THE FARMER.

ON THE PRESERVATION OF POTATOES OVER THE YEAR.
M. De Lancy of Guernsey, says: "Early in March, 1833, I observed my winter stock of potatoes, which I had dug in Oct. 1832, sprouted in the mildness of the weather in this island. It occurred to me that by putting them under ground, vegetation would be retarded. I accordingly took indiscrimi-nately from my pile about three dozen and in my court yard dug a hole two feet and a half deep, under the protection of the south west wall, where the rays of the sun prevail for a few minutes only during the day, at any season of the year. Then with three pantles, one at bottom, I laid most of my potatoes in the hole and placed the other two tiers over them in form of the roof of a house.— They not containing all, I threw them carelessly into the hole, having no great confidence in my experiment, covering the place over to its usual level. Business called me home during part of the summer, I neglected looking after my small deposit; but on the 21st January, 1834, nearly 11 months after covering them, I had the curiosity to examine (two or three excepted, which were perforated by the ground worm, though firm), all perfectly sound, without having in the least vegetated in any respect, fit for the purpose of seed and the use of the table, as I have boiled a few and found them similar in taste and flavour to new potatoes.

From the above experiment, it is evident that vaults of deep trenches, out of the reach of atmospheric influence, would effectually retard the growth of sprouting potatoes during the period of about twenty one months; that from the time of taking up in October, the 30th July of the second year, or say at least eighteen months, and we have here a period of time, three times longer than would be sufficient to fill up the interval betwixt the old and the new crop of potatoes.

If we can preserve seed from sprouting, we can surely keep potatoes from sprouting; and the latter is undoubtedly of much greater importance than the former. Trenches or vaults could probably require three or four feet of covering of mould, besides all the advantages that can be gained by selection of a situation not exposed to the sun; and if the potatoes deposited were formed into breaks or divisions of five, ten or fifteen bulbs, according to circumstances with intervening partitions, to prevent the access of air, there is little doubt, that by well contrived, and well constructed vaults or trenches, potatoes may be kept in excellent condition from the beginning of April till the end of October for domestic purposes, as well as for the use of horses and cattle.—Edinburgh Quarterly.

SAVING PICKLES.
We are assured by a person who knows by experience, that by the following method, cucumbers may be preserved a year without scalding again.

Boil a large coffee cup full of salt in six quarts of water, heat and skim it, and pour a boiling hot on three gallons of cucumbers that have been pickled 24 hours, that they may have whined a little, and let them remain three days and nights. and turn off that water, and pour on another quantity prepared in the same manner, and let it remain the same length of time. Take the cucumbers out of the water, and let them drain on a cloth till dry; then put them into a vessel and pour on good vinegar, scalding hot, and add spices if you please.

In preserving pickles, it is very important to have vinegar of a suitable degree of strength it is very strong it will corrode and destroy them, and if it be weak the pickles will be poor, and will not keep long, especially in warm weather. If one third part color be added to very strong vinegar, it will be strong enough. We have sometimes had pickles destroyed in four or five weeks, by using very strong vinegar. We have endeavored to temper the vinegar by mixing weak and strong or adding water to that which is too strong.
But we have not been able generally to save pickles long in hot weather without scalding them, and even then it is attended with uncertainty. We have heard many observe, that they have had no better success. We usually save cucumbers in salt, and prepare them in vinegar as they are wanted; this method is sure, but attended with much trouble. We think that the above method of preserving pickles will be good, as a small quantity of salt is necessary to give them a relish, and owing to the conservative qualities of the salt, less strength in the vinegar will be necessary, and the last may counteract the corrosive nature of the vinegar.—Yankee Farmer.

CARLETON FLATS.—The leasing of the eleven blocks, into which a part of Carleton Flats had been divided, took place, according to advertisement, on Wednesday last. The bids were bid at prices far exceeding general expectation, by several of our mercantile men, whose increasing business requires more extensive wharves &c. than can be obtained on the eastern side of the Harbour. Seventy of the lot were reserved by the Common Council—the remainder were leased for the term of 35 years, at a yearly gross rent of £100 12s.—Courier.

POETRY.

THE ART OF BOOK-KEEPING.

How hard, when those who do not wish To lead, that's lost, their books, Are spared by angels—folks that fish With literary hooks;
Who call and take some favourite tome, But never read it through;
They thus complete their set at home,
By making out at you.

I, of my "Spencer" quite bereft, Last winter sore was shaken;
Of "Lamb" I've but a quarter left, Nor could I have my "Bayn."
And then I saw my "Crabbs" at last, Like Hauler's, backward go;
As my tide was ebbing fast,
Of course I lost my "Rowe."

My "Mallet" served to knock me down, Which makes me thus a talker;
And once, when I was out of town, My "Johnson" proved a Walker.
While studying o'er the first day My "Hobbes" smelt the smoke; They bore my "Colman" clear away,
And carried off my "Coke."

They picked "Locke" to me for more; Than Braham's patent worth;
And now my losses I deplore Without a "Home" or earthen If once a book you let them lift, Another they conceal;
For though I caught them stealing "Swift," As swiftly went my "Steele."

"Rope" is not now upon my shelf, Where late he stood elated, But what is strange my "Hope" himself Is excommunicated.
My little "Bookling" in the grave Is sunk, to swell the ravage, And that was Cruel's fate to save "Twice mine to lose—a "Seavage."

Even "Glover's" works I cannot put By foreign hands upon;
Though ever since I lost my "Fonte," My "Banyan" has been gone.
My "Hoyle's" with "Cotton" went; oppressed My "Taylor" too must fall;
To save my "Goldsmith" from street, In vain I offered "Bayle."

"Pier" I thought but could not see The "Hood" so late in front;
And when I tried to hunt for "Lee," Oh! where was my "Leigh Hunt?"
I tried to laugh, old Care to tickle, But could not "Tickle" touch;
And then, alas! I missed my "Mickle"— And surely Mickle's much.

'Tis quite enough my griefs to feed, My sorrows to excite,
To think I cannot read my "Riad," Nor even use my "Hughes"; My classics would not quiet lie, A thing so fondly hoped;
Like Dr. Primrose, I may cry
"My 'Livy' has eloped!"

My life is wasting fast away—I suffer from these shocks;
And though I fixed a lock on "Gray," There's grove upon my locks I'm far from "Young"—I'm growing pale—I see my "Butler" fly;
And when they ask about my wit
"Tis Burton," I reply.

They still have made me slight returns,
And thus my griefs divide;
For, oh! they've cured me of my "Burns."
And eased my "Akenaide," But still I think I shall not say, Nor let my anger burn;
For as they never found me "Gay,"
They have not left me "Stern."

Canada.

THIS DAY, at Two o'clock, His Excellency Lord Gosford came down in State to open the Session of the Legislature, and being seated on the Throne, the Assembly was called up, and attending at the Bar, His Excellency delivered the following

SPEECH:
Gentlemen of the Legislative Council,
Gentlemen of the House of Assembly.
The events which marked the close of the last Session of The Provincial Parliament have occasioned your being convened at this unusual season of the year.

The Address on the State of the Province then voted to His Majesty by the House of Assembly, having been laid at the foot of the Throne, I feel it my duty to avail myself of the earliest opportunity of communicating the answer which His Majesty has been graciously pleased to return thereto. I shall therefore transmit a copy of it, in the usual way, to the House of Assembly, and shall, at the same time, in obedience to the King's express commands, place before both Houses the Instructions under which I assumed the Government of this province, as well as those addressed to myself and my colleagues in the Royal Commission.

Gentlemen of the House of Assembly.— In compliance with the injunction of His Majesty I have again to recommend to your attention the estimates for the current year and also the accounts showing the arrears due in respect of the civil Government which were laid before you during the last Session.

The King has observed that you were induced, in that Session, to grant the supplies only for six months, and to prefer the complaints contained in your Address, apparently in consequence of the publication of a few detailed passages from the instructions to which I have alluded, and of inferences drawn from them, which a knowledge of their entire contents must be expected to remove. His Majesty therefore thinks it but just that you should not be held to be committed to a course adopted under a misconception, but should have an opportunity of re-considering your conclusions with the full information as to the views and intentions of His Government, which you will derive from a perusal of the whole of the documents to be laid before you; and he trusts that upon your becoming acquainted with their general tenor and spirit, you will accede to the application which I made to you at the commencement of the last Session, and which I am constrained now to renew, for payment of the arrears due on account of the public Service, and for the funds necessary to carry on the civil government of the Province.

That the business of Government cannot be carried on successfully whilst the salaries of the public servants remain unpaid, is too obvious I hope to leave room for a suspicion on the mind of any one that in making this renewed demand for the liquidation of these just claims, either His Majesty's Ministers in England, or I who bear His delegated authority in this Province can have any object in view separate from the public good.

Gentlemen of the Legislative Council,
Gentlemen of the House of Assembly.— As it is a meeting of the Legislature has been convened for the purpose of the session, and as a prolonged absence from the year homed at this particular season of the year may be attended with inconvenience to you it is not my present intention to recommend any other matters to your consideration. I cannot, however, refrain from congratulating you on the summer having passed away without any signs of epidemic disease, for which we ought to feel deeply thankful, nor from publicly expressing my gratification at the reception I every where met with in my recent visits to different parts of the province.

It is to me matter of the highest satisfaction to know, that the exposition which I made to you at our first meeting, of the views and policy of His Majesty's ministers towards this country, and of the principles which should guide me in the administration of its affairs, is fully borne out by the documents I shall lay before you, and has met with the approbation of your assembly. From the day I entered on my arduous duties I have to the very utmost of my ability acted up to the principles I professed; nor have I ever ceased to remember that the two first objects of my government, were the removal of abuses, and the reconciliation of opposing parties. By caution, by forbearance, and by the exercise of what I believe to be a liberal policy, I have sought to promote the welfare of the country and to gain your confidence. If I succeed in this latter object, I shall rejoice at it, principally because it will afford me the means of doing the greater good; and if I fail of success, I shall always be consoled with the consciousness of having laboured earnestly to deserve it.

THE ASSEMBLY'S ADDRESS IN ANSWER TO THE SPEECH.
It has been a merit which was foreign to some of the productions of the Assembly; the language is not generally disrespectful. The same may be said of the manner and the matter.
It sets out by intending to be flattering to the Governor. It thanks him for the speed with which the British Government has replied to the address of the House of last spring. It then brings him to believe that the House was sincere in that address, and compliments itself on its liberality.

His Excellency had promised a copy of the answer of the British Government.— The House does not, however, wait to become acquainted with it, but presumes its contents and then reasons on them.

After complimenting the members on their disposition to submit to personal sacrifices (sacrifices individuels) for the remedy of abuses, and particularly for protecting the people against the effects of the system which has corrupted the Provincial Government, and induced the highest authorities of the empire to violate the liberties of His Majesty's faithful Canadian subjects.—It tells His Excellency that it has not thought proper to consider the subjects indicated by His Excellency till he should inform them more fully of the reasons which induced him to summon the Provincial Parliament.

It then presumes to know what were His Excellency's motives for not calling their attention to other matters; makes him pay a compliment to the zealous labours of the House for the good of the country in the long Session of last winter, "to the great discredit of the vicious Constitution which it has been appointed to maintain."

The address then makes His Excellency and the authorities of the mother country declare, that they are "convinced" that all attempts at minor reforms must be fruitless, while the assembly, on the one hand, "supported by the mass of the Canadian people of all origins," and the Legislative Council on the other, supported by a part of the people, (which is every thing—that is bad,) remain irreconcilable, and the House concludes that His Majesty's Government has pronounced between the two "in a way conformable to our humble prayers." In that case, they inform His Excellency, that His "caution, forbearance, and liberal policy" cannot fail to have their effect.

The rest of the address assures His Excellency that the House is persuaded that he is "sincere" in his declarations, and withstanding their conviction, as before expressed the House thinks it necessary to warn him against trusting to minor reforms; but begs him to become the "bienfaiteur perpetuel" of the country, by aiding to its utmost, to obtaining the changes asked for by the House and "the people," particularly in the Legislative Council.

Such is the address; and such the fruits of conciliation and indecision. A more unparliamentary, undignified, and disingenuous document, has rarely issued from a Legislative Body.

Taking it in conjunction with the introduction of a Bill, (without even complying with the rules of the House, and in defiance of the Act under which they are assembled,) for taking away the legal right of the King to a call to the Legislative Council, and giving to their electors, or rather themselves; in short for changing the whole Constitution of the Provincial Legislature, and increasing their own power, we must consider the Session as ended; unless indeed, "We, His Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects, the Commons" of a country where there are no Lords have the power of erecting themselves into a Constituent Assembly, or a Convention Nationale.

BANK OF BRITISH NORTH AMERICA.
At a Meeting held at Mrs. Martin's Hotel Chatham, on Saturday, 2nd October, for the purpose of taking into consideration the expediency of soliciting the Establishment of a Branch or Agency of the Bank of British North America in Miramichi.

PRESENT:
J. A. Street, Edward Williston, W. Abrams, Michael Samuel,
J. T. Williston, James A. Pierce, T. H. Peters, Joseph Samuel, Alexander Rankin, Thomas Voudy, John Fraser, Henry Carman, George Kerr, Samuel Forsyth, William Carman, J. D. Lwin, John Wright, John Fraser, Jun.
Alexander Fraser Jr., Asa Willard, William Jophon, William White, John M. Johnson, George Letson.

WILLIAM ABRAMS, Esq. being called to the chair.
ROBERT CARTER, Esq. Commissioner from the Court of Directors of the Bank in London at the request of the meeting, explained the nature of the intended Bank, and the system on which it purposes to transact business.

Moved by J. A. Street, Esq. and seconded by John T. Williston, Esq.
Resolved unanimously, as the opinion of this meeting, that it is highly desirable that an Agency of the Bank of British North America be established in Miramichi, as the operation of such an institution would not only prove beneficial to the country, but to the shareholders of the Bank.

A number of Shares were then subscribed for, and we think there is every prospect that an Agency, in connexion with the Branch about to be established at St. John, will be located in Miramichi.

Since Mr. Carter's arrival, he has visited Richibucto and Bathurst, and obtained a few shares in both places.

To be continually subject to the breath of slander, will tarnish the purest virtue, as a constant exposure to the atmosphere will obscure the brightness of the finest gold; but, in either case, the real value of both continues the same, although the currency may be somewhat impeded.

CHARLOTTE COUNTY
AGRICULTURAL AND EMIGRANT SOCIETY

Patron, Sir Howard Douglas, Bart.

Extract from the Minutes of a Quarterly Meeting held on Tuesday the 11th October 1836.

"Whereas serious apprehensions are entertained that a dearth of the necessities of life will be severely felt during the ensuing winter, and whereas it appears that there is a fair average in the crop of Oats in this County; this Society consider it a matter of the utmost importance that every bushel of that grain, which can be spared, should be rendered available to the country by being ground into meal, fully convinced that OAT-MEAL is a valuable substitute for flour at all times, but particularly at this time of scarcity and dearth of breadstuffs."

"Resolved, that a Special Meeting of this Society be called to take place on Tuesday the 25th inst. at 4 o'clock, p.m. to take into consideration the state of the Mill at Cham-cock towards the encouragement of which this Society have made liberal advances."

In compliance with the above Resolution I hereby give notice that a meeting will be held at Mrs. McLeary's on the above day when a full attendance is expected.

GEO. N. SMITH, Secretary.

St. Andrews 12th October 1836.

Deserters from the Brig

PERICLES

THIS is to give notice to all whom it may concern, that ALEXANDER M. GIBSON, a native of Ireland, aged 23, and WILLIAM CAMPBELL, a native of Scotland, aged 20, signed articles on 10th July 1836 to proceed on board the Brig Pericles of Liverpool, under my command, from the Port of Greenock to Saint Andrews New Brunswick; from thence to Demerara, or any other port or place in the West Indies, or any other part of the world, at the option of the Master or Consignees, as freight or cargo may order, and thence back to an ultimate port of discharge in Great Britain; and whereas these articles contain now considerable liabilities from the Pericles, notice is hereby given to all ship-masters and others, not to harbour or employ them, as I will take such steps against them as are warranted by law, whereon I must then or hear of them on ship board, or on shore.

Being short of hands, from the desertion above mentioned, I shipped from Watson's Sailors Boarding House, a seaman named SAMUEL HARRIS, on deserting to sea his discharge from the vessel he last left, he answered that he had been up, thinking it of no use to be had been discharged from the brig Pericles. Any person having just claim to said Harris, are hereby notified to state the amount of wages earned, and to remit £2 10s. advance paid by me.

HAWTHORN STEWART,
Master of the Brig Pericles.

RULES.

Orders and Directions of the Firemen of that part of the Parish of Saint

Stephen, usually designated

Middown, belonging to Engine No. 1.

1st. You are to play and wash your Engine once every month, as long as the season may permit, and if any Fireman neglect his duty in this case, he shall forfeit the sum of 2s. 6d. for every such default.

2nd. If any fireman do not appear at his Engine before it is brought to the place of playing, he shall pay 1s. 6d.

3rd. If any Fireman be not present when the list is called, he shall forfeit for every such default 7 1-2d.

4th. You are to repair to your Engine House at the first notice of fire, either by the ringing of the bell or by outcry; to take your Engine and leading hose to the place of fire, and work the same according to the directions of your Engineer or his assistant, and be sure that the man who takes the pipe or leader does not quit his place under penalty of 2s. 6d. for each such default.

5th. If any of said Firemen absent themselves before they are discharged by the foreman or the Engineer, he shall forfeit for every such offence the sum of 2s. 6d.

6th. If any Fireman have notice of fire, either by the ringing of the bell or by outcry and hearing by the way that such fire is extinguished and comes not to the Engine House, he shall forfeit and pay the sum of 3s. 3d.

7th. If any Fireman having notice of fire either by the ringing of the bell or by outcry, does not repair immediately to the Engine House, he shall forfeit and pay the sum of 3s. 9d.

The fourth volume of the 'New Series' of THE ALBION commenced on the first Saturday of the present year, 1836.
This Journal, which embodies the News, Politics, and Literature of Europe, more particularly of Britain, has, during the last of the Fourteen Years, and has obtained a reputation and circulation far surpassing the most sanguine expectations of its formers. This flattering success may be ascribed to Proprietors, who, on the objects of writing, to improve, enlarge, and embellish the work, and to throw into its Pages such an increased quantity of political, literary, and scientific matter, as has rendered it the estimation of the most judicious and the most educated journals in the English language.
