

PLUCKY ENGLISH GIRL THE VERY LATEST DESPATCHES SIXTY TWO MILLIONS

Would Rather Plow Than go to the Theatre— and Prefers Currying Horses to Evening Gowns—She Has Made Good in Empathic Style Out West.

(Courier Leased Wire).
EDMONTON, Alb., Jan. 13.—"I would rather plow than go to the theatre. I would rather plant corn than attend a pink tea. I much prefer currying my horses to arraying myself in an evening gown. Wife's butter is social life in damp and foggy England compared to real life in bright sunshine and bracing cold?"
These are the views of no less a person than Miss Jack May, a slender and most charming young lady, who owns and operates a farm in the north of Canada. She is the daughter of Admiral May of the British navy, and has seen life in the highest English social circles from the inside. When the Boer war broke out she went to the front as a nurse, and she was awoken to the fact that there was something more in life than card parties and pink teas and theatres.
Upon her return home she at once entered the Swanley Agriculture College at Kent, and at the conclusion of her course she amazed her friends by becoming manager of a dairy farm. After a time she became manager of another in Kent, devoted to general purposes of agriculture, from which place she came to the Canadian West. She bought a ranch of 320 acres in Northern Alberta, near a railroad, and now all English society is watching her venture with interest. Not a man is employed on Miss May's farm. Her only companion and helper is a Canadian girl of 18.

"Go back to society again. Not for all the worlds," she declared emphatically.
Although this little English woman has sacrificed conventional feminine garb and has given up social life completely, she has lost none of the charm that made her a favorite in select circles in the Old Land. Her every day costume consists of stout leather boots and leather puttees, riding breeches of heavy blue serge, man's shirt and a short khaki coat. When she desires to really "dress up" she wears a soft collar and tie and a peasant's smock of navy blue denim, which comes to her knees and is loosely belted around the waist. She is delightfully picturesque, and her happy, care-free laugh is a sure cure for the blues.
"I love the freedom of the life and the bigness of things out here on the prairies," she said recently. "In England one is bound by conventions as one's fields are vint with hedges. Here you can do as you please. I would not go back to stay under any consideration."

The Naval Bill Likely to Carry in Both Houses

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—Members are drifting back for Tuesday's re-assembly of Parliament, and a long and strenuous session is looked for. The Naval Bill will have precedence as being the principal and most important item in the Government's program.
There has been a deal of talking about the Opposition forcing an election, but very little stock is taken in it. The proposal emanates mainly from those who would have everything to gain and nothing to lose by an election, and included in the number prominently are some cabinet Ministers. The Government in presenting the bill is simply carrying out its announced program in the constitutional way, and the present appropriation of thirty-five millions, designed to meet the immediate need of the Mother Country is not a policy requiring submission to the people. When a permanent policy is evolved the Ministry is pledged to allow the country to pronounce upon it. At present no step is unnecessary.

There is no disposition to worry over the situation, which is now in prospect. If by any chance the Opposition should determine on sustained resistance of the Naval Bill the Government side is quite prepared to meet them and fight it out, backed as they feel they are by the great strength of public sentiment. It is anticipated that there will be much talk, but that in the end the Bill will go through both Houses unopposed.

Libeller of King George is Allowed to Enter States

(Courier Leased Wire).
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Edward Gibson James, editor of The Paris Liberator, which printed a libelous article against King George, arrived yesterday on the French liner La Bretagne to his friend Edward McManis, the Belgian journalist, who was imprisoned in England for a year on criminal libel in having circulated the statement in that country. Mylius is held at Ellis Island pending an appeal from an order of deportation.

Despite reports that James would be sent to Ellis Island, he was not detained longer than was necessary to make an affidavit that he was born in this country and still retained his citizenship, although he had lived in Paris for the past six years.

Proposed World Cruise of Missionary Experts

(Courier Leased Wire).
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—A world cruise of a shipload of missionary experts to investigate the work in broken fields is a plan submitted by J. Campbell White, founder of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, at the annual meeting of the organization opening at Garden City, Long Island, to-day. Action on the proposal, which includes the expenditure of $300,000 a year for five years, will be taken during the week. The reports which the world-cruising party brought back will be used in a great missionary campaign in Canada and the United States, eclipsing the successful campaign conducted in many cities in these countries two years. Figures will be submitted at the meeting to show that America leads the world in gifts to foreign missions. Protestants of the United States gave nearly $15,000,000 last year, an increase of about $2,500,000. Canada gave $648,000 more than last year.

SAID GOODBYE

(Courier Leased Wire).
NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 13.—Joe McGinnity, long a conspicuous figure in baseball in the East, bade goodbye to the fans here yesterday, and is on his way to-day to Tacoma, Wash., to take charge of the Northwestern League Club there, which he purchased recently. McGinnity was once a star of the major leagues, and won the nick name of "Iron Man" by his willingness to pitch doubleheaders. For several years he has had a large interest in the Newark Club of the International League, which he sold last fall.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—A Salonica despatch to The Times says that the Greek Government has decided to send another Greek division from that town to Epirus in order to hasten the campaign.

STEAMER WRECKED

(Courier Leased Wire).
LONDON, Jan. 13.—The coasting steamer Hawkwood has been wrecked off Eilat, in the North Sea. The fate of the crew is unknown. The Hawkwood hailed from London and was of 1155 tons.

FOOD TAX NOT AN ISSUE

(Courier Leased Wire).
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—A cable to The Tribune from London this morning says it is understood that Mr. Bonar Law and the Marquis of Lansdowne will confer again to-day and that a reply to the Unionist memorial will be given to-morrow. The effect on the Liberals of the news that the Unionist rank and file have now agreed that food taxes shall not be an issue at the next general election has been striking and immediate. A number of representative Liberal members have drawn up a memorial to the Chancellor of the Exchequer praying him to provide in his budget for a reduction of the present taxes on food, and especially on sugar, and this memorial, with a postcard for reply, has been sent to a large number of Liberals in the hope of securing the signatures of men of prominence among the government's supporters.

THEY ARE DRY

(Courier Leased Wire).
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—According to advices received at the Uranium Steamship Company's New York offices at 5 o'clock this morning all of the holds of the stranded Steamship Uranium near Halifax are dry with the exception of No. 1, which has seven feet of water. It was added in the company's messages that under fair weather conditions the ship was not in a dangerous position, and the night's wind had moderated to advantage. It was believed that the steamer could be pulled free at the noon tide, unless the wind became unfavorable.

ENGLISH WRECK

(Courier Leased Wire).
BIRMINGHAM, Eng., Jan. 13.—Two passengers were killed and 40 injured, many of them seriously, in a collision on the Midland Railway to-day when an express train crashed into an accommodation train at Beacomford Bridge near here.
The express was proceeding to Leicester and the accommodation train from Birmingham to Walsall. Nearly all the victims of the collision were travelling on the slow train.

OVERCOME BY COLD

(Courier Leased Wire).
WALLACEBURG, Ont., Jan. 13.—The body of James Murphy, a farmer living near White Bread, was found lying beside the rails on the Pere Marquette tracks about six o'clock Sunday afternoon. It is supposed he was walking home from Wallaceburg early Sunday morning and was overcome by the cold. An inquest has been ordered.

HURT IN A COLLISION

(Courier Leased Wire).
PRESBOTT, Ont., Jan. 13.—In a rear-end collision here last night between two Grand Trunk freight trains Fireman McGillivray was so badly injured that he died an hour afterwards, while Engineer Wilson was injured and is not expected to recover. Wilson was taken to Brockville Hospital. The engine upon which McGillivray and Wilson were working had become stalled in the yards.

FIRST WHITE CHILD

(Courier Leased Wire).
CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—Enoch A.

Whipple, 61 years of age, one of the best known hotel men in Chicago, is dead at his home here. His mother, Helen N. Whipple, is said to have been the first white child born in Chicago.
He had been connected with the leading Chicago hotels in various capacities for 45 years.

FELL FROM HIS HORSE

(Courier Leased Wire).
MADRID, Spain, Jan. 13.—Don Fernando Maris, brother-in-law of King Alfonso, fell from his horse this morning and broke one of his arms. The doctors in attendance report his condition to be satisfactory.

GETTING BETTER

(Courier Leased Wire).
MONTREAL, Jan. 13.—Further proof that the Duchess of Connaught is now well on the road to recovery was supplied by the following bulletin issued by the medical adviser of Her Royal Highness from the Royal Victoria Hospital at 12.30.
"Her Royal Highness, the Duchess of Connaught, passed the best night since arriving at the hospital. The cough, which has been distressing Her Royal Highness for the last two days, was much less troublesome this morning. The Duchess is taking nourishment well and is gaining in strength."

TWO AIRMEN DROWNED

(Courier Leased Wire).
LONDON, Jan. 13.—Two British airmen, L. F. McDonald and a man named Ennis, were drowned in the River Thames this afternoon. The aviators were flying at a height well above the river when the machine suddenly swooped downward. Immediately upon coming in contact with the water the engine exploded.
One of the aviators clung for a while to the top of the machine, but he sank before the boats which were hurriedly put off from shore, could reach him.

BURNED TO DEATH

(Courier Leased Wire).
MONTREAL, Jan. 13.—While his father made frantic efforts to reach him, Sidney Simmons, Verdun, was burned to death this morning. When the alarm was given the Simmons family, who were all in bed, rushed out of the house. The little boy, who was 9 years old, was cut off.

BEING SEARCHED FOR

(Courier Leased Wire).
MONTREAL, Jan. 13.—Henri Legace, the former ledgerkeeper of the Bank of Hochelaga, who was recently found guilty of stealing $35,000 from the bank by manipulating his books is being diligently searched for by bailiffs, but cannot be found. He was allowed out on bail while the appeal case was pending.

SIMPSONS FOR EDMONTON

(Courier Leased Wire).
EDMONTON, Alb., Jan. 13.—It is reported here that the Robert Simpson Company of Toronto, Ont., will shortly erect a large departmental store here as a branch of their business in Toronto. Robert C. Adams of Toronto, has been in the city for several days, acting as agent for an eastern firm, and while he would not admit that he represented the Simpson Company, yet such is the general belief. Mr. Adams made no secret of the fact that a big departmental store would be built here and he was looking over sites on Jasper avenue, between Ninth and Sixteenth streets. He has returned to Toronto, but expects to be back here in a short time. It was reported some time ago that the T. Eaton Co., Limited of Toronto and Win-

PEACE SITUATION

(Courier Leased Wire).
LONDON, Jan. 13.—The issue of peace or war will rest with Constantinople after the final drafting of the note to be handed by the European powers to the Ottoman Government which will be settled at today's meeting of the ambassador's at the British Foreign Office. The ambassadors of France, Germany, Russia, Austria-Hungary, and Italy will today also decide on the mode and time of presentation of the document to the Porte.

50,000 STRIKERS MARCH

(Courier Leased Wire).
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Sixty thousand garment workers on strike in New York for increased pay and better working conditions, marched singing through the factory district to-day and disbanded in Union Square for an open air mass meeting. Of the marchers approximately 15,000 were women.
The shirt waist and dressmakers' union, which has in the city about 30,000 members voted almost unanimously to-day to join the strike.

TWO KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

(Courier Leased Wire).
HOUSTON, Texas, Jan. 13.—Dr. J. R. Stuart, head of a local infirmary, and Miss Ruby Larsen, a nurse, were killed last night when the automobile in which they were riding collided with a wagon on a bridge near Houston. Both conveyances fell from the bridge and down an 18 foot embankment. The two occupants of the wagon were not seriously hurt.

LOTS OF LIBERTY HERE

(Courier Leased Wire).
ZURICH, Switzerland, Jan. 13.—It is lawful in Switzerland to call a person an ass either in anger or otherwise, according to a decision given by the cantonal tribunal here to-day. The court therefore declined to award damages in a suit arising out of a quarrel between two citizens both locally prominent.

TAIL-END COLLISION

(Courier Leased Wire).
REGINA, Sask., Jan. 13.—Fifteen hours hard work was required to clear away the wreckage and restore traffic on the C. P. R. main (Continued on Page Four).

ANOTHER BRANTFORD CONCERN PUSHING AHEAD

The Board of Directors of the Brantford Roofing Co. have decided to add a new line of goods to those already manufactured by the firm. The plant has been enlarged and new machinery installed for the purpose of manufacturing building papers and other builders' supplies.
The company will also manufacture goods to be known as "Red Crystal Slate." Their roofing material will be manufactured in slate size and colored red.
With the factory enlarged and the new lines added the company will be in a position to supply the builders and contractors with all lines of roofing. The above means an extensive outlay for the firm and an increase of workmen.

Radical Changes are Proposed in New York Taxes

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Radical changes in New York City's tax system whereby nearly a score of new sources of revenue are proposed to help meet city expenses without increasing the burden on the taxpayers have been recommended by Mayor Gaynor. It was learned to-day by a special committee which he appointed to study this problem more than two years ago.
Some of the striking proposals are taxes on the unearned increment of real estate, on automobiles double

Is the Sum Paid by the British Government to the National Telephone Company—All Phones Have Passed Into the Hands of the State Under New Scheme.

(Courier Leased Wire).
LONDON, Jan. 13.—The British Government is to pay to the National Telephone Company of the United Kingdom the sum of $62,576,320 in respect of the transfer of the Company's system to the State, according to a decision just reached by the railway and canal commission sitting as a court of arbitration.
The whole of the telephones in Britain had just passed into the hands of the State on January 1, 1912. The National Telephone Company originally claimed $105,000,000 for its interests, but during the trial just ended which has lasted 73 days this claim was reduced by many millions by way of agreement. It had been expected by the London Stock Exchange, however, that the National Telephone Company would receive from $80,000,000 to $90,000,000. The stock of the Company, which at one time showed on the list at 162, and which had been at 151 for some time, immediately upon announcement of the award fell to 103.

The Arbitration decision both as to the amount claimed and the length of the hearing has been one of the biggest in the history of the country. Experts were called by both sides to testify and the speeches of the counsel alone occupied a month.
During the trial the parties came to an agreement as to the cost of the plant, the sum being $51,568,826. The court then had to decide the percentages which should properly be added to that sum and also the depreciation to which the whole cost of construction when ascertained should be subjected.
The Railway and Canal Commission consists of five judges of the high court. These are Sir A. T. Lawrence, Lord Mackenzie, Justice Madden, Justice A. E. Gathorne Hardy and Sir G. T. Woodhouse.

Bounty for Children Goes Into Force in the Old Land

(Courier Leased Wire).
LONDON, Jan. 13.—Beginning to-day every child born in the United Kingdom to parents insured will bring the parents a bounty of £7.50 under terms of the new national insurance act. The mother is also entitled to sickness benefit during the period of her illness.
There are about 1,200,000 births annually in the United Kingdom and it is estimated that fully 1,000,000 of these will be entitled to the insurance benefit. One effect of the scheme is expected to be an improvement in the national physique, which is said to have suffered considerably because so many mothers are denied necessities and are sometimes obliged to resume work before fully recovered.

The Latest With Regard to the Spectacular Fire in Calgary

(Courier Leased Wire).
CALGARY, Alb., Jan. 13.—Besides the handicaps of intense heat and ammonia fumes at the fire in the Burns Packing House Sunday, the firemen had to contend with the danger of an explosion in the ammonia tanks and with intense cold. The thermometer stood at 10 to 15 below zero and the water froze on the men's clothing the instant it fell. Furthermore, the water pressure was only seventy five pounds and several of the hydrants belonging to the plant were frozen. Several of the firemen were overcome, but were able to resume work shortly. A.

McMaston, an employee of the firm and a member of the firm's fire department, had to be taken to the hospital. The stables with cattle corrals and feed stalls and other out-buildings were saved by the total absence of wind.
It was thought that the immense stock of beef, hams, lard, bacon and other products on hand would find safety in the strong concrete walls which separated them from the original theatre of the fire, but about noon the flames worked their way into the storage compartments and the heat and smoke that resulted were so overpowering that the firemen could do but little.

LONG OVERDUE STEAMER HAS ARRIVED

(Courier Leased Wire).
BROWHEAD, Ireland, Jan. 13.—The British Steamer Snowdon Range, about which there has been great anxiety, passed here to-day in tow of the British Steamer Welsh, which had picked her up in the Atlantic, 500 miles to the west.
The Snowdon Range left Philadelphia for Leth, Scotland, on November 23rd. She lost her rudder while on the voyage, and as she had not been spoken for a long time, had been placed on the overdue list. She was recently reinsured at the rate of 80-1-2 percent.

The Welshman which had left Liverpool on December 28 for Portland, Me., found her out of control during the great storms on the Atlantic and brought her back.
ONE CENTURY OLD.
MONTREAL, Jan. 13.—In her hundredth year and in full possession of all her faculties, Mrs. Mary Teskey died yesterday at her residence 967 Tupper street. The deceased was born in Cote St. Michael, Quebec.

IT IS TO LAUGH.

According to the Toronto Globe the talk of forcing the Borden Government to go to the country on the Naval issue is not because the Grits think this might give them a chance to return to power.

Oh, no, certainly not. This is what the leading Grit orator says:

"When Parliament meets this week it will be to face a possible crisis as serious as any in Canada's history. The real issue is not a matter of finance; the voting of $3,000,000 as a 'contribution' to the British Admiralty, or for the construction of a Canadian fleet, or even if it were to be thrown immediately into the sea, would not bankrupt Canada. Neither is the question at issue the triumph of one political party over the other; from the party standpoint the Globe says quite frankly that its first concern is not for the defeat of the Conservative-Nationalist first concern is not for the defeat of the Liberals to power. These things are superficial and subordinate; they could not constitute a crisis."

This looks much, very much, as if the Laurierites were preparing for a breakdown.

There can be no doubt that if Borden did go to the country on the basis of his practical and timely proposal of three Dreadnoughts, that he would go back with even a larger majority than he now possesses.

The Liberal members have been sending their constituents, and they all that many of their own side favor the Borden direct plan instead of the Laurier scheme of building three Dreadnoughts in Canada, when we are not the facilities and cannot wait for many years. That feeling is true of scores of Reformers in Ontario.

CURE SICK HEAD

Stick to it and you will find the relief to a bilious state of the system, such as Headache, Nausea, Stomach, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, etc. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing the annoying complaint, while they also correct all the disorders of the stomach, stomachache, liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cure ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint, but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who take them will find that these little pills will cure in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not. Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly regulated and do not grip or purge, but by their gentle action cause a healthy flow of bile to the bowels. They are sold by all druggists or mailed in plain packages on receipt of price. New pamphlets mailed free. The Wood Medicines Co., Toronto, Ont.

REUNITED

A Kidnaping Leads to a Happy Christmas.

By ANDREW D. MORTON.

I have a faint recollection of stockings hanging to the mantel, a lovely face over my crib and a lady taking me up and kissing me passionately. I remember distinctly that she was weeping. Then she put me down on my pillow, and I went to sleep.

This is all I remember of a Christmas for many years. I was brought up by my father and had no knowledge of my mother. The Christmas season, which was so enjoyable to other children, never brought happiness to me. As it approached my father grew gloomy, and I was sent away to spend Christmas day at some other home.

When I became old enough to wonder why I did not have a mother like other boys I wished to know, yet dreaded to ask.

One day—it was the last day of study before Christmas, when I was eight years old, coming from school—a carriage drew up at the curb beside me, the door opened and a lady beckoned to me to come to her. I did so, and taking my hand, she gave me a very sweet smile and drew me into the carriage. Then she said to the driver, "The ordered the coachman to drive on. Her expression was so lovely and loving that I had no fear.

The streets were full of shoppers making their last purchases before Christmas. There were children peering into the windows at the display of toys, which were already beginning to be lighted artificially. Sitting by the lady, remembering the many dull Christmas days I had spent and another dull one before me, I felt a comfort, a pleasure, I had never experienced before. How I never expected she could go home with me to make a Christmas for me! She, too, seemed to me to be thinking of the same thing. She said nothing to me, only held my hand in hers. I looked to throw my arms about her neck and ask her if she would not be my mother.

It was between 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon when I was taken up, and as it was winter, when the days are short, it soon began to grow dark. "I'm afraid," I said to the lady, "that papa will be worried about me. He always expects me to go home direct from school."

The only response I received was a pressure of the hand and a few moments I said again, "I think I will get out here and go home."

She replied to this by putting her arm about my waist. There was something in the act that indicated an intention on her part to prevent my leaving her. For she held, in it occurred to me that I was being kidnaped. I thought of my father waiting for me and wondering why I did not come home, and this troubled me, but it did not occur to me that I should meet with any harm at the hands of the lady.

Presently the carriage drew up in front of a dwelling house. The lady got out and, still holding my hand, drew me after her. She took me up to the house and into a parlor, where a bright fire was blazing on a hearth.

"You are very kind," I said, "to take me to ride and bring me to your house, but I'm sure papa will be troubled about me. Unless I'm to go home at once I think you had better let me send a message to him. Have you a telephone?"

She thought a moment, then said: "Certainly. Telephone by all means." She took me to the telephone, looked in the address book, found my father's number and instructed the central office to call it up. Then when the connection was effected she placed a stool before the phone and handed me as I talked.

"Is that you, papa?" I asked.

My father was evidently relieved to hear my voice and asked me at once what had happened and where I was. I told him that a beautiful lady whom I had never seen before had taken me to drive and then to her home.

"Tell him," said the lady, "that you are to spend Christmas with me." I did as she bid me and added, at her request, that she intended to make me some slight stonement for the many Christmases that I had been deprived of the pleasures common to other children.

There was silence for a few moments. Then my father asked me to describe the lady. I did so, and he asked me if I could give him the street and number, but I could do neither. Then the lady told me to say to him that she was Corneilia; that I would be carefully guarded and he need not worry about me at all. Then she hung up the receiver and led me back into the room with the fire on the hearth.

Now, the name Corneilia at once arrested my attention. A year before when I had entered the third grade at school my father had brought down a desk from the garret for my use. I was to keep my books and papers in it, and it was to be my study desk in the evening. In clearing it out I had found several old papers that were in it, and in one I had seen this name Corneilia. More than this, the contents of the paper had impressed me. I could not remember the name signed to it, but it was a woman's name. She was obviously very ill and very penitent about some sin she had committed. Now that my father knew I was safe I sat down on a sofa beside the lady and before the cheerful fire. She put her arms about me and rested her cheek against mine. I was very happy.

"So you are Corneilia," I said.

"What do you know about Corneilia?" she asked quickly. "Have you heard your father speak of me?"

"No, papa never mentioned the name; saw it on a paper—a letter, I think."

"What paper? What letter?"

"One I found in a desk papa had the butler bring down from the garret for me to use for a home school desk."

"What was written on the paper?"

"Somebody was very sorry for something she had done to Corneilia. She said she was very sick."

"Who was very sick?"

"Why, the person who wrote the letter."

"Who wrote it?"

"I don't remember the name."

The lady asked the last few questions feverishly. She eagerly asked another. Would I know the name if I heard it? I replied that I thought I would. Then she asked if it was Amy.

"Yes," I replied; "that's it, Amy."

The lady gave me a fierce look, then asked tremblingly what I had done with the letter. I told her that I had put all the papers I had found in the desk together and given them to the housekeeper to put away.

"Come with me," said the lady, "I wish you to tell your father something." She drew me to the telephone, called up my father, then, placing me in position to talk, told me what to say.

"Papa," I said, "I'm sorry for the papers I took out of my desk. You will find one among them signed Amy, with something in it about Corneilia. I will hold the wire till I hear from you."

I heard a click and knew that my location should remain a secret. The lady that I gave to me to make I will come to join you immediately."

I received permission to give the street and number, and within twenty minutes there was a sharp ring at the doorbell. My father entered. He and the lady stood regarding each other for a few moments; then he knelt before her and said:

"Forgive me."

He rose, and they were clasped in each other's arms.

"But I, having no mind to be left out of these transports, running up to them, said:

"Won't you take me in too?"

My father took me up and held me in his arms, while the lady put hers about me also, covering me with kisses.

"To think," she said, "that you should have been the means of bringing this matter to light!"

"I have been a fool," said my father, "to believe anything that fend said!"

"But my boy, this is your mother. Prompted by a malicious woman who wrote a confession which she had not either the courage or sufficient time before her death to give to me, I treated mamma very cruelly."

"My father," I asked of my mother, "whom I remember taking me up from my crib one night when you were crying and kissing me?"

"That was a goodby, though you were too young to know it. I left you suddenly on Christmas eve."

"At that moment dinner was announced and another remembrance of stockings hanging from the mantel."

"Everything was ready for your first Christmas—that is, the first you could appreciate—when—when—"

"I listened to a sibilant," said my father angrily, "and caused all this suffering."

"It is all past now," my mother interposed. "Another Christmas is before us. When I kidnaped my boy I did not dream I was to bring about a reunion for us all."

The Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada

THE following are some outstanding features from the Directors' Report submitted at the Annual Meeting of the Company held on Wednesday, January 8th, 1913, and covering the operations of the Company in 1912:

	1911	1912	Increase
Assurances in Force - - - - -	$34,518,000	$38,734,686	$4,216,686
Assurances Issued and Revived	7,136,952	7,851,660	714,708
Premium and Interest Income	1,545,527	1,795,378	249,851
Policy and Annuity Reserves -	5,509,062	6,338,568	829,506
Total Assets - - - - -	7,095,443	8,134,420	1,038,977

The Chicago Canal Decision is in the Interests of Canada

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13. — In an elaborate opinion, dealing with the principal points advanced in the long series of arguments which were held last year at the War Department, Secretary Stimson has denied the application of the Sanitary District of Chicago for permission to divert from Lake Michigan 10,000 cubic feet of water per second instead of the 4,167 feet at present authorized. The Secretary finds that the increased provision would injure navigation; that there is no necessity therefore; that the application could not be allowed without Congressional authorization, and that Canada has a just right to protest against it, except upon approval by the Joint Waterways Commission.

NO SEGREGATED DISTRICT

(Courier Leased Wire).
LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Jan. 13. — Lethbridge is now without any recognized vice district. Under the campaign begun by Chief of Police Davis formerly of Toronto, the segregated district has been totally wiped out and the last of the inmates at the disorderly houses, have left town for other fields where the police are not so strict.

SAW HIM KILLED

(Courier Leased Wire).
DOVER, N. J., Jan. 13.—Deserted by her husband, three years ago, Mrs. Frank Gibbs saw for the first time since her husband, just as he shipped and fell beneath the wheels of a train he attempted to board and was ground to death.
At the inquiry yesterday into the accident Mrs. Gibbs told how she was looking out of the car window on her way home on a Lackawanna train Saturday night she caught sight of Gibbs as he fell to his death. She married Gibbs three years ago, she said but shortly after the wedding he deserted her and she had never seen him until he met his untimely end.

OBITUARY

The remains of the late Mrs. Sarah Bingham were conveyed from her late residence, Burrell St. on Saturday afternoon and laid in their last resting place in Mt. Hope cemetery. Rev. A. E. Lavelle was the officiating clergyman. The pall-bearers were H. Vince, G. Hunter, R. Ash and J. Meggett.

The funeral of the late Ellen McLevine took place on Saturday afternoon from her late residence, River Road, Onondaga Township to Mt. Hope Cemetery. The Rev. Mr. Whitelaw conducted the services.

DOG FLESH AS A STAPLE DIET

BERLIN, Jan. 13.—The use of the flesh of dogs as a food for many is becoming common even in the capital.
From necessity the German workman has long made horse meat a substantial portion of his daily fare, but while Saxony consumes thousands of dogs annually, the practice of eating this meat has not until recently invaded Prussia.

Now the overseers of the Berlin cattle yards have given their approval of a proposal to erect a municipal slaughterhouse for dogs at the yards, and it is expected that the Police President will soon issue the required permit.

Sydenham St. Methodist Church Rev. J. M. Whitelaw of Balfour St. Church preached a most helpful and encouraging sermon at 11 a.m., taking for his text, John 20:27, "Behold My Hands." The one important question asked was "have you the dead Christ, or the risen glorified Master?" He explained how Jesus is by the side of every aching heart. Sorrow or bereavement is the very thing that brings Jesus. A wayward son is the very thing to give you the wings of prayer, and we are living in the age of awful problems, which have awful effects. Then after encouragement to Christian workers, he said in closing: "As faithful followers of Jesus Christ let us bring forth the royal diadem and crown Him Lord of all."

Service at 7 p.m. was conducted by the pastor, Rev. A. I. Snyder. His sermon was taken from Gen. 2:19, "Creation of things of the world." Speaking of greatness, he said: "The Bible is a great art gallery, for in it are the greatest pictures and the greatest artists. All people are great. He remarked that deus count in this world. After a most instructive and helpful talk regarding the life of Adam, he said: "The wages of sin is death." He recommended rather than living a sinful life, to try and live an honest, noble and pure life.

THE SPIRIT OF WINTER. The Spirit of Winter is with us, making its presence known in many different ways - sometimes by cheery sunshine and glistening snows, and sometimes by driving winds and blinding storms. To many people it seems to take a delight in making bad things worse, for rheumatism twists harder, twinges sharper, catarrh becomes more annoying, and the many symptoms of scrofula are developed and aggravated. There is no much poetry in this, but there is truth, and it is a wonder that more people don't get rid of these ailments. The medicine that cures them - Hood's Sarsaparilla - is easily obtained, and there is abundant proof that its cures are radical and permanent.

And Remember THIS The Newman Watch can always be depended upon. It will stand the hardest of hard work and will keep up to the very smallest fraction of a second in time. We sell the Newman Watch and urge you to come in and talk watches with us. No man, woman or child ought to be without a watch - with out a Newman watch.

AFTER EFFECTS OF LONG ILLNESS Speedily Vanish When You Use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Loren G. Ladd only found complete relief after using the Great Canadian Kidney Pills.

LADD'S MILLS, Stanstead Co. Que., Jan. 13 (Special) - The seeds of disease left in the body after an illness are sure to cause trouble in the experience of Loren G. Ladd, a well known young man in this community. Mr. Ladd has also learned that those seeds can be cleared out of the body and perfect health restored by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"At the age of six I had Scarlet Fever," Mr. Ladd states. "At twelve I had Typhoid Fever, and at fourteen I had Measles. About a year later I began to be troubled by swellings of the face feet and hands. The doctor told me I had Kidney trouble. He gave me medicine but the swellings continued to come at intervals of a week to a month."

"Two years ago one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills stopped the swellings. Last winter the swellings returned and again I was cured by using Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"Healthy kidneys strain the seeds of disease out of the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills make healthy kidneys."

Mr. Redferne Hollingshead, the tenor for Schubert Choir has just returned from the continent and will be a decided attraction at the Schubert Choir Concert.

TRADING IN SECRETS

INTERNATIONAL SPYING IS A DANGEROUS OCCUPATION.

Recent Tragedy in Sofia Recalls Similar Romantic Episodes—Women Spies Frequently Use Their Charms to Gain Information—Berzozaki's Fate Was Slow Starvation in a Russian Prison.

According to the special correspondent at Sofia of The Petis Parisien, a woman of high social position in that capital and wife of a Bulgarian staff officer was the first to betray the Bulgarian mobilization plans to the Turkish authorities, and was shot. A few years ago she fell in love with another staff officer of the Bulgarian Legation at Sofia, but her parents objected to the marriage, and she finally wedded a Bulgarian officer.

Some time later the Turkish officer renewed his friendship with his old sweetheart, and one day he said to her: "I have been ordered by my superiors to obtain the Bulgarian mobilization plans. If I do not succeed I shall be relegated to some distant command in Asia Minor, and we shall have no chance of seeing one another."

The woman handed him a day or two later a bundle of documents concerning the Bulgarian war plans, which she had taken from her husband's desk, telling him to photograph them and return them to her. Just after the war broke out the Turkish officer was captured by the Bulgarians in one of the first engagements, and in his pockets were found papers revealing the whole affair. He was arrested at Kiel on suspicion of being a spy in the employ of France. It appears that she had entered into a love affair with a non-commissioned officer of the German Explosive Department, and solely for the purpose of obtaining from him some important naval secrets which she believed he was possessed.

This reminds us that some years ago a young English lady attached to our Secret Service was told off to secure, if possible, certain army codes in France. With the hope of being successful, she attracted the attention of a member of the French headquarters staff, who promptly fell in love with her. Her conscience, however, reproached her with the traitorous part she was playing, and finally she found herself returning the affection of the victim. As a consequence she resigned her post and was led to the altar by the young officer.

At the time the Rock of Gibraltar was being turned into a strong fortress a young German girl took up her residence there, and a large number of the officers became victims to her charms. A middle-aged major, however, suspected that the fascinating Fraulien was a spy in the employ of Germany, and during a few discreet chats he had with her discovered that she knew a good deal concerning guns and other matters. After communicating with the War Office, he politely but firmly requested the German girl to return to her native country.

It has been said that the German War Office employs female spies in all parts of the world, and comparatively recently a number of barmaids of German nationality employed in hotels and cafes on the Eastern frontier of France were expelled from the country owing to the fact that information had been placed before the French War Office to the effect that they were spies in the employ of Germany.

Perhaps one of the cleverest spies that ever lived was Berzozaki, a Russian subject. In 1887 he laid the entire plans of a campaign elaborated by Duke Nicholas before the Turkish Government. He was a very daring fellow, but he allowed himself too much latitude and was discovered. He was brought before the Duke, who sentenced him to a long term of imprisonment in one of the subterranean dungeons of the fortress prison of St. Peter. Berzozaki's jailer was so bitter against him that he refused to supply the prisoner with food, and, in consequence, he starved slowly to death.

Another celebrated spy was the French Sergeant Hoff, who has been described as the greatest military humbug in history. Again and again he pompously announced to his brother officers that he had killed scores of Prussian soldiers single-handed; but, strange to say, he was never seen to kill even one. Hoff's duty was to go out scouting by night and when he returned he nearly always brought into camp a number of rifles which he boasted were the property of the Prussians he had slaughtered. After a time Hoff's superior officers became suspicious, and one night they sent a Lieutenant to follow Sergeant Hoff. He was seen to march boldly into the Prussian camp and chat with their officers. When Hoff returned to the French lines he was taxed with being a spy, and when the lieutenant produced evidence that he was a traitor to his country and in the employ of the Prussians, an officer snatched Hoff's revolver from him and shot him dead there and then.

The Russian War Office has spies all over Europe, a good number being of the fair sex. The most notorious and daring women spies, however, are attached to the Russian Secret Political Police. Zinaida Joutchenko, nee Guerngross, a member of a well-to-do family at Vitebsk, was a famous Russian police spy. This woman made her first appearance as an agent provocateur in 1894, when she was twenty-three years of age.

A MYSTERIOUS CITY.

Age-Old Petra Is Now the Study of the Archaeologist.

A rose hued city, which is said by scientists to be half as old as the world, is now being closely studied by scientific men with the hope that its wonderful ruins lost secrets of man's earliest history, will be found. Light on creation itself, will be found. Go as far back as they can, archaeologists have so far found the history of Petra hidden in the misty past, its location occurring before Pharaoh walked the earth, when the civilization of Egypt was not yet dreamed of.

Petra is said to be the most remarkable ruins in the world. It is wonderful not only for its great age but for its former importance as a gay and wealthy capital, for its former wealth and grandeur and especially for the fact that its palaces and houses were for the most part carved from a beautiful rose-hued stone which is found there in all gradations of color.

Petra is located half way between the Dead Sea and the Gulf of Akaba, and its location is perhaps unparalleled. It is a city hewn out of solid rock and lies in the hollow of great rocky mountains. It lies in a valley two miles long by one in width, accessible by a narrow one entrance, the most remarkable approach in any city on earth. In Moab, and a halting place in the ancient caravan route to the Far East, it was well nigh impregnable. Civilization now, though isolated from the world, and uninhabited, would hesitate to call it a city of the past.

Petra's foundation and early history is lost in the hazy mists of remote antiquity. We are assured it was the capital of Moab. The sacred narrative records its conquest by Amariah in the ninth century B.C. The prophets of old heaped curses and abuse upon it. The Nabatheans in about the third century B.C. made it their capital. Strabo, Ptolemy, and other Greek and Roman writers describe the place. Trajan brought it under Roman rule, and it continued to flourish with unabated vigor until the caravans which had for so long passed through its gates and on to the Red Sea turned instead to the Persian Gulf. Then completely forgotten that its very site was lost for a thousand years. Indeed, it remained thus until a hundred years ago, when that indefatigable traveler and explorer, Burckhardt, first discovered it, and once more brought it to the notice of man.

The entrance gorge, or silk, is unquestionably the great glory of Petra. For almost two miles one follows a winding course, the gorgeously colored rocks on either side almost joining as they rise precipitously overhead to the height of several hundred feet. The stream which is responsible for this magnificent cliff now winds its wild course untrammelled over the rocks, following through these tremendous rocks. Suddenly we emerge through the narrow opening ahead and without warning find before the first image of the Red City, a pile of masonry pillars and sculptured figures—an excavated temple, unharmed by the tide of centuries, perfect even in detail, forming still a part of the massive rock from which it was hewn. It is truly startling to find in these wild mountains, architecture of such peculiar grace and grandeur. Art and nature here seem as one.

Everywhere are scattered temples, theatres, tombs, obelisks, churches and public edifices, challenging admiration not only because of the variety of style—Egyptian, Greek, Roman—they embody, but also by the exquisitely delicate hues of the sandstone from which they are hewn, an extraordinary veining and inter-mixture of colors, in which "yellow and blue are occasionally added, ribbon like, to red and purple."

Animals Clever With Their Feet. Goats are the most sure footed of our native animals. They can walk upright would not crawl. Horses are the daintiest treaders, however, though they cannot climb. No horse will step on a man if it can possibly help it. It is a standing rule in cavalry regiments that if a trooper is dismounted he must remain perfectly still, when the whole column passes over him, without injuring him. Camels are careless, on the other hand, and the man who came out unharmed from under the feet of a camel corps was not born to be run over by any kind of beast or vehicle.

The Wrong Kind. A strapping German, with big beads of perspiration streaming down his face, was darning in and out among the aisles of a department store.

His excited actions attracted the attention of all the salespeople, and they hardly knew what to make of it. A hustling young man of the clothing department walked up and asked: "Are you looking for something in men's clothing?" "No," he roared, "not men's clothing, vimmin's clothing. I can't find my wife!"

Hockey. The oriental origin of hockey is proved by the fact that it is often mentioned by Arabian writers in the earliest days of Islam at a time when France and England had no national existence. They speak of it as koura and describe it as a game in which the ball is struck with a curved stick, called mihdjan or sanladjan. The latter word is Persian, which seems to indicate that the Arabs learned the game from their neighbors of Iran, who first taught them civilization.

The Preacher's Closing Word. The members of the Rev. Dr. Fourtly's congregation settled themselves resignedly in their seats. He had just said, "One word more, and I have done." The doctor looked keenly at them over his glasses for a moment. Then he closed the book in front of him. "Amen!" he said.

Under the able direction of Mr. H. K. Jordan, with 135 voices, Brantford will have a delightful musical evening in the Opera House, Feb. 4th, Schubert Choir Concert.

CHOLERA SCOURGES.

England Has Suffered Heavily in Times Gone By.

The terrible ravages cholera is making at the present time in Turkey remind one of many previous occasions when epidemics have carried off thousands at a time. As early as 767 B.C. we read of a plague, and again in 453 B.C. Rome suffered terribly. Athens was attacked by a pestilence in 430 B.C., which was believed to have been caused by their enemies poisoning the water supplies. In many as 10,000 people a day fell its victims to the plague in A.D. 80. So many people were killed during the epidemic which occurred in Britain during the fifth century that there were hardly enough people left to bury the dead. In 773 Chichester lost 34,000 people, and in 964 Scotland lost 40,000. London was visited in the south of England in a series of outbreaks. Ireland suffered severely in 1324. The Oriental plague occurred between 1349 and 1352. It was known as the "Black Plague" because of the black spots which appeared on the skin at death. It started in China in 1353, and the deaths numbered 13,000,000. It was carried to London in 1349, and in 1350 occurred in London, where 100,000 died. The sweating-sickness occurred in England four times during the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries, the first time in 1485, and lasted a month, in which 20,000 people died in London alone. It also visited Holland, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Poland and Russia between 1529 and 1530.

In the seventeenth century a pestilence broke out in London and carried off 20,000 people in a matter of a few days. In 1663 through a scourge which swept over France, Italy lost 400,000 in six months in 1686. In the seventeenth century Holland was visited by a plague; in Leyden 13,000 died of it, and the following year 13,257 died in Amsterdam. It was brought to London in a bale of cotton by some Dutch merchants. This was the Plague of London, and, as everyone knows, about 100,000 people died in one year.

During recent years India has been heavily visited by plague—in Bombay, North-West, Presidency and Punjab, and in a less degree in Burma, and in the West Indies. In January, 1905, there was a weekly mortality of 20,000, reaching by steady increase a total of 57,702. By April 1st it had dropped to 25 per cent of the daily total, and by the end of June, 1905, two years after the number of victims amounted to as many as 1,316,000.

"Cross Education." This term is used to describe a phenomenon that has recently been under investigation at a laboratory attached to one of the New England universities. The results have shown that the effects of practice on one side of the body are transferred to the other side, where there has been no practice. For instance, a fencer, practicing lunges with a foil and using only his right hand, gained in two weeks 56 per cent. of accuracy in aim. At the same time it was found that his left hand had gained 35 per cent. of accuracy in the same exercise, although it had no actual practice. So the exertion of the muscles of the right arm likewise increased the strength of the left arm.

A Funny Eagle. A Russian grand duke was once the guest of a German prince. It was early in the last century. In Russia the imperial double headed eagle is to be seen everywhere and on everything throughout the empire—stamped, painted, embroidered or sculptured. At that period the education of grand dukes was somewhat limited. This grand duke went out shooting in Germany, and among other things, shot a large bird. He asked an experienced huntsman who accompanied him what the bird was. "An eagle, your highness," was the answer. The grand duke turned on him in an irritated way. "How can it be an eagle," he asked, "when it has only one head?"

Songless Spain. There was almost as little acted as spoken drama in the streets. I have given my impression of the songlessness of Spain, in Madrid as elsewhere, but if there was no street singing there was often street playing by pathetic bands of blind minstrels with guitars and mandolins. The blind abound everywhere in Spain in that profession of street beggary which I always encouraged, believing, as I do, that comfort in this unbalanced world cannot be too constantly reminded of misery. As the hunchbacks are in Italy or the wooden peg legged in England, so the blind are in Spain for number.

The Fly and the Matches. One would be inclined to say that for a fly to empty a box of matches is utterly impossible, yet it can be made to accomplish this feat. Catch an ordinary house fly alive and, taking hold of it carefully by the wings, let it touch a match in an unopened box with its legs. It will at once grip the match in its endeavors to walk, and on lifting the fly the insect will in turn lift the match. Pull the match away from the fly, and the same manoeuvre can be repeated time after time until the box is empty.

An Episode of the Flood. The animals were just entering the ark. "I notice you are being enumerated and numbered by the proprietor of this ark as we pass in," said the giraffe.

"Yes," answered the playful monkey, "but I will gladly acknowledge as correct any figure that are put down, as this is a Noah count affair, anyway."

On Guard. "Mrs. Wombat, I have always heard of you as a good loser." "I try to deserve that reputation young man, but you can't sell me any bum stock of any sort."

Write Ideas For Moving Picture Plays

YOU CAN WRITE PHOTO PLAYS AND EARN $25.00 OR MORE WEEKLY

WE WILL SHOW YOU HOW!

If you have ideas—if you can THINK—We will show you the secrets of this fascinating new profession. Positively no experience or literary excellence necessary. No "flowery language" is wanted.

The demand for photoplays is practically unlimited. The big film manufacturers are "moving heaven and earth" in their attempts to get enough good plots to supply the ever increasing demand. They are offering $100, and more, for single scenarios or written ideas.

Nearly all the big film companies, the buyers of photoplays, are located in or near NEW YORK CITY. Being right on the spot, and knowing at all times just what sort of plots are wanted by the producers, our SALES DEPARTMENT has a tremendous advantage over agencies situated in distant cities.

We have received many letters from the big film manufacturers, such as VITAGRAPH, EDISON, ESSANAY, LUBIN, SOLAX, IMP. REX, RELIANCE, CHAMPION, COMET, MELIES, ETC., urging us to send photoplays to them. We want more writers and we'll gladly teach you the secrets of success.

We are selling photoplays written by people who "never before wrote a line for Publication."

Perhaps we can do the same for you. If you can think of only one good idea every week, and will write it out as directed by us, and it sells for only $25, a low figure

Intercolonial Railway Calendar for 1913.

Bringing visions of comfortable and luxurious travel through a territory unrivalled for scenic beauty, the calendar of the Intercolonial Railway just received with the compliments of the Traffic Dept. is warmly appreciated as a happy reminder of past enjoyments and as an inspiration for future travel.

The calendar is as usual very handsome and is printed in exquisite taste. On a hand tooled background of maple leaves is an oval centre piece printed in quadra color showing the Ocean Limited speeding through a scene where ocean and land with a setting of fleecy clouds combine to form a very beautiful picture. Over this is the emblematic moosehead encircled in a halo of scarlet with the words "The Fast Line—the People's Railway" in pale yellow. Set in the four corners are the reproductions of the four I. C. R. booklets descriptive of Quebec and the Maritime Provinces.

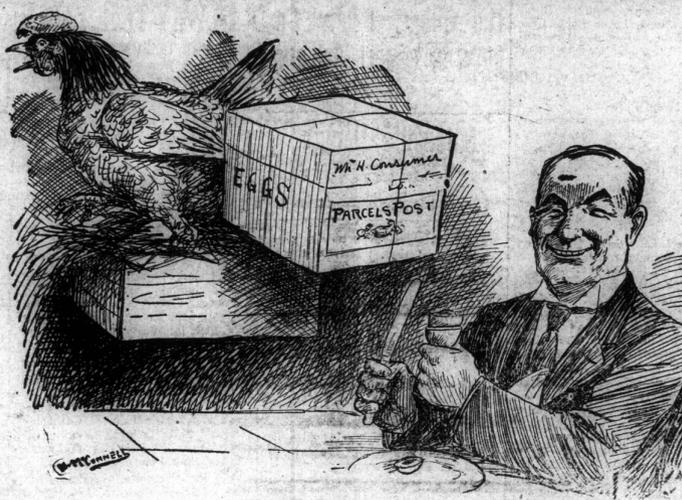

The lettering is done in white with gold outline while the tab is chocolate brown with white figures, showing prominently the statutory holidays being marked by squares of shaded white and gold. On each side of the tab in white lettering are some cheerful facts concerning the splendid through trains, the Ocean Limited and the Maritime Express.

The design of the calendar is greatly enhanced by a surprising of gold on the background of maple leaves. As a reminder of the Intercolonial and its fine train service it is excellent. As something both ornamental and useful for office use it is much to be desired.

A WONDERFUL CURE.

Just think of it, a cold cured in ten minutes—that's what happens when you use "Catarrhzone." You inhale its soothing balsams and out goes the cold—sniffles are cured—headache is cured—symptoms of gripe disappear at once. It's the healing pine essences and powerful antiseptics in Catarrhzone that enable it to act so quickly. In disease of the nose, for irritable throat, bronchitis, coughs and catarrh it's a marvel. Safe even for children. 25c. and $1.00 sizes at all dealers.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS

At the Opening of the New City Council--He Refers to a Number of Interesting Matters.

Brantford Jan. 13, '13 To the Aldermen of the City of Brantford:

Gentlemen,—I can assure you I am of the opinion that the assessment rolls should be revised and printed for the information of our citizens. I am pleased that the Council of 1912 passed a resolution that the assessment roll should be printed.

It will, therefore, be the duty of this year's council to carry out the resolution.

Appointment of an Inspector. In my address to the Council last year, I recommended the appointment of a duly qualified person to inspect all plumbing, wiring and meters. I would suggest that you deal with this important matter at the earliest possible moment.

Street Paving. I would suggest that this Council continue the work of street paving during the year, especially on those streets in the central portion of the city, which have not been paved.

The ever increasing traffic demands that our streets should be kept in the best repair.

City Hall and Market Question. I greatly regret that the citizens did not by their votes on the referendum, finally settle these questions. We must, however, abide by the will of the people.

By-laws. It is a matter of gratification that the citizens of Brantford, approved of both the Flood Prevention and Water Works By-laws by such pronounced majorities. The results of the passing of both by-laws will be apparent to all.

General Hospital, New Sanatorium and Nurses' Home. The new Sanatorium and Nurses' Home are nearing completion, and will be opened shortly. Work has also been commenced on the General Hospital, and when completed, Brantford, so far as institutions of the kind referred to, are concerned, will be equipped equally well, if not better, than any other city of its size in the Dominion.

Conclusion. In conclusion, I desire to express the hope that the year 1913, will find us working harmoniously and unitedly for the moral, social and commercial development of our fair city.

While we may not all agree on the manner of dealing with the many questions coming before us for consideration, yet, from the honest expression of our opinions, I trust we will gain wisdom and courage to do that which will result in the greatest good to all.

City Hall and Market Question. I greatly regret that the citizens did not by their votes on the referendum, finally settle these questions. We must, however, abide by the will of the people.

By-laws. It is a matter of gratification that the citizens of Brantford, approved of both the Flood Prevention and Water Works By-laws by such pronounced majorities. The results of the passing of both by-laws will be apparent to all.

THE WRECK

Is Recorded of Another Liner--One Hundred Cabin Passengers and Seven Hundred and Eighty Others are Safely Removed.

HALIFAX, Jan. 13.—From the stranded steamship Uranium, 880 passengers were taken off at Chebucto Head, at the entrance to Halifax Harbor, and reached here in safety. No lives were lost, but Captain Eustance and his crew are still aboard the ship, which hangs by her bows on a reef, the captain hoping to get off at low water, which will be about 11 o'clock. The escape of a ship from such a predicament is generally at high water, but the captain evidently thinks that the after-part of the ship in deep water will drag the forward part off at low. The Uranium struck at 11 o'clock Sunday morning in thick weather. She crashed on the ledge a quarter of a mile north of Chebucto Head. She was on a course from the north, and the captain got out of his course in this way is a mystery. He was manoeuvring for a pilot at the time.

Word was at once sent to Halifax for assistance, but there was some delay, and it was two o'clock before the Government steamer Lady Laurier, the Bridgewater and other craft went down to the wreck. The ship struck when the tide was half high, and in the middle of the afternoon her bow was six feet out of water with seven fathoms amidships and seventeen fathoms at the stern. It is nine miles below Halifax where the ship went ashore, and the only communication was from the telephone in the lightkeeper's house at Chebucto Head.

Passengers Transferred. The work of transferring the Uranium's passengers to the Lady Laurier was begun at once. Three lifeboats from the life-saving stations in the vicinity were on hand, each with a capacity of 30 persons. There were also the lifeboats on the Uranium.

PACKING PLANT

Is Destroyed by a Disastrous Fire--The Premises of Multi Millionaire Burns Wiped Out at a Loss of $2,000,000.

CALGARY, Alta., Jan. 13.—One of the most disastrous fires in the history of Western Canada occurred Sunday when the large packing plant of P. Burns and Company was totally destroyed by fire. The loss, including carcasses in cold storage, will probably be in excess of $2,000,000. On account of the low water pressure the fire department was unable to do effective work, and at a late hour last night the fire was still raging.

The loss is serious, in that the local plant was the largest institution of its kind in the west, from which all of the western cities, including Vancouver and Victoria, and the Victoria coast cities, draw largely for their meat supply, and butchering in the open may have to be resorted to in order to prevent a meat famine. The storage plant contained from 15,000 to 20,000 carcasses.

The fire was discovered about 12.30 o'clock Sunday morning. The whole of the basement was in flames, and the packing plant department, augmented by all the city fire department, was unable to make any headway against the flames. This was due in a measure, to the low water pressure, and also to ammonia fumes in the basement, which were so strong that the men could not endure them. Repeatedly the firemen entered the basement, only to be driven back by the overpowering ammonia fumes. In a short time the fire had gotten into the grease soaked floors of the upper stories, and when this occurred the water had no effect whatever. Several of the firemen had narrow escapes from exploding ammonia tanks, but no one was seriously injured. The fire raged furiously all day and by night the remains of the magnificent plant were but charred ruins.

The Burns plant was a local institution with a history. It had its start when P. Burns, then a very young man came to Calgary about twenty years ago. It is related that his sole capital was one lone beef steer. The growth of this plant has kept pace with the development of this section and has made its owner one of the richest men in the west, his wealth being reputed to be in the neighborhood of $15,000,000. The property destroyed was fully insured, the insurance of the stock in storage being in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.

GRANDMOTHER USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HER FADED OR GRAY HAIR

Mixed With Sulphur it Makes Hair Soft, Beautiful. Cures Dandruff.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmothers' time. She kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But the brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays skilled scientists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called Wyeth's, which can be depended upon Remedy—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own which is usually too sticky, so insist upon getting Wyeth's, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well known down town druggist says his customers insist on Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because they say it darkens so naturally, and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair taking one strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh), that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

THIS WEEK'S ADVICE

is to order Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. These chilly days are finding work for us. Before long somebody will have to do some waiting. Then there will be a rush in earnest. So those who have promised themselves an overcoat will be ahead by ordering ahead here. Skilful tailoring for careful dressers. Harwood, Definition.

What is Chiropractic? Chiropractic (Kiro-prak-tic) is a word coined from two Greek words Chiro and Praxis (in combination) Chiro-practic which means hand doing or hand practice, one who adjusts by hand, any subluxated articulations of the human skeleton frame—especially the 33 bones of the spinal column for the purpose of restoring the normal flow of currents through nerves that were formerly hindered by impingement caused by the subluxation of the bones.

All movements whether normal or abnormal, or in the body are but the personifications of mental equivalents—mental functions, guided by Innate Intelligence, creating physical expression.

Diseases are caused by a lack of current of Innate Mental impulses. This is produced by a constricting force placed around nerves by vertebral displacements brought about by muscular contraction or concussion of forces.

Health is restored by completing the mental and physical circuit, the method of which is unique and original and does not in any way inconvenience or prohibit the patient from his ordinary duties of life.

A New Science—The Curative Powers Are Within the Body Itself.

The Chiropractic method is a new science of adjusting the cause of disease without drugs, based on a correct knowledge of anatomy, and especially the nervous system. With this knowledge of the cause of disease and our unique method of adjusting the cause, we have learned beyond question, that the curative powers are within the body itself, and that the cure of disease depends wholly upon the body—upon the Chiropractic method of bringing the functional organism into harmony allowing the Innate mental impulses to flow unobstructed to all parts of the body.

Chiropractic Not Osteopathy.

One of the most frequent questions that a Chiropractor is called upon to answer is this: "What is the difference between Chiropractic and Osteopathy?" The difference is as great as the distance between the poles. Chiropractic does not treat effects. Chiropractors do not manipulate the muscles in any way. They adjust subluxated vertebrae into proper alignment, and it takes but a fraction of a second to do it. The whole object is accomplished when the nerve force is turned on. The Osteopath will spend one half hour to two hours in treating their patients, and then only relaxing the muscles. There is as much difference between Osteopathy and Chiropractic as there is between Chiropractic and the practice of medicine. The Chiropractor confines his work to the Spinal Column ONLY, as that is the only place the nerve can be impinged or where affections can exist.

Quizzes and Answers for Chiropractors.

Do you use electric belts or batteries? No.
Do you use medicine or drugs? No.
Do you practice surgery? No.
Do you practice obstetrics? No.
Do you rub, slap or use massage? No.
Do you use a stretching machine? No.
Do you hypnotize or mesmerize your subjects? No.
Can you treat me at a distance? We could no more fix you at a distance than your jeweler could fix your watch at the same distance.
Do you have to have faith? No. We adjust six months old babies.
Is there anything in your science like Christian Science, Faith Cure, Mind Cure, Metaphysics, Suggestive Therapeutics, Mental Science, Osteopathy? No.
Do you cure disease? No. We adjust the cause and nature does the healing. We remove the dams or obstructions that are restricting the life current.

CHIROPRACTIC (Spinal Adjustments).

Remove the Cause of Disease Without Medicine or Knife.

Chiropractor means one who adjusts with the hands. Chiropractic (Spinal Adjustments) is founded on the simple scientific principle that all functions of the body are governed by the nerves; that these nerves all radiate from the spinal column through openings between the vertebrae.

There are 31 pairs of these nerves, 25 pairs of which comes from between the movable vertebrae. Any interference with them by a displacement of the vertebrae causes a diseased condition. Nerves control the skin, muscles, ligaments, mucous membrane and bones, and regulate the amount of blood sent to any part of the body by contracting and relaxing the vascular system. The blood carries the nitrogenous substance which nourishes the body. The impurities are also carried by it to the proper organs for elimination. The movements of any part of the body, the circulation of fluids, regular or irregular, normal or abnormal, are controlled by the nerves. There is not an ache or a pain but is the sensation of the nerves. All pain is due to pressure upon the sensory nerves. All morbid action of the body is due to lack of vital force in, or irritation of the motor nerves. Subluxations of the vertebrae of the spinal column are the cause of 90 per cent. of abnormal, deranged or diseased nerves.

When a nerve is interfered with in any way, that minute disease begins and sooner or later its effects are noticed where the nerve reaches and ends. Chiropractic is a drugless system and should not be confounded with massage, magnetic or hypnotic treatment, as it bears no resemblance to any. Chiropractic is not Osteopathy, but reaches many diseases that Osteopathy cannot.

CHIROPRACTIC.

Is Based on These Two Principles: 1. Sub-Luxation (partial displacement) of Bones causes Pressure on Nerves.

2. PRESSURE ON NERVES causes disease.

The cause of disease has been and is yet mysterious to the great mass of humanity, but the mystery has been solved by the Chiropractor (spine adjuster).

My business is to adjust the cause, to RELEASE THE PRESSURE on the nerves and to restore normal action—therefore normal functions and perfect health. I do not rub, massage, knead, manipulate or treat disease.

I ADJUST CAUSE. My philosophy of taking off the pressure has the more rational claim upon all sufferers. I give a logical reason for the cause of disease.

Acute Cases. Acute cases are often relieved in one or two adjustments. In cases of long standing the vertebrae have their forms changed by long continued pressure and time is required to get them back to normal position and to restore the freedom of nerves. That this can be done has been proven beyond the shadow of a doubt in 90 per cent. of the cases adjusted.

Marvelous results follow our system of Spinal Adjustments, and we stand ready to give you abundant testimony of persons who have been restored to permanent health by our Spinal Adjustments. If you have any of the following ailments stop taking drugs. Go to a competent Chiropractor and have him take off the pressure, and health will be the result: Appendicitis, hysteria, blood diseases, heart troubles, insomnia, Bright's Disease, kidney diseases, childhood fever, lumbago, constipation, Locomotor Ataxia, consumption, (1st stages), liver diseases, bladder trouble, indigestion, bowel trouble, Lung Trouble, Diabetes, Meningitis, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, Female Diseases, Pneumonia, Gall Stones, Pleurisy, Grippa, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Spinal Diseases, Stomach Trouble, St. Vitus Dance, Shortness of Breath, Tumors.

If your ailment is not mentioned, do not become discouraged, my space is limited.

I make it possible for nature to restore health WITHOUT drugs or knife. This means YOUR DISEASE.

With Interrupted Nerve Force Health Is Impossible. Without nerve force the blood cannot circulate properly. The lack of circulation means strangulation, and strangulation causes many diseases, such as dropsy, tumors, running sores and various so-called skin diseases.

Chiropractic—Nature's Method. Frees the circulation, thereby permitting the refuse to be thrown out of the body through the natural channels.

Pressure upon Nerves causes such diseases as Paralysis, Rheumatism,

Neuralgia, Asthma, Female Diseases, and the various Diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Kidneys. As all our motor and sensory powers are transmitted through nerves, it is plain to be seen that the nerves should be free from all abnormal pressure. Strange, but true, all the nerves of the body may be freed by adjusting the spinal vertebrae with the hands.

Removing the Cause. Chiropractors have remarkable success in removing the cause of Appendicitis, Deafness, Asthma, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Lambe Back, Constipation, Elix, Female Diseases, Stomach and Kidney Trouble, Nervous Prostration and Pneumonia. NO LOCAL EXAMINATIONS used, as they are unnecessary.

Lady Patients. In no line of disease do we have better success than in the ailments which afflict womankind. Benefits are promptly shown without the annoyance which they are subjected to under the drug treatment. The proper nerve supply being restored, the normal functions are quickly re-established.

Why Am I All Stirred Up After Taking Spinal Adjustments? Disease is a perversion of the normal law. To get well requires the time that is necessary to rebuild these abnormal tissues. To accomplish this means that all diseases must retrace their steps. Sometimes this process seems uncalled for, but it is all for the best; it is then that you should grip tightly and remain by your chiropractor, and in a few days you will generally see good results.

Motherhood Made Easy. Motherhood should not be as painful and dangerous as it is, and it is not so, but it is in a great majority of cases, there are some of the nerves impinged through which nature controls the organs of generation and in that way makes them inactive. This would not be so if all nerves were freed to work in harmony. This has been proved by great many ladies who have taken Chiropractic spinal adjustments.

People Are Sleepless. When anything new in the light of a radical departure from what people have been educated to believe is brought before them, it is human nature to be skeptical. The man who invented the telegraph, the man who discovered the circulation of the blood were at first looked upon as lunatics or fakirs. But nothing can down truth. Many other great discoveries which at first met only with scorn, were recognized as blessings in scores of years.

The science of Chiropractic but a few years ago was unknown. To-day it is known only in communities where it has been accomplished seemingly by magic. The banishment of disease. People must believe the evidence of their senses. If a person comes to a Chiropractor with a disease which doctors have failed to cure, and that person is completely restored to health, he must believe that he is not dealing with long technicalities; he only knows he is sick. The Chiropractor tells him why he is sick, and proves that he is correct by giving the patient adjustments that allow nature to restore him to health.

Chiropractic gives nature a chance to make you well.

A CURIOUS COINCIDENCE.

Dramatic Climax to a Trial in a French Court. Coincidence—chance—plays a tremendous part in human history. Fate is another name for the same thing; so is luck. All these words are merely out-puny euphemisms for X, the unknown quantity.

Not a day passes but the story of a remarkable coincidence is brought to public notice. A stranger incident never occurred, however, than this one, the account of which is in an old copy of the Chronique de Paris.

A youth of about nineteen was brought to trial for having broken the window of a baker's shop and stolen a two pound loaf. The Judge—Why did you steal the loaf?

"Prisoners—I was driven by hunger. 'Why did you not buy it?' 'Because I had no money.' 'But you have a gold ring on your finger. Why didn't you sell it?'"

"I am a foundling. When I was taken from the arms of a ditch this ring was suspended from my neck by a silken cord, and I kept it in the hope of thereby discovering at least who were my parents. I cannot dispose of it."

The procurer du roi (king's attorney) made a violent speech against the prisoner, who was found guilty and sentenced to imprisonment for five years, immediately upon this a woman more worn down by poverty than age came forward and made the following declaration:

"Gentlemen of the jury, twenty years ago a young woman was married to a young man of the same town, who afterwards abandoned her. Poor and distressed, she was obliged to leave her child to the care of Providence. The child has since grown up, and the woman and the husband have grown old, the child in poverty, the woman in misery and her husband in prosperity. They are all three now in court. The child is the unfortunate prisoner whom you have just pronounced guilty, the mother is myself, and here sits the father," pointing to the king's attorney.

POETICAL FEATS. Difficult Rimes Had No Terrors For Browning or Byron. Poets may be baffled in their search for rimes, but it takes a great deal to baffle the doggerel rimester. Charles II. offered a reward for a rime to "porridge." The reward was claimed with the following marriage announcement:

The Duke of York a daughter had, Having the name of Orange her, So now your majesty will see, I've found a rime for porridge. Browning's perceptions in rime are probably unique in English poetry. Here is a couplet from "Sordello" which no minor poet would dare to print for fear of blasting his reputation:

Chirrup the contumacious grasshopper; Bustle the lizard and the curst chire. In the same poem he rimes "milk" with "milk," "dag" with "dag," "abhors" with "valvassors." But he reached the climax surely in the couplet: "You trample our beds of raiment— And you, Tommy, make room for your uncle!"

The worthy and reverend author of the "Ingoldsby Legends" was fond of such rimes as: A long yellow pinafore Hangs down each chin afore, Or such riming gymnastics as: At Peggiburg, now, I should look in the Gazette, But I'm out on a visit, and nobody has it here.

Yet in these epigrams he was only parodying Byron, who wrote: Ye lords of ladies intellectual Confess if they had not henpecked you all.

Some Satisfaction. The Hon. Mrs. Robert Hamilton in her biography of her father, the 14th Lord Volwingham, says that in his home his orders were always stern and peremptory, but no one was more surprised than he was when they were obeyed.

One day he detected one of his daughters making a statement in which she rather exaggerated the facts. "You are one of the most inaccurate women that was ever created," he told her. "Well," was the cheerful reply, "I'm glad to be a masterpiece in some department of creation."

The Tower of Babel. Do you realize that 4,000 years after the most wonderful of all towers was built by the ancients (according to the Book of Genesis about 2400 B. C.), its seven stages still rise high above the plains near the site of Babylon? Until a few years ago it had been known as the Mount of the Blas Nimrod, when Sir Henry Rawlinson discovered in one of the stages the inscribed cylinders which made the identification possible.

The Easier Way. "I can cure that cold, old man." "What do you want me to take?" "About an hour's exercise in the open air every day." "I think I'll try Wombat's method. All he wants me to take is a few pills."—Pittsburgh Post.

Partly True Any Way. Mrs. Blowitz—I see by this magazine that wearing hats makes one's hair gray. Mr. Blowitz—Well, the expense is one that you have been wearing mats in your hair.

The Father. Wife—it makes me so unhappy to think that I have married a fool. Husband—Don't worry about that. Only a fool would have married you.—Des Guckelsta.

By Some Person or Persons Unknown

That the great K.C. had the reputation of being one of the keenest-witted men at the English Bar—the detective knew, but hitherto he had been inclined to think him overrated. Was it possible, he asked himself, that Septimus Lockyer had found the key to the Grove Street Mystery? While Hewlett had been vainly hunting for it.

As they were borne swiftly north-east he gave the details of the conversation he had had in the afternoon with Miss Merivale. Septimus Lockyer listened silently. "Pretty much what I expected," he remarked as Hewlett finished, and the cab was held up momentarily by the stream of traffic at the junction of the City Road and High Street, Islington. "But there was an expression on his face that was familiar in the Courts when his case was being brought to a successful issue.

The Alexandra Music Hall stood a little back from the road. Hewlett noted the flaring red lights, the great posters with the announcements of the various 'turns' in which a certain veiled dancer seemed to figure largely. As they got out of the cab Septimus Lockyer looked at his companion and smiled. "You will recognize an old acquaintance presently, I think," he said.

They made their way into the orchestra stalls. Hewlett glanced around the house; it appeared to be fairly full. A much painted lady was on the stage singing one of the usual inane songs, which received but faint applause. Hewlett said that Mr Lockyer was not looking at the stage, that he was half turned round as if to get a better view of the occupants of the gallery.

Instinctively the detective's eyes followed. To his surprise he saw Gregory leaning forward, his gaze fixed on the stage. A voice began to sing in the flies, words commonplace enough in themselves, yet given in an accent which seemed to lend a certain coarse suggestiveness; then a woman bounded upon the stage and began to dance. She was veiled from head to foot in shining golden tissue—even her face was covered, save for two holes through which her eyes gleamed oddly.

As she floated across the stage, rising and sinking in a motion that was at once graceful and bewildering, one caught glimpses through the glittering tissue of white rounded limbs, of waves of dark hair, but the face—the face remained veiled always.

From chance remarks he had overheard as they were entering the hall, Hewlett had learned that the veiled dancer had appeared for the first time only a month ago, that she had caught on at once, and that so far, no one, not even the manager, had seen her unveiled.

Consequently curiosity and speculation as to her identity were rife. Septimus Lockyer looked at him. "I told you you would recognize an old acquaintance."

"I have," Hewlett indicated Gregory with a twist of his head. "Two old acquaintances, I should have said," the K.C. continued. "Look at the veiled dancer, Hewlett. Graceful figure, isn't she? A bit big, perhaps, but—" He shrugged his shoulders.

Hewlett looked at her again, but there was nothing familiar about the figure enveloped now in golden clouds. "Carry your mind back to the Towers," Septimus Lockyer whispered. "The day Lady Warchester gave us her half of the broken sapphire. Do you remember meeting some one in the drive?"

"Why of course!" A sudden flash of recognition gleamed in Hewlett's face. "You mean Miss—"

"Precisely!" The K.C. nodded. "Take another look, Hewlett."

But the veiled dancer's turn was coming to an end; a tremendous clapping from the audience testified to the satisfaction she had given. Gregory got up from his place and hurriedly made his way to the exit.

Septimus Lockyer glanced at Hewlett. "Seen enough? The veiled dancer only does one turn a night, you know. Still puzzled, Hewlett assented, and they both left the hall.

Neither of them spoke until they were once more in a cab; then the K.C. looked at his companion. "Well—"

"If that is Miss Cecile de Lavelle," Hewlett said sturdily, "I am of the opinion that she ought to be interrogated at once with regard to her life while she was dancing as one of the Sisters de Lavelle. It is possible that she might be able to give us most valuable information that might lead to the discovery of the Grove street murderer, and we might manage to frighten it out of her by threatening to prosecute her for imposture. A curious smile curved Septimus Lockyer's lips. "We might," he assented, "but I don't think we will try that plan just yet. Hewlett—I have a plan of my own. You must help me with that, and then very soon, probably within the week, you shall have your interview with Miss Cecile de Lavelle—the pseudo Evelyn Davenant."

CHAPTER XXVII. Mr. Edward Wallace sat in his room, waiting quietly. Presently there was a knock at the door—three distinct taps. Mr. Wallace got up lazily and opened it. Hewlett, the detective, stepped inside.

"Any news, Simpson?" Mr. Hewlett had not resumed his moustache today; its absence made a considerable difference to his appearance. "Our man is here, sir," answered Simpson, alias Mr. Edward Wallace, and we think Archer's plan with the door will answer all right; he has managed to shave a bit off the waiting-room. He is there now; I am expecting him every minute. In the meantime, sir—" He went over to the cupboard and, bringing out a pair of black list slippers, handed them to Hewlett, who took off his boots at once.

He had just put on the slippers in their stead when the boy Archer came softly into the room. "He is there, sir, and Mrs. Perks and somebody else. I can't see plain through the crack, but I think it is a woman."

Psoriasis All Over Body

Doctors Said Incurable, But Now There is No Sign of Disease. Thanks to Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mrs. Nettie Massey, Consecration, Ont., writes: "For five years I suffered with what three doctors called psoriasis. They could not help me and doctors are accustomed to give it up as incurable."

That was a case that was given up and pronounced incurable. The result proves that Dr. Chase's Ointment almost always cures this terrible disease in its worst form of itching skin disease imaginable.

The soothing, healing influence of Dr. Chase's Ointment is truly wonderful. Eczema, salt rheum, barber's itch, ringworm and scores of such torturing ailments are relieved at once and as certainly cured if the Ointment is used persistently. Mothers find Dr. Chase's Ointment invaluable in preventing and curing the skin troubles of babies, such as chafing, irritations of the skin and baby eczema, warts, etc.

WORST STOMACH TROUBLE ENDED

Pape's Diapepsin gives Instant relief and the relief lasts. Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapepsin and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy, or out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards. If your meals don't fit comfortably or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heart burn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heart-burn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store. These large fifty-cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of dyspepsia, indigestion or any other stomach disorder.

Puckering.

Strong work on both defence and offence gave Boston Athletic Association a victory of 6 to 0 over the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association at Boston on Saturday night. The Canadians outskated the Bostonians, but Canterbury's playing in goal for Boston and the team work of the home club proved too much for the visitors.

The physician in attendance on Roy McGiffin of the Toronto at St. Michael's Hospital says that the player will be out of the game for a month. McGiffin is suffering with blood-poisoning in his foot. He aggravated the trouble by playing in the recent game at Quebec, where "Bad Joe" Hall "put some work" on the injured member.

INDOOR BASEBALL.

By a score of 34 to 8, the officers of the 13th regiment of Hamilton defeated the officers of the Dufferin Rifles, in an officers league game at the armories on Saturday night. At no stage of the game was the home team dangerous and it was only the clever pitching of Newman that kept the score from being much larger against them, for he struck out nine batters during the course of the play. The visitors out-hit and out-fielded

AT SEA IN AN OPEN BOAT.

An Anxious Experience Off the Rock Bound Coast of Korea.

The perils of the small boat at sea are told by Jack London in an article on "Small Boat Sailing" in the Yachting Monthly.

"About the liveliest eight days of my life were spent in a small boat on the west coast of Korea," he writes. "I was in an open boat, a sampan, on a rocky coast where there were no light-houses and where the tides ran from thirty to sixty feet. My crew were Japanese fishermen. We did not speak each other's language. Yet there was nothing monotonous about that trip. Never shall I forget one particular cold, bitter dawn, when in the thick of driving snow we took in sail and dropped our small anchor.

"The Japanese crawled under a communal rice mat and went to sleep. I joined them, and for several hours we dozed fitfully. Then a sea deluged us with icy water and we found several inches of snow on top of the mat. "It soon became a case of swamping at our anchor. Seas were splashing on board in pouring volume, and we bailed constantly. And still my fisherman crew eyed the surf battered shore and did nothing. "At last, after many narrow escapes from complete swamping, the fishermen got into action. All hands tilled on to the anchor and we bailed. Forard, at the boat's head, I set, we set a patch of sail about the size of a flour sack. And we headed straight for the rocky shore. I unlaced my shoes, unbuttoned my greatcoat and coat and was ready to make a quick partial strip a minute or so before we struck. But we didn't strike, and as we rushed in I saw the beauty of the situation. Before us opened a narrow channel, frilled at its mouth with breaking seas. Yet long before, when I had scanned the shore closely, there had been no such channel. I had forgotten the thirty foot tide. And it was for this time that the Japanese had so precariously waited."

"SCRATCHED ROCKS."

They Mark the Course of Glaciers

Throughout the northern United States, from the Atlantic ocean to the far northwest and as far south as Kentucky, huge bowlders are found scattered at haphazard. The rocks and ledges are smoothed and marked with scratches varying from faint lines to broad grooves two feet deep. Some of these bowlders, weighing many tons, are so balanced on a ledge that a slight touch will rock them. The Indians used them as "alarm bells."

The grooves or scratches on these rocks are as a rule parallel and extend north and south. South of the above mentioned area neither bowlders nor scratched rocks can be found.

How came the bowlders in their position? What scratched the rocks?

Agassiz, familiar with the glaciers of the Alps, probably gave the true answer. He showed that a similar state of things is produced today by the glaciers of Switzerland. These streams of ice creep slowly down from the lofty summits of the Alps through the valleys to the plains. They bear on their surface huge rocks fallen from surrounding cliffs. The stones frozen in the bottom of the glacier, pressed down by the enormous weight of ice above them, scratch and groove the rocks beneath, as the tool of a carpenter gouges out a piece of wood.

What was the condition of America when similar effects were produced? Instead of local glaciers scattered in the valleys, the whole surface now covered with bowlders must have been hidden by an immense sheet of ice. Judging from the lines on the rocks, the sheet moved from the north toward the south, carrying with it masses of rock.—Harper's Weekly.

Expectancy of Life.

All insurance is calculated upon the probable length of time a person has to live. This is called the average expectancy. Many elaborate tables have been made up by the insurance companies, some based upon one set of data, some upon another, and consequently they vary slightly. The British life annuity tables, a fair calculation, show that a man of fifty has a natural expectancy of living 21.2 years; a woman of the same age 23.5 years; at sixty his expectancy is 14.5 years; hers 17 years; at seventy his is 9.2 years, hers 10.9 years.

She Saw.
"Why is Mrs. Wombst wearing such dowdy clothes lately? She spends half her husband's income on dress. But why is she wearing such mean looking clothes just now?"
"Her husband's mother is visiting her just now. See?"

Is It English—Do You Get It?
Little Johnny came running in to his father and said:
"Oh, father, I have just gained a sovereign and threepence."
"How's that?" said his father.
"Well," said Johnny, "I have just bought a guinea pig for threepence."

Very Thorough.
Charles—Well, aunt, how do you like your new doctor? Aunt—Oh, immensely. He's so thorough. He never comes to see me without finding some little thing the matter with me.—Judge.

Reckless.
Howell—Did you ever do any deed of daring? Powell—Yes; I once said what I thought when gassing a woman's age.—New York Press.

WOMAN'S TRIALS.

The burdens a woman has to carry through life are many but they can be lightened if she will turn to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. A soothing and strengthening medicine—subduing nervous excitability, prostrating, hysteria, hot flashes and the many symptoms which may be caused by distressing illa peculiar to women. For those "dragging-down" pains or distress and for the derangements and irregularities the "Favorite Prescription" has had many thousands of testimonials from people living in every part of America. Another important thing to every woman is that this medicine is made from efficient medicinal roots, without the use of alcohol, narcotics, or any injurious agents. Full list of ingredients given on bottle-wrapper and sworn to by Dr. R. V. Pierce—who is President of the Invalide' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Every woman is invited to write to this Institute and receive confidential and sound medical advice, entirely without cost from one who makes the disease of women his specialty.

Mrs. Morell. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate liver, etc.

"I can cheerfully recommend your remedies, especially your 'Favorite Prescription,' for all female disorders," writes Mrs. M. M. Morell, of Elletts City, Tenn., Route 2. "During the past seven years I suffered from pains in the back and ovaries. Tried many remedies but found only transient relief until I was persuaded by a friend to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After giving this remedy a fair trial, I found that it would do just what it is recommended to do. I used it in seven bottles. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Pierce's remedies for all female derangements."

BIG

Takes Place at the Brantford Warehouse. The Loss Will be in Excess of $100,000

Fire which did about $100,000 worth of damage, broke out about 8.45 last night in the finished stock warehouse of the Brantford Cordage Company, and only the heroic efforts of the firemen prevented the flames from destroying the whole plant. The building destroyed is situated at the extreme west end of the plant and is of sheet metal construction. The fire started in the south-west end of the building and by the time the firemen arrived, the place was a seething mass of flame. Under direction of Chief Lewis, the men laid three streams, one a thousand feet long. Fire-fighting proved difficult, owing to the fact that the building was packed to the doors and roof with stock and no headway could be made by the firemen, as there was no way possible of entering the building. The flames gradually swept northward through the building and when about a quarter of the building was gone the firemen were confronted by a new obstacle, in the shape of a combustion which seemed to be coming from the roof, which was packed in the building very closely.

About 9:30 Chief Lewis sent for the East Ward brigade which consists of seven men and from them on the firemen confined their efforts to saving the main factory, which lies immediately south of the burned building. In doing this the men faced the most difficult and dangerous piece of work during the night. Within ten feet of the burning building a shipping platform was erected some months ago directly adjoining the main factory. Under this platform the Company had stored away many gallons of oil in barrels, and it was to save off an explosion that the Chief directed his efforts. Time after time, the flames licked hungrily near the oil storage, but the quick application of water at the dangerous spot warded off what might have resulted in loss of life. About eleven o'clock the north-west wall of the warehouse fell onto the platform and axes were necessary to tear away the debris. With only three streams to play on the blaze, the firemen then found it difficult to get at the fire, but steady work on the part of the brigade kept the flames from spreading to the main
