In an effort to secure justice for London merchants and wholesalers from the postoffice department, Acting President E. C. Mitchell will call a meeting of the board of trade memorialize the Government to make London and Western Ontario a separ ate "zone" when the new Canadiar parcel post goes into effect.

While no definite announcement has yet been made by the postal department as to the location of the "zones, it has been declared, on authoritative information from the "inside" at Ottawa that the entire Provnice of Ontari will be made a parcel post zone. It is to secure, if possible, a revision of this decision that the board of trade wil be called together. Monopoly to Toronto With the same postal rates applicable to all parts of the province, Toronto mail order houses would have Ontario merchandizing field. "We certainly will take action to see if we cannot secure justice for London and Western Ontario," declared Acting President Mitchell of the board of trade to The Advertiser. "I will call a meeting of the executive immediately, and we will secure what information we can on the subject in order that a report can be presented to the board at the earliest opportunity, and con-certed action taken to see if a separate zone cannot be secured for this city. At the London postoffice the information was handed out vesterday that policy of the creation of zones had yet been decided on at Ottawa. So far as the local authorities were aware, according to their own statements, nothing is known locally as to when the new branch of the postoffice department will be inaugurated, or what the rates and zones will be.

"Pocket" Released Unknown Supply of Gas.

Natural gas has been struck in Caradoc Township, on the farm of Richard Lothian, about a mile west of the village of Delaware. Whether the gas is of good quality or is there in paying quantities has not yet been determined, and will probably not be known for a day or so. If it is found to be of good quality and suitable for commercial purposes it is possible that it may be piped to London, but nothing definite in this connection will be known until it is seen whether or not the flow is sufficient to justiy such action

Oil was being sought when the discovery was made. Drillers began to probe for oil on the Lothian farm about the middle of December, and this week at a depth of 2,640 feet their drill encountered what appeared to be a sort of pocket in the earth and sank. It has not yet been recovered, and efforts are being made this afternoon to bring it to the surface so that the flow of gas may have free vent. It will then be possible to determine whether or not the gas is there in sufficient quantity to be trued to com-

Purchase nf Western Ontario Beef For Montreal Means Big Shortage.

BREEDERS BUYING TOO

Western Men Help to Drain Peninsula of Available Cattle.

London looks forward to a meat famine in the spring due to buyers snapping up all the best beef in Western Ontario for future shipment to Montreal in May. Buying for future shipment to the extent it is now being carried on is a new idea. but the growing scarcity of beef cattle has made it necessary to insure a supply for British and eastern markets by contracting for beeves long before they are ready to kill.

Last fall the removal of the Am erican duty on meat fairly cleaned up all the beef in Western Ontario. Western Canada buyers also bought up a great many animals for breeding purposes for the west, where the western farmers are again going into cattle-breeding on extensive scales As a result there is very little beef in this district and with eastern buyers contracting in advance for it all. there seems no way to avert a local meat famine. All over Western Ontario buyers are reported to be buying for May shipments and just where London beef-eaters will get off at next spring is a matter for conjecture. Inquest Tonight.—The inquest into

Well-Known London Man Succumbs in Hospital After Being Found Battered in His Room.

RECOVERED CONSCIOUSNESS, BUT COULD NOT NAME ASSAILANTS

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Detroit, Jan. 8.—Robert Semple, aged 41, died in St. Mary's Hospital today from injuries received Dec. 15.

Little is known of him in Detroit, the only clue to his residence being a letter found in his pocket dated March 9, 1913, in London, and signed "Brother."

In Detroit he had been boarding at 19 Abbott street.

Semple was found unconscious at first in the Abbott street house on Dec. 15 with his eyes blackened and his head battered. He was sent to the hospital where he regained consciousness, but was unable to tell how his injuries were received.

The police feel certain that he was assaulted by footpads, as there have been several holdups in that vicinity recently.

Robert Semple was well-known in London. A few years ago he conducted a tailoring business here. He was nicknamed "Roddie" by all who knew him. When a resident of London he lived on Grey street between Wellington and Waterloo.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Semple, of this city, and four brothers, Joe, of Chicago; Hugh, Jack and Dan, of London, and two sisters, Jean, of Toronto, and Mrs. R. McNeil, of this city. His parents are both dead.

He had resided in Detroit for some time.

The body will arrive in London late this afternoon, and interment will take place at a local cemetery.

About Details of Office Affairs.

[Canadian Press.] New York, N.Y., Jan. 8.-While obviously anxious to announce that the condition of Sir James Whitney, prime minister of Ontario, has shown a definite improvement. Dr. Pyne, after the regular consultation with Dr. Hermann Biggs, this morning, could do no better than state by bulletin at 11 o'clock that the patient had enjoyed a night of undisturbed sleep, adding the most important reservation that Sir James still continued weak.

Since Monday, Sir James has been practically his old self mentally at all times and has conversed about his affairs from time to time. As somethings dealing with his office details that were left unfinished when he started on the vacation which has brought him to New York and to death's door here, occur to him, he has asked questions, but has always been satisfied with the replies made. Sir James still enjoys his food, light meats and easily digested vegetables forming his principal diet. Of course this has been supplemented by drugs, aimed to accelerate or steady the action of his heart. While these have to be administered Sir James' condition must be considered as critical and it is even a question as to whether they are not necessary to keep him alive. The one worry that Sir James has disclosed is his dislike for hotel life. and the desire to get home to To ronto manifests itself constantly. The prime minister fell asleep last night about 11 o'clock after a day in which no change in his condition could be noticed.

This morning he awakened about five and his nurse was so satisfied that Dr. Pyne was allowed to catch up with some of the sleep he has lost during the past four days and was not called till nearly 8. The bulletin issued this morning after consultation, read as follows: New York, Jan. 8.-At 11 a.m., the following bulletin was issued by Doctors Biggs and Pyne: "Sir James Whitney had an undisturbed night's rest, but continues weak." MINISTERS ANXIOUS.

"You got to," Lou Max wailed.

Miss Rhodes' story went on to tell how Hayden refused to phone the combination; how the mayer and Max dynamited the safe and secured the precious package only to lose it in another moment to a still different contingent at the inn; how Hayden had come, of his suicide when he found that his actions were in danger of exposure—"a bitter smile for Kendrick in that" reflected Magee—and how finally, through a strange series of accidents, the money came into the hands of the writer for the Star. These accidents were not given in detail.

Magee.
"Mr. Magee," continued Miss Rhodes,
"will doubtless be one of the state's chief witnesses when the case against Cargan comes to trial, as will also Professor Thaddeus Bolton, holder of the Crandall Chair of Comparative Literature at Reuton University, and Mr. David Kendrick, formerly of the Suburban, but who re-tired six years ago to take up his residence abroad. The latter two went to the inn to represent Prosecutor Drayton, and made every effort in their power to secure the package of money from the reporter for the Star, not knowing her connection with the affair.

"Well, Mr. Magee?" asked Professor Bolton, laying down the paper which he had been perusing at a distance of about in inch from his nose.

"Once again, Professor," laughed Magee, "reporters have entered your life." "Once again, Professor," laughed Magee, "reporters have entered your life."
The old man sighed.
"It was very kind of her," he said, "not to mention that I was the person who compared blondes of the peroxide variety with suffragettes. Others will not be so kind. The matter will be resurrected and used against me at the trial, I'm sure. A plucky girl, Mr. Magee—a very plucky girl. How times do change. When I was young girls of her age would scarcely have thought of venturing forth into the highways on such perilous missions. I congratulate you. You deserve a great reward—the young lady's favor, let us say."
"You got to get me out of this," Max was still telling the mayor.
"For God's sake," cried Cargan, "shut up and let me think." He sat for a moment staring at one place, his face still lacking all emotion, but his eyes a triffe narrower than before. "You haven't got me yet," he cried, standing up. "By the eternal, I'll fight to the kast ditch, and I'll send the reformers howling into the alleys, sick of the fuss they started themselves."

"Perhaps," said Professor Bolton, "but only after the fight of your life, Cargan."
"I'm ready for it," cried Cargan. "I ain't down and out yet. But to think—a woman—a little bit of a girl I could have put in my pocket—lit's all a big joke. I'll beat them—I'll show them—the game's far from being played out—I'll whn—and if I don't—" being played out-I'll win-and if He crumbled suddenly into his seat his eyes on that unpleasant line about "Prison Stripes for the Mayor." For an instant it seemed as though his fight was irrevocably lost, and he knew it. Lines of age appeared to creep from out the fat folds of his face, and stand mockingly there. He looked like a beaten man. "If I don't," he stammered pitiably, they sent him to an island at the The reformers got Napoleon at the won't be alone in that.' t this unexpected sight of weakness his hero. yet."

"Yes, sir," said the patrolman admiringly. He hurried out of the car, and the mayor turned to find Lou Max pale and fearful by his side.
"What ails you now?" he asked.
"I'm afraid," cried Max. "Did you hear what he said? A mob. I saw a mob.

Careful eating is a great help towards keeping the liver right, but when it does get wrong there is nothing like Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to restore the liver to healthful action.

These accidents were not given in detail.

Now ain't it nice of them to come and meet their mayor?"

Mr. Magee and the professor went into the day coach for their baggage. Mrs. Norton motioned to the former.

"Well," she said, "you know now, I suppose. And it didn't do you no harm to wait. I sure am glad this to-do is all over, and that child is safe. And I hope you'll remember what I said. It ain't no work for a woman, no how, what with the shooting and the late hours."

"Your words," said Mr. Magee, "are engraven on my heart." He proceeded to gather her baggage with his own, and was thus engaged when Kendrick came up. The shadow of his discovery in the smoking-car an hour before still haunted his sunken eyes, but his lips were half smiling with the new joy of living that had come to him.

"Mr. Magee," he began, "I hardly need mention that the terrible thing which happened—in there—is between you and me—and the man who's dead. No one must know. Least of all, the girl who is to become my wife—it would embitter her whole life—as it has mine."

"Don't say that," Magee pleaded. "You will forget in time. I'm sure. And you."

If the mighty Cargan had looked limp and beaten for a moment, he looked that way no more. He stood up, and his head seemed almost to touch the roof of the car. Over that big patrolman he towered; his eyes were cold and hard again; his lips curved in the smile of the master.

"And why," he bellowed, "should I get off here? Tell me that, Dan."

"Well, sir," replied the embarrassed copper, "they're ugly. There's no telling what they might do. It's a bad mob. This newspaper has stirred 'em up."

"Ugly, are they?" sneered Cargan, "Ever see the bunch I would go out of my way for, Dan?"

"I meant it all right, sir." said Dan. "As a friend to a man who's been a friend to me. No, I never saw you afraid of any bunch yet, but this—"

"This," replied Cargan, "is the same old bunch. The same lily-livered crowd that I've seen in the streets since I laid the first paving stone under 'em myself in '91. Afraid of them? Hell! EAST AND WEST.

Because the people of the western provinces are asking that the duty on wheat be taken off, and some of the customs burdens which press most heavily upon them removed. Tory papers are chiding them as ungrateful debt they owe to the east. It was the people of the east, they are told, who purchased the Hudson Bay Company's tale. rights, and built the Canadian Pacific Railway, thus bringing the west into existence. Without the east they never would have been any west, and, therefore, they should bear uncomplainingly the burdens which the interests of the east may impose upon them.

Recriminations between the two sec tions of the Dominion are not only useless, they are harmful and unpatriotic. East and west are necessary to each other; each owes much to the other. The eastern provinces met the initial expense of the whole Dominion, and opened its western half to settlement. On the other hand, the western provinces have repaid the debt, for they have been the best customers of the east, and have helped more than any others to make it prosperous. They stand today on terms of equality. The interests of the one are the interests of the other. Tariff reductions necessary to one will not injure the other. True patriotism requires that there should be a common policy and a united effort to build up the whole Dominion.

movement, which through the sincerity of the men supporting it, did not blossom with a lot of high-sounding phrases and fade when the rhetoric was exhausted. Trained men have been examining London from the standpoint of moral health. They have conducted a still hunt, and they have seen many things that would have hunted cover at the sound of publicity's trumpet. If there is anything wrong with the community they have discovered it. London is a better city, we have all be-Heved, from the standpoint of purity and respectability than other places of its size. We are inclined to be smug about our goodness. The investigators of the Men's Federation may have some | pauper to be honest! and whatever they may divulge should be accepted as the first phase in a movement for civic betterment. A city may hide its sins and allow them gree been growing here. Children spend to fester. It would be better to do away with secrecy, and to cure them copper in their pocket. do most for London's moral welfare. GIVE US CERTIFIED MEAT.

Toronto has passed a bylaw for a municipal abattoir, although meats butchered in that city have been subject to inspection for some years. The incoming board of control in London should give the board of health its aid in establishing a system of meat inspection. If the medical officer of health has done nothing else he has shown citizens the necessity of inspection on several occasions. Dr. Hill, of the Institute of Public Health, believes that cooking destroys the germs in meats. At the same time he eaten when practically uncooked. Few of us like the red centre of a porterhouse browned in the broiling. In fact our whole idea of meat serving seems to be the warming of it rather than the cooking of it. The butchers of London are ready to have their meats certified; no one if he recollects Robespierre's finish. else knows better how much diseased meat is sold. The city should endeavor to establish a central plant, as convenient as possible for the treatment of meats. And, if possible, the work should be done at once. MAUNDEVILLE COOK.

Dr. Cook is now in England, giving lectures in which he tries to prove that Peary is not the only American to have reached the North Pole. Some of the English newspapers have an occasional shy at him. The poor man cannot get an uninterrupted hearing.

Whether he got to the pole or not, and there is scarcely a possibility that he did, he has at any rate ventured further north than most of his newsper persecutors would ever dream of cking him. No government backed his enterprise. It is possible that he really believes himself to be the prior discoverer of the pole.

It is about time for Mr. Chesterton to come forward with a panegyric on who just went away somewhere, unromance-destroying organization. Instead of a moving picture machine with its expert, Cook took with him a boyish zest, a perhaps too lively imagination and that happy preparedness for anything to turn up which in old romance distinguishes the hero. His story may suggest old Sir John Maundeville, or the magic that Othello moving accident by flood and field, which made her incline her ear and pity, then embrace his fortunes as her own. But why quarrel overmuch with these boyish romances of Cook that remind us of when the world was yet disengaged those pleasant companions, fact and fable? In olden days men told of Eldorado or of Prester John, of encounters with unicorns and giants. Now we have Stefansson's white Esquimaux, probably true to life, and Dr. Cook's amateur performances or his equally amateur accounts, so refreshingly unscientific and Goldsmithian, are to many quite as amusing as Peary's sternly sober record. Let Cook tell his story. He is one of the old school of navigators. His namesake, Captain James Cook, of the 18th century, may have been the inaugurator of the modern stead of a King of Finance. scientific exploration, but Dr. Cook belongs to the old volume of romance and selfish grumblers, who forget the he is a bit of a mediaeval revival. He can a tale unfold, maybe of Prester John, a good old-fashioned winter's

This Pretty Blouse Might Be Fashioned In a Day

The clever needlewoman has no difficulty in putting together lovely little blouses these days, for sewing bits of lace and embroidery together and running tucks by hand are really dainty fancywork-not sewing-room labor, at all. This little blouse is made of three best for wash or evening dresses, tan, navy and blue for suits.

Special Feature at Club Recital

Very Pleasing Program Rendered by Members of Women's Music

Several special features marked the fifth recital of the Woman's Music Club held Wednesday afternoon in the Normal School, when a program of exceptional merit was rendered before a large audience.

The singing of Miss Killmaster. who rendered several German songs in her clear, beautifully trained soprano, was much appreciated, and she was obliged to respond with an encore Perhaps the star number of an exellent program was the piano duet, Concerto in A. minor by Schumann, given by Mr. Harry Wismer and Mr. Thomas Martin. This selection, always a favorite with music lovers. was rendered with a harmony and skill that elicited almost an ovation from the audience.

The entire program was composed of the following numbers: Pianoforte Duet-Overture to "Midsummer Night's Dream" Mabel Albright Smith and Miss creatures," sighed Tess, plumping herself into a chair. They We could have told you that long ago," we remarked in the cheerful way, which we assume on occasion. Tess wriggled. "Dear me, I guess I knew it as well as you did, but I have just had a fresh instance of it, and thought the story might amuse Humbled, we begged her to you."

"You know mother's cousin, Dudson, has been spending a week or so at the house, and the other morning he got on talking about the follies of women's styles of today. How indecent the skirts were, and how wicked it was to wear a low cut neck. Mother agreed with him in everything he said, and there I sat, feeling like a fool in a peek-a-boo waist and one of my narrow

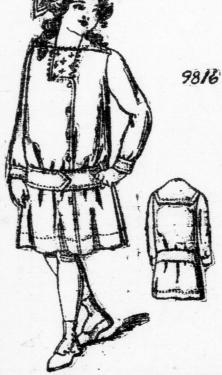

"Just then, Mary Joyce happened in, and when Cousin Dudson began again on styles, Mary went for him." (Tess does use such shocking language at times!) "But do you really think they are any worse than the styles of our grandmothers' day?" she asked Cousin Dud. He fairly glared, as he always does when anyone dares argue with "Why, my dear young lady," he said, fixing Mary with an icy glance, "I wonder that you can compare the immodest creations of the present hour with the gowns worn by our sainted mothers and grandmothers."

Mary almost snorted. "Say,

Tess," she said to me, "have you got that old album Styles handy?—the one we were looking at last week?" I and reached it out of the bookcase, fairly giggling with glee, for I knew what was coming. Mary turned it over rather thoughtfully. "Now here is one, Mr. Dudson, which I suppose you would consider the very acme of modesty." Well, I thought Cousin Dud would fall through the floor. It was an awful tintype of his mother and my grandmother, who were sisters, you know, taken in hoop skirts with lovely frilled pantalettes, and short-sleeved dresses, cut quite down to the shoulder. And pretty nearly every picture in the old album was velvet adds a striking color touch. Long just as bad. Even mother had to smile, but tactfully changed the subject, by asking Cousin Dud if he would open a can of sardines for the salad, and I never saw a man more relieved in my life than was Cousin Dud-son to get out of the room and into the kitchen. And now for the funny "What?" we asked, "More yet?"

"Oh, the half has not been told," Tess replied, hugging her muff. "This is why I said men were so funny. Dudson's positively crazy about Mary Joyce. Took her driving yesterday, Joyce. and to the theatre the night before, and Mary's having him for tea, and only last night I overheard him telling how charming she looked in her new frock, AND IT HAS A SLIT SKIRT!" Tess' voice was most impres-"Yes, men are certainly funny creatures, but-well, you dear things l must go," and Tess breezed away, leaving us to have a quiet little laugh all to ourselves over Cousin Dudson's queer ways.

Mackenzie and Mann IN EASTERN DEAL

To Take Over The Vanderbilt-Webb Line.

EXTENSION ALSO PLANNED

Proposal Under Way To Amalgamate C. N. R. With C. P. R., and Making a Loop Around Province.

[Canadian Press.]

Sydney, N. S., Jan. 7 .- Another big rallway deal is to go through in Cape Breton, according to word received here today. The information was to the effect that MacKenzie & Mann, who own the Inverness Railway, will negotiate for a right-of-way from St. Peters to Sydney, with a view to enlarging their already extensive business in the province. The plan includes the taking over of the Vanderbilt-Webb Line. Point Tupper to St. Peters, and the extension of that line from St. Peters to Louisberg by way of the South Cape Breton route. It is understood the Canadian Northern is willing to commence the work as soon as the right-of-way can be secured and the construction financed.

To Unite With C. P. R. For some time past it has been rumored that a deal to amalgamate the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian Northern was under way, and that the negotiations included plans for the extension of the Halifax and Southwestern Railway to the Strait, and thence to Sydney, making a complete loop of the C. P. R. line around the province, with a transit line to the MacKenzie & Mann line at Inverness, and the operation of this and the MacKenzie & Mann iron deposits at Niclaux and Annapolis by the Amalgamated Corporation.

Two Terminals. According to the information received it is the intention of the company to establish a junction at a point convenient to Sydney and Louisburg, with pier terminals at both places. Sydney will be the summer terminal and Louisburg the winter terminal of the Canadian Northern. with a trans-continental branch running from the Strait to Moncton along the Northumberland shore route to Moncton, and thence west whatever route is available.

Soft ice prevented the opening of the City League at the Simcoe street rink last evening, when the Hole proofs and Western University teams were due to play. The ice was in ber of the players dressed and went on, the game was called off.

The Holeproof club may put in claim for the game on the ground that they had all their men at the rink, while only five players of the University team were present. The Holeproof management state that if the Westerns had had their full team it will likely be dealt with at a Paris, handled the game. league meeting. The schedule will be shoved ahead a week, and the opening take place next Wednesday night at the Simcoe street rink.

OTTAWAS BEAT CANADIENS

Handed George Kennedy's Team a Shut Out, 6 to 0.

Ottawa, Jan. 7.-The Ottawas played again tonight in the form that made the old "Silver Seven" famous, and applied the whitewash brush to George Kennedy's Canadiens. The score was six goals to 9 nothing at the end of play.

In the first stage of the game the Cana diens offered a strong defensive system, and held the Ottawas down to two goals in the opening period. They did not seem to be exerting themselves, and many took it for granted that they would come through with a burst of speed toward the finish. Ottawa tallied another goal in the second period, however, while the Canadiens failed to find the net. They had few openings, as their forwards showed no system or combination. They did not check back with the same success as the Ottawas and threw many opportunities away far out with forward passing and offside skating. Jimmie Gardner got into the game himself in the third session, but while he engineered many sensational rushes, he could not get inside the stonewall defence which the Ottawa club pre-sented in Shore and Merrill. On the ther hand, the Ottawa forwards found little difficulty in going by or around Laviolette and Dubeau, and might have made the defeat more humiliating had t not been for the fact that Vezina was strictly O. K. in his game. He blocked

QUEBEC WON GRUELLING GAME FROM WANDERERS

Northern League Teams Played Eighteen Minutes Overtime Were Necessary to Settle the Contest.

> Montreal, Jan. 7 .- Overcoming what at one time looked to be a commanding lead, Quebec earned the decision over the Wanderers tonight at the Arena by a score of 4 to 3 in a match that required 18 minutes of overtime play to determine the winner. The match was one of the most gruelling witnessed in Montreal in years, and the soft condition of the ice towards the end of the game told on the players so that they showed marked signs of fatigue through the killing pace kept up by them from start to finish. The better team won. The players made few if any mistakes during the game, and perhaps the only ones who erred were those who had charge of substitutes on the Wanderers' bench.

CANADIAN LEAGUE NOTES

The London baseball club will send out its 1914 contracts next week. The contracts must all be sent out by Feb. 1.

The Ottawa baseball club will likely give Pitcher Al. Bernlohr another trial. He tried out last spring, but Shaughnessy lid not like his small stature. He won 16 straight games pitching for a Pittsourg semi-pro outfit last season.

A meeting of the Canadian League may be held on Saturday of this week or Monday of next week to take some action in regard to the Erie territory.

Brantford is still confident of getting Rube Deneau The Red Sox are anxiously waiting to see what London does with Rube before pouncing on him, however.

"Midge" Craven, the St. Thomas player. bears a striking resemblance to "Honey Boy" Evans, the famous min-strel. "Midge" is often mistaken for the black-face comedian.

A young brother of Roger Bresnahan, the famous big-league catcher, may be HUNT, the Kingston boy who is showng fine form on the forward line of the refessional Ontarios (Toronto).

tried out with Ottawa in the spring. He is a third baseman, and only 21 years of age.

Indoor Exercise Is Ordered by Every Physician

During the winter there is nothing more invigorating than an hour's work on the punching bag. We also have a large stock of Snow Shoes, Sleighs, Toboggans, Boxing Gloves, Hockey Skates, Sticks, Pucks, Shin Pads, and

THREATENED AGAIN

Clash Over Chief Clerk. [Canadian Press.]

New York, Jan. 8 - The peace agreement signed at the close of the garment workers' strike of nearly four years ago is threatened with abrogation in an ultimatum sent vesterday by the Cloak Manufacturers' Association to the offieers of the International Ladies' Garment

Workers Union and of the joint board of the Cloak and Skirt Makers' Union. The source of contention is Dr. Isaac Hourwich, chief clerk of the cloak and skirt makers' union. The manufacturers assert that Dr Hourwich has stirred up more trouble than he has averted and want him displaced. The unions

Not Taken Over By Metropolitan

German Officer Admits That He Will Likely Call Meeting For Purpose of Presenting Their Claims.

> Policyholders of the defunct Union Life Company in London and all parts of Western Ontario Wednesday received from George Kappelle, official referee, notices to the effect that all claims against the company must be forwarded to him on or before Jan.

> There are hundreds of policyholders and a number of shareholders in the city and district, and the former are greatly agitated at the present time over the prospect of losing all of the endowment part of their policies when the policies are taken over by the Metropolitan Insurance Company.

> > Chances of Loss.

In the case of a policyholder who has made any payments on a Union Life endowment policy he stands to lose all of the money has put in, retaining only straight life privileges. For instance, if a man had made payments amounting to $68 up to the time of the company's failure, the Metropolitan agrees to take over his policy on the straight life basis, but his claim for previous payments is entirely upon the liquidator. If he should die his heirs would receive the full amount of the policy, but if he lived beyond the life of the original policy, he would have to continue to pay endowments to the Metropolitan

There is talk of calling a meeting of the policyholders in London to discuss the form in which claims against the defunct company shall be made. It is felt that more effective steps can be taken by uniting efforts than by responding to the request individually

Referee's Circular. The circular issued by the official referee is as follows:

VISCOUNT CROSS STATESMAN, DEAD

Was Prominent In British Affair Thirty Years Ago.

[Canadlan Press.] London, Jan. 8 .- The death occurred to day of Viscount Cross, who was one of the most prominent Conservative statesmen in England about 30 years ago. He had offices in several cabinets occupying at various times the secretaryship of state for the home department, the sec-retaryship of state for India and the post of lord privyship. He was a member of the House of Commons for 24 years and sat in the House of Lords for 28 years, having been made a peer in 1886. He was 91 years old.

Letters written by the couple stated that both were suffering from tuberculosis and had been told they had only a few weeks to live. The couple owned their home and bank books showed deposits of

THERE'S A PAIR OF SHOES FOR YOU IN THE JANUARY BOX! SEE CASSELMAN'S WINDOW 1/2 Off-Winter Sale--1/4 Off

Tomorrow (Friday) morning we begin our winter clearing of Men's, Women's and Children's Shoes, and as this is a semi-annual event at this store, you will realize that the reductions of one-quarter and one-half off, as intimated above, are of more than usual importance, as most all the shoes offered between seasons here are merely the remnants of goods regularly bought. Not an inferior or second-grade shoe, made up for sale purposes only, in which some dealers trade solely, is ever allowed to enter this store.

Therefore, the shoes this sale offers at one-half and one-quarter off are shoes of sterling quality, made of the best and most fas hionable leathers, and given that careful attention in their making, which means the utmost of shapeliness, service and comfort. Most unusual values will be found amongst these odd lots, discontinued lots, and broken-size lots. EARLY BUYING WILL BE MOST ADVANTAGEOUS.

LINEMAN WAS INJURED

Ed. Nichol Fell From Top of House at Courtright.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Courtright, Jan. 7.-Ed. Nichol, a lineman for the Independent Telephone Company, was thrown from the roof of a moving house here today, and as a result sustained a broken arm and a severe shaking up. He was on the roof, and in some way the building and its sleighs got to one side of the road and turned over far enough to throw him to the ground. Nichol resides in Brigden.

DUMPING OF STONE PROVING EFFECTIVE

Filled Up, But Cause of Trouble Is Still a Mystery.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Wingham, Jan. 7.—The dumping of hundreds of loads of stone and gravel into the mysterious hole on the 10th concession of Turnberry Township, is beginning to have effect, and what appears to be a solid bottom has been obtained on which to build the portion of roadway which sank out of sight.

Cause Still Uncertain. Nothing definite as to the cause of the accident has been learned, and it the district. One is that an under-ground current, by the process of erosion has eaten away the earth from wood and logs, placed there 50 years the dollar. ago, had rotted away.

Both ideas are plausible, but the theory of the rotting brushwood does not explain the sinking of a field close to the Belgrave road, about a and I confirm the acts and resolutions quarter of a mile out of Wingham.

The hole swal-lowed up everything that was put into Says He Took Cheques From The it, and the attempt to fill it was finally given up, and there it remains.

Expense of Repairing.

It will cost about $1,500 to repair the Turnberry road, and probably $3,000 or more to fill the hole close to the Belgrave road. This cavity takes the form of a deep ditch, skirting the road for a distance of about fifty yards. It has been filled with gravel and rocks and is covered temperarily, but the ground is like jelly in consistency, and will not bear the weight of a man. Further developments are being looked for when the break-up in the spring comes.

ROBE FOR ARCHDEACON

St. Johns, London Township, Congregation, Remember Rector.

The annual Christmas and New Year's treat of St. John's Church, London Township, was held last night in the Arva town hall, and was a big success. The hall was filled to its capacity, and the whole congregation, beside many others cal, was rendered by the children. Then followed a series of lantern views, descriptive and comic, exhibited by Mr. Henry Light, of Huron College, which were greatly enjoyed.

After this came the Christmas tree, brilliantly illuminated object, and covered with presents. There seemed gifts for everyone, so abundant were they. Among them was a magnificent fur sleigh robe given to the Archdeacon from the people with a gift for Mr. Richard Lee, assistant, and similar favors for Mrs. Richard The whole affair was a happy one and exceeded all preceding ones-a credit

Cave-In at Turnberry Is Being If Government Pays Farmers' Losses In Farmers' Bank-Agreement Signed, > [Special to The Advertiser.] Brucefield, Jan. 7.—Believing that losses they sustained in the Farmers Bank failure are to be made good by the Government, hundreds of victims of the smash in this locality are signing an agreement which has been sent to them.

At a meeting held here yesterday afternoon there was a large attendance of depositors. Rev. Mr. Gilmour, of Ripley, was present, and explained is probable that the real cause will always remain a matter for conjecture.

Two theories are held by residents of the depositors if they were willing to reimburse the shareholders to the amount of their double liability if the Government of Canada recouped underneath the roadway, and another that the road simply sank into the bog after a primitive foundation of brush-

Several occurrences during the conditions that of the Parliament of try. Several occurrences during the last few years tend to bear out this theory. Two years ago a well was being drilled on the 14th concession of the township of Culross. A fairly good flow of water was obtained, but thinking to get still better, the well-drillers went two feet further down. Suddenly registence to the drill ceased and $150,000 or such smaller sum as denly resistance to the drill ceased, and the flow of water also ceased. The supposition then was that the drill had claims of the liquidator against the contributories for double into the course of an underground and also my proportionate share of the stream, and the water which before said expenses, but the said expenses had come to the surface then followed are not to exceed five per cent. on Norway Pine Syrup. Mrs. C. G. Dring, Hamilton, Ont. writes :- "Our little boy has been subject to severe bronchitis ever since birth, and different doctors claimed to be only able to relieve him temporarily. A neighbor advised us to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle, and after the third dose noticed a decided change, so kept on with it, and a couple of bottles were enough to completely cure him. Now we always keep a bottle on hand, and give it to him as soon as we notice him troubled with a cold, after which it disappears as if by magic. We recom-mend it to all our friends who find it is just as good as I say."

"Father" Clark Sails on Seventeenth Trip

The advance in stocks during the morning was due largely to the strong technical position of the market, although the movement was assisted by heavy absorption of Reading and the improvement of monetary conditions in foreign financial centres. When shorts attempted to cover they found only a small supply of stock available around vesterday's closing range.

available around yesterday's closing range and were forced to bid higher. Reports of a possible segregation of Reading's as-sets attended the active bidding for that stock. Call money renewed at 2½ per cent. and there was further relaxation in quotations for time loans and mercantile

The Dominion Abbatoir Asks for Rating as Manufacturing Concern.

The appeal of the Dominion Abattoir ompany against being assessed as a merchant was commenced before Judge Talbot Macbeth this morning. The company, through its solicitor, Hume Elliott, claimed that it was carrying manager, E. Rechnitzer, was put in the ox to show that a large part of concern's business was in the nianufacture of lard, sausages, fertilizers tinned meats and other commodities, 22 hands being employed. Mr. Rechnitzer said that the machinery in the factory cost $29,000. On the request of City Solicitor T. G. Meredith, an adjournment was made to Friday, Jan. 23, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon to enable the city to ascertain the extent to which the company carries on a manufacturing business. If it is proven that the company is a manufacturing concern rather than a firm of wholesale butchers it will mean a material difference in taxes, as manufacturers are given an exemp tion in the annexed district where the Dominion Abattoir is located.

and the tragedies through which she has passed have left their stamp. She always maintained that Macgregor was innocent of the death of her son Scyrel and the other members of her family. Today she went into details of every illness of her husband, John Wesley Sparling, and her sons, Peter Albert and Scyrel. In her own way she attempted to point out that their deaths resulted from natural causes. Throughout she contended that village gossip was responsible for the arrest of herself and the doctor. Innocent Man Convicted.

In response to several questions, Mrs. Sparling said: "I will tell you my story. It has never been fully brought out. An innocent man has been sent to prison, and I am going to demand that I be brought to trial. My husband and my sons Peter, Albert and Scyrel, all died from natural causes. They were never strong. They were sick, many times, and had different doctors." Mrs. Sparling told of various complaints of her husband, of his siege of illness in the Canadian West and of his death. She told how Peter had been subject to fits. She then pointed out how her sons Albert and Scyrel had undergone operations in 1910. Throughout her story Mrs. Sparling did not speak in bitterness. She did,
