LOST IN THE WOODS

Aged Man of Torbrook Lost in the Woods.—
Searching Party Find Him after Three Days and Three Nights Exposure to Hunger and Cold

The report comes from Middleton of the loss and recovery of an aged citizen of Torbrook, Samuel Bartheaux, aged seventy-five, who was lost in the woods from Wednesday at noon until Saturday afternoon. He was very weak when found by the searching party but was seated by a stream of water and was slaking his thirst by drinking from his hat. The story is as follows:—

Wednesday last Mr. Bartheaux with his wife and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Ward visited the home of Martin Uhlman. After dinner Mr. Uhlman and Mr. Bartheaux went to the barn, and that was the last seen of the latter. It was supposed that Bartheaux had gone to his wood-lot near by, and not returning towards night an alarm was raised. Little could be done on account of the approach of night.

The next morning searching parties were organized, also on Friday when it is estimated that over five hundred men were scouring the woods. Both days were without result. On Saturday morning tracks were noticed about five miles from where Mr. Bartheaux was found, and from their character were thought to be those of a person making very short and feeble steps. Following up this clue the searching party came upon the lost man in the condition described. He saluted them with "Hi boys!" While some of the party went on ahead for medical assistance Mr. Bartheaux was carried out of the woods on the shoulders of his tired but rejoicing friends and was received a royal reception at the home of John Thompson, Bloomington, where he was given restoratives and food and put to bed. At last accounts he was making satisfactory recovery, after his sixty-five hour fast and exposure.

Lime-Sulphur Plant at Kentville

A busy scene presented itself at the Niagara Spray Co. plant in Kentville last week. The work of installing the machinery for the manufacturing of a concentrated Lime Sulphur spray having been completed the steam was turned on and the works set in motion. Judging from the appearance about the plant the Niagara Spray Co. have by expenditure of a lot of money provided for the wants of the fruit growers of the valley, by being in a position to give them a Lime Sulphur spray at a big reduction on last spring's prices. It is only by manufacturing on a large scale that any concern can bring prices down to the lowest minimum rate.

Mr. F. A. Frasier, who installed this plant having completed his work here for the time being, left for New York State where he understands he is to build another plant for the Niagara Spray Co. of that place, after which Mr. Frasier will return to Nova Scotia to make the material for the Company here.

While looking over this new equipment last Wednesday we were much impressed with the outlay made, more particularly in the large tanks erected to run a business of this sort. There are six tanks all told, some of them holding seven thousand gallons each. A large steam boiler carrying one hundred and twenty-five pounds pressure, with engine, an Otis Fenon elevator of Toronto to carry the crude Sulphur and Lime to the third story, preparatory to mixing. Steam pipes, pulleys and shafting all through the building with a Dynamo from the General Electric Co. of Toronto to supply their own electricity. A railway siding to the works will take six cars at a time for either unloading the crude material or sending out the manufactured Lime Sulphur solution. We were informed by Mr. Frasier that Mr. J. I. Gates of this town has contracted to make two thousand thirty-gallon barrels to ship the out-put over the valley.

Our only wish to the Niagara Spray Co. is that they may sell all they are preparing to make, and that the Nova Scotia apple crop next year will make up for this season's deficit, and that the fruit may be free from that so dreaded fungus which has meant so many thousands of dollars loss to the fruit growers in the past.—Acadian Orchardist.

Sons of Temperance District Division

Annapolis County District Division met in regular session in Olive Branch Division Hall on Thursday, Oct. 6th, at 3 p.m. There were present, representatives from Clarence, Round Hill, Bridgetown, Belleisle, Granville Centre and Hampton. It was a matter of deep regret that L. W. Elliott, a valued worker at such meetings, was absent, through the loss of his home by fire, and a resolution of sympathy was passed and ordered to be forwarded to brother Elliott. Reports from various sections indicated a lack of interest in the lodge room, in some cases, through the summer months. It was gratifying to know that brother Warren was at present receiving several dormant Divisions in the western end of the county.

A public meeting was held in Warren's Hall in the evening when a good programme was submitted. But the small attendance at this gathering manifested clearly, a deplorable indifference to the cause of temperance in the town.

Obituary.

MRS. THOMAS H. FOSTER

After a lingering illness, borne with Christian patience and fortitude, Elizabeth A. wife of Thomas H. Foster of Bridgetown, passed away at her home here on Saturday night, October 8th.

Mrs. Foster was born at Hampton and was married at the early age of seventeen. She was the mother of eleven children, of whom now only three survive. Joseph I. Foster and Jas. F. Foster of Bridgetown and Mrs. T. W. Templeman of Hampton. On May last Mr. and Mrs. Foster celebrated their "Golden Wedding" anniversary but the illness of Mrs. Foster prevented carrying out their plans. Two sisters, Mrs. Staples of Lynn and Mrs. David Foster of Hampton, and two brothers, Hanley and Jesse Foster of Lynn also survive.

The funeral took place on Tuesday morning. A few friends gathered at the home where prayers were said by Rev. N. A. McNeill, pastor of the Baptist Church, and a hymn "Abide with Me" was sung by the choir. A beautiful wreath was laid upon the casket by the Women's Aid Society as a token of regard for their sister member, also a floral piece with the word "Mother" from her children.

The casket was then conveyed to Hampton, accompanied by friends and relatives, and was met on arrival at Hampton by members of the Sons of Temperance in a body which preceded the hearse to the church. Here a large concourse of people were assembled to pay their last tribute of respect and esteem. The funeral service was conducted by Pastor McNeill of Bridgetown church, the pastorate of the Hampton church being now vacant, and he delivered a most impressive address from Rev. XIV. 13. At the conclusion of the service, the remains were interred in the family lot in the Hampton cemetery.

Much sympathy is expressed for the bereaved husband in the loss of his life-long companion, and for the children and relatives in the sad loss they have sustained.

HATTIE LEBLANC'S TRIAL

A Boston despatch says:—State Detective Edward Byrnes, who arrived here Tuesday from Arichat, N. S., the former home of Hattie LeBlanc, the seventeen-year-old girl charged with the murder of Clarence Glover, a Waltham landradyman, said he found nothing in Cape Breton which could be used against her at the trial. Capt. Peter King and several others of Arichat arrived to testify as to Hattie's good character in that town. The date of the trial has not been fixed, however, and it may not be held before January. At the trial over Glover's will, Mrs. Glover, also a former resident of Arichat, charged that King and Hattie had conducted themselves improperly there. King says the charge is baseless.

No Bill Found in the Pride Case

Mr. Justice Meagher Sent Grand Jurors Back, But They Reported No Change.

(Halifax Chronicle Oct. 8th.)

The Grand Jury in the Supreme Criminal Court yesterday found No Bill in the manslaughter case of the King vs. Pride.

The finding of the case caused some surprise.

After a half-minute's pause, Judge Meagher said: "Are you really serious, gentlemen, about that finding? I confess my amazement. I do wish you to go back and reconsider it. No case can be more serious. The responsibility of your finding, gentlemen, is with you; thank God, not with me. I'm afraid you tried the case. It's absolutely frightful, as it was one of the clearest and strongest cases that ever went before a Grand Jury. People better get to the country quick, as it is not safe to live in the City. I was never more serious in my life as to what I said to the Grand Jury. You had better go back and consider the case."

A quarter of an hour later, the Grand Jury returned to the Court, and when asked by the clerk whether they had any further presentations to make, the foreman handed up the papers in the Pride case, reiterating their finding of "No Bill."

When this was announced the Judge remarked, "You needn't remain any longer this term." Later he said in open Court that "the finding of the Grand Jury is not going to end the case by any means. If in any way that woman can be put on bail to appear before the Grand Jury next term it shall be done."

This is the case in which Mrs. H. M. Pride of Halifax, was on trial for manslaughter, for running over and killing Mrs. Brine, while driving an automobile.

CURRY—WEATHERSPOON

The Methodist Church at Granville Ferry on the twenty-first ult. was the scene of a very pretty social event when Miss Lena, daughter of W. H. Weather spoon of the Ferry became the bride of Joseph Curry of Windsor, N. S. There was a number of spectators present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Mr. Davis, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Mr. Whitman and Rev. Mr. Raymond of Annapolis. After the ceremony and collation served at the home of the bride, the happy couple took the train for a wedding tour. The town and Ferry were decorated with flags in honor of the event.

VICTORIA, THE BEAUTIFUL

Ideal Climate and Temperature as Residential Site,—Fruit Lands of British Columbia Booming; Good Agricultural and Mining Possibilities.

From Agassiz, which is seventy miles from Vancouver, we completed our journey toward the coast with our canyons or passes. Our first stop was at Harrison Mills, a small mill town built at union of the Fraser and Harrison river, which drains Harrison Lake and carries off the surplus of nature's remedies from the Hot Springs.

From here, too, connection is made with the Chilliwack Valley, another district that is being particularly boomed, just now for fruit raising and butter making and other things, with a town by same name as a most desirable locality to settle in if one wishes to retire or live happy in an ideal climate and in the midst of beautiful scenery and mountains. This valley is situated on the lower Fraser river and contains 55,000 acres.

The Board of Trade of the district, —by the way, every place out here seems to have one of these important business organizations, and they seem very much alive and seized with the one great desire of bettering their condition by advertising and letting the world know readily what it could only find out very slowly of its own accord.

The Chilliwack Board gave us ample literature regarding the possibilities of this section and even the local Methodist minister had been impressed by his loyalty and desire for good citizens to issue, for the benefit of delegates to the General Conference, a circular letter calling our attention to their famous valley, prefacing his story with the remark that he had no land to sell, neither was he in the real estate business, but did it simply to remind us that the Chilliwack has inducements to offer, according to their way of thinking, which few places in Canada can offer.

Cleared land here is worth from $200 to $500 per acre and uncleared on the mountain foot hills about half that amount. This valley exported 500,000 lbs of butter last year and it sold for thirty cents per pound on the average.

A Chilliwack farmer that I met at the Harrison Hot Springs, told me he had recently sold his farm for $18,000. He had gone there twenty-five years ago, direct from Ireland, and taken up two hundred acres of free lands, cleared them and was now sitting on the hotel piazza "smoking his pipe of clay" and drinking nature's hot salts for "rheumatism."

The British Columbia apple crop is marketed almost wholly in boxes and is estimated by pounds or tons, not barrels as with us. Their crop in 1909 would be less than 100,000 barrels when converted to our measure but it looks as if they got as much for them as we get from our crop of four times that quantity. I saw poor red astrachans selling in Calgary at $2.25 per box of less than one bushel or retailing for three pounds for twenty-five cents.

This year's crop I learned was already sold and that prices vary but little from year to year. In conversation with a wholesale fruit dealer in Calgary I was told that they got from $5.00 to 5.50 per barrel for all their apples last spring. It will be remembered that at that time ours were bringing one dollar or less in England or given away and wasted if our refrigerator cars could be converted into frost proof ones in the cold weather, as they are proof from heat in the summer. It would be worth while for our Fruit Growers' Association to try this Canadian market in a season, that was as unfortunate for the apple crop as last year was.

The three provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta with a population of a million and more are wholly without fruit and with their wheat crop always as good as cash can afford to pay for them. These provinces are bound to grow even faster than British Columbia apple trees and will continue to be a good market for this western fruit and in this respect the fruit fields of the west have an advantage over us, so far at least.

The fruit lands here at present seem to be in the hands of land syndicates and real estate agents and speculators, who are booming them everywhere. I saw miles of fruit and great patches of mixed fruit orchards that looked very tempting, as far east as Winnipeg and at Edmonton and Calgary displayed in shop windows where lots were offered for sale. These lands without trees were offered for $400 per acre and the buyer was given the privilege of using the irrigation canal in the bargain.

I met an Indiana lumber dealer, who had just been west and purchased forty acres at these figures and was arranging to put trees out next spring. I invited him to come to Nova Scotia and for one thousand dollars an acre we would sell him an orchard in full bearing with bigger trees than he would likely ever see in British Columbia, and where irrigation was always turned on and provided for by nature. But he was too enthusiastic over these fertile little valleys and protected areas to be enticed elsewhere.

To return again to our route—beyond Harrison Mills our track follows the Fraser river valley and we pass some dyked lands. The dyke has been built to prevent the river overflowing in the spring freshets and not on account of tides.

The land seems very fertile, the oat fields now cut and the grain stock seems an immense crop. An Ontario M. P. in our car tells me he

Eventide

By Olive Joyce.

It was the twilight hour. Grace knocked gently at the door and asked: "May I come in, grandmother?" "Why, certainly, my dear," came the answer in a pleasant voice from within, and soon Grace was seated in her favorite place and position on the floor before the grate, her head resting against her grandmother's knee and her eyes watching the flames of the fire.

"What have you been reading, grandmother?" she asked. "The old lady smiled and answered: 'It is a diary that I kept when I was your age, Grace. I have just been reading passages from it. I am going to give it to you, dear, as a little keepsake.'"

"Oh, grandmother, how lovely!" cried the girl, "please let me see it. May I just peek through it?" she asked eagerly. The old lady smiled and handed her the book with its yellowed, fingered pages. Grace opened it near the centre and read in a low voice: "It is a diary, May 20, 18-- 'I must begin at the beginning, for today, of all days, I must record even the smallest incidents. 'How restless I have been all night and how welcome sounded the first chirps of the gay little birds at my open window! As I gaze far across the tranquil, beautiful lake I see the sun slowly rising amidst a sheen of gold and crimson splendor that fills my heart with hope and peace' and love; eagerly I scan still further the blue, unclouded dome of heaven which will be his pathway throughout this little day, until at last he sinks to rest behind his far western hills. Surely his bright face is smiling upon me this day, thanks, good King Sol, for HAPPY is the bride that the sun shines on.

But we to the bride that the rain falls on. 'How riotous are my thoughts this morning! Is it because I have not slept my usual healthy, undisturbed hours, or is it because I gaze so long and longingly on those distant hills and the sun-kissed ripples of the lake? For twenty years my eyes have watched the sun rise o'er those laughing waves, my ears have listened to the low, murmuring of the winds among the tall, dark pines, and since my baby feet first learned to toddle I have delighted in roaming through yonder rugged hills and valleys. Oh, Nature, kind and faithful teacher, thou hast shown me even in the tiniest flower the great and glorious workings of the Almighty Hand! I know no other creed save thine, and reverent-ly I pray for guidance throughout the years to come.

"Mark! I hear the tinkling of a bell. It is the early summons in the servants' hall. Soon all the household will be astir; soon restless, excited feet will dance merrily from room to room; soon I will be gowned in bridal veil, silks and oranges. Blossoms and called forth to make my solemn declarations of love and obedience to the man for whose love and my own I am quitting these familiar hills. (Even now he is awaiting me in the little arbor beneath the dear old apple tree whose tinted perfumed blossoms have so oft been sprinkled on our heads.)

"To my happy Childhood, and to my unclouded Girlhood, I whisper my last fond farewell. Farewell, I cry from a heart full of loving memories of never-to-be-forgotten days; to yonder hills, 'the rippling waves, the low-murmuring trees I also bid farewell.

"Fare thee well. And if forever, Then forever fare thee well." Grace paused and lifted moist, loving eyes to her grandmother's face. "Did you really write this, grandmother, of your own life?" she asked.

"Yes, my dear. Happiness, love and sorrow have all been mine, but each must come in turn to make this life complete. Sorrow purifies us, love ennobles us, and both purity and love are essential to true happiness. I am an old lady now," she mused, "nearing the hour when the sun of life will set behind the horizon which to youthful eyes like yours appear so far distant. But life is

CURED OF CONSTIPATION

Mr. Andrews praises Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

Mr. George Andrews of Halifax, N. S., writes: "For many years I have been troubled with chronic Constipation. This ailment never comes single-handed, and I have been a victim to the many illnesses that constipation brings in its train. Medicine after medicine I have taken in order to find relief, but one and all left me in the same hopeless condition. It seemed that nothing would expel from me the one ailment that caused so much trouble, yet at last I read about these Indian Root Pills.

That was indeed a lucky day for me, for I was so impressed with the statements made that I determined to give them a fair trial. They have regulated my stomach and bowels. I am cured of constipation, and I claim they have no equal as a medicine.

For over half a century Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills have been curing constipation and clogged, inactive kidneys, with all the ailments which result from them. They cleanse the whole system and purify the blood. Sold everywhere at 25c. a box.

short; the little years will not seem long in passing, until you, my child, will sit as I am sitting, watching the fanciful flames that paint before your aged eyes the joys and sorrows of a life of eighty years." Grace touches her lips to the feeble hand resting so peacefully in the glow of the fire and, caressing the worn, thin ring upon it, murmurs: "It is a slender, golden, worn-out band. Upon one finger of her left hand, Aged with pathos from her cares and years, Grace dimpled like a smile, now weak as tears, Within that ring, in days gone by, a kiss. Sealed her a vow which gave her frail life this— Children and Love and Home—each blessed thing Held sacred by her faith-bound Wedding Ring."

From Shelburne to Port Wade

(Shelburne Gazette.)

The Methodist church, Shelburne, was the scene of a most interesting event at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Augusta Hogr, daughter of the late E. Dexter Hogr, of Frederick R. Parker, of Port Wade, Digby County. The edifice was crowded and was tastefully decorated with flowers, while two arches occupied positions in either aisle.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Jessie Miller, the bridal party entered the church, the bride being escorted by her brother, Alfred C. Hogr, by whom she was given away. The bride was attired in a beautiful dress of pale blue serge, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of dahlias. The bridesmaid, Miss Kate Allen, was becomingly attired in cream serge with hat to match, and also carried a bouquet of dahlias. The groom was supported by his brother, Albert Parker. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. L. Lund, after which the bridal couple drove to the station and took the west-bound express for their future home at Port Wade.

The bride is one of Shelburne's most highly respected young ladies. For some years she was a teacher in the Digby public schools and last year was head of the first primary department in the Shelburne school, in which position she proved efficient and popular. KILLED HIS WIFE AND THEN HIMSELF.

First Threw Her Down Stairs, Then Shot Her and Finally Blew His Own Head Off.

Portland, Me., Oct. 4—Because his wife Clara has sent for a policeman when he had come home drunk, and thrown her out of the house, Albert Folwartechny, sent a charge of shot into her side from a ten-gauge gun and going to a field nearby blew his head off, with the same gun. The shot penetrated the woman's arm and right side. She was taken to the hospital and may recover.

When Folwartechny returned home early this evening, he found that his wife had fastened the door against him. He burst it open and following her upstairs, whither she had run, threw her bodily down to the floor below. Then he picked her up again and threw her out of doors. The woman crossed the street and asked a child to go for an officer. Then she entered her house again. Folwartechny reproached her for sending for an officer and picked up a double barrel shot gun, discharged it at her. Then he ran from the house, and was found later with his head blown off. Each was about fifty years old and they had been married about eight years. It was the woman's second marriage.

Kipling's New Poem

Rudyard Kipling has a new poem in the October "American Magazine" which he entitles "If." It follows: "If you can keep your head when all about you are losing theirs and blaming it on you; If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you; But make allowance for their doubting, too; If you can wait and not be tired by waiting; Or being hated don't give way to hating; And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise;

PROPRIETOR AND PUBLISHER.
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1910.

—The attention of our fruit shippers is directed to the suggestion made by Dr. Armstrong in his descriptive article on British Columbia, in regard to the price of fruit in the west, and the possibilities of market if cold storage cars could be furnished by the railroad for transportation of our orchard products. That there is a demand in the prairie provinces there is no doubt, and as the writer observes "with their wheat crop always as good as cash they can afford to pay."

Our fruit growers should give this transportation problem serious thought, remembering "where there's a will there's a way."

Government assistance should be forthcoming in aid of a project, which would so greatly benefit both the east and west.

Another idea is suggested by the doctor's observation in regard to the purchase of the fruit land by the lumber dealer at $400 an acre. This man invested $16,000 for land alone, then had to buy and plant his trees and wait for them to grow. Surely we in Nova Scotia have better things to offer him than that. But, as we are informed, the fruit lands are "in the hands of land syndicates, real estate agents and speculators, who are booming them everywhere". Here again is where we are at a disadvantage. If we do not take the trouble to find the cash buyer and tell him what we have to offer why should we expect him to take the trouble to find us out?

CONSTRUCTION VS. DESTRUCTION.

Commenting on the signal victory for peace in the recent judgement of the Hague Tribunal between Great Britain and the United States, the Canadian "Textile Journal" holds this as a good augury for the future peace of nations and a sign that the world will not always consider pulling "pieces" as more manly and more stirring than putting together. Cessation from war among the great nations does not mean that the world shall relapse into idle luxury and political or social stagnation, but that national energies shall be directed to turning the material resources of the earth into the service of all, and especially of the millions to whom life now brings little but misery, and that the thoughts of men shall be devoted to the reconstruction and not the destruction of national life.

SPRINGHILL MINE LOSERS C. P. R. CONTRACT

Amherst News.—The loss of the C. P. R. contract for a period of three years is one of the most serious phases of the strike that has been published for some time. The C. P. R. formerly took in the vicinity of 30,000 tons from Springhill, and when Alex. Dick, of the Dominion Coal Co., agreed to look after Mr. Cowan's interests while the strike was on, the company were not expecting that it would do it in such a generous manner that they would not be able to get it back again. But the Dominion Coal Co. supplied the C. P. R. with the very best steam coal that their mines could produce, and were without so affable about it that the big railroad made a contract with them for three years. Hence a good many miners will be without their regular work, even if the strike were settled here, which no one expects at the present time.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES PAIN

has spent the previous day in the lower Fraser valley and had seen crops that the East had nothing to equal. At Delta he saw a farmer taking of one hundred and twenty bushels of oats to the acre and found a farm of one hundred and sixty acres, which produces three hundred tons of hay, pastures many cattle and yields a large quantity of grain and roots. The owner sold $4,000 worth of crop from this farm last year.

The land seems very productive and we can easily believe these reports. Even the railroad right of way between the fences are cultivated here by Chinese and we pass through long strips of rhubarb as thick as it can grow on both sides of the track with here and there a miserable shack where these orientals live.

Our track now leaves the Fraser river which makes off to the south while we continue westerly. Seven miles this side of Vancouver we stop at Westminister Junction, where a branch line runs to Westminister City on the Fraser river, nine miles south of the main line. This is an important trading centre and is in the midst of the great salmon fisheries of the Fraser river. Westminister has a population of 13,000.

Five miles beyond this junction or twelve miles from Vancouver is Port Moody, which is located at the head of the Burrard Inlet. Its location to Vancouver is much the same as that of Bedford to Halifax. It is quite an important town. The remaining twelve miles of our journey lies along the shore and vessels and cars are loading from the same yards, the former for India, China, South Africa and South America; the latter for the prairie provinces to the east.

We have now crossed thirty-five hundred miles of Canadian territory and in the early forenoon alight at Vancouver, the western terminus of the great C. P. R. Vancouver is a most interesting city in many respects. The story of its rapid growth reads like a fairy tale.

Previous to 1888 it was a dense forest; in that year the C.P.R. became an assured fact and the forest was cleared away and a small town was rapidly built up, but fires in the surrounding forest swept in and destroyed the whole settlement save one house in July, 1888.

Consequently they have no landmarks of other ages in the shape of old forts or buildings to show the visitor, such as many of our cities and towns possess; they are quite unique in this respect.

Five years later when the census was taken it had again grown, and numbered 13,000. The following ten years its population doubled and the census of 1901 reported it at 26,000. In the nine years since then it has increased its numbers five times and now claims 130,000 and expects at our regular census of 1911 to show 150,000 or more.

In 1899 there were buildings erected to the value of $17,300,000 and in the first six months of this year these amounted to $6,300,000, so the end of this wonderful growth is not yet.

There are many fine buildings and commercial blocks, good streets for the most part and great business activity, even at 7.30 a.m. when we last passed through it. A beautiful seaside park is a place of much interest to all Easterners. There are many great trees, both dead and alive, preserved here. One of these has been cut away to allow a drive-way through it. Its circumference is sixty feet.

The City's rapid growth has made real estate increase in value very rapidly and fortunes have been made quickly by those that were lucky or wise enough to get a few lots or acres here, ten, twenty or thirty years ago.

A small lot twenty-five by one hundred and twenty-two on one of the main business streets recently sold for $70,000. Lots in the best residential section now sell for $10,000, easily.

Its location from a commercial stand-point is such that it must make one of the greatest cities of Canada. British Columbia's almost inexhaustible forests are the greatest in America and will help build up Vancouver. The great mineral wealth of coal and iron are only in their infancy as yet. It is said there is coal enough in the province to supply the whole world with fuel for centuries. Gold has been successfully mined for a long time.

The weight of the coast waters and rivers in the way of fish, is also a great item and their salt water fisheries are only surpassed by our own, but when we add to the coastal ones their great salmon industry they surpass us.

We saw a cargo of 11,000 halibut (150,000 lbs.) being landed one morning and were told that the boat before they had unloaded 21,000 of these weighing 270,000 lbs. They were shipped in refrigerator cars direct to Boston and sell for four cents per pound here just now. The Fraser river salmon fisheries are simply wonderful but not quite as great as a few years ago. 20,000 of these have been taken from one fish trap in a single day.

The agricultural possibilities are quite equal to the support of all the great cities they can grow, so Vancouver must soon equal or surpass many of our eastern commercial cities by building up a great commerce of its own in this new country.

From Vancouver we pass on to Victoria, eighty miles distant, by one of the fine C. P. R. steamers. A daily service between Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle, U. S. A. is kept up. The latter place is about seventy five miles beyond Victoria. Two boats a day ply between Victoria and Vancouver. So their service here is far more ample than some lines across Bays that we know in the East.

Victoria is situated on the south end of Vancouver Island, on a small land-locked harbor and has a population of 40,000. The trip between the two cities is down the Strait of Georgia, which lies between the mainland and Vancouver Island and is from six to ten miles wide and quite dotted with small islands, which make the trip interesting and picturesque.

Victoria, which has been called "The Beautiful" is indeed a beautiful city and possesses many interesting features. It seems to be just beyond the narrow line at present and like some of us of the East, complain somewhat that a little more does not come this way. Being the capital of the province, it has the Government buildings, which rank among the finest in the continent. One thing in particular that takes our attention is the abundance of pretty ornamental shrubs and trees and vines everywhere, varieties unknown to this side of the continent. Every householder seems to be a florist. The winters are all traced with or cut up into flower beds and rows of ornamental shrubs. Roses in particular seem to find here a natural home and at this time, (August 30th) are as full of bloom as with us in June or July. They are in every yard and as we pass along the streets they can be freely picked in beautiful varieties. The English holly has found here a natural soil and is much grown, the variegated variety being especially pretty. Cypress and wild broom and many other shrubs unknown to us are very common. The English ivy too grows here and is seen everywhere to cover unobtainable spots and walls, hedges and fences. Many of the streets are wide and are lined with green areas and ornamental trees as boulevards and some day will be very pretty.

The climate, which of course, is accountable for this great variety and increase of the "flora" world here compared with the east is worthy of a few remarks. The winters are so mild that water and waste pipes are often placed on the outer walls of houses above the level of the ground, cellars being needless. The climate has been likened to the south of France or the south of England. Its mildness is due to the warm Japanese current that sweeps this western coast of our continent and shows us "where the Japanese current does the western coast."

While Victoria has been left far behind by its younger rival on the mainland and she, it has its revenge in a way in having a better climate. Vancouver is noted for its frequent fogs and mists and foggy, considerable damp weather, while Victoria seems protected from these by the low mountains and ridges of the island, which give it remarkable fine sunny days from May to October. In fact it seemed almost too fine and dry when one watches the heavy rain that night after night seemed to spend hours holding the hose watering patches lawns and flower beds.

The City has a large tourist trade as its cool summers and mild winters make it attractive the year around. The C. P. R. have recently built a very large hotel here, which is called in many respects their latest and best. The hotel is a useful piece of beech property that they offered to give to the Railroad if it would put up a million-dollar hotel. The C. P. R. at once accepted the offer and besides building the hotel erected a remaining wall along the water front that makes the location particularly pretty and adds very much to the beauty of the city. We would say this was a very wise and happy thought on the part of the city civic authorities. Already the C. P. R. have been compelled to build an annex to this hotel.

Like all portions of British Columbia, Victoria has a great many Chinese and Japs. They seem to be industrious and civil wherever we meet them. In Victoria they occupy a certain portion of the city quite exclusively, and we were struck with

The clock in the Baptist church, needing regulating, was taken a few days ago to the workshop of Ross A. Bishop. On opening it a flock of bees were found to have taken up their abode there. They were from the hive of Mr. Percy Burns. Apparently their motto is "Time is honey."

At the regular Epworth League meeting in Providence church Friday evening, at 7.30 sharp, Dr. Armstrong and H. E. The advertisement of lost dog in last issue of the Monitor led to its discovery though dead when found. Mr. Covert, who had taken charge of the dog, a valuable one, to oblige a friend, was notified that a dog answering the description was found dead on the beach at Phinney Cove. Mr. Covert on investigating found it to be the one he had lost. He is now tracing the destroyer of the dog.

Kentville Chronicle—James Toney one of the best guides to the home of the moose in the province, recently conducted Messrs Hugh Simpson and Herbert Olyer on a hunting trip. During the jaunt, Toney through mistake shot a fine caribou. Game Inspector Odell had Toney arrested for killing this game animal on which there is a close season until 1912 and at his trial before E. C. Dickie, J. P. on Tuesday of last week, Toney was fined $50 and costs.

Create Public Spirit

The value of newspaper advertising is not confined to the benefits received by the advertisers. Economically, it is much more important than that. The advertising columns of a newspaper create public spirit and sustain confidence just as effectively as the editorial columns do, though in a different manner. The page ads. make the town loom up. They feed our civic pride, they give us a touch of the metropolitan feeling. And all the ads., whether large or small, make for optimism and enterprise. "Things can't be bad," says the reader to himself, "when merchants are using so much printer's ink. It's time I was reaching out and doing something myself."—The Editor and Publisher.

MAY SEND 5,000 TROOPS TO CHINA.

Manila, Oct. 3.—Acting under orders lately received here from Washington the military authorities are quietly assembling supplies, clothing and transportation for approximately five thousand troops in readiness for their embarkation to China. It is stated that the situation in that country is causing much uneasiness owing to the recrudescence of anti-foreign sentiment, which threatens another outbreak similar to the Boxer rebellion.

TO RAISE THE DOLLAR RATE.

The Presbyterian Witness announces that after October first the paid-in-advance subscription price will be raised from $1.50 year to $1.25. It tried the dollar rate for many years and failed to make it pay. As this is a denominational paper, and therefore is supposed to be placed at the lowest possible rates in the interests of the church, the secular papers have an object lesson in attempting a like rate.

ATHLETIC WORLD.

The October number of "THE ATHLETIC WORLD" magazine has just reached this office. In up-to-date sport affairs and illustrations it is strikingly stronger than the Argus issue, which created such a favorable impression as a Canadian athletic and outdoor periodical, covering all branches of sport in Canada, with a liberal number of sport happenings over the world generally. We predict a full measure of success for "THE ATHLETIC WORLD" in its able efforts to espouse the cause of good sport in this Dominion.

ATHLETIC WORLD.

The October number of "THE ATHLETIC WORLD" magazine has just reached this office. In up-to-date sport affairs and illustrations it is strikingly stronger than the Argus issue, which created such a favorable impression as a Canadian athletic and outdoor periodical, covering all branches of sport in Canada, with a liberal number of sport happenings over the world generally. We predict a full measure of success for "THE ATHLETIC WORLD" in its able efforts to espouse the cause of good sport in this Dominion.

A Municipal Expert

The idea that women are needed in municipal housecleaning is not altogether a new one. Its practical working out and the demonstration of its success have made the name of one medium-sized town in the State of Michigan known far and wide. The woman in the case was the Rev. Caroline Bartlett Crane, who began her work of civic improvement about eight years ago moved thereto by the abattoirs and slaughter sheds about the city. Her first work in this direction was to secure competent meat inspection for Kalamazoo.

The tale of how Mrs. Crane had the back yards of the town cleaned up, as told in the pictorial Review, this month, has its amusing side. These were much like the back yards of the average town, but that fact had no weight with Mrs. Crane. Surprisingly she photographed a number of the worst yards. Then she called together a number of progressive women from her own and other churches and organized a civic improvement league. At one of the first meetings there was a lantern exhibition of Kalamazoo back yards. A picture after picture appeared upon the screen the inhabitants of Kalamazoo squirmed in their seats. Mrs. Crane was merciful and tactful enough to suppress names and localities, and every owner of a yard that was shown made up his mind instantly that no one should ever recognize that yard as his. As a consequence Kalamazoo went through a cleaning period in the next twenty-four hours that the slides hopelessly out of date. There was a back yard in the town that even resembled them. The mayor issued a proclamation for an annual cleaning day and proper receptacles for ashes and garbage were provided. Mrs. Crane undertook to see that this effect was permanent. Let 'nitary' restaurants, hotels, plumbing establishments look out that their rear courtyards were as 'sanitary' as their front. Mrs. Crane's ever active camera was ready to photograph and these were justly mailed to the transgressors. Usually no other warning was necessary. The back yards of Kalamazoo continued clean. Next, Mrs. Crane noted that by contrast, the streets of the city were woefully dirty.

After much hard work she induced the members of the Civic Improvement League to ask the city council for permission to keep six blocks at different parts of the city clean for three months, as a demonstration of how the work should be done. When the time drew near it was arranged that the women should act as inspectors, relieving each other, so that none were overworked, and that their duty would be to follow and supervise the men. At the moment of starting the yellow press deposited a number of reporters armed with cameras in Kalamazoo and the women who they saw were excited. One woman found a suddenly sick baby, another unexpected company, a third was really ill. Mrs. Crane listened and said nothing. She didn't wait to get angry or afraid. She walked out from her home and took the cameras and for three months daily she inspected every one of the six blocks experimented upon—alone. Every night she bathed her aching feet and cried and every morning she got up and set her lips firmly together and went on.

At the end of three months she had reduced considerably the cost of cleaning those six blocks, the streets were cleaner than any resident had believed possible and the city council was only too glad to adopt her methods as its own. The Civic Improvement League made up for its desertion by placing galvanized iron cans upon the street corners and by organizing junior civic leagues among school children who promised to help to keep the streets free from rubbish. The streets of Kalamazoo as well as the back yards are now kept clean.

Albert D. Mills Dies Suddenly

Passing Away of a Prominent and Well-Known Business Man of Annapolis County.

Annapolis, Sept. 28.—The community was shocked today when a telegram was received from Parrsboro, announcing the sudden death of A. D. Mills, senior member of the firm of A. D. Mills and Sons, lumber merchants of this town. Mr. Mills left here on Monday, apparently in his usual health, on a business trip to Parrsboro. C. W. Mills, his son, received a telegram this morning from Parrsboro, stating that his father was sick. He left on the Blue-nose, accompanied by Mrs. A. D. Mills. Just after the train had left a telegram was received announcing the sad news. Mr. Mills was a man of keen executive ability, sound judgement and popular with all classes. His death is a big loss to his town. He was a prominent member of the Lumbermen's Association, board of directors of the Annapolis Royal and a prominent member of the Masonic order.

He is survived by his wife, formerly a Miss Delap, of Granville Ferry, two sons, C. W. and Ernest, associated with him in business, and a daughter, Mrs. Chas. Staffer, now residing at Lawrenceton.

A Parrsboro dispatch states that Mr. Mills went to Port Greville to inspect a new schooner that Captain James E. Pettis and Russell Hettler are building for him. He returned apparently in his usual health, but was taken ill at four o'clock in the morning and lived only eight hours. Cardiac failure is said to be the cause of death.

ROOM MARTIME PROVINCES AND REAP ADVANTAGE.

The recent annual convention of the Maritime Board of Trade had under consideration the possibility of attracting population and capital to the east coast provinces. The maritime provinces are a day or two nearer the old world markets than is most of the rest of Canada. Their soil and other natural resources are for the most part of high order, and yet population, industry and trade are by no means making the progress to be expected. The convention tried to find the cause and confessed that the cause provinces had scarcely lifted a hand to change this condition. Britain has the capital, and the overflow population and it is incumbent on the maritime provinces besides soliciting the aid of the Dominion government, to carry on an active propaganda of their own. The eastern provinces have unquestionably been conservative, but they will serve their own interests if they now follow up the suggestion of the board of trade. They might well study the promotion methods used by some of the western sections of the country, and in these or similar ways bring themselves properly to the attention of capitalists and home-seekers in the old world. Publicity as regards the splendid advantages of eastern Canada is what the maritime provinces primarily need.—Financial Post.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Cliffon may be renovated by passing through the steam of a pan of hot water, then iron under a damp towel.

Don't have a dark colored paint or paper on the walls of a child's bedroom. White paint and light washable sanitary paper are best, both from a health point of view and the artistic one.

After baking a cake always let it remain in the tin about five minutes to give it time to settle, and then turn out on to a sieve.

Children's hair should never be strained tightly of the forehead if you wish it to grow thick. Bleeding hair in later life is often caused in this way.

It will be economy to finish your sheets with the same width hem at each end. By so doing they can be used either side up, and gain much wear.

MOTHERHOOD.

Of course, the vocation of woman is motherhood, but there are many ways of giving expression to this natural feeling. For example, if you haven't any children of your own (you know, nieces, nephews, etc.) there is nothing to prevent you from adopting an interest in some other children, and making life pleasanter for them.

In addition, there is at hand a thousand other interests for you to take—that is, various forms of charity, such as fresh air funds, home for working girls, entertainments for the poor, hospital work, neighborhood spirit—in short, anything and everything that tends to make life worth living.

WASTE AND GARBAGE.

The attractiveness of a rural home depends largely upon the promptness with which all kinds of waste material are disposed of. The abundance of space around the house is a great temptation for the members of the household to use it as a place for storing rubbish and useless, worn-out things. Sifted ashes are easily utilized in earth closets and upon walks and roads, to make them compact and firm. Other articles of no use, such as broken crockery, bottles, tin cans, etc., can be thrown into depressions and gullies and covered over with earth, or else buried in trenches where subsoil drainage is desirable.

THE LITTLE ONE.

Such a little break in the sod! So tiny to be a grave. Oh! how can I render to God, The beautiful gift he gave?

'Tis a weary world at best This world that he will not keep, Would I waken him out of such per- fect rest

For its sorrow and strife? Ah no! Escaped are its thorns and harms The only path he has trod Is that which leads from the mother's arms Into the arms of God.

RICE SNOW BALL.

Cook six tablespoonfuls of rice until tender. Sweeten with two tablespoonfuls of sugar and add a pinch of salt. Pile on a low, flat dish. While hot have the white of one egg beaten with one tablespoonful of sugar. Spread over the rice. Set in the oven to glaze but not brown. The sauce: Stir together the yolk of one egg, one teaspoonful of flour, two teaspoonfuls of sugar thinned with one tablespoonful of water, then beat to a cream. Stir this into one cupful of boiling milk and flavor to taste.

HEALING BORACIC OINTMENT.

Boracic ointment is a capital thing for a sore heel or cuts. Any druggist will make it up for you. Spread a little on a soft place, bandage to keep it in position, and wear a soft shoe for a day or two till the place is healed. A good plan is to sew a piece of velvet inside the back of each shoe, as this prevents rubbing and so saves the foot and the stocking, too.

CHEESE FONDU.

Beat six eggs slightly or enough so that a spoonful can be taken up easily. Add one level teaspoon of salt, one saltspoon of pepper, three level tablespoons of butter, and one quarter pound of cheese grated. Cook in a double boiler or in the chafing dish until smooth and creamy. Serve on toast. Do not over-cook.

Discovery of "Fruit-a-lives" has meant health for all

Canada's fame does not rest solely on her fur and wheat fields. Her rise in the esteem of the world is not due to her Cobalt mines. It is the work of her great men that has made her great. A graduate of McGill University has now taken renown for his original researches in the realm of Physics.

Everyone knows that fruit is wholesome when eaten judiciously. Physicians generally recognize the fact that fruit juices have a beneficial effect on the various organs of the body.

It remained for a Canadian physician to discover a process whereby the medicinal action of fruit could be so increased as to make the intensified juices a wonderful cure.

"Fruit-a-lives" is this combination of fruit juices and tonics. Since its introduction to the public, "Fruit-a-lives" has met with a success accorded to no other medicine in the world. The reason is plain. "Fruit-a-lives" is the one remedy that is actually made of fruit, and is the only remedy that naturally cures Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion, Headaches, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Backache, Kidney and Skin Troubles. At all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c, or from Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

YOUR OWN ANCESTOR.

Habit writes itself on the face, and the body is an automatic recording machine.

To have a beautiful old age, you must live a beautiful youth, for we ourselves are posterity, and every man is his own ancestor. You are today what you are because you were yesterday what you were.

A man will tell his wife the same stories a thousand times and be disappointed if she does not laugh every time. And when he tells them to his friends, he will appreciate her leading the laughter. Those are the sort of things that count in married life.

Let the father make a friend of his boy from babyhood, and that boy will not at the age of twenty suddenly loom before him as a problem that is as annoying as it is difficult of solution.—San Francisco Examiner.

To remove ink stains from colored wash goods cover spots with lard, rub well, then wash it in usual manner. While this method is simple it is sure and will not injure the most delicate colors.

After using fat for deep frying turn it into a bowl of hot water, stir well and set aside to cool. When cold the clarified fat can be removed in a cake from the top of the water.

London, Sept. 28—Gen. Booth's state of health which has been much discussed of late, is sufficiently satisfactory to allow arrangements to be made for a German preaching and lecturing tour which he will undertake later in the autumn.

As regards his eyes, while the sight of one is entirely gone, that of the other is blurred by a cataract to such an extent that General Booth cannot recognize his most intimate friends even at close quarters.

Annapolis.

An important social event occurred here on Wednesday, Sept. 28th, when the marriage took place at St. Luke's church, of Miss Constance, daughter of F. C. Whitman, President of the Lumbermen's Association of Nova Scotia, and Sidney Wilcox, son of the late Chas. Wilcox, M.P.P. The church was tastefully decorated, and under a floral arch the ceremony was performed by Rev. H. How, rural dean, assisted by Rev. W. T. Suckling. Mrs. How presided at the organ and led the choir in appropriate selections rendering also the Wedding March. The wedding service was read for the first time from the prayer book, which was a gift to the bride by King George and presented in his behalf by Lord Bishop of London. The bride, who is one of the most popular of the Annapolis girls, was much admired in her beautiful gown of white satin with bridal veil and orange blossoms, carrying white roses. Victoria, the Beautiful

Its cleanliness and order and could not help noticing the great difference in the respect, compared with the shabby quarters in New York and other cities. Men, women and children can be seen here in their neat, well-costumed and clean and oriental ways.

Both Chinese and Japs have many shops filled with their wares and goods direct from their home-lands, which are very interesting places. The silk goods, needlework, notions and rare and choice bits of China and porcelain wares were so enticing that our eastern lady friends could scarcely be coaxed away from these shops.

The Chinese seem to be successful gardeners also and a very common sight is to see one trotting along the street in the morning with two great baskets as large as apple barrels filled with vegetables and fruit and carried on a long stick balanced over his shoulder. The presence of so many of these orientals make the labor difficulty in the west a small one, for both town and country do not have very many of them. The Chinese of the east. All the work in the railroad line either repairing or building new, at the present time on the fruit farms that we passed, and in hotels seemed to be done by these people.

Vancouver Island which is upwards of three hundred miles in length and from ten to forty miles wide, has been very sparsely settled or developed so far. It contains much fine timber, coal and other minerals and good agricultural possibilities. The C. P. R. have recently acquired a line of railway that goes part way through it and with the railroad they received a grant of one and a half million acres of land along the line which they are now investigating with the idea of settling on the land or developing, and all this makes it a very great degree.

It however has a future as a great residential location, with an ideal climate and surroundings, and we can almost see the wheat-growers and traders of the plains moving to Victoria, when they are tired of the rolling prairies and long winters of their section, and building up a great palatial city in this location, where the rate of interest is the lowest of any place in the world, and where every prospect promises.
