German Airplanes Bombard Dunkirk Region, Killing Several Among Civilians.

Paris, Sept. 12.—French troops last night attacked the German trenches in the region of St. Souplet in the Champagne and succeeded in smashing the first two German lines and entering the third positons.

All the German troops garrisoning these trenches, the French war office announced this afternoon, were either killed or taken prisoner.

The text of the statement follows:

Spirited Fight.

"In the Champagne district we conducted successfully several raids into the German lines, one northeast of Auberive, and the other to the east of the road between St. Hilaire and St. Souplet. At this latter point French detachments penetrated as far as the third German lines. A spirited fight developed, in the course of which the German garrison was either killed or made prisoner. We blew up numerous shelters and brought back important raw material.

Attacks Repulsed.

"On the right bank of the river Meuse we repulsed two attacks upon our advanced posts to the north of Caurieres Wood and to the north of Ronvaux.

London, Sept. 12.—German troops this morning attacked the British trenches east of Hargicourt, Field Marshal Haig reported today from the British headquarters in France. MIMIC WARFARE IN THIS CITY ABOUT AS STRENUOUS AS THE REAL THING IN FLANDERS

Advertiser Illustrations

Thousands of visitors to the Western Fair on Tuesday got a taste of the thrills of war without the attendant dangers when the C. E. F. troops of the London mobilization camp staged a mimic warfare at Queen's Park, which was the most realistic and strenuous of its kind ever attempted. Four actual casualties were reported during the "engagements" in front of the grandstand.

Action pictures by an Advertiser camera man caught the soldiers in rehearsal for some of the stirring scenes of the war drama.

1—"Gas" wave sweeping down on front-line trenches.
2—Into the enemy trenches with the cold steel.
3—Over the top to the attack.
4—A casualty being placed on stretcher by stretcher-bearers of A. M. C.
5—Gas-helmeted riflemen in action.
6—Crossing No Man's Land after a victorious sortie into "enemy" trenches which have been captured and consolidated.
7—First wave of attackers, with respirators fixed, coming out of their trench to the attack.

FARMERS' DAY CROWDS BEST YET FOR 1917 RECORD AT WESTERN

Attendance Today Double That of Previous Days in Week—Special Trains, Augmented by Hundreds of Autos, Bring In Thousands From Out of Town to London's Exhibition.

Today was "Farmers' Day" at the Western Fair, and it lived up to its reputation by being the most successful of the exhibition. The crowds on the grounds early today were almost twice as great as those of Monday and Tuesday. Every exhibition building was filled so that progress through them was to be made with the greatest difficulty. The Crystal Palace, in particular, was visited by thousands. Every exhibit there proved an attraction, and interested groups surrounded each throughout the day.

All the judging has been completed, and visitors today were able to pick out the winning entries by the red and blue prize tickets. The augmented staff of the fair board is utilizing every minute to get the returns in order, and it is expected that it will be possible to award the prizes on Friday.

More than half the visitors today were from outside points, special rates prevailing on both railways for the day. Every train which arrived this morning was crowded, and the downtown streets were black with people coming from the railroad stations. Even the later trains were crowded. At the grounds the size of the attendance was again evident in the lines which waited before the booths to obtain the right change for admission.

Stock Exhibits Popular.

As was to be expected most of the farmers were interested in the agricultural and stock exhibits, and the buildings containing these were visited by hundreds more than on the previous days.

The Midway opened early in the morning and remained wide open throughout the day. Every one of the shows was well patronized, and the smaller tents dispensing orangeade and cider did a tremendous business. The weather was ideal. The extreme heat of previous years was missing, and the temperature was considerably higher than it had been on the opening days. This accounted for a large attendance at the afternoon performance before the grandstand. The stands were filled.

The morning was free from accidents, the services of members of No. 4 Nursing Division being required only to dress a number of minor injuries. The new wheeled litter, which the division has obtained, was at the dressing station for the first time today. It is rubber-tired and will insure rapid service in case of emergency, in addition to making the work of the nurses much lighter. The stretcher is detachable and can be carried as well as wheeled, should the need arise.

One of the latest amusement devices was erected today. It was at first intended to place this in the centre of the Midway, but there was not sufficient room.

Hundreds of Autos.

In addition to visitors who came by train, there were hundreds who motored to the city. Nearly every farmer living close to the city and possessing a car made the trip to the exhibition today, and as a result the parking space for cars was taxed to the limit. Private parking grounds along King and Dundas streets were also filled to capacity.

ENEMY TO ANGLE FOR A SEPARATE PEACE WITH U. S.

Vatican Hears Such An Effort May Be Made Soon.

BY JOHN H. HEARLEY.
[Special to The Advertiser.]

Rome, Sept. 12.—Germany and Austria may angle for a separate peace discussion with America in their reply to Pope Benedict's peace note.

Vatican informants today said there was reason to believe that the German Government was speculating on how far the Allies would be guided by President Wilson, the spokesman of a nation which was not a party to the London compact, pledging no separate peace.

Coupled with this came reports today that there was considerable agitation in Austria for a separate diplomatic discussion with President Wilson, through some neutral agency. Possibly the Vatican might serve as an intermediary.

Premier Pasitsch of Serbia, declared to the United Press today that his nation would make no formal protest over Pope Benedict's omission to specify necessity for consideration of Serbia's rights. Private representations however, will be made to the Vatican in this regard, he said.

ALBERTA FARMERS WILL BE SATISFIED WITH WHEAT PRICE

This Is Opinion of Secretary H. P. Woodbridge.

Calgary, Sept. 11.—"As a whole the farmers of Alberta will, I think, be well satisfied with the price of $2.21 for No. 1 northern fixed by the supervisors," stated H. P. Woodbridge, secretary of the United Alberta Farmers. "There will be a certain amount of dissatisfaction from farmers in districts that have a poor yield, but generally it will be satisfactory. It is one of the features that is perhaps better than we anticipated—that is, the closeness of the spread in the three grades. It is eminently satisfactory.

"The mere fact that the Government has set a price on wheat is very much to our advantage, for we are now justified in asking that prices be fixed on other commodities, such as farming machinery and flour."

GERMAN CHARGE IN ARGENTINA TO GO WHEN DISCOVERED; GOVERNMENT ASKS EXPLANATION OF ACTIONS FROM BERLIN

Teuton Representative in Buenos Ayres Missing, His Whereabouts Not Being Known to South American Government.

Buenos Ayres, Sept. 12.—The Argentine Government at noon today sent to the German legation passports to be delivered to Count Luxburg, the German charge d'affaires in Buenos Ayres. The whereabouts of Count Luxburg still is unknown to the Argentine Government.

The Argentine foreign office today sent a communication to the German foreign ministry, demanding an explanation of Count Luxburg's action in sending the secret code messages to Berlin through the Swedish legation.

GOVERNMENT FORCE MEETS AND STOPS KORNILOFF'S MARCH

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.
[Special to The Advertiser.]

Petrograd, Sept. 12.—Tsarkoe Selo, where the czar formerly spent most of his time in his summer palace, may be the scene of the first big clash between General Korniloff's rebels and the Provisional Government's troops.

Word received here today said the revolting forces were advancing rapidly toward that point, twenty miles from the city, and that a clash was momentarily expected there.

A thousand sharpshooters, hurried from Petrograd, met the advance forces of General Korniloff's revolting troops at a point 26 miles from Petrograd and stopped their advance.

New Optimism.

Prompt action by the Government indicating drastic measures to put down the revolt, coupled with news of this initial achievement in checking the revolters, created new optimism in Petrograd. Great bodies of loyal Government troops are departing from the city almost hourly to oppose the rebels.

Kerensky was quoted today as expressing the hope, despite the tightening of Korniloff's lines around the city, that here will be no wholesale bloodshed.

The encircling attempt of the Korniloff rebels has reached Gatschina, nineteen miles from the city.

Cossacks With Korniloff.

The Don Cossacks are apparently aligned with General Korniloff. General Kaledin, head of this force, reported today to Premier Kerensky that the Provisional Government would do well to accept Korniloff's ultimatum requiring surrender of governmental powers, otherwise Petrograd would find itself isolated from Moscow by cutting off all rail communications.

Pres reports received here today asserted that eneral Klembovsky, the newly named commander-in-chief of Russia's armies, has joined Korniloff in his revolt. Confirmation was unobtainable here. It was understood, however, that Klembovsky's formal institution into his new duties had been held up.

Tancrede Marsil Has Rough Handling and Is Now In Hospital

Says Soldiers and Civilian Beat Him Until He Lost Consciousness.

Montreal, Sept. 12.—Tancrede Marsil, anti-conscriptionist, was severely beaten last night on Fletcher's Field, and is now a patient in the General Hospital. He says he was set upon by two soldiers and a civilian, and was carried to the hospital in an unconscious condition.

How long the fight lasted he could not tell, as he says he lost consciousness and woke up in the hospital.

KORNILOFF PLANS NEW MONARCHY IN RUSSIA, IS REPORT

Would Put Prince Dolgorouki On the Throne.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

London, Sept. 12.—Gen. Korniloff plans to place the head of the Dolgoroki family on the throne of Russia, according to reports which reached here today.

One member of that family, Prince Dolgoroki is now a voluntary exile with the former czar at Tebolsk, and presumably it is this representative of the family which the revolting Russian general aspires to put into power. He is one of the greatest nobles in Russia.

BRITISH NAVAL AIRMEN SEND MANY GERMAN FLIERS DOWN

Also Bomb Various Objectives With Good Results.

ALL RETURN IN SAFETY

In Spite of Battles With Several Enemy Machines.

MANY AIRDROMES BOMBED

Direct Hit Observed On One Hangar On Thourout Field.

London, Sept. 12.—Further extensive bombing raids have been carried out by the British naval air service on various objectives, chiefly in Belgium, in the course of which successful engagements were fought with hostile machines. The official announcement of these operations reads:

"In the last 24 hours many flight patrols have been carried out by the naval air service. One of these patrols engaged two enemy spotting machines, one being shot down and the machine crashing into the sea, and the other landing almost intact in our lines. The pilot and observer of the latter machine were made prisoners. Two other enemy machines were attacked and driven down during the sweep by our machines. In conjunction with a bombing raid nine enemy machines were encountered, five of which are believed to have been driven down out of control.

"Bombing raids were made last night on the St. Denis Westrem airdrome, the Gontrode airdrome, the Bruges docks, the Thourout railway junction, and on railway objectives near Ghent. Several tons of explosives were dropped.

"During yesterday forenoon a bombing raid was made on Sparapelhoek, the Thourout airdrome and the Engel ammunition dump. At Sparapelnoek bombs were observed to explode amongst the hangars, causing much smoke, and at Thourout a direct hit was observed on a hangar. At Engel ammunition dump a large fire was caused. The bombing formation was attacked by enemy machines, and one of the latter was shot down, smoking and out of control. Many tons of explosives were dropped.

"From all these operations all the machines and pilots returned safely."

FINANCIAL HELP OF UNITED STATES HAS SAVED THE ALLIES

Bonar Law Says Without It Outlook Bad.

London, Sept. 12.—Andrew Bonar Law, speaking today at a luncheon given by the Empire Parliamentary Association to Medill MacCormack, congressman-at-large for Illinois, said:

"In everything connected with the military arm the Germans have shown remarkable results, even genius. But on the dealings with questions of human nature they have repeatedly made mistakes which have been the salvation of the Entente Allies. No mistakes they have made will be so great in its consequences as that which drive the United States into the war."

"The Germans lately," Mr. Bonar Law continued, "have been saying that the Entente was relying on the United States as their last hope. I want to say to you that we do rely on the United States.

"As chancellor of the exchequer I am ready to say to you now what I should have been sorry to have had to say six months ago, namely, that without the United States' financial assistance the Allies would have been in disastrous straits today."

"We have not yet seen the end.

"Perhaps I may be excused from speaking of the Russian situation, except to say how much we sympathize with Russia in her time of anguish, and that we hope she yet may be able to render us assistance in the great cause.

"The American people, like us, are people of hard practical sense, and realize that the war now has become largely a question of nerves, endurance and staying power. Thank God we of England and America have those qualities and shall see this thing through to victory."

HOSPITALS UNIT HEADQUARTERS TO REMAIN IN CITY

Proposed Move of "F" Unit to Guelph Frowned On.

THIS IS GLASS' REPORT

M. P. Wires Trade Board London Remains Head—New Hospital To Start Soon.

Gordon Philip, industrial commissioner and secretary of the board of trade, has received what is tantamount to an official denial of the stories that the headquarters of F Unit, Military Hospitals Commission, would be transferred from London to Guelph, where the new military hospital has been opened in what was formerly the old Ontario prison farm. Following the publication of the reports of the proposed transfer, Mr. Philip telegraphed to S. F. Glass, M. P., at Ottawa. He has received a reply from Mr. Glass assuring him that the headquarters will remain here.

In Mr. Glass' telegram he says that he has been at the headquarters of the Military Hospital Commission command and that the change is not favored there.

The text of his reply follows:

"Interviewed headquarters Military Hospitals Commission here today. Am authorized to state that proposed move of F. Unit headquarters from London to Guelph is not favorably considered. On contrary, London will remain headquarters for Military District No. 1. Plans for commodious new hospital on O'Dell site about complete. Construction will very soon be under way."

EX-LONDONER MAY BECOME NEW HEAD OF I.O.O.F. COURTS

Fred Darch Picked For New Supreme Chief Ranger.

Fred Darch, formerly of London and now high secretary of the Independent Order of Foresters, is looked upon in many circles of the order as the logical successor to Supreme Chief Ranger Elliott G. Stevenson, whose resignation, because of ill-health, was accepted on Tuesday. Mr. Darch, whose work as secretary has won universal approbation, was a member of the London Water Commission for some years and one of the founders of the seed house of Darch & Hunter, Limited, of this city.

Mr. Stevenson was a Middlesex old boy. He was born in this county, but left for Michigan in early childhood. He studied law in Port Huron and was admitted to the bar of the state of Michigan in 1877. He is now a member of the firm of Stevenson, Carpenter Butzel and Bachus of Detroit. For some years he was mayor of Port Huron.

Since the death of Dr. Oronhyatekha in 1907, Mr. Stevenson has been supreme chief ranger. Two days of each week have been spent in Toronto looking after the affairs of the order, the other days being devoted to his Michigan law practice.

SHELL-RACKED NERVES CAUSED HIM TO PURSUE GIRLS FROM CARNIVAL

This Is Returned Soldier's Excuse and Magistrate Accepts It.

His nerves shattered as the result of his terrible experiences during the battles of Century Wood and Ypres, George Babbage, a returned soldier, charged with disorderly conduct, snatched the court Bible from the hands of Police Court Clerk Moule as the latter held it toward Babbage, who stood in the witness box, today.

Babbage was charged with disorderly conduct, but after his explanation regarding his inability to control his actions because of his nerves, the magistrate discharged him with a warning.

Patrolman Caughey, who made the arrest, testified that Babbage had persisted in following two girls from one of the carnival shows. In order to escape him they had hired a taxicab to drive them to their hotel. Babbage was persistent in his attentions, and leaped to the running-board of the taxi and refused to leave.

His action as he stepped into the witness box was sufficient to demonstrate to the magistrate that Babbage was telling the truth when he gave as explanation for his conduct that it was his nerves. He also stated that he consumed half a bottle of invalid wine and that had made his nervous condition worse.

He thanked the magistrate and promised not to do anything again that would require his arrest.

EX-CZAR'S BROTHER AND UNCLE SENT TO INTERIOR

Petrograd, Sept. 12.—The newspapers here announced today that by order of the Government, Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch and Paul Alexandrovitch have been transferred from their private residence at Gatchina, near Petrograd, to the ministry of the interior.

Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch is a brother of the deposed emperor. When the imperial regime was overthrown on March 16, Emperor Nicholas designated Grand Duke Michael as regent, but he in turn abdicated on the following day. Last week the former grand duke was arrested in connection with the discovery of a counter-plot. Ex-Grand Duke Paul Alexandrovitch is an uncle of the former emperor.

CALLS KERENSKY TOO RADICAL TO WELD RUSSIANS

Russian-Canadian Oil Magnate Believes Conservatism Needed.

HIS VIEWPOINT CHANGED

Proper Conception of Slav Republic Only Possible From Distance.

"Russia is a mystery land. One cannot tell what may happen," said Albert McGarvey, a prominent Russian oil magnate, who is now visiting with Joseph Scandrett at 835 Richmond street, after many years' absence in the land that was the czar's. Mr. McGarvey gave The Advertiser an interview on Russian conditions a few weeks ago, and today was asked for his view of the significance of Korniloff's rebellion.

"I cannot say much about it," he replied. "Kerensky is brilliant and all the rest, but he has too much radicalism. He hasn't the confidence of the conservative element. He should have a combination of the two elements. Then things might progress."

"Will the situation be serious for the Allies?" was asked.

"Well, some troops are still holding the front against the Germans," he replied. "There is that much to be said. Tomorrow there may be a new story.

"You know I'm just getting on to the Russian situation now. One has to go to Petrograd or out of the country to find what is going on. I have been in the Caucasus. I know more about Russia since I came home than when I was there. It is a strange land. The Russian is a peculiar man."

Mr. McGarvey is having his passports prepared at the present time, prior to leaving for London, Eng. He does not believe he will be able to get through to his oil properties at the present time.

HOLIDAYS SO FEW, BRING REPRIMAND WHEN ASKED FOR School Trustees Censure the Superintendent For Not Taking More.

RECORD OF FAITHFULNESS

Employee Who Has Been On Staff for Years Makes First Request For Leave.

A most interesting situation developed at a meeting of No. 2 committee of the board of education Tuesday afternoon. Superintendent of Works John Clemons asked for a two week's holiday.

Mr. Clemons has been a servant of the board for many years and this is the first time he has asked for a vacation.

"I think he ought to be reprimanded for not taking his holidays regularly," said Chairman Thomas Rowe.

He was given the leave unanimously. He has set a record for faithfulness that would be hard to duplicate.

G. A. Wenige, of the Bicycle and Motor Sales Company, offered to instal bicycle parks at the schools, provided he could use an advertising device on them. The committee thought it would be a dangerous precedent, and refused the proposition.

The city council was granted the use of the schools needed to hold the municipal elections on October 6th, and for meetings during the campaign.

FOUR INJURED WHEN CAR TURNS TURTLE IN SIX-FOOT DITCH

Alvinston Motor Party Cut, Bruised and Shocked Near Hyde Park Today.

James Hand, his son, Ernest, wife and two daughters, all of Alvinston, sustained injuries when the motor car in which they were riding, skidded into a six-foot ditch and turned turtle at a point three-quarters of a mile north of Hyde Park at 9 o'clock this morning.

The father and son were the most severely injured, both being thrown through the windshield and cut by glass. The three women were pinned beneath the car, and were unable to get out until the machine was raised. They were bruised and shaken up considerably, and suffered to a great extent from shock.

All were taken to the office of Dr. C. C. Ross of Hyde Park, where their injuries were given attention.

Ernest Hand was driving, and claims that a motorist coming in the opposite direction crowded him so close to the ditch that the car toppled over, and it skidded on the wet grass.

After some repairs to the car all were able to continue their journey to the city.

RUSSIAN MISSION TO WASHINGTON ARRIVES

Lands at Halifax and Proceeds to U. S. A.—Backs Kerensky.

Montreal, Sept. 12.—The Russian mission to Washington, returning the visit made to Petrograd by Senators Root and Admiral Glannon some months ago, arrived at the Windsor Hotel yesterday from Halifax and left last evening for the American capital, via New York. This important delegation from the provisional government of Russia is headed by Admiral Kaltschoff, who for eleven months was in command of the Russian fleet in the Black Sea at the beginning of the war.

The accompanying members of the deputation are: Capt. Smirnoff, Commandant Kaletshiyky, Lieut. Besoita and Lieut. Makoroff, all of whom were met at Halifax by a member of the Russian embassy in Washington, who accompanies the party to Washington.

Admiral Kaltschoff, in an interview, said that Kerensy had the confidence of the Russian people.

MONTANA LABOR FIGHT NEARING SETTLEMENT

Anaconda, Mont., Sept. 12.—Settlement of labor troubles which have hampered the mining industry of the Butte district for the last three months, was in sight today following the acceptance last night by the local smeltermen's union of the terms offered by the Anaconda Copper Mining Company. Reopening of the Anaconda Smelter, which is expected immediately, will permit the resumption of operations in the Butte mines and throughout the district generally, subsidiary strikes having been adjusted satisfactorily to both sides.

PLANT BURNED DOWN.

Detroit, Sept. 12.—The plant of the Standard Screw Company was destroyed by fire this morning. The loss, estimated at $200,000, is said to be covered by insurance. The plant was working on war orders. An official of the company said that crossed wires were seemingly responsible, but an investigation is being made. Fifty men were at work when the fire broke out. No one was injured.

BISHOP FALLON RESORTING TO COURTS, IN LIBEL SUIT, FOLLOWING TROUBLE AT FORD

Retains Counsel To Proceed Against Parish Members Whose Open Letter and Charges Are Claimed by Diocesan Head To Be Libellous.

T. J. Murphy, K. C., of the firm of McKillop, Murphy & Gunn has received word from Bishop M. F. Fallon, now at Baltimore, to commence actions for libel against several members of the congregation of Our Lady of the Lake Church at Ford City, Ont, for having made certain statements in a letter handed out for publication on August 26.

Newspapers publishing the letter will not be proceeded against, but the authors of the document will be compelled to answer for their statements in the courts. Thus an ecclesiastical dispute is brought directly into the civil courts, and there is every reason to believe that Bishop Fallon means to exercise his prerogative as a citizen and bring the whole question into the light of day. Charges made in the letter reflected seriously on the integrity of his lordship, and it said that nothing short of an ample apology will fit the case.

Names Letter Signers.

Those who will be named in the libel action signed the letter, which was issued at a time immediately after the publication of Bishop Fallon's letter in which he announced that the church would be closed unless Father Laurendeau was accepted as the rector. Father Laurendeau is of French descent, can preach in French, and it is said was selected for his peculiar fitness for the Ford City parish. He has apparently been able to control the situation at Ford, as the rioting which broke out Saturday on his appearance appears to have died out. The signators of the letter in question are as follows: Stanslas Janisse, president; Emile Lapanne, first vice-president; Joseph Reaume, second vice-president; Adolphe Beausoliel, secretary; Claude Reaume, treasurer.

While details of the bishop's complaint are not available in view of his absence from the city, it is believed that he takes most serious exception to his alleged treatment of several priests.

Said Allowance Unpaid.

One paragraph stated: "We cannot help but notice with what promptness you respond to the decrees of the ecclesiastical tribunals of the mother church, which had to award one judgment four times, to awarding an allowance to the late lamented Father St. Cyre, whom you deprived of a parish after he had served his Maker as a pastor of the flock for 20 years, which allowance is still unpaid, we understand."

Another statement referring to the alleged treatment of another priest by his lordship appears as follows: "We have also marveled at the scrupulous haste with which you complied with the repeated decisions of the ecclesiastical courts in the actions instituted against you by Father L. A. Beaudoin, of cherished memory to us, when an award of $7,000 was entered against you—a claim this congregation shall expect its future pastor to collect from episcopal authority."

Invaded Sanctity of Grave.

Further along in the article reference is made to a third priest: "He are also inspired by the loftiness of the example, in your course of relentless frightfulness against Monsigneur J. Edouard Meunier, also of cherished memory to us, the sanctity of whose grave you did not hesitate to invade. 'De mortuis nil nisi bonum' is still a golden principle in Ford."

Before the letter closed the bishop is accused of having treated a gentleman's agreement regarding the school situation at Windsor as a "scrap of paper" in "the manner of another exalted personage."

The whole letter is likely to be named in the action, and will probably be characterized by the bishop as a chain of mendacious falsehoods. Proceedings are now under way, and with his lordship's return from Baltimore more interesting developments are anticipated.

TORONTO PAPER SAYS BECK'S CHICKENS ARE COMING HOME

Breach of Treaty With U. S. Suggested To Get Power, It Declares—Failing This, Revision of Treaty Is Calmly Suggested—Steam in California Hydro System.

Under the heading, "Mr. Beck's Delemma," the Financial Post of Toronto has the following in its current issue:

The reckless disregard by Sir Adam Beck and the hydro commission of the fundamental principles of business in the conduct of the Niagara public ownership enterprise has been frequently pointed out by the Financial Post. Results are to be noted—chickens are coming home to roost. The false demand created by selling power below its market value has resulted in the commission being unable to meet consumption. The result is a situation which would probably ruin a private corporation. But instead of facing the crisis in a business way, it is evident that the use and abuse of legislative powers will be attempted.

To extricate itself form the difficult situation resulting from its own unbusinesslike methods, the commission has tried in several directions to over-ride established rights. The Chippewa project has been launched in violation of an agreement between the Government and the Electrical Development Company. The latter concern has been charged with taking too much water for power purposes with the evident idea of seizing any surplus. Other efforts have also been made to throttle the Development Company, and now, the seizure of all power exported from Canada is being contemplated. When it is pointed out that this power is being exported under agreement, that a breach of treaty concerning the rights of American citizens is proposed, the revision of the treaty is calmly suggested.

Has the time arrived when the commission will consider what we understand has been done by the pioneer development company in the California hydro field, which supplemented its service by steam turbines at different points, because they developed power on a cheaper basis than the hydro energy could be distributed?

SWEDES IN LONDON BLAMING THE QUEEN FOR BAD SITUATION

Rather Expect Rulers May Have To Go.

London, Sept. 12.—A woman's hand is today threatening to push the crown from another royal husband's head.

Far-reaching internal changes in Sweden, which might mean the retirement of the present rulers, King Oscar and Queen Victoria, are extremely probable as a result of the exposure of Sweden's duplicity in acting as messenger for Germany, according to Swedish authorities here.

"Another Sophie."

The changes that may come will be such that it will be possible no longer to doubt that Sweden is purely pro-Swedish. This might mean the elimination of Sweden's German-born queen and her royal husband.

"Another Sophie," was the way prominent Swedes in London referred to Queen Victoria today.

She is a clever, ambitious, intriguing woman, wielding great influence over the king. Queen Sophie of Greece, the kaiser's sister, cost Constantine his throne. And while the Swedish Government is not nominally controlled by the throne, Queen Victoria is credited with having exercised great power, both socially and politically over powerful "inner circles."

Has Wielded Influence.

Queen Victoria is a princess of Baden. Within the realm of her influence have been members of the nobility and wealthy senators. From among such men most of Sweden's diplomats have been chosen. It is the diplomatic service which now stands accused in the revelation from Washington.

"The queen has been less active lately than usual," one financier remarked here today. "She has been busy saving her throne."

Asked whether a republic in Sweden was within range of possibilities, he replied in the negative.

"The crown prince is highly regarded," the United Press informant said, "and besides his wife is English."

RELATIVES OF SLAIN MAN OBJECT TO EXCUSING OF MAN WHO KILLED HOULE

Montreal, Sept. 12.—Exception was taken yesterday to the verdict of the coroner's jury in the case of Henry Haines, who died from a fractured skull after having been struck by Arthur Houle at the Angus shops, by Haines' two sons.

Houle was excused, and one of the Haines brothers is alleged to have said that the jury, which was composed of French-Canadians, had been influenced by the spirit of nationality in excusing Houle.

The evidence showed Haines, boss of a gang of railway workers, called Houle "a dirty Frenchman and a coward" and challenged him to fight. Houle hit Haines under the jaw and he fell to the ground, striking his head. Houle said he lost his head, but did not mean to kill Haines.

The coroner explained the circumstances were against Houle, but the jury decided they would probably have done the same under the circumstances.

G. N. W. ARBITRATION PROCEEDINGS ENDED

Agreement On All Disputed Points Not Anticipated.

Montreal, Sept. 12.—The arbitration proceedings of the dispute between the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company and its employees has ended, but it is not likely that there will be any unanimous agreement on all points that have been raised.

The principal issues left in dispute between the company and its employees are as to what shall constitute a day's work, and the demand on the part of the men that the staff of the principal offices should be divided on a fixed percentage basis, a certain percentage of the employees being paid one wage rate and another a lower rate.

The company is opposed to this, and as a counter-proposition suggests that the work, and not the men, should be graded on account of the automatic printers now operated.

GERMAN ATTACK

Somme front, the British capturing a German trench nearly a quarter of a mile in extent. There were artillery duels in the neighborhood of Ypres, according to the official report from British headquarters in France tonight.

The text of the statement reads:

"As a result of local fighting in the neighborhood of Villeret, reported this morning, the Northumberland troops engaged in extending their gains southward a further 400 yards, occupying a German trench. Several prisoners were taken by us; our casualties were light.

Enemy Mown Down.

"This morning the enemy attacked our new positions, advancing in close formation, but was driven off by our fire. Later in the day two bombing attacks were made by the enemy from the south against our right flank, but were also repulsed, our troops concentrating the captured trenches.

"Artillery activity was particularly marked during the day southeast of Ypres and in the Nieuport sector.

"On Monday a thick haze again prevailed, and made work difficult. Despite this, observation was carried out for our artillery, both by airplanes and balloons. During the day our machines bombed two enemy airdromes near Cambrai and billets near Douai. During the night they dropped bombs on airdrome searchlights near Courtrai.

Ten Enemy Airplanes.

"In the airfighting yesterday three German airplanes were brought down; seven others were driven down out of control, two of which were brought down or driven down by one pilot. In one case this pilot descended within 50 feet of the ground and set fire to a machine he had brought down. He then regained our side of the line, still flying at 50 feet, although attacked by three hostile machines. Three of our machines are missing."

FRENCH AIRMEN ACTIVE.

PARIS, Sept. 11.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads:

"There was quite pronounced artillery activity in Belgium, in the sector of Casemates plateau, and on both banks of the Meuse.

"On September 10 three German airplanes were brought down in engagements with our pilots. A fourth enemy machine was destroyed by our special guns.

"Belgian communication: 'In the last 48 hours, in retaliation for the bombardment of our rear zone, our batteries have carried out numerous fires both day and night on enemy cantonments, depots and stations, and destroyed or silenced several batteries.

"'Our trench artillery rapidly took the upper hand. In bomb fighting before Dixmude an enemy patrol was dispersed by one of ours.

"'Our airplanes have carried out in the last two days 75 flights, taken numerous photographs, and engaged in several combats. In addition an enemy airplane was brought down this morning inside our lines and a second aeroplane was brought down in the enemy lines near Schorbakz.'"

LIEUTS. TOM MURRAY RETURN FROM FRONT TO LONDON TODAY

T. H. of Postal Corps, T. F. of 70th Back.

WILL COMPLETE COURSE

Medical Student Subaltern To Qualify as Doctor To Return To Front.

Lieut. Thomas F. Murray arrived in the city about noon today, and was met at the G. T. R. station by the members of his family and a large circle of friends, who had learned of his home coming. He was looking exceptionally fit, and seemed to be more than delighted to be home again.

Lieut. Murray left London in April, 1916, as senior subaltern of "A" Company, 70th Battalion, and after being chosen to take a special course in England, went to France with the 11th Brigade, Canadian Machine Gun Company. He went through all the engagements in which his brigade was engaged, and was mentioned in the casualty list when he was stricken with an attack of trench fever.

Owing to shortage of doctors on the various battlefronts, fourth and fifth year medical students are being allowed to return to Canada to finish their courses, and it was for this purpose that Lieut. Murray received his furlough, and returned. He will likely resume his course at the medical faculty of Western University next month.

His brother, Lieut. Joseph Murray, who left here with the 142nd Battalion, is still in France.

Lieut. Thomas H. Murray of the Canadian Postal Corps, returned on the same train, and was met by friends and relatives. Lieut. Murray went overseas with the 1st Contingent, and has been overseas ever since, with the exception of a three months' furlough spent in Canada in the spring of 1916. He is a son of Scott Murray, and a brother of Sergt. "Jimmie" Murray, who recently returned to the front after spending a furlough in the city.

Lieut. Murray is not home on furlough, but is to report to the military authorities here, and may possibly be placed in some employment in connection with the civil service, either here or in Ottawa. It is likely that he will remain here for some time, if not permanently.

ANTHRACITE SHIPMENTS ALMOST MAKE RECORD

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 12. — The shipment of anthracite coal for August, as reported to the anthracite bureau of information, amounted to 7,013,996 tons, the second time in the history of anthracite mining that the shipments in any one month exceeded 7,000,000 tons. The August figures are within 35,041 tons of the high-water mark made in June of this year.

The shipments of last month exceed the shipments of August, 1916, by 1,462,199 tons. The shipments for the eight months of 1917 amounted to 51,405,341 tons, an increase of 7,019,001 tons, or almost 16 per cent over the corresponding period of last year.

HEAVY RAINFALL IN YUKON MEANS GREAT PRODUCTION OF GOLD

Dawson, Yukon, Sept. 12.—A large production of gold will result from the heavy summer rainfall, according to reports from Nome, Alaska. Traces of platinum deposits in the Dime Creek country, tributary to the Kukotrua River, on the Lower Yukon, are being traced by experts, who say the metal comes from lava fields in the vicinity.

A placer strike made 20 miles west of Selkirk by a veteran Yukon prospector has resulted in quite a movement to that region. It is estimated that probably 150 claims have been staked on Kitchener and Seymour creeks and their tributaries.

We cordially invite you to attend Our Fall Millinery Opening on Thursday, Sept. 13, and Following Days.

SECOND FROST FAILS TO ADD MUCH DAMAGE TO DISTRICT RECORD

Vegetation Which Survived Monday Night Too Hardy For It.

MILLIONS LOST, REPORT

Farmers Declare Province Has Been Hard Hit, Though Middlesex Escapes.

The second frost of the fall season last night did comparatively little damage, according to farmers in the vicinity of the city. All the produce likely to be affected by the cold was killed by the low temperature on Monday night and there was little left to destroy. That which survived the first frost was hardy enough to withstand the second, which was less severe.

Farmers estimate that the loss throughout the province will mount to millions. Middlesex will not be struck as hard as many other counties, but many farmers here will suffer considerably. Beans are everywhere the chief loss. Unfavorable weather early in the spring prevented planting being done at the proper time. As a consequence the crop was nearly two weeks late, and at this time was not in condition to stand severe cold which it might have weathered had it been more fully developed. Kent County is reported to have suffered heavily, hundreds of acres of beans and tobacco being out there. One agriculturist stated to The Advertiser that the frost had done its work so thoroughly in that district that many tobacco growers would not bother to cut their plants.

In this section of the county corn and tomatoes were greatly affected. Market gardeners close to the city suffered heavy losses through the cold weather. In some instances it is thought that a good rain and a spell of mild weather may improve conditions. The weather is regarded as exceptional for this time of the year. In previous seasons the temperature has dropped as low, but has not remained so for as great a length of time as this year.

Many acres of corn will be of little use, as the cobs were still young and were completely ruined by the frost. Much of the crop will be used as fodder, but the fact that the bitten leaves wither detract from its value in this use as well.

WAYLAID IN PARK, FORCED TO DRINK, LISTER'S EXCUSE

Man Who Has Paid $1,200 in Fines Present Novel Alibi.

Four persons appeared in police court today each charged with intoxication. Each pleaded guilty to the offence, and was fined $10 and costs.

The first two were Indians, residents of Muncey, who had came into the Fair and incidentally loaded up with firewater. The third said he had kept sober for nearly a year and considered that he was entitled to a drunk once a year. He cheerfully contributed his $10 and costs.

The last on the list, a well known character who has the reputation of having paid out $1,200 in liquor fines in the last three years, stated a total stranger had waylaid him in the park on his way home, and had forced him to take a drink from a bottle. Rather than argue with the stranger [illegible] the drink. His reason for giving the above explanation was necessary because his name is enrolled on Inspector Keenleyside's prohibited list. As a consequence a person guilty of furnishing liquor to one on the list is liable to a severe penalty under the act.

During his earlier years he assisted in clearing up the farm on which he had lived so many years.

He is survived by four sons, James of this city, John on the homestead, Dr. Henry of Gibsonburg, Ohio, and Dr. Thomas of Freemont, Ohio, and four daughters, Mrs. John Grant, Amherstburg, Mrs Hamilton Needham, 11th concession, London Township; Mrs. Isaac Needham, 13th concession, London Township, and Mrs. Eli Dean, Nissouri Township.

With his father he was bringing a number of horses to the city for the Exhibition. They traveled in the same cars with the animals and had reached the siding in the city safely. As one of the doors was opened a colt backed out of its stall and Mr. Bannerman struck it to drive it back. It lashed out with its hind feet and striking the lad on the head knocked him unconscious. He was rushed to Victoria Hospital, where an operation was necessary to save his life. His chances of recovery are considered good.

HUGHES READY TO SUPPORT ANY GOVERNMENT PLEDGED TO "WIN THE WAR" POLICY

Sir Sam Hughes Makes This Announcement at Western Fair Luncheon.

PASSES UP POLITICS

Late War Lord Even Declines Interview When He Visits Exhibition Today.

Sir Sam Hughes, former minister of militia, was the guest of honor of the Western Fair board today at luncheon, and delivered a brief address. Sir Samuel kept away from political matters, and refused to be interviewed, but he intimated in a brief address that he was independent, and would give his whole support to the party which would stand behind the boys in France.

The visitor of the day was introduced by Mayor Stevenson, who stated that Sir Sam was always a friend of London, and had done much for the city. His worship presented him with an honorary director's badge.

Lieut.-Col. Gartshore spoke briefly also in introducing the former minister of militia. When the Australian cadets were in London he was informed by them that the only public men in Canada known in Australia were Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Sam Hughes.

London Gave Fair Play.

"I am glad to come back to London in a peaceful capacity," said Sir Sam. "I did assist London in many ways, when I was minister of militia, because I always found you a fair-play crowd, and we gave fair play in return. The mayor assisted us in every reasonable way.

"It is true that I did visit Australia in 1897. I knew then that a war was impending in South Africa. In this was to be found the wily hand of the kaiser. He wanted the principalities in South Africa to revolt and throw off the British rule and establish a Germanic-Boer confederacy of states. I then thought of a confederation composed of Great Britain, the United States and France to combat that. I outlined the plans for fighting the Boers and getting the men there. I sent these plans to Lord Landsdowne, and I am happy to say they were carried out to the letter.

"We know why we are in this war. It is to fight the agression of the Hohezollern family. We are fighting to preserve liberty and banish autocracy. Germany is not the only nation where autocrats grow. Our own ancestors had to fight the battle against autocracy. In fact, it is a never ending fight. We must always keep on fighting for liberty. It is bought only at the price of eternal vigilance.

Will Not Criticize.

"I am not going to say whether the fight is going well or ill. We know it is not going well in Russia. We know that Italy is whipping Austria to a finish. France is doing well on the west front, and Great Britain is doing well.

"Our hearts are heavy and sore. I can see as I travel around those who have sons and brothers and friends at the front. It is written on their faces. We are burdened and sore, but we must go on, and we will go on.

"We must fight this war actively, not passively.

"There is some talk about a dearth of labor. I say there will be no dearth of labor, and I know the situation better than any man in Canada. There is always a dearth of labor when there is extra pressure. Ever since I was a boy there has been a shortage of labor at harvest time, whether in peace or war. And there always will be. There are hundreds of thousands of men in Canada, and I know what I am talking about. I saw myself 50,000 men in Montreal looking for work at the time when Baron Shaughnessy, Sir Thomas White, Sir Joseph Flavelle, and that crowd, were shouting to stop recruiting, to keep labor at home. We must actively get our men into war. There will be another year of it, and we must get the men.

Support Would Have Cut Losses.

"We lost 25,000 men in two weeks at the front. You cannot tell me that we would not have done better had these men been properly supported at the front, had there being enough men ready to strengthen our forces. I'm independent. I [illegible] any party, any government that will bring war to a successful conclusion."

Among the visitors were Sir Adam Beck, Philip Pocock, Col. L. W. Shannon, E. T. Essery, K. C., Norman Lambert and others.

Sir Sam spent the afternoon looking over the live stock, and meeting a number of his old friends. He will leave this evening for the East.

Ready To Build Electric Display Building For Fair

Manufacturers Stand Behind Project Broached to the Association Head.

The Advertiser was informed today that four of the greatest electrical manufacturing concerns would erect a suitable building for displaying electrical goods if the Western Fair board would consider the proposition. They would spend several thousands of dollars on the proposition, if the directors would consent.

The only question is the permanency of the present grounds. There is no room, and the necessity for increasing the ground space is evident.

The propostion has been made to Col. W. M. Gartshore, the president, and he will bring it before the directors at an early date.

BELIEVE COAL YARDS MAY BE CONGRESS QUESTION

Labor Delegates Have Little Faith in Controller or Government Now.

London delegates to the Trades and Labor Congress at Ottawa on Monday will leave the city on Saturday night or Sunday morning. Those who will attend could give no idea today what subjects would be discussed and whether there would be any affecting London particularly. It is possible, they said, that municipal coalyards might be discussed.

"They may be taken up," said one delegate today. "At any rate, the people here will have no more faith in the Government or in McGrath until he comes back here and makes the investigation of local coal conditions which he promised."

The London delegates will be Donald Wright, George Terry, J. Cumming and J. Dean.

OFFICERS SELECTED

Lieuts. L. F. Jones and J. A. Renwick to Command Next A. M. C. Draft.

Lieuts. L. F. Jones and J. A. Renwick of Army Medical Training Depot No. 1, at Carling Heights camp, have been selected to take charge of the draft of 25 men from the training depot who are to leave for overseas service in the near future. Both officers are London boys and were members of this year's graduating class at the medical faculty of Western University.

Many of the men are enjoying their "last leave" at present.

ANOTHER SMALLPOX CASE AT WINDSOR

Latest Outbreak May Mean Erection of Special Isolation Hospital.

WINDSOR, Sept. 11.—One more case of smallpox was discovered here today by Dr. G. R. Cruickshank, medical health officer, the victim being an employee of the Penberthy Injector Company.

The health board at its meeting this afternoon took steps for vaccinating all employees of the company and others who have come in contact with the case.

The board will not let up its fight for a new isolation hospital, despite the defeat of the bylaw recently submitted to the ratepayers to authorize debenture issue covering the cost of a building. It is planned to hold a joint conference of the border cities health boards, with the idea of building a hospital to meet the needs of all the municipalities. If this does not materialize Windsor ratepayers will be asked at the January elections to sanction the erection of a hospital for the use of Windsor citizens only.

WOMEN OF CHURCHES AIDING CAMPAIGN

Various Organizations at Chatham Will Get Food Pledges.

CHATHAM, Sept. 11.—To bring before the housekeepers of Chatham the urgency of conserving the food supply, adopting two meatless days a week, and substituting other commodities for beef, bacon and wheat, the ladies' organizations of local churches have undertaken to assist in the campaign to be held on Monday next, when pledge cards are to be distributed. The city has been divided into five sections, the church organizations in that area being responsible for its canvass.

EMBRO, Sept. 11.—Death came very unexpectedly early today to James Goldspinks, aged 76. He had not been well for some time, but last night attended a council meeting. When he retired he seemed much as usual, but between 2 and 3 o'clock his wife was awakened by a noise and found him dying. She rushed to a neighbor's to call a doctor, but on returning found him dead. Besides his wife he leaves six daughters and three sons.

STONY RECEPTION OF TAGGERS FAILS TO DAMPEN SPIRITS

Overseas Chapter Comfort Fund Will Be Augmented by Canvass.

UNUSUAL REFUSALS

Hundreds Decline To Contribute, According to Those in Charge.

Overseas Chapter, I. O. D. E., tag day will be a success, members stated at 2 o'clock today, notwithstanding the fact the taggers report that hundreds of persons declined to assist in the worthy cause.

The novel feature of having a diamond-shaped tag, with a photo of an overseas soldier on each, originated with the Overseas Chapter.

Had every person approached given only a nickel the tag day would have undoubtedly been the greatest success financially of any ever held in the city. A returned soldier on crutches was seen by a reporter to approach sixteen persons before one could be induced to loosen up with a dime to buy a tag to help a worthy cause. The members of the Overseas Chapter are grateful to citizens and Fair visitors who purchased tags.

Many novel excuses were offered by those who wished to avoid helping. Some had no change, others were hard-up, and one gallant out-of-town youth said he needed his nickel to buy a package of cigarettes.

Overseas Chapter members believe that if visitors understood that they are expected to give only what they see fit that more would help.

Several hundred dollars will be collected for soldiers' comforts as a result of the tag day, but the amount will not be as large as it should if a larger proportion would help.

MAJORITY LATEST AWARD GIVEN TO FAMOUS AVIATOR

Capt. Bishop Wins Promotion and Bar to D. S. O.

Honors are being showered in rapid succession on Capt. William A. Bishop, of Owen Sound, whose daring work as an aviator at the front has won him numerous decorations and promotions.

Only a few days ago he was reported to have fallen 4,000 feet, with his machine in flames, and to have come through practically unhurt. He already has the Military Cross, the D. S. O. and the Victoria Cross, and he was reported recently to have been awarded the French decoration of the Legion of Honor.

When he received his decorations from the hands of the King recently his majesty is reported to have remarked that this was the first time that he had had the pleasure of conferring the three decorations at once.

Major R. W. Bishop, commander of the Royal Canadian Engineers in this district, and a brother of the famous flier, today informed his mother by long-distance telephone to Owen Sound of the latest honor to be conferred on her son. His parents had received no previous word of his latest promotion.

GERMANS KILL OFF 200,000 BRITISH AT LENS—WITH WORDS

Ridiculous Story Sent Out For Effect.

(By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS.)
[Special to The Advertiser.]

With the British Armies in France, Sept. 12.—Seeking some palliation at home for their losses around Lens, the German staff sent out wireless dispatches today claiming British losses around Lens to have been more than the actual total of men engaged there.

The German staff estimated the dead, wounded and missing in the Lens operations at 200,000.

Actually, it is certain the German casualties have been more than double those of the British around the French coal metropolis.

In cleaning up of a battlefield there recently I saw fifteen dead Germans around one lone Canadian.

NIGHT ATTACK GIVES CROWD REAL IDEA OF WAR'S HORROR

Military Program Provides Thrills at the Fair.

DOG SHOW MADE A HIT

Visitors Delighted With the Fine Entries.

Marked by exceptional reproductions of modern warfare and record crowds, Military Day of the 1917 passed into history as a fitting milestone to mark the fiftieth anniversary of the exhibition. Weather conditions were greatly superior to those of Monday and Londoners, as well as thousands from the surrounding district, made full use of the day and evening to visit the grounds. Both the afternoon and evening performances were well attended and the enthusiasm of the spectators augured well for increased crowds during the remaining days of the week.

The prizes for amateur high jumping went to W. J. Blackburn, A. H. M. Graydon, Willowbrook Farm, and A. V. Flannigan in the order named.

Were Well Filled.

The exhibition buildings were well filled throughout the day and the dog show which was opened at noon for the first time, although not much larger than usual, attracted hundreds. That more and more Londoners are becoming interested in this branch of the exhibition was evident. Those who entered the building stayed, and there was plenty to interest them. Entries range all the way from stern-looking Great Danes to yapping Pomeranians, and many of the animals are prize-winners from the larger exhibitions. Londoners who enter dogs for this are competing against some of the best animals in the country.

The process building attracts attention from many. The manufacture of pianos, calling cards, chewing gum and other lines of merchandise is shown here, and there is in addition a large exhibit by the Dominion department of agriculture.

In Crystal Palace.

The crystal palace had its real opening Tuesday, for every display was in place and no preparatory work was in progress. Many new exhibits are in place this year, and visitors gain much interesting information from a trip through the building.

A Vivid Picture.

War is hell, and if you doubt it, you certainly were not among those present on the grandstand at the fair Tuesday evening when as a culmination of the events that marked military day a representation of trench warfare was put on by two squads of men from the infantry details at Carling Heights Camp.

The exhibition was in the form of a night attack, and it was carried through with all the realism that was possible without actually taking human lives in the process. Realism does not begin to describe it, and as no words have yet been invented to reproduce the terrific concussion that follows the explosions of bombs and other weapons of modern warfare, so it must be seen to be appreciated. Those who failed to see the grand climax to military day Tuesday evening have missed one of the biggest thrills of the whole fair.

Pictures Are Feeble.

The good people of London have read and have gazed at pictures of the battlefront in France, and wonderful as the impressions were that they received of modern methods of fighting, they are at best only a feeble attempt to convey in picture or word the thrills of battle. But not until Tuesday night when the smell of powder assailed their noses, and the smoke of bombs and shells found its way to their eyes, and the deafening roar of the explosions dinned in their ears, did they begin to realize in some slight degree their husbands, sons and brothers are called upon to face in Flanders or France. Not until the tremendous vibrations set up by the exploding bombs echoed, and re-echoed through the huge grandstand, and the grandstand, the earth and everything seemed to sway under the strain, did a small measure of light begin to dawn in the minds of those who witnessed it, enabling them to picture what an actual fight is like.

If a handful of men armed with the instruments of modern warfare can accomplish such terrible destruction in such a small section of ground, what must be the destructive powers of not thousands, but millions of men, covering a whole countryside?

If such a maddening bedlam can be brought upon men and women safely seated in a grandstand by a small squad of men, what must be the inferno experienced by the men who are in danger and under fire, when they are at the mercy of brigades of enemies similarly equipped? These were the questions men and women are asking one another on seeing the sham battle.

Spectacular Scene.

When the operations began, the lights on the platform were turned off, and two huge spotlights were turned upon the ground to the north of the platform, and in front of the grandstand. There in the dim light, were two lines of trenches about sixty yards apart, in which dark figures began to become visible. Then the preliminary fire began, and the crack, crack, crack, of the rifles sang out, accompanied by vivid patches of light which danced along the parapets, as first one man fired and then another.

Then Lieut. Forbes, who was in charge of the hand grenade work, hurled a hand grenade out into No Man's land, and its explosion was the signal for the trench mortars in the support trench to begin operations. Broomp! Broomp! Broomp! and the first installment of Hades had broken loose right in Queen's Park. It was simply terrific.

Nothing like it has been heard here, nor on this side of the Atlantic. The "Boom" of artillery firing is a mere whisper compared to the noise made by aminol bombs. And amid the insane din, the crack of the rifles could be occasionally heard between the explosions.

Mines Exploded.

When sufficient damage had been done by the trench mortars, which were hurling the bombs from the support trenches, Lieut. Beven, in charge of mining operations, gave the command which caused two huge, "deep" mines to explode, carrying tons of earth heavenwards. In the meantime smoke (representing both smoke and gas), had been sent over the enemy trenches, and the job now ahead of the attacking force was to occupy the craters made by the mine explosions in No Man's Land.

Three surface mines were now exploded to hide the advance of the attacking force, and under cover of this obstruction they went "over top" of the parapet, and swept forward to the mine craters. These they held in spite of the rifle fire of the enemy, who though subjected to the gas and smoke were still able to reply.

The advance was not without cost to the attackers, however, for some of the bombs fell a trifle short, and flying fragments resulted in four of the attacking force receiving slight wounds. The stretcher-bearers were on hand for just such occurrences, and hustled out between the lines, crouching in the light of the star shells, and brought in the casualties.

With the aid of more star shells the enemy sought to learn of any movement toward a further advance of the attackers. The latter, however, were determined to gain their objective, namely, to drive the enemy out of his trench, and after again assailing him with hand grenades thrown from the craters they had occupied, and with bombs thrown from the trench mortars in the rear, they charged with bayonets gleaming in the dreary light, and in face of a desperate fire by the defenders they drove them out, and finally held the enemy trench. The defenders slowly retreated, firing as they fell back, and the most thrilling military spectacle ever put on in London was over.

Those in Charge.

The operations were in charge of Major Emmerton, officer commanding the school of infantry training at Carling Heights camp, and he was assisted by Lieut. Forbes and Lieut. Bevan, bombing officer and mining officer, respectively, at the camp. As it was the first time that most of the men had been under fire they acquitted themselves most creditably, for to keep a steady eye and hand with live bombs bursting all around one is no easy task.

Another part of the program was an exhibition of squad drill and manual of arms by a detachment of men from the infantry details under Sergt.-Major Walsh. Their marching was full of precision and "pep," and their "into file" and "into line" movements were exceptionally pretty, as was also their work in the spectacular "fix bayonets" and "unfix bayonets." The crowd got more than its money's worth of thrills when the squad fired a volley of blanks point-blank at the grandstand.

Splendid Specimens.

The embodiment of health and youth were the men, who, in their white sweaters and trousers, formed the squad which gave an exhibition of physical training under Sergt.-Major Bannister. They were bubbling over with life and "ginger," and although they have been in training only about two months, there is not a man among them who cannot hold his own at boxing, wrestling and bayonet fighting, in addition to their regular military work.

They went through their difficult exercises as one man, and this after they had undergone the bombardment in the trench warfare that preceded. Before they left, by taking up pre-arranged positions on the platform and by extending to full length on their backs, the words, "Do your bit," were spelled by the white forms on the dark platform, while the Union Jack between two guards with bayonets fixed was unfuried amid applause.

Skillful Boxing.

Some rattling good exhibition boxing bouts were staged by the soldier lads also. Sergt. T. Dyer, welterweight champion of Australia for two years, and who also has had about two years in the British navy during the present war, took on three men in rapid succession, O'Toole, Boschel and Rockett. In the featherweight class Wiley and Kerrigan put on a shifty and speedy bout. Sergt.-Major Green refereed, and Sergt.-Major Bannister acted as timekeeper for the bouts, while Sergt.-Major Whittle and Kendall were seconds.

Much more spectacular than it appears in the daytime was the musical ride put on by sixteen picked horsemen from the units at Carling Heights, under Major B. Osborne. The riders carried lances and flowing pennants, and at the top of each lance was a bright torch. The men and horses worked together beautifully, and the torches seemed to be so many fairy lamps bobbing up and down in the darkness.

At the afternoon performance four good bayonet fighting bouts were put on by men in masks and pads, but they were omitted, owing to the length of the evening performance.

Few accidents of any kind marred the day and the few minor injuries which visitors and workers suffered were promptly attended to by members of No. 4 Nursing Division at their temporary headquarters on the grounds.

Returned men formed a large section of the crowd on the grounds and many were interested spectators at the afternoon and evening performance when reproductions of trench warfare were staged before the grandstand.

MAPLE BUTTER FOR BOYS OVERSEAS.

No more popular corner is to be found in the main building at the Western Fair than the "snow white" booth just within the annex, in which are displayed the products of Maples, Limited, Toronto, delicious maple butter, delectable cakes of maple sugar and the kind of maple syrup that has the genuine old-time flavor, with a purity all its own.

The shining cleanness and order of this booth make it a reassuring background for the pure foods offered for inspection. Effective against the white enamel is the decoration of autumn tinted maple leaves and patriotic emblems. Opportunity to sample the maple butter is afforded in a tantalizing little dab topping a crisp, fresh cracker, plates heaped with these being kept in readiness all day long for the steady stream of visitors. The maple butter, by the way, is made from pure maple sugar and cream, and is of such consistency that it will spread on bread or cakes just like creamery butter. Lion brand maple butter and maple sugar are sold by thousands of grocers in every part of Canada, and are finding their way into many of the boxes sent to the boys overseas. Souvenirs worth keeping are distributed to callers at the booth in the shape of pretty cards, calendars and matchsafes. b

PERRIN'S.

One of the most attractive displays in the Main Building is Perrin's exhibit. They show hundreds of toothsome dainties. They have biscuits for all occasions, from the staple Dairy Cream soda (which, by the by, is an excellent substitute for breakfast cereals when broken up in hot milk), from the first course of soup to the last course of cheese. Their large display of fancy sweet biscuits gives the good housewife ample variety to choose from. Their delicious "Alpine Nut Wafers," made of a fine crisp shell, with delicious cream centre. Then the more substantial, but just as tasty, will be found in the various lines of sandwich goods. "Sherbet" is another specialty of this firm, a delicious semi-shortbread. They are up-to-date with their Tipperary biscuits, which are educational to the children from a military point of view, as well as an enjoyable titbit. "Shortcake" in various varieties, and, in fact, so many good things to eat, that it is hard to make a selection. Only a good housewife can do this successfully. This firm uses only the best raw materials, manufactured under the most favorable conditions, thus assuring the consumer that they are getting the best when buying "Perrin's Biscuits."

Their exhibition of their new patented biscuit display case is a very attractive display, and the large number already placed shows the value the trade considers them to be in displaying and selling fine biscuits. b

THE AEOLIAN-VOCALION.

Visitors to the Fair speak with surprise and pleasure of the wonderful new phonograph — the Aeolian-Vocalion — which is attracting so much attention to the Nordheimer exhibit.

It is a remarkable instrument. Not only does it call forth the hidden beauties from a record, but it has a wonderful new feature, the Graduola—which enables you to play the music yourself, and vary it as a musician varies in detail every performance. The use of the Graduola means that one does not tire of records—they are always new. You will want to hear this new and better phonograph, which is shown in the Nordheimer exhibit. b

FAMOUS PAINT EXHIBIT.

Brandram-Henderson, Limited, corroders and grinders of white lead, and manufacturers of paints, varnishes and dry colors, have one of the finest, practical and artistic exhibits to be seen at the Western Fair. It is in charge of Mr. W. B. Gillespie, the Western Ontario representative, who is the recipient of many compliments on his artistic taste in arranging the display. A special display of B.-H. "English" Paint, the well-known and highly-advertised product of this company, is made in the exhibit, which is located in the centre of the Main Building. Another product of Brandram-Henderson, Limited, exhibited is "China-Lac" Varnish Stain, in all colors, which stains and varnishes at one operation. A complete line of varnishes is also shown.

Brandram-Henderson, Limited, are well known throughout Canada for the excellent paints and varnishes manufactured, and besides three factories have numerous distributing houses from the Atlantic to the Pacific, located in Montreal, Halifax, St. John, Toronto, Winnipeg, Calgary and Edmonton. It is also said that the firm expects to make further extensive developments in the near future.

Mr. Gillespie is distributing handy little rulers to visitors to the booth, while a number of small balloons are being given to children.

One of the chief features of the exhibit is the large display of advertising matter, which is used chiefly for distribution among the firm's thousands of selling agencies throughout the Dominion of Canada, Newfoundland, the British West Indies, and Cuba. b

A BAG OF FLOUR THE PRIZE.

Few exhibits at the Western Fair are attracting more admiring attention than that of Hunt Bros.' Diamond Flour, set up in the section which it has occupied for a number of years in the Main Building. Sheaves of wheat and autumn leaves form a most attractive and appropriate decoration for this booth, of which the chief feature of interest is a guessing contest. Piled up are a number of jute bags containing flour, such as are shipped to feed the men at the front. The nearest guess to the correct number of bags will win a valuable prize, a 100-pound bag of flour. In addition six more prizes will be given. Joseph Beechy is in charge of the exhibit. Announcement of the prize-winners and the number of bags will be made in this paper. b

THE NORDHEIMER GRAND.

The Nordheimer Grand has attained so high a prestige that it may without doubt be regarded as the proudest achievement of the piano-maker's art in Canada.

The recent embodying of the Duplex principle in the Nordheimer Grand is proving of great interest to musical visitors to the Nordheimer exhibit at the Western Fair. This innovation places the Nordheimer Grand in a position of undoubted supremacy. The foremost Grand piano in Canada—it has been declared by all who hear it, comparable to the very few world-famous Grands. b

DELCO-LIGHT A MIRACLE-WORKER.

It is only an innocent-looking little motor contraption which is being demonstrated in a big tent between the two entrances of the Machinery Hall at the Fair. Nevertheless, it is the miracle-worker which brings the conveniences of the city to the rural dweller. The name of the wizard is Delco-Light, and so varied its talents that it is electric lighting plant and motive power for a large amount of the machinery within and without the house all in one.

Up and down throughout the length and breadth of Canada and the United States, Delco-Light is furnishing illumination for churches, public buildings, farm buildings, rural and summer homes. It is running the washing-machine and the vacuum cleaner, pumping the water, turning the fanning mill, and even milking the cows, when attached to the patent milker. It releases the hired man for overseas service, and the hired girl for war work. It solves the problem of help for the housewife, and gives the farmer time to take the family motor-riding. It is so simple a child can operate it; perfectly safe and entirely reliable.

Operated by coal-oil, the cost of lighting the average farm home with Delco-Light is estimated at about 4 cents a week. b

AUTOMOBILE ARISTOCRACY.

The automobiles de luxe of the Western Fair are displayed in the large section of the transportation building, reserved by Beemer & Co. of 133 Queen's avenue. First to attract admiring attention are the "Cadillac" cars, genuine aristocrats and the highest priced cars shown in the exhibition.

While a more moderate priced car than the Cadillac, the "Chalmers," the second line specialized in by Beemer & Co., has a distinction that makes it a favorite with fastidious people. The much commented upon elegance and good taste of the inside fittings are due to Lady Duff Gordon, famous fashion specialist, who selects these for the Chalmers manufacturers.

A novelty in London, though well known in the large American cities, is a Victoria hood top.

The "Gray-Dort" car, rapidly gaining in popularity, rounds out this exhibit.

The selection of these three lines of cars enables Beemer & Co. to meet the demands for automobiles for all purposes and to suit all bank rolls. b

PANAMA HAT ARISTOCRATS.

There are as many social distinctions in panama hats as in the human family. This fact comes home with striking force in paying a visit to one of the most interesting and novel exhibits of the Western Fair this year, a display of genuine Jamaican panama hats, placed at the entrance of the Women's Building. In the de-luxe editions of panama hats for men, women and children, Mr. A. Garcia, a native of the West Indies, who has charge of the exhibit, shows with special pride one beauty, woven entirely under water, and which commands the price of $100. In addition to this "Queen of the Panamas," hundreds of others, in all shapes and sizes, are shown, which are being offered for sale durinb the exhibition. No difficulty is anticipated in disposing of the entire stock owing to the fact that it is probable genuine Jamaican panama hats will be difficult to obtain in this country another year, on account of the war. Only one hat will be sold to a purchaser on account of the big demand.

Dividing interest with the hats are quaint baskets made by natives of Jamaica from dagger-palm. These are evoking raptures of praise from the women visitors, who make a hobby of collecting baskets. The people who believe in "being prepared" are buying them up for useful and novel Christmas gifts for their friends. b

THE NEW NORDHEIMER GRAND.

The Nordheimer exhibit at the Western Fair has two outstanding attractions this year—the new Nordheimer Grand, embodying the Duplex Scale—and the world-famous phonograph, the Aeolian-Vocalion. It is easy to understand, when one sees and hears the wonderful Nordheimer Pianos—why they have maintained musical pre-eminence for so many years. In their representations of the Steinway and the Aeolian-Vocalion—the House of Nordheimer strengthens its leadership. This exhibit—showing practically all designs of Nordheimer Pianos—will interest every music lover at the Fair. b

SILVERWOOD'S FROZEN DAINTIES.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating. So entirely does the ice cream manufactured by Silverwoods, Limited, of London, stand this test that this year, for the third time, Silverwoods has been granted an exclusive franchise to supply the Western Fair with ice cream. While the "velvet-smooth," exquisitely flavored Silverwood ice cream speaks for the thorough blending and care in preparation, it must be taken into consideration that this is a scientific age. People want to know that they are getting pure food, as well as food which tickles the palate. Silverwoods comes with flying colors through this "third degree." To begin with, as soon as the cream is received at the manufacturing plant it is thoroughly pasteurized in order to destroy any malignant germs. From that time until it is served up in a sanitary cup at the Fair, or delivered, most carefully wrapped, to the housewife, each step in its progress is a triumph of cleanliness, which is more than merely "looking" clean.

One of the most popular rendezvous at the exhibition is the palm garden installed by Silverwoods upstairs in the Main Building. This is proving the ideal spot to rest a while, chat with friends and enjoy one of Silverwoods' tempting offerings.

By the way, Silverwoods, Limited, solves the problem of a tempting dessert for exhibition visitors, to whom it is desired to do honor. If it happens they are going to stay over the week-end, there is the "Sunday Special," a frozen dessert, which alone is sufficient to make the name of Silverwoods famous. Each week-end some especially delectable ice cream is made up and delivered on order to homes all over the city, packed to keep for the Sunday dinner, at whatever hour it is served. Many a London housewife has come to regard Silverwoods' Special as a genuine "life-saver." Something especially tempting is wanted for the Sunday dinner, one of the few meals in the week the family has leisure to enjoy together. The "Sunday Special" saves time and worry, and it is always acceptable. It may be ordered direct or through the grocer.

Special attention is given by Silverwoods to individual orders for autumn and winter entertainments. These can be made up in any form desired, and in the past few years a large trade has been built up throughout Western Ontario by individual orders for weddings, birthday parties, Thanksgiving, St. Valentine's and like festive occasions. b

A WASH DAY WIZARD.

To stop before the array of white enameled attractions in the Geyser Electric Washer and the Eureka Electric Vacuum Cleaner booth in the palace building is inevitably to go inside filled with curiosity "to see what is going on." Touching a button on the Geyser Electric Washer starts the process. A little propeller, run by a powerful motor sets briskly to work, rushing a small Niagara of water through the metal mesh cylinder (perfectly smooth so that it cannot catch or tear the clothing contained), at the rate of seventy revolutions a minute. This constant motion of the water causes much less wear and tear than the familiar method of stirring, plunging and lifting the clothes. The cylinder is also very light and has a convenient handle, so that it may easily be raised to an upper position and the clothes removed.

When it comes to wringing, one finds the release arranged at the right—as are all parts one requires to touch—and in such a way as to obviate all danger of catching the fingers. Then, every housewife must realizee what a convenience it is to have a wringer which can be adjusted in three different positions; thus providing for the transference of the clothes into the rinsing water, from that into the blue and thence to the basket. And the visitor to the booth is astonished to find that water put into the washer, lukewarm, at nine o'clock in the morning, is, owing to the depth and narrowness of the receptacle, still warm at six.

The Geyser is not only so compact and sightly that one may keep it in bathroom or kitchen, but it is of such high-grade workmanship as eliminates friction and insures easy running and long life to the machine. There is no cumbersome mechanism and the apparatus is very superior to washers with wooden cylinders, which besides being heavy to lift, will rot, warp and splinter, and can not be kept absolutely clean and sanitary as can this all-metal machine.

With it one can wash and wring for one hour at a cost of less than 3c. It has secured the highest rating from underwriters and bears the label of approval from the Good Housekeeping Institute, conducted by Good Housekeeping Magazine.

The washers come in three sizes. The Baby, which is capable of accommodating three sheets, is suitable for a baby's washing of that of a family of two. The Family size will take six sheets, and the Home Laundry size nine sheets.

The Geyser Electric Washer and the Eureka Vacuum Cleaner are "made in Canada," machines manufactured by the Onward Manufacturing Co., Kitchener, Ont.

The Purdom Hardware Co., will be pleased to see all prospective buyers and demonstrate these fine goods or arrange for placing them in homes on trial. b

CANADIAN GENERAL ELECTRIC.

An attractive exhibit of the latest electrical lighting, heating and power devices has been arranged by the Canadian General Electric Company in the southeast corner of the main building annex at the Fair, for the benefit of contractors and dealers to whom a cordial invitation is extended to pay a visit of inspection.

Illumination of the artistic booth is achieved by handsome Deco-lites suspended from the canopy and detachable lamps. Under the supervision of W. H. Morgan, the local manager of the big company which has branches all over Canada, a continuous demonstration is being given o[illegible]versal heating appliances, of such home comforts as coffee percolators, portable ranges, grills, etc.

A labor saving device in the Hamilton Beach goods display, which should enjoy popularity, is a sewing machine motor.

An invention attracting special attention is the "Genemotor," for starting and lighting Ford cars. Built by the General Electric Company, it is clever as it is simple of operation. Only the pressure of a button is required to start the engine and just a twist of a switch to turn on the lights. Sure starting of a Ford engine is guaranteed in all kinds of weather. The London home of the General Electric is in the Royal Bank Building, Richmond street. b

O-U STARTER SAVES CRANKING.

The O-U Starter is only a little mechanical device, of which the N. D. Munn Company of 343 Talbot street, this city, are sole distributors, but it makes all the difference in the world to the pleasure and comfort of owning and operating a Ford car. With an O-U Starter attached, all need is removed of piling out of the car in the rain to laboriously "crank up." The Starter accomplishes the trick through one pull of the handle. It is so easy and simple that a small boy or girl can operate it. It doesn't in the least interfere with the other passengers. Hidden beneath the hood, there is nothing about the O-U Starter to disfigure a car. Only one piece of the Ford motor is left off, the fan pulley, which is replaced by one of the N. D. Munn Company's own.

A demonstration of O-U Starter, attached to a Ford car, is being given throughout the Western Fair on the east side of the Transportation Building, near the centre. b

PLOW REVOLUTIONIZES DITCH DIGGING.

With the crying demand for greater production in Canada in order to help out the rations of Britain and her allies, the importance cannot be overestimated of one modest looking exhibit at the fair, shown by the inventor, George Dawson, formerly a farmer of Kingston, Ont., just beside the entrance to the cement machinery building. This is a plow for digging ditches for tile drainage, and has the indorsation of the Dominion Department of Agriculture and the Ontario College of Agriculture. It is estimated that the Dawson digger can take the place of five men. One man, with the assistance of a team of horses for one hour, can dig without hardship 40 rods of ditch in two days.

The consensus of opinion of prominent farmers who have used the plow-digger, is that it is the simplest, cheapest and best for any farmer in moderate circumstances, selling as it does for $45. Though only patented in 1914, it already has been sold in every province in the Dominion, with 100 per cent of pleased purchasers. A characteristic testimonial is that of Archie Campbell, Sebright, who states that after he had made a ditch of 2,000 tiles, the Dawson digger didn't owe him a cent.

Owing to the perfection of the work when finished by the Dawson digger, the farmer is guaranteed one hundred per cent on his investment.

Mr. Dawson's headquarters are at 180 Spadina avenue, Toronto. b

A Wonderful Preservative

SOLIGNUM

English-made wood preservative, color-stain and disinfectant, exhibited in the Main Building, enables the farmer to paint his silo, barn or fences at one-fifth of the price of paint, thus preserving and beautifying his property. For example, sides of a barn 20 by 40, and 20 feet high, takes six gallons, at a cost of between $7 and $8. F. S. Ferguson, Bank of Toronto Chambers, is agent. 74u

DON'T MISS THIS.

Once again the transforming qualities of Chi-Namel, the heel, hammer and waterproof varnish, are being demonstrated at the Western Fair, and an interested crowd may be found examining and testing the varnish at all hours. It is clearly shown that the economical and energetic housewife can herself beautify and modernize her floors, woodwork and furniture in general with Chi-Namel products.

This new varnish which anyone can apply with the proficiency of an expert painter is manufactured by the Ohio Varnish Company, the sole agents for the city being the Purdom Hardware Company.

The process of re-varnishing a piece of woodwork is manifestly easy with Chi-Namel. It was demonstrated that with the aid of a grainer and comb, sold exclusively by the Purdom Hardware Company, an old piece of wood devoid of color can be transformed into a handsome piece of furniture at little cost and equally little effort on the part of the varnisher.

A dry board is placed upon the counter and a coat of Chi-Namel brushed over it. After this a grainer is pressed over the board from front to rear and the effect demonstrates that the varnish is the very latest word in mediums for the promotion of efficiency and economy. After the grainer has been passed over the board the latter is a perfect specimen of the finished article as far as it is possible for the best type of varnish to make it. b

NOW IT'S AN "ELECTRIC VICTROLA."

During the recent grand contest campaign The Advertiser purchased no less than eight fine Mason & Risch pianos in the Henry Herbert style as valuable prizes for vote-getters. Similar pianos to these are shown in the big Mason & Risch exhibit in the annex to the main building at the Western Fair, and, in addition, among numerous other designs, a beautiful Louis XV. miniature grand piano in polished mahogany, a Colonial grand in satin finish mahogany, a couple of Louis XV. upright grands, one in polished burl walnut.

Two styles in player-pianos have been much admired, the first in mahogany, and the second, which many a woman has coveted for her living room, in fumed oak. With the increasing vogue of the "music box," special interest centres in the very last word in Victrola perfection, which is operated by electricity, with no springs to wind. Absolute smoothness and uniformity of action are assured.

Sheet music and a wide range of small instruments are on sale at the local Mason & Risch branch, 248 Dundas street, of which C. L. Gray is manager. b

SOLDIERS' COMFORTS WILL BE FORWARDED

THAMESFORD, Sept. 11.—A meeting of the citizens and Civic Holiday committee was held in the public library rooms to consider what should be done with the receipts from the celebration of August 29. The report from the secretary showed receipts and expenditures were as follows: Gate receipts, $140.90; received from booth committee, $120.93; the expenses left $91.19; carried forward from last year, $73.70; making a total surplus on hand of $164.89.

The committee decided to give the school janitor $2 for his extra work in cleaning up the ground and school after the holiday. This left a total of $162.89. Several suggestions were received by the chairman, B. B. McCarty, after the adoption of the report as to what should be done with the funds. It was finally decided to give the war relief society $60, to be spent in purchasing Christmas presents for the boys of the village who are at the front. A committee of five, Messrs. Hamilton, McLeod, Montgomery, McCarty and Leslie, were appointed to aid the War Relief Society in purchasing suitable articles. The rest of the funds will be kept on hand for another year.

A large number from the vicinity attended the school fair held at Kintore on Monday. Thamesford Public School won 11 first prizes, 5 seconds, 5 thirds, 2 fourths, 7 fifths and 9 sixths, altogether 39.

MANY HUNGRY IN ENGLAND

Food Problems Discussed at Big Meeting at Fair.

That conditions in England are far worse than the censorship permits to be known and that in old London alone nearly two million people go to their beds hungry each night was the statement of J. A. Miller, representative of the trades and labor branch of the public works department, at a dinner tendered to the board of trade and representative farmers of the district in the rooms of the fair board at Queen's Park last night.

Backed up by statements of conditions here made by others present it resulted in a resolution being passed through which a committee of seven farmers from all parts of the district will be appointed to co-operate with the London committee of resources which has been organized, chiefly by the board of trade, to make even greater efforts to increase production next year and to supply the farmers with help.

Situation Serious.

Mr. Miller stated that while the people of Britain were not actually facing starvation, they were not far from it, and every effort on the part of the people of this country would be needed.

As a representative of the organization of resources committee as well as of the public works department, he reviewed the work this year. Through the office with which he was connected in Toronto nearly two thousand men and boys had been placed on the farms since April. The majority proved satisfactory to the farmers and were pleased with the treatment which they received. He stated that in one district where the farmers had been skeptical of the ability of city help a Methodist minister had worked so effectively in the field that fifteen neighboring farms sent to the bureau for men.

Worse Next Year.

The situation in 1918 would be harder, he asserted, because climatic conditions this autumn had been unfavorable for the planting of fall wheat and other work has crowded on the farmer, leaving him little time for this important task. The efforts of the tractors had been a boon to the farmers in many districts, and would be responsible for much more wheat being sown than would otherwise have been possible.

There would be a need of team play between the farmer and the city man right away if results were to be obtained in 1918, and the following years. The slackening in the manufacture of munitions he regarded as a sign of the beginning of reconstruction, and although some trouble might be experienced this winter as the men endeavored to obtain other positions, much would be avoided, as the situation was expected.

Splendid Crops.

Reeve James Ross of Lucan, who has assisted in placing help provided by the bureau in this district, spoke briefly. The crops, he asserted, had been larger this year than in any within the memory of the oldest residents in his district. The weather had been ideal, and but for it Ontario would have lost millions of dollars. The majority of the men he had helped to place on farms proved to be exceptional workers, and all parties in the agreements were pleased. He urged the necessity of organization.

R. D. Ferguson, a Port Stanley farmer, stated that the farmers in that section were fully in sympathy with the attempt of the city men to meet the increased demands made by the war. All were beginning to realize that the wealth of a nation depended largely upon the farms. Something must be done, he asserted, to make farm life more attractive, as under present conditions it was a rare occasion when more than two generations remained on the farms. Frost was doing much damage to the crops. He knew of one farm where 70 acres of beans had been destroyed by the frost on Monday night, and 30 acres of corn had been nipped. It would be usable as fodder, but its value as a grain was lost.

Would Plant Wheat.

Hugh McColl of Forest, was of the opinion that there was still time to plant much wheat, and urged that it be done. The help sent to the farmers throughout the summer had in most cases been satisfactory, and he thought that more farmers would ask for it next year.

George Dignan of Parkhill, addressed the meeting on similar lines to the previous speakers. In addition he suggested that next year there be established a scale of wages for farm help, that a man might receive more money as he became efficient.

The motion to appoint the committee of farmers was made by S. F. Lawrason.

Purdom F. Love, fruit grower from Springbank, suggested a scheme for directly aiding the boys from Western Ontario who are in France and England. Many farmers, he stated, would be willing to give a quarter or half an acre to the growing of potatoes which in the fall could be brought to the city and sent from there directly to the London and Western Ontario boys. Letters which he had received from men with battalions from this section of the country were emphatic in stating that the writers would give much to be able to sit down to a meal of meat and "good old Western Ontario potatoes." He had approached several of his neighbors and they were willing to support the scheme and he thought many in other sections of the country would also be anxious to aid, as they could feel that they were giving actual aid to the troops of the Empire.

Those at Meeting.

Among those present at the meeting were:

J. A. Miller of Toronto, representative sent by the organization of resources committee and the trades and labor branch of the provincial department of public works; R. A. Finn, Provincial Government agricultural agent, London district; John Riggs, Dominion immigration agent, London; John Farrell, superintendent Provincial Government employment bureau at London; John Stuart, county clerk of Middlesex; Mr. Edgar, in charge of exhibit of organization of resources committee at Western Fair; Reeve James Ross, Lucan; David Auld, Watford, farmer; R. D. Ferguson, Port Stanley, farmer; Hugh McColl, Forest, farmer; George Dignan, Parkhill, farmer; Reuben Waters, Mount Brydges, farmer; R. Willis, London Township, farmer; George Bycroft, Byron, vegetable grower; W. C. Pack, Byron, farmer and fruit grower; Purdom Love, London, fruit and vegetable grower; W. H. Mundy, London, fruit growers.

Local Committee.

Local committee of the board of trade, which represents the provincial organization of resources committee—S. F. Lawrason, Robert Greene, W. N. Manning, Wm. Turnbull, C. Savagan, Col. W. M. Gartshore, A. E. ...Verwood, H. H. Bingham.

The following farmers sent expressions of regret owing to their inability to be present at this meeting: A. J. Morgan, Burgessville; Emerson Bartlett, Springfield; Geo. Hawkins, Exeter; Joshua Robbins, Courtright; Erastus Nutt, St. Marys.

EXTREMELY FEEBLE, IS BRITISH OPINION OF SWEDISH REPLY

Proved by Confession To Be In the Wrong.

FOREIGN OFFICE GUILTY

Further Questions As To What Is Done In Other Capitals.

London, Sept. 12.—The statement of the Swedish foreign office concerning the transmission of German telegrams from Argentina is regarded by the morning newspapers as extremely feeble. They say it will not satisfy the belligerents and neutrals whom Sweden has injured.

The Times declares that the Stockholm foreign office "dares not utter a comprehensive denial. It pleads that these particular messages were unknown to it, but admits that Sweden continued to act as intermediary between Germany and Argentina. If has the effrontery to quote as precedents in justification of this course the transmission of inquiries from Germany about the civil population of Kiao-Chau, and from the United States about American citizens in Turkey. But by its own confession it knew the contents of these inquiries, and knew that they were harmless.

No Parallel.

"What parallels were there between forwarding open communications of this kind and forwarding dispatches written in secret language," which it alleges was "incomprehensible to the forwarding party"? Was it so innocent of the work in which the submarines are engaged as to have no suspicions that secret messages between a South American shipping centre and Berlin might have something to do with "unrestricted frightfulness"? If so, its occupants must be astonishingly ignorant of their German neighbors."

Indefensible Treachery.

The Daily Chronicle asserts that the statement "shows a decidedly imperfect sense of the unneutrality and extreme gravity of the proceedings. The treachery of which the Swedish foreign office is guilty is quite indefensible. There are three ways in which it may be rectified at Stockholm. Either the foreign minister may disown and punish his subordinates, the Government may disown the foreign minister, or the country may disown the Government. Failing any of these, the Allies may be driven to take steps in their own defence."

The Morning Post says that the admission of the Swedish foreign office refers to Germany alone, "concerning whose guilt there is no question. The points at issue between Sweden and the Allies are not answered.

Other Questions.

"It does not appear that the Swedish Government quite appreciates the gravity of the issues involved. Moreover, there is the further question as to whether other Swedish representatives in other capitals also are transmitting German messages through Stockholm to Berlin. Germany, as we know, has been receiving much information through sources undiscoverable up to the present. After what has been discovered, it is impossible to suspect that it should not have a particular direction."

The Daily News says: "A man may have a perfect right to post a friend's letter for him but when he finds himself made inadvertently an accessory to murder in the exercise it is natural to expect a little more indignation at the abuse of his confidence, and a little less insistence on his technical innocence than the Swedish note shows."

SERVICE AS LACKEY.

Christiania, Sept. 12.—The Christiania Morgenbladet, commenting on the Washington disclosures, expresses deep regret that "Swedish diplomacy is so lacking in understanding of the duties of a neutral that it did service as a lackey, which directly furthered the German submarine warfare against neutral ships, even if it did not clearly understand the contents of the German dispatches."

The paper continues:

"In the last ministerial conference at Stockholm nothing was said about the submarine warfare, probably owing to the Swedish cabinet. On the whole, Sweden until now has played such a commanding part in Scandinavian cooperation that the other Scandinavian countries have been unable to maintain their own interests to a degree desirable.

Position Lost.

"Neither Norway nor Denmark would in the future like to leave Sweden in the leading position if she sticks to a system which not only is to be condemned on moral grounds, but endangers Sweden's neutrality and might greatly risk that of the two other Scandinavian countries.

"If Sweden cannot weaken the impression made by Secretary Lansing's revelations she is hopelessly disgraced in international opinion for a long time. The idea of an international conference under Swedish chairmanship is destroyed forever, and we regret to say that we are afraid that Scandinavian co-operation, which was so successfully renewed, will retrograde and will have the greatest difficulties to combat."

STOCKHOLM DISTURBED.

London, Sept. 12.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Copenhagen says:

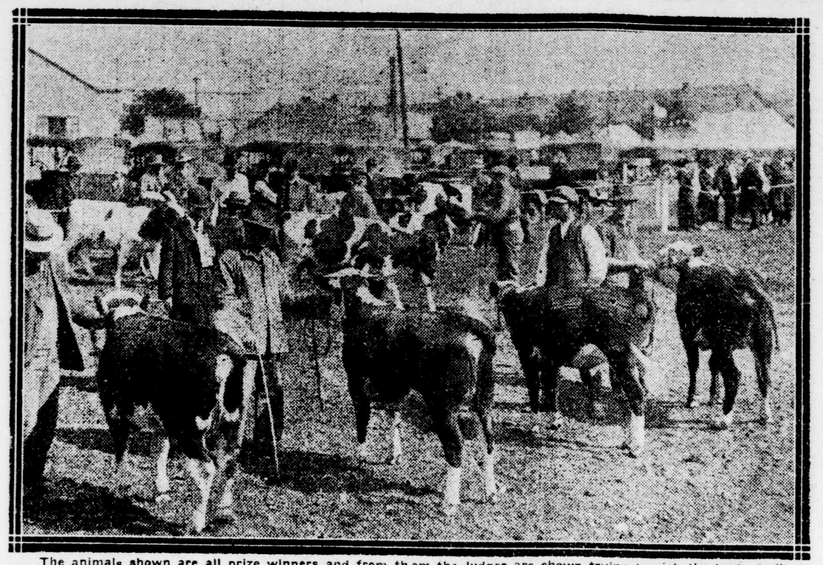

"The first statements from the United States concerning the use of the Swedish legation in Argentina by the German charge d'affaires caused some disturbance on the Stockholm stock exchange, but that the Government's expected decision prevented a panic.

"The Stockholm Dagbladt, a copy of which has been received here, says former Foreign Minister Wallenberg evidently never got satisfactory guarantees against the misuse of legation facilities, and that once he introduced the system it continued automatically."

The newspaper adds that former Minister Lindman had quite casually heard of the exchange of telegrams permitted by Minister Wallenberg and had no reason to suspect the doubtful nature of the traffic.

The Copenhagen Politiken says it supposes the scandal will be largely employed in the election campaign in Sweden, as the democratic parties there have constantly reproached both the present and former Governments with partiality in their former policy.

400 Alien Voters in Windsor Will Be Cut From Municipal List

Assessor's Investigation Reveals That Many Have Been Voting Illegally.

WINDSOR, Sept. 11.—Assessment Commissioner Black has found that many residents of Windsor have been voting illegally at both municipal and general elections, and he has ordered to be prepared lists which will indicate marginally whether or not the person whose name is shown as a voter, is a British subject or otherwise.

At least 400 aliens, most of them citizens of the United States, who live on this side, are expected to be affected by the rulings of the new Ontario election law, requiring assessors to state in their rolls the nationality of tenants and property owners.

BUILDING FOR AUTOS NEEDED AT FAIR, SAYS POPULAR MANAGER

Many More Would Be Shown Were Accommodation Available.

With the Jubilee Western Fair only getting nicely under way, a suggestion has already been sent in to the board of directors for making the Western Fair of 1918 still bigger and better than ever by supplying more adequate accommodation for exhibitors in the shape of an "automotive" building. Taking time by the forelock in writing to Secretary A. M. Hunt to ask for space in the Transportation Building for 1918, Walter E. Gunn, district manager of the McLaughlin motor cars, draws attention to the fact that all the automobiles are not under one roof at the Western Fair this year. He expresses the belief that many more would in all probability be shown if ample accommodation were available. With regard to the automotive building which he has in mind, Mr. Gunn suggests that it might be used to exhibit not only touring cars, roadsters, trucks and tractors, but aeroplanes as well. The need for more accommodation of this kind in the Western Fair has forced itself upon the district manager of the McLaughlin Company, from the fact that, notwithstanding the McLaughlin Company has the biggest exhibit ever shown at a fair in Western Ontario, it has been impossible to show the variety desired of cars owing to lack of space.

IN DOUBT WHETHER VOTING OF SOLDIERS IS CONSTITUTIONAL

Senator Beique Draws Attention to B. N. A. Act.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—When the second reading of the soldiers' voting bill was moved in the Senate last night, Senator Beique of Montreal expressed doubt that the measure was constitutional as it stood. The British North America act, he said, provided that the Province of Quebec was to have 65 seats, and that the remainder of Canada was to be divided into constituencies as the population of the various provinces corresponded to the 1-65th unit established by Quebec. The present bill provided that men in the Canadian force who had never seen Canada should have the vote because they are members of that force. He had no objection to these men voting, and he did not know that he objected to the liberty given such soldiers to designate where their vote should be counted, but he doubted that the Canadian Parliament, under the authority of the British North America act, had the right to give this power. It might be held, if there was an appeal to the courts, that the soldiers who designated Quebec ridings as those in which their votes should be counted, upset the provisions of the British North America act, which divided the voters of Canada on the basis of the population of Quebec. He asked the Government to give the point its serious consideration.

Senator Dandurand, while favoring soldiers voting, doubted the power or the propriety of parliament to give votes to men from the United States or Newfoundland, or to Britishers in the Canadian forces who have votes in England. There were Canadian soldiers who had been in England practically since the beginning of the war, but they had not been giving voting power to England. The bill was given its second reading, and the committee stage was fixed for Wednesday.

SAYS GERMAN ANSWER TO POPE WILL ACCEPT PROPOSALS IN PRINCIPLE

Amsterdam, Sept. 12.—The Weser Zeitung says that the German reply to Pope Benedict's peace plea will contain no details, but will accept in principle the pope's peace program. The paper adds that the reply will not be submitted to the main committee of the Reichstag.

CROP DAMAGE $1,000 TO THIS ONE FARMER

Sixty-Acre Field Near Highgate Damaged to That Extent.

Muncey, Sept. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Reily and Mr and Mrs. W. C. Whiting and families motored to Highgate on Tuesday. They report considerable damage done by the frost. Many of the beans had been pulled around Claghan and Highgate, but what remained were badly damaged. One farmer reported that frost damaged his 60-acre field of beans to the extent of at least $1,000. Other farmers had similar stories.

Further west, around Strathburn and Wardsville, the crops were more mature, and farmers were already cutting their corn.

In the 90-mile motor trip not more than half a dozen horse-drawn vehicles were passed, although there were hundreds of motor cars, the majority of which were on their way to the western field.

BELIEVES IN RUSSIA; DOUBTS ABILITY OF KERENSKY TO LEAD

Engineer Considers Premier a Man of Words.

NO SEPARATE PEACE

People Would Make Short Work of Any Such Attempt.

London, Sept. 12.—Leslie Urquhart, one of the most prominent mining and oil engineers in Russia, who has just arrived in London, in an interview in the Daily Mail today says:

"I have faith in Russia. I have known the country more than twenty years and she will pull through. Whether General Korniloff will prove 'the saviour of society' I cannot tell. But of this I am sure—a military dictatorship has got to come."

After paying a tribute to General Korniloff as "at least a man of action," Mr. Urquhart asserts there are immense risks and few compensating gains for the Germans in a further advance on Petrograd, even if the time of the year and the character of the country permitted.

Russia, he says, is tired of war just like all the other belligerent peoples, but is not tired enough to make a separate peace. He added: "I can say with absolute confidence that the whole Russian people would be dead against a separate peace, and would make short work of anyone who attempted to negotiate it."

Mr. Urquhart characterized Premier Kerensky as "an honest, visionary. At bottom he is a talker, but little else. Premier Kerensky is afraid of the council of workmen's and soldiers' delegates, which is a self-constituted organization of idealists, theorists, anarchists and syndicatists, with hardly any workingmen or soldiers among them. Some of them are known to be in Germany pay. Their ideas of discipline not only have ruined the army, but all Russian Industrialism."

METAL OPERATIVES DRAWING WAGES OF $10,000 PER ANNUM

Increase Granted Youngstown Men, Making Record.

Youngstown O., Sept. 12.—Wages advances of 16 1-6 per cent for sheet mill workers and 16 per cent for mill men for the two-month period commencing December 1 have been granted those operatives belonging to the Amalgamated Association of Sheet Tin and Iron Workers of North America as the result of the bi-monthly settlement with employers here yesterday. Fully 10,000 men are directly affected and many more indirectly.

These advances are the culmination of series of wages increases totalling since the first of the year 66 per cent for sheet mill workers and 70 per cent for mill workers on tin. The former are now receiving 85½ per cent above the base rate and the latter 85 per cent, and drawing wages never equalled in the industry. It is stated some of the operatives are drawing at the rate of nearly $10,000 a year at this time.

WARNS STUDENTS TO BE CAREFUL OF BEHAVIOR

Montreal, Sept. 12.—Discussing the military service act at the opening of Laval University yesterday, Sir Horace Archambeault, chief justice of Quebec, told the students to refrain from partaking in or attending meetings where they ought not to be, and to govern themselves in a serious and responsible spirit, so that when the men who were to make the decisions as to exemptions took up their task, it might not be said against students, that far from being of use to their country they were actually a nuisance.

MONTREAL HOTEL BURNED.

ITALIANS SHOOT UP ATTACKING FORCES IN TRENTINO AREA

Enemy Gains Brief Success West of Lake Garda.

IMMEDIATELY TURNED OUT

In Albania, in Conjunction With French, Trench Is Captured.

ROME, Sept. 11.—There was little activity, aside from artillery engagements, along the Austro-Italian front yesterday, today's official war office statement reports. Some infantry fighting occurred in the Trentino, in which the Italians held their own.

The statement reads:

"On the front as a whole the activity was confined mainly to artillery.

"West of Lake Garda the enemy, after intense artillery preparation, attacked our advance posts between the Concei valley and Lake Ledro. He succeeded in gaining a foothold in one of them, but was immediately driven out.

"At the mouth of the Tumavo, storming parties, which, with the support of infantry waves, moved against our positions on the extreme right wing, were stopped and put to flight, with severe losses, by our efficacious barrage fire.

"In Albania yesterday our parties, supporting French troops in operations in the Devolle valley, carried an enemy trench on the Miplosum, southeast of Berat, and captured prisoners."

PRICE OF APPLES HAS BEEN FIXED BY FOOD CONTROLLER

Hanna Says Nova Scotia Will Supply Western Canada.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINNIPEG, Sept. 11.—Western Canada will obtain its apple supply from Nova Scotia, according to statements made by W. Hanna, food controller, before leaving for Toronto tonight. Mr. Hanna said the British Columbia crop was 75 per cent normal. Ontario and Quebec have only 15 per cent normal crop, but Nova Scotia has 100 per cent normal crop. The latter province usually exports a large quantity of apples, but this year the crop from the east will be diverted to the West, and the food controller's department has already made arrangements for the distributing of the crop in carload lots to the West.

Price Now Fixed.

The price has also been fixed, and wholesalers and retailers will help in its distribution on the basis of the fixed price.

Another point made by Mr. Hanna was that it would be a great mistake for Canada to change the standard of its flour. For the present there would be slight gain if the standard of flour was lowered, but this would be much more than offset by the loss that would accrue in export trade after the war.

YOUNG ORPHAN GIRL

How She Was Cured — Had Headaches, Dizzy Spells, Awful Pains, Could Not Work.

Pittsburg, Pa.—"I am an orphan girl, and when only seventeen years old had to support myself, but I would have such sick spells every month that I would have to stay at home from work, and I could not afford to do it. I also had headaches, dizzy spells and a pain in my side. My sister told me how much Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped her, so I began taking it. The result is I am now in good health and never lose a day from my work, and you may publish my letter to show other girls the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will do."—Miss Marie Schmeltz, 34 Gardner street, Troy Hill, N. S., Pittsburg, Pa.

RUSSIAN FORCES BEAT GERMANS ON TWO FRONTS

On Gulf of Riga, Enemy Is Retired With Slight Opposition.

GOOD WORK IN RUMANIA

Enemy Offensives Repulsed at Two Points and Height Captured.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 11.—The Russians on the Riga front are still impeding the Germans in their attempts at a further advance into Russia and on the south, along the Bukowina frontier, as in Lower Rumania, where they are operating in conjunction with the Rumanians, they have taken the offensive and won victories over the Teutonic allies.

The official communication issued today says:

"On the Gulf of Riga our advance detachments moved to the line of the River Indupeloisapauske, meeting with slight opposition. Between the Pskoff road and the Dvina there were encounters between advance units, most of which ended favorably to us. On the remainder of the front there have been artillery duels and fusillades.

Beat Enemy in Rumania.

"Rumanian front: In the region south of Radautz the enemy undertook an offensive on a sector of our positions near the village of Solko. The attack was repulsed. In the region east of Kimpolung our troops captured a height east of the village of Stritoura. In some sectors in the region west of Okno, there were violent bombardments. An enemy offensive northeast of the village of Slonik has been repulsed.

"Caucasus front—At Kochabongon, and in the region east of Wanneboch there have been encounters between our scouts and strong masses of Kurds. Our scouts recaptured 87 head of small cattle and 500 head of horned cattle. On the remainder of the front there is nothing to report.

Good Work By Airmen.

"Aviation—A squadron of our airplanes, consisting of five machines, has bombarded enemy depots and huts in the region of Dobrova, southeast of Kovel. Ten loads of bombs were dropped. In the same region an airship dropped bombs on an enemy convoy. On the Rumanian front four aerial combats took place on Sunday, as a result of which four enemy machines were forced to descend within their lines. Enemy airplanes have dropped bombs on the stations at Zamirie and Radzivilov."

"HAD ALMOST GIVEN UP."

Sarnia, Ont.—"About 27 years ago I was taken very bad, my blood, too, was in bad shape. I got so I had to go to bed and I was there for over three months. I could not eat and suffered untold agony. I had three of the best doctors I could get, but it just seemed nothing was going to help me. I had almost given up. I thought I would never be any better and was willing to give up and die rather than suffer as I was. A neighbor of mine told me of Dr. Pierce's wonderful remedies and I decided to use them. My husband bought me six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription.' I had not taken it long until I felt better. In less than six weeks I was out of bed, and in less than six months I was cured and have been well ever since. Do all my own work. I have raised three daughters, two are married and have children. They have used it and they are healthy, so are their children. I am sure it was all on account of my having them use the medicine.

"I keep all of Dr. Pierce's medicines in the house. Have 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Smart-Weed'—anything prepared by Dr. Pierce is good. I also have a copy of the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which I have had 26 years; it has been very valuable to me."—Mrs. J. Way, 232 Ontario street, Sarnia, Ont.

THE FISH TRUST.

EIGHTY THOUSAND POUNDS OF FISH were caught off Port Stanley in one day. It was a record catch. The hardworking fishermen brought it to port. It was boxed and iced and placed in cars bound for New York.

A Montreal firm telegraphed for quotations. The fishermen were unable to sell any fish to the Canadian company because economic conditions of the past have been such that the supply is controlled by the big Booth fish interests of the United States.

The Advertiser does not criticise the fishermen of Port Stanley. They sold in the best market, possibly the only market for their total catch.

But The Advertiser does criticise the "Food Controller" for not making it a law that the Canadian people shall have a right to purchase fish at the same rate as the American fish trust. Why should London pay New York prices for Lake Huron whitefish or Lake Erie ciscoes? Give the fishermen their fair price, but let Canadians have first chance at the fish supply. At least let us have a pound or two before it goes into the hands of the fish trust or the fish trust's agents.

The fishermen have to take what the fish trust pays. The fish trust seems to dominate the situation.

In fact is it not true, Mr. Reader and Mrs. Reader, that almost all of our food products in Canada are controlled by trusts? It is about time that the "Free Food" cry was heard ringing through the land, not as it applies to the producer, but as it applies to the army of trusts and middlemen who stand between the consumer and the farmer and manipulate the output. We get our fish shipped back to us from the States, our beef shipped back to us from the States, and someone has to pay the freight—and then some.

GET IN THE GAME.

THE Western Fair is a fine relaxation for the whole district. One approaches on foot, by motor car or train, and one returns with a sweet weariness, whether to city or country home. There is a pretty good-natured crowd at the Fair, and to bathe one's ego in good-nature won't harm a most massive intellect. There are so many folks, too, that the city man, who sometimes gets tired of having people know him when they meet him, can get into a crowd and lose himself, and eat peanuts or allow the "catch-penny" men to have a whirl at him. Most men and women stop playing too early, but at the Fair one should get into the spirit of the event, and have a little fun. Sitting back looking for types isn't such a satisfying thing. Someone may be sizing you up as one at the same time. And, of course, one who looks for types never wants to be one.

But if you can be a child again, do the James Whitcomb Riley act for an hour or two, even though you may seem a fair loon and your digestion may commit hari-kari over the "hot dog" within you. The Fair is a big show with a frolic thrown in, and if you miss the frolic, you haven't got your money's worth.

The best game is to let yourself be carried into an adventure. Get up close to the horns of the ferocious bull, and feel the thrill of having him glare and "Woof!" at you. See if you can hypnotize the ferocious lion, with the slatty sides, a regular "Wizard of Oz" old king of beasts he is. Get in with a regular Simon Sly "con man," and see if he picks you for a "boob" or a wise one. Perhaps his classification will prick the balloon of your vanity when you find him trying to peddle a "block" watch with tears in his eyes and tales of a dying mother. Take a trip in the ferris wheel, and recall the time when you wore father's overcoat to the great world's fair in '93, and tried to look like a real man, aged 16, in the midst of all Chicago's wildest days. Also seat yourself in the "crack-the-whip," and get a 1916 model thrill. It's a new one, and your imagination can help along, until you feel that each crack snaps an ounce of grouch out of you.

See the human side of the big show, for the human side is the biggest show of all. Not with too much satire, but with an appreciation of the best part of it, which is that the folks who attend the Western are at least 98 per cent good folks, grading just about as high as the horses, the cows, the butter, the cheese, the motor cars and all the rest of the "exhibits" in their respective classes.

THREE GREAT LEADERS SINCE CONFEDERATION.

THE LIBERAL party in Canada has had three leaders, three only, since Confederation. They were three great men, repesenting three great distinct races, the Scotch, the Irish, the French.

MACKENZIE.

The Hon. Alexander Mackenzie was a typical Scot. He hewed to the line. He never compromised with wrong or deviated from those principles he believed in, to gain either a personal or political advantage. All heard his challenge: "Is it just?" He had great ability. His public addresses were given in the purest English. He stood like granite towards his opponents. They could make little impression against him. Like all Scotsmen, he was a Liberal from conviction, a believer in the brotherhood of man. He was tolerant towards all.

LAURIER.

Among the many virtues for which Sir Wilfrid Laurie will be long and gratefully remembered by the people of Canada is his toleration. He, more than any other man in Canada, has consistently, both in public and private life, striven to abolish all distinction between class and creed. He has endeavored to bring together a united Canada. "He can't be wrong, whose life is in the right," could be said of him personally and politically. There has not been, there could not be, in the life of any nation a man with purer motives or more unsullied character. We do not forget the blameless private and public characters nor the great ability of many of his associates past and present. We do not forget, in addition to Alexander Mackenzie and Edward Blake, his predecessors, such men as David Mills, Richard J. Cartwright, W. S. Fielding, George P. Graham and others, but perhaps because of his French descent and the difficulties he had to overcome in his earlier years, the efforts of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to abolish all distinctions of race and creed in Canada appear more prominent. These men, as well as he, sought to accomplish the same purpose.

BLAKE.

His immediate predecessor, the Hon. Edward Blake, gave up the last years of his life for a similar cause. He left Canada and all his friends there, became the member for South Longford in Ireland in the British Parliament, that he might promote and further, to the best of his ability, the cause of home rule in the country of his fathers. That great ability was recognized and he was considered the best lawyer in the British Empire. He was a Protestant. He believed, and said he believed, if home rule were adopted the Protestants would be the spoiled children of Ireland. That he did not in his lifetime succeed in securing home rule does not prove that his work in the British Parliament failed. Ireland's condition was much improved. He had not obtained home rule for Ireland, but he accomplished much. Edward Blake, the Protestant, Wilfrid Laurier, the Catholic, are splendid examples of broaded-minded toleration, but not more so than Alexander Mackenzie.

There never has been a time in the history of Canada, in the world's history, when broad-minded toleration, such as that possessed by Mackenzie, Blake and Laurier, was so needed.

THE WAR.

The war is the question uppermost in the minds of the peoples of the world. Some of them have lived their lives in an atmosphere of war, some of them in an atmosphere of peace, and all the while the best men in the world have been doing everything they could to bring about the brotherhood of man. Canada, a part of the North American continent, desires to flourish by the arts of peace. It has not been disturbed by the problems that are grave and almost unsolvable in the old lands. It is a young country. Confederation was only 50 years old the other day. It has been a glorious success.

CONFEDERATION

Confederation has proved to be a great accomplishment for the English-speaking world. The United States is part of that world and one of the most powerful of the Allied nations. The success of Confederation has meant a great deal to it. The continent is one today. Great Britain, France and the United States will succeed or fail together. May not the future of Canada mean as much to the world in the next hundred years as the United States has meant to it in the last hundred years? It does not seem long since Confederation, but it is more than likely that by the time it is twice as old Canada's population will exceed the population of Great Britain and Ireland combined. Who can foresee its importance to the world. Some have thought if the United States had continued to be British the capital of the Empire would some day have been in America. Let such questions be solved by time. Do not let the temporary mists of race and creed exist any longer than necessary. Take courage by the noble examples of Mackenzie, Blake and Laurier, and unite on the broad principles of democracy, the brotherhood of man. Look across the ocean and see France, England, Scotland and Ireland straining every nerve to save the world, and let Canada, as in duty bound, do its full share, side by side with the soldiers of every land, of every clime and race, to preserve these principles which all right-thinking men deem worth fighting and dying for. This course will bless mankind, and write down the whole Canadian people as lovers of their fellowmen.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

"Germany wants coal; refuses loan to Holland."—Headline. A little game of "freeze out," it would appear.

This is the week when a man with a footful of corns should lay off his job, if he's a street car conductor.

Every day the Conservative press of Ontario is doing more and more to insult Liberals into a firm support of their party.

Should the Senate choose, that tricky election bill may never reach the statute books. There is quite a good chance that the bill will not be passed by October 6.

Our local contemporary has not yet apologized to the Borden Government for accusing it of having sold out to the "moneyed interests" on the paper question.

It would seem appropriate that the kaiser should confer some sort of decoration on the Canadians who seem to be making their "get-aways" rather frequently from Germany. How would it be to coin a new Border Cross, Bill?

The H. C. of L. hits even the tiny tots. We have learned from an inside source that the price of "all-day suckers" has gone up. At least you only get two for a cent now, where formerly three of a certain size could be had. That's tough, isn't it fellows?

STORY HAD 5 TOO MANY SUBMARINES SENT DOWN

Corrected Statement Says One "Probably" Is Sunk.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—A typographical error in transcribing a statement for the press today from an official report to the navy department made it appear that six German submarines had probably been sunk off the French coast when they attacked a fleet of merchantmen, including at least one American vessel. The facts are, so far as known tonight, that one submarine probably was destroyed and two of the steamers went down. A corrected statement was issued by Secretary Daniels as soon as the error was discovered.

GERMANS CANNOT TAKE OFFENSIVE NOW IN BELGIUM

Wastage in Ranks and Loss of Observations Have Foe Crippled.

PROCESS OF ATTRITION

British Are Killing Off Boches at Greater Rate Than Ever Before.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—(via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—The correspondent of Reuter's at British army headquarters, telegraphing today, says:

"Although we now seldom hear anything about attrition, this process is being employed against the enemy in even greater measure than ever. Soldiers who fought on the Somme last year are of opinion that the principal difference between the battle of the Somme and the present offensive is as follows:

"We took a lot of prisoners on the Somme, but did not kill so very many of the enemy; while in Flanders we are taking comparatively few prisoners, but killing a great number of Boches. In other words, attrition is going on apace.

"The causes of the differences are not difficult to determine. The enemy manned his trenches en masse on the Somme to resist our attack and as General von Arnim complained, German soldiers frequently showed over-readiness to surrender. Moreover they had the cover of a wonderful system of deep dugouts which protected them from our shell fire, but also proved traps when the British came over."

Enemy Attacks Costly.

"The conditions in Flanders are totally different. Instead of massed resistence, we got a defence that aims, as far as possible, at concealment and disconnected tactical points. Moreover, the Germans are following the policy of swift counter-attacks more vigorously than ever, the result in view of our great artillery preponderance, being most costly.

"The ground does not lend itself to burrowing deep dugouts, so that there are no garrison posts with concrete walls, sometimes ten feet thick. Substituted for these are places often constructed with cupolas almost flush with the ground, just enough elevation above the surface being permitted to enable machine guns to be employed. Camouflaged to look like their surroundings these places are most difficult to discover, and they are laid bare only by raking the ground with high explosives."

Wasting Enemy's Ranks.

"Manifestly such a measure of warfare means slow progress, but the slowness with which we are gaining territory is more than counter-balanced in past comparisons by the rate of wastage in the enemy ranks. German tactics in Flanders are everywhere strictly defensive. The whole effort of the enemy is now apparently directed to trying to arrest our advance. If he ever contemplated taking the offensive in this territory, as was stated in the spring of this year, there is absolutely no visible sign of any hope on his part of regaining the initiative. This is a point to be realized in its full significance in its relation to the present situation.

British Hold High Ground.

"Since July 31 we have gained practically complete command of Westhoek ridge, giving us most valuable observation and obliging the Germans to so far withdraw their guns that the areas of the old Ypres salient, which were previously veritable death traps, are now practically immune. We have thinned out the reserves of Prince Rupprecht's armies to a degree which must be causing the utmost anxiety to the high command. I believe that the average German division now consists barely of 12,000 officers and men of all units, or not more than the infantry strength alone of a British division. So that in estimating the strength of the opposing forces in Flanders by the number of divisions respectively engaged, an addition of about one-third must be made to the British total to get the true comparison."

Wheat Prices Fixed By Canadian Board at $2.21 Maximum

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—The Canadian Board of Grain Supervisors has fixed the prices of the Canadian wheat crop of 1917 at Fort William and Port Arthur as follows:

Manitoba, No. 1 northern, $2.21; No. 2 northern, $2.18; No. 3 norhtern, $2.15; Alberta, No. 1 red winter, $2.21; No. 2 red winter, $2.18; No. 3 red winter, $2.15.

It is understood that the Canadian prices are the same as for the three grades of dark spring northern and dark hard winter at Minneapolis and Duluth.

It is stated that prices for other Canadian grades will be announced as soon as the authorities have more information.

Prices on the other grades of wheat will be fixed as soon as sufficient information about the quality of the new crop has been secured by the committee. Flour millers in the interior west of Fort William and Port Arthur will be permitted to pay, in excess of the fixed prices, a maximum of one cent per bushel diversion charge.

30 Per Cent Bean, Corn and Potato Crop Gone in Mich

Frost Has Done Enormous Damage Across the Line.

LANSING, Mich., Sept. 11.—Thirty per cent of Michigan's bean, potato and corn crop was ruined by frost during the last 48 hours, according to estimates made at the state capital today. The estimates were based upon reports from county agents in the lower and upper peninsula.

FALL WHEAT SOWING STARTING ALREADY IN SOME SECTIONS

Big Prices This Year Cause of Large Acreage.

SOUTH DELAWARE, Sept. 11.—So many farmers have had to stack their grain this year, their barns being filled with hay, that they are anxiously awaiting the threshing outfits. There is a great demand for machines at present, everyone wanting to thresh as soon as possible. The farmers are rushing their new wheat to the elevators.

Frequent rains are making the pastures good, and helping the fall plowing. There will be a large acreage of wheat put in this fall, as the price is most encouraging to the farmers. Some are sowing this week.

The beans will soon be ready to harvest, and bid fair to be a fair crop.

As elsewhere the lack of help is one of the big problems. The farmer who is making money now is the farmer with his own help. Experienced farm hands are at more than a premium. Improved machinery is helping out, however, to a large extent.

Because of the poor outlook for hay in the spring, the crop acreage here was doubled. If the frosts will keep off long enough every silo in the district will be filled with corn to spare.

HEAVY GRAIN YIELDS.

KINGSVILLE, Sept. 11. — Russell Rogers, con. 3, Gosfield South, reports having a very successful threshing and yield from thirteen acres. He threshed 640 bushels of grain. The oats yielded 55 bushels per acre, the wheat 38 bushels per acre.

GOVT. DESPERATE AND RUTHLESSLY PUSHING THINGS

C. N. R. Bill Driven Through Senate, After Defeating 13 Amendments.

FORCING ELECTION BILL

Neely Vainly Moves That the Women Who Vote Provincially Be Included.

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—Steps are being taken tonight for the application of closure to the war times election act. The Opposition is protesting that the measure is one of great importance, that the bill had been loosely prepared, and that there should be substantial amendments to make it fair and workable. The reply of the Government is that the end of the session is approaching, that the legislation will not permit of delay, and that closure will have to be resorted to.

The work of the session is advancing to a point where prorogation is looked for within the next ten days.

Eleven C. N. R. Amendments.

The Canadian Northern bill was driven through the Senate today without amendment, although eleven amendments were offered from the Liberal side. None of them were accepted.

The military voters' bill was given second reading in the same chamber. It is expected that each of these measures will go forward another stage tomorrow, and that the Senate will be ready to deal with the franchise bill when it comes to the Upper House on Saturday or Monday.

Government Desperate.

The Government is showing the ruthlessness of desperation in the manner in which it is applying closure, and giving no time for the adequate consideration of measures in the Commons and in the Senate is using its majority for the purpose of preventing the correction of bills there by amendments. What the Government fears is that if it permits amendments in the Senate there will be delay when the amended bills return to the Commons for the acceptance of the amendments of the Upper House.

It is conceded that there never has been such a determination shown as that exhibited by the Government in putting through the Canadian Northern deal for the benefit of MacKenzie & Mann.

Will Not Give Figures.

The Government announced in the Senate today that it would give no indication of the figure at which it would fix the maximum of the payment that is to be made to Mackenzie & Mann for their stock in the Canadian Northern.

The feeling at Ottawa is that the Government regards this as an election measure, in every way as important to its purposes as is the franchise bill.

Would Pass Bill Friday.

About midnight Mr. Carvell expressed his fear that the Government would invoke the closure to get the bill through committee. He asked the direct question what the Government intended to do in this regard.

The prime minister in his reply declared that the Opposition had used unnecessary obstruction on Saturday. The Government were willing to give Wednesday and Thursday to committee on the bill, providing the Opposition would guarantee the third reading on Friday. It was desired to prorogue, if possible, not later than the end of next week.

"The bill is revolutionary in character and should not be railroaded through the Commons," Mr. Carvell protested. "There should be full discussion."

Hon. George P. Graham, in the absence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, could hardly say whether the Opposition would be willing to guarantee the third reading on Friday. "There is no desire to obstruct the bill," Mr. Graham declared, "but there are not more than twelve men in the House who understand it, and we want full discussion."

Closure in Committee.

The House passed on from clause to clause and notice of closure in committee was given by the prime minister. In deference to the Opposition complaints, the Government agreed to reprint the bill in such a form as to make clear how it amends the Dominion elections act.

An amendment by Dr. Neely proposed to give the federal vote to all women in those provinces where the legislature has granted women's suffrage. It was defeated on division. The Government took the view that to give the vote to all women would nullify the compensation given under the bill to relatives of soldiers.

Plunge Into Election Bill.

Immediately upon the opening of the House this afternoon, the prime minister moved the House into committee on the war-time elections bill.

Hon. Arthur Meighen stated in reply to W. E. Knowles of Moose Jaw, it had not been contemplated that the military voters' act would apply to by-elections, although legally it would.

Mr. Knowles pointed out that almost invariably there were by-elections after a general election. New ministers would have to go back to their constituencies for re-election.

Mr. Meighen said it was hoped to avert the tremendous task of holding by-elections in war time. "The best way would be not to have any ministers defeated," he said humorously.

"Better put that in the act," suggested Hon. Charles Murphy.

To Define "Demobilization."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier inquired as to the exact definition of the term, "complete demobilization." Mr. Meighen replied that to his mind complete demobilization took place when all the men were released from their military obligations. However, he would secure the legal definitions.

Shutting Out Worthy Ones.

Dr. Neely of Humboldt asked that the Government enlarge the scope of the franchise further. Naturalization difficulties, he said, should not stand in the way of a more complete franchise to women. By this legislation many women who were British-born and engaged in war work would be shut out.

Hon. Mr. Meighen said that the difficulty of naturalization was only one of the difficulties. He knew of nowhere else to draw this line than by giving the mothers, wives and sisters of soldiers the vote. The purpose was to make the vote a representative vote for the soldiers overseas.

G. E. McGraney urged that the Government extend the franchise to the women of the country in the same way as is done to men. The effect of the present bill was to multiply the effect of the men's votes.

Mr. Meighen argued that if the Government had enfranchised the wives of all the British-born no benefit would accrue to the men at the front. Such a measure would apply equally to the wives of the men who stayed at home.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley said that as far as he could see, one purpose of the measure was to give women the vote on the basis of service, and not so much because they would represent the men at the front.

Hon. Arthur Meighen—For both reasons.

Should Recognize Service.

Dr. Pugsley thought that the latter was the real reason. Therefore, women who give valuable service at home should be enfranchised. The premier, he said, had declared that the provisions of the naturalization law were an obstacle to doing this. But surely this difficulty could be overcome. Dr. Pugsley went on to say that the premier had placed himself on record as being in favor of granting the suffrage to all women, and had even moved an amendment that this matter be considered by Parliament before adjournment. Now, however, the premier saw a fanciful reason for delay.

Sir Robert Borden again brought forward the naturalization law as an insurmountable obstacle to granting the franchise to all Canadian women.

The premier said that he adhered to the opinion that women were entitled to the general franchise: If given a mandate by the people at the coming election he would, he said, endeavor to see that women were given the vote.

The premier concluded by saying that when women realized the situation they would give the Government credit for doing the best possible under the circumstances. The women who had made the greatest sacrifices were the ones to be enfranchised.

Neely Has Amendment.

Dr. Neely of Humboldt said that the Government was adopting a policy of discrimination. However, the Government, while discriminating along certain lines for, as stated, the benefit and safety of the state, wished to depart as little as possible from the provincial standard of qualifications, for voters. He therefore suggested that in the provinces where women were permitted to vote in the provincial elections they should be allowed to vote in this election. He would move, he said, an amendment to this effect. There was an insinuation, he said, in the attitude of the secretary of state (Meighen) that the women who had used their influence in support of the soldiers were those who had relations at the front. This, he thought, was an unworthy insinuation.

Hon. Arthur Meighen disclaimed any feeling of mistrust for the women of Canada who had not relatives at the front. It was not a question of trusting the women, he said. The Government merely thought that the sentiment of the soldier overseas would be best reflected by his immediate relatives. As to the introduction of the provincial franchise in this election, such action would permit women in the four western provinces, who had come from alien countries, to vote. If they were married to Canadian citizens, all that was necessary was that they should have resided in Canada for one year.

Dr. Neely—I would be perfectly willing to trust the Swedish women, for instance, who had been married to Canadian citizens for a year, with the vote.

Squaw Wives Barred.

Mr. Meighen informed E. E. Devlin that the squaw wife of an Indian in the army would not have a vote as the bill stands, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier contended that a woman would have a right to vote in the province where she had been granted that right by the Provincial Legislature.

Mr. Meighen emphasized that to give the vote to all women would remove the compensating feature. It has to be a difference between those who have made the highest sacrifices and those who have made minor sacrifices.

"You are trying to cast ridicule on those who knitted socks," reproved Dr. Pugsley, to which the solicitor-general replied that he was not.

Mr. Knowles of Moose Jaw expressed the opinion that the fact that the Government was giving the vote to some women was an admission that all women were entitled to it.

Hon. Frank Oliver charged the Government with attempting to establish a military voting class to perpetuate themselves in power.

Two Amendments Lost.

Dr. Neeley's amendment was declared lost on division.

An amendment of Mr. McCraney to limit the vote of soldiers' female relatives to those born within the British dominions also failed to carry.

Mr. Carvell called attention to the fact that while the bill only extended the franchise to female relatives of soldiers who had gone overseas, it would give the vote to the female relatives of a naval cadet who had never been out of Canada.

Admitting that the clause might be capable of stricter limitations, Mr. Meighen promised consideration.

After recess Mr. McCraney asked that the list made by the enumerators be posted as soon as possible, and suggested that they should be up before nomination day, and Mr. Meighen, while objecting to going that far, said that the ten days allowed by the bill might be extended to twelve. Writs would be issued five or six weeks before election day.

Organizers for Party.

J. J. Hughes of Prince Edward Island wanted to save cost of enumerators in his province, claiming that they would simply be organizers for the party in power.

Mr. Meighen said that there must be lists or it would be impossible to know what women had a right to vote on election day, and Mr. Hughes requested that the Opposition be permitted to appoint half of the enumerators, if they were not to be party organizers.

Edmond Proulx wanted the enumerators appointed by judges.

Mr. McCrae of Sherbrooke wanted to know if the female relatives of the from 12,000 to 15,000 officers overseas unable to secure appointments and taking no part in the war were to be permitted to vote, and Mr. Meighen, declaring that it would be impossible to distinguish between them and those actually fighting, asserted that Mr. McCrae had multiplied the amount by ten. Furthermore, those men might be sent to France any day.

"And they may go no day at all," said Mr. Knowles, who was of the opinion that the woman whose husband had got as far as Halifax had made as big a sacrifice as the man twirling a cane along the Strand.

Mr. Carvell thought the bill made the enumerator practically the dictator.

REV. WALTER MOFFATT OF MILLBANK WAS ELECTED MODERATOR

STRATFORD, Sept. 11.—Rev. Walter Moffatt, of Milbank, was elected moderator of Stratford Presbytery at the September session here today. Rev. Finlay Matheson was elected treasurer.

A communication was received from the General Assembly regarding the marking of the anniversary of the posting of the Thesis by Luther in 1617, and it was recommended to the congregations that the occasion be observed.

Regarding the will of Mr. Stephens, of Fish Creek, near Granton, who died some time ago, leaving property to the church, it was reported that the property was to be sold and the proceeds divided between Granton and Nissouri.

At the afternoon session a recommendation from the General Assembly was read for a minimum stipend of $1,200. This was referred to a committee to visit the different charges effected.

According to agreement the services of St. Paul's Church, Logan, will be dispensed with for the present.

A committee was appointed to draft a resolution of sympathy with Rev. Mr. Alp of Granton in the death in action of his son.

ARGENTINA MAY HAND LUXBURG HIS PASSPORTS

High Official Quoted to This Effect — Consulting Washington.

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 11.—The long delayed dispatches from Ambassador Naon at Washington were received by the foreign minister late this afternoon. The ambassador sent these dispatches relating to the revelations regarding the Swedish legation here on Friday, but they had been stalled along the road. They did not contain all the information the foreign minister desired, and the Argentine ambassador was instructed to see Secretary of State Lansing immediately, presumably for the purpose of obtaining more details.

A high official of the foreign office stated this afternoon that Count Luxburg, the German charge d'affaires, would be handed his passports, but action by the Government awaits the result of the conference between Ambassador Naon and Secretary of State Lansing.

"GLAD TO PASS THE GOOD WORD ALONG," HE SAYS

Hudson Motors Assembler Says Tanlac Relieved Him of His Rheumatism.

"Yes, sir, I am glad to tell anybody about a thing that did as much for me as Tanlac has," said Elmer Doonan, when he came into Cunningham's Central Drug Store, Detroit, Mich., a few days ago for another botle. Mr. Doonan has been employed by the Hudson Motor Company as assembler for the past two years, and has many friends among the automobile workers. "I think it's only right," he continued, "to pass the good word along, for it was what I read in the papers about Tanlac that caused me to take it, and get rid of this trouble, that looked like it was going to keep me from working any more.

"For a long time I have had rheumatism in my limbs. The trouble was principally in my hands and wrist; in fact, the pains extended all the way down to my fingertips, and my wrist would swell up and cause me to suffer something terrible. I just can't tell you how much I did suffer. I couldn't get any rest at nights on account of the pain, and would get out of bed in the mornings so tired and worn out it was all I could do to drag myself back to work. I finally got so bad I was losing a great deal of time, for my work requires the use of nimble fingers, and I simply couldn't keep up in my condition.

"After trying nearly everything one ever heard of and getting no better, I was just about ready to give up trying any more. That is just the shape I had gotten into when I read about this Tanlac.

"I have now used three bottles of Tanlac, and have derived most satisfactory results. I sleep fine at nights, have a splendid appetite, and am relieved of the troubles from which I suffered so long, after other medicines failed to do me any good, and if my statement will help anybody else to get relief from troubles like I had, I'm glad to give it."

There is not a single portion of the body that is not benefited by the healthful work of Tanlac, which begins its action by stimulating the digestive and assimilating organs, thereby enriching the blood and invigorating the whole body. In other words, it relieves rheumatism and other constitutional troubles by removing the cause. Tanlac is a powerful reconstructive tonic and contains certain ingredients which purify the blood and renovates the entire system. Next, it enables the stomach to thoroughly digest its food, thereby permitting the assimilable products to be converted into blood, bone and muscle. By increasing the powers of endurance, it enables those who use Tanlac to better encounter fatigue, exposure and overwork.

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, under the direction of a special representative, and by a regularly established agency in every town.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

PLEASE BE PATIENT.

Miss Grey wishes to say that while a number of letters received in the past week have necessarily not appeared owing to lack of space, all will be printed as soon as possible. In the meantime readers are asked to be patient!

What Are They Gaining?

Dear Miss Grey,—As I have not been a constant reader of The Advertiser, I do not know when your page came into existence, but I did just wonder what was its original object. Have tried to picture its many readers and writers, but, of course, that is impossible but in imagination. The thought of the many readers was followed or coupled with the writers, then the thought of what an opportunity to the writers for helpfulness; then the question: What are each and all—readers and writers—gaining from the page? In the Chinese proverb, "A good hearer is better than a good speaker," perhaps we could find much food for thought. However, there is ever open a way whereby each can be helpful to some one.

If we can do a kindly deed,
A cheering word can say,
Or can supply another's need,
Make glad another's way,
Then we will do it while we can,
The chance will not refuse,
With these we'll fill life's little span,
For we've no time to lose.

HELP OTHERS.

Lemon Butter—1½ cups sugar, 2 eggs, ½ cup butter, grate the yellow of 2 medium-sized lemons, then squeeze in the juice and mix all, and cook 20 minutes in double boiler.

French Mustard—Slice 1 onion and soak 2 days in 1½ cups vinegar, then take onion out and mix in mustard, salt and 1 teaspoonful sugar; set in dish of boiling water for 20 minutes, stir until sufficiently cooked.

Cream Cheese—1 heaping cup grated cheese, 4 tablespoons cream or milk, 1 egg beaten, a little salt and cayenne pepper, small piece of butter. Cook the egg, cream and seasoning together in a double boiler until it thickens, then, when nearly cold, stir in the cheese.

Ans.—Don't you think, readers and writers both, that when "Help Others" has read our columns more she will realize that her verses just about describe the spirit of the Mail-Box? I do not know, of course, what many of our friends are "gaining" from the page, but, certain it is, they are "giving" most generally of time, thought and writing to supply the requests of each other.

"Smile a While."

Dear Miss Grey,—My last letter to the Mail-Box received such a royal welcome that I decided to venture again. Some time ago I read in The Advertiser a letter about writing to our boys in the trenches, and I certainly agree that the cheeriest letter we can compose should go to our boys. I save up the funniest stories I find, write about everything that's newsy, and write long letters.

Somebody wrote complaining about people going to amusements and being jolly while our boys are away. Miss Grey, don't you consider that rather going to the extreme? I do. I think that it is up to us to be happy, that there is great sorrow everywhere, and a smiling face and a happy disposition is what will help others to bear their trials. And if we are not happy how can we write cheery letters to our laddies? I consider a depressing letter worse than none.

Of course, some people go to extremes in their amusements, but they are in the minority, I think, for the most of the people fully realize the gravity of this struggle.

Cynthians, don't you think my motto is a good one—"Smile, Smile, Smile"? I know "Sea Shells" will take care of my kiltie, and must thank her for adopting him.

And now, tell me this: Why is it considered unladylike to whistle? I think that it is all right, and I hear that it is considered a good exercise for the muscles of your face, and makes your mouth a pretty shape. Please don't think me vain when I talk like that. But, considering it from nearly every girl's point of view, don't they all want to be pretty? I must 'fess up and say that I do. And now that I'm on this subject, to those who want their hair scented, Who uses orris root? Take an ounce of orris root powder, mix or pour about half a dram of your favorite perfume, and let stand for an hour. Brush this scented orris root powder through your hair; it makes it light and fluffy, and imparts the desired odor.

In your reply to my other letter, you said that you thought I had a happy disposition. Well, now, I believe I have, though most of the time I have a perfectly hard struggle to be that way, and like everybody else, I get the "blues"; but then, do you know what I do? I get in front of my mirror and try my hardest to smile. It's hard to do so, I'm telling you, but you can know if you try, and once you get that far, why there's a hope that you'll soon get over those awful dumps. And then again, when that fails, why, I just try to sing the happiest song I know, and most often I can't do even that, so I whistle, whistle away like fury, and all of a sudden I'm smiling. Isn't that a funny way of keeping happy? I'm ruining all my letter with blots and blurs and all because I'm in a perfectly awful hurry. Will close this time. Your troublesome BLUEBIRD.

Ans.—Not troublesome to me, I assure you, "Bluebird"—at least you wouldn't be if you did not write on both sides of the notepaper. Now, call that a hint, and—smile. Your cure for the blues is rather an unusual one. Seems to me one might manage the smile part by standing before the mirror, but how could a body whistle if one's mouth wouldn't stay puckered, if instead it wanted to draw away down towards the chin?

But to be serious, you ask me (privately) if the girl was right or wrong in refusing. If she did not know him at all—I mean, know of his family, or anything about him—she was right; on the other hand, if she knew him to be of good character and standing, she might have accepted, although in such cases it is best to be on the safe side, and a girl is wise not to be too ready to accept invitations of the kind unchaperoned.

To Darken the Hair.

Dear Miss Grey,—Have been an interested (and sometimes amused) reader of your page for some time, and now I should like advice myself. May I trouble you for just one beauty hint? Do you know of a tonic, or a liquid preparation of any kind, which will darken the color of the hair? Will you kindly refer the questions to your correspondents and let me know?

2. Can you please forward me the names and addresses of any soldiers whom you think would like correspondents and some one to be kind to them? ADELAIDE.

Ans.—A simple home remedy for darkening the hair and stimulating the growth as well is to make a strong tea of dried sage leaves, strain and to a cupful of the clear liquid add a teaspoonful of sulphur and an ounce of bay rum. Apply to the hair with brush or comb.

Any other hints from readers will be cheerfully printed.

2. Will send you one or two in your envelope.

Always "In Hope."

Dear Miss Grey and All.—I thought I would pay a short visit. I have not been writing for a long time, being very busy, and though I read the paper regularly, I had no time to write. But reading about the meatless days I thought I would write and ask you what you thought of it; not that it made me any different, for all we eat is one meal of meat a day, as we are not great meat eaters, but we will miss the canned goods far more than the meat.

I see they are going to have conscription after all. Oh well, I think the ones at the front need help, for my boy was asking me in his letter what was the matter with the fellows out here, why did they not go and help. And a good many are like him. My poor boy is wounded and was admitted in London Hospital. But I did not hear from him since, and I am very anxious about him, poor lad. Oh well, there are a good many like me, and a good many worse off, for many of them will never see Canada again. Is it not sad to think of so many so far away from home and helpless. Do you think they will have an election or not? There is a lot of talk but very little doing, especially the food controller; he does a lot of talking but very little good. Nothing seems to come down in price. Is it not dreadful the price we have to pay to live? But I have a good garden and it is a great help.

Where are all the old pageites? We don't see many nowadays. Like me I suppose very busy, but we must not be so busy as to give up our corner and Miss Grey. Well, we are still wishing for the end of the war, but it don't come very soon. There must have been a lot of Germans. I will close for I have overstayed my time now and I don't want to be told to go, for I would like to come again some time. So with best wishes I will bid you good-bye. Always, IN HOPE.

Ans.—To be "always in hope"—what a cheerful motto to have, especially in these days when it is more easy to see the dark side than the bright! And I'm glad when our "old 'uns" find time to write the Box. May "In Hope" hear good news of the progress of her overseas lad ere long.

Pink and White Asters.

"Queenie's Chum."—The posies you name would be simply lovely, and if flags are easily obtainable should combine nicely with the asters. As to "how to decorate," it's so hard to suggest when one knows nothing of your rooms. If you have quantities of flowers, it should not be hard for you to find a nice decorative scheme. If there is a bay window, it may be shaded, and flowers arranged so as to form a most effective background for the bridal party during the ceremony. A very effective scheme for beautifying the table at a recent wedding luncheon was to place the three-story wedding cake in the centre, on an oval mirror. Dainty flowers massed around the edge concealed the frame. From the chandelier overhead four flower ropes were suspended, caught in with tulle bows at the corners of the mirror, and thence across the cloth to the corners of the table, where tulle bows and streamers formed a dainty finish.

Your dining-table might be arranged as described above, and plates or baskets of sandwiches, small cakes, cut iced cake, thinly-sliced nut bread, etc., placed thereon. Any number of the bride's girl friends should be previously invited to attend to the wants of the guests, who are served informally in dining-room, drawing-room or hall. Coffee may be served from the dining-table, a married friend of the bride, or her mother, pouring the beverage, or if preferred it may be poured in the kitchen, dispensed "clear" by several young women, followed immediately by others bearing in dainty vessels the cream and sugar. Meat is best in sandwiches, as no cutting is possible with a "stand-up" lunch. Fruit salad (or more correctly "compote") would be lovely to serve. A recipe for ten people calls for four oranges, four bananas, four peaches, twelve English walnuts, four tablespoons preserved pineapple, and three-fourths cup sugar. Cut oranges finely, add sugar, and let stand half an hour add remainder of fruit, cut in small pieces; serve in glass dishes topped with whipped cream, a few of the broken nuts and a candied cherry on top. You can easily multiply this recipe to provide for any number of guests.

The Periscope Type.

Dear Miss Grey,—Guess my pen must be "nervous"; what do you think about it? I have been reading your page for some time, and think it jolly good. Some of the letters are very interesting and amusing. I'm now taking the liberty of writing you to request you to please send me the address of some lonely soldier. I'd greatly prefer writing to one of the periscope type, one that sees things through the funny glass—and say, please don't give him too many "marraines," 'cause if you do I'm afraid the green-eyed monster will begin his work on yours sincerely,

STRING BEAN.

P. S.—How often do you suppose a lonely would want a box, and what would he like packed therein.—S. B.

Ans.—I think you are rather "interesting and amusing yourself, and that extraordinary pen name of yours reminds one of "Jack and the Beanstalk."

As for an optimistic lonely, how under the ten million moons do you suppose I can pick out a cheery one. But I fancy you will like Pte. P. of the "Fighting 15th" (you'll see his letter in these columns), so am sending the address to you. Could you send a box every month? Oftener, of course, if you can. A square of good fruit cake, package of little cakes, tin or cocoa, jar of jam, Oxo cubes, can of soup, milk chocolate, home made fudge, lump sugar and gum, makes a good package to send. Soap and a towel, socks, writing paper, salve, talcum powder, shaving soap and paper, are good contents of a different variety. Pack all securely in a tin box, wrap in strong paper, then sew factory cotton around, and sew on the starched white cotton label, addressed in ink.

Nothing to Forgive.

Dear Miss Grey,—Please forgive me for not returning this recitation before, but the only excuse I can offer is "busy"—busy both with work and visitors. I was almost ashamed to write at all, but decided better late than never. Many thanks for the pieces. Yours, etc. ELSIE.

Ans.—There's nothing to forgive on my part, "Elsie," I assure you. The piece changed hands so often that I quite forgot where it was. Come again, "Elsie."

DON'T be misled by the careless statement "Home preserving does not pay". Figure it out for yourself. Allowing six ounces of sugar to a can of peaches and adding the price of fruit and fuel you have less than half the cost of commercial canned peaches anywhere near the quality of your homemade product. With metals scarce and transportation problems becoming more and more acute the housewife who preserves her own peaches and other fruits is accomplishing a valuable personal economy and at the same time performing a patriotic duty.

LINES TO EDDIE CICOTTE.

You're out there with the winning play;
You're on the job with all you've got;
Who is the South Side king today?
Cicotte!

No sluggers now your pathway bar;
They never find you rickety;
Who is the White Sox leading star?
Cicotte!

You have the speed and the control;
Your record's far from being spotty;
Who seldom gets into a hole?
Cicotte!

It has been eight years now since Ty Cobb adorned a world series. Yet here is an entry who worked with Cobb back in Augusta days around 1904 about to pop into one with Ty up in the stands writing about him. We refer to the citizen exploited just above.

WORLD SERIES VETERANS.

In responding to the query of a citizen and taxpayer seeking information, the facts seem to be about this:

The White Sox have only one man—Eddie Collins—who ever participated in a world series before.

The Giants have Tesreau, Burns, Fletcher, Herzog and Zimmerman as world series veterans.

The Red Sox are all world series veterans, having won championships for two years back.

A RUGGED BLOW FOR J. BARRY.

If the Red Sox are finally suppressed this will bring a rugged blow to Jack Barry.

Jack has had a hard time of it in a world series way. So far he has only been in six of them—four with Philadelphia and two with Boston. His increment thereof has been about $18,000.

When you get the habit such as that, any sudden snapping brings a jolt. Barry has been off the payroll of but one world series since 1909. He collected in 1910, 1911, 1913, 1914, 1915 and 1916. And what is even more to the point, five of these six starts were from the winner's end.

The Brave uprising in 1914 was his sole slip to second money when the prizes were passed around.

BUT THEN—

Refenence to Barry's impending lapse calls to mind that Mr. Collins, an old mate, is about due to collect again.

Eddie has had even tougher luck than Jack. He has been in only four world series and this next one, things going that way, will only make his fifth. So, whatever happens, Eddie will still be at least one world series back of Barry, who still remains the record-holder.

"In playing a world series game," asks T. F. K., "do you keep your eye on the ball or on the 60 per cent?" The first—if you are to collect the second.

"Which is the better base-running club—the Giants or White Sox?" a bystander wants to know.

Base-running has figured so lightly in world series of the past that so far we haven't examined the delicate details. We hope to expound the same at an early date.

K. J. H.—The best batting average Joe Jackson ever had was .408, in 1911; the best mark Heinie Zimmerman ever had was .372, the same year.

EDDIE'S SUMMIT.

Eddie Collins's greatest world series year was against the Giants, in 1913. In that series he batted .421, and accepted 34 out of 35 chances at second base.

Against the Braves, in 1914, he dropped to .214, proving once more the wide spread elasticity and fickleness of the popular dope.

When a star bats .421 in one series and .214 in the next, the general inefficacy of figures can be understood.

ONE GUESS.

I had a two-foot putt—I moved my head—
I'll let you guess at what you think I said.

L. K. F.

We don't know whether the "shine ball" has been used to any great extent this season or not. But we can vouch for an abnormal amount of "shine pitching," as the quaint phrase goes.

RED SOX LOSE TO WASHINGTON

YANKEES AGAIN LIFT TWO GAMES FROM ATHLETICS

Philadelphia, Sept. 11.—New York again won a double-header from Philadelphia today, the scores being 1 to 0 and 4 to 1. GEORGE E. HUTTON CAPTURES 2:13 PACE

JACKSON, Sept. 11.—Three races, two of them featuring county horses, comprised today's opening card of the shortship program which is being held at the county fair this week.

George E. Hutton had a romp in the 2:13 pace, the one event limited to county entries, winning in straight heats without trouble. College Boy made most of the competition, and was close up in each heat, but couldn't overhaul Erwin's horse.

Symphony won the slow trot after Dorothy Girl had captured the first two heats. A spill of drivers in the second heat enlivened this race, Fanny Tregantle and Belle figuring in a mix-up, but without injury.

The 2:30 pace was unfinished, Peter Handspring and Margaret S. each having a couple of heats when they called it a day.

Wednesday's card has as its headliner the pacing division of Michigan horse-breeders' futurity for 3-year-olds.

Steele Holds St. Louis to 3 Hits in First Game—Cubs Trim Reds Twice.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—New York twice nosed out Brooklyn in late inning rallies here today, winning both ends of a double-header by the scores of 3 to 2 and 2 to 1. The first game went ten innings.

The Giants appeared beaten in both games, but tied up the first by scoring runs in the 8th and 9th innings. A home run by Burns then won for New York in the tenth.

The veteran Coombs had the Giants shut out 1 to 0 up to the ninth inning of the second game. Kauff opened the inning with a double and Fletcher was hit. CHICAGO CELEBRATES BIG MILITARY DAY WITH WIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—"Military Day" was celebrated by a double victory for Chicago over Cincinnati today, 6 to 5, and 5 to 1, and as a result, the locals passed the Reds for fourth place. Vaughn had the distinction of being credited with both games. He started the first, but retired after one inning, when his teammates took a three-run lead. BOSTON AND PHILLIES AGAIN BREAK EVEN

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—For the third time in as many playing days, Boston and Philadelphia divided honors in a double-header today, the Braves winning the opener, 3 to 1, Tragesser's single in the fourth scoring two runs.

Refuses $2,000 For Dog Purchased Here For $15

Wellington Street Grocer Pur chases Pet for Daughter and Is Astounded To Find T hat It Is Only One of Its Kind in the World.

A black and white Pekingese, thought by judges at the Western Fair, where it is now on exhibiton, to be the only one of his kind in the world, was purchased recently by Ken. McCormick, Wellington street grocer, for $15. Within ten days of buying the dog Mr. McCormick refused $2,000 for it, the offer of a wealthy New York dog fancier.

The dog was sent to this country

THE $2,000 WONDER.

from England by an officer for his wife. The lady, however, did not care for the animal, and sold it to Mr. McCormick, who was not anxious to buy him, but at the request of his daughter finally purchased him for $15. The present owner was astonished, and the former owner astounded, to put it mildly, when a judge of dogs who chanced to see the Pekingese one day, pronounced it to be very valuable.

Pekingese are usually either all black or all white. This one, known as Chunky Cherub, is magpie colored, and in its coloring lies its great value. Before the dog had been on exhibition more than half an hour a fancier from Rochester offered $500 for him, and did not evince any great surprise when told that four times that amount had been refused.

Many years were required to breed a dog of Chunky Cherub's coloring. Mrs. Owne of St. Helens, Parkwood, Hastings, whose kennels are among the most famous in England, bred the dog by originally mating a black with white and then mating their prodigee with lighter colored Pekingese until the coloring became noticeably different from the usual black or white, and finally a black and white was produced.

Ken. McCormick will shortly receive the dog's full pedigree from England, and claims to have in his possession full proof of the animal being pure blooded. Robert Law, formerly of this city, who was kennelman at the Owen's Kennels in England, when Chunky Cherub was bred, recognized him at first sight. Judges at the Fair awarded him three first and a winner's badge.

Several dog fanciers are inclined to regard Chunky Cherub as a freak of nature, a black and white Pekingese being such a rarity, but all are enthusiastic over his form, admitting that he is as near perfect as possible.

Mrs. Waters, one of the best known authorities on dogs in this district, stated that he is likely the only one of his coloring in the world.

TROTTERS AND PACERS SHOW UP WELL AT FAIR

All Ablaze Took Trot and Jack Powers Won 2:30 Pace—Snappy Finishes Hold Crowd — 2:09 Pace on Today.

Two real live races were staged on Tuesday at the fair in the 2:20 trot and the 2:30 pace. Both events brought out some nice horses and provided lots of excitement for the crowds of race fans, that, despite the rather chilling breeze, waited until after 6 o'clock for the final heats.

All Ablaze, one of the Waish horses from Tillsonburg, got first money in the trot, taking three firsts, two thirds and a fourth. This was the snappiest event of the day, an extra heat being run off to decide first and second money between All Ablaze and Nainie Axtell. All Ablaze is a speedy animal, but broke frequently yesterday. When running right this horse had little trouble showing the way. Nainie Axtell, a local horse owned by Brooks Bros., also spoiled chances by breaking, galloping in the last heat and losing first place. K. L. Todd, owned by H. A. Lamb of Selkirk, is a steady horse and though not showing the speed of All Ablaze, easily finished in third place.

The final heat of the trot was a joke, between All Abiaze and Nainie Axtell, for first money. This was the slowest heat of the day, the horses loafing around in 2:47. Nainie Axtell, although starting well, broke on the back stretch of the first lap and again on the second. All Ablaze was not running fast, but won easily. Before making a decision Presiding Judge Ben Yates conferred with the speed committee regarding the advisability of running this heat again, but it was decided to let this be the final one, owing to the late hour.

The 2:30 pace, with eleven starters, provided several close finishes, Jack Powers, also owned by George N. Walsh, whose All Ablaze took first in the trot, getting the big share of the oats, and Roy Gratton, owned by R. Trench of Teeswater, taking second. Dolly G., with Dan McEwen up, gathered in the third money. Jack Powers ran a good race. He got two firsts, two seconds and one fourth. Roy Gratton took one first, one second, one third and two fourths. Both these horses are likely looking animals and had no trouble showing the big field the way around. Dolly G., owned by William Aitken of Wyoming, was in good hands with McEwen up behind, and in the first heat simply walked away from the bunch. She took second in the next heat, and although showing speed at times did not head the list again. Chepstow Belle, after running fifth, third and fourth, in the last heat picked up and finished first.

The fourth heat was a live one. Jack Powers and Dolly G. were fighting for the lead, and interest was centered on them. They led the way until rounding the curve on the last lap, when Roy Gratton, who had been slowly but steadily picking up on the back stretch, came to the front, and led under the wire, with Jack Powers in second.

Altogether the races yesterday were good. For the pace there was an entry of twelve horses, although only eleven ran. With eleven starters, they got away on the first heat with little trouble, although later in the day there was some delay in getting places.

Today should see some good animals out for the 2:09 pace, with a purse of $400. The second event is also a pace, 3-year-olds (hobbles barred); 2-year-olds may compete. This race will be run in half-mile heats.

WORLD'S SERIES PRICES ARE SET

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Admission prices for the coming world's series games in this city were announced this afternoon.

Bleacher seats will sell at 50 cents; the grandstand, all of which will be reserved, will sell at $1.50, and the box seats will bring $5.

This is absolutely final in Chicago. Whether the National commission, when it meets in Cincinnati, September 20, will make the same scale of prices for New York, is a matter of opinion. Owner Comiskey, of the White Sox, gave this out today.

DOING HOSPITAL WORK.

GALT, Sept. 11.—Capt. R. W. Williams, a returned officer who was wounded at Vimy Ridge and returned to Galt in July on two months' leave, has been transferred to the hospital commission, and placed in charge of discipline and administration at the military sanatarium at Freeport. He has already entered upon his duties. Capt. Meikleham went overseas with the 71st Battalion and saw eight months' service before being put out of commission.

ST. FRISCO WINS BATTLE ROYAL STAKES

Defeats Mabel Trask in Close Race.

MURPHY WINS $10,000

Takes Classic Empire State Stake With Royal Mac.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Making such remarkable time over the new state fair track, despite unfavorable weather conditions, that horsemen were astounded, St. Frisco, world's record trotting stallion, defeated Mabel Trask, Walter Cox's chestnut mare, in three straight heats here today, taking the Battle Royal stake in 2:05¼, 2:04½ and 2:05¼. Mabel Trask, driven by Cox, gave Geers' great stallion a heart-breaking race in every heat, losing the first by a head, the second a nose, and the third by so small a margin that the spectators did not know which to pick until announcement was made.

The $10,000 Empire State stake, for 2:12 class trotters, was won by Royal Mac, Murphy up, in two of three heats, finishing third in the last encounter. Ima Jay was second and Busy's Lassie (big money-winner of the year) third.

Nelia Dillon trotted the fastest mile for 2-year-olds over a Grand Circuit track, thus far this year in the Juvenile $2,000 stake, winning handily in two straight heats. The time in the first heat was 2:08¾.

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh-looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼-pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advt.

No Humbug! Lift off Corns

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift a corn or callus off with fingers.

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug freezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn and instantly, yes, immediately, all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callous so loose that you lift it out, root and all, with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also hardened callouses on bottom of feet, just seem to shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.

Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle on your dresser and never let a corn or callous ache twice.

HOW THIN PEOPLE CAN PUT ON FLESH

A New Discovery.

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with ten or fifteen pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Saltogyn with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Saltogyn—one tablet with every meal for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and most any thin man or woman can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Saltogyn is a highly concentrated flesh-making food, not a drug, which, added to your regular daily meals separates and extracts from them every ounce of fat-making material they contain and passes them to the blood in an easily assimilated form. Most of this nourishment now passes from your body as waste, but Saltogyn stops the waste, and does it quickly, and makes the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Saltogyn is safe, pleasant, easy to take and inexpensive and druggists everywhere sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package on a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

NOTE.—While Saltogyn is widely prescribed in the treatment of nervous indigestion, it should not because of its fat-producing power, be used more than five days at a time, by those who are not willing to increase in weight at least ten pounds. Standard Drug Company can supply you.

CONSERVATIVES ARE TROUBLED IN MIND OVER ELECTION BILL

Unfairness of Principle Is Striking Home.

PEOPLE'S VERDICT FEARED

Laurier's Denunciation of Act Logical, Forceful and Vigorous.

TORONTO, Sept. 11.—The Toronto Star carries the following special from Ottawa:

Conservative members are talking very seriously today about the new franchise bill. When off their guard they are expressing grave doubts about its effect. They are ready to admit that it may be a two-edged sword.

Some of them who do not worry very much about the principle involved are beginning to dread the result of the resentment which it is arousing among all classes of the electorate.

It is noticeable that only five Conservatives up till this evening have had the courage to speak in the House since the bill was introduced, its parents, Messrs. Borden and Meighen, being two of these, and the latter having spoken twice in defence of his child. Opposition speakers have spoken with a fire and an eloquence born of indignation.

Laurier Full of Vigor.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speech of yesterday is regarded as his most notable effort of recent years. The criticism sometimes offered by opponents that he is prone to give the House a garland of pretty words on subjects which demand a logical and clear-cut presentation certainly does not apply on the present occasion. Sir Wilfrid was logical, forceful, and manifestly moved by his subject. He spoke with an energy which men in the prime of life might have envied.

But there is an omen more serious than the opposition of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, for that, after all, was to be expected. The liberties of the subject and the sacredness of national pledges are principles so woven into the life policies of the Liberal leader that it could not be conceived that he would do otherwise than denounce the present measure.

Slight Breach in Liberals.

A more significant fact is that all but four of the 26 conscriptionist Liberals who did the conscientious but by no means the easy thing, in breaking with their party on the conscription issue, and solidly against the franchise act, and declare that it is a partisan slap in the face, directed against themselves, and an act of ingratitude in view of their sacrifice on conscription. When men like Buchanan of Lethbridge take this ground, and when it is remembered that Buchanan was in the forefront of the Liberal conscriptionist party from the time conscription was announced, even Conservative members begin to think.

The four Liberals who are possibly in favor of the bill are Messrs. Guthrie, Turriff, Champagne and Dr. Clark, the first-named having announced himself, but finding it impossible to stay for the vote. None of the others voted, either. Dr. Clark has not made public his views. Champagne has not been regarded as a real Liberal for a year. Neither he nor Dr. Clark attend Liberal caucuses.

Union Government Dead.

If union government were not already dead, last night's vote would have buried it, erected a tombstone, and written the epitaph, "Killed by a Partisan Administration."

Of course, the Currie wing of the Conservatives, which always hated the idea of union, and which also promoted the disfranchisement scheme, is delighted with the situation. It has killed two birds with one stone, and has demonstrated that Sir Robert Borden is still amenable to pressure from within his own party.

MAJESTIC.

Robert Warwick, as an elder brother who helps his young brother out of a bad scrape, is seen in a brilliantly acted part in "The Family Honor," the new World Picture Brady-Made, which will be shown at the Majestic Theatre today and Thursday. Playing opposite Mr. Warwick is charming June Elvidge, who is seen in a sort of vampire role that turns out differently from what one would expect. This offering is different throughout and is interesting and entertaining in every foot.

EAST LAMBTON LIBERALS PICK NEIL M'DOUGAL FOR CANDIDATE

Indorse Him for the Federal Nomination in Enthusiastic Rally at Alvinston.

STAND BEHIND LAURIER

Want Military Act Put Into Effect at Once to Support Boys in France.

[BY STAFF REPORTER.]

ALVINSTON, Sept. 11.—Neil McDougal, inspector of public schools for East Lambton, residing at Petrolea, was unanimously nominated by the Liberals of East Lambton as their candidate in the coming federal elections. There were a score mentioned, but Mr. McDougal's name was the only one left, and as he has consented to be the candidate his selection was made most unanimous.

The convention, which was the first held in the recently gerrymandered riding, was largely attended and was alive with enthusiasm for Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and the delegates were strong in their statements that Canada could be trusted in his hands at this time. A. B. McCoig, M. P.; R. L. Brackin, Chatham; W. G. Charlton, Aylmer, the Liberal candidate for East Elgin, denounced the Government of Sir Robert Borden in strong terms. To an old-timer who has known East Lambton for many years, the gathering was one of the most representative and and most enthusiastic in more than a decade.

When the convention opened, D. J. McEachren, the president, stated that it was the desire of the resolutions committee to present a resolution. It was presented by ex-Mayor Stirrett, Petrolea, who has three sons at the front. It reads as follows:

"Resolved that this convention of Liberals of East Lambton go on record in favor of the prompt and efficient enforcement of the military service act, so that the gallant Canadian forces in France may be reinforced to the fullest extent as expeditiously as possible, and that every possible aid be rendered to the cause for which Great Britain and her allies are fighting, and we recommend all citizens to loyally obey the law of the land, as urged by Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

The resolution was carried unanimously.

Mrs. John Coutts, Thamesville, made a most delightful speech on benalf of the women. She criticized the proposed franchise act of the Borden Government, declaring it to be class legislation, and inimical to the best interests of Canada. The women had shown themselves fit for the ballot, and all women should be treated alike. She paid a tribute to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's foresight and judgment in advocating universal suffrage for women, declaring that he stood on solid Liberal ground in so doing.

Those Nominated.

Nominations were then called for and the following names submitted: Major C. O. Fairbank, Petrolea; W. R. Davis, Thamesville; Neil McDougal, Petrolea; Dr. J. H. Pickering, Aylmer; Sam Bailey, Plympton; Thomas Simpson, reeve of Enniskillen; H. J. Pettypiece, M.P.P., Forest; Robert Stirrett, ex-mayor of Petrolea; Blake Miller, Aylmer; Rev. N. A. Campbell, Inwood; J. Harry Fowler, London; Duncan Whyte, Bosanquet; W. G. Charlton, Aylmer; A. B. McCoig, M.P.; ex-Warden William Hall, Warwick; R. J. McCormick, ex-M.P.P., Warwick; Charles Jenkins, Petrolea; James Peat, Petrolea; and Reeve W. Annett, Brooke.

Major Fairbank, who was a candidate in 1911, declined the nomination, owing to the pressure of military duties.

Voluntary Organization Bad.

"I want to do what I can in my humble way to down Prussian militarism forever," he declared. "Winning the war is the greatest thing that can engage our minds at this moment. When I think of the little white crosses I saw in France and Belgium, when I think of the men wounded and suffering that I saw there, I must do what I can to see that they are reinforced, those gallant boys. The voluntary system has failed. Its organization was very bad. It was wrong in principle. Men that should have remained at home were sent, and many who should have gone did not go. The selective draft or conscription is not new. It was launched in a very bad way, undoubtedly. A whole year has been wasted, and our forces are suffering on that account. The fault is not that of the Liberal party. We are just as anxious to stand behind the boys in the trenches as any other party. They know that just as well as we do.

Franchise for All Women.

"I think the franchise should be extended to all the women of Canada. They have done nobly, wonderfully, and they are entitled to the best we can give them.

"We must have men at the front. We will send only those who should go. We have to beat the Prussians. The Germans have outhunned the Hun, outturked the Turk, out-apached the Apache, and it must stop. We have put the torch in the hand of the Madonna of Albert, and if her hand it will wave, the torch of liberty, until the Hun is beaten. I am sorry I cannot be a candidate."

"I am a Liberal, because I know what it means," said W. R. Davis, Thamesville. "I was born in Wales, the country that gave the world Lloyd George, and we suffered for the political faith that was in us. That is why I value my Liberal principles so highly.

Borden Linked With Big Business.

"What has Borden done for the common people of Canada? He has linked up with the big interests. He is asking the people to take over the C.N.R., buying a pig in a poke. If the Government has $50,000,000 to waste, why doesn't it buy tractors for the farmer and help him produce? Why does it not reduce the cost of living until the common people can live in decency? Why does he spend his time in creating knights and baronets and lords? Let him give the common people a chance."

"We are not going to allow any person to malign us in our loyalty," declared H. J. Pettypiece. "The Government has made many blunders, and it thinks it is going to cover them up by waving the old flag. It has won victories by waving the flag, but it can't win them any more. The decision in this war will not be won on the battlefield alone, but in the field where we produce.

Does Nothing for Farmers.

"What has the Government done to aid the farmer? The manufacturers of agricultural machinery have received more than $1,500,000 in duties paid back to them. And yet the farmers had to import $5,500,000 in plows alone, on which they had to pay $700,000 in duties. The plow manufacturers could not compete with imported goods even then, but they could export $2,000,000 worth of plows to other countries. Let the Government treat the farmers right."

"The Government has spent its time making millions for millionaires, and white-washing Bob Rogers," said Reeve Simpson.

"If there was a dearth of candidates, I might aspire," declared Mr. Stirrett. "I want to pay a tribute to Major Fairbank. I wish he could be our caididate. He has done wonderful things, and we are very, very proud of him. This country would have been honored in having such a man as Dr. Fairbank in the House of Commons. I know you all appreciate him. Mr. McDougal, who will be our candidate, is a fine man, a good Liberal, sound in every way, a bonny fighter, and one of the world's fine souls.

Laurier Being Maligned.

"I want to say that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is being maligned by the Tory and other press in this country. He is pictured in Ontario as being disloyal, and in Quebec he is held up as the man who would conscript the people of Quebec. Anything to win is the slogan. Sir Wilfrid has been placed in a very bad light. But I want to say that this country has nothing to fear from Sir Wilfrid Laurier." (Cheers.)

A. B. McCoig spoke at some length, dealing with federal issues. He spoke of the conscription of wealth, and declared that this country must make the rich profiteers pay, if the mounting national debt was to be met.

Armstrong With Profiteers.

"Where was Joseph Armstrong, the Conservative member, when the conscription of wealth was advocated?" he declared. "Did he vote for it? No. He stood with the profiteers and millionaires, and combines and trusts. He was afraid to vote for the measure, because he would lose the Government patronage for this riding.

"Why is there going to be an election? The Liberals went into the question of a union government sincerely, but when the western Liberals and Conservatives saw that Sir Clifford Sifton was the man behind Borden, they would have nothing to do with it. Elections had been held in half a dozen provinces. They went Liberal. The people turned the rascals out, and they will turn the rascals out at Ottawa, the torch of liberty, until the Hun is beaten. I am sorry I cannot be a candidate. make no mistake about it. We will have a government of the people, and the common folks will have a chance.

Blow to Canadian Breeders.

"The Government has done nothing for the farmers. It refused to lower the duty on tractors to aid you. There were no special trains to bring your cattle fodder. Horses were bought in the United States for the armies, and the breeding of horses in Canada was given a blow from which it will take years to recover. Let us rise in our might, and keep something from Sir Joseph Flavelle and his crowd."

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier is not discredited in East Elgin," said Blake Miller. "We are going to elect a good Liberal supporter for him at the next election."

"I was nominated some time ago to be your candidate, and had hoped to be your member," declared Dr. Pickering. "However, the sessions were increased, and I had to leave the riding. I am behind your nominee to the end, and will do all I can to elect him.

More for C. N. R. Than Soldiers.

"Why do the Conservatives and the big interests want to discredit and destroy Sir Wilfrid Laurier? They know they cannot buy him with watered stock, with Flavelle's schemes, or anything else. They know he is the biggest man in Canada today. Bloodsuckers like Mackenzie & Mann care more about the $60,000,000 from the people of Canada for stock, which is not worth a bogus nickel, than the sufferings and blood of the boys at the front. They can't touch Sir Wilfrid, and I am behind him to the end of the chapter." (Cheers.)

"The trusts and combines are spreading their tentacles about the farmers of this country and are squeezing them to death," he continued. "They can't stop Sir Wilfrid, as he is so far ahead of that bunch that they cannot see him."

Calls Food Control a Joke.

R. L. Brackin scored the Government on the C. N. R. purchase in a striking speech. He characterized food control as a joke, when the distillers and brewers were allowed to make whisky at their own sweet will.

W. G. Charlton and others made brilliant speeches, and showed up the Government delinquencies.

"I want to say that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, when he comes into power, will fill up the trenches with men, in such a way that will open the eyes of his critics, and bring Canada into its proper place among the nations of the world," said Rev. Mr. Campbell. "My boy is over there, and I would go if they would take me, but they will not. There can be no union government in Canada unless it comes by the Liberals, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier at its head. We can trust him. The Tory party, in spite of his long service, gallant service for his country, in spite of his proved loyalty and honesty, would not consult him, as Lloyd George did when Arthur J. Balfour was available. No; they ignored Sir Wilfrid, and Canada has suffered greatly in prestige, and in the good opinion of the world on that account. He will lead us to victory and to a glorious future."

All the other candidates withdrew, leaving the nomination for Mr. McDougal. A fine tribute was paid by the delegates to Major Fairbank for his faithful and gallant service to the Empire, and his sacrifice on behalf of the Liberal party.

Remove Duties on Implements.

H. J. Pettypiece moved a resolution to the effect that in view of the fact that increased food production is necessary to enable Britain and her allies to maintain the struggle against the foes of humanity, that this convention go on record in favor of the removal of all fiscal taxation on farm machinery and implements, building and fencing materials, and other requirements of food production. This was carried unanimously.

The convention also put itself on record as favoring the extension of the franchise to all the women of Canada on the same terms as the franchise is now enjoyed by the men.

CHEERFUL DESPITE WOUNDS.

LUCAN, Sept. 11.—Pte. H. S. Stanley arrived at his home in Lucan after being at the front for one year. Pte. Stanley was first wounded in the arms, and, after some time, was able to return to the front again. In the battle of Vimy Ridge he was wounded in the head by shrapnel. His left ear was nearly severed from his head and had to be grafted on, an operation that was a very unusual and critical one, and was attended by surgeons from all over the British Isles. He also lost the sight of his left eye, which was replaced by a glass one, and had a wound on the left cheek.

Despite all that Pte. Stanley has gone through, he looks well and feels quite cheerful and glad that he fared so well.

Pte. C. W. Stanley, a brother, is now serving the Empire with the 200th Battalion.

Lucan Red Cross, which held its tag day on race day, realized the sum of $70.13.

GRAY-DORT

The Centre of Interest for Visiting Motorists

At the Fair many motor cars will be on display. But one exhibit in particular you must not miss—the splendid showing of Gray-Dort new season's models. It is the centre of interest for every business-minded motorist.

Step inside the Gray-Dort Touring Model. Get a lasting impression of its roomy comfort, its unusual convenience, its fine complete equipment.

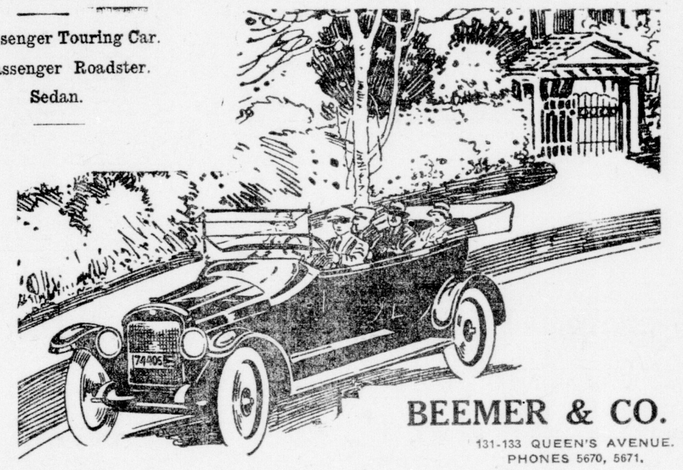

Then turn to the Gray-Dort Roadster. Note its smart, modern lines, its finished excellence, its sturdy strength.

And before you leave inspect the cut-open Gray-Dort chassis. Take this splendid opportunity to see the marvel of latter-day motor engineering—the engine designed by Etienne Planche—creator of the world-famed Peugeot.

Then, you'll agree, it was not surprising that the entire output of 1916 Gray-Dorts was sold in three days, that the doubled output for 1917 was oversold, that the again doubled output for 1918, too, is likely to be oversold.

TIRES! TIRES! TIRES!

We are offering the greatest bargains on new standard guaranteed tires or tubes. Our prices are less than second-grade tires can be purchased for, and are 20 per cent less than prevailing wholesale dealers' prices.

Our reason: We had more than 900 tires purchased last fall, before the advance in prices, for delivery during March, April, May, June, but due to the labor situation which all tire manufacturers have been up against, the shipments have been delayed and the tires have reached us much later than expected.

BERLIN PAPER HAS DEFENCE OF SWEDEN

Tries To Make Acts Appear Quite Fair.

Berlin, Sept. 12—Via Amsterdam.—The semi-official Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung today prints a lengthy apology in connection with the Swedish Argentine disclosures. The newspaper attributes the publication of the revelations to the Entente powers' wish, arising from the present ill-humor, to produce a new crisis in the relations between Germany and Argentina and to cause new trouble to the Swedish Government. The paper continues:

"The German Government has, in fact, occasionally called on the assistance of the Swedish Government for the transmission of news to and from neutral countries from which Germany has been cut off by the illegal conduct of Great Britain and her allies."

After saying that Germany permits the exchange of mails by neutrals' vessels, which Great Britain does not, the newspaper adds:

"It, therefore, is a matter of course that neutral countries should exercise their good right to act as agent for the transmission of news between the belligerents and other countries."

PAINLEVE FAILS TO FORM MINISTRY, BUT MAY TRY IT AGAIN

Withdrawal of Socialists Upset His Plans.

Paris, Sept. 12.—Paul Painleve, minister of war, has announced that he has been unable to form a new ministry to succeed that of M. Ribot, owing to the eleventh hour withdrawal of the Socialists, Albert Thomas and M. Varenne.

M. Painleve went to the Elysee Palace at 1 o'clock this morning, where he was joined by M. Bourgois, other statesmen with whom he had conferred awaiting him at the ministry of war. He returned within an hour, and announced to newspapermen that President Poincare had insisted that he continue his efforts to form a cabinet, and that he had asked for time to think over the situation.

It is understood that Prof. Painleve will again try to construct a ministry.

Prof. Painleve's first combination proved even more abortive than did that of M. Ribot, the retiring premier, and collapsed from the same cause, i. e., the exigencies of the Socialists. What those exigencies are is not exactly known.

"Little Difference."

Prof. Painleve had completed his list yesterday, and his success in forming a ministry was regarded as a foregone conclusion. At 10 o'clock last night the new ministers assembled at the ministry of war. At 11 o'clock Albert Thomas, Socialist member of the war council and minister of munitions, and Deputy Alexandre Varenne, who had been named minister of public instructions, left the war ministry. In reply to inquirers they said: "It is nothing but a little difference which certainly will be settled in half an hour."

The ministers did not return, however, until an hour and a half after midnight. Their absence was due, according to reliable information, to the necessity of consulting Mm. Renaudel, Hubert Rouger, Weber and Moutet, the permanent delegate, charged by the Socialist party to watch the Cabinet crisis.

A quarter of an hour later the two Socialists again left the ministry, saying to reporters: "We withdraw definitely on account of the general composition of the ministry."

The other ministers-elect continued their deliberations. Shortly before 1 o'clock this morning Prof. Painleve received the newspapermen and said: "I was charged by the president with the task of forming a Cabinet of national union which should comprise the elements belonging to all parties. As the result of incidents arising at the last moment the union, which I had expected, failed. Under the circumstances I am going to the president to relinquish the mandate confided in me."

According to the Matin, M. Thomas refused to collaborate in the Cabinet because the retiring premier, M. Ribot, remained in the foreign office. When the new ministers assembled last night M. Thomas rose and said: "We cannot agree to form part of a Cabinet which includes M. Ribot. At a moment when we refused our support to M. Ribot as premier and foreign minister on account of his home policy, which we judged too indulgent, and because of his foreign policy, which we considered ineffective, we could not collaborate with him while he holds that same portfolio of foreign affairs.

"Besides, Prof. Painleve did not keep us advised as to the negotiations looking to the collaboration of M. Ribot. Consequently we are unable to deliberate on this question with our party. I cannot, then, personally continue in the Cabinet without consulting the opinion of my friends."

Both Prof. Painleve and M. Varenne sought to dissuade M. Thomas from leaving the Cabinet, but after a sharp passage at arms between the two Socialists they both left the war ministry and went to the ministry of munitions and laid the situation before the delegates. The delegates upheld M. Thomas and instructed the two ministers to withdraw from the Cabinet.

PETROGRAD WOMEN FIGHTERS REBELLING AGAINST DISCIPLINE

Say Their Commander's Treatment Too Rough.

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.
[Special to The Advertiser.]

Petrograd, Sept. 11.—(Delayed)—The Petrograd division of the women's legion of death was "revolting" today. Pledged to die in defence of the democracy and with their bravery already proved on the battlefield, the women fighters of the capital are up in arms against their commander-in-chief, Madam Butchkoreva, because "she is too rough." That was the explanation of Madam Butchkoreva's departure for Moscow yesterday.

One girl explained she and her associates in the battalion felt Mme. Butchkoreava's disciplinary methods were wrong.

"How does she maintain discipline?" I asked.

"Thus," she replied, and illustrated by a none too gentle slap on the cheek.

No further explanation was obtainable today, but the members of the Petrograd division all stated that the disagreement between themselves and the commander was irreconcilable. They were unanimous in admiration of Mme. Butchkoreva's personal bravery, declaring she had shown repeatedly that she disdained death.

Butchkoreva left yesterday for Moscow with the avowed intention of raising another unit of her troops there. She said there were 250 recruits there, and in leaving took a number of Petrograd girls with her as the nucleus for a new women's fighting unit.

Who is it knocks and does not boost it? Sure it is the man who has not used it, for Wm. Lovelock, the well-known painter in St. Thomas, 14 Station street, for over 12 years, says: "I was all in with inflammatory rheumatism. I went to bed in September, 1911, and the first work I was able to do was on the 17th of March, 1913.

"I was swollen from head to foot; in fact, my limbs were twice the ordinary size, and I was in intense pain for three weeks. I was unable to feed myself, and was suffering more each day. My physician told me plainly to prepare for the worst, as about ten days was my limit. A friend of mine who was trying to cheer me up a bit after the physician had left, remarked: 'Why not try Parker's Oil?' I sent to Small's drug store and purchased a bottle, and after the first application received relief, and in three days the pain was gone, swelling greatly reduced. I used seven bottles, and here I am today, willing to testify and give praise to Parker's Black Oil, the sure cure for rheumatism, as I found it.

"WILLIAM LOVELOCK.

LLOYD GEORGE HAS DONE THOSE THINGS WHICH K. OF K. SAID WOULD TAKE YEARS

Lord French So Declares In Paris Interview.

TELLS OF MARNE BATTLE

Gives All Honor To Joffre For Success Gained That Day.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Tribune this morning publishes the following dispatch from its correspondent in London under yesterday's date:

"The text of Lord French's interview in the Paris Journal on the anniversary of the battle of the Marne, in which he astonished Britain by praising Lloyd George as the man who accomplished in a few months what Lord French says Kitchener declared it would take eight years to do, was received here today. The frankness with which the former commander-in-chief discusses the mistakes of Great Britain in the early days of the war has produced a lively controversy.

"The interview, as received from Paris, reads:

"'We had only one idea—Joffre, myself and all our commanders—and that was to save Paris and avoid also any doubtful engagement which might have turned into irreparable failure. We passed then through days of uncertainty and grave anxiety. Nothing seemed assured. The manoeuvres on which we counted were going wrong. The positions we hoped to hold had to be abandoned. We wondered when we would be able to stop.

Decides to Stand.

"One day Joffre informed me he was going to cease the retreating movement and defend Paris on the line of the Marne. I spent the day personally reconnoitring the positions in the neighborhood of Lagny, La Forte and Sous-Pouarre.

"On the following day, changing his opinion under the pressure of events, Joffre decided he should fall back still further down the line to the Seine and there take the offensive. I agreed. Then, about September 3 and 4, came the extraordinary manoeuvre of von Kluck, who, instead of descending upon us directly, moved obliquely toward the southeast. He was actually engaged in this manoeuvre when he learned of the presence of the British army, which was still standing firm, and of the existence of the 6th French Army, formed to protect the capital. He was then menaced on the flank, and even before the troops of Gen. Maunoury crossed the Ourcq, he had begun a precipitate retreat.

Honors to Joffre.

Von Kluck saved his army, but it was astonishing to us that he did not continue straight forward in an attempt to force a passage of the river. We were then able, by a converging movement, to contribute usefully to the success of the great battle, the full honor for which belongs to Joffre.

Asked to what he attributed the relative stagnation to which his army was reduced for long after the victory, Lord French replied:

"Regarding the operation I directed, it was attributable to an insufficiency of effectives and material. France expected from us at the most six divisions, which were to have helped her wait the moment when Russia was absolutely ready. We paid there the price for not having consented to conscription in peace times.

"Later, when the Germans were practically beaten, I was forced for want of some divisions sent elsewhere, to relinquish the plan of advancing, as I had a right to hope, as far as Lille.

Kitchener's Estimate.

"Now the men are there, and more material than I ever dreamt of having. During 1914 and 1915 I madecontinual representations to obtain guns and munitions, without which it was impossible to gain victory. I remember in connection with this point that Kitchener, after having gone over with experts my program, which certainly was less ambitious than has since been realized, declared it would take eight years to manufacture what was asked for.

"Fortunately, we found Lloyd George, who has accomplished the work, which will remain to his eternal honor.

"I have not the slightest doubt that we will emerge victorious from the conflict, and that if we were threatened with the terrible catastrophe of a German victory, would not it be better to die to the last man?"

OVER TWO MILLION REPORT FORMS AND EXEMPTIONS READY

Can Be Had at Any Postoffice Soon.

Otawa, Sept. 12.—Over two million forms of exemption and report under the Military Service Act are in the hands of the printers and will be distributed in the course of a few days through the post office department. The forms will be available at any post office in the Dominion.

Medical boards are to be established almost immediately in all the large centres of population. While a man in the first class to be called out is not compelled to submit himself for medical examination until the time limit for exemption expires, it is hoped by the military service council that full use will be made of the boards. In the interests of both the employers and men it is pointed out it is essential that a reliable estimate should be obtained without delay of the number of men in the first class of recruits available, on physical grounds, for service. A certificate of physical unfitness granted by one of the medical boards will be accepted by the tribunals and the man exempted from service on that ground. Should a man feel that he has not received justice from the medical board he can still appeal to the tribunal and submit outside medical opinion as to his physical fitness or unfitness.

The military service council has taken offices on Sparks street.

U. S. PLANS TO PUT PAPER MAKERS IN THEIR RIGHT PLACE

Wants Weekly Reports and Asks Canadian Co-operation.

Washington, Sept. 12.—To keep a check on the newsprint paper situation, the federal trade commission will institute a system of monthly and weekly reports by manufacturers. The aim is to keep publishers constantly informed as to the rate of consumption and production and the stocks of paper on hand.

The commission hopes that the system will put newspaper publishers in a position to demand fair prices and make it impossible for producers to raise prices through fear of a paper shortage. The Canadian Government will be asked to co-operate in the plan.

FROST FAILED TO CAUSE RISE IN VEGETABLES

Beans and Cucumbers Still at Same Figure—Dairy Products Quiet.

Attendance at the Western Fair detracted from the local market today, and prices were unchanged as there was comparatively little trading. Damage by frost failed to cause a rise in beans or cucumbers. The former sold for 5c to 8c a quart and the latter for 10c to 20c a dozen. Tomatoes, too, were steady at 75c a basket. Corn on the cob brought from 15c to 20c a dozen. Cauliflowers sold for 10c and 20c each and new cabbages for 5c. Lettuce brought 20c a dozen bunches and 5c a head. Home grown potatoes sold for 50c a peck and $1.25 to $1.50 a bushel.

Dairy products were quiet. Creamery butter retailed for 45c to 46c a pound, and dairy butter in rolls for 40c to 44c. Crock butter brought 43c to 44c. Eggs retailed for 45c a dozen, while crate lots brought 41c to 42c. Basket lots sold for 41c and 42c. New honey brought $1.60 to $1.80 a pail.

Peaches were unchanged, retailing for 75c to $1.25 a basket, and plums at 90c to $1.00. Pears ranged from 75c to $1.00 a basket. Thimbleberries brought 18c to 20c a box and elderberries 10c to 15c. Harvest apples sold for $2.00 a bushel.

Hay was cheaper at $10 to $12 a ton. The majority of purchasers in the city have filled their barns with this product by now and the demand is beginning to slacken. Straw is unchanged at $7.00 to $8.00 a ton. Old oats are selling for $2.00 a cwt. and new oats $1.60 to $1.80. Wheat brings $2.18 to $2.20 a bushel.

The hide market was quiet and inclined to be lower. In the city buyers are paying for No. 1 grade 22c a pound; for No. 2, 21c a pound, and for No. 3, 20c a pound. Throughout the country they are paying around 20c a pound for ungraded hides.

GRAIN.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Opening: Corn—December, $1 17¾@1 17¼; May, $1 15¼@1 15.

Oats—September, 58¼c; December, 57⅝@57½c; May, 60⅝@60⅜c.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Buying on the part of strong speculative interests rallied the corn market today from an early decline. The initial weakness was due to weather conditions favorable for maturing the crop. On the other hand, buyers appeared to be acting on a theory that frost damage had perhaps been more extensive than the trade in general had assumed.

Opening prices ranged from ⅛c to ¾c lower, but were followed by an upturn to well above yesterday's finish.

Arrivals of wheat showed no material increase.

Word was received from the Kansas state board of agriculture that the next winter wheat crop of Kansas would exceed the 12 per cent enlargement requested by the Federal Government.

Winnipeg, April 12.—Oats opened higher for October at 66⅜@66½c; May was up ⅜c at 65⅝c.

There were no openings in flax.

Local millers have been given 2 cars of wheat by the food administration grain corporation yesterday. Outside millers had orders here for 141 cars, and got 23 cars, while the feed men secured 12 cars of low grade.

Inspections were 385 cars, of which 273 were contract.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, Sept. 12.—The stock market was steady today, but little inclination was shown to do fresh business while the Russian situation is obscure. Russian bonds and oil shares were easy, and Argentine rails flat on poor traffic returns. Gilt-edged securities and colonial bonds were well maintained, and oil and rubber stocks and a few specialties in the mining section were active and dear. Chinese bonds were firm with silver.

MONEY.

London, Sept. 12.—Bar silver, 50d per ounce.

London, Sept. 12.—Money was in better demand and discounts were steady. Rusian exchange jumped to 450 early, but later declined to 370.

New York, Sept. 12.—Bar silver, 98⅝c per ounce.

London, Sept. 12.—The position of the Russian exchange is becoming daily more unfavorable. Today's rate, quoted at from 430 to 450 roubles pere £10, against a normal of 94.60, indicated a loss of confidence in the ability of debtors in Petrograd to meet their engagements under present conditions.

WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 12—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Liquidation of speculative accounts and professional selling of the motors caused the market to hesitate afetr an opening with a good showing of strength. The steels, sugars, oils, New Haven, American Telephone and Pittsburg Coal were substantially higher and Southern Railway preferred moved up 1¾ on the resumption of dividends. General Motors reached a new low mark at 87½, a loss of more than 2 points. International Nickel, Delaware and Hudson and the gas shares were heavy.

Noon.—Bulls bought stocks with a large speculative market, such as United States Steel, Bethlehem and Crucible, in an endeavor to offset increasing liquidation of particular shares. The manoeuvre was only etmporarily successful, as there were various features which appealed to the bearish mood of the professionals. Prices tumbled rapidly, and many new low records were made when the liquidation of investment holdings became pronounced. Delaware and Hudson dropped 5 points. Louisville 4⅝, St. Paul 3, Reading 2. Numerous industrials were off 2 to 4 points. The general bond market was irregular.

1:30 p.m.—Stocks were pressed for sale with considerable urgency in the afternoon. Steel was marketed in blocks of 1,000 to 6,500 shares, and suffered a loss of over 2 points. Individual shares continued to break badly, with investment holdings coming out in round amounts. Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, General Electric and tobaccos were conspicuous in the decline. Prices of Russian bonds and roubles had a sharp slump.

PRICES HOLD STEADY ON WINNIPEG MARKET

Active Demand in All Grades of Wheat Continues.

Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—With the same buyers in the market as yesterday, there was an active demand for cash wheat of all grades today. Prices held steady around yesterday's quotations. Barley was in demand for all grades, with prices a little higher. Flax was slow, without special interest.

The market for oats for future delivery manifested a downward tendency today, all options having a decline of from 1c to 1½c during the trading. Reports of frost damage apparently failed to impress dealers. Flax for delivery was also down from 1c to 3c. Business was fairly active for both cereals.

C. M. A. RESOLUTIONS HANDED TO PREMIER

Support Compulsory Service and Cabinet Reorganization.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—A delegation representing the Canadian Manufacturers' Association waited on the premier today to present a series of resolutions adopted recently by the association. The resolutions approve of the adoption of compulsory military service by means of the selective draft (the members of the association pledging themselves to assist in every way possible in the carrying out of the provisions of the Military Service Act); further, resolutions regard it as essential that the cabinet should be reorganized along lines that will secure the fullest possible measure of national unity and co-operation; they urge that a larger proportion of businessmen should be included, with a representative of agriculture, labor and manufacturers. The association also expressed the opinion that, in view of the grave issues and responsibilities, party politics should be submerged; favored a reasonable tax on the enterprise and wealth-producing power of the country, and thought an income tax properly adjusted and applied a fair method of reaching the desired end.

UNCONSCIOUS 24 HOURS AFTER HURT IN RUNAWAY

Highgate Man Thrown to Ground When Buggies Collide.

HIGHGATE, Sept. 11.—A bad accident occurred a mile east of Highgate, when James Forsythe and wife were returning home from Ridgetown. Owing to the bright light of an automobile, Mr. Forsythe did not notice an approaching buggy. The two buggies collided, and the shafts of Mr. Forsythe's rig were smashed. His horse became unmanageable, pulling him over the dashboard to the ground.

When picked up, Mr. Forsythe was unconscious, and remained so for nearly twenty-four hours. Hope is now ascertained for his recovery. Mrs. Forsythe was unhurt.

Among the school teachers who have gone from Highgate to take up the fall work are: Miss Allie B. Stone, to St. Thomas; Miss Annie McIntyre, to Guilds; Miss F. I. Gosnell, to Port Carmen; Miss L. M. Manning, to Palmyra; Miss Belle Crichton, to Port Alma.

REVIVAL IS DRAWING CAPACITY ATTENDANCE

Evangelistic Campaign at Dresden Well Attended.

DRESDEN, Sept. 11.—The evangelistic services now being conducted in the big tent on the market square by Rev. E. DeWit Johnston and party, are drawing big audiences. The tent, which has a seating capacity of 1,000, has been packed on many occasions, a number being unable to obtain admission.

Mr. Johnston is ably supported by Ray Swartbaugh, chorister and conductor, and Mrs. and Miss Huntley, who are artists of ability. A local choir of more than 100 voices assists. Many of the choir come from Tupperville, Turnerville, Dawn Mills and Rutherford Methodist Churches. The meetings are of a union character, and are held under the auspices of the Methodist and Baptist Churches.

Rev. John Leckie of Leamington has recently been appointed advance representative of the party, which will be known as the Johnston-Leckie party. Mr. Leckie spent Sunday in town, and was a guest at the home of Rev. E. S. Walker.

CHILDREN FALL FROM VERANDA; INJURIES CONSIDERED SERIOUS

Tillsonburg Has Bad Accident and Near Asphyxiation.

TILLSONBURG, Sept. 11.—Shortly after 9 o'clock this morning neighbors found Mrs. J. Gardiner and two small children in a state of semi-consciousness in their home on King street. They are now recovering from the effects of a heavy dose of escaping gas, which would undoubtedly have meant their death in a few minutes' time.

Shortly before 6 o'clock tonight the young daughter of E. I. Torrens and a daughter of Mrs. Chas. Mabee, were found on the concrete walk in front of the Mabee home, in an unconscious condition. From all appearances they had fallen from the veranda, a distance of from five to seven feet. Dr. McGilvray was called, and found that the Torrens child had received severe injuries to the head. Both children are now out of danger.

INGERSOLL BURGLARS DISTURBED AT WORK

INGERSOLL, Sept. 11.—Burglars were evidently disturbed while at work about 3 o'clock this morning in the Olympia restaurant, conducted by A. Laondartin. Constable Gould, who was passing the premises, noticed a light and saw two men moving about. He was unable to discern whether they were men or boys, but hurried to the rear door. His presence had been detected and the parties made their escape, leaving behind a screwdriver with which they had evidently been tampering with the cash register.

A COMMON SENSE FARM TRACTOR

You can plow five acres a day sitting in your Ford car or roadster. With proper gear reduction the Ford will pull a double-furrow gang, turning over 24 inches, and making a furrow six inches deep. This work can be done week in and week out in stiff clay without putting any unusual strain on the engine or chassis.

During the Western Fair make it a point to see the Staude Mak-a-Tractor pulling a double-bottom gang plow on the farm of A. E. Dale, on the London and Lake Erie Radial, one and a half miles out of London. Go down any time and satisfy yourself on the subject of common-sense farm traction. Over 30,000 farmers have purchased and are using the Staude Mak-a-Tractor, and still have their Fords available at any time for ordinary touring purposes; $295 gives you a dependable farm tractor.

BELIEVES MISSING SON TO BE HERMIT OF CASPIAN FIELDS

Russian Oil Operator Able To Reassure Worrying Mother.

NO WORD SINCE THE WAR

Copleston Woman Therefore Appealed To Albert McGarvey For News of Boy.

As a result of seeing an interview with Albert McGarvey of Russia, who has been spending the summer with Joseph Scandrett at Port Stanley, Mrs. Dan Wolsey of Copleston, Ont., hopes to hear some word of her son, an oil driller, who was in Russia at the time war broke out.

Mrs. Wolsey has not had the scratch of a pen from her son since war broke out. He had been working in the oil fields for years, and is possibly quite safe, but she has been worried.

Mr. McGarvey, who is now at the residence of Mr. Scandrett, 835 Richmond street, said to The Advertiser that he knew one Mr. Wolsey quite well. If this was the son referred to in the letter he was quite safe.

"I believe it is Thomas Wolsey to whom reference is made," said Mr. McGarvey. "He is all right, although I haven't seen him for four or five years. He is at Kiakent in the province of Dagestan on the Caspian Sea. He is married and the property which he was with has not been operated for ten years, but he has stayed with it, and is no doubt there now. If he hasn't written home it is quite probable that he hasn't done so for years and doesn't think there is any cause to worry. He lives a sort of hermit's life now, staying with the old property all by himself."

BOARD IS GRATEFUL

Expresses Thanks to Fair and Street Railway for Kiddies' Outing.

Members of the Protestant Orphans' Home board have expressed their thanks to the directors of the Western Fair and to the London street railway for the fair entertainment provided for the orphans on Monday.

The children were admitted free to the grounds and grandstand, and were conveyed to and from the fair by the street railway without charge.

Visiting the different interesting places at the Fair is delightfully fascinating, but one will get tired, and what is more delightful just then than a cup of real good tea?

The attractive surroundings, neat, clean service at the Red Rose Tea booth is a delight to those who love their cup of good tea.

The service really is free, as the tea and wafers only cost 5c, but you get your money back. b

DOES MOMENTARY POSSESSION MAKE ACCUSED LIABLE?

New Legal Tangle to Ontario Temperance Act Brought Up.

CASE COMES UP IN COURT

Counsel Contends Taking a Drink From Another's Bottle No Offence.

That to have an unsealed bottle of whisky in one's possession on the street, even if the said bottle is only in the hands of the accused for a few seconds while taking a drink, is a breach of the Ontario temperance act, according to the interpretation placed by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon on the evidence in a case heard against Claude Pearson in police court today. Pearson, who gave his address as 206 George street, Toronto, stated that he was a subscription solicitor for a Chicago publication, and had arrived in the city Tuesday.

After considerable argument on the legal phases of what might be meant under the act, by the word "possession" between J. M. McEvoy, counsel for the defence, and the magistrate, the latter decided to reserve judgment for a day or two in order to give Mr. McEvoy an opportunity of presenting an authority that might in any way cause the magistrate to place a different interpretation on the case. Pearson was remanded for two days in order to permit his counsel to search for the authorities.

Patrolmen Caughey and Toll testified that early Tuesday evening several men were sitting near the traction bridge. Pearson was seen to take a bottle, raise it to his lips and take a drink.

In his defence, Pearson stated that he had taken the drink, but that the bottle had been passed to him by the owner of the whisky.

Under section 41, the magistrate argued that Pearson had possession, although he may have only had it so for a few seconds.

"I do not care to stretch the act by any means," said the magistrate, "but I cannot see how I can place any other interpretation on it."

In this, R. J. Fisher, representing the prosecution, concurred.

J. M. McEvoy argued that the act was not intended to be interpreted so closely as to hold a person liable if caught with another person's bottle, as Pearson was.

If convicted, Pearson is liable to a fine not less than $200 or in default of payment three months in jail.

500 TO 600 VOTERS TO LOSE BALLOT BY THE GOVT. MEASURE

City Hall Estimate of Disenfranchisement Big One.

60 TO 70 CUT ALREADY

Hundreds Entitled To Manhood Franchise Vote Will Lose It.

It is estimated at the city hall that between 500 and 600 aliens will be disfranchised as a result of the new election law to be passed by the Government at Ottawa.

City Clerk Baker has taken between 60 and 70 from the assessment rolls of the city to date, and not one of these will have votes at the municipal elections.

"There are several hundred others, in boardinghouses, etc., who are not assessed for the city, but who would be qualified to vote under the manhood franchise act.

"I would say that between 500 and 600 aliens will be disfranchised," said Mr. Baker.

THREE CARS MIX IT

All Suffer as Result of Collision at Entrance to Fair Grounds.

Three automobiles were in collision shortly before midnight Tuesday night in front of the main entrance to the Fair grounds. A large touring car owned by W. Gammage, and two Ford touring cars in use as taxi cabs, have broken windshields, front axles, fenders and lamps as a result of the smash, but only one passenger, a soldier, was slightly hurt. It is stated that the large car bumped into the Ford owned by Story, and then the second Ford was hit. The cars were towed into garages for repairs early Wednesday morning.

GOVERNMENT FORCE

commander-in-chief of the Russian army in succession to General Korniloff.

KORNILOFF OUTMANOEUVRED.

Petrograd, Tuesday, Sept. 11.—(Delayed)—The Associated Press was personally informed this afternoon by Minister of Finance Nekrasoff that the forces of General Korniloff in the direction of Pskoff and at Dno, which were marching on Petrograd, had been outmanoeuvred by the troops loyal to the Provisional Government and that their retreat had been cut off.

TO AVOID CIVIL WAR.

Petrograd, Sept. 12.—The central committee of the Constitutional Democratic party today informed Premier Kerensky that the party was agreed to its members joining a reconstituted Russian cabinet in order to avoid civil war.

GUCHKOFF ARRESTED.

Petrograd, Tuesday, Sept. 11.—(Delayed—Alexander Guchkoff, the Octoberist leader and former minister of war and navy, who after leaving Petrograd last Saturday joined the Korniloff movement, has been arrested. He is now unger guard at Pskoff.

REBELS SURRENDERING.

Petrograd, Sept. 12.—6 p.m.—Members of the Kerensky Government have informed the Associated Press that while they are unable to report the final overthrow of General Korniloff, they are optimistic concerning the general situation. Unconfirmed reports say that a part of General Korniloff's army is surrendering to the Government.

TWO JOIN KORNILOFF.

Petrograd, Sept. 11.—Generals Denekine and Valuyeff, commanding the southwest and western front respectively, have joined General Korniloff, according to announcement in the Petrograd newspapers given out by the semi-official news agency.

An earlier report from Petrograd said that General Denikine had been placed under arrest.

CAPITAL QUIET.

London, Sept. 12.—The Petrograd correspondent of Reuters, Limited, telegraphing on Tuesday at midnight, says that the capital remains calm, the population awaiting events, and only the display of armed forces in the streets indicates an abnormal situation. Government Commissioner Philonikoff, at the headquarters of the commander-in-chief who was arrested by General Korniloff, has been released and has returned to Petrograd. Legal proceedings, the dispatch says, have been begun against General Korniloff. Minister of Agriculture Tchernoff has resigned in order not to create difficulties for Premier Kerensky on his account. The garrison at Kronstadt has placed itself at the disposal of the Petrograd council of soldiers' and workmen's delegates.

KORNILOFF'S PROCLAMATIONS.

Petrograd, Sept. 11.—The text of Gen. Korniloff's proclamations is published here today. The first, dated at Mohilev, denounces Premier Kerensky's description of Vladimir Lvoff's mission as untrue and declares that Korniloff did not send Lvoff to Kerensky, but that Kerensky first sent Lvoff to him with the aim to create trouble.

"Russian men," continues the proclamation "our great fatherland is perishing. The Government, under the pressure of the Bolsheviki majority of the Councils is acting in full accord with the plans of the German general staff. Overwhelming consciousness of the impending ruin of the fatherland compels me in this menacing moment to summon all Russian men to save perishing Russia. All in whose breasts beat Russian hearts, all who believe in God, let them flock to the temple and pray God to perform a great miracle—a miracle of saving the fatherland. I, Gen. Korniloff, son of a peasant and Cossack, declare to all that I require nothing personally, nothing except the salvation of mighty Russia, and I swear to lead the nation by the road of victory over the foe to a constituent assembly through which the nation will decide its own fate and choose the organization of its own political life.

Death Before Dishonor.

"But I shall never betray Russia into the hands of its traditional foe—the German race, or make the Russian people the slaves of Germany. I prefer to die on the field of honor and battle rather than to witness the shame and infamy of Russian land.

"Russian people! In your own hands rests the fate of your country.

"(Signed) KORNILOFF."

In the second proclamation Gen. Korniloff declares that he is supported by all of the higher commanders on the front, denounces the Government for incapable government, weakness and indecision and declares that in order to veil its unfitness the Government is creating the chimera of a non-existent counter-revolution.

The Provisional Government, under the martial law regulations, has prohibited the circulation of Gen. Korniloff's manifestos or the publication of unofficial news concerning military measures taken against the revolt.

MOSCOW LOYAL.

Petrograd, Sept. 11.—All elements of the population of Moscow, according to reports received here, emphasize assurances of support to the provisional government which have already been given by the municipal council. General Verkhovsky called all the officers of the garrison together in the public square, and was given assurance that they would support Premier Kerensky. The St. George Cavaliers have made a special offer of their services, and there appears to be unity among the workmen's groups.

Vladimir Purishkevich, the well-known reactionary under the old regime, who was arrested at Dvinsk and later released, is reported to be again in custody.

Petrograd is said to have sufficient provisions to last for four or five days.

REMARKABLE SCENE.

Petrograd, Sept. 11.—The interior of the Winter Palace was a remarkable sight owing to the extraordinary precautions which first were taken early yesterday when hope of a compromise was lost finally. Inside the newly-erected partition in the grand corridor, and outside M. Kerensky's office were posted 200 sailors of the Second Baltic Corps. During the afternoon students of the school of marines were brought into the palace as well as parts of the Preobrazhensky and Litovski regiments, while in the courtyard were armed motor cars. Elsewhere in the city there was little military show, but all through the night posts of five and six infantrymen paraded the streets and occupied the courtyards. The city so far has been quiet.

While advices are to the effect that the Baltic fleet is faithful to the Kerensky regime, other advices say that Commander Denikine of the southwestern Russian army, sent word to the premier that he would give his support to Korniloff. Official reports, however, Promises of Support.

All through the night M. Kerensky received resolutions from army and navy units promising to support him. The Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates sent telegrams to the telegraph operators' unions, declaring that the operators by refusing to work for Korniloff could help to crush the revolt.

Premier Kerensky issued an order to the Petrograd garrison denouncing General Korniloff for opening the front to the Germans, and for sending divisions of Asiatics against the capital while professing to defend liberty.

General Kozmin, now commander of the Petrograd city garrison, declared before the meeting in the Winter Palace of the representatives of the different organizations:

Cannon to Talk.

"No negotiations are possible with traitors. Our own future conversation will be carried on through cannon."

"Only bayonets can now decide the conflict," was the decision of Vice-Premier Nekrasoff.

M. Tchernoff, minister of agriculture, has resigned from the cabinet. Ninety arrests were made in Petrograd last night. General Micheveff was arrested at Moscow.

Premier Kerensky has ordered the procuror of the Petrograd court to put General Korniloff on trial under the historic 105th statute for conspiring to overthrow the "existing order."

During the night General Kerensky had a conference with the procuror and dictated a lengthy description of the details of the conspiracy.

MORE OPTIMISTIC.

Winter Palace, Petrograd, Sept. 11.—(Tuesday.)—While unable yet to report the final overthrow of Gen. Korniloff, members of the Russian provisional government, in conversation with the Associated Press tonight summed up the situation optimistically.

The new commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, Major-Gen. Bonch Bruyovitch, who formerly was attached to the staff of Gen. Brussiloff, one time commander-in-chief, has from the first been devoted to the provisional government.

In an interview Vice-Premier and Minister of Finance Nekrasoff informed the Associated Press that Gen. Sprjevalsky, commander on the Caucasus front, and Lieut.-Gen. Dmitri Stcherbatcheff, commander on the Rumanian front, had definitely declared their allegiance to the Government. From Gen. Staeduyeff, the commander on the western front, no news has been received, but from his attitude there is reason to believe that he remains true to the Government.

Klembovsky Doubtful.

The attitude of Gen. Klembovsky, commander on the northern front, is still enigmatical.

Gen. Klembovsky based his refusal to accept the post of commander-in-chief on the fact that the position on his front required his special attention. Asked by the Government for an explanation of why he allowed Gen. Korniloff's army to pass through Pskoff, he replied that these troops were not subordinate to him.

The Government, Vice-Premier Nekrasoff said, had told Gen. Klembovsky that he must either define his position or resign.

Gen. Lokomski, the chief of staff, the vice-premier added, undoubtedly was the chief conspirer. There was evidence that the conspiracy had been prepared carefully and well in advance, whereas the Government was caught wholly unawares.

Democrats Clear.

The Constitutional Democrats, M. Nekrasoff said, had no part in the plot, and no members of that party had been at Gen. Korniloff's headquarters. The Government had received information that dissensions had broken out in Gen. Korniloff's camp. The army sent against Petrograd, the vice-premier declared, had been received, having been told that Gen. Korniloff's only aim was to drive the Bolsheviki group out of the capital.

The Government had taken measures to undeceive the soldiers on this point.

M. Nekrasoff concluded as regards the composition of the provincial cabinet that M. Youreneff, minister of public works, and Prof. Kokoshine, the state controller, were the only ministers who had definitely resigned their posts. The attitude of M. Oldenburg, minister of public instruction, and of M. Karinsheff, procurator of the Holy Synod, was doubtful.

Premier Kerensky, the vice-premier stated, had been offered special powers and he has the support of the whole country.
