the contract with the hydro-electric commission was signed by me as mayor of the city. The will of the people was clearly expressed, and had no hesitation in signing it. Now, provision must be made for distributing the power. The special power committee can make arrangements to receive and distribute power, when it comes, on behalf of the city. The waterworks commission could probably manage the business of power distribution more efficiently and economically than any other body. The council should consider the advisability of applying to the Legislature for power to change the board of water commissioners to a public utility commission, which body might have charge of the work at present done by the board of water commissioners, also the work of receivdistributing Niagara the leadership of the Ontario Opposition. The latest report from Toronto, which names Rev. D. C. Hossack as the successor of Mr. MacKay, is pre mature, to say the least. The Advertiser learns that Mr. MacKay's retirement is almost a certainty, though he will probably consent to retain command during the ensuing session of as to the choice of a new leader will rest with some body fairly representative of the rank and file, and will not be determined by a clique. Both Mr MacKay and Mr. Graham were chosen parliamentary colleagues. There was no dissatisfaction in the party with that method of appointment, but some other plan may be necessary if the new leader is to come from outside the Legislature. Mr. MacKay accepted the appointment with the proviso that a convention should be called session, and it will designate the man things about us in the past. upon whom Mr. MacKay's mantle is to fall. In the meantime the question is certain to be canvassed. The officers of the provincial organization cannot fairly be accused of usurping the right of the rank and file if they are considering the matter, and perhaps sounding available men. We do not know whether that stage has been reached, but it is plain that some negotiation will be necessary before a decision can be made. It would be useless for a representative convention to offer the leadership to anyone before being assured that it would be accepted.

THE TICKET-OF-LEAVE MEN.

An interesting feature of the report on Canadian penitentiaries for the year ended March 31, 1908, just issued by of saying that the charges of the Tothe Minister of Justice, is the chapter ronto News were hearsay. on the parole system by Mr. W. P. Archibald, the Dominion parole officer. It shows that during the year 215 convicts were released on parole from the penitentiaries, and 186 from reformatories, prisons and jails-a total of 401. Since the inception of the system ten years ago, 2,046 paroles have been granted, while only 21 licenses were cancelled for cause.

The parole officer suggests the need of each provincial government appointing a parole or probationary officer, in order that those released from provincial prisons might be given Since grandmother's song has reached a more thorough oversight, as the work in connection with the penitentiarles demands all his attention.

Regarding the treatment of the releared convicts by society, Mr. Arch- And that I shall sing and pass along: ibald has this to say:

"The attitude of a community toward the prisoner is due to the same misapprehensions which have made it so difficult to successfully deal For you make trouble double when you with the prisoner when he regains his liberty. I have known even the church to look askance at the man who has once worn a prison garb, who for months, and sometimes years, had been living an honest life after his release. The need of the hour is not so much the devising of means or methods to help the paroled or discharged prisoner, but to improve and educate the public a doctor." sentiment in its attitude toward the discharged prisoner, and to make it a possibility for the man who has fallen to have a fair chance to earn able when he realizes that he must have patients." his way without the pauperizing effect of assistance by doles, institutional or profesisonal. Employment with a helpful environment is the key to the whole situation."

The world's treatment of the crim inal, the officer characterizes as criminal. Society, he says, has made it very easy for a man to go astray, but almost impossible for him to reform and regain his lost social status. By turn ing its back on a released convict-perhaps a mere youth and a first offender -society leaves him to the only available companionship, that of the crim-departing passengers. Their luggage spread itself on the roof of the bus, crowned hat, who had a ceaseless cough, The train was full. They settled themselves into their places and almost at once the bell rang and they were off The girl's cough troubled Suter. She looked consumptive. And to travel with no wrap on a chilly evening! He volunteered to shut the window by him, but she shook her head with a coquettish laugh. "Oh, I'm for fresh air, I am! I can't put up with no stuffiness! That's out of date now!" She sat with a wind blowing her hair into her eyes and her cough echoed through the carriage. Suter did not argue. He screened Dickie with a newspaper and looked out at the flying telegraph posts. They flew on with a smooth speed. All at once there came a grating, a grind, a shiver through the whole train as the brakes went on with such violence that people were thrown from side to side in the carriages. Suter flung out an arm and held

The child had been nearly thrown from the seat. The girl with the cough turned pale and screamed loudly. The fat man scrambled wildly from his place. He made one long step to the window and stared out, "Great Scott!" he called back over his shoulder, "It's the cross lines! We're in a tight place!"

Suter released Dickie and sprang to his side. He, too, thrust his head out He saw another line that ran at right angles with their own and a train coming at full speed down it. Their own train shook and shivered on them as the engines were reversed.

"It's on us!" shouted the fat man "The points must have gone wrong! Let me out! Let me out!" He dashed at the window and had a knee over the sill, when, with a crack and a grind like the rending of matchwood, something struck the train and sent it recoiling in a huddled heap. Carriage mounted on carriage and crashed through the splitting roof. Shrieks and cries of agony mingled with the rush of steam and the shouts of the uninjured. It was an instant pandemonium.

THE LONDON ADVERTISER'S FREE EUROPEAN TRIP

Eight Ladies from London, Middlesex, and the surrounding counties, will be afforded a trip to England, Ireland, Scotland and Paris, France, absolutely free of cost. The London Advertiser will pay the entire expense. The ladies will travel first-class, and will be afforded the opportunity of a lifetime to visit the motherland and also Paris, the most beautiful and most interesting city on the continent of Europe. There will be no care or responsibility upon members of the party; an experienced guide will conduct them to all the places of interest in the itinerary. A ballot appears in today's Advertiser on page two. Ballots cannot be bought. They must be cut from the paper or secured with subscriptions. Read the particulars and fully grasp what the magnificent offer means.

NOMINATION BLANK

London Advertiser's Free European Trip.

Each candidate must be properly nominated and indorsed on the following blank, which does not count as a vote.

The names of the candidates nominated will be printed in The London Advertiser regularly.

We hereby nominate and indorse who we know to be over 18 years of age, as the most popular lady in District No.....

(Name of Nominator.)

Conditions--Read Carefully

Any lady 18 years of age or over on Feb. 1, 1909, is eligible, provided conditions set forth herewith are complied with. Every candidate must be regularly nominated on the blank printed on this page or on a similar blank furnished by The Advertiser. Candidates may nominate themselves or their friends may do so for them. Each candidate must be indorsed by at least two responsible citizens in the town or county where she resides. The candidate must reside in the district or territory from which she is nominated, but she can accept votes from outside her district, anywhere in Canada or the United States. Any candidate removing from this district or territory after being nominated will lose all votes received, and no candidate will be allowed to transfer votes. The right is reserved to withdraw the offer in any district where only one candidate is nominated or voted for. Names of candidates who have been nominated properly will be published every day, if possible, with the number of votes such candidates have received. If the name of the lady you want to vote for is not in the list, nominate her properly when you send your ballots, or before, if possible. Ballots sent in containing the names of candidates not regularly placed in nomination will be destroyed uncounted. A ballot will be printed every day on Page 2 of The Advertiser. This ballot will count for one vote, if it contains the name of any candidate properly nominated. Special ballots for cash subscriptions will be furnished when such subscriptions are paid. All ballots will be numbered and dated and all ballots will be void unless received at The Advertiser office within fifteen days from date issued. The ballots must be sent direct to the EUROPEAN TRIP DE-PARTMENT, ADVERTISER, LONDON, ONT., postage fully prepaid. Agents are not permitted to furnish special ballots to anyone, but they may take subscriptions to be forwarded to this office. When this is done, special ballots will be forwarded direct to the subscriber, who will fill in the name of the candidate to be voted for, and return the ballot to The Advertiser at once.

Subscribers paying cash will have their papers delivered by carrier where we have carrier service, by mail or through agent, as they desire. (See the list showing special value coupons on ballots for cash subscriptions.) Such cash subscriptions must be sent to EURO-PEAN TRIP DEPARTMENT of THE LONDON ADVERTISER.

No employee of The Advertiser or member of an employee's family will be eligible as Any successful candidate shall have the right to name a substitute, subject to our approval, if unable to go herself. Such substitute must be named seven days before the date set for leaving London. Any question or controversies that may arise will be settled by The Advertiser alone. All candidates must accept and agree to abide by the above conditions.

To insure that all nominees in the smaller places shall have an equal chance with those in the cities, the territory has been divided into eight districts, and the candidate polling the highest number of votes in each district will be chosen.

District No. 1-All that territory inside the city limits, north of, and including both sides of Dundas street, and west of, and including both sides of Wellington street. District No. 2-All that territory inside the city limits, east of, but not including, Wel-

Dwyer Defendants Win in an Interesting Action

The case of N. L. Marten, assignee for the benefit of the creditors of Eleanor F. Dwyer, against Eleanor Dwyer, her mother, Mrs. Margaret Dwyer, and her sister, Mrs. Margaret Carey, occupied the attention of the assize court yesterday afternoon. It is alleged that Eleanor F. Dwyer, while in an insolvent condition, transferred certain properties to the control of her mother, with intent to defraud her creditors.

The case of the land in question is as follows: It was bought by John W. Dwyer, a brother of Eleanor F. Dwyer, who deeded it to his parents, receiving a mortgage on the property in exchange. Later, another brother, Thos. Dwyer, paid off the mortgage, and made certain improvements on the property, on the understanding that it should eventually revert to him. Later Mrs. Dwyer deeded the property to her daughter Eleanor, without the knowledge of Thomas Dwyer. The Plaintiff's Case.

Mr. F. P. Betts, counsel for -the plaintiffs, attempted to get the various witnesses to acknowledge that there had been much talk in the household ONO NO THE MATTER, and that, on receiving mmunications from the firm of Cronyn & Betts, threatening action for seizure against the land, Eleanor Dwyer had fraudulently redeeded this property to her mother, to evade such seizure, and Mrs. Carey had subsequently taken out a mortgage on the

Mrs. Dwyer, Miss Eleanor Dwyer, and Mrs Carey all denied any such conversation or understanding regarding the land. In summing up, Mr. Betts said that it was perfectly plain that the property belonged to the mother, and was transferred to Eleanor Dwyer as her sole and only property through life. The defendant was insolvent before the giving of the impeached land, and it was a suspicious circumstance that the deed had not been registered til the day the assignment was made.

Defendant Wins. "There are certainly circumstances of supicion," said his lordship, "but I think the charges have been rebutted. If the property belonged to Thomas Dwyer, subject to the life estate of his mother, there was then nothing fraudulent in transferring the property to insure its being safe from seizure. "The defendants have shown that the property belonged to Thomas, subject to the rights of his sister, Eleanor, during life. Thomas did not get the but his right to it was acknowledged by his mother. This being the case, I do not think that the transfer was made with intent to defraud, but was a bona fide transfer made in good "Regarding the mortgage to Mrs

Carey, I find that this was given for the time, and that therefore the mortgage was made in good faith. "Considering these facts, I find that the action with costs."
