MEMORIAL SERVICE AT CLEMENTSPORT

Big Event Takes Place in The Old Church To Morrow Afternoon September 1st.

Far down the Annapolis Valley, in beautiful burrowland lies Clementsport. "The Queen of the Basin", crowning the crest of a hill on the south mountain and looking over the shabby waters of the Basin to Annapolis and Digby, stands the old church erected in the year of our Lord 1789.

In this historic structure there is to be held on Sept. 1st at the hour of 3 p.m. A memorial service to the memory of the old pioneers, the Empire loyalists and those who lie buried beneath its shade.

Part and tradition are interwoven in the church history. The exact date of erection is not known, but it is 1789 or earlier. Calveck says 1788.

At the close of the revolutionary war 1783-84 a large number of loyalists came to this province, the greater number going to Halifax, Shelburne and what is now St. John, but a number came to Annapolis and Digby, and settled along the sides of the Annapolis Basin, obtaining grants of land from the Imperial government. Those who settled in the township of Clements were for the most part from New York and of Dutch descent. Ditmars, Vroom, Polyhemus, etc., at about the same time a number of German mercenaries who had been employed by the British in the war received grants. They, however, settled inland on a section which still has their name, "The Waldeck" and the Hessians lived, while the Dutch settled along the shores of the Basin, where many of their descendants still reside.

After building their log houses here as elsewhere their next concern was to build a house to the honor and glory of Almighty God, and thus Old St. Edwards was built. The huge timbers were cut near at hand and hewed by willing hands—boards 2 ft. wide, shaved pine shingles were put on with hand made nails. The plaster was made from lime obtained by burning clam shells on the beach and is so hard it will bend the point of a small nail. The architecture is Norman—and the south door is a unique feature.

Situated on the top of the left hill it is visible for miles and was so built as a landmark for the fishermen and mariners coming up the Basin. It was altered and sounding board being taken down and the former split in two and placed either side of the chancel to form prayer desks and lecture. The church was despoiled of altar, altar veil, etc. to furnish the new St. Edwards built farther down the hill. At present the restoration only goes to that of 1857. Next year it is proposed to restore it to its premature state.

The church is situated in what was a park of the parish of Annapolis until 1841, when the present parish was formed. The following rectors ministered in the old church: Rev. W. M. Godfrey, Rev. C. W. McCully, Rev. Robt. T. L. Anketell, Rev. W. S. H. Morris, Rev. John M. Withercombe and Rev. W. B. Beeler. The new church was erected in Mr. Beeler's time and he, together with Rev. John Beeler and the present rector, Rev. A. W. L. Smith, have held the services there.

The Archbishop of Nova Scotia will preside, Rev. Archdeacon Vroom, one of the descendants of the loyalists, will give the address. Rev. Canon Morris and Rev. Jno. Lockward, former rectors, Rev. Canon V. E. Harris, another descendant of the early settlers, and the present rector, Rev. A. W. L. Smith, will take part in the service.

The following are the invited guests:

THE VALLEY CRICKET LEAGUE

Bridgetown Defeated Kentville in the Final League Game on Saturday Afternoon

Bridgetown played their final league game on Saturday and scored a fine victory at the expense of Kentville, by 123 runs, to 60. After making a poor start, runs came very freely and thanks to a very fine innings of 50 by O. Ollerhead soon passed the century mark. With scores of 16 by C. Ollerhead, 13 by H. Young and 12 by R. Whiteaway, the Bridgetown bowlers totalled 127. Walker bowled well for Kentville, securing 7 wickets. W. Donat and C. Ollerhead shared the bowling against Kentville and dismissed them for 60 runs, the latter having the fine bowling analysis of 8 wickets for 21 runs. A. A. Beauchamp 14 and D. Walker 13 were the top scorers for Kentville.

A LETTER FROM OTTAWA

Dear Sir: Once more I am sending you a line from the Capital, to let you know how affairs in general are here at the seat of government.

To begin we have just passed through the hottest summer ever known in this part of Canada, a season very trying on both man and beast, and daily for a time there would be some of both prostrated by the intense heat of the sun, and great humidity, but like all such periods they have their end, and now we are enjoying the balmy, and very comfortable weather due this time of year.

Our new Governor General, Lord Byng, created quite a demonstration when he arrived in the Capital, and the whole city was en fete for two days, in honor of Lord Byng, of Vimy, and his old comrades in arms.

The "Byng boys", as our Canadian lads were called, turned out in force to meet their old and revered commander, in the late great war and we all believe he spoke the truth, when he said he considered it the proudest moment of his life, when the honor was conferred upon him to lead the valiant Canadian boys to victory in the great battle of Vimy Ridge, and although he felt greatly honored in being appointed Governor of the banner overseas nation. Yet the command of the brave lads, who distinguished themselves so handsly at that memorable battle, will always look upon it as the proudest period of his life, but saddened by the loss of so many brave spartans who fell soldiers' graves in that far off war scented land.

His wife is already very popular, having a decided literary mind, having already written some very interesting books. The Governor and his lady will be, without doubt, extremely popular in this Canada of ours. I have just returned from a few weeks' stay in the Adirondacks. It is a wonderful resort and largely patronized by tourists from both Canada and the United States. The scenery is grand, the air pure and health-giving, and there is a continuous chain of fine summer hotels from Banner House to Saratoga Springs, nestled beside beautiful lakes and all comforts and pleasures

Rev. M. C. Burt, of Chelsea, Mass., will conduct services in the Advent Church on Sunday 10.30 a.m., 3 p.m. and 7.30 p.m.

A very exciting ball game was held in Lawrenceston on the 25th, between Bear River and Lawrenceston. Bear River getting the game, 8 to 7.

NEWSPAPER SPACE

Every line in a newspaper costs the proprietor something. If it is for the benefit of the individual it should be paid for. If the grocer were asked to contribute groceries to one abundantly able to pay for them he would refuse. The proprietor of a newspaper must pay for the free advertising if the beneficiary does not, and yet it is one of the hardest things to be learned by many, that a newspaper has space in its columns to rent, and must rent them to live. To give away rates for anything less than living rates is as fatal to a newspaper as for a landlord to furnish rent free.

"GODLESS MEN"

Reynold Barker Picturizes Ben Ames Williams' Stern Story of The Sep. Played By Splendid Cast. Released By Goidwyn.

Reviewed by Mary Kelly.

Closely resembling Jack London's stories of the sea and the evil men who own it, is Ben Ames Williams' "Godless Men," translated for the screen by Reynold Barker. In it are found the same types, the same uncompromising, idealistic attitude toward life gained after years of hardship and bitterness, and finding expression in acts of hate. With this sort of background, the presence of a pure girl and a minister with love for all men in his heart, lends a touch of striking picturesqueness balancing the extreme horribleness of parts of the story with their beauty of character.

The theme is one of strong, compelling interest. A father who has lost faith in God and man and has taught his creed of hatred to his son, is forced to the bitter realization that the boy has become the incarnation of his own worst thoughts, and is incapable of any act of goodness. This prepares the way for an intensely dramatic death scene in

LABOR DAY IN BRIDGETOWN

Everything in Readiness for the Big Celebration Which Promises to be the Best Yet

Everything in connection with the Labor Day celebration is progressing favorably, and Bridgetown will no doubt have the best annual celebration ever arranged and a record attendance is expected from all over the province.

Merchants and manufacturers have started work on the floats and many ideas are being thought out in connection with the decorated autos. This trades procession and auto parade accompanied by the Annapolis Royal concert band will be the leading feature in the morning programme.

The ladies are said to be taking a deep interest in providing for the dinner and supper to be served in the big tent on the grounds.

The afternoon programme of sports promises to be exceptionally good. The baseball between the Yarmouth Juniors and Bridgetown Juniors will be a hard-fought game as both teams are out to win.

The Tolliver Sunny South Minstrel troupe, of Halifax, will give a half-hour's performance of high class vaudeville consisting of music, dancing and comedy.

The Wanderers baseball team, of Halifax, have been engaged for a special baseball attraction and will play against the Bridgetown seniors. This is expected to be a close game.

Beginning at 7.30 p.m., the vaudeville troupe, above referred to, will give a complete performance in front of the grand stand, assisted by the Annapolis Royal concert band, under the direction of Mr. Paul Yates. This band will also give a free concert on the grounds at 11.30 a.m.

The management of the Labor Day celebration have already expended a sum exceeding $500 for special attractions and we believe that all the citizens of Bridgetown will take a deep interest in making the third annual Labor Day celebration a big success.

The following are the chairmen of the various committees: Street Parade, H. B. Hicks; Refreshments, E. A. Hicks; Sports, C. B. Longmire; Special Attractions, A. C. Charlton; Advertising, O. S. Dunham; Business Manager, W. R. Longmire; Secretary, A. B. MacKenzie.

APPLE MARKET PROSPECTS

Mr. Spurr is the Nova Scotian representative of Messrs. George Monro, Co., Ltd., of London, Manchester and Liverpool, the largest fruit brokers in the world. He has just returned from England where he was making an exhaustive study of the market prospects in so far as Nova Scotian apples are concerned for the coming shipping season. In the following article, which should be of interest to every apple grower, broker and exporter in Nova Scotia, Mr. Spurr sets out a thorough summary of the whole apple reporting situation from the point of view of a Nova Scotian apple shipper having a thorough knowledge of prevailing and ultimate market conditions and prospects.

(By W. A. Spurr)

Possibly the most important factor relating to the market prospects of Nova Scotian apples for export is the abundance and quality of the English crop.

It is an indisputable fact that the United Kingdom has always been our chief export market. Efforts, however, are being made to open up other markets in Europe, especially in the Scandinavian countries in the North which of course produce very little fruit of their own. Other European countries such as Denmark, Holland, Austria and Germany are large apple producers, and even become exporters themselves to the United Kingdom, when, as was the case last year, conditions warrant it.

The scarcity of home grown apples in England last season, and the high value of the pound sterling in Germany and Southern Europe were the conditions prevailing in the early autumn, which resulted in the flooding of the United Kingdom markets with cheap grade European apples of all descriptions. This competition by the sheer weight of quantity alone, depreciated the value of our Nova Scotian fruit. Imports from the Italian Tyrol (pre war Austrian Tyrol) in many instances exceeded 1000 barrels daily to London in addition to large quantities sent to Hull and various other ports for transmission to the large towns in the Midlands, which means that most English markets were flooded with quantities of good appearance but inferior quality apples.

It is highly improbable that the Scandinavian markets will be available during the coming apple shipping season, so that we shall probably have to depend again on the old receiving ports of London, Liverpool, Glasgow, Manchester and Bristol.

Everything points to the English crop being normal in quantity, but very poor in quality at the present time. Reports from the other side of the water tell us that even the unprecedented drought which prevailed nearly all the growing season in England, did not reduce the size of the English crop as much as should have been expected, and that the quantities of apples on the English market at the present time are more than might have been anticipated a month ago.

Yet, from a normal English crop Nova Scotian growers and shippers have nothing to fear. England always wants our apples, which are superior in flavor to any imported fruit; therefore the market prospects for the coming season are according to all indications, very fair.

Of course, the highly inflated costs of production, gathering, packing, transport and selling of the period just after the war (and even now existing) will have to be reduced. These were bearable because the apples on the market were in such strong demand that these swollen costs were covered and yet a considerable profit left for the producer.

Last season a substantial cut from these costs was made by the united action of the Nova Scotia Shippers' Association, who, by going out to the open freight market and chartering their own steamers, forced down the prohibitive prices which the powerful combine of ship owners had been charging when they had matters entirely in their own hands. But this left the ocean freight still too high. There will be a reduction this year at the beginning of the season. This reduction will be for 50 cents per barrel on the rate with which the season ended last year. This will make it $1.25 ocean freight rate, and there is of course a possibility that this will again be reduced as the season progresses. So that we shall undoubtedly have apples going across at $1.00 in the proper season and perhaps some boats will be obtained for 75 cents per barrel.

Other costs as well must come down if Nova Scotia is to remain in the market. Inland freight is one of these. It is rather unreasonable to expect to pay only $1.00 ocean freight for an ocean trip of 2,000 miles if our inland charge for a haul of 70 to 100 miles is one third of this.

Labour costs of packing and picking will, I am confident, be reduced and it is a fact that these cannot remain at their present height and still allow us to compete with other countries. Speaking frankly we cannot expect the high prices we have been obtaining to continue. Prices in England are steadily coming down and in many instances have almost reached pre war level, although it must be confessed that fruit has not dropped proportionately with other commodities, in many cases still be-

Nevertheless our costs must come down and the sooner we get about reducing them, the better for us.

We shall not have the competition of large quantities of barrel apples from the United States which we had last year. As a matter of fact these American markets will probably be open to receive a part of our fruit from Nova Scotia. Although at present a duty of about 75 cents per barrel obtains on our shipments to the United States. Yet it is likely that even this will not entirely close the American markets to us.

The box apple crop is large in the Western States and probably as many boxes will be shipped as last year, but even a great many of these will be consumed on the home markets.

We are producing better and better apples every year and our product is being more and more appreciated in the various markets, and this should more than offset whatever increased competition we are up against in quantity and improved quality of English or imported apples.

Now a word as to market prices for the coming season. It is of course impossible to prophecy these with any degree of accuracy. Speaking generally, I think we may expect a considerable reduction from the prices, which, on an average, obtained last season, although this was far from being a rosy one.

Of last year's figures we can only speak with authority on that quantity handled by the particular firm of brokers which I represent. On about half a hundred thousand barrels which we handled last year, our average gross selling price throughout the season was between thirty six and thirty seven shillings per barrel.

However, as three quarters of this quantity was handled in London where the prevailing markets were higher than in other ports, this would probably exceed the export average by two or three shillings per barrel. The average costs on these were as under:

Packing	30
Inland freight	30
Insurance and Forwarding 10
Ocean freight	2.20
Total	2.90 at $4.10, equals 14/6
Dock chgs. and selling chgs. 3/

This gives the average selling expenses of these apples at 17/6 using $4.10 as the average value of the pound sterling throughout the season. In averaging the ocean freight I have assumed that something over half the crop was transported across the Atlantic at the old rate of $2.50 per barrel, giving therefore $2.20 as the rough average.

As for the exchange, $4.10 may be a little high for the average rate, though I do not think it more than two or three points high. This gives us then 36/- average gross sales prices and 17/6 average expenses leaving a nett of 18/6 per barrel to clear to the shipper. This at $4.10 is about $3.85 per barrel.

So much for last year. It is my opinion this coming season we shall be fortunate if we can average 27/- per barrel average gross sales, but in spite of this our net results should be even higher than last year because of decreased costs. Whereas our average costs last year were 17/6 per barrel, we should reduce them next season by 6/6 to just over 11/- per barrel.

We hope, of course, that exchange will favour us more than last season;

Redmac Has Arrived To Heal The Sick.

Those who are sufferers, now have a chance to be made well. Dyspeptics, Rheumatics, and any one ailing will have a chance to regain their health. To have Dyspepsia is to be miserable, untold agony after eating or trying to eat, your lot may be different since the introduction of Redmac. Weak nerves, irritable, and out of sorts, run down, pain in the back, melancholy, shortness of breath, bad memory; all the result of starvation of the blood and nerves.

Redmac is here and you may put yourself on the road to recovery and that very quickly. If you are hardly able to look after your work, if your appetite is bad, your stomach out of order, if your back hurts you, if you have headaches, then you will be grateful to Redmac for ever coming your way.

Mrs. Falton of Montreal, writes: I have been an awful sufferer from indigestion and dyspepsia for several years. I would almost die after eating, the pain in the pit of my stomach was so bad. Redmac was recommended to me by a friend. I tried one bottle and the relief I got was wonderful. I have taken six bottles altogether, and I think it is the most wonderful medicine that was ever made. I can eat anything now, and am in perfect health. If you are suffering from any of the above, go to your druggist right away and get a bottle of Redmac. It is purely vegetable, made from herbs and roots, gathered from foreign countries. The benefit you will receive will surprise you.

part of which saw pound sterling as low as $3.75, the highest the pound would sell for being $4.48 toward the end of the season. It is, of course, impossible, even to attempt to prophecy regarding this very important item, but the disastrous and expensive miners strike has been satisfactorily terminated, and industrial conditions are improving steadily, sterling exchange should be more stable.

Therefore, to sum up, if we are just ordinarily optimistic we will put our average gross sales at around 27/- per barrel, our average costs at 11/6 per barrel, and this gives us an average net of 15/6 per barrel. If we have a $4.25 pound throughout the year, we will then clear about $3.30 per barrel for our fruit and surely we should be able to carry on at that.

In conclusion I may say that it is an absolute fact that the consumption of apples increases every year all over the world. They are a valuable food and the increase of their consumption will undoubtedly continue. On the other hand the production of apples is increasing enormously.

Our Nova Scotian product is a good one, and, as I have said, is very much appreciated. It is fast improving in quality, due to the increase in the use of scientific methods of production.

Every year now should see further improvement in the quality of our product and every year will surely see a better appreciation of it. Therefore let us bear the following three facts in mind:

We can grow better fruit than we now grow.

We can adopt better packing methods.

We can ship more efficiently, advantageously, and co-operatively than we have been shipping our export produce.

If we do all these things we shall not only survive as a keen competitor, but will forge ahead of our rivals for markets and beat them.

In conclusion I should like to state that there is one great field of opportunity, which I fear we shall neglect, until undoubtedly shall we be finally forced into it by the examples of our competitors—that is Publicity.

If we were the first to let the world know of the excellence of our produce by judicious advertising our advantage would be inestimable. It is not practised now to any extent but without a doubt, a few years will see it the general custom. It's bound to come as competition gets keener.

Therefore why not be first in the field?

The principal sports of the afternoon were a calthumpian parade, and baseball game, after which all repaired to the grove, where speeches were given by Rev. A. H. Whitman, Rev. H. T. A BEAUTIFUL SUMMER HOME

O. S. Miller Calls on Hon. Chief Justice Harris at His Home in Mount Clement

I had some business with the Hon. the Chief Justice of Nova Scotia, and learning that he was at his summer home at Upper Clements, I, with my client, took an automobile, and, under the skillful guidance of Mr. Thomas Borden, we soon found ourselves on an eminence in Upper Clements that gave us a commanding view of the whole surrounding country, and for such a view there is no fairer spot in God's green earth. Before us lay the peaceful waters of the far famed Annapolis Basin gently lapping the foot hills of the North Mountain, whose varied scenery formed a background to our perspective, while as far as the eye could reach were farm lands with their homes of peace and plenty surrounded by orchards, and groves, and sweet smelling wildwood.

We were told by Mr. Borden that we were in front of the residence of his Lordship the Chief Justice which we soon saw by the sign on the gate post, his Lordship had so aptly named Mount Clement.

Entering the gate we found a beautiful, modern bungalow with wide verandah nestling amidst entwining vines carefully selected and with every evidence that they were cared for and trained with skilful hands, while surrounding the bungalow on every side were well kept lawns and gravelled walks.

Having met his Lordship principally in the halls of Justice in his official robes, it was with almost trembling hand that we pressed the electric button for admittance, but the Judge himself opened the door and extending to us the glad hand, soon put us at our ease.

We ventured some remarks re the well chosen spot for a summer home and how well the same was kept and how beautiful the surrounding scenery when to our surprise, the Judge invited us to inspect that portion of his property that could not be seen from the roadway, and such a property. The extensive garage, a private electric lighting plant, a summer house well stocked with luscious melons, ripe tomatoes and choice plants of all kinds, a vegetable garden with not a weed to be seen with vegetables of all kinds well advanced and celery galore and fruits. There were plums, peaches, grapes and apples of every variety and a beautiful garden of flowers all sweet and blooming, and then across the style by winding paths along the hills which were made easy by being carefully levelled along the sides.

Through the woods we followed the Judge down deep into a wooded ravine where a rippling stream was crossed by a rustic bridge and then up, up, up, through the woods along the same levelled paths along the sides of the hill until there burst upon our vision a level field which as far as the eye could see was studded with orchard trees set out so straight that a line drawn from end to end of the rows of apple trees would touch every tree.

We then returned down through another path levelled along the side of the hill to another bridge across the brook and above it a beautiful pond where lilies grew and fishes sported. This is only a faint outline of the summer home of the Chief Justice, but it is some spot, and I have no doubt well up among the most beautiful summer homes of Nova Scotia. In bidding the Chief Justice good bye my client expressed the regret that the Chief Justice could not continue to inherit it for ever, for imagination can fancy no better home over there.

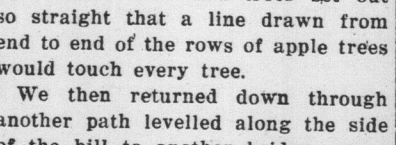

We often speak of our successful young men, but our esteemed Chief Justice is a man of whom the people of Annapolis County ought to be very proud. He is not yet an old man, and commendable his law studies with Judge Owen of Annapolis, preceded the law for some little time in Yarmouth and then moved to Halifax and now occupies the highest office in the gift of the Dominion.

It is also a tribute to Annapolis County that the learned Chief Justice in settling down did not forget the home and scenes of his childhood, but is with the fruits of his well earned labors developing it by building into this beautiful summer home.

Although lumbermen all through Canada are complaining that the lumber market has gone to—or some where else, it is indeed gratifying to learn H. T. The new mill, with a capacity of 10,000 feet a day, will probably take care of Mr. Warne's surplus business for some time to come. WEDDING BELLS

MOORE-BALTZER
Middleton, August 29—A marriage of unusual interest took place this morning in the United Baptist Church of this town, the contracting parties being Miss Adelaide, youngest daughter of J. Henry Baltzer and Carman, only son of G. M. and the late Mrs. Moore. The church chancel was most artistically decorated with asparagus fern and golden glow, the fern forming an effective background for the mass of "sunshine" flowers that filled the whole front of the church. Promptly at 9.30 the bride entered the church on her father's arm and took her place beside the waiting groom. Miss Baltzer wore a tailored costume of reindeer brown with hat to match and looked very lovely. She carried a large bouquet of "Sweetheart" roses. The ushers were Messrs. John Marshall, Corey Baltzer, Mair Reed and Mr. Payson, a cousin of the groom. They grouped themselves on either side of the young couple during the service.

Rev. Dr. Hutchins performed the double ring ceremony. He was assisted by Rev. Donald McDonald, of Corea.

The wedding march was rendered by Miss Audrey Parker in a highly efficient manner. The guests included relatives and a few intimate friends. After the ceremony, the wedding party went to the bride's home where Mr. and Mrs. Moore received the usual hearty congratulations of their friends. A luncheon of exquisite delicacies was served. The presents were most numerous and elegant, silver, pyrex, and hand embroidered linens being predominant. The groom's gift to his bride was a substantial cheque and the organist was the happy recipient of a beautiful brooch. Handsome cheques were also given by the respective fathers of the young people. A very pretty feature of the affair was the distribution of the bridal bouquet to the various guests, each person receiving a rose.

After the luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Moore left by motor on a trip around the South Shore of Nova Scotia, visiting Bridgewater, Chester and various other towns. On their return they will take up residence here. Mrs. Moore has been for a number of years vice principal of the McDonald school and was a most successful teacher. Both young people have many friends and the whole town unites in wishing them a prosperous and happy wedded life.

Items of Interest to Our Agriculturists

HOW CAN WE MEET THE SHORTAGE OF HAY AND STRAW IN EASTERN CANADA

(Experimental Farms Note)

The Experimental Farms Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa fully appreciates the very serious condition of affairs likely to result from crop shortage, realizing that without careful thought and study on the part of all concerned, the live stock of Eastern Canada are in danger of depletion. The following paragraphs contain certain general recommendations which it is proposed to deal with more in detail in the immediate future.

The general crop situation in Eastern Canada during the present season indicates the necessity of radical changes in the feeding of roughage this winter. How may roughage be saved? What are the substitutes, if any? It has been shown that live stock may be maintained on a ration of concentrates. This is neither practical, economical, nor necessary, however. In very brief form the situation may be approached under the following headings.

CARE IN FEEDING

Possibly in 75 per cent. of our live stock farms, hay and straw have been overfed. With the mows full and hay cheap, our live stock have been asked to obtain the nutrients necessary for their maintenance and growth by handling large quantities of crude fibre with a comparatively small percentage of nutrients. Under these particular conditions they have come through the winter at least fairly well. With hay and straw at a premium, however, the question arises to what extent can roughage be cut out of the ration of the horse or cow and substituted with other feeds which are procurable. Very few feeders have ever had occasion to weigh the hay which they are feeding their live stock. The manger is filled and the operation repeated. When it is considered that the standard recommendation for the feeding of hay to horses is at the rate of 1 lb. to every 100 lbs. of live weight it will be appreciated that many horses have, in the past, eaten hay for their own amusement only. When it is realized that 8 or 9 lbs. of good clover hay and 4 or 5 lbs. of oat straw is all the roughage needed for the milking cow supplied with a well balanced meal mixture and ensilage it will be evident that hay is in the very great majority of cases overfed to cattle. Even for the producing dairy herd where no other roughage appears in the ration and where it is supplemented only by concentrates the very limit of hay that would be required would be 20 lbs. daily with say 8 or 9 lbs. of oat straw and this for the cow that is producing. It is safe to say that for the herd that is being held over for better times, and this will describe the situation in many districts, that cutting down the quantities used in past feeding practice a full 50 per cent. and substituting with a few pounds of meal would not only effect a great saving in roughage, but incidentally would bring the cattle in question through in as good or better shape than had been the case where roughage was fed in unlimited quantities.

MOLASSES

A straight comparison of molasses with such feeds as bran, oats, shorts, corn meal, etc., shows the fact that molasses has a comparatively low feeding value. It is true that the sugars are of considerable value from their carbohydrate nature. However, as a conditioner or as an agent to render other feeds more palatable and on top of this, with the very fair feeding value in the feed itself, molasses could be highly recommended to feed either mixed with cut feeds, distributed in the undiluted form over hay or straw, or diluted with water and sprinkled by the use of a watering can over the feed in the mangers. It is a wonderful relish and the use of comparatively small quantities of it is easily seen in the better condition of cattle. Apparently the feeding grades of molasses will be fairly readily procurable, particularly in the Maritime Provinces. Prices will be very considerably lower than have applied within the last few years and the comparatively small quantity that would be required would be such as to force the use of this material on the consideration of live stock feeders wherever it may be procured.

THE VALUE OF CHAFF AND LEAVES.

In the past considerable quantities of the most valuable part of the plant have been wasted in the form of chaff, leaves, etc. These accumulate in the barn floors and too often find their way to the manure pile or barnyard direct. They must, of course, reach the barnyard by way of the manger.

In general it is difficult to offer a recommendation where such a wide variety of cases and conditions arise. The main advice to be given, in conclusion, is after all extreme economy in feeding hay and straw. Weights and quantities are difficult matters to juggle with when speaking in a general way. The eye of the feeder is after all of proverbial merit. More or less experimentation will be required by the individual feeders in cutting down little by little the roughage which he has been accustomed to feed and replacing it by minimum quantities of concentrated or grain rations. If hay continues to increase in price and if grains and concentrates do not rise too quickly, it would actually be cheaper the animal will be well maintained. Corn from all indications will be one of the heaviest crops ever recorded in the United States. This means that ground corn may enter quite largely into our Canadian rations. A mixture of 4 parts bran, 2 parts corn, 2 parts oats and 1 part oil meal would be an excellent concentrated substitute for a roughage. Even bran and corn, as these concentrates are likely to be the most easily procured, could be fed, 4 parts bran, 2 parts corn.

THE USE OF STRAW

Where roughage is scarce, straw cannot be afforded as a bedding material, particularly oat straw. It must practically all be fed. The practice of feeding cattle entirely on straw is of course not economical, but the ruminant must have a certain amount of crude fibre. They should not, however, be asked to obtain their energy from the comparatively low percentage of nutrients contained in straw. Nevertheless, with some grain or concentrates supplied, straw forms an excellent crude fibre filler and in order that the digestive and excretory organs may function properly, straw may be made to take the place of much more valuable forms of roughage. It is safe to say that there will be very little bedding wasted this winter in many parts of the East. Sawdust and shavings are available in many places. There is no reason why considerable bedding material might not be gathered in the form of leaves in the fall. They have been utilized in the past.

THE ADVISABILITY OF CUTTING HAY AND STRAW AND OF MIXED FEEDS.

By increasing the labor of feeding in the cutting of roughage and by mixing say cut hay, cut straw, and whatever meal is being fed, there is little doubt that a considerable saving of roughage may be secured. Less energy is required to masticate, digest and assimilate this cut feed and where it is mixed the palatability is bettered or at least averaged. Under normal feeding practice the advisability of cutting roughage is doubtful in that the cow is fitted by nature to do this work herself. However, this winter the object is to save roughage and the farmer who has facilities for cutting the roughage will find a result in saving. Can the feeding value of such a mixture be further improved?

PAINFUL NEURALGIA TORTURING SCIATICA Both Come From The Same Cause—Thin, Watery Blood

Most people think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve in the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease are the same. The pain in neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood which carries nourishment to the nerves has become thin and impure and no longer does so, and the pain you feel is the cry of the nerves for their natural food. You may ease the pains of neuralgia with hot applications, but real relief from the trouble comes by enriching and purifying the blood. For this purpose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are strongly recommended. These pills make new, rich blood and thus act as a most effective nerve tonic. If you are suffering from this most dreaded of troubles, or any form of nerve trouble, give these pills a fair trial, and note the ease and comfort that follows their use.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

to cut down roughage 50 per cent. and replace with some of the grain mixtures recommended.

The man who does not take every possible step to hold over his stock, and who sacrifices his assets, will make an unqualified mistake. True it were distinctly better to dispose of, practically give away, a judiciously culled few, and winter the balance fairly well, than to stint all. Such a loss though immediate, may prove a blessing in disguise. After all the problem resolves itself into one of distribution and control of supply a question which may have to be handled by the provinces most affected. In Ontario, with not more than 10% of last year's crop held over in the form of low grade hay and with a 60 to 65% normal crop this year there is no "bullish" movement to the hay market as yet.

FITTING CATTLE FOR SHOW

(Experimental Farms Note)

The writer holds no brief to write on this subject to experienced showmen. The showing of cattle is an art and could give unlimited advice on if they would but put pen to paper. The purpose of the writer is to touch on a few points which may be helpful to beginners be they old or young.

In the first place if you would top the class and the judge knows his business you must have the goods, consequently select closely. In the second place fitting, in so far as proper fleshing is concerned, takes time consequently preparatory feeding should extend over a period of a few months previous to the time of showing. This preparatory feeding can be done on pasture in the case of cattle that are out.

Taking for granted then that these two factors have been taken care of the next step is to put the finishing touches or "bloom" on the animal. To do this the animals should be stabled three to four weeks previous to the date of the show. During this time feed fairly liberally on cut-able roughages such as good hay, green corn or other softing crops, and a grain mixture containing ten to fifteen per cent. oil cake meal, the latter being ideal to put a good glossy skin on the animals. All animals should now be washed, particularly if white in color. Stand the animals on some good washing platform and wet them all over. Then rub up a lather with soap preferably some mild soft variety. Scrub with suitable brush until clean, then rinse soap off thoroughly as any left in the hair will tend to stain it yellow. In the case of white animals a particularly clear white color can be obtained by applying bluing water after the last rinsing this water being allowed to remain in the hair for a time before being pressed out. The animals should now be blanketed with light blankets, preferably with a soft finish next the body. Any work necessary to get animals in proper shape such as trimming feet, flaring horns smooth so as to make later polishing easy, and trimming hair with clippers in those breeds where this practice is followed, should be done before leaving for the show. A special attention should be laid upon the proper training of the animal to lead, stand, etc., for often all the work of good fitting is offset by bad manners in the ring.

Having arrived at the show grounds the first endeavour of the showman should be to make his charges feel at home, comfortable and well fed. This can be accomplished to a certain extent by a ration of home grown feeds brought along for the purpose as well as by liberal bedding, good water, etc. After they have become rested up the final washing may be given preferably just previous to the day on which they are to be shown. This washing should be similar to the first with a somewhat heavier bluing afterwards, using where possible a fine flannellette blanket next the skin. After this final washing fresh bedding should be put down and an attendant delegated to remove all droppings as soon as voided and thus ensure cleanliness until the cattle are shown. Milk cows are usually milked out clean the evening before show day and the milk then left in them until after the showing is over. This makes for a good showing in the milch classes. Unbalanced udders may be leveled up by milking out a little of the milk from the heavy quarters. The evening previous to showing is usually given over to the finishing touches such as polishing horns with oil, plaiting tails, and giving final trimmings with clippers and scissors.

A careful feeder will have rising appetites in his cattle on the morning of the showing so that they will eat heartily and appear well filled up. Care must be taken, however, not to overdo the filling up with feed or water as a gorged animal neither looks nor handles well.

PREPARING BEES FOR WINTER

(Experimental Farms Note)

We take good care to provide food and protection for ourselves and our livestock in winter but too often the bees, which need them just as much for their survival and comfort, are neglected. Thousands of colonies die every winter and many more are badly weakened for want of timely care in the fall. Every colony saved will produce, at a low estimate, ten dollars time feed fairly liberally on cut-lars' worth of honey the next year, if well managed.

Three things need special attention in preparing bees for winter—Protection, Strength and Stores.

Protection.—The beekeeper should decide early whether he will winter his bees outside or in a cellar. Roughly speaking in British Columbia, Southern Ontario and the Annapolis Valley, N. S., outside wintering is advisable. For the rest of Canada use a well insulated cellar, deep in well drained ground. Much, however, depends on whether one has a good cellar or a yard well sheltered from wind for outside wintering. Bees have been wintered outside successfully as far north as Hallsbury, Ont., and at Lethbridge, Alta. The cellar should be fairly dry, with a steady temperature not exceeding 50 degrees nor less than 40 degrees.

For outside wintering place the hive in a case with packing between. For packing use planer shavings or well dried leaves, moss, etc. Cases may be made to take one, two, or four hives each. There should be 2 1/2 to 4 inches of packing at the sides and beneath and a cushion on top 6 to 8 inches thick. Cases in which the floor section is separate and has sides extending above the entrance holes save labour in packing. In the four-column case the side sections may be hooked together. Have the cases made in time to pack the hives at the middle of September. On the Pacific coast where the winters are mild and damp, the side and bottom packing should be omitted and the roof should be well ventilated.

Strength and Young Queens.—Unite all weak colonies in September so that each hive will contain enough bees to cover at least the equivalent of 8 Langstroth frames; enough bees to crowd on ten frames is better. See that each colony has a young fertile queen, if possible not later than the end of July, so that many young bees will be raised in August.

Stores.—A sufficient supply of wholesome stores is most important. Feed sugar syrup (two parts refined sugar to one of water) during September (first week in October in Southern Ontario) to bring the weight of stores of each colony up to 40 pounds. A ten-frame Langstroth hive, without the cover, should weigh between 70 and 80 pounds. In places where the honey gathered is not perfectly wholesome for winter at least ten pounds of the stores should consist of sugar syrup. Where it is likely the honey is decidedly unwholesome or will granulate hard in the combs in winter at least half of the stores should be sugar syrup. If necessary remove outside combs of honey and place empty combs in the middle of hive. The following stores have been found unwholesome: honey gathered in certain marshy places in the Maritime Provinces, from aster near Lake Erie, in Manitoba when there is a short crop in a dry summer, dandelion honey and honey containing honey dew or fruit juice. The best honey is that from alfalfa and from sweet clover is inclined to granulate too hard in cold regions. Ordinary ten-pound honey tins with small holes punched in the lid will do for feeding. Feed rapidly. Preferably pack the hives in the cases before feeding.

GUARD BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SUMMER

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic diarrhoea and dysentery, come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they do come on suddenly to banish them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during hot weather as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Would Teach Him

(From the Boston Transcript)

A Boston lady went to her provisions dealer to pay her bill. Knowing the man pretty well, she said: "Mr. Blank, I had quite a laugh over the way someone in your store spells 'salmon' and she pointed out on the bill the item '3 lbs. psalman'."

Mr. Blank looked at it and said in a tone of contempt for such ignorance: "That's the work of a new book-keeper, but he's got to learn to spell correctly if he wants to stay with me. Let me correct the bill, madam."

Taking a pen he drew several lines through the word and wrote above it "sammon."

"There, madam," he said complacently, handing back the bill. "I'll teach that bookkeeper how to spell 'sammon' when he comes in, or tell him to find a new place."

An Intelligent Dog

Mrs. Jones, entering her kitchen one morning, saw a plate and knife and fork that had recently been used. Suspecting that Norah had been treating her good-looking ashman, she said:

"Norah, what became of the cold chicken that was left over from dinner last night?"

"Sure, mum, I didn't think ye wanted it, so I gave it to the dog."

"Does the dog use a knife and fork, then?" inquired her mistress, sarcastically.

"Not very well yet, mum, but I'm teachin' him to," was Norah's ready reply.

Hadn't The Price

Returning home from the dentist's where he had gone to have a loose tooth drawn, little Raymond reported as follows: "The doctor told me 'fore he began that if I cried or screamed it would cost me a dollar, but if I was a good boy it would only be fifty cents."

"Did you scream?" his mother asked.

"How could I?" answered Raymond. "You only gave me fifty cents."

She Obeyed Him

"And now, Mrs. Blank, you will tell us just what happened," said the cross-examining attorney. "You say that your husband told you to go to the devil?"

"Yes, that's what he did," said the woman who sought a divorce. "He told me to go to the devil."

"And then what did you do?"

"I went right to my lawyer."

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. LOCAL DEATH ROLL

CAPT. J. H. BENSON

Capt. John H. Benson, one of the well-known figures of Bear River, passed away on Monday morning, August 22nd, about 9.30 o'clock. His father, Christopher Benson, was a striking figure in the early business life of the town—being for years master ship-builder for the late Alpheus Marshall, Sr.; when the father retired from active work, the son took his place and carried on his work—and has to his credit many of the finest vessels that ever sailed through Digby Bay. After the decline in wooden ship-building, he bought the marine shop at Meteghan, where he did much of the repairing and ship work in the Western part of the province. Later, on selling out, he became representative of the American Bureau of Shipping for the Inspectorial District of Kings, Annapolis and Digby Co., a position which required constant attention during the war time boom in wooden ship-building. This strenuous all-year-round work was a severe tax on his strength, and possibly hastened the end. For the past three years Capt. Benson has been quietly at home, but falling steadily. Born in 1837, Capt. Benson has been a prominent Mason since about 1887, and was one of the original members of "The Keith Lodge". In addition to building many ships, he also sailed most successfully as supercargo, and visited various other countries, such as England, South Africa, South America, West Indies, etc. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Percy Reed, and three sons: Reginald, Harold and Laurie. The funeral took place with Masonic honors on Wednesday afternoon from his late residence.

T. A. NELLY

Mr. Theron A. Nelly passed peacefully away at his home on Church street, Thursday afternoon, after a very short illness. Mr. Nelly was born in Brooklyn, N.Y., August 25th, 1841 and therefore died on his birthday. He was a man of great energy and took a deep interest in religious affairs, being a prominent member of the Bridgetown Baptist Church. He is survived by a widow, Henrietta, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Denton, Waterford, Digby Co.; one sister, Mrs. Zilpha Nichols, of Bridgetown, and one brother, Mr. Ira B. Nelly, of Bath, Me. He also leaves three sons: Milton J. of Barre, Mass.; Rev. Denton J., pastor of the First Baptist Church of Medford, Mass.; Bernard W., of Nome, Alaska, and two daughters, Mrs. J. K. Craig, of Calgary, and Mrs. Burke Chute, of Bridgetown. The funeral took place from his late home Saturday afternoon with interment in the Pine Grove cemetery, Middleton, where four generations of Nellys have been laid to rest. The services were conducted by Rev. Clyde W. Robbins, the pall bearers being G. E. Nichols, B. E. Chute, Geo. Chute and G. O. Thies. The funeral services at Bridgetown and especially at Middleton were very largely attended. Among those from out of town whom we noticed at the funeral were Mr. W. C. Denton, of Barton, a brother-in-law of the deceased, and Mr. M. C. Denton, of Digby, of the firm of Denton and Condon. The MONITOR extends its deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones.

JOSEPH ALLAN

The sudden death took place Sunday morning of Joseph Allan, of Kelley's Cove, Yarmouth County, aged about seventy-five years, and so far as was known his health was always good. The deceased about twenty-five years ago, when working over some melted lead had, when some cold water struck the metal, both eyes burned out, but in spite of that, and by his remarkable instinct, travelled extensively about Yarmouth and vicinity, and was in consequence widely and familiarly known to many people. Mr. Allan was always of an upright Christian character, and adherent to the United Baptist faith, and regular attendant whenever it was possible at the services of that church. He is survived by two sons, Gordon, in Calgary, Alberta, and Roy, in California. Also three brothers, Lewis B., Yarmouth; Amos at Middleton, and Raymond, Revelstoke, B.C.

MRS. R. H. MASON

Mrs. Ella Longley Mason, wife of Reginald H. Mason, died at her home in Paradise, Thursday, August 18th, aged 51 years. Her passing away was very unexpected and a great shock to loved ones and friends. While for some months her health had not been good, her condition did not become critical till the morning of the day she died. The funeral services were on Saturday, the 20th, and were conducted by her minister, Rev. W. Steadman Smith, assisted by Rev. J. H. Balcom and Rev. M. F. McCutcheon, of Montreal. Interment was in Pine Grove cemetery, Middleton. Mrs. Mason was the daughter of Mr. Jos. S. Longley and his first wife Ella Shaffer. She possessed a gentle, lovable disposition, which won her many friends. Besides her sorrowing husband she is survived by three children, Ella, Jean Vera, Karadale, and Margaret Louise, also a large circle of relatives and friends.

Announcing The New McLaughlin-Buick

Here is a Thoroughbred Master Four Completing the Famed McLaughlin-Buick Line

The new Four-Cylinder McLaughlin-Buick here announced, is a thoroughbred—a pedigreed car well worthy of its name.

Down to the very last detail, this new model possesses every quality of enduring serviceability, complete comfort, and distinctive appearance that have always characterized McLaughlin automobiles.

The advent of this new Master Four makes the McLaughlin-Buick 1922 line complete. It offers to purchasers of a car of this size all the quality and service that go to make up the name McLaughlin.

The McLaughlin-Buick Valve-in-Head Engine—A Power Plant That Has Proved Itself.

The engine, of course, is of the time-tested McLaughlin-Buick Valve-in-Head type. The year-after-year concentration of McLaughlin-Buick engineering skill and experience in building Valve-in-Head motors assure the highest standard of performance obtainable to-day.

Every other unit is of a quality equal to the power plant. The whole assembly constitutes a perfectly balanced chassis which is of typical McLaughlin-Buick construction. The equipment of Cord Tires is merely evidence of the quality which characterizes the entire car.

Two open and two closed body types mounted on the McLaughlin-Buick built chassis comprise the new series. Even the most casual inspection of the details of design and workmanship will reveal that full measure of quality which motorists have learned to associate with McLaughlin.

A Great Car—Prices Make It an Even Greater Value.

Obviously a high grade automobile, a genuine McLaughlin-Buick production—the prices make this Four even greater.

The new McLaughlin-Buick Master Four is a Made-In-Canada car. Walkerville, Ont., is the home of the General Motors Canadian mammoth manufacturing plants. These new plants are most modern in every respect and are fitted with the finest machinery to turn out accurately and economically, motors, transmissions, axles and other heavy-duty motor car parts.

Smaller parts and the assembling of units, painting, upholstering and top and body building are done at the Oshawa plants.

Cord Tires Standard Equipment on all Models.

See us for Specifications and Delivery Dates.

See this Car at the Toronto Exhibition or the nearest McLaughlin Show-room.

Minard's Liniment Relieves Neuralgia

Every Added Subscription Helps to Make This paper better For everybody

VOL. XLIX - No 22

WHAT WE ARE FINDING OUT

The Character of a Class of Paper Too Mean to Pay Their Honest Bills.

No one could believe, until they find out the character of a class of people who reside in Annapolis County and elsewhere who are mean to pay their honest bills who are almost continually scheming to get something for nothing, other words endeavoring to live without being punished. There is law, however, to net after such people and place them where they will no further bother to anyone else an expense to honest taxpayers.

We refer to a list of delinquent subscribers to the MONITOR and presume they are also delinquent subscribers to other newspapers well, and probably some of them have their names on our merchant books, but we believe the majority of our business men would not allow them to continue to do business three or four years without least, a payment on account.

We are sending out a lot of subscription bills and making delinquent all those accounts are more than $5.00.

Some of the letters we are receiving should be published in full to protect the general public from delinquent with a class of men and women who are far too mean to be honest.

One woman residing in Annapolis County read the paper for two years and refused the delivery of it as it cost her a bill for $4.00, death to pay for it.

Another, after reading the paper for a long time, says the person whom the draft was sent is dead, asks to have the paper discontinued. No, we cannot get this account excepted. No asbestos paper on which to print the drafts, even if a junior could get a return ticket for a year.

Another remembers that he had subscribed for the paper, and that that, although he has enjoyed it several years, the bill is too high, it should be reduced.

A lady (?) residing in Halifax moved to the United States and writes us to discontinue her paper. She does not remit and uses every precaution to prevent us from obtaining her present address. We know her future address.

We could go on this way and mention columns on the character of people of whom the public would be shocked if we mentioned names and told the news.

Surely, after reading this, no one else will have the nerve to put a "kick". They will accept a draft and when it comes due pay amount in full, or remit direct to us and we will attend to their draft and the Bank.

We are determined to have our delinquents cash up and if it is necessary will add additional costs to their bills. A word to the wise is sufficient.

During my military service I was in, those stirring times of the Civil War, I had to my regret a little bugler who was too weak to play the bugle and he had to be carried on his back by his father and then his mother dropped dead. After his mother died he was made miserable by the sneers and ribald jokes of those who but he was.

When little Willie Holt was twelve years old, the regiment bivouacked some miles from the rifle practice. I had just left the lad behind, but my lieutenant-major begged hard to let him along. "There is mischief in the air, Colonel," he said. "Tough as they treat the lad, pluck and his patience tells on the boy is a saint, sir; indeed."

I had a rough lot of recruits then. Before we had been a fortnight several acts of insubordination had been brought to my attention and I had pledged to make ample of
