Alarmist Reports Denied by the Pope's Doctors-The Samoan Difficulty in Course of Settlement.

London, April 6 .- The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times telegraphs an alarmist statement regarding the spread of serious labor troubles and strikes in the manufacturing districts of Russia. Ominous rumors, he says, are in circulation in St. Petersburg, reports of troops sent to suppress outbreaks, of the whole destruction of property, of numerous arrests and of the gagging of the press, yet not half of what is happening ever reaches the ears of the capital. Towns, mills and factories, the correspondent says, are literally inundated with secret socialist and revolutionary proclamation by agitators, who are undoubted by doubtedly assisted from abroad. All this, together with the agitation fostered by the students, creates a serious political outlook.

THE SAMOAN SNARL. Berlin, April 6. - The negotiations between the German minister of foreign affairs, Baron von Buelow; the United States ambassador, Mr. Andrew D. White, and the British ambassador, Sir Frank C. Lascelles, continue. The representative of Great Britain still favors the majority rule within the proposed Samoan investigating commission. Germany wants unanimity, according to the Berlin act, and the United States acquiesces. Mr. White said to the correspondent of the Associated Press: "I believe England will yield to unanimity."

DENIAL FROM THE POPE'S DOC-

TORS. Rome, April 6. - Drs. Lapponi and Mazzoni have issued another formal denial of the disquieting stories circulated about the pope's health. They declare he follows his usual occupations, grants audiences daily and celebrates mass almost every morning The pontiff, on April 11, the occasion of the fete of St. Leon, will receive the dignitaries of the sacred college and the pontifical court, and will return thanks for his coronation congratulations. His holiness received Archbishop Ireland today in farewell audiences. DISTURBANCES AT HONG KONG. Hong Kong, April 6 .- Capt. Francis Henry May, superintendent of the Hong Kong police, reports that a number of surveyors' sheds have been burned, and the villagers were so aggressive that he was forced into concealment at night, and had to return to Hong Kong in daylight. Troops are being held in readiness for an emergency. COPYRIGHT.

London, April 6.-The morning papers comment with sympathy and approval upon a long letter which Mr. Alfred Austin, the poet laureate, addressed to Col. John Hay, the American secretary of state, from Florence, Italy, on March 25, appealing on the ground of the unity of the Englishspeaking peoples for equal copyright in all English-speaking countries for all books written in English.

THE ANTARCTIC EXPEDITION. Brussels, April 6.—The Belgian Geo-graphical Society has received a dispatch, stating that the extreme latitude reached by the Antarctic expeditionary steamer Belgicia was 71.36 south, longitude 92. Much bad weather was encountered by the expedition. but no intense cold, except during the month of September. Good maps were prepared of Hughes' Bay and Palmer's Land, south of the South Shetland Islands.

A dispatch from Brussels says: "Fresh details have been received regarding the arrival of the Belgian south pole expedition, in South America. The expedition, when stopped by ice, was near Alexander Land. It had traveled to a latitude of 71 degrees 36 minutes, and discovered new lands, news seas and many volcances.

By Serious Labor Troubles and One official. Lieut. Danco, in charge of the magnetic observations, died in June. Some months earlier the expedition lost a young Norwegian, named Vincke, an excellent draughtsman, who illustrated the expedition. The members suffered much from cold in September, when the minimum was 43°

below zero." CABLE NOTES.

At the inquest which is to be held shortly on the victims of the wreck steamer Stella on the Casquet Rocks March 30, it is expected to prove that the disaster was due to reckless navigation. The United States torpedo boat

Somers, which left Falmouth en route for Plymouth, broke down off Plymouth, and was towed into Plymouth Sound Wednesday night disabled. The London Daily Telegraph, editorially referring to the proposed cut-ting up of the site of Wolf's victory at Quebec into building lots, says all Canada should take measures to prevent the desecration of the Plains of Abraham, and adds that England would surely help if it was merely a question of money. Ontario Government Proposes to Secure Its Succession Duties.

Windsor, April 6.-The Ontario Government will endeavor to collect succession duties on the money deposited in the Canadian banks by the late Daniel Scotten at the time he disposed of his tobacco business in Detroit. Recently it was reported to the Ontario treasury department that a large amount of money had been deposited by Scotten in the banks of Windsor. and other Canadia cities, and Attorney R. F. Sutherland was retained to investigate the matter. He advised the department that the report was apparently well founded, and was instructed to oppose the granting of letters of administration in connection with the estates unless this money was included in the inventory filed with the

Mr. Sutherland opposed the granting of the papers, claiming that a large sum of money belonging to the estate was on deposit in Canadian banks, and did not appear in the statement put in. This money, contended, should pay succession duties. Attorney Rodd finally admitted that there was about $990,000 on deposit in the banks at Windsor, Toronto, Hamilton and London, but claimed that the money had been placed the simply for safe-keeping, and was not liable to the succession tax. Catherine Ward, of Cleveland, Figures in a Complicated Case.

Deserted by Her Husband, David Ward, of London, Whom She Sued for Divorce and 345 Per Month Alimony.

"He deserted me! Yes, he deserted me and six little children!" This was the charge preferred by Mrs. Catherine Ward, of Cleveland, against her husband at the police court this morning Mrs. Ward told a long, doleful story in a very short time. She came here yesterday, baby in arms, from Cleveland, and, locating her better half, had him locked up. The case is a complicated one, and the husband and wife each have their sympatnizing friends.

Ward, who is a former Londoner, and about 30 years of age, unhesitatingly pleaded guilty to the charge of deserting his wife. Last June his wife en(tered a suit for divorce, but this was not granted. The court, however, made an order for $45 per month alimony, to be paid to her. In August last he sold tonio de Gerlache, has arrived at the his teams and chattels, and came here Straits of Magellan, after having been to live at his mother's place, 766 Hill street. His wife had time and time again denied him admission to his own house, and compelled him to sleep in ness, and one sailor perished by drown- the barn. He had grown weary of such treatment, and sought more congenial climes. Ward said he left London 11 years ago, and was married in Cleveland about a year afterwards. Mrs. Ward told her side of the story ing with another woman of immoral character, who had been deserted by her husband. "When I came here," Mrs. Ward said, "I found them both together. He took this woman to live with him just to tantalize the heart out of me. She has another husband, and has two children. When I was sick in bed, with this little baby here, that man there never asked how I was or what I wanted. All he thought about was his white shirt and having sport. He took this other woman away with him, and had all kinds of sport with her, and left me and the children, and sold his two good teams, and lost his good character and his reputation and mine, and made me miserable, and threw away a good job where he was making $400 a month, and came over here to be tried, because I had lots of witnesses in Cleveland, and left me without a cent, and came away with that miserable, dirty wretch of a woman. Dave, you know you are guilty, and if you want to come back you come here and beg my pardon, and that's the last chance you'll ever get.'

Ward-I wanted to do that and you wouldn't have it. The court officials looked from one to the other while this tirade was going on, and the magistrate cut it short by suggesting a settlement in some way. Mrs. Ward wanted the "other woman" locked up and sent to penitentiary for

How to Cure Consumption

The Board of Health of the State of Ohio, in its ficial report on the subject of tuberculosis, says: We should thoroughly realize that consumption is communicable and, therefore, preventable. RIVER RAINY RAILROAD

Opening Up 800,000 Acres of New Farm Lands.

Over 5,000 Men To Be Employed for Two Years Constructing the New Road.

iry Farm Station at Wabigoon and Settlers' Homes at Port Arthur and Fort William-Some Record-Breaking Crops in New Ontario.

The mineral wealth and the agricultural richness of "New Ontario," a tract of country containing 60,000,000 acres, bounded on the west by Eastern Manitoba, on the east by Quebec, on the north by the Albany River, and on the south by Lake Superior, was the subject on which some very interesting and instructive addresses were given at the city hall last night, where a fair-sized audience assembled. Ald. McPhillips presided in the absence of Mayor Wilson, and in a few brief from New Ontario had visited London for the purpose of giving information recording a continued supply. The nickel regarding a country of which the majority of people knew very little. On the platform were ex-Mayor John Mc-Kellar, of Fort William; Mr. George Thompson, of Port Arthur, a former Londoner; George T. Marks, mayor of Port Arthur: D. F. Burke, Port Arthur, and Mr. George Taylor.

Mr. George T. Marks, mayor of Port Arthur, was the first speaker. He explained that the purpose of the meeting was to tell the people of London something about the richness and the vastness of New Ontario, and inform them of some of its wonders. The deputation which took this matter up did so, purely to heip the country, and for no ulterior motive. True, they might reap some benefit, but it could only be after the country had been built up. New Ontario had 80 per cent of the land area of the province and only 10 per cent of the population, and, if possible, he would like to see this order of things changed. Though the district from Lake Superior to Lake Nipigon, Lake of the Woods to the Great Lakes, the C. P. R. traversed the country for over 1,000 miles. In this section there was everything that was to be desired, fruit and vegetables, minerals, coal, and plenty of good wood and water. The mines were unexcelled, and produced gold, silver, copper, lead, coal, zinc, nickel, and miles of marble. For the benefit of the people in the northern district they were endeavoring to secure government assistance in opening up the country. For twelve years they had been at Ottawa and Toronto endeavoring to stir up the government to action, and they were beginning now to see the importance of developing this rich tract of country.

The Ontario Government, at the last session, had subsidized over 700 miles of railroad, which was the most important factor in opening up any country. No matter what people said, or how the differed in politics, there was no gainsaying that the C. P. R. ad been a great factor in opening up ne country. There were miles of untry without a settler, and if the ople and the governments were not stirred up there would have been any settlers. In the district between Lake Superior and Lake of the Woods, there were 250 gold mines, the woods, there were 250 gold mines, and eight of these mines were paying handsome dividends. The ore is free milling. There was cheap fuel and plenty of water. The total milling capacity today is 400 stamps, and would, within a year, be increased to 1,000. Silver had been mined in the Port

Calumet and Heckla, on the south shore of Lake Superior, across from Port Arthur, had paid over $60,000,000 in dividends, and is now capitalized at $80,000,000, and was paying on that capitalization 7 or 8 per cent dividend. Some 16,000,000 tons of iron ore had been contracted for by American manufacturers this year. The shipments of minerals, timber, pulp, etc., through the Soo Canal was amazingly large. In a few months of the year large. In a few months of the year more tonnage passed through the Soo than through the Suez Canal, which was open all the year round.

Speaking of the zinc mines, Mayor
Marks said that just west of Port Arthur, at the time he came away. there was awaiting shipment to Belpractically to come from the Sudbury population since 1891. Mr. Sifton and district, where 1,500 men were employed, and if this mineral were refined at home there would be 5,000 men employed. The white pine district, near Rainy River, was the best in this or any other country, and the supply was unlimited. The Americans soon have to purchase this, as their stock would not last longer than ten years. Through Algoma district there were thousands of miles of timber woods, where the sound of the woodsman's axe had never been heard.

The agricultural lands might not be so concentrated as in this portion of Ontario, but there were blocks of the best land in the world, containing 15,000, 25,000 and 40,000 acres. There was one stretch-the Rainy delta-90 miles long and about 30 miles wide, and this is spoken of as unsurpassed. On the Rainy River Railroad 5,000 hands will be employed for two years in construction work. About 400 miles of railway had been subsi-dized to the extent of $2,000,000, and more was to follow.

The present was the best time for a young man to go to New Ontario, and strike the iron while it was hot. The four towns of this section, Port Arthur, Fort William, Rat Portage and Keewatin, have 40 churches, 15 schools, 1 high school, 3 court houses, 4 jails, 3 hospitals, 100 stores, 30 hotels, electric light, waterworks, electric railways, sewers, docks by the mile, elevators to hold 7,000,000 bushels of grain, foundries and sawmills, cut-ting 75.000.000 feet of lumber. The country offered more advantages than any other part of the Dominion. In Fort William alone, 500 men were employed for seven months of the year handling freight. It was not a country for drones, and only those who knew how and were willing to work had any Any energetic man, with right there. health, could soon become independ-ent. The country, at first sight, in some sections, might make men shake their heads: but children or fools should never see unfinished work; and these same swamp-like, densely-wooded mineral lands would one day be the pride of the fair Dominion.

Mayor Marks spoke of Jenison's Canal. from Kaministiqua River into Port Arthur and Fort William, with one artificial lake four miles long and two miles wide, having a head of 300 feet and a capacity of 100,000 horse power. This will supply these towns with water, power and light, and will, in the near future, operate the largest flour mills in the world. He advised any, who had any idea of going west to mine, to be sure they understood the business, and not waste their

Ex-Mayor McKellor, of Fort Wil,liam, said this was one of the richest mining sections in the world. He had been through the country and knew whereof he spoke. Many people from Eastern Ontario had learned from experience that more cattle could be kept on an acre of land in the district surrounding Lake Superior than here. It took a little more hay in the winter, but then the hay crop was better. In 1867 he had brought samples of wheat from that district to Toronto, and the people there had refused to accept it as samples from that country. At the time the Sandfield Macdonald Government passed a mining bill taxing mining lands a ten per cent royalty there were no Americans who would invest one dollar in mining here. Today there was more American money than Canadian invested. The former seemed to be better posted than Canadians, and the only reason he could advance was that the good lands were too close to hand. The richest country, both in mineral and agricultural products in the Dominion was to be found nearer

Lake Nipigon. Strawberries were usually a good crop, and of a very unusual size. Over 100 hushels per acre of coats had been threshed last fall, and the usual crop of potatoes was from 200 to 400 bushels. Any man who was a good axe-man could always get employment in the winter.

the Dominion and Provincial Governments. A settiers' home is now being built at Port Arthur for the accommodation of incoming farmers who take up land. Guides are also being stationed at this point to show prospective settlers over the country.

Mayor Wilson, who came in just beployment in the winter.

Mr. D. F. Burk, of Port Arthur, told his hearers that as a boy in Bowmanville he well remembered the time when London seemed as far away from Bow-manville as New Ontario seemed from London, but the railways and the fast trains had overcome a multitude of difficulties and obstacles. He remembered the time when people near Bowmanville sold their farms for $100 per acre, and came to London district and purchased as good for $18 and $20 per acre. People who owned fairly good lands in this district could dispose of them for sufficient to purchase a farm for each of the family in New Ontario. Twenty-five years ago, he said, Fort William was described as a Hudson's Bay Company post, on the Kaminis-tiqua River; inhabitants 25, mostly Indians. Today, Port Arthur and Fort William have good streets, common, separate, boarding and high schools, electric railway, churches of all denominations, foundries, saw and planning mills workshows, roundbousse and ing mills, workshops, roundhouses and elevators. In Manitoba they were growing the finest hard wheat in the world, and this belt was the same as that which stretched along back of Lake Superior, yet this good land was lying idle. He would not advise them to make a rush into farming, or mining either. There were millions of dollars wasted in mining year after year. The trouble was mismanagement. Men who would not be trusted with $100 on their own responsibility were sent up there to superintend the expenditure of thousands. There 60,000,000 acres in the district, and of this 15,000,000 was available for farm lands. All of this might not grow wheat, but it could be utilized for dairy farms, or sheep runs, etc. Algoma had more native grasses than any other part of the Dominion, and what better country could dairymen wish for? Three thousand young men from the farms of Ontario were eking out nothing more than an existence in Toronto, who might be maktons per acre; carrots, 647 bushels per acre; celery, 45½ tons per acre, the sticks being four or five feet long. All hay. The farmers were away behind the market, and it would take them years to catch up. Potatoes sold at from 40 cents to $1 a bushel. Mr. Sifton had promised to aid them by the publication of 100,000 pamphlets, and during the next ten years the immigration would doubtless be enormous. The day before the deputation went to Ottawa they had ascertained that Mani-toba had increased about 100,000 in the C. P. R. were largely responsible for this. The land around the eastern section of Old Ontario was becoming less fertile, and growing less valuable, on account of being cropped to death without the necessary fertilizers. Northern Ontario it was the other way. The iron industry of the country was not being work to anything like the extent it should be, and if Canada ever was to be a nation the iron industry must be developed. Pulp was another great industry, and this was being shipped all over Europe. At the Soo, $2,000,000 was expended in one mill, and more were to follow. Mr. Burk advocated an elaborate display of productions at the coming world's fair, in such quantities that sight-seers where that came from. What Northern Ontario wanted was men-good men and money. A man could not go there, spend his money at a saloon and get along. It required steady plodeing. William Logan had stated that the Nipigon section was one of the most promising mineral regions in Canada. A dairy farming station has been established by the Ontario Government on the line of the C. P. R., at Wabigoon. An illustration farm station has been established at Port Arthur, under the auspices of the district agricultural society, assisted by

to Business.

Still on the Yukon-Mr. Borden and Mr. Fraser Cross Swords.

Ottawa, April 6.—Yesterday's proceedings in the house were somewhat tame after the great speech by Hon. Mr. Sifton Tuesday. Several bills were introduced, and others received second readings after recess. The remainder of the time was eccupied by Mr. Bor. of the time was occupied by Mr. Borden (Halifax). He maintained that Mr. Sifton had sent the Yukon staff up to the north with stocks, and that the minister justified this action by saying that a previous government had permitted the same thing, an extraordinary position for the government to take. He charged the government with delay in inaugurating an investi-gation into the charges against the officials, which was an injustice to the officials and to the country. The com-missioner who had been appointed could not properly investigate the charges, say, against Mr. F. C. Wade, for Mr. Wade was an intimate friend of Mr. Sifton and the investigator was pacity today is 400 stand, within a year, be increased to live.

Silver had been mined in the Port Arthur district for about 35 years, and a few years ago, a mine that had turned out $4,000,000 of ore had been deserted because of ignorance and improper for $1 per ton. This will open up and methods of mining. They had, he said, samples of silver ore with them that would average from $5,000 to $15,000 per ton of silver.

The modern method of mining had worked a great revolution in the mineral world. Years ago, mines which produced no more than they do now produced no more than they do now broduced no more than they do now produced no more than they do now broduced no more than they do now produced no more than the produced no an employe of that minister. He sumterested in the waterfront lease; in-sanitary conditions had prevailed in Dawson, and the mail accommodation had been defective. He said that Messrs. Allen and Semple, of the Klondike Nugget, were brought to him by Mr. Prior, M. P. for Victoria City, in order that they might make a state-ment to him as a lawyer, and these centlemen said among other things than in the eastern section of Ontario. The farmer could get from 20 to 25 cents for his butter, 12½ cents for cheese, 8 cents for milk, 7½ to 9 cents for pork, 15 to 80 cents for eggs, 6 to 9 than 15 to 80 cents for eggs, 6 to 9 than 25 cents for beef, and from 25 to 9 cents for beef.

MR. FRASER IN REPLY.

Mr. Fraser (Liberal, Guysboro) replied. In his estimation the charges brought by the Conservatives against the Yukon administration were vague and indefinite, and were remarkable for opposition seemed to be proceeding upon the idea that if they threw mud enough some of it was sure to stick, a proceeding that was neither fair nor dignified. He denied that there had been any delay in starting gation, because it was only five days after the receipt of the Dawson miners' protest that a commission was forwarded to Mr. Ogilvie empowering him to hold an investigation. As to Mr. Sifton's speech, not only was it a complete vindication of the government's policy in regard to the Yukon, but would in future be regarded as the basis of true history of that district. The opposition were discussing Yukon affairs as if the events had occurred at Ottawa, while the fact was the conditions were altogether new and unheard of, so that the government, Canada's minerals and agricultural acting as they did, simply did the best they could under exceptional circumstances. He denounced the charges could not doubt that there was more against Major Walsh as calumnious, and expressed his satisfaction with the investigation of Mr. Ogilvie. Such speeches as the opposition were delivering had been a drug on the intellectual and commercial market.

Mr. Fraser announced himself as an out and out free trader, but was satisfied with the government's slow progress towards that goal. The present tariff was not the full measure of what the country expected, and would ultimately get, but the government was to be praised for its doings so far as tariff changes had gone. When Col. Prior rose to move the adjournment of the debate there were loud cries of "go on" from the ministerial benches, and Sir Richard Cartwright, who was leading the house, intimated that the debate on the address having been somewhat protracted, it would be desirable for the opposition to intimate in the course of the next sitting how long they proposed to occupy, to which Col. Prior replied he would consult the opposition leader of Sir Richard then moved the adjournment of the house and the house rose at 11 o'clock. NÈW BILLS.

WALKERVILLE WEDDING. Windsor, April 6.-Miss Mary Fraser Keighley, niece of Wm. Robins, manager for Hiram Walker & Sons, was married yesterday morning to James Cleghorn, of Montreal. Miss Keigh-ley is the daughter of W. W. Keighley, of Toronto. She came to Walkerville with her grandmother to visit Mrs. Robins, and during the visit the old lady was stricken with paralysis. Miss Keighley remained with her and attended to her every want till the last, and it was six years before the end came. By that time the Robins family had become so attached to her that they induced her to remain with them as their adopted daughter. The bridegroom has been for 18 years with John Hope & Co., of Montreal, the leading wine and liquor house in Canada. No invitations were sent out. The wedding

Keighley, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Dr. John Ibbotson, of Montreal, as groomsman. The ushers were Adjutant Betty, of the Essex Fuslliers, and Stanley Swift, of Detroit.

Who Continues to Follow in the Foot steps of the Late Archbishop Walsh - A Popular Selection-Sketch of the New Archbishop.

Toronto, April 5. - The Catholic Register, of this city, publishes the following official announcement regarding the archbishopric of Toronto, which has been vacant since the death of Archbishop Walsh, on Aug. 1, last year: "St. Michael's Palace, April 5, 1899 .been chosen by the Holy See. I am authorized to state that the Most Rev. Denis O'Connor, D.D., Bishop of Londay in all the city churches as a thanksgiving to the Almighty. (Signed) Jos. J. McCann, administrator, arch-

There were three names submitted to the consideration of the pope. The nomination of the clergy of the Toronto diocese was Vicar-General Mc-Cann, the present administrator of the archdiocese. But the bishops of the ecclesiastical province of which the archdiocese of Toronto is a part, chose two names from their own ranks, and sent them along with Bishop McCann's name to Rome. Both of these names happened to be O'Connor, one the bishop of London, and the other bishop of Peterboro, and the London prelate was the choice of the Vatican.

Most Rev. Denis O'Connor, D.D. archbishop-elect, was born of Irish par-entage in the township of Pickering, in ilar to that of the late Archbishop Walsh. The late archbishop was a priest in the diocese of Toronto before he became bishop of London, and was transferred from the London see to the archbishopric. Archbishop O'Connor received a large part of his eduthe same way as his predecessor. His elevation is approved by all ranks of the clergy and laity. He has administered the diocese of London most capably, has paid off a large debt on the cathedral, and will leave the diocese in be by age, experience, education and ability the fittest man to fill the highest ecclesiastical position in Ontario. First race, $300, for 3-year-olds and Incidentally, it may be mentioned that the archbishopric of Toronto is very far from that if another appointed, is cardinal may get it. Bishop O'Connor is a man of European education. After his theological course in Canada, he studied in Germany and at Rome, deepening and strengthening his knowledge in many departments. He returned to Canada Mary's Church, Toronto. The first years of his ministry were spent as profes-

The Yukon Molehill.

The Yukon hurricane has blown over in the House of Commons, for the present, at least. Mr. Sifton need not have paid Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper the compliment of a five-hours' reply, as parliamentary ethics do no require a minister to notice anonymous scandal-monging. The same charge of indefiniteness cannot be laid against Mr. Sifton's speech, which was a plain, unvarnished tale, perfectly clear and frank. He withheld nothingthere was nothing to withhold. He laid bare every official act from the day upon which he was called upon to adpose in dealing with a great emergency.

The whole case of the Opposition falls to the ground when we consider Mr. Sifton's choice of agents for the government of the new territory. It has been charged that he recalled Mr. Ogilvie, the uncrowned king of the Klondike, and deposed him from the office of administrator of that region. As a matter of fact, Mr. Ogilvie was merely a topographical surveyor in the Klondike when the fame of that country barst on the world. Mr. Ogilvie asked for permission to leave there because of his health, and the position of first administrator of the Yukon was then conferred upon Major Walsh, a distinguished ex-officer of the Mounton the understanding that he would be relieved by Mr. Ogilvie when the latter regained his health. When the appointment of Major Walsh was announced the Opposition press praised him to the skies. This is the man whose character Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper athas issued an unqualified denial. The other Government official at whom a great deal of mud has been flung is Mr. Fawcett, the former gold commissioner, but Mr. Fawcett was chosen at the suggestion of the Surveyor-General of Canada, an appointee of the late Conservative Government. Admittedly the postoffice management caused a good deal of complaint, but the postoffice was in charge of Capt. Harper, of the Mounted Police, who was assisted by members of that corps. Capt. Harper and his staff were, of course, also in the service of the last Government. Judge Maguire, the judicial head of the Yukon, was raised to the bench by a Conservative premier.

As a Liberal member waggishly remarked, the trouble arose through Mr.

Sifton appointing too many "Tories,"

Ister's unbiased motives, and his conscientious endeavor to give the Yukon

the best services at his command. Mr. Sifton has emerged from the ordeal with an enhanced reputation. As he well pointed out, the opening up of the Yukon created a situation that no alleviate their sufferings. All possible Canadian administration was ever before called upon to face. In a subarctic region, remote from the seat of government, almost inaccessible for six months in the year, a new community sprang up, with the suddenness of a mushroom. On the young Minister of the Interior fell the task rule." of meeting this unexpected crisis by contriving the machinery of government f this far-off, isolated country. The fact that British law and order have been planted in that territory, where there are so many turbulent and exciting elements, as firmly as in any still far from well, and that is is doubtpart of the empire, is an honor to Canada, and a tribute to the organizing genius of Mr. Sifton and his chosen instruments. Mr. Sifton is responsible to the public for the men whom he has selected to supervise the administration of the Yukon, and there is yet no evidence that his judgment in this respect has been defective, while there is positive proof that he put party considerations aside. If constables, clerks or minor officials have been guilty of taking bribes, Mr. Sifton is no way inculpated, as he had to rely on the integrity and vigilance of their superiors. But not one charge of corruption has been substantiated in the court of inquiry at Dawson City. Mr. Sifton holds himself ready to investigate any specific accusation that may be brought forward, but none have been forthcoming yet at Ottawa.

The Canadian Lumber Situation. United States Senator Forster, of Tacoma, Washington State, is condescending enough to say that he believes it might be possible to have the present tariff of $2 per thousand on Canadian lumber entering the United States reduced by 20 per cent. That would be no reduction worth speaking about. If the tariff cannot be thrown off entirely, it ought at least to be reduced one-half. And if it is not so reduced, while it may be somewhat hard on the lumber industry of Canada, it will be so much the worse for the American consumers. The United States needs our lumber more than our lumber needs the United States. Canada need not be in a great hurry to market her forests, if they are well protected against the ravages of fire. Unfortunately this danger, which contiguous settlement has always hitherto made possible, has been one of the chief reasons why our rulers have been so ready to sell off the sell at the market price than to have the woods burned down, thus putting nothing into the public treasury.

Our tree-wealth, if care is taken for its preservation, will continue to be of of others. They are ever ready to talk

The New Ontario.

The pictures of New Ontario drawn by the speakers at the City Hall last night open pleasant prospects. People who are satisfied in Old Ontario should of course stay where they are-in the garden of the Dominion. But the young men of Ontario who are constantly leaving the old farms to swell the population of the cities or to take up broader acres in the Northwest, should turn their attention to the great possibilities of their own Province. Agriculture is no mere experiment in New Ontario, as thousands of prosperous settlers can testify. The vast region is being opened up by railways, seems so. and the expansion of the mining industry affords a growing local market for farm produce. It is estimated that minister the Yukon, and the record of the sixty million acres of land in shows above all things an honest pur- New Ontario, fifteen millions are adapted for wheat-growing or dairying. The young farmers of Old Ontario, who think they need wider opportunities, should learn what their own Province has to offer them.

To Visit the Northwest.

Hon. Sydney Fisher and Hon. David Mills have both been warmly pressed to visit the Northwest and British Columbia during the ensuing summer, as soon as their parliamentary duties will partition of the Chinese Empire. allow. Neither of these statesmen is a stranger in the Northwest. Mr. Mills had a good record as Minister of the Interior in the Mackenzie Cabinet, and in the early nineties he visited the Paed Police. Major Walsh took the post cific coast, while Mr. Fisher traversed a large section of the Northwest before he became a Minister of the Crown. When west, Mr. Mills would, of course, visit and inspect the penal institutions, which are in charge of his department, and Mr. Fisher would have a warm welcome as the first Minister tacked in the House, but the major of Agriculture for the Dominion who has been, and is, a farmer.

Those charged with the management of our public affairs cannot see too much of our country, and its marvelous resources and capabilities. Mr. Fisher would have visited the Northwest last summer, but he was needed in Great Britain, where he spent a busy couple of months bringing the merits of our products before the dealers and con-

The British Army Slandered. Col. Sir F. R. Wingate gives the lie to the statement that the Anglo-Egyptian troops were merciless to the wounded dervishes. In an official report to Lord Kitchener, Col. > The effluxion of language on Parliament Hill still continues.

We regret to hear that our former fellow-townsman, Sir Frank Smith, is ful whether he will be able to take his seat in the Dominion Senate during the present session.

The people of Chicago, Toledo and Detroit have declared for the principle of municipal ownership. Now it remains for them to elect men with enough principle to make municipal ownership a success.

When the people of Old Ontario think of the timber, the mineral, and the agricultural wealth of New Ontario, they also think of the fact that but for the vigilance and pluck of Sir Oliver Mowat, New Ontario would not now be a part of this Province.

The cycle of progress has reached India also. Revenues are buoyant and industry is moving briskly. During the twelve months just closed, 1,451 miles of new railways were opened, bringing the total mileage up to 22,650. In the ensuing year 1,570 miles will be built, leaving 1,859 miles to be finished later on, in accordance with the Government's programme.

In the British House of Commons, on one noteworthy occasion, a bishop rose to address the assembled wisdom, and began by saying he would divide his speech into twelve heads. Lord Durham thereupon got up and begged leave to interpose for a few moments while he told an anecdote. He was returning home, he said, a few nights before, and passed St. Paul's Cathedral just before midnight. As he did so, there was a drunken man trying to see the time. Just then the clock began to strike the hour. The drunken man listened, looked hard at the clock, and said: "D-n you, why couldn't you have said all that at once?" After this relation the bishop condensed his remarks. If it were possible to silence the long-winded talkers in the Dominlimits. It has been deemed better to ion House of Commons by telling a story with a moral, or by any other means, it ought to be done. Unfortunately, the bores in our parliament seem to be impervious to the sufferings

Faith Fenton's report of the inquiry at Dawson City, written March 6, and published in the Globe, tells of a witness who swore he was hired by the Klondike Nugget to gather evidence against the Government officials. This same fellow, with apparent reluctance and after much persuasion, added that he was also in the pay of the Young Conservative Association of Ottawa. It is denied that there is such an association, but the witness' unwillingness in making his statement-he had to be almost threatened—left little doubt that he was engaged as a spy by some pol- D. & A. Snow fell in Owen Sound this season to an aggregate depth of 20 feet 7 inches, and the Oldest Inhabitant is thereby reminded of the sort of winters they used to have "away back in the eighties."

Hon. Mr. Tarte's Oratory [United Canada, Ottawa.]

Perhaps no man who ever came to the house of commons has improved so much as Hon. Mr. Tarte since 1896. His speech on Tuesday night will rank among the best. Mr. Tarte has ability and Tory abuse has made him popular with his own party.

> Prosperity Out West. [Winnipeg Free Press.]

among western farmers at the progress of the times and in the prospects of the immediate future. Pessimists, grumblers, critics and quacks with nostrums 50 pairs extra fine Nottingham Lace will continue to be heard from occasionally, but their discontented cries will be drowned in the roar of industry and development which, with the thunder of spring-released torrents, will soon be borne to our ears.

Eleven on One Limb at One Time With Excruciating Pain. All Remedies Tried, and Numberless Physicians Little Benefit. CUTICURA Speedily Cures.

My mother has been a victim to ulcers from varicose veins for thirty-five years. Eleven of these terrible sores have existed at one time on the limb affected. Excruciating pain and intense suffering were endured, with all sorts of remedies on trial and numberless physicians' calls and prescriptions applied, but all practically with but little benefit. However, at last the remedial agent was found in CUTICURA (ointment), which surely proved its weight in gold, alleviating pain and causing healing processes to commence and a cure speedily effected. She has, also, used Curicuna with marked benefit in erysipelas of the face and eczema. The CUTICURA SOAP, also, has established a record only as the best cleansing, purifying, and healing in its nature, having proved itself a most excellent and valuable auxiliary to the CUTICURA (ointment). I would remark that this testimonial is entirely posolicited, being a voluntary contribution for humanity's sake, and the commendation of the CUTICURA REMEDIES to the fullest confidence, being satisfied of their purity, genuineness, and almost miracles wrought.

March 16, 1898. W. T. MORSE, Cabot, Vt.

CUTICURA Begins with the Blood and Ends with The Skin and Scalp.

That is to say, CUTIOURA RESOLVENT, grestest of blood purifiers and humor expellers, purifies the blood and circulating fluids of HUMOR GREMS, and thus removes the cause, while warm baths with CUTIOURA SOAP, and gentle anothings with CUTIOURA SOAP, and gentle anothings with CUTIOURA (bintment), greatest of emollient skin cures, cleanse the skin and scalp of crusts and scales, allay itching, burning, and inflammation, soothe and heal. Thus are upsedily, permanently, and economically cured the most torturing, disfiguring humors of theskin, scaip, and blood, with loss of hair, when all other remedies fail.

DEAD AT TAVISTOCK

Sudden Death of George A. Ross Nephew of the Minister of Education.

Tavistock, April 6 .- Mr. Geo. A. Ross, who bought out the drug store from Dr. Steele some months ago, was found dead in his store at half-past twelve yesterday afternoon. He was last seen alive at 12 o'clock, just before the latter went to dinner. On his return from dinner he found Mr. Ross dead in the

Dr. Steele was called in, and while he gave it as his opinion that death was probably due to natural causes, he notified Coroner Devlin, of Stratford, of the facts in the case.

Mr. Ross came to Tavistock from Strathroy. Before this he was for a time a clerk in a drug store in Toronto. He was a young man, 28 years of age, well liked and respected by those who knew him, and was building up a prosperous business in Tavistock. He was a nephew of Hon. George W. Ross, minister of education.

WIFE-BEATING

Justified by a Missouri Juage, Under Certain Circumstances.

St. Louis, Mo., April 6.—A decision was rendered by Judge Peabody in the city police court yesterday that under certain conditions a husband has the right to beat his wife. The case was of one Bernard Kectzer, charged with beating his wife because she would not agree with him in the management of their children.

Judge Peabody said, in passing judgment: "In this case the wife was more guilty than the husband for trying to contradict and thwart her husband's will in the presence of the children, and setting them a bad example, which he had a right to rebuke. There are times when a wife irritates her husband to such an extent that he cannot control himself, and uses his hand or fist. As long as no serious harm is done I believe in punishment."

ELECTRIC WAVES

How They May Be Utilized With. out Wires

Important Experiments Made by the U. S. War Department.

New York, April 6.—A dispatch from Washington says: "It is the confident expectation of the officers of the signal corps of the army that within a short time messages can be flashed to and from the war department to Fort Meyer, five miles away, without the aid of wires. Important experi-ments, already made at Fort Meyer by Col. James Allen, now acting chief of the signal corps, and Lieut. Geo. O. Squire, having demonstrated that it is practicable to transmit messages by means of electric waves, produced in the manner employed by Marconi. these officers have found that at a distance of 1,000 yards they can telegraph any message, and it is intended to increase the distance gradually until the war department and Fort Meyer are connected. Lieut. Squire said today that he was much gratified at theresults of the experiments, and he believes that when the experimental stage has been passed, the system will be of much value for working between the shore and lighthouses, communicating between vessels at sea, and for marine work generally.

Perhaps the most important demonstration so far made has been the impossibility of exploding a magazine on board a modern ship by means of the electric wave. Lieut. Squire said that in the first place it would be necessary to have an operator on board the ship to be destroyed, and even then it would be impossible to transmit the wave through iron. Placing the instrument in an iron cage will prevent the waves from reaching their destination and a zinc screen also stops them. On account of the length of the waves their energies are absorbed differently by different substances. Thus, water and metal absorb all their energy; glass absorbs nearly all, and paraffine and hard rubber absorbs hardly any. Thus they move through hard rubber and paraffine as light moves through air, glass or water, that is to say, with hardly any resistance, while glass lets very little of them through, and metal and water are impervious to them.

Lieut. Squire estimates that the waves travel at the rate of 186,000 miles a second. At this rate they could reach the sun in eight minutes In time of war, Lieut. Squire states, it is possible to fire a gun 500 yards away by means of a spark thrown that distance. The experiment in transmitting messages have thus far been very limited, as the ins uments were received only a few days ago. The instruments used are the finest that could be obtained. The messages so far sent have been received without difficulty.

Paris, April 6.—In view of the success of the experiments with the Marconi system of wireless telegraphy across the Strait of Dover, the authorities propose to transmit messages to Englang from Paris. The terminal here will probably be the Eiffel tower, the distance to South Foreland being 230

REV. ROBERT JOHNSTON, D.D. The following is from the Montreal Herald, of Tuesday, April 4: Among those receiving the degree of doctor of divinity at the Presbyterian College tonight will be Rev. Robert Johnston, B.A., B.D., of St. Andrew's Church, London, Ont. Mr. Johnston will be the first graduate of the college to take the degree by examination, and will hence hold the place of honor. Dr. Johnston is a gold medalist, both at McGill and in theology, and during the past few years has received several calls to important pulpits on the other side of the line, but his sturdy loyalty has induced him to remain in Canada. He will be one of the two Canadians to have a place on the programme of the Pan-Presbyterian Council, which meets in Washington on Sept. Next.

MR. DUNSMUIR'S MISSION

Mix-Up Caused by the Course of the British Columbia Government.

[G. N. W. Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, Ont., April 6.-James Dunsmuir, M.P.P., British Columbia, is in the city. Mr. Dunsmuir is one of Can-ada's millionaires. He is the owner of large coal fields, railways and other works in the province, and is interested in some newspapers as well. In politics he is a Conservative, and a supporter of the opposition in the legislature led by Mr. Turner. Mr. Dunsmuir is here on business in connection with the Longhees Indian reserve. which lies almost in the city limits of Victoria. He has got a railway which runs through this reserve. The cost of tion in Buffalo as a glass beveler, at right of way through the reserve has not been settled for between himself and the government, and there is, in addition, an application for terminals and station accommodation. These are matters which Mr. Dunsmuir will discuss with the minister of the interior. Had the British Columbia Government accepted the offer of the Dominion Government to remove the reserve to another place, as the citizens of Victoria have been petitioning for, these difficulties would not have arisen.

DELAWARE.

Delaware, April 5.-Measles are very prevalent around here-scarcely a family in the community has escaped

A jolly company of young people assembled at the home of Mr. J. Ackland on Monday evening, and spent a very enjoyable time in honor of his daughter, Miss Winnifred, who leaves today for Hamilton to resume her college course there. Miss Ackland enjoys the best wishes of a large circle of friends who desire for her every success in her studies.

The funeral of Mrs. Hotham, of the Pinery, took place here this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Komoka road, which has been impassable, owing to a washout, for over three weeks, was opened yesterday for traffic. Probably the warm weather has at last thawed our council out and they have ordered the necessary repairs, which might have been done long ago.

POPULAR HILL.

Poplar Hill, April 4 .- On the evening of April 3 occurred an event ever to be remembered by the young folks of Poplar Hill, when about 50 of the cleverest young people of the vicinity gathered at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joram Zavitz to partake of an excellent turkey supper provided by the Sons of Rest. After the supper the evening was spent in music, games and acting charades, some excellent acting being done by the friends from Strathroy. The host and hostess left nothing undone which would contribute to the evening's enjoyment, and so successful were they in their endeavors that the day was almost breaking before the guests realized that they must return to their respective Among the guests we were pleased to number Miss Olive Zavitz, of Dawn, besides friends from Strathroy and

Where It's Hottest.

The Red Sea is perhaps the hottest spot on the face of this whirling sphere. It has been estimated that only one steamer out of twenty passes through without loss of life. The passengers are made to drink iced lime juice and water, and those in the steerage are denied meat, in order that the blood may be kept in the best condition possible. All the bedding is placed on deck; the port side is given up to the men and the starboard side to the women, says the New York Times.

Electric fans are used constantly, and ice is left around in pails for those who may want it, and even then men, women and children die. But worst of all is the effect of the heat on the brain, the sudden insanity and hasty suicides. No captain ever entered the Red Sea without dreading the five or six days it would take him to pass through it. On the Caledonia we buried six cabin and two steerage passengers, and the cook and two stewards jumped overboard. And at all times the boat was run at full speed (18 knots an hour), with the hope that her own headway would cause a draught, but even that was insufficient to give any relief. Day and night the temperature stood at 125, and we would watch the blood-red sun sink behind Mount Sinai at night in the vain hope that coolness would then prevail. The borders of the sacred land give an excellent idea of what the entrance to Hades must be like.

The only interesting spot in the Red Sea besides Daedaly's is the place where Pharaoh's army crossed. waters are just the same there as in any other part of the sea. There is nothing whatever to mark the triumphal march into Arabia, save a roadway on the cliffs on the Egyptian side, which the army is supposed to have traversed. It can be easily discerned with glasses, but it looks just like the country road leading from Hoboken to the valleys beyond.

The Philadelphia Record tells of teacher who had just finished explaining the use of the ditto marks, when she noticed one of her young searchers for knowledge searching for it in a half dime novel. So she made him stay after school and told him to write the sentence "Always pay attention" 100 times.

In a very short time he gave a glad shout. "I've did it!" "What kind of language is that?" she remarked severely. "And you surely haven't had time to do it." Well, I'm done it, then-anyhow, here it is." He held up his paper. The sentence was written once at the top, and the remaining surface was covered with dots. "But you haven't done it," she ex-

The Patron Saint of Lawyers. Who, by the way, is the patron saint of lawyers? A famous lawyer in Brittany once appealed to the pope for a saint. His holiness proposed that he should go round a certain church blindfolded and lay hold of the saint nearest his hand. He stopped and grasped a certain image, crying,

"This be our saint; this be our patron!" When the bandage was removed, he found that, though he had stopped before the altar of St. Michael, to his horror he had laid hold not of St. Michael, but of the figure under St. Michael's feet—the Whiting looked miserable enough, but what were his feelings compared with those of his companions? It was abso-lute torture to the proud man, on whose honor no stain had hitherto rested, to meet the curious stares and hear the comments of the gaping idlers who gathered around the door of the lockup to see the "gentlemen prisoners" step into the fly Hutton had procured for them; but the stab was a keener one when his first glance around the magistrate's room fell upon the grave faces of the colonel of his regiment, Mr. Stretby, and Major Halliss.

"I can't thank you for coming," he said, when the latter came to shake his hand warmly, "for I'd rather you had stayed away."

"I thought I might be of some use to you," was the reply.

Then transfer your good offices to Whiting. It is my greatest trouble that I have brought him into this mess. "If it could but have been hushed had got hold of it." "And so I shall get my deserts," was the reply, spoken with an affectation of carelessness. "What will they do to me? Will you come and see me, Jimmy, when I am enjoying the pleasant retirement of Brixton or Millbank?"

"For heaven's sake, don't jest over it Lyss. There's your mother to think of." "Do you suppose I haven't thought of her already?" was the hoarse reply. "Her grief, her shame, will kill her. Who will go and tell her that her son is in jail?" "By your leave, sir," whispered the inspector to Major Halliss, "the case is about to be heard," and the major stepped back to his former place beside Mr. Stretby, whose good-natured face looked unusually serious, especially when the evidence of Miss Tibbetts, and the production of the message that had lured Eden from her side, proved how cruelly the poor girl had been de-

Frank Lyssendon did not raise the head that had never, till now, been bowed in dishonor, until he heard the name of Eden called, and became sensible of the little bustle that accompanied her entrance. Then, as that confusion subsided, he looked up, and his selfreproach grew keener, if possible, than it had been before. The room was small, and, in consequence, she stood so near that only a few feet divided them; but at present she was evidently unconscious of his presence.

Her mother had led her in; her mother's arm was around her, and the village doctor had stationed himself close by, for the condition of his patient still alarmed him. The tearless apathy, the strange indifference to all that passed around her, which neither Mrs. Aubrey's caresses nor his medicines could banish, was still upon her.

In fear and trembling, her mother had told her that it would be necessary for her to give evidence against ly assented, neither objecting nor resisting when led to a carriage and conveyed to the residence of the magis-

Her white face sharpened with suffering, the look of intense horror still distending her eyes, that made the anxious doctor tremble lest her brain was permanently affected, she stood while the oath was administered to her,

When the magistrate began to question her, and gently asked her to recall the events of that night, she endeavored to obey; drawing her hand across her brow, and releasing herself from her mother's supporting arm. But as she did this she caught sight of Captain Lyssendon, and an indescribable change came over her pallid features. Memory was awaking now, and everyone trembled for the result.

There was a breathless pause which none had courage to break; and then, before Mrs. Aubrey could interfere to prevent it, Eden had taken one faltering step forward, and extended her clasped hands to Captain Lyssendon, crying, piteously:

"Oh, Frank, how could you - how could you!" The words were scarcely spoken ere she fell prostrate on the floor, as if in that one pitiful reproach her wounded heart had broken. It is difficult to portray the scene of confusion that followed Eden's fall. Mrs. Aubrey shrieked, and Frank Lyssendon struggled furiously with the policemen, who seized and dragged him back, when he sprang forward, and falling on his knee beside the insensible girl, would himself have raised her.

It was not till she had been borne back to the carriage in waiting and order restored, that the magistrate could proceed to hear the rest of the evidence, which, by the way, proved sufficient, without Eden's, to warrant him in taking a very grave view of the af-

During that interval his thoughts had carried nim back to that first time on which the then happy girl came in his way. He seemed to see her as sne was then, beautiful in her youth and lightheartedness, blushing with shy pleasure at his attentions; yet retreating with a modest dignity, that made her still more charming, whenever he grew presuming. Once more in fancy he neid her to his heaving breast as she sat before him on his horse, her trust in him overcoming her fears while they forded the swollen river; and most bitter memory of all-because most accusing-he seemed again to feel her slight form nestling confidingly to his side, as when he bore her away to Hartmer Forest; her trembling fingers lying willingly in his the while-oh! poor betrayed darling-she thanked him for his sympathy with her in her grief. "Come, Lyss, come!" Major Hallis was saying, when he roused himself to

"To prison? So be it," was the reckless reply, tanywhere out of the world. But don't you stop. I'm not fit for any honorable man to associate with now.

The police will take care of me."
"Nonsense, Lyss! Don't talk like that! Rouse yourself, and come away, Don't you understand that you are free up!" groaned Halliss; "but the police for the present?"

"Free!" exclaimed the stupefied young man. "I mean the case is remanded, and Stretby and the colonel have given ball for you and Whiting to appear before the bench next week."

"And then? Go on; and then?" "Would you rather know the worst? Well, the general opinion seems that you will be committed for trial." Frank Lyssendon staggered back, and was glad to support himself by clutching the major's arm. He knew all that this meant. He was socially a ruined man, and he had dragged others down disdain. "I can't expect you to forgive me, Whiting; but I'll move heaven and earth to get you off. If there's justice in England you shall have it; and Halliss, take care to let it be known at Aldenby that Whiting had nothing to do with this affair-nothing whatever. An unfair advantage was taken of his position, and he could not extricate himself without impeaching others."

"Don't think of me; don't mind me," cried the grateful young ensign, gulping down a sob. "Of course, I was to blame, for I had no business to have joined in the shooting party. If it was not for the folks at home and my sis-

"You are going to spend the week at my house, both you and Whiting," said Mr. Stretby, coming up, and taking an arm of each. "I have talked it over with mamma, and she consents to it." "Go to the Beeches? Impossible!" and Frank shaded his eyes with his hand. How could he meet Flip or her

It was distributed in the outside towns, as far as Malolos, and has been received with marked at-tention by the natives generally, and has been approved by a number of representative Manilans. Manila, April 5—6:20 p.m.—A Span-ish banker, who was interviewed, ex-pressed fear that the proclamation would not reach the masses controlling the rebellion, because the Filipinos at Manila were mostly domestics and clerks, who had no definite opinions, and the wire-pullers outside of the city had undoubtedly intercepted it.

THE W. A. M. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

Three Sessions Held Yesterday-Interesting Addresses and Reports.

The following officers were elected at the morning meeting of the W. A. M. A. yesterday:

Recording secretary, Miss Burgess, London; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Falls, London; Dorcas secretary, Miss Gower, London; treasurer, Mrs. (Rev.) G. B. Sage, West London; literature secretary, Mrs. (Rev.) Smith, city; literature, librarian, Miss E. Manigault, city; card membership secretary. Mrs. C. r. Complin; Leanet editress, and educational secretary, Mrs. Boomer, city; Sunbeam Society secretary, Miss Anna Baldwin, city; extra-cent-aday fund treasurer, Mrs. English, city; Bible flower mission, secretary, Miss Falls, city; treasurer, Miss Beattie, city; Bible and Prayer Union secretary, Mrs. Becher, city; junior branches secretary, Miss Beattle, city; representatives to triennial meeting, Mrs. Boomer, Mrs. Sage and Miss Gower.

The afternoon session commenced at 2:30 with an unusually large attendance. After a hymn had been sung, his lordship the bishop, on behalf of the Memorial Church branch, presented Mrs. Richardson with a life membership, which he termed a most ap-propriate recognition of her faithful work in the Woman's Auxiliary.
His lordship then introduced the Rev.

James MacLeod, of Lion's Head, who expressed his great satisfaction at meeting the Huron W. A., and his appreciation of what it has done for his mission.
Miss Weir read an excellent paper

Mrs. Boomer also read a paper on her last summer's trip to the North-west, full of interesting details relating to the Indian schools and mission work generally.

The annual missionary meeting was held in the evening in Cronyn Hall, which was crowded, the bishop presiding. On the platform were Revs. A. H. Baldwin, of Toronto; J. MacLeod, of Lion's Head; Archdeacon Davis, Dr. Beaumont, A. H. Rhodes, M. G. Freeman, G. B. Sage, G. M. Cox, Canon Dann, Canon Smith and J. H.

Archdeacon Davis opened the meet-ing with prayer, and Rev. J. H. Moorhouse followed with the reading of the

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. Sage, showed a gratifying increase in funds and in interest. The income had been $4,637 94, and the expense $3,982 04, leaving a balance of $655 90.

The bishop spoke, congratulating the

W. A. M. A. on the good work they were doing. He expressed deep regret that the Dean of Huron had to be absent on account of an accident. Rev. J. MacLeod, missionary at

Lion's Head, gave interesting details of the work in his mission in the Indian peninsula, extending over a distance of forty miles, and including four outstations, and also cottage meetings and week-night stations. He also related many strange experiences which he had, and showed how the people appreciated the services of the church. But for the help afforded by the W. A. M. A., the church would have to be

Rev. Arthur Baldwin, of Toronto, did not believe in the saying that if a church gives to foreign missions it will suffer at home. The contrary was true. Giving to foreign missions meant a blessing at home. He spoke of the good work of the W. A. in doing much to remove the stiffness and formality which too often was to be found, and of the practical Christianity MINISTERS DISAGREE ON DANCmanifested by the members in denying themselves for the cause. He urged the duty of both prayer and thanksgiving, and related many instances which had come under his notice of the effi-

A liberal collection was then made, and after a vote of thanks to the speakers, moved by Canon Dann and Rev. G. B. Sage, the meeting closed with a hymn and a benediction.

GRIMSBY FRUIT TREES ALL RIGHT.

Toronto, April 6.—Hugh H. Anderson, well-known fruit grower of Grimsby, says that there has been little or no damage to the fruit crop so far this season. Regarding the San Jose scale In the district, Mr. Anderson said there was no sign of the damaging scale. He thinks that orchards will be kept free from it now, as everybody will be looking out for it.

$3,000 CONSCIENCE MONEY. Washington, April 6 .- Three $1,000 bills were received yesterday by the secretary of the treasury. They came in a letter postmarked "New York." The money was accompanied by the following letter: "The inclosed belongs to the United States treasury. Con-science demands its return. God knows the name and the sin." This is the largest amount or money ever received here from an unknown source. Money in small sums is frequently received certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good.

By the treasurer from unknown persons who at one time or another have defrauded the government. Such money is turned over to the "conscience fund."

Last year something like $5,000 was received from this source.

THEY CLIMBED A LADDER TO BED

Peculiar Domicile of "Midy" Morgan and Her Eccentric Sister.

New York, April 6.—Miss Jane Morgan, sister of Miss "Midy" Morgan, the famous live stock reporter, is dead at her home in Livingston, Staten Island, of diphtheria, aged 67 years. Miss "Midy" Morgan died in 1892 in her 64th year. Miss Jane Morgan was an artist of some repute, and studied several years in Europe, going to Rome in company with her sister in

The two sisters had designed, and had built in Livingston the extraordinary house in which they con-tinued to live for many years. This edifice, which was said to have cost $20,000, was two and a half stories in height, with a mansard roof, and was thoroughly fire-proof, all the beams being of iron, and many of the floors being laid with marble and tile. Situated in a clump of forest trees, there was only one door on the ground floor, and that was composed of heavy quartered oak, crossed and recrossed with iron bars. All the windows on the ground floor was heavily barred.

The two sisters, who alone occupied this dwelling, lived only on the upper floors, and gained access to the second story by means of a ladder, which was drawn up after their ascent. After Miss "Midy" died, however, her sister constructed a stairway and lived alone. She decorated many parts of the house, and spent much time and labor in its embelishment, numerous panels and wall-paintings remaining to testify to her work.

burned to death. WOMEN CARRIED THE TOWN. Beattle, Kansas, April 6 .- In the city election here two tickets were in the field, one composed of women and the other of men. Mrs. Charles Totten was elected for mayor, and Mrs. Sheldon, Mrs. Schlight, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Kir-lin and Mrs. Watkins for the council, while Miss O'Neil for clerk, won easily. The women drove their own carriages all through a blinding snowstorm, carrying voters to the polls. The police, judge and marshal are men.

TO FLOOD WITH PETITIONS. Toronto, April 6.-Circulars have been sent to almost every church and clergymen in Ontario, inclosing forms of resolution in favor of prohibition: and suggesting that parliament be bombarded with petitions; that letters be sent to Ottawa to individual M.P.'s. and so on. There seems to be two views among the temperance people, one of which is to insist on prohibition and nothing else. The other view is to try for provincial legislation, or the South Carolina dispensary system, or whatever can be got.

A FATHER'S TERRIBLE DEED. Megantic, Que., April 6 .- A farmer named Boucher, living on the seventh range of Inverness, yesterday had a quarrel with his wife over some trivial matter. The quarrel ended for the time being, and the couple went to bed. In the middle of the night the man arose, put his wife out of doors, and then proceeded to murder his 11-months-old child. He first strangled the infant, then put the body in the stove, subsequently throwing it into a snowbank near the house. The murderer is now under guard in a neighbor's house, whither he had fled after committing the awful deed.

ING. Guelph, April 6 .- The Guelph Ministerial Association held a meeting on Monday at the residence of one of the pastors of the association. It is understood a difference of opinion arose on a notice of motion given by Rev. Mr. Hendley, and fathered in his absence by Rev. Dr. Ross, with reference to the dance held at the Collegiate Institute in connection with the reunion of the ex-pupils. It is understood that the resolution regretted that the board of education should have allowed the gymnasium of the institute to have been used for such a purpose. However, it is certain that Rev. Dr. Torrance, secretary of the association, resigned and withdrew his name from the association. Rev. B. B. Williams also withdrew, it is said. More will be heard about this affair yet.

Degrees Conferred on Western University Graduates

By Provost Watkins-The Valedictory and Reply-Class Numbered 21-Words of Congratulation.

The Western University medical department convocation was held in the Auditorium last night, and was very largely attended by the students, and their friends. The spacious building fairly rang with the college songs, sung lustily by the students at intervals. The degree of doctor was conferred upon the 21 graduates by Rev. Prof. Wat-kins in the absence of the vice-chancellor of the senate, Sir William Meredith. Following is the list of young men who are now entitled to the appellation, "Doctor":

George Clarke, city; E. A. Creighton, Thamesford; Ernie L. Williams, and W. D. McKechnie, city; S. J. Byers, Dresden; C. B. Cowan, J. M. Brown and Robert Kippen, city; R. Elliott, Alvinston; Frank Campbell, Belmont; F. C. Eakins, Leamington; D. H. Arnott, H. Arnott, Walter Crawford and James Ardiel, city; T. Ryan, Walton; M. J. McGrady, London township; Pardee Bucke and Ben L. Bryant, city; E. W. Clay, Wallacetown and James Dundas, Thamesford.

Mr. George Clarke, city, captured the gold medal, and Mr. E. A. Creighton, Thamesford, the silver medal.

The platform was tastily decorated with Easter lilies and other beautiful flowers, which lent a pretty appearance to the scene when the degees were being conferred. The audience was made up largely of the fair sex in the lower saws, which are used as prefixes to all part, while the students of the first, of the Ho d Sarsaparilla advertising second and third years occupied the gallery. Seated on the platform were Provost Watkins, Prof. James, Dr. Moorhouse, Dr. Ferguson, Dr. Waugh, Dr. J. B. Campbell, Dr. Weekes, Dr. McDonald, Rev. Dr. Saunders and Dr. Neu.

Provost Watkins opened the proceedings with a short address, expressing regret at the absence of the vicechancellor. He wished to congratulate the graduating class, and also the students in the gallery, who were making rapid strides to the point reached by the graduates. The study of medicine was a most important one, and he wished the graduates every success in life, and hoped they would do honor to the university from which they gradu-

most popular students at the college, read the valedictory for the graduating class. He was given an ovation by the students when he rose to speak. The speaker said there was a great pleasure in being granted a degree, but there was also a great responsibility. The greatness of the profession chosen by them was known to all. The history of medicine could be traced back to the early centuries, and advancement could be seen steadily through the ages. The medical profession at the present time had gained much insight into disease, and with its modern treatment had lessened mortality. No city in the Do-minion could boast of having a more scientific and practical fraternity than London. The influence of the profession upon the social and moral habits of the people, and also the advance of the other sciences, was well recognized. The graduates would go forth now into the world to battle with disease in every shape and form. In closing, the speaker said that the happy period spent at the university, and the pleasant associations, would be long cherished by the graduating class of 1899. Dr. J. B. Campbell, in delivering the farewell of the faculty to the class, congratulated the students on their admission to the ranks of such an honorable profession. It was the skilled hand, skilled brain and skilled eye that would win success. The profession should not be pursued just as a mere trade to make money. They should labor with a higher aim-that of the welfare of their patients and the pub-lic. They would owe it to the community, as good citizens, to use their knowledge for the prevention of disease and the prolongation of life. In closing, the doctor wished the class God-speed, and said that the faculty would watch their careers with deep to the class, after which the students

Dr. Ferguson adminstered the oath were presented to Provost Watkins by Dr. Moorhouse for their degrees. Mr. W. Crawford, it was stated, was a member of the class of 1898, but was prevented from receiving his degree at. that time. Provost Watkins also presented the gold and silver medals to Dr. Clarke and Dr. Creighton. Dr. Dr. Clarke and Dr. Creighton. Dr. Clarke also won the scholarship for the year. The honor graduates were W. D. McKechnie, James Brown, J. M. Campbell, E. L. Williams, D. Arnott. Third year—Scholarship, C. C. Elliott; honors, C. G. Pigott. Second year— Third year—scholarship, C. Blackburn, M. J. Kent, Isaac Waterman, Thomas Beattie, A. St. L. Mc-Intosh, W. J. Harvey and W. C. L. Gill. It was decided to have the solicitor communicate with the city council at once re the blocking of the club's right of way by the abutments of the King street bridge. A GENUINE CAKEWALK.

On Saturday afternoon and evening the King's Players, a collection of colored artists, will appear at the Grand Opera House in a general performance of specialties, etc. The feature of the show will be a cakewalk. The ballroom floor will be used for the walk, and it is safe to say the movements of the several members who take part will be laughable. The prices are 10 and 20 cents for the matinee and 15 and 25 cents for the evening. CONVINCED AT LAST.

Worn Out Women

FIND HEALTH AND STRENGTH IN MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS.

Women are more and more coming to recognize Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as their greatest friend and bene-

the trying times of a woman's life they are her standby. To pale, thin bloodless cheeks they bring the rich red hue of health. To tired out, weak, worn, rundown girls and women, they give strength and energy and revive their drooping spirits. They banish headaches, backaches, sideaches, nervous spells, heart fluttering and palpitation and make life worth living.

Mrs. Clara J Dupay, St. Anthony, Kent Co., N.B., recently made the following statement for publication; "I had been troubled with palpitation and weakness of the heart for some time, till at last I could hardly drag myself about. "I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills curing so many that I thought I would try them. "I must say that they did me good from the outset, and have so improved my health in every way that I feel like a new woman. I do not know what I would have done had it not been for Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which cured me when I was in a ser"s condition." Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, 50c. & box or 3 for $1.25, at all druggists.

Degrees Conferred on Western University Graduates

By Provost Watkins-The Valedictory and Reply-Class Numbered 21-Words of Congratulation.

The Western University medical department convocation was held in the Auditorium last night, and was very largely attended by the students, and their friends. The spacious building fairly rang with the college songs, sung lustily by the students at intervals. The degree of doctor was conferred upon the 21 graduates by Rev. Prof. Watkins in the absence of the vice-chancellor of the senate, Sir William Meredith. Following is the list of young men who are now entitled to the appellation, "Doctor": George Clarke, city; E. A. Creighton, Thamesford; Ernie L. Williams, and W. D. McKechnie, city; S. J. Byers, Dresden; C. B. Cowan, J. M. Brown and Robert Kippen, city; R. Elliott, Alvinston: Frank Campbell. Belmont: F. C. Eakins, Leamington; D. H. Arnott, H. Arnott, Walter Crawford and James Ardiel, city; T. Ryan, Walton; M. J. McGrady, London township; Pardee Bucke and Ben L. Bryant, city; E. W. Clay, Wallacetown and James Dundas, Thamesford.

Mr. George Clarke, city, captured the gold medal, and Mr. E. A. Creighton, Thamesford, the silver medal.

The platform was tastily decorated with Easter lilies and other beautiful flowers, which lent a pretty appearance to the scene when the degees were being conferred. The audience was made Those sententious proverbs, or old up largely of the fair sex in the lower saws, which are used as prefixes to all part, while the students of the first, second and third years occupied the gallery. Seated on the platform were Provost Watkins, Prof. James, Dr. Moorhouse, Dr. Ferguson, Dr. Waugh, Dr. J. B. Campbell, Dr. Weekes, Dr. McDonald, Rev. Dr. Saunders and

Provost Watkins opened the proceedings with a short address, express-ing regret at the absence of the vicechancellor. He wished to congratulate the graduating class, and also the students in the gallery, who were making rapid strides to the point reached by the graduates. The study of medicine was a most important one, and he wished the graduates every success in life, and hoped they would do honor to the university from which they gradu-

most popular students at the college, read the valedictory for the graduating class. He was given an ovation by the students when he rose to speak. The speaker said there was a great pleasure in being granted a degree, but there was also a great responsibility. The greatness of the profession chosen by them was known to all. The history of medicine could be traced back to the early centuries, and advancement could be seen steadily through the ages. The medical profession at the present time had gained much insight into disease, and with its modern treatment had lessened mortality. No city in the Dominion could boast of having a more scientific and practical fraternity than London. The influence of the profession upon the social and moral habits of the people, and also the advance of the other sciences, was well recognized. The graduates would go forth now into the world to battle with disease in every shape and form. In closing, the speaker said that the happy period spent at the university, and the pleasant associations, would be long cherished by the graduating class of 1899. Dr. J. B. Campbell, in delivering the farewell of the faculty to the class, congratulated the students on their admission to the ranks of such an honorable profession. It was the skilled hand, skilled brain and skilled eye that would win success. The profession should not be pursued just as a mere trade to make money. They should labor with a higher aim—that of the welfare of their patients and the pub-lic. They would owe it to the community, as good citizens, to use their knowledge for the prevention of disease and the prolongation of life. In closing, the doctor wished the class God-speed, and said that the faculty would watch their careers with deep interest. Dr. Ferguson adminstered the oath to the class, after which the students were presented to Provost Watkins by Dr. Moorhouse for their degrees. Mr. W. Crawford, it was stated, was a member of the class of 1898, but was prevented from receiving his degree at. that time. Provost Watkins also pre-sented the gold and silver medals to Dr. Clarke and Dr. Creighton. Dr. Clarke also won the scholarship for the year. The honor graduates were W. D. McKechnie. James Brown, J. M. Campbell, E. L. Williams, D. Arnott. Third year—Scholarship, C. C. Elliott; honors, C. G. Pigott. Second year—Scholarship, J. W. Atkinson; honors, N. T. Clark; A. G. Grant, O. G. Turner, W. C. Doyle. First year—Scholarship, H. McGuigan; honors, J. J. Mason, P. L. Flering, G. A. McNei at being present, and earnestly con- McGugan, Atkinson and Elliott. A cougratulated the graduates. The profession was one of the noblest that a man could devote his life to. Dr. Saunders hoped the day would come when the graduates of 1899 would reflect great credit on the city and university. The dean of the faculty, Dr. Moor-house, in bringing the convocation to a close, said that at the beginning of the school the class numbered eight or ten, while this year the students numbered 72. Over 140 graduates had received their degrees.

Mr. W. H. Skinner rendered a number of solos, which proved a pleasant feature of the evening. Mr. W. H. Bleuthner acted as accompanist.

GOLD MEDALIST DR. CLARKE

Banqueted by His Fellow-Graduates-Tempting Spread, Speech, Song and Music-Undergraduates Also Dined.

At the conclusion of the convocation in the Auditorium last night, the graudating class might have been seen, heading towards the Grand Trunk station at Richmond street in a body. On arriving there, Host Butler had a tempting and appetizing spread awaiting them, and the class were soon seated around the festive board. The graduates' banquet was given by them in honor of their fellow-graduate, Dr. G. L. Clarke, gold medalist. Dr. E. A. Creighton, as chairman, introduced a toast list. The various toasts were heartily drunk, and the replies were of a very happy and My character.
Songs and recitations were pleasantly interspersed. "God Save the Queen" was sung in opening. Dr. Williams and Dr. J. F. Campbell responded to the toast "Canada," Dr. D. H. Arnott favored with a song. "The Army and Navy" brought replies from Dr. Aikens and Dr. Brown. Dr. Bucke gave a song. "Our Guest" was uproariously received, and Dr. Clarke responded in a neat speech. Dr. M. J. McGrady gave an instrumental. "The United States" was replied to by Dr. Elliott, Dr. Ardiel, and Dr. Harry Arnott. Dr. Crawford recited. "The Graduates" was taken care of by Dr. Ryan and Dr. Bryant. Dr. Kippen rendered a solo. "The Hospital Trust and the Nurses"brought humorous responses from Dr. McKech-nie and Dr. McGrady. "The Ladies" was the concluding toast, being replied to by Dr. Clay, Dr. Cowan and Dr.

Dundas. During the evening an alumni association was formed, and Dr. D. H. Arnott elected secretary.

The graduates dispersed at an early hour this morning, to the strains of "Auld Lang Syne." The first, second and third year graduates also adjourned to refreshment parlors, and were entertained by the winners of the scholarships, Messrs.

ple of hours were pleasantly spent. Between 50 and 60 were present. Dr. Norman Alexander occupied the chair, and he introduced a programme of toasts, including "The Medical School," responded to by Mr. F. Cannon; "The Freshmen," by Messrs Mason and Barnes; "The Second Year," by Messrs. Reason and Grant; "The Third Year," by Messrs. Baker and Pigott; "The Scholarship Men," by Messrs. McGuigan, Atkinson and Elliott, and "The Ladies," by Mr. Sam McEvoy. Mr. Archie Becher favored with songs.
