BIG SIX-DAY CELEBRATION

It will be Inaugerated in the Maple City Next Monday Morning.

The Austin Store the Scene of the Demonstration—An Entertaining and Unique Movement.

Usually when a man goes celebrating some big achievement of his own, he goes in for all that's in it — for Number One.

Not so the splendid Maple City establishment of Messrs. C. Austin & Co. In the mammoth six-day celebration, which they will inaugurate next Monday morning and keep going till the blinds are drawn the following Saturday evening, the good people of Chatham and the whole district are to have the opportunity of sharing and benefiting. "It's going to be a big, practical, profitable occasion for the thousands of patrons and purchasers.

The program and particulars of this enterprising and unique movement are to be found in Mr. Austin's large and attractive announcement on page four of to-day's issue of your great home journal. It's the official program—and what it says goes.

Eight years ago next Saturday, Oct. 24th, Messrs. Austin & Co. first opened their doors to the Chatham public. It was comparatively a modest inauguration. They carried a general dry goods stock in the store now occupied by Jordan the Jeweller, on the north side of King street.

Despite the fact that the business was opened on a Friday, superstition was no match for sterling enterprise and business activity and integrity — and the establishment developed and progressed in record-breaking time. In a few short months the business moved to more commodious quarters on the other side of the street and rapidly developed its present cosmopolitan proportions, until to-day the business occupies what was formerly four large and separate stores. New departments have been added year by year, and the splendid goods, furnishings, then the clothing dept., millinery was added, carpets followed, and during the past season a large and well-equipped furniture dept. was successfully inaugurated. Messrs. Austin & Co. were the first to put in a delivery wagon—now they use three horses for this purpose. From 1,820 square feet of flooring they have reached a present area of 14,100, while a staff of seven has grown to 55, with extra help on Saturdays.

To celebrate the closing of the eighth year of business in Chatham Messrs. Austin & Co. have decided to inaugurate a week of special prices—a mammoth bargain sale which opens next Monday. It means that every patron shall have a practical, profitable part in the big celebration.

There are many things which have contributed to Mr. Austin's phenomenal success—and by no means the least, as he will tell you himself, is his enterprising and business-like advertising. Mr. Austin is a firm believer in the use of printers' ink and has always been among the Planet's largest advertisers. From his early announcement in Chatham eight years ago until the present time he has always been in the van, and Planet readers have learned to look with keen interest every day for the pointed and practical announcements of the Austin Store.

The results speak for themselves—don't they?

HARRON VS. GRAHAM

Harron vs. Graham et al. This was an action tried at the assizes immediately after the Larabee case and while that jury was out. Evidence was given on the part of the plaintiff on three grounds—first, that he had been evicted from 25 acres out of 64 acres, and the plaintiff was entitled to have the rent proportionately reduced; second, that a notice under statute had been served on the landlord and bailiff, which entitled the plaintiff to set off the rent of the land of which he was deprived; third, that the distress was illegal and the plaintiff was entitled to damages. The defendants attempted to prove a counter claim for rent, amounting to the counter claim and held against the plaintiff on the first and second grounds and with him on the third ground. He allowed the plaintiff $25 damages, J. B. Rankin, K. C., for plaintiff; W. F. Smith contra.

The paving company on Queen street is pushing the work along quite rapidly now and part of the street is already completed, and from Richmond street to School street will be opened for traffic to-night. Both the city's and the company's steam rollers were at work on the street to-day. The ratepayers seem to think well of their new pavement.

Any gentlemen who desire his services should call at his place of business, over Simmons' barber shop, or drop him a post card. It will receive prompt and satisfactory attention.

LORD ABERDEEN'S VIEW.

STRONGLY OPPOSES PROPOSALS OF MR. CHAMBERLAIN.

London Times Regrets the Attitude of the Duke of Devonshire—Lord Goschen Criticized.

London, Oct. 17.—Lord Aberdeen told a Liberal meeting at Skipton last night that Mr. Chamberlain's scheme would seriously impair the fraternity and friendliness of the colonies. He would rather remove the embargo on Canadian cattle, which was really a kind of protection. The available supply of wheat from the United States cannot be increased without an increase in price, and we have reached a critical situation, full of peril unless dealt with boldly and judiciously.

The Morning Post says of Lord Goschen's address: "We appreciate his disquisition on political economy, but there is no trace of any insight into the real issue involved in the trade relations between the United Kingdom and the United States and Canada. In this respect Mr. Chamberlain's incomparable superiority to his critics is established beyond all doubt."

The London Mail publishes an interview with the Hon. G. H. Reid, leader of the Australian Opposition. He says: "Britain has done enough for the colonies without our demanding a price for our aid when the day arrives that Britain can only maintain her position by artificial preferential business tariffs around her. But these are the very last ditch of a nation defeated and driven back in attempts to defend herself from conquering waves. Britain has gained her supreme commercial position by superior technical skill and business enterprise."

The Times observes that the Duke of Devonshire's speech places him in an intermediate position between Premier Balfour and the free importers who go a little further in the application of the principle he accepts for the removal of the mischief he clearly recognizes. He is not going to use the question in such a way as to wreck the Unionist Government.

A syndicate has been formed and registered with a capital of $500,000, to facilitate the distribution of food products to all parts of the empire. Sir Gilbert Parker writes that the possibilities are enormous, and that whatever benefits the company may reap the empire will reap them in greater proportion.

THE PRICE OF PROMOTION.

Another Strange Revelation of New York City's Police Methods.

New York, Oct. 17.—A summons has been issued by Justice Mayer of the Court of Special Sessions for retired inspector of police Walter S. Thompson on a charge of extortion. Thompson is charged with having extorted $2,500 from Sergeant Thomas F. Gilholty, who was shot to death on the night of the last police parade by Jefferson Sanders, a negro. The charge is based upon the allegation that a life insurance policy was taken out by Gilholty in Thompson's favor to secure the sum the former was to pay for his surety.

A DESTRUCTIVE FLAZE.

Aberdeen, in Washington Territory, is Burning.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 17.—A destructive fire is raging at Aberdeen. A special to the News says that the blaze started in the Dix block, and that the three principal business blocks had been totally destroyed, including the opera house, hotel, two banks and one hundred business houses. The fire is spreading to the residence portion. Four fatalities have been reported. The total loss is placed at $1,000,000.

STERN AT WASHINGTON.

Arrested in Toronto in Connection With U. S. Postal Scandals.

Washington, Oct. 17.—Leopold J. Stern, the Baltimore satchel manufacturer, who was indicted for conspiracy to defraud the Government in connection with Postoffice Department contracts, and was afterwards arrested in Canada, arrived here from Toronto in the custody of Postoffice Inspector Mayer. He was taken to a police station.

BELGIAN DEPUTY STABBED.

Struck Down While Taking a Walk.—He May Not Recover.

Brussels, Oct. 16.—M. Peppin, a Socialist member of the Chamber of Deputies, was stabbed at Mons while walking on the street with some friends. There are slight hopes of his recovery. The assassin struck Peppin from behind, and succeeded in making his escape.

WAS MR. TARTE LABELLED?

His Charge Against the Editor of Le Canada.

(Special Despatch to the Globe.) Montreal, Oct. 17.—Hon. J. I. Tarte has had Mr. Godfrey Langlois, Managing Editor of Le Canada, summoned to appear in court on a charge of libel. The alleged libel appears in yesterday's issue of Le Canada.

FIGHT FOR 800 WORKS.

Connes & Bowman Allegations—An Injunction Granted.

Toronto, Oct. 17.—An illegal plan to grant a preference to other creditors as against their claims is alleged in an action entered yesterday by James Connee, M. P. P., and C. M. Bowman, M. P. E. P., against the Central Trust Company of New York, the Algoma Central & Hudson Bay Railway, Speyer & Company of Philadelphia and the Consolidated Lake Superior Company. The plaintiffs desire to set aside certain mortgage deeds, namely, the mortgage made by the railway company to the Central Trust Company; all other mortgages which the road owns or may hereafter own, and all the telegraph lines and general plant and rolling stock; the mortgage purporting to be given to secure a bond issue of the defendant railway company of $6,750,000, filed March 10, 1903; also to set aside a mortgage made by the defendant company to the Central Trust Company of New York and bearing date of January 1st, 1903, purporting to secure a bond issue to the defendant railway company of $6,750,000 and registered against certain lands of the railway company.

Yesterday Mr. N. W. Rowell, K. C., acting for Messrs. Connee and Bowman, sitting for Mr. Justice Britton, and moved for an injunction upon the writ. Mr. Justice Maclaren granted a temporary injunction, returnable on Tuesday next, when argument will be heard. Messrs. Connee and Bowman are judgment creditors against the Algoma Central Railway for work done and material supplied, having obtained judgment on Wednesday last.

A number of the creditors of Sault Ste. Marie, acting through Kehoe, Boyce & McPherson, are taking against all the companies action similar to that taken by Messrs. Connee and Bowman. The writ has been issued at the Sault, and the injunction will be asked for to-day. Some of the creditors represented by Messrs. Kehoe, Boyce & McPherson are Everett & Connor, Smith Bros., Talbot & Co., Spears & Anderson and W. H. Plummer & Co.

C. P. R. LABOR TROUBLES.

Engineers and Firemen Dissatisfied—Meeting at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Oct. 17.—Strained relations exist between the Canadian Pacific management and their engineers and firemen, and a strike may result. A committee have been at Montreal for some time endeavoring to secure concessions from the company, but so far the negotiations have resulted in nothing. The committee consisted of representatives of both engineers and firemen was held yesterday, at which it was decided to take a poll of the men. The men are demanding a revision of the schedule, and the trouble is similar to that recently experienced on the Northern and Northern Pacific roads.

BURIED THE WRONG BOY.

Missing Lad, Mourned as Dead, Turns Up Alive.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—After having been mourned as dead since early in September, Guy Jones, 11 years old, has turned up alive and well. In a grave at Graceland Cemetery is the body of a boy which was buried as that of the missing lad. After a scolding by his father the boy left home. A search by the police revealed a body resembling his floating in the river. The features were distorted, but the parents believed that they had identified their son and buried the corpse as his.

BLAST FURNACES CLOSED.

Shut-down Ordered Without Explanations—600 Men Idle.

Etna, Pa., Oct. 16.—The Isabella blast furnace at Etna closed last night indefinitely, throwing about 600 men out of employment. The entire working force of the two furnaces and the office force were released, only a few men being kept on to clear up the grounds and work on a new refrigerator which is being built. No reason is given for the shut-down, the local officials disclaiming all knowledge of the cause, declaring that they simply received orders on Wednesday from Division Superintendent Scott of the United States Steel Company to close down the furnaces to-day.

TELEGRAPH BREVITIES.

Russia is likely to become a party to the sugar convention.

Hiram Haight of Victoria Road was found drowned at Orilla.

Mr. John Steens of Guelph fell into a quarry and broke his neck.

Col. Sir William Colville, the King's Master of Ceremonies, is dead.

Mr. James Watson, Clerk of Moore township for 35 years, is dead.

It is reported that a monument to Queen Victoria is to be erected at Boston, U.S.

Mr. E. V. Skinner has been appointed assistant traffic manager of the C. P. R. at New York.

John H. Smith was killed near Exeter by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of Mr. Silas Stanlake.

Representatives of Whithy, Oshawa, Port Hope, Cobourg and other municipalities are moving to get connection with the C. P. R.

TO BURN ROSSLAND.

SEVERAL ATTEMPTS MADE ON THURSDAY NIGHT.

Fires Started in Five Buildings, but the Prompt Action of the Firemen Prevented a Disaster—Police on the Case.

Rossland, B.C., Oct. 17.—An atrocious attempt was made Thursday night by unknown incendiaries, to destroy the city. No fewer than four empty buildings were fired within five hours. The fire department was on hand in all cases, and the fires were confined to the buildings in which they started. Great excitement was aroused, and the incendiaries will receive a short shrift if caught. The entire police force of eight officers are employed on the case, but the fire fiends covered their tracks well.

THE BRANTFORD MURDER.

Further Evidence, Heard Against the Prisoner Kennedy.

Brantford, Oct. 17.—Further evidence was received in the preliminary examination in connection with the murder of Irene Cole, and Jos. Kennedy, who is charged with the crime, was further remanded until Tuesday next. Few new facts were brought out in the evidence, the effort of the authorities being aimed to establish the fact that the prisoner was in the willows the day of the murder. At a previous sitting it was stated that Kennedy bought a chicken, which he said was for a little girl, and that he took it away in a bag. Witnesses were called who told of finding the chicken and the bag in the willows, and they stated they saw Kennedy carrying the bag along the street on the morning of the tragedy. Some further evidence was also received as to the finding of the bag and the chicken in the willows.

DECISION ON MONDAY.

Probable End of the Alaskan Boundary Case.

London, Oct. 17.—The Americans are pressing for the Alaska decision, to-day, but the discussion of certain particulars is likely to postpone the result until Monday. There is an increasing amount of pessimism in Canadian circles in London.

The Associated Press has the highest authority for saying that the London Morning Advertiser to-day, that the decision of the Alaskan Boundary Commission virtually concedes the American case, is entirely untrue. The commission thus far has reached no decision, and no vote has been taken, even in the private sessions which would indicate the Chief Justice Alverston's position. It is quite true that the general trend of opinion among those connected with the tribunal, aside from the commissioners, is that the ultimate decision will be in favor of America; but there is a yet not the slightest warrant for saying it has been reached.

Want C. P. R. Connection.

Bowmanville, Oct. 16.—A conference of the Mayors of Whithy, Oshawa, Bowmanville, Port Hope and Cobourg, the Reeve of Campbellford, also the Presidents of the Boards of Trade in these places, has been called to meet in Bowmanville on Thursday, Oct. 22nd, at 2.30 p.m. to discuss what steps should be taken to get the C. P. R. to give these places a loop line. Mayor Floyd of Cobourg is the moving spirit.

Lady Marjorie Greville Betrothed.

International Bible Lesson for To-morrow—David's Confession.—Ps. 51. Golden Text—"Create in me a clean heart, O God."

David's fall came from his unclean heart. This warrior king, ever victorious over his enemies, had a traitor within him, a besetting sin, and, yielding to the flesh in the hour of temptation he sins grievously—primarily against God, but also against man and his own soul. To understand this lesson one must read II Samuel, II and 12. After months of dissembling he has to face his conscience. God rebukes him through Nathan, and this Psalm was composed and chanted as a public confession to God, the priests and Israel, of his sin and repentance. He had brought up the Sacred Ark containing the commandments written on tables of stone, but God had not yet written them in his heart, and he must learn his need.

First, David covets his neighbor's wife—when he has several of his own—and yields to instead of quenching his desire; then he breaks the 7th and 8th commandments, and to hide his shame, breaks the 6th, murdering by proxy his faithful soldier Uria. Being born sinners, conceived in sin, is the loathsome heredity of all our race, but by the grace of God, Jesus Christ, the Son of God, tasteth death for every man—"Where sin abounds grace much more abundantly, forgiveness is not through our hearts must be re-created clean, by the Spirit and Word of God and through the blood of Jesus, and walking in the light we have fellowship with God, not otherwise; without His abiding presence and power if we look we covet, we lust, and in His sight to covet is to steal, to hate is to kill. The priests can use the little, feathery hisop shrub to sprinkle the sacrificial blood, and wash of His cleansing, but the internal work God must do for the penitent king. No doubt, David restored would be used of God to save others, and that God has used this Psalm to restore others, thousands can testify. Heart purity is God's will for us,—"Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God."

Any irregularity on the part of The Planet carrier will be immediately remedied by calling at the office or phoning 554. A petition for a pavement is being circulated amongst the ratepayers on St. Clair street. The petition asks that a pavement be laid from Head street to Cornhill street. All reading notices of local announcements must be received at this office not later than noon of the day on which it is desired that they appear in The Planet. Lost, between Grant and King street, on Thanksgiving evening, a small black purse, containing a small sum of money. A reward will be given by returning to The Planet Office. Wanted, girl for housework. Small family. Modern, convenient, furnace heated house; gas range; good woods. Easy, permanent position. S. Anderson, 710 Commonwealth avenue, Detroit, Mich. A meeting of the Young People of Christ Church will be held Monday evening next to organize a branch of the Young People of the Anglican Society. Rev. Canon Brown, the founder of the Society, will address the meeting. Remember that Allen's Lung Balm does not merely put the nerves to sleep. It gets to the root of the trouble and so cures even deep-seated affections of the throat and lungs. Jonas Gosnell, County Clerk, adverted Highgate Fair on Tuesday, and reports an excellent fair. "Expert judges which were present," says Mr. Gosnell, "said the Highgate Fair was the best they had ever attended. There were over 60 Durham cows, and Highgate is Mr. Gosnell's home." J. C. Pritchard, G. T. R. station agent, says that the changes in the local freight yard are now almost completed. While the changes were in progress the local shippers were inconvenienced somewhat, but soon everything will be satisfactory. The changes are a big improvement, and will expedite greatly the handling of all freight here. The Master Mechanic's Pure Tar Soap heals and softens the skin, while promptly cleansing it of grease, oil, rust, etc. Invaluable for mechanics, farmers, sportsmen. Free sample on receipt of 2c. for postage. Albert Toilet Soap Co., Montreal, I. T. Duncan McDougall, an old Chatham boy, paid the Maple City a visit on Wednesday in the interests of a palmitist he wants to visit the city. Mr. McDougall 25 years ago worked in VanAllen's mill as sawdust boy and remembered P. C. Henry Darr quite well as working there at the same time. Twenty years ago he was a member of the Chatham fire department. Wanted, at once, 25 women, comfortable quarters, good wages, steady employment. Key-Gang Co. James Stuart, concessioner 5, Harvest Township, called on Mayor McKeough yesterday morning. Mr. Stuart suggests that the city pave Park street and that the Township pay part of the cost. Mr. Stuart says that the street has been in very bad shape all this year and that his neighbors are quite anxious to see something done and would gladly contribute towards having Park street paved. Mayor McKeough said that Park street was a leading street and that he would like to see it paved. He advised Mr. Stuart to consult with the Township Council and put a proposition before the City

THE STAGE. "All the world's a stage and all the men and women merely players." BEST HYPNOTIST YET. The best house of the week greeted The Great Pauline at the Grand last night, and business has been on the increase all week, and deservedly so. The entertainment is clean, wholesome and almost all fun. For nearly three hours each night he keeps his audience alternately marveling at his feats of mind reading and laughing at his comical hypnotic scenes. His is the most moral, scientific and pleasing performance of its kind ever seen in Chatham. To-night will be Pauline's last here for this engagement, and a bumper house will undoubtedly result. A return engagement will be very popular, at a later date, with the Chatham theatre-going public. ANNOUNCEMENTS. At the Chatham Grand:— Pauline & Co.—Oct. 12-19. Lyceum Course—Oct. 26. A BIT OF BLUE ENAMEL surely—oh, merciful heaven! surely not Charles—not the man she had loved so dearly—to whom her young heart had clung with such warm, trusting faith.

She remembered how vehemently Madeline had sought to prejudice her mind against him. Could it be that she had done it to keep her from falling in love with her father's murderer?

There was agony in the thought—a black, bitter agony.

She buried her head among the bedclothes and shook with grief and fear. Presently she roused herself to think and plan.

The clock struck one. She remembered then that it was St. Valentine's Day—the anniversary of her father's death.

How strange it on that very day she should be fated to discover his murderer.

Half mechanically she went to the chest of drawers, and, unlocking the various receptacles, looked for the bit of blue enamel.

It was gone! The ivory box was empty!

It could scarcely be said she was surprised at this. It only confirmed her terrible suspicions, and they needed little confirmation.

Of course, those desperate criminals would do away with the evidences of their guilt if they could.

She, a poor unsuspecting girl, had been easily duped by them.

But there was a sharp sting of agony in the thought that it was Charles who had asked her where she kept the bit of enamel.

She could not doubt that his was the hand which had stolen it.

As she sat on the edge of her bed in an agony of grief, her hands clasped, her pale lips moving in a convulsive appeal to heaven for strength, she heard sounds below—voices raised in fierce anger, and mingled with a woman's sobs.

Flung a dark dressing-gown round her trembling form, she opened her chamber door very softly and listened.

The voices came from the hall below.

She advanced a step or two, slowly—slowly, until she reached the top of the staircase, from where she could get a view of the whole group.

In the centre stood the elder Hyde. Marjorie now saw his face for the first time without the mask of good humor which had served so well to disguise his villainy.

It was almost diabolical with rage, and he was storming and cursing in the most horrible fashion.

It was Charles at whom his wrath seemed chiefly directed, and who stood silent, with folded arms and down-bent head, without answering a word.

At the foot of the staircase stood Edgar, his face livid, his dark eyes flaming, and beside him, clad only in her night-dress, was Madeline. Her long black hair streaming down to her waist, her whole frame trembling with convulsive sobs as she wound her arms round Edgar's neck, and seemed, by her gestures, to be imploring something which he roughly and sternly refused.

In a little group at the other end of the hall were the servants, whose countenances showed plainly enough they were the accomplices of their pretended masters.

Marjorie was alone in that house with a gang of thieves as cunning and desperate as any in all England.

Suddenly Hyde said something in a tone of stern command, which caused a general movement to be made towards the stairs.

Marjorie, her heart beating as though it would leap out of her bosom with fright, stole back to her chamber, and closed and locked the door.

"I wrote to Doctor Pierce, who sent me a very kind letter and advised me."

Thousands of weak and sick women can trace the beginning of a new life of perfect health to that letter written to Dr. Pierce.

Sick and ailing women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. W. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures weak and aching backs, headaches, nervousness and other womanly ailments by curing the womanly diseases which cause them.

In the spring of 1900 I became very ill—writes Mrs. Alvina Scholtz, of Lake Washington, Lesueur Co., Minn. "My back was very weak and so that I could do no work at all, so I was obliged to take to my bed. I felt a constant desire to urinate and the pains in my abdomen were almost unbearable. I wrote to Dr. Pierce, who sent me a very kind letter, and advised me to take his 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I took six bottles of each and am a well woman now. I am very much obliged to Dr. Pierce's medicines."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most desirable laxative for delicate women.

It was gone! The ivory box was empty! the top of the stairs again; and now she saw that a crowd of constables—ten or a dozen at least—thronged the hall.

A cry from Madeline made her look at Edgar Hyde.

He was in the act of flinging away a small phial, which he had just raised to his lips and drained to the dregs.

The next moment he sank, with a heavy thud, upon the tiled floor of the hall.

"Good God! he's poisoned himself!" exclaimed one of the policemen, while Madeline's shrieks rang all through the house.

Someone stooped over him and raised him, but the other policemen could scarcely secure their prisoners.

The handcuffs were put on Charles Hyde almost at once.

Marjorie saw this with a bursting heart, then a merciful insensibility overcame her—she fell fainting to the floor.

CHAPTER XI. Madeline's Story.

When she recovered consciousness she was lying on her bed, and Madeline was bending over her with a face so white, so haggard, so drawn with misery, that, for a moment, Marjorie scarce recognized it.

"Madeline!" she murmured, faintly, reaching out her hand. "What is the matter? What has happened?"

And then a recollection of that fearful scene in the hall swept over her numbed brain.

She moaned, and buried her face in the bed clothes.

Madeline sat silent and rigid in the chair beside the bed.

She seemed to have no word to say—either of comfort or of explanation.

Presently Marjorie raised herself, and looked at her.

"Madeline, why don't you speak to me? I am miserable as well as you. Tell me—oh, tell me all the truth! These people—are they all thieves?"

"Yes."

The monosyllable fell from Madeline's pale lips slowly, and as though it hurt her.

"And you—?" Marjorie began, then stopped suddenly, not knowing how to frame the question.

THE AMERICA'S CUP.

Dates of the Races for its Possession Since the Year 1851.

The America's cup has been held in the United States fifty-two years. It was won by the schooner yacht America Aug. 22, 1851, which defeated a fleet of British boats in British waters in a race around the Isle of Wight. Aurora, the yacht which finished second in that historic contest did not arrive at the finishing line until eighteen minutes after America had crossed—a victor. In only one series of contests has a British boat succeeded in winning a race. This

*Livonia won.

It is interesting to note that America is still in existence and is tied up in Boston at one of the Charles River bridges. When she was raced in British waters she was owned by Commodore John Cox Stevens, the founder and first commodore of the New York Yacht Club, and whose father founded Stevens' Institute in Hoboken, N. J. Her sailing master was Captain Dick Brown, who of Brooklyn, and her designer was George Steers, the son of an English shipbuilder who came to America in 1819. Captain Henry Hoffman, a member of the original crew of America, is the only man now living who was aboard America during her races abroad. On Aug. 4 his carriage was overturned in Brooklyn, and he was badly hurt.

CANADIAN REVENUE CRUISER PETREL. Here is a cut of the Canadian revenue Cruiser Petrel which recently in Lake Erie fired upon the poaching United States steam fishing tug Silver Spray. The affair was greatly exaggerated at the time, but the captain of the latter has admitted that he was within two miles in the Canadian waters.

The Velocity of Light. Physicists never tire of efforts to increase the accuracy of their knowledge of the fundamental facts of science. A re-determination of the velocity of light has just been completed at the observatory of Nice.

The new experiments are remarkable on account of the great distance over which the beam of light employed was transmitted. Previously such a beam had been caused to travel about 15 miles, but on this occasion the reflecting mirror was so placed that the total distance traversed by the beam, going and returning, was 57 miles. The mean of 1,109 observations gave for the velocity of light 186,223 miles per second.

MUSICAL

A DELIGHTFUL RECITAL.

Chatham music-lovers are promised a fine treat in the coming concert to be given in the First Presbyterian Church by Miss Edna Martin.

Harold Jarvis, tenor, of Detroit, who is by no means an unknown singer in the Maple City, will appear on the program and will give a number of Scotch selections.

Miss Martin herself will also appear on the program. Among her numbers will be 'My Redoubter and Lord' by Dudley Buck. This is one of the greatest sacred solos ever written and it will be made even more interesting to know that Miss Martin is personally acquainted with the composer.

The concert will be given Wednesday evening, Oct. 23rd, and already Miss Martin has succeeded in getting 400 subscribers for tickets.

TO THE HOSPITAL

Mayor McKeough has received word from Will H. Martin authorizing him to pay over to the two hospitals his donation to the Bungalow Fund, and in accordance with his request the Mayor did so this morning.

UP THE RIVER.

The grape crop in this neighborhood is a failure. The fall has been very favorable and nearly all the corn will be matured and the absence of frost has enabled the farmers to secure a large supply of excellent apples.

Beans are being harvested. On account of the wet season they were planted very late and the crop is poor.

Miss F. H. Rothwell, of Galt, is visiting at the Rothwell homestead. Miss R. is a sister of the Ruby Rothwell whose letters from South Africa appeared frequently in The Planet during the past year.

Benjamin Rothwell has been appointed a magistrate and is now a duly qualified J. P. for the County of Kent.

HAVE YOU CHRONIC ILLNESS?

In the course of his practice as a specialist in the treatment of chronic ailments, Dr. Goldberg has evolved a system of his own, which is a positive cure. His method differs widely from the old-fashioned system taught in colleges, and yet it is along the strictest scientific principles, with this exception, that where the old methods took months and sometimes years to bring about a cure, his latest method does it in a few weeks and cures are thorough, permanent and reliable. The curing of chronic diseases has been his specialty for years.

He will cure you quicker than any other specialist in the world. There are thousands in this broad land today who are healthy and happy, who once suffered as you perhaps now suffer, and who owe their present well-being to Dr. Goldberg's Latest Method Treatment. If you are sick it is only natural for you to want to be well.

For the fore you decide definitely on the doctor to trust your oldest established case call or write to Dr. Goldberg and find out all about his Latest Method of curing chronic diseases without pain, and permanently. It will cost you nothing to learn the particulars and it will in no way, but you are under obligation to call on him for you to call in person write the doctor and he will explain his method to you just the same, free. Do not delay; promptness is certainty.

Each Time You Call You See Dr. Goldberg Personally or each time you write it receives his personal attention, and remember he is the only specialist who allows the patient to pay when cured. You need pay nothing until a complete cure has been made.

What does it profit a woman if she gain the whole world of knowledge and lose her own health? Young women, students, and school teachers, eager, ambitious, and full of energy, very often neglect their health in the struggle to gain education. They eat insufficient food, and at irregular hours, they allow irregularity of the womanly functions to be established, and the result is that they become chronic invalids with their education practically worthless. There is a plain road back to health for such as these, marked by the feet of thousands. It is the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for diseases of the stomach and digestive and nutritive organs. This is the Favorite Prescription for diseases of the delicate organs of womanhood. A cure so certainly follows the use of these remedies that out of hundreds of thousands who have tried the treatment, ninety-eight in every hundred have been perfectly and permanently cured. Constipation, with its calamitous consequences, which is a common ailment of students, can be entirely cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

OIL CENTRE.

For the benefit of The Planet's numerous readers, your correspondent wishes to state that that region of the Raleigh oil field situated between Chatham and Charing Cross has risen to a position of such importance and prominence as to be worthy of a number of speculators thereabouts. It is felt that the most appropriate of anyone have yet pondered over, we hope it will grow into general acceptance.

There are at present eleven oil wells being pumped here, and two are the property of the Chatham Oil company, the others belonging to J. McIntosh, of Toronto.

The two wells on the farms of J. Woods and S. Brown will soon be completed.

David Wright has purchased a drilling outfit and is engaged in drilling operations in the neighborhood of Charing Cross.

Robert Ritchie, our mail carrier, carried the first mail to the new post office last week. One of the Bothwell boys received the first letter.

George Willet, who is drilling in Essex county paid a flying visit to these parts last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Plumridge, of Chatham, spent Saturday and Sunday in Chatham.

Some of our local oil kings are at present leasing property on the seventh, which they hope will prove a good venture.

MAGNA VILLA.

On Saturday, Oct. 3rd, a football match took place between the pupils of Northwood and Magna Villa public schools, at the latter place. Quite a number of spectators were present. The game was an interesting one throughout, as the teams were nearly equal. The boys played under the direction of their teachers, D. Graham, of Northwood, and K. Simpson, of Magna Villa. Towards the latter part of first half Northwood scored their first goal. In the second half the ball was kept up near the opposite goal by Northwood until near the last, when Magna Villa rushed in and scored. The game was played up. While the game was being played good feeling prevailed on both sides, and when it ended the boys lined up and cheered as only school boys can. The date of final match has not yet been fixed.

DARRELL.

The Misses Tompkins entertained a number of their friends on Tuesday evening, Oct. 6. All enjoyed the evening immensely.

The rally service, Sunday, conducted by Mr. Williams, was largely attended. The address given by Mr. Humphrey, superintendent of Victoria avenue S. E., was appreciated by both children and adults. Short addresses were also given by Rev. Mr. Noble, Miss Tompkins, and Mrs. Jones.

Miss Edith Catton and F. Weaver were united in marriage on Wednesday, Oct. 7. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Noble, at the manse, Louisville, after which the happy couple and friends were received by the bride's parents.

The anniversary services will be conducted, both morning and evening, Sunday, Oct. 18th, by the Rev. Mr. Downs.

The second football match of the league series was played at Kent Bridge, Saturday, Oct. 10th, Darrell being the victors. The game commenced at 4.45 p. m., Kent Bridge having the lead in the first half. The strong north wind was blowing towards Darrell's goal and this was an extreme embarrassment to the visitors; nevertheless, they had the best of the game in the first half, and several pretty shots were made by Gregory, Abraham and Peck. The mighty wind, more powerful than man, would not permit Darrell to score in the first half. By half time the wind had considerably dropped. With the change of goals French in goal ceased to have anything to do as times were so nicely through K. B.'s stakes that their cheers were completely lulled. The game was now won. The ball was taken to the centre and K. B. made a desperate rush on Darrell's goal, but French was there, only to take the ball nearly to K. B.'s goal again. After a few minutes time was called, the ball being at the mouth of K. B.'s goal. Although both teams worked desperately, no one was injured. The visitors enjoyed a fine supper at Mr. S. Langford's.

Referee Anderson's decisions were, apparently, perfectly satisfactory to both parties.

Walker Bennie, of Dover, who had his elbow dislocated at the Fair, was able to join Darrell in their sport at Kent Bridge on Saturday.

A number of prominent farmers from Dover joined the crowd with cheers for Darrell on Saturday.

GLENWOOD.

Mrs. Alfred Brown, who has been visiting relatives in the village, returned on Monday to her home in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Vipond and Miss Lou Palmer were in Chatham last Saturday.

What the Thunderer says.

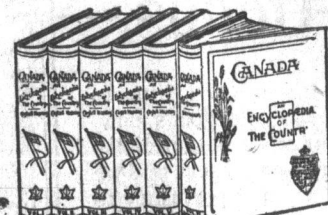

Of all the good words that have been said of "Canada: An Encyclopædia"—none is more emphatic than this recent declaration of the London Times—the Thunderer—the greatest Daily Newspaper of the world—

"It is no disparagement of the other works relating to North America to say that by far the most interesting and important is the work entitled "Canada: An Encyclopædia" of the Country. The plan is unique, ambitious and comprehensive. It gives in six volumes a survey of the past and present of the Dominion in all its chief aspects. No side of Canadian life is omitted: the work is all that the title implies—a true cyclopædia of information relative to the whole Dominion: a personal authoritative and complete record of Canadian history, growth and resources."

Volumes of statement could not convey more than words like these coming from a source to which every British subject instinctively takes of his hat. The toilsome years that have been spent in the preparation of the work can never appear to be labor in vain. In the presence of such praise the value of this Encyclopædia must be evident to all. And this testimonial is but one of hundreds that we have received from the greatest living authorities. The work itself is the achievement of two hundred and twenty-eight eminent Canadian writers and specialists, a library of reference about Canada to which there is not even an approach existing in any other form, a living monument to the progress of the Great Dominion. Grand in its conception, colossal as an undertaking, and wonderful in its execution, "Canada: An Encyclopædia" has been unanimously accorded its rightful place among the best productions of its class, the great Encyclopædias of the world. To possess these volumes is the duty of every true Canadian, and the prices and terms are such that the publishers have made this possible. The work is complete in six volumes (with a special index volume added without charge) and there is no man in the Dominion, who is capable of earning ordinary wages, who cannot well afford to own it. If you will write to us for terms, we will send you sample pages and prove to you that this statement is plain fact. Having had a large advance sale among people of means throughout the Dominion we are now able to offer "Canada: An Encyclopædia" on terms that place it within the easy buying power of the humblest wage earner. If you have no other books make this the beginning of your library. It is a library in itself, a mine of information about the thing in which you are most interested—your country. Write us to-day, for the number of sets on hand is daily becoming more limited.

PURITY. LAGER BEER

"The Beer That is Brewed in Glass"

Engaged lovers in the Canary islands find it difficult to exchange sweet confidences, as the young man is not allowed to visit his fiancée in her home. He goes to her house and, finding her at the window, must talk to her from the street. Sometimes her window is perhaps ten or twelve feet above the road. Therefore he must talk loudly, and very often the members of the girl's family are unseen listeners.

DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE ACCEPTS THE PRESIDENCY OF FREE FOOD LEAGUE.

Reservations Regarding Policy of Government—Cannot Promise to Take an Active Part in Campaign.

London, Oct. 17.—The Duke of Devonshire, late Lord President of the Council, has conditionally accepted the Presidency of the Free Food League, which is organizing a campaign against the fiscal policy of Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Balfour.

The substance of the Duke's letter is as follows:—"You informed me when we last met that you had been expressed that I join the league and take a leading part in its operations. I understand that the principal object of the league is to oppose the new departure in the fiscal policy, which now has been definitely announced, and which includes the restriction of food imports from foreign countries and preferential treatment for the colonies, as well as a general tariff on imported manufactured goods. I understand that these objects do not involve opposition to the policy of the Government in so far as that policy is limited to reserving to the Government the right of proposing to Parliament tariff legislation for the purpose of negotiating commercial treaties and the mitigation of hostile tariffs."

Continuing, the Duke of Devonshire refers to the desirability of restraining "the strongly protectionist tendencies manifested at the recent conference at Sheffield," and says the duty of combating before the country the doctrines of the Tariff Reform League should not be left entirely to Radicals and members of the Cobden Club. The Duke says he cannot reject the invitation of the Free Food League to become its President, although he must accept the office conditionally. "I understand the body I am asked to join," he continues, "although bearing the name of the league, is substantially a Parliamentary committee, and its object is to seek to broaden its constitution with the object of extending its operations. If this is done, and I am invited to accept the Presidency, I must ask to be consulted as to the nature of such extension, that I may have the opportunity of determining how far I feel myself called upon to lend my support to the new constitution. I also ask that it be made clear that the views I have above expressed as to its attitude towards the Government are fully shared by the league."

"It must also be understood that such services as I could render could only be limited in character. It is seventeen years since I took an active part in the campaign against home rule. It is not in my power to take the same active part now that I took then. I must be regarded, then, rather as adverse to a combat. It is with some reluctance that I consent to take even a limited part in the controversy, but I feel that many Unionist members of Parliament whose ideas I believe agree with mine are making great sacrifices in order to maintain their opinions, and I am unwilling that they should regard me as indifferent to their political interests."

Mr. Ritchie, the late Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Lord George Hamilton, late Secretary of State for India, have also joined the league.

MORE BRITISH WAR SHIPS.

Cruiser and Battleship to Chinese Waters.

London, Oct. 17.—Great Britain is sending two additional warships to China. The first-class cruiser Europa has been ordered into commission at Portsmouth, for despatch to the Chinese station, and a battleship will be sent there from the Mediterranean squadron.

Yokohama, Oct. 17.—The Russian squadron has returned to Port Arthur. Correspondents there report that preparations have been made against an apprehended attack on the ninety-three war vessels in the port. The entrance is protected by a boom of heavy logs.

The negotiations at Tokio, though critical, are proceeding peacefully. Officials against alarmist reports.

Chelon, China, Oct. 17.—The Russian administrator of Newchang, Manchuria, proposes to organize a municipal Council, with two British and one American member. Their decisions will be subject to the administrator's approval.

Canadian Bounty Steel.

Washington, Oct. 17.—Complaint has been made to the United States Treasury Department that the Dominion Iron & Steel Company of Canada has been exporting bounty-paid steel into the United States. It is claimed that the Dominion Government pays a bounty of $2 per ton on pig iron and $2 more on steel produced from this iron, making a total bounty of $4, and that this steel is exported to the United States. It is asserted by those making the complaint that the countervailing duty against bounty-paid products should be applied to this steel.

Willing to Grant a Delay.

New York, Oct. 17.—The banking firm of Speyer & Company has informed the reorganization committee in Consolidated Lake Superior Company affairs that they will agree to a reasonable postponement of the sale of the assets of the company, even sixty days, providing the properties are turned over to the charge of Mr. Fackenthal of Philadelphia, who was appointed receiver at their instance.

NASTY RUNAWAY

Considerable excitement was caused on King street this morning when the horse belonging to Myles Barker tore down the pavement at a rate of speed far beyond the limit stipulated by law. The runaway started near Schram's livery. The horse, which was attached to a light buggy, was left standing untied in the road and became frightened at the steam roller. It turned the corner at the Rankin House and threaded its way down King street and was stopped opposite Thibodeau & Jacques' dry goods store. The street was crowded with wagons and buggies at the time and it is a wonder that the mad race did not end in a collision.

Munyon's Witness Gen Barbeau Tells How he was Cured

"I had the first twinges of Rheumatism last fall. I first noticed it in my knee, and finally it went all through my body, and my legs were swollen up like bladders, and red, as if filled with blood. I secured two vials of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure, and the swelling soon went down in my feet, so much so that my wife could put on my shoes for me. I take a dose of pills once in a while simply as a preventive. The pains have all gone and have not returned since I first started taking them."—Mr. Geo. Barbeau, 13 Nicholas street, Ottawa.

RAILWAYS AND CANALS.

About Three Million Dollars Voted in the House.

Ottawa, Oct. 17.—Another solid day in supply leaves the only supplementary estimates to be disposed of a few scattering items in the 30-page blue book. The committee passed no less than $3,197,177, chiefly for railways and canals, the largest vote being $1,534,344 for the Prince Edward Island railway. The rapid progress reduces the visible business for the House considerably, and a week from to-day is spoken of in official circles as the date of prorogation.

On the motion of Dr. Douglas that the last report of the Committee on Agriculture, recommending the printing of 40,000 copies of the evidence of Mr. J. L. Haycock, Inspector of Binder Twine, be concurred in, Dr. Sproule objected to the power exercised by Mr. Haycock, of collecting a penalty without taking the dealer before a Magistrate or any other tribunal. He did not want that part of the evidence to go before the country.

In reply to a request for his opinion Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick thought it would be necessary to lay a complaint before a Magistrate, unless there was something exceptional in the act.

ZIONISTS IN NEW YORK.

Crowds Block the Streets to See the Dowites.

New York, Oct. 17.—Under the direction of an advance agent four hundred and twenty members of John Alexander Dowie's Zion Host arrived from Chicago on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad yesterday to participate in a crusade for the regeneration of New York. They landed at the Battery and boarded cars for Madison Square Garden.

As the first car started the crowd began singing a hymn, and a large crowd of curious spectators gathered round those waiting outside the ferry house. Men in the Dowie party distributed tracts among them. The men were dressed in a uniform resembling that worn by the United States infantry. The women did not wear uniforms. The crowd around the ferry house grew so large that it blocked the street, and the police drove the spectators back to the curb. One of the features of the party was the junior choir of about 50 little boys. There was also a drum and file corps of 30 men in khaki uniforms. Thirty per cent. of the party were women and children, of all nationalities, including one little colored girl.

Dr. Dowie arrived in his special train at the Grand Central Station, disappointing the crowds who were awaiting him at the West Shore Railroad ferry, his train having come from Albany over the Hudson River division. His private carriage was awaiting him at the West Shore depot and the Zion leader, with his son and two lieutenants, took a public hack to the hotel. A number of his own people greeted Dr. Dowie, but there was little demonstration. Besides his son, A. J. Gladstone Dowie, Mr. Dowie was accompanied by his wife; Carl F. Stern, Chief of Police of Zion City, and Robert Massey, All registered at the Plaza Hotel.

STORNG CRITICISM.

The St. James' Gazette on Campbell-Bannerman's Methods.

London, Oct. 17.—The St. James' Gazette, referring to Campbell-Bannerman's speech at Bolton, says he would foster the hostility of class and class at home and preserve peace by bringing abroad. He would fling back in their faces the overtures made by the colonial Premiers. Chamberlain, on the other hand, bids us be strong in policy, on which, according to Sir Charles Tupper, Canada is completely united.

Hon. R. Harcourt Officiates at the Opening.

Windsor, Oct. 17.—The new $27,000 Carnegie Library in this city was formally opened here by Hon. Richard Harcourt, Minister of Education, in the presence of many people from Windsor, Detroit and surrounding towns. Mr. Harcourt was the principal speaker, and was assisted in the dedication ceremonies by the Mayors of Windsor, Walkerville and Sandwich, and the Chairmen of the literary boards of Detroit, Chatham, Sarnia and other places. Windsor was the first city in Canada to receive a library grant from the Scottish-American philanthropist.

Russia and the Sugar Bounty.

Brussels, Oct. 17.—These seem to be good prospects of Russia giving her adhesion to the sugar convention. Domestic arrangements hitherto had interfered, but Russia has now volunteered modifications which she considers ought to satisfy the signatories of the convention. Baron Kerff, special representative of the Russian Government, has been instructed to fully explain to the permanent sugar committee, now in session, the proposals of his Government.

Alleged Diamond Theft Caught.

Sarnia, Oct. 17.—Nelson Dalmer, a young man who formerly was a waiter on the steamboats, was arrested in Port Huron yesterday by Provincial Detective Andrew Murray of Sarnia, and taken to Windsor to answer a charge of theft. It is charged that the young man took advantage of a slight acquaintance with a Windsor young lady, Miss Marie Richards of Sandwich street, and stole two diamond rings valued at $50. When arrested he was plentifully supplied with money and had been making purchases of clothing, etc. It is charged that he pawned the rings in Detroit.

LETTER BOX

SIX CALLS.

To the Editor of The Planet:

Dear Sir,—In my former letters I endeavored to bring before your readers the great demand which at present exists for competent male stenographers. I am pleased to say that they have been the means of starting a number of likely persons to give this question their serious consideration.

I want to tell you to-day something of what we are doing along that line, and also in placing competent book-keepers.

Last week we had six calls and filled five of them. This week the sixth was filled. The calls were for two ladies and four gentlemen. Only one of these places was worth less than $10 to $12 per week to commence with. And there is little doubt that the advancement of these people will be rapid from this time on.

Why will bright and energetic young men and women persist in spending two or three years in getting a training that even then does not fit them for filling such places, when the preparation which we give them enables them to get ready for such places. Three out of the above six were with us only six months. Would it have paid these people to have gone to some school where they would get this or some other line of training for nothing or nearly so, and spend from two to four years in getting ready, and even then not be able to command perhaps half the pay which these young men and women are commanding, or to come to us and pay our regular fees, and be prepared to go out in from six to ten months thoroughly equipped?

Figure it out for yourself, and you will find it a "penny wise and pound foolish" policy. We may give you some figures in a later issue.

A Thriving Colony

Some interesting facts concerning the settlers around Buxton—Mr. Shadd takes exception to an article in the Toronto World.

To the Editor of The Planet:

Dear Sir,—I have read with certain interest this would-be history, but rather opinion of a southern traveller—concerning the King settlement—who it is said visited these parts some months ago as staff correspondent of a Toronto paper, but more properly a southern democratic agent who very wisely picks his subjects and formulates ideas to suit his own purposes.

Now, Sir, I do not wish to occupy too much of your valuable paper, and while I feel very keenly my inability to grapple properly with the subject, yet I would forever brand myself as toward to remain silent when I see a race attacked in this manner with which by the natural course of events I am identified. I am pleased to note that this article is simply copied without comment, and that your heading discredits its genuine historical prominence by styling it "Alleged History" that the subject is of no importance to Canadians generally, living as we do in a land where there is plenty of room for all good citizens and plenty of good British law for bad ones.

Now, just where this so-called colony began and where it ended it is hard to say, in fact to the most casual observer a handful of people of any race poured down in these counties of Kent and Essex over fifty years ago are very hard to trace, and but for the complexions of these people would be indeed hard to trace. This writer would infer that these people were planted here like trees with every surrounding heart could wish, the facts were just the reverse, but since early life in this country has been told at every fireside, I do not deem it necessary to repeat, in fact early life in any country demands the stoutest hearts and the most determined endurance to succeed, as is evidenced by the number of early white settlers to be found here.

"They had practical experience in farming." Indeed they were trained under the last of their masters for generations and hadn't even the right to govern their own children; what could such know of farming in a land with climate as different as this is from the South and to where they fled for refuge. I personally have heard several of these old people say they only stayed because they were too poor to get away. It is unnatural then that as conditions changed, their sons spread out over this vast country and sought other occupations. How many thousands of white residents of this country do we find scattered all over the world, and especially in urban life. Why does the Hon. Mr. Harcourt in his address at the Chatham library opening refer to the disposition to go to the cities as something that circumstances alone can alter. I ask do all or any considerable proportion of any people—especially among the illiterate, to which class these ex-slaves must be almost wholly allotted—do just what is best for them? This writer is forced to admit that there were ex-slaves whose descendants had succeeded as farmers. I add there were many others who would have done so had they had the ability to count their earnings and that management of their affairs which comes of freedom and cannot be attached to serfs. McCaulay says that after slavery had been abolished in England a hundred years without bloodshed there was no trace of it in the land, yet this southern gentleman expects these people whose faces point them out to succeed as a whole in fifty years this principle of working while the master governs drilled in on the back of savagery for nearly four hundred years with no chance of mental or moral improvement save the licentious character of the master must work out in fifty years. Why did not he note the difference between families of ex-slaves who came to this country and families of free men who came here voluntarily? The answer is because he was interested in having this a different kind of people from any other. Why does he apply the term negro in a general way when in reality there are many negroes in this country, and to the majority of whom the term comes about as near as the term Irish would to a French-Canadian who might have Irish blood but no member of whose family had seen Ireland for ten generations. I suppose he just adopts the term like the Yankee who adopts the term American to himself for want of a better one. And if this Michigan Central foreman whom he styles a "student

Interesting Events of Ye Olden Times Gathered from The Planet's Issues of Half a Century Ago.

From The Planet files, Jan. 5, 1857, to Jan. 9, 1857.

January fifth was the date of the municipal elections in Chatham.

The public character of Dr. Cross, of this city, is being slandered by the Globe and our local contemporary.

Joseph S. Lee, founder and President of the Montreal Shakespeare Club, delivered a lecture in the town hall on Tuesday, January sixth, in aid of the Mechanics' Institute. Mr. Lee's address was "The Illustration of the Poetic Genius of the late Thomas Hood."

The Council for '56 holds its last meeting.

Two tenders were received for the fire engine houses, one from Thomas Summerville for $1,500, and the other from Allan Couits for $2,200.

Mr. McKellar moved, seconded by Mr. Northwood, that in consideration of the loss recently sustained by Mr. Slagg by fire, that that gentleman be remitted the sum of $615, that being being the amount of his assessment. The motion carried.

Neither tender was accepted for the fire engine houses, but Engineer Kirk was instructed to get out new plans.

Jacob Doleen died in Raleigh at the age of 68 years.

The death is recorded of Alexander McCrae, father of Walter McCrae, of this town. The deceased had been speaking at a public meeting and just after sitting down had died from a broken blood vessel. He was well-known in Chatham.

Mrs. Joseph Russell died on Sunday, January 4th, at the age of 22 years.

The result of the municipal elections was as follows:—

The new shapes from Paris are very different from those that have preceded them. In this large hat the underbrim is fringed to the point selected for the most trimming. The shapes flare well off the face with a deeper bandeau to give them an upward tilt, while the back sets close to the hair, which is dressed low and drawn into a smart 'fair net'. The new toques and turbans are much smaller, velvet is the preferred material and wings and bird and ostrich tips show that this will be a feather season.

of the situation" did say "they want someone to direct them," it is no more than I might observe of any gang of men he might happen to see working under him and can have no reference to the race as a whole. His reference to Mr. King is quite flattering, but since I have no intention of stirring up old things, shall not criticize, but having been born and raised here have heard quite a few things about Mr. King and his slaves.

In conclusion, he says some of their descendants have gone into professional life and that their morals are good as compared with those of the South, which I hold both, in spite of his opinions, to be good evidence of up building. In summing up I wish to say that this subject arises out of southern lynch law forcing it into United States politics that we have no interest in it except from a spectator's standpoint. Yet there is an element in this country of either southerners or their sympathizers who uphold this principle of pointing out persons in whom they can detect signs of negro blood as some animal to be avoided and acting to the great disadvantage of the black man in every way possible, but this element is happily small enough and far enough away from true British and loyal Canadian principles and so thoroughly within the pale of British law as to cause no alarm. That we have some blacks and some whites who are drunk, disorderly, dissolute fellows I do not deny, but we have plenty of good up-to-date thrifty citizens of all classes who regard these rough people as a common element among mankind. A fool to shrink from honest criticism, a coward not to defend, above a saint not to have enemies, and un-British not to fight them whenever they appear.

Trusting I have not trespassed too far on your valuable space to do half justice to the subject, I remain,
Yours, etc.,

DESHANE—SOMERS.
The residence of County Commissioner S. Somers, east Wallaceburg, was the scene of a quiet wedding on Wednesday afternoon, when his daughter Ella was united in marriage to James Deshane, by the Rev. James Nicol. Only the immediate friends and relatives of the bride and groom were present, but many beautiful presents attended the esteem in which the bride and groom are held. The happy young couple left on the evening train for Marshall, Mich., where they will visit the groom's brother. On their return they will take up their residence in Wallaceburg.—Wallaceburg Herald-Record.

Men of affairs like to talk to women about the vast amount of work they do which does not belong to them.

A libel suit is a bad thing to fool with. It goes in the "didn't know it was loaded" class.

Although up to full strength, that Hamilton Highlander Regiment will be a bare Regiment.

I wonder if the Hamilton Spectator will get the soldiers for the Highland Regiment from off the mountain.

Always expect 13 to mean bad luck for the other fellow and you'll not be bothered with superstition.

Between you and me, I think the Judge rather enjoyed that bit of wisdom from the Satellite column.

The city sports went snooting on Thursday but I didn't notice any of them sporting game on their return.

Was it Sam Jones who perpetrated the following condensation of sagacity, "Don't monkey with a buzz saw when it's busy." Sam was right.

No, I don't think that it was the wisdom from the Satellite that won the suit altogether. O. L. Lewis, W. R. Riddell and about 15 or 20 leading citizens helped.

I just want to point out that what this G. H. J. has long claimed, has been proven in the High Court, i. e., that Planet reports are accurate and correct.

It looks like business now on the streets that are being paved. There is now hopes that some of the streets will be finished by Christmas and others by next fall.

Read the wisdom in this column carefully. You don't know what paragraph a judge, jury and two lawyers will attempt to solve and I want your opinion, too.

If it took J. T. Maboe, K. C., of Stratford, fifteen minutes to analyze four lines of Satellite seriousness, how long would it take the learned lawyer to cover a column?

I always knew that the 13th day of the month was unlucky, and when the libel suit against this G. H. J. began on Tuesday, 13th of Oct., I just knew something would happen. It did.

I had read the article on which the alleged libel suit was founded, and couldn't see any grounds for the suit. I was glad to see twelve other intelligent men arrive at the same conclusion.

Yes, dear gentle reader, The Planet won. No, I don't want all the credit. I'm perfectly willing to let the other gentlemen have a little. What's that? Leave out the "other." All right, just as you like.

The Board of Education will, of course, give the school children a holiday on Thursday, Oct. 15, to see the road race—Hamilton Spectator. That is rather an unusual thing for a road to do, but the children might also take advantage of the holiday to see the cowslip through the fence, the horsefly on the wall, the dew drop on the leaves, the tree bark, the cigar box, the sky light, and the banana skin around the corner.

SHARTS--DAGNEAU

A pleasing event occurred Thursday morning at St. Joseph's church at 6.30 a. m., when Miss Ida Dagneau, daughter of Henry Dagneau, of this city, and Harvey A. Sharts, foreman of the Dowsley works, were united in marriage. Miss Ethyleen Baughman, of this city, acted as bridesmaid, while M. H. Serson, also of the Maple City, was best man.

The happy couple are quite popular Chathamites and their many friends will join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Sharts every happiness in life. They left on a short honeymoon trip and on their return will take up their residence in the Maple City.

The employees of the Dowsley works presented Mr. Sharts with two very handsome chairs and the following address read by Albert Foy. Joshua Stephens made the presentation. The address:

Mr. Harvey A. Sharts,
It is our pleasant duty, on behalf of the employees of the Dowsley Spring & Axle Works, to present to you these gifts as a token of our sincere esteem for you.

We, here and all, extend to you our sincere wishes and heartfelt congratulations on this happy occasion, and we hope and trust that your journey through life may be long and happy—and never disturbed not even by as much as a shadow of dissent.

May these modest gifts, which we beg you to kindly accept, be a constant reminder of our good will and wishes toward you. May they at all times be silent witnesses of a home replete with joy, happiness and prosperity. We beg to remain,
Yours faithfully,

BUILD UP CANADA
TO THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA.

Give the manufacturers, workmen, and farmers of Canada the same kind of tariff as that which has made the United States the home of the most prosperous manufacturers, workmen and farmers in the world.

TO THE MANUFACTURERS OF CANADA.

Force the government to give you as good a tariff as that which has made the American manufacturers rich—When you get this tariff, pay your Canadian workmen American wages.

TO THE WORKINGMEN OF CANADA.

Take a leaf out of the book of the American workingman. Help your employer to obtain for himself and for you a Canada for Canadians' tariff.

TO THE FARMERS OF CANADA.

Profit by the experience of the American farmers, the wealthiest farmer in the world, who support a high tariff and prosper under it and because of it.

TO THE GOVERNMENT MANUFACTURERS, WORKINGMEN, and FARMERS OF CANADA.

An active campaign has been commenced in England in favor of Free Trade within the Empire. It is to the interest of Canada to trade on liberal terms with her. If the Dominion is to be in a position to grant substantial preferences to the United Kingdom and the sister colonies, her tariff against the rest of the world must be materially increased. The present time affords the opportunity of a nation's lifetime.

LEST WE FORGET.

In The Planet's busy "libel" action days this week, it almost overlooked another important matter. This is the 50th day of the North Renfrew vacancy.

THAT LACROSSE OUP.

Manager Frank Babcock, of the Chatham Lacrosse Club, is to be congratulated on his straightforward letter relative to the Gray cup embargo and in his manly course in promptly forwarding the trophy to the Wallaceburg club, the rightful victors.

ALPHONSE AND GASTON.

Editor Wells, of the Dresden Times, and Editor Gordon, of the Dresden Standard, made pleasant fraternal calls at this office on Friday. Although running opposition papers in the same town, these two members of the fourth estate exemplify the truth of the adage. "It is good for brethren to dwell together in harmony," for their personal relations are of the most cordial character, and both report business flourishing. Chatham editors, please copy.—Thamesville Herald.

THE PROPHETIC DOMINION.

The citizens of Ridgeway will read with pleasure the following frank and generous tribute to County Crown Attorney H. D. Smith by The Chatham Planet. At the time of Mr. Smith's appointment the Dominion combated the unfavorable criticism it provoked in Chatham, and then assured the people of Kent that Mr. Smith would make a splendid official, discharging all the duties of his office fearlessly and without favor to any man, party or clique. The Ontario Government would stand far higher in the public estimation than it does to-day had all its appointees to office been men of the high character, business aptitude and sterling qualities of Mr. H. D. Smith.—Ridgeway Dominion.

THE OIL SOARE.

Says the Blenheim News in speaking of the excited oil strike yarns which were put in circulation here by the Banner some time ago:— "The winding up of the Dominion Oil Company in Chatham is like bringing heavy artillery fire inside the zone on one's friends. Chatham gurgled over with oil excitement when it was on, and one of its newspapers seemed to be in the business. Now the company makes its final blow right there amidst those who preached oil from the hill-tops and expected to take the public through the woods with them. It does seem that the eternal fitness of things has its own meeting-place."

"BUY BEFORE SIX"

The Chatham papers are urging the people to buy before six o'clock in the evening. The scheme is a commendable one. The day is not far distant when general stores and other business places will not be required to keep open later than six o'clock any evening of the week, with the exception probably, of Saturday evening. These reforms rest entirely with the merchants themselves. We all remember when the early closing movement was inaugurated, and how the merchants agreed to close on Tuesday and Friday evenings with many misgivings. The scheme has worked well. The people have been educated to do their business during the day time, and other evenings of the week, and there is no reason why the business places shouldn't close at six o'clock every evening in the week but Saturday. The merchants and the clerks have long, weary hours of work. Under present conditions they have little time in the evenings to spend at home with their families. We believe the early closing movement can be brought to a successful issue. The Herald is heartily in accord with the scheme.—Comber Herald.

WAITING FOR THE START.

A gentleman named Dunlop is the Conservative candidate in North Renfrew. Having waited nearly 500 days for the by-election to come off, Mr. Dunlop probably feels tired.

MEN WITH INTENTIONS.

Women at Home. It is obviously impossible to get any satisfaction out of a certain class of men, who find their chief interest in paying attentions to girls whom they have no intention of marrying. It is a pity such proceedings could not be stopped. It is one of the monstrous injustices which occur in the present relations between men and women.

BABY'S FIRST TOOTH

Every mother knows how much baby suffers while cutting teeth. Swollen, tender gums cause a feverish, fretful condition, sometimes a riotously affecting baby's health. This can be overcome, and the teething process made easy by the use of Baby's Own Tablets. Proof of this given by Mrs. J. Peckover, New Lakeside, Ont., who says: "I am the mother of six children and I can truthfully say that Baby's Own Tablets is better than any other medicine I have ever used for the ills of little ones. and a simple hat you have a costume which is eminently simple and becoming.

For street wear during the late summer and early fall nothing can be in better taste than simple little gowns, whether of serge, foulard or wash material, made without trimming, and a simple, well cut waistband matching an equally simple stock. Serge gowns in automobile red, blue and cream and prettily plaited silk linens make admirable costumes of this description.

Navy blue linen has much to be said in its favor. Some pretty tailor made coats and skirts made of this are strapped in white.

A smart frock was of coarse navy blue yolle embroidered with red. This was worn with a navy blue hat trimmed with scarlet berries. The dress had a wide navy blue sash that belt of becoming proportions which was much to be preferred to a red band.

The gown in the cut is of figured crepe de chine, with the cape of the same material.

FASHION HINTS.

Accordion Plaited Walking Skirts, Hopasackings and Flannel.

Flannel is a delightful fabric in blue and white and black and white. For the country this may be made in simple blouse and skirt fashion, but if it is required for yachting you must resort to the tailor and avoid all imitations.

Coarse hopasackings and white homespun are really smart fabrics for yachting and out of door sports. The prevalence of white will continue far into the fall, and after white navy blue and brown are the favorite colors.

Accordion plaited walking length skirts are among the features of this season. They are particularly smart in navy blue and black and white checks.

The loose three-quarter coat of double faced cloth is a most useful part of the mountain girl's outfit.

A great many plaid silks are being worn this year. They are made up into little shirt waist suits and trimmed with bands of plain silk.

The cut shows a waist of white crape trimmed with yellow lace and white silk tassels.

A GOOD THING!
A Metal Weather Strip is now being introduced in the city, that is attached to window frames, to shut off the wind and cold. When a window is equipped with this weather strip it absolutely shuts off all wind, dust and dirt, and prevents windows from rattling. In short, it is a substitute for storm windows, at 60 per cent. off the cost, and much more convenient. Double windows are considered very inconvenient. A house equipped with this strip can be heated with 25 per cent. less fuel. Parties intending to put on more windows should investigate. A window equipped with this strip is on exhibition at the office of King St.

ON TRUE GREATNESS

THE PREACHER SHOWS THE MEASURE OF A MAN.

TWO GREAT POINTS OF VIEW.

Distinction Between the Worldly and the Spiritual Estimate—Training and Preparation Necessary For True Greatness—To Become as Nothing in the Eyes of Men—Reached by John the Baptist.

Entered according to Act of Parliament of Canada, in the year 1903, by William Hally, of Toronto, at the Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—In this sermon the preacher draws the distinction between the worldly and the spiritual estimate of greatness and shows the character of the training and preparation necessary for true greatness. The text is Matthew xi, 11, "There hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist."

"Great men, great events and great epochs grow bigger and more colossal as the years pass away from them," once wrote the biographer Robert Burns. Like the mountain shadows they increase in size and their reputations lengthen in importance as the sun of their day sets and the long night of their rest separates us from them. Man is seldom called great and truly great until he has been dead at least twenty years.

But standing to-day under the lengthening shadows of many great reputations these imminent questions naturally arise in many minds: What is true greatness? What are the elements which distinguish the truly noble from the merely selfish famous?

Can Napoleon himself truly be called a great man, great in all the elements which go to make up true greatness? When his companions in arms, Marshals Lannes, was shot on the fatal retreat from Moscow, he called the Emperor to his side and said: "Your Majesty, I am your friend. I am dying, and this is my parting advice! Give up your mercenary ambitions, or they will ruin you, as they have already ruined thousands of others." Did not the dying soldier picture the French Emperor as he was? With the penetration that often comes to the dying he saw beneath the splendor and grandeur of the conqueror a man mean of soul, selfish and unscrupulous. Can Robert Burns, who died weak that he was the victim of intemperance, be called truly a great man? Lord Byron, the licentious destroyer, or Thomas De Quincey, the opium eater, or Mark Anthony, the traitor, or Cleo, the coward, or Lord Bacon, the taker of bribes—can they be called truly great men?

"Well," you say, "instead of picking flaws in the reputations of men of commanding genius, tell us who is truly a great man. Give us one whose character is stamped with the divine approval. Describe such a one, and we may copy his life." That I will do, my friend, and do gladly. Such a character is to be found in John the Baptist. "Though we may go into the richest of all palaces and stand upon the most famous of all battlefields and read the epigrams of all the poets, philosophers, statesmen, inventors, reformers, we cannot find anywhere in any generation up to the time of Jesus Christ a name standing so high as his, of whom Jesus said, "Verily, verily, I say unto you, among them that are born of women there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist; notwithstanding he that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he."

The purpose of this sermon is to show why John the Baptist was greater than all other men before Christ's Jordanic baptism—John the Baptist great, although he was so poor that his home was among the rocks and sands of the wilderness, lying between the capital and the Dead Sea; so poor that his only garments were the coarse skin of the wild beast, through the holes of which stretched his long limbs and hairy chest; so poor that his only food was the grasshoppers or locusts and the honey which had been hidden by the bees among the ravens and the hills.

From the world's standpoint this is a strange portrait of a great man. But how wonderful is its setting. The faded portrait was at a gold face with a silver frame, but the portrait of John the Baptist is a silver face with a gold frame. Like a ruby glowing red it is set in a circle of most precious diamonds. Like a mirror of burnished brass, pure and spotless, it reflects the light of a rising sun. It was John the Baptist's that he was the har-inger of a greater than himself. As the direct forerunner of the Son of God he came at the supreme crisis of the world's history. Great men are produced only by great occasions. Great thoughts are born only amid the throes and convulsions of great agonies. Great hopes are only the rainbowed colors arching the dark heavens, black with angry tempests.

There must be a training for greatness. The occasion does not create greatness; it only develops and produces it. It cannot create or make greatness out of common clay. But great needs bring great men from obscurity into prominence. The occasion furnishes the opportunity. Ulysses S. Grant would have lived and died an unknown tanner but for the Civil war. The Duke of Wellington could not have become the conqueror of Europe had he not overthrown at Waterloo the little Corsican, who threatened to crush all nations. Cromwell would have been unknown to fame and his life would have been that of a simple country gentleman had not Charles I. been obstinately determined to seal his royal follies with his royal stubbornness.

Great men are produced only by great emergencies. This premise being granted, what greater event is there in all history than that of the coming of the promised Messiah? How much it meant to the world and to us! What life of eternal joy have we except that which revolves about the personality of him who was once baptized by John the Baptist in the River Jordan? What hope have we of ever meeting our loved ones, our parents and our friends who have gone beyond except through the Divine Being of whom John the Baptist was the direct forerunner? Oh, my friends, as John the Baptist's name was great by being linked to the name of Jesus Christ, at his first coming, will you not make your name great by doing your part toward preparing the world for Christ's second coming? Will you not carry forth the news that Christ is coming to the help of his struggling followers? As the swift footed runner from the bloody battlefield of Marathon startled all Athens with the news that the Persian invaders had been hurled back, will you not spread abroad the news that the victory has been won by our Christ over sin and death and that he is coming again to rule the world in righteousness?

John the Baptist was a direct forerunner. He was more than that. He was ready to sink and submerge and entirely cover up his individuality with the personality of Jesus Christ. He was ready to let Christ be all in all. He wanted to be merely a foot light to make the divine face shine forth the more clearly. He was willing to decrease so that the glory of his Saviour might increase. Do we, like John the Baptist, sink our individualities in Christ's or do we, like some of the ancient forerunners of the east preceding the King's chariots wish to be dressed so gorgeously and to make so much noise that people will be watching us and admiring our strides instead of turning their eyes toward the royal Master whom we are proclaiming? In our work for our Divine Master are we wishing that all eyes shall be turned upon us instead of upon Jesus? Are we trying to preach so that men may say, "That is a fine sermon?" or are we trying to preach so that, as when Demosthenes harangued, his auditors cried, "Let us go and fight Philip!" our hearers may say, "Come, let us enlist under the banner of Jesus?"

But let us inquire a little more closely how John the Baptist submerged his life in Christ. Jesus was an unknown man at the time John, the hermit and recluse, was making the very palace walls at Jerusalem shake. Up to thirty years of age Jesus was an unknown dweller in a country village. The whole extent of Christ's earthly ministry extended over only a short period of three or four years. We read of Jesus when he was born. Then he disappears. We read of him twelve years later, when, as a boy, he talks with the doctors in the temple. Then he again disappears for eighteen long years. Up to thirty years of age Jesus was politically and sociologically an unknown factor in eastern life.

In the meantime who was this John the Baptist? This second young man, of about the same age as Jesus, was the most famous personality in the east. He had reached, not only echoed throughout the villages, but also throughout the great capital itself. The rich and the poor, the old and the young, the Government officials and the peasant alike left their homes to sit at his feet. Great crowds swarmed about this strange teacher wherever he went. They pressed into his caves as though they were temples. As a result John built up a great school of devotees and baptized his followers by hundreds and thousands. Many of them were ready to lay down and worship him as a temporal as well as a spiritual king. Yet when Jesus appeared this illustrious man was ready, and gladly ready, to surrender all for Christ. Like John the Baptist, are we willing to lay our fame, our wealth and our entire life work at Jesus' feet?

Great was John the Baptist! At the risk of his life he was ready to denounce and attack the entrenched and the practically invulnerable sins of that day. He was not one of those men who always stop and ask, "Does it pay?" before they attempt to do what they ought to do. He preached on the duties of men and waged war against wickedness in high places. He declared against evils as mighty in his day as the liquor traffic is in ours and never condoned a crime though the criminal was a king. He was ready to look the hideous monster sin squarely in the face and then hit at that sin, though his arm might seem to be as helpless and weak as the hand of a young girl striking at the wild beast leaping upon her in the Roman arena. He called a spade a spade, a lie a lie, an adultery an adultery, blasphemy blasphemy and hypocrisy hypocrisy wherever they were found. He denounced and exoriated the sins of the Jewish church. When Herod, the governor, fell in love with his own daughter who was named Philip that he might marry her, John instantly hurled the divine condemnation against the ruler. He raised such a storm of popular indignation that Herod flung him into prison and afterward, at the behest of his step-daughter who was dancing before him at a drunken feast, he beheaded John and gave to her the bloody trophy upon a charger. Oh, my brother, dare we, with John's courage, attack entrenched sin wherever it may be found? Like John the Baptist, are we strong enough and brave enough, no matter what the direct cost may be, to uphold the great principles of gospel truth in the store, the home, the factory, the city hall—aye, through the sacred aisles of the church itself? Dare we do this even if it brings upon us the "powers that be" should unhesitatingly the glittering sword of death and wave it over our heads and the heads of our loved ones?

But, though John the Baptist was great in life, he was also great in death. Like the pioneer who enters the American forests and cuts away the trees and pulls up the stumps and builds the home and plants the corn, in order that his children may reap the harvests after the father is gone, so John the Baptist, not for himself, but for those who should come after him, lived his life and, at last laid it down, a martyr.

If you follow the teachings of the Bible very carefully you will find there was a "school of prayer," a school, between the followers of Jesus Christ and the followers of John. There was no war between John and Christ. No sooner did Jesus appear than John bent the knee and rendered unto him full and complete obedience. But this obedience was not true in reference to the Johannian school. In the fourth chapter of John we find that in order to still this rivalry Christ with his followers left the southern regions of Judaea and traveled north and went through Samaria, and thence to Galilee. John the Baptist died than his disciples took the headless trunk of his body and buried it and "went and told Jesus." Ah, yes, by John's death all these factions were healed. The Johannian school became in toto the school of the Nazarene. Is it not a blessed thought that if we live for Christ this side of the grave we may still continue to live in influence for Christ after we are dead? John the Baptist, great before his sacrifice, John the Baptist, great after he was martyred!

That posthumous influence is mighty for good or evil we all know. We have felt it. In the village where my grandfather lived there labored for many years a gospel minister. He never seemed to see any great results from his ministry. Everybody loved him, yet few converted. Then under his preaching while he was alive, but no sooner was that good man dead than a mighty revival of religion sprang up. My father said that at one communion 300 people confessed Christ in the little village church. And the remarkable fact about that revival was that every one of those new converts traced his conversion directly to the teachings and influence of the dead pastor. Posthumous influence, a mighty influence! Oh, yes, after death we shall live on. A good influence, like that of John the Baptist shall never, never die.

But though I honor and extol the noble characteristics of this great man, there is still another lesson we must learn from the verse of my text. Christ said, "There hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist." Oh, yes, that is true as it went. True, if you speak in reference to those men and women who lived before Jesus was born. But there is one part of the verse you must well bear in mind. It is the last part, "yet, notwithstanding this, he that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he." What does that mean? Simply this: If you and I become part of Jesus Christ, if we accept his atonement and are cleansed by his blood, we become in a sense greater, yes, far greater, than the greatest man who ever lived who has not been sanctified by the Saviour's sacrifice.

Perhaps I can illustrate the Bible thought in a simple way. A great wall or fortress has to be built. The work must be pushed. One group of workmen ascend the scaffolding and lay on one layer of stone and then go to their rest. Another group lay another layer of stone upon the preceding layer and then go to their rest. And so the work upon the wall grows higher and higher, each group of workmen standing upon a better scaffolding than that of the preceding laborers. Well, the great wall of progress has been built in this way. Each generation represents a batch of workmen, each layer of stone the completed work of the preceding generation. The college boy of to-day knows more of geography, more of chemistry, more of astronomy, more of all the sciences, than the ablest man living three centuries ago. Why? Because he has absorbed the compact knowledge of the last 300 years, which the great scholars of those three centuries have laid at his feet.

But as the wall of mental and spiritual progress went on growing higher and higher, each century after century suddenly about 1,900 years ago spiritually it took a miraculous lift. Christ's sacrifice was laid upon the top of it. The Calvary stones were the layers of the year 30 A. D. Those stones will lift all succeeding generations higher in knowledge and in higher than all future condemnations. I once heard a worldly man say: "The best man that ever lived never went to heaven on his own merits. If we ever reach the city of the redeemed, it must be through what Christ has done for us and not through what we have done for ourselves." This statement contains the kernel, the essence, the heart of all the gospel. John the Baptist in his own life great? Yes! Yet, notwithstanding, he that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he."

Now, my friends, from a worldly standpoint it is almost impossible to compare the influences of different lives and to positively find out which one is the greater. But, though we cannot tell who is the greater in a worldly sense, we do know that in a spiritual sense no one can be great save through Christ's blood. To-day I would see a royal robe placed about your shoulders. To-day I would you might become a prince, a princess at a king's levee. To-day I would see you enter into the family of which God is the Father and Jesus the elder brother. To-day I would have you grow into greater spiritual importance than any one who ever lived up to the time of John the Baptist, because Christ's Calvary sacrifice will give you the stars. To-day I would have you a companion of Jesus. Great in life! Great in death! Great in your resurrection! May you be great through the time which shall never end!

A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM Even the Most Stubborn Cases of this Painful Malady Can be Cured.

Rheumatism is caused by acid in the blood. That is an undisputed medic I truth. Liniments, outward applications and alleged electric treatment can never cure what is rooted in the blood. A blood distilling machine must be used to cleanse the blood. That is why rheumatism always yields like magic to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—they actually make new, rich, red blood. This new blood conquers the painful poison, sweeps out the seething acid, soothes the nerves, loosens the muscles and banishes rheumatism from the system. Proof of this is found in the case of Mr. Charles Leatherdale, a popular young druggist's assistant of Tilbury, Ont. He says: "I know from personal experience that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure rheumatism, because they cured me of a severe attack that for months caused me many sleepless nights and painful days. I had tried a number of other medicines, but they failed. Then I decided to give the pills a trial. Before I had finished the second box the pains began to leave me, and by the time I had taken two more boxes the pains were all gone, and I felt like a new man. That is more than six months ago and I have not had a twinge of rheumatism since. It is my belief that a fair course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will drive the most stubborn case of rheumatism out of the system, and as a result of my own experience I cheerfully recommend them for this trouble."

The pills cure all blood and nerve troubles such as rheumatism, sciatica, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, anemia, neuralgia, indigestion, headaches, backaches, kidney troubles, and the ailments that make the lives of so many women a source of almost constant misery. Imitations and substitutes are sometimes offered, and the buyer should see that the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," is printed on the wrapper around every box. If in doubt send direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be mailed at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

Germany the Greatest Reader. According to recent statistics, Germany heads the list as a reading nation, Russia falling to zero. With regard to newspapers, the following facts are even more significant: In the United States of America 75,000,000 of inhabitants are reached by 22,000,000 journals, while Russia, with its population of 130,000,000, has only 500—i. e., thirty-seven times less. This paucity is easily accounted for by the censorship. In Germany the actual number of professional writers is estimated at 12,000, 400 of whom are poets. It would therefore appear that Deutschland is not only the "readingest" but the "writingest" country in the world.—Kansas City Journal.

THAT WATCH

How about those essays? Have you started your essay for The Planet Junior watch contest? The watch is a fine one and it may be seen in the window of VonGutten Bros. Jewellers, east of the market. The contest closes at the end of this month, two weeks from to-day. Don't be late sending in your essay.

THANKSGIVING DAY

How did you put in the holiday? Write to The Planet Junior and tell your experiences of that day. What you have done and seen you had fresh experiences and success you had gathering nuts would be interesting for the other fellows to know.

WELL PRESERVED

One day an old lady named Dandel called on Dolly's mother, and the child, who was usually in constant motion, quietly placed herself on a chair directly in front of the caller and with a surprised, yet puzzled air, watched every movement she made.

MY TEACHER

My teacher's name is Wilyum Smart, and he is smart, you bet! I get a lot of 'chuckle'.

I wrote upon the blackboard once, "Our teacher is a freckle!"

A fat man cannot be described as a mischievous little fellow, if you are a little girl.

Motto—Good cheer!

Bare your soul to God, kindness shown! Let it travel down the years, till in Pass it on.

Smile a little! Smile a little! As you go along!

Smile upon the troubled pilgrim whom you pass and meet!

SMILE A LITTLE

Remember that gladness is just as much a duty as goodness.

BRUCE I.

Remember that gladness is just as much a duty as goodness.

BOTTLE TRICK

Everything that a Chinaman can do differently from anyone else he seems bound to do.

A MODERN RALEIGH

Sir Walter Raleigh's chivalrous action of throwing his cloak on the ground for the queen to step on is recalled by the story of a small boy's generosity, which is described in V. C.

A little girl was standing on a very cold morning in one of the poorest districts of Edinburgh, waiting for a crowd of other poor children to gain admittance into a hall where a small was to be given.

Something to Interest the Boys and Girls

WHO WILL WIN THE WATCH?

What girl or boy would not like to own a good watch—particularly when it was won by merit and energetic effort?

The Planet Junior proposes to place the possibility of winning a good watch in the hands of every girl and boy in Kent.

There is only one essential condition governing the competition. It is that the watch is to be given to the girl or boy who sends to The Planet Junior the best composition or essay during the present month.

The competition will be open to all public and separate school students in Kent County. In order to give every pupil an equal chance the school grade of the competitor will be taken into consideration in making the award.

All pupils who write compositions must attach thereto a certificate from the teacher as to the fact that it is their own work as bona fide pupils of some school in the county and append the number of the school grade or book in which they study. This will be taken into consideration in passing judgment and the girl or boy in the second or third book will have as much chance as the girl or boy in the fourth book.

The prize essay, and possibly several of the others, will appear in The Planet Junior.

Now, girls and boys, who'll win the watch? Everyone has an equal chance.

BEAUTIFUL FLAME

It may not be generally known away from the seaside that a vessel's deck was once covered with yellow metal or copper, at the expiration of a long voyage, makes a most beautiful flame of different colors when burned in an open fireplace or grate, caused by the sheathing coming in contact with copper nails and other composition with which the sheathing is covered.

Years ago this wood was considered worthless, and was cleared away by the owner, but the discovery of its value is now being made in New Bedford, Mass., and vicinity, being placed upon other wood or coal, when the flames from the burning of the old sheathing present colors which are said to be worth from the copper multi-holes.

Persons who visited New Bedford and saw the beautiful effects produced by burning this wood, expressed their surprise at the fact that the young couple are held. They will immediately take up housekeeping at the residence of Mr. John Burges, at the best wishes of a host of friends.

On Tuesday, at eight a. m., another pleasant event took place in the residence of W. Tolwell, east of Wal-laceburg, when Basil M. Burges and Miss Anna Colwell were united in matrimony by the Rev. Gairtrot.

The bride and groom were both well as usual, and the groom, being assisted by his father, after a short wedding trip they will reside on the groom's farm on the North side of Wallaceburg.

A BUSY MAN

George Gould is an excellent example of the young man born to millions, who, in coming into his fortune, shows both the willingness to work and the ability to work effectively. When quite a young lad he went into the office of his father, he attracted all sorts of details which the head of a great corporation could never concern himself with.

He learned telegraphy and for years had a boy and son and the days were passing them along after the day's reading of the family and its properties have been disseminated by the telegraph. Since then on vacation or in the regular and fairly long hours at his desk and when there he works with his mind and entirely without fatigue, sitting in his office, always in his office, and making use of the many messengers constantly at his command.

Once when he was going to the ground floor of the Western Union building, careless, he knocked his nose against a brass rail, and he was so badly injured that he was unable to go to work for some days. He was so badly injured that he was unable to go to work for some days.

He was so badly injured that he was unable to go to work for some days. He was so badly injured that he was unable to go to work for some days.

He was so badly injured that he was unable to go to work for some days. He was so badly injured that he was unable to go to work for some days.
