Stanley Baldwin Premier And Horne to Exchequer

FORMER ACCEPTS OFFER TO BECOME NEXT PRIME MINISTER OF GREAT BRITAIN

Conservative Leaders Made Baldwin Their Choice, With Former Chancellor to Resume That Post—Rest of Present Cabinet Expected to Stand.

(Associated Press.) London, May 22—Stanley Baldwin is Great Britain's new premier. He accepted the premiership offered him today by King George.

Mr. Baldwin drove to Buckingham Palace immediately after lunch. Almost at the same time, with no one doubting that the King had summoned him to offer him the premiership, it became known that Conservative leaders in conference had agreed upon Mr. Baldwin as their choice and had selected Sir Robert Horne, to succeed him as chancellor of the exchequer—the position that Sir Robert filled in the last years of the Lloyd George ministry.

This arrangement to fill Mr. Baldwin's old position indicated an expectation that the personnel of the Bonar Law cabinet would remain almost intact.

London, May 22—Bonar Law had a very good night. His condition in unchanged. No further bulletins will be issued at present. This statement was issued after the former Premier's physicians had visited him this morning.

Mr. Law has written a letter to the Glasgow Unionists that he desires to continue as a member of the House of Commons. He presumed there was no objection to his remaining as a member of the House of Commons.

In a double-leaded editorial, apparently based on special information, the Times virtually rules out all the dark horses, such as the Earl of Balfour, Lord Derby and the Duke of Devonshire, and contends that the choice necessarily lies between Lord Carson and Stanley Baldwin, either of whom it believes would be willing to serve under the other.

London, May 22—Five members of the household of Mrs. Williams met instant death, and another died probably fatally, as a result of a crash when B. & O. passenger train No. 54 crashed into a truck which was moving the Williams family from Franklin to a new home in Germantown.

Franklin, Ohio, May 22—Five members of the household of Mrs. Williams met instant death, and another died probably fatally, as a result of a crash when B. & O. passenger train No. 54 crashed into a truck which was moving the Williams family from Franklin to a new home in Germantown.

Allen came to Boston on Saturday after a writ of protection had been issued guaranteeing him immunity from civil prosecution. He had been at his home in Collingdale, Montana, for about six months.

The Suffolk County grand jury indicted eighteen men in connection with the affairs of the Boston-Montana Corporation, a copy of the indictment which Allen was present.

MAN ACCUSED OF PLOT TO SLAY WIFE TO GET FREE INSURANCE

Husband Alleged to Have Asked Laborer to Try to Frighten Woman to Death, and if That Failed He Was to Pound Her With a Hammer.

Liverpool, May 22—When last year several British newspapers began offering free insurance to subscribers, it was humorously suggested that perhaps payment of a lump sum in case of death would lead to an increase, if not in crime, at least in suicide.

$10,000 REWARD OFFERED TO CLEAR MYSTERY OF N. U. STUDENT'S DEATH

MISS DORIS FUCHS, SWEETHEART OF LEIGHTON MOUNT, THE BOY WHOSE SKELETON WAS FOUND AFTER TWO YEARS.

CHICAGO, May 22—Mystery deepens about the fate of young Leighton Mount, a Northwestern University freshman, who disappeared after a class fight two years ago and whose bleached skeleton was found beneath a pier at Evanston.

Investigation only brings out clues and information which complicate and obscure the real facts. Two, and possibly three deaths, are uncovered. The death of Lois Aubrey, who was supposed to have been killed in an automobile accident, but who, it is said, really was killed by an automobile.

The Board of Trustees of the university offered a cash reward of $10,000 for information which would lead to the solution of the death of Mount.

The grand jury was composed as follows: Judge J. C. Gansner, Frank E. Jones, Ralph G. Dykeman, Archibald Duncan, A. Gray Burnham, George Kelly, Frank J. Lacey, Ernest Dickson, William Stanley, Cole Parson, Robert Armstrong, James L. McGrath, J. Pope Barnes, John J. Charles, J. Hoyt, George W. Folsom, Gordon S. McDonald, Harold A. Lyman and Thomas J. New York, May 22—Florence Leeds, former show girl, who figured in the St. John case, indicated last night that she might take legal steps to obtain support for her five-year-old son, Jay Leeds.

Earlier in the day Miss Leeds had told the Associated Press that she did not intend to take court action to compel James A. Stillman, wealthy banker, to provide for her son. It was brought out in the divorce suit that Miss Leeds was Jay's father.

As Hiram Sees It

"I hear," said Mr. Hiram, Hornbeam to the Times reporter, "you're gonto hev one o' them there poets in town today."

"I am proud to say we are," said the reporter, "although as a matter of fact we have some minor poets of our own—to say nothing of poetic junk."

"Well, sir," said Hiram, "one o' them fellers give me my fist big scare. I say 'he'—'I wouldn't recite a poem when I was a little feller—'fore a hull lot o' folks in the school house. It was The Wreck of the Hesperus—By Hen! I learnt it all by heart an' thought it was great—but when I got up on the platform an' all them 'olks lookin' at me I wished the mar that writ the poem hed been on the Hesperus, too."

"He wasn't a poet no more chill out of the wintry sea than went up my spine an' clamped my jaws an' set my wits wad-gerheral' afore I got to the end of the first line. But I got over it—an' I got to be a dern good reciter after a speck. I say 'he'—'I wouldn't recite it no more bad a fit of it yit. You tell Bill Carman fer me that if he'll write a nice little poem on 'The Settlement' I'll recite it at the next lodge meetin'—yes, sir."

Skating Meet and Carnival Statement Is Submitted

Deficit of $947—Report Refers to Numbers Untagged at Lake and to Benefits Received by City From Carnival Publicity and Activities—Recommends Another Such Week Next Winter.

The joint Rotary-Y.M.C.I. committee which had charge of the International Skating Championship meet on Lily Lake and the St. John carnival, completed its statement at a meeting held at noon today and submitted it to the Common Council for this afternoon's session of that body.

The statement was not completed until this week because it was necessary to await a return from the International Skating Union after the circuit expenses and receipts had been compiled. This was received late last week. The joint committee's report is as follows:

The statement was not completed until this week because it was necessary to await a return from the International Skating Union after the circuit expenses and receipts had been compiled. This was received late last week. The joint committee's report is as follows:

The committee regret the delay in the presentation of this report, which, however, they feel was beyond their control inasmuch as the books could not be closed until returns were received from the treasurer of the International Union, whose statement was received on the 17th instant.

The committee would also take this opportunity of expressing their disappointment in the financial results of the undertaking, particularly because of the very worthy institutions which would have benefited had a surplus been obtained.

This unfortunate result they feel is largely due to the impossibility of controlling the so-called "gate receipts," and an apparent disposition on the part of a proportion of the attending public to evade their responsibilities. This is clearly shown by the returns from the sale of tags as compared with the estimated attendance.

The committee would also take this opportunity of expressing their disappointment in the financial results of the undertaking, particularly because of the very worthy institutions which would have benefited had a surplus been obtained.

AMATEURS PRESENT A FINE DRAMA

"Little Lord Fauntleroy" Staged at St. Vincent's in Aid of New Loch Lomond Church.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy," a three-act drama, was ably presented in St. Vincent's Auditorium last evening by a cast of local amateurs, under the direction of John R. McCloskey. The play was put on in aid of Rev. Harold Coughlin's church at Loch Lomond and will be repeated again this evening.

The work of the principals was highly commendable and the manner in which they portrayed their parts left little to be desired. Miss Loretta Duffy, as Lord Fauntleroy, scored a hit. Her acting was in itself a feature and her charming manner, pleasing voice and all around clever work was largely instrumental in the success achieved.

F. J. Joyce, who appeared as the Earl of Doucour, gave a clever interpretation, and his acting was favorably commented on. His lines called for a number of strong emotional scenes and he handled them in an able and pleasing manner.

Miss Isabelle Gormley, as Mrs. Erroll, was a good choice for this difficult and sympathetic role. Her acting was exceptionally good and the manner in which she portrayed her part was in keeping with her clever work in previous performances.

Miss Beatrice M. Farren won new laurels as Minna. She had an unsympathetic role, but the able manner in which she performed won for her the hearty commendation of all present.

The other members of the cast acquitted themselves in a most creditable manner, and all united in making the production such a distinct success.

During the intermissions pleasing vocal solos were rendered by Miss Maud Downing and Miss Kathryn Gallivan, and both were forced to respond to repeated encores.

The cast of characters was as follows: Mrs. Erroll's maid, Miss Helene Tracey; Miss Isabelle Gormley Gormley Cedric Erroll, Lord Fauntleroy; Mr. Hobbs, Miss Loyola Duffy; Miss Mary V. Floyd; Mr. Havisham, Roy McIntyre; Earl of Doucour, Fred J. Joyce; Thomas, butler to the Earl; Harold Murphy; Higgins, a tenant, J. W. E. Gale; Minna, Miss Beatrice M. Farren; Jane, Miss Mildred Brennan; Williams, J. W. E. Gale.

METHODIST FINANCE PROBLEM. Toronto, May 22.—Eight hospitals in China, six among Canadian Indians and three among new Canadians would be the first institutions to suffer from entrenchment of Methodist missionary programme, according to statements to be presented to the annual conference throughout Canada in the latter part of May and in June by Rev. ## Scientists Combine Yeast With Iron

To Make Greatest Tonic and Health Builder.

For the first time you can get the utmost of health-building benefit from yeast. Scientists have accomplished this in ironized yeast by combining iron with yeast in a way that revitalizes the blood and increases the number of red corpuscles in the life stream. Thousands are taking advantage of this new method of building strength. The iron supplies the vim and stay that power of healthy nerve force to pale, weak, thin blood while the yeast is putting firm, solid flesh on your bones. Ironized yeast is the scientific way of building up strength and brings improvement that you can feel in as short a time as ten days. Scientists now agree that ironized yeast is the richest source of vitamins known. So thousands of pale, sick and underweight people are gaining health and strength through ironized yeast, which is a combination of iron and other valuable tonic ingredients, with yeast imported from Bass' Ale Brewery, England, and especially concentrated under the process recommended by Dr. A. Seidel of the Hygienic Laboratory of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Get Ironized Yeast from your druggist today. It is convenient and pleasant to take, being in handy tablet form. The ten day treatment costs only $1.00. It is guaranteed to give satisfactory results or your money will be cheerfully refunded.

FRENCH PROVE "BIG BERTHAS" SHELLS PARIS

Plans of German Guns with Range of 70 to 80 Miles, Hurling Projectiles of 200 lbs., are Obtained.

Paris, May 22—A statement by Leon Daudet, Deputy and well known journalist, that the "Big Berthas" commonly believed to have been used by the Germans in firing on Paris in 1918 never existed, caused a sensation in French newspapers.

His theory was that a gun of that kind could not have been fired at such long range, and that a new type of electric gun was used, which was concealed in some remote building on the outskirts of Paris.

The "Big Berthas" was not very different from the ordinary naval gun, except that the tube varied in length from 100 to 125 feet and the tube of the naval gun was a little less than sixty feet. Its force was due not to electricity but to a highly explosive powder.

The exact character of the projectile is known also. It was a shell with a false point. This idea of the false point for guns firing at long range was originated by the French.

Later the Germans installed a gun in the region of Ham. It was considered strange by some that they did not concentrate all the Berthas on one point. The results would have been much more successful. The French made this same mistake at the beginning of the war, preferring to have their fire distributed rather than concentrated.

LINIMENT FOUND TO BE POWERFUL GERMICIDE

Originally, Absorbine Jr. was sold only as a pain reliever and an embrocation. It was quickly discovered that the liniment was positive death to all forms of germ life, and it is now used as a mouth wash, for wound dressing and for all disinfecting purposes. Another surprise was yet in store. A. Wm. Pratt, of Springfield, Mass., applied Absorbine Jr. to a varicose vein to relieve the intense pain. Not only did the pain leave, but he noticed every day the swollen vein becoming smaller. The treatment was kept up and, today, Mr. Pratt's legs, though he has never used anything else on them, are as smooth as when he was a boy. It has now been proved that Absorbine Jr. is an actual specific for varicose veins, leg ulcers, boils, pyorrhoes and a number of other ailments and injuries besides that for which it was first prepared. Nothing serves so many every day purposes and nothing is better entitled to its place in every home. When it is needed, it will be needed in a hurry. Don't wait for someone to be hurt. "BOSTON BOAT" WITH US AGAIN

Governor Dingley Welcomed as She Arrives on First Trip of Season.

The Eastern Steamship liner Governor Dingley was welcomed to port this morning from Boston via Eastport and Lubec on her first trip of the season. She sailed from Boston with 103 passengers, sixty-one of whom came through to this city and left for points east over the C. N. R. Among the passengers was J. E. Quinn, who was in Boston on a business trip. In addition to the passengers the steamer brought approximately ninety-three tons of general cargo.

SKATING MEET STATEMENT IS ISSUED

The total estimated attendance for the three days is placed at 28,000 whereas the returns show that only 12,000 tags were sold, which would apparently justify the statement that approximately 16,000 people got free entertainment.

In spite of the disappointment over the financial outcome, the committee feel that the indirect returns, such as the very flattering continent-wide publicity given to our city by the more prominent publications all over the United States and Canada, is a valuable asset. The fact that the carnival spirit induced by the week of festival did place in circulation a very considerable amount of money at a time of year when business is at its quietest, has brought very favorable expressions of commendation from our merchants.

Lastly, but by no means of minor importance, the committee are proud of the undertaking which fosters and promotes a truly co-operative community spirit, embodying the harmonious working-together of the various commercial and social organizations of our city, in an eminently worthwhile, especially in this age of commercial rivalry where great faith in the future growth and prosperity of our city is essential, and were unity of thought and purpose are of paramount importance in the accomplishment of the same.

OLD CAR PLAYS ELOPERS FALSE

Newton Couple and Attending Pair Start for Canada; Get to Boston.

Boston, May 22.—Four Newton elopers, left home Friday and returned home Monday under police escort after a wedding trip which was neither a party to Boston in a taxicab. Although they started for Canada, Boston was as far as they went. The elopers were:—Mrs. W. J. Brown, Mrs. H. A. McKee, Mrs. K. I. Campbell, Mrs. W. C. Clarke, Mrs. D. C. Dearden and Mrs. H. O. Evans.

Also Booked as Runaway

Mary Bostwick, sixteen, of Islington road, who really had intended to be married to Henry Denison, twenty, of Newton Lower Falls, was also booked as a runaway girl. No charges were placed against her husband, Denison, who is Edward T. Harrington, twenty, of Newton Lower Falls.

"If they went in that old car, they won't get very far," Denison's father had predicted. They did go in the old car, which meant they didn't go far. It fell to pieces in Lexington, very soon after the four runaways had started. Denison, whose car it was, left it in the care of a repair man and hurried his wedding party to Boston in a taxicab.

Unable to arrange a wedding here because of the five-day law, the elopers counted on speedy reconduction of the crippled automobile; but a telephone call to Lexington brought the discouraging news that the car would not be ready until Wednesday. The group, having $64 among them, set about forgetting their troubles by dining and attending the theatre.

"Brothers and Sisters." Then they all went to a North end hotel, Denison and his bride-to-be, Alice, of Portland, Me. Harrington and his little chaperon registered as Paul Fannon and sister, Mary, also of Portland. The girls had a room on the second floor, and the boys shared one on the third floor.

The quartette amused themselves by shopping, reading the papers about themselves and attending another play. Then the joint funds began to dwindle. Mary telephoned, therefore, to a chum in Auburn, requesting an immediate loan.

Police of all the Newtons, however, had been searching for the missing children, and some ear of the law overheard the telephoned plea for money. So when the girl financier set out from Auburn to the relief of the wedding principals and guests, waiting nervously in the North station waiting room, Inspectors Goode and Shaughnessy trailed her, armed with warrants and relatives. There was an informal reception for the wedding group in the waiting room, to be followed by a formal reception in Newton court.

BELIEVES BODY IS THAT OF HER MISSING HUSBAND

St. John Woman to Halifax in Connection With the "John Lowe" Case

Roy McWilliams Left Minto for the West Last August and Has Not Been Heard from Since—Wife Sees a Resemblance in Published Photograph.

Almost firm in her conviction that the body of a man found in Weymouth, N. S., last October and buried in December 15 in Camp Hill cemetery, Halifax, is that of her husband, Mrs. Helen McWilliams, of 70 Somerset street left

MAN FOUND AT WEYMOUTH.

Last evening for Halifax in the hope of determining whether or not her supposed word from her husband in England that he was alive.

Mrs. McWilliams, who was formerly Miss Helen Quinn, was married to Roy McWilliams on his return from service overseas as a member of the 20th Battalion. They went to Minto to live soon after afterwards, her family owning a home there. Mr. McWilliams was engaged at work in the Minto mines.

On August 4, 1922, McWilliams, who was thirty-nine or forty years of age, left Minto with the expressed intention of going to the western provinces for the harvesting season, but relatives of his wife said this morning that he was doubt that he ever reached the coast of British Columbia. Mrs. McWilliams and her mother's family moved to St. John, taking up their residence in Somerset street. From that time until today no word of Mr. McWilliams whereabouts has been received, although all efforts to locate him have proven futile.

When, on March 12, there was published in St. John in The Daily Telegraph a photograph of the man who was found in Weymouth, which is reproduced again in this issue of The Evening Times, Mrs. McWilliams noted the strong resemblance it bore to her husband, in spite of the fact that when she had last seen him he was clean shaven. She got in touch recently with the Chief of Police at Halifax and the result of her correspondence with her present visit to Halifax.

Mr. McWilliams, when he left Minto was wearing on his coat the first class badge of a discharged veteran. An attempt was made by his wife to obtain from Ottawa the number of his discharge in the hope that it might assist in identification, but was unsuccessful.

Death Comes To Mrs. W. J. Brown

William J. Brown, assistant inspector of customs and excise, died today in the death of his wife, Mrs. Kate M. Brown, which occurred early this morning in the general Public Hospital following a serious operation performed on last Wednesday. A young man of admirable character and talent of high order, Mrs. Brown leaves many friends who will sympathize deeply with the bereavement of her family circle so sorely bereaved by her death. She was a daughter of George C. Weldon, of the S. Hayward Company and was born in 1876. She made a brilliant course of study at Mount Allison and was graduated M. A. in 1896. She was prize essayist of the graduating class of that year. In 1901 came her marriage. She had the literary gift, as shown in her story writing, but she made her household duties paramount.

Beside her husband, Mrs. Brown leaves one son, Weldon, her father and mother, two brothers and a sister. The brothers are Robert P. of Montreal and George S. of St. John and the sister is Mrs. C. Percy Humphrey, also of St. John. The funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon at half past two o'clock from 216 1/2 Rockland road.

FREDERICTON GIRL WEDS.

The marriage of Hazel Shenton, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Doak of Fredericton and James Walter Dow, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dow, of Kentville, N. S., was solemnized in Young Methodist church, Winnipeg, on May 12, in the presence of a large gathering of friends, Rev. J. W. Aikens, D. D., officiating. The bride was given away by her brother, Perry W. Doak. Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Kelly. Mr. and Mrs. Doak left on an extended trip to Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, visiting Minneapolis, Chicago and New York en route, returning in six weeks to reside in Regina, Sask. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Doak and Miss Margaret Doak, from Brandon, Man.; Mr. H. T. Douglas, of Stanley, N. B.; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Osborne, of Snowflake, Man.; and P. W. Doak, of Acadia, Sask.

LATENT SENSE OF SIGHT LURKS IN SKIN'S CELLS, SAYS SAVANT

Theory Based Upon Power of Dwellers in Dark Forests to "See" With Fingers; Experiments on Blind Bring Results, Declares Scientist.

Paris, May 22.—Philosophers, doctors and physiologists in Paris are interested in observing what will come of the extra-retinal theory put forth within the last few years by M. Fargigoule, a former student of science at the Normal School, doctor of medicine and fellow of philosophy, better known to the public under the pseudonym of Jules Romain, author of two books of fanciful, highly imaginative fiction.

The question which has arisen as a result of his experiments briefly is this: Is our ability to see dependent solely on our eyes, or is there in every living being another organ which is capable of transmitting to the brain the impression, form, color and size of objects?

His theory has grown out of several observations. The inhabitants of the deep forests of Guiana, where the sun's rays never penetrate, have little by little lost the power of vision, but they continue to perceive the form and color of objects by means of their hands.

People who walk in their sleep see perfectly. Double function is common in physiology: the lungs and the skin breathe together, the kidneys and the sweat glands function together. Why shouldn't some other organ have the same function as the eye?

The extended use of the microscope has made it possible to examine the minutest details of the morphology of the skin. The scientist Ravier has shown that there are on a single millimeter of the surface of the skin thousands of tiny "ocelles" which constitute the principal organs of touch.

Fargigoule thinks that they also constitute a low form of visual organ, with a small refracting cell.

Because the visual power which they possess is so inferior to that of our eyes it has been dormant within us, and in order to awaken it we would have to have special education.

The theory gains weight because a little is known about the eye anyway, and therefore little can be disproved. Each eye of certain butterflies has 15,000 little facets. Just how do the 34,000 images received affect the nervous system of the insect? Just how are the two images received by the eye of man co-ordinated?

Dr. Fargigoule has made a number of experiments and tests bearing on his theory. The first experiments took place in Nice, in 1918, on a man blind in the war. A large figure of 4 was made on a sheet of paper, which was placed in a glazed frame. With great concentration it took the blind man some seconds to read the number with his fingers, as to speak. Other experiments in distinguishing colors have been made on blind people.

In 1920 Dr. Fargigoule published a volume telling of his experiments, called "La Vision Extra-Retienne et le Sens Parolique," which was received with a great deal of skepticism. He then gave up his work along that line, resuming it again last October. A recent experiment took place at the ophthalmologic clinic at Cochin Hospital, with Dr. Cantonnet and several other physicians present. Another was made at the Normal School in the presence of Henri Bergson, Anatole France and Albert Camus.

There is a great difference of opinion as to the value of the experiments. Some think Dr. Fargigoule has proved his theory conclusively and other maintain that nothing at all has been accomplished.

Only Risk Outside Insurance Scope Now, Says Actuary. New York, May 21.—The possibility that unemployment might be included eventually among risks covered by insurance companies was discussed by J. B. Craig, actuary of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company at the annual meeting of the Actuarial Society of America at the Hotel Astor. His remarks were prompted, he explained, by the suggestion of Secretary Hoover recently, at a dinner of the Metropolitan Insurance Company that unemployment was the one remaining life hazard still outside the operation of insurance companies which were in a position to deal with it scientifically. Actuary Craig indicated that the insurance companies, under certain conditions, might enter this field. Among the conditions covering such risks, however, would be stipulation to the effect that an employee who was discharged for incompetency could not benefit. Neither could an employee voluntarily leave his job. The beneficiaries, according to the present outlook, would be those employees who were out of work under conditions which were beyond their control. The actuary suggested that unemployment funds, established by employers could be administered more effectively by the insurance companies, the same as present factis and group insurance. After pointing out the services performed by insurance companies for industrial employers who carried group insurance, Mr. Craig said: "Might it not be one solution of the problem to have life insurance companies undertake for employers a trusteeship of industrial depression reserves or unemployment premiums, and agree not only to pay certain amounts to certain employees under prescribed conditions, but also to assist the employer to the extent of its ability in stabilizing his business? "Such a contract might well provide that at least six months' employment had been rendered; that for the purpose of the contract unemployment insurance might be accomplished, while the employees, wanderers and restles, who apparently cause the big expense in unemployment insurance, would be left to their own resources. "The insurance expert suggested that between organized and non-union labor and further explained that some progress in unemployment insurance had been made by companies operating their own funds, but that the field was one yet unexplored by the insurance companies of America. GOES TO HIS FIRST JOB IN $5,000 LIMOUSINE In amazement, an English farm hand of experience, regarded as a lad by a prosperous York County, Ontario, farmer, rode from the Government Employment Service in Toronto to his new job in a limousine. "Canada is a wonderful country! The first day here, and going off to work in a $5,000 limousine! What will the folks over home say about this?" said the farm hand in decided dialect to Superintendent William Meath, after he had pushed his boxes into the limousine and made himself comfortable on its finely cushioned seats.

Note the economy. Two cooking operations at the cost in electric current of one.

This appliance has the distinctive finish that identifies all Canadian Beauty Appliances, rich and brilliant as silver in appearance.

It has a larger cooking surface than any other grill made, and has three heat—low, medium and high.

Other Canadian Beauty Electrical Appliances include the Iron, Reversible Toaster, Coffee Percolator and Toaster Stove. We also make the Majestic Electric Heater which served thousands so loyally during the coal shortage, and on chilly days—lights all through the year.

Bliss Carman BY H. A. CODY.

The writer and distractions of business cares are many. But it is pleasing to know that there are some who consider it worth while to stop and "listen in" to other sounds, voices called to higher and more enduring things. This has been true in reference to men of letters, especially poets who have come to St. John. We recall the visits years ago of Dr. W. H. Drummond, of Canon Scott, and recently of Dr. Robert Norwood, and Sir Henry Newbolt. Many paused to listen to their messages, and were helped. Our city has had poets, and it has several now. It is not natural to think of Hiram Ladd Spencer, Hiram Craven Betts, E. G. Nelson, and W. P. Dale, to mention but few no longer with us. New Brunswick has contributed a notable share to the poets of Canada. I need only refer to Barry Stratton, Charles G. D. Roberts, and Bliss Carman, whom we now delight to welcome and honor. And such should be the case, for poets are a great asset to any country.

History proves this to be true. The Kingdoms of ancient Israel, Greece, and Rome, owe a great deal to their poets. They live today in a large measure through their poets. How much Scotland owes to Burns and Scott, and England to Wordsworth, Tennyson, Browning, Shelley, and others. The same is true of almost any country. So with Canada. We were in vision and we stumble in judgment if we consider material things our greatest assets. They are uncertain, but the songs that pour from the hearts of poets will live as long as language endures.

"Their echoes roll from soul to soul, And grow forever and forever." No philosophy of history is complete which does not take into account the effect of poetry upon the destiny of nations. How slow people have been to recognize this! As a rule in the past our poets have received scant recognition in our midst. Pegasus has too often been tacked to some prosaic task. The poet must live, but he cannot live by poetry alone. That has been proven over and over again in Canada. In other days, in other lands, poets at times had their rich patrons who gave them their living. The public today must be the great patron if our poets are to live and do their best. It is not to do his best must be free from many distractions of life. "A writer may be many things besides a poet; he may be a warrior like Achilles, a courtier like Chaucer, or a cosmopolitan philosopher like Goethe, but the moment the poetic mood is upon him all the trappings of the world with which for years he may perhaps have been clothing his soul, fall away, and the man becomes an inspired child again, with ears attuned to nothing but the whispers of those spirits from the Golden Age, who, according to Helmholtz, hunt at times the degenerate earth."

Post-mortem consideration and honor will not make up for the neglect of poets, when they are on earth. Yet this has been too often the case in the past. "Seven cities claim the mighty Homer dead, Through which the living Homer begged his bread." A Change is Now Taking Place. We are endeavoring to give honor to whom honor is due. This has been brought about in a large measure through the activities of the Canadian Authors' Association. A few years ago the name of Bliss Carman meant little except to a discerning few; now it is known from ocean to ocean, and far beyond our borders. The songs which he poured forth with such fervor years ago reposed in the limbo of forgetfulness. Even his "ships of St. John" was little known in this city. But now people are aroused, and wherever this noted singer goes he is accorded a hearty reception. And he is worthy of such honor for in the bright galaxy of Canadian poets he surely comes first. Three years ago I witnessed the tribute paid to him in Montreal at the first meeting of the Canadian Authors' Association. Later in that same city he was crowned with a wreath of maple leaves as the official poet laureate of Canada. Such spontaneous recognition, to my way of thinking, is of more value than that which any government can confer. For years the official poet laureate of England has been silent; for years he has

PROHIBITION AN UNFINISHED TASK. Presbyterian Report in U.S. Calls for Officials Who Will Do Full Duty. Indianapolis, May 22.—Dr. Charles Scanlon of Pittsburgh, general secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Temperance and Moral Welfare, today presented the forty-second annual report of his board to the Presbyterian General Assembly. In turning the board's affairs over to the new board of Christian Education, Dr. Scanlon said that prohibition was an unfinished task. He said it would not be fully enforced until there were elected officials who had courage, inclination and ability to do what they were paid and sworn to do. "When we have 100 per cent patriots," declared the speaker, "we shall have 100 per cent prohibition."

Dentist Talks Back; Some Tall Charges

(Toronto Globe)

"When it comes to denying men the right properly to advertise, then they are wrong, and the public is backing me up," said Dr. W. A. MacLaren, dentist, to the Globe yesterday concerning the report of the Ontario Dental Association.

Dr. MacLaren said the paragraph from the Dentistry Act covering the question says that a practitioner must not be guilty of anything "infamous, scandalous or unprofessional." The whole point turns on the meaning of the word "infamous."

Dr. MacLaren, who claimed that past judgments insist that the profession is not to be the judge, but what honest men deem proper or improper in a professional way.

"Honest men think it proper to charge $500 to extract the teeth of one patient—a man of average means and prominence," said Dr. MacLaren. "This is an actual case. Would this dentist be ethical associated to many of his peers? Eminently so; the higher the fee the more ethical the dentist."

"Honest men think it proper to charge a thousand dollars for an upper and lower set of teeth, that, exclusive of anything else, took, let us say, four days to do. Honest men accept as proper a fee of $600 to $1200 for regulating the teeth of a 14-year-old boy of most humble means and modest environment. This has been done many times."

Dr. MacLaren said that, so far as he knew, advertising practitioners in the profession did not us unqualified help.

FLIGHTLESS BIRDS IN CARGO FOR ZOO

Members of Expedition to Galapagos Island Return with Rare Specimens.

New York, May 22.—Unique specimens of flightless birds, giant land and marine lizards, rare songbirds and huge tortoises, many of them representatives of special almost extinct, made up the precious cargo of the yacht Noma, which docked at the Seventy-ninth street, North River, pier after a two months' expedition to the Galapagos Islands, 800 miles off the coast of Ecuador.

The expedition, financed by Harrison Williams at a cost of approximately $100,000, was in charge of William Bebe, Curator of Birds of the New York Zoological Society. It left New York on March 1 of this year and proceeded by way of Panama to the Galapagos Islands, 800 miles off the coast of Ecuador.

"The expedition was entirely successful," said Prof. Bebe. "While the specimens we brought back are unique and of the utmost value to our collection, the observations we made of animal life are really the outstanding achievement of the expedition. Here in a remote group of islands, far from the mainland, which for ages has been uninhabited by man. Where did the animal and bird life represented there originate? The solution of that question was the main purpose of our expedition, and I am completely satisfied with the results of our investigations.

I have already arrived at some theories regarding the mysterious origin of these birds, which penned up in those tiny islands through the ages, have forgotten how to fly, but until I have gone through the mass of data we have collected I must defer any announcement of these conclusions.

"I shall probably deliver fifteen or more lectures in New York and elsewhere during the coming year. We have between 15,000 and 20,000 feet of motion picture film taken by our photographer, Mr. Tee Van, showing the animal life on the islands, besides more than 400 photographs."

Professor Bebe said that the tameness of the animals and reptiles was a never-ending source of wonder to the members of the expedition. The sea lions especially seemed to have a strong bump of curiosity, according to Miss Cooper, a member of the party, who told of their coming to within two or three feet of her as she sat on the shore. "One huge old fellow in particular," she said, "suddenly floundered up to where I was sitting and sniffed at me like a big Newfoundland dog. I think I was more startled than he."

"This tameness of the animals made us rather careless," said Gilbert Broking, another member of the party. "When we captured the first of the giant land lizards, we handled them rather nonchalantly, until one of them, held by the tail by one of the crew, suddenly snapped at the calf of his leg. But for the heavy leather puttee the man wearing the reptile would have gone away with a sizable piece of his leg, for their jaws are very powerful, and they never let go."

In the cargo are giant marine and land lizards, a giant tortoise, one of the last of an ancient race, which died after a few days on the boat; flightless cormorants, tropical penguins, and many other specimens of animal life. In addition there were many specimens of cactus and a complete botanical collection.

COULD HARDLY DO ANY WORK

Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound This Woman Feels So Well

Koesville, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly for the good it has done for me. I was so weak and troubled with neuralgia, weakness, I could hardly do any work. I saw your advertisement in the paper and read it to my husband. He said 'You had better try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.' I bought six bottles, and by taking it I am now as well as I was. I am gaining strength and getting fleshy. I have never felt so well. The Liver Pills are the best I ever took. If you think I am not telling the truth, please send me your permission to use it as an advertisement in your paper. Box 171, Koesville, N. Y."

Doing the housework for the average American family is some task and many women lose their health in so doing. If you, as a housewife, are troubled with backache, irascibility, are easily tired, out and irritable, or have other disagreeable ailments caused by weakness, give Lydia E. $500 VERDICT FOR MAN'S DEATH CALLED TRAVESTY

U. S. Judge Censures Jury for Small Award to Auto Victim's Widow; Sets It Aside

Federal Judge Botine has censured a jury in the Newark court for a verdict which he termed a "travesty on justice." The twelve men had awarded $500 to Mrs. Florence Wolfe, widow of Arnold Wolfe, of 178 Simpson street, the Bronx, for the automobile accident in which her husband lost his life.

"If a man's life is worth anything at all, it is worth more than $500," the judge declared. "I will not accept such a verdict in this court. If the jury wanted to find for the defendant that would have been satisfactory. But since it was in favor of the plaintiff it was nothing less than a travesty on justice."

Wolfe was killed in an accident between Liberty and Monticello on June 6, 1920. The suit for damages brought against Herman H. Springer, of Newark, driver of the machine which caused Wolfe's death.

HYMNS IN JAZZ HELP TO CONVERT HEATHEN

Singing of Modern Tunes Appeals to Minds of Uncivilized People

Ragtime and "jazz" may be working to the detriment of Young America but their syncopated strains are winning converts to Christian ideals in Timbuctoo, Tibet and Tahiti, according to Paul Rader, evangelist and president of the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

"American jazz music is used by our more than 100 missionaries to attract the attention of and ensemble the most savage people to our fields of evangelistic service," Mr. Rader said. "Our missionaries carry no arms but through musical instruments and their voices raised in song and prayer, ply their work of converting the heathen. Sacred words are put to modern jazz songs, noble thoughts to popular tunes, and then sung with a spirit that attracts the black, yellow and brown faces.

"All sorts of hymns are sung, but we find that the rhythm of ragtime tunes delights the simple mind of the savage, appeals to his ton-ton trained mind, and the first thing the missionary knows the wild man is singing Christian words, learning while religious theology and presently is converted."

USES BILLY WHEN CAR FAILS TO STUN VICTIM

Robert H. Smith of West Hoboken, was crossing the street at Summit avenue and Violet street, West Hoboken, when an automobile struck him and knocked him down.

He jumped to his feet, ran toward the car, which had halted, and yelled: "If you hadn't been driving recklessly you wouldn't have hit me!"

The driver answered by hitting Smith with a blackjack. The car moved leisurely away and Smith was taken home in an ambulance.

How He Relieved His Rupture

Old Sea Captain Relieved His Own Rupture After Doctors Said "Operate or Death."

His Remedy and Book Sent Free. Captain Collings sailed the seas for many years; then he sustained a bad double rupture that soon forced him to not only remain ashore, but kept him bedridden for years. He tried doctor after doctor and truss after truss. No results! Finally, he was assured that he must either submit to a dangerous and abhorrent operation or die. He did neither! He relieved himself instead.

Captain Collings made a study of himself, of his condition—and at last he was rewarded by the finding of the method that so quickly made him a well, strong, vigorous and happy man. Anyone can use the same method; it's simple, easy, safe and inexpensive. Every ruptured person in the world should have the Captain Collings book, telling all about how he relieved himself, and how anyone may follow the same treatment in their own home without any trouble. The book and medicine are FREE. They will be sent prepaid to any ruptured sufferer who will fill out the below coupon. But send it right away—now—before you put down this paper.

Ottawa, May 22.—The prohibitive cost of reducing peat to briquette form was emphasized before the Commission on mines and minerals recently by B. F. Haswell, chief of fuel testing division of the Department of Mines. He claimed that the process of manufacture had been found to use more in fuel than the value of the peat briquettes produced. A sample briquette he submitted for the committee's examination would, he claimed, cost as much as $20 a ton to manufacture.

His conclusion was that the sun-drying process was the only one which was commercially feasible for the use of peat.

Of this amount, $40,500 came through yesterday in special subscriptions; $12,000 was gathered by team collectors; $2,000 by business women, and $610 by business men. The principal speaker at the luncheon was Mr. John A. Tory, who gave the workers some excellent pointers on selling. In addressing the men present he said: "Our honor is at stake. The women have lined up solidly behind the men over and over again, and now we've got to rally behind the women."

The larger contributions announced yesterday by the Special Gifts Committee included: Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Wood, $10,000; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Williams, $5,000; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. L. Thomas A. Edison, called by the United States Government to give evidence in an inquiry as to the influence of motion pictures on public opinion, confidently declared the pictures to be the most potent influence now bearing on public opinion. He stated as confidently that the sphere of the movies would expand until they replaced books as the medium for teaching.

On many subjects Mr. Edison's knowledge and wisdom are great. Perhaps he knows more about the mechanical side of motion pictures than any other. He has made valuable discoveries in his laboratory. But laboratory work cannot qualify him to speak with infallible authority on the question of the influencing of public opinion. His absorption in scientific work would rather tend to prevent his forming a very careful judgment on such a subject.

Few people would agree with Mr. Edison that the movie has become the most influential force in moulding public opinion. Most observers would still credit the printed word with greater power. In fact, the movies still must have the assistance of the printed word to make themselves comprehensible. Neither will it be believed that text books as agencies of education are to become obsolete. There are many things that cannot be taught by pictures.

The movies do exert a subtle influence on the popular mind and are a good medium of propaganda. Their principal field, however, remains that

Fresh Air Camp For The Children Is In Prospect

It was announced yesterday that the Red Cross Society would pay the salary of a nurse for the summer fresh air camp which was recommended at a recent meeting of the board of governors of the Health Centre.

The camp hours will be from 9 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the evening. Dinner will be served in the middle of the day and helping to prepare the vegetables will be part of the regular routine for boys and girls alike.

At 10 o'clock in the morning there will be a milk lunch with sandwiches or biscuits and again at 3 or 4 o'clock in the afternoon there will be another milk lunch. The nurse will be in charge always and there will be a regular camp routine with simple lessons, simple gymnasium drills and regular rest periods.

Canvas cots will be needed for the rest periods as well as pillows and blankets. It is expected that some of these may be loaned. The camp will be under the supervision by a doctor and the routine for each child as well as the diet for each child will be arranged according to its state of health and its requirements. There will be a camp cook and that position will not be a sinecure.

The summer camp project is one proposed by the Health Centre governors and the under-nourished children who are attending the clinics at the Centre will be those enrolled for the summer camp. There are already thirty children registered at the present clinics who are greatly in need of the healthful, restful and body-building summer programme that the camp would provide.
