Love Candy Cascarets"

Careful mothers know that Cascarets in the home means less sickness, less trouble, less worry, less cost. When one of the kiddies has a white tongue, tainted breath, sour stomach or a cold, Cascarets quickly and harmlessly works the poisons from the liver and bowels and all is well again.

TO MOTHERS! While all children detest castor oil, calomel, pills and laxatives, they really love to take Cascarets because they taste like candy. Cascarets work the nasty bile, sour fermentations and constipation poison from the child's tender stomach, liver and bowels without pain or griping. Cascarets never disappoint the worried mother. Each 10 cent box of Cascarets contains directions for children aged one year old and upwards as well as for adults.

CHAPTER XIII.
EDNA COMES HOME.

"All the parts colored red are yours," said Mr. Burdon, with a smile of enjoyment. "A very nice slice, and beautifully chosen. John Weston knew how to buy land as well as everything else. That is the estate I spoke of—exquisitely placed, you see, on a rise above the river; plenty of wood, a very fine view, and for the rest, as complete as a gentleman's seat could be. The last tenant was a man of taste, and spared no expense. There is a magnificent avenue of limes—that is it, that dark line, leading up to the house; splendid preserves—I have shot many a brace there in the old time."

"Perhaps the birds are not all gone yet," put in Edna, quietly.

Mr. Burdon bowed, and looked pleased.

"Well, it is a beautiful place, and I think, considering its nearness to town and other things, as convenient as any you could choose, and there is a good choice there—the place in Yorkshire, one in Scotland—too far that for a regular residence—and the park in Herefordshire."

"Are all those mine?" asked Edna.

"All yours—I hope I may be allowed to show them to you before long; but this Rosedene you could see at once."

Edna thought a moment.

"What is the place painted green?" she asked, laying the tip of a taper forefinger on the sketch of a mansion and land adjoining Rosedene.

"That, of course, is More Park. John Weston bought Rosedene that he might be near his dear friend, Sir Charles More."

"And Sir Cyril lives there?" asked Edna.

"Not just at present," answered Mr. Burdon, with some little hesitation.

"Is it let?" asked Edna, apparently more interested in her neighbor's property than her own.

"No, unfortunately, not; Sir Cyril will not let it."

"Nor live in it?" said Edna, curiously. "Is it not pretty?"

"One of the most beautiful places in England," replied Mr. Burdon, promptly and almost proudly. "In fact," he went on, with apparent reserve, "it is too large for Sir Cyril; he—I do not know that it is worth while endeavoring to conceal from you what you will learn from county gossip in a week—Sir Cyril has been careless in money matters, and cannot afford to keep up the park."

Edna looked dreamily out of the window, and then back to the plan.

"He is poor and proud," she said; "poor, and yet he refused."

She stopped with a blush. Poor, but refused to secure a fortune that was to be obtained at the price of sacrificing himself by marrying her!

Mr. Burdon made haste to move the subject to a more pleasant ground.

"Sir Cyril is rather a strange young man—there is no accounting for his actions. He will not let More Park, although he wants the money very badly. It is a beautiful place, and makes Rosedene all the more valuable by its proximity. Perhaps you will fix a day on which I can have the honor of accompanying you on a visit of inspection—if you decide to reside there you would wish it got ready at once?"

Edna thought a moment, looked across at Aunt Martha, who had re-entered, and was sitting listening with half-bewildered nervousness.

"This Rosedene is very large, is it not?" asked Edna, with a smile.

"What would aunt and I do in it, two women alone in a great English mansion?"

Mr. Burdon thought to himself, looking on the sweet, ingenuous face, "You will not be two women all alone long if some of the male members of your county neighbors can help it." But he said aloud, "It is very easy to overcome that objection; you can ask your friends—"

"I have none," said Edna, shaking her head; "no relation in the world but Aunt Martha."

"I think you will find that you are mistaken," said Mr. Burdon, significantly. "I will wager, my dear Miss Weston, that before a month has passed a horde of relations, distant and near, will have arisen to claim kinship, and as for friends!" He raised his brows and smiled, adding, "Let me name two at least—Mr. and Mrs. Edward More."

Simple Edna did not know whether he was in earnest or cynical; but she had been deciding while he had been talking.

"I am sure we should like Rose-dene, should we not, aunt?"

Aunt Martha, thus appealed to, gave ready assent.

"So I think we will decide to live there at once."

"You will take my word for its advantages," said Mr. Burdon; "very good. Then it only remains for me to make the place fit for you as quickly as possible. You will want a steward, and servants—"

At this moment a servant opened the door and announced "Mr. and Mrs. More!" and Mr. Burdon rose with a smile.

"Here are two friends who will be of more assistance to you in these matters than I can be."

CHAPTER XIV.
NEW EXPERIENCES.

AS he spoke there entered a tall-looking woman, whose still rather youthful beauty was set off by a Parisian costume of the last autumn fashion, and many of the best approved tinted preparations of the day. Behind her trailing skirts Mr. Edward More was effectually concealed, but he came forward in time to say good-day and good-bye to the departing Mr. Burdon.

Mrs. Edward More came forward with hands—fair sevens squeezed into six and a half of Jovett's best—extended, gushingly exclaiming:

"My dear Miss Weston—how glad—how delighted I am to see you! I shall never forgive that horrible billious headache—Edward had declared it to be neuralgia yesterday, as Edna very well remembered—for keeping me from your side yesterday! And this is Mrs. Weston, your dear aunt," ran on the lady, in her most charming manner, turning to poor Aunt Martha and overwhelming her with a most affectionate smile.

"How delighted I am to see you both at last! Ah, you can never guess, my dear Edna—I may call you Edna, may I not?—how often we have talked of you"—which was literally true, for if Edna had guessed that Mrs. Edward More had thought or talked of her once, she would have guessed once too much. "Often and often, Edward—where are you, Edward?—and I have vowed that we would come and see you in that dear—dear—Italy."

"We were in Switzerland," corrected Edna, gently.

"Switzerland, I mean, of course; as if I could forget dear Switzerland—tell and liberty, and all that! But we never came, did we? No, and I am almost glad we did not, for then I should have missed the delight of welcoming you, for the first time, in dear England—the garden of the world, you know, and, brought up short for lack of breath, not words, Mrs. Edward More sank into a chair, and delicately wiped her lips, smiling all round.

Edna was glad to take breath, too, and shake hands with Mr. Edward More, who, if himself restless and fidgety, was not quite so exhausting as his charming wife.

"And now I have come," continued Mrs. Edward More, outstretching her hands again, with the little strip of lace that did duty for a pocket handkerchief held out in one of them, "to place myself at your disposal—absolutely at your disposal. I know what a fearful—what a terrible amount of work you must have, and I mean to help you—don't say a word; it will be of no use; here I am by your side and here I mean to remain while I can be of the slightest use to you. I said to Edward this morning: 'I must so to that dear young creature—nothing shall prevent me! did I not, Edward?"

Mr. More granted something like corroboration, and resumed pulling the button off his glove.

"And so we ordered the carriage and came. Don't say you are not glad to see me, my dear?"

Edna colored at the direct appeal and made a suitable response, and Mrs. Edward More took up the thread.

"Of course, my dear Edna, you and dear Mrs. Weston will come to us for the present, that's settled." It seemed to be so thoroughly that Edna had not courage to venture a refusal. "What you will do about a place after a time—"

"I have decided to live at Rosedene," said Edna, gently.

Mrs. Edward More looked overjoyed.

"My dear child, the very place I was about to suggest! We were talking about it last night—were we not, Edward?—and saying how delightful it would be to have you near us—that is, I mean near More Park—"

"I thought—Mr. Burdon told me that no one lived there," said Edna, wonderingly.

Mrs. Edward More looked rather confused, but only for a moment.

"No, of course, I meant so near the park, which, of course, will not always be empty, Cyril—with a little hesitation—"Cyril may come back or—or—a hundred things."

Mr. Edward More granted and looked rather annoyed, and his charming wife hastened to gloss over her mistake.

"It is so nice to think that you are near the dear old place, although no one is there. So like a relation; you are a relation of course!"

"Not that I am aware of," said Edna, doubtfully.

"Oh, yes, indeed you are; I am certain of it," retorted Mrs. Edward More, not at all doubtfully. "Well, and you are going to Rosedene, and that's settled. Of course, Mr. Burdon—one of the most charming men I know, now isn't he, dear?—will see to getting the place ready."

Edna had time to incline her head, not to speak.

A POPULAR STYLE.

2733.—This simple model is easy to develop, and is most becoming to slender figures. The back and front are plaited, and the closing is effected at the left side of the front at shoulder and under the plait.

The Pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 16, 18 and 20 years. Size 16 will require 3 1/2 yards of 44 inch material.

Serge, corduroy, velveteen, satin, Jersey cloth or gabardine could be used for this style. Blue velveteen with sleeves and belt of Georgette crepe would be pleasing, or brown serge with matched satin. The dress measures about 2 yards at the foot.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

A GOOD MODEL FOR SCHOOL DRESS.

2730.—Brown poplin was selected for this design, with green and brown plaid for trimming. Blue serge trimmed with braid would make a serviceable dress. All wash materials are nice for this style.

The Pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. Size 8 requires 3 1/2 yards of 36 inch material. The sleeves may be finished in wrist or elbow length.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

Ukrainian Capital Again Changes Hands.

Armistice to Be Renewed—The Object of the Bolsheviks—General Strike in U.S. Will Affect 112 Cities.

UKRAINIAN HANDS.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 10. The Ukrainian capital is again in the hands of Ukrainian forces, according to reports reaching here from Kiev. Despatches from Kiev, dated January 31, announced that the city had been taken by Bolsheviks. A portion of the troops of the Ukrainian government having been moved from the city to the westward.

THE ARMISTICE.

PARIS, Feb. 10. The Council of War, in which the military and political leaders of the Allies met, continued today to discuss the terms of the armistice with the German government. At the same time the League of Nations Commission is preparing the draft of the armistice for presentation to the German government. The discussion of the armistice is a wide range including the evacuation of some clauses of the armistice, the blockade of the sea, the use of enemy merchant ships, the main issue turned into proposals of a rather nature designed to place the possibility of renewing the conflict.

DEPLETED DESTRUCTION.

PARIS, Feb. 10. A communication dealing with the work of the Supreme War Council was held this morning. The Council discussed the work of the Supreme War Council was held this morning. The Council discussed the work of the Supreme War Council was held this morning.

MONTHS EMBARGO.

LONDON, Feb. 10. The British Port Restriction Commission has modified the proposed embargo on American products which was imposed on March 1st, to the importation of American goods to the extent of 25 per cent of the number imported in this announcement nullifies the joint conference of British and American manufacturers attempting to agree upon a plan of the import restriction which would prove agreeable to both sides and which the Government would accept.

MAKING HEADWAY.

PARIS, Feb. 10. Such headway has been made by some of the lesser commissions of the Peace Conference with these commissions will be reported to the Conference for its consideration immediately after the departure of President Wilson.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.

Union Bricklayers and Hoisting Engineers in 112 cities of the United States, employed by the Building Trades Employers' Association, were ordered to strike to-day in sympathy with the striking members of the Carpenters' Union here, according to Wm. Hutchinson, President of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners. He said that the number of men affected would be between three hundred thousand and four hundred thousand. The carpenters demanded a wage increase of one dollar a day.

AN EXPOSURE.

LONDON, Feb. 10. What the British Attorney General describes as the most expensively sustained and carefully organized effort to supply the Central Empires with foodstuffs, was exposed in the prize court to-day. The foodstuffs are valued at $1,450,000 and were contained in shipments covering a period of 18 months. Fourteen ships were engaged in the attempt. Two of these vessels were of American register, four were Norwegian, four Swedish and four Danish. The Attorney General suggested that although the names of different persons appear as shippers, all the consignments were in fact made by K. and E. Neumond, of New York and Frankfurt, acting for the German Government. He charged that the cargoes shipped on the steamers, Dorigo and Henrik were intended for capture by the Germans, while the cargoes on the other boats

WON'T STAND ANY NONSENSE.

PARIS, Feb. 10. The question of moving the Peace Conference from Paris to a neutral country may be considered by the Conference, if what is characterized as the obstructive policy of the French press and certain French officials continue, it developed to-day.

THE GERMANS FLED.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 10. The German troops in Windau in Courland on the Baltic Sea, fled in panic when the Bolshevik took the city last week, according to Berlin despatches to-day. Twenty-eight civilians in Windau were killed by the invaders who continued advancing after the capture of the city.

BOLSHEVIK ADVANCE STOPPED.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 10. The Lithuanians have arrested the Bolshevik advance on the Lithuanian front, according to news received by the Lithuanian Bureau in Berlin. The town of Poniewsk, north of Kovno has been taken by the Lithuanians.

THINKING IT OVER.

PARIS, Feb. 10. Lord Robert Cecil, British representative on the League of Nations Commission, is still considering the question whether he will accept the appointment as British Ambassador to Washington which has been offered him. It is understood that he is not inclined to take the post. Personal reasons, it is said, stand in the way of his accepting himself from England.

THE BURIAL OF CANADIANS.

OTTAWA, Feb. 10. Information contained in overseas news despatches to the effect that bodies of Canadian soldiers who died in Germany, will be exhumed and placed in a special cemetery at Bonn, is causing adverse comment here. It is pointed out that if these bodies are to be exhumed arrangements should be made for their reburial in France or Belgium and not in the soil of an enemy country. If the graves of the Canadian dead who died as prisoners of war in Germany are to receive the care which Canada would wish them to have, the feeling is that they should be located in an Allied country. It is understood that representations along these lines have been made to the militia authorities here and it is considered, likely that some action will be taken with the Overseas authorities to have the plan of burying Canadians at Bonn altered.

REGULATE, NOT INTERFERE.

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 10. S. J. McLean, M.L.A. of the Dominion Railway Commission, turned the spotlight for a few minutes on Canada's transportation system to-day. Canada had 30,000 miles of railway, he said, one mile for every 210 of the population, whereas the United States had a mile for 400 persons. Mr. McLean desired the Railway Commission's function to be one of regulation, not interference.

AIRMEN RECEIVE CROSSES.

LONDON, Feb. 10. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.) It is officially announced in the Gazette that the King has conferred distinguished flying crosses on the following Canadians in recognition of gallantry in flying operations against the enemy. Lieut. J. W. Clark, Central Ontario Regt., who on Oct. 5th carried out a very successful shoot, causing fire and explosion and completely destroying the position. During the shoot he was continually harassed by eight fokker biplanes. By exhibiting marked courage and skillful shooting he drove down one on fire, and dispersed the remainder. Lt. K. B. Conn, third reserve Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, who on Oct. 13 when raiding enemy troops in retreat descended to 300 feet, attacked three companies of infantry with machine gun fire inflicting casualties. So vigorous was his attack that the troops dispersed. Lt. Conn then attacked various other targets displaying conspicuous skill and initiative. Lt. K. B. Forster, Manitoba Regt., rendered most valuable service in co-operation with our artillery. In this service keenness and devotion to duty was shown worthy of the highest praise, and he also carried out during one of the later battles several patrols obtaining much valuable information. Lt. J. E. Hallonquist, 18th Reserve Batta., Canadian Expeditionary Force, always displayed the highest skill and courage setting a fine example to other pilots. He accounted for five enemy machines and during recent operations led four successful bombing patrols at low altitudes. Lt. J. M. Mackay, 87th Canadian Batta., has since April carried out over 130 patrols and has been conspicuous for gallantry and devotion to duty both in attacking ground targets and in aerial combats. In the later he accounted for 3 enemy machines. Lt. R. B. Sutherland, Canadian Local Forces, has done very valuable work in Palestine. During the last year he was conspicuous for gallant and brilliant leadership between Sept. 17 and 22.

Nfld. Poultry Association

The February meeting of the Nfld. Poultry Association was held in the Board of Trade Building last night at 8 o'clock. President H. W. LeMessurier, C.M.G., in the chair. A very interesting paper was submitted by Mr. Stanley White, second Vice President. The members are now arranging to distribute if possible, two hundred settings of thoroughbred eggs during the spring from the best breeds suitable for the Newfoundland climate. It is probable that the Association will be able to advertise the matter next month. The object of the Association is to promote poultry culture in Newfoundland, and now that the war is over and feeds are likely to be lower during the summer, a revival of interest in raising chickens is anticipated. After last night's meeting a social hour was spent, refreshments and smokes being served to those present. Several toasts were given in which the healths of Lieut. Bennett and Pte. Harvey, McNeil of the Royal Nfld. Regt., Secretary F. C. Calver and Vice-Pres. Williams were drunk with enthusiasm. Mr. H. W. LeMessurier, President, contributed a much appreciated selection from Charles O'Malley. The association meeting adjourned at 11 p.m. after the members had spent a very enjoyable evening.

Giving Away the Empire.

When publicity was given to the announcement of the Peace Congress at Versailles that an agreement had been reached by which the possessions taken from Germany in Africa and the Pacific Ocean by the troops of the South African and Australian Commonwealths would be placed under international law, and not given to the Dominions which occupied them, the London "Globe" in a strong leading article, characterised the British delegation's sanction of this as "giving away the Empire," and other prominent London newspapers were equally strong in their denunciation of the attitude of the delegation on this all important question, and it was freely declared that the claims of the Dominions were not being supported by the British representatives. Indignation among the peoples of the South African, Australian and New Zealand dominions had its outlet in the calling of mass meetings and the passing of resolutions of protest against the proposed giving away of territory, for that is really what internationalisation amounts to, the possession of which is most essential to their future well being and advancement and necessary to safeguard their interests. So far there has not been any change made in the Conference programme, with regard to the original decision, for in yesterday's messages from London, we find that Premier Hughes of Australia is still vigorously protesting and combating the fanciful arrangement suggested by President Wilson and accepted without apparent question by the British delegates. It has been alleged that President Wilson, when he proposed the internationalisation of Germany's conquered possessions, had in mind a desire to checkmate Japan from obtaining the Marshall and Caroline Islands in the South Pacific, according to the terms of the secret treaty made between Great Britain and Japan some three years ago, because the United States feared the acquisition of this group by her Eastern rival in the Pacific. The inconsistency of this is shown in the fact that the United States is freely holding and occupying the Philippine Islands, which were won from Spain by conquest in the Spanish-American War 1898, and there has been no talk of placing these under the same international scheme. The group of islands which Japan was to have acquired, under the secret treaty of 1915, contains several hundred small islets, consisting for the main part of coral atolls and are not productive of anything of value for export. If the prevention of Japan from getting these practically worthless spots of coral has induced or impelled Wilson to demand the internationalisation of the German Colonies captured by the Dominions of South Africa, Australia and New Zealand, then the price paid by Britain for concluding such an agreement with Japan is to be borne by the Dominions interested—a very expensive and one-sided bargain. It seems to us, and one to which the people of South Africa and the islands under the Southern Cross will never agree. No objection appears to have been raised by the British delegation to the proposal of the United States President, and it looks as though the Dominions are going to be sacrificed to American demands once more; something by no means rare in Britain's diplomatic history, for many among us can remember when other portions of the Empire were given away because of a mistaken sentiment.

Presentation to Our V.C.
Sergt. Ricketts, V.C., while visiting Baird's Dry Goods department yesterday, was presented by the employees with a handsome cigarette holder and 1,000 Gem cigarettes. The young hero in a few well chosen words, thanked the donors for their kind gift. He was afterwards shown around the premises by Mr. W. Piercey and introduced to all the workers, who needless to say gave him a hearty welcome.

From Japan.

Writing from Matsuyama, Japan, under date of December 20th, Rev. R. W. Andrews tells an amusing story of a fire in that town, which shows that Japanese methods are not ours. He says:—"Had a big fire in the city last night, and sixty houses were burned. There is no city water here and when the match box houses get going, believe me, there's something doing in a short time. The Fire Company with hand pumps arrived late and by the time the Fire-Gecky was fixed on one of the roofs, he was in danger of being burnt also, and had to be moved further on. The Fire Captain told me he was late because he "Could not find his sword." I said it was too bad that the fire was so inconsiderate and had not waited till he could get his weapon and he said "Indeed it was." Great people these Japs.

Mr. Andrews also writes that Coal is $30 per ton; Shoes, $18 a pair and Shirts $5 each; and, speaking of the weather says "The cold here is of that damp kind which penetrates to the bone, and when we get the N. E. winds from the mountains it is most disagreeable. The houses are not of the construction that we associate with winter. In my study there is a grate, but the heat from it is about the amount one might expect from a good clay pipe in full blast."

Organ Recital.

Cochrane Street Centennial Church was filled with people who went to hear the Grand Organ Recital given by Mr. Agnew Demarest, last night, and the vast audience was filled with delight because of the musical treat provided. In addition, both the organist and Mrs. Demarest gave some excellent solos, after the termination of which the Evangelists held a farewell reception, the whole audience regretfully giving the hand shake of good-bye. Subsequently the members of the campaign committee and their wives were entertained by the ladies of Cochrane Street congregation. Before breaking up Rev. Dr. Bond eloquently thanked the Evangelists for the splendid musical entertainment which had been given.

Mr. J. S. Currie

LECTURES TO E. OF C.
At the Knights of Columbus Rooms last evening, Mr. J. S. Currie, the Newfoundland representative of the Press Delegates who visited the battleship in 1918, gave a very vivid description of his sojourn overseas, and dilated in a very interesting and instructive manner on some things that he had seen and heard while there. Mr. Currie, with the other Pressmen, was under secrecy concerning the tour, but of what he could talk about, there was enough and to spare to thoroughly please every Knight present and their lady friends. The hour and a half passed like magic, after which Mr. C. J. Fox, W.S.S., moved a very appreciable vote of thanks in words that did not fail to convey to Mr. Currie our distinct pleasure at having him address us on such a vitally interesting topic. Despite the very inclement weather, the rooms were well filled, but those who were unavoidably absent certainly missed a treat. The playing of the National Anthem closed a very enjoyable evening.

Annual Meeting.

A. E. B., N. B. S.
The annual meeting of the Albert Edward Branch of the N.B.S., was held last night and was largely attended. Four applicants were added to the membership, which showed a big increase for the past year. After the adoption of the different reports the election of the officers for the ensuing year took place with the following result:—
President—W. R. Boone, re-elected.
Vice-Pres.—Noseworthy, elected.
Treasurer—J. Adey, elected.
Secretary—W. Dicks, re-elected.
G. Marshall—W. Oakley, re-elected.
Deputy Marshal—R. Lehr, elected.
The officers were installed by ex-Pres. Lawrence, who congratulated the lads on the very successful year just closed, and predicted even better results for 1919. The installation, tea and entertainment will be held on the 28th inst.

Proposed Reception.

The people of Bell Island purpose giving the returned hero a warm-hearted reception in the Orange Hall on Thursday evening next, when a Grand Ball, will be the chief event. The Myron-O'Grady Orchestra have been engaged for the dance, but it will be questionable if they will be able to get to the Iron Isle owing to the large body of ice in the bay.

Supreme Court.

Attorney General vs. Joseph Roper et al.—Mr. Mews for Plaintiff, moves for a day for the further hearing of this action. Mr. L. E. Emerson for Defendants, assents. Further hearing set for Thursday next, Feb. 13th inst. Court adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow.

"Nevada" Jammed.

The Nevada, which was on her way here with a load of coal from Sydney, was caught in the ice yesterday off Cape Spear. Latest news give the ship as being still jammed but it is presumed that the ship is in no immediate danger of being driven ashore as the ice is firmly packed between the ship and the shore.

Ships Held Up.

The continuous in-winds of the last few days have completely blocked the Harbor with ice. As a consequence the steamships Glencoe, Escazon, Alconda and Graciana are held up here and a change of wind is necessary to remove the barrier or navigation can be resumed. Many other smaller vessels are waiting to leave, but must perforce await the removal of the ice.

Sydney Harbor Closed.

The s.s. Meigle was unable to reach North Sydney this trip, owing to the presence of ice in the harbor, and the Sagona had to leave port earlier than usual for the same reason. The Kyle, which leaves Port aux Basques today, will probably go to Loughsag, and it is quite possible that Sydney may be closed to navigation for some time.

Annual Meeting B.M.U.

The annual meeting of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union was held last night. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, J. R. Mullins, re-elected; Vice, Pres., J. Gallop, elected; Treas., J. Cochrane, elected; Asst. Treas., B. Spratt, re-elected; Sec., W. Edney, re-elected. A pleasing feature of the evening was the manner in which the veteran bricklayer and mason, Mr. J. Ellis, conducted the election and installation of officers. It was decided at the meeting that the rate of wages for members of the Union during the coming season will be 60c per hour; a day to constitute 10 hours. The contractors will be accordingly notified.

Personal Mention.

Sir Robert Bond was in town yesterday from Whitebourne.
Mr. C. Farahan, of Heart's Content, is in the city on a short visit.
Mrs. Jas. M. Morris, wife of Lt. Morris, M.C., of Montreal, and daughter of E. W. Mudge, of Montreal, formerly of St. John's, Newfoundland, was a passenger on S. S. "Corsican." Mrs. Morris has been doing V. A. D. canteen work at Paddington Station, London, for two years.
Mr. Lewis Dawe of Bay Roberts is in town on a short visit.
Mr. Gus Dawe is a guest at the Croble.
Mr. D. M. Forbes of South Branch is in town, and registered at the Croble.
Mr. Joy who was Manager of Marystown Branch of the Royal Bank of Canada is now in town, but leaves shortly, we understand to take charge of a new branch on the South West Coast.
Mr. E. J. Whitty, the popular manager of the N. I. W. A. Co-operative Store, who has been ill for the past week, is now recovered sufficiently to resume his duties.

Weather Differences.

Judging by the weather register as given out, it is evident that we happen to be a little east of the frost belt. Yesterday the thermometer at the Toppals showed 10 below, but went up considerably during the day and night. Here, however, the thermometer has not registered zero for some time.

TO-DAY'S Messages.

NOON.

READY FOR THE BOLSHEVICS.
LONDON, Feb. 10.
(Via Reuter's—Ottawa Agency).—A member of the Canadian force, now at Omsk, describing the situation, says the country is in such a chronic state of disorder that often no trains run for weeks. Refugees are flocking into Omsk in an awful condition. The Bolshevics are everywhere. They never take chances and speak to nobody. It is rumoured that 75 per cent. of the population of Omsk whose population is 200,000, are Bolshevics, but if they start anything we are ready for them. The Red Cross is doing wonderful work here. They have a large staff working night and day, trying to straighten out the pitiable tangle. The roads are terrible. Our food is at the best.

GRAVE INDUSTRIAL ISSUES.

LONDON, Feb. 10.
(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—Although the tube dispute has been provisionally settled, a series of far more formidable industrial issues confronts the country. Joint conferences between the railway executive and the three great railway men's Union, namely the National Union of Railwaymen, the Locomotive Engineers and Firemen Society, and the Railway Clerks Association, representing over half a million members in all, will shortly be called to consider the national problems, which have been formulated by these unions. The National Union of Railwaymen demand that increased wages be made permanent; Double pay for overtime and Sundays, pay and a half for night work, between each turn of periods, of not less than twelve hours between each turn of duty; Fourteen days annual holidays, with pay; Standardisation of conditions of service on all United Kingdom, railways, and equal representation, both National and local, for the union of the management of all railways. The Locomotive Engineers Society are demanding, among other things, standard rates of pay of twenty shillings daily, in the case of engine men and motormen and fifteen shillings to firemen and electric trainmen. Certain additions to these standards rates is to be made, if the cost of living is dearer now than in June 1917, but no reduction if the cost of living is lower. Time and a quarter for overtime and night duty, with double pay on Sundays. Twelve hours rest between turns and four full days annual holidays with full pay.
Both the Railwaymen's Union and the Locomotive Engineers Society programmes include an eight hour day, which is however already in force. The Railway Clerks Association ask a 38 hour week for day workers, and 34 for night; a minimum commencing salary of seventy pounds sterling annually for a boy of 16, rising by regular increments to two hundred and thirty pounds sterling for a man of 28, with an additional twenty pounds sterling, throughout, for clerks employed in London. A further scale ranging from two hundred and fifty pounds sterling to one thousand pounds sterling annually, for station masters, goods agents and others, holding positions of more than ordinary responsibility. The outstanding item in the foregoing programmes is the Railwaymen's Union demand for perpetuation of war wages, advanced in which, since October, 1914, have aggregated thirty-three shillings weekly in case of men, and half that figure for employees under 18. These advances were intended to cover the extra cost of living, and were regarded as temporary. The Miners Federation have arranged a meeting at Southampton on February 12, to receive the Government's reply to demands for full wages for demobilised miners during unemployment, and for miners displaced to make room for ex-soldiers, and six hour working days at 30 per cent more wages, with continuation of all mines and mineral. The third party to the triple alliance, namely the transport workers, demand a twenty per cent increase and a 44-hour week without a loss of earning power. Other unions are closely watching the issue of these demands, with a view to taking more or less similar action.

GERMAN PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

WEIMAR, Feb. 10.
(By the A. P.)—The German National Assembly has adopted the Provisional Constitution with little amendment. The National President will be elected Tuesday.

INTERESTING DEVELOPMENTS.

PARIS, Feb. 11.
Interesting developments in the work of the Peace Conference are expected to-day when the draft of the plan for a Society of Nations will be before the Commission on a Society of Nations, for its second reading, and it is probable they will be prepared for action by a plenary session of the Conference late in the week. Unanimity continues to prevail that the Commission's report will be adopted.

Evangelistic Campaign for Sydney.

An evangelistic campaign conducted by a woman will be begun in Sydney in about two weeks, when Victoria Booth-Clibborn Demarest, grand-daughter of the founder of the Salvation Army, will hold the first of a series of services which are to be carried on under the auspices of Jubilee Methodist church.
In her campaign here Mrs. Demarest will be assisted by her husband, Agnew Demarest, singer, pianist, and organist. Mrs. Demarest has composed many hymns and sacred songs which are sung by her and Mr. Demarest at their meetings. She herself is spoken of as possessing in an eminent degree the gifts and graces of the Booth woman, the courage and daring of her heroic mother, with the poise, restraint, and spiritual fervor of Catherine Booth, the Mother of the Salvation Army.
At present Mr. and Mrs. Demarest are in St. John's, Newfoundland, where they are conducting a successful campaign of several weeks duration.—Sydney Record.

LATEST.

BRITISH SCHOONER ABANDONED.

CHARLESTON, S.C., Feb. 10.
Abandoning of the British schooner Charlevot by her crew, near Cape Canaveral, off the coast of Florida, was reported to-day to the headquarters of the Sixth Naval District. When sighted yesterday, only the masted vessel was aboard the schooner. Rescue vessels which put out to aid the vessel were forced by a high gale to return to port.

BOMBING THE BOLSHEVICS.

ARCHANGEL, Feb. 10.
British and Russian airplanes flying over the frozen timber land between the Vaga River and the Volodga Railway are greatly harassing the Bolsheviki forces. This is one branch of equipment in which the Allies are superior to the enemy, who has virtually no aerial defense, while the Allied fliers are demonstrating their efficiency despite the extreme cold.

GROWING DIFFICULTIES.

PARIS, Feb. 11.
In view of the complexity and diversity of the problems raised by the armistice, says a Havas report, the Supreme War Council has appointed a committee of eight members, to whom will be entrusted the task of studying the questions. The Council therefore, has postponed for a few days the adoption of conditions to be imposed upon Germany, so as to be better prepared as to means for insuring their execution. The Commission on ports, waterways and railways of the Peace Conference, met to-day with Dr. Silvio Crespel, Italy, in the chair. Great Britain, supported by the United States, proposed the proclamation of the principle of complete liberty of transit to every country on equal conditions to all. This proposition was opposed by Albert Clavelle for France, and Lambros Coromilas for Greece, who pointed out that Great Britain and the United States occupied a special situation that made the question of commercial land transit insignificant for them. The commission appointed two sub-committees, one to study the question of the control of ports, waterways and railways, and the other, the question of liberty and transit. The first commission has approved of the principle that no country may charge duties on goods passing through its ports or over its railways or waterways, other than the freights paid on goods destined for the country itself; neither may they levy on such goods customs or local taxes. The committee agreed that navigation of the Rhine and Danube should be free to all countries bordering on them or through which these rivers pass.

Manager Resigns.

We understand that at the end of the present week Mr. D. R. Thistle, Business Manager of the Daily Star since its inception, resigns his position there. Mr. E. J. Goodland will probably take his place. Mr. Goodland, formerly of the Star's job-printing staff, now of Gray and Goodland, is a well-known and first-class printer, and brings with him a deep insight into the trade that will be more than valuable to him in his new duties. Mr. Thistle goes with A. E. Hickman and Co., Ltd., to take charge of the engine department of that firm.

Evangelists Leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Demarest and their Private Secretary left by to-day's express for Canada. A large number of friends, made during their campaign here, were at the station to give them a send-off, and farewell songs were sung by all present. Not a few were seen with wet eyes, as the train moved out. Mr. and Mrs. Demarest have made many friends since coming here.

BORN.

On Sunday, Feb. 9th, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. E. Nixon.

DIED.

Passed peacefully away, Monday morning, Katherine, the widow of the late Charles Stone, aged 89. Funeral on Wednesday at 2.30 p.m. from her late residence, 38 Belvidere Street. Friends please accept this the only intimation.
Last evening, after a long illness, Elizabeth Donnelly, aged 84 years; funeral on to-morrow (Wednesday) at 2 o'clock, from her late residence, Thomas Murphy's, Mundy Pond Road. The deceased was for many years housekeeper for the late Mr. James Simms, at Cape Race.—R.I.P.

Evangelists.

Longfellow, something over forty-two years first Evangelists, in the person of the Messrs. Bromley and St. John's, and is still bearing fruit. It is twenty years this month since of the renowned Evangelists, Crosley and Hunter, of Toronto, their work still lives. And have had the labours of two people of this same class, who have come very close to our world will live in our memories a year. These friends, as we are already aware, are Victoria Booth Clibborn Demarest and her good husband, Mr. Demarest, they came among us, and were well recommended, and their ministry in our city is a boon of their sincerity. In days these Evangelists have in their work, and varied in methods of campaign, from those who have preceded them; but they surpassed them for contrast in sincerity. In these traits they won the confidence of the people who heard them, and their good act is lost; how much we are expected from all the people which these devoted peo- randered?

Party Before Country,

Motto of the Present Administration --- People's Prerogative perjured.

It is stated that if it was the length of either of his sons to be POLITICS he begged them to remember that their motto was BEFORE PARTY.

Unbiased citizens, persons taking a true and just part in the government of the country must acquiesce in the position contained in the present. We see what the present administration has done, and we see what the present administration is doing. We see what the present administration is doing. We see what the present administration is doing.

The motto "Country before Party" has been ignored, and is utterly at variance with the policy pursued by the nationalists (?) here. Party, Party, Party is their motto, and it is useless to expect otherwise.

"Country before Party" is their motto, and it is useless to expect otherwise. Party, Party, Party is their motto, and it is useless to expect otherwise. Party, Party, Party is their motto, and it is useless to expect otherwise.

The Evangelists.

The service of these Evangelists has inspired a higher ideal into our religious life and it has shown us how much can be accomplished by consecrated talent. In Mr. Demarest we have had an artist of culture, and both his singing and his accompaniment have been very edifying.

These friends, as we are already aware, are of the Messrs. Bromley and of the Messrs. St. John's, and they are still bearing fruit. It is twenty years this month since the renowned Evangelists, Crossley and Hunter, of Toronto had their work still lives. And they have had the labours of two generations of people of this same class, and they will live in our memories for ever.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA.

Woodland Farm, Wednesday Morning

Dear Jane,

At last I've found a moment to answer your very welcome letter.

That's as far as I got, when I heard a terrible noise in the kitchen, and rushing in, found that Bobby had pulled a pan of boiling water off the stove and scalded himself badly. Just imagine!—and I ten miles from the nearest doctor and no one here to help! Thank goodness Tom has always insisted upon keeping Zam-Buk in the house. The poor little chap was in such awful pain it was all I could do to hold him while I plastered the Zam-Buk on his arm and leg. Then I bound them up with strips torn from an old sheet, and now he's actually asleep! Could you believe it? I always knew Zam-Buk was good stuff, but I'd no idea it was so wonderful for ending pain. Whatever should I have done without it!

This started out to be a letter, but it sounds more like a testimonial for Zam-Buk! I'll send it off anyway, because I want to ask if you'll please send me half a dozen boxes of Zam-Buk as soon as you get this, as I have only enough for one more dressing.

Yours in haste, Mary

Mother! Take the hint! Never be without a box of Zam-Buk on the shelf. Not only for scalds, burns and cuts, but for eczema, ringworm, ulcers, blood-poisoning, piles, cold sores, etc. it is without equal. And it costs no more than ordinary ointment. See her, all dealers.

Kitchener's Death

Will Always Remains a Mystery. London.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—Lord Kitchener and his staff did not even reach the deck of the British cruiser Hampshire after she struck a mine off the coast of Scotland one stormy night in June, 1914, according to a warrant officer, who has just told the story of the sinking to a correspondent of the Manchester Guardian.

Question concerning the sinking of the Hampshire have been asked in Parliament, because of the persistent rumor that the vessel had been sunk by a submarine and Lord Kitchener had been carried off a prisoner to Germany.

The raft drifted with the gale for five hours, during which time many of the men were washed from the raft while others died and rolled into the sea.

Should Parsons Wear Colour.

It may seem, on the surface, perfectly right and proper that a minister of the Gospel should wear clothes which distinguish him from other people.

It takes nearly half a ton of coal to burn a thousand bricks; about a shilling's worth of straw is needed, and also a considerable quantity of sand.

The cleric, on the other hand, never doffs his uniform except when he goes to bed. He is ordained when still very young, and if he lives to eighty he sticks to his black coat and choker.

What is the result? One should rather say, what are the results? The first is that no man is himself when in company with a parson.

Of course it does not help him. It is as bad as bad can be. He never gets to know men as men, and though he may be, and often is, the best intentioned person imaginable, yet all his good intentions are bound to fail.

Please come to the Cathedral Women's Association Sale of Work in the Synod Hall on Tuesday, Feb. 18th. Fancy and useful articles at reasonable prices. Afternoon Tea, etc.—

Rubber Came This Way.

One of the things from which Germany suffered a severe shortage was rubber. The difficulty of obtaining it handicapped enemy transport to a very serious extent.

It was Charles Goodyear, in the United States, who first tackled the problem of making rubber as we now know it—vulcanized rubber.

For nearly thirty years he struggled. He baked indiarubber in his wife's oven, boiled it in her saucepans, steamed it at the nose of the tea kettle, roasted it in ashes, and toasted it before the fire.

Goodyear constantly wore things of indiarubber with the double purpose of testing it and advertising it.

Finally, in 1844, he succeeded, but too late to benefit him. After founding one of the world's greatest industries, he died leaving his family an inheritance of debt.

News About Paper.

"Broke" paper they call it in the trade, and even before the war drove paper up to three times its former price, a good deal of used or waste paper was worked up and remade.

The greater part of our paper is made from wood pulp. Small blocks of wood are ground up in a mill; a stream of water plays on the stone, and carries the pulp away as fast as it is formed.

But writing-paper is still made of rags, but at present a most surprising number of different substances are being used for paper-making.

All the sizes and hamp provide paper-making fibre, and in some mills you may actually see old string and rope being torn up, boiled down in some alkaline solution, and turned into paper.

Before the war Norway alone was sending us 50,000 tons of wood-pulp yearly. Practically all that stopped, but it will not be long now before she sends us supplies again.

Stick Fighting.

Single combat in various forms survives all over the world, and different peoples have different methods of showing their prowess. In the island of Trinidad, for instance, the natives, who speak a mixture of French patois and English, call their method "playing bois" (literally stick fighting).

The stick used is about a yard long and usually made from the "puis" tree a very hard wood. This is held at each end diagonally in front of the body, and the blows are struck by releasing one hand and striking with either the left or the right.

In the carnival season bands from the various districts are made up and contests take place whenever two bands meet. The stick-men are extraordinarily clever at parrying blows, and an expert will stop a cricket ball thrown at him.

Our three Specials: Stafford's Phorstone, Pres. A., and Liniments also Ginger Wine, are sold at Robert Parsons', 7 Hayward Ave. Jan 11, 19.

The Men Who Tell Us.

(By John S. Margerson.)

Much has been said and written about the fishing vessels which during the war hoisted the White Ensign and became units of the fleets in being. Little, however, is mentioned of their elder sisters—the Marthas of the Bogger—who not only stood and waited but also fought the U-boat by searching for the food which was so essential to the national well-being.

It wasn't all fish they brought up in their nets in those days, either, and many times the great trawl net, containing close on half a ton of mysterious drags from the deep, has split death for those who only expected life.

Small mines, containing over a hundredweight of T.N.T. with strikers sticking out at half a dozen places, were easily hidden by a mass of herring, and if shot into the hold would send fish, men and bits of ship sky-high in one vast upheaval.

Therefore, care had to be exercised, and when a catch of this kind was found the main part of the crew—all old men or boys—got as far away from the ship as possible, while one member of the crew penetrated to the interior of the net and got out the mine. Floundering over the slippery, slimy fish, he fought his way to the sphere which is so deadly.

Then, securing a line under its horns—the other end of which was made fast aloft—he clambered back again, and easing the trawl warp ever so gingerly, at length managed to lower the great net, oversee once more, leaving the mine suspended aloft. Then overboard it went, and the crew, from their boat, took pot shots at it with their rifles till it exploded gloriously but harmlessly in the water.

Our Young Knights.

What the Boy Scouts Have Done.

In 1914 there were 152,000 Scouts in the kingdom. In spite of the dearth of Scoutmasters caused by the war, the numbers have increased by over 12,000. The figures for the United Kingdom are 164,065, and for the Empire at large 218,716.

Scoutcraft includes training in the qualities of the Frontiersman, pluck, endurance, resourcefulness, plus the chivalry of the knight; and the work of the Scouts in the Great War proves the perfection of this training.

Exact figures are not obtainable, but it is known that over 100,000 ex-Scouts served with the Colors, either by land or sea, and these have won every imaginable decoration, including at least seven Victoria Crosses.

The Scout movement is branching out both ways. For the youngsters from eight to eleven years of age, the Wolf Cub movement has been started. In 1916 there were 6,000 Wolf Cubs; to-day there are at least 25,000.

For boys over fifteen a Senior Scout scheme was inaugurated in 1917. These are known as "Rovers," and Rovers, like the rest, have done excellent war work.

Eight hundred and fifty Scouts have been constantly employed in coast-guarding. A large number have been and are still with the Auxiliary Fleet as signallers, cooks, etc. The War Office uses Scouts as orderlies; all over the country Scouts are helping farmers, while their good work during air-raids will not be easily forgotten.

Nearly sixty thousand Scouts have obtained badges for war-work, as well as over five hundred Wolf Cubs.

BOOKS MADE FROM TREES.

Books are made of paper, and modern paper is made of the pulp of wood—usually of spruce timber. Now, a novel, even a war-time publication, absorbs at least a pound of paper for each copy. More than one popular work of fiction has had a sale of a quarter of a million copies, and thus for its publication has required 250,000 pounds weight of paper.

As a matter of fact, the average weight of a novel, is over sixteen ounces than under, but we will take it as a pound so as to simplify our arithmetic.

An average spruce tree, from which the pulp is made, provides about half a cord of wood, and this when ground up, pulped, dried and rolled out, will give just five hundred pounds weight of paper. It is plain then that no fewer than five hundred spruce trees must be cut down and worked up for a novel which sells a quarter of a million copies.

Spruce grows about a hundred trees to the acre so that five acres of forest have to be stripped to make one book.

The consumption of paper by books is a small matter compared with the way in which newspapers eat up forests. The strain is so great that, unless replanting is undertaken on a great scale, a real paper famine is before us. So far, the materials for paper-making are limited. The best writing paper is still made of rags—preferably linen.

The only other materials for the manufacture of good white paper are separate grass, straw and wood.

NOTICE!

ROYAL NAVAL RESERVISTS:
 It is notified for information that the Government has decided that there be paid an additional amount of money from the time of the commencement of their service, in cases where men were then serving, or from the time when their services began, to the time of discharge, or of decease, or to 30th day of October, 1917, inclusive, and the sum of 35c. per day from the 1st of October, 1917, up to the time of discharge.

MEMBERS OF THE ROYAL NEWFOUNDLAND REGIMENT—SERVING OR DISCHARGED—AND DEPENDENTS WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

It is notified for information that the Government has decided that the following Allowances, and additions to already existing Allowances, shall be paid:

A Cash Allowance on the following sliding scale:

For men discharged up to 1st April, 1917—$35.00.

For men discharged between 1st April, 1917, and 1st April, 1918—$45.00.

For men discharged on or after 1st April, 1918—$60.00.

A War Service Gratuity, in place of Post Discharge Pay, to be graduated up to six months' Pay and Allowances, exclusive of subsistence or allowances in lieu of rations and quarters. For men who have served in an actual theatre of war, or were on the strength of some recognized overseas establishment on Nov. 11th, 1918, the Gratuity is graded as follows:—

For three years' service or over—183 days' pay and allowances.

For two years' service and under three years—153 days' pay and allowances.

For one year's service and under two years—122 days' pay and allowances.

For less than one year's service—92 days' pay and allowances.

For men who have served overseas, and were discharged prior to November 11th, 1918, without having been in actual theatre of war, and for men who have served in Newfoundland only, the Gratuity is graded as follows:—

For three years' service or over—92 days' pay and allowances.

For two years' service and under three years—61 days' pay and allowances.

For one year's service and under two years—31 days' pay and allowances.

In the case of an Officer or man without dependents whose pay and allowances, as above described, are less than $70.00 for a 31 day period, a consolidated rate of $70.00 will be paid in lieu of every 31 or 30 days' pay and allowances to which he is entitled.

In the case of an Officer or man, with dependents who are entitled or who, before his retirement or discharge, were entitled to Separation Allowances, whose pay and allowances including Separation Allowance is less than $100.00 for a 31-day period, a consolidated rate of $100.00 will be laid in lieu of every 31 or 30 days' pay and allowances to which he is entitled.

If part of, or all the gratuity under Post Discharge Pay Regulations has been paid to any officer or man, the amount so paid will be deducted from the Gratuity provided for by "War Service Gratuity" Regulations.

Separation Allowance to wives of members of the Regiment and to other dependents entitled thereto, shall be retroactive, making it effective from date of enlistment, or from the date when entitled to receive same under authorized Regulations.

The foregoing will necessitate a large amount of printing and additional work, and it will not be possible for the Department of Militia to make payments before the 1st of March.

J. R. BENNETT,
 Minister of Militia.

Do You Collect Seaweed?

THERE MAY BE MONEY IN IT.

Few are aware that certain chemicals are obtained from seaweed. Along the western coasts of Ireland and Scotland a crude method of manufacture known as kelp-making, has been carried on for centuries. "Kelp" is the calcined ash of seaweed. After being thoroughly dried in the sun, the seaweed is raked together and turned in shallow pits. In this way it is prevented from burning too rapidly, so that heat does not destroy the chemicals which are left behind in the ash, or kelp. The other stages of the manufacture are now done in chemical works, to which the crude ash is sent, and the kelp-makers now only prepare this ash for the manufacturer.

Potassium, sodium, and iodine are the most important products of the kelp. The proportions in which they are present vary with the kind of seaweed employed. Three tons of deep-sea kelp will give a ton of kelp, but about twenty tons of the cut weed are required to give a similar amount. Generally there are about 3 to 10 lbs. of iodine in 3 1/2 cwts. of kelp, though sometimes it is as low as 4 to 5 lbs. About half the quantity of ash is composed of potassium, sodium and magnesium compounds, the rest being insoluble.

Will Old Days Return?

The demand for kelp, which had fallen off a good deal of late years, owing to the importation of chemicals from Germany, revived during the war with the stoppage of German supplies. It commands a price varying from 23 to 25 1/2 ton, fairly remunerative return considering the ease with which the raw material can be got.

Let us sincerely hope that this home industry, along with many more, will recover, and maintain once more its old prosperity.

It has recently been discovered that alcohol can be extracted from kelp in quantities sufficiently large to make it probable, at least, that the manufacture would pay its way as a commercial undertaking. It is estimated that 100 lbs. of red wrack will yield six litres of alcohol.

If certain alcohol can be obtained cheaply from a non-edible substance like seaweed, it is probable that it will supplant petrol as a motive power, and in that event the production of kelp would become an industry of the first importance.

It is too early to speak with certainty, but it is quite possible that kelp-making may become a valuable industry for the country, and a profitable occupation for those who carry it on.

Few Cents Destroys Your Dandruff and Stops Fallig Hair.

Save your hair! Make it thick, wavy and beautiful—Try This!

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge that does nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Dandertine to-night—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Dandertine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

KILL THAT TIP!

It may seem odd these days to quote Germany as an example worth following, but the Berlin Soviet has just taken one step which is well worth noticing. It has abolished the restaurant tip.

This I have always considered, would be a boon to many people, and waiters need have no fear that their interests, as a class, would suffer. If tips were abolished, waiters would have to get higher wages, and if their employers could not pay higher wages out of their profits, then they would have to raise the price of their meals in proportion. Anyway, the public would know exactly where it stood, and neither the waiters nor the employers would suffer in the long run. The people who would suffer would be "the privileged few"—and that would be all to the good. A waiter's weekly wage should not depend upon the haphazard humour of his customers. It ought to be fixed.—Answer's Editorial Chat.

Ladies of the Road.

WOMEN AS COMMERCIAL TRAVELLERS.

Do women make successful commercial travellers? Scores of managers of business are able to answer this question to-day. If it had been put to them before the war some would probably have answered "No!" emphatically. Others might have said they thought not. Most would have been constrained to confess, if pressed, that they had made no effort to find out.

To-day, however, a considerable number would give a decisive affirmative. Many of these houses, devoted to supplying women's needs of clothing and catering for her passion for finery and fashions, would have found it almost impossible to carry on during the war, and particularly during the last two years, but for the women.

Rough and Ready.

No doubt, one of the reasons for the general employment of men for this work has been the idea that the life of the road and the commercial-room was unsuitable for women. But in this respect things have improved very much in the last few years. There are still, it is true, hotels which cater for the knights of the road, where the ladies are looked at a little askance, and where the day's work over, they are expected to sit and twiddle their thumbs by the fire in a cheerless coffee-room, and go early to bed, while the men enjoy all the amenities of a room furnished and designed for their entertainment. But hotel-keepers are learning their lesson, and if the women "commercial" has really come to stay, the women's commercial-room will come also.

Whether she has come to stay or not remains to be seen. Certainly many of those who have kept this branch of men's work going while the men have been in the Army have made good. Some are wives who have taken their husband's jobs, and several have done more business and earned more money than their husbands did.

A Lost Life.

New York, Jan. 20.—Charles E. Chaplin, the former city editor of The Evening World, who was sentenced on Tuesday to an indeterminate term of twenty years to life on his plea of guilty to the murder of his wife, Nellie Beebe Chaplin, was taken to Sing Sing Prison yesterday by Sheriff Knott. Should Chaplin survive the minimum of his sentence and be released he would then be more than 80 years old, as his age was recorded as 60 years when he was arraigned before Justice Weeks in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court. Chaplin's mental condition, which was the subject of an inquiry by a commission in lunacy, had improved during his recent days in the Tombs, but it was said that he would probably be placed in the Sing Sing Prison hospital for several days for a study of his condition and to determine what work he is fitted to do.—New York Times.

Fads and Fashions.

The off-the-shoulder line is excellent. Coat belts when used are very narrow. The flared straw hat is extremely popular.

THE CAR OF QUALITY is "THE DODGE."

Dodge Bros. motor car, since its introduction in the motor world, has given universal satisfaction, and is regarded as one of the best cars on the road. Everything entering into its manufacture is of the best and the Company's policy has always been "Is it good enough for the Dodge?"

It is not the extreme freakish one year car, but sensibly built to give years of service and always to look good. Real leather upholstery, 116 inch wheel base, one man top, 32 x 3 1/2 tires (rear non-skid), electric starting and lighting, all attest to the fact that the car is built to a standard and not down to a price.

If you are thinking of buying an automobile, it will be worth while to see the Models now on exhibition at the Garage of

Fads and Fashions.

Quilting appears occasionally on tulle dresses. The new skirts are inclined to hug the figure. Vests have the privilege of growing into aprons. The yardage veil is steadily increasing in favor. Silk stitching promises to be a popular trimming. The summer frocks will be sleeved in organdie. White Mongolia goat fur is effective on the new frocks. Yellow silk jersey is a new material in sports corsets. The new tunic skirt has the tunic coming only to the knee. Gray and black form the smartest combination of the moment. A good deal of Chinese fillet is used on dash crepe blouses. Dressy tulle suits are seen, some with cape-coat effects. The suit coat has made excellent use of the deep shawl collar. Copper, tete de negre and black are the favorite colors for veils.
