LIBERALS STAND BY "UKAD" WANT EMMERSON AND BORDEN FIRED CAUCUS ENDS IN DISORDER

In Stormy Session Refuse to Accept Even Premier's Proposal as Regards Indemnity—Ontario Members' Attitude on Lord's Day Excites Quebec
Derision.

Ottawa, April 26.—(Special.)—
The Liberal caucus to-day broke up in a row and there is blood on the moon to-night.
The caucus was called for the nominal purpose of deciding upon a united demand for the resignation of Hon. Mr. Emmerson.
As it happened, so many heated discussions arose, upon other subjects, that everybody forgot all about Mr. Emmerson and the long promised reorganization of the cabinet is for a time averted.
The real purpose of the caucus was to agree upon the government's policy toward repeal of the salary grab, but even this point was not decided.
Mr. McIntyre (South Perth) was savagely jumped on for advocating the repeal of the salary grab, and the private members absolutely refused to reduce the grab, even to the $2000 basis, desired by the premier.
The caucus did agree, however, to amend the pension grab so as to confine its benefits, hereafter, to those ex-ministers who make ardavit that they are in need of it.

There was a savage demand for the resignation of Sir Frederick Borden, masked behind a complaint that the estimates for the militia were entirely too high. These estimates are to be reduced and the complaints against Sir Frederick and Mr. Emmerson, and they are enticed together, stand over for a time at least.

The Lord's Day bill created a world of trouble. It encountered the opposition of a solid Quebec.
Member after member from Ontario and other provinces rose and professed their adherence to the principles of the bill, but explained that their constituents asked for this and that amendment.

After a time, the French members hooted and laughed, whenever anyone who speaks for the bill came to that unfortunate "but."

Left to the Province.
It was finally agreed that the bill should be amended so as only to become effective in any particular province when confirmed or adopted by the Legislature.
The meeting broke up in a quarrel
without any formal adjournment;
but all afternoon the salary grab ghost has been haunting a number of the members. Tonight it is said that members on both sides will combine to expedite business and prorogue the session on May 21.
This will permit members to speak on the bills of Messrs. Maclean (South York) and Wilson (Lennox and Addington) without bringing it to a vote.

THE AWFULNESS OF IT.

Running of Special Train on Sunday for H. R. Condemned.

Lunenburg, N.S., April 26.—(Special.)—
At a meeting of Lunenburg, Mahone Bay and Bridgewater branches of the Lord's Day Alliance a strong resolution was passed protesting against the running of the special train which leaves Halifax on Saturday night next at midnight with Prince Arthur and suite for Port Medway, where the prince will fish for salmon on Monday and Tuesday.

They deplore the running of a special train on the Lord's Day, and feel sure the scheduling of the train was not arranged by high authority.
Copies of the resolution were sent to the superintendent of the Halifax and Southwestern Railway, and Lieut-Governor Fraser.

ABANDON THE "EMERGENCY"

Costs Too Much, in Reason Given to Excuse the Proposal.

It is intended to abandon the Emergency Hospital at Bay-street and combine it with the General Hospital.
It is claimed that the branch on Bay-street is costing about $300 a month to maintain, and that it does not nearly pay for itself.

An average of 15 or 18 patients is treated in the Emergency wards every day.
"The emergency branch has in the past treated large numbers of the poor class of people," said Chief Coroner Johnson last night. "It stands in the business section of the town and the people with cut hands and crushed fingers from machine accidents walk in. These are people who ought to be considered before removing the branch."

The idea of Dr. Brown is to have the police ambulance accompanied by a surgeon, as is done in the United States. But there the ambulances travel like fire wagons.

CANADA'S 200,000 ARMY WANKERS NEEDN'T FEAR IT

Berlin Paper Tenders Assurances to Uncle Sam at Expense of British Pride.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)
London, April 26.—A despatch from Berlin quotes an article by Prof. Hans Delburch, in a journal there, which says England is stronger in military power than the United States, for England can despatch 200,000 men from Canada before the States could have even assembled their field army.
To this The Berlin Post replies that the much discussed 100,000 which allegedly are in Schleswig-Holstein are in fact 200,000 men from Canada as we are about 2000 miles from England, and the States are about 2000
miles from Canada.

WATERWAYS COMMISSION WILL VISIT FALLS TO-DAY

Two Sections Hope to Agree on Joint Report—Discuss Control of Power Cos.

Buffalo, April 26.—Both the Canadian and American members of the international waterways commission met in executive session here to-day. The question of controlling the power companies at Niagara Falls was taken up and it was decided to visit the cataract tomorrow.

The aim of the commissioners is to arrive at a joint report relative to the preservation of the falls, which will be submitted to the respective governments for action.
Nothing has yet developed to indicate a divergence of opinion on the question between the commission from the two countries.

The committee on rivers and harbors of the house of representatives is scheduled to leave Washington this evening for Niagara Falls for the purpose of making a personal investigation of conditions there.
The committee has the Burton bill under consideration. This bill is aimed to prevent the taking of additional water from Niagara River and the great lakes for power purposes. One of the provisions of the bill prohibits the importation of additional electrical energy from Canada.
The commission stands to aid
the committee in any way that lies in their power. As yet, however, they have received no communication from the committee in regard to its plans or wishes in this respect.

TWO MORE PROPOSITIONS OFFERED BY THE MINERS

Convention Called for Thursday
Next to Consider Any Reply
Operators May Make.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., April 26.—The anthracite miners will hold a convention at Scranton next Thursday, in order to take action upon the reply of the operators, if any, to two propositions submitted to President Baer and his associates to-day.

The decision to call a convention of the miners of the three districts was reached at a meeting of the general anthracite scale committee held here
to-day.
President Mitchell to-night made public two propositions together with a request for another joint conference submitted by the miners' scale committee to President Baer and his associates.

The first proposition asks for an increase in wages ranging from 5 to 15 per cent, according to the wages now received.
The second proposition asks for an advance equal to 10 cents per ton upon the total production of coal, to be added to the wages of employees and apportioned in such percentage as may be agreed upon.

TEXAS TOWN IS WRECKED 1 KILLED; MANY HURT PLACE ON FIRE

Another of Nature's Dire Visitations is Reported—Town of 1500 Reported in Ruins.

Fort Worth, Texas, April 26.—A tornado, is reported, has swept away
the Town of Bellevue, and damaged the Town of Stoneburg.

Moagro advises state that Bellevue is destroyed, 12 or 15 persons being killed and many injured and missing.
Fire is destroying the ruins caused by the tornado.

A special train has been started from Bowie, Texas, 125 miles distant,
for the scene.
Bellevue has 1500 inhabitants.

LATER.
Bellevue, Texas, April 26.—A tornado, which swept thru this place to-night, destroyed everything in its path, and as a result practically the entire town is a mass of ruins.

Only three buildings are now standing,
and at least eleven persons are dead
and a number are injured.
The tornado was followed by fire,
which consumed the wreckage.

The town consisted of over 200
houses.
The whole business section of the town and all stocks of merchandise were destroyed.

A. D. Carr was caught in a building, crushed to death, and his body is believed to have been buried.

The tornado was a mile wide and traveled eight miles, leveling everything in its path, ruining crops and destroying all farm-houses and buildings on the way.

This section is thickly settled and it is to-morrow before there are complete reports of the dead.

Practically every house was equipped with a storm cellar, and the people ran to them as soon as they saw the tornado approaching.
Those who had no storm cellars, or who could not reach them, were the ones that suffered.

HOPE WAS TO MAKE MONEY IN DIRECTORS' STOCK TRANSACTIONS SECURITY TO AVOID ODIUM

Manager Junkin Explains the Transactions With Mackenzie
and Mann, and the Expedients Resorted to for Concealment of Certain Performances.

J. F. Junkin, general manager of the Manufacturer's Life Assurance Company, was in the witness box all day yesterday, the second sitting in Toronto of the royal insurance commission. In the morning he gave further evidence concerning the transfer of stock from Mr. Goderham to Mr.
Cox, and from Mr. Cox to Messrs.
McCuaig and Strachan of Montreal.

"The agreement between Mr. Cox and Mr. Goderham was not filed at our office," said Mr. Junkin, "and if there was an agreement we must search for it elsewhere."

Mr. Junkin read a letter of May 1
from Junkin to McCuaig and Strachan, making what Junkin described as a formal offer for 457 shares of the Temperance and General Life and 415 shares of the Manufacturer's Life, being the equivalent of 700 shares in the amalgamated companies.

"I will pay," wrote Mr. Junkin, "you at acquaintance to the Central Canada Loan and Savings Company $322,000
with interest from Jan. 1, 1901, at 5 per cent, $30,000 to be paid by the 3rd inst.,
and the balance on or before the 1st January next."

Mr. Junkin produced another letter dated April 23, 1901, signed by McCuaig and Strachan, who both offered to sell Junkin their interests in both companies as purchased at cost from George A. Cox for $322,000, plus $24,000 from the Temperance and General, on the understanding that they were relieved of entire responsibility in their agreement with Geo. A. Cox. If desired, they undertook to retain one-tenth of their holdings.

He was sure that the agreement between Cox and McCuaig and Strachan was shown to him, but he did not keep a copy. The transaction was effected largely on his initiative. He had a statement which would seem to show that the date was Jan. 1, 1901. On that date, when McCuaig and Strachan effected the agreement with Cox
the amalgamation had been discussed.
"I think it was represented," said witness, "that the companies would be brought together and expenses would be reduced." Mr. Junkin further stated that the transactions between McCuaig and Strachan and Cox were quite verbal.

No Advances.
He had desired to distribute the stock because he did not consider it

EARTHQUAKY

QUEEN'S OWN ARE SMART ENTRAIN IN 90 SECONDS

"Boys in Green" Will Be in New York City This Morning if All Goes Well.

The embarkation of the Queen's Own Rifles for New York was worked along the lines of transportation lessons learned in South Africa and carried out to a conclusion that was creditable. Two battalions of about 450 strength each, were entrained with a despatch that surprised the railway officials.

There were 891 rank and file, with possibly enough late comers to bring the strength over 900.
The regiment was in two battalions,
the first commanded by Major Mason
and the second by Major Gunther.

The Queen's Own formed up under the command of Col. Sir H. M. Pellatt, outside the Armouries. They marched thru their local home, which has been handed over to the horse show for this week, and there was a good attendance for their benefit. They were cheered by the fashion of Toronto, mostly their personal friends, as they marched thru the tankard floor of the Armouries. This was at a little after 8 o'clock, and they took a brisk walk down Simcoe-street to the station.

The first battalion of the regiment was headed by the brass band, and the second by the bugle band. There was a five-minute distance between them, to facilitate the entraining, but under the new method upon which Capt. Barker is now an expert, each battalion was entrained in the short space of 90 seconds. This idea was premeditated. The men knew the number of the car they were to occupy. Half of the occupants were at the front platform and the other half at the back platform, the companies having been advised in sections as to their position and the number of the car.

"Can't you take me thru, my boy is going?" asked a beamingly tearful lady, as The World was passing the man at the gate.
The gateman relented and in a minute or so the lady was fervently kissing
one of the biggest fellows in F Company.

One could hear kisses until they hardly knew whether it was something wrong with the engine or not.

EXTRA TROOPS BY THOUSANDS TO PROTECT PARISIANS FROM LABOR RIOTS

Altho Leaders Declare That No
Violence is Contemplated, Authorities Prepare for the Worst.

Paris, April 26.—The prefect of police, M. Lepine, to-day made a reassuring reply to hundreds of letters which anxious persons had addressed to the police. He said that all precautions had been taken to maintain order in the streets May 1, and prevent attempts against life or property.

Besides the full police force, which will be on duty, reinforcements, consisting of 28,000 infantry, cavalry and artillery, will arrive here to-night, tomorrow and Saturday. These troops will be disposed thru the city with precise orders. Special surveillance will be maintained over the water and gas conduits.

In addition to the troops mentioned,
eight squadrons of cavalry, relieved from duty in the mining regions, have been brought to Paris, and dragons and hussars are coming from many other points.

In labor circles the men are much calmer. There has been no renewal of disorders, and the return of the northern ironworkers to their factories indicates a partial breakup of the movement in the mining regions.
The workmen in numerous additional trades have announced their adhesion to the eight hour movement,
but the railroad men and employees of the provision trades do not intend to strike.

The announcement that the big department stores will remain open as usual served to reassure the public.
The government has received the most positive assurance that the labor leaders do not intend to permit any disorder May 1. Accordingly the government's view is that there is not the slightest danger of serious trouble.

The reports from the mining districts to-day show a great improvement in the strike situation. The trouble in the department of the Nord, is considered to be over.
In the department of the Pas de Calais the strike has been crushed. It of the ringleaders in the recent disturbances.

SENATORS ASSURE KING
GREETING WILL BE GREAT

Ottawa, April 26.—(Special.)—In the senate today, Hon. R. W. Scott, moved the concurrence in the Belcourt address praying their majesties to visit Canada. It was seconded by Senator Lougheed.

Sir Richard Cartwright hoped the King would be able to accept the invitation.
Senator Poirer, speaking in French, supported the resolution. Among his many peoples, he said, King Edward had no greater admirers than were to be found in the British Empire, speaking Canadians of Quebec and the Mar-time Provinces.

The address was passed unanimously and ordered to be conveyed to the governor-general for transmission.

CITY'S RIGHT TO BUY LINES BOUGHT BY STREET RAILWAY

Private Bills Committee Want More Data Before Making Decision.

The propriety of the city's request to be allowed to construct street railway lines of its own on streets where the company refused to lay them down produced a spirited argument before the private bills committee of the legislature yesterday, when Toronto's bill to buy the Metropolitan Street Railway was discussed.

Mr. Mackay, who introduced the bill, explained that the city's request was made in order to secure the right to lay down lines on streets where the company refused to lay them down. He stated that the company's refusal to lay lines on certain streets was a serious matter, and that the city had no other recourse but to buy the lines.

Mr. Oser, who opposed the bill, stated that the city's request was a violation of the contract between the city and the company. He stated that the company had agreed to lay lines on certain streets, and that the city's request to buy the lines was a breach of that agreement.

The committee will report on the bill at a later date.

SOO LOAN FALLS DUE.

Government Makes Provision to Review if it is Not Paid.

Hon. Col. Matheson announced in the legislature last night that the guarantee of $2,000,000 of the bonds of the Soo industries would expire on Tuesday next. He had every reason to hope that the provision would be relieved, but provision would have to be made to renew all or a portion of the stages, providing for the renewal. In case the whole loan was not repaid the government would hold the securities of the Algoma Central Railway, but would release the other securities, consisting of first mortgage bonds of the Lake Superior Company or stock in proportion to the amount taken up.

Col. Matheson will go to New York Sunday night to arrange with the Canadian Improvement Company and the Morton Trust Company for the payment of the loan.

License Commissioners Are Now Making Up Their Minds.

The license commissioners were in session yesterday to decide as to the issuing of licenses for next year. They will continue deliberations to-day. In the meantime no statement is to be had, though it is expected that six of the present license-holders will be given 30 days to sell out, and that another six will be given 60 days for the same purpose.

"A pure guess," commented Commissioner Dr. R. J. Wilson, when asked about the report. Queried further as to whether the "guesses" were near the mark, he declined to say, but intimated that there would be something to announce in a few days.

Coffee Most Perilous.

A manly young fellow, working his way through school, and whom the world will hear of some day, came near blighting all his prospects by coffee drinking.

"I drank coffee all my life," he says, "and looking back I can see that it was responsible for much of the nervousness from which I suffered as a child. Four years ago, while at a preparatory school, I began to use it more freely than ever before.

"As the school year advanced, but I was 'playing out.' First, I was troubled about studying in the evening, then I got so I could not sleep well and rose in the morning unrefreshed. My nerves grew shaky, hands trembled, eyes pained me, and sometimes at the blackboard everything would seem to turn black—I couldn't see what I was doing and would have to take my seat. Then my brain seemed to grow sluggish—I could not think clearly and consecutively.

"Thus things went on for a year—sometimes a little better, then worse again. I laid it to various causes, but didn't hit on the right one till I went to a physician. He said that my nervous system and digestion were in bad shape, owing to improper diet, and the use of coffee. I said I couldn't get along without it, and he insisted that I should give it up and use Postum Food Coffee instead.

"It at once changed my diet, and for a few days I lived principally on Postum, Grape-Nuts and fresh fruit. The improvement came quickly to manifest itself. My sleep came back, my brain grew clear and active, my nerves were steadied and my digestion is better than ever before. The color has come back to my cheeks and I gained nearly thirty pounds' weight in three months. My mind is active and I can study anything. I owe it all to Postum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. There's a reason.

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

Musical comedy will be heard for the last time during the present season at the Princess Theatre next week when the picturesque operatic comedy, "The Tenderfoot," with Oscar L. Figman and Ruth White, who have been the attraction. "The Tenderfoot" has had a great vogue in Chicago and New York. The wit of the opera is said to be clean cut and incisive, and Figman is at his best in the comedy scenes. Miss White has some pretty songs, the two best being "Only a Kiss" and "Fascinating Venus," which are part calls for male attire, and as the opera is a comedy, she is as much at home in it as when she was seen as the dashing "Willie" in "The Burgomaster." The music of the opera is described as being especially "catchy," there being some twenty numbers.

The big successful cartoon comedy, "Buster Brown," comes to the Grand next week. The company is known to every theatregoer on the continent. The scenery, costumes and electric effects are new. "Show girls," who are beautiful, are features of this attraction, and who, by their performance are going to laugh and enjoy themselves in a general way, possibly the best of the kind. The play, which has never gone down, indicates that the house will be sold out at every performance. It is said there are three hours of fun and gaiety in the story centres around Tom Logan, who is unjustly accused of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment. His wife, Jeannette, who is a proud, amorous woman, runs away with an old man, and Tom, who is a devoted lover, prompts her to try to gain possession of her child. She is frustrated, and the governor pardons Tom. Selway, George, her paramour, is arrested for the murder, and Tom marries Ruth Larbins.

Miss Alice Edwards, Scottish soprano, is to give a grand concert in the Grand Hall on Monday evening. She will be assisted by her husband, George E. Fax and other well-known artists. Miss Edwards has already been heard here at a Scotch concert held in Massey Hall last November. Tickets may be had at Whaley, Royce & Co.'s, Yonge Street, at Bell piano warehouses.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Simply this—that the trade mark of the Macey Company on your hling cabinet is your best assurance that nothing but the best material and careful workmanship have entered into its manufacture. Our new line, the famous "Macey Inter-Inter" Cabinets are decidedly the most important and notable invention since the sectional idea was brought out—eliminating, as they do, clumsy and expensive separate tops, bases and loose ends, and securing greater capacity in less floor space. Investigate our claims—it's a pleasure to show the goods.

Mr. Gilchrist is an inmate of a Shrewsbury asylum, where he has been since February, 1906. He was trained as a chemist and when in business with his cousin patented a process for the manufacture of steel. In 1888 he retired, having amassed a fortune of $70,000. It was alleged that he was constantly making experiments of an objectionable character, and that he suffered from strange delusions. He imagined there was a wicked conspiracy to keep him under restraint, and that efforts were being made to poison him. He always put his foot on the floor, and would only eat if it had been tasted by his favorite cat. He said that at the creation fishes were made first, then fowls, and then pigs. His deduction therefrom was that they should have fish for breakfast, fowls for the midday meal, and pork at night. He wore an enormous amount of clothing including a cornsack next to his skin, and he put still more clothing on when he went to bed. He had accused his present guardian of murdering two patients. The enquiry was adjourned.

St. Kitts Feels Blue. St. Catharines, April 26.—The announcement of the sale of the Toronto and Tecumseh to the N. L. U. has received here with something like a senior series of the C. L. A. team which will be largely attended by the Toronto and Tecumseh players. It is hardly likely that the Athletics will go on their proposed tour to Vancouver, anyway.

Lacrosse Points. The Parliament Lacrosse Club will practice on the east side of the Don River at any other place requested. The varsity lacrosse players are training on the campus, but their work shows little improvement. A good coach would help some.

Testimonial to Dr. Vogt. Mr. Vogt has been the recipient of a personal testimonial from some of those who were prominently associated with the Mendelssohn Choir in the recent performance of the "Ninth Symphony" in Montreal. The personal tributes paid to the fine work done by Mr. Vogt in preparing the rehearsals of the symphony are eloquent proof of the enthusiasm and the performance of Beethoven's greatest work in Toronto. In subscribing his name to the testimonial, Mr. Vogt says: "To my great friend, A. E. Vogt, in the most grateful remembrance of his wonderful work for the Ninth. Vogt, the concert-meister and solo violinist of the orchestra, writes: 'In the memory of the most inspiring rendition of the Ninth,' at which I have been so impressed by the work of the orchestra and Artist Vogt. 'To the musician and Artist Vogt, my work honors his art and his community.' Henry Brannen, the soloist, writes: 'I have heard the Mendelssohn Choir in the Ninth Symphony' a tenth and even more wonderful performance has been the result.' The assisting solo vocalists are equally emphatic. Van Torck describing the performance as 'The greatest choral work I have ever heard.'

When Wong Kai Kah was temporarily a sojourner in New York, he met an old gentleman who endeavored to sell to him a new-made acquaintance. He said he was the antiquity of his family. "Oh," he said, with naive modesty and yet with a merry twinkle in his eye, "my family is new in China; indeed, we have nothing to boast of, so long establishment in that country, for we have been there only 2500 years, having come from a place to the south and east of the Ocean Sea."

No Trace of Valuable Book Sold by C. J. Sawyer, the New Oxford-street bookseller, who had a copy of Lady Anne Hamilton's "Secret History of the Court of England," which might fetch $1000 for sixpence last week, was a much worried man yesterday, says The London Express.

Before 3 o'clock in the afternoon Mr. Sawyer had received eighteen callers, armed with proofs that they possessed the copy for which the bookseller is offering a reward of $5.

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS
FAST SERVICE DESIRED

John Patterson Tells Why He Wants Special Right of Way — No Decision Yet.

Hamilton, April 26.—(Special.)—Rev. A. E. Henry announced definitely at a meeting of the Hamilton Presbytery this afternoon that he would accept the call to Knox Church, Regina. He will preach his far-well sermon here on May 13 and expects to take charge of the Regina Church on May 27. The pulpit of Knox Church will be declared vacant on May 20.

A short time ago, the hospital governors gave the milk contract to Peter Ray. J. R. Cameron sent them a letter to-day asking them if they knew where Mr. Ray got his ice. The medical superintendent will investigate. There were ten applicants for the position of steward, and they will be asked to attend a meeting of the governors next Saturday morning, when a choice will be made.

Rearranging Things.
At the meeting of the finance committee this evening the resignation of Alex Stewart, city treasurer, was accepted, and the question of giving him retiring allowance was deferred. W. R. Lockie, the acting treasurer, was recommended for appointment as his successor, at $2000 a year, and Aid. Main will be appointed assistant treasurer at $1800 a year, at the meeting of the council next Monday evening. The choice of Wednesday, August 8, as a public holiday was confirmed. Would Run Fast Line.
John Patterson's application for a right of way thru the city for the Hamilton, Waterloo and London line was heard by a joint meeting of the board of works and finance committee this evening. The alderman wanted to know why he should not use some of the streets now used for railroads. He said the company wanted to run a fast line, and he expected to do a big freight business. For that it required a right of way thru Dundurn park, Harvey Parks. It will tunnel under the York-street, east of the high level bridge, and will run along the rear of the park. The station will be on the west side of James-street near Vine-street, and the freight yards at the corner of Barton and Oxford-streets. Mr. Patterson expects to start construction work by May 1. He first asked the city to pay half the cost of acquiring the right of way, but will be satisfied now with an exemption from taxation for ten years. The alderman wanted to see the route staked out before coming to a definite decision.

Out.
Unless James Morrison of Hamilton, disposes of his stock or of his business as butcher in Hamilton before 3 o'clock to-morrow, Justice Teetzel of Toronto will consider the estate of G. C. Thompson to commit him for contempt of court. Morrison owned a butcher business in Hamilton, and in Toronto. This he sold to Mr. Smith, undertaking that he would not operate a business in that part of Hamilton. Morris did open a shop with the district and started to run it. A few days ago an order was issued to commit him for contempt. He transferred his store to his son, Justice Teetzel decides he will allow Morrison to make a bona fide sale of his business.

The Grand Trunk have sold their car right of way in Hamilton that will face along the bay front. This is the first step towards improving the yards in the Ambitious City, which has been promised a new passenger station.

SIR WILLIAM IS BETTER.

In Spite of His Years, Is Recovering From Operation.

Sir William P. Howland is a man of extraordinary vitality. He is 35 years of age, and on Thursday afternoon underwent an operation for appendicitis. Last night he was reported to be feeling much better, and the doctors in attendance and his friends feel quiet confident he will recover. About two weeks ago Sir William made a trip to St. Catharines and Fort Burwell, and it is thought that he caught cold. Drs. Caven, Bruce and Goldwin Howland performed the operation.

J. A. McGilivray, supreme secretary of the Independent Order of Foresters, who was seriously ill with an aneurism of the blood two years ago, is again compelled to retire from active business. The last few days he has been noticed to be growing weaker until yesterday, when he was reported to be feeling somewhat better. Dr. Fotheringham is in attendance.

The condition of T. G. Brough, general manager of the Dominion Bank, has been stricken down with sudden illness in London, Eng., was stated in a cable received yesterday afternoon to have considerably improved. Mr. Brough only arrived at London within the last few days on a short visit.

SOCIETY AND THE HORSES
HAVING A SPLENDID TIME

Some Features of Unusual Interest at the Horse Show Yesterday and Success is Assured.

Society took a tight hold on the whole of the fine day at the second official presentation of the horse show at the armories. For the first day the management says the receipts were more than 50 per cent. in advance of any previous first days, and for yesterday former records in receipts were only a little behind, but in beauty and fine feather the connoisseurs say the increase is most remarkable. No more brilliant gathering than that of last night has ever assembled in Toronto.

All day it was the same, but the winding-up not long before midnight was simply a sensation, because everyone was rapt in the choice of the jumpers. The 6 ft. 10 in. bar is nearly a foot below the world's record, but it was a hard one for the beautiful jumpers last night under the glare of the electric light and the applause of the vast throng, which could not restrain its enthusiasm without making some noise. The jumping event scheduled for 15 minutes, lasted an hour, owing to the proficiency of the jumpers.

When it came to the little horse trembled and looked at its rider as it was sent to the effort. Everybody cheered just when it made a clean jump. But there is a bit of a joke about this exciting contest. Confidence, who may sometime become a fine jumper, thought he could make that 6 ft. 10 in. jump, and Col. Lessard was asked by the rider for the privilege.

"Go ahead," said the colonel, regardless of risk, and the jumper tried and fell over everything, even himself, and again it was asserted that Confidence could not do it. The jovial colonel of the Dragoons ordered the minions to make things ready.

Confidence then cleared the top rail by several inches, and the cheers that greeted the feat were the loudest that have been emitted during this show.

"I did it for a bit of a joke, but it has the result of showing what's in a horse, and this is a horse show," said Col. Lessard, apologetically, when The World asked him about it.

The feature of the afternoon show was the win made by Miss Viva Kerr in the ladies' saddle class. At night, prize winner, was Hon. Adam Beck and his wife. They took first and second in the tandems, the almost ungalantly letting his better half get the second prize. At the front of the hon. gentleman's tandem was a beautiful horse that had great action and was a good rider, but there was a little bit of talk about him being staked wrong for the prize class.

At night, outside of the judging, and all along the line as to where are kicks and some post-mortems will be held. Gen. grunts are the order of the day. In fact, the judges are openly charged, and one man says that even the horses kick.

MYOPIA JUMPED 6 FT. 10 IN.

Magnificent Performance in Ring Thursday Night—All the Awards.

The second day of the Canadian Horse Show saw very few scratches in any of the classes. In the morning the sweepstakes, for best hackney stallion, went to Rosary, belonging to H. J. Spencely of Box Grove. Mrs. A. Beck won first in pairs of horses shown in afternoon. Mrs. Beck was first and second in class 22, and the evening she won first and second in the harness tandems. Mrs. Beck's judging winners, which by the way, were never hitched together before till last night.

That the best were the best ever seen in a Toronto show-ring. Their action and conformation were good, particularly the wheelers, whose grand action brought applause after applause from the stand.

In the Toronto Hunt Plate, Cloth of Gold, ridden by Alf. Rogers, won first prize, and in this event G. W. Beardmore, M.F.H., had a hard horse to handle, and was forced, much against his will, to bite the dust. In the high jump, Myopia, owned by Miss Pepper, Toronto, won, jumping 6 ft. 10 inches. The New York horse, Pearl, was the one most fancied for this, but she was forced to take second.

A protest was lodged yesterday afternoon in regard to the King Edward trophy cup on account of the high jump. It is claimed there was no specification of how high the horse should stand, and only a printer's error. The committee will meet this morning to decide the case.

HIGH ARCH AND HIGH INSTEP

"ONE OF THE 14"

The Usual Flat Foot

The Usual Flat Foot in the Usual Shoe

The Usual Flat Foot in a Dolly Varden Shoe

No woman can have a clever foot without a high arch and high instep and no woman can have these vital foot beauty requisites unless her arch is firmly supported from below.

Flat foot is common to everybody in a marked or moderate degree. If marked, pain and inability to walk are the penalties. If moderate, an even greater feminine penalty is inflicted—ugly feet.

The foot is a chain of small bones held together in an arched position by powerful ligaments and muscles. The pressure from above stretches these ligaments and muscles, letting down the arch and instep in a flat position. The extent of the flatness depends upon the strength of the muscles. The strong suffer less than the weak, but all suffer either the disease of flat-foot, or the humiliation of low instep, low arch and foot homeliness.

Dolly Vardens are built with a newly devised steel arch, powerful but pliant, which absolutely prevents flat foot, relieves those afflicted with the disease, and gives the wearer who wants smart, dainty feet, the enviable high arch and high instep.

Our agent in your city will take pleasure in showing you High Arch, High Instep, Dolly Vardens. Purchasers or investigators equally welcome. In the States or Canada at the same price—$3.50 and $4.00. Every pair Goodyear Welts. (To be continued.)

At 110 Yonge-st. The Prince Consort of the Dolly Varden shoe is the foot-rite shoe for men.

INSTALLMENT OF RESTORATION.

There is a suggestion of the grotesque about the salary grab situation at Ottawa. Unhappily dry your hand into the public treasury to-day, and you will regret it to-morrow when you have had time to reflect that other parties were interested in the transaction besides yourself. Politicians are not quite so ready as pastors to admit that they have blundered. The obligations which have been offered to the appearance of consistency are legion. But it is often better to be candidly repentant than to be partially consistent by the aid of casuistic jugglery. The mistake made by the parliamentarians at Ottawa last year was not that they valued their services to the state more highly than before. Even politicians may be allowed to flatter themselves occasionally. The mistake lay in appropriating the larger salary before the persons who were compelled to find the money could signify their approval of the raise. If members of parliament think they are worth $10,000 or $20,000 a year they are entitled to say so. But before they lay hands upon the $10,000 they should, in common decency, give their constituents time to express an opinion on the matter.

The indemnity Act of last session is going to be amended. The perpetrators of it will do as little amending as possible, in the hope that public resentment at what has happened will be satisfied with some small concession to propriety and public thrift. The pensions to ex-ministers will have to go—at least those who are already drawing indemnities as members of parliament will have to be content with a (reduced) pull at the exchequer. A limited number of pensions are given to ex-ministers in the United Kingdom, but only to those who declare that otherwise they have not the means adequately to maintain the position of a former minister of the crown. By making a confession of honorable poverty, the statesman who has come down from his high position occasionally secures benefits in this way.

These pensions, therefore, are largely in the nature of grants to save the reputation of the state itself from the stigma of stinginess. No one has yet been foolish enough to contend that the pensions to astute businessmen like Mr. Sifton and Mr. Foster were desirable in order to maintain the reputation of Canada as a rewarder of them that truly serve her. Both gentlemen are wealthier to-day than they would have been if they had remained in those paths of life which do not lead to legislative distinction. They exhibited no scruples against voting themselves money, they need have no scruples about voting money away from themselves.

THE FRENCH SITUATION.

If the labor troubles in France are the prelude of another revolt against the constituted government, the situation may easily become grave. Unquestionably the republic has earned and held the sympathy and support of the general body of the people and has repeatedly demonstrated its inherent confidence and its command of popular might easily have resulted in disaster. Unfortunately for France, however, the nation is politically divided up into various camps, none of which is strong enough by itself to undertake the conduct of the government. Coalitions in strange and unforeseen shapes are not uncommon and are always possible. They have, it is true, no cohesion, and when their purpose is served dissolve as swiftly as they were formed. But their powers of mischief are none the less formidable, more especially as the evil that is done remains and multiplies itself in its consequences. Coalitions always produce governments weak on both the administrative and legislative sides. The former is undoubtedly the more serious, and its effects soon become patent enough. When any particular law is not enforced, whether the reason for inaction be good, bad or indifferent, respect for the laws in general is weakened, and in extreme cases may be wholly destroyed. It is this aspect of the matter which fanatical reformers of all kinds habitually ignore or depreciate. Yet nothing is more certain than that in free countries, political and social order depends on the acceptance of the supremacy of the law and the employment of constitutional means for its amendment or repeal where its provisions are unsatisfactory. No doubt there are occasions where strong temptation exists to connive at illegalities and to condone the open flouting of legal obligations, but a government reaches the height of moral courage when it sets its own fate below its higher duty to the state. It is difficult to believe that after a generation of Republican government characterized on the whole by a degree of progress unequalled in the history of modern France, the mass of the people are insensible to the necessity of maintaining the existing constitution. Although the sectional alliance which is working against the present administration is formidable enough none of the individual parties of which it is composed can rely upon the people at large for support. Nor would they have had even a show of real strength had it not been for the recent clerical legislation and the open resistance of the inventing of church property—a movement largely due to popular ignorance of its motive and purpose, and imprudent government action. Whether the measure was well advised or not, once entered upon breaches of order should have been punished and the law impartially upheld. Failure to do this had its inevitable consequences in the incitement given other dissatisfied sections to press their claims by violent methods. The situation in France is a warning of the danger which always attends any tampering with the principle of the supremacy of the law.

MEDICINE CANNOT SHIFT MUD.

The ridiculous experiment of making a health officer responsible for keeping clean many, many miles of city streets was sure to come to an inglorious end. The functions of a doctor are many. But the shovel and scraper and sweeper are not among the implements he was taught to use when he learned the hard-work of his profession. Medical textbooks do not deal with the cure of mud holes. Dr. Sheard has proved that the new broom cannot always sweep clean. You cannot clarify the floors of unpaved streets as easily as you can vaccinate children. There is to be another civic department. Whoever takes charge of it will enjoy the preliminary comfort of knowing that, whatever he does, he will utterly fail to keep the streets in a worse condition than they have been this long time. Bad as Toronto is, there are others— which is no remedy, and mighty poor comfort. A veracious despatch from Alliance, in the State of Ohio, says that neither the council nor the board of public safety would appropriate sufficient money to keep the streets clean, and so, on Monday, women of social prominence, dressed as servants and wielding hoes, shovels, brooms and hoses, turned out and cleaned the foul thoroughfares as an indication of their contempt for the cheese-paring governors, who have never heard, apparently, that cleanliness is next to godliness. Heaven forbid that such a display of civic patriotism and womanly self-abnegation should be necessary in Toronto. If it were, the faithful board of control and the aldermen would be found standing on the sidewalks applauding their wives and daughters and other people's wives and daughters for their excellent work. In the board of trade henceforth there should be perceptible something of the zeal of the young convert to civic evangelization. "Toronto for pre-eminence" is a very good sentiment to grow on.

BOARD OF TRADE REDIVIVUS.

The Toronto Board of Trade has renewed its youth—and a great deal more. At the beginning of the year its membership was 629. Yesterday it became 1285. The previous high-water mark was 922. The augmentation is remarkable, and brings the institution into easy pre-eminence among its peers in the extra-British parts of the empire. Congratulations were voted by the board yesterday to Chairman Woods and Secretary Morley for their unparalleled service. The World joins in the paeon of praise. The occasion calls for choice language. The most suitable is to be found in a chorus of felicitation which was hymned about six months ago on the vindication of a great corporation by a remarkable vindicator: "Wonderful, wonderful, most wonderful."

THREE DIVISIONS.

There have been three party votes in the legislature this session. The first was the house divided on the county council bill. Result—For 56, against 18, majority 38. Clapp (Conservative) did not vote. On April 18 the house divided on Mr. Ross' motion censuring the government for the loan transaction. Result—For 24, against 64, majority 40. Rathbun (Independent Liberal) voted with the government. Yesterday the third straight party vote was recorded on the three-fifths clause of the license bill. Result—For 21, against 64. Rathbun paired as supporter of the government, and Rathbun and Labrosse (Liberals) declined to pair on this motion.

these older countries are so different from those prevailing in Canada as to render the adoption of their methods impracticable and unwise, the valuable information can be gained from them. A system adapted to Canadian needs must be worked out independently, and Mr. Stewart declares the establishment of a forestry school combining theoretical and practical instruction to be the next step in our educational advancement. That step should be taken by Ontario, and is, indeed, recommended in the recent report of the university commission. Not is it a case for half measures, since skilfully trained men are becoming a necessity and can only be got from the schools of other countries. Besides those required by the Dominion and provincial governments, the services of others will, in all probability, be favored by the lumbermen themselves, who are realizing that scientific forestry is as much in their interest as in that of the nation. Mr. Stewart does not venture upon any estimate of the quantity of merchantable timber on land under the control of the Dominion government. The calculations which have been made can, he remarks, only be regarded as conjectures drawn from very limited data. Beyond question the quantity is enormous. "When we remember," Mr. Stewart adds, "that the whole country abounds in streams, affording excellent water power, there is little doubt that the great wilderness lying north of our fertile land, which may appropriately be termed Canada's wood lot, will yet furnish, thru its forests alone, employment for a considerable population, and with proper management should continue to be a permanent source of wealth to the country." In addition there is the value of the forests of the north as a conservator of water supply, and as a barrier against the Arctic air currents. For their proper management, there is needed not only forest protection, but proper forest utilization, so that the public may receive the full benefit derived from the use of the ripe product. This entails as an initial preliminary, the examination and inventorying of timber tracts set aside as forest reserves, so that regulations can be made to suit individual cases. All which opens up a long vista of labor and strengthens the call for trained officials, bred in a school designed to meet Canadian requirements.

PROVINCIAL LIQUOR LEGISLATION.

Yesterday the bill to amend the Liquor License Law passed the third reading without substantial alteration. It is the first of the main measures introduced by the government to reach that stage, and the premier and provincial secretary have reason to be gratified at the fact that it did so unanimously. Notwithstanding the thorny character of the subject matter and the difficulties always attending any attempt to hold the balance equally between extremists holding diametrically opposite views, the government proposals were so well considered and remarkable in themselves as practically to command the support of all who desired to see a fair license law wisely and firmly administered. Serious objection was only encountered in connection with the clause requiring a three-fifths majority to carry a local option bill. Experience has shown that worse than useless majority of the people affected. Public opinion is necessary to secure strict enforcement, and provisions which cannot be made operative do harm rather than good. The requirement of a stated majority will not be a deterrent to the spread of temperance sentiment, but is calculated to stimulate it and give it permanence. Local option bylaws will not create grievances and will be respected, not resented. Mr. Hanna was confident that in five years it would be proven that this section was as good as the others of his bill, and his confidence is more likely to be justified than falsified.

AN ACRE FOR A NAME.

G. Larrit Smith wrote saying that when he had known now as Reservoir Park was sold to the city by his father in 1893 it was stipulated that it should be known as Summerhill Park. The name was used for many years but was never used for property in the locality and Mr. Smith states that if it is used for the park he will advise the trustees of the city to purchase the land. He is willing to sell the land to the city in connection with the acquisition of new lands for park purposes about an acre of land. This was construed to mean that it would be a gift to the city, and it was unanimously agreed that under those conditions the present park should be officially known as Summerhill Park, which was its original name. Let There Be Light. Barrister S. C. Smoke appeared on behalf of the American Street Lighting and Gas Supply Co., and took the controllers to task for the manner in which their tenders for gas lamps had been dealt with. He said that his clients' tender was far better in the city's interest than that of the Carbon Light and Power Co. Mr. Smoke's contention was that the test made by the city of the lighting powers of the lamps was not properly conducted. One of the tenders used a globe or a lamp which was not being used in the streets. The test of the city's department had, Mr. Smoke argued, been purely theoretical and not a practical one. The practical test, which private parties had made, showed that his clients' lamp was superior by several degrees to that of the Carbon Light Co. The offer of his company would save the city $9000 a year, and the saving would be double that if the price of gas was reduced to 80¢ per thousand. Mr. Rust said he had not himself made any practical tests, but had left it in the hands of the secretary of the fire department. A Vast Difference. Mr. Smoke said the company which had had the contract, had not lived up to it. Instead of giving 80 candle power, as per contract, they had only given an average of 28. On one night, under weather conditions favorable to the lights, ten lamps were tested, and the city had been examined by Prof. Loudon of Toronto University. The position is that the American Co. stands without allowing for reflectors, which Mr. Smoke said could be bought by the city or the company at 50¢ each, and his company was willing to buy them and add the net price to their tender. After Mr. Smoke had urged his clients' cause for an hour, A. F. Lobb, in a few words on behalf of the Carbon Co., argued that the other people were seeking to amend their tender after they had found a better offer to the city was in. The board promised to dispose of the matter at an early date. Wood and the Box Drain. John R. Wood made a rather excited speech before the board of control on the condition of the box drain on Ossington-avenue, which has created a nuisance on his property. He asked the board to order the box drain to be removed, and the board agreed. The board promised to dispose of the matter at an early date.

WANT TO BUY A CITY PARK FOR CANADIAN NORTHERN

Negotiations Pending With Board of Control—Gift of an Acre of Land—City Hall Notes.

"We want to buy St. Lawrence-square," said ex-Controller F. H. Richardson to the board of control yesterday afternoon when the entrance of the James Bay Railway to the city was being discussed. The mayor remarked that Mr. Mackenzie had told the controllers that the railway was ready to come into the city and wished to arrange for entrance. It was in this connection that Mr. Richardson asked to purchase the park. "Can they take a public park?" queried the controller. "I thought we would want to buy," said Mr. Richardson. "They can take everything but cemeteries," explained Secretary McQueen. "I don't want to expropriate; we want to buy," said Mr. Richardson. City Engineer Rust was asked to confer with the chief engineer of the railway company as to details of the way in which the railway will come in, and the assessment commissioner and park commissioner will furnish a joint report as to the request of Mr. Richardson. When the company get this little park they will have bought up about 20 acres, which is bounded by Trinity-street, Front-street, Eastern-avenue and Beach-street.

INSURANCE COMMISSION

In the interests of the company that the stock should be held by the president of another company, and one who was interested in the same. Witness meant the Canada Life and the Imperial. He had no personal objection to Senator Cox. The understanding was that Strachan would sell to his friends in Montreal, and that McCuaig would sell his to friends in the Maritime Provinces. But they concluded that they had better just keep the stock, and did not desire to sell any unless they sold the whole body of stock. Neither the Manufacturers' Life nor the Temperance and General had advanced any money in connection with the transactions between Gooderham and Cox and Strachan and Mann.

"You can say positively that the old Manufacturers' Life Assurance Company had not advanced any money to any of these partners?"

"Yes."

Witness had not insured himself, so that he would be able to dispose of those shares as he pleased. He did not break the control, and in pursuance of the final arrangement Strachan kept 1071 shares, but McCuaig afterwards refused to honor his agreement. Witness had carried out his promises to make payments on this contract. He did not obtain any transfer of stock when he made the first $20,000 payment. The money was not raised from the Manufacturers' Life. Witness had financed the transaction out of his own money and money he borrowed from a friend.

"Was that friend a shareholder in the Manufacturers' Life?" asked Mr. Tilley.

"No."

"Or the Temperance and General?"

"No."

"Was he an officer of the company?"

"No."

"You say that no loan came thru the company in any way in connection with the transaction?"

"None."

The Final Division.
Mr. Junkin said that it was some months after the amalgamation had gone thru that the directors met in connection with Mackenzie and Mann.

"Had you in the meantime attempted in any way to dispose of any other stock for smaller amounts?"

"Yes, I began to work with them immediately," answered witness, who gave the following particulars concerning the final distribution of shares: Lloyd Harris 1350, H. M. Pellatt 1000, Wm. Strachan 1078, S. G. Beatty 1000, William Mackenzie 2000, D. D. Mann 2000, McLaughlin and Johnston 400, J. F. Junkin 223.

These made a total of 9146 shares. Mr. Junkin pointed out that the stock was not divided equally together. Each of the parties that took any share of the capital stock got it on terms to be determined by Mackenzie & Mann. Strachan got from Cox and that Cox got from Gooderham. It was an absolute sale to Mackenzie & Mann.

"I suppose," said Mr. Tilley, "that there would be some correspondence between you and all these parties?"

"No, they were mostly Toronto men, or lived in the vicinity. It was all done verbally."

E. B. Hanna became a shareholder on Jan. 20, 1904, when witness transferred fifty shares to him of stock held by witness in trust, those fifty shares coming out of the 4000 shares transferred to Mackenzie & Mann by Mann. Those fifty shares were transferred to enable Mr. Hanna to get on the board, on which he represented Mackenzie & Mann. Mr. Mann was one of the original directors of the old Manufacturers' Life, and when the amalgamation took place he became a director of the new Manufacturers' Life. Mr. Hanna became a director in 1902 and Mr. Hanna took similar office in 1904. Mr. Mackenzie was a policyholder in the old company to a considerable amount.

Policyholder-Director.
Referring to the stock-book Mr. Tilley said that Mr. Mackenzie was not actually a shareholder in his own name till 1905.

Mr. Junkin explained that Mr. Mackenzie qualified as a director by being a policyholder, being considered as a good man to have on the board of directors. Mr. Junkin had advised Mr. Mann concerning the buying of the stock as a family investment. Mr. Mann represented generally meant a good investment later on. He had expected Mackenzie & Mann, whose names would be valuable, to be active part in the directorate. Later, when he found that Mr. Mackenzie was not attending meetings very regularly he suggested that Mr. Hanna represent their interests. When Mr. Hanna came on the board both Mackenzie & Mann remained, however.

Regular Attendee.
Witness would not say that he had understood Mr. Hanna's fifty shares simply as Mackenzie & Mann stock. He did not know Mr. Hanna attended board meetings very regularly.

Mr. Junkin could not say whose stock those 1350 shares in trust by Messrs. Digby and Hellicor.

Witness could say positively that no one person nor any set of persons nor had stock representing control of the Manufacturers' Life.

"It has never been discussed," he added.

"There are still some large blocks of stock by combining which a control could be secured?" asked Mr. Tilley.

"Yes, but the situation is better than it is."

"Apparently so. You say there is no agreement for any such control?"

"None whatever."

In the transfer securities ledger, under the heading Mackenzie, Mann & Co. date Dec. 1, 1902, appeared an item, "To loan, $125,000." The Mackenzie firm at that time held $125,000 in stock. There was another item dated Dec. 25—

"By cash, $127,500.00."

"That was the repayment of the loan," explained Mr. Junkin.

"What about interest?"

"Five hundred dollars interest is included in that."

"Was that cheque deposited?"

"I presume so."

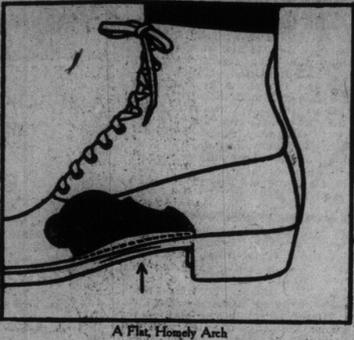

Mr. McLaughlin promised to produce the bank-book to prove the deposit. "Anything to assist the commission," he added.

Referring to another entry of Jan. 8, 1903, indicating a loan of $125,000, to Mackenzie & Mann, Mr. Junkin explained that this was on the same security as the old loan and for about the same amount. The securities were 200 bonds of Inverness Railway $50,000; 500 each par value, aggregating $100,000; also 4000 shares of Manufacturers' Life stock, par value about $25,000. The agreement stipulated further that the sum of $38,000 would be paid on the balance in semi-annual payments extending over a period of four years with interest at 4 per cent. per annum.

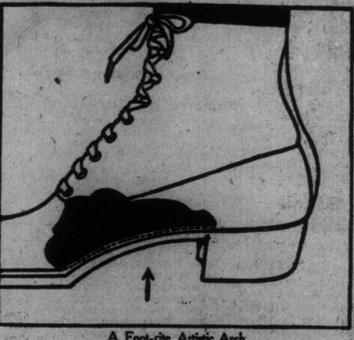

Mr. Junkin stated that the press had drawn wrong conclusions from some of his statements. If he had given the idea in his evidence yesterday that the

HAS ARTISTIC ARCH

IMPROVEMENT NUMBER SEVEN

A Flat Homely Arch

A Foot-rite Artistic Arch

Homely thing—a flat arched shoe. No shoe, whether for man or woman, can be really clever looking without an artistically curved arch. To make a shoe with a smart arch line costs money. It requires special lasts. The maker can't use stock lasts, ground from a mill by hundreds of thousands, as all stock lasts have flat arches. Ask any last maker. It requires tough heels. He can't use heels made of shoe factory junk. It requires level construction of the heel and sole, and instead of a cheap, weak, wood arch support which falls flat at the first wearing, it requires a stout steel arch. The Foot-rite Shoe has an artistic arch. Because it's moulded over lasts sculptured from the handsomely and ideally formed feet of model athletes. If an athlete hasn't a perfect arch he's not an athlete.

Because of its tough heels which slough off slowly at the back, hence doesn't tip up and jam up into and bend or break the sole line of the arch. Because of its Plumb-Line Level Heel and Sole which always remain level, leaving the arch line to curve artistically, like a tangent from a straight line. And because of its strong steel arch support sewed between the inner and outer sole which stubbornly sustains its artistic curve line. There's a Foot-rite retailer in your town who's skilled in the art of fitting Foot-rite artistic arches. His name's below. You'll find his door swinging inward but never outward to find a more welcome store. Every pair Good-year Welced.

loan was paid off in December, 1902, possibly on the understanding that a new loan would be made to Mackenzie & Mann in 1903. To the best of his recollection that was the case. He did not recollect what bank Mackenzie & Mann's cheque paying the loan was on.

The minute book showed that the loan payment from Mackenzie & Mann was approved by the directors. On Dec. 8, 1903, the books of the company showed a credit entry of $125,186, evidently a payment from Mackenzie & Mann.

On July 2, of that year, there was a credit entry of $3200, the interest on 4000 shares of the Mackenzie & Mann stock in the Manufacturers' Life, which was part of their security. The Dec. 8 entry was similar to that of the preceding year, the loan being paid off before the year was up.

Without Interest.
Another loan was made on Jan. 25, 1904, of $128,650, one of the amounts referred to in Blackadar's report at the department.

Mr. Junkin did not think they changed up interest against Mackenzie & Mann for the intervals between Dec. 25, 1902, and Jan. 2, 1903, and between Dec. 27, 1903, and Jan. 25, 1904.

The books also tended to show that Life advanced a private loan of $1,000 to William Mackenzie, on the security of the government bonds, in 1902.

Later, this loan was transferred to the account of Mackenzie, Mann & Co., Limited, on the re-arrangement of securities. The entire loan was paid off in three payments during the year 1904.

Mr. Junkin admitted that he knew the securities were not satisfactory to the government. It had been the intention to pay off the original loan within a few days. When the time for the deal for the buying of the stock, it was found that some time was desired to pay.

"If you had known that it was not to be paid at the end of the year, would you have paid?" asked Mr. Tilley.

Mr. Junkin said he was aware it was a perfect transaction, but he was sure it would not pass the department at Ottawa. He thought that a security of $274,000 for $125,000 was good enough. He had looked upon the deal merely as a temporary measure, pending a different arrangement. Communications between witness and Mackenzie & Mann were all verbal. Witness had mentioned the matter of securities to Mr. Mann. He denied that himself to put the deal thru in December, 1901.

A Cheque From Mr. Pellatt.
At the afternoon session, Mr. Tilley asked the witness if he had the documents showing the transactions of the Mackenzie and Mann loan.

"Mr. Tilley then read the agreement for transfer of Manufacturers' Life stock from Gooderham to Cox. This, 1888, whereby Cox, purchased from Gooderham 2105 shares of capital stock of Manufacturers' Life and 550 shares of Guarantee Fund of the Temperance and General Life Co. For the first lot he paid $140,000, and for the second $132,000. Cox at that time had held shares of capital stock, and 550 shares of Temperance and General. The agreement stipulated further that the sum of $38,000 would be paid on the balance in semi-annual payments extending over a period of four years with interest at 4 per cent. per annum.

Mr. Junkin stated that the press had drawn wrong conclusions from some of his statements. If he had given the idea in his evidence yesterday that the

as large as it is there, it might be put thru.

One Other Instance.
"Did you loan money to anyone else in this way?"

"Yes. A small loan to F. Sanderson, the actuary of the Canada Life."

"Any more?"

"No one else."

"If the three men who negotiated this loan of $11,000, Mackenzie, Mann and Pellatt, had not been on the board would the company have given them money on such security?"

"I don't think so; but I think, at that time, anyone of good substantial financial standing might put thru a deal like this, but they wouldn't do it now." (Laughter.)

The accounts of the Crow's Nest and Dominion Coal Co. were next explained by the witness.

The evidence given when the Manufacturers' Life was the subject of enquiry in Ottawa was practically duplicated when the matter of the Prudential Securities Company, a holding company formed by the fourteen directors of the Manufacturers' Life for the purpose of holding the unauthorized investments of the company, came up.

Mr. Junkin admitted that at the end of 1903 the company's holding of Crow's Nest had been taken out of the books, a nominal sale, and put in again after the inspection. The same thing was done in 1902 and 1903. The purpose was to conceal the fact that the company was carrying illegal securities.

The witness stated that in no other instance than Mackenzie & Mann and Sanderson call loans had this scheme been adopted.

"The minute which approves of the sale of 1800 shares Dominion Coal at 125 1-2 and 202 Crow's Nest at 300 1-4 Mackenzie and Mann, the witness admitted was a colored resolution. He considered that it was simply a nominal sale, and not done intentionally to make a good appearance."

"There was a loss on the stock at the end of 1902, was there not?"

"Yes. The directors consider themselves responsible."

"It was not discussed then."

"When did the department call your attention to this sort of business?"

"In 1903."

"It had been subject of discussion at a meeting of the board of directors re investing in securities like C.P.R., Crow's Nest, etc., was it not?"

"Yes! One of the members suggested that if stock went down the directors would be personally responsible, and if it went up, the company would take the profits."

The operation of December, 1902, was described by the witness. When the end of the year drew near the Crow's Nest, Dominion Coal, securities held against Mackenzie and Mann, call loans were rolled into one transaction and a cheque for the total amount credited to the Manufacturers' Life in the traders' Bank. Then when the inspection was over the cheque was withdrawn and the securities put back in the book.

"At the time of the buying of stocks," said Mr. Junkin, "we went into the game with the sole idea of making money. So when stocks went down, at the end of the year the directors realized their position, and to save the odium which would result if it were generally known that the directors' stock dabbling had proven a failure, the deals did not appear in the annual financial statement. G. W. Ross and T. H. Preston of Brant.

The Whitney majority grows. On the three-fifths clause of the Hanna license bill, G. W. Ross divided the house yesterday and was buried under a majority of 48—a vast majority than has been.

The vote was as follows: For amendment (21): Atkinson, Auld, Anderson, Currie, Gresham, Hart, Munro, McColg, MacKay, McMillan, Pease, Preston, (Brant), Reid, Ross, Smith (Soe), Smith (Soe), Thompson (Westworth), Tudhope.

Mr. Ross: Will the municipalities get more of the increase under the old law than they did under the old law? Mr. Hanna: They will get more of the total.

He went on to say that for ten years under the old law the municipalities received $300,000 less than the province. Under the new law they would get one-half of the amount actually collected.

Mr. Ross interrupted that this was perfectly legitimate. The bill was for compensation. There were some clauses in Mr. Hanna's bill which were only for consideration.

Mr. Hanna continued, showing that local option had proved a failure in municipalities where it was carried by less than a three-fifths majority.

Mr. Ross in moving in amendment, that the clause in the measure calling for a three-fifths majority be amended so as to ask for a bare majority.

Mr. Ross claimed that it was a rule, when a bare majority was carried by a bare majority. It had been carried in the past on a two-thirds vote, and he was not prepared to assume that a bare majority shouldn't be sufficient.

Mr. Ross sought to show that in most municipalities where local option carried the issue was not an important one, resulting in the closing of the mills, the loss of jobs, and the destruction of property.

Mr. Ross concluded by moving the bill be referred back with instructions to substitute the words "a majority" for "three-fifths" referring to the local option voting.

Mr. Ross claimed that it was a rule, when a bare majority was carried by a bare majority. It had been carried in the past on a two-thirds vote, and he was not prepared to assume that a bare majority shouldn't be sufficient.

Mr. Ross sought to show that in most municipalities where local option carried the issue was not an important one, resulting in the closing of the mills, the loss of jobs, and the destruction of property.

Mr. Ross concluded by moving the bill be referred back with instructions to substitute the words "a majority" for "three-fifths" referring to the local option voting.

One Swallow Doesn't Make a Summer, Nor Can One Critic Discredit Cobalt

COBALT RESIDENTS SO ANGRY TWO CAUSES FOR COMPLAINING

Major Leckie's Reported Statements Deriding Permanence of Camp and a New Town Site Are Found Annoying—Some Newsy Gossip.

Cobalt, April 26.—(Star Special.)—Cobalt is having a house cleaning, a regular spring house cleaning, so the camp-vivandier croaker may cease his whine and give the authorities a chance. Any delay was the result of previous inability to acquire enforceable recommendations in figures issued on City Solicitor's figures as preliminary bylaws and provincial assessor's report is daily on the war-path. Money is being paid out and stacks are being torn down and refuse and stable garbage are being burned. There remains much to be done, and strenuous efforts will be made to have it done.

The camp has been comparatively quiet during the past week but there are daily visitors coming in, whose presence in any one of the largest cities of the United States would attract much attention and considerable newspaper comment. Here is a fact that Canadian newspapers cannot enlarge on too much, viz., that mining experts of world-wide fame come here every week, to make reports on the same for men of a recognized financial standing such as few, if any, home-made magnates enjoy.

An Arm-Chair Critic.

Local indignation has been thoroughly aroused by the reported interview of Major Leckie of Sudbury and his "Notes of Warning," sounded in the Montreal Herald of the 21st inst. The major is regarded here as an arm-chair mining expert, and it is not forborne by the men who have come here from the Sudbury District, that a few years ago he was singing a similar doleful song regarding the nickel deposits of that section of New Ontario. When the possession of the property had come into the possession of the company, who have demonstrated to the admiration of the entire world that at Copper Cliff there is sufficient nickel for the entire world, the major's dismal warnings ceased.

The statement that "even in the Lake Huron shaft, the vein of nickel is only 30 feet deep," is absolutely incorrect. So, too, the statement that the vein of nickel is only 30 feet deep, as he calls it, at the same mine is only 30 feet deep, the owners of this celebrated mine seek no publicity. Their personal inclination would lead them to refuse admission to newspaper men, but out of courtesy their superintendent either shows press representatives around, or sends one of his associated partners to do so. The World next week will contain a description of a visit to this mine and in the meantime World readers can be positively assured that the greatest mineral wealth of this district has been attested by many of the most eminent experts of this continent. Only last week the Messrs. Partners of Denver, Col., were here looking for property which they learned with regret could not be bought.

Veins are being worked here, that, even if they pinched out, would be followed for a depth of 500 feet, so assured would the owners be that the values would be reached again at a lower depth.

Cobaltites are also indignant advertisements that have appeared of a North Cobalt land site, but it was caused solely by a company appropriating the designation of "North Cobalt." The gentlemen behind the company are said to be men of high standing in Toronto financial circles. They have acquired 640 acres in the Township of Buckle, running in a level strip from Argente to Lake Temiskaming. They bought from Messrs. Paul Cobbold, John McLellan and one Broux, and the intention is to lay out a townsite and build up a town, because that their town will in time be a deadly rival to the towns of Haliburton and Cobalt, and be a feeder for the Kerr Lake and Red Rock mining area.

Argentite is two and a half miles distant from Cobalt, and it is here that the proposed townsite begins, but in its entirety the 640 acres are nearer Haliburton than Cobalt. Why not

South Haliburton. Instead of North Cobalt say the Cobaltites?

Wise or Fool.

Major Leckie says that "Cobalt's fabulous wealth is a myth," that the people who go there with money will lose it." Possibly many will, but his wailing cry will be no deterrent to hundreds of thousands coming in. It is a time-worn axiom that money is lost in seeking wealth out of the mine, but the part of the universe, it is equally true that colossal fortunes are made in mining ventures and men who come into a mining camp have to take their chances. Three years ago the shares of the Canadian Bay Mining Co. were being peddled on the street for a few cents each; now they are quoted on mining exchange. It does not follow that because they were sold for 10 cents will prove a revelation, but men are here to take a chance.

Horace M. Wilson is a phenomenon, inasmuch as he views with unobscured appearance of silver in the veins he is working on the 40 ac. J. B. 33. known as "The Edison," because it is owned by the famous "wizard" with whom Mr. Wilson has been closely associated for many years. Mr. Wilson is a Bostonian, and has been working under Mr. Edison's direction for four years on the "storage battery," making tests on automobiles. The intention of these tests was to make the storage battery as near "fool-proof" as human ingenuity could possibly do. Mr. Wilson came up here last year, and in September bought a claim in the Temiskaming reserve, about six miles up the Montreal River from Latchford. The property is two miles in the bush, and here he has 15 men working at the shaft. One is at a depth of 35 feet and the other at 20 feet. In the former shaft they have a 22-inch vein of calcite, following the wall plumb and running straight down into the earth. The calcite is associated with ore and is regarded as a sure indication. So far it carries large quantities of ore in pockets. They are bringing in a motor dory 30 feet in length and having a beam of five feet eight inches, built by the Atlantic Co. of Boston, which will be used by Mr. Wilson to come and go from the camp. Mr. Edison will spend part of the summer here.

HOW THE MINT WAS SAVED REAL COURAGE WAS SHOWN

Only the Pluck of Employes and Soldiers Staved off Sheets of Flames.

Sau Francisco, April 26.—A landmark that escaped destruction, the every building surrounding it was destroyed, is the United States mint at 314 and Mission-street. This splendid granite building was erected by the government in 1874. Nearly $200,000 in coin and bullion was stored in the vaults of the mint, and for the preservation of the mint, a devoted band of employes, reinforced by the regular soldiers, fought until they muffed the flames. For seven hours a sea of fire surged round the mint, and its little garrison was cut off from relief for hours at a time. After the fire had swept past the Mission-street side and the certainty of its returning from the north became apparent, the captain of the watch ordered everything on the roof that would burn thrown into the yard. Soldiers and employes worked with utmost haste, and tank staves into the court. Here are located some 30 tanks of blue vitriol, the surfaces of which were soon covered with debris into which increasing showers of cinders fell.

Fortunately, the mint possesses a good well, and Engineer Brady at his post pumped water to the fire fighters assembled on the roof. Of these, 40 were mint employes, and they were aided by a company of coast artillery.

Sheets of fire, 200 feet high, licked up the intervening houses on Mint-avenue. Augmented by these tinderboxes the fire burnt fiercely on the northwest corner of the mint.

A few desperate fighters under Chief Kennedy of Oakland, were driven from between the tottering chimneys, where the determined men had been throwing buckets of water upon the burning roof over the refinery. It is largely due to the experience of Kennedy that the tar-covered roof, the weakest spot of all, was saturated with sufficient water to stay the flames.

When the fire leaped Mint-avenue in solid masses of flames the refinery men stuck to their windows, as long as the glass remained in the frames.

Seventy-five feet of an inch hose played a slender stream upon the blazing window sill, while the floor was washed with diluted sulphuric acid. Ankle deep in this, the soldiers and employes stuck to the floor until the windows were shattered and the inner walls began to burn. Blinding and suffocating smoke necessitated the abandonment of the floor below down in the treasury vaults, where untold wealth is so well safeguarded. Artillery men, ringed with blanket rolls and leaning on their rifles, coughed in the strangling smoke. Then came a lull, the walls of brick building across the street had fallen in. There was yet a fighting chance, so back to the upper stories the fire fighters returned, led by Supt. Leach, who, by example and words, encouraged his men to extinguish a blazing inner woodwork of the refinery.

The roof next was swept by a hose, cooling the copper sheathed surface until it became passable for wet acid soaked feet. An army officer, ax in hand, tore up sections of blazing roof beneath which a stream of water was directed. At length as dawn grew near the mint was pronounced out of danger, and the handful of exhausted, but exultant employes stumbled out on the hot cobblestones to learn the fate of some of their homes.

THE COBALT OPPORTUNITY.

It is a good thing to get in at the head of the procession, not come in at the tail end or be left out altogether. The opportunity is open to all men; the successful man is the man who recognizes an opportunity and grasps it before it gets by. Cobalt offers not only the opportunity of a generation, but a century. Those who have the enterprise to seize a portion of the enormous wealth which will be his only reward, claim in the Temiskaming reserve, about six miles up the Montreal River from Latchford. The property is two miles in the bush, and here he has 15 men working at the shaft. One is at a depth of 35 feet and the other at 20 feet. In the former shaft they have a 22-inch vein of calcite, following the wall plumb and running straight down into the earth. The calcite is associated with ore and is regarded as a sure indication. Cairo, Egypt, April 26.—A battery of the Royal Horse Artillery and three companies of the Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers now forming part of the British contingent of the international forces in the island of Crete, have been ordered here to reinforce the British garrison in Egypt. The first battalion of the Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers is expected here shortly from Belfast, Ireland.

Deemed Advisable.
London, April 26.—Foreign Secretary Grey, replying to a question in the house of commons to-day, said that the British garrison in Egypt was being strengthened at the suggestion of Lord Cromer, the British agent there, who considered the step to be desirable in view of the unrest created by the action of the Turkish government in connection with the Tabah boundary incident.

The report that orders had been received at Aldershot for the mobilization of the first division of General French's army corps in view of serious developments in South Africa of elsewhere, is unfounded. No troops have been ordered to prepare for foreign service in the near future.

TWO SENTRIES FOUND SHOT Mysterious Tragedies at Fort Hamilton—Suicide or Assassination?

New York, April 26.—When the relief guard marched to post 8 in the Fort Hamilton reservation yesterday to relieve Private Alfred Cargswell of the Coast Artillery, doing sentry duty, it found the soldier dead, a bullet wound in his head and his arms on the ground beside him. On the morning of April 22, when the relief marched to the same post at the same time to relieve Private Julius Von Glahn, it found Von Glahn dead, a bullet wound through his head.

The post runs along the bluff overlooking Gravesend Bay and the tour of duty during which both tragedies took place begins at midnight and ends at 8 in the morning. It is one of the loneliest posts patrolled at night.

Cargswell was married and no one could find a reason for him wanting to kill himself. A chamber of his revolver was empty. In the case of Von Glahn there was found an exploded cartridge in his Krag-Jorgensen. Suggestions are made that both had been picked off by some distant enemy and fired their weapons in defence and had not turned them on themselves.

PRINCIPAL NOT APPOINTED.

Subject Deferred Until June—Entrance Exams at De La Salle.

The appointment of a principal to Jarvis-street Collegiate Institute is still hanging fire. The matter was up before the management committee of the board of education yesterday, and after much discussion it was decided that the matter could be better dealt with in June.

On the plea of Trustee Boland, it was decided to hold entrance examinations in De La Salle Institute in addition to the three collegiate institutes and technical school.

The legislature will be asked to allow a fee of $1 each to be imposed on entrance candidates.

Mr. Smith, assistant master of Dufferin School, was appointed to the staff of entrance examiners.

The secretary was instructed to write the city clerk to the effect that it was true that a number of city pupils were attending the Junction High School, but at their own desire, as accommodations could be provided for them in the city schools.

Saturday, May 26, was set aside as the day for the annual school games.

TWO POINTS HE DISLIKES ROSS ON EDUCATION BILL

Dr. Pyne's Bill to Reorganize Department Goes Thru Committee Stage.

The legislature yesterday dealt with Dr. Pyne's bill relating to the education department, the whole bill going thru with very little criticism. Mr. Ross' principle objections being to the constitution of the consultative council, and to the appointment of a superintendent of education. He did not, however, carry these objections to the point of moving against the clause.

In taking up Dr. Pyne's education department bill in committee, Mr. Ross renewed his criticisms of the appointment of a superintendent of education. He claimed that it was the duty of the minister of education to look after the public and high schools. The work had been successfully done without such an officer since 1876. It was another instance of a minister shifting personal responsibility on someone else. Confusion would be created and no good purpose served.

Dr. Pyne, in replying, said there had been a great state of unrest in education matters. President London of Toronto University had said the system was disintegrated and the late Principal Grant had stated that a disorganization had taken the place of organization. Dr. Pyne referred to young lads having been brought out from Britain to become bank clerks

In argument that education in Ontario was defective.

"Smart young fellows won't take positions in a bank at the salaries offered," interjected Mr. Graham. Dr. Pyne's retort was that the 260 offered was a good salary for a boy of 16. Canadian boys hadn't had the chance to get the job.

"Perhaps I may be allowed to but, in," said the premier, colloquially. Mr. Whitney's opinion was that any boy who wanted to get into a bank, but disdained the salary offered for the first year wasn't desirable in a bank or elsewhere, and here the point was dropped.

Mr. Harcourt undertook to combat the idea that disquietude and unrest in education was a bad sign. Rather, he took it as a healthy indication of interest and desire for advancement. As to the remarks of President London, Mr. Harcourt asserted that there were 100 men in the province who knew more about educating institutions than he did. The speaker quoted Mr. London, however, as having said the province's educational institutions were in their entirety, something to be proud of. The education given Canadian children was better on the average than in Great Britain, Europe and the United States.

The premier said that assuming the system was good, the time must come for a change. The duties of a deputy minister and a superintendent were as wide apart as the poles. The latter would be an expert saturated with all possible knowledge of the educational system. He would be able to suggest where defects were and the means by which remedies could be applied. Mr. Whitney made effective allusion to the endorsement given the two bills by the "700 collected and chosen experts" who met at the educational convention last week.

Mr. Graham, renewing his attack on the remarks of Dr. Pyne as to the ineffectuality of Canadian youths for vigor that a reflection was being cast upon them. Canadian boys could go to New York and secure good positions. Touching on the matter of a superintendent, Mr. Graham argued that if an appointment was made, it should not be high school inspector, but a man familiar with public schools.

THE ADVISORY COUNCIL.
At the evening session the bill was taken up clause by clause. Dr. Currie favored giving the medical profession representation on the advisory board, and he thought also the physical development side should be considered. Dr. Pyne said the bill was not a finality in this respect, and the premier concurred in the suggestion of Dr. Currie. It would also be considered whether it might not be well to give the trustee section of the Education Association representation, but this body would not meet again till next year. Mr. Ross objected to the provision that the president of the university be the head of the advisory council. He had seen that there might be a new president, but whether the old or the new did not alter his opinion that the council was capable of electing its own president.

Premier's Open Mind.
Mr. Whitney had an open mind on the subject—in a receptive mood. He was not wedded to the idea that the president of the university be president of the council. There was some desultory discussion as the bill progressed. Mr. Whitney said the Public Schools Act would be taken up to-day.

JORDAN FRUIT FARM.
Mr. Rittenhouse Offers Additional Area at Tempting Figure.
In addition to the 50 acres offered by M. T. Rittenhouse of Chicago to the province for an experimental fruit station at Jordan, negotiations are proceeding with a view to taking in 88 acres on the opposite side of the road. If the province desires the increased area, Mr. Rittenhouse has an option on this land at $100 an acre from Mr. Culp of Jordan, and will turn over his option to the province for $100 an acre. The government will consider.

Biggest Board of Trade DOUBLES SINCE JAN. 1

Nearly 500 New Members Yesterday—Resolution for Control of Streets.

The Toronto Board of Trade has now a membership of 1285. Yesterday 478 new members were admitted. The membership is now 382 in excess of any previous record. The following resolution, which was adopted by the council yesterday, speaks for itself:

"Whereas the membership of this board having been increased from 623 (at the end of 1905) to 1282, thereby giving the organization a handsome income, making it in numbers the largest trade board existing in any city in Canada, thus increasing its power for good, and the weight of its opinion;

"And whereas the results specified have been largely owing to the enthusiasm and untiring efforts of the chairman of the membership committee, J. W. Woods, to the members of the board and to the secretary, F. G. Morley;

"Be it therefore resolved that the thanks of this council are due and are hereby tendered to J. W. Woods, to the membership committee, to F. G. Morley, and to the other members of the board that have contributed to this satisfactory result, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to each member of the board."

The following resolution, re placing poles and wires on streets and boulevards, also passed:

"Whereas the overhead wires of telegraph, telephone and other companies are a serious menace to life, increasing by many thousands of dollars the cost of insurance to business in the City of Toronto, interfering very greatly with the proper working of the fire department in the congested districts;
