branch.

Colonel Borden and the Celebrated 85th Band Enthusiastically Received at Kentville.

Kings County Company for the New Highland Brigade Practically Assured.

A most enthusiastic reception was given Colonel Borden, Capt. Cutten and the celebrated 85th Band on their arrival in their special Highland car at Kentville Saturday morning. The detachment of the 112th Overseas Batt. stationed here 166 strong marched to the station headed by the Kentville Citizen's Band which played inspiring music. On the arrival of the car, Col. Borden inspected the company after which the detachment fell in behind the 85th Band and with Colonel Borden, Capt. Cutten and Mr. F. B. Newcombe, (Acting Mayor in the absence of Mayor Pelton) in an auto bringing up the rear paraded through the Town.

Saturday afternoon the celebrated Highland Band gave a concert at Nicklet Theatre for the women and children. Long before the appointed hour the hall was packed to the doors and many could not gain entrance. The concert given was simply grand. Every number rendered was received with the greatest enthusiasm. Each member of the Band is a thorough musician and with such a splendid leader as Lieutenant Mooney the finest results are accomplished.

Among the numbers rendered was a piccolo solo "Silver Bird" by L. Thero, played by H. Percival Barnes, who is too well known in musical circles as a flute and piccolo soloist to need further mention. This solo was rendered by the composer before H. R. H., the Duke of Edinburgh. The slide trombone quartette delighted the audience as did also the solo "The 85th Feather" as sung by Mr. Harry Murray, with full chorus by Band, also chorus "We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall." A special feature of the programme was the pleasing melodies by the piper—Lance Corporal McIntosh.

On Saturday evening a most enthusiastic rally was held at Nicklet Theatre. Long before the appointed hour the building was packed to the doors, and hundreds could not gain admittance. An overflow meeting therefore was held at Pastime Hall which was also filled. Lt. J. D. Spidell, recruiting officer at Kentville, presided at the main meeting and Mr. H. H. Wickwire, M. P. P., presided at the overflow meeting. Colonel Borden and Captain Cutten addressed both audiences and were well received.

Lieutenant Spidell introduced Colonel Borden as one of Kings County's greatest men, and called for three cheers which were most enthusiastically given.

Colonel Borden opened his address with a graphic and stirring presentation of the conditions and events leading up to the declaration of war. He detailed the thorough preparations made by Germany, and speaking as a military student, one who had, by virtue of a life-long association with affairs military, and a qualifying course at the staff college in London, gave his auditors their first true impressions of how those preparations were regarded by the men who had, and have, the conduct of our military affairs in hand. Colonel Borden is qualified as perhaps no man is qualified in Canada, to speak from this standpoint—and his summing up was so logical, so convincing, that he left no doubt in the mind of any who heard him that this war had to come as surely as day has to follow night.

Our military leaders knew this, the Colonel desired to drive home the point. Certainly they knew it; but the policy they were to adopt to meet the conditions, to combat the German menace, was the vital question. Two avenues were open to our military leaders. One to emulate the example of Germany, build up a powerful war machine, and when this great machine was ready—to strike in our own good time. That was the policy advocated by one branch of the military party. But that was the impracticable policy. We could never have brought the people of a peace-loving nation like our own to believe that a real menace really did exist.

"The other policy, and," Colonel Borden said, "the policy to which I myself subscribed"—was to, in the event of a declaration of such a great war as this involving the British Empire, use our little army of 160,000 men with the navy as a containing force, to hold and hold the enemy until the whole nation was mobilized and trained and equipped, every man physically fit and of military age massed into battalions—hold on till we were ready—and then go in and finish the whole affair up at one stupendous blow.

"We hear talk of the British officer," said Colonel Borden, "we hear it said that he is incompetent and incapable. I want to tell you that there are two kinds of British officer. There is one kind who will frankly admit that he knows nothing of military work, apart from leading a small body of men and dying like a gentleman. But there is another type of British officer men of the stamp of Earl Kitchener, Sir William Robertson and General Kitchell, and in these men I have the most supreme confidence. I do not need to go to the War Office to learn what is taking place on the Western front today. I know what is taking place. They are following out the policy I have outlined as the true British policy. They are holding and holding, waiting for the full strength of the Empire. They are waiting for the men of Kentville every eligible man, as they are waiting for every fit and eligible fighting man in this Province and this Dominion and this Empire—and when we have the full strength of Britain there—they are going to strike.

"And don't be deceived, don't be deceived, Germany knows that this is our policy. She knows what we are doing, she knows what we are waiting for. The drive she is making on Verdun today is the best proof of that. Germany knows, as every sane man should know, that every hour she loses now is just that much strength added to the Allies arms. But we are sure of nothing in war. It is like an election or a horse race—just as uncertain—and that is why we must mobilize and train and equip every fighting man without a moment's delay. The British hand might find it necessary to go into that one big battle before they are ready. The diplomatic situation might demand this, or a hundred and one things; and that is what our military men have always to fear. You can readily see for yourself what that would mean. Suppose we were forced into this big battle tomorrow. Say the Allies had on their side 7,000,000 men, and our enemies had 5,000,000 men. Can't you see what that would mean?—can't you see that the fight would be a long and bloody one, can't you see that both sides would lose enormously? But suppose that this great battle took place with 5,000,000 of our enemies on the one side and ten, fifteen or twenty millions on the side of the Allies—can't you see that the losses to our armies would be comparatively slightest and, that we would win a complete victory, while in the other case a decision would be very doubtful?

"And that is why we are coming to you tonight. I know we have to do this, not because the men of Kentville are cowards, not that, simply because they do not grasp the seriousness of it all. We want you to come with us. Mark you, we are not asking you to go, we are asking you to come, to come every man of you who is able to bear arms. You are going to be needed in that big battle. And the fact of your being there is going to lessen the percentage of risk to the men already there and who will volunteer to go tonight. If you think you are medically unfit sign up tonight, go to the doctor and if you are medically unfit he will give you a certificate to that effect. Get that certificate and keep it. You will need it when the boys come back, for they will want to know why you were not with them. If you are unfit and show them that certificate, they will grasp you by the hand and call you brother, for they will know that you have done what you could. But if you cannot show a certificate, and have not borne your full duty, as sure as there is a God in Heaven, you will regret it to the end of your days. I tell you, when those boys come back, there will be a free-masonry of arms. There will be an accounting—wherein the man who has shirked his full duty will suffer painful retribution. Men, I do not hesitate to urge you to go, to do all you can. On August 4th, 1914, the Empire fell into two great classes—those fit to bear arms those unfit to bear arms. We pity the man who cannot go, but would like to go. But when this ghastly affair is over, and that accounting is made—well, I don't know—but just so sure as night follows day, some method will be adopted to single out the sheep from the goats. Whether it will be by depriving the man who refused his duty of franchise, or some other such method, only time will tell.

"You say that you are married and cannot go. Did you marry that wife to protect her? Can you protect her by staying home? Do you want some other woman's husband to go overseas to protect his own wife and you and your wife as well? Ah, men, you must go, you are needed and it is your duty. For the very sake of your children, and those who are to come after, and for the very sake of your own manhood, you must discharge your full duty to the state. Your wife thought when she married you she married a brave man—but as true as God is in Heaven she can't keep you now and still keep a brave man. We have men here in khaki today, and we have men who would be if they could. Can you go down the street and look those men in the eyes? You can't—and you know you can't. Oh, I can see it growing day by day, month by month. The man who refuses to meet his duty like a man, will soon be disposed.

Colonel Borden closed his speech with a series of illustrations, that point in no unmissable manner the growing sentiment, and the agitated consciousness of the people of Nova Scotia today. His peroration and appeal for recruits was moving and powerful.

The applause with which his address was replied to was such as to leave no doubt that Kentville had heard and accepted the Great Message.

The chairman, Lieut. J. D. Spidell gave a few well chosen and eulogistic remarks in introducing Capt. George B. Cutten, President of Acadia University. Capt. Cutten in response to the remarks expressed as to his enlistment said the question really was why after eighteen months of war he had not enlisted before? He had offered himself a year ago in any capacity, but must have been considered no use (laughter). His message tonight was to the women and they had just as much if not more at stake in this war than the men and they could be depended upon to do their duty. Victoria Crosses had been awarded to the men but he, if he had them to place would pin them on many women and cited instances of heroic self devotion to duty which were deserving of crosses. The women never failed in their duty and he cited them to double up in their duties during this war. The propelling power of women was well known and only by their help could the men necessary for this war be obtained and cared for.

This was a war of frightful cruelties as regards women and children and the speaker told of the heroines of the war and mentioned some of the cruelties perpetrated. No wonder women were aroused and were doing more than their share. If his appeal were made to women in the large audience before him he knew he could get one hundred recruits.

People may say why such interest when the war was so far away. Did they want the war any nearer? We could have the war right here in our own country if we did not send men to defend the trenches in France and Flanders. He closed with a strong appeal to the women to use their powers of persuasion to induce husbands, fathers brothers, sweethearts, if of proper age to enlist and fight for the Empire. Capt. Cutten was greeted with applause as he made different points in his address.

A special feature of the evening meeting was the splendid music rendered by the Band. One of the selections "Home Sweet Home" as played by the different nations was especially fine and reached the hearts of all. With such a Band and such a Colonel the Nova Scotia Highlanders are inspired to the highest and noblest service, and the new Highland Brigade promises to be a magnificent one in every particular.

The appeal for recruits was answered by seven enrolling at the main meeting and two at the overflow meeting. Previous to the arrival of the Colonel, Lieut. Spidell, with the assistance of the 85th recruiting party had signed on about 30 men for the new Brigade.

At the close of the meeting the guests of honor with the new recruits were banquetted at Rooney's Restaurant. The parlors being artistically decorated for the occasion. The boys all voted Kentville "One of the best yet" and Colonel Borden expressed his thanks to the ladies for entertainment provided.

THE ARGUMENT IN A NUTSHELL

"Made-in-Canada" Idea in Condensed Form—A Simple but Convincing Statement

A writer in the University Magazine for April attacks the "Made-in-Canada" movement in somewhat vigorous fashion. After commenting on the selfishness of those who are responsible for it he delves into some economic arguments, maintaining that if a country does not buy it cannot sell, and that goods are exchanged for goods. There is a certain measure of truth in the latter statement, but the "Made-in-Canada" argument does not deny this. It is a practical policy, dictated by motives of enlightened self-interest, based on the theory that what is good for Canada and Canadians must, in the long run, be good for the British Empire, of which we form a part. The "Made-in-Canada" argument is simply this:

Canada is a young country, which although it has one of the most moderate protective tariffs in the world, has built up a great national industrial system. For a couple of years the output of this plant has decreased because the demand for manufactured goods has fallen off, with the result that many workers are out of employment and a great quantity of unsold goods is stored in warehouses. Yet we are buying hundreds of millions of dollars worth of manufactured goods abroad. Those who advocate the "Made-in-Canada" policy say to Canadian buyers: "Before you purchase an imported article see if you can find a similar Canadian article which would suit you. You will probably find it and you will find probably, too, that the quality and price compare favorably with the quality and price of the imported article. If you should discover in some cases that the Canadian article is not quite so good or quite so cheap as the imported article, ask yourself if your patronage will help in time to bring about a state of affairs where the Canadian article would be equal or superior to the imported article. Possibly, in view of the present extraordinary situation, you might concede a little in favor of the Canadian article, but we do not ask you to make any considerable sacrifice to do so. If thousands of Canadian buyers follow this policy, Canadian goods can be produced in such great quantities that their quality can be improved and their price lowered. Canadian raw material will be utilized, employment will be furnished at home, and our foreign obligations will be reduced."

PROTECTION IN GREAT BRITAIN

Articles in many of the leading British papers indicate that after the war the policy of allowing the enemies of Great Britain to sell their goods in the British Isles in open competition with British manufacturers will be discontinued. British workmen who have struggled in the trenches will need positions when they return and a sufficient number of positions cannot be obtained for them if German and Austrian goods are permitted to be sold in the United Kingdom, replacing British goods and furnishing employment for German and Austrian instead of British workmen. It is scarcely likely that British Dominions who have supported the allies will be forced to compete in British markets with the former enemies of the Empire. Although it is too early to speculate on the exact form which the new fiscal legislation will take, it is reasonably safe to predict that it will at least provide a system of preferential tariffs among the various parts of the British Empire, concessionary tariffs among the present allies and discriminatory tariffs against their enemies.

OUR SACRED DUTY

Splendid Sentiments Are Expressed by Industrial Leaders

One of Canada's biggest companies, in place of the usual advertisement of their product, has run the following Christmas message in all the periodicals they use:

"To contribute to a Fund for the relief of the unemployed does not discharge or liquidate the duty we owe to the brave men who are sacrificing their lives in the Trenches that we may live and enjoy the Blessings of Liberty and Happiness."

Better by far that we extend our consideration in an effort to use in our Mills, our Factories, in our Cities and our Homes all over this fair land, the products that Canadian labor produces, so that when the Boys come marching Home they will be welcomed back to a Prosperous and Happy Canada.

Their sacrifice is worthy of our greatest effort—Our Duty is plain: Canada with Canadian Labor and Capital can produce, manufacture and distribute, products sufficient to keep the Wheels of Industry turning to the limit. The Song of Prosperity and Happiness should ring out all over the land.

"Let us sincerely pledge, to the extent of our needs, to purchase materials produced in Canada by Canadian Workmen, and the result of our efforts will return to us the Blessings of a Prosperous and Happy Nation."

SOME QUESTIONS AND THEIR ANSWERS

Last March Mr. W. H. Sharpe, M.P. for North Lisgar, asked the following questions in the House of Commons with reference to the import of binders from the United States into Western Canada, and received the answers given below from the Minister of Customs.

The figures which are authentic and compiled from Government records, completely disprove the story that a well known United States implement concern circulated widely through Western Canada earlier in the year.

What was the total importation of 7 and 8-foot binders from the United States in the year 1911, at the port of Winnipeg, and the average value on which duty was collected?

Number of harvesters, self-binding, all sizes, entered through port of Winnipeg year 1911, 208. Total value, $22,558. Average value, $108.40 each. In the number above stated are probably included harvesters smaller than 7 and 8-foot, but the number of each cannot be given from the records in the Customs Department, as invoices are retained in the department for only three years.

What was the total amount of duty collected on same, and the average amount per binder?

Total amount of duty collected on said binders, $3,947.65; average, $18.98 each.

What was the price of the International Harvester Company's 7 and 8-foot binders in the United States, as sold to dealers only, according to price lists in 1911 and 1914?

Selling prices of International Harvester Company's binders to dealers in the United States: 7-foot binder with bundle carrier without tongue truck, 1911, $105; 1914, $100.50. 8-foot binder with bundle carrier without tongue truck, 1911, $107.50; 1914, $103.

What was the total importation of 7 and 8-foot binders from the United States in the year 1914, at the port of Winnipeg, and the average value on which duty was collected?

Seven and eight-foot harvesters entered for consumption through the port of Winnipeg in the year 1914; total number 193; value, $19,462 (including the value of the bundle carrier); average value as entered, $100.84 each. Total duty collected thereon, $2,516.07; average, $13.04 each.

On what prices did the John Deere Plough Company pay duty on 7 and 8-foot binders at the port of Winnipeg in 1913?

Duty was paid by John Deere Plough Company, Winnipeg, on following values during 1913: 7-foot binder with bundle carrier without tongue truck, $122; 8-foot binder with bundle carrier without tongue truck, $90.85.

Were these entries at customs made at prices below the fair market value of the binders, and in violation of the customs laws?

These entries by John Deere Plough Company, Winnipeg, were made at prices much below the fair market value for home consumption and were therefore in violation of the customs laws.

What was the selling price of these binders as sold to dealers only in the United States in 1913?

Selling prices to dealers of John Deere binders in the United States during 1913: 7-foot binder with bundle carrier without tongue truck, $103; 8-foot binder with bundle carrier without tongue truck, $105.50.

No Surprise if Turkey Gives Up the Fight.

London, March 4—The morning newspapers feature despatches from Athens which declare that agitation in Constantinople in favor of peace is becoming so pronounced that it would surprise no one if Turkey suddenly capitulated to the Entente Allies. It is reported also that Rachmi-Bey, governor of the vilayet of Smyrne, is trying to arrange separate peace terms with the Entente.

A new development of war methods is the action of Germany in seizing Swedish steamships laden with supplies for Sweden and taking the same in to German ports. It looks as if the seizures were made with the connivance of the Swedish merchant officers or ship owners. The result will be that any ship flying the Swedish flag will be seized by the British fleet to prevent the supplies carried by such ships reaching their intended destination, Germany.

Five miles of troops marched through the streets of Toronto on Wednesday last—18,000 overseas men drawn from the civilian population—taking two hours to pass a given point. The streets, despite the cold weather, were crowded with tens of thousands of spectators. At times they broke into cheering. It was a cold task, standing for two hours, especially in Queen's Park, where many children were gathered. The street car routing was recast for the time, but the public bore any inconvenience cheerfully.

COLDBROOK ITEMS.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Noble Pelton who has been in a poor state of health for some time is improving and is now enjoying much better health.

The patriotic exercises held by the pupils of the school last week were much enjoyed by all who attended.

The members of the I. O. G. T. planned a sleighing party last week and though the storm had impaired the sleighing they set forth and enjoyed a merry drive. We hope the next time the sleighing will be in a better condition so they will not have any walking to do.

Mrs. R. D. Best received a letter last week from her son Harold who is now on active service in France. He reports on life in the trenches and had not then suffered any wounds. He mentioned about seeing and speaking to several of his old acquaintances from the homeland. Some time ago Mrs. Best collected in Coldbrook the sum of $15.00 for the Motor Lorry Ambulance Fund which was forwarded for that purpose. This loyal mother is surely doing her bit for the Empire.

Mr. James Taylor who has been ill is able to be out again.

CANARD ITEMS.

On Feb. 29th the Red Cross Circle of Canard held a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. H. Eaton, a tea and very nice programme was provided for the evening and the sum of $18 was realized for the Red Cross.

Sapper Clement Eaton of the Canadian Engineers, Halifax, has been home on a visit. Clement looks fine, systematic work and regular hours of drill must agree with him.

BERWICK

Mrs. H. B. Kinney of Somerset has been in Annapolis visiting Rev. L. F. and Mrs. Wallace.

Mr. William Sutton has made an exchange of his property at Berwick for the farm of Capt. George A. Morris at Upper Carence. The families take possession of their new properties this week. We are sorry to lose Mr. and Mrs. Sutton from the town.

Miss Edith Nichols has been at Dalhousie East visiting Mr. and Mrs. Asaph Ramey.

Friday was a day of unusual activity here, when Berwick gave Brigadier Gen. Borden, Capt. Cutten and the Highland Band a great reception.

Never before was this pretty town so aroused over matters military as on Friday last when the train brought Col. A. H. Borden, Capt. Cutten and a magnificent Highland Band to this place. The whole surrounding district turned out to greet the "manly men" and the reception was a hearty one. The long procession to Victoria Hall included the school children in line with flags and pennants waving. The addresses given there and in the Baptist Church were listened to by the eager citizens and all seemed infused with the desire to help along the cause of the Empire. Berwick has responded with quite an honor roll.
