A MUTILATED BODY FOUND IN I. C. R. TRACK

Considerable Mystery Shrouds Death of Tramp Whose Mangled Body Was Found on the I. C. R. Track Near Bathurst Yesterday.

MONCTON, July 15 (Special)—The horribly mutilated body of a tramp umbrella member was found on the railway track a short distance this side of Bathurst yesterday morning, the unfortunate man having evidently been run over and killed by the I. C. R. train some time Saturday night. The man's name was Shortell and he is said to have hailed from Halifax. He was travelling with a companion who was also playing the trade of an umbrella member. The two had many belongings, a small station side of Bathurst, Saturday night and laid down in the station house to spend the night. When his companion awoke he found Shortell missing and later his dead and mangled body was found on the track a short distance away. The head and arms were severed from the body. Whether Shortell had boarded the passing train and had fallen off or was walking on the track when killed is not known. It is thought he was killed by Deke's west bound special. Both Shortell and his companion were in Moncton a week or so ago, and went north from here. An inquest will be held at Bathurst today.

STONEING THE BIRDS

The Times new reporter had a somewhat unusual and interesting interview this morning with a solemn-eyed little boy who perched on the corner of his desk and asked questions. "Was you ever a little boy?" asked he of the solemn eyes. "A long time ago," smiled the new reporter. "Then you know how a little boy feels," said the visitor. "I know how one little boy felt," corrected the new reporter. "Well, we're all pretty much alike in some ways, I guess," remarked the solemn eyes. "Did you have a place to play?" "Did I?" The new reporter gazed out of the window on the dry street before replying. "Yes—I had. I could run in the garden, climb in the brook, dig in the garden, climb the trees, wander in the woods,

BUSY HARTLAND SWEEP BY FIRE THIS MORNING; LOSS REACHES $150,000

Fire Started in Tracy Block and Swept Western Side of Main Street—Fourteen Buildings Burned, 20 Firms Temporarily Out of Business, 13 Families Homeless and $150,000 Damage Done—Worst Fire in History of Hartland.

WOODSTOCK, July 15 (Special)—A disastrous fire is raging in Hartland this morning. At 4.30 in response to a message, the Woodstock firemen went up by train. The telephone exchange evidently is burned as no word can be gotten over the telephone. The Exchange Hotel and Keith and Plummer's blocks have been consumed. The fire started at Watson's furniture store and burned to the bridge, consuming ten buildings. At noon the fire was under control.

HARTLAND, N. B., July 15 (Special)—This is Black Monday in Hartland. The fire which this morning wiped out the greater portion of the business section of this village, was the worst ever known here. Fourteen business blocks and buildings were destroyed, 20 firms temporarily out of business, 13 families rendered homeless and a property loss of $150,000 piled up.

The fire was discovered at 12.45 a. m., when an alarm was sent in for a fire in the basement of the Tracy block on Main street. When the firemen arrived the whole lower part of the building was ablaze and the ensuing conflagration was stayed in its course only after it had swept the whole western side of Main street from C. C. Watson's to the bridge.

The Buildings Burned The following list gives the number of buildings burned, their owners, and tenants and approximate loss. The Tracy block, two stories and basement owned by Mrs. A. A. Tracy and occupied by the Hartland Drug Company, druggists; Thomas Letson, harness maker; M. L. Haywood, law office and library and D. C. Cox, residence. Loss estimated at $7,000.

Large two-story building owned by J. T. G. Carr and occupied in part by himself as a storage warehouse and by Hagerman & Baird, farming machinery. Loss $5,000, insurance small.

Large factory building and basement on Main street, owned and occupied by Keith & Plummer as a general store.

Large factory building in rear of Main street premises also occupied by Keith & Plummer. The loss on both buildings is estimated at $50,000.

In Keith & Plummer's Main street building Amasa Plummer and Mr. Perkins lived and J. E. Jewett had his dental parlors.

The next building on Main street was also owned by Keith & Plummer and occupied by Janet McMillan as a fruit store and Ziba Orser as a residence. Loss $2,000, Miss McMillan's whole stock of fruit was saved.

Large 2 1/2 story building owned by J. D. Shaw and occupied by Dr. McIntosh as an office and residence and by Ziba Orser's hardware store. Loss $20,000, fairly well covered by insurance.

Two large buildings owned by W. S. Henderson and occupied by Horace Nixon as a general store and residence and by Mrs. Nettie Dickenson as a residence. Loss $20,000, little insurance.

Two large 3-story buildings, owned by W. T. Boyer, occupied by the Hartland Chat, newspaper, the post office, Massey Harris agency and as residences by George McLaughlin and Aaron Craig. Loss $10,000.

A 3-story building and two smaller buildings owned by H. M. Boyer and occupied by Sipprell and Miller, blacksmiths Hartland Monument works and by Mr. Boyer, manufacturer's agent. Loss, $10,000.

The toll house and the approach to the bridge caught fire and the bridge was saved with difficulty.

On the north the fire stopped at C. C. Watson's large store and residence owned by him and occupied by himself as a furniture store, undertaking rooms and residence and by G. W. Breen as a residence. They lost considerable and Mr. Breen also lost a stock of groceries stored in J. T. G. Carr's building. Mr. Breen bought the stock on Saturday and paid $1100 for it. He was about to start a business here and the loss will be particularly severe to him.

The building next above the Watson building and separated from it by a narrow alley escaped with small damage to the stock of James Montgomery, stoves and tinware and to Mrs. Nevers' stock of fancy goods. The New Brunswick Telephone Company had their central office in this building and their wires were put out of commission for some time.

Fire Well Handled Today's big fire furnished the first real test of the efficiency of the Hartland water system since its installation, thirteen years ago, and it was an exceptionally good one, as the supply was splendidly handled by a volunteer corps of fire fighters. Their efforts alone were responsible for keeping the fire from crossing the street, when the whole village might have been burned.

The blocks which were burned today were all of wood. The buildings were huddled and packed together and it was a surprise that they have not been burned before. Their demolition by fire today is only what has been expected for years.

The loss to Keith & Plummer, was particularly severe. They had the largest business house in Hartland, and one of the largest in the whole county. Mr. Keith says they will rebuild at once, and in the interim they are occupying premises in the old Matheson building.

Aid from Woodstock As soon as it became apparent that the fire was a large one an urgent call for aid was sent to Woodstock, 12 miles away, and the Woodstock Company responded. The C. P. R. furnished a train to bring the apparatus to Hartland, but when it got here the fire had been under control for four or five hours.

The Insurance As far as can be learned the insurance is as follows: John T. G. Carr—Queen, on building, $1,000; Insurance Co. of North America, $1,000. Janet McMillan—Hartford, $400. Miss Jessie Davis—Hartford, $1,000.

SPANGLER CASE IS OFF UNTIL FRIDAY

Local Osteopath Summoned to Police Court This Morning—The Case Against White Also Goes Over to Await Arrival of Witnesses.

A large crowd of curious spectators gathered in the police court this morning and the business for disposal was both varied and interesting. The arrest sheet showed the names of a dozen prisoners, but the most important case set down for hearing was that of the New Brunswick Medical Association against Dr. H. L. Spangler, osteopath, of Princess street, in which Dr. Stewart Skinner, registrar of the association for the province, complains that Dr. Spangler is practicing medicine in New Brunswick, not being a registered practitioner. C. N. Skinner appears for the association.

It was just 10.22 o'clock when Police Clerk Henderson read over the complaint to Dr. Spangler. The plaintiffs allege that in the course of his practice, defendant administered remedial treatment in his office to Elizabeth McCollough on March 14th, and had administered similar treatment to patients on subsequent occasions.

Dr. Spangler asked for a postponement in order to employ counsel. J. D. Hazen, who he desired to engage as out of the city and Dr. Spangler stated further that he did not know of this matter until late Saturday.

Mr. Hazen's office was communicated with and it was learned that Mr. Hazen was up the north shore on a vacation but he desired to engage as out of the city and Dr. Spangler stated further that he did not know of this matter until late Saturday.

Mr. Skinner replied that this was a matter of misplaced mercy.

The case against William ("Gunner") White arrested Saturday on charges of drunkenness, taking the name in vain, violently resisting the police and kicking Policeman Crawford in the face and chest was also taken up. J. B. M. Baxter appearing for the defendant.

Policeman Crawford, the first witness, told of going to the old graveyard and finding White drunk. He (witness) also stated that he gave the prisoner two chances to go home and he would not. Finally after warning him several times witness had to arrest him.

Crawford told of being attacked and kicked. He struck White with the baton which was finally taken away from him. The man was very drunk. This was Saturday night.

At this point his honor said it had come to him that drunken men could go in and be served with liquor. He didn't know whether or not it was so.

To Mr. Baxter Crawford said White had kicked him on the eye. Witness admitted holding White by the throat (to save himself from being bitten) when the doctor was sewing him up. White was resisting the men who were taking him home, on Union street. Later on he was taken in hand by two others, who left him after a time. Witness then told him representative citizens were in the procession. Interment took place at Fernhill. The funeral of the late Mrs. Meenan was held today at 2.30 p. m. from her late residence, March Road, to the Calvary, where Rev. D. O'Keefe read the funeral service. Interment was made in the new Catholic cemetery.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Hugh Morrison took place today at three o'clock from her residence at Blue Rock to Cedar Hill cemetery, where interment was made. Rev. H. R. Reid read the funeral service.

"A day then," said the new reporter, "was an eternity of happiness, compared with those days that are no sooner begun than they are ended. Happy? Well, not always. I remember I threw a stone at a little bird one day, and it fell. It was still living when I picked it up. Did you ever feel that you would give all you had to be able to go back half an hour and start again?" "Yes," said the solemn eyes—"when I struck my brother once and marked him for life." "Well," said the new reporter, "the bird died. I got a box and made a little grave for it—I was a very little boy—and I buried it. And I sat on the grassy knoll and wondered if the good God who made

THE EVENING TIMES.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 15, 1907. The St. John Evening Times is published at 21 and 23 Canterbury street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd. A company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

NEW YORK PLAYGROUNDS

There are sixty-three afternoon playgrounds in Greater New York during the holiday season this summer, all but three of them on the east side of the city. Of course these are not large, open spaces, for the simple reason that such cannot be found; but they are in most cases school rooms, sometimes small, dark and none too well ventilated, and yet a haven of delight to crowds of children. The working force consists of about five hundred teachers, kindergartners, pianists and supervisors. Last year a million and a quarter of children attended these vacation playgrounds, and this year there was such a crush at the opening that last year's record is likely to be eclipsed. Here is a description of one of the poorest of these play places, written by a reporter for the New York Evening Post:

"This is a playground for girls, and the rooms used are on the street floor, small rooms, divided by partitions that did not reach the ceiling, which made it impossible to shut off the noise of the various classes and games. There were three hundred little girls from three years of age up to ten years. The kindergarten teacher was struggling with a crowd of seventy little ones, who could not be diverted from listening to the piano in the next room, and preferring to try comic little dances and games of their own invention rather than the games and marches of the teacher. The out-of-doors playground consisted of a court about ten feet square, which boasted a swing and a sand heap, and needed the constant attention of an attendant to separate belligerent four-year-olds, each bent on having her neighbor's sand bucket or shovel.

"In the larger room eighty girls were engaged in gymnastic games and folk dances with an interested crowd of smaller children surrounding the space where the games were going on. A large portion of the girls engaged in the game were little mothers, and as they danced up and down across the room an anxious eye was kept on their babies; some of these were peacefully sleeping in their go-carts, but the greater number formed the fringe of on-lookers.

"Every few minutes one of the babies would make a dash for his own particular little mother, and 'teacher' would capture him and herd him in the centre until a figure or evolution was completed. All the babies seemed to be little boys, and very dependent ones, in spite of being grown up enough to have trousers and a little mother would hold the ranks, still keeping the dance step, and proceed to administer a spanking to an obstreperous youngster who had started a fight with some neighbor, or one that had found the drinking fountain afforded a fine chance to take a shower bath. Despite such constant and disturbing interruptions, amid the shouts of hundreds of children, in the hat room that only boasted four windows, these girls danced and marched with an eager attention to the music and commands of the teacher that was pathetic to see. No one of them smiled or laughed, but all seemed happy in the deep absorption of the play, unconscious of each other, but always a concerned watchfulness over their small charges in the background.

"And how that teacher worked! A slip of a girl, fresh from a training school, her first class, her first responsibility, this mob of little girls and babies to direct, inspire, instruct, and keep in order for four hours and a half each hot afternoon for the next eight weeks. In one of the brief pauses she confessed to her dismay: 'I have been in a training school nearly two years preparing for this work, and had practice classes of nice, obedient little girls. I have been sustained by the thought of the need of the instruction that I was trying to fit myself to give, but I never dreamed it was best by such conditions as these. I have had to invent a complicated sign language to tell the children what I wish them to do, and to communicate with the pianist. The most upsetting thing of all is the solemn way these girls play; my face becomes set in a strained grin, trying to suggest the smiles that should accompany some of the folk dances, and I nearly have hysterics over the concerned gaze the children give my efforts to make them smile. They try so hard to learn the figures, and the older girls help all they can, they are used to helping, but think what it would mean, if they could be out of doors, on the grass. I am sure they would smile then.'

time there is urgent need of a strong, active, clever head of the public works department, and when he is secured he should be given a free hand to wake up the slumbers, bring order out of chaos, and give the taxpayers the assurance that their interests in this great spending department are fully regarded.

The Halifax Herald offers five hundred dollars reward for evidence that will land the first briber in jail, in connection with this week's by-election in Hants county. In making the announcement the Herald says: 'Not so much for the man the poor devil, as he is sometimes called who wants a dollar or two for his vote. But the oily-tongued, smooth faced, black-hearted scoundrel, who stalks about with a whitened sepulchre air, seeking to buy men as he would buy cattle. That is the villain the Herald is especially after. He will be abroad in Hants county. He may be there now. There are more than one of him. The Herald does not care whether he is Conservative or Liberal. It is after him whoever he may be or for which ever party he is buying votes. We will follow him till he is exposed, and, if possible, landed in jail—the only fit place for him.'

Mr. Bourassa is an outspoken gentleman. Whether right or wrong he says what he thinks in plain language. For example, at Montserrat yesterday he said: 'I do not oppose immigration, but I do oppose paying large salaries to innumerable political hacks, as immigration agents to bring over here paupers and jailbirds to out-vote native Canadians in order to make dividends for Mr. Sifton and other politicians with a taste for speculation.' In the same speech he declared to his French-Canadian audience that Ontario people were not the narrow-minded bigots depicted by politicians, and he had this to say of England: 'England ruled the world because she respected everywhere the views of the nations which became subject to her rule. English spirit was not the spirit that prompted persecution, it respected all views, if honestly held and expressed.'

The Halifax Herald quotes from the Times the story of the little girl who was repulsed by other children on the playgrounds because her dress was not clean, and says: 'If there is in Halifax an individual so benighted as to question the necessity for supervised playgrounds, or she would do well to have a walk around our 'by-ways' and then have another 'round' the supervised playgrounds—Bloomfield street school grounds in the north end and St. Mary's school grounds and a particularly pleasant corner of Grafton Park in the south end.' The Herald acknowledges $3 in subscriptions for the Halifax playgrounds fund.

Prince Edward Islanders are coming to the front in the new western provinces. In Alberta two young ladies from the island have received certificates as teachers. In Saskatchewan, two young men from the island have been sent to jail to await trial on a charge of burglary. Now if the young men, who are homesteaders, had married the young women and stayed on the island, all might have been well.

It is decidedly discreditable to Carleton county that a judge on the bench should be compelled to say that politics had been introduced into a case involving a criminal charge. The Times on Saturday referred to the rumors of dissatisfaction in regard to the administration of justice in Albert county. It would be nothing short of calamitous if British principles of justice should come to be disregarded in New Brunswick.

The Moncton Times points out that political parties in Hants county, where a by-election takes place this week, are very evenly divided. In the last general election the vote was Dwydale, Liberal, 1834; Wilcox, Conservative, 1859; O'Brien, Conservative, 1860; McHaffey, Liberal, 1792.

The Moncton Times claims that the provincial opposition is strongly organized in the St. John river counties, and is now organizing in the north shore counties, and adds that Mr. Hazen, it is understood, will shortly visit Westmorland.

The attempt to assassinate the president of France happily failed, and there does not seem to have been any plot behind it. The would-be murderer is believed to have been deranged. Socialism is said to be making converts in the French army, but the French people have no sympathy for the assassin.

While full information is difficult to obtain, it is evident that the fire at Hartland has dealt a very severe blow to one of the most progressive communities in that part of the province.

Marquis Ito and Henry Clews express the sentiments of the sane people of the United States and Japan.

Mrs. Purdie, aged 98, who is living in the Mater Misericordiae Home, Sydney street, visited the 'Nickel' Saturday with Mrs. Edward Kelly. Mrs. Purdie was never inside a theatre until Saturday.

HALF ASLEEP To let one's fancy range. To play the bed is so. The window so, as it used to be in the times of long ago. To play the door is here. The street is crisscross there. And then they sound at night What company they are! Some break and some sedate. I wonder where they go. And I drove a little suddenly The dear, dear step I know. The start of joy, the flush. The tender, happy thrill. And then, oh God! I am homeless and old. And his grave is on the hill. —Frederick Huntington Mottifert in the July Century.

IN LIGHTER VEIN HE WAS THE FOOLISH THING. 'She did a very foolish thing when she married.' 'Why, he was rich wasn't he?' 'Yes—he was a foolish thing.'

MUCH DEPENDED. The poet, to the magazine editor—'I wonder if you would like a few verses I wrote after dinner yesterday.' The editor suspiciously—'What sort of dinner was it?' EXTINGUISHED. Tommy—'Pop, a man's wife is his better half, isn't she?' Tommy's Pop—'So we are told, my son.'

THE GAME OF POLITICS. 'Of course,' said the serene statesman, 'I am the logical candidate.' 'Perhaps,' answered Senator Scophum. 'But you want to remember that when it comes to tallying up votes it's mathematics and not logic that counts.'

A WISE PRECAUTION. 'Johnny, where have you been? Your hair is suspiciously wet. School was out two hours ago.' 'I fell in the creek.' 'But your clothes are not wet.' 'Well, you see, mamma, while I was standing on the bridge I thought maybe I'd fall in, so I took off my clothes, an' I did.'

A BUSINESS LETTER. An example of rather refined Babu English is contained in the following letter received by an East Indian firm in London from a Hindu correspondent: 'Dear sirs:—We are duly in receipt of your favor. By this mail we have no deep regret, however, which renders our agrieved hearts, we beg to announce that a deep misty cloud recently hovered over us for eight days. It did not clear away until it successfully washed off our hands our most steady, energetic and judicious manager. Breathing his last on the night of the 28th ultimo and leaving us to look after his affairs with a heavy and fearful eyes, he leapt up to his everlasting green celestial palace in the heaven above. Awaiting further instructions, we are, &c.'

A REWARD FOR LONG SERVICE Waterbury & Rising Present Gold Watch and Chain to R. J. Walsh. To be in the employ of one firm for a quarter of a century and during all that time to hold the esteem and confidence of both employer and public is the record of R. J. Walsh, head salesman for Waterbury & Rising. He said it was a particularly pleasing occasion for himself, as it was he in 1882, a short time after the firm had secured the King street business, had engaged Mr. Walsh, at a time when the business gave evidence of expansion, and the acquisition of a junior clerk was necessary.

Mr. Walsh, who was much affected, found it difficult to express his thanks. He was glad, he said, that the gift was one he could carry around with him, and he would always cherish it fondly. The next few minutes were spent in receiving the hearty hand shake and congratulations of his shop mates. The watch is a very handsome one and on the outside cover contains Mr. Walsh's monogram. On the inside cover is the following inscription: Presented to R. J. WALSH, By Waterbury & Rising, In Recognition of 25 Years Service, July, 1907.

A CREDIT TO MONCTON Last week's issue of the Maritime Merchant is a book of 134 pages, of which 36 are devoted to the city of Moncton, which is described from all points of view, with a series of fine illustrations. The Merchant may explain the excellent and exhaustive nature of the write-up when he explains that the data for the various articles were collected by J. T. Hawke of the Transcript, J. S. Boyd of the Times, J. S. Magee, city clerk; D. I. Welch, secretary of the board of trade, W. L. Crighton, of the I. C. R. W. H. Edgett, J. H. Harris, E. Hickson, A. E. Williams and John McKenzie.

The work was prepared under the auspices of the board of trade, whose energetic president, Mr. Hawke, was very largely responsible for the interest aroused. The various subjects treated are The Pioneer Days of Moncton, Moncton as an Industrial Centre, Moncton as a Railway Centre, The Board of Trade, The Corporation, Moncton and Its Surroundings from the Tourist's standpoint, Moncton as a Place to Shop, Moncton as a Distributing Centre, The Port of Moncton and Financial Matters in Moncton. These various topics are treated so fully that the reader cannot fail to be impressed with the past growth, the present prosperity and future promise of Moncton. This publication, sent abroad, cannot fail to produce a most favorable impression, beneficial to Moncton and the province. The Merchant announces that it hopes to treat other provincial towns in like manner in later issues. The Moncton illustrations and press work are highly creditable to the Merchant.

A NAVY ENTHUSIAST (M. A. P.) Robert Armstrong Yerburgh, president of the British Navy League, is one of the most popular men in society. His interests are many and varied, and, as he is very well off, he has been able to give his inclinations full play. He was born in 1853, was educated at Harrow and Oxford, and became a barrister in 1880. Politics, however, appealed to him more than the law and he was elected Conservative member for Chester in 1886, which seat he held until last year. His success was generally admitted to be remarkable, for, previous to his election, Chester had been a stronghold of Liberalism. Mr. Yerburgh has written a good deal on agricultural matters, and is president of the Agricultural Organization Society. A thorough, all-round sportsman, he finds his chief recreation in hunting, and during his parliamentary days he was considered one of the best-dressed men in the lower house.

J. S. BACHE & CO'S LETTER ON THE STOCK MARKET
Union Pacific and Atchison—Export of Gold—America's Waste of Gold—Light in the Sky.

NEW YORK, July 13.—If ever it were needed to prove a high generalship for the Union Pacific, it would do but to point to the financing of the company's bond issue just closed. To have had this successfully underwritten, and over-subscribed in the underwriting, months ago was a bit of far-sighted management, which has its fruition now, with the public subscription falling flat, and making not the least difference to the railroad because it has its money. Nevertheless, the public failure to subscribe has had its effect, and the week has been one of fluctuating sentiment, mostly gloomy. The Atchison, 5 per cent preferred, a lack of participation, $8,000,000 or $9,000,000 of the $28,000,000 having been taken, with no friendly underwriting to shield the untaken portion. It certainly would not be difficult to dispose gradually of these bonds at par, convertible as they are into stock, and one of the most attractive investments offered today. For those who wish well assured principal, a good, round 5 per cent per annum, and a chance to take advantage speculatively of their faith in the country and its ultimate emergence from the clouds of the present, these with their feature of convertibility into the common stock of a great railroad with great prospects, afford splendid opportunity.

EXPORT OF GOLD.
The foreign bank situation still continues reduced as to reserves, the Banks of England and France both showing lower than a year ago, and a chance to recover gold. The movement of export which we are watching with such interest, and doing nothing additional to effect, will probably have much effect upon our situation later when the fall squeeze begins. It may be easily presumed that these two banks will not be such easy aids to our own cramped conditions two months later. In other words, we doubt whether they will permit the reimport of this same gold which is going out now, when we attempt to bring it back in late August and September.

And this brings us to a consideration of the outrageous waste of gold reserve in America, through our superannuated, vicious currency system. There is gold money enough being carried around in the pockets of our people uselessly, in the shape of warehouse receipts, to make reserves easy around the world. Those $20 yellow-backs, every man who carries a small amount of them in his pocket, represent a wicked waste of the basis of prosperity.

LIGHT IN THE SKY.
All these are serious considerations, and the horizon line is not yet clear enough for much optimism. Nevertheless, that the situation is clearing there is no doubt, and the calm way in which much of that is being met, gives good evidence that probably the worst has been encountered as far as securities are concerned, barring always the dangers of this fall money market. Complete recovery, however, and high prices seem still a great way off. Meantime, the security market furnishes a most attractive field for the investor, and preferred stocks, convertible bonds, short and long notes, and even common stocks, make up a wealth of selections, any of which, if purchased, are sure to produce great results for the investor who will hold them.

ISLANDERS EVERYWHERE
They Are Scattered All Over the American Continent—What One Issue of a Paper Tells.

The Times noted not long since that North Dakota was bidding for young P. E. Islanders to go there and engage in the teaching profession. The Charlottetown papers of Saturday tell of a visit to the island of Brother Andrew, prefect of studies at St. Mary's College, of the order of Christian Brothers, of the order of many islands among the brotherhood in twenty two years ago. The Patriotic says: "One of the objects of Brother Andrew's visit to the island is to secure subjects for the order, and who are prepared to make sacrifices, abandon the world, and take up Christian work. There are many students among the brotherhood in San Francisco."

Two P. E. Island girls have just passed an examination at the summer school of Alberta. Now that the season of summer travel is on, and islanders are coming from abroad to visit the old home, we glance through the columns of the Charlottetown papers reveals how widely the sons and daughters of the province are scattered over the continent. The order illustrates we quote these paragraphs from Saturday's Charlottetown Guardian:

"John Morrison of Collas, Iowa, is spending a few weeks with friends in Spryfield."

"Mrs. Wilfrid Clark and daughter of Colorado, are visiting Mr. Clark's father Angus Brian, at Victoria."

"Alex. McDonald, of California, who has been absent from Charlottetown for 25 years is now visiting Mr. McAnley of Springfield."

"Rev. Francis O'Neill, the assistant pastor of St. Thomas' Catholic church, Woodbury, Baltimore, is expected to visit his old home next week."

"Dr. F. O. and Mrs. Norton, of Darke University, Ohio, are visiting at his old home in Bradenell."

"Miss Annie Lannan, teacher, Regina, and her brother John arrived home in Summerside on account of the illness of their mother."

"John E. O'Connor, Carleton, received a telegram last Sunday morning announcing the death of his sister, Mrs. Wm. Dabey, which occurred at her home in Bradley, Maine."

"Dr. Honeywell, formerly of Hunter River, who has a plantation at Ceballos, Cuba, arrived on Tuesday via Toronto and Montreal will spend the summer at Rustico."

"Letters received from Spokane, Wash., give the particulars of the death in Onidese, Idaho, of Patrick F. Hughes, formerly of Millcove. He left the island last August."

"D. A. McLeod, formerly of the firm of Semmes & McLeod, of Montreal, arrived here last night from Olgary. He is accompanied by Mrs. McLeod, and will spend three or four weeks in the province."

"Augustus and Mrs. McAnley of Springfield, Mass., are visiting their old home in Prince Edward Island. Mr. McAnley, is superintendent of construction of the New England Tel. & Tel. Co., and has not been on the island for twenty years."

"Mrs. (Dr.) Cole and her little daughter, Constance, of Regina, are visiting in Summerside, the guests of Mrs. G. W. Phillips, sister of Mrs. Cole. Their mother Mrs. Richard, who has been visiting relatives in the west, returned with them."

"J. C. and Mrs. Williams and daughter, Dorchester, Mass., accompanied by Mrs. Williams' sisters, Misses Annie and Minnie McPherson, daughters of Donald McPherson, St. Peter's Road, King's county, Pherson, are expected to arrive home this week."

W. J. Gaffney, attorney at law, and Mrs. Gaffney, Boston, are spending their vacation at Summerside in old home. He is one of the leading lawyers in Boston."

INDIAN SWAM FOR NINE HOURS
Vancouver Indian Showed Wonderful Endurance in a Terrible Test.

Vancouver, B. C., July 14.—With his daughter and her baby in his arms, Chief Charles James Squamish, an Indian, performed the remarkable feat of swimming for nine hours in the Gulf of Georgia last night. From 3 o'clock in the afternoon until midnight he held them, one by either arm, but by the time he reached shore at Point Grey, just west of Vancouver, both the young woman and her child had succumbed.

The big Indian's endurance is probably one of the most marvelous cases of the kind on record. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon six Indians were thrown out of a canoe. The seas were running high, and the boat swamped. The young Indian, with the child in her arms, Chief Charles swam to the assistance of his daughter and grandchild, but was never able to regain the canoe. He struck out for the shore with his burden, and swam without support of any kind.

He is a powerful man, fifty-five years old. Late this afternoon the other natives, who lashed themselves to the overturned canoe, were rescued.

TO BOOM P. E. ISLAND
(Charlottetown Guardian)

It has been decided to amalgamate the Prince Edward Island Development and Tourist Association, and this is considered to be a good move by those who have had experience in the work which the two associations have been endeavoring to promote. There is lots to be done along the lines on which the two clubs have been going, and may be confidently expected that the amalgamation will result in benefiting the tourist trade and helping forward all the good objects having for their aim the advancement and improvement, and development of the province.

CENTENARIANS MARRY
John B. Bundren, 101, is to Marry Miss Rose McGuire, Aged 100.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 12.—Invitations to the wedding of John B. Bundren, 101 years old, and Miss Rose McGuire, 100 years old, in Tate Springs, Tenn., on August 26, have been issued by J. B. Bundren, Jr., of No. 3430 Eads avenue, St. Louis, a nephew of the prospective bridegroom. The elder Mr. Bundren is now journeying to England to claim his bride to be, and they are expected to return the latter part of July.

General invitations have been sent to attend the ceremony and remain at the Bundren home, in Tate Springs, as long as they desire. According to information received by the nephew of the centenarian, there will be 135 "boys and girls," all ninety years and over, in attendance. The centenarian bridegroom elect was a guest of his nephew in St. Louis several weeks ago.

NEW PASTOR TAKES UP HIS DUTIES

In the Carleton Methodist church yesterday Rev. Jacob Heaney, A. B., preached his first sermon as pastor of the church to a large congregation. Rev. Mr. Heaney has succeeded Rev. H. B. Marr, A. B. His text was taken from the epistle of Paul to the Colossians, chapter 1, verse 28, revised version: "Whom we proclaim, admonishing every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect in Christ."

In the course of his sermon Rev. Mr. Heaney said Christ was the apostle's theme and must also be the theme of every man who would admonish men and women, that they might be presented perfect in Christ. The same Jesus Christ would be his theme during his ministry in the Carleton church, as there was not a relation in life to which the principle of Jesus Christ did not apply.

The man who would preach Christ must admonish his people as did the apostle Paul, and to do this he must be as wise as a serpent and as harmless as a dove, as men were not all cast in the same mould. He himself would always preach Christ and his unsearchable riches, believing that the God who had called him to that work would always sustain him in it.

The new pastor also gave an outline of the methods he intended to adopt for work in the Carleton church, which recommended itself very highly to his congregation.

Tomorrow evening the members of the church and the congregation intend holding a reception for the pastor and Mrs. Heaney. A good musical programme has been provided and the lady members of the Epworth League will serve light refreshments.

FUNERALS
John J. Killen, the young man who died so suddenly Thursday, was buried yesterday afternoon with military honors. A very lengthy cortege followed the casket to the new Catholic cemetery, where interment was made.

The body was taken from his father's residence at 2:30 p. m., the casket being covered with the union jack, on which were placed the tunic, cap, belt and musket, and on the mourners reaching St. John the Baptist church they were joined by the military detachment under Major W. C. Magee. Rev. W. C. Gaylor read the service.

The procession was reformed, with the drum corps, with muffled drums, and the buglers at the head. A firing party of twelve, under Col. Sergeant Wetmore, preceded the hearse, on either side of which walked the following pall-bearers: A. Howe, W. McGuire, J. L. Lejeune, W. H. Bonnie, J. Alward and B. Butler, and a military escort.

Many floral pieces testified to the high

MARRIED FORTY YEARS
Mr. and Mrs. W. J. DeBlois, two well known residents of Halifax, celebrated the 40th anniversary of their wedding at their summer home at Bedford, N. S., on Wednesday. Mrs. DeBlois was a Miss Bell, of Chatham, and was married at that place by Rev. Dr. Evans, then pastor of the Methodist church.

From seventy to eighty friends from Halifax, Bedford, and other places met at Bedford to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. DeBlois on attaining this important anniversary. Many handsome and costly presents were received, and Mrs. DeBlois was the recipient of a bouquet of forty carnations. The visitors received a warm welcome from the host and hostess, and a very pleasant time was spent—Halifax Chronicle.

Mrs. McBeath, whose husband lives in Amherst, has departed from her home with her little girl and a man named William Murphy. They did not, however, put in an appearance.

OAK HALL'S MIDSUMMER SALE OF MEN and BOYS' CLOTHING and FURNISHINGS WILL BEGIN THURSDAY MORNING.

The public has learned from years of buying that when we advertise a sale, it means something—it means that every item represents exactly the value we regularly charge, and also that the advertised reductions represent just the amount off we promise to give.

Every garment offered at this sale is from our regular guaranteed stock, and being manufacturers our regular prices are at all times from 25 to 30 per cent. below those of other stores. Keeping this in mind you will see the bigness of the reductions at this sale.

At the prices which will prevail, it's hard to understand how anyone can resist the tempting values—even buying for next year would be a good act of economy. It will be a big loss to us, but we take our medicine cheerfully and have our compensation in clean stocks for Fall.

See page 3 for our big "ad" giving details of price reductions.

THE SALE BEGINS THURSDAY MORNING. Every garment is marked in plain figures, giving the original price and sale price. No goods will be sent on approval. Everything we sell goes out with the distinct understanding that if in any way it is not perfectly satisfactory you can bring it back with your sales check and get your money.

Store will be closed all day Wednesday, as we need the time to get things in shape to make shopping easy for you.

KNIGHTS-TEMPLARS VISITING ST. JOHN

Entertained by the St. John Commanderies--Having a Good Time.

St. John was invaded this morning by 130 Knights Templars and their ladies. The Sir Knights are members of the Pittsburg Commandery and arrived about 9 o'clock this morning on a special train over the I. C. R. from Quebec.

This afternoon they are enjoying a sail, as the guests of St. John Encampment and Union De Molay Preceptory, up river. The party is registered at the Royal Hotel. Shortly before two o'clock they left on special street cars for Indiantown where the steamer Champlain was aboard.

After sailing up river and taking in the various points of interest a return to the city will be made about six o'clock and the party will leave for Halifax where they will spend a couple of days, after which they go to Yarmouth and will sail from there on the steamer Prince Arthur for New York. A week will be spent in New York after which they will return to Pittsburg.

John H. Niebaum is the eminent command and Herman Junker is chairman of the committee of ways and means.

The party left Pittsburg on July 6, going to Saratoga in a special train. While in Saratoga they were guests at the Grand Union Hotel the second largest hotel in the world.

After attending the meetings of the fair and the various phases of business life of Western Pennsylvania. This is the first trip the party has made in Canada and they are unanimous in pronouncing it very enjoyable in every way.

They will have covered about 3,000 miles on the present trip. In other years their groups would be made in the west. The present trip will cover a period of three weeks.

Joseph N. Mackraker of the Pittsburg Dispatch is one of the members of the party.

The morning was spent in walking or driving about the city and seeing the sights.

PLEA FOR THE CHILDREN

Editor Times: Sir,—I read with deep interest the "heart to heart talk" in Saturday's Times concerning the Victoria playgrounds. I am sure if the citizens realized what a boon it would be to thousands of children they would not rest until something was done to enable the young people to enjoy play even without teachers on these grounds.

There is not another playground in St. John to compare with the smooth, grass-covered field, in which a thousand children could find ample room for free play at one time.

A couple of hundred dollars for teachers and equipment on these grounds would be made up by more children than four times that amount spent in the school yards of the city.

In saying this I do not mean to criticize what is being done on the Centennial and Winter street grounds. That work speaks for itself and needs no defender.

But what, a pity it is that this is all St. John can do, when so much more could be done at so small cost. To think of the dirty streets and alleys and the bare, green grass on the Victoria grounds is enough to make one wonder what parents in St. John are thinking about.

It is truly said, enough money is carelessly spent (without any other return than merely to pass the time) any evening in the week, to make thousands of children happy for the summer holidays.
