UNFAIR, ILLEGAL

This is Commissioner Coombs' Opinion of That

MONTREAL CASE

Head of Salvation Army in Canada Says They Will Appeal from Decision of French-Canadian Judge—Colonization Work and Other Army Plans.

Unfair, unconstitutional and against the law in our opinion, was the answer of Commissioner Coombs, the Canadian head of the Salvation Army, when asked this morning with reference to the judge's decision in the case brought against a French Roman Catholic for breaking up an army meeting, recently, in one of the suburbs of Montreal. The commissioner also stated that the case would be carried to the court of appeal and allowed to stand in the meantime, without any appeal being made. He was simply worshiping at the altar of the law, he declared. He stated that the case would be carried to the court of appeal and allowed to stand in the meantime, without any appeal being made. THE RIVER BOSS.

(Continued.) About now Daly began to worry. He took the train to Grand Rapids, anxiety written deep in his brows. When he saw the little inadequate crew pecking in a futile fashion at the logs winged out over the shallows, he swore ferociously and sought Jimmy.

the level of the dam a good three feet, emerged dripping from the west-side canal, and cheerfully took their way northward to where, in the chilly dawn, their companions were sleeping the sleep of the just. As they passed the rifles they paused. A heavy grumbling issued from the logs jammed there, a grumbling brutish and sullen, as though the reluctant animals were beginning to stir. The water had already backed up from the raised dam.

Of course the affair, from a river-dweller's standpoint, at once became exceedingly simple. The lumbering fifteen were aroused to astounding drowsiness. By three, just as the dawn was beginning to differentiate the east from the west, the regular clank, clink of the peavies proclaimed that due advantage of the high water was being seized. From then until six was a matter of three hours more. A great deal can be accomplished in three hours with flood-water. The last little jam "pulled" just about the time the first citizen of the west side discovered that his cellar was full of water. When that startled freeman opened the front door to see what was up, he uttered a tremendous ejaculation; and so, shortly, came to the construction of a raft.

Well, the papers got up an extra edition with scare-heads about "Outrages" and "High-handed Lawlessness!" and factory owners by the canal raised up their voices in bitterness over flooded fire-rooms; and property owners of perishable cellar goods howled about damage suits; and the ordinary citizen took to bailing out the hollow places of his domain. Toward nine o'clock after the first excitement had died, and the flash-boards had been indignantly yanked from their illegal places, a squadron of police went out to hunt up the malefactor. The latter they discovered on a boom pile directing the sluicing. From this position he declined to stir. One fat policeman ventured a toppling yard or so on the floating timber, threw his hands aloft in loss of equilibrium, and with a mighty effort regained the shore, where he sat down, panting. To the appeals of the squad to come and be arrested, Jimmy paid not the slightest heed. He puffed periodically on his "meerschaum" and directed the sluicing. Through the twenty-foot gate about a million feet an hour passed. This it happened that a little after noon Jimmy came peacefully ashore and gave himself up.

"You won't have no more trouble here, he observed to McGinn, his lieutenant, watching reflectively the last log shoot through the gate. "Just tie the right into her and keep her hauling." Then he reddened his pipe, lit it, and approached the expected squad. At the station house he was interviewed by reporters. That is, they asked questions. To only one of them did they elicit a reply. "Didn't you know you were breaking the law?" inquired the Eagle man. "Didn't you know you'd be arrested?" "Sure!" replied Jimmy, with obvious contempt. The next morning the court-room was crowded. Jimmy pleaded guilty, and was fined five hundred dollars or ninety days in jail. To the surprise of everybody he fished out a tremendous roll and paid the fine. The spectators considered it remarkable that a river-boss should carry such an amount. They had not been present at the interview between Jimmy and his principal the night before. The latter stood near the door as the lit's man came out. "Jimmy," said Mr. Daly, distinctly, so that everyone could hear, "I am extremely sorry to see you in this trouble, but perhaps it may prove a lesson to you. Next time you must understand that you are not supposed to exceed your instructions."

Thus did the wily Daly publicly disclaim his liability. "Yes, sir," said Jimmy, meekly. "Did you get the logs in time, Mr. Daly?" They looked at each other steadily. Then, for the first and only time, the black and white mask of Jimmy's inscrutability melted away. In his left eye appeared a faint glimmer. The left eyelid slowly descended. (THE END.)

In the World of Labor.

The American Society of Equity, a farmers' union organization, will meet a national convention in Indianapolis, October 23. The Society now proposes to seek affiliation with the American Federation of Labor. Plumbers are striking in Hartford (Conn.) and Springfield (Mass.). The new Pennsylvania Child Labor Law, forbidding boys under fourteen to work at the breaker, and boys under sixteen to work in the anthracite mines, went into effect recently, and when it is fully in force is estimated 12,000 boys will have quit work and been turned into the schools of the region. Sixty thousand women and children work in the match factories of Kobe, Japan.

The attempt to commit the British Trade Unions to compulsory arbitration was again defeated by the recent Trade Union Congress. The proposition was defeated by a majority of 90,000 votes. Last year the majority against compulsory arbitration was 486,000 in a total vote slightly smaller than that recorded in the present instance. Trainmen on the New Haven railway have been notified that whenever they feel they have a grievance they will be entitled to a hearing before the executive officers through any of their fellow trainmen they may select to represent them for that purpose. One of the principal points of dispute in recent strikes among the French iron workers is the abolition of the present antiquated deferred payment system which prevails in regard to their wages. One hundred thousand clothing workers in the United States and Canada have a referendum on the question of amalgamation. Telegraph operators on the Great Northern Railway who did not join in the recent strike received pay checks for September representing just twice the usual amount. Six thousand workers in the underwear trade of Berlin have struck. A report of the British Board of Trade on strikes and lockouts in the United Kingdom in the year 1904 has just been published. It shows that 354 labor disputes were recorded during the year, involving about 87,000 work people, or less than one per cent of the industrial population of the country, exclusive of agricultural laborers and seamen. Alabama coal miners are still on strike. Justice Smith, of the Illinois Appellate Court, in an opinion handed down at Chicago, Franklin Union, No. 4, fined three members of that organization $100 each and sentenced them to thirty days' imprisonment for violation of an injunction secured by the Chicago Typographers. A convention of mine workers of the three anthracite districts will be held in Shamokin, Pa., on December 14, when demands will be formulated to be presented to the coal companies next spring. The American Federation of Labor has indorsed the appeal of the Shirt Waist and Laundry Workers' Union for financial assistance in aid of the strikers on strike at Troy, N. Y. Some of the Fall River, Mass., cotton mill operatives have received an advance of 12 1/2 per cent wages. A state branch of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen's Union was organized in Syracuse, New York, recently. Mexican Central Railway firemen are on strike. An "Open Shop" Electrical Contractors' Association of Boston and vicinity has been formed. 3,000 miners struck recently at one of the White-Barre, Pa., coal mines. 8,000 Havana cigar makers are on strike. The railway employes of Rome, Italy, have inaugurated a novel strike. They have decided not to leave work, but to pursue a policy of obstruction. This has been a comparatively prosperous one in trade and business. St. Petersburg printers are again striking. The proposed Union Labor Bank in Chicago was given up at a meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor recently. The semi-annual meeting of the Administrative Council of the National Metal Trades Association was held in Cincinnati recently. The most important proposition under discussion was the merger of the National Foundrymen's Association into the National Metal Trades Association. Telegraph operators on the Great Northern Railway who did not join in the recent strike received pay checks for September representing just twice the usual amount. "What Are Piles?" You May Ask AND WHY ARE THEY ALWAYS RELIEVED AND CURED BY THE USE OF

Dr. Chase's Ointment

The itching, burning sensations of piles or hemorrhoids, the feelings of uneasiness and discomfort, and the loss of blood, are familiar to many who may not know the name or nature of their ailment. Piles are small tumors, which form at the opening of the rectum, and are described as itching, bleeding or protruding, according to the symptom that is most prominent. The cause of greatest suffering is the intense itching, while the greatest danger arises from loss of blood. You can scarcely imagine one in greater misery than the victim of a severe case of piles. By reason of its remarkably soothing effect Dr. Chase's Ointment brings almost instant relief from the dreadful itching. It heals the ulcers, stops the loss of blood, and makes a thorough cure of this obstinate and loathsome disease. Mr. John W. Malrod, carpenter, Tarrytown, N. S., writes: "I was so bad with protruding piles that I was confined to my bed unable to move without the greatest pain and obliged to lie on my face. As the trouble affected my whole system, I was soon brought to realize the seriousness of my condition and thought no person ever suffered as I did. The doctor pronounced my ailment probably curable, and gave me an ointment, which did me no good, not even affording temporary relief. I then went to a specialist, who gave me a different kind of ointment, but it did me no more good than so much soap. "A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and the first application brought relief. By the use of one box I was completely cured and have not had a trace of the old trouble since. I was exposed to all sorts of bad weather last fall and spent the winter in the woods as foreman for the Victoria Gypsum Co., and have had no indications of piles." Do not make the mistake of dropping the treatment as soon as the itching stops. Make the cure lasting by permanent use. Dr. Chase's Ointment, 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Labor is plentiful in Natal, South Africa, and persons are advised not to go to that country on the chance of getting work. A bill which has been introduced into the Victorian, Australia, Legislature, provides that no order shall be made by any court, judge or justice for the attachment of the wages of any clerk, servant, laborer or workman, whose pay does not exceed $1 per week. A. D. Walter, who sued John Mitchell for $200 for alleged services in settling an anthracite strike of 1902, has outlined a plan in an amended bill, which form is intended to procure drastic legislation in New York, Pennsylvania and in Congress to give the trusts to cover. The Los Angeles Central Labor Council has succeeded in securing the enforcement of the eight-hour day on city contract work. In 1904, the hours of labor of about 4,000 work people in British government factories and workshops were reduced to an average of 40 1/2 per week.

FATAL EXPLOSION

Sydney, N. S., Oct. 29.—(Special)—The government steamer Tyrann, Captain O'Leary, arrived in port at 10 o'clock last night with the news of a fatal explosion which cost two lives that occurred on board the steamer while off Cape North, early yesterday morning. The Tyrann left North Sydney late Friday night to complete repairs to the Magdalen Islands cable. Matters proceeded satisfactorily until about 7 o'clock Saturday morning, when a plug in one of the boiler tubes blew out, filling the engine and boiler rooms with steam and gas. Fireman Patrick Purcell and Trimmer Patrick McGrath were engaged in cleaning out the fire at the time of the blow-out, and before escaping to the deck were hopelessly scalded. Upon examination their condition was found to be critical, and all was done for the unfortunate sufferers that could be done, with the limited medical facilities at hand. After conferring about seven hours in making temporary repairs to the boiler, Captain O'Leary decided the steamer for Sydney at full speed, the object being to secure the best medical assistance for the injured men. Purcell succumbed while the steamer was coming into dock, and McGrath died at 10.30 this morning, medical assistance being of no avail. Patrick Purcell was aged fifty years, and Patrick McGrath forty years. Both are Halifax men, and the bodies will be forwarded to their homes tomorrow. Purcell is a widower and McGrath unmarried. The Tyrann will make permanent repairs to her boiler before leaving port.

Identified by Her Mother Through the Rings Found on Her Fingers--Morris Nathan, Her Lover, Held on Charge of Murder--Possible Solution of Winthrop Mystery.

Boston, Oct. 29-The dress suit case mystery and the disappearance on September 10 last of Miss Susan Geary, of Cambridge, a member of the Shubert King theatrical company, where she was known as Ethel Durrall, was partially cleared today by identification of the victim's rings.

One of the most interesting and for all practical purposes the most important cases of the past few years has been that of Miss Geary, who disappeared on September 10 last from her room at the Hotel Winthrop, Cambridge, Mass.

Miss Geary dropped out of sight after that and so far as the police are concerned she has been missing ever since. She was last seen on the night of September 10, when she was seen at the Hotel Winthrop, Cambridge, Mass.

At an interview at Pittsburg, Mrs. Nathan stated that she had been in communication with her daughter, Miss Geary, during the last few days of her life.

IS IT REVOLUTION?

Almost anything except a return to former conditions in Russia may be conjectured as a possible result of the present situation in that country.

But the people are no longer held in the grip of a powerless despair. They have raised their heads and looked about them.

The opportunity has again come to the czar. It is not as great as that of nine months ago, for the faith of the people in their ruler has been weakened, and their confidence in themselves vastly increased.

This is not a time for inaction. The people in the cities must soon feel the pinch of famine. With railway traffic paralyzed and industries idle there can be no other result.

able from without, and flourishing within her borders in the light of right and truth.

But how much has transpired in these nine months. Then the czar was said to be under the influence of Grand Duke Sergius, the most reactionary of the bureaucracy.

Touching the recent disclosures in New York the Montreal Witness observes:— "The true remedy lies in the stern, uncompromising administration of justice."

Today's despatches from Russia show that the situation is growing worse. There has been much bloodshed in Odessa, the strikes are spreading in other cities, and the outlook grows hourly more ominous.

PRINCE LOUIS REVISES SPEECH

His Highness of Battenberg Further Explains His Speech at Mayor's Luncheon—Pleased With His Reception.

Prince Louis of Battenberg passed through the city Saturday evening from St. Andrews to Halifax. In talking with newspaper men at the Union Depot, he expressed his pleasure at the reception accorded him in St. John, Fredericton and St. Andrews. In discussing his speech at Mayor White's luncheon, Prince Louis corrected the reports in the local press. In saying that the essence of strategy was concentration of effort should have been added that faulty strategic dispositions consist in detaching from the main body permanently its weaker units in special and exposed positions. "I do not wish," said Prince Louis, "to be misunderstood as to the value of a naval base. It is quite obvious that a fleet requires properly equipped dockyards containing the necessary stores and a great variety of stores of all kinds, including spare guns and everything which will keep fighting ships effective for war, and of course such a naval base must be suitably protected by gun defences, mines and submarine boats. When I referred to naval bases I meant the smaller auxiliary ones. It is a common error to think that the mere multiplication of such minor naval bases materially adds to the naval strength of a country. To be of use they must be placed geographically where they are likely to be of use. "It is customary to give any naval base gun protection in proportion to its importance, and the consequent nature of probable attack. One frequently hears the expression that a certain naval base commands a certain area of sea. As a matter of fact it does nothing of the sort. All it can do is to fire at any hostile ship which may come within range of its guns. "It can no more have any effect beyond this very limited area than a watch-dog, tethered in one corner of a garden, can be said to protect the whole ground. Obviously, all the dog can do is to bite any one who gets within range of his chain. The only thing which can command a given area of sea is a superior fleet, operating from a suitably placed naval base. If the base which has been permanently established at great cost is too far from the theatre of operations the admiral, like Admiral Togo, must establish a flying base elsewhere. "As regards Halifax, one of the reasons why it was so expensive was that during the winter half of the year the ships on the station cruised in the south and consequently had no use for it." When the prince was passing through Fredericton, Hon. F. J. Swyer, surveyor general, presented a handsome moose head to his highness as the gift of the provincial government. Prince Louis spent a pleasant day at St. Andrews Saturday as the guest of Sir William Van Horne.

The local Oddfellows have received a communication from the brothers of the late J. E. Lacey, of Glengarden (N. J.), who died in this city on Friday last, asking them to assume charge of the body until he arrives in this city to make arrangements for the funeral.

"Aren't you drinking a little more than usual?" "My wife has a girl in the head and can't smell a thing."—Chicago Post.

TO THE MEMORY OF HEROES

Unveiling of Tablet in Trinity Church Was Impressive Occasion—Parade a Large One and 10,000 People Saw It.

The tablet to the memory of two St. John men who fell in defense of the Empire during the South African war, was unveiled in Trinity church yesterday afternoon. The services attending the ceremony were simple, but the presence of the detachments from the warships, the city militia, South African Veterans' Association and the cadet corps added greatly to the impressiveness of the occasion. The memorial is of brass and marble, and is on the north wall of the church. It is inscribed as follows: South Africa 1899-1900. Canada. In Loving Memory of Corp. Frederick Withers, Pte. Joseph Johnson, Of the First Canadian Contingent. Killed at Paardeberg. In the Service of Their Country. This Tablet is Placed Here By Their Command.

Corp. Withers belonged to the 2d B. C. A. The Johnson was in the 2nd Fusiliers. The parade was one of the largest held in this city since the South African war, and the presence of the sailors and marines lent an unusual interest to the occasion. The streets from the barracks square to the church were thronged, fully 10,000 people lined the route, and the marching and appearance of the different units aroused flattering comment. The veterans, who numbered about sixty, were commanded by Capt. F. C. Jones, R. C. A., and wore their campaign uniform. The parade, which was under command of Col. G. R. White, D. O. C., was formed up as follows: The D. O. C. Military District No. 8 and staff, comprising Lieut-Col. McLean, commanding brigade; Lieut-Col. A. J. Armstrong, R. O.; Lieut-Col. Sturdee, R. O.; Lieut-Col. Mackham, retired; Capt. Armstrong, acting D. S. A. Detachment H. M. S. Cornwall, Detachment H. M. S. Berwick, Detachment 8th Hussars. 3rd Regt. Canadian Artillery, Col. W. W. White commanding. Cadet companies, Garrison Artillery, The South African Veterans, 62nd Regt. St. John Fusiliers, Col. M. B. Edwards in command. Ordnance Corps, No. 7 Company C. A. S. C., Capt. Gross. No. 8 Beavers' Company, A. M. C., Major MacLaren.

They were fifty sailors and fifty marines from each ship, under the following officers: Capt. Napier, Capt. Bridges and Lieut. Gillespie, of the Royal Marine Light Infantry; Lieut. Briggs, Lieut. Binney and Lieut. Colgan, of the Royal Navy; Capt. Robertson, C. M. G., of the Cornwall; and Capt. Darr, M. V. O., of the Berwick, occupied seats in the church.

The South African soldiers had placed near the memorial. As the parade entered the hall played Safe in the Arms of Jesus, and the processional hymn was "Onward Christian Soldiers." On conclusion of the hymn soldiers of Christ, Arise, and Put Your Armor On.

Important Local Life Insurance Investigation. The Sun Life Assurance Co. OF CANADA

Requests the Public to inspect its list of fifteen and twenty year dividend policies which have matured in the New Brunswick agency during 1905. The profits paid on these policies exceeded promises made when policies were issued. These results are splendid examples of what is being daily accomplished throughout Canada by this prudently managed and prosperous Company.

The Sun Life of Canada commenced business in 1871, and its Reserve Fund is largely in excess of the amount required by Government standard. The Company also issues Very Attractive Guaranteed Dividend and Annual Dividend Policies.

MAN'S FORGETFULNESS SHEFFIELD

MAN'S FORGETFULNESS SHEFFIELD. A minister's wife, a doctor's wife and a traveling man's wife met at a social gathering recently, and the conversation turned on the forgetfulness of husbands. "I think," said the minister's wife, "that my husband is the most forgetful man living. He will go to church sometimes and forget his notes, and no one can tell what he is preaching about." "That is nothing in comparison to my husband," said the doctor's wife, "for he will often travel miles into the country to see a patient and forget his medicine case." "Neither of your husbands can hold a candle to mine," said the traveling man's wife, "for when he returned from a trip last week he parted me on the cheek and said: 'I believe I have seen you before; what is your name?'"
