VOL. XXXI., NO 163.

THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 3, 1894.

WHOLE NO. 9870

The Subject of an Address by Lord Rosebery.

A Question To Be "Settled as a Matter of Common Sense."

The German Steamer Cleopatra Burned at Sea-The Crew Saved.

Samoa.

London, May 3.-The Standard's Berlin correspondent says that the German Government has not the slightest thought of abandoning Samoa to England or New Zealand.

Princess Alix's Change of Faith.

LONDON, May 3 .- The Berlin correspondent of the Daily News says the Czar's contessor, Janyscheff, will arrive in a few days in Darmstadt, and will prepare the Princess Alix of Hesse for conversion to the Greek church.

Ridicules the Bimetallists. LONDON, May 2 .- The Daily News ridicules the bimetallists and the proceedings of the conference. The Post says Mr. Baliour failed to prove that bimetallism would remove the difficulties of the situation.

A Startling Discovery. LONDON, May 2.-The Rome correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says: "Original cartoons by Raphael have been discovered in an unnamed place in Russia, proving these in the Kensington Museum to be copies. The former will be sent to Rome to be compared with the Vatican tapestries, and be otherwise tested."

Balfour Roasted.

LONDON, May 3. - The Times deprecates Mr. Baltour's part in the bi-metallists' convention. It says: "No man can combine the incompatible functions of an apostle of fads and a responsible statesman without injuring his usefulness. Mr. Balfour is more headstrong and intemperate in dealing with bi-metallism than in treating of any other subjects." The Times also criticises and retutes Mr. Balfour's

After the Earthquake.

London, May 2 .- A dispatch from Athens says: The King arrived at Thebes to-day, and the ruin, havoc and misery there, resulting from the recent earthquakes, deepely affected him. He had ordered that everything possible be done to make the people comfortable. The shock felt here nesday was especially severe northern part of Uboera. One village was destroyed. Grave fears have been entertained by the inhabitants of Atalanta lest the village be submerged, but geologists think there is no danger of this.

Steamer Burned at Sea.

London, May 2.- The steamer Nessmore, from Boston, arrived here to-day. She had on board the crew of the German steamer, Cleopatra, from Bremen March 4, for New York, which was on fire and abandoned at sea April 22. The fire was discovered at 2 o'clock in the morning, and gained headway rapidly. At 4:45 the flames reached a quantity of dynamite in the hold, which exploded. The crew then not seeing the slightest hope of saving the ship, made haste to save themselves, and finally managed to put of from the burning hulk in a dingy, all the lifeboats having been lost.

Rosebery en Home Rule.

London, May 2 .- Lord Rosebery addressed a large Liberal meeting in Manchester this evening. He spoke at great length concerning nome rule. As agrarian crime in Ireland had almost died out, and there was no longer any fear of the Catholics combining against the Protestants, the conviction in favor of nome rule must soon be carried to the heart of the English people. The question ought to be and must be settled as a measure of common sense. If the people of England were to have an united empire and wished to move toward the ideal of a federation of the English-speaking races, they must grant home rule. One obstacle in the way of the home rule cause Lord Rosebery said was the undertaking to found an independent labor organization which was inspired by a sort of political anarchism. The originators of this undertaking were ready to strike any party. If they would confine their efforts to pushing the claims of labor everybody would approve their work, but not if they played the part of political freebooters. Should the leaders of the movement in question strike at the Liberal party the immediate result would be the return of the Conservatives to power and the prevention in connection with the improvements of the St. Lawrence channel.

The affairs of Becker & Co., private bankers, Waterford, will turn out better than was anticipated. Creditors will probably recover 50 cents on the dollar. Henry Manuel, age 22, a fisherman, was drowned on Wednesday at Canso, N.S., by the upsetting of his boat. Manuel's father, who was in the same boat, was

Mrs. Annie Bloom, of Toronto, has commenced a suit for $4 a week alimony against her husband, Maurice Bloom, 27 Queen street west. She also asks $3,000 inter-alimony since 1880.

James White, a prosperous farmer, living about four miles from Perth, was returning from the city on Tuesday evening with a neighbor when the team took fright and ran away. Mr. White was thrown out and so seriously injured that he died on Wednesday morning.

The hearing of the case against Prof. Campbell, charged with heresy, stands fixed for the 8th inst. at Montreal, but it is now rumored that there is a strong disposition on the part of the Presbyterian board to discontinue the proceedings and allow the charges to remain undecided.

At the Toronto Assizes Monday the grand jury brought in a true bill against Lottie Evans, George Osman and Charles Vegg, charging them with "administering poison with intent to murder," and "conspiracy with intent to murder." This is the celebrated "Sharon poisoning case."

Two Americans calling themselves Anderson and Richardson and a third stranger-have been detected in a bold scheme to rob several Montreal banksthe Molsons, Merchants, and the City and District Savings Bank. Their plans were discovered by Detective Silas Carpenter before they could be carried out.

The Lack of Soft Coal Caused by the Strike

Has Already Caused Inconvenience in the Dominion.

Montreal Carpenters Likely to Win-Lverything Going Smoothly on the Great Northern.

THE MINERS' STRIKE FELT IN CANADA. TORONTO, May 2 .- Although it is barely week since the coal miners of Pennsyl vania went out on strike the effect is already felt in Ontario. All the large manufacturers find it extremely difficult to get a supply of soft coal, sufficient to keep their engines in operation.

The great coal miners' strike is felt at Niagara, and already the electric light serice on the streets has had to be WORKING SMOOTHLY.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 2 .- Everything is running smoothly on the Great Northern Railway. Every passenger train went out this morning, and freights are being dispatched as fast as possible. The final settlement arrived at by the committee on the cases of men who President Hill was not willing to concede without argument, was that 75 per cent of the reduction in wages since Aug. I should be restored. MONTREAL CARPENTERS ON THE WINNING

MONTREAL, April 2 .- There are 1,100 carpenters and joiners on strike in this city at the present moment, 450 having returned to work to-day, their demands having been acceded to. Negotiations are in progress and it is expected that all will have returned to work by Saturday at the increased rate of wages demanded.

ST. JOHN, N. B., May 2.-The mill men on strike here have decided to return to work at their old wages, $1 75 per day.

CRISIS IN CLEVELAND. CLEVELAND, O., May 2 .- Labor troubles in Cleveland came to a crisis to-day when 4,000 men armed with clubs and stones marched through the lowlying manufacturing district in the heart of the city known as the "Flats," closing down each factory as they came to it. There were few English-speaking people in the crowd. In fact it was a rabble made up chiefly of foreigners. Considerable property was destroyed, and the destruction would have been much greater but for the efficient work of the

KINGSTON, N. Y., May 2 .- Work in the brickyards at Kingston Point, Steep Rocks and East Kingston came to a sudden stop this morning, every employe having refused to work because wages had been cut 20 cents a day. Eight hundred men are PANA, Ill., May 2. - The 800 miners here decided at an early hour this morning to quit work in the interests of the national strike movement.

A Mine on Fire.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., May 2.-Fire in No. 3 of needed reforms in Ireland and Great started some time ago, is still raging reely, and men having been working to tinguish the fire under the greatest diffiities. The squads can continue at work aly a short time owing to the bad air. orty-five men have been overcome in the st fifteen hours. The workmen are now ithin 200 feet of the fire, but they are ill 500 feet from the imprisoned men. It certain the two men-Smith and Solinski -are dead.

Beyond the Ken of Canadian Militia Officers

At Least, That is the Dominion Government's Dictum.

Mr. Chariton's Sunday Observance Bill Given a Second Reading-Also the Bill to Distranchise Bribe-Takers-A Day Off.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.) House to-day was brief, as the attendance was small owing to the holiday to-morrow, Ascension Day. The Minister of Finance hours without intermission, one after another, several speaking twice, members of other, several speaking twice, members of Mr. Daly introduced a bill to repeal the Homestead Exemption Act in the Northwest, explaining that the Territorial Assembly had exceeded its powers by passing an ordinance relating to homestead exemptions and that his bill was necessary to make the provisions of that ordinance valid. Replying to a question put by Mr. Mulock, Mr. Patterson explained the duties of the quartermaster-general of militia, and said that no officer of the Canadian militia was qualified to fill the position, consequently Col. Lake, an imperial officer, had been appointed. This statement was greeted with cries of "Oh ! oh !" Mr. Haggart, replying to Mr. Bowers, gave the following grain freight rates on the Intercolonial and connecting roads: By carload per ton to St. John from Montreal, $3 60 for export, $4 local; to St. John from Toronto, $4 30 for export, $4 50 local; to Halifax from Montreal and To-Sydney to Montreal, $351 per ton; from New Glasgow to Montreal, $2 80; from Springhill to Montreal, $2 49. adoption of the proposed legislation in the interest of the laboring classes. He argued of workingmen to liberty on the Sabbath day, Religion and morality were the true sponding provisions no through freight shall be allowed to pass over Canadian roads the Sabbath. Mr. Charlton spoke for over

The bill was seconded by Mr. Craig, who spoke briefly, indorsing Mr. Charlton's After recess Mr. Christie spoke strongly in favor of the bill. Mr. Mills (Bothwell) argued that the matters upon which Mr. Charlton proposed to legislate had already been dealt with by the Local Legislatures.

The bill was read a second time. Mr. Weldon moved the second reading of the bill to disfranchise voters who have taken bribes. He argued that such a measure was necessary for the protection of the commonwealth. The bill was read a second time and referred to a select committee. Mr. Martin moved the second reading of the bill to extend the ballot to the Northwest Territories.

Sir John Thompson said there was no objection to the principle of the bill, as the Government had proposed similar legislaion last year.

Mr. Martin said his bill made the general election law and franchise act applicable to the territories.

The bill was read a second time. Mr. Edgar's bill for reducing from twelve to seven the number of grand jurors necessary to find a true bill in Ontario was taken

Mr. Lister questioned the jurisdiction of the Federal Government to interfere with the law as it at present related to Ontario. They should be certain first that the Dominion Government had the rower to interfere.

The bill passed its second reading and the House adjourned until Friday.

North Wentworth Liberals Nominate John I. Flatt,

North Eastings Liberals Meet and Organize an Association - The Mowat Government Strong. ly Indersed.

Alfred Crawford has been chosen by West Toronto Conservatives to contest the riding at the local election.

Dundas, May 2 .- At the Liberal nomi nating convention of North Wentworth, beld here to-day, Mr. John J. Flatt was selected. There was a large attendance from all parts of the constituency, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed.

NORTH HASTINGS LIBERALS ORGANIZE. Madoc, May 2 .- At a largely-attended meeting of the Liberals of North Hastings last evening it was decided to form an association for the riding of North Hastings, to be called the North Hastings Reform Association. Resolutions were passed indersing the Mowat Gov-ernment, and expressing confidence in the leadership of Sir Oliver Mowat and Hon. Wilfrid Laurier. The Mowat and Hon. Wilfrid Laurier. The following resolution was unanimously carried: Whereas it is believed that the farmers of this riding desire that the farmers of this riding desire that the farmers of this riding desire that they should be more fully represented in the Local Legislature, and as there are now two good farmers in the field, namely, Jas. Haggarty, of Huntingdon, and James Mc-Comb, of Rawdon, resolved by this meeting that the Reform party do not at tor the Queen.

Disgraceful Obstruction in the Ontario Legislature.

Meredith Does Not Want a Purged Voters' List,

Because it Would Cut Off Many Names New On in Terento.

The Registration Bill Will Go Through

(Special to the ADVERTISER.) PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS, TORONTO, May OTTAWA, May 2.—The sitting of the 8 o'clock this morning, when the Speaker was dragged out of bed and an adjournthe Opposition continued the debate on the Registration Bill. Two or three times a motion was made that the committee rise, but these were uniformly voted down. No member of the Government spoke, and as soon as the votes were taken their benches were deserted, one Minister usually keeping guard.

The Government is determined to carry he bill at all hazards. Mr. White made another two-hour swing at the bill at an early hour this morning. A member of the Government gave the assurance that any reasonable amendments would be considered, but this is no guarantee that they will be conceded, although one of the Opposition's adherents said this morning that he thought this might possibly be Shortly before the House rose Mr. Meredith submitted a series of suggestions of the line upon which he would like to see ronto, same as to St. John; coal from would submit the propositions to the council.

In the course of the debate Sir Oliver Mr. Charlton moved the second reading the House admits that the Toronto lists are Mowat said that every person outside of of his bill to secure better observance of bad. The question was, however, how the Sunday. He spoke at length, urging the evil was to be avoided. Under the present system the difficulty was absolutely inthat the labor troubles in the United States were taken as the only possible were largely due to disregard of the rights attempt at purging the lists, and no investigation could be held by the foundations of the state, and people could The labor involved in investigation would not attend to religious duties if compelled be enormous, and there were thousands of to labor on Sunday. He was prepared to names of which the agents of the party accept part of what he asked for with a knew nothing. The present machinery was view of getting the principle of the bill absolutely inadequate, and the suggestion admitted. The bill provided for the clos- that the lists be taken as a basis would ing of canals and the stoppage of railway traffic on Sundays with the exception of bers of names on the lists which were lists which were through passenger trains on trunk lines, quite unknown. In the previous year the the matter themselves, and so a compreon Sundays, excepting live stock and held, the condition of the lists depending perishable goods. The bill also proposed on the fairness of the parties. It was a to prohibit Sunday excursions by rail or mere random arrangement. In the present water. The bill, he said, was not a drastic bill no party advantage was striven for, or puritanical measure, but was designed for Reformers had to register as well as to secure to all classes freedom to observe others. As for the contention that there two hours, but few members listened to there were sixteen of these, and four days were not enough stations for registration, in which to register, leaving an average of 160 voters per day to be registered at each, a number which was less than that provided by any American statute which he had seen. It was in the interests of all that the lists should be pure, he held. As for the argument that it was unjust to ask the manhood suffrage voters to do what the other classes of voters were not required to do, it would be no advantage to the manhood suffrage voters to have others obliged to do what they had to do. Were such a universal registration demanded the number would be immense. Besides, there are very few on the assessment lists who are not entitled to vote, and these lists are reliable basis for voters' for that class of voters. The present bill would provide a just method for registration. He denied that the Government had no chance in the city of Toronto, as its opponents had said; he had been assured by > (Applause.) Mr. Whitney-By means of this bill? The Attorney-General-We might not if the list were stuffed. Give us a fair list and we have a chance of carrying the three. (Loud applause.)

friends of his that they had a good chance of carrying three of the Toronto seats.

THE BIGAMY CASE.

Rest of the Evidence Against Guest-The Judge's Verdict.

The remaining evidence in the Guest bigamy case yesterday was as follows: Rev. Joshua Stansfield, pastor of a Methodist Church in Port Huron, was the next witness in the Guest bigamy case. He recognized the prisoner as the person he had married to Sarah Marshall, and also swore as to the certificate. Mrs. Guest No. 2, who was misled by the prisoner, stated that before their marriage Guest had positively stated that he was never before married. She also said that he had tried to persuade her father, John Roberts, to deed the farm to her, and failing in this he tried to persuade them to sell the farm. This scheme, like the other, did not work. She also corroborated the evidence of Mrs. Guest No. 1 in reference to the latter's visit to the Roberts' houseand the abuse which Guest gave his first wife.

John Roberts corroborated the evidence of his daughter. Judge Elliott reviewed the evidence and found the prisoner guilty. He said the offense was one which was getting too common, and for the safety of the public would have to be dealt with severely. Guest was remanded for sentence.

SALARY OR FEES?

Sitting in London,

Messrs. Bland, Essery, Somerville and Others Testify-Opinions Differ.

The royal fees commission began its session in this city at 10 o'clock to-day in the council chamber of the City Hall. The commission sat in Stratford yesterday, will be at Chatham to-morrow and return to London on Saturday. The members of the commission who were present were: Hon. Chancellor Boyd, Hon. John Beverley Robinson (ex-Governor of Ontario), John I. Mason, of Hamilton, and Thos. Brooks, of Brantford, with Mr. James Flemming, inspector of flegal officers, acting as secretary. Mr. John I. Hobson, of Guelph, arrived from Ottawa at noon. Mr. Emerson, Toronto, president of the Ontario Chartered Stenographers, took the evi-

Mr. John Bland, president of the Board of Trade, was the first witness examined. Mr. Bland would rather have the appointment of the Provincial officers in the hands of municipalities than by the Government. He thought the Government would be glad of this; it would prohibit people from trying to get office all the time, and have a tendency to make purer governments. He would have registrars and sheriffs appointed by the municipal councils, and clerks of the county courts, surrogate officers, county attorneys, division court clerks, etc., appointed by judge or by a law society. License inspectors he would have elected by the people. He said that Government institutions should be carried on on the same basis as a business concern. Vacancies should be advertised to competition, and there should be no greater pay or shorter hours than in any imilar municipal office. A fixed salary should be paid instead of fees. Chancellor Boyd-Would you take the same view with regard to offices made by the Dominion Government in the appointment of civil servants and postmasters? Mr. Bland - Certainly. They would then do more work, and the public would be much better served. Mr. Boyd-Do you see any sufficient reasons for making a change in the present system? ystem? Mr. Bland-Well, there seems to me a great amount of trouble in appointing officers in case of death. Mr. Boyd-Assuming that the appointments were promptly made, is it likely that a better class of officers would be appointed on one hand than on the other?

Mr. Bland-That is hard to say; but the way we felt about it was that we should have the appointing. Mr. Boyd-Have you any complaint about any of the court officers fomenting litigation so as to make fees out of it? Mr. Bland-No, I think not Re the collection of fees: Mr. Bland, as stated before, would have a fixed salary paid. Then the fees would go to a general fund, and that fund could go towards paying the salary. He would make the hours more equal to those of a business man's and would reduce the present number of

Mr. Boyd-Would you apply your views to the present staff or simply to new appointments. Mr. Bland-Begin with the present staff. While Mr. Bland would hold any head officer responsible for his help, yet he would not let them have the appointing of such help. Ex-Governor Robinson asked Mr. Bland f he had any practical experience in the United States where they had a system of popular election. There strong party men were placed in position to the detriment of public interest. Mr. Bland explained that the only officers he would have elected by popular vote were the license commissioners. As a parting suggestion Mr. Bland asked that sheriffs be admonished to appoint a better class of bailiffs. Mayor Essery was next examined. 461 believe the Government," said he, "should appoint all officials for whom they are reponsible."

Chancellor Boyd-And you see no reason for a change in the manner of appointment? Mayor Essery-No. No official, the mayor went on to say, should receive a fee of any kind for his own use. He should be paid a salary, and work rom 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. He thought a sheriff or any other officer would be just as conscientious and more manly under a fixed salary than under the present fee system. Mr. Essery stated that the "bureau" system in Middlesex robbed the rich and outraged the poor. In reply to a question by Judge Robinson, Mr. Essery said that he could see no reason why a deputy sheriff or deputy registrar if he were a competent man should not be promoted to a higher position. Mr. Essery advocated a salary for all officials. It would stop magistrates and crownattorneysfrom creating work, Hesaid that during the last twenty years business was made by the late county crown attorney. There was then a combination of constables and magistrates, but under the present attorney this had been done away with to a large extent. Mr. G. A. Somerville, manager of the Huron and Erie, thought the present mode of appointment preferable to that of appointment by county or municipal councils. He thought the fee system very fair, provided it was regulated so that no person received more than a reasonable amount. Sheriffs were entitled to a little higher remuneration than a registrar.

The commission then adjourned for lunch. THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

THE SINGLE TAX.

Conclusion of the Debate in Labor Hall-

Opinions For and Against. The single tax debate was concluded in Labor Hall last night. After Messrs. J. S. Johnston and H. B. Ashplant had spoken in favor of and against single tax respectively, the discussion became general. Mr. James Laut had seen the effects of single tax in Manitoba and the Northwest. Since its adoption they had been prosperous and had withstood the financial shock. He had yet to find a man dissatisfied with it. Dr. Gardiner deplored the present inequalities of the social condition. Single tax was good, but it did not go far enough. He advocated a wage minimum and maximum and an income tax to check exorbitant individual revenue. The old law of Moses, by which there was a reversal every seven years to the old state of affairs and a complete reform of abuses, was a good system. Ald. Parnell said no man could accumulate the fortune of a Vanderbilt or a Gould honestly. The latter cornered everything they could get hold of and made the people pay the more. Monopolies for the public service and necessity should be run by the people and for the people.

Mr. Green-For heaven's sake, don't let the Government run them. (Laughter.) Ald. Parnell-The people make the Gov-

Mr. J. A. Stevenson said the cause of the present evil was the unfair distribution of wealth, and he thought single tax was the best remedy yet discovered. Mr. Ashplant spoke of profit-sharing as the cure, but how were they going to enforce it? Single tax was more radical and reasonable. Land, water and air were the necessities of life, and it should not be in the power of any individual to say he owned them. The enormous increase of wealth in the land. by reason of the people, should go to the people. Mr. James Johnson strongly favored single tax. The private ownership of the material upon which labor must be exercised gave capitalists the power to own labor, and the private ownership of labor was the effect of the preceding cause.

Mr. Joseph T. Marks asked how they would regulate the liquor traffic under single tax. To collect license fees would not be single tax. Voice-Wipe the traffic out. Mr. John Hargreaves said there was more spent for liquor in Britain in a year than for all the houses and lands. He explained New Zealand's method of taxation. The Government owned all railways and monopolies. They forbade a man to hold more than 64 acres of first-class land, or 2,000 acres of second-class land. The more land a man owned the greater rate of taxation he paid, which forced him to keep within a certain limit. The Government rented land at from 4 to 5 per cent, and opened up any new territory by its own railroads. Mr. John Johnston showed that under single tax the value of a place could be ascertained by capitalizing the rent value.

Mr. Ashplant finished the debate, and contended that rent was nothing to a business concern in comparison with its profits. A vote of thanks to Messrs. Johnston and Ashplant, seconded by Ald. Parnell. was heartily carried. An expression of opinion from the meeting was not asked, as the debate was merely for educational purposes and many had not made up their minds as to the relative merits of single tax

A PUZZLING PROBLEM. What To Do With The Coxey Battalions. WASHINGTON, May 2 .- What to do with the Coxey army is the problem which now confronts the local authorities. Col. Snow, sergeant-at-arms of the House, confessed to-day that he could not determine what disposition should be made of the commonwealers. "The place in which they are encamped," said he, "is a regular pesthole. If they are allowed to remain there and sickness breaks out among them, as is more than likely, the result will be not only fatal to them but to the people of Washington. It is a serious problem.' The commonweal army is now at its new camp on First street in southwest Washington. The ground is inclosed by a board fence and along the south and west sides a canvas wall has been stretched, forming an awning. Under this a lot of clean straw has been thrown and the majority of the men are sheltered. Sixteen members of Duff's company of the industrial army have been given trans, portation to Montana, where they will work on an extension of the Burlington Railroad at $1 40 per day.

Hon. Geo. W. Ross Replies to Mr. Meredith.

Election Prophecies and Election Practices of the Toronto City Solicitor.

The Prespects in Lendon and in West Middlosex

In the Legislature, in the course of the discussion on the proposed new dairy school for Western Ontario, Mr. Meredith twitted Hon. Geo. W. Ross on the opposition to him in West Middlesex. Mr. Ross, in reply, said certainly things looked bad for him in West Middlesex. They had been looking bad since his first election there two and twenty years ago. They looked particularly bad for him when from London into his constituency to try and capture it for one of his allies. They looked very bad for him in 1883, when the constituency was swarming with Tory heelers who came to capture it. Yet he had had the support of the electorate of West Middlesex for 22 years, and was confident of it for 22 years more. He was not afraid of what honorable gentlemen opposite could do. But, said Mr. Ross, members of the Opposition were like Shakespeare's murderer-they saw a robber in every bush. They were so saturated with suspicion that they could not look at any act on the part of the Government from a fair and impartial point of view. Mr. Ross twitted the Opposition with having always opposed agricultural interests, notably by opposing the appointment of a Minister of Agriculture. Now they were opposing the establishment of a western dairy school. He would not neglect to tell these things to the people of his constituency. It was possible that there might be some voter in and was not going to do so now. The same situation existed in London. He warned the honorable member for London that he would be firmly seated in his saddle after election day, while there was grave danger that the member for London would be unhorsed and his saddle empty. Mr. Moredith said it was true Mr. Ross had been elected for 22 years for West Middlesex, but it was by improper practices that this had been achieved. He twitted the Minister of Education with being the subject of a law suit, under the load of which he could not feel as easy as he professed to be. He referred to the Minister of Agriculture and to the criticisms made upon him during the session. He said Mr. Dryden had been spared in connection with the sale of cattle at the farm which he so badly mismanaged. Farmers were waking up all over the Province. That was the meaning of the Patrons' agatation. It was from Reformers themenives that the severest criticisms of the dith were concerned in it he challenged him to prosecute it to the bitter and. He was not afraid to have his election practices its opluion prohibition is beyond the power gone into. He had been through the courts twice and had once been unseated. Mr. Meredith had been present on one occasion, il not both. He was present when after a most bitter and malicious attempt to prove corrupt practices on the part of himself or his agents the whole thing had collapsed to their great dismay. If Mr. Meredith's elections had been as clean as his (Mr. Ross') he must feel very easy. But members on his side of the House knew something of election practices in the city of London. They knew how the roters' lists were prepared there. They new whose aid was invoked to aid the erty candidate. It did not lie on Mr.

eredith's mouth to reproach him with thing touching his elections. As to the alt of the impending elections, he ised Mr. Meredith not to prophesy s he knew. He reminded him of the ram he had sent broadcast over the ry the day before the last general n, prophesying victory on the foing day if only the party were united torts. How dismally that prophecy ha sulted. He did not doubt the pre prophecy would result as dis-mal He (Mr. Meredith) said the farn of the country were disturbed policy of the Government. this. Mr. McLaren's Claim in Behalf of Ontario and Manitoba.

He Argues that the Ontario Local Option Act Is Valid Beyond Question.

Quebec's Claims Stated by Assistant Attorney-General L. J. Cannon.

OTTAWA, May 2. - In the Supreme Court to-day argument was resumed on the reference as to the power of a province to prohibit the importation and sale of liquor. Mr. J. J. McLaren, Q.C., for Ontario and Manitoba, had the floor until 12:30.

Mr. McLaren argued that in the absence at least of conflicting Dominion legislation Mr. Meredith and his phalanx came down it is also submitted that a prohibitory law would be within the jurisdiction of the Provinces as claimed with a merely local matter. If it should be claimed that such prohibitory legislation does not come within the sub-sections quoted on account of its being covered by "the regulation of trade and commerce," the best answer is to be found in a case cited where it says that the regulation of trade and commerce may have been used in some such sense as the "regulations of trade" in the act of union between England and Scotland as these words have been used in the acts of state relating to trade and commerce. This article enacts that all subjects of the United Kingdom shall have full freedom and intercourse of trade and navigation to and from all places in the United Kingdom and colonies under prohibition, restrictions and regulations of trade. Parliament has frequently passed laws affecting and regulating specific trades in one part of the United Kingdom only, without it being supposed that it thereby in-Strathroy who had voted for him before fringed the articles of union. Construing, therefore, the words "regulation of trade and commerce by various aids to their interpretation above suggested, they would include political arrangements in regard to trade requiring the sanction of Parliament, regulation of trade in matters of inter-provincial concern, and it may be that they would include general regulation of trade affecting the whole Dominion. In concluding, Mr. McLaren submitted that the Ontario Local Option Act was valid beyond question. J. R. Cartwright, Q.C., Deputy Attorney-General, followed in behalf of Ontario. Mr. Cannon, for Quebec, said that he would be brief. "The Solicitor-General," he said, "has admitted all that the Province of Quebec claims, and in fact a little more. Quebec claims the right to control the wholesale and retail sale of intoxicating liquors and to limit the number of licenses issued, and which the Province. now does and has done since Confederadesires that the severest criticisms of the florement were coming.

Mr. Ross rose again. He denied that he had any law safe proding against him. He had need to be had been asked recently in London who for the safe of less than two imperial named an attorney; but no writ had been served. If Mr. Meredith were at the back served. If Mr. Meredith were at the back of the suppression of the suppression of the trade and what is wholesale and what is retail, and power is given to weights of cheese, and we in the west will have to make equal concessions or run the risk of losing custom.

The extra half pound will not mean so much to a large number of our factorymen as they think. In many of the factories two-thirds of the cheese sold will hold out the weight at the half pound extra, while in commerce in any article, and that by the Proviace would be ultra vires, and that in of Provincial legislation. At this point the court adjourned. During the course of Mr. Cannon's argument, Chief Justice Strong said that wherever the licensing power was there was also the power to prohibit, limited by the retail

SHORT TALKS ON ADVERTISING.

[By Charles Austin Bates.] People used to say: "Oh, I never pay any attention to advertisements; they never tell the truth." Now it's different; people do read advertisements, and they believe them.

Advertisers are becoming more careful and more scrupulously truthful every day. I know a firm of advertising agents who also own a medicated soap. I said: "Is it really such a wonderful thing, and do you take the care you say you do in making it?"

The answer was: "Of course it is a good thing. We have seen too much of advertising to be fools enough to spend money pushing a poor article.

Most all advertisers understand that nowadays, and that is why it pays to read advertisements. It is also the chief reason why advertising pays better than it used to.

The best place to put an advertisement is in the paper that enjoys the confidence of the community. I believe the standing of the paper reflects on the advertisements

There is another thought which never occurred to me, but which was conveyed in a remark made to me by Mr. M. M. Gillam, the advertising manager at Wanamaker's. He said: "A sleepy paper gathers a sleepy constituency. An alert, wide-awake, progressive sheet gets readers who like that sort of thing-or lifts them to its level."

Wide-awake people are the ones most influenced by advertising. Progressive people who are not afraid of a new thing or a new idea. People who believe in the paper they read because they have learned to rely on it.

Depend on this. If the editorials carry weight, the ads will pay. Put your trust and your money in that sort of a paper. Occasionally an advertisement will fall flat. The wise man looks for the reason. He doesn't say blindly: "Advertising doesn't pay." He looks at the condition of general trade, at the weather, at the goods and the price and the way the ad. was

This is certain. A readable ad. in a readable paper will be read. Probably not by all of the readers of the paper, but by a sufficient number to make the ad. pay if the goods are right. No doubt about it whatever. It's as sure as sunshine. A cloudy day comes sometimes, but it doesn't

BUYING AND SELLING.

The Marketing of Cheese in Western Ontario.

Ingersoll's Cheese Board Adopts New Rules for the Present Season-Other Boards Will Fall Into Line.

(By J. W. Wheaton Secretary, Western Dairymen's Association.) The first cheese market of this season was held at Ingersoll on May 1. No cheese were offered for sale, as the April cheese is already sold and being shipped. The members, however, organized and adopted rules and regulations governing the sales of cheese for the present season. The other markets in the west will be organized for work during the next fortnight. At the inaugural meetings a number of important resolutions concerning the selling of cheese will come up for discussion. The old question of the factorymen, allowing onehalf pound up-beam weight over the weight marked on the box of every cheese sold on the market, will no doubt provoke much discussion and elicit strong opposition from the factorymen. There are many strong reasons in favor of granting this extra half-pound. Western dairymen are placed at a disadvantage in being so far from the seaboard, while our competitors in Eastern Ontario and Quebec are comparatively near and have the advantage of less freight charges and less shrinkage in weight in transit. Buyers claim that orders for cheese from the old country are given to eastern men to be filled in preference to being sent west, as better weights are secured, most cheese in the east being sold on weights guaranteed in Montreal. This is to the great disadvantage of western factorymen, and is fast inducing the old country dealers to send their orders to the eastern markets, the goods there being nearly as good in quality. A few years ago this discrimination was not made. But during recent years the quality of the eastern goods has greatly improved, thus making it necessary for the western factorymen to do something towards placing their goods on the same footing as those of their competitors in the east. It is claimed by the western buyers that this extra half-pound will make up the shrinkage between here and the cast, and will make it as satisfactory for them to do business with the old country dealer as the buyer in the east. Many of the factorymen take the narrower view of the case, and look upon it as a scheme of the buyers to get half a pound extra, and fail to see how they are going to benefit by granting the request. If this were the case it would not be advocated by so many leading dairymen, whose interests are more with the patron and factorymen than anyone else in the trade. This is an age of competition, and if a manufacturer in any line gives certain privileges to his customers the other manufacturers in the same line have to do likewise or run the risk of losing their customers. Our eastern competitors are weight at the half pound extra, while in others all of the cheese will hold out. There are many factories, however, that give only "bare" weight, and it is for the purpose of reaching these delinquents that the half pound extra is being advocated. All factorymen who are already giving what is practically the half pound extra should support the resolution so that they may derive the benefit that will accrue to the western cheese trade by its being adopted as a general rule at all the markets in the west. The "call system" of selling will likely be adopted again. This system gives very good satisfaction wherever the rules and regulations governing it are properly observed. At one or two of the markets last season business was done without much regard to the regulations, and it was felt that it would be better to go back to the old "hole and corner" plan and give every one a chance. Another plan proposed is to extend the "call system," or make it necessary for everyone who joins the market to sell on the market only. At first sight this may seem a very arbitrary proposal to make. However, if properly carried on, it would be a benefit to both buyers and sellers. Everyone connected with the trade would know what goods were on hand, what sold and the price paid by looking at the market reports. It would induce the factorymen to sell more regularly and when their goods were ready. There would be a great advantage to the trade it this could be brought about. Farmers who patronize cheese factories usually depend upon them to furnish ready money during the summer season when the other farm products are not ready for sale. Consequentiz if the cheese were disposed of regularly whenever they were ready and the money distributed, the patrons as a rule would be better satisfied than if the cheese were held for two or three weeks and 1-16c or 1c more received for them. The buyers also would be able to get their orders filled, and not have them sent elsewhere because the factorymen would not This proposal has some disadvantages, however. A buyer might get a special order to be filled during a limited time, and if there were no market during this time no cheese could be bought. The factoryman, on the other hand, might not sell on the proper day, and might not be in a position to keep his cheese till the following market day. These disadvantages might be overcome to a very large extent by forming an incorporated cheese markets association, or by having the markets under the control of the Western Dairymen's Association. The markets could then be so arranged that one would be held in some section of Western Cntario every day of the week. By allowing the members the privilege of selling on any market, factorymen, if they could not sell one day, could attend some other market the following day. There might be some extra expense connected with attending more than the one market, but the advantages to be derived from such a plan would be sufficient to m. :e up for the extra expenditure. In an incorporated organization there would be the advantage of being able to enforce the rules governing the markets. The penalties for breaking the regulations could be exacted in a legal manner, and thus make the working of the markets more stable and with better results to all those connected with the trade.

For Internal and External Use.

In using medicines to stop pain, we should avoid such as inflict injury on the system, Opium, Morphine, Chloroform, Ether. Cocaine and Chloral stop pain by destroying the sense of perception, the patient losing the power of feeling. This is a most destructive practice: it masks the symptoms, shuts up, and, instead of removing trouble, breaks down the stomach, liver and bowels, and, if continued for a length of time, kills the nerves and produces local or general paralysis.

There is no necessity for using these uncertain agents when a positive remedy like Radway's Ready Relief will stop the most excruciating pain quicker, without entailing the least danger, in either infant or adult.

It instantly stops the most excruciating pains, allays inflammation, and cures congestion, whether of the Lungs, Stomach, Bowels, or other glands or mucous membranes.

MISREPRESENTATION THEIR

WEAKNESS. The London Free Press declines to face the question of Mr. W. R. Meredith's position as paid solicitor for the city of Toronto and Conservative candidate for this city. It prefers rather to misrepresent the attitude of the ADVERTISER and of the majority of the citizens on this question, and while it has recently been dumb on the subject itself, it quotes approvingly a paragraph from the Berlin News, which of our city contemporary. That there may be no mistaking our attitude, let us again Free Press on April 21:

GUING TO PIECES,

The London Free Press thinks Sir Oliver Mowat should be condemned for removing the royalties on Western Ontario ores for a few years. The Rat Portage Record holds that Mr. Meredith should be indorsed because he suggested that no royalties should be collected ! The Toronto Empire urges the defeat of the Government because it has passed a "Yankee registration" bill. The Toronto World urges that the registration bill is a most commendable measure. All four journals support Mr. Meredith. Behold the concord in their policy! See with what unanimity they disagree as to what is right ! It is said that the Ontario Opposition is in a state of dissolution, and that after next election the city solicitor of Toronto will not have a baker's dozen of professed Conservatives at his back. From the specimen disagreements on great questions of public policy given above, as well as from the fact that in the important city of Hamilton the Conservative leaders have not the courage to put up straight Conservative candidates, but will be contented with the nominees of the P. P. A., there seems to be good ground for the assertion that the Provincial Conservative Opposition is fast going to pieces.

A GREAT PROBLEM IN WHICH CITY AND COUNTRY ARE VITALLY INTERESTED.

We who live in a comparatively small center of population, see little of the vice | them. and degradation that are invariably to be found in the large cities of every country. For the privilege of living and enjoying existence in a city like London we should be thankful. The massing together of humanity in large cities is the calamity of the age. It would be much better if this herding together could be avoided, but the problem is a difficult one. Everyone can tendency of legislators to make life in the rural regions less attractive than it is in the cities. On this continent the "protective" tariff injures the farming industry, and makes it more profitable for young men to come to cities and crowd the labor market than to strike out in the industry of their fathers. At the present time we have the Ministerial Association of Toronto considering the earnest outcry of the city unemployed, and asking the council to provide permanent public works for them. The association has also resolved to petition the Provincial and Dominion Governments "to take means to bring the great masses of the unemployed in contact with the undeveloped resources of the country." provide that all unnecessary hindrances to the making of a living on the land are removed by the Dominion Government, which alone imposes taxes on the supplies of the farming community. Were that done, there would be no need to direct the attention of the masses from the cities to the undeveloped resources of the country. They would soon go there them-

How the tax policy of the Dominion Government operates against the farmer is shown in a clear manner by Mr. A. T. Wood, the well-known Hamilton merchant and manufacturer, who in a recent letter says he cannot understand why farmers should uphold the "protective" system, seeing they suffer most by it. Mr. Wood explains this fact as follows:

"In the first place, they have to pay the increased cost of every article they use in their industry, as well as for their personal comfort, that has to be imported, consequent upon the high protection that exists in the country. Again, they are compelled to accept a price for their produce much below what they should, in consequence of the high rates of freight exacted by the ship-owners from the parties who buy what the farmer has to sell, and ship to a foreign country. The shipper who knows his business keeps posted on the prices ruling in the foreign market, and be given none at all." Why should the he can only afford to pay the farmer what doctor not be allowed a seat? His criti- the goods will net on the English market after deducting his own profit, including freight and insurance. The shipper must have his profit in any case, consequently the price that the farmer secures is largely | to three months in the Central Prison. dependent on the rate of freight ruling at

> The way in which the "protective" taxes increase the freight rates to shippers, and through them to the producers, is thus set

"The farmer, as well as others, may well ask why the rates of freight eastward are so much higher now than they were fifteen or twenty years ago. The question was answered the other day by a shipowner in Montreal, when a deputation of the Patrons of Industry waited upon him. He told them plainly that since the introduction of the N. P. freights eastward had to be increased in order to pay for the ships having to come west with comparatively little freight. Here you see clearly one reason why the farmer has to take so low a price for what he has to sell. Nor is this all; in the olden days before the N. P. dried up our foreign trade to its present proportions, the freight rates were much lower than repeats parrot-like, the misrepresentations | they are at the present time, and yet the ship-owners made much more money than they are doing now. There was any quantity of freight offering from the various shipping give the queries which we propounded to the ports in the old land, and there were plenty of steamers to carry it, and at reasonable, rates, because they had an assurance of a return cargo, and being full both ways they could afford to carry Legislature the paid agent of another city? for less than it is now possible for them to do, when they are only loaded one way. In as its representative an officer of the city | the olden days the freight on heavy goods from Liverpool delivered in store in Hamilton was 10s to 12s 6d a ton, as compared with 25s to 30s to-day, for the same class of goods. That is another way in which all consumers are compelled to pay tribute to the idol of the Conservative party. Further, our foreign commerce has beer crippled, cramped and almost smothered out of existence, and the wonder is that there is anything left of it. This state of affairs has been brought about by the insane folly of the Conservative party in order to obtain power.

What is the remedy? Let the same writer be heard:

"If the farmers, and particularly those of them who support the present Government, these newspapers concealing the truth? | ment back to a revenue tariff basis, which | WOOd.

ruinous taxation and usher in an era of foreign commerce which would benefit the whole community. How is it that Australia and India, although more than three times the distance from the English market than we are, are competing successfully with us, and unless a change takes place may drive us out completely? The answer is: Those counries are the best customers England has at the present time; that English ships take large cargoes to India and Australia and return with full freights, while vessels must come to Canada comparatively light, and consequently have to charge such high rates for return cargoes that there is very little left to recompense the farmer for his toil and labor during the year. With these things staring the Engish and Scotch farmers in the face, is it reasonable to expect them to leave their homes and engage in such work in this country?"

And is it reasonable to expect that the amentable condition of many workers in the larger cities, who are either out of work or are working on short time, can be improved in any other way than by removing every obstacle to trade freedom, and thereby increasing the earnings of the farmer and inducing others to join him in bringing into cultivation our vacant lands?

BEWARE OF THEM.

[Stratford Beacon.] The Toronto News has come to the conlusion that Mr. Mowat has nothing to fear from the Patrons. Of course, he hasn't; why should he? There are numbers of Tories marquerading as Patrons who are endeavoring to make trouble for him; but then, he never expected anything else from

In one of these letters the writer explained that he had just come across an old paper containing the advertisement of a book in which he was interested and wrote at a venture to see if a copy could be secured. The newspaper had been packed away in some corner and had, after long disuse, found an interested eye. This and other instances of the kind show that it is impossible to tell how and when an advertiser will get returns. It is made equally apparent that the good offices of an advertisement in a newspaper are never ended till the paper is destroyed.

Arrest of Brokers on Charges of Having "Wiped Cut" a Montreal Man's Pile. NEW YORK, May 2 .- Florence B. David, a young speculator from Montreal, who was wiped out in the "street" last July by the slump in wheat, has been threatening for some months to prosecute criminally the members of the brokerage firm of Lamontagne, Clarke & Co., which placed his orders. He began to put his threat into execution yesterday by the arrest of Edward Lamontagne, jun., senior member of the firm. David accuses Lamontagne of the larceny of $75,000, which David says he had put up for margins up to the time the firm closed him out in July. At that time the firm was composed of Edward Lamontagne, jun., the Exchange member, Herman Clarke (who has since caused the suspension of the firm of Hunter, Clarke and Jacob, and is being prosecuted by his partners in that firm), Wallace B. Smith and E. M. Fulton, jun., as general partners. and E. M. Fulton, sen., as special partner for $200,000.

The rounding up of brokers in the Lamontagne, Clark & Co. muddle continued to-day. Arrest of E. M. Fulton, one of the general partnert of the first-named firm, followed on the heels of Edward Lamontagne's arrest last last night. Other extremely interesting developments came too, A well attended and enthusiastic meeting | the most important of which was that Mr.

All the arrested men are well known in longs to the Racket and Union Clubs and to the Rockaway Hunt. E. M. Fulton is a member of the New York Yacht Club, and of Princeton Club. His son's name is on the rolls of the Calumet and New York Yacht Clubs.

ALL FRANCE is showing a great and grow. ing enthusiasm for Joan of Arc, the new patron saint. A splendid statue of St. Joan is to be erected at Vaucouleurs, and subscriptions toward its cost have even been opened in every regiment of the army. The | tration Bill, and made a tedious speech to awakening of interest in the Maid of Orleans has led to a queer and heated controversy, still raging, between the supporters of the Church and the Freethinkers. The former claim Joan as all their own, while the latter retort with allusions to the circumstances of her death. It is true, however, that the memory of Joan of Arc is now venerated more than ever before by all classes of the French people.

THE corporation of London has deter mined to spend a sum not exceeding $5,000 in extending hospitality to the delegates of the Young Men's Christian Association, who will assemble in London in June to commemorate the jubilee of that institution. One of the "twelve young men" who met together and started this association in a small room in St. Paul's Churchyard-now close on 50 years ago-is still living in the person of G. Williams. The Young Men's Christian Association now possesses in the United Kingdom 843 branches, numbering 87,464 members. Taking the world at large, it is stated that there are 5,453 branches, with a membership of half a million of people.

> Norwich, where Mme. Sarah Grand lived for some years, is recognized as the scene of "The Heavenly Twins." Some of the incidents mentioned in the book are reported to be founded on fact-for example, the tragedy of the lay clerk. "A few years it is said by an English writer, "a all known and popular tenor, after hiding for a day or twoin the clerestory of Norwich Cathedral, committed suicide by hanging himself there. Naturally a profound sen-sation resulted. There was talk of the cathedral being reconstructed, but in the end a solemn service of humiliation and reconciliation was held to be sufficient."

THE DISTRICT of Whitechapel, London, is rapidly ceasing to be, as it is generally considered, a distinctively Cockney-populated locality. In 1891 one in every five inhabitants of the district was a foreigner, and since then there has been a great influx of foreigners, mostly Russians and Russian Poles. More than 2,000 of these foreigners settled in the district during last year, driving out almost as many Londoners. The birth rate in Whitechapel is 41 as compared with 25 in the western districts of London and 47 in Russia. Even if immigration should cease it is considered pretty certain that the Russians and Poles wil soon predominate in Whitechapel. Another Quebec Landslide Imminent. QUEBEC, May 2 .- News just received from St. Albans says that there is imminent dauger of another catastrophe. A lake 80 feet deep has formed close by the church, and if the dam gives way the awful calamity will be repeated again.

Between the Leaders in the Ontario Legislature.

Mr. Hardy's Bill Respecting Mining Royalties Amended-Previsions of the Registration Bill Explained-Obstruction the Opposition's Rele.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.]

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS, TORONTO, May 2.-The most important feature of this morning's session of the Legislature was the amendment of Mr. Hardy's bill respecting mining so that the abolition of royalties, proposed a few days since, will not go into force, leaving the law much as it was before. The only difference is that the royalty on the output will be 2 instead of 3 per cent.

Mr. Harcourt's bill "Respecting elections in the outer districts of the Province," was read a second time. It provides that the nominations in East and West Algoma, Nipissing, Parry Sound and Mus-koka shall take place a week before the time set for the general nominations, and that the voting shall take place simultaneously with all other constituencies in the Province.

AFTERNOON SESSION. Mr. Ross' Registration Bill occupied most of the afternoon session, though little progress was made. Mr. Ross explained an amendment by which those who are unable to register personally may, in certain cases, have their names placed upon the list. This right is confined to fishermen, lumbermen, marines, or those in attendance at educational institutions outside of the city in which they are entitled to vote. Mr. Meredith spoke at considerable length, and characterized the measure as abominable. Mr. Hardy replying to Mr. Meredith's objection to the necessity for personal registration, said there was no law to secure a man his vote if he was away from the city at the time of election. The commissioner than gave instances of laxity in the old way of preparing lists. In North Victoria the list showed "B. C. Church." This appeared to be a good name. B. C. Church presented himself and voted at the election, but it was not a man who was represented. It was the Bible Christian

Mr. Tait accused Mr. Meredith of wanting to follow the example of Judge Elliot in London, who insisted upon the retention of a stuffed voters' list, so that one of his (Judge Elliot's) political friends might remain in a seat to which he was not entitled. Mr. Mowat aroused a great deal of enthusiasm among his followers. Mr. Meredith in a previous speech had seemed to infer that the Conservatives would be the losers by the new bill. Mr. Mowat thought both parties were on an equal footing. The Opposition looked askance when the Attorney-General asserted that the Liberals had an excellent chance of securing three of the electoral divisions in Toronto.

EVENING SESSION. Shortly before 9 o'clock Mr. White (Essex) took up the debate on the Regisempty benches.

When Mr. White subsided, Mr. Ross took the floor until the Government supporters could be summoned. He said that if the Opposition wanted to stay in the city until next autumn they might, but the bill had to pass. Every constitutional means to this end would be exercised. Mr. Meredith defied the Government to go before the people without passing the Redistribution Bill. This remark was called forth by inference from an observation by Mr. Ross. "Oh, we will pass both bills," exclaimed the Minister of Education. Mr. Marter followed for the Opposition. and was succeeded by Mr. McCleary, who was still speaking at midnight. It is hoped to close the session on Thursday.

A Terrific Explosion and Fatal Fire Caused by Benzine.

NEW YORK, May 2 .- An explosion that shook some of the big buildings on Broadway and blew out the whole store front of building 61 East Twelfth street, occurred at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and set the building on fire. The wrecked building was the cleaning and scouring concern of C. Jolly & Son. Benzine caused the explosion. In the fire that ensued two persons perished and four were burned, one badly. The killed are Leopold Geneau and Louis Floorman; injured, Emil Masson (will die), Leon Budoir and Jean B. Boncarron (badly burned). One other workman was less badly burned.

The factory is a five-story building. The explosion occurred at an hour when both these streets were crowded with shoppers. There was no warning of it whatever.

Bigamist Guest's Sentence. Wm. Frederick Guest, the London township farmer, who it was yesterday proven had two wives, was brought before Judge Edward Elliott this morning for sentence. He was nervous, and when asked what he had to say, requested the judge to be very lenient. Judge Elliott, in speaking of the petition which had been presented in the prisoner's behalf, said he did not have much faith in such a document. The crime was one which was altogether too common in the country and could not be dealt with in a very lenient manner. The sentence imposed was two years and six months in the Provincial penitentiary at Kingston. Neither of the wives were present. A Girl's Troubles.

Annie Winters, an unfortunate girl with wo children, came into the city to-day from Wyton to try and invoke police aid in bringing about a marriage between herself and the father of her children, or at least to make him support them. "For, if you don't," she told Inspector Bell, "I will throw them both into the street and skip to Chicago." Miss Winters is fair and delicate-looking, and wept all the while she was reciting her trouble to Mr. Bell. She said she worked for Mr. Ned Scatcherd, Wyton, but could make no wager owing to the fact that her two children had to be supported where she worked. Her eldest little girl appears to be 21 or 3 years old and the youngest child a few months. She stated that a man named James McLindon or McElenden. who worked for a farmer named William the appearance of that opera at the Grand Bailey, on the 14th concession, near Scatcherd's, had ruined her under promise of marriage but had not fulfilled his promise, and now she could hardly live with two children dragging her down. Mr. Bell sent her to the chief of police. -President B. W. Greer, of the London McLean-Dyas.

One of the most fashionable events in the history of Toronto occurred yesterday afternoon, when Lieut. Hugh G. McLean, of the Forty-eighth Highlanders, and Miss senting the London branch at the annual Bessie Dyas, daughter of Mr. Dyas, convention of the Emerald Beneficial Asso- formerly a prominent resident of this city, were united in marriage by the Rev. A. absence of Mrs. Graves, read her report on lace, veil, and myrtle and orange blossoms, and carried a large bouquet of white bridal roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Nellie Dyas and Miss Ellie Muldrew, wore cream silk organdie muslins over pink and green silk dresses respectively, and white chip hats. Each carried targe bouquets of pink "Mermet" roses. Marjorie Dyas and Arthur Dyas acted as pages, Capt. J. B. McLean and Mr. John Dyas as grooms-men, and the ushers were Capt. MacGillivray, Capt. D. EAST MIDDLESEX TEACHERS

In Session in the City-The President's Thoughful Address.

The annual meeting of the East Middle sex Teachers' Association opened this morning in the county council hall with a fair attendance of teachers, which, with the arrival of stages and trains, was increased to about 100 in time for the roll call.

The secretary, Miss C. A. Jeffery, read a communication from Mr. L. D. Stanley, secretary of the Lucan Public School Board. inviting the association, or at least a branch thereof, to meet in Lucan. References were made to the kindness shown by the Lucan people on the former occasion of their meeting there, and the communication was referred to the executive to consider the practicability of carrying cut the request.

Mr. N. McIntyre, of London township, delivered the president's address. It was a thoughtful and earnest review of the teacher's duties and responsibilities towards himself, his pupils and his social surroundings. Without a high sense of his duty no one should enter or remain in the profession. Again, the teacher's sense of duty may be high, but if he lack the force of character to carry out his convictions he will fail. Nothing else that can be taught to youth is equal to character; talents are vain without it. The more sterling the character the more every talent and attainment is enhanced. The speaker showed how by the proper employment of the teacher's leisure he may do much to improve and enjoy life; how that by firmness with gentleness, habits of order and direction of the reading much can be done to favorably influence pupils. He advised teachers to visit among the parents of their pupils, and added with naivete, "Avoid going too often to one place." Trustees ought not to be willing to retain any teacher in their schools whose habits and character they would not wish to see wrought into the pupils.

"Turn to the Right."

As we had all this time our hands on our swords, there needed but a blow to bring about one of those street brawls which were more common then than now. A number of market-people, drawn to the spot by our raised voices, had gathered round, and were waiting eagerly to see what would happen. But Villequier, as my companion perhaps knew, was a Gascon in heart as well as by birth, and seeing our determined aspects, thought better of it. Shrugging his shoulders with an affectation of disdain which imposed on no one, he signaled to his serwants to go on, and himself stood aside.

"I thank you for your polite offer," he said with an evil smile, "and will remember it. But as you say, sir, I am not the "Provost-Marshal."

Paying little heed to his words, we bowed, passed him, and hurried on. But the peril was not over. Not only had the rencontre cost us some precious minutes, but the Gascon, after letting us proceed a little way, followed us. And word being passed by his servants, as we supposed, that one of us was the murderer of Father Antoine, the rumor spread through the crowd like wildfire, and in a few moments we found ourselves attended by a troop of canaille who, hanging on our skirts, caused Simon Fleix no little apprehension. Notwithstanding the contempt which M. d'Agen, whose bearing throughbut was admirable, expressed for them, we might have found it necessary to turn and teach them a lesson had we not reached M. de Rambouillet's in the nick of time; where we found the door surrounded by half a dozen armed servants, at sight of whom our persecutors fell back with the cowardice which is usually found in that class. If I had been tempted of late to think M. de Rambouillet fickle, I had no reason to complain now; whether his attitude was due to M. d'Agen's representations, or to the reflection that without me the plans he had at heart must miscarry. I found him waiting within attended by three gentlemen, all cloaked and ready for the road, while the air of purpose which sat upon his brow indicated that he thought the crisis no common one. Not a moment was lost, even in explanations. Waving me to the door again, and exchanging a few sentences with his nophew, he gave the word to start, and we issued from the house in a body. Doubtless the fact that those who sought to ruin me were his political enemies had some weight with him; for I saw his face harden as his eyes met those of M. de Villequier, who passed slowly before the door as we came out. The Gascon, however was not the man to interfere with so large a party, and dropped back; while M. de Rambouillet, after exchanging a cold salute with him, led the way towards the Castle at ground pace. His nephew and I walked one on either side of him, and the others, to the number of ten or eleven, pressed on behind in a compact body, our cortege presenting so determined a front that the crowd, which had remained hanging about the door, fled every way. Even some peaceable folk who found themselves in our road took the precaution of slipping into doorways, or stood aside to give us the full width of the street.

I remarked—and I think it increased my anxiety-that our leader was dressed with more than usual care and richness, but, unlike his attendants, were no arms. He took occasion, as we hurried along, to give me a word of advice. "M. de Marsac," he said, looking at me suddenly, "my nephew has given me to understand that you place yourself entirely in my hands."

I replied that I asked for no better fortune, and, whatever the event, thanked him from the bottom of my heart.

"Be pleased then to keep silence until I bid you speak," he replied sharply, for he was one of those whom a sudden stress sours and exacerbates. "And, above all, no violence without my orders. We are about to fight a battle, and a critical one, but it must be won with our heads. If we can we will keep you out of the Provost-Marshal's

And if not? I remembered the threats Father Antoine had used, and in a moment I had lost sight of the street with all its light and life and movement. I felt no longer the wholesome stinging of the wind. I tasted instead a fetid air, and saw round me a narrow cell and masked figures, and in particular a swarthy man in a leather apron leaning over a brazier, from which came lurid flames. And I was bound. I experienced that utter helplessness which is the last test of courage. The man came forward, and then-then, thank God! the vision passed away. An exclamation to which M. d'Agen gave vent, brought me back to the present, and to the blessed knowledge that the fight was not yet over. We were within a score of paces. I found. of the Castle gates; but so were also a second party, who had just debouched from a sidestreet, and now hurried on, pace for pace with us, with the evident intention of forestalling us. The race ended in bot' companies reaching the entrance at the same time, with the consequence of some jostling taking place among the servants. This must have led to blows but for the strenuous commands which M. de Rambouillet had laid upon his followers. I found myself iu a moment confronted by a row of scowling faces, while a dozen threatening hands were stretched out towards me, and as many voices, among which I recognized Fresnoy's, cried out tumultuously, "That is he! That is the one!"

An elderly man in a quaint dress stepped forward, a paper in his hand, and, backed as he was by half a dozen halberdiers, would in a moment have laid hands on meif M. de Rambouillet had not intervened with a negligent air of authority, which sat on him the more gracefully as he held nothing but a riding-switch in his hands. "Tut, tut! What is this?" he said lightly. "I am not wont to have my people interfered with, M. Provost, without my leave. You know me, I suppose?" "Perfectly, M. le Marquis," the man answered with dogged respect: "but this is by the king's special command."

"Very good," my patron answered, quietly eying the faces behind the Provest-Marshal, as if he were making a note of them; which caused some of the gentlemen a manifest uneasiness. "That is soon seen, for we are even now about to seek speech with his Majesty."

"Not this gentleman," the Provost-Marshal answered firmly, raising his hand again. "I cannot let him pass."
"Yes, this gentleman too, by your leave, the Marquis retorted, lightly putting the hand aside with his cane.

"Sir," said the other, retreating a step, and speaking with some heat, "this is no fest with all respect. I hold the king's own order, and it may not be resisted." The nobleman tapped his silver comfit-box and smiled. "I shall be the last to resist it-if you have it," he said languidly. "You may read it for yourself," the Provost-Marshal answered, his patience ex-

with the ends of his fingers, glanced at it, and gave it back. "As I thought," he said,

"a manifest forgery."
"A forgery!" cried the officer, crimson with indignation. And I had it from the hands of the king's own secretary!' this those behind murmured, some "shame," and some one thing, and some another—all with an air so threatening that the Marquis's gentlemen closed up behind him, and M. d'Agen laughed rudely.

But M. de Rambouillet remained unmoved. "You may have it from whom you please, sir," he said. "It is a forgery, and I will resit its execution. If you choose to await me here, I will give you my word to render this gentleman to you within an hour, should the order hold good. If you will not wait, I shall command my servants to clear the way, and if ill happen, then the responsibility will lie with you.

He spoke in so resolute a manner it was not difficult to see that something more was at stake than the arrest of a single man. This was so; the real issue was whether the king, with whose instability it was difficult to cope, should fall back into the hands of his old advisers or not. My arrest was a move in the game intended as a counterblast to the victory which M. de Ram-bouillet had gained when he persuaded the king to remove to Tours; a city in the neighborhood of the Huguenots, and a place of arms whence union with them would be

The Provost-Marshal could, no doubt, make a shrewd guess at these things. He knew that the order he had would be held valid or not according as one party or the other gained the mastery; and, seeing M. de Rambouillet's resolute demeanor, he gave Rudely interrupted more than once by his attendants, among whom were some of Bruhl's men, he muttered an ungracious assent to our proposal: on which, and without a moment's delay, the Marquis took me by the arm and hurried me across the court-

Desperate Encounter Between Yaquis and Mexicans.

The White Men Ambushed by Their Aboriginal Foes,

Who Hurl Rocks frem a Height of 1,590 Feet Upon Their Doomed Pursuers-The Mexicans Lose 200 Men in Killed and Wounded.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 2 .- Advices receieved here tell of a fierce battle which occurred early in March between a band of Yaqui Indians and a troop of Mexican soldiers in the Sierra del Bacatel. The troops had been in the vicinity mentioned in pursuit of the Indians. On the afternoon of March 5 they trailed the Indians into a long narrow defile in the mountains. The walls of the canyon rose to a height in some places of

MORE THAN TWO THOUSAND FEET, and were covered with brush. The command was halted and skirmishers pushed forward to discover any possible ambush The skirmish line climbed the walls and beat the brush as far as possible without results, and the colonel ordered the command forward.

A TERRIBLE SURPRISE. Half the dangerous locality had been traversed and the men were beginning to breathe more easily when suddenly huge masses of rocks and boulders from nearly 500 feet above came bounding from wall to wall upon the hemmed-in columns, crushing horses and riders into

SHAPELESS HEAPS! The warcries of the Yaquis were heard and the Indians began firing directly into the struggling mass below. Horses dashed through the broken column, trampling on the dead and wounded soldiers. The soldiers who were not severely wounded and those still unhurt sought the bushes on the sides. Finally the colonel found a wounded bugler who sounded a call, and those of the wounded able to move were started back, while those able to offer resistance fired volley after volley at random into the bushes, slowly retreating.

The number killed cannot be accurately stated, but out of a column of 500 men, is reported at least 200 were either killed or wounded.

The Mexicans are very much incensed at the disaster, and all the troops of Lower California, Sonora and Sinalor will be rendezvoued at Guazmas, and a vigorous campaign instituted against the Yaquis.

At Death's Door .- Dyspepsia Conquered.-A Great Medical Triumph. GENTLEMEN, - My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live, when I commenced the use of Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 pounds. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat any. thing with a keen relish and feel like new man. I have sold over 30 dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when I first commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything, but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merit as a certain JEAN VALCOURT, cure for Dyspepsia. LONDON WEST ELECTORS.

London West Liberals are requested to meet in Collins' Hall on Friday evening at 8 o'clock to elect delegates to represent them in the convention which will meet on Saturday afternoon in this city to select a Liberal candidate for the Legislature in East Middlesex.

-This is Ascension Day.

-There is good perch fishing now from the piers at Port Stanley. -C. McCallum & Co., druggists, have assigned to Mr. Alfred Robinson. -Mr. John Bland, president of the Board of Trade, London, has been visiting relatives in this city .- [Montreal Herald. -The very interesting evangelistic ser-

-Patrick Lawson was yesterday afternoon sentenced by Squires J. B. Smyth and R. F. Lacey to six months at hard labor for vagrancy. Lawson is one of an English contingent recently shipped to this country, and for a time worked for Fred Talbot in London township. His actions were such that Mr. Talbot had him arrested about a week ago on a charge of insanity. He was dismissed from custody, and again went to Talbot's, refusing to go away. For his misconduct Lawson will crack stones, saw wood and otherwise amuse himself till the end of October.

-Christian Alexander, a young tailor, came before Judge Edward Elliott yester day afternoon charged with stealing two suits of clothes from Mrs. Mary Brown, a tailoress, residing on Richmond street. Alexander had been out of work for some time, and went to Mrs. Brown's seeking employment. He was hired to finish two suits of clothes and received $11 in payment. It only took him five days, and when he left Mrs. Brown's the two suits were missed. A search warrant was issued and Detective Rider went to the C. P. R. station, and found Alexander with his trunk and the two suits ofclothes in it. Alexander said that as he was not getting well paid he thought he would take the clothes to "get even" with Mrs. Brown. The case was adjourned till Saturday. Three Old Books.

Any one calling on John Connor, 338 Richmond street, can see three of the oldest books in Canada. son, Argyle. The New Order of Things.

St. Thomas Times: According to an nouncement the new order of things came into effect on the railroad here this morning. Fourteen months ago the residents here expected to see "Bessie" steaming into the station with a train of yellow cars, grocer and baker, corner York and Thames | but March 1, 1893, came, and no Bessie or vellow cars, and in a few weeks the Vankes bubble broke, and the syndicate was no more. Since that time the M. C. R. has given an excellent service. Every servant of the company proved himself a gentleman, and most obliging and courteous to all. Yesterday morning at 7:30 a train of thing for aged people a five cars of L. E. and D. R. R. rolled into 571 for appointments.

the station in charge of Conductor Am- 1 brose Segner and Engineer James Porteous at the lever. On board were Superintendent Woollatt, Mechanical Superintendent Austin and Superintendent of Construction Pim. A large number were present to welcome them. The new company have seen fit and are to be congratulated upon retaining our live, active and courteous agent and respected townsman, Mr. Dan McKay, as agent for them here.

Charged with Bigamy. St. Thomas Times: Chief Fewings went to London township yesterday and arrested Mary Jane Caines, or Hughes, for bigamy. She was married on the 23rd of January, 1893, to Mr. Rodney J. Parker, of South Yarmouth. She was married about twenty years ago, it is alleged, to George Hughes, who was at the time of her second marriage and is still living. At the police court this morning she was remanded till Friday. The woman claims to have been divorced from her first husband in the States. She is about 40 years of age. Early Instruction in Cheese-Making.

The course of instruction in making early cheese and in operating the Babcock milk tester, now being carried on by the Western Dairymen's Association, is meeting with good results. Five factories in the list already published have been visited. Mr. T. B. Millar, the instructor, in this work, reports a very large attendance of cheese-makers and a large amount of interest taken by them in the work. Mr. Millar is visiting the Vittoria and Attercliffe station factories this week and will visit North Brant and Birr next week.

J. W. Wheaton, secretary of the Western Dairymen's Association, addressed the members of the Ingersoll Cheese Board of Trade on Tresday, referring to some of the questions now being brought before the narkets in refrence to the selling of cheese. Rev. Mr. Wye's Trial.

The trial of Rev. G. W. Wye by the commission appointed by the Bishop of Huron has been in progress at Amherstburg for the past week. The commissioners concluded their labors there on Wednesday and adjourned to London to take the bishop's evidence at 2 p.m. to-day. Rev. Mr. Wye was charged by a portion of the congregation with committing acts unbecoming a person in his position, and that consequently his usefullness is gone. The excitement attending Tuesday evening's debate ended with two members of the opposing factions having a fistic encounter. Mr. Bredin Hall, who sides with the rector, struck J. A. Patten, of the opposition, a severe blow in the face on being called a liar by the latter. This collision took place in the court room after the adjournment and in the presence of the commission and the attorneys.

Asylum Atoms. Government Inspector Tully inspected

the asylum yesterday. A few days ago a couple of the male patients escaped and hired out with a farmer a few miles north of the city. The farmer soon became aware of queer actions on the part of his newly hired men, and becoming suspicious, informed the asylum authorities. When the attendants arrived to take them back, one of the men attempted to use a pitchfork, but was restrained.

David J. Creighton, an attendant, had a narrow escape at the hands of a vicious patient the other day, and he is now on leave of absence with friends in Wood-Tyendinaga reserve, and now receive their stock while his head assumes a normal conshare of the annuity paid under the Indian dition. He was working with a patient named Burke, who was sent in from near Windsor several years ago. Without warning Burke struck Creighton on the head with a heavy chain he was handling. Creighton's head was badly cut and bruised, and he had a fierce tussle with his man. Seventy-Nine Dollars a Week.

The Free Press insists that there is nothing inconsistent in Alf. McCoubrey being city assessor and paid secretary of the Conservative Association at the same time. To fortify this view, the simple reference to which it characterizes as "A scurrilous attack," the Free Press says that Alf. Mc-Coubrey "was employed on the assessment commissioner's staff for six weeks only.' If the Free Press tells the truth, and the city auditors make correct returns of the salaries paid to the city officials, Assessor McCoubrey, "who was employed for six weeks only," is the best paid civic official in London. On reference to the report of the auditors, dated 1st March, 1894, it is found that "A. McCoubrey, assessor," for his share in compiling the assessment roll recently completed, drew $475. The Free Press thus asserts that Assessor and Conservative Secretary McCoubrey pocketed as assessor alone $79 a week! Who authorized the payment?

London West's Affairs. At the last regular meeting of the London West Council the auditors' report as amended was produced by the clerk, and by order of the reeve was handed over to the finance committee. The auditors, treasurer and collector were also ordered to appear with their papers and books on Friday evening, when another meeting will be held and the audit completed. Councilor Hamilton recommended that Mr. Horn's account for $10 07 be paid. Mr. Horn had supplied tile for a drain placed across Oak street last year, and there was some dispute whether this year's council was liable for the amount. The recommendation of the board of works will not be carried out, but the matter was sent back for further consideration. Reeve Macdonald reported having arranged with the school board for a weekly meeting in the schoolhouse. The efficials will be instructed to attend every Friday night from 7:30 to 9:30 till further notice. Mr. A. Stinchcombe addressed the council on behalf of the real estate owners regarding the cattle bylaw, and the village constable was ordered to enforce the same. Mr. John Hobbs complained of a number of large holes on Oxford street, caused by the removal of telegraph or telephone poles. The reeve will attend to the matter. A number of accounts were passed, including one from Magee, McKillop & Murphy for $30 for drafting the bill for the consolida. tion of the debenture debt of the village. All the members were present.

Wonderful Cure.

Mr. and Mrs. Chute, of Aylmer, desire that we should publish their testimonial and let other sufferers know what Williams' Royal Crown Remedy (Nature's Liquid) has done for Mr. Chute. He writes: "For ten years or more I have been a sufferer with dyspersia, and doctored with six of the most skilled doctors in this part of the country with but little relief and no benefit in return for the very large doctors' bills that I paid. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, but all to no purpose, until April, 1893, when I took to myself a wife, and it so happened that three years previous to our marriage she had been in poor health, and used part of a bottle of Royal Crown Remedy, and, knowing of its excellent qualities, she prevailed upon me to give it a trial. I purchased one bottle of the Remedy and Pills, and by the time I had them used my general health was much improved, and by the time I had taken three bottles I was restored to good health, and my neighbors say that I am looking better than I have done for years. I believe Royal Crown Remedy to be the best value for the money on earth, and am thankfully yours.

Dear Sirs, -So recent has been my acquaintance with your fraternity, and that acquaintance so intimately associated with my husband's sad death, that it is comewhat difficult for me to express my feelings of gratitude toward you. For the short time my husband lived after becoming one of your order he was loud in his praises of your obeets and sims: since his sudden death I have found that you live up to those high principles. I have felt your sympathy and know of your kind offers of assistance, and now I have to thank you for my infant daughter for the check for $2,000, being the amount of the insurance policy held by my late busband in your order. Hoping that your order may prosper as it deserves, I remain your well-wisher, ELIZABE'H DAVIDSON.
