"The issue of the campaign is that Mr. Bennett, the head of the elevator monopoly in Alberta, has come into the field to denounce a government which has granted the farmers a co-operative system of elevators which was in the interests of the farmers alone. Mr. Bennett is afraid the profits of his merger will vanish and that is his interest in the campaign. It is a fight of the farmer against the interest. The elevator question is the big issue in this campaign. R. B. Well, hardly!

And there is a reason. On Saturday The Albertan referred to the price of grain in Alberta and compared it with the price of grain that prevails at the coast. Though the rates have not increased in Alberta since then, The Albertan takes the liberty of referring to them again.

Ex-Alderman Harry Minchin was or Saturday remanded to the supreme criminal court on the last of three charges, alleging the embezzlement of $8,800, in sums of $5,000, $2,000 and $1,800, respectively. Frank E. Eaton, counsel for the defense, stated that his client had nothing to say at that time, and Minchin's testimony, if any is offered, will be held over for the supreme court hearing.

As in the hearing of the second charge, F. M. Harvey, special auditor, was the only witness called on Satur-day. His testimony tended to show how, in his estimation, the discrepancy occurred, namely, by the abstraction of cash from the general currency drawer. The evidence previously given by J. A. ABLE ADDRESS BY JOSEPH STAUFFER

Representative of Didsbury Constituency Gives Address on Issues Before Legislators

Carstairs, April 5.—Joseph Stauffer, M.P.P., held a rousing Liberal meeting at Carstairs last Monday evening. Although very short notice was given of the meeting there was a large and interested crowd which gathered in the Town Hall to listen to Mr. Stauffer explain what has been done during his term in office and outline the policy of the present government. The meeting was called to order at 8.30 by Wm. Dickson, first vice-president of the local Liberal association, and after a short talk, Mr. Joseph Stauffer was introduced, amidst loud applause.

Mr. Stauffer made a very strong impression with the farmers, as he went fully into the details regarding the advertising of the province in different parts of the world. Twenty thousand dollars is now devoted annually by the government for the purpose of publicity work to bring settlers into Alberta. They have many offices in different parts of the world, with publicity agents interesting a good class of immigrants to come to Alberta. The government has been doing a great work in putting in trunk roads. It is expected this year will see the completion of the trunk road from Athabasca Landing to the United States boundary, from Medicine Hat to Banff, and from Lethbridge to the Crow's Nest. In fact, it is the intention of the government to build trunk roads paralleling all lines of railroad, and also build roads at right, angles through the main points. There is a hundred thousand dolars left from the million appropriated last year, should do a great deal towards making Alberta one of the best road provinces in the Dominion.

THE NATURAL RESOURCES

When Premier Sifton was commissioner of ublic works in the old North West Territorial legislature, he with F. W. G. Haultain, then premier, framed a model bill for the new province or provinces about to be created. In that bill he provided for the control of the natural resources by the province. Mr. Sifton became chief instice of the supreme court before the provinces

As soon as Mr. Sifton re-entered public life. e again took up the question of the control of the natural resources by the province. He introduced a resolution into the provincial legislature upon the first opportunity, declaring in favor of the provincial control of the public domain.

He went further, and pressed upon Sir Wilfrid laurier the need of such a change. He succeeded, and secured from the late premier a promise that the change would be made.

Mr. Borden, when in opposition,, made the provincial control of the natural resources the plank in his platform which he used most frequently in western Canada. He promised, without qualification, that if successful he would give the natural resources to the new provinces:

Premier Sifton called the attention of the new premier to the situation shortly after Mr. Borden took office. Here is a copy of the letter which

Yours faithfully, Premier of Alberta,

That is the last that has ever been heard of the resolution of the legislature. The leader of the opposition in Alberta and his friends have discouraged Premier Borden from carrying out his promises.

If the leader of the opposition had made one strong remonstrance, public or private, insisting that he should keep the sacred promise that he had made to the people of this country, we would have had our natural resources at this time. If the Laurier government had not been defeated, we would have had our natural resources now. That is the history of the struggle that Premier Sifton is making to secure our natural re-

A VILE ATTACK

In dilating upon the outlook for the election of a certain Liberal candidate not far from Calgary, a Herald staff correspondent says that "the riding is split from end to end on the subject of alleged too frequent indulgences of liquor' of the Liberal candidate. Such an attack as that is as vile as it is cowardly and, in this instance, as untruthful as it is vile.

If The Herald desires to make a campaign like that an issue in this election, let it start in at the beginning and go through with it. It is true good Liberal candidates in Calgary, the that candidates, successful and otherwise, Lib-government should get a very high pererals and Conservatives, sometimes fall from the! water wagon. But in singling out one man for an attack and blinding itself to similar shortcomings on the part of its own friends, The Herald last week, and immediately announce shows the spirit that animates it.

If The Herald desires to make an issue on the abstentiousness or indulgences of the different candidates, it is at liberty to do so. It might start the farmers from the elevator mono in at Calgary and work outwards.

That sort of thing has not been raised in any election in Calgary before, but if The Herald insists upon raising it, let it try to be fair.

The important issue in this election is R. B. Bennett and the elevators. R.

And so we leave our pleasant valley, from all our loving friends we part, and o'er the stony hills we sally, to reach a land that breaks the heart. "There's gold in plenty over yonder," we say, "and we shall seek the mines." Then from our cheerful homes we wander, far from our figtrees and our vines; a little while our dreams we cherish, and think that we can never fail; but, tired at last, we drop and perish, and leave our bones upon the trail. ELEVATOR TRUST IN THE FIELD

The strongest opposition that is being offered the Sifton government in this contest is R. B. Bennett, the elevator trust of Alberta.

He is in Alberta fighting with all his energy, the government that has passed legislation enabling the farmers of the province to free themselves from the grip of that monopoly.

He is a dominant factor in Alberta politics. Does any person suppose that Mr. Bennett would permit a government to create opposition to him, permit a government to create opposition to him, if he had the power to prevent it?

The big issue in this election is the agricultural legislation. The big fight is between Mr. Bennett, the elevator trust, on the one hand, and the Sifton government, which has taken its life in its hand by passing the elevator bill.

The price of grain was never as low as at the The price of grain was never as low as at the present time. Farmers are selling their oats for 15 to 19 cents a bushel, which is less than the cost of production. Across the line, in Great Falls, the farmers can get 50 cents a bushel for oats not as good.

The government is doing its utmost to change conditions.

When a man has achieved true economy, it takes him so long to spend a dollar that he has earned five more in the meantime and has lost all hopes of catching up.

The Other Side of New Industries

(By Alberta West)

T present the city of Calgary is straining its energies and resources to increase the numbers of its population and the volume of its commerce by the addition of factories. The railways and new industries committee proposes to give a certain city site worth between $7,000 and $12,000 and certain other concessions to a firm manufacturing overalls and underwear, which will employ 150 hands, and will build a five-storey building worth $75,000. The firm is said to have a payroll of $2,500 per week and to emplo many girls. Obviously it is a good thing for the community to have within its borders an establishment where such goods are made and have in its population 150 sober, steady, industrious citizens. But there is another phase which the industrial bureau and the city council have not yet seriously considered. The scale of wages paid by this firm is not high; 150, hands receive $2,500 per week, or an average of less than $17.00 per week. Of these probably ten receive $30 per week, as foremen of various departments, and in other positions of trust. And another 15 or 20 receive $18 to $20 per week for skilled work above the average. Several other highly paid men, as managers and assistants, cut down the average, so that the majority of the employes-the females receive not more than $8 to $10 per week. This is a wage on which a girl in Calgary may eke out a bare existence with a very narrow margin for doctor's bills and holidays. Is it a good thing for the city of Calgary to spend many thousands of dollars to secure the addition to its population of 75 or 80 meagerly paid women who will be thrown upon the already overtaxed resources of the community for proper moral protection and physical and mental sustenance? The city does not take very good care of the women already employed here. Sanitary conditions down town are bad; there are comparatively few simple, healthy amusements and recreations.

and there are few real homes for homeless girls. If the city will encourage an increase in the population of poorly paid women by bonusing the concerns which create them, then the city is responsible for their well-being once they are here, and such institutions as the Y. W. C. A. and the Woman's Hostel, which are at present so niggardly supported, should be more generously assisted, and social centres in schools and like movements should be financed by the city; police matrons should be appointed, better sanitary conditions should be insisted upon and adequate logislation. for the moral and physical protection of women should be passed before the factories are established. Under the present conditions Calgary will suffer rather than

London, April 5.—The commissioners who are carrying out the provisions of the national insurance act have a delicate problem to solve.

The wife of a Lancashire workman gave birth to a son on February 24, and obtained the maternity benefit of 30 shillings under the law. On April 4 she gave birth to a girl. The question is, can the mother demand another 30 shillings? She can if the new baby is regarded as another child, but if, it is held that the second baby is a twin, it will have to be thrown into the first bargain, as twins count as one for insurance purposes.

The doctors say there is no doubt that the second baby is a twin, although the lapse of six weeks in such cases is extremely rare.

New Oilcloths, New Linoleum, New Corks

THE PRICE RANGE IS 300 TO $2.00 A YARD

In Saturday morning's paper we demonstrated to you why this season's carpets would be particularly good values. The reason we gave was that when we purchased our new stocks we provided against the manufacturers increased prices.

The same reason appertains to our showing of Oilcloths, Linoleums and Cork Carpets for 1913 and the same prices will prevail from now on as formerly. From this viewpoint we would like you to visit this department and see the many new patterns we have to show you. Prices range from 30¢

Mondak, Mont., April 5.—After shooting to death Sheriff Courtney and Deputy Sheriff Master, J. C. Collins, a negro, charged with beating a woman, was larged to a telephone pole, and his clothes set on fire, by a committee of citizens early this evening. The mob verpowered officials and broke into the fall, where Collins was held prison-

When Sheriff Thomas Courtney and his deputy, Richard Burmaster, arrived here from the county seat, they swore in as a deupty E. P. Wilson, of this place. The party then went to the camp of the bridge construction company, where Collins was at work.

Wilson was sent on ahead to the office to inquire where Collins was working. Just as he stepped into the office, Collins held him up at the point of a gun and took away his arms. Collins stepped out past Wilson and almost collided with Sheriff Courtney, who was about to enter the office. Collins fired twice at the sheriff, killing him instantly. He then turned upon Deputy Burmaster and shot him five times through the body. Collins then ran into the brush.

A posse of citizens was quickly organized and took up the trail of the slayer. He soon was surrounded, and, seeing that escape was impossible, gave himself up.

seeing that escape was impossible, gave himself up.

Officials took charge of Collins and took him to Mondak. On arriving there the party was met by a mob. Collins, however, was put in jail, but only for a short time. Angry citizens quickly overpowered the officials, stormed the jail, and took Collins to a telephone pole, where they hanged him, riddled his body with bullets, and then set fire to his clothing.

aboard the battle cruiser Lion, and assumed command of the first battle cruiser squadron, in succession to Rear-Admiral Bayley. The squadron consists of the superdreadnoughts Lion and Princess Royal, and the dreadnought cruisers indefatigable. Invincible, and Indomitable.

Admiral David Beatty is the youngest naval officer who has been given so important a command since the days of Admiral Rodney, who was flag officer at 31, and Admiral Keppel, who attained the honor at the age of 32. Admiral Beatty was promoted from lieutenant to commander, and again from commander to captain, for war services, the first in the Soudan in 1898, and the second during the Boxer rebellion in 1900. He occupied only eight years in rising from lieutenant to captain, a rise which usually takes an officer anywhere from 12 to 18 years to accomplish. During his naval service he has been at different periods the youngest commander, the youngest captain, and the youngest rear-admiral in the service.

Professional lacrosse received a knock, and not any boost, when Con Jones handed over $5,000 to Westminster. Victoria are not likely to be in the league owing to the scarcity of players, and unless Vancouver can secure a few stars, Westminster will have a walk-away. In the first British rugby game of the season, the Canadians, the newly-organized team composed of Canadian players, defeated the Wanderers, champlons of the British Rugby league of last year, by the score of 19 to 0, at Mewata Park on Saturday.

The Canadian players showed a remarkable adaptivity to the British game. Several of the players had never played the game before, and they some-times were inclined to introduce a few Canadian tactics into the old game, but the principal thing was that they won the game, and won it handily.

The feature of the game was a dandy decline to abide by resolutions passed by them at the annual meeting that the commission should be organized, and with all their players signed and ready to play they are now determined to stand pat and oppose anything that may come from Vancouver and Victoria.

Under this bill, instead of a number of elementary schools providing only the beginning of an education, one school for a number of districts may be established which will give a graded ourse, even to that of the High school course, even to that of the High school, if desired, and the boys and girls on the farm may receive the same education they would get from the public school of the city. For the successful conduct of these schools, transport is provided for the children of the farms to and from school, and thus any child of the farm may have equalany child of the farm may have equal-In addition to the measures referred

In addition to the measures referred to, there were minor bills and amendments to the statute law which were calculated to advance the interests of agriculure. Among them was an act to provide for the building of small or private ditches which enables neighboring farmers to finance the digging of ditches for drainage or irrigation purposes on a small scale. An amendment to the statute law provides that or ditches for drainage or irrigation purposes on a small scale. An amendment to the statute law provides that farm land outside a municipality may not be taxed to a greater extent than eight mills on the dollar for school purposes. Another repeals that provision of the rural municipalities act which fixed a wage at which men and teams might be paid for road work done by such municipalities, and leaves the fixing of the wage to the government of the rural municipality, thus enabling the payment of the going wage of any community. Still another provides that the owner of farm land within the limits of a town municipality, which is not subdivided or used for other than farm purposes, may have such land removed from the town incorporation upon application to the lieutenant governor in council.

Indeed, when one reflects upon the town incorporation upon application to the lieutenant governor in council.

Indeed, when one refrects upon the legislation enacted by the government at the recent session of the legislature, one has difficulty in recalling anything in which agriculture was not interested to a greater or a less extent. To such an extent did legislation in the interest of agriculture predominate, that I have heard the session referred to in derision by some persons opposed to the government as the "farmers' legislature," and while that was undoubtedly unfair to the farmers, in that it inferred the government was unduly influenced by the farmers, and to the government, in that it suggested the idea that the government meglected other interests of the province in favor of agriculture, still I think the government will endure whatever of censure was implied, and rest upon so much of credit as may be due it for recognizing that the pressing need of the day was the advancement of agriculture, and legislated accordingly.

As the farmers' elevator and farm implement bills were the measures of first importance enacted by the government bills were the measures of first importance enacted by the government bills were the measures of first importance enacted by the government bills were the measures of first importance enacted by the government in the interest of agriculture.

The merchant who has sold the farmer groceries, clothing, furniture or any of the other things he has required, except machinery, has never had the privelege of protecting himself in the enjoyment of arbitrary methods and against the possibility of losing a dollar in the same manner that the farm machinery merchant has. He has had to depend upon the ordinary rules of business for his trade and upon ordinary business prudence for his collection. The success of his business has depended largely upon the prices he has charged, together with the satisfaction his wares have given, and if he was a good business man in those respects and exercised a fair amount of prudence as regards credit, he has had no difficulty in carrying on business successfully.

But the business of the machinery merchant has not been governed by any such business rules. He has been as law unto himself and has laid down his own rules. He has told the farmer that if he wanted machinery to work his farm he must sign a contract, the terms of which were arbitrarily those of the concern from whom he wanted to buy, if he was in a position of any independence, or the one from whom he must buy if he was under obliga-

I heard of the Baking System—such as given at the Calgary Sanatorum in the Human Bake Oven—and decided to try it. I had to do something, for my back was getting worse all the time, so I decided to give the Bake Oven ackance. I have taken 2 weeks' treatment and to all appearances I am completely cured. My back is as good as it ever was, and I feel fine in general. This is surely a great system—nature's own remedy. I want to recommend all those suffering as I did to take the Bake Oven Treatment, for I saw many people at the Sanatorium. Some have even more good to say and be thankful than I.

These contracts have been uniformly upheld by the courts, not because in many instances the Judge did not believe but that the contract was unfair but because the law gave the court no power but to enforce the terms of the contract. Let us suppose that in at least some, if not all, the instances in which the farmer has been actually oppressed by having iron-clad contracts rigidly enformed, there was some clause which was distinctly unfair to the purchaser; if the farmer who was being driven to the wall under a contract containted to the wall under one management and in the hands of the province, but that need became elevators by impositions put upon them in the matter of grading if no other respect, but that need became elevators by impositions put upon the province is very great. UNFAIRNESS TO FARMERS It seems to me that all the farm im-plement bill does is to provide a preventive against unfair practices in selling machinery to farmers, and if that is so, I cannot see wherein the manufacturere or dealer in farm implements can find just cause for complaint. There is not one of them who will admit to you that he has any intention to do anything by the farmer

NEED OF FARMERS!

ELEVATORS PRESSING

The importance of the farmers' elevators by the province is very great. There had been need of such a measure prior to last year, as it was well known that the farmers of the country suffered at the hands of the buyers at the line elevators by impositions put upon them in the matter of grading, if no other respect, but that need became doubly, yes, trebly, urgent last year, when a merger of all the line elevators was formed, putting them all under one management and in the hands of one man. That would when we regard the situation in the light of the fact that the one man is the man who is striving hardest of all the men in Canada to restrict the market for Alberta grain the situation takes on a more significant, not to say a sinister aspect.

These were the conditions which the government and the farmers saw confronting the agricultural interests of the province when the elevator combine was formed and both bodies commenced giving thought to the provision of means to meet the situation which all men knew must arise. The farmers, through their organization, the United Farmers of Alberta, reached the conclusion that the solution of the problem lay in the building of farmers' elevators. The government held the same opinion and when approached for a guarantee of bonds of another concern, which proposed to supply the farmers of Alberta with elevators, put the proposition aside in favor of having the farmers of the province handle their own affairs with respect to elevators. THE ORPHEUM'S BILL FOR THIS WEEK AT GRAND

Jessie Busley and Laddie Cliff are joint headliners on Thursday's bill at the Orpheum and it is difficult to say which should be the first to be men-tioned, but the ladies usually draw the preference. Miss Busley is creating a new character that is very true to life in the role of Lizette Mooney, the fat Irish woman, who has her own brand of difficulties in the sketch of department store life depicted by Miss Busley in "Miss 318," and which was first written by Rupert Hughest as a magazine story, but which Miss Bus-ley finally persauded him to make over into a sketch for her use in vaudeville.

Laddie Cliff has been for many years est circuits and every year he has been making a more and more pro-nounced success. He is still in his teens, having first appeared on the stage when only six years of age. He puts across an exclusive collection eccentric songs and dances.

The Five Melody Maids and Will J Ward are placed on the bill to amuse by legitimate methods with one of the best musical offerings ever conceived. All of the quintet of feminine beauties can entertain on some musical instru-ment, and Will Ward is acknowledged as the best player of ragtime on the American vaudeville stage.

One of the most successful of American comediennes to visit Europe in the past few years has been Margaret Ashton, who will offer a new line of song and chatter that she has been making a hit with all over the Orbeum circuit. heum circuit.

Another act of class is that of Med han's canines, who are said to be something new in the line of animal acts, exhibiting some remarkable training, and featuring the two best training, and featuring the two best leaping hounds in the world.

Charles and Adelaide Wilson present a melange of fun and nonsense, with which is mixed some reality fine violin playing by Mr. Wilson. The act is called "The Messenger, the Maid and the Violin."

Completing the bill are Delmar & Delmar, with one of the finest acrobatte novelties ever offered. One of the stants shows one brother suspending the other as the latter rides a bicycle in mid-air.
