NEW BUSINESS BLOCK

All of the exterior work on the new Sheldon Block has been completed, and the workmen are now engaged in putting in the metallic ceilings, etc. The big block on Fifth street has been divided into two departments by a fire wall. The northern portion—upper and lower storeys—has been leased by the Bell Telephone Company, who will install their new system and machinery therein. The lower floor will be occupied by the business offices and machinery, while the upper portion will be fitted out for the operators. The floors of this portion of the block are supported by great heavy steel beams.

The lower storey of the portion on the southern side of the fire wall will be occupied by Fred. Sheldon's liquor agency. The bonding rooms will be to the rear with the offices to the fore. W. D. Sheldon, who showed a Planet reporter over the building this morning, said that it is his intention to fit up the upper storey of this hall for residential suites. The building, when finished, will be one of the finest and most elaborate in Chatham, and greatly improves the appearance of Fifth street.

A NEAT SWINDLE TRIED ON A. DELOGE, GROCER

Chatham Man Requested to Remit $5 For $800 Worth of Railway Stock, But he Decides to Play a Foxy Game Himself

The Planet, on Wednesday, called the attention of its readers to a peculiar swindle which is at present being attempted in Guelph, Ingersoll, Aurora, and other Canadian towns and cities. As was explained at the time, it consists of a letter ostensibly from Leonard B. Drummond, Attorney-at-Law, 808 Sixth Avenue, New York City, who informs his victims that he has a certain amount of stock which is supposed to have been left to them by some near relative who has recently died, leaving a vast fortune. They can get the stock if they will remit $5 to defray the expenses of the deceased Mr. Drummond. In other words, they will donate $5 free into the pocket of the foxy Drummond, if they are foolish enough to be taken in. In some of the cities where these letters have been received, it is thought that they may have sent the five dollars. To these our sincere sympathy is extended.

At the bottom of the article in Wednesday's Planet, the query was made, "Have any Chatham people received such letters?" The result shows that Chatham is living up famously to its reputation of having everything that any other city in Canada has. Yes, letters—at least one letter—has been received by a Chathamite.

Mr. Deloge, a grocer in North Chatham, received one of these missives, but he was not as easy as the people in other cities evidently have been. He didn't remit the five, but sent back a letter saying that he would do so if the shares arrived, and he advised Mr. Drummond to send them on C. O. D. and then he would be pleased to shell out if the stock was good. He has not yet received a reply, and his friends doubt if he ever will. At any rate he did the right thing, as he can't lose, and until he saw The Planet item about the "swindle," he had a faint suspicion that he might win. The letter he received reads as follows: Sept. 28th, 1907.

Mr. A. Deloge,
Dear Sir,—In accordance with the will of the late Mr. J. Deloge, I beg to announce that I have in my care five shares of Canadian Pacific R. R. stocks, value $800.00.

These shares were left to you by the late Mr. J. Deloge, of this city, at his decease.

The aforementioned shares are to be forwarded to you on receipt of my fee of $5.00 as counsel on this matter. Hoping that I may be of assistance to you at some future time, I am, Yours respectfully,
L. B. DRUMMOND.

One of the peculiar features of the letter Mr. Deloge received, and a circumstance which first started his suspicions, is that although the letter is dated at New York and written on legal paper with Mr. Drummond's name and address neatly printed at the top, there is no United States post mark on it. The letter was posted from some city in Canada. The letter was addressed to "Mr. A. Deloge, Grocer, Chatham, Ont."

On Wednesday, an item appeared in The Planet, in which reference was made to the trouble which the city may experience this winter in providing for the many poor English families who have been brought here by Dominion Government immigration agents. In many cases, the people are very destitute and are unable to secure work. They find it difficult to conform themselves to the modes and customs of this country, and are therefore at a disadvantage in competition with the wide-awake Canadians. In some cases sickness prevails, and sickness without money is a hardship too well known to make comment necessary. It was pointed out in the article that the city should prepare to provide for many of these families, as a little provision at the present time might save considerable trouble and suffering later on.

In the course of the article reference was made to a certain family where a little child was ill, and not expected to live, and the cause was said to be attributable to want and neglect. The information in connection with this case was secured from what should be reliable source, and the news was given to The Planet for what it was worth.

Yesterday, however, a woman of very respectable appearance called at The Planet office with a neighbor, and claimed to be the mother of the child referred to in the said article. She was very reasonable in her requests and quite fair and unimpressed in presenting her complaint. She claimed that the child was not neglected, and that the family was not in such want as was pictured in the article. If the woman who called at this office is the mother of the child to whom it was the intention to refer, it is unfortunate that the item appeared as it did.

According to this woman's story, the child was taken ill on the ship on the way to Canada from England. The parents did not feel any more than the ordinary amount of alarm as the illness did not seem to be of a serious nature. After settling down in Chatham, the child did not recover but seemed if anything to become gradually worse. The father secured a position and is at present earning a fair salary, and is providing for his family. Suddenly, without any particular warning, the child became much worse, and then steps were taken to secure the services of a physician. The child has since been removed to the hospital, where it is now seriously ill, and, it is thought, will not recover.

The reason that the case was not attended to sooner than it was is not given. The mother declines to give the reason publicly, on account of the fact that it would implicate others, and might be mis-understood. The woman was especially anxious that the fact should be made known that she has ever since she came to Chatham kept her house clean and sanitary. Every possible modest comfort has been provided for her family, and judging from the appearance of the mother, and her manner of speaking, this is no doubt entirely true. These facts are made public, as it is not the desire of this Great Home Journal to even unconsciously do anyone an injury.

The fact remains, however, that there are many English families in Chatham to-day who are not in the most healthy or prosperous condition. This is indeed regrettable, and it is hard to say whether the fault lies in the people themselves or in the change of surroundings in which they find themselves. Any citizen in a walk down the main street can, without using a magnifying glass, find many men, whom it is not hard to distinguish as immigrants, standing idle around hotels and street corners. Many of these men no doubt have wives and families waiting for their assistance, and when the winter comes, there will be serious results unless there is an entire change of program.

PASSED AWAY

Thomas Jamieson, an aged resident of Chatham, passed away at the Public General Hospital here yesterday. The deceased was sixty years of age, and was brought to the local hospital by members of the Tilbury council. He had been suffering from ill-health for some years past.

The funeral will take place this afternoon from Burrows' undertaking parlors, to Maple Leaf cemetery.

A man's age commands veneration, and a woman's commands tact.

It is easy to fall into an ill temper and quite as easy to do a vast amount of injury to yourself as well as to others thereby.

LICENSE CANCELLED

And Hotel-keeper O'Mara of Wallaceburg Pays $200 Fine

Shop-keeper Murphy Was Fined $20 and Costs Yesterday

Two interesting liquor cases, in which County Crown Attorney H. D. Smith, of this city, prosecuted, were tried in Wallaceburg yesterday before Magistrate McDougall. The sentence in one of these cases breaks the Kent County record for liquor cases, and was the heaviest penalty ever imposed in this constituency.

The first case was that of Hotel-keeper O'Mara, who was convicted some time ago on a charge of selling liquor during prohibited hours. Sentence was reserved till yesterday, when the Magistrate imposed a fine of $200 and the costs $213.25 in all, and cancelled O'Mara's license. It was O'Mara's third offence of this kind, and the case was the third conviction of this kind in Kent County in the past five years. It also marks the first occasion in Kent County when a license has been cancelled on a conviction of this kind.

The defendant states that he will appeal to the General Sessions, but there is a rumor to the effect that it is his intention to sell out.

Shop-keeper C. Murphy was tried and found guilty of selling a lesser quantity of liquor than the law allows a liquor dealer to retail. He was fined $20 and the costs—$27.45 in all.

GOT THE CHILDREN

W. A. Gunton has Strenuous Time But Comes Out a Victor

He Had Some Difficulty in Getting Charge of His Latest Wards

Rev. W. A. Gunton, Executive Officer of the Children's Aid Society, is having rather a strenuous time of it lately. It appears that the officer is meeting the usual amount of trouble and difficulty which comes to any man who tries to do something which others might hesitate to undertake. His whole heart is in his work, however, and he has determined that if he is right, there is no end to his activity and perseverance.

As was announced in The Planet yesterday, the Society, through the Executive Officer, secured the guardianship of two children belonging to Mrs. Bowers, of this city. It was claimed that the home surroundings were not of the most desirable, and that the children were not being given a proper bringing-up. The judge granted them order, and it was then up to Mr. Gunton to get charge of the children and transfer them to Institution Homes.

It was the intention to take them to London; so Mr. Gunton secured the services of a Chatham woman who consented to take them to London, and then set out in a cab, accompanied by Police Officer Groves, to get the children.

When the two men were passing Gray's factory, Mr. Gunton spied one of the children playing on the street. He got out of the cab and hailed it. The child had evidently been warned what to do, and it didn't forget. As soon as it saw Mr. Gunton, it dropped its playthings and literally flew down the pavement. Mr. Gunton followed, and the last Mr. Groves saw of the race was the child rounding the corner with the Executive Officer a very close second. Mr. Groves says that with a little practice, Mr. Gunton would be able to make J. W. White tremble for the championship title.

After getting the child—a little girl—in the cab, the party proceeded to the Bowers house for the other one—a little boy. At this point they met Mrs. Bowers, who took very strong objections to the action of the officers, and attracted the crowd with her protests. She became unreasonable and it was necessary to drive off with the cab, leaving Tom Groves with the task of trying to pacify the woman on the street. He succeeded in some way, and the other child was secured, and when they got to the station, it was found that the woman would not go. Mr. Gunton himself then undertook the job, and when last heard from he was on his way to London with the two children in charge.

A bad man's credit is as shifty as himself.

Talents never wear out.

THE BURSTING OF A BUBBLE.

A very injudicious and treacherously misleading article appeared in Wednesday evening's edition of our esteemed local contemporary, in reference to the revision of the Blenheim and Harwich voters' lists. In the article referred to, the local Liberal organ attempts to make cheap and degrading political capital for an already weak and almost helpless cause, by saying that a Government employee assisted Messrs. Clements and Arnold in adding voters' names to the list. It then goes on to surround this statement with a lot of disconnected insinuations, evidently trying to tack on improper motives, etc. to the actions of the Government official upon whom they have seen fit to bestow a Liberal amount of cowardly abuse.

The local Liberal organ would evidently try to make out that an official who is earning his living from the Government, is becoming actively engaged in politics, when such is not the case. The official referred to is a Fishery Overseer. The duties of this office are very light, and require only a few moments of his time, and the remuneration is correspondingly small, as he is paid for the occasional amount of time necessary to be spent in the performance of his duties.

A short history of how he came to be appointed might, at this point, be interesting to the Banner, for they are either ignorant of it or they purposely forget it, in the hope that others will do the same; otherwise, they would never have raised the present question at all.

In 1896, when the Liberals came into power at Ottawa, the Dominion Government had control of the fisheries. The two inspectors at the time were Mr. Theo. Peltier, of Dover, and the late Mr. Linley, of Cedar Springs. When the Liberal Government assumed control, these two gentlemen were unceremoniously dismissed with no excuses given for it, and not even the suggestion of as much as an investigation. Two Liberals were appointed in their places, Messrs. J. K. Laird, of Harwich, and Timothy McQueen. Later on the control of the fisheries was transferred to the Provincial House, and as long as Ross remained in power in the Legislature, these two appointments held good. When the Whitney Government came into power they recognized that an injustice had been done in reference to these appointments, so they reinstated Mr. Peltier and also appointed the man whom the Banner is at present trying to criticize.

It is not hard, however, for the casual observer to detect where the rub is affecting the local Liberal workers and their organ. In the revision of the lists, the Conservatives made great gains over their Liberal opponents, who are naturally disappointed and depressed. They would display a far better spirit, however, if they would take their defeat with more show of gameness, and refrain from exhibiting their dissatisfaction by attacking a man who is respected and honored by all who know him.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

The meeting at the offices of McCoig & Harrington Wednesday night to reorganize the football league for the Clements cup, was a very enthusiastic one. The officers for this year are the same as last year. There are only three teams in the league this year, Kent Bridge having dropped out on account of some of their players leaving town. Chatham, Darrell and Mitchell's Bay are the teams of this season's league. The following is the schedule of the games to be played:

Oct. 16—Darrell at Chatham.
Oct. 19—Mitchell's Bay at Darrell.
Oct. 23—Chatham at Mitchell's Bay.
Oct. 26—Chatham at Darrell.
Nov. 2—Darrell at Mitchell's Bay.
Nov. 6—Mitchell's Bay at Chatham.

Give your best thoughts to the world, and whether the world be pleased or displeased it will spare time to inform you.

DISTRICT

WALLACEBURG

Wallaceburg, Oct. 11.—The sugar factory has been closed down since Monday night waiting for the arrival of boats, which are beginning to come in quite rapidly, and it is expected that beet slicing will commence on Tuesday or Wednesday.

Messrs. Seord and Rischborough, of Kent Bridge, have accepted positions in the office of the sugar company.

The annual harvest home tea, given by the Ladies of St. James Church last evening, was a great success. The tables were laden with delicacies and everyone was served with the greatest care. The ladies realized over $70.

THAMESVILLE

Thamesville, Oct. 11.—The Moravian Fair did not draw as large a crowd as other years, but the exhibits were certainly above the average.

Leon Poland, the genial carrier of His Majesty's mail between Thamesville and Morpeth, conducted a very enjoyable party to the Moravian Fair on Thursday.

Carliss Hopper and bride, of Omaha, Neb., who have been visiting here, returned home last week.

The Thamesville Herald is publishing a list of all the old boys and girls that attended the reunion. The front page of the Herald is also ornamented with handsome photographs of the executive committee.

Miss Queen Podolski, who has been spending a few weeks at home, returned to Detroit this week.

The Rev. Fulton Irwin has a letter in the Herald this week commending the conduct of all the visitors and the visitors of the reunion. And the editor himself says, "Those who were predicting a barren year were egregiously disappointed. Not an old boy was guilty of anything discredit-able, and the crowd was the best natured and most orderly that ever assembled in Thamesville."

W. S. Everett has rented the Tye Block, formerly used as a laundry, and is filling it with a fine assortment of ranges, heaters, etc.

Large quantities of mushrooms are being gathered in this vicinity.

Mrs. Johnston, of London, was in town yesterday on her way to visit her niece in Dresden, who is very ill.

THE POLL TAX

"This is a miserable job, and I will be glad when it is over," said Officer Jim Dodson, who is doing the "poll-tax rounds" this year. "But it has to be done," he added, "and the sooner it's over the better."

Officer Dodson says that over two hundred notices have been issued, and that there has been more money collected this year so far than there was last year within the same length of time. It is evident that everyone will have to pay this obnoxious tax, and that it will continue to be collected each year, until the Chatham City Council follow the lead of other up-to-date places where they have done away with the "poll-tax."

Votes Not Sufficient.

Parry Sound, Oct. 9.—A vote was taken here on Monday on a bylaw to loan the Shortells, Limited, say $30,000, to establish a wood alcohol and charcoal plant.

The total polled was 90 short of the necessary two-thirds on the list, and the bylaw was therefore defeated. Only 28 were recorded against, while 241 voted for the bylaw. It is peculiar that if 31 more voted against the

Minard's Liniment cures Dandruff

THIS IS WORTH SAYING

Here is a simple home-made mixture as given by an eminent authority on Kidney diseases, who makes the statement that it will relieve almost any case of Kidney trouble if taken before the stage of Bright's disease. He states that such symptoms as lame back, pain in the side, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night; painful and discolored urination, are readily overcome.

Here is the recipe; try it: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

A well-known local druggist is authority that these ingredients are all harmless and easily mixed at home by shaking well in a bottle. This mixture has a peculiar healing and soothing effect upon the entire Kidney and Urinary structure, and often overcomes the worst forms of Rheumatism in just a little while. This mixture is said to remove all blood disorders and cure the Rheumatism by forcing the Kidneys to filter and strain from the blood and system all uric acid and foul, decomposed waste matter, which cause these afflictions. Try it if you aren't well. Save the prescription.

Poison Acid on Wife.

New York, Oct. 9.—Benjamin Greenberg, a wealthy Brooklyn jeweler, it is alleged by the police there, threw a half pint of nitric acid, down the back of his wife in Brooklyn, and then suffered a mobbing at the hands of an indignant crowd of one hundred persons.

Greenberg has been separated from his wife, Etta, for three years.

Lemieux's Trip to Japan.

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—The Cabinet met yesterday afternoon to discuss the Japanese immigration situation and to give instructions to Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, the Canadian emissary to Japan. No definite proposals, however, were arrived at.

"The arrangements are yet incomplete," one of the Ministers said yesterday evening.

Cubans Threaten Strikes.

Havana, Oct. 9.—The Cuban labor organizations yesterday decided to order a general strike in the island if the railways employ the strike-breakers who landed here Monday.

A Sample of What V.S.O. does.

Mr. Merrifield, 2 was so severely stricken with Joint Rheumatism that I was confined to bed for a long time with swollen and stiff joints; it even affected my stomach. I gave up all hope of ever being cured. The doctor finally told me he could "ease my pain but could not cure me." My sister heard of your Veteran's Sure Cure and sent for a bottle. I took half of a 1 bottle. This enabled me to walk about as usual. This was about six years ago, and I have had no return of Rheumatism. Mrs. E. Privat, Williamsford, Ont., Sept. 11th, 1907.

A Life Sentence.

Said Mr. Joacker, who was reading the paper, "Another poor wretch has been given a life sentence at hard labor."

Said Mrs. Joacker, who was embroidered blue robes: "Probably he deserves it. What he is guilty of?"

"Fraud and no visible means of support. He obtained clothes and a fine turnout with no money and nothing collectible. He seems to be larger and stronger than most of that class, yet it is plain that he has never done a tap of work, though he has managed to live well so far. But the poor fellow takes his sentence hard and cries piteously, protesting his innocence."

"The wretch! He must have dealt with perfect tools!"

"No; his victim is our own friend, Jack Smith."

"That clever lawyer! Do read to me all about it!"

"Born to Mrs. and Mrs. John Smith, a twelve pound boy."—Bohemian.

YOU MAY BE SICK TO-NIGHT.

Without a moment's warning pain springs upon us. At the outset it is instantly cured by Nerviline. Surprising what fifteen drops of this marvelous medicine will do. It's external action is no less certain than its wonderful effect when taken internally. Of course Nerviline is powerful or it couldn't be so penetrating. But not irritating or caustic. There are other pain remedies, but when you use Nerviline you see the difference. That difference is this—others relieve, but Nerviline does cure sprains, strains, swellings, earache, toothache, neuralgia, lumbago; in fact, all muscular pains. Large bottles 50c. at all dealers.

How often people wish they knew

HARMLESS SNAKES.

They Are Valuable as Aids to the Agriculturist.

It is not generally known that the preservation of harmless snakes is as important as the destruction of the harmful ones in farming and in market gardening.

The national records contain histories of the total or partial extirpation of many animals which are useful
or beautiful or both.

Yet there are few animals more useful in one way than snakes. If humanity alone prevented the killing of harmless snakes, how can we justify it
when they are proved to be useful to us? Consider the economic relation of a snake to an ear of corn or a row
of potatoes. Snakes live almost entirely upon creatures which are destructive to growing things—that is,
they eat literally millions of insects,
small mammals and worms. Especially are potato bugs, worms, flies, beetles, maggots, ants, grubs, grasshoppers,
locusts and the larvae of these the
food of most of our snakes.

Of considerably over eighty different kinds of snakes found throughout the United States and exclusive of the rattlesnakes and moccasins there are
but two which can be termed dangerous. We exclude the rattlesnakes and
the moccasins because all are large,
easily recognized forms, which cannot be confused with harmless kinds. Living in water, the moccasins are not of ten troublesome to farming regions and
are confined to the south from North Carolina around the Gulf coast and the Florida peninsula and along the southern Mississippi, living in swamps. The two really poisonous snakes which might be mistaken for harmless ones are the copperhead and
the coral snake.

Of the two the copperhead only needs our attention. This truly poisonous snake is slender and has few
features to distinguish it from harmless milk snakes. It is found usually in rocky hills or stone piles, old cellars
being a favorite spot. But it should not be greatly feared, for unless attacked or stepped on it will not bite,
and it is seldom found where there is cultivation of the ground in progress.

The Ruling Passion.
A celebrated musical critic was married in church some years ago, and
after the ceremony, as the wedding
procession marched down the aisle, the organist played the wedding march from "Lohengrin." When near the door, the bridegroom stopped in the march and addressed the wondering assembly thus:

"I know I am committing a breach
of etiquette as well as propriety in doing this, but I am not to blame. It is my mental organization which has become ineffably sensitive by reason of the critical nature of my duties."

Then he drew from the pocket of his dress coat a well thumbed copy of the score of "Lohengrin." Opening it at the march, he went over to the organist
and said:

"What offended my ear was the fact
that in the seventeenth bar of the de-
cimo passage you flatted my badly,
and in the andante movement you shurred the appoggiatura. Now," putting his finger upon the passage, "let us try that again."

Once more the organ pealed forth,
and this time the player, conscious
that the great critic was listening to
him, accomplished his duty with credit
to himself and to the great satisfaction of the critic—London Standard.

The Sick Chinaman.
Perhaps nowhere in the world is family affection stronger than among
the Chinese, yet their method of dealing with the sick is pitiable to the more enlightened world. When a favorite son falls ill his life depends largely upon a package of joss sticks.

The grieving father seeks a joss house,
procures a handful of these sticks, and taking them home, lights them. He shakes them gently. Soon one falls.
Is it lighted? Eagerly the father watches it. Will it burn to the end or go out? If it is entirely consumed
the son will survive; if it goes out he will die. It goes out!

The Chinaman reasons thus: His son
was chased by a devil and when the devil touched him he became ill. The devil, demonstrated by means of the joss sticks that he is a must die. Had the joss sticks burned to the end it would have signified the future recovery of the patient. Joss men would have been called in, a most fearful
dilemma would have followed, and the devil and his lower limbs would have been driven away.

The man who feels that the world
owes him a living generally lets
some other fellow to go and collect
it.

BLENHEIM

Blenheim, Oct. 10.—A very interesting and happy event took place
yesterday, October 9, at the residence of Mayor C. D. Rowe, Harwich,
when two of his daughters, the Misses Carrie and Margaret, were united in marriage to two brothers,
the Messrs. John and Robert Forsyth, of Eberts (Miss Carrie being married to Robert and Miss Margaret to John). The wedding was quite private, there being present
only the immediate families of the contracting parties. The brides, who were dressed alike, looked charming.
After the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Geo. McQuillan,
the late rector of Trinity church,
Blenheim, all present adjourned to
the dining room, where a sumptuous repast was partaken of. Later in the evening the double wedding party
left for their new homes at Eberts
amid the congratulations and good wishes of their friends and relatives.

The Blenheim band is supplying the music at the Fair in Blenheim
to-day.

Miss Lida Ridley, of Ridgetown,
is visiting friends in Blenheim at present.

Mr. Hugh Spakman, of Exeter, is
the guest of his brother, Mr. Ed.
Spakman, Blenheim.

Miss L. Robinson, of Ottawa, is
the guest of her uncle and aunt,
Major and Mrs. E. D. Rowe, Harwich.

A sudden though short electrical storm passed over Blenheim last night. The lightning was extremely sharp while it lasted.

A full house is expected at the Opera House to-night to witness the comedy drama, "The Turn of the Tide," which is to be presented by the Blenheim Dramatic Club.

Dr. W. B. Gerow, of Cleveland,
formerly a well known and respected resident of Blenheim, was married recently to Miss Jennie Maude Atwater, of Cleveland. His many friends in Blenheim join in wishing him well.

The evangelistic campaign to be held in the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches in Blenheim
during the present month by the Rev. Walter Russell, B. A., of North Dakota, will commence next Sunday,
October 13.

Wm. Murray, who is in the employ of Mr. W. D. Samson, while putting up, roughing yesterday on
a building in town, had the misfortune to fall, and his hip is badly injured. Medical aid was secured as soon as possible, but he will be laid up for some time to come. The ladder on which he was standing slipped,
thereby causing the accident.

EAST BRANCH.

The farmers are rather disappointed in their potato crop. The yield is far below expectations.

Seeding is over with and the farmers are engaged corn cutting and apple picking.

D. Shaw will have a sale on Thursday.

Mr. Waters, of Tupperville, has rented the Shaw homestead and will move in this month.

The rain on Friday prevented a number from taking in Wallaceburg Fair.

A great many from here attended
the Epworth League convention in Wallaceburg last week.

Rev. Dr. Stanley Shaw's many friends on the Branch are pleased to learn of his success, and hope
his career in the future may be crowned with success.

Some from here attended the chicken social at Calvin recently and report a good time.

Friends from Hamilton enjoyed a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. J.
N. McCoy recently.

John Richardson and wife took in Wilkesport Fair.

The McCree brothers purchased
a new McCormick corn binder from
J. Skinner, Wallaceburg.

Theodore Seward attended Wilkes-
port Fair.

Mr. Smith, of Toronto, is packing
a large amount of apples through
this part for shipment to the West.

Those who have sugar beets are
commencing to harvest their crop.

We are pleased to note from an item in The Chatham Planet that Kent County has a better yield of harvest and fruit this season than any other county in Ontario.

John McIntyre, of Sombra, has engaged with Murray McCree for the fall months.

A large number from here attended the funeral of the late George Frye in Wallaceburg on Wednesday.
George was one of our old East
Branch boys, having spent his school
and boyhood days in our midst.

Miss Hattie Lynch, of Dresden, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Fred.
Teeter, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Irvin, of Chatham Township, were guests of Mr.
and Mrs. Hugh Allen on Friday evening.

Rev. Mr. Armstrong, of Charing
Cross, called on friends here while attending the E. L. convention in Wallaceburg last week.

Little Vera Cofel, daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Harry Cofel, had the misfortune to have her nose broken
while at play during noon hour in the absence of the teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Kellet were the guests of her sister, Miss Hattie Mc-Creary, on Sunday.

The promises made under the influence of enthusiasm are forgotten
almost without an effort to fulfill them.

Some people never seem to enjoy themselves unless they are keeping
other people from doing the same thing.

A SHORT HISTORY

A Serious Case of Chronic Catarrh
Gradually Overcome By Peruna.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

MR. ARTHUR TREMBLAY, 8 St.
James street, Mont Pleasant, Que.,
Can., writes:

"About three years ago, catarrh in
its most serious form assailed me.

"I consulted a specialist who prescribed medicines as constitutional
treatment and a liquid to use locally.

"This gave me relief for a time, but soon afterwards the disease returned.

"I was then suffering very much, my appetite had left me and I was growing weaker.

"I had frequently read pamphlets regarding the cures made by Peruna,
and although somewhat dubious as to its doing me any good, I decided to try
a few bottles.

"I had not taken Peruna for more than
two weeks before a marked improvement was perceptible.

"As I continued taking the remedy,
the disease gradually disappeared and in a few months I was entirely rid of the nauseous malady."

—From Port Arthur.

Port Arthur, Oct. 10.—The first shipment of pig iron to the east from Port Arthur was made yesterday. The steamer Edmonston was chartered and
she went to the Atikokan Iron Co.'s
dock to load the cargo of pig iron for Toronto.

J. J. O'Connor, who chartered the boat, points out that this is the beginning of a new business in Canada.
In fact, it is so new that there is not an eastern tariff for the carrying of
pig iron fixed by any steamboat
company.

Mr. O'Connor stated that from this
on there would be an almost continuous trade between Toronto and other manufacturing points in the east and the local furnace.

Arm Chopped Off.

Smith's Falls, Oct. 10.—O. H.
Charles Smith, a Kelley Township
farmer, met with a terrible accident yesterday afternoon while operating a corn-cutter on a farm a couple of miles from town. He was feeding the cutter and his left arm was drawn into
it, and chopped off just below the elbow. The hand and part of the arm
dropped into the machine.

Words of Praise

For the several ingredients of which Dr.
Pierce's medicines are composed, as given
by leaders in all the several schools of medicine, should have far more weight
than any amount of non-professional testimony. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
has this badge of honor on every bottle-wrapper, in a full list of all its ingredients printed in plain English.

If you are an invalid woman and suffer
from frequent headache, backache, gnaw-
ing distress in stomach, periodical pains
disagreeable, catarrhs, pelvic drain,
dragging down distress in lower abdomen
or pelvic, perhaps dark spots or specks
dancing before the eyes, faint spells and kindred symptoms caused by female weakness, or derangement of the feminine organs, you can do no better than take
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The hospital, surgeon's knife and operating table may be avoided by the timely use of "Favorite Prescription" in such cases. Thereby the obnoxious examination and treatment of the family
physician can be avoided and a thorough
course of successful treatment carried out in the privacy of the home. "Favorite Prescription" is composed of the very best native medicinal roots known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, contains no alcohol and no
harmful or habit-forming drugs.

Do not expect too much from "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; it will not dissolve or cure tumors.
No medicine will. It will do as much to establish vigorous health in most weaknesses and ailments peculiarly incident to women as any medicine can. It must be given a fair chance by perseverance in its
use for a reasonable length of time.

You can't afford to accept a secret program as a substitute for this remedy of known composition.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr.
Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V.
Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best
laxative and regulator of the bowels.
They invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative; two or three a cathartic. Easy to take as candy.

$70,000 Fire in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 10.—At seven o'clock yesterday morning the four-
storey building of the Winnipeg Paint
and Glass Co., manufacturers and jobbers, was destroyed, being a total loss. The building was valued at $70,000, and the stock at $100,000, fully insured.

Furriers' Strike Over.

New York, Oct. 10.—The strike of the furriers ended on Tuesday, when 5,000 men returned to work. The men wanted closed shop conditions. About 1,000 of the men gained their point.

DISASTERS IN CANADA.

List of Calamities in Recent Years Is Long and Terrible.

When the Quebec bridge disaster
was followed closely by the calamitous railway wreck at the Horseshoe
curve on the C. P. R. near Caledon Mountain, a remark commonly heard
on the street was: "I wonder what the third tragedy will be." Many had for the moment actually forgotten the collapse of the store building in London, a tragic occurrence ranking as a great disaster, which had shocked the whole country less than two months
before. This seems to bear out the following comment from The Toronto
Mail and Empire, in a special article
on the subject:

It seems reasonable to assume at
this date, that none of these terrible
accidents fall into the category of unavoidable events. Human carelessness
or human carelessness was responsible for some links in the chain of destruction; and hence we are very personally warned against the spirit of the times to sacrifice everything to speed, a word which in this connection, something more than a rhyme
for greed.

Some Earlier Disasters.

Nevertheless, it is within the power
of thousands of citizens to recollect
earlier disasters, not less calamitous
than those of the present summer, and
everyone whose memory carries him
back so far will testify to the fact that a calamity which a generation
ago would have convulsed the country
now provokes but perfunctory interest. We are becoming blasé, and are able to bear with great composure
news of catastrophes that do not personally concern us. In a month from now, many of us will be unable to remember whether it was the bridge
over the Tay or over the St. Lawrence that suddenly crashed to annihilation. Other horrors, here or elsewhere, will have crowded the incident aside, to be displaced in their turn.

Desjardins Canal Tragedy.

For many years the horror of the Desjardins Canal tragedy of 1884 in-gored in the public mind, and this calamity still ranks with the most terrible of Canadian railroad disasters. Seventy lives were lost by a train from Toronto to Hamilton plunging through an open drawbridge.
Eight years later ninety people were killed at Beccol, Quebec, where the bridge had been drawn aside for the passage of some boats, just at the moment a train dashed up to the
gap. In 1885, as recalled by The Montreal Gazette, the boiler of a ferryboat plying between Montreal and Longueuil exploded, killing thirty-five persons and injuring many more.

Another heartrending tragedy was
the destruction of the steamboat Montreal.
In 1888 occurred the Cornwall
bridge disaster, which had some features in common with the Quebec
tragedy, although the loss of life was not so great.

An accident for which it would be
more difficult to hold human negligence responsible than in the cases
mentioned was the breaking away of a large portion of the Citadel rock
at Quebec, some eighteen years ago.
September rains had loosened the earth about the mass of rock, and
without a moment's warning it broke
away, and rolled down the declivity,
overwhelming the houses in its path,
and crushing to death forty persons.

The Mimico train disaster was much
nearer home, and made an indelible
mark on the minds of the thousands of Toronto people who remembered it.

Montreal School Horror.
There was also the terrible Queen's Birthday disaster of an excursion
steamer at London a few years ago.
The Hochelaga school horror touched
the hearts of thousands grown accustomed to the daily chronicle of battle, murder and sudden death which
it is the province of the newspaper
to report.

All these disasters have occurred
in the past half century, and they form a truly awful record of destruction and suffering. Calamities of still greater scope could be included
by going back still further in our history. There were the New Brunswick
fire of 1825, the Quebec fires of 1845
and 1846, the Montreal fires of 1765,
and 1803, 1862 and 1876; the St. John fire of the following year. There was also the wreck of the Atlantic in 1878,
when 350 people were lost, the record
in point of number of fatalities
among Canadian accidents.

How They Dolly Out West.

In the Canadian west people make light of their disabilities. When the extreme cold of last winter comes on
for discussion the old story of the two easterners who met somewhere
out there during an unreasonable
spell of cold weather. "Is there any summer at all out here?" one demanded of the other. "I don't know," was the reply. "I have only been out
here eleven months."

The same tendency to take everything jestingly displayed itself in Edmonton a short time ago. One of the streets in the centre of the town—
at the top of that famous hill—was being repaved and no temporary pavement had been made to it. Down came a heavy rain, leaving part of the street impassable a stretch of humps, lumps and small ponds. On walking that way next morning the stranger found printed placards nailed to the telegraph poles, containing such notices as these: "Hunting and Fishing on these Premises Strictly Prohibited—By Order" and "Warning
—Duck Shooting Not Allowed Here.
In Edmonton the municipal officials
can take a joke, and the placards were allowed to remain where they had been posted.

Manitoba University.

An important step concerning the

Dr. Olmstead, of Hamilton, president of the Ontario Medical Association, paid a flying visit to Dr. J. P. Rutherford while passing through this city yesterday.

A citizen speaking of the Wonderland fire stated that he noticed a very amusing scene while present at the conflagration. One of the firemen, with a water proof coat and helmet, was climbing up a ladder with a hose and a long crooked pipe in his mouth enjoying a pleasant smoke. He stopped once or twice on the ladder to fix his pipe and then proceeded in the same easy manner. After crawling through the window he took his pipe out of his mouth and fixed the mouth piece. The onlookers were much amused at his cool actions when there was such an expensive fire raging.

MR. COSTE IS DUBIOUS

He Can't Say How Long Natural Gas Will Hang Out

Can Tell Better In Two Months From Now, After Thorough Test

D. A. Coste, of Niagara Falls, one of the leading members of the Volcanic Oil and Gas Company, from whose wells the gas is piped supplies Chatham citizens with heat and light, was seen by a Planet reporter just before he left the city to-day. He was here on a flying business visit, just to see how things are getting on, to use his own expression.

"I have every confidence that everything will run smoothly now that the gas is being purified," he told the reporter. "We have met with considerable trouble in laying our new six-inch main to the wells, and this has been the cause of the gas being off periodically. The new pipe line blew up on us once or twice, but everything is all right now, and the line was tested at 300 lbs. yesterday, and stood the pressure in satisfactory shape."

"The new line is not quite finished yet, but is connected up for six miles outside of the city. We have three wells from which to pipe the gas now."

"What is your opinion as to the future of natural gas here?" he was asked.

"In what way do you mean?"

"Do you think it is liable to play out at any time in the near future?"

Mr. Coste paused a moment, and replied that he could not say just now. It would be a difficult matter to say at the present time how long the wells will hold out. He said that he would be in a better position to reply to this question a few months from now.

FELL OVER THE BANK

A Serious Freight Train Smash on The Grand Trunk

Belleville, Oct. 11.—Willie Reinhardt, killed, Ernest Groves seriously injured, and a number of the Sutherland string of racehorses dead as the result of a smash-up on the Grand Trunk near Trenton Station at 5 o'clock yesterday.

The body of the lad, Willie Reinhardt, is now in Trenton, where an inquest will be held.

Ernest Groves, the Toronto steeplechase rider, who was hurt, is in the hospital here, and the doctors say he will recover. When the car struck the bottom of the embankment he fell among some loose hay, and to this he attributes his escape from death. Several valuable horses were in the Sutherland string, and were either killed or had to be shot.

The remainder of the cars which went over the embankment were loaded with general merchandise, and trainmen say the wreck is one of the worst they ever saw. It is believed the wreck was caused by a misplaced switch, but trainmen will say nothing.

The story of the wreck follows:

Many Cars Smashed.

A freight train was going west when another freight, which was on a siding, was backed eastward on to the main line and struck the westbound freight amidships, knocking thirteen cars off the high embankment into the ditch.

Among the cars ditched were some containing a string of fifteen racehorses belonging to Sutherland of Grimsby, in charge of a young man named Willie Reinhardt of Buffalo. He was killed.

A man named Ernest Groves of Toronto, steeplechase rider and jockey, also with the horses, was badly hurt, and is now in the hospital in this city.

It is rumored that the cause of the accident was a misplaced switch, but railwaymen here will say nothing. Some of the racehorses were also killed.

Cause of the Wreck.

A report was received at York yesterday morning that train No. 290, running east, from York to Belleville, collided with No. 83 from the east, ditching seventeen cars. The reason assigned for the accident was that the switchman had thrown the switch the wrong way.

Ernest Groves has for some years been but a transient visitor, though when in Toronto he made his home at the house of his cousins, Groves Bros., 696 Yonge street. Ernest is about 24 years of age and unmarried, and has for nearly fifteen years been connected with the turf.

BIG MEETING IS EXPECTED

Board of Trade Will Hold a Special Session Monday Evening

Hon. Adam Beck Will Speak and Music Will Be Given

The President and Officers of the Chatham Board of Trade are very anxious that all members of the Board shall be present at the next meeting in the Council Chambers in Harrison Hall Monday evening, when Hon. Adam Beck will be present to deliver an address on the Hydro-Electric Power Scheme, in which all of the cities in Ontario are interested.

The Officers of the Board of Trade feel that the attendance at this meeting should be indicative of the real interest which local business men take in the power question, and it will also show whether the citizens approve of the Board's bringing Mr. Beck here to address them. This meeting will possibly determine in the minds of the executive of the Board of Trade and the members of the City Council as to what course should be taken during the coming months. Arrangements are now being made to have the Honorable Speaker Sutherland here in November, while in December it is expected that the President of the Detroit Board of Trade will be brought to Chatham to deliver an address before the local members and citizens. A musical program will be given by the First Church male quartet at the meeting on Monday night.

This will be the beginning of a series of meetings at which well-known outside men will be present to address the members of the Board of Trade. Arrangements are now being made to have the Honorable Speaker Sutherland here in November, while in December it is expected that the President of the Detroit Board of Trade will be brought to Chatham to deliver an address before the local members and citizens. A musical program will be given by the First Church male quartet at the meeting on Monday night.

Neck, Breast and Hands Covered with Eczema

Miss Katherine M. Bartlett, of 73 McGill College Avenue, Montreal, has been cured of an obstinate case of dry eczema of four years standing by Zam-Buk when all other remedies had failed to give her relief. She says:

"Four years ago my face broke out in rough, red blotches which burned, smarted and itched terribly. When the disease was at its worst my face, neck, breast and hands would swell terribly."

"I consulted doctors, but got no relief. A lady friend who saw my sad plight recommended Zam-Buk. I procured a supply and within a few weeks from commencing with Zam-Buk my skin was as smooth and white as before the dread eczema came to trouble me. I can hardly find words to express my gratitude for the wonderful cure made by Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk cures blood poison, cuts, bruises, old wounds, running sores, ulcers, boils, eruptions, scalp sores, eczema, itch, barber's rash, burns, scalds, and all skin injuries and diseases. Best cure for "piles" yet known. All druggists and stores at 50c a box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto; three boxes $1.25. Send 1 cent stamp for sample.

No matter how wretched-of-face one may be, there will come a time when the conditions cause a drifting toward the sentimental.

HONOR LIFEBOAT HERO

GALLANT RESCUE OF FIFTY YEARS AGO IS RECALLED.

Wreck of the Northern Belle—Beached by Heavy Seas—Twenty-Three Men Lashed to Foremast—Taken Off by Boat's Crew After Perilous Journey—Deed Recognized by U. S. Government.

Broadstairs honored itself recently by honoring William Wales, an old lifeboatman belonging to the town. Some fifty years ago, all England and America was cheering Wales and his comrades of the lifeboats Mary and Culmer White. To-day Wales is the only survivor of those gallant crews (he is 84), and there are not many who remember the wreck of the Northern Belle. The affair occurred on Jan. 5, 1857. She was an American, bound from New York to London, and she anchored before daybreak on that day in Kingsgate Bay, owing to stress of weather. She rode heavily, and the seas beached her. To steady her, her main and mizen masts were cut away. But the gale increased, it was feared her anchors could part, and the Broadstairs lifeboat was sent for. The lifeboatmen harnessed themselves to their craft, and dragged it from their town to Kingsgate.

A Margate lugger, in attempting to assist the laboring ship, was overturned and the crew drowned. Late that night the Northern Belle broke away, and drove towards the rocks. Half an hour later, the ship was seen to be on fire. At daybreak, the ship was seen with 23 men lashed to her foremast, continually soaked by the great seas. One lifeboat put out, at great peril, and got seven of the crew away. On its return, the boat, of which Wales was one of the crew, went to the wreck and brought off 14, returning again to rescue the captain and the pilot. The United States Government presented a gold medal worth $100 to the lifeboatmen engaged in this rescue. Broadstairs would seem to have forgotten Wales since that stirring episode, but recently the editor of the "Broadstairs Echo" re-discovered him. It was found that his circumstances were not of the best, and a subscription list was opened for him. Amongst those who subscribed were Sarah Bernhardt and Lord Avebury, and this week a substantial sum, together with his portrait, was handed over to the veteran lifeboatman.

TROOPERS' BRAVERY.

Two Natal Police Beat Off Fifty Armed Natives.

A story of magnificent bravery on the part of a sergeant and trooper of the Natal police has just come to light at Eastcourt. Some months ago a native doctor named Umkuba was attacked and seriously injured by a number of other natives between Chieveley and Tabamhlope. The Natal police at Colenso were notified, and Sergeant Wright, with Trooper Stuart, went in pursuit of the miscreants. One of the latter on reaching a large kraal on the summit of a hill shouted that he was being killed by the police, whereupon some fifty natives, fully armed, swept down on the police, who knowing that retreat would mean certain death, held their ground. The horde gradually closed in on them, shouting and gesticulating wildly. When within a few yards Sergeant Wright shouted to them to halt, and as they did not heed the summons the two plucky Englishmen dashed in amongst them and used their fists to such good purpose that the natives were utterly demoralized, fifteen of them being arrested on the spot by the policemen and their native helpers. The bravery of Sergeant Wright might never have been heard of but for an action brought at Eastcourt by Umkuba against one of his assailants, when the narrative came out in the course of the evidence.

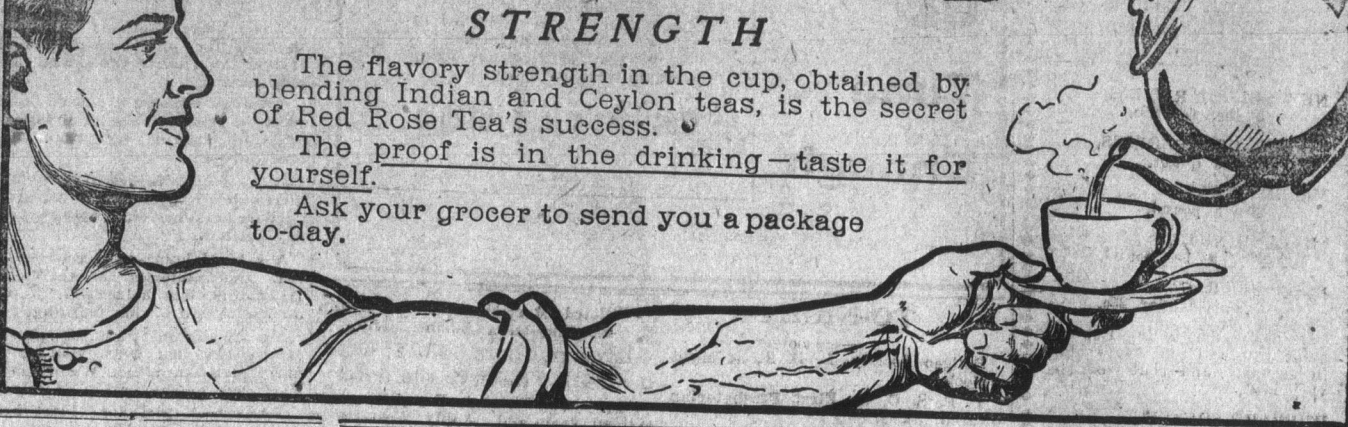

The First Libraries.

So far as existing records show, the oldest approximation to libraries was brought to light by the Assyrian discoveries in the form of Babylonish books inscribed on clay tablets. They are supposed to have been prepared for public instruction about 650 B. C. Ptolemy is said to have founded a library at Athens about 323 B. C., but there is no clear evidence to that effect. According to Strabo, the first was the first known collector of a library and bequeathed it to Theophrastus 323 B. C., the library finally going to Rome.

Fate of a Famous Library.

The great Pinellian library, considered at the time one of the largest and most valuable in the world, was purchased in 1800 after the death of its possessor by a London bookseller, who chartered three vessels to convey it to London. He was pursued by corsairs, who captured one vessel, and finding it carried a cargo of books and manuscripts destroyed all by casting them into the sea.

ANOTHER MAMMOTH LINER.

Sister Ship to the Lusitania Puts Out to Sea.

The mammoth Cunarder Mauretania, the largest ship in the world, recently made her first trip to sea, a vast cheering crowd, estimated at half a million, watching her pass down the Tyne. The vessel's displacement exceeds that of the Lusitania by 700 tons, and her proportionately greater engine power will, it is confidently expected at Wallsend, give her half a knot more speed. As the Mauretania was slowly towed down the river the scenes of excitement grew. At every yard and factory on the banks the workmen took a rest to see her progress, while yard buzzers, hooters, and steamers' whistles rent the air with greetings. In Shields, Hartley there was a perfect pandemonium of noise, for every vessel possessing any noise-producing instrument thought fit to use it.

Crossing the bar the tugs cast loose, and the record-breaker steamed majestically out to sea. The Mauretania is 790 feet long and 88 feet in beam, 80 feet longer than the Great Eastern and 5 feet wider, while the combined displacement of the Dreadnought and the Great Eastern would scarcely equal that of the new ocean liner. The ship is the new ocean liner, and is capable of an average ocean speed of 25 knots. Over 4,000,000 rivets have been used in the hull of the Mauretania, and 26,000 steel plates, while her coal bunkers have been so arranged that her vital parts should arise at any time for her use as a cruiser. With a crew of about 800, the passenger accommodation of the Mauretania will be for at least 500 first-class, 500 second-class, and 1,300 steerage passengers. All sections of the ship are in communication by means of telephones, and electric curling-irons heaters have been provided for the use of the lady passengers.

Shortage in Grain Crops.

One hundred million dollars will scarcely cover the loss in the values of eastern and central Canada's agricultural products this year, compared with last. The shortage in Ontario alone is estimated by President James Macleay of the Provincial Farmers' Association at equal to $80,000,000. In the northwest, however, while there is a short yield per acre of a third or a fourth in some districts and less or more in others, with variations in qualities, superior in some places and inferior in others, the total area under grain this year is so much larger than last year as to more than compensate for every possible loss in yield per acre and depreciation in qualities, while the net income to the farmer per bushel is expected to be larger. Increased prices are also looked for in the eastern provinces. Taking the country at large, therefore, the net result is likely to be, if anything, a slight increase in the aggregate sum received by the agriculturalists, with a volume of business for the railway and transportation interests about equal to or not much less than that of 1906.

In the cattle trade, the beef cattle moved from the ranges of Saskatchewan and Alberta for export this year will not exceed 50,000 head, compared with 74,000 head last year. The shortage is due to the fact that after the winter of 1904 there were scarcely any yearlings to be had for putting into the herd to mature for the trade of 1907.

An Highwayman's Grave.

In a corner on Dorchester street in the grounds of the Grey Nuns or Sisters of Charity of Montreal, stands a tall cross of red-stained wood. The popular narrative, says Canada, is that it marks the grave of a notorious highwayman, who robbed and murdered habitants on the lonely road in the olden time. The legend is not quite true. But Belisle, the convict in question, was guilty of housebreaking and of an atrocious double murder under the French regime. He lived on the Grand Chemin du Roi (Dorchester street) and on the other side of the road lived Jean Favre and his wife, Marie Anne, both of whom were reputed to have lots of money hidden away in the house. One dark night Belisle broke into the house and fired his pistol at Favre, but only wounded him. Then he stabbed him to death with a hunting knife, which he also plunged into the breast of Favre's wife when she came to her husband's aid, finally despatching her with the blow of a spade. He was suspected, tried, and convicted. He was condemned to torture, ordinary and extraordinary, and to be finally "broken alive." The sentence was carried out on the old Ouston House square. Belisle was drawn and quartered, and left lying on his back to die, his face to the sun. Then his body was buried at the cross roads at Guy and Dorchester streets, and a cross erected to mark the spot.

Mistook Bear For Dog.

William Coons, a Kinmount man, had an exciting experience one evening recently on his way home from Bobcaygeon, where he had paddled in a canoe. While crossing Little Bob Lake in the dusk he encountered a black bear swimming in the water, and for a time it looked as if the bear was going to come out the victor in the encounter. Coons at first thought when within a short distance of the bear that the animal was a dog and was then the discovery was made that it was a bear, and with one stroke of his paddle the canoe was upset and the man and bear were struggling in the water. The attack had evidently infuriated the animal, for he fought a valiant shore, after having been in the water about half an hour, it was with a suit of badly torn clothes and a body with many scratches made by the bear's claws. Coons declares that he escapes was nothing short of miraculous, and states that at one time he had given up hope of ever reaching shore alive.

GUilty of MANSLAUGHTER.

Gordon Hunter Protests Against Verdict as Most Unfair.

North Bay, Oct. 10.—The grand jury found Gordon Hunter of Haileybury guilty of manslaughter in the death of Ed. Boylan from injuries received while being ejected from the Vendome Hotel at Haileybury last June.

The defence sought to prove that Boylan was abusive and acted offensively in the hotel, that Hunter was carrying out his instructions in maintaining order, and that Boylan was injured by falling down the steps of the hotel, no undue violence being used in his ejection.

Judge Riddell's charge to the jury was unfavorable to the prisoner. Upon being asked if he had anything to say, he stated to the court that he considered the verdict most unfair.

Hunter, who is very popular in Haileybury and a quiet, well-behaved man, feels his position keenly, and the verdict was as well as his mother, wife and little daughter, who were present at the trial.

Prominent Haileybury citizens who are attending the Assizes were confident that Hunter would be acquitted, and many bitter comments were heard in the hotel corridors as to the verdict.

Toronto, Oct. 10.—T. C. Robinette, assisted by W. A. Moss, will make application at Osgoode Hall at 11 a.m. today for a new trial for Frank Capelli, the Italian convicted of the murder of William Dow, near Parry Sound, on Christmas night. Dr. N. N. Robertson swears that in his opinion Capelli was insane at the time.

Humor and Philosophy

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

Most women are fond of some men.

A wholesome, industrious person is generally too busy to be specially foolishly proud of anything.

Nobody wants to fight unless he thinks he can win.

It is a wise thing to have a good time in this world if you have any leaning that way at all.

We all like to lead, but not clear out of sight, not by any means.

Most of us have to worry either about the income or the outgo.

As long as we are not baldheaded all is not lost.

A friend usually feels that he is not living up to his immortal privilege unless he is handing out perfectly good, because never used, advice.

Out rates on divorcees ought to look good to bargain hunters.

We are apt to be at odds with ourselves when we are trying to get even with our enemies.

Hot Air.
The breezes blow
Both warm and slow;
It's hot as blazes,
Don't you know,
In dog days.

And in the moonlight

In dog days.

We watch the date
And share our fate,
And for the cooler
Weather wait
In dog days.

Helpless.
I rise up in the morning,
And to myself I say,
"No use in fooling longer,
I'll master fate today."
Then primed with resolutions
I lie me to the town,
And it's not many minutes
Before fate has me down.

I look on circumstances
And readjust my hold.
They seem, as I observe them,
Quite easily to mold.
But as I grasp them firmly
To turn them round about
They find my solar plexus
And I am down and out.

I go out on a journey
And meet a self made man.
He tells me it is easy.
That he has found a plan;
But still when I endeavor
His methods to apply,
Though in his steps I follow,
Results are always shy.

Though some men, in a measure,
Their destinies can mold,
I must be content to hold
And lose my struggle hold.
They may be happy thinking
Their luck for better shift;
I only can sit helpless
And with the current drift.

A weak Stomach, causing dyspepsia or a weak Heart with palpitation or intermittent pulse, always means weak Stomach nerves or weak Heart nerves. Strengthen these inside or controlling nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly these ailments disappear. Dr. Shoop's Restorative, which Capt. Birchfield, the pilot, and others aboard state to have been a bottle-nosed shark, suddenly jumped partially out of the water so close to Wolfe, who was striking out at the time, that his hand swept down the monster's stomach.

Wolfe spat away with the indignity whether there were any sharks about. The unpleasant incident ended with the disappearance of the shark, which dived below. Wolfe's battle with the rough seas eventually exhausted him, and he had again give up with his goal in sight. He makes that he will not again attempt the task this year.

The Rosetta Stone.

The Rosetta stone was found in 1799 by a French engineer officer in an excavation made near Rosetta. It has an inscription in three different languages, the hieroglyphic, the demotic and the Greek. It was erected 195 B. C. in honor of Ptolemy Epiphanes because he remitted the dues of the priestly body. The great value of the Rosetta stone lies in the fact that it furnished the key whereby the Egyptian hieroglyphics were deciphered.

THE WATCHWARD OF WOMEN.

Modesty is woman's watchword. Whatever threatens her delicate sense of modesty, frightens her. For this reason many a woman permits diseases of delicate womanly organs to become aggravated because she cannot bring herself to submit to the ordeal of unpleasant examinations and obnoxious local treatments, which some physicians find necessary. Doubtless the advantage of the woman who have taken advantage of Dr. Pierce's offer of free consultation by letter, have been led to do so by the escape thus offered from a treatment repugnant to modesty. Any sick woman may write to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., in perfect confidence; all letters being treated as strictly private and sacredly confidential, and all answers being sent in plain envelopes with no advertising or other printing upon them. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been long hailed as a "God-send to women." It makes weak women, strong and sick women well. "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol. All its ingredients printed on every bottle-wrapper.

ENCOUNTERED A SHARK.

Wolfe Makes Fourth Attempt to Swim English Channel.

Mr. J. Wolfe made his fourth effort to swim from England to France last week. The start was made from the South Foreland at half-past six in the morning. Wolfe soon settled down to his steady, powerful stroke, and inside of two hours was well south of the Goodwin Sands and four miles on his journey across. The northeast breeze was holding up the tide and enabling the swimmer to make a very direct course, and by 10.30 he was about six miles out. The Dover mail steamer for Calais passed at 11.45, when the swimmer was judged to be about eight miles from the English land, west of St. Margaret's Bay. The temperature of the sea was 60, which is low for a swim of this kind, but Wolfe does not know what it is to feel cold in the water.

The breeze went right round to the west soon after midday, and that prevented Wolfe, swimming as much as was anticipated, and as much as could have been wished, there being the risk that with the westerly wind backing up the flood tide the swimmer would be carried too far eastward to effect a landing on either of the big capes—Gravesend or Blenheim. During the afternoon the swimmer Wolfe and his party returned to Dover at 10.30 p. m., the plucky swimmer having again been defeated by adverse conditions after a strenuous effort lasting 11-12 hours, in which he got within two miles of Cape Blenheim. During all the afternoon and evening he was fighting hard against very heavy seas, which were swamping him again and again.

In one part of the swim Wolfe had a rather terrifying experience. An enormous fish, which Capt. Birchfield, the pilot, and others aboard state to have been a bottle-nosed shark, suddenly jumped partially out of the water so close to Wolfe, who was striking out at the time, that his hand swept down the monster's stomach. Wolfe spat away with the indignity whether there were any sharks about. The unpleasant incident ended with the disappearance of the shark, which dived below. Wolfe's battle with the rough seas eventually exhausted him, and he had again give up with his goal in sight. He makes that he will not again attempt the task this year.

AN UNWORLDLY CHURCH.

The Only One That Can Dominate the Future.

In a sermon in Holy Trinity Church during the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the founding of the Anglican Christianity in America the Lord Bishop of London, gave his idea of the characteristics which the Church that shall dominate the future must possess.

The most evangelistic, the most catholic the most orthodox Church, he said, will produce no effect upon the world if it is not clearly and unmistakably, and before all the world, unworldly itself. Bear with me, then, when I say, as my last word, that the greatest danger of the Church on both sides of the Atlantic is worldliness. In one sense it is impossible for the Church to mix too freely with the world. Into the sun of East London, into the business of Wall street, into the mining camps at Klondyke, the Church must go, and no human interest in the world is outside the interest of the Church.

But, on the other hand, to run a church simply as a man runs a successful business is to spell ruin and failure and shame for the most orthodox Church in the world."

Cornish Sea Serpent.

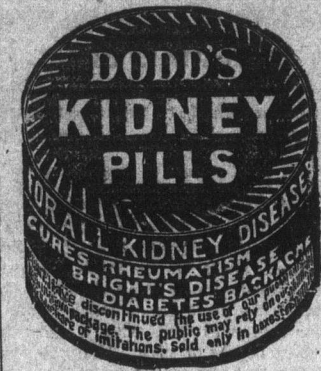

The Rev. T. Davies, chaplain of a Sheffield almshouse, and Mr. E. Dodgson, of Jesus College, Oxford, announce that they have seen a sea serpent twenty feet long at Tintagel, North Cornwall.

The "sea serpent" was located within 200 yards of the Tintagel cliffs on the north coast of Cornwall, or right in the shadow of King Arthur's castle.

Mr. Dodgson writes: "At 11.45 a.m. I was seated with Rev. T. C. Davies, M.A., who is now staying at Clifton house, Tintagel, on the edge of the cliffs of the cove known as Gulla Stan, at Tintagel, when he called my attention to a black object that was moving at a distance of about 300 yards very rapidly along the calm surface of the sea towards Tintagel Head. In about a minute it had disappeared behind the cliff that bounds the cove on the west."

Stealing Elephants in Siam.

The stealing of elephants seems to be proceeding in Siam on a scale which the owners of the elephants do not appear to find at all humorous, says Country Life. The industry, which the elephants that are stolen are so largely used is the teak timber trade, and it has been reported by the British consul that the thefts are interfering with the profits of the work. The extent of the trouble may be gauged by the simple figures conveyed by the facts that in a space of a little more than a year one firm had 25 elephants stolen, of which 14 were recovered, and another 22 stolen and 15 recovered. The crowning insult appears to have been the stealing of one of the consul's own transport elephants belonging to the British Government, which has now been missing for nearly a year.

Early Australian gold diggers made many contributions to the slang of the Commonwealth.

One of these was "shooting," or standing drinks for everybody within hall, a practice of which the lucky digger was very fond. To refuse to drink with a digger who had "struck it rich," or turned up a big nugget, was a deadly insult. A critic quotes from J. F. Hogan's "History of the Irish in Australia": "Shooting was at one time almost universal. To shoot in a public house means to insist on everybody present, friends and strangers alike, drinking at the shooter's expense. It frequently happens that each one 'shoots' in succession."

Trial Catarrh treatments are being mailed out free, on request, by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. These tests are proving to the people without a penny's cost—the great value of this scientific prescription, known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy.

Verdict Wilful Murder.

Quebec, Oct. 10.—The coroner's jury in the case of Bardi, the Italian who was killed last week at Harvey Junction on the Great Northern Railway by another Italian named Demotte, rendered a verdict of "wilful murder," and the prisoner is now in Quebec Jail waiting the preliminary investigation, which will take place to-day before Judge Chauveau.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.
Sirs,—I came across a bottle of your MINARD'S LINIMENT in the hands of one of the students at the University of Maryland, and he being so kind as to let me use it for a very bad sprain, which I obtained in training for foot races, and to say that it helped me would be putting it very mildly, and I therefore ask if you would let me know one of your agents that I may obtain some of it. Thanking you in advance I remain, Yours truly,

Elegance & Quality in DRESS FABRICS At Satisfactory Prices

It would be hard to duplicate a Dress Goods Stock where rich, fashionable shades in high qualities and low prices are so harmoniously blended as they are in this stock at the present moment. This store is not large, but the dress goods stock is the most complete you'll find. Before buying your dress look for the small store with a large window in which is always displayed high class and correct dress fabrics or silks. You can judge the quality of the goods kept by a store by their show window, but you cannot see their complete stock in a show window. This store receives many lines of handsome dress fabrics that never get a showing in the window. If you see something in the window you like, perhaps you'll find something you like better inside. Come in and see the dress goods displayed by this store. No need to buy because you look.

SENATE FOR HIM

Archie Campbell's Political Pull Likely to Block Mr. Calvert's Aspirations to Upper House

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—Hon. R. F. Sutherland, Speaker of the House of Commons, was in the city to-day. So was Mr. Calvert, the chief Liberal whip. Their presence suggested at first that the Government had decided upon the exact date for the opening of Parliament, but this, it is learned, has not yet been determined. Mr. Calvert has other political interests, however, which may account for his being here. It is known that he has had the promise of the vacant Ontario Senatorship, but it now develops that Mr. Archie Campbell can only be mollified for the disappointment of his Cabinet ambitions by appointment to the Upper House, and so strong is Mr. Campbell's pull that the chief whip is likely to be requested, for the sake of the peace of the party in Ontario, to forego for the present his aspirations to retirement to the Red Chamber.

Discontent among the Ontario Liberal members at the appointment of Hon. Mr. Graham has by no means subsided, so that the situation likely to be created by any solution of the Senate issue at present probable is sure to prove interesting. The vacancy in the Quebec judiciary caused by the resignation of Judge Larue, of Rimouski, has been filled by the appointment to the bench for that district of Hon. Auguste Tassier, Provincial Treasurer of Quebec. It is understood that Mr. Tassier will be succeeded in the Quebec Cabinet by Mr. Alex. Tache, M. L. A., formerly law partner in the firm of Fitzpatrick and Parent.

MR. McMAHON SPEAKS.

The following letter has been handed to The Planet for publication.

To the Editor of The Planet—

Sir,—As I am the unfortunate one who was charitable enough to adopt into my home, a little more than a year ago, an infant born in October, 1905, and who is now just three months two years of age and about which one, "Ray, W. A. Gunton," is so pompously parading himself in the papers, I wish to make a reply to him. But first let me say, having no family of our own, my wife and myself adopted this little girl, the first of a few months old, into our home as our own child, and after nursing the little one for months, through a long and trying illness from which she was suffering when she came to us, have brought it through to a fine, bright, healthy little child, who is the pride of our home, and who receives all the care and comfort we can give her. Imagine, then, my wife's surprise when a few days ago the above-named gentleman walked into our home and, to use his own words, without "any to do" demanded what kind of treatment the child was receiving. True, as Mr. Gunton says if he so far forgot himself, my wife was "lady-like" and courteous enough to offer him a seat, and after apparently satisfying himself that he had made a mistake as to the object of his visit, he proffered a few kindly suggestions as to how to bring up a child, among which was to dash cold water into the face of the infant, which he gave his assurance had a good effect in curing any little faults children have. My wife knew nothing of this man nor where he was when he came to my house. Now, as to "lady-like," as this gentleman chooses to put it, and which I take it refers to me, all I can say is, Chatham has been my home since infancy, and I make an honest living, and am ashamed to meet no one. This interference, has gone far enough, and he is now requested by me to proceed with the matter in the courts and prove his charges, as I am ready with my defence. He will be given a reasonable time to do this in, when, should he not adopt that course, I shall seek the remedy open to me.

JERRY McMAHON.

Stop The Strenuous Life

Weakens The Tissues And Lessens Organic Vitality.

The stress and strain of the strenuous life in both city and country tends towards stomach troubles. Five people suffer to-day where one did ten years ago with sick headache, dizziness, flatulence, distress after eating, specks before the eyes, bloating, nervousness, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms of indigestion.

All who are suffering with stomach troubles, and that means at least two out of three in Chatham and other towns, should use Mi-o-na stomach tablets. Nothing else is as safe, yet effective; nothing else can be so thoroughly relied upon to relieve all troubles from indigestion as Mi-o-na.

It is not a mere digestive taken after the food is eaten, but a true tonic, stimulant and strengthener for the muscular walls of the stomach, increasing the flow of digestive fluids and putting the stomach into such condition that it does the work Nature expects of it.

So reliable is Mi-o-na in its curative action that C. H. Gunn & Co., with every 50 cent box they sell give a guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy does all that is claimed for it.
