

Our New Quarters.

The executives last week that were heaped upon the heads of the post-office officials in the county and elsewhere for withholding from our subscribers the most valued portion of their mail, in the shape of the ACADIAN, were altogether undeserved. For the first time almost in its existence the ACADIAN failed to put in an appearance at the homes of its patrons through a default for which it was entirely responsible. This break, however, in our traditions, we can assure our readers, was not made willingly, and we will do our best to see to it that it does not occur with any frequency in the future.

Anyone who has ever been through a similar tribulation will sympathize with us when they learn that last week we were in the throes of a "moving." It is quite as difficult for a moving newspaper plant to turn out a newspaper as it is for a rolling stone to gather moss, and this is the reason why so many newspapers have failed. For a number of days the chaos was a complete and utter confusion. However, we have at last issued somewhat from the disorder and confusion to find ourselves in the most convenient and commodious quarters in McKenna's Block, about the finest business building in town, where we will hold forth as of yore. The ACADIAN is a present on the most sound financial foundation it has ever been. Our situation is now such that nothing but a collapse of the Union Bank can make us in the least degree shaky, while our downfall would immediately precipitate the Bank in ruin. However, this state of affairs need not deter any subscriber who is so minded from paying up his subscription. In fact we are now in a better position to receive subscription fees than ever. In our old quarters we often were at a loss for room to store the numerous bills and bank notes which our patrons persisted in bringing in. Now, however, as the building in which we are situated also contains a bank vault of considerable dimensions this difficulty will no longer present itself.

We are somewhat proud of our new accommodations and will be delighted to have any of our subscribers and friends call upon us and make an inspection. Any out-of-town visitor who brings with him a page or two of district news in his pocket will be doubly welcome.

Adjourned School Commissioners' Meeting.

The adjourned meeting of the Board of School Commissioners was held in the Court House, Kentville, on Monday 22nd inst., at 10 a. m. Eleven commissioners were present. L. De V. Chipman occupied the chair. The following business was transacted:

1. Moved by W. E. Boies, seconded by W. W. Pines and resolved: "That the Trustees of School Lands for the Township of Cornwallis be authorized to invest the amount now accumulated from the rents of the School Lands of Cornwallis in mortgage at six per cent, and that all resolutions by this Board in opposition to such investment be rescinded, and that the Inspector of Schools be authorized to pay over the same on such investment being made."

2. Upon the report of the committee on the petitions of T. B. and E. P. Messenger and Robert Mc Masters and John Aldridge and others from Harmony, it was resolved that T. B. Messenger be allowed to retire from Tremont section, that E. P. Messenger remain in Tremont and that the line between Harmony and Tremont be unchanged.

3. The committee upon the petition from the top of Percus Mt. and Ross Crête, reported in favor of uniting all on the top of the mountain, from the east line of George Benjamin's farm, and south of Percus Mt. section to that section. The school house to be moved to a central site. The report was adopted.

4. Upon petition, a new section was formed to include C. W. Skinner and Emily Jane Sanford, from Waterville, George Jordan, George Foster, Rupert Best, Adelbert Strong, James Porter, W. A. Forsythe, Harvey Joubert, Will Borden, Hazen White, Ernest Webster, Harry Frederick, Henry Lloyd and James Strong, from Prospect, and Sam Borden, from Cambridge section.

5. The committee on the petition from Centreville reported that it is in the interest of all concerned that the prayer of the petition be granted, and that a separate section be created as asked for, if a scheme for the successful operation of a school in such section, when set off, can be legally formulated and carried out. Voted that this report be adopted and that Centreville be asked to consider at its next annual meeting, the question, whether, if a separate section be made in the Gibson Woods, they will guarantee the payment of a certain sum per year to such section, and how much.

EXPRESSES HER VIEWS ON THINGS AMERICAN.

DEAR SIR,—Though many of Canada's sons and daughters leave their fair country and become citizens of the United States, yet there is something no true Canadian gives up,—a conservatism, a love for the old institutions, a veneration for those in power, and withal an aversion, not to be easily overcome, to the American showy enthusiasm and unceasing parade of national conceit. Call it by what name you will, there is an element in the Yankee to which the true Canadian cannot subscribe. The continuous outpouring of self gratulation, beginning with the spoliation of a remnant of the British forces in 1775, augmented after the dismay of the southern armies in the sixties, and increased to an unparalleled pitch of intensity since the late triumph over Spain, is enough to threaten the Canadian tyro with permanent paralysis.

Victory abroad has led up to verbal contention at home. The question of expansion is sharply dividing the people. Some are quite willing to forget the Monroe doctrine, others are not. One recalls the answer to Congressman Thayer's question, "What have the United States got after paying $20,000,000 for the Philippines?" "Why, left, Mr Thayer, left!" It is remarkable to note the American propensity for heaping calumny upon the heads of its men who have made themselves conspicuous in the public eye. There is but one man in the whole republic who has escaped the censure of the press and the criticism of the mass-meeting, and who is respected alike by all parties, and he is Admiral Dewey. But he has kept himself at long range, and who could foretell the effect a nearer point of view might have had? Even now, over this hero, they are beginning to quarrel, east and west, as to the route by which Dewey shall be ordered home. Shall he come by way of the Golden Gate or Sandy Hook? Shall the East welcome him first or the West?

The incident of Captain Coglan's speech at the dinner of the Union League Club in New York a week or so ago, and his recitation of the poem Kaiser & Company or Hoch der Kaiser, as it is better known, which remarks occasioned much umbrage to Germans here and abroad and brought down on the head of Captain Coglan the reprimand of the Navy Department, recalls in the author of the poem quoted an interesting figure in Literary Bohemia. A. M. B. Gordon, whose real name was Rose, was a brilliant Scotch minister of Aberdeenshire, who was forced to leave home by domestic troubles. Though of striking versatility and possessing a special aptitude for newspaper work, his personality was so disagreeable that it was impossible for him to keep a position for any length of time, and so he worked in every large city of the United States and Canada, finally drifting to Montreal. There he obtained a position on the Gazette, and later on the Herald, from which after a series of embroilments he was obliged to resign. Soon after he was taken seriously ill from the privations which he had undergone, and died in Notre Dame hospital. It was in a Montreal paper that the poem Hoch der Kaiser first appeared in print. Although a failure in life Gordon was possessed of considerable genius. Many of his short satirical verses were copied far and wide. One of his most satirical hits was a political take-off of Sir Charles Tepper, in which occur the lines:

"Write R. I. P. upon his tomb, And add the prefix 'Old' thereto, That is, if there is room."

Another political squib was a series of verses descriptive of the visit of Laurier to England in 1896, called "Sir Wilfred's Progress."

In Missouri (native pronunciation Misery) cyclones seem to be the fashion. St. Louis, though usually up-to-date in other respects, seems to be off the main line of cyclone travel. Though it may be somewhat faster mode of travel than the old fashioned method of walking, still I think one would prefer the latter to being suddenly caught up in the air, spun around like a top, carried along at the rate of a mile a second, and deposited in an adjoining state, beneath the kitchen stove and the best family china. There is no time for packing one's trunk, and as for bidding one's neighbors a fond adieu,—well, it is out of the question. It really places a premium upon bad manners, and should be taken in hand by the legislature, which, no doubt, would be pleased to act upon so uplifting a matter.

Yours truly, RAY STUART.

St. Louis, Mo., May 11, '99.

Empire Day was fittingly observed in the Wolfville public schools. The morning was devoted to a consideration of the growth and extent of the empire. In the afternoon, under the direction of Dr. Bess, the chairman of the School Board, appropriate public exercises of a most interesting character were held.

National songs were sung by the teachers and pupils, after which Inspector Rescoe gave an interesting and instructive address on the greatness of the British Empire. Addresses were also given by Rev. Dr. Trotter and Rev. H. R. Hatch, the former giving a graphic account of how he saw the Queen at the jubilee in 1887. After cheers for the Queen the national anthem was sung and the meeting dispersed. There was a goodly number of parents and friends of the school present.

The People's Forum.

To the Editor of the Acadian. Mr. Editor,—In common, I suppose, with a good many more of our citizens I received the other day a circular letter from the Board of Trade of Wolfville in regard to cleaning up rubbish about yards, etc. Now, while I fully endorse all that is said in it, allow me space to make a suggestion or two in the matter.

In front of the store of one councillor quite a common sight (in fact it occurred only a very short time ago) is to see waste paper tossed out to beautify the street with its gay flutterings. Now, while I can't say it comes from the said councillor's store it certainly has a strange attraction for his front. Another councillor and possibly member of the Board of Trade keeps his back yard in a gay condition—worse than his brother councillor's gutter. It is supplied with a rickety, old lean-to shed which looks as if it had been on a drunk over night; sundry barrels in various stages of disrepair; refuse from the store,—but why attempt to describe? It is just description. If he has not reformed before late summer there will be as before a gigantic growth of burdocks, where with kind nature will try to cover the works of art scattered about. But in the matter of burdocks he is not singular, for they always abound other back yards, notably the one behind the old ACADIAN office, in size and luxuriance so that the birds of the air might sing among the branches. For several years these beautiful vegetables have flourished along the street side, especially in the part of the town just east of Mud Bridge. Now let us hope that the Board of Trade's circular may prove the forerunner of a reform all round, especially in the question of burdocks, which, if I may be allowed to suggest, to so augment a body as our corporation, may with great advantage be "lynched" so that our back yards and street sides may not have the appearance of a patent medicine farm for "Burdock Blood Bitters."

With your kind permission, Mr. Editor, I will at some future time call attention to another matter of equal public interest with the above.

Yours, A LOVER OF NEATNESS.

To the Editor of the ACADIAN. Sir,—Though not a qualified ratepayer, I trust I may be allowed the privilege of expressing an opinion on a matter involving the interests of the town. It is conceded by all that we have a very efficient public school. To maintain its present standard of efficiency it should have all the useful equipment. One of the most indispensable parts of this equipment is an ample playground. Eminent authorities agree that "wholesome play is absolutely necessary to the health and well being of the small student."

Now it is proposed to alienate the grounds west of the school building from the control of the school board by means of special legislation, with a view to selling it for building lots. Every parent should view this proposal with the deepest apprehension. At present, the boys have appropriated the grounds to the east to their own exclusive use. Could you expect five score healthy, active boys to be content with less? The little strip on the south of the school building is hardly large enough to turn around in, figuratively speaking. This is the "playground" the girls will have if the west playground be taken away from them. "Stone walls do not a prison make," but a neighbor's fence does.

What right have we to rob the girls of their playground for the sake of the money it will bring? They have no votes and cannot safeguard themselves. Therefore it is our duty to safeguard them. Should the health of our children be the last thing to be considered? Money spent in draining and leveling the west playground would be money judiciously spent. It would be repaid many fold in the health and vigor of our girls, in the bloom of their cheeks, and in the lively sparkle in their eyes.

There are other and good reasons why the town should not lose control of this land, but I will leave the statement of them to able pen than mine. Meanwhile, I most sincerely hope that the good sense of the town will prevail, and that we will not curtail the enjoyment
