59TH YEAR. NO. 23395

LONDON, ONTARIO, SATURDAY EVENING, JULY 22, 1922.

PRICE, THREE CENTS

SAYS STRIKE OF SHOPMEN RESTS WITH RAILWAYS

Joseph Corbett Not Surprised Over Attitude of Men.

PROTEST CHANGES
Walkout Unavoidable If Reductions Enforced Without Arbitration.

Whether the railroad shopmen employed on Canadian railroads will down tools in a general walk-out before a federal board of conciliation is appointed rests entirely upon the attitude of their employers, according to Joseph Corbett, general chairman for the Grand Trunk men throughout Canada, who stated, "The Advertiser Friday night that he was not at all surprised concerning the report from Montreal that 97 per cent of the workers had voted to strike."

"That seems about right," Mr. Corbett commented. "That is a general feeling throughout the country, as I can sense it. I attended a mass meeting in Stratford Thursday night, and the men were decidedly against accepting any reduction."

Questioned as to the possibility of a strike before a board was appointed, as requested by the unions, the chairman replied: "It rests now with the companies to prevent it."

Strike Unavoidable.
It is the general feeling among the local men, of whom there are approximately 1,000 in number, that if the various railroad corporations persist in the enforcement of the proposed wage reduction before there is a move toward arbitration, a strike will be unavoidable.

The reports emanating from headquarters pertaining to the result of the balloting in the different Canadian locals, indicating that about 97 per cent of the shop workers favor the strike weapon, as a final protest against the contemplated changes in wages and working conditions, substantiate the report in The London Advertiser July 4 that local machinists had by an overwhelming majority shown preparedness to leave their tasks if necessary.

For several months past, Chairman Corbett has been striving with other union officials to arrange an amicable understanding between the federated shop crafts unions and the Canadian Railways Association. He returned home to this city following the collapse of the negotiations between these two bodies, which had been in progress in Montreal for several weeks.

The climax of the strike situation, as it affects the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, will be reached at Ottawa Saturday, at a general committee meeting of that organization. The outcome of the conference will either be to call a strike or to request the minister of labor to allow a board of conciliation to inquire into their objections to the recent wage reductions put into force by the Canadian National-Grand Trunk Railways. It is said that both courses may be taken.

J. E. Chuck, Member.
John E. Chuck, of this city, a member of the general committee, is attending the conference at the capital. The grievance committee, which has been in Toronto since Tuesday in consultation with the management of the Canadian National lines, reported to President Mosher Thursday night that the meeting was finished, and they were returning to Ottawa. The committee which met the Grand Trunk management in Montreal has returned, but it is not able to report that anything worth while was accomplished.

The committee meeting in Ottawa today has power to deal with the situation so far as it affects the members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees.

Officials say that it is almost certain that boards of conciliation will be applied for. Two will likely be necessary, one to deal with each of the railways. If these are granted it will mean that four boards of arbitration and conciliation will have to be appointed by the minister of labor to attempt to adjust the serious differences that exist between the unions and the management. The minister has already established two boards.

MOSHER AT CONFERENCE.
Ottawa, July 22.—(By Canadian Press).—"An imposition and an utter disregard of every sense of fairness and justice," was the description applied by A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, to the proposed reduction in wages affecting the members.

FOR LIFE OF MORATORIUM

Believes Acceptance Will Aid in Settlement of Financial Questions.

Paris, July 22.—Germany has formally accepted the demands of the allied commission on guarantees which were present at Berlin last Tuesday. In a letter to the reparations committee received today Chancellor Wirth stated that Germany, after profound deliberation, had decided to accept conditions for the duration of the moratorium which the German government assumed would soon be granted.

BRINGS VERDICT OF ACCIDENTAL DEATH

Windsor Jury Inquires Into Death of Man Killed by Street Car.

Windsor, July 22.—A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury at Windsor police headquarters Friday night, inquiring into circumstances surrounding the death of Louis Carnegie, 312 Lillian street, contractor, who died at Hotel Dieu Monday night. His death resulted from injuries which he sustained when run over by a Hydro-Electric Railway street car on Wyandotte street, near Parent avenue, last Monday morning. Mr. Carnegie was riding a bicycle at the time of the mishap.

According to the evidence of eye-witnesses, he was proceeding along the street car tracks a short distance in front of a street car, No. 203—one of the new one-man cars. When he attempted to cut across the track to gain the roadway the wheel slipped beneath him. He was thrown on to the track and before the operator could bring the car to a halt, the wheels had passed over both his legs. They were practically cut off. In an effort to save his life, an amputation operation was performed at Hotel Dieu.

The operator of the street car, Thomas Bird, testified at the inquest last night. He stated he did everything in his power to avoid running over Carnegie, but that the wheels were practically on top of the man when he fell.

NOT ALARMED AT COAL SITUATION

Quebec, July 22.—Local dealers, in a statement to the press, claim that the coal situation is not by any means as bad as it is being pictured owing to the strike in the United States mines, and that the public have no reason to be unduly alarmed as to a shortage of coal next winter. They claim that the present strike will not last longer than Oct. 1, which will allow them nearly two months to get their supplies in by water, and even longer by rail. If necessary coal can be imported from overseas, which was not possible during the war.

SAW MILL BURNED.
Hamilton, July 22.—A. W. Shavers' saw mill at Newnham, with a large quantity of lumber, was destroyed by fire this morning. Only a small sum of insurance was carried.

LATE SPORTING NEWS

CARPENTIER TO MEET SIKI.
Paris, July 22.—Announcement was made today that Georges Carpentier, European champion heavyweight boxer, will meet "Batling" Siki, the Senegalese heavyweight, early in September. The bout will inaugurate the new Buffalo Stadium, near Paris, which has a seating capacity of 65,000 spectators.

There will be a purse of 300,000 francs, 200,000 of which will go to the winner.

APPLY FOR CONCILIATION BOARD.
Ottawa, Ont., July 22.—The Canadian Brotherhood of Railroad Employees applied to the department of labor at noon today for boards of conciliation to investigate the wage dispute between the members of the organization and the Canadian National and Grand Trunk railways. Two boards, one for each line, were asked for. The application follows two days of debate by the executive of the brotherhood presided over by A. R. Mosher, grand president.

CLAIMS RUSSIAN HUNGER FOSTERS CANNIBALISM

Refugee Reveals Horrors Soviet Rule Has Brought Upon Despairing Peasants.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 22.—In extremities of starvation, Russia has sunk to cannibalism, according to a letter received by a friend of L. A. Trofimov, a Russian resident of this city. The friend, fearing the Reds, refuses to allow his name to be made public.

Stories so horrible as to challenge belief are in the letter—stories of mothers killing, cooking and eating their children; of dead bodies rotting in the streets; of a hopeless, despairing nation.

The letter, smuggled past the strict mail censorship in possession of a mutual friend leaving Russia, brands life in the soviet nation as "a terrible nightmare, daily growing worse."

"Yes, the horrible pictures the letter paints are true," says Trofimov, who fled from Russia under forged passports in 1918. He had served in the Russian navy under the czar, Kerensky, and for a short time under Lenin, and was a submarine commander in active service during the war.

"I myself saw the beginnings which inevitably led to this. But there will be a reaction, probably resulting in the return of monarchy. 'Lenin, the one sincere man of the Bolsheviks, is conservative in his radicalism. If he dies, and the papers already report him dead, men more radical will get control and the peasantry will rise against them."

"What else can they do when there is no food, no hope of food and scarcely a house in Russia fit to live in? The wooden buildings are torn down for firewood, the brick buildings are tumbling down. Unrepaired roofs admit the water, which freezes between the bricks of the walls and causes them to become dislodged. People live like animals in the basements. All this because the houses have no owners and who cares if they tumble?"

"Cannibalism? Yes, I believe it, for when I left Russia everyone was consuming and no one producing or planting. This would bring the terrible desperation of hunger which well might lead to cannibalism."

GRADUATE OF GUELPH COLLEGE CHOSEN PREMIER OF MANITOBA

John Bracken, 39 Years Old, Proves Unanimous Choice of United Farmer Members-Elect of Legislature, Succeeding Hon. T. C. Norris.

WINNIPEG, July 21.—John Bracken, aged 39, a native of Ontario, graduate of the Guelph Agricultural College, and for some years principal of the Manitoba Agricultural College, is to be the next premier of Manitoba.

Mr. Bracken was the unanimous choice, it is understood, of the United Farmer members-elect of the Legislature, and what post carries with it automatically succession to Hon. T. C. Norris as prime minister.

Announcement of Mr. Bracken's selection and acceptance was made at six o'clock tonight by C. Barclay, member-elect for St. James, who was chairman of the conference.

With the completion of the election count for Winnipeg city and announcement of the return of four labor candidates, two Liberals, two Conservatives, one Progressive and one Independent, the standing of the parties in the Legislature is shown to be as follows:

United Farmers	24
Progressives	1
Independents	8
Liberals	7
Conservatives	6
Labor	3
Deferred	3
Total	55

Farmer Gain Big.
In the last house at dissolution there were 13 Independent Farmers, 21 Liberals, 7 Conservatives, 19 Labor and 4 Independents.

All of the organized parties lost to the farmers, for whom it was their first provincial campaign. In the support of R. W. Craig, the Winnipeg Progressive, and conceding them two of the deferred elections, the farmers will have 27 seats or an actual majority, but there is a very general opinion that independent support will be forthcoming in sufficient measure to relieve the situation of any embarrassment to the government, which is to come into being.

ADVANCE WHEAT BILL.

REGINA, July 21.—Consideration of the speech from the throne and introduction of the bill to confer special powers on the Canadian wheat board came today in the special session of the Saskatchewan Legislature. The first reading of the wheat board bill was voted by the house. On Monday, Premier Dunning, who has charge of it, will explain the principle of the proposed statute and the house will likely go into committee on it by Tuesday.

It is generally understood that the bill will provide for the financial guarantee of the province to back the wheat marketing scheme and will give wide powers to the board. It will give the board the prerogative to determine when and to what extent compulsory measures shall be adopted. The sale of wheat to the proposed board will not be made obligatory in the bill.

Members who have studied the scheme claim that they do not see why the project should cause any financial risk to the province. George W. Robertson, independent member for Wynyard, who has been an advocate of a wheat board for many years, stated he did not believe it would be necessary to draw on the credit of the province at all in carrying out the scheme.

It is not likely that there will be any heavy opposition to any portion of the bill, but there will be considerable debate in committee and perhaps a certain amount of discussion.

BOARD APPOINTS ENGLISH TEACHER AT WOODSTOCK

Secure Services of Miss J. Bull of Weston at Salary of $2,400.

Special to London Advertiser.
WOODSTOCK, July 21.—The Woodstock Board of Education has appointed Miss J. Bull, M.A. of Weston, Ontario, head of the department of English at a salary of $2,400. Miss Bull was formerly head of the department of English at the Port Arthur Collegiate.

She succeeds Miss Clifford, who has accepted a position on the staff of the Ontario Normal School. W. J. Salter, principal of the collegiate, will receive a minimum salary of $3,300 commencing September 1.

The board of education has decided to increase the fee payable for non-resident pupils in the high school to $3 a month, commencing in September.

WITHDRAWS CHARGES AGAINST LORD FORBES

LONDON, July 21.—Ronald McNeil, the Unionist member of parliament, in a statement in the House of Commons today, unreservedly withdrew his allegations against Lord Forbes, which he had made in the course of the debate on the bestowal of honors, when he charged the firm of Ralston, Williamson & Company, of which Lord Forbes is the head, of doing business in South America "with laxity in relation to trading with the enemy."

Mr. McNeil expressed regret for his allegations involving Lord Forbes, but said he had nothing to withdraw with regard to Lord Warrington in connection with whom he had made certain other allegations.

THRESHING UNDER WAY IN PORT LAMBTON DISTRICT

Wheat Yield Proves Heavy, While Barley and Oats Promise Abundant Crops.

Special to London Advertiser.
PORT LAMBTON, July 21.—The sound of threshing is again heard in our midst. The majority of the farmers around here are adopting the western method of harvesting their grain by threshing from the field.

A number of the farmers have already threshed their wheat and report a first class crop and an average yield of about thirty-five bushels to the acre.

Barley in this section this year is much heavier than last year. Oats are predicted as being an average crop.

It will be late in the fall before the threshing is all done, as there is a scarcity of threshing outfits in this vicinity.

FAIL TO REPORT LOSS ON DEBTS

Manager of Montreal Branch of Merchants' Bank Admits Neglect.

States Partial September Return Showed Apparent Loss of $2,045,376.

MONTREAL, July 21.—That the semi-annual reports on bad and doubtful debts which managers were authorized to send into the head office were never completed by the Montreal branch, was evidence given by William Finucan, manager of the branch, here today in the course of the trial of D. C. Macarow, former general manager of the Merchants' Bank, who is accused of having been guilty of false and deceptive statements in the October, 1921, return of the bank to the government.

Mr. Finucan, examined by Charles Wilson, K.C., for the prosecution, said that his office had been too busy to get the work done, and that he considered he had more important work to do. He had not spoken to Mr. Macarow of the matter, not considering that he should do so unless specifically asked.

Between April and October there had accumulated over $1,000,000 worth of bad and doubtful debts in his branch, due to revaluation of securities. He had spoken of them only in a general way to Mr. Macarow, and did not think that he had mentioned the amount. The September return, never completed, showed an apparent loss of $2,045,376.96.

Adjourned Until Tuesday.
The case which was heard only during the morning in the court of special sessions was adjourned until Tuesday next.

During the examination this morning Finucan said he did not remember any particular conversation with Macarow.

"Did you or did you not speak to Mr. Macarow about that million or over?" "I do not think I ever mentioned any amount to Mr. Macarow." "Why didn't you?" "Well, because he didn't ask me."

"And you did not think it proper to tell him if you were not asked?" "I did not see what good it would do."

"When was the September report ready to be sent to the credit department of the head office?" "The latter part of November."

Report Not Completed.
"When was it ready?" "It was never completed."

"Why was it never ready?" "In the first place it took a very considerable time to prepare this statement. It went on so long, and the necessity for it was not apparent in the head office valuation appropriations, so we did not consider it necessary to send it in."

"Who were we?" "Myself."

"Did you tell that to Mr. Macarow, that you did not consider it proper to send it in?" "No."

"Did you communicate with the accused that the return was not ready?" "I have no recollection of doing so."

"I presume you were a faithful servant?" "I hope so."

Mr. Loucks asked witness for that statement, but the latter said it was not ready.

"What were the reasons?" "That we had not time to finish it. We were short in staff at times."

"Could you not get employees from the outside?" "We might have."

"Oh, yes, there were lots. You might have, but did not take the trouble. Why not?" "I did not think it necessary."

Macarow Never Asked.
"Were you never asked by Mr. Macarow why your branch did not report to the credit department?" "I have no recollection of being asked by Mr. Macarow anything about this report."

"You don't deny it?" "I have no recollection. I think I would remember it."

Mr. Wilson: "I see every page is dated Sept. 30, 1921. Can you state when they were prepared?" Witness: "As of that date."

Now, what does the report disclose? Did you tabulate or summarize it?" "The summarization is there."

Mr. Wilson read: "Past due—$1,050,143.42."

Witness: "That was the amount of paper in past due bills."

Mr. Wilson continued reading: "Current—$4,539,282.98; Good—$3,583,049.51."

"Apparent loss, $2,045,376.96; is that correct?" "You have read the correct figures as they are shown."

"Emanating from you?" "Emanating from me."

"So, in the Montreal branch on Sept. 30, there was an apparent loss of $2,045,376.96?" "Yes."

"And this is the return that was not ready, even when it was delivered to Edwards, Morgan & Co?" "It was never completed."

"Is it complete now?" "No, I would not say it was."

"Will it ever be completed?" "No."

"Never?" "It is not needed now."

"Never?" "It is not needed now."

"Never?" "It is not needed now."

APPEAL AGAINST TAX ON THEATRE

Citizens Protest Assessment of $357,000 On Loew's Playhouse.

Court of Revision Considers 51 Complaints From Ward 2.

Appearing against the assessment of $357,000 on Loew's Theatre, G. Brown and George H. Belton appeared before the court of revision in session at the city hall, Friday night, and asserted that the theatre was "being nearly assessed out of business."

Mr. Brown pointed out that the assessment on the building has been boosted to $248,000, despite the fact that a prominent local contractor has placed its valuation at a much lower figure. He quoted the assessment on Loew's Theatres in Windsor and Hamilton as much more favorable than in London.

"It is just about driving us out of business," stated Mr. Brown, in claiming that the theatre employs from 121 to 123 people, and spends $104,000 per annum in wages and supplies. Property on Queen's avenue fronted by the theatre is assessed for $16,500, while the Dundas street entrance has been valued at $21,000 by the city.

"That was a store there at one time and was assessed at $36,000," said Martin O'Sullivan, acting on behalf of the assessment department. "There is a store above the entrance from which you are obtaining a rental."

Reserves Decision.
The court decided to investigate the merits of the appeal and reserve decision. A similar appeal from the Allen Theatre was scheduled for hearing, but did not come up owing to the fact that the appellants did not appear at the meeting.

Robert Annett, appealing against increased assessment on his property in London West, declared that he would give the land to the city were it not for the fact that there is a house on it. His assessment of $950 was reduced $200.

Declaring that he is assessed for a parcel of land on Huron street, which is a swamp, S. Burt appealed for a reduction in its valuation.

"It is assessed at $500 and I could not get five dollars for it," protested Mr. Burt. His assessment was reduced to the 1921 figure.

R. Escaf requested that he be listed as a householder on the income tax form, owing to the fact that he maintains the house in which his mother and two brothers are entered as residing.

Dismiss Appeal.
It was pointed out, however, that all three brothers are entered as owners of this property, and Chairman Fetterly suggested that probably the motive for such a state of affairs was to escape payment of income tax.

The appeal was dismissed. "I do not understand so many owners," commented the court chairman, "it looks as if they were entered this way for a purpose."

On behalf of the Fireproof Warehousing Company, Robert Webster appeared to protest against increased assessment. He asserted that the assessment for 1923 is greater than the original investment, and explained that although his firm is not a trading company, it is assessed for business tax.

"The total assessment is $59,000," said Mr. Webster, "and the original investment was $55,992. In 1920 the assessment was $35,000, and this year it is $45,000 on the buildings." The appeal was laid over.

Consider Income Tax.
J. C. Davidson appealed against income assessment on the grounds that he maintains his mother's home and should be listed as a householder. Owing to the fact that many of these cases have been appealed, his protest was thrown out. Mr. Davidson announced his intention of appealing the court's decision to the county judge, and should he do so the decision rendered will set a precedent in London for similar cases.

James Hoolihan informed the court that he purchased a house at 301 Wharncliffe road for $600, and spent $300 improving it, yet it is now assessed at $2,100. He declared that the house was constructed in 1858. The court allowed him a reduction of $300 in assessment.

During the session in which 51 appeals against assessment in ward two were heard, Chairman Fetterly announced that the court had fixed the assessment of the Thistle Club rink and grounds at $6,300, acting under advice from City Clerk Baker, who had ruled that this is the standard assessment for playgrounds in the city, and this property is listed in that category.

ALLEGED BRITISH SUPPLYING RUSS
NEW YORK, July 21.—Fifteen British ships, alleged to have been supplying United States run-running craft, have been made the subject of an international brief, it was admitted today by John D. Appleby of the New York prohibition office.

The brief has been forwarded to Secretary of State Hughes, Mr. Appleby said, and if it is considered of sufficient importance it will be taken up with members of the British legation.

The brief is drawn, it is said, under an existing treaty between the two governments regarding smuggling.

Horse Plunges Into Cistern After Mate.

Special to London Advertiser.
CLANDEBOYE, July 21.—A peculiar accident happened on the farm of Gilbert Carter, near the village recently. The gate in the fence that guards a large cistern in a field was opened in some unknown manner, and one of the work-horses fell into the water.

Its collar-mate, seeing its struggle, seems to have deliberately plunged into the cistern on top of it, and Mr. Carter and his son had difficulty in keeping the two from drowning until enough men could be obtained to rescue the beasts.

It is not for the fact that there is a house on it. His assessment of $950 was reduced $200.

10,000 Attend Royal Garden Party, Heralding Climate of London Season

LONDON, July 21.—London's social season reached its climax this afternoon with a royal garden party—the largest ever held at Buckingham Palace. There were 10,000 guests.

All classes were represented, including statesmen, diplomats, bishops, dukes, field marshals, admirals, labor leaders, actors, artists and scientists.

King George and Queen Mary walked about mingling with the guests. They had tea in a special marquee with other members of the royal family and a few friends. The guests came from all parts of the British Empire. Every member of the House of Commons, together with his wife and grown-up daughters was commanded to attend.

For the first time in history the invitations to this function were marked with "R. S. V. P." The precaution was in the interest of economy, to determine in advance the size of the company and prevent wastage of refreshments.

The weather for the function was fine, and the handsome gowns of the women and lines of marquee with their gorgeous floral decorations combined to make the scene one of brilliance.

United States Government To Stand Pat For Period of Ten Days.

Plans To Distribute Curtailed Stocks of Fuel Being Pushed.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The government is prepared to stand pat for a period of ten days to two weeks in its attitude toward the coal strike, it was indicated today, in order to ascertain whether sufficient production will be obtained through the reopening of bituminous mines under guarantee of federal protection to assure the fuel requirements of essential industries.

In the meantime, however, plans for distribution of the curtailed supply of coal are to be pushed. It was said, Secretary Hoover announced tonight that he had called a meeting here next Monday of representatives of producing districts to discuss the proposed "rationing plan" and to formulate a policy designed to restrain profiteering.

Senator King, Utah, today proposed creation of a commission of five to investigate both sides of the controversy and report its findings. No provision was made in the resolution for enforcing the findings of the commission.

FEAR WINTER SHORTAGE.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(By Canadian Press).—According to authorities here the coal strike unless soon settled, will make it impossible to furnish an adequate coal supply for this winter to New England, the great lakes section, and the northwestern states, and in addition, that parts of Canada will suffer.

This applies especially to those parts of Canada tributary to the great lakes which receive large amounts of coal from the United States. Some experts declare that already so much time has been lost and production is so curtailed that it will be impossible, even with the mines running full time, through the fall, to mine the quantity needed and shortage is inevitable.

TAKE DIAMONDS VALUED AT $25,000

MONTREAL, July 21.—Loose diamonds to the value of $25,000 were stolen by two bandits from the wholesale house of Appleby & Co., Southam Building, Bleury street, this afternoon.

The bandits entered the Appleby office and represented themselves as diamond merchants, asking to be shown a number of good stones. They were served by M. Appleby, a junior member of the firm, alone in the office at the time, who took them into his private office.

LONDON PARKS SHED SPLENDOR AND FRAGRANCE

Exquisite Blooms Add Glory to Numerous Civic Gardens.

OVER 100 FLOWER BEDS

Corps of Expert Gardeners
Invite Citizens to Inspect Work.

Lovers of flowers are taking a great interest in the beautiful blooms which are now reaching maturity in the parks of London. According to E. E. Graham, superintendent of parks and boulevards the civic gardens are now at their best, and a tour of inspection, conducted by T. W. McFarland, of the public utilities commission, Acting Manager A. O. Hunt and an Advertiser representative this week has confirmed Superintendent Graham's statement. More than 1,000 flower beds in the parks of London are now in bloom, and a tour of inspection, conducted by T. W. McFarland, of the public utilities commission, Acting Manager A. O. Hunt and an Advertiser representative this week has confirmed Superintendent Graham's statement. More than 1,000 flower beds in the parks of London are now in bloom, and a tour of inspection, conducted by T. W. McFarland, of the public utilities commission, Acting Manager A. O. Hunt and an Advertiser representative this week has confirmed Superintendent Graham's statement.

The officials responsible for the admirable condition of these parks invite citizens to their leisure to see for themselves how their money is spent in this work. There are more than one hundred flower beds in London, in addition to permanent shrubs, rose bushes and peony beds. More than 1,000 bedding plants have been utilized this year to beautify the city, including 4,000 carnations, and 3,000 geraniums. Lilies, imported from France, have been set out from the nurseries for the first time this year at Springbank and Victoria Parks. In addition, 1,000 hardy perennials have been taken from the nurseries to city parks this year. Of course, the tulips and narcissus are not in bloom just now, but these plants have also been utilized by Superintendent Graham in enormous numbers.

Aside from a few boxwood trees, set out at Victoria Park, every one of the plants used in the city gardens has been reared in the parks department greenhouse, near Wandersland. Object of Admiration.

Near the northwest entrance to Victoria Park there are three beds of carnations, which are the object of admiration on the part of all passers-by. None of the three gardens is similar to those adjoining, different varieties of carnations being planted in each. In one of these beds may be seen the President variety of carnation, bright red in hue, with flowers four inches in diameter. The originals of these plants were imported from the United States. This bed is bordered with penstemon, which is copper colored, and the whole garden is finished off by purple grass, which adds to its attractiveness.

In the second garden bed may be seen the Orange Bedder Carnation, which as its name implies, is orange in hue. A bronze shade of penstemon borders this bed along with alternanthera and purple grass. The old fountain near these gardens has been converted into a huge vase, the center being planted with carnations of the King Humbert variety, with Turn to Page 15, Column 3.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Though a sinner do evil an hundred times, and his days be prolonged, yet surely I know that he shall be well with them that fear God.—Ecclesiastes viii:12.

TIME was, I shrank from what was right. From fear of what was wrong; I would not brave the sacred fight. Because the foe was strong.

But now I cast that finer sense And sorer shame aside; Such dread of sin was indolence, Such aim at heaven was pride. —John Henry Newman.

TRUSTEE A. E. SILVERWOOD, chairman of No. 3 committee of the board of education, reports that directly City Engineer H. A. Brazier returns to the city action will be taken relative to the city's request for a right of way through school property adjoining the Tecumseh avenue school.

THE INCREASED SCHOOL attendance anticipated in September next is further indicated by the fact that the school trustees, in addition to other precautions, have ordered that class rooms be opened at the Ryerson and Wortley road public schools, while another auxiliary class will be established. The latter will be held at the Lord Roberts public school.

JULY'S BUILDING PERMITS APPROACH RECORD MARK

Total Estimated Cost of Work to Date Amounts To $165,180.

Building permits issued this month are within striking distance of the July record for London set up last year, when Inspector A. M. Piper issued 112 permits. Up to Friday he has issued 105 permits for construction in London, and the total estimated cost of this work is $165,180.

Among building permits issued this month are the following: To R. E. Saunders for a 1-1-2-story brick veneer dwelling on Beaudouin avenue, costing $3,800; E. W. Moore, to remodel a house on King street, at an estimated cost of $2,000, and T. T. Simmons to erect a 1-story brick veneer dwelling at 72 Beattie avenue to cost $3,400.

McCLARY FIRM HOLDS PICNIC

Over a thousand members of the McClary Manufacturing Company down-town plant left for Springbank at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon to celebrate their annual picnic. A baby show, baseball matches, and a unique program of sporting events and races are scheduled for the afternoon's program, and it is practically certain that the 1922 picnic will henceforth be known as the biggest and best yet.

The scenic railway has been chartered to provide special amusement for the younger kiddies, and an abundance of refreshments has been provided. In short, the program contains features sufficient to insure all in attendance a fine day, and one long to be remembered.

TELEGRAPHERS TO OPPOSE CHANGES

Local G. T. R. Employees Announce Determination to Fight to Finish.

While all negotiations have been halted at Montreal between the Canadian Railways Association and the representatives of the International Order of Railroad Telegraphers, members of the latter body, employed in London by the Grand Trunk Railway, announce their firm determination to combat all proposed changes to their present working agreement.

Grand Trunk operators expect, that although their delegates recently conferred in Montreal with W. D. Robb, vice-president of the railroad, no further arbitration will be attempted until a finding is recorded by the federal board of conciliation called to settle the question with the Canadian Pacific operators.

The operators state that while the company has not as yet broached the possibility of a wage readjustment, a move in that direction is bound to follow a change in the working agreement if the latter was accepted. The men assert that an attempt is being made to deprive them of their eight-hour schedule by the proposed introduction of a new scheme whereby the eight hours of labor would be spread over a period of twelve hours. They point out that they might be called upon, as an instance, to work two hours in the morning, enjoy a break of a certain period, and then return for another two or three hours, and so forth. That they will fight to a finish, is their frank statement at this moment.

BRITISH ASK U. S. TO PROBE DEATH OF SHIP'S CAPTAIN

Colored Master of Schooner Killed by Pirates Who Stole 4,000 Cases of Whiskey.

Miami, Florida, July 22.—The British government has asked the United States to investigate the killing of Captain George Edgecombe, colored master of the schooner William H. Albury, according to information received by Lieut.-Col. Jenkins, vice consul here.

The power boat Falcon, supposed to have been used by the bandits, is tied up to a local dock. While police are waiting for the entrance to the Miami River before daylight this morning, the Falcon drew up alongside the railroad dock, and those on board jumped off and disappeared. A discharged cartridge was found in the boat.

The police are searching for a man who was said to have borrowed the Falcon Wednesday afternoon. It was reported Thursday from Nassau, Bahamas Islands, that the schooner William H. Albury had been held up and robbed of a cargo of 4,000 cases of whiskey by a pirate motorboat, and the skipper, Captain Edgecombe, shot and killed.

STRIKE RATE FOR CLASS-ROOM RENT

With final approval of the recommendation by No. 2 committee that the summer rate for the use of a public school auditorium be set at $5, and the winter rate at $10, the school trustees are fervent in their trust that another vexing problem of long standing "has gone by the board."

Rarely a committee meeting passes without that applications have been received for the use of a school auditorium, class room, gymnasium or grounds, and the trustees for months past have argued at great length upon the relative merits, from an educational viewpoint, of the various applicants. All mothers clubs are exempted from payment, however.

Orangemen.

Following an expression of sympathy cabled to the widow of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, who was assassinated near his home in London, England, last month by Irish Party Loyal Orange Lodge of this city, the secretary of that organization has received a reply of thanks from Lady Wilson.

The letter, which was received Saturday morning, is in full as follows:

"26 Eaton Place, S. W. 1.
"Dear Sir.—Will you convey to all members of the Pro Patria Loyal Orange Lodge my very deep appreciation of their telegram of sympathy. Above all I thank them from my heart for their tribute to my beloved husband, who died for the Empire he loved so well. Yours truly and gratefully, CECIL M. WILSON."

HALT DIGGING OPERATIONS ON NEW ARTESIAN WELL

Another week must elapse before work can be renewed upon London's new well in the southeastern section of the city. While a distance of 70 feet has been reached, it was necessary to halt all operations until a supply of casing necessary for the sides of the well is obtained from Massillon, Ohio, the headquarters of the well-diggers.

In the meanwhile the latter are still testing for water at new and favorable sites in the northeastern portion of the city.

Bootleggers in High-Powered Cars Still Ply Their Trade Across London

Back along the 4th and 5th concessions of London Township, the professional bootleggers are traveling again with their whiskey-laden trucks for Windsor and other points. This is the report of county authorities who declare that liquor in wholesale lots is again on the move westward from distillery centers, contrary to the provisions of the Ontario temperance act.

How provincial authorities "just missed" a squad of run-runners with a convoy of trucks as they sped west Thursday afternoon just north of London, was the interesting narrative related at the county buildings Saturday by a county official, who explained that he was in the neighborhood when the fleet of cars thundered past the farm at a rate of

SCORES SUCCESS AT CHAUTAUQUA

Ferguson Operatic Quintet
Delights With Excellence of Performance.

Opera scenes and songs by the Ferguson Operatic Quintet, and a potpourri of lecturing, witty stories and recitations by John Duxbury, reputed to be England's greatest reciter, amused and delighted a fairly large audience at the first night performance of the Col. Albert Chautauqua, being given this week under the sponsorship of the Loch Lomond Chapter of the I. O. D. E.

Comic selections from "Floradora" and other operas, principally of the famous Gilbert and Sullivan variety, brought the first performers of the evening considerable applause. A well-rendered number was the "Are there any more at home like you?" song from "Floradora." It was much appreciated by the audience.

John Duxbury commenced with a potpourri of funny stories, and then graduated to more serious recitations, such as the story of the meeting of Jean Valjean and the bishop, and the theft of the silver candlesticks, from Victor Hugo's "Les Misérables." Recitations were given by the artist, the first being "The Shades of Banquet," a story of the forefathering of Christopher Columbus.

George Washington, Ben Johnson and his Boswell in the Houseboat on the Styx. The last recitation was the story of an old French peasant and how his most earnest wish in life fell just short of being granted. The eloquentist also scored with this selection.

This afternoon the program will be an instrumental one, given by Herbert McFarren, who is instrumental quartet. In the evening Miss Hazel Huntingdon, prima donna, will sing, supported by the McFarren Quartet.

AVERS FEW BED BUGS IN PRISON

Governor Dawson Claims the County Jail in Clean Condition.

Replies to Former Prisoner,
Who Charges Building
Pest-Ridden.

"If there is any doubt in your mind about the general cleanliness of the Middlesex County jail you will be perfectly at liberty to inspect the same in every detail once certain alterations now in progress are completed."

This is the announcement emanating Saturday morning from Governor Bryon Dawson, following the charge by one of the inmates that the "place was so infested with bed bugs that he could not obtain his proper rest."

Hordes Of Bugs.
"When the present administration assumed control of the jail," the staff experienced the greatest difficulty in combating hordes of bed bugs. The indications were that they had been resident here for a good many years and they have been hard to eliminate.

"Every possible method has been employed, and it was believed that the untiring efforts of the attendants had been generally successful. This would appear so after the thorough inspection by the Middlesex grand jury and the jail committee of the condition of the building throughout."

"The jail is in absolute first-class condition at this moment in respect to sanitation, general cleanliness, etc."

The governor pointed out also that with a floating population it is almost impossible to stop the vermin of some description before new arrivals have been given a bath and a complete change of clothing.

Invited Inspection.
Directly all repairs have been made, and such work as now being undertaken is completed, an invitation will be extended to all organizations or "respectable" citizens who may be interested to visit the jail and inspect every department, the officials state.

"I don't know as I am much concerned over a statement from a prisoner as the one mentioned," concluded Governor Dawson. "As a matter of fact, it may even be necessary to press a further charge against him for destruction to jail property."

Sheriff Donald A. Graham concurred with the governor in that the majority of old buildings as the Middlesex county jail housed their usual allotment of bed bugs and the like which proved difficult to exterminate entirely.

HAVE GREAT TIME AT FISHER'S GLEN

200 Junior Y. M. C. A. Lads
Enjoy Healthful Recreation
At Summer Camp.

Latest reports from the Y. M. C. A. camp at Fisher's Glen state that the 200 junior lads gathered there from every part of Western Ontario are having the time of their lives. The Glen is so beautifully situated on Lake Erie that as one boy puts it "all our play, work, love and worship, is saturated with the spirit of the great Creator who lives with us."

The sixty boys and leaders from London are making a name for themselves, and are winning their share of the athletic events which are held every day. Frank Watson of Hamilton and Hartley Fowler of Galt, as camp directors, are supplying an excellent program of C. S. E. T. in badge winning, wireless, aquatics, nature study, camp craft, etc.

Although the majority of the campers are mere youngsters, Mr. Spearman reports that up to the present only two or three cases of homesickness have appeared, and these very mild, and were quickly cured. Which goes to prove, according to "Will," as he is popularly known, that the camp is a wonderful success.

The weather has been exceptionally fine so far, the report says, and the cool breeze that sweeps over the lake at night as a fitting conclusion to a warm day is welcomed by all.

On the athletic field day, which was the feature of the Taxis and Leadership Training Camp, also held at Fisher's Glen, London was an easy winner with 26 points. Bill Wanless, however, the London athlete whose fame has spread throughout Western Ontario, was responsible for 23 points.

Galt took second place with 17 points, Kitchener third with 19, and Woodstock fourth with 1 point. The individual scores were: W. Wanless, London, 23 points; R. Bell, Galt, 9 points; Paul Hauch, Kitchener, 7 points; B. Brown, Galt, 4 points; Bert Holtz, Kitchener, 2 points; Bert Wistown, London, 1 point; G. Rankin, Woodstock, 1 point; and E. Hilton, Galt, 1 point.

The events on the program were: 100-yard dash, shot put, standing broad jump, 220-yard dash, running broad jump, hop, step and jump, 440-yard dash, running high jump, and relay race.

MOVE TO COLLECT ON PROPERTY SALE

Board of Education Wants
Money Due On Grand Avenue Lots.

With the final approval of the board of education officials of that department have moved to collect all money due them for the recent sale of property on Grand avenue. W. A. Tanner, secretary, formally notified T. G. Meredith, city solicitor, Saturday that the trustees had ruled that the deeds for the three building lots in question be forwarded to the prospective purchasers, and that whatever action is necessary for collection be taken.

While the lots were placed for sale at public auction several weeks ago, certain parties, both owners and bidders, failed to comply with other competitors, they made certain payments at the time, and according to the school officials, signed the agreements.

One of the purchasers now complains, however, that the land was not a good "buy," and has asked the trustees to cancel the entire proceedings and return her money. Upon the advice of the city solicitor, who has considered the question closely, the board now insists that the contract be adhered to.

Whether the disagreement will ultimately reach the Middlesex County court now remains to be seen.

HESSIAN FLY IS RAVAGING CROPS

London reports to Bradstreet's say that the wheat crop is rather light in some of the districts around here owing to the ravages of the Hessian fly. The fly has been particularly bad on light soil. In the northern part of the country the wheat crop has been somewhat better. Corn is making progress with better weather and is rapidly regaining the ground lost earlier in the season. The crop of early apples is estimated will be good, while Northern Spies will be light. Wholesale trade is improving, with orders from country retailers showing an increase. Retail trade is fair. Manufacturers continue moderately active. Collections are a little better.

SCHOOL REPORTS

Following is the report of both lower school and promotion results for the Lambeth continuation school. Subject in brackets after a name indicates that the pupil has failed to secure a pass of 50 per cent in that subject. Certificates have been mailed to candidates.

Police Raid City Home As Gambling Joint

POLICE, under direction of Inspector Thomas Lucas, raided a city home early Saturday morning and arrested the occupant for keeping a common gaming house, and seven of his companions as frequenters. All were bailed out until Tuesday morning, when their trial will be held.

SURE MONEY IS FORTHCOMING

James Bell Certain That Debentures Will Be Disposed Of Readily.

There is no actual "deficit" in connection with the London Technical and Art School, according to James Bell, city treasurer, who explains that while the debentures for that institution have not been permanently disposed of, amounting to about $179,000, there is a matter of $3,700,000 of civic debentures "hypothecated" in a like manner.

The city treasurer relates that during the war, while the rates of interest were elevated to such an extent, it was deemed imperative not to sell all city debentures, as is customary, but to obtain short term loans upon them, or what is termed as the "hypothecation" of a debenture. This was done, not only in the case of the technical school issue, but in several other civic undertakings—school, waterworks, electrical, etc., totaling in all nearly $4,000,000.

The technical school short-term loan so obtained expires this year. Treasurer Bell asserts, and he gives assurance that the debentures can be disposed of without difficulty either this or next year at a more reasonable rate of interest than if they had been sold when first issued. He scouts the suggestion emanating from a certain quarter that there is any cause for alarm. These and other debentures will be sold in due course, he states.

IMPERIAL TEA COMPANY PICNICS AT SPRINGBANK

Kiddies Elated Over Arrival of "Ice Cream Lady," One of Big Events of Program.

On Wednesday afternoon the employees of the Imperial Tea Company, with their families and friends, to the number of 70, gathered at Springbank to celebrate the first picnic of the company. A well-balanced program of sports and stunts under the supervision of Messrs. Hill and Valters was a decided success from start to finish.

An especially enjoyable event for the little ones was the arrival of the "Ice Cream Lady." No child was overlooked and none proved bashful.

Supper was served by the ladies at 5 p.m.

Out-of-town employees were present from Sarnia and St. Thomas. Many valuable prizes were distributed for the sport events, and each child was presented with a souvenir.

PLANTS CELERY IN POND MILLS

Fish and Game Association
Would Provide Feeding
Ground For Ducks.

Believes Nearby Ponds Are Natural Haunt For Favorite Wild Fowl.

The Western Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association held their bi-monthly meeting Friday night in the court house. Several important items of business were dealt with, the chief ones being the reports of the various committees. The game committee has recently completed the planting of a large quantity of wild celery in Pond Mills, and this in a year's time should provide a good feeding ground for ducks.

The committee believes that the ponds could be made a natural haunt for the wild duck. It is well known that thousands of ducks pass through this section in the fall, but few ever stop in the vicinity other than to drop in for a rest at night, and the chief reason that they do not stop is because there is no food in this section that will attract them.

Wild rice was planted early in the spring. It seems being an attraction for wild fowl, celery provides excellent cover and food for young fish, so therefore it will also be a benefit to the thousands of fingerlings that the association has placed in the ponds in the past two years.

Black Bass Law In Force.
Members have reported that they have found occasion to impress on several parties fishing in the river that the law governing the size of black bass that can be taken is still in force, namely ten inches. Parties taking bass under this size are liable to prosecution and a fine.

The taking of such small fish, apart from being a violation of the law, is very unsportsmanlike. The association claims there can be little enjoyment in landing an eight or nine inch bass, and certainly no fisherman that thinks anything of himself will keep such fish. If he wants fish to eat, and is not fortunate or skillful enough to land something with more than a mouthful of meat on it, he would do better if he would patronize the fish markets, and it would be safe to say that for the same amount of money expended, he could purchase enough fish for more than one meal.

There has been much talk of the poor fishing in local waters for the past few years, and now that the nets are off and the fish of all kinds can get up the river, the association feels that the only way to keep what they have won is to prosecute those persons that do not observe the law.

Refers to Game Bill.
Report was made at the meeting of the bill that the American sportsmen are endeavoring to have passed at this congress, namely the game refuge bill, which if enacted into law will mean that as far as the protection of water will be set aside for public shooting grounds in each state.

This is the most important piece of legislation that has ever come before the congress as far as the protection of wild life is concerned, and was actuated by the diminishing numbers of both game and fish in certain sections of the States, caused by the pollution of the streams and the extensive draining projects that have been under way for the past few years.

The Essex Wildlife Conservation Association is fighting the southwest part of Ontario, for the drainage schemes that have been carried on in that section have destroyed many miles of valuable marsh land, and as a natural breeding-place of the wild duck.

MCCORMICK EMPLOYEES ENTRAIN FOR PT. STANLEY

Approximately 1,000 employees of the McCormick Manufacturing Company left for Port Stanley on the 9:20 a.m. train to celebrate the company's 51st annual picnic.

The Hanna Ruling.

ACCORDING to reports from Ottawa, PREMIER KING is not in sympathy with the rule that has been enforced on the National lines forbidding employees of the road to participate in political elections as candidates. This rule has been severely enforced for some time. Mr. HANNA, manager of the road, holding that there should be no participation by the employees of the National lines in political affairs. The idea back of this belief is that it is much better to keep the management of the road entirely separate and apart from political considerations. It was probably felt that if an employee of the road were elected to parliament he would be in a position to exercise influence that might embarrass the management of the road in their dealing with the employees.

There was no doubt some reason for the regulation, and Mr. HANNA certainly had the courage of his convictions in the fearless way in which he has enforced the ruling. The public accepted it as an effort on his part to see that there was no political interference with the operation of the National lines, and for that reason overlooked the fact that no other corporation was making the same demands on its employees.

Replying to a query from W. D. BAYLEY, a member of the Manitoba Legislature, the premier has indicated that the HANNA ruling, by which name it is best known, will be done away with, and that employees of the National lines would be free to offer their services for office.

The idea of the premier has probably the better of the argument in this particular case. There are a great many railroad men in Canada working on the National lines in one capacity or the other. Among them there must be many who would make very acceptable candidates for political office. The loser were these men not allowed to stand for election at provincial or federal contests. Then, too, it might be asked, what right would there be in denying the thousands of railroaders in the country representation in the house by one who understood their problems?

The change in attitude will make——or should make—no very great difference in the operation of the road. It is accepted that political considerations must stand to one side while the matter of greatest importance, viz.: making the road pay, is attended to.

Fight the Army Worm.

REPORTS from Peel County state that the army worm is at work there, and that farmers are out fighting it. There is only one way to meet this pest, and that is to fight it hard right at the start. It moves rapidly and does great damage, practically ruining crops where it appears. Whole fields of oats that looked as though they would be good for between sixty and seventy bushels have been riddled by these invasions to such an extent that it was hardly worth cutting the straw. The subject of attack is not confined to grain, as cut worms, or army worms, will go after anything green or succulent.

Moths lay the eggs on leaves mostly, in patches from 50 to 150 at a lot. In this country close observation leads to the belief that they will hatch in three weeks, or a few days more, and when once out the worms mature very quickly. From July to the latter part of August is the season when they are most commonly found.

The army worm is hard to deal with because it is hard to find in the daytime, doing most of its work at night, and then burrowing in the ground in the days, or hiding under clumps of stones or brush. Some of the species climb trees during the day, and these are referred to as the climbing cut worms.

Many methods have been used to fight these worms. They travel in large numbers, from which they have undoubtedly gained the name, "army worm." When they first came into prominence various methods were used to fight them, and it is doubtful if any system has yet been introduced that can cut them off quickly enough to prevent damage in the district they invade.

Trenches and fires form the one best-known method. When they invade a field it does not take long to notice which way they are traveling. Once this is determined, a deep furrow is plowed the length of the field, or farther, taking care to get into a spot where the worms have not yet appeared. These furrows are made with the straight edge away from the part of the field where the worms have been operating, and it is necessary that the edge be kept as straight up and down as possible. If it can be done the straight edge of the furrow should be tilted a little so that the top will be farther out in the furrow than the bottom. It is well also to go over the work after and see that the wall is straight and not broken in any place, where the worms can get hold to climb over. Along the bottom of the furrow about every six feet or so use a drill such as is employed to make post holes. With this dig out holes about six or eight inches deep. The worms come to this furrow, and find they cannot climb the straight side, so they turn to go along the bottom, and these post-hole openings will gather most of them in groups, where a little oil can be poured in and fired. There may be better methods worked out since this was seen in operation, but the idea described above proved to be quite satisfactory in several places where the army worm made its appearance in Ontario.

In all there are many species of these worms, but they differ only in color and in the things they attack. They are all ruinous in the highest degree. The average worm when full grown is about one and a half to two inches in length, and the kind usually found in Ontario is of a dull green-brown color, with no hair or furry substance covering its body. They all come from the moth in the first place, and the destruction of these or their egg patches later on will save a lot of trouble.

When army worms make their appearance it is highly advisable for the farmers in a district to get together and also appeal to the provincial department for assistance. They must be fought and fought to a finish.

Daniel and the Lions.

WHAT boy or girl has not heard the story of DANIEL in the den of lions? So often that many adults glide over it, pass by it, and even ignore it as something that is good for children. But it is well to remember that the whole Book of Daniel is highly prophetic, rich in history of the Babylonian captivity, and full of events that have a great and abiding place in passing down the history of the Jewish nation.

Sunday schools are studying DANIEL in the lions' den this week. DANIEL was a success in the courts of several kings, and although the fates of war turned out rulers, DANIEL remained. He was capable, loyal to the people and loyal to his God. The corruption of court life did not touch DANIEL, but the purity of his life enraged the court, and the plot to get DANIEL followed.

KING DARIUS was not a strong man. His vanity was his weakness, and it was his low vanity that the traders of DANIEL worked upon. DANIEL must worship DARIUS or go in with the lions. In other words, DANIEL's one safe play, as the world might see it, was to deny his God.

Surely not a very hard matter for only a few days to forget his devotions; to let his religious convictions slide into the background; just be one of the crowd and do as the crowd do. Plenty of people have done it, and plenty of people are doing it, and will continue to do it. How about DANIEL, by this time an old man? With the eyes of his enemies upon him, with his face toward Jerusalem, he prayed three times a day. He didn't even try to get a secret place to pray where no one could see him. That's why the boys and the girls, the men and the women of all ages have learned to love DANIEL. He was a man, possessed of a divine courage and following a star of purpose and decision. From the very start he must have known the real purpose of their plot—he knew he could not pay heed to a decree that placed DARIUS in a position higher than that of JEHOVAH. Yes, he knew it all, and knowing it, never faltered in his purpose, or turned aside in his determination.

Give us more DANIELS. The world needs them. We are better for knowing them—they give inspiration to the week-kneed and strength to the man who has fought his battle alone and feels that it's no use. We may have our little scoff at the man who is ready to stand with his back to the wall and face the world alone, but right down in the world's heart there is a heap of admiration for him.

DANIEL and JEHOVAH made a tower of strength—DANIEL alone would have wilted.

HARD LUCK.

When I go home from work at nights there's always heaps of things to do, it beats the band how jobs pile up to stare at folks like me and you.

Of course, in winter there's the coal, it's always waitin' for a bout, to let me sift the ashes off and bend to pull the clinkers out.

Then comes the spring with all its joy, with all its jobs both thick and tall, I spend three nights to try and find just where I left the spade last fall.

Of plantin' seeds I got my fill, I stuck 'em in six inches deep, and reckoned that in beets and squash I'd raise one glorious tasty heap.

Then came the battle with the weeds, you'll say my garden ways was lax, but I'll admit they grew so big I had to smite 'em with an axe.

READ YOUR CHARACTER

By Digby Phillips.

NO. 273—HOW TO KNOW AN ATHLETE.

Don't misunderstand the real significance or value of the following indication. It does not mean that all those who exhibit it are athletes in the sense that they are star members of athletic teams, or that they have necessarily made more than an average record in any given line of sport.

Likewise, it does not necessarily follow that persons who do not exhibit this characteristic have not the ability to be athletic stars. In fact, a good many such do not exhibit it at all.

It is just one of those general indications, which always should be considered in the average sense. When you see it you must not say to yourself, "This person is surely an athlete." You should say, "The chances are that this person is athletic and muscular."

What is the indication? Simply the habit of making the letter "p" with a long descender. It may seem strange that this should be an indication of athletic inclination, but the analysis of thousands of specimens of handwriting proves that on the average it is.

It is of no value, however, in determining the line of athletics. It may mean that the writer is a runner, or a football player, or maybe only a good dancer. Physical agility and love of exercise, rather than actual accomplishment, is the thing indicated.

Getting or Giving?

BURIED deep in a drawer of the editor's desk, was discovered one day this story. We wish we could give credit for it, but to whomever honor is due, we will render our thanks when we find out.

A young clergyman, who was in the habit of spending his summer vacations in a northern state, one day visited a town some miles away from the one where he was staying. He went to the local barber to get a shave. The barber, like all his fellows, was a very friendly interest in stranger, who, by the way, was not dressed in clerical garb. He began to question him:

"Stranger here, ain't you?" The parson admitted it.

"Traveling man?" said the barber.

"No," said the parson.

"Where are you staying?" asked the barber.

"I am supplying the pulpit," said the parson.

"Supplying the pulpit," echoed the barber, who had never heard the phrase before, "with what?"

That question set the clergyman thinking. He began to ask himself what he actually was supplying that pulpit. It made him examine the quality of the service he was giving. It made him resolve to improve it. The chance remark of that barber made a changed man of him. It knocked the self-satisfaction out of him, for one thing. It made him realize that he had been taking things too much for granted, and that what he was getting had perhaps been more than what he was giving.

HOT WEATHER RULES

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

In every hot spell there are a number of prostrations, breakdowns and deaths. A little precaution would prevent such casualties, besides making one fit for the same amount of work as in normal weather.

Here are some of the more simple precautions for keeping energy and good disposition: Wear lightweight, porous clothing that will let the air reach your skin. Avoid tight belts, garters, collars and hats. Clean clothes are cooler than soiled ones.

Eat less meat. Substitute green vegetables, fruits and cold foods for the heavy, heat-producing foods. Avoid an excess of pastries, fats, sugars and starches.

See that you have a bowel movement once a day. Drink plenty of water but avoid ice water. Bathe the feet daily and powder them with talcum. Change your stockings daily. Have a second pair of shoes and keep alternating them. Avoid high heels.

Do not powder excessively. Do all these things, then stop talking and thinking about the heat. Concentrate on your work, but don't overwork.

The BOOKSHELF

THE LOVE STORY OF ALIETTE BRUNTON. By Gilbert Frankau, Toronto, F. D. Goodchild, publisher; $2.

UNDENIABLY a literary and artistic masterpiece, and probably one of the greatest books produced by any English novelist for several years, magnetic with dramatic tension and powerful in its appeal to the sympathy and emotion of the reader, yet "The Love Story of Aliette Brunton," by Gilbert Frankau, is not likely to be regarded by everyone as above criticism.

In brief, the book is a strong and trenchant argument for easier divorce laws in England, and as Canadian law differs but slightly from English law, advocates of easier divorce systems in Canada will find in this book brilliant and forceful, if somewhat sentimental, support.

Mildly, very mildly in one or several places, the author turns his penetrating irony and sarcasm on what he regards as the idiosyncracies and inconsistencies of both the testant and Roman Catholic churches in their attitude toward divorce.

The old argument against divorce, that "Whomsoever God joineth together let no man put asunder," is slantingly dismissed with the somewhat shocking exclamation: "At the close of one chapter, 'As though humanity were any deity's stud farm!'"

The book will not appeal to radicals because practically all radicals are very "humane" people—at least in theory—and for them the book will be spoiled by its common sense and a very graphic description of a fox hunt. Besides, really "advanced" persons wouldn't be able to understand the extreme sensitiveness of people, who, believing in and seeking divorce, and regretting former marriages, yet want to again strike obedience before what radicals regard as the fetch-altars of wedding rings, priestly ceremonies and legal documents.

It is the submerged middle class from the standpoint of social and moral viewpoints—these outcasts from orthodox and convention not calloused enough to accept refuge in the ranks of avowed advocates of free marriage, and therefore comparatively alone in their ostracism, who will find solace in the book.

It is a truly magnificent champion of the theory that true happiness and true mating alone offer a sound basis for monogamy. It, indeed, is a new "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which, it is quite conceivable to expect, may precipitate a general revolt in England against sex-enslavement in unhappy marriage, as did Mrs. Stowe's epoch-making book hasten the emancipation of a race in America from unhappy bondage.

Of course, the book is romantic, and therefore unreliable as a textbook for scientific and deliberate study of the divorce issue generally. After all the social sufferings of the hero and heroine, after all the sacrifice of the hero's father, whose devotion and overwork while suffering from tuberculosis in order to write a book which would force the "brutal husband" to institute divorce proceedings, hastened

British Naval Airplane Acts Up Rough.

JUST as this plane was taking off from the deck of a battleship its engine went dead, and it nose-dived into shallow water. Pilot Harrison saved himself from being drowned by scrambling from his seat to the observer's pit, where he can be seen waiting for his rescuer.

The arrival of the rescue boat relieved him very much, exhausted as he was from his long wait in the cramped position he was forced to assume in order to keep out of the water.

Airplane View of Beautiful Potsdam.

POTSDAM, a city of Brandenburg, Prussia, founded by the Elector Frederick William, is noted for its splendid cathedrals, one of which is seen in the foreground. It has many fine streets, public squares, promenades, bridges and monuments; it has also a number of palaces of the now defunct German royal family. Previous to the great war it was a large military center, having many large barracks and other establishments.

To Fly Daily Between Detroit and Cleveland.

"THE WOLVERINE," owned by Aeromarine Airways, is one of the flying boats engaged in the recently inaugurated daily service between the two large cities. It carries eleven passengers, two pilots and a mechanic, and covers the distance of over 200 miles in 90 minutes. It is an all-night trip by boat, and a four-hour run by train. The other plane, "The Santa Maria," has a carrying capacity of fourteen passengers.

All That Was Left of the Midnight Flier.

SEVEN were killed and fifty injured when the Philadelphia and Reading train, loaded with excursionists from Atlantic City, left the rails and plunged over a 30-foot embankment. Officials investigating the accident declare that the switch at the junction had been improperly set, thus causing the flier to run on to a sidetrack and a sharp curve, which threw it from the rails. John DeWalt, who is 67 years old, towerman at the junction, became hysterical after the crash.

UNABLE TO WALK FOR A YEAR

Paralysis Entirely Relieved by "Fruit-a-tives"

The Wonderful Fruit Medicine

Paralysis is a breakdown of the Nervous System and affects the victim in various ways. Sometimes, nervousness makes itself known by hysteria, insomnia, constant headaches, or it may be so bad that one is partially or completely helpless in some part of the body, just as Mrs. Heacock was.

SAULT STE. MARIE, ONT.
"When I was twenty-eight years of age, my doctor advised me to have an operation, which I did, and it proved very serious, leaving me weak and unable to walk for a year. Seeing your 'Fruit-a-tives' advertised in the papers, I decided to try them. I continued to use them regularly, and today I am able to go about my home duties and care for my family."
"MRS. J. W. HEACOCK."

Any form of Nervousness is often caused by, and is always aggravated by, Constipation, which poisons the blood, irritates the kidneys and inflames the nerves. "Fruit-a-tives" stimulates the action of liver and bowels, kidneys and skin—tones and sweetens the stomach—keeps the blood pure, and builds up the entire nervous system.

In a word, "Fruit-a-tives" has proved that it is the most scientific and effective remedy in the world for Nervousness or a disordered condition of the nervous system.

National I. O. O. E. Executive Also Appoints Distinguished Visitors' Committee.

Three resolutions will be sent to the Dominion government at once by the executive of the National Council, I. O. O. E., according to decision reached at the July meeting this week, held in the headquarters in Toronto, and which was attended by Mrs. F. J. Greenaway of London, made a councillor at the annual convention of the order in Vancouver.

The resolutions deal with immigration, right of appeal to the privy council, and Red Cross workshops these having been passed by the annual meeting in Vancouver. The first resolution calls the attention of the government to the fact that which was forwarded in March last, urging that a national immigration policy be evolved, based on the needs of the country, and the adaptability of the immigrant, and insisting upon a predominance of British citizens among those admitted to the country.

The resolution with regard to Red Cross workshops petitions the government to lend its practical and early support to the scheme embodied in the Red Cross workshops in order to insure that no partially disabled and unemployed men may suffer from lack of employment suited to their condition.

Of much interest was the decision reached to form a new national committee, to be known as the distinguished visitors' committee, through which the I. O. O. E. may receive advance notification regarding the proposed visits of distinguished men and women to the Dominion of Canada.

Nominations and elections took place for two important offices, resulting in the following appointments: Vice-president, Miss Church; national treasurer, Miss Elfred Macdonald.

Cholera Infantum

Cholera infantum is one of the fatal ailments of childhood. It is a trouble that comes on suddenly, especially during the summer months, and unless prompt action is taken the little one may soon be beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets are an ideal medicine in warding off this trouble. They regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach, and thus prevent the dreaded summer complaints. They are an absolute safe medicine, being guaranteed to contain neither opiates nor narcotics or other harmful drugs. They cannot possibly do harm—they always do good. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Cholera infantum is one of the fatal ailments of childhood. It is a trouble that comes on suddenly, especially during the summer months, and unless prompt action is taken the little one may soon be beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets are an ideal medicine in warding off this trouble. They regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach, and thus prevent the dreaded summer complaints. They are an absolute safe medicine, being guaranteed to contain neither opiates nor narcotics or other harmful drugs. They cannot possibly do harm—they always do good. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

What horrible power was forcing the three Drake brothers, HOBART, the Wall street broker; ROGER, the scientist, and ANDREW, recently returned from Australia, to place themselves in ridiculous situations? Sedate, middle-aged and wealthy, the three were now terror stricken. Some power forced Hobart to deliver a mock speech in a public square, Roger to burlesque a scientific paper, and Andrew to sit on the parlor floor and play with toys. They were sane, and unknown to them.

PATRICIA DRAKE, daughter of Hobart, secured OWEN MILES, detective sergeant, and his colleague.

SCOTTIE MCCREARY, to investigate. Miles is employed as a houseman and Scottie is to report as gardener. On his first night there, Miles discovers Andrew preventing Roger from committing suicide. The following morning a letter throws Hobart into a passion. Miles finds that the letter did not go through the mail. Scottie investigates the family at the country club and reports to Miles.

GO ON WITH STORY.

"General history of the family and the way the neighbors regard them," Scottie grunted. "I've come especially to warn you of a rumor of some strange actions of Hobart Drake's in Wall street today. He's home, the night."

"Yes, and calm and more self-contained," Miles exclaimed in surprise. "That's because his mind is made up," returned Scottie. "Unless the rumor is unfounded—our friend Hobart is planning to retire or make his getaway. He has started to wind up his business affairs. Overheard anything?"

"Nothing."

Briefly Miles told his colleague of the events which had occurred since his installation as the pseudo house servant.

"Andrew is the only one who seems to be unaffected, but there is a forced and unnatural note in his boisterous cheerfulness. I don't know whether we're dealing with a bunch of lunatics or but that there are the victims of some obscure form of villainy that is unprecedented in the annals of the department, and I am on the point of developing nerves over the problem myself. I'll be glad when you tackle your job here."

Miles watched until the bulky form had vanished. Then he entered the kitchen door and fastened it behind him.

He had started for the servant's staircase when a flickering glow from the front of the house made him pause with every sense alert. Noiselessly he crept toward it and saw that it emanated from the drawing-room. As he advanced the sputter of flames and hissing thud of a falling log came to his ears and then the dull clank of metal.

Carefully he drew aside a fold of the heavy curtains which draped the doorway and peered in. There was no light save that from the tiny blaze burning itself out in the fireplace, but

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

ONCE INSIDE THE CAVE, JACK WAS GREETED BY THE SENTINEL WHO GUARDED THE ENTRANCE. JACK WISHED THAT FLIP WAS WITH HIM, AND WONDERED WHAT HAD HAPPENED TO HIS PET.

THE HIDEOUS MONSTER PULLED HIM ALONG BY THE ARM UNTIL JACK THOUGHT IT WOULD BE THE END OF HIM. JACK HAD NEVER SEEN SUCH A LONG AND WONDERFUL CAVE.

SUDDENLY THE MONSTER STOPPED. HE TRIED TO EXPLAIN TO JACK THAT HE WAS TAKING HIM TO THE RULER OF THE UNDERGROUND CAVES, THE TERRIBLE DUKE OF DARKNESS.

PUSHING JACK AHEAD, THE HIDEOUS MONSTER LED JACK BEFORE THE TERRIBLE DUKE, JACK BOWLD. LOW AND THEN LOOKED UP, AND SAW AN EVIL SNEER UPON THE DUKE'S FACE.

Some Life by Jackie Coogan, Jr.

BY JACKIE COOGAN, JUNIOR.

My daddy's an actor, too.

He used to play in vaudeville.

Ma and I traveled with him.

One day I was waiting for him to finish his act. There was a man at the stage door selling ice cream cones. It was hot. The cones looked good.

I wanted one so bad!

My daddy kept on singing. The audience kept on applauding. But I kept on thinking about that cone.

The people out front started laughing so loud that daddy couldn't hear me. I began laughing, too.

Dad turned around, saw me, picked me up by my middle and walked off the stage.

I didn't get the penny. I got spanked.

That was the first time I ever appeared before an audience. I was three years old then. But I remember it well.

How can any feller forget a spanking—with a slipper?

One day I learned some pieces. "My Madonna" was one. The other was "The Shooting of Dangerous Dan McGraw."

My daddy asked me if I would like to recite them at one of the matinees. I didn't want to—very much.

I remembered how I'd been spanked for going on the stage before.

But dad said I wouldn't get a spanking, but a salary—

Fifty cents a week!

I said: "All right, I would."

Our company traveled all over. Sometimes we had to sleep on trains.

I used to think that it was great fun to crawl behind the curtains and and all are the same, but I can't say as much for the folks. The house has not been the same since Andrew came back from foreign parts more noisy and fresh like than when he was a boy only different but up to his old tricks. He played a joke on the houseman Monday and scart him so he left. Hobart has took to liquor and made a holy show of himself in the town. Roger has got himself in a mess too over a speech he made in the schoolhouse last week. I am commencing to think like they are all getting queer again, like they were years ago when they first come into the money. Do you recollect what I told you about their actions? Seems like it was yesterday. Miss Jerusha has not been herself lately and no wonder with the gossip and all and she has put up with Pat going out with that nice young man I wrote you about but I guess it will come out all right.

"Y'r aff sister,

"Hitty."

Slowly Miles replaced the letter and gumbled the flap of the envelope together once more. He had heretofore regarded the lugubrious Mehitable as negligible, but he realized now that she might be well worth cultivating. She thought "they were all getting queer again" like they were when their inheritance came. That was the outstanding phrase in her letter which struck him with the greatest force. Miss Jerusha was her calmly reserved self at breakfast, and Miles could perceive no trace of the emotion which had possessed her at midnight.

"I wonder if you will go on an errand for me, William?" asked Roger. "I know it is raining, but I have an important letter which must go in the next mail."

"I'll go at once, sir."

Absorbed in his thoughts the detective had plodded mechanically along the path, and it was with a start of surprise that he saw the raincoat and bedraggled, broad-brimmed hat of Andrew Drake just ahead. He was walking rapidly beside a taller, more distinguished figure. Miles recognized him as the visitor on the night of his arrival, the next door neighbor, Enslee Grayle.

What could these two, so widely dissimilar in character and proclivities, have in common? Miles hastened his footsteps and was almost abruptly off at the head of a lane between two tall hedges. He was about to continue to the village when he turned to find a woman beside him. She was dressed in a tailored suit of brown which displayed the buxom lines of her figure with rather startling frankness; a face that was undeniably pretty, although of a coarse type, and bold, hazel eyes gazed into his from beneath a fringe of all-too-yellow hair.

"I say, 'oo is that man?" she demanded with an imperative nod toward the pair who had struck off down the lane. Friends of yours?"

"The man in the raincoat is Mr. Andrew Drake and the older one is his neighbor, the owner of the house from which you say they came. His name is Mr. Enslee Grayle."

"Oo is it?" Her eyes shifted from his to rest contemplatively upon the two figures already misty in the blinding rain. "Strike me pink if I didn't fancy one o' 'em was an old

"The station is half a mile further on, but here comes a jitney and it appears to be empty," Miles gestured toward a ramshackle taxi which was rattling down the road.

"Wot luck!" She waved to the driver of the approaching vehicle and then once more her eyes sought the lane. "Andrew Drake, you said. And the white-headed old toff is Enslee Grayle? My mistyke!—well, cheerio! If you've a cinema in this giddy metropolis watch for little Maize!—To the station, my man, and look sharp!"

CHAPTER VIII.

MILES hastened to the village, mailed Roger's letter and lost no time in returning to the house.

The dreary day drew to a close and the evening passed uneventfully.

The family were finishing breakfast the next morning when the rumble of a well-known voice bounded from the kitchen.

"Ze new gardenaire, he ees arrive," announced Pierre.

"Hello, Jack!" Miles grinned as he advanced, for the absence of the grizzled, sandy beard had wrought a vast change.

"I'll take you to Miss Drake—" Miles led the way to the hall. "Study her, Scottie, for she's in on this, too! Whatever it may be that is affecting the men of the family, she is sharing it!"

GROWING BOYS AND GIRLS

Need Rich, Red Blood to Keep Up Health and Strength.

It is a mistake to think that anaemia is only a girl's complaint. It probably shows the effect of weak, watery blood more plainly than boys. But many boys in their teens know this and weedy, showing that they have not enough blood, or that it is thin and watery. Let the boy in this condition catch cold and he will lose his strength and his health becomes precarious. To overcome this trouble give both your weak boys and girls Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and see how soon good appetite returns and the weak boy or languid girl becomes full of activity and high spirits. Mrs. P. Garvey, R. R. No. 5, Mono Mills, Ont., tells what this medicine did for her young son. She says: "Three years ago my little boy, who was then 11 years old, was very pale and weak. He would take fainting spells and complained of a pain about his heart. One day a lady friend who noticed his run-down condition told me her daughter had been in a similar state of a course type, and bold, hazel eyes gazed into his from beneath a fringe of all-too-yellow hair.

"I say, 'oo is that man?" she demanded with an imperative nod toward the pair who had struck off down the lane. Friends of yours?"

THE transfer of John W. Wild from the firm of S. F. Lawrason to that of A. J. Carter, Son and Company has taken place recently.

"MOVIES" ARE EXCELLENT EYE TEST, SAYS SPECIALIST

London Optical Company Offers Timely Advice to Citizens of London.

"If you feel there is something wrong with your eyes, go to the movies, then when you come out, if your eyes still hurt and if you have a peculiar feeling in the region of your stomach, have your eyes tested immediately."

This was the advice given a few weeks ago by a famous eye specialist at a convention.

"Moving pictures do not hurt the normal eye. In fact, they help the general raising of the eyesight standard in the country, for they are a kind of danger signal which warns the people with poor eyes and send them scurrying for aid," the specialist said.

"Moving pictures do not cause any more strain on the eyes than sewing or reading. Of course, some of the worst films sent to outlying districts flicker badly, and these are harder on the eyes, but generally speaking moving pictures are no harder on the eyes than any daily routine work."

Overworks Eye.

"The average person expects the eye to do twice the work of any other organ of the body. A man would not think of walking all day and then thinking in the evening for pleasure. But how many persons work in offices during the day, using their eyes constantly at close work, and then go home and read or go to the movies for pleasure? It is no wonder that they meet with trouble. There is another difficulty. People will look after their teeth carefully, and never consider their eyes. It seems queer, since their teeth can be replaced, but when their eyes are damaged there is no makeshift to be made."

Succeed In London

THE co-operative spirit shown in all the municipal life of the city of London is one of the chief reasons for its success and its outstanding position amongst all cities.

With the growth of the city in size and population there has come a growing recognition of its position as a center of industry, education and commerce for Western Ontario. Business and professional men are continually attracted to London by reason of the advantages offered and their cognizance of the fact that London is on the eve of even greater developments and that a rosy future stretches before her, unsurpassed by that of any city of the Dominion.

The success of the city rests on its civic as well as its home life, and nowhere may be better conditions found. It is a city of manufacturing and greatly diversified industries, so that all classes of people may practice at their own trade.

The products of its industry are found in all parts of the Dominion, and in fact throughout all parts of the world. It is large enough to permit an adequate supply of labor at all times and yet without there is no congestion and the city boasts of the fact that no slum districts lurk in its midst.

Its transportation facilities are excellent in very few places. Speedy connection may be made with all the Dominion railways, an important factor, and one which is given weighty consideration in the settling of industries.

help them over.

"No one knows how many parents are unconsciously doing a great injustice to their children. This passage from Theodore Roosevelt's autobiography needs little comment. It may mean a suggestion that we will mean everything to our child."

Boy Was Near-Sighted.

"Quite unknown to myself, I was, while a boy, under a hopeless disadvantage in studying nature. I was very near-sighted, so that the only things I could study were those which were within my reach. When I ran against a wall, I got my first gun, and I puzzled me to find that my companions seemed to see things to shoot at which I could not see at all. One day they read aloud an advertisement in huge letters on a distant billboard, and I realized that something was the matter, for not only was I unable to read the sign, but I could not even see the letters. I spoke of this to my father, and soon afterwards got my first spectacles, which literally opened up a new world to me. I had no idea how beautiful the world was until I got those spectacles. I had been a clumsy and awkward little boy, and while much of my awkwardness was doubtless due to general characteristics, a good deal was due to the fact that I could not see and yet was wholly ignorant of the fact that I was near-sighted. The recollection of this experience gives me a keen sympathy with those who are trying in our public schools and elsewhere to remove physical causes of deficiency in children, who are often unjustly blamed for being obstinate or unambitious, or mentally stupid."

"Many look upon glasses only as an aid to eyesight in mature or aged persons. The truth is that few are born with perfect eyes. Slightly defective vision in the child, if not corrected, may become serious eye trouble in after life, but, if properly attended to, may be entirely overcome. You would not like to think of your child handicapped as Roosevelt was, unable to see as other children, yet plodding along, not aware that anything is the matter. An examination by our scientific methods will insure your child of an equal start with others in the race for success in life."

"Remember your child does not know. It is your duty to make sure."

The London Optical Company, Dominion Savings Building, Richmond Street, London, submits the above advice to the citizens of London.

Heads City Firm

A. J. CARTER.

SUCCESSFUL businessman, A. J. Carter, heads awning and tent manufacturing company.

and automobile hood covers. The demand for automobile hood covers of good quality has been very heavy, and a good deal of the manufacturing has been diverted to meet this need. The firm has been able to turn out a special high-grade hood cover at a very reasonable price, and eventually Mr. Carter hopes to go in for a more extensive manufacture of this class of goods.

Makes Things Canvases.

Apart from the manufacture of awnings, tents and auto tops they make "anything and everything" made of canvas, such as tarpaulins, coal bags and goods of that kind.

The numerous patterns for store front awnings that the firm is able to supply is almost without limitation. The canvas used is chiefly Canadian texture. The chief operations in the manufacture of awnings are the cutting, patterning and sewing, but the greatest part of the work is done by hand, and is tedious and difficult. The frames of the awnings have also to be constructed, and in order that the awning may give better service the piping that is used in the construction is unbreakable.

Mr. Carter intends to introduce in London the spring-roller awning, which are invariably used in England. This awning is made on the principle of the every-day window blind, and is much neater, easier to operate and does not spoil the beauty of the store front when closed.

THE PROCRASTINATOR.

Mose and Sam were digging a trench over in France. Although not in an especially safe spot, for a time they were unconscious of their danger. Then a shell flew over their heads and exploded just beyond. Others followed. At the fifth explosion Mose asked, inquiringly:

"Sam, don't you all think it's about time we all got religion?"

"Chuff!" retorted Sam scornfully. "Mose, you suttinly is a tho-ly shuffless boy. Me, I done got religion when de dust bomb bust."

Before coming to Canada, Mr. Carter had been in business for himself in Reading, England, for fifteen years. On his arrival here he secured a position with Raymond Bros., and continued in their employ for a number of months before deciding to open a factory in London.

The bulk of the work turned out at the new factory has been awnings, and automobile hood covers.

Some of the predictions made by Mr. Carter, senior member of the firm, although pronounced by some people at the time to be "far fetched," have become facts, and in its second year of existence the firm enjoyed more than a 200 per cent increase of business. The present quarters at 357 GLEBE street are fast becoming overcrowded, and within a short time Mr. Carter states he will be forced to seek a larger factory.

London to Stratford—Road in very good condition.

"DR. FOWLER'S"

Saved the Lives of Four Children

Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum and summer complaint are responsible for more deaths, especially among children, during the summer months than any other form of disease. According to statistics, in the city of Toronto alone, in the past five years out of 1,008 deaths of children, from diarrhoea, 757 died during the four summer months. It therefore behooves every mother to look after her children on the first sign of any looseness of the bowels by using Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, a remedy that has been on the market for the past 77 years, and has been proven to be the best there is.

Mrs. Harold Sellers, Penfield, N.B., writes: "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry saved the lives of four of my children when all other remedies failed. It stopped the vomiting and terrible diarrhoea with which they were troubled. I will always recommend it, and now always have a bottle on hand in case of emergency."

TORONTO TO SEVERN.

Toronto to Thornhill, paving and culverts under construction. Thornhill to Bradford, good. New grading and macadamizing just north of Bradford. Detour in wet weather to first road west of town through two concessions; remainder of road to Barrie is good. Barrie to Crown Hill, good. Crown Hill north seven miles, new grading and culvert construction; not good in wet weather. Advise taking Lake Shore road, Barrie to Hawkestone. Hawkestone to Orillia, good. Orillia to Severn, fair. Macadam and culvert construction three miles north of Orillia. No detours at present.

Port Credit to Owen Sound—Port Credit to Cooksville, good. Cooksville to Brampton, five miles north Cooksville under construction; detours well marked. Brampton to Chatsworth, good gravel road throughout, except a six-mile stretch east of Shelburne, which is under construction. Detour westerly along 25 side road, township of Monia, one concession, thence northerly 2 1/2 miles joining the provincial highway. Detour rough in places.

Toronto to Hamilton (via Dundas street)—Dundas street to Cooksville, excellent. Cooksville to Clappison closed, under construction. Through traffic for Guelph take Hamilton highway, turn north at Aldershot through Waterdown to fourth concession. East Plamboro, thence west to Hamilton—Guelph road. Advise all through traffic to use Hamilton highway.

HAMILTON TO LONDON.

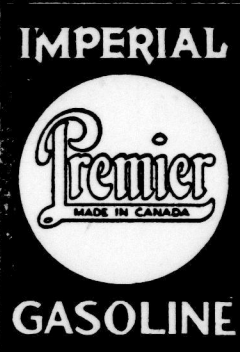

Hamilton to Brantford, paved portions excellent, but macadam rather rough. Road closed from stone quarry east of Ancaster for about three miles. Three detours, one from Ancaster quarry to old jail fair, but has a steep hill; one from the old jail through Ancaster fair; one west of Ancaster fair in dry weather, but heavy after rain. Brantford to Paris, road very good. Paris to Gobles, excellent gravel road. Gobles to Woodstock, old macadam and sand road very rough. Motorists should watch for newly-constructed culverts. Woodstock to Crumlin, excellent gravel road. Grading operations between Woodstock and Beachville. Motorists should watch for newly-constructed culverts between Woodstock and Ingersoll. Crumlin to London, road closed on account of construction. Through motorists should take Hamilton road between Ingersoll and London. Detour fair.

LONDON TO ST. THOMAS.

Road in good condition. Detour between Talbotville and St. Thomas. Through traffic should take Wellington road at St. George street in St. Thomas.

St. Thomas to Windsor—St. Thomas to Clearville, road in fair condition, but is under construction over entire section. Detour between Talbotville and St. Thomas. 'GUTTA PERCHA' TIRES will stand the strain of any kind of Driving

Tires must stand use and abuse and take the driving as it comes. Of course, careful driving is easy on tires—slow stops and slow starts help out the mileage, but they are not what the spirited driver is addicted to and he will not change his ways. There's a tire to suit all requirements—swift driving, racing or touring—hill climbing, quick starting when the traffic cop says "Go"—non-skidding in wet weather—and all the emergencies of city streets and country roads. There's a strength in "Gutta Percha" Tires which makes them stand the strain of hard driving.

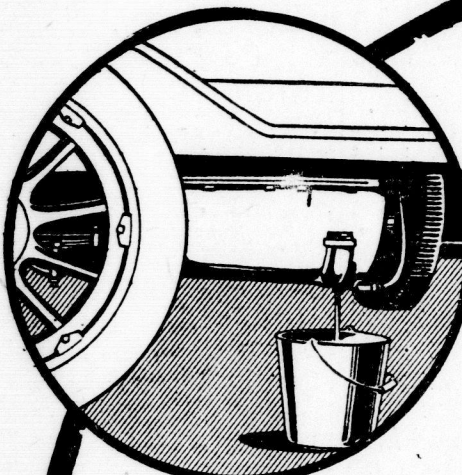

PRICE: Some Tires cost more than others. This is not because the manufacturer insists on a bigger profit but because he has put more actual cost into the making. You get what you pay for in this world. It pays to pay the price and get "Gutta Percha" Tires.

Ask Your Dealer For Crank Case Service

'Dead' Oil Removed

Even the best oil you can buy wears out in time and loses much of its lubricating efficiency. It then fails to maintain the proper piston seal. Power goes to waste. Wearing surfaces no longer receive proper protection. It is of the utmost importance that you have the old oil drained out of your crank case frequently.

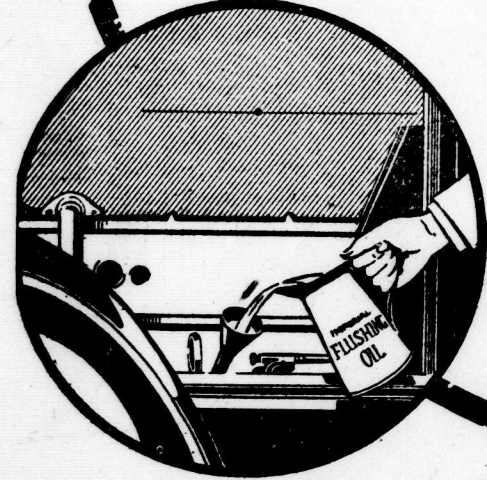

You probably realize the importance of having your crank case cleaned every 750 to 1000 miles. But it is dirty work. You dislike to do it yourself. Why not have it done for you?

There is an Imperial Crank Case Service dealer near you who maintains a modern crank case cleaning department and he will gladly have an expert do the job properly.

And what is most important--he will use Imperial Flushing Oil for cleaning your crank case. No danger then of diluting the fresh oil which is added later as might be the case if coal oil (kerosene) were used for flushing purposes.

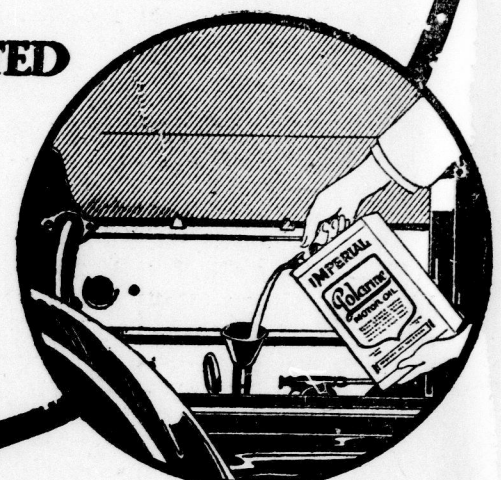

Make it a special point to drive 'round to the Imperial Crank Case dealer's sometime during the next week. Let him tell you more about this service that saves your car and saves you money.

IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED

All Parts Thoroughly Cleaned

Merely draining the crank case is not sufficient. Metal particles, road dust, dirt, grit and carbon have a tendency to adhere to the metal parts of your engine when the oil is drawn off. Imperial Crank Case Service dealers use Imperial Flushing Oil, a scientific cleansing agent, which removes all foreign matter and thoroughly flushes out your engine and crank case.

Refilled with Fresh Oil—

No one grade of oil could properly lubricate all different makes and models of automobiles and trucks. Different types require a special grade of oil, suited to their construction and operating conditions. The Imperial Crank Case Service dealer who refills your crank case, will use the grade of Imperial Polarine recommended for your car on the Imperial Chart—an infallible guide to proper lubrication.

JESS WANTS MORE TIME.
LOS ANGELES, July 21.—Jess Willard will not consider Sept. 29 as a date for his proposed championship bout with Jack Dempsey, according to Gene Dwyer, the challenger's local representative. Willard wants an additional two or three weeks of training to make sure that he will be in condition for the match. Meanwhile Teddy Hayes, Jack Dempsey's trainer, who is here for the purpose of getting a line on Willard, will not be welcome at the big fellow's Hollywood training camp, Doyle said.

Pruett Has Babe's Number

PRUETT (LEFT) IS THE ONLY PITCHER WHO CONSISTENTLY MAKES BABE RUTH (RIGHT) TIE HIMSELF UP INTO HITLESS KNOTS.

BABE RUTH is the greatest slugger of all times. No one questions the fact of Ruth to that title. His home-run record of 59 circuit drives for the season of 1922 will live for years.

In his day Dan Bruett was one of the game's greatest batsmen. He was one of the sluggers of the old school. Dan is now employed at the Polo Grounds. Recently after Ruth had hit one mile, he was asked:

"Could any of the old boys outslug Ruth?"

"Some of us could hit 'em pretty hard," said Dan, "but Ruth has it on any slugger I have ever seen. That bird isn't human."

But the Babe is human after all. A rookie pitcher has proved it. A reference to Herbert "Shucks" Pruett of the St. Louis Browns.

Pruett is a left hander. Two years ago he was pitching college ball at the University of Missouri. Today he is one of the most valuable members of the Browns' pitching staff.

Every pitcher likes to strike out Babe Ruth. The fans like to see him strike out or make a home run. Either supplies the big trio.

Pruett certainly has been poison to Ruth.

Ruth has faced Pruett nine times during the present season. Nary a hit has the home-run king made off the youngster. His hitting against Pruett has been confined to a couple of weak fouls.

In nine trips to the plate against Pruett the Babe has reached first base only once, then by grace of a base on balls.

What has Ruth been doing the rest of the time? Striking out.

Of the nine times that Ruth has faced Pruett the Babe has struck out eight times. In most cases there have been few called strikes.

ST. LOUIS, July 21.—Jack Fournier's home run with the bases full in the eighth, gave the Cardinals a 6 to 1 victory over Boston here today. It was the third straight for St. Louis over the Braves and moved them to within .004 points of the league leadership, as the Giants lost to Cincinnati.

Prior to the eighth Watson had hurled sensationally. In this inning four hits and two errors gave the Cardinals victory.

The score: St. Louis 6, Boston 1. R.H.E. Cleveland 000 000 100—1 4 0. Washington 000 000 000—0 5 3. Morton and O'Neill, Johnson, Francis and Fitch, Gharrett.

YANKS ON HIT RAMPAGE.
NEW YORK, July 21.—Meusel's terrific hitting enabled the New York Yankees to overcome Detroit's 5-run lead and defeat the visitors in the third game of the series today, 7 to 5. Meusel hit a home run, triple and two singles in the eighth inning to drive in or score all of New York's runs.

The score: New York 7, Detroit 5. R.H.E. Detroit 000 000 000—0 11 0. New York 000 000 200—7 12 1. Olson, Cole and Woodall; Bush, Hoyt and Schang.

RED SOX WIN IN ELEVENTH.
BOSTON, July 21.—Boston defeated Chicago 8 to 7 in eleven innings today. In the eleventh Pratt singled, took second on Dugan's bunt and scored the winning run on John Collins' fourth hit of the afternoon. The victory brought Boston out of last place, as Philadelphia lost.

The score: R.H.E. Chicago 000 200 230 00—7 12 0. Boston 000 000 200 018 15 2. Robertson, Schupp, Hodge, Blankenship and Schaik, Ferguson, Quinn, Russell, Piercy and Walters, Ruel.

SEEKS BETTER IMMIGRANTS

Hon. Manning Doherty Calls
Big Conference On Provincial Problem.Would Induce Three Types of British Farmers To Emigrate.

TORONTO, July 21.—Ontario is to go after the better type of British agriculturist immigrant, as never before.

With a view to discussing and formulating plans for an extended campaign of education and enlightenment in the British Isles, Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture, is calling a conference to be held at his offices in the first week in September, which will be attended by Mr. Doherty, Agent-General

Noxon of London, England, and representative men and women of Ontario interested in the scheme.

Temporarily confined to a bed at St. Michael's Hospital, Hon. Mr. Doherty outlined today what he had in mind for the province in that connection, and sketched to some extent the proposals with which the conference will deal in September.

In effect, the minister's idea is to meet the British Government in its new legislation for directing emigration to the British dominions, by which Britain will defray one-third of the transportation costs of such emigrants.

The minister has in mind a scheme to go out after intending British emigrants in three distinct classes: the experienced farmer with means; the experienced farmer with limited means, and, thirdly, the farm laborer.

With each of the classes the minister proposes to deal separately. "Discussions at the conference will include possibly a proposal of loans to reliable and experienced farm settlers and also for other classes free land grants.

KITCHENER CLUB GETS NEW BLOOD
Marsh Cochrane Heads Young Men's Coterie, Now in Control.

KITCHENER, July 21.—A new organization of young men tonight took over the management of the Kitchener baseball club and prospects are bright that it will shortly be put on a very firm foundation.

Marshall Cochrane, more familiarly known as "Marsh," was elected president, he being an old ball and hockey player and having been prominently identified with the city in an athletic way for years. William Kuntz of Waterloo is the new vice-president, and C. W. Feick was re-elected secretary-treasurer. The directors chosen were: Gene Roschman and A. Herget of Waterloo, and Oscar Ruppel, John Cochrane, Roy Shantz, Joe Huck and Ezra Trask of Kitchener.

Mr. E. Sarran was elected honorary vice-president by Mayor Greb of Kitchener and Mayor Welch of Waterloo, honorary vice-presidents being: The new organization intimated that it was ready to go out and complete the campaign to raise the necessary money for the completion of this year's schedule and to lay plans for the future. An effort will be made to have the young men's club, a powerful organization, put on a campaign to raise the money in quick time.

The new organization takes hold with debts of only $1,375.62, this being due the league and President Halligan.

Home - To - Church - Tomorrow

"YES, I know all the excuses. I know that one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees or by a running brook, or in a man's own house, just as well as in a church. But I also know as a matter of fact the average man does not thus worship."

Here are a few benefits to be derived from church attendance:

"You will listen to and take part in reading some beautiful passages from the Bible. And if you are not familiar with the Bible, you have suffered loss."

"You will take part in singing some good hymns."

"You will meet and nod or speak to good neighbors. You will come away feeling a little more charitably inclined toward all the world, even toward those excessively foolish young men who regard church-going as a soft performance."

"Join in church work for the sake of showing your faith in your works."

Make your start in church service tomorrow. A fair trial of church attendance will convince you it's well worth while.

DEPLORE CARELESSNESS OF CANADIAN CAMPERS
OTTAWA, July 21.—Reports of woodland devastation as the result of carelessness by campers and fishermen are reaching the Canadian Forestry Association. "One part of Eastern Canada this summer has lost 600,000 acres of beautiful woodlands through the wanton carelessness of persons who leave their camp fires burning and who throw away lighted matches and cigarettes. It will take from 50 to 100 years to turn this man-made wilderness into anything approaching its original condition."

"It is a safe estimate that ten trees have been destroyed by human-set fires to every one that has been or will be cut in 1922 by the axe of the logger."

NORTHCLIFFE'S CONDITION UNCHANGED.
LONDON, July 21.—Lord Northcliffe's condition continues to be a cause for grave anxiety. His fever remains unabated, and the heart action is considerably impeded.

Recalls Plea Premier King Made To Give Workmen Seats in Commons

WINNIPEG, July 21.—A second telegram has been sent to Premier W. L. Mackenzie King by W. D. Bayley, M.L.A.-elect for Assiniboia, on the subject of the dismissal of C. W. Foster, Labor candidate in St. Boniface, from the Transcona shops of the Canadian National Railway.

"In order," Mr. Bayley says, "to strengthen your hands in remedying this injustice," he quotes from what purports to be a report of an address made by the prime minister, then leader of the opposition, in Winnipeg, on Nov. 1, 1920, in which he dealt with the Hanna order barring Canadian National Railway employees from politics.

"It is part of the government's business," Mr. King is quoted as having said, "to see that such a policy as Mr. Hanna laid down is just and fair and true. I don't hesitate to say that Mr. Hanna's policy, if made general, would deprive workmen of this country of the right to run for Parliament. What would be the result of that? That instead of looking to constitutional means of settling their grievances, they would be driven to direct action. I think it is in the best interest of this country to have a larger number of workmen in Parliament."

DEFATE FORCES OF SUN YAT SEN
CANTON, China, July 21.—Sun Yat Sen's forces in Northern Kwang Fung, on whom the deposed president of Southern China has been pinning his hope of regaining power, have been defeated and are in retreat, pursued by the troops of Chen Ching Ming, who overthrew Sun, according to advices received here today from Shuichow.

ATTACK HANDLING OF CANTEN FUND
LONDON, July 21.—(By Canadian Press Cable.)—The bill validating the payment of $36,000,000 from the profits of the expeditionary forces' canteen fund, mostly to the United Services' fund, but including certain sums to be paid to the dominions, was given second reading in the House of Commons today.

Considerable complaint was made of mismanagement of the fund, and it was argued that had the government wound up the canteens after the armistice, instead of continuing them on a peace footing under the name of the Army and Navy Canteen Board, the loss of $20,000,000 due to the slump of prices would have been averted, and ex-service men would have benefited proportionately.

References were also made to allegations of fraud, and Sir Laming Worthington Evans, secretary of state for war, promised that any prima facie case of fraud would be submitted to the law officers, and the government would also appoint a select committee to inquire into the whole question.

DECLARES BARRIE ADMITTED SLAYING
Crown Attorney Informs the Court Farm Hand Signed Confession in Belleville Murder.

BULLETIN.

BELLEVILLE, July 21.—Maurice Barrie was committed at the preliminary hearing here this afternoon for trial at the fall assizes on a charge of murdering George Wesley Moulit, farmer, of Tyendinaga Township, on June 29, last. The trial opens on September 19.

BELLEVILLE, July 21.—When the preliminary hearing in the case of Maurice Barrie on the charge of murdering his employer, George Wesley Moulit, was adjourned today, Crown Attorney Carrow informed Magistrate Bodford that the prisoner had signed a confession, which he declared he could prove was properly obtained.

Continuing her evidence, Tilley Mae Moulit, the widow, swore that after the accused had gone upstairs to get his flashlight and a sweater on the evening of the murder, she missed $25 or $30 from her husband's pants pockets, and $5 from the sideboard. Later she found a ladder leading to the window of Barrie's room. She had not seen him since until today.

A coincidence in connection with this was that her children, who slept in the room containing her husband's clothing, were awakened and cried, and one crawled from under the bed. It was unusual for the children to wake up at night.

A hush passed over the crowded courtroom when Alberta Phillips took the stand. She had worked at Moulit's from April 27 to July 18.

"How did Wesley Moulit treat you?" asked the crown.

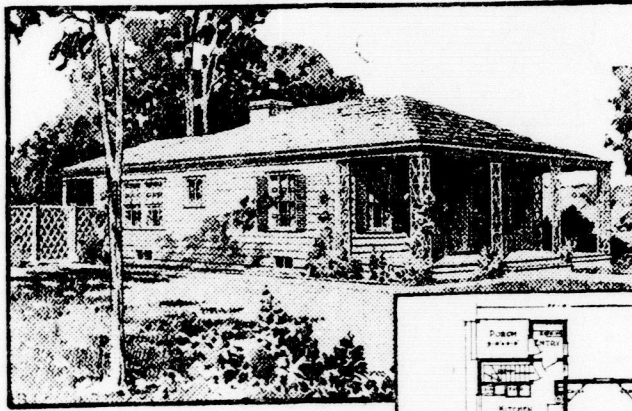

"Always as a gentleman. He always acted honorably towards me."

She did not think Barrie had acted honorably towards her. She noticed Barrie was jealous soon after she went to Moulit's, and that he was different to her on the Saturday that she went home. Explaining this, witness said she generally went out with her "steady" when the latter called to see her.

OTTAWA, July 21.—There are 71 notices of bankruptcy in this week's issue of the Canada Gazette.

LONDON—THE CITY OF BEAUTIFUL HOMES

This Bungalow Has Charm

For many a family, a four-room house would answer all the requirements of a real home. Many who are now paying rent on houses they do not like, or who are crowded into tiny box-like apartments, could build their own homes if they were willing to forego some of the formal rooms which are really hardly ever used.

An unused room in your house, or one used only a small part of the time, is not only a waste of money in initial construction and furnishing, but also in upkeep, taxes and an unnecessary burden of daily cleaning. Such houses are imitations of the establishments of others, rather than honest expressions of our own individual life.

Perhaps some of our aversion to small houses has been due to the belief that the smaller the house the less care was devoted to its plan and to its appearance. And this belief has no doubt had good foundation in fact in the past. Recently, however, a good deal of attention has been devoted to small-house architecture by architects of standing, and some little cottages have been planned which are just as practical and just as beautiful as the more pretentious dwellings of the rich and near-rich.

One of these is the honest little house pictured here. Do not the dainty trellised posts of its excellent front porch make one think involuntarily of climbing rose vines? The plain hip roof, with narrow cornice, makes for economy. No small part of the attractiveness of the exterior is due to the 12 light windows and shutters, which give any house—and particularly a small one—an individuality and charm impossible to attain with huge sheets of plain glass.

Both the exterior and interior details of the house are colonial. The entrance door is the characteristic six-panel design, without glass, as it has been in barch. The rest of the 'tting in an entrance which opens directly upon one's living-room. The living-room lacks a fireplace, one of the sacrifices made to economy in this cottage. However, it is pleasantly rectangular in shape, and has windows on two sides, and a good inside wall space for piano or davenport. From this room one may pass either to the passage connecting the front bedroom and the kitchen at the left of the house, or the dining-room to the rear of the living-room.

A cross-circulation of air is arranged in the pleasant front bedroom, leaving good space for the bed, where it need not be in the draft. A clothes closet and a tray case built-in makes it wholly desirable. There is a linen case in the hall near the bathroom, which is conveniently located with respect to every room in the house. Another small closet in the hall may be used either as a coat-closet or a broom closet.

The kitchen is provided with built-in cupboard and working space, and an inside basement stair, with a window specially provided to light it.

All interior woodwork should be enameled in this house if you would carry out its colonial motif. This applies to doors and china cupboards also, though these latter may be mohagized without violating tradition. For this finish, they may be had in birch. The rest of the 'tting in an entrance which opens

SEEK 10-YEAR-OLD BANDIT WHO ROBBED SMALLER BOY

Hoboken Police Hunt Young Desperado Who Stole Change From Child.

HOBOKEN, N. J., July 22.—A 10-year-old bandit is sought by the West Hoboken police.

The victim of the desperado is David Schdems, 8, of No. 430 Bergen-line avenue. His mother sent him to the grocery store to make a ten-cent purchase, and gave him $5. On his way home with $4.90 in change, David said he met the robber.

"He's bigger'n me—mus' be ten or 'leven," said David, "an' he had a handkerchief over his face so I couldn't tell who he was."

"Gimme that money an' ran," he says, "or I'll bust y' in th' eye. Then he grabbed the money an' ran."

David told his mother, and she told the police.

FEARS AUSTRO-GERMAN UNION

League of Nation's Council
Declares Danger Political,
Not Financial.

Claims Combination Will Menace Equilibrium of Europe.

London, July 22.—Uncertainty regarding Italy's attitude toward the League of Nations, which has been in session here all this week, to postpone decision until the next meeting in September. Such action would be a serious blow to the League of Nations, which has been in session here all this week, to postpone decision until the next meeting in September.

The council is giving close study to Austria's situation in the light of recent events, and is much encouraged by the reports of the willingness of the reparations commission to suspend its claims against Austria for twenty years. It is understood that the council will recommend that Austria be allowed to remain in the League of Nations, which has been in session here all this week, to postpone decision until the next meeting in September.

A statement issued by the information department of the league today said: "We are getting rather tired of hearing that Austria is on the brink of collapse every few months of the last three years and she may have a long time in that state. The danger is not really in financial collapse, but political troubles."

"The danger is that a government may come into power which is not prepared to spend all its time in propounding the rotten theories of Austria, and which may try to cut the knot by claiming to unite with Germany. If that happens Central Europe will be a melting-pot."

"The Allies must settle among themselves some kind of policy which will enable Austria to have a government strong enough to enforce economic stability. Until this is done Austria will drift nearer and nearer to Bolshevik conditions and closer to union with Germany. This combination will menace the equilibrium of Europe."

CALL DRAKE'S THREAT ON PULLING UP TRACKS' JOKE

City Clerk S. Baker and Ald. John Ashton are inclining to take the threat of Ald. Gordon Drake, that unless the London Street Railway Company paves its track allowance on thoroughfares where the city plans to lay asphalt, the tracks will be torn up by the city, as a joke.

"Suppose the city council orders them to remove their tracks from these streets," suggested Mr. Baker. "What can the city do if they refuse to remove them. The company has the city up to the neck. All the council can do is to go ahead and have the city engineer pave the track allowance and charge the company for it."

"If the company will not pay, how are we going to collect?" queried the clerk, with a smile. "I think myself that the company is looking for trouble on this five-ticket-for-a-quarter question, and is holding off the paving for this reason. I understand that Hugh Stevenson put one over on them by inserting a last-minute clause in the London Street Railway bill for increased fares which may throw out their sale of tickets."

"When the company is expecting trouble they will not embark on any expenditure," concluded the city clerk.

"That's a joke," said Ald. John Ashton Saturday morning, regarding Ald. Drake's threat that the city will tear up the company tracks for refusal to pave them.

Drake knows that we need the street cars, the money and the tracks, so why tear the tracks up?" continued Ald. Ashton. "I guess Drake has not yet recovered from the sunstroke he got hauling in so many sunfishes on that fishing trip last week."

ASSURE SMITH SAFE HEARING

cation has assumed a stand similar to that of the city council, that is, that the school act in question will be extremely difficult to enforce in certain instances, more particularly the clause, effective September, 1923, which insists that all children must remain at their studies until 18 years old.

Not long since, the London Trades and Labor Council, by unanimous resolution, upheld the Ontario Legislature for their stand on this question, asking that the law remain on the statute books, despite the request for repeal emanating from city council in London, Chatham, Peterborough and other communities scattered throughout the province.

Emphasizing his contention that labor as a body has struggled for legislation of this nature for a period of 125 years, Delegate Tite deplores the action of certain members of the London City Council, who registered no opposition to the motion for repeal recently passed.

"Ten one of these men," Delegate Tite stated, "while attending labor conventions at Windsor and Hamilton supported resolutions practically identical with the school act in question. He represented a union which indorses clause II. of the platform of principles of the Trades and Labor Council of Canada, which stands for the 'abolition of child labor for children under 16 years of age.'"

SAYS STRIKE RESTS WITH RAILWAY

bers of that body. This comment was made by Mr. Mosher at the opening today of a general conference of the brotherhood of railway employees from the different sections of the Canadian National and Grand Trunk lines.

Members of the committee had reported that there was a general impression abroad that all railway employees were receiving higher wages on the average than in other trades and callings, and Mr. Mosher, in commenting on these reports, declared that the wages received by most of the lower paid employees on Canadian railways could not be described as more than "a mere subsistence allowance." He said many men such as roundhouse and shop laborers are permitted to work only forty hours a week and receive $16 as a weekly wage.

Limit to Endurance.
"There is a limit to the endurance of these men," asserted Mr. Mosher. "They offer a fair day's work and loyalty and expect in return a fair day's pay. If they cannot look to the managements of the railways owned by the people of Canada for a square deal, then it's time the people themselves interested themselves in the problem and made sure that justice was done."

In concluding his statement, Mr. Mosher pointed out that the findings of the United States railroad labor board were being accepted by the management as the basis for the proposed reductions. "This step has been taken without consideration of the marked differences between conditions obtaining in the two countries."

"In so far as those represented in the C. E. of R. E. are concerned we intend to leave no stone unturned to protect their interests, and in so doing we believe we are acting in the public interest as well," Mr. Mosher declared.

found none to compare or even equal the War Memorial Hospital erected here.

Great success was reported by the committee in charge of the campaign outside London. They reported that the women's organizations in rural districts were undertaking the work in a whole-hearted fashion.

An automobile committee was named at the meeting, whose object it will be to visit the rural communities with a view to interesting them further in the Children's Hospital.

Women's organizations in rural districts it was stated by those attending, though not important in money-getting way, were important on account of the interest that they aroused in the hospital.

REPORTS ROUT OF IRREGULARS

Provisional government, but that they were overruled by Republican troops. The National forces are said to be in complete control of Limerick, except for a few insurgent snipers. The city was reported to have suffered little from bombardment, but was greatly damaged by fires that were ignited by the irregulars when they were compelled to evacuate.

King John's Castle is said to have been purposely spared by the Nationalist gunners, the government wishing to preserve historic architecture as much as possible, but this discrimination did not save the ancient building, as the Republicans are alleged to have deliberately set fire to it. It was almost completely destroyed.

Many business buildings were said to have been destroyed by fires, which spread from the Strand and other barracks, ignited by the irregulars. Most of the insurgent soldiers appeared escaped through holes in the walls of adjoining buildings, making house to house tunnels from the central posts to the outskirts of the city.

Reports reaching here through Free State channels charge the Republicans with having looted the Limerick stores of practically everything valuable. The loss is said to have amounted to several thousands of pounds. Eamon De Valera is alleged to have been in the city for some time, but left when the attack began, going to the Republican headquarters at Clonmel.

Word reached here early today that the National forces captured Castlerose, County Roscommon, yesterday, after shelling the local headquarters of the irregulars, who surrendered.

WITH THE BRIDES

RYAN-HANLON.

On Wednesday morning, July 19, St. Martin's Church, South London, was the scene of one of the prettiest of summer weddings, when Miss Mary Hanlon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hanlon, 59 Elmwood avenue, became the bride of Mr. Jas. E. Ryan, of Chicago. Rev. Father Forrester performing the ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was dressed in white Canton crepe, with pearl trimmings and train, lined with pink crepe de chine and bridal veil caught with orange blossoms. Her youthful beauty was enhanced by the beautiful shower bouquet of Sweetheart roses and sweet peas she carried.

She was attended by her sisters, Miss Margaret, dressed in pale green georgette, and Miss Rose in apricot taffeta, with hats to match, each carrying a huge bouquet of Columbia roses. Little Miss Madeline O'Brien of St. Mary's, cousin of the bride, made a charming flower girl, and a looked winsome in a dainty dress of pink crepe de chine and wreath of roses in her hair. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Leonard Ryan of Chicago. The ushers were Mr. Gerald Hanlon of this city and Mr. Bert Ryan of Chicago, brothers of the bride and groom. The wedding march was played by Miss Eileen Sullivan of Hamilton, and during the ceremony and signing of the register solos were rendered by Mr. Allen Ashwell of this city. After the ceremony a reception was held, and a buffet luncheon served at the home of the bride's parents, which was prettily decorated with gladioli and sweet peas.

The bride's mother wore a beautiful gown of black Canton crepe, with an overdress of black lace and touches of blue and silver, a black picture hat, and corsage of Onchella roses.

The groom's mother was gowned in black satin with jet trimmings and small black feather hat. The groom's gift to the bride was a platinum pin with diamond setting, to the bridesmaids a cameo and pearl ring and a mesh bag, to the pianist a silver vanity bag, to the flower girl a gold bracelet, to the groomsmen and soloist pearl stick pins, to the ushers silver cigarette cases.

Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Ryan, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Ryan, the Misses Mary, Eleanor and Alice Ryan, all of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. J. McIntyre, Mr. Jack and Miss Eleanor Leonard of Parkhill; Mr. and Mrs. D. L. O'Brien of St. Mary's; Miss Eileen Sullivan of Hamilton; Mr. G. Flanagan of Wingham; Mrs. Coughlin, Miss Helen Coughlin and Mrs. (Dr.) Tillmann of this city.

The bride and groom left on an early train for Detroit, from where they will take the boat trip up the lakes, the bride wearing a smart white flannel suit, with a pale green satin blouse, white camel's hair hat, and corsage of mauve sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryan will make their future home in Chicago.

SAYS LONDON PARKS SHED SPLENDOR

shrubs and flower boxes used to beautify the border.

Veritable Fairland.
The old peony bed at the north-west entrance to this park is a veritable fairland of flowers, there being a most beautiful selection of summer plants now on display. These range from the blue Japanese 'Blue Wonder' which can be seen on the common hollyhock of all hues.

The Prince of Wales variety of gladioli can be discerned in the garden rubbing petals with the California Poppy, of yellow hue, while the early cosmos, of varied coloring, can be seen alongside the stately lilythrum.

An interesting feature of this garden is the Rudbeckia, presenting a purple flower, whose average life and beauty is two months. Canterbury Bells, Iceland Poppies, Maidenhair plants, Shirley Poppies, Flax and Petunias are also in full bloom here. The yellow flower of the Centaurea completes the color scheme of this agreeable garden.

Proved Decided Success.
Near the Kent street entrance to Victoria Park there is an experimental garden of Ulster roses of the same plant family as the Periwinkle, and if its beauty is to be taken as a criterion the experiment has proven a decided success. Six flower beds have been made around the South African war monument, and these are featured by carpet plants, canna, red poppies and ostrich plumes.

South of these gardens, and near the flag pole in Victoria Park, there is a wonderful carpet bed of 30,000 foliage plants, which are trimmed weekly by expert gardeners. This is a bed of unique design and is a tribute to those responsible for its construction. Santolina plants are seen in this bed, which is completed by eight different varieties of alternanthera.

The garden surrounding the pool in the park, where hundreds of goldfish of varied sizes sport themselves in the water, is a garden of foliage producing plants. Included in the display are begonias and alternanthera, while red, pink, white and blue water lilies float lazily in the pond.

Springbank view with Victoria Park for horticultural honors, the driveway entrance to this popular resort being flanked by beautiful gardens. Canna galore may be seen in these beds along with snap-dragons and other rare varieties of plants.

Construct New Road.
Shrubs planted near the pump-house also attract attention, the burning bush, and wonderful hedge of climbing roses being the most conspicuous. A new road prolonging the Fernbank drive has been constructed south of the new deer park, and has been graded for traffic. In the near future it will be beautified by gardens.

Directly west of the zoo may be seen one of the best examples of horticulture in Western Ontario, in the form of the rock gardens, which were initiated by Superintendent Graham last year.

Climbing above the large rocks may be seen yellow anemones, pet marigolds, nasturtiums, pansies, achillea and hollyhocks of all shades, reared ten feet in the air. Adding to the picturesqueness of the gardens the columbines, zinnias, tobacco plants with yellow flowers, and poppies are the object of much favorable comment.

Shrine of Flower Lovers.
This garden is the shrine of flower lovers daily, who note with admiration the beautiful delphinium or larkspur, calliopsis or marrow plant, many-colored cannas and Indian pinks.

A few feet west of this rock garden is a bed of Yuccas or Adam's Needle, adding a blanket of white to the beautiful flower trichomanes. North of the pavilion visitors encounter a triangular bed of roses, while west of that building a huge bed of cannas is basking in the sunlight ready to burst into bloom.

At Queen's Park there are numerous flower beds, which serve to detract from the rather desolate appearance of this recreation center. One new flower bed has been constructed at this park this year, and Superintendent Graham is planning to construct others.

At Trafalgar Park there is a beautiful flower bed, while Wyatt Park boasts of two gardens and numerous shrubs, all of which are in splendid condition. Bulbs will be placed in all these gardens next fall in preparation for 1922.

The only detracting influence in connection with these beautiful parks is the fact that lack of funds has curtailed the plans of those responsible, and it is the hope of all concerned that a more liberal appropriation will be granted them for 1922.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

VEGETABLES SELL WELL ON MARKET

Potato Prices Take Further
Drop On Local Square.

Vegetables were the outstanding wares on the local market on Saturday morning. A drop in prices was noticed in almost all lines, and the demand was excellent. There is an exceptionally good crop of vegetables this year, and there was an abundance of every kind.

Potatoes were lower this morning, and were rather slow at $1.25 to $1.50 per bushel. Beans were very plentiful, and sold well at 50c for 11-quart baskets. Cabbages dropped to 40c to 50c per dozen. Carrots and beets were firm at 40c per dozen, but lettuce was in good demand at 50c, a reduction of 5c from Thursday's price. A few gardeners offered beets in 11-quart baskets at 50c to 75c.

Tomatoes sold fairly well at $1.50 for 8-quart baskets and $2.25 for 11 quarts. Fruits were plentiful, and raspberries brought the top price of 24c to 27c per box. Buyers seemed reluctant, however, to pay this price and were inclined to wait until the first part of next week.

The cherry crop is just about over, the growers stating that the fruit remained firm today at $1.12 to $1.15 for 11 quarts. No black cherries were offered.

A small quantity of apples were offered at 60c a peck. Dairy products were firm. New-laid eggs sold at 30c to 32c per dozen, and dairy butter at 30c to 32c per lb. Hay was still slow at $10 to $12.50 per ton for good old oats were quickly at $1.50.

Spring chickens registered a small drop, and sold at 20c to 25c per lb. alive, and 20c to 25c dressed.

POPULAR OFFICER DIES AT LONDON

Lieut.-Col. W. P. Malone of Owen Sound Made Brilliant War Record.

After a lengthy illness, Lieut.-Col. W. P. Malone of Owen Sound died in London early Saturday morning.

Throughout Western Ontario Col. Malone was well-known. He was the first officer from Owen Sound to leave for France. His illness from which he had suffered three years, was the result of his long service in France, which shattered his nerves.

After he had been home about a year, he was appointed second in command of Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry at London, but became seriously ill when he left this city to join the regiment.

By his bravery and ability in the field, he won promotion from a Junior Lieutenant to a Lieutenant-colonel in a comparatively short time. Colonel Malone enlisted with the First Division when war was declared, and served with distinction in the famous 15th Highland Battalion.

On June 16, 1915, he was erroneously reported killed during the re-taking of the trenches in front of Messines, and on July 29 of the same year was wounded. He was promoted twice in the field, and in January, 1917, was mentioned in dispatches. He was at that time second in command of the 15th Battalion.

Later, Col. Malone returned to England and assumed command of the 20th Battalion, being given the rank of Lieutenant-colonel. It was generally admitted that this battalion was one of the best trained and disciplined units in the Canadian Corps. When Col. Malone returned to Canada broken in health, he resumed his residence at Owen Sound.

His wife was at his bedside when death occurred.

CAPTURE FUGITIVE.
Ottawa, July 22.—Angus Simard, an Indian, who escaped from the Hull jail in 1911 while serving a six months' sentence, was recaptured in Aylmer last night by Police Chief Perrier. He was escorted to Hull jail, where he will complete his term. A charge of breaking jail may also be laid against him.

Thrift
The judicious practice of thrift is as much an evidence of character as it is the worth-while assurance of comfort and contentment in the years that are to come.

The regular saving of a stipulated sum of money is not only within your power—but a habit every thoughtful person should cultivate.

An Endowment Policy offers a splendid opportunity for regular saving. There is no better way to create an estate than through systematic life insurance deposits. Life insurance is always worth par and it is the first asset realized on in the event of death. Save regularly—and in the meantime enjoy the peace of mind and comfort that such thrift brings.

Get in touch with us for any information you may require in regard to your insurance investment.

NATIONAL LINES REFUSE

TO STOP PROPOSED CUTS

OTTAWA, July 21.—After several days of negotiations with E. C. Cullity and the committee representing the management of the Canadian National Railways at Toronto, the general grievance committee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Employees for Canadian National lines returned to Ottawa today and reported that the National Railway management had refused to reconsider the wage reductions planned to go into effect on July 16. It is probable that a conciliation board will be applied for immediately.

Obituaries

FRANK QUINNEY.

The funeral of Frank Quinney, 60 years old, who died at Lobo Village, will be held at Ivan Cemetery Saturday afternoon. Services will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. Mr. Percy of St. Johns.

The late Mr. Quinney had been ill since last autumn. For 25 years he operated a farm on the 12th concession, Lobo Township. When he retired in the autumn he moved to Lobo Village.

Besides his wife, Martha, he is survived by four sons, Norman, Sherman and George, all of Lobo Township, and Percy of Edmonton, and one daughter, Mrs. William McCullough, London.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

MONTREAL, July 21.—Judge Monet today committed Paul Theoret to stand trial July 27 on a charge of making counterfeit American bank notes to the value of many thousands of dollars in a house in a solitary spot on Ste. Therese Island east of this city in the St. Lawrence River.

Purity—Quality—Deliciousness!

are the reasons for the ever-growing popularity of Parnell's Butter-Cream Bread.

A few short weeks ago we placed Butter-Cream Bread on the market. It was unknown to the housewives then, but we knew that it would prove the bread sensation of the country and that it would meet with instant favor.

BUTTER-CREAM

has justified our faith in the discrimination of the housewives of Western Ontario. We felt that if we produced a loaf of bread that was nourishing, tasty and better they would appreciate. We did and they did, and now every housewife can rest assured that in Parnell's Butter-Cream Bread they have a bread that they and their children can eat and enjoy to their hearts' content, with the full knowledge that it is genuinely good, wholesome and healthful.
