in strike movements.

Detroit, Jan. 3.—A petition requesting the use of the Ford Motor Company's plant here for the manufacture of cars for employees was being circulated among employees today for signature. The request proposes that the company turn over the plant to the workers during the period of the shutdown announced last week. Employees, the petition states, will agree to pay for all raw material, and to return the plant in as good condition as it is at present. The petition is being circulated by men who call themselves a "committee of Ford workers."

Officials at the plant said they had not heard of the request. All departments of the Highland Park plant were closed today, it was said at the plant.

Routine went on today without a break. The mayor came to his office at the usual hour, signed pay sheets and other documents and carried on with city business generally just as though there never had been an election.

This same state of affairs probably will be noticeable when the council holds its inaugural meeting at 11 o'clock next Monday morning. With only three new members to "learn the north the year's program without delay. The striking committee will meet this week. It is composed of the mayor as chairman and the aldermanic candidates in each ward who secured the highest vote, namely, Ald. B. F. Brighton, J. C. Wilson, F. R. Watkinson and C. G. Moorhead. In all probability the former aldermen will be allocated to the committees on which they served last year. That is, Aldermen Brighton, J. C. Wilson, F. E. Harley, F. R. Watkinson and C. G. Interest in the county elections today is probably greater than in any previous year. New issues and new parties have added to the complication of circumstances which usually elects the Middlesex county council.

Whether the battle for the wardenship will be fought on old party lines, Grit against Tory, or on new party lines, United Farmer against Fusionist, remains to be seen. There are strong U. F. London, Dec. 3.—A number of the morning papers contain comment on the burning of the Irish town of Midleton on Saturday, several remarking that it had been supposed that martial law in Southwestern Ireland would put an end to such reprisals. Nowhere is there outspoken approval of the punishment meted out to the Irish village by Major-General Sir Edward Strickland, and there evidently is some reluctance to indorse this method of keeping order. In official statements it is declared that seven dwellings in Midleton were destroyed as a result of an ambush of police near that town last Wednesday. Board of Education.
Board of Educat greater than in the 1920 election. Mr. McBride's total vote on Saturday was 900 short of his vote in the election last year. A year ago it was a three-cornered contest, with Mr. McBride as the chief contender against Mr. Church. The re-election of Mayor Church was no surprise. Even Mr. McBride's supporters admitted before the vote supporters admitted before the vote was taken that Mayor Church would probably win. The big electric deal put through a short time ago by Sir Adam Beck on behalf of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission and the city of Toronto practically made Mayor Church's re-election a certainty, is he was known as an active supporter of the movement from the first, whereas, Mr. McBride, who claimed to be as ardent a supporter of the hydro as the mayor, was regarded as a late convert to the movement.

Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg was the riginator of the famous treaty guaranteeing the neutrality of Belgium as a "scrap of paper." The reference was made in a statement before the Reichstag in August, 1914, fore the Reichstag in August, 1914, when he gave the German viewpoint of what causes led to the war. He frankly admitted in this same speech that Germany's action in invading Belgium had been morally and legally wrong. He justified it only on the grounds of "military necessity."

"Our troops have occupied Luxemberg and perhaps have found it Decessary to invade Belgian territory," he said on August, 1914. "That is contrary to international law. Was Forced Out.

Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg was chancellor of Germany from July 4, 1909, to July 14, 1917. He was succeeded in the office by Dr. George Michaelis, an appointee of the former kalser. It was said that Von Bethmann-Hollweg was forced out of office through the efforts of the militarists, headed by Von Hindenburg and Ludendorff, largely because of his "scrap of paper" statement and his admission that the German invasion of Belgium was unjust. The former chancellor had on several occasions issued statements blaming the militarists for the war, these appearing in 1916 and 1917, while in the two previous years he had frequently declared that England alone was responsible. The plebiscites on the proposal to join in the erection of a technical school and to withdraw from the Essex Border Utilities Commission, resulted in affirmation to the sum required should the technical school and the provements voted upon carried entail a total expenditure of $225,000 in addition to the sum required should the technical school be established.

'Hold-Up' Youth STUDENTS PLANNING Used Water Gun CLOSE CO-OPERATION

Alleged Robber at Galt.

GALT, Jan. 1 .- Adolph Yirak, a sixteen-year-old Bohemian youth, who comes from a respectable Waterloo family, is in the local jail charged with holding up the young lady clerk of George Bernhardt on Friday at noon, and getting $20. His arrest was effected by the local police at Waterloo this afternoon, and the "gun," a 40-cent water pistol, which he had purchased in a local store, recovered. It is a good imitation of an automatic, but just illustrates the fear that people have illustrates the fear that people have of anything resembling a gun, and in this case the bluff worked. The police, after an early investigation, came to the conclusion that the hold-up was the work of an amateur, since he had visited the store twice before selling brooms. It appears that the lad was selling brooms in his holidays to make some spending money. He will appear in court tomorrow.

LIFFORD DEVEREUX AND HIS TALENTED COMPANY, IN "THE SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL," TO-NIGHT AT THE GRAND.

No comedy that has ever been written contains a deeper human interest han does "The School for Scandal," by dichard Brinsley Sheridan, which will be presented by Clifford Devereux and its company at the Grand Opera House onight, Tuesday and Wednesday matise.

its the fact that the action is laid Despite the fact that the action is laid in the eighteenth century, its characters are as modern as any 1921 production on Broadway. They are all very real people, and go to prove that human nature does not change with the passing years. Manners and customs, may change; costumes and fashions may be superseded with each season, and modes the season and modes. change; costumes and fashions may be superseded with each season, and modes of living may be altered, but through the ever-varying periods the human heart remains the same. This is shown clearly in "The School for Scandal," for although the characters lived in the eighteenth century, they were at heart yery much like the people of today. That is what makes "The School for Scandal" such a rich and enjoyable comedy. It has all the romance, the gallantry, the intrigue and picturesque customs of the eighteenth century, but its action can be readily translated into the life of today, and its story can readily be a chapter from the life of twentieth century society.

chapter from the life of twentieth century society.

Thus this play has a charm all its own and as produced by the Devereux Company it becomes as interesting and as entertaining as any play that has ever been produced. The story is one that compels the attention from the very beginning, and as the plot is unfolded through its consistent progressions the interest of the audiences becomes deeper.

The action takes place in a time when powdered wigs, frills and lace ruffles were the mode of dress, and all these details have been carefully taken into consideration by Mr. Devereux in producing the play. The costumes are gorgeous in color, accurate in fashion, and no more artistic stage effect could be secured than is obtained in the first act of "The School for Scandal" when nearly all the characters in the play are on the stage at one time, and their many-hued costumes blend in one bright array of color.

OF THE CANADIAN WILDERNESS, "NOMADS OF THE NORTH," AT ALLEN.

Mountain lions, wolves bears, deer, all the wild animals of the forest play big parts in James Oliver Curwood's wonderful drama of the far Canadian wilderness, "Nomads of the North," which is showing at the Allen today, tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday.

A forest fire so real that it staggers you; a battle so fierce that it awes you. And what a story! Picture it! Raol Challoner and his wife and baby, accompanied by a big black bear and a huge dog lost to the world in their little cabin in God's Great Wilderness. While Raol was away trapping the violator had come leering crafty, powerful. At Nanette's call the door of the cabinet crashed in, and the cabin thundered to the roar of battle as Neewa the Bear, and Brimestone the Dog plunged to the aid of their mistress. Then came the mounted police to take Raol back to civilization and prison, and as the policeman trapper, wife, baby and dog and bear started back to the station, their whole world burst into flame. back to the station, their whole world burst into flame.
You'll never forget "Nomads of the North," no matter what other pictures you see in the future. A special musical score is offered with the picture, and the overture, "Artic Sketches," should be particularly effective and beautiful. CARNIVAL SCENES IN DALTON PICTURE AT LOEW'S—STAR WINS HER LAUREL WREATH FOR HER DANCING IN LATEST VEHICLE COMING HERE.

The New Orleans Mardi Gras is realistically produced in "A Romantic Adventuress," the Paramount production, starring Dorothy Dalton, which is scheduled for today, Tuesday and Wednesday at Loew's Theatre.

Miss Dalton was never more beautiful than in her magnificent costume as Titania, Queen of the Night, in which she wins the laurel wreath. She says she never enjoyed a scene more than this one in all her career as a motion picture star.

"A Romantic Adventuress," which was adapted from "A Winter City Favorite," by Charles Belmont Davis, shows Miss Dalton as Alice Vanni, daughter of an old dancing master of New Orleans, whose mother deserts her in infancy to go to New York and live a life of ease, after her father's death, Mrs. Vanni, now known as Mrs. Martyn, takes her daughter to New York and exploits her beauty and talent as a dancer. While visiting in Monte Carlo, Mrs. Vanni endeavors to blackmail an Italian into marrying her daughter.

EDUCATION BOARD NEW YEAR BREAKS PLEDGED TO UNIT COLLEGIATE PLAN

In Opinion of Secretary R. M.

HISTORY OF STRUGGLE

Board Will Hold First Meeting | Three Brothers Are Fined for of Year Thursday.

That the board of education, by its own action, is definitely pledged to the unit, or three school, plan in connection with the Collegiate Institute controversy was the opinion expressed today by R M. McElheran, secretary of the board of education. He is also of the opinion that this stand of the 1920 board canno he changed without a notice of motion presented at the first regular meeting of the new board and which will require to be passed by a two-third vote of the board at a subsequent meeting.

The history of the struggle over the system to be adopted in the provision of Collegiate accommodation briefly is that at a regular meeting of the board on Cottober 5, 1999, if was decided to prober 5, 1920, it was decided to pro ceed with the erection on the old Col-legiate site of a 26-roomed, three-floor building. Following this, considerable inlegiste site of a 20-roomed, three-floot building. Following this, considerable in-formation with regard to a unit system was secured by members of the board, who were also informed that as a result of experience the department of education favored the unit system. As a result of the securing of this data. Trustee Rowe, on December 7, at a regular meeting gave notice of motion, that at the next meeting of the board, he would move that the action of the board on October 1 he receipton. the board on October 5 be reconsidered and rescinded, and that the board adopted the unit system, providing for a 16-roomed high school north of the Cana-dian Pactific Railway; a 10-roomed build-ing to be erected in South London and provision for a ten-roomed school in East London when required.

meeting of the board held on December 10, and Trustee Rowe, seconded by Trustee Coleridge, moved the reconsideration of the action of the board on October 5. The motion was carried, and on the yeas and nays being called for, it was declared carried by 11 to 3. The motion to rescind the previous motion of the board was then moved by Trustee Rowe, seconded by Trustee Coleridge, and carried by the same vote. Mr. Rowe's substitute motion, seconded by Mr. Coleridge, approving the unit system, and the erection of three onded by Mr. Coleridge, approving the unit system, and the erection of three schools, one of 16 rooms north of the C. P. R.; a 10-room school in South London, and the provision for a 6-roomed school in East London when required, was adopted, and the board's architect was instructed to proceed importantly with the preparation of plans architect was instructed to proceed immediately with the preparation of plans and specifications for such buildings.

Answering a question, Mr. McElherar. said that the only way in which the motion of December 10, which has set the policy of the board, can be undone is by notice of motion presented at the first regular meeting of the hoard. otion of December 10, which has set the policy of the board, can be undone is by notice of motion presented at the rest regular meeting of the board, which will have to be approved by a wo-third majority if the present deslared policy of the board is to be again reversed.

Asked whether the meeting of the board which will take place at 8 p.m. on Thursday next, would be a meeting at which such a notice of motion could be received. Mr. McElheran said he did not think so. 'It is very doubtful to me whether that meeting is a 'regular' meeting in the sense of the act. Thursday's meeting is set by statute for the inauguration of the board and the election of a chairman. The act says that this shall take place on 'the first meetings' after the first Monday after the first Monday after this shall take place on 'the first Thursday after the first Monday after the election.' The regular meetings of the board are set for the first Tuesday of each month," said Mr. Mc-Eiheran.

THREE-DAY SPELL OF CRIMELESS CITY

Eighteen Persons Faced the Magistrate At First 1921 Sitting of Court.

BRUTAL ASSAULT

Although the year 1920 became absogave many indications of inherent wild- A. ness and immorality in the local police court today. In contrast to the old year, which established a city record of three straight days without a crime immediately before it passed into eternity, the new year brought eighteen persons charged with various offences committed during the first two days of ing over a card game played in Simon Anderson's room in the Talbot street house. They pleaded not guilty, but the magistrate absolutely refused to believe their stories, each of which were different.

According to the evidence given by Benedick, he was playing cards with the other three. James Anderson claimed that a pair of aces beat two pair, and so he grabbed a five-dollar bill which had been put up as stakes. Benedick claimed that he won the money, so he struck at Anderson, whereupon the three Andersons piled on him. They cut his eyes, blackened both of them, and generally bruised his face. He escaped from the house, and went to the police station, where he laid a charge of assault, occasioning bodily harm, against the three of them. hree of them. Police Sergt. R. Monteith and Constables J. Oakley and T. Tomlin went to the house and put the three Ander-sons under arrest. To the police the trio admitted the assault, but when they appeared in court today they de-nied the charge. They claimed that Benedick was drunk when he came to the house and that he fell over and cut his face. As one of them, however, said the plaintiff, had cut his face on the dresser, and the other two claimed the wash stand, respectively, the magistrate would not believe any of Benedick's face was in a terrible condition when he appeared in court. His eyes were nearly closed, his nose swollen, and his face and clothing covered with help in the covered with the cover Created a Disturbance. As the result of

Sixty-Fourth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lilley, residents in the city since 1857, celebrated the 64th anniversary of their wedding on New Year's Day at their home, 390 Adelaide street. The two children, Mrs. Frank Barnard of Detroit and Frank Lilley of New York, came home to celebrate with their parents. A profusion of flowers, many telegrams and lovely gifts found their way to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lilley on this occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Lilley were married in St. Paul's Cathedral on January 1, 1857, by the curate, Rev. Mr. O'Nell, who has since died. The bridesmaid. Miss Emmile Radlings, and the best man, Mr. Thomas Shoebottom, are also dead. For many years, Mr. Lilley conducted a grocery store opposite the Sacred Heart Convent on Dundas street. The change became effective on and after Saturday, January 1. On the very day of its birth it gave evidence that it did not like a crimeless city such as 1920 had made London, for two drunks and one vagrant fell into the clutches of the police during New Year's Day. Not, however, until the second day did it really kick over the traces, and although it was Sunday, sixteen people were lodged in the cells.

TRIBUTE TO CARDINAL.

Boston, Jan. 3.—A glowing tribute to Cardinal Gibbons and a warning to reformers to cope with present-day problems in a practical and humble fashion, were contained in the New Year's message delivered by Bishop William Lawrence, Episcopal, at St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday.

"The idea that supreme Christians must be Puritanical and supremely serious antagonizing and stirring up things, is wrong," said Bishop Lawrence. "Christ won his way full of truth and grace. Let us work out our Christian problems in humble, impersonal acts."

Referring to the serious illness of Cardinal Gibbons the bishop said: "He represents a great Christian church, and has been a consistent spokesman for his church throughout years of great problems in both national and international affairs. He has always been full of grace and truth. He has dwelt among the people and earned their high regard and affection. Should be pass to the Beyond, he will always live in our memory as a man of grace and truth."

Educational Campaign Will Shortly Be Under Way.

"The motor bus is not a dead issue by any means," Ald. F. E. Harley declared today. "Considering the small amount of educational work that was done regarding it, I think it received remarkable support. I intend to stand by it because I believe the motor-bus system to be the most effective way of augmenting our transportation facilities.

"Undoubtedly if it had not been opposed by interested parties it would have received a much larger support.

Montreal, Jan. 3.—The death occurred brief illness, of Selina widow of the late John Edgar.

Mrs. Edgar was born at Clifton, Somer-setshire, England. She came to Canada with her family still a young girl, and after living for some time at Hamilton Ont., came to Montreal. She had resided here ever since her marriage to John Edgar, who predeceased her in 1913. She was interested in charitable work in the city for many years, and at the time of her death was corresponding secretary for the Protestant Infants' Home, while she had for many years been a member of the King's Daughters of the Church of St. James the Apostle at which church she and her family attended for a long time past.

"YOUR VICTORY, NOT VANDALS SET FIRE MINE," SAYS MAYOR TO L. & P. S. STATION

Mid-day Luncheon.

Mayor E. S. Little was accorded an ovation marked by the greatest possible enthusiasm when President James Gray of the Rotary Club called upon him to make a five-minute speech at the club's Monday noon luncheon in the Tecumseh House to-

In take no great credit for it," said Mayor Little, referring to his big majority on Saturday. "It wasn't my victory, but your victory. I have merely been the instrument of carrying out wishes of the real citizens of London—the citizens who recognize that now is a critical time when a change of civic administration would be inadvisable. It is also a great vindication of the Rotary principles that the profits most who serves best."

Lieut.-Col. W. M. Gartshore, jocularly introduced as "the man who just squeezed in," said he was glad he was not depending this year on the vote of the city clerk, the unspoken but understood reference being to his loss of the mayoralty election several years ago when he tied with Dr. H. A. Stevenson.

Ald. G. A. Wenige, F. E. Hayloy, John ago when he tied with Dr. H. A. Stevenson.

Ald. G. A. Wenige, F. E. Harley, John Bridge, Trustees A. A. Langford, Harry Hayman and W. T. Clark made very brief addresses. Ald. Bridge thanked the businessmen especially who, having votes in the business districts as well as in their residential wards, took the trouble to vote for aldermen in more than one ward.

C. B. King drew the weekly prize, donated this week by Will Young.

W. E. Saunders gave an interesting talk on birds, mice, bats, moles- and other small creatures of the woods and fields. Different localities in the same latitude have different birds, he explained, because of the different altitudes. Around London one finds many t species not found at Woodstock, and vice versa, because London has a higher altitude than Woodstock. Specimens of cardinals, Louisiana water thrushes, summer tanagers, cross-bills, jumping wood mice, many varieties of moles, Arctic tern, and other birds and animals were exhibited.

The Arctic tern is a remarkable little fowl of the gull family, which loves daylight so well that when the Arctic day begins to dim into Arctic tillight this tern migrates by some unknown route all the way to the other end of the world, the Antarctic regions.

To the successful board of education candidates, Mr. Saunders made the suggestion that if the school children, Rotarians, and other people who love birds, would pick up the dead specimens they find and take them to a taxidermist, doing work for the school board, it would be possible to build up collections for the schools and other institutions without trapping and killing any birds.

ANNUAL RALLY HELD IN NEW ST. JAMES'

Large Attendance of Presbyterian Sunday School Children.

On New Year's Day the annual rally of the Presbyterian Sunday Schools of the city was held in New St. James Presbyterian Church, when a record number was in attendance. The service number was in attendance. The service was mostly given over to devotion, followed by a "chalk talk" by J. W. Bengough, cartoonist, of Toronto. The cartoons were both amusing and instructive, and tended to teach the young people to follow out the resolutions made at the beginning of the year.

Cecil Snelgrove of the King Street Presbyterian Church acted as leader of the gathering, and Rev. W. J. Knox led the praise service. Miss Erie Mitchell and Miss Kathleen Easterbrook of St. Andrew's Sunday School sang a Christmas Carol, and Helen and William Young of Chalmers Presbyterian Church rendered a duet. Walter Rennle added to the musical program by giving several violin selections.

The special offering which was taken up will be given to the Children's Memorial Hospital Fund.

Measure all things by a yardstick of material worth. We stand in need of a spiritual awakening to a realization that material things do not make a full life."

Would Regret.

The second attitude was one of levity and thoughtlessness toward life. As an illustration he told of crowds of young people who recently in New York City paraded the street, crying: "To hell with the old year; hurray for the new." Underlying those cries he said there was a great fallacy. It told of a wasted year. Those young people who entered the new year under a curse should regret 1921 before its end.

"We should." Dr. Peever said, "enter the new year with praise and thanksgiving towards a kind Providence who has brought us through thus far in life." He urged his auditors to carry out their program of life with fidelity during the year and to always face forward and unward.

only hope that the board will get busy and do something at once."

Mrs. W. A. Tanner, who was a school board member last year, and still retains office, has a very different outlook.

"The election certainly looks as if the people of London favored the central school idea," she declared. "But we realize that the cry for a central school was started in the city from a certain quarter, and that it was put in such a way as to arouse the people to work in favor of it, but we believe that the people do not understand the situation, or they would never have woted that way. I also feel that as soon as the new board members have come into the board they will see the situation altogether differently. They do not understand the question now, but I mean to see that it is brought to a discussion shortly in the board, and then I am firmly convinced that they will change their opinions, which were formed just previous to election time by a sentimental appeal coming fropeople who did not understand the suation.

Taking his text. "For Ye Have Not Passed This Way Before," Dr. R. G. Peever in the First Methodist Church preached on the subject. "Man's Right-ful Attitude Toward Life in 1921." He based his sermon on three different attitudes which men could take towards life.

There was, he said the purely commercial attitude in which man makes "acquisition" his chief motive in life. When the Bible, Dr. Peever continued, passed the condemnation of "Thou provided the school question an election issue."

attitudes which men could take towards life.

There was, he said, the purely commercial attitude in which man makes "acquisition" his chief motive in life. When the Bible, Dr. Peever continued passed the condemnation of "Thou Fool" upon the rich man who filled his barns, it passed coundemnation upon the purely commercial life for all time to come. In connection with the phase of his sermon the speaker read in part a speech of the Hon. T. D. Crerar uttered in Winnipeg:

"As a people we have drifted tomasure all things by a yardstick of material worth. We stand in need of a spiritual awakening to a realization that material things do not make a full life."

From the viewpoint of the controversy immediately facing the board in regard to collegiate institute building the result of the election is claimed by the supporters a vindeation of their noticy; four trustees who have definitely stated their stand on this platform having been elected, as against two supporters of the unit system. It is also pointed out that the two trustees supporting the unit system of high schools stand at the bottom of the list of trustees elected. Checking today of election returns from Wadr Four revealed an error in addition, Correction of this reduced Asplant's vote by 100. His total was, therefore, only 4,543, or 22 less than in 1920. The mayor's official majority is 1,960 and not 1,860.

Official totals at the city half also revealed that fact that Mr. Ashplant secured a majority of 175 votes in Ward Three. He was indorsed by 1,344 electors, while only 1,169 cast their ballots for Little.

Correction of another error reduced School Trusted A. N. Udy's total vote from 2,844 to 2,824, but did not change his standing in the list.

Citizens Demonstrate Renewed Confidence in London's Chief Magistrate in Overwhelming Fashion — Last Year's *Aldermen Running For Office All Re-elected.

Mayor E. S. Little today will begin his second term of office as a result of moverwhelming victory at the polls aturday. He secured a majority of 1,960 over Henry B. Ashplant. the mayoralty nominee of the Labor repesentation committee. Little's vote was 1,503. Ashplant's was 3,643.

Little's majority was double that of 1920. Last year Little secured 4,362 otes, 1,141 less than this year. Ashplant got 3,565 votes, 22 more than this rear. John M. Parsons received 210 otes last year, making the total vote for mayor in 1920, 8,137. This year the total mayoralty vote was 9,146.

The nine members of the 1920 council who were in the field again all were e-elected. The three new aldermen were lattle was 1,46. Ward 1 furnished an interesting aldermanic fight. Owing to the withdrawal of Alds. Cunningham and Seatows perience on the council, so the "new wholed the race with 803 votes. P. J. Watt has had previous aperience on the council, so the "new wholed" will form only one-sixth of the bouncil.

Lieut.-Col. W. M. Gartshore pracpylaw to issue $100,000 debentures for motor buses was heavily defeated.

Two Labor Men.

Only two members of the whole Labor representation committee's slate were elected. These were Ald. F. R. Wattinson and Ald. John Ashton. Both were on the 1920 council and had strong backing in Ward 3, which is regarded as the principal labor ward of the city. Labor's representation on the council was cut in half. Last year in addition to Watkinson and Ashton, Ald. J. C. Wilson and Harry Wheatcroft were bledged to the L. R. C. platform. While Dr. Wilson was re-elected this year, he can independently. Wheatcroft was not in the field.

Although it ave the mayor handsome majorities in some subdivisions. Ashplant got a total of 1.344 against Little's 1.169; a majority of 175. Little's total majority over Ashplant last year was only 797. This year it was 1.960.

This was the same order as last year. Ald. Harley was the chief sponsor of the motor bus and although his own ward as well as the other three returned heavy majorities against the proposition, he received nearly 200 more votes than last year. William Tite and E. A. Pocock, Labor nominees, were fourth and fifth men; J. H. Harley sixth, and J. E. Secker, another Labor nominee, last.

More Meetings.

Arthur Mould, an officer of the Independent Labor party, pleaded for more meetings in the labor ranks, such as people's forums, which, he declared, to be one step in a definite organization for the future. Frank Crockford suggested less talk and more work for the organized labor of the city, and accompanied by Charles Thorne he indorsed a resolution that the Labor party in London start at once to organize definitely for participation in next yeear's civic campaign. Other speakers included J. F. Thompson, Fred Daly, William Tite and E. A. Pocock, the latter two being defeated labor candidates for the city

Ward 3 also stood by its last year's representatives, returning Ald. F. R. Watkinson at the head of the polls with 1.395 votes; G. B. Drake with 1.228, and W. J. Ashton with 1.220. This is the same order in which they were elected last year, J. G. Hothersall, labor's nominee, received 663 votes, and M. Lerner 540.

Moorhead polled the highest vote of any alderman in the city. W. J. Boss, a man new to London's municipal life, was the third man elected. He got 1,059 votes. The three labor nominees were next in order, but none of them received half as many votes as any of the elected candidates. H. Kibbler got 430; A. F. Vinen 381, and J. H. Chittenden 367. C. E. Howard, R. Fraser, J. Donnelly, F. E. Roberton and D. H. Flannigan completed the list in that order.

Mayor Cheered.

At 9:18 p.m. Saturday, when Mayor Little's re-election was assured by an overwhelming majority, his worship addressed the large crowd of citizens gathered in front of The Advertiser to watch returns bulletined. As he stepped to the sill of a second-story window, Mayor Little was greeted by cheers from the crowd, and at the conclusion of his speech he was given a great ovation. He spoke as follows:

"I don't wish to thank you for the encouraging result so far as the election goes, as I firmly believe what you have done is in the best interests of the city of London. I believe I am the instrument in carrying out your wishes. The last year's council and myself have been criticised. That criticism. I think, has been very ably answered by the results at the polling booths today without an appearance on a public platform, All of the aldermen of 1920 who offered themselves for re-election have been returned to office. We shall have to celebrate a victory of the people, not of any one class, but that of organized labor-capital, and all classes of citizens who have with me been given the important trust of administering the city during the next twelve months.

alty result was issued by Henry B. Ashplant yesterday: "I consider Ashplant's vote of 3,643 yesterday against Little is the greatest achievement on record for organized labor on the political field in the history of London as a municipallity. This splendid success of the Labor party single-handed to increase its vote as it did yestern the party single-handed to increase its vote as it did yestern the party single-handed to increase its vote as it did yestern the party size of t nanded to increase its vote as it did yesterday on the mayoralty ticket for Ashplant over the vote of last year, has established definitely the status of the Labor party as the strongest single unit on the political field in London today.

"Personally I consider that this mayoralty contest was an undisguised two-to-one 'battle-royal,' between organized labor represented by Ashplant, and the combined organizations of both Grit and Tory reactionary capitalist politicians, represented by Little in opposition to the represented by Little in opposition to the working-class candidate, backed by both daily newspapers editorially, and a great massed automobile brigade, with the biggest captains of industry in London personally on the job, and working overtime, with the Rotary Club on the side. In face of this open to the daylight combination of weakness, I regard my increased vote as a decided victory for the workers, and a personal tribute to myself. The fact that Little failed to scrape up a clear 2,000 majority yesterday is to me very significant.

"To me, that fact indicates that the Labor party yesterday landed a black eye on the face of each of the old-line party machines. Because when the gross vote of Little is divided between the Grit and Tory machines it yields to neither of them anything like so strong a vote as 3,643 piled up single-handed for Ashplant, with neither money, advertising in the daily press, or automobiles to bring him support.

"I desire to emphasize the fact that not a single dollar's worth of daily press advertising appeared in any London daily for Ashplant from start to finish of the campaign. In my judgment the London, Ont., Monday, January 3.

A GOOD DAY'S WORK.

The voters of London put in a good day's work on Saturday in re electing to office Mayor Little and every member of last year's council who was a candidate. The fine majority given the mayor is at once a tribute to his administration of last year and a vivid demonstration of the fact that the citizens desire a business. like, careful, conservative administration. At no time in the history of the city has it been so necessary that the city's affairs should be who are devoted to the public interest.

The result of Saturday's polling indicates that London at present has no desire to experiment, socially or politically. Candidates who were more or less directly identified with radicalism were generally badly defeated. The lesson is too plain to be misread. By Saturday's vote it is clear that all sections of the community desire a safe, stable government; one that will advance the city without resorting to dangerous extremes, progressive, yet conservative.

There are many guilty smokers in the connection who might well mend their manners without regard to what extremists think. Tobacco smoke may be very of. upon him whom not expecting it.

By this manoeuvre, she definitely cut off all communication between Margery and the millionaire.

Julie looked gorgeous in my new expensive evening wrap. She had flung a Spanish black lace scarf about her well-coiffed head, too, and it gave her a most distinguished air.

We all three looked at her.

Contrary to the old time custom of ringing in the new year and whistling the old one out, there was no outward demonstration throughout this city, when the ancient ticket bearer started on his last journey up the Aukiksibee to his layout in the water works flats. Mayor Brinkman had ordered whistles and bells to be silenced because of so much illness in every part of the city. People waited up until midnight to join in the celebration and put their clocks in order for the coming year. The only announcement that the old man had gone, came from Big Ben in the city hall tower and even then the folks at home did not realize that a new year was born. In the latter's home they found three cases, one partly full and two empties, of Scotch whiskey, all had DeCocker's address on and from information gained here they learned that DeCocker had brought the Christmas cheer there and had takthe Christmas cheer there and had takn part of it away in bags. Hogs are unchanged at $15 per cwt. Chicago packers dropped prices 40c to 50c last week, and there the tendency is lower than here.

There is practically no changes in the price of poultry, so many people laid in a stock at Christmas that there will not be very many birds offered until spring. Potatoes are slow at $1.75 per bag, wholesale, and $1.90, retail. The future of this product is somewhat uncertain, but it is generally understood that farmers have large supplies of tubers on hand.

Eggs, by the crate, are 75c; 80c per basket, and 90c by the single dozen.

GUELPH .- John Wylie, aged 67, one of the city's oldest and best-known weavers, was found dead in his room shortly after he had gone to rest for awhile by a friend who called. Death was due to natural causes, and no inquest will be held.

Record. He told how at his botanic institute in Calcutta he discovered that all plants reacted to stimulus, and their action closely resembled those of human organisms under similar tests.

By delicate instruments he had succeeded in making plants record their own movements. A carrot became intoxicated under alcohol, and the recording instrument showed a line which from being straight became erratic. Under chloroform or ether a plant became unconscious. He placed the normal rate of the growth of a plant at 100,000th part of an inch in a second He claimed for his discoveries, and particularly for certain magnifiers, that they would be of great use to agriculturists, instancing that he had found that certain substances supposed to be harmful if administered in very small quantities tended to stimulate growth.

strange reversals of testimony from that given at the inquest. Finally Greenwood was acquitted.

One of the stock newspaper "stunts" in England is to get the "life story" of the principal of a trial which has aroused much public interest. In this instance, a big London Sunday newspaper sent a man to see one of Greenwood's lawyers about six weeks before the trial, and tentatively and verbally arranged to get Greenwood's story for $1,000. But as the paper wished to wait and see how the public was going to take the coming trial, no contract was signed.

Three days before the verdict this same paper again sent a representative to Greenwood's lawyer with an tive to Greenwood's lawyer with an offer of $1,250. But this time there were others on the job after the same story—the representatives of three other Sunday papers and two lawyers who said they were acting for anonymous clients.

The bidding started low, and the first man dropped out at $1,250. The figure then climbed to $10,000 before the next quit. The third dropped at $16,000, and the fourth at $17,000. This was the representative who might have obtained the story for $1,000 six weeks before the trial began. There were then left only the two lawyers representing clients unknown. lawyers representing clients unknown. One finally got the story for $26,250, and the identity of the real purchaser was revealed when the paper which had dropped out at $10,000 began printing the story.

Shortage in Accounts

HOW often that heading catches your eye in the newspaper!

The man may have held a position of trust for years. In one recent case we had, the cashier had held his position for 10 years—and had defaulted to the extent of $20,000!

Are you exposed to such a loss?

Remember these are days of high living expenses. Trying to "keep up with the Jones's" may lead the most trusted employees to temptation. Stock speculations are attractive. Gambling and bad habits may tempt anyone-because every man is human!

Let us assume the risk for you.

We can give you a Group Guarantee covering all your employees—as one risk. Or we can furnish a bond covering any individual official or employee in any business.

Let us tell you more about our Bonding service — a protection just as vital, just as valuable to you as the other hazards of commercial life-fire, burglary, liability, etc.-on which you carry insurance.
