TRIAL OF SENSATIONAL CASE BEGUN IN BERLIN

FOR 20,000 FRANCS.

FORMER LADY-IN-WAITING TO LATE PRINCESS AMALIA CLAIMS HER MONEY WAS WRONGFULLY USED, AND SHE HERSELF ARRESTED AND TREATED BADLY.

Berlin, June 6.—A sensational case began today in the first district court of Berlin. The plaintiff, Mrs. Milowski, was formerly lady-in-waiting upon the deceased Princess Amalia of Schleswig-Holstein and the defendant is the brother of Empress Augusta Victoria, Duke Ernst Guenther. The plaintiff claims that Princess Amalia received only 12,000 marks annually and, as she had a fortune of her own amounting to 80,000 marks, she made loans to the princess, who was in Malta, the plaintiff engaged a chamberlain a man named Walker who induced her to incur large losses. Finally, the plaintiff, who feared the loss of her entire fortune, made the princess, with whom she had meanwhile arrived at Cairo, restore 20,000 francs. She declares that, at the instigation of Duke Ernst Guenther, the Egyptian police to arrest her in the street and forcibly and inhumanly transport her to Prussia, where she became very ill.

THE CHINESE INDENTURE.

Washington, June 6.—The ambassadors from most of the European countries were in conference with Secretary Hay today and the state of the Chinese negotiations was discussed. It is understood that the middle ground, or modus vivendi, concerning the form of paying the indemnity, is likely to be settled by a joint and several guarantee. This will accord with the American view, that there should be no joint guarantee, in the sense of binding each government to securing the payment of the entire $37,000,000. It will be joint, however, in being executed by all the powers jointly. This instrument doubtless will include a provision by which each government is to assume no liability beyond the amount of its own share of the indemnity.

Alerts, 8; Roges, 7.

After two men were out in the ninth the Roges were beaten yesterday on the Alerts grounds by the Alerts. The winners trailed in the rear from the first inning until the ninth when a home run, a two base hit and a single, aided by a muffed fly led the business.

The maroons showed improved form in field work, but were weak with the stick until the ninth. They were outbatted by the Alerts and in nearly every inning were left on base.

For the spectators, the game provided interest, because the score from the first until the ninth innings was close enough to keep them guessing as to the outcome. Besides the evenness of the score and some of the hitting not many features characterized the game.

Shannon and Burke were absent from the Alerts and Frank White and Burns from the Alerts. Burns and Murphy substituted for the former while Popp covered second and Andy Tufts was in left field for the Reds. Popp was uncertain regarding the infield play, but he distinguished himself with the wagon tongue, making four singles, which drove in most of the runs for his team. It was Andy Tufts' first appearance this season in the field and he showed he had jumped in and accepted all his chances in splendid style.

It was Andy Tufts' first appearance this season in the field and he showed he had jumped in and accepted all his chances in splendid style.

In the ninth, when the Alerts took their turn at the bat they required two to even up and three to win. Tufts led off with an infield fly which Daley snuffed in his mitt. Britt raised the hopes of the team considerably when he sent the ball over the right field fence close to the foul line. Murphy was thrown out by Thomson. Malcolm fell over Whisley's grounder and the play was safe. W. White hit one which Cunningham made a hard effort to capture, but Whisley, who had been hit by a runner, scored on the hit. Popp then rapped out his fourth hit and Whisley rapped out the plate with the tying run. Mitchell sent a fly to right center which Kelly dropped. White and Popp rapped out two hits, but only the run of the former counts in the score.

The game opened with the Alerts at bat. O'Neil drew a base on balls, the only one White was able to score. Popp, second and moved to third on Friars' single. He scored a moment later on Malcolm's out short to first. Friars scored on a hit by Cunningham. The Alerts failed to reach base.

In the second Thomson reached first on White's high throw to first. He was left on second, which he had to do, because of a play on Whisley's hit and Popp's single scored run No. 1 for the Reds.

A two base by Friars, an out and a muff by Malcolm gave the Roges another run. After the Roges went out in the third the Alerts tied the score on a two base hit by Britt, a muff by Cunningham and a hit by Popp-Score 2-1.

Singles by O'Neil and McLean scored for the Alerts in the fifth. In the second half the Alerts got three men on the base before a man was out. Whisley being hit, W. White drawing the only base on balls off Friars and Popp stamming out a single. Then, on Mitchell's fly to Kelly Whisley used judgment on third and sent the ball to the right. Popp's single in the play and Cunningham getting the put out. This ruined what chances the Alerts had to score. Popp, the next man proving weak in his effort to drive the run.

In the sixth, after two were out, Murphy singled. He was caught between first and second, but Britt's throw hit the runner, allowing him to reach second. As he started to steal third Daley singled, so Murphy continued his journey to the plate. The seventh inning the Alerts and one for their opponents. A single by Whisley, with bases full, netted the Alerts four, while for the Roges Friars made a double and McLean knocked out a three base hit. Friars struck out three Alerts in this inning and followed it up by making Mahton and A. White hit the side.

In the ninth the Roges rapped two two base hits and a single, but only scored one run.

Independence A Past One.

Boston, June 6.—The Lawson yacht Independence today met with her first accident, a very serious jamming of the steering gear, but sufficient to stop the boat for an hour and a half of splendid sailing, during which she attained a speed of a tenth of a mile over three miles of 3% nautical miles an hour.

The accident led unexpectedly to a most thorough test of the yacht's rigging and her big mast and the result showed that it will be a pretty severe breeze which blows the Boston yacht. The big boom swung by a fifteen knot breeze swept over the stern. It was so sudden that none of the crew was able to prevent tacking and the mast had to stand the entire weight of the sail and boom as it fetched up. There was not a man on the boat but thought that the mast would fall.

Previous to the accident the yacht, under sail in a strong breeze, showed herself a wonderful boat, especially in her ability to run with sheets started. She also went very fast beating to windward and was thrown about by Captain Hoff in something under 20 seconds. Compared with the Constitution's time the wind apt sea were much the same and the yacht were under similar canvas, and it certainly seems as if the Independence had the greater speed, especially in a reach.

Big Events at Edmonston.

Edmonston, Scotland, June 6.—The play in the open golf championship yesterday practically left Harry Vardon and James Braid to fight for first place. Vardon drew with Taylor. In the third round Braid scored 74, making a total of 229. Vardon scored 79 making a total of 234, and Taylor 74 making a total of 296.

Braid was the winner with a total of 200. H. H. Hilton, the amateur champion, had a total score of 320.

There is to be a grand race meeting, open to trotters and pacers, at Edmonston, N. B., on July 9th and 10th. Purses to the extent of $1,200 are offered for four races. On the first day of the meet the 2:25 and 2:24 classes for pacers or trotters will be run off and on the second day the 2:20 and free-for-all classes, pace or trot, will compete. The large purses offered will no doubt attract the best horses of the Maritime Provinces. Entries close with J. W. Hall, secretary of the Edmonston Trotting Park, Edmonston, N. B., on June 12.

MORAL FINANCING

"INTEREST" IS A RIGHTEOUS PAYMENT FOR THE USE OF MONEY

TEXT OF DR. TALMAGE'S SERMON

The Individual with the "One Talent"—A New View of an Old Question—How the Multiplication and the Consolidation of Energy Does the Same Work as If the Sum Total Was Possessed by One or Few.

Washington, June 2.—This is a discourse by Dr. Talmage for those given to depreciate themselves and who have an idea that their best attempts amount to little or nothing; text, Matthew xxv, 15, "To another one."

Expect first from this parable of the talents the word "usury." It ought to have been translated "interest." "Usury" is finding a man in a tight place and compelling him to pay an unreasonable sum to get out. "Interest" is a righteous payment for the use of money. When the capitalist of this parable went off from home, he gave to his stewards certain sums of money, wishing to have them profitably invested. Change also your idea as to the value of one talent. You remember the capitalist gave to one of his men for business purposes five talents, to another two, to another one. What a small amount to this last, you think, and how could he be expected to do anything with only one talent? I have to tell you that one talent was about $7,200, so that when my text says, "To another one," it implies that those who have the least have much.

We bother ourselves a great deal about those who are highly gifted or have large financial resources or extant official position or wide reaching opportunity. We are anxious that their wealth, their eloquence, their wit, be employed on the right side. One of them makes a mistake, and we say, "What an awful disaster!" When one of them devotes all his ability to useful purposes, we say, "We enlarge upon it, we speak of it as something for gratitude to God. Meanwhile we have no time at all to consider what the right side is, or their one talent, not realizing that ten people of one talent are quite as important as one man with ten talents. In the case of the talents, opportunity is concentrated in a single personality, while in another it is divided among ten individuals.

Now, what we are to do in this sermon is to waken people of only one talent to appreciation of their gift. Only a few people have five talents or ten talents or millions have one. My short text is like a galvanic shock. "To another one."

The most difficult thing in the world is to get a man to estimate of himself. Our friends value us too high, our enemies too low. To find out what we are worth morally is the most difficult thing in the world. We are apt to measure ourselves by those around us, but this is not fair, as they may be very brilliant, but we are not. Indeed there are no human scales that can tell our exact moral and mental weight, nor is there a scale by which we can measure our exact intellectual height, so the hardest thing to do is to calculate our real stature or height. But it will be no evidence of genius in any of us if we say that we have at least one talent. What is it, and finding what it is, what use shall we make of it? The most of the people in this world that they have only one talent, do as the man spoken of in the parable, they hide it. But if all of the people who have one talent brought it out for use before this century is half past and correspondents begin to write at the head of their letters "1900 the earth would be one of the outskirts of heaven. I ask you again. What is your one talent?"

It is a certain brightness which lights up the face, which it illumines eye, cheek, nostril and mouth. Cheerfulness is catching. But a cheerful look is exceptional.

soul with courage and your face with glorious sunrise. Your sins all forgiven, that makes you all right with the past, an eternal heaven promised to your soul, that makes you all right with the future.

Aggravate is your one talent that of wit or humor? Use it for God. Much of the world's wit is damaging. Much of satire has a sting in it. Much of caricature is malevolent. Much of smart retort is vitriolic. In order to say smart things how many will sacrifice the feelings of others! The sword they carry is keen and it is bestowed on the innocent for no useful purpose. I like the sarcasm of Christ when he told the self righteous Pharisees that the sword they carried was not a physician, but that they that were sick, or when in mirthful hyperbole he said, "Ye shall be hanged by the neck and ye shall swing as chaff in the wind."

Or is your one talent an opportunity to get a good example? One person doing right under adverse circumstances will accomplish more than many treatises about what is right. The census has never been taken of lovely old folks. Most of us, if we have not such a one in our own house, now, have in our memory a saint. We went to those old people with all our troubles. They were perpetual evangelists, by their soothing words, by their hopefulness of spirit, an irresistible help. I cannot see how heaven could make them any lovelier than they are or more. But the more we know of lovely old folks, the more we are drawn to them. They are the mother of all graces. The passage of my years does not always improve my disposition, and there are a great many disagreeable old folks. Some of them forget that they were ever young themselves and they wonder how, when their asthma or rheumatism is so bad, other people can laugh at them as they do. The daughter in that family bears all the peevishness and unreasonable behavior of senility without answering them, what we are to do in this sermon is to waken people of only one talent to appreciation of their gift. Only a few people have five talents or ten talents or millions have one. My short text is like a galvanic shock. "To another one."

The most difficult thing in the world is to get a man to estimate of himself. Our friends value us too high, our enemies too low. To find out what we are worth morally is the most difficult thing in the world. We are apt to measure ourselves by those around us, but this is not fair, as they may be very brilliant, but we are not. Indeed there are no human scales that can tell our exact moral and mental weight, nor is there a scale by which we can measure our exact intellectual height, so the hardest thing to do is to calculate our real stature or height. But it will be no evidence of genius in any of us if we say that we have at least one talent. What is it, and finding what it is, what use shall we make of it? The most of the people in this world that they have only one talent, do as the man spoken of in the parable, they hide it. But if all of the people who have one talent brought it out for use before this century is half past and correspondents begin to write at the head of their letters "1900 the earth would be one of the outskirts of heaven. I ask you again. What is your one talent?"

Is it a cheerful look? Carry that look wherever you go. It must come from a cheerful heart. It is not that image smile which we sometimes see which is an irritant. It is a certain brightness which lights up the face, which it illumines eye, cheek, nostril and mouth. Let ten men who are accusatory and who have a certain hatred every day resolved upon a cheerful countenance as a result of a cheerful heart, and the influence of such a facial irradiation would be felt not only in that street, but throughout the town. Cheerfulness is catching. But a cheerful look is exceptional.

Is your talent that of persuasion? Make good use of it. We all have it in some extent. Let us march us think of it as a talent. But it is the mightiest of talents. Do you know that this one talent will fetch the angels of God when they descend to our world—the talent of persuasion? Do you realize that the rough lumber lifted into a cross on the hill back of Jerusalem is the only, absolutely the only, persuasion that will ever induce the human race to stand in the wayward the city of destruction and wheel around and start for the city of light? How may the Lord this moment above each one of us that to a greater or less extent we have that one talent of persuasion and impel us to the right use of it.

THE BEE AND THE GRAPE.

Bees May Not Take Flight Bite, but "Get There" Just the Same.

When the bees were destroying my grapes this year, I had it in mind to write you in regard to it, but thought perhaps it was not worth while.

When they were at work on the grapes by the thousands, I wrote my old friend and classmate, Professor A. J. Cook, the well known bee expert.

I was reminded of the old story of the lawyer who went into the prison to see the prisoner, and found him in a cell.

The bee expert said that the bees were not built that way and could not make an opening through the skin of a grape.

ORIGINAL "JINGO" SINGER.

Death of the Man Who Added a Famous Word to the Language.

G. H. Macdonald, once prominent as a concert hall singer, died not many days ago at his home in Clapham, a suburb of London.

Macdonald was the originator of the "Jingo" song, which has become a household word.

The "Jingo" song was first sung by Macdonald in 1875, and has since become a popular craze.

Macdonald never had another song which approached this one in popularity.

FIVE MINCE PIES COST $5,000.

They Ruined a Boy's Damage Suit Against a Railway.

Johnny Foehl ate five mince pies at one sitting, and this little feat cost him exactly $5,000.

His suit against the Camden & Suburban Railway Company for that amount for injuries sustained in being pushed from a car was progressing favorably to him yesterday in the Camden court.

Three lawyers who represented Johnny were on their feet in an instant, demanding of the court to know what mince pie had to do with Johnny Foehl being injured by being pushed from a car.

"What is the difference," asked the red-haired editor, "between pushing your way into a crowded train and a small garden?"

"One's a little harder on the corn than the other—that's all. Why does it?"

"No, it isn't. One is a shove-along and the other is a shove short. Why can't a woman?"

"Keep straight! Because it turns away the old red cow?"

"Tira pally! Because she was kicking the bucket? Why is a storm of sleet like a car of Russia?"

"Because the downfall of the pole. Why?"

"Frozen relict."

"No, makes a knotting dangerous. See? When have been killed for less than that. What's the difference between the iceman's morning call and lynching a man for theft?"

"One's a lie and the other's a lie. Why is a candidate's reception at a hotel like a manicule shirt waist?"

"It's an inn-ovation. Why is a bridegroom with the ring in his fingers like a man about to win a game of chess?"
