

The greatest thing.

Just out—the new "MILNER" Overcoat—a successor to the Raglan. Every bit as comfortable, but becoming to all of them. Will not hide the grace and sprightliness of a good figure, but will cover the shortcomings of a poor one.

Chesterfield shoulders, straight front, box back, vertical pockets.

Sure to come in for more admiration than the Chesterfield or Raglan ever did.

$18, $20, $25 and $30

Public Amusements

One of the most brilliant audiences that ever greeted Mr. E. S. Willard at a most successful performance was present at the Princess Theatre on Saturday afternoon, when the English actor was seen in his most sympathetic role, that in which he appears in "The Professor's Love Story."

The crowd was too much even for the seating capacity of the big theatre, and many hundreds of people had to stand through the entire performance. Mr. Willard received an ovation from the audience, which was largely composed of ladies, and was called before the curtain at the end of the last act.

To-night the Dickens play, "Tom Pinch," is to be given, and Mr. Willard will be seen as the creation of the English author. There was some complaint last week that "Tom Pinch" was not given the number of performances it deserved, and so Mr. E. S. Willard has secured the consent of Mr. Willard to have the play repeated on Wednesday night and Saturday afternoon.

The Middleman and "David Garrick," on Wednesday night and Saturday afternoon, in which Mr. Willard made such a success last week, will be repeated on Thursday night. On account of the great demand for seats for the performance on Saturday afternoon, the play will be repeated on Saturday night, and the house has been already practically sold out. The present engagement of Mr. Willard will be one of the most successful in his career.

Latest Broadhurst Comedy. George H. Broadhurst's found of humor seems to be getting on so well that he does it with a gusto that is almost comical. He has just given a most successful performance at the Princess Theatre on Saturday afternoon, when the English actor was seen in his most sympathetic role, that in which he appears in "The Professor's Love Story."

The crowd was too much even for the seating capacity of the big theatre, and many hundreds of people had to stand through the entire performance. Mr. Willard received an ovation from the audience, which was largely composed of ladies, and was called before the curtain at the end of the last act.

To-night the Dickens play, "Tom Pinch," is to be given, and Mr. Willard will be seen as the creation of the English author. There was some complaint last week that "Tom Pinch" was not given the number of performances it deserved, and so Mr. E. S. Willard has secured the consent of Mr. Willard to have the play repeated on Wednesday night and Saturday afternoon.

The Middleman and "David Garrick," on Wednesday night and Saturday afternoon, in which Mr. Willard made such a success last week, will be repeated on Thursday night. On account of the great demand for seats for the performance on Saturday afternoon, the play will be repeated on Saturday night, and the house has been already practically sold out. The present engagement of Mr. Willard will be one of the most successful in his career.

Latest Broadhurst Comedy. George H. Broadhurst's found of humor seems to be getting on so well that he does it with a gusto that is almost comical. He has just given a most successful performance at the Princess Theatre on Saturday afternoon, when the English actor was seen in his most sympathetic role, that in which he appears in "The Professor's Love Story."

KING FLOWMEN'S CONTEST.

Ground Was Very Hard, but Competitors Made a Good Showing.

PRIZE WINNERS IN VARIOUS EVENTS.

Affair Was Managed to the Comfort and Satisfaction of All Concerned.

The annual match of the King Flowmen's Association, held on the farm of Alfred Lloyd, on Friday last, was in many respects most successful. The number of competitors (22) was not as large as on many previous occasions, but sufficiently so to render the match interesting. Nature has been lavish from a picturesque standpoint with this portion of the province, hill and dale lending a beauty to the landscape; but these are not indispensable adjuncts to a plowing match, and this fact was very much in evidence.

Ground Was Very Hard. The field was undulating and not altogether adapted to the best display of the plowman's skill, but the excellent absence of rain, was one of the greatest difficulties with which the plowmen had to contend. Taking into consideration these disadvantages, the work performed was already a record for the province.

The officers of the association were indefatigable in their efforts to make the affair a success and render it enjoyable to all concerned. Their names are as follows: J. Jamieson, president; E. McLure, vice-president; George Lawson, treasurer; J. L. Stewart, J. B. Stewart, W. Wells and George Watson. The secretary-treasurer of the association, J. S. Galt, of Maple, proved efficient and painstaking officer, and at a meeting of the board subsequent to the match was awarded the thanks of the members.
