THE SAINT JOHN CHRONICLE.

Published every Friday afternoon, by Wm. St. John, at his Office in the Brick Building of L. H. Dyer & Son, west side Prince Wm. street.

It contains Visiting and Business Cards, (state and ornamental,) Handbills, Blanks, and Printing generally, neatly executed.

125.00 per dozen of 100 copies.

With the termination of the year:

But as the Proprietor intends to discontinue, as far as practicable, the Credit system, and stop the practice of making good purchases, until the time who never pay, such goods were preserved without any material alteration.

About one thousand dollars are to be given to the poor, and a sum equal to the amount of the dead and brigandage distinguished in his own estimation.

His body was discovered lying on the floor, with the head and face mortified by a pistol and all details to the cause of the catastrophe were disclosed by the discovery of the last will and testament, which contained no secret, may persons say self-evident.

It was in this will, it is understood, the deceased.

This paper contained the following words:

"I am raised—a billion has failed me of my treasured silver; but I have nothing else; and I have nothing else</

From Late English Paper.

Mr. SALOMON, a Jew, as member for Greenwich, has created some excitement, he having refused to take the oath of abjuration in the form prescribed by law, but persisting in taking his seat. The oath contains the words, "on the true faith of a Christian," which up to the present time are stumbling-block in the way of all Jews, Turks, and heathen, whom the mass Christianity of the nation may foist upon a British Legislature. It is maintained by some that this oath was never intended for the exclusion of Jews, and yet it would be hard to distort the plain and obvious meaning of the phrase into any other signification. Those who attempt it pay but a sorry compliment to their own profession of the Christian faith. Certainly it may be allowed to the framers of the oath—that they took an enlarged view of their responsibility, and designed thereby, in addition to other motives, to preserve intact the Christian character of the British Parliament, in so far as human means could effect their purpose. If then, that was the case in their day, how much more necessary ought it to be now, when the liberal spirit of the age is tolerant of every vicious principle that can work itself into consequence through individual impudence or talent, or by the force of numbers, or the power of gold collected for bribery and corruption. A rich Jew, taking advantage of this unchristian liberality, and dexterously applying the other means at his disposal, becomes the instrument by which the only real check in the civilized world to the general diffusion of infidelity is to be removed. It has been seen that owing to the peculiar circumstances attached to his case, Mr. Colden, has done that which no wise congress in modern times has been able to effect. They have caused the dissipation through both Houses of Parliament, and will be law, perhaps, as soon as this sheet will reach the reader's eye.

We look upon the bill as a Protestant triumph. The bill declares the Papal Church to be a pretended one, an impostor, a counterfeiter!—It banishes the Pope and Popery, and is a national warning to the Romish community, that their religious system is a fraud, a cheat, and a lie. They have stopped the increase of the remainder by depriving many of them of bread. They have been worse enemies to human happiness than either the rivalry of kings, or the ambition of their ministers; they have done that to stop the growth of mankind which neither the Guillotine of the Convention nor the sword of Napoleon could have effected. They have not only mowed down the present generation, but prevented the possibility of its restoration; for they have deprived the majority of those who survive, not only of subsistence for the present, but hope for the future.

SAINT JOHN, AUGUST 29, 1851.

THE HALIFAX AND QUEBEC RAILWAY.—The impression has gone abroad that the Conservatives of Halifax are opposed to Mr. Howe's scheme of carrying out his great project, with which the European and North American Railway, through New Brunswick, is directly connected. We copy the following extracts from the published assertions of Messrs. David Allison and Thomas R. Gossin, the Conservative candidates respectively for the Town and County of Halifax, Mr. Allison says—

"To prevent any misapprehension of my views respecting the railway, I have been pleased to append a more detailed statement of them than appears in my card.

"I am in favor of constructing the railway under the direction and control of the Executive branch of the Loan obtained under the Imperial guarantee. At this moment the House of Lords will be able to maintain the position they have assumed; or whether or not the integrity and independent action of that branch of the Legislature may be impaired by a concession to the views of the Commons. The progression of the present day, in so far as British legislation is concerned, affords occasion for melancholy instances of declension from the spirit which actuated the builders of the British Constitution, and from the religious policy in which its chief stability has hitherto been deemed to consist."

The Peace Congress met at Exeter Hall, on Tuesday July 22. The great hall was crowded to excess, and the platform was completely crammed by delegates, a vast number of the gentleman being foreigners. Besides the English delegates, there were representatives from many of the states of Europe and from America. The following resolutions were passed:—

1. That it is the especial and solemn duty of all ministers of religion, instructors of youth, and conductors of the public press, to employ their great influence in the diffusion of pacific principles and sentiments, and in exciting the public mind to a due sense of the importance and value of moral and spiritual piety, which have been the cause of disastrous wars.

2. That as an appeal to the sword can settle no question, or any principle of equity and right, it is the duty of governments to refer to the decision of competent and impartial arbitrators, such differences among themselves as cannot be otherwise amicably adjusted.

3. That the standing armaments with which the Governments of Europe menace each other, and professions of mutual hostility and contemptuous regard for the rights of humanity, financial and commercial, and national, living as they do in constant disquietude and irritation among the nations, this Congress would earnestly urge upon the Government the imperative necessity of entering upon a system of national disarmament.

THE CENSUS AND FREE TRADE.

(From Blackwood's Magazine.)

We close with the words, rendered now more impressive from the entire confirmation they have received through subsequent revelations of disaster, with which we ended a similar essay two years ago. "Let the free trade be of good cheer; they have done marvellous things. They have stopped the growth of our population, and for the first time during five centuries restored it retrograde." But the now ascertained result has greatly outstripped what we then predicted—so much have the real effect of free-traders' measures gone beyond what the most gloomy imagination among the protectionists could then anticipate. Irrespective of plague, pestilence, and famine, they have caused a check in five years in the Irish population of 1,800,000 souls, in the whole empire of 300,000,000. They have sent, for the last three years, from 250,000 to 300,000 people yearly out of the country in search of that food of which they were deprived at home. They have with one blow swamped the poor law amendment act in England, rendered necessary a crushing rate in Ireland and Scotland, and made rates higher in England during two years of boasted prosperity, when measured in grain, their real standard, than they ever were before in the two years of deepest misery. They have committed crime, during these two honest years, to an extent never before known in the greatest period of this disaster. They have, on the admission of their ablest supporters, rendered agricultural industry unremunerative for two years and a half over the whole country. They have cut 9,000,000 annually of the income of trades and professions, £20,000,000 off the rent of land in Great Britain. They have destroyed all hope, as long as their system is continued, of reducing the debt; and have added 20 per cent. to its weight by taking as much of the incomes of those by whom it is to be paid. They have extorted, or rather imposed, 200,000 cultivators in Ireland. They have lowered, by their momentary system revenue, property of half over the whole empire and cut a moiety of its whole commercial wealth. They have rendered the nation dependent, in three years, for a fourth part of the entire food of the people on foreign states. They have compelled the government, by the cheapening system, and consequent decline of the revenue which it is possible to extract from the people, to lower the national establishments so much that the occurrence of disastrous, or the first breaking out of hostilities, is a matter of certainty; and the maintenance of the national independence, if the present system is continued for any length of time, has become impossible. They have destroyed £100,000,000 worth of property in the West Indies. They have sown the seeds of separation by severing the bond of protection in Canada, and diffused such discontent through the other colonies, that, in despair of preserving them, they are prepared to abandon them. They have repealed the navigation laws, and caused two thirds of the annual importation of the shipping employed in carrying out trade, to pass into the hands of our enemies. They have been worse enemies to human happiness than either the rivalry of kings, or the ambition of their ministers; they have done that to stop the growth of mankind which neither the Guillotine of the Convention nor the sword of Napoleon could have effected. They have not only mowed down the present generation, but prevented the possibility of its restoration; for they have deprived the majority of those who survive, not only of subsistence for the present, but hope for the future.

There is a time for all things, and that of the downfall of Popery among the rest; and that time is fast approaching is our firm belief. In England where from its being first tolerated, then countlessly nested, and latterly singularly patronized by a Government whose laws pronounced it a "damnable heresy," it has become rampant, and exhibited itself in all its native deformity; so much so as to arouse the nations voice in loud acclaim and curse the Legislature of the Land, always almost so, and now unceasingly, to execrate its might at the bidding of an insulted people, and again replace those trammels on a besotted and incorrigible sect whose only sin is undisputed and absolute Tyranny, over both the bodies and souls of their fellow men. The papal aggression till has now become a law of the land, and that it will be followed up with still more stringent enactments, must be apparent to all who observe the "Signs of the times. In this opinion we are not alone, as will be seen from the following nervous remarks from the "Church Sentinel." The recent treasonable attempt of Pope and Papists, to envelop England in its beautified darkness, has conceive, under Providence furnished the means (at no distant period) for its utter expulsion from the realms of Christendom.

A DISSIDENT.—The agitation of the Rail Road

question which has of late convulsed the Provinces from one end to the other, has not been confined within our borders, but has also reached our Western Neighbours, and drawn their attention to this hitherto unknown land. An unusual number of Americans have in consequence visited the City this summer, drawn hither, by curiosity or a spirit of speculation. It affords us much pleasure to find that strangers are beginning to notice us, and while we hail them with a cordial greeting, we feel that it is the duty of every citizen to extend to them every possible courtesy. On their landing the first question which they find necessary to put to us is, "What is to be done?" We have endeavored to propound an answer to this question, and therefore I and many other freethinkers alike interested in the result, am anxious to have a full understanding before the meeting takes place, otherwise it may turn out to be

A PEACEABLE ASSEMBLY.

During the last few days a newspaper has been in circulation in our vicinity to the following effect: It is stated that Friday last, as three children were running about the streets of Liberty, in Amherst county, they were attacked by a pack of dogs in pursuit of runaway negroes. The dogs fell in open pursuit, and before assistance could be rendered, killed and nearly devoured every one of them. The father of the children, hearing their screams succeeded in killing one of them. At this time the owner of the dogs rode up, and threatened to shoot the father if he shot any more of his dogs. The distressed father reloading his gun, and deliberately shot the owner of the dogs through the heart; after which he gave himself up, was tried and discharged. We have not heard the names of any of the parties.

COUGHING, DROPSIES, COLD OR BLOWN, NIGHT SWEATS, ASTHMA, LIVER COMPLAINTS, AND CONSUMPTION.

DO NOT NEGLECT.
CONSUMPTION.

Can and has been cured in thousands of cases
by this only certain remedy.

Judson's Extract of Cherry and Lungwort.

and no remedy has ever before been discovered which will exert such a powerful influence over the patient which cures so much difficulty.

The patient is strengthened and relieved of Pulmonary Consumption, where the lungs have become diseased and ulcerated, and the case is entirely hopeless as to have been pronounced by physicians and friends to be past all possibility of cure; and the patient is relieved of his disease
and cured by this wonderful remedy, and are now as well and healthy as ever. It is a compound of medicines which are peculiar adopted to and essentially necessary for the cure of

COUGHS AND CONSUMPTION.

It is a medicine which cures all diseases of the lungs, which were said to be incurable, but which are now cured by this extract, and the cure is first only a palliative but a cure for ulcerated lungs. It contains no deleterious drugs, and one will prove its distinguishing efficacy better than any other of remedies in curing consumption
and other diseases of the lungs.

CARLTON'S CONDITION POWDERS FOR HORSES
CATTLE.

The changes of season and weather, and the change of use and food, have a very great effect
on the sinews of horses, and have a great effect on the muscles of the body, but that they will result in the Yellow Fever, Itches, Worms, Hots, &c., all of which will be prevented by this powder, which is applied to the skin, cures
any symptoms of disease, appears to be a certain remedy for the cure of the ring bone, and the like diseases, and will shorten
the time of recovery.

NEW BRUNSWICK
SASH, DOOR, AND BLIND, STEAM
FACTORY.—Harding Street, St. John.

HAVING put up the best Machinery that can be procured for the manufacture of Doors,
Blinds, inside and outside Blinds, Window
Frames, Mouldings, and other kinds of Wood Work. I am prepared to furnish to any extent the best and cheapest article ever offered to the people of this Province.

Those who buy the Plough would desire,

JOHN E. TURNBULL.

YULCAN FOUNDRY
MAIN STREET, LOWER COVE, ST.
JOHN, N. B.

The above Establishment has been greatly enlarged; it is in full and active operation,
and the facilities for work in every department of the Iron Foundry and Blacksmith Business

are perfectly equal to any in the country.
The articles manufactured are of the best quality, and will last many years.

They have been used by Farmers, Merchants, Manufacturers, and others with the most decided success.

Caution—None can be genuine unless you find
the name of J. Carlton on the Wrappers of each article.

CARLTON'S VERNIFUGE.

This is the most extraordinary remedy for Worms ever used; it effectively eradicates them from both Adults and Children. It cannot harm the most delicate infant or strongest Adult, and removes them from the body, and down all kinds of Worms. The cost, 25 cts. per bottle, puts it within reach of all, and all parents who are willing to trust their children to the care of such persons, will be anxious to find the name of J. Carlton on the Wrappers of each article.

CAUTION—None can be genuine unless you find the name of J. Carlton on the Wrappers of each article.

DEAFNESS.

Use Dr. LINZEY'S ACOUSTIC OIL, for the cure of Deafness. Also, all those disagreeable noises like the buzzing of insects, falling of water, etc., are removed by this Oil. It is a powerful preservative. Many persons who have lost their hearing for fifteen, twenty years, and were subject of ear-pains, have, after using one or two bottles, thrown away their trumpet, bell,
etc., and were thirty years younger than before.
