BRITISH LAUNCH FRESH DRIVE SOUTH OF RIVER SCHELDT THIS MORNING

Smash Enemy Lines On Wide Front In Early Morning Attack; Entire Italian Front Continues To Move Forward

By Courier Leased Wire.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Bulletin.—At dawn this morning British troops south of the Scheldt river, attacked on a wide front, according to a report received from Field Marshal Haig today. The report says that the attack has been launched satisfactorily.

The text of the statement reads: "At dawn this morning we attacked on a wide front south of Scheldt. The attack is reported to have been launched satisfactorily."

ITALIAN FRONT MOVES
ROME, Nov. 4.—Bulletin.—The entire Italian front continues to move forward, the war office announced today. On the mountain front from Tonale to Lake Garda west of Trent, the Italians are progressing rapidly, and are advancing on Riva and other points west of the Adige.

The statement reads: "The whole front is moving forward. Between Astice and Tonale the formidable Austrian lines have been passed by Italian advance guards. The Seventh Army is descending from Tonale into V-rucetic valley and ascending the follow of Cimlarico and crossing the ridge from Monte Pari to the Riva basin. The first army is advancing from the slopes of Monte Altissimo and from Mori toward Riva."

"Mori was defended by hostile rearguards for a long time but the enemy was overcome in house-to-house fighting. An assault detachment and an Alpine group broke in a rapid and brilliant attack, the enemy barrier fortifications in the Lagarina valley in the neighborhood of Mori and launched an attack on the left bank of Adige. They entered Rovereto, capturing several hundred prisoners and deciding the fate of the detachments who had defended Val Arsa to the last. The forces retiring from the Passaic and from Col Santo are being laid pressed."

"Squadrons have been launched toward Trent. Bersaglieri have carried Grieco and broken the defenses in the Passo Della Boicella, opening the Terracina valley. Other columns are penetrating the mountain between the Posina and Astico valleys. Monte Campionello and Monte wira (north-east of Asiago) have been passed."

French Official:
Paris, Nov. 4.—The Germans maintained activity with their artillery and machine guns throughout last night on the entire 15 mile front along the Aisne between Bethel and Semuy, according to to-day's War Office report.

"The French first army during the month of October, in the fighting on the Aisne front, took 10,387 prisoners, 113 cannon and 1,500 machine guns," the statement announces. The text of the statement reads:

"North of the Serre a French reconnoitering party penetrated into the Puzay wood, from which 100 prisoners were brought back.

"The activity of the German artillery reported."

"A WAIF AND STRAY," AND HIS FORMER HOME. While no report has yet been received of the Austrian Emperor's abdication, all dispatches agree that the Hapsburg regime is ended. Reports differ as to Karl's present whereabouts, some saying that he has fled to his castle at Godollo, while others declare he is still in Vienna. TERMS OF ARMISTICE IMPOSED BY ALLIES ON AUSTRIA

Include Immediate Cessation of Hostilities by Land, Sea and Air—Total Demobilization of Austro-Hungarian Army, and Withdrawal of All Fighting Forces

By Courier Leased Wire.

Bulletin, Washington, Nov. 4.—Terms of the armistice under which the land and sea forces of what once was the Austro-Hungarian Empire have laid down their arms, was announced to-day simultaneously in Washington and the Allied capitals. They accomplish complete surrender and open Austrian and Hungarian territory for American and Allied operations against Germany.

From this drastic document, it may be stated, may be gleaned an accurate outline of the conditions nearing completion in the Supreme War Council at Versailles under which Germany may have a cessation of hostilities.

The terms under which the debacle on the Italian front ended to-day at three p.m. (8 a.m. eastern American time), included complete demobilization of Austrian forces, surrender of one half of all artillery and military equipment; occupation by American and Allied forces of all invaded territory, leaving behind all equipment and supplies, including coal, surrender of a portion of the Austrian surface and submarine fleets and disarmament of others under American and Allied control.

All German troops in Austria-rungary, Italy or the Balkans must be out, or interned within fifteen days.

Evacuation of all Austrian territories roughly corresponds to the boundary lines claimed by Italy under the Italia-Irredentis, or treaty of London program. The right of occupation by Allied forces reserved, local authorities to maintain order under Allied supervision.

The terms of the armistice are to be carried out under the direction of Marshal Foch, who will designate material to be turned over and supervise the movement of Austro-Hungarian forces to the rear.

GERMANY'S MILITARY DOOM IS NOW CLOSE AT HAND

Germany Facing Great Disaster On West Front; Debacle Which She Has Averted Until The Present, Can No Longer Be Evaded

By Courier Leased Wire. NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The Associated Press this morning issued the following: "Germany, deserted by her allies, is apparently facing a great disaster on the western front. There have been many times during the past three months that it seemed that the Teutonic armies were in a critical position, but they always have managed to avoid a debacle. Now, however, there is a greater possibility than ever that the hour of Germany's military doom may not be far distant."

This crisis has arisen during the past three days. American and French attacks west of the Meuse river, which seemed to be gaining but little, apparently sapped the strength of the Germans. When the break came on Saturday it took on the aspects of a rout more than an orderly retirement, such as has been carried out on dozens of battlefields from the North Sea to Chateau Thierry since July 18.

On Sunday evening at five o'clock American contingents were in Belvalwood, six miles directly west of Sedan, a vital point in the German line along the Meuse. They were only fourteen miles south of Sedan, which is the centre of the whole German railroad system in eastern France.

It now appears that the Germans who have been holding the line running westward through the Champagne country cannot retreat eastward, but must be diverted northward through Belgium. This way add many weary miles to the length of the journey that seemingly must be begun at once.

In Belgium the fall of Ghent is imminent, for the Belgians, French, British and Americans are rapidly moving ahead. The Scheldt has been crossed at Weldon, southwest of Ghent, while the Belgians are moving toward the Scheldt northeast of the city. This advance, if continued, threatens the whole German army in France since its retreat eastward through Sedan and Montmedy seems about to be cut off.

East of the Meuse the roads are crowded with retreating Germans. It is reported. This would appear to indicate a retirement to the Briey defenses, north of Metz, but the magnitude of the retrograde movement has not as yet been exactly determined.

Austria will join Bulgaria and Turkey as conquered nations, this afternoon at three o'clock. Terms of the armistice have been signed, but the details of the agreement have not as yet been made public. It may be assumed that they are drastic as those forced on Bulgaria and Turkey. In the meantime Italian and Allied forces have occupied Trent, and have landed at Trieste. Jedis, which was Italian headquarters during the Isonzo campaign two years ago and from which General Cadorna was driven late in October, 1917, has been recaptured from the Austrians. On every front the Austrian resistance seemed to collapse during the two days prior to the signing of the armistice terms dictated by the Inter-Allied Conference at Versailles.

Belgrade the capital of Serbia has been recaptured from the Austrians, and was taken on December 2, 1914. Forty-five days after the Allies launched their offensive along the Meceodonian front, the Austrian and German troops were retreating across the Danube out of Serbia, leaving behind them the wreck of German dreams of domination in the east.

Subscriptions of $93,170 for Saturday's canvassing had been reported at Victory Loan headquarters up to noon to-day. This brings the total for the first week to $490,000, a figure far below that which must be attained if Brantford is to go over the top in its assigned quota. Paradoxically enough, the canvassers believe that it is the war news which is deterring many people from investing, as they feel that the war is almost over, and that the moment peace is concluded the need for money will cease. Far from this, the demand will be even greater during the period of reconstruction to follow, and surely 5 1/2 per cent interest on the security of the Dominion of Canada is an investment sufficiently attractive for anyone.

SIMCOE YOUNG LADY BEREAVED

Wm. Kendry, Father of Miss Reta Kendry, Dies in Nanticoke

OTHER SIMCOE NEWS

(From our own Correspondent) Simcoe, Nov. 4.—Miss Reta Kendry, cashier at G. O. Werrett's grocery, was advised last night of the death of her father, Wm. Kendry, of Nanticoke. The young lady had not heard of his illness, Mrs. G. O. Werrett is a sister of deceased. Deceased leaves a wife and one daughter at home, Miss Reta of Simcoe and three sons overseas, two of whom are now out of action, wounded. He had been carrying along the farm alone in the absence of his son, and some ten days ago complained of rheumatism, which in reality was Spanish influenza. Pneumonia developed and the end came suddenly before Simcoe relatives could be called.

Miss Reta, though not long a resident of Simcoe, has made a wide circle of young friends, who will deeply grieve the bereavement which the bright young lady has been called to endure.

Another Simconian Falls
The news of the death of Private James Craig (797181), son of Robert Craig, of Simcoe, reached here yesterday. He was killed in action on Oct. 20th somewhere in France. His father, who has been for months engaged in army food inspection in the United States, under the Imperial Government, was on a flying visit home when the cable was delivered. The young man enlisted under age, when his father was rejected on account of being beyond the limit. He was an excellent young man of quiet unassuming disposition.

Victory Loan Rolls In
The first week of the Victory Loan campaign closed Saturday night with a total of $360,700 against $330,000 for the first week last year. Saturday's reports totalled $62,850.

It is private personal plodding all the way, there are no public meetings, no appeals through churches, no public demonstration of any kind anywhere in the country.

No Black Diphtheria at Simcoe
News came in during the week-end that a rumor is afloat outside that Simcoe is quarantined for black diphtheria. Nothing of the kind. On enquiry from the M. H. O. Saturday night, we were advised that there were reported three mild cases in one house on Sherman St. This has been under quarantine from the first. Another house in which it was thought the disease had developed, is now under investigation. A swab from one patient came back negative. The report was not to hand regarding a second child. The physician had not yet reported this case pending the receipt of the report.

"Flu" Hospital Has Few Patients
There were but four patients in the emergency hospital on Saturday night. Two of the Callender children were brought in yesterday. Little hope was entertained for H. Stigmure up till midnight on Saturday, and the information given yesterday that he had weathered through and was resting nicely all day was a genuine surprise.

Heating System All Right
Our reference to the heating system of the new school in Saturday's issue was, through brevity, misleading and calculated to indicate that there is something wrong about the plant, while in fact it lacks nothing but coal. The objectionable feature existed in this, that the specifications called for a certain make of plant or something "just as good," and after things got under way the contractor held that there was no other as good, or at least that the type chosen by the sub-contractor was not as good.

The upshot was that the architect's presumed favorite got the sale, and there was virtually no competition. As a matter of fact, it was generally thought that the favored manufacturer had obligated some one by making the plans of the heating system.

Odd Ends of News
Potatoes are bringing $1.00 from farmers' wagons and the steves are said to be pretty well supplied.

Saturday's business indicated in itself that the "Flu" is pretty well checked.

Clover from the Lindsay property adjoining the L.E. and N. yards was being harvested on Saturday.

Fire Chief Kindall went some Saturday night looking rather under the weather. Yesterday he was reported ill. Possibility "Flu."

If the Board of Health does not let the church doors open pretty soon, it will take a special envelope for the first collection.

It may be well for us to all to remember this obligation if we have not been "storing" for it, and at the same time we should lay up a few coppers for fireworks and other pandemonium when the good news comes for surely we must provide for powder for the West and Peachey cannon and other "incendials" and have a burst when the final word comes even at the risk of being called "idiot" at that. The day of financial rejoicing cannot come too soon for the not of next of kin of the men overseas and the not indifferent element outside of these. And meanwhile let us remember that the men who held the line in past days—some of them now at home, many sleeping over there; and the women of work and weary vigil at home, are in line for recognition as well as the boys who are putting off the finishing touches. It will be a fitting time for the returned men to be assembled when this day of rejoicing comes it may be hours, days, perhaps weeks or months, but is not far distant. And the ever increasing number of battles over in front of the Courier

Miss Clara Hoax, is able to be a gain after successful measuring sword with the "flu," it will be remembered that Miss Hoax and Miss Clara Lawson were both obliged to leave the hospital staff through illness. Miss Lawson too is reported with precaution out of danger. There must be something in a name after all.

Douglas Jackson will be about in a few days. His was a severe and serious case.

War or no war the Bible Society collection is on his annual rounds and is being well received.

While the death rate in Simcoe for the past few weeks has been unusually high there has been some compensation. The last addition was the arrival of a son boarder at the home of Wm. G. Eatwell, 50 King street. The young fellow dropped in yesterday.

Contributions to the hospital fund are coming in liberally a Berton farmer sent a cheque for $25. The entire contribution will be acknowledged later.

WHY ARMISTICE WAS STIFF ONE

Italian Government Issues Statement Explaining the Situation

FOE MUST BEND HEAD

Indulgence Would Be Crime After the Repeated Insults

Rome, Nov. 3.—An official statement issued by the Italian Government shortly after the armistice was issued said:

"An officer of the Austrian general staff presented himself at the front of our lines bearing credentials and asked to discuss an armistice.

Gen. Diaz referred the question to Premier Orlando, who is now in Paris who, in turn, informed the inter-allied conference which discussed and defined the conditions upon which the armistice could be granted and charged Gen. Diaz in the name of the Governments of the allies, and the United States to communicate them to the Austrian white flag-bearers.

"The conditions of the armistice are explained by the principles of President Wilson, namely, to render impossible for the enemy to recommence war and prevent him from passing to an armistice so with-drawn from the difficult military situation. The condition of the battle along our front demonstrates the great value of these terms.

"As it is probable the Austro-Hungarian white flag bearers would wish to confer on the subject with their chiefs, it is supposed that the response may not be immediate.

"The Italian victory is hourly assuming such proportions that any kind of indulgence towards any enemy which, up to the last minutes of his dominion, has insulted our brethren devastated our lands and fought with the utmost ferocity, would be crime. Italy will not claim anything she is not entitled to but she claims that her victory places the enemy in the permanent and absolute impossibility of resuming the offensive.

"If the enemy lends his head he will have the time he is desperately invoking. Otherwise he will be compelled by force to surrender at the discretion of Italy after a defeat which is now evidently complete and irrevocable.

"From the sea to the mountains there are not three enemy army corps seeking safety in flight. The Italians are now over 100 kilometres beyond the Piave front. Any description of the details of the enemy would fall short of its reality. Up to the present the booty captured exceeds four billion lire, which is more than the invaders captured last year after Caporetto. All the roads to the Isonzo are now open.

"In the meantime, from the Sngana and the Adige Valleys Italian army corps are marching on the Trentino. After the occupation of Belluno throughout the upper valley of the Piave the whole mountain group of Cadore is bound to fall and is expected to fall in a few days. The third Italian army corps has reached Belluno and is now on the Tagliamento, while the enemy corps known as the army of the Isonzo, completely surrounded, is desperately trying to cross the river on the bridges at Latisana.

"Naval detachments have occupied the whole lagoon between Caorle and the mouth of the Tagliamento, protected by monitors armed with the heaviest artillery.

"In all the freed cities flags are flying and the population is greeting the victorious soldiers with great rejoicing. When the King of Italy entered Belluno, he was loudly and enthusiastically acclaimed."

AMERICANS TOOK OVER 4,000 CAPTIVES IN SUNDAY DRIVE

Number of Guns and Other Booty is Still Growing — American Forces Are Fighting Their Way Eastward on Bend in Aisne River — French Troops Co-operating in Offensive Movement.

By Courier Leased Wire.
With the American "army" north-west of Verdun, Sunday, Nov. 3.—(By the Associated Press)—American troops at five o'clock this evening had advanced their left flank north of Auzes, in close co-operation with the French forces which have been fighting their way eastward on the bend in the Aisne River. Further east American forces were in Auzes and their patrols were reported as far north as Briculles-sur-Bar.

In the centre of the line the village of Fosse was passed early in the day and then in quick succession Farcourt, Nouart, Le Champsy, Haute and Le Champy Bas were occupied by the Americans. The advance of General Pershing's troops have reached a little lake in the centre of Belval wood.

On the extreme right the Americans were north of Montigny-de-Vant-Sassey. From there the line ran to the Meuse River.

OVER 4,000 PRISONERS.
With the American Army north-west of Verdun, Sunday, Nov. 3, 7 p.m.—(By the Associated Press)—

More than four thousand prisoners were captured by the Americans in this sector to-day. The number guns and other booty is steadily growing. The right flank of the American line is now at Halles, on the heights overlooking the Meuse River. It has not been a day of fighting as much as of pursuit. The Germans are not retreating in great disorder and their withdrawal cannot be called a rout, but it is certain that the general staff and the field-officers have lost control to a certain extent.

All parts of the line were active during the night. The left wing continued its advance with little interruption even after darkness had fallen. The Americans reached Bout-aux-Bois at four o'clock this morning. Their patrols were at the heads of the retreating enemy who were heard leaving the northern end of the town by wagon and who had made their escape by the time the Americans had made their way through the town in the gloom.

There was some opposition, especially artillery fire and rearguard fighting at Barricourt and Nouart, but it was quickly swept away. After cleaning up Tilly last night, the Americans took Hill 238 and a little later occupied Les Pontenelles farm.

From the left flank to the right there are evidences that the German officers are trying to hold their men to their task, but reports from different sources agree that difficulties have arisen which the Germans have found impossible to overcome.

BELGIAN BATTLE FRONT.
Belgian Headquarters, Nov. 4.—(By the Associated Press)—In making a map of Flanders one must draw a straight line from Dixmude to Ypres. This line should be marked in red. It was along this front that the valiant soldiers of Belgium, under the leadership of their King began their onslaught to recover their native land after battling for four years to retain a tiny fragment of Belgium as their own.

It was along the centre of that line that the attack began on October 3. Three miles away stood Houthulst forest, the key to Roulers. This forest was the Belgian objective. (Continued on Page Three)

Wear Rubbers and Keep Fit

Get them NOW—so you'll be ready for bad weather.

A sick man, or a sick woman, slows up the whole machinery of business. If a man, his work is neglected. If a woman, her household is disarranged and the bread-winner of the family made less efficient by worry. Let's all stay well this winter, by wearing rubbers. Let's avoid the epidemics of colds, sore throats, grippe, pneumonia that upset business and homes in previous years.

THE WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS, AUTHOR OF "MARGARET GARRETT'S HUSBAND," AND OTHER NOTABLE STORIES.

Brian Takes Mollie to the Matinee.

CHAPTER LXV.

Notwithstanding Ruth's diplomacy as regarded her salary, Brian had not been easy to manage since it happened. At every opportunity he talked of it, accused Ruth of not caring for him because she earned twice as much as he did; and in every way made things very difficult for her.

It was not that he objected to sharing the comforts her salary enabled them to have; or the outings they, because of it, enjoyed. It was jealousy of her, her capacity to earn.

Ruth hoped he would ignore it after a few days, but in vain. He would say over and over that she earned twice as much as he did. And when she tried to change the tenor of his talk by saying his work was but preparatory to big things in the future, he would sneer, or else grow angry.

The week following her raise had consequently been a hard one. Ruth was worn out physically and mentally. So when Clara Roberts proposed they go to a matinee on Saturday afternoon, Ruth gladly agreed.

Clara had not mentioned her plan until after her husband and Brian had left. At first they spoke of calling them up and asking them to meet them at the theatre. Then Clara said:

"I know Kenyon will hate to lose a half day. Let's go by ourselves this time. We'll be at home before they are."

Ruth reluctantly agreed. She well knew that Brian would not hesitate to leave the office had she called him. Yet she also felt that she should not interfere with his business hours.

They were a bit late and the curtain was up, the play commenced, before they found their seats.

During the intermission they amused themselves by looking around the house, making comments about the way people were dressed, admiring this one, and finding fault with another with some one else.

Suddenly Ruth saw Clara start. She followed her gaze, and, yes, it looked like—it was Brian and Mollie King. The curtain just then rose on the second act, leaving the house in darkness, much to Ruth's relief.

Clara never had met Mollie. But what would she think? Ruth felt sure Brian had asked Mollie to the matinee because of the mood he had been in all the week. "Probably she lunched with him too," she thought bitterly. Then, "had I called him up, I should have known."

Clara pretended to be absorbed in the play, but Ruth felt sure she was surreptitiously watching her—and also Brian. She saw nothing of what was on the stage, heard nothing of what was said. Her mind was so intent upon finding some way to explain things to Clara Roberts; some excuse for Brian.

But even when the curtain finally rung down on the second act, she had arrived at no decision. She looked at the program and saw the wait was to be a long one. Would Brian go out to smoke? If he did should she follow him? Clara tried to appear unconscious and to chatter as usual, but Ruth realized that it was trying, and that it was an effort. Watching her closely, she saw her eyes turn toward Brian and Mollie, seemingly unable to avoid doing so.

In desperation Ruth finally said:

"Why, I believe that's Brian over there with Mollie. King, a great friend of mine. We will wait for them. I should like you to meet her."

"That will be nice. She's very pretty," Clara answered, not at all deceived by Ruth's brave attempt to carry off an uncomfortable situation. The last act was short. Brian and Mollie were nearer the stage than were Ruth and Clara, so they waited at the back of the house until they came along.

"Hello, Brian!" Ruth said brightly, causing him to turn a startled face in her direction, then to flush deeply. "How do you do, Miss King?" was the play delightedly then, without waiting for a reply from either, she presented Mrs. Roberts to Mollie.

"I was going to phone you, Brian, that we were also to be at the theatre, but didn't get time," she bravely prevaricated. "We might have all sat together."

"I'll leave you now," Mollie King said when they reached the street. Ruth was about to tell Brian to accompany her to the car or stage, but she concluded she had been patient enough, so she said instead:

"Good bye, Miss King; come on Brian, take Mrs. Roberts and me home in the stage."

Brian halted a stage, they got in. Repeating her rudeness, Ruth called: "Come and see us soon, Miss King!" but Mollie either did not hear or scorned to answer. (To be Continued.)

The Only Way!

IF WE FAIL to keep our switchboards, our pole lines, our complete system at the highest point of efficiency—if we are unable, through lack of funds, to build new lines and install new equipment to meet the legitimate needs of the community, then not only the country's war efforts while the conflict lasts, but its work of reconstruction when the fight is over, must suffer.

Unless we can charge such rates for service as will earn a fair return on the money our shareholders have entrusted to us, then further capital for needed extensions will be difficult, if not impossible to secure.

These are simple, basic facts that apply to all utilities, but with special force to telephone service.

For the past four years our earnings have averaged only 5.6 per cent. on our investment.

Is there any other means of meeting increased costs than to ask for authority to charge fair rates for our service? We believe there is no other.

BERLIN STREETS FULL OF CRIPPLES

No Food in Shops and Even Substitutes Are Falling Very Short

London, Nov. 3.—A despatch to the Daily Chronicle from Amsterdam says that private actors in Germany declare the announcement of the abdication of the Kaiser to be a matter of days. It is learned that in the Reichstag and in financial circles it is regarded as certain he will go.

The Berlin correspondent of the Berlingske Tidende in Copenhagen gives under the heading, "Worn Out," a tragic picture of present conditions in the German capital. He says the streets are full of overflowing with war cripples and that the people can no longer endure the sight of so much suffering.

There is no food in the shops and even chemical substitutes are falling short. All electrical installations are in decay, the tram cars are falling to pieces, and the asphalt streets are being torn up and destroyed by steel tires which have taken the place of rubber on motor cars. Many women, formerly rich and moving in high society, are now compelled to earn their living as tram-car conductors.

tive, when it was taken, Roulers fell. Then Ostend and Zebrugge were freed and for days past the enemy has been fighting desperately on a line 40 miles away from the Yser to gain time to remove his materials from Ghent before being compelled to abandon the city.

Houthulst forest has been converted into a tremendous fortress by the Germans. It was the pivot of the whole line between Armentieres and Nieuport, innumerable redoubts, dugouts and concrete blockhouses were constructed and along every road traversing the forest there are doors leading to subterranean shelters, making the whole area resemble a city of cave dwellers. At every cross-road were signs bearing inscriptions such as "Friedrichstrasse, Wilhelmstrasse," etc. At every cross-road, also, were four little offensive looking green boxes. Upon approaching these boxes, however, one notices ugly deathhead signs, with the word "danger" painted conspicuously. These boxes contained forty pounds of high explosives. They were timed by the Belgian dwellers to explode when the Belgian soldiers entered the forest, but the Belgians arrived sooner than anticipated and broke the percussion caps from the mines just as they have broken the hearts of the men who set them. The mines remain there as mute evidence of the German "peaceful and voluntary evacuation of Belgium." More than one million shells of all calibres and numerous guns along the roads in the forest. The Belgians planned the battle admirably. One wing advanced from Dixmude and Merckem across inundated fields checkered with shell holes. The other wing moved from Ypres and Bischoffville. They joined north of the forest at three days of terrific fighting. Then the forest was entered by Flemish troops, many of whom were battling within the shadow of the ruins of their own homes. Cold steel played a large part in clearing up the forest, yet some thousands of prisoners were captured there.

FIRE IN ABBATOIR By Courier Leased Wire Montreal, Nov. 4.—Considerable damage was done by fire of unknown origin early yesterday morning at the Montreal Abattoirs plant, where a large shed containing horses and skins was destroyed. The alarm was given by the automatic sprinkler, and when the firemen arrived there was no one to show them where the fire was, and it was some time before they saw the flames cutting through the roof of the building. The long wooden structure was ready doomed, and as there was danger that surrounding buildings would catch fire, a second alarm was turned in.

It was nearly an hour before the flames were finally under control.

THE SITUATION.
 The overshadowing fact in connection with the war news is the circumstance that Austro-Hungary has made an unconditional surrender. All the indications had for some days been pointing in this direction, but the official announcement serves to put the final seal of certitude upon the expected. And not alone does the dual kingdom thus have to acknowledge an unmitigated defeat, but also she is face to face with the dismemberment of her own empire. In addition to national humiliation, this is her share for wantonly helping to plunge humanity into the bloodiest of all wars.

And what of Germany?
 Deserted by her three dupes, Bulgaria, Turkey and Austria, she will alone have to bear the sole brunt of any continued conflict. Will she continue? The peace terms which without any doubt she will be called upon to swallow, will be such as to render her impotent for future mischief, and the Kaiser and his war lords will be quite apt to desire to die hard. If so and the people can be cajoled into fighting to the extent of repelling an invasion of their own land the struggle may yet be prolonged for a considerable period. But can they be so cajoled? Many indications of war weary unrest in the Fatherland have long been apparent even to the extent of a demonstration before the Royal Palace at Stuttgart and cries of "Down with William." If this sort of thing should spread then the All Highest and his associates will speedily find themselves forced to yield to the inevitable, instead of attempting to delay the certain outcome.
 Meanwhile the Allied troops on the Western front are giving the enemy no rest and in Belgium and Northern France they are being forced back under a continued pressure which they are finding themselves quite unable to withstand at any point.

ALONE.
 Germany now stands alone.
 In all her broken pledges.
 In all her moral turpitudes.
 In all her treatment of solemn treaties as "scraps of paper."
 In all her latest crimes.
 In all her wrecking of the homes in Belgium, northern France and Roumania.
 In all her outrages upon girlhood and womanhood.
 In all her slaughter of the feeble and the aged.
 In all her wanton destruction of world famed cathedrals.
 In all her violations of the code of modern warfare.
 In all her ruthless murder of women and children in the sinking of passenger ships.
 In all her cruel bombing of open towns.
 In all her fiendish marring of the adjuncts of the field.
 In all her dragging of free people into slavery.
 In all her mutilation of soldier-prisoners and placing captured civilians at work under fire.
 In all her loathsomeness and perfidy and deviousness Germany now stands alone, unabashed and unashamed.

TWO CONTRASTS.
 One of the most notable books which has thus far been issued in connection with the war and for a copy of which The Courier has to thank the publishers, Cassell and Company, is "Dr. Muehlson's Diary." This gentleman was a director of Krupp when war broke out and in receipt of a salary of $100,000 a year. In his official capacity he knew all the facts about Germany's guilt and was employed by Berlin in negotiations with Roumania before that country became a belligerent. When he commenced to express his views it was sought to silence him by the offer of the Krupp Presidency, but he resigned and left for Switzerland and has since authorized the publication of the Diary, which he kept from the commencement of hostilities. His statements confirm to the full the previous assertions of Prince Lichnowsky, Ambassador of England, that Germany incited the war.

The volume is full of interesting disclosures, but two illustrations will suffice.
 In view of the drastic terms which Turkey has now gulped down it is interesting to quote from the Diary that on September 5th, 1914, Muehlson had a conversation with two Turkish officers evidently on a mission to the Fatherland, in which they expressed pleasure over the world war because it would enable Turkey to re-establish her sovereignty over Islam. "They considered the situation excellent; the Sublime Porte was at one with Germany and waiting for the sign to begin. The Turkish fleet would, under German leadership, first settle accounts in the Black Sea. They had got into touch with Persia, Afghanistan, and the Mohammedan population of India. A perfect understanding existed with the Arab Sheikhs, who at a sign from the Caliph would break into the English districts. At Damascus an army was being formed which would march into Egypt. A general rising in all countries linked by religion with the Sultan would put an end to English domination."
 So much for what the Turks were to accomplish.
 Now for illustration number two. Within the last few hours the bankers and business men of Germany have urged the government to make peace, yet Muehlson's Diary shows that at the inception they were all for hostilities. He records that he was present at a "most confidential gathering" of leading manufacturers and that one gentleman "hotly maintained" that Belgium must be annexed at once with the appropriation by Germany "of all the more important industrial and private businesses." Another exclaimed, "We ought to make France, Belgium and Holland dependent upon us by drastic treaties to secure exclusive advantages for ourselves by tariff arrangements and to demand the French mineral districts as part of the war indemnity."

 Quite a change from such sentiments and the present spectacle of these self-same brigands urging the authorities to call off hostilities.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.
 In the language of the Irishman the Hymn of Hate has now become the Hymn of "Bate."
 Austria is the last groggy one to go down for the count and the Hun hears the cry, out in the offing, of "next."
 With all her propt sons Germany will soon be floundering in the blood-stained mire of her own creation. "The Day" to the Hun has become the night.

What has Britain done? Kept the faith and fought the right; for the everlasting right; Chivalrously couched her lance; In defence of Belgium, France. This has Britain done!

What has Britain done?

Answers every far-flung breeze; Blown across the Seven Seas; "Watch and ward secure we keep; Vigilance that never sleeps." This has Britain done!

What has Britain done?

On every front, her flag unfurled; Fought a world-war round the world; Then, when all is said and done, Ask her allies, ask the Hun, "What has Britain done?"

What has Britain done?

For her slain Britannia weeps She might boast who silence keeps. But, when all is done and said, Call her roll and count her dead. And know what she has done.

 French Papers Say That the Official Announcement is Withheld

GREAT STRUGGLE ON
 Forces That Caused the War Want Him to Defy Parliament

Paris, Nov. 3.—In heavy type the Temps to-day prints the following under a Geneva date:
 "Abdication of William II. may be considered as an accomplished fact. Official publication is delayed for an opportune moment."
 "There can be no doubt," says the Temps, "that a great struggle is going on around the German Emperor's person between the influences which caused the war and wish to maintain the old regime and the partisans of a new regime, more or less democratic, and of a peace for the purpose of repairing Germany's future strength."
 "By returning to General Headquarters Emperor William seemed to show clearly that his supreme desire was not to abdicate. So the Emperor's recent prescript promises cooperation, not his resignation. But parliamentary exigencies press upon him, even amidst his staff which exhorts him not to yield. Submission is not sufficient, he is summoned with more or less dereliction to resign."
 The German propaganda service cites the Vorwaerts of Berlin as confirming the report that Philipp Scheidemann, the Socialist leader in the Reichstag, and member without portfolio in the German Cabinet, had addressed to Prince Maximilian of Baden, the Imperial Chancellor, a memorandum on the necessity of the retirement of Emperor William. The step was taken, it is added, after an agreement had been reached by the presidents of the Reichstag parties.

Soldiers Want to Go Home.
 The Cologne Gazette prints a message from Frankfurt in which the sender says he found deep discontent among furloughed soldiers belonging to various army groups from different points in the fighting area. The writer, who apparently is an adherent of the old regime, says he vainly endeavored to bring the men to his viewpoint, but that he found they were quite positive about the Government having misled the country regarding the chances of peace in 1918.
 "What surprised me most," he says, "is their unanimity regarding this point."
 The Amsterdam Telegraaf correspondent on the frontier reports that desperate efforts are being made to conceal the true position of Germany from the soldiers, but he adds they are beginning to see the truth and are refusing to believe what the officers tell them. The correspondent thinks nothing much can be done with men whose only wish is to spend Christmas at home.

German Women Demand Peace.
 Immediate peace is demanded in manifestos published by German Socialist newspapers from labor and Socialist organizations and feminist groups throughout the Empire. The last-named groups, in their statement, say the German women will take every means of opposing the continuation of the war.
Bankers Demand Peace.
 German banking and commercial men, after a meeting, have sent the Government a declaration in favor of acceptance of the Entente's armistice conditions, according to the German papers.
 The declaration presents an argument against those who hope for an improvement of the situation from a continuance of the war, and demands measures for facilitating peace even if sacrifices are required.

GERMAN REFUGEES BARRED BY HOLLAND
 Amsterdam, Nov. 3.—German authorities have been notified by the Dutch Government that after to-day no refugees will be permitted to cross the Belgian-Netherlands frontier.

INFLUENZA SITUATION IMPROVING

Board of Education Hopes to be Able to Open the Schools Next Week

The city schools will open on Monday next, unless unforeseen conditions arise. Meanwhile, J. W. Shepperson, chairman of the Board of Education, announced to-day. The first night classes at the Collegiate Institute will be held on Tuesday of the same week. It is expected that the Board of Health will consent to this arrangement.
 The churches of the city were open for the first time in four weeks yesterday morning and all of them special prayer for relief from the epidemic was offered up. Congregations in most cases were smaller than under normal conditions, but as large as could be expected in view of the extent to which the epidemic still exists in the city.

T. J. Minnes, chairman of the Board of Health, and Dr. N. W. Bragg, M.H.O., both stated at noon to-day that the general situation here had considerably improved during the week-end. When the Board of Health meets to-morrow night a decision on the lifting of its ban on public meetings may be set. It is thought possible that the theatres may be allowed to open the first of next week.
 There were only 51 cases at the Emergency Hospital to-day. Conditions there are decidedly better. The following patients have been discharged:
 Roy and Minnie Banks, 164 Alice street.
 John Innis, 157 St. Paul's avenue.
 Helen Webster, 340 St. Paul's avenue.
 John Wicon, 23 Lawrence street.
 Albert Hopkins, 210 Wellington street.
 Teddie Pash, Grey street.

BIG NIGHT WEDNESDAY
 Victory Loan Rally Will Also Be Celebrated For War News

When the monster mass meeting is held Wednesday night, Brantford is going to make a noise that will shake the Kaiser—if he's still alive, shake his shoes. The rally will take the joint form of a Victory Loan meeting and a celebration of the allied victories already attained and those others which are imminent. A parade will start from the market, and pass through the central streets of the city, winding up at the armories, where a programme of speeches will be rendered. T. W. McGarry, provincial treasurer, and Mr. Hugh MacBride, of Buffalo, will be the principal speakers of the evening. Motion pictures will also be shown. The city council is co-operating with the Victory Loan publicity committee in arranging for the celebration. Three bands will be in attendance, including a band from Hamilton. A display of fireworks will be another feature of the celebration. A. K. Bunnell, county chairman of the Victory Loan, and Mr. W. G. Raymond will speak in addition to Messrs McGarry and Howie.

The Canadian Victory Loan MacBride and Sgt. Chas. Bisset were the speakers of the evening, both delivering forceful appeals which were far from being long on the ground.
 A huge float, loaned by the Whitaker Baking Company and C. J. Mitchell, paraded the streets after-noon and evening. On it were a party of public school children with a kettle drum, and a yehemany piper who bawled things through a megaphone in a voice that would have put Billy Sunday to shame.

CHURCHES REOPEN IN SEVERAL TOWNS

Many Deaths Due to the Spanish Influenza Still Reported

THEATRES TO OPEN
More Doctors and Nurses Succumb to the Epidemic

London, Ont., Nov. 3.—London churches re-opened to-day, and to-morrow theatres will be permitted to resume the performances, notwithstanding the fact that Spanish influenza continues to take a certain toll daily. Herbert Piper, aged 11 years, whose mother died a few days ago, was the first to be reported as alone awaiting the home-coming of her father, Pte. Charles Piper, succumbed to-day in Maitland Street Emergency Hospital. The deaths of James Stapleton and Mrs. Ruth Gilbert, the latter a member of St. John's Ambulance Association, mark the passing of two who rendered noble service in combating the disease. Dr. Stapleton, who was one of London's younger physicians, has been in a critical condition for several days, and his death was not unexpected. Mrs. Gilbert contracted the disease while waiting upon the members of the Welch family, of Ealing, four of whom died of influenza.
 Other deaths reported over the week-end included Mrs. Murday, of Oxford street; Miss Bertha A. Cluett, formerly of London, a nurse in training at Saskatoon; James D. Grey, aged 28, a native-born and former resident of St. Thomas, died of influenza Saturday in Detroit, aged 33 years. His widow and young son survive.
 Mrs. M. Robinson, wife of Michigan Central Brakesman Robinson, died this morning of pneumonia following influenza, aged 27 years.

SCHOOLS RE-OPEN
 Port Colborne, Ont., Nov. 3.—The ban was lifted here to-day, the churches being re-opened, and to-morrow the schools and theatres will also re-open after being closed for three weeks. No new cases of the influenza are reported.

 their homes. One party from Douai and another from Amiens, led by a priest from the latter town, entered Breda. They had been wandering for two months through Belgium and several had died. Forty-one of the party were sick when they arrived and were taken to hospital. At all points along the frontier Dutch soldiers have helped in carrying children and assisting the aged and infirm to temporary shelters. After being given food and resting for some time, they have been placed on trains and sent to points inland ready for their reception.
 Members of German frontier guard attempted to drag back from Dutch territory, some refugees who slipped through in a crowd of the posts of entry. They were set upon by irritated Dutch spectators and chased back across the frontier.

 They shall have the right of requisition on payment for the troops of the associated powers (wherever?) they may be.
 (5) Complete evacuation of all German troops within fifteen days, not only from the Italian and Balkan fronts, but from all Austro-Hungarian territory. Internment of all German troops which have not left Austro-Hungary within the date.
 (6) The administration of the evacuated territories of Austria-Hungary will be entrusted to the local authorities under the control of the allied armies of occupation.
 (7) Immediate repatriation, without reciprocity of all Allied prisoners of war and interned subjects of civil population, removed from their homes on conditions to be laid down by the commander-in-chief of the associated powers on the various fronts. GERMAN SUBMARINES IRON-CLAD CRUISERS
 Copenhagen, Nov. 3.—The Ribbe, Skiffs Tidende, says it learns that German engineers have constructed submarines as iron-clad cruisers. They are 340 feet long and of about 2,000 tons. The vessels carry 80 men in their crew, and are armed with 25 torpedoes, two 15-centimetre guns with 2,000 shells, and two 8.8 centimetre guns.

 Kingston, Nov. 3.—The Collingwood Shipbuilding Company, of this city, has been awarded the contract for building a new steel ship of 3,750 tons for the Dominion Government.

Peace and Victory Bonds
 Never again (in our life time) will there be an opportunity to invest in Government Bonds yielding 5 1/2%. There can scarcely be any doubt but that the present War Loan will be the last of its kind to be issued by the Canadian Government. It naturally follows, therefore, that Victory Bonds paying as they do, 5% per cent, will become increasingly attractive and profitable.
 Putting patriotism aside (for the moment) the present situation offers a rare chance to make money with perfect safety. He who buys Victory Bonds to-day will be able before a great while to dispose of his holdings above par and the 15 year Bonds especially, will yield a large profit, if one wants to sell them later on. Americans as well as Canadians are appreciating this point.
 With the end of the war in sight, everybody should buy Victory Bonds to the limit. Without hesitation, we recommend the purchase of Victory Bonds purely for personal profit. But there are other reasons.

Mr. R. A. Fringle, K. C., the Paper Controller of Canada, has issued an order, effective January 1, 1919, which says:
 "2. Discontinue sending paper within three months after date of expiration of subscription, unless the subscription is renewed and paid for."
 There are many other restrictions imposed, but this one is the most important. Therefore, between now and the end of the year The Courier's subscription list must be overhauled and put on a paid-in-advance basis, in order to comply with a governmental order.
 Accounts have already been sent out to those in arrears, but subscribers do not need to wait for a "dun" to spur them to action. The date on the label affixed to the paper sent to mail subscribers tells the story. City subscribers can learn how their subscription stands by referring to their last receipt.
 The reason for this regulation of the Paper Controller is that it is the practice of some publishers to send their newspaper until ordered stopped, and this practice frequently means a failure to collect anything for subscriptions in arrears, in which case there is a virtual waste of paper. It is to prevent paper waste that the new regulation has been decided on.
 The manufacture of paper consumes labor, wood, coal, chemicals and transportation facilities, and every ton of paper saved means just so much labor, raw materials, chemicals, fuel and transportation available for urgent war needs. For these reasons the Government insists that paper shall be saved, and proposes that only those who pay for their publications shall receive them.
 Under these regulations The Courier will have no choice in the matter of dealing with subscriptions in arrears for over three months.
 Send in your subscription at once. Do not delay the collectors call regularly on city subscribers. Keep your account up-to-date.

FRENCH AND AMERICANS CLEAR ARGONNE REGION OF THE ENEMY

Numerous Villages and Important Positions and Thousands of Prisoners Captured in the Fighting of the Past 48 Hours

Paris, Nov. 4.—The Argonne region has been cleared of the enemy by the French and American forces, the War Office announces to-day. Numerous villages and important positions were captured in the fighting of Saturday and Sunday.

Gen. Gouraud resumed his drive between the Aisne and the Meuse Saturday with the American 1st army under Gen. Liggett co-operating.

After preparing the ground by a number of local actions the offensive was begun on a 10 mile front on either side of Vouziers and excellent progress was effected from the start in this difficult country, hilly and wooded and intersected by innumerable streamlets.

The statement says:

"The prolonged battle fought in the Argonne by our 4th army in conjunction with the American army has terminated in a complete success for our arms. The enemy, who had stubbornly defended the passage of the Aisne, then clung desperately to the wooded heights where he found excellent natural defence, has seen his resistance give way under our victorious efforts.

"With admirable élan our troops have occupied after a severe struggle the village of Toges, Belleville, Quatre Champs, Noiral, Les Alleux and Châtillon-sur-Bar. Pushing beyond in a northerly direction they have completely occupied the Voncq and Chesne Woods, the northern outskirts of which they hold.

"The enemy rearguards have everywhere been overthrown. The liberation of the Argonne is an accomplished fact. The prisoners and supplies taken have not yet been counted."

Between Grand Pré and the Meuse the Americans pushed ahead seven miles on Saturday and won the heights which dominate Buzancy, an important centre of the enemy communications. On the other wing Gen. Gouraud reached the approaches to the Ardennes Canal between Attigny and Le Chesne, tending to outflank Rethel from the east, while the French 5th army began to outflank it to the north-west of Chateau-Porte.

The fighting was continued throughout Saturday night and Sunday, progress being made at all points, and by Sunday afternoon the whole forest region was cleared of the invaders.

In Full Retreat

American aviators late to-day reported that the Germans to the east of the Meuse appeared to be in full retreat. The aviators' messages said that roads running northward were packed with troops, artillery and trucks.

More than 60 cannon, scores of 77's, dozens of 150's, numerous howitzers of various calibres, and hundreds of machine guns were captured by the Americans during the advance. Vast quantities of ammunition and war material of all kinds fell into their hands.

VILLAGE TAKEN.

By Courier Leased Wire.

With the American Army north-west of Verdun, Sunday, Nov. 3.—The village of Le Champ was taken early this morning, marking an advance of five miles northward from Bayonville. The Americans did not stop there, but pressed on.

One division, which on Saturday captured 79 officers and 2,170 men, sixty machine guns and twelve guns of 77 calibre, was reported to-day to have largely increased its booty.

The troops on the right, like those on the left and centre, also continued to move forward, though less rapidly than the others. The heights between the Meuse and the heights north of Clerly-Petit were reached at noon. When the Americans occupied the height it was seen that the Germans had evacuated the region immediately to the north.

The following Regulations, recently approved by the Governor General in Council, impose strict obligations upon every employer TO ASSURE HIMSELF THAT EACH OF HIS EMPLOYEES OF MILITARY AGE AND DESCRIPTION IS IN POSSESSION OF DOCUMENTS PROVING THAT HE IS NOT IN ANY WAY IN DEFAULT UNDER THE MILITARY SERVICE ACT.

An employer who is charged with having a defaulter in his employ must be able to prove THAT THE MILITARY SERVICE PAPERS ISSUED BY THE REGISTRAR OR MILITARY AUTHORITIES TO THE EMPLOYEE IN QUESTION WERE PRODUCED FOR HIS INSPECTION at the time when the employee was taken into his employment, and that it was reasonably established to his satisfaction that the man was not in default under the Military Service Act. It should be clearly understood that the Canadian Registration Certificates given on June 22, 1918, at the time of general registration, in no way define the status of a man under the Military Service Act.

Germany Has Great Man Power

SOMEBODY is always taking the joy out of life, according to Briggs, the cartoonist, and we observe that every time the Allies make a plunge forward and take a few thousand prisoners and a few square miles of territory from the Germans, some military expert is on hand to warn us against undue elation. We despise such advice, and act on the theory that when there is an excuse to cheer we ought to rise up on our hind legs and cheer. We do not suppose that the British soldiers, for instance, will refrain from cheering when they occupy captured towns just because it does not happen to be Berlin. By turning loose a few hearty cheers now they do not necessarily incapacitate themselves from cheering later on. Some people talk as though we had just a certain number of cheers to emit in the course of a lifetime, and that if they are used up, we shall have any by us to fall back upon in riper years when there is more need for them. We maintain that the present is the time to fight, and that a loyal subject can outcheer himself just now.

Having this gone on record we can afford to listen with due respect to what Andre Cheradame says on the subject of German man-power in the New York Times. Mr. Cheradame is an expert, but being rather uncertain as to whether he is an expert on international affairs, military matters or politics, we shall simply introduce him as an expert Frenchman. He says that the Allies have greatly underestimated Germany's man-power, and equally over-estimated her permanent war losses. He is of opinion that the war cannot end by mere attrition, for however long the war lasts, Germany will not be bled white. In fact, according to his calculations, no nation can be bled white, for he reasons, rather paradoxically, that the longer the war lasts the longer the nations engaged in it can continue to fight, because of the natural increase of population. For instance, if the war should last another ten years the children in Germany between the ages of six and sixteen will grow into soldiers.

Cheradame insists that the reason such critics as Belloe and Repington have made mistakes as to the exhaustion of German man-power is because they have taken account of the fresh soldiers that are constantly being added to the German army by the calling up of new classes. He strikes us as being rather unfair to Col. Repington who he recalls that in January, 1916, the English expert said that some time in that year the Germans would not be able to furnish reserves to fill up the holes made by the assaults of the Allies. Every calculation made about the war before the Russian collapse was necessarily falsified by the Russian desertion, and there can be not the slightest doubt that if Russia had continued to fight as stoutly as the Allies whom she betrayed, the war would now be over. If, early in 1917, anyone had dared to make forecasts of the war based on the supposition that Russia would sign the Brest-Litovsk treaty he would have been arrested as a traitor.

M. Cheradame says that practically all the soldiers taken to his way of calculating, the German armies have been based on the assumption that the German population is 68,000,000, and, while this may have been the population in 1914, the population in 1918 is probably 70,000,000. At this point it might be mentioned that a short while ago a writer declared that for years Germany had been conducting her population with the purpose of decreasing Europe as to her military strength and that the real population was several millions more than announced. The French writer does not make this point, but he calculates that for the four years of war there have been drafted into the German army from 733,000 to 754,000 men annually, making a total of nearly 3,000,000 soldiers who have come of military age since 1914.

He does not believe that German losses have been exaggerated and sets them down as 5,300,000 up to the first of last June, and arriving at the conclusion that the mobilized forces of Germany were about 13,600,000, but that most calculators make the mistake of subtracting the former figure from the latter and arriving at the conclusion that Germany has left only 8,300,000, whereas to this figure ought to be added the 3,000,000 men who have become soldiers since 1914. He says that there are 11,000,000 soldiers of whom there are 7,000,000 on the western front. This leaves only 4,000,000 for operations in Russia, in Turkey and for assuring the security of German communications over immense territories which the Germans occupy and which are inhabited by hostile populations. The point which he desires to make is that 4,000,000 are not enough for this purpose, and that it would be good policy for the Allies not to concentrate upon the western front, but to attack on other fronts as well, where Germany is not so strong. At present, when things are going so well on the western front, it is not likely that M. Cheradame will be able to convince many of the soundness of his strategy whatever they may think about the accuracy of his figures.

Shakespearean Question.

One of his characters in "Twelfth Night" says, "But I am a great eater of beef, and I believe that it does harm to my wit," has caused the claim to be set up that Shakespeare was a fishmonger on the side.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

To The Editor of The Courier

A NOTE OF SYMPATHY FROM REV. LLEWELLYN BROWN

To the Editor

It has been with deep regret that I have heard of the many in the home city who have been stricken by this great plague that is passing over the land. Brantford has surely suffered very severely, and there are words of the poet were never more potent than just now.

"There is no flock—howsoever tended,
But one dead lamb is there,
There is no fireside, howsoever defended,
But has its vacant chair."

The war and the epidemic have surely joined hands to ravage the home and great has been their toll. In a large city like this you know less of what is going on about you than there is a wide effort on the part of the officials to keep back facts that would only tend to panic and despair. But ministers and undertakers know something on the inside of the ravages this awful plague is making. Last Monday I was conducting the funeral of a bright young business man of 30 years in one of the old cemeteries here. It was dusk when we buried him, and the man in charge of the cemetery said to me: "This is my 32nd to-day; we had 22 on Saturday and a R. C. cemetery had a record of 70 as they have fewer cemeteries than the Protestants. I went to a house early in the morning Monday last where a little girl of 8 years lay dead. While there the undertaker told of a case he had in Highland Park, a part of Detroit, where in one family 7 lay dead at one time, and all died within three hours of each other. Now all are required to bury within 24 hours of death; all funerals are supposed to be private. There are signs that the epidemic here is on the wane, fewer are taking it while more are dying of it, as those who are dying in many cases have had it for some time. The victims here seem to be between 20 and 40, the children and older ones seem to escape it more than the others named. The churches have been closed for two Sundays and will be closed next Sunday, Nov. 3rd, but we have the promise of services for Nov. 10, unless the epidemic increases in the meantime. The schools will open on Monday next. The 3000 teachers here did splendid service as nurses of the most needy and found many families almost helpless without food or fuel, or care of any kind. In many cases all in the house were stricken. The merchants here have suffered greatly through the epidemic, as the hours for doing business have been cut down, and the fears of contracting the disease have kept many at home who otherwise would have gone shopping. The loss to the churches has also been great, but our loss is not to be compared with the many whose loss is beyond all telling. There is a great dumbness that comes over one as we ponder on such a disaster as this. We know not what to say, and so it has been to say little. All things work together for good to them that love God" is a good verse for a day of adversity, and has been the source of many these days. I am often surprised how people bear up as well as they do under such sudden and terrible grief, but we are given strength for the burden we have to bear. To the many whom I knew so well and love so dearly in Brantford who have suffered the loss of their loved ones, I extend my deepest sympathy, and wish it were in my power to say a word of comfort to you personally. The ministers have done well their part. Their messages of good cheer have been most timely and are surely appreciated. The great cloud of witnesses is growing every day, and we know not who may be called next. The hope of the Christian of re-union and recognition beyond is the only thing that cheers us up and on as we think of our company which have gone before.

"They shall be mine, they as on earth we knew them.
The lips we kissed, the hands we loved to press,
Only a fuller life is circling through them,
Unfading bliss, unchanging loveless-ness."

Sincerely yours,
LLEWELLYN BROWN,
The Study,

Detroit, Mich.

CAUSED PANIC AMONG ENEMY

268 French Bombing Machines Make Attack on German Troops

Paris, Nov. 4.—The official statement on aerial operations Saturday night said:

"On November 1 our air squadrons fighting in conjunction with the troops on the ground gave important co-operation in the various regions on the front, where they carried out attacks both in Flanders and before the 4th army. Aerial observers, flying without respite over the enemy lines under protection of our pursuit machines, marked the advance of our infantry, regulated artillery fire on objectives on the field of battle and carried out numerous reconnaissances behind the enemy front.

"Two of the reconnaissances reached more than 74 miles into the enemy lines and enabled the exploration of the Province of Namur. At the same time great activity among troops and convoys was reported behind the front in the zone of the attack by our 4th army and the American army. In the region of Le Chesne, Tannay and Noiral several bombing operations were carried out. Dirigibles and airplanes to the number of 148, went out in successive groups, accompanied by combat planes numbering 120.

"Our bombing squadrons dropped 39,600 kilograms of projectiles from a low altitude and fired tens of thousands of rounds from their machine guns. Conditions approaching a panic developed among enemy troops, who were dispersed, but not before they had suffered heavy losses. The convoys and assemblages of enemy forces were also bombarded. Seventeen enemy airplanes were shot down or driven to the earth out of control. One captive balloon was destroyed.

"During the night 29,850 kilograms of projectiles were dropped by our bombing planes upon the more active stations of the enemy, particularly those at Verines, Mont Cornet, Hirson, Mezieres, Terton and Wasigny."

On Flanders Front

The Belgian official report said: "During the past three days combat formations of allied airplanes have rivalled in audacity the work of the fighting forces. They have absolute control of the air and have bombarded and machine-gunned retreating German troops and convoys, railroad stations and roads of communications behind the German front. German patrol machines have attempted to break through the allied barrier but have lost in many instances. British aviators have obtained remarkable results in this fighting."

Norman importation of anthracite coal to the head of the lakes is about half a million tons. Out of the 275,000 tons allotted, Western Ontario is allotted 70,000 tons, leaving 205,000 tons of anthracite available for distribution in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Emperor William has written to Prince Maximilian of Baden, the imperial chancellor, promising co-operation in the development of constitutional reforms. It is pointed out, however, that no word has been said by him relative to abdication.

If this boy were your boy

If you had a boy in France to-day, you would make your purchase of Victory Bonds large enough to represent a real personal sacrifice.

You would be thinking of that lad—out in the hell on earth that is No Man's Land—cheerfully offering his life for Freedom's cause. And you would do your best to save that life.

You would help—with all your might—to provide the money that will shorten the war and reduce the cost of Victory, in human lives.

You would buy all the Victory Bonds you could possibly find the money for—and you would find it by stinting yourself down to the barest necessities of life.

Come—share in the glory of those whose lads are in France to-day. Dig deep into your income—as the kin of soldiers dig into theirs—to buy the Victory Bonds that will carry our armies on to Victory, and give us back our boys.

MOVIE ARTISTS FOR VICTORY LOAN Part of Campaign of Education of Dominion Publicity Committee

Fifteen of the world's greatest motion picture stars have already contributed their services to the second Victory Loan in Canada and have made 15 pictures which will be distributed through the Motion Picture Distributing Committee at the request of the Dominion Publicity Committee. Mary Pickford will appear in "100 per cent Canadian." Douglas Fairbanks will present "The Maple Leaf Forever." Elsie Ferguson will be seen in "The Spirit that Wins." Dorothy Dalton stars in "A Victory Loan Appeal" and similar titles have been given the pictures contributed by "Fatty" Arbuckle and D. W. Griffith.

William Hart does his bit in "A Bullet for Berlin"—sounds just like big Bill—while Wallace Reid will give "His Extra Bit." Lillian Gish is to present "The Invasion" and a Mack Sennett Comedy in entitled "It's a Clutch." "If this happened to you would you buy bonds?" is the question Norma Talmadge asks in her Victory Loan vehicle, but Geraldine Farrar has a unique presentation entitled "The Tie that Bonds." Ever popular William Farnum is to be seen in "A Mother's Heart" and Corinne Griffiths in "A Wise Purpose."

But this is only one feature worked out by the Dominion Publicity Committee. There are many more it would seem as though any and every means is to be employed to bring the importance of the loan right to the hearts of the people. No stone is being left unturned and if a man is not reached at the theatre, on the street car, from the newspaper or the pulpit, he is sure to be found out in some other original way. There is no escape.

It is interesting to see the money go to Ottawa, from there to a lumber camp up north where spruce is being cut for use in airplanes, then to food and clothing, then from the storekeeper back to the wholesaler and from the wholesaler to the clerk—right back to the man who gave it first.

CAUSED HOME TO BE UNFIT FOR A CHILD. Galt, Nov. 3.—As the outcome of the recent trial of Mrs. Theresa Pfeiffer, P. Snider was to-day prosecuted in Police Court at the instigation of the Children's Aid Society with "causing the home to be an unfit place for a child." The case was the first of its kind in Waterloo county, the charge being laid under a recent amendment to the Criminal Code which deals with the crime of corrupting the morals of children. Snider pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs.

Austria Has Accepted Terms of Armistice

LONDON, November 3.—(Special to The Courier.)—Austria has signed an armistice with Italy which goes into effect at 3.00 o'clock Monday morning, it is officially announced here. No further details have been received as yet.

The allied terms for an armistice with Austria were submitted to the Austrian commander-in-chief by Gen Diaz last week. The conditions imposed are virtually equivalent to unconditional surrender, and will leave Germany alone of the four Central Powers still in the field against the Entente Allies.

The capitulation of Austria has been regarded as imminent ever since the latest British-Italian drive across the Piave was launched early last week, and the defection of Turkey last week has undoubtedly hastened the submission of the dual monarchy, which has been torn by internal revolts and disorders. Anti-German spirit has been strong in Vienna and in Budapest, the capitals of Austria and Hungary respectively, for a long time.

AUSTRIANS RETREATING. COPENHAGEN, November 3.—Austro-Hungarian Troops are being withdrawn from the Western Front and the Germans, fearing the Allies will march through Austria, are digging trenches and erecting fortifications along the Bavarian Frontier.

LONDON, November 3.—An armistice with Austria was signed this afternoon by Gen. Diaz, the Italian commander-in-chief, according to an official announcement here this evening.

The armistice comes into effect at 3.00 o'clock Monday morning. The text of the statement reads: "A telephone message has been received from the Prime Minister in Paris saying that news has just come that Austria-Hungary, the last of Germany's props, has gone out of the war."

"The armistice was signed by Gen. Diaz this afternoon and will come into operation tomorrow at 3.00 o'clock. The terms will be published Tuesday."

Official announcement of the signing of the Austrian armistice reached the Premiers while they were in session this afternoon, and gave the greatest satisfaction. It was arranged that the conditions of the armistice would be made public promptly.

The War Office report of Saturday said: "On the Italian mountain front our troops, in carrying out our measures of evacuation according to plan, will occupy positions which they held at the beginning of the Italian war."

"In the Venetian plain a movement of retreat across the Tagliamento is in progress."

"The evacuation of all Serbian territory is imminent."

A Vienna official dispatch reads: "In the Italian theatre of the war, our troops have ceased hostilities on the basis of an armistice which has been concluded."

"The conditions of the armistice will be announced in a later communication."

PREFER ENGLISH OR FRENCH. The Hungarian Minister of War announced Saturday that an order would be given to all soldiers on the Hungarian front, including officers, to lay down their arms, and to enter into negotiations with the enemy. If the enemy wish to occupy Hungary, the announcement added, a demand should be made that French or English troops be sent by preference.

The German-Austrian State Council, according to a dispatch from Vienna, has issued a proclamation to the soldiers at the front, saying that the Government has been taken over by the National Assembly. The assembly will immediately conclude peace and begin the orderly demobilization of the army, the proclamation declares.

TERMS TO TURKEY. London, Nov. 3.—An additional clause in the terms of the armistice granted by the Allied powers to Turkey says: "Allied Central officers are to be placed on all railways, including such portions of the Trans-Caucasian Railway as are now under Turkish control. These railways must be placed at the free and complete disposal of the Allied authorities due consideration being given to needs of the population."

By Courier Leased Wire. Amsterdam, Nov. 3.—Shouting "Down with William," "Abdicate immediately," a crowd of several thousand persons, despite the efforts of the police to disperse them, succeeded to-day in reaching the German Royal Palace at Stuttgart. Some mounted the Palace railings clamoring for the deposition of the Emperor, according to a dispatch received here. After several sermmons and an exchange of shots mounted police managed to drive the mob away. The demonstration was the signal of a meeting of independent Socialists, at which resolutions were passed demanding the establishment of a Socialist Republic. At a meeting of the Progressive Party at Munich, Prof. Quicke, a deputy in the Landtag, declared the vital interests of the German people demand the Emperor's abdication. A resolution was adopted demanding that the Emperor abdicate in order to attest to the sincerity of Germany's conversion into a people's State.

By Courier Leased Wire. Paris, Nov. 3.—The Germans are retreating across the Artois Forest and the French forces are close upon them. By Courier Leased Wire. London, Nov. 3.—British troops last night stormed the steel works held by the Germans south of Valenciennes and advancing one and one-half miles to the last completed the capture of the village of St. Saulve. The War Office announced today that 5,000 German troops of fighting on this point.

By Courier Leased Wire. Amsterdam, Nov. 3.—A dispatch received here says that amid scenes of the wildest enthusiasm regiments after regiments met with its commander in appearing before the National Council at Budapest to take the oath of allegiance, while high military officials are calling on the Council to offer their services. The Council has been informed of the appointment of Count Michael Karolyi, President of the Hungarian party as Premier. A crowd rushed to the jail and released the men who shot at Count Tisza.

By Courier Leased Wire. Vienna, Nov. 3.—On the Italian mountain front our troops in carrying out our measures are withdrawing. Serbia is also being evacuated. BRITISH GAINS. Havre, Nov. 3.—The attacks commenced on October 31st was continued to-day by the second British Army and the French and American forces. They have passed forward during the day with the Belgian forces upon the left of the French. The enemy is retreating precipitately towards Ghent. The latter place has now been taken.

THE BREAK-UP OF THE DUAL MONARCHY AUSTRIA HUNGARY

Amsterdam, Nov. 3.—The German-Austrian State Council, according to a despatch from Vienna, has issued a proclamation to the soldiers at the front, saying that the government has been taken over by the National Assembly. The Assembly will immediately conclude peace and begin the orderly demobilization of the army, the proclamation declares. Vienna, Nov. 3. v (in London). "In the Italian theatre of the war our troops have ceased hostilities on the basis of an armistice, which has been concluded," says the war communication, issued to-day. "The conditions of the armistice will be announced in a later communication."

Basel, Switzerland, Nov. 3.—During a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Hungarian National Council at Budapest yesterday Count Karolyi announced that King Charles had freed the Government from its oath of fidelity. The Government has placed on its program the question whether Hungary shall, in the future, be a Republic or a Monarchy. The Minister of War announced that an order would be given to all soldiers on the Hungarian front, including officers, to lay down their arms and to enter into negotiations with the enemy. If the enemy wish to occupy Hungary, the announcement added, a demand should be made that French or British troops be sent by preference.

transport $17,000,000. Stores, which include furniture, bedding, utensils account for $14,000,000. Motor vehicles, ambulances and other vehicles have cost us $9,600,000 and remnants have cost us $8,591,000. Over $4,700,000 has been paid for machine guns; $5,500,000 for kit bags and necessaries and the same amount for outfit allowances. These items alone bring the total up to $814,000,000.

A Comparison. Our monthly war bill is more than we spent for all purposes during the whole of 1917. This year's war bill will be equal to Canada's total expenditure from 1868 to 1880 inclusive. In the first three months of this year the charges on war account almost equalled the total revenue of 1911. This is a heavy burden, but think what is at stake. Five hundred millions is the price of Victory this year. It is a small thing compared with some of the burdens of our Allies.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—A sixty-six per cent decrease in the total influenza death rate was reported last night. During the 24-hour period ending at noon Friday only four persons died, compared with 12 the day before. This is the smallest number of deaths that have occurred in Ottawa in any one day during the past month. It is estimated that there are not more than 1,500 cases in the city now, the greater number being of a mild form. On Sunday there were more than 5,000 cases.

London, Ont., doctors are protesting against the action of the board of health in enjoining that the ban would be lifted on public eating places, beginning with the opening of the churches on Sunday and of schools and theatres on Monday.

362,355 PRISONERS, 6,217 CANNON

Allies Have Taken in Addition 38,622 Machine Guns on Western Front Since July 15th.

Associated Press. Paris, Nov. 3.—Since the great offensive began on the western front on July 15th, the allied armies have captured 362,355 prisoners, including 7,900 officers, as well as 6,217 cannon, 38,622 machine guns and 8,907 mine throwers. The allies during the month of October captured 108,343 prisoners, including 2,472 officers, as well as 2,064 cannon, 13,689 machine guns, and 1,193 mine throwers.

NEED HALF A BILLION FOR ONE YEAR'S EFFORT

Victory Loan of 1918 Will Finance War and Keep Army in Present State of Efficiency, as well as Support War Industries at Home

With a war expenditure of a million dollars a day Canada faces the coming twelve months with the greatest confidence that the people are united in their determination to see the thing to a successful conclusion. This war expenditure means $353,000,000 paid out for the actual prosecution of the war in the field, on the payment and upkeep of our immense army. But there is more than that to take care of. In the past the Government has had to make provision for the marketing of the grain crop, the output of the dairies, the building of ships and the making of munitions for the armies of our allies. Some of these activities are good paying business propositions and the money we spend now will be repaid, but the Government must have sufficient funds at its disposal to enable it to make advances covering the operations of several huge industries.

Just One Year's Cost. The forthcoming Victory Loan will finance the Government during the coming year. It will total $500,000,000 if the expectations of the Finance Minister are realized, and every cent will be needed to carry on the war as we have been carrying it on, that is, to the limit of our resources. The war has cost Canada to date about a billion dollars. It is mounting daily, as our forces increase and as the casualty lists grow. The first six months of the year were comparatively quiet on the Canadian front, but since Foch struck, our gallant men have seen much hard fighting. Large numbers have fallen swelling the total of killed in battle to about 32,000 and the total casualties to about 200,000. This is the record of valor of our Canadian troops. It represents a sacrifice, compared with which the subscription of a Loan of the dimensions mentioned by the people at home, on terms that would appeal to any ordinary business men as excellent is no sacrifice at all.

THIS WOMAN SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, One of Thousands of Such Cases.

Black River Falls, Wis.—"As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation, I cannot express in praise of it. I suffered from constant headaches and my side hurt me so I could hardly lie up from my bed, and I was unable to do my household work. I had the best doctors in Eau Claire and they wanted me to have an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me so I did not need the operation, and I am telling all my friends about it."—Mrs. A. W. Brixner, Black River Falls, Wis.

It is just such experiences as that of Mrs. Brixner that has made this famous root and herb remedy a household word from ocean to ocean. Any woman who suffers from inflammation, rheumatism, dyspepsia, headache, nervousness, irregularities or "the blues" should not rest until she has given it a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. PEACE THROUGH VICTORY

The Kaiser and his agents are whimpering of peace. They want the peace that comes of bartering and bargaining, behind closed doors. We mean to have the peace that comes of decision on the open battlefield—Peace through Victory.

That Peace we mean to get. And Victory is coming. The splendid valor of our troops as they, day by day, hurt the foe ever further back, is our guarantee for that. The enemy has been out-generalled and out-fought. He has shot his bolt. All chances of success have left his hands forever. His cause is lost. His fate is sealed.

If only—you at home keep faith. To you our troops are looking to furnish the sinews of war and reconstruction when Canada's 1918 Victory Loan makes its appeal. Get ready to answer that appeal to the utmost. Save to lend every dollar possible. The very most you can lend is the very least you must lend. Count self-denial a privilege. Count self-sacrifice a boon. Get together the dollars. Hasten Victory! Hasten Peace!

COURIER COMICS

ON A NEW TACK
Chief Storekeeper—Boss, I notice your requisition doesn't call for any guns, swords or soldiers.
Santa Claus—You got me right. Oldtimer, I'm going to wean the kids of that stuff till they arrive at the age of reason. Then it's up to Mars.

EASILY REMEDIED
"The second act is dead beat," said the manager after the first performance of the extravaganza.
"I'll rewrite it to-morrow morning," remarked the author, who was new to the business.
"Tut, tut!" said the manager. "My boy, all it needs is ten more show girls, three more spotlights and another animal comedian."

HARD TO GRASP
Dowles—What a grasping fellow you are, Smith. You've bothered me about this bill fifty times in ten days.
Smith—You wrong me. I'm not grasping. I've bothered you about the bill, I admit, but I haven't been able to grasp anything yet.

UNTIL WE'RE TIRED OF THEM
Bix—It is said that "we shall pass away as a tale that is told."
Dix—But tales that are told don't pass away, they are forever being told over again.

MOTHER KNEW
"Ma, what does the 'home stretch' mean?"
"Making a fifteen dollar a week allowance go around, my son."

HOW TO FEEL GOOD CHEAPLY
"I never throw away old junk, for that would make me feel wasteful."
"What do you do with it?"
"I give it away and feel charitable."

SLEEPLESS STREET
"I don't know where I'm going to sleep."
"Neither do I."
"But you have a flat."
"Yes. But it's on one of those streets where the automobiles don't quit until it's time for the milkman to start."

CURRENT OF CASH
"That old bartender who used to get all the monev in Crimson Gulch had to go out of business didn't he?"
"No," answered Broncho Bob. "His luck never faltered. He opened up a grocery store and the high cost of living keeps him luggin' the coin to banks same as ever."

NO EXCUSES
"What excuses do you make to your wife when you stay out at night?"
"I don't make any excuses," replied Mr. Meekton. "I simply sit up and wait till Henrietta gets home from the meeting she has been addressing."

OUR UNGUARDED MOMENTS
He—I've got to take you in to dinner, Miss Travers, and I'm afraid of you.
Everyone tells me you are very clever.
She—How absurd! I'm not a bit clever.
He—Well, do you know, I thought you weren't!

TOO SIZES TOO LARGE
Bix—You lost your head completely at the banquet last night.
Dix—That accounts for it. This time I've got on me this morning doesn't seem to be mine, certainly.

COAL SHOVELLING
From shovelling coal we shall not be sick.
When frosty times employ us.
What once we thought was weary work,
Is now considered joyous.

KAISER DECLARES HIMSELF LIBERAL

In Signing Constitutional Reform Decree, Pretends He Likes It

Amsterdam, Nov. 3.—On the occasion of the constitutional amendment coming into force, says an official telegram from Berlin, Emperor William addressed to Prince Maximilian of Baden, the German Imperial Chancellor, a decree guaranteeing the decisions of the Reichstag and avowing his firm determination to co-operate in their full development. The Emperor's decree reads: "Your Grand Ducal Highness, I return herewith for immediate publication the bill to amend the Imperial Constitution and the law of March 17, 1879, relative to the presentation of the Imperial Chancellor, which has been laid before me for signature.

"On the occasion of this step, which is so momentous for the future history of the German people, I have a desire to give expression to my feelings. Prepared for by a series of Government Acts, a new order comes into force which transfers the fundamental rights of the Kaiser's person to the people. "Thus comes to a close a period which will stand in honor before the eyes of future generations. Despite all struggles between invested authority and aspiring forces it has rendered possible to our people that tremendous development which imperishably revealed itself in the wonderful achievements of this war. Old Forms Broken Up.

"In the terrible storms of the four years of war, however, old forms have been broken up, not to leave their ruins behind but to make a place for the new vital forms. "After the achievements of these times the German people can claim that no right which may guarantee a free and happy future shall be withheld from them.

"The proposals of the Allied Governments which are now adopted and extended owe their origin to this conviction. I, however, with my exalted allies, endorse these decisions of Parliament in firm determination, so far as I am concerned, to co-operate in their full development, convinced that I am thereby promoting the weal of the German people. "The Kaiser's office is one of service to the people. May, then, the new order release all the good powers which our people need in order to support the trials which are hanging over the empire, and with a firm step within a bright future from the gloom of the present.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach or bowels.

A laxative to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to study their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour. Look at the tongue, mother, if coated or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sick-child.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has full directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-up patients printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

MARKETS

The following comment on the market situation as regards food stuffs appears in Canadian Grocer—Interest centres chiefly in the announcement from Washington that an embargo on the export of virtually all dried fruits has been put into effect. This is a serious matter for the trade here, and whereas some importers feel that modification of this embargo may develop in a short time, others again feel that this step was only taken after a complete survey of the probable crop was stacked up against the requirements of the new army and navy being recruited.

pretty well resigned to the fact that very small allotments, if any, prunes would come through owing to severe crop damage coming on top of heavy Government requirements. The same conditions are now affecting raisins, raisins doing considerable damage to the later crops, and army needs proving very heavy.

Coffee is also occupying the thoughts of importers considerably. The Brazilian market has developed remarkable strength only recently. This is not due to scarcity of this commodity, but rather to the possibility of an early peace with probable opportunities for trade with belligerent countries whose supplies must be practically exhausted. Supplies in Canada are none too heavy, though no actual shortage before the first of the year seems likely to develop. At that time, scarcity of bottoms to bring shipments through promptly may result in an acute scarcity arising. The outlook seems to be too that prices will show a sharp advance, unless Brazilian interests show a change of heart from their present attitude—an unlikely development.

MONTREAL—Advances have been made for Canadian mustard, filberts, lined seed, celery seed, lemons, oranges, grapefruit, coffee, etc.

Declines are made in the price of Canadian chioory and claims. Japan teas are scarce and firm. Canned goods are steady, and the sugar situation is without change, but very firm.

The sickness that has been raging is now abating, it is thought, and this will be a big relief, for not only have staffs been depleted, but the general effect on business has been severe.

The dried fruit outlook is anything but encouraging, and the markets are likely to advance.

TORONTO—A stiffening of prices on raisins is noticeable, and prunes are also firming up materially. This condition hinges on the announcement of an embargo on the export of all dried fruits from the United States, with the consequent shortage which must develop and is now noticeable in some grades and sizes. Grenoble walnuts and Brazil nuts have reached extremely high levels on the New York market, which will more than likely be reflected here. On the present basis these lines are selling locally from four to seven cents lower than the present cost to import. All lines of nuts are very firm, and sales have been maintained at a very satisfactory total for the month.

Orders for mustard have kept manufacturers extremely busy taking care of the trade in this line. The epidemic of sickness is mainly responsible for this. White pepper is very strong, though blacks show little change. Other lines of spices are very firm, cloves and nutmegs being extremely scarce and hard to get, with demand generally very satisfactory.

The sugar situation is without material change, improved shipments are reported by a couple of refiners, while others are out of the market altogether, or materially restricted through shortage of raws to operate on or scarcity of labor to obtain satisfactory production.

WINNIPEG—Candy manufacturers are very hard pressed to secure sufficient materials to take care of business offerings. The demand for all lines is good and prices though firm and generally steady. No change in allotments of sugar is looked for before the end of the year.

Apples seem to be the centre of interest in the fruit trade. A wide range of both Ontario and B.C. stock is being shown, of good quality, and at what are considered reasonable prices.

Oranges and lemons are almost out of sight, prices at United States

Dealers are experiencing difficulty in obtaining sugar. Beet sugar refiners in the east are expected to relieve matters soon when operations are in full swing. Consuming demand is still insistent, although the preserving season is over.

Von Eichhorn Used Iron Hand to Enforce Food From Ukraine.

Before the European war began, Gen. von Eichhorn, who was assassinated recently, was one of the recognized leaders of the Prussian military ring, and a favorite of the Kaiser. He was the first army officer to exploit the use of the field telephone at Prussian army manoeuvres. This was in 1905.

Most of his work after the outbreak of the war was on the east front. From April, 1915, to November, 1915, he was in command of the right wing of Hindenburg's big push through Poland. In September, 1915, he received the Order of Merit for taking Kovno. From November, 1915, to March, 1918, he commanded the 13th German army, with headquarters at Vilna, on a front that extended from Vidy to the Vlna.

In March, 1918, he was sent to the Ukraine as German military commander to exploit the use of the field telephone at Prussian army manoeuvres. This was in 1905.

There are millions who have been sobered by passage through its fires in France or by anxieties at home—their vision will have been broadened, their sympathy deepened, their outlook elevated. Millions have been in daily contact with death, walking hourly over its terrors.

There are millions who have endured privation, discomfort, watchfulness, pain, and terror, and who have made up their minds when it is over to have a good time for the rest of their lives. That is a dangerous frame of mind which requires great guidance and control, and above all—great appeal. Who it is that we are specially concerned with the future of this land were anxious to have Dr. Jowett back.

When the Ukrainian peace was made the Reds agreed to supply Germany with 1,000,000 tons of wheat by Aug. 1, 1918.

When the helplessness of the Reds to meet its obligations became evident, Gen. von Eichhorn and the German Ambassador in the Ukraine, Baron von Schwartzenstein, decided to dispense with the Reds and support in its stead a dictatorship with Gen. Skoropadski at the head. That such an arrangement the German military leader believed he could better command the obedience of the peasants. Having nothing to give the peasants for their wheat, he adopted a system of ruthless seizure whenever possible. On the whole, however, this method merely made things much worse. The policy of the "iron" hand only fanned the flames of resentment and antagonism in the population, and Estman Skoropadski either could not or would not assist the Germans in achieving their purpose.
