

UNREST IN GERMANY CONTINUES
Conflict Between Pan-Germans and Non-Militarists
Kaiser Concerned Over Internal Hun Security

Effort to Agitate a General Strike in Berlin on Monday is Reported to Have Failed; Unrest Among the Working Classes is Not Yet Quelled However

By Courier Leased Wire.

Unrest among the working people of Germany has not yet quieted down or has the political conflict between the pan-Germans and the non-militarists lessened appreciably.

To President Kaempf of the Reichstag the Emperor expresses his "ardent daily wish" that the German people may "preserve their union until the final victory of our arms."

Efforts to agitate a general strike in Berlin on Monday are declared to have failed, according to a message reaching Amsterdam.

The revolt in Finland is reported to be backed by the Bolshevik Government in Petrograd, which also has severed diplomatic relations, generally the first act leading to war with Roumania.

Most of the disorders in Finland appear to be in the eastern provinces nearest Petrograd. The revolutionists generally are members of the Red Guard.

On the fighting fronts in France and Italy nothing has occurred to break the almost daily routine of scattered raids and artillery bombardments.

German airplanes again have attempted to raid London, but with little success. Only four machines are believed to have penetrated the defences and one raider was brought down in Essex.

Amsterdam, Jan. 29.—A strike in Berlin, Germany, announced for Monday in leaflets distributed at the end of last week, did not materialize.

The trades unions refused to co-operate and go in a few sections did the factory workers strike.

London, Jan. 29.—Emperor William in a telegram responding to birth congratulations from President Kaempf of the Reichstag, says:

"I receive my warmest thanks for the loyal wishes with which you have again gladdened me on the Reichstag's behalf."

"I begin a serious and decisive year, with proud thankfulness for the immense successes which have been gained by our indefatigable warriors and their brilliant leaders."

"I know to what extent the loyal work of the people at home has contributed to these successes and how much distress and anxiety had to be borne by everyone."

"The general staff of the United States army announces that the German military authorities are evading those terms of the Russian truce which provided that German troops were not to be withdrawn from the eastern front for use in the west during peace negotiations."

Washington, Jan. 29.—Charges that Germany is violating the terms of the Russian truce by withdrawing troops from the eastern front and transferring them to the western battle line were made today by the war department.

"The troops are taken in this way, man by man, for two reasons—first, because it deceives the Russians and secondly, because the eastern troops have been so affected by the revolutionary propaganda that the German military authorities are evading those terms of the Russian truce which provided that German troops were not to be withdrawn from the eastern front for use in the west during peace negotiations."

ITALY HAS LAUNCHED OFFENSIVE

Attack of Considerable Force Delivered on Mountain Front

COMES AS SURPRISE

Italians Attacked Between Asiago and Buenta River

Berlin, Monday, Jan. 28.—(British Admiralty, per Wireless Press).—The Italians launched violent attack yesterday on the northern mountain front, between Asiago and the Brenta River, says the official statement issued this evening.

Italy has furnished a military surprise by launching an attack on her mountain front in mid-winter. The blow comes on the Asiago plateau, where the Austro-German invaders were halted early in the winter in their effort to push down the Italian plains west of the Brenta River.

Berlin heralded the attack yesterday in reporting the breaking out of a violent artillery duel in the Setti-Communi region—the Asiago sector. Its force was reported to have reached a climax at dawn on Monday in the vicinity of Col del Rosso, which height stands about midway between Asiago and the Brenta.

The supplementary German official report of last night, which was not received until today announces the opening of the assault in this region, describing it as a violent attack. There were no accompanying details.

In the lack of more definite news the probability suggests itself that the Italian effort is one somewhat similar to that of the French a few weeks ago east of the Brenta, which resulted in a penetration of the Austro-German line for a considerable distance and the subsequent withdrawal of the enemy from a rather extended area, improving the Entente position notably.

The Vechernia Post declares that Austria-Hungary already has offered to make a separate peace with Russia regardless of the action of Germany.

Copenhagen, Jan. 29.—The Red Guard has won complete control of Helsingfors, capital of Finland, a Stockholm despatch to the National Tidende reports. It is not known whether the Finnish Government officials escaped from the revolutionaries.

GOEBEN SAFE SAYS CONSTANTINOPLE

Claim That Former German Warship Has Entered Harbor Quite Fit For Service—Damage Done Trivial

Asterdam, Jan. 29.—The Turkish Battle Cruiser Sultan Yaws Selim, formerly the German warship Goeben, according to a telegram from Constantinople, received here by way of Berlin, entered the harbor of Constantinople Sunday quite fit for service.

Fleeing from two small British mine warships ten days ago, the Goeben was beached at Nagara Point, in the Dardanelles, shortly after the Midulla, formerly the German cruiser Breslau, had been sunk by striking the staff of Brigadier-General Morrison and during the early period of the war up to and through the second battle of Ypres, served with his brigade in the double capacity of staff and medical officer.

Brandon, Man., Jan. 29.—Lieut.-Col. McCrae, the author of "In Flanders Fields," died Monday morning in France from pneumonia, it is reported by cable from the Deputy Minister of Militia in London.

At the time of his death, Col. McCrae was in command of the medical side of the Canadian hospital, No. 3, the McGill unit at Boulogne, France. At the beginning of the war he entered active service with the first brigade of Canadian artillery on

E. AFRICAN CAMPAIGN A FACTOR

In Developing Future And Permanent Peace of the World

HUN COLONIAL AIMS Dominated by Far Reaching Conception of World Politics

London, Jan. 29.—Lieutenant-General J. S. Smuts, lecturing before the Royal Geographical Society on East Africa last night, contrasted the British and German colonial viewpoints.

Germany was not looking for homes for settlers and had no population, particularly farmers, for emigration. Germany's colonial aims, the General said, were dominated by a far-reaching conception of world politics.

Her real aims were military and in getting strategic positions for exercising world power. Germany's ambition, he added, was for a great east and central African empire, embracing the colonies now owned by the British, Belgian, French and Portuguese, lying south of Lake Chad and north of the Zambesi River.

This territory, General Smuts declared, was first to supply raw materials for the German Empire, but was mainly for raising a great African army to carry out here schemes of world conquest.

"Suppose that German East Africa remains a part of the British Empire after the war," said General Smuts. "Cries of 'it will' and 'must' interrupted him, after which he continued:

"Germany's colonization methods really mean a policy diametrically opposed to that of the British Empire, which has found its symbol in the Union of South Africa. I do not want to speak about the disposal of German East Africa after the war, but the law of self-preservation must apply to that country where Prussian militarism must never be allowed to take hold.

"The East African campaign may be found to be a most important factor in developing the future and permanent peace of the world."

Germany, General Smuts said, proposed to have harbors on the Atlantic and Indian coasts of Africa for naval and submarine bases from which both ocean routes could be dominated and Anglo-American sea power brought to naught.

"The native armies would be useful in the next great war to which Germany is already giving attention, declared the general who added:

"The untrained levies of the Union of South Africa will go down before these German trained hordes of Africans who also will be able to deal with northern Africa and Egypt without help from white troops from Germany. They will also mean a great army planted on the flank of Asia and whose force could be felt through the world."

THE MERCHANTS CORNER

ADVERTISING IS THE POWER OF AN IDEA MULTIPLIED.

Other powers lose by expansion. Steam is power only when confined. Electricity radiated and diffused becomes nothing. Sound dies with distance. Great suns pale into invisible stars and the power of light itself is lost in infinite space. But the strange power of advertising increases by expansion. Diffusion is its life. It grows by what it imparts.

The advertised idea, to become a power, must be genuine, vital and related to the function of a meritorious business; and the means of its furtherance must be well chosen.

WEATHER BULLETIN

Toronto, Jan. 29.—The disturbance which was approaching the great lakes yesterday gave a moderate snow fall with high winds over most of Ontario and western Quebec, but has now almost disappeared.

THE SITUATION

United States Secretary of War Baker told the Senate Military Committee that Uncle Sam would have 500,000 troops in France by Spring and that 1,000,000 more men were now in training at home.

Stories persist of continued food riots in Austro-Germany, and the people are evidently clamorous for peace although the authorities thus far have been able to prevent them.

Loval Fraser, a well known British writer, is making a series of attacks on the British general staff which are creating considerable stir.

In the latest air raid upon England it is satisfactory to know that one of the invaders was brought down in flames and that London defences prevented the majority of the German craft from reaching that area.

The Arabs of the King of the Hejaz have been taking a hand in the Palestine fighting and have inflicted heavy losses on the Turks.

DOLLAR DAY

Thursday of this week is mid-winter Dollar Day in Brantford, and citizens by past experience have learned to realize what this means to them, and their pockets.

In these days of constantly soaring prices such an event is of far more than ordinary importance, and citizens would do well to carefully examine the many attractive prices offered by the various firms advertising in this issue.

All are reputable houses who at such a period give genuine bargains, indeed were this not the case Dollar Day would long ago have been a thing of the past, instead of remaining in the field with constantly increasing vitality.

Without any doubt there will be a record amount of shopping in this community on Thursday and Courier ads. tell you where to go.

THE THEATRES

Denial comes from Ottawa of the alleged intention to close theatres and other places of amusement three days a week in order to help the fuel shortage.

As a matter of fact diversion in a time of stress, such as that through which the world is at present passing, cannot be regarded as otherwise than beneficial and desirable.

The military authorities recognize that fact and artists and moving pictures are not alone sent to the battle area in order to afford recreation for the men, but the latter themselves take every opportunity to get up plays, pantomimes, concerts and so on.

In fact, in this issue of The Courier there is a most interesting report in this regard from Mr. Willison, special Canadiana press representative at the front.

At home those who are worried over the absence of dear ones at the front and all the rest who more or less if they are human at all, feel the war burden, can well afford to seek forgetfulness for a few hours. That is not in any sense an exhibition of callousness, but part and parcel of the method to help carry on.

In old London last night it will be noticed that during the air raid the theatres still continued their performances.

THE CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

Another year's work on the part of the above institution has served to thoroughly maintain its high record of public service, for most assuredly there can be no higher accomplishment in connection with any community than the care and subsequent oversight of neglected children.

A child is for the most part the reflex of its environment, and many useful citizens of both sexes from city and county, whose early surroundings were vicious and deplorable, have become useful men and women by reason of the uplifting hand of this organization.

Older residents will remember that the work was first started there on a voluntary basis, the late Mr. S. M. Thomson, then a merchant tailor, giving much of his time as Secretary. Later he gave up his business in order to fill the position on a permanent basis, and the present home, provided through the generosity of Mrs. Peter Wood and bearing his name, constitutes a fitting memorial to his loving zeal and self-sacrifice on behalf of the cause which he had so closely at heart.

A most worthy successor was found in the person of Mr. J. L. Axford, and the Courier has abundant reason to know that he discharges the onerous duties of the position with tact and skill.

It is not an easy task to supersede parental authority, but instances unfortunately do arise when such a step becomes necessary, and Mr. Axford combines firmness and urbanity in a most commendable way.

The figures in his annual report do not begin to convey all the work that he accomplishes, for much of his great and unceasing service cannot be tabulated. One notable feature of his annual deliverance is that "there has not been a single complaint of neglect caused by drunkenness since September, 1916."

Mr. Axford makes the suggestion of the appointment of a social welfare officer, and also the establishment of a baby clinic, two excellent ideas.

In addition to the assistance which is extended by many estimable citizens, not forgetting the help of the school children and the members of the Pansy Club, the Society is also fortunate in having at the head of the Juvenile Court Judge Hardy, who in that position has manifested a very capable and kindly interest in the young delinquents who come before him, and who have for the most part been more sinned against than sinning.

The Children's Aid not only comes to the aid of little unfortunates, but it also seeks to place them in congenial homes, and keeps a kindly eye upon them until they are thoroughly launched on the road to good citizenship. The movement is certainly worthy of the hearty support of all classes.

When it comes to a tussle between the storm king and the locomotives, the latter always have to take the count.

All poems on Spring are still firmly refused at this office.

The blasphemous Kaiser has issued renewed thanks for "Great deeds of God for the German people" and his continued approval of the Hun cause. Wholesale murder of the innocent, ravishments, the wanton destruction and despoiling of cathedrals, the enslavement of the Belgians and a thousand other atrocities bear witness that it is his Satanic Majesty who is the real backer of the Teuton devils.

January this year is evidently not capable of even one little thaw it.

In order to increase the civic revenue in Montreal it is proposed to add another tax of $400,000 a year on water users, in addition to $1,000,000 annually thus raised. Why not let the levy on the slackers there and secure a yield still more worth while.

The pamphlet states that probably the last three years have seen great changes and experiments in social, political and industrial conditions than any preceding century, and the church must be alive to these changes, and seek to guide them in harmony with Christian ideals, otherwise it will fall in its mission.

Y.M.C.A. DIRECTORS. The Board of Directors monthly meeting at the Y.M.C.A. last night was well attended, routine business being the main feature. A letter of thanks from Lieut.-Col. McCausland was read, expressing the thanks of the military authorities for what the local association was doing for the battalion now quartered here. The financial statement for the past quarter was fairly encouraging, though the expenses particularly for fuel and water were running heavier than previously. The Membership Committee report, presented by Chairman Danby, indicated that much work was needed and the heart of co-operation of every man interested in "bringing the total up to that required by the budget. The board are making a special request to all members for arrears and urging every man and boy who can to join to fill the gaps caused by enlistments. Vice-president J. M. Young occupied the chair, the other directors present being Messrs. Cook, Thompson, Lockington, Dobby, Foster, Secord, Hulton and Ward.

CLOSING THEATRES. Manager Whitaker of the Grand expressed strong criticism of the city council's action last night in fixing a closing hour of ten p.m. for all city theatres. He pointed out that he had already adopted an earlier hour for starting all performances, but in view of uncertain railway communication, it is practically impossible for many operatic companies to reach the city until evening, and to conclude their performance by ten o'clock. Manager Monte of the Brant and the Rex, while expressing surprise that the matter had been put through by the council in one meeting, admitted that he was little affected, as under the new hours both of his theatres are closed by ten. In the event of an especially long program, the show may extend a few minutes after the above hour, but it is hoped that so long as the spirit of the law is obeyed, the letter will not be enforced.

To Users of Coal

In order that no homes in this city need be without coal, the Civic Commission have arranged the following disposition of the supplies which arrived yesterday:

Orders will be issued from the Central Office in half ton lots, until such time as present supplies are all sold. While there is not an over abundance on hand, there is sufficient to cover all legitimate requirements, and there is no need of any panic.

As the dealers are all loaded up with more orders than they can deliver in the next few days, 12 extra carters have been pressed into service. In all cases where citizens receiving city orders can arrange to handle their own deliveries they should do so and thus permit us to use the dealers' outfits for reaching those unable to get deliveries. It is necessary to maintain central control to prevent repeating, which would result in a return to former conditions, when a few would be served and the many neglected.

For the purpose of permitting every person to immediately secure sufficient to carry them until deliveries can be made, it has been arranged to leave the following supplies with the respective dealers for distribution in bag lots to those who wish to call for same:

At Gibson Coal Office, Clarence St.—Chestnut Coal, 14 tons; stove coal, 8 tons; egg coal, 14 tons.

At Wilson Coal Office, Nelson St.—Chestnut, 14 tons; stove, 8 tons; egg coal, 14 tons.

At Mullaney's Coal Office, West Brantford.—Chestnut, 7 tons; stove, 7 tons.

At D. McDonald's, 169 Albion St.—Chestnut, 14 tons; stove, 15 tons; egg, 7 tons.

At Miller and Millan's, 147 Charlotte St.—Chestnut, 14 tons; egg, 10 tons.

This makes a total of 142 tons in the hands of the dealers, which they may give out according to their judgment, but in no case should citizens ask the dealers to deliver in small lots. If your case is an urgent one kindly arrange to get a bag or two as above, and then secure your city order, and leave same with the dealer for delivery as soon as his facilities will permit. It is not necessary to get a civic order for these small lots. Any of the above dealers will give you what you require. To help in this matter the Commission are to-day asking the above dealers to keep their offices open up to 9 o'clock on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week. We respectfully ask all citizens to co-operate with us in this matter, and to refrain from abuses. Our one desire is to bring relief as quickly as possible to all citizens who have had to suffer from the fuel shortage. The task has not been an easy one by any means. Now that we have succeeded in getting the coal to Brantford, it is every citizen's duty to assist us in making an equitable distribution.

Under authority from the Fuel Controller the following prices have been set:

In 1 1/2 Ton Lots $2.75
In 1/2 Ton Lots $5.25
In Ton Lots $10.00

Reports have reached the Commission of higher prices having been charged, and from this date, should any dealer charge a higher price than enumerated above, citizens knowing of same should notify the Civic Fuel Commission, giving the dealer's name, the customer's name and address, and same will be promptly attended to. Should any advance on above prices be necessary, from time to time, due notice of same will be given by the Commission in the public press.

When desiring to place an order through the Central Office, kindly write your name and address plainly on a post card, give the quantity and kind of coal you require, when you wish delivery, and mail same to Central Fuel Office, Hydro Bldg., City. If your case is an urgent one, and sufficient coal is on hand, an order will be mailed to you at once. All you will then require to do is to arrange with the dealer designated on said order for your delivery and payment for same.

It is not the Commission's desire to resort to drastic measures, but conditions are such that we must insist on a strict observance of the above arrangement by dealers and citizens alike. Any person or persons failing to comply with above arrangement, for the purpose of securing double orders, or in any way hindering the work of an equitable distribution, will be prosecuted under the authority of the Fuel Controller.

Some customers have been returning their orders for stove coal and making the imperative demand for nut coal. Up to the present it has been impossible to secure sufficient nut coal for all requirements, and we have no positive assurance that we will be able to care for orders for any particular kind of coal. In an emergency like this, we cannot believe that these people should be so exacting. It has been the cause of great confusion, and, in future, if we are obliged to substitute, we hope citizens will realize that we are giving them the very best service possible under the circumstances.

If you order Chestnut coal and receive stove coal, be assured that our supply of Chestnut has been exhausted, otherwise we would not make this substitution.

The past two weeks has been a trying time for the people, the dealers and the Commission, and we sincerely hope (now that the crisis has been passed and relief is in sight) that we will have the hearty co-operation and assistance of all.

BANQUET
Last evening the annual banquet of St. John's choir was held in the school room, and a delightful time was spent. This is an event in the annals of St. John's, and is looked forward to by all, especially by the boys. The choir leader, Mr. Trenwith, made an excellent manager and director for the evening. The choir and their leader work together well. The dinner provided by the ladies of the church would do honor to the best in the land. After dinner toasts and songs were in order, then games until the gathering broke up at 11. The prizes given to the choir boys and other members for faithfulness throughout the year, were given at the close of the evening. One boy on each side of the chancel received a first prize, according to marks, also a gift for each boy from the choir leader. The surprise of the evening came when Miss Inez Jennings and Miss L. Cleator and Mrs. Ott were asked to take a place on the platform, while the choir leader, on behalf of all, read an address to Miss Jennings, thanking her for her services as organist, and asking her to accept "this purse" in token of appreciation. The purse was presented by Miss Cleator on behalf of the choir, and by Mrs. Ott, on behalf of the Ladies' Guild, the purse being $50.00. Miss Jennings made a fitting reply, and was certainly taken by surprise. To say that she highly appreciates the gift, one need only to see her face. St. John's choir is very faithful, and a good year's service is being entered into, in fact, anything St. John's undertakes they do, and the choir extend their sincere thanks to all who in any way helped to make the banquet a success.

It reads: "This Act shall be liberally construed to the end that its purpose may be carried out, to wit: that the care and custody and discipline of a juvenile delinquent shall approximate as nearly as may be that which should be given by its parents, and that as far as practicable every juvenile delinquent shall be treated, not as a criminal, but as a misguided and misguided child, and one needing aid, encouragement, help and assistance.

The City Council is to be congratulated on the completion of the long talked of, and much needed swimming pool and I feel sure a much greater work would be undertaken by them if the finances would permit.

A large number of cases come to my office each year that strictly speaking do not come under our Department yet they seek advice, counsel and temporary aid and guidance.

Four wards were married during the year. Two infants that had been taken in temporarily for sick babies in spite of our best efforts on their behalf.

As a National service I would urge the establishment of a well-baby clinic immediately after the New Year. This could be held at our shelter as a central, down-town location is considered best, meeting the needs of the City and would not interfere with our shelter work but would help us in our duty to keep babies well as far as possible and not the intention of this proposed clinic to treat sick babies, these should and will be directed to their family physician for care.

One of our boys Bruce Matthews has paid the supreme sacrifice in France. This is the first we have had to record so far.

The following letters received from foster-parents speak for themselves and I give them as sunbeams that throw their encouraging rays on the path of our workers.

Dear Sir:— As I noticed in the papers we received when taking charge of the children we got at the Shelter, we are to let you know of any removals. We have been in Alberta since June. The children are well and happy and growing very fast.

Myrtle is a very dear and bright little girl. She goes to school every day and is getting along well. In addition to this she is a very effective reciter for a child of her years.

Morden, our boy, is learning very well. He is not as quick as the girl; but is developing a very deep intelligence with which we are delighted. He is very affectionate and we love him very much.

Dear Sir:— I am writing you concerning Helen and would say she is keeping in perfect health and we are all well satisfied. She is doing extra well at school and has three times this month got an extra mark for being the neatest girl in the class, which of course, is quite pleasing to us all. Wishing you all success in your noble work, we are, Yours sincerely, The diligence and enthusiasm of the Pansy Club throughout the year and their thoughtfulness in filling our coal bin has been appreciated. To say "thank you" is entirely inadequate, indeed, I am at a loss to find words to express my appreciation of their magnificent help. To the many, many others who have given so freely during the year of food, vegetables, meats, clothing and money, we are grateful and pleased to mention the increase of these contributions from the cent, at large. These have grown so numerous that we find it impractical to acknowledge in detail these gifts through the press, but assure the donors of our deep appreciation of these.

The Paris Branch has been very active during the year in their work and through Mr. Thompson and Chief Rutherford many visits were made and homes benefited. Through the death of Chet Felker of Paris, we lost a devoted and energetic helper there. At all times he was ready and willing to assist me to the fullest extent. The Society lost another tried and true worker in the death of Miss Lizzie Sutherland. She will be missed at our meetings. Each year we regret to record these losses but through their unselfish devotions on behalf of the children they have set splendid examples for others to follow and carry on the work.

I would respectfully draw your attention to the need of a unified effort to raise funds for the carrying on of our work and extend in other directions. I would suggest a collection day be fixed and help annually to raise funds. This could be well organized and I feel sure would be well met by the public in general. If two members would undertake to each get another member inside a week and these get each one the next week and that carried out faithfully, every man, woman and child in Brantford and suburbs would be members in 14 weeks. This is not likely to happen, but yet will show how much can be accomplished if each does his share.

The spring of 1918 will be 25 years since the Children's Protection Act of Ontario became law, and all this time it has been under the able administration of Mr. Kelso. This anniversary will be suitably remembered by a representative gathering of workers and friends of neglected children at Toronto, to do honor and pay tribute to Mr. Kelso for his unselfish devotion to the cause of child welfare in this Province. His work has been an inspiration not only to Ontario, but to the Dominion and to our neighbors to the South of us, and many of our societies received their plan of work from Mr. Kelso. It is my earnest prayer that he may be long spared to carry on this splendid work. In closing, I wish to thank our President Dr. Leeming, for his kindly and helpful leadership and excellent service rendered and hope he will be with us for some time to come, in an active office. To the other officers and committees we wish to accord our highest appreciation for their excellent services rendered. To the doctors of the city, especially Drs. Bier, Marquis and Bell, we are thankful for their generous obliging and efficient services rendered free of charge. To Miss Forde and the staff of the Brantford hospital we extend our thanks. To the pastors of the churches and the staff of the schools, we are grateful. We also thank the public press for the publicity and help so well rendered during the year. And last but not least the City, County and Municipal councils, who so generously assisted us by grants and kind words and works. When these are all considered together, our hearts are filled with gratitude and encouragement to go on in this work of child saving with as great an energy as we can put forth. May God spare us to carry on. Yours truly, J. LESLIE AXFORD.

KAISER WILHELM AN IMPERIAL MADMAN

Charles Henry Meltzer, in New York Herald

At last most of us have begun to realize what had for many years been plain to some that the German Kaiser is stark, staring mad.

From time to time we have had bits of this. We have read stories of the Kaiser's startling pranks, of his frenzied outbreaks and amazing sallies. But few believed half that was said and printed. By some the stories were set down to prejudice.

We had quite forgotten scores of unappreciated facts which might and should have made us guess the truth. We had forgotten, among other things, that in his lusty youth Prince Wilhelm (now the Kaiser), with a party of choice Prussian friends, had founded a poor devil of a fellow officer to suicide, after badgering and assaulting him in one of the royal Prussian palaces. We had forgotten the gross inhumanity with which, on his accession to the imperial throne, the new Kaiser had treated his own mother, and the revelations which connected him, at one moment, though perhaps unjustly, with the strange doings of those vile "Knights of the Round Table," the Zu Eulenberg and the Von Moltkes.

Nor had we remembered, among other facts of interest, that from his childhood on the Kaiser had been afflicted with a malignant ear trouble; that his father, the high-minded Friedrich, died a victim of some cancerous disease, complicated by an even more terrible malady, and that his grandfather, old Wilhelm had inherited the same taints from his proud ancestors.

There has been more than want of balance in the actions, words and ways of the reigning Kaiser, more than megalomania and the inflated lust of power. A man who claimed his right divine to rule his fellow man in this twentieth century hardly has been sane or really normal. Those blasphemous prattings about God-and-Me, the suppressed latest of the imperial proclamations in interview with Dr. Hale, and that vouching for God's peculiar love and gracious favor for the German nationalists would of themselves have more than warranted his removal to the discreet seclusion of a lunatic asylum.

But by the Germans and by hosts of good Americans until quite recently such things had been accepted as mere outbreaks of an unbridled madman if they had not indeed been admired as proofs of genius. It is only now, after years of blood and greed, that the whole world is slowly beginning to perceive what those who have seen the Kaiser at close range have always suspected—and indeed have known.

There is nothing in the least strained or improbable in the theory—and I might add, the assumption that the most monstrous of all crimes in history was due to the initiative of an untrammelled criminal madman. Dr. Hale, beyond question, grasped the significance of the Kaiser's conduct when he held that interview with him. King Edward may or may not have kept his counsel out of deference to his family. But he undoubtedly knew what was wrong with Wilhelm. The poor Kaiser has always known the truth. Prince Bismarck knew it.

Wilhelm's tutor at least once expressed his conviction that his pupil was insane to an American friend of his. And Sir Morel Mackenzie with whom (when a very youthful special correspondent of the New York Herald) I once rode alone from San Remo to Paris and discussed many vital matters concerning Prince Wilhelm and his then almost dying father, believed in the insanity of the future Kaiser, though he refused, as was but natural, to attach his name to a public utterance on the subject.

It has been my fortune, or misfortune, to be mixed up here and there with the present Kaiser. I was on the platform of the station at San Remo long ago when he arrived from Germany, bursting with his own importance, to dictate to his father his imperial will and pleasure as to whether the then Kronprinz should or should not submit to an operation.

The impression he then made on me and on the Italians who had met to welcome him was painful. It was still more painful to his capable mother, who snubbed him ruthlessly and closed her door against him. Once, after I had called some unpleasant facts to the Kaiser's attention, he received a nasty message from the Kaiser, requesting me to leave him out of my despatches. Still later, after Berlin Foreign Ministry had threatened me with expulsion for publishing sensational but true disasteful news, I met the Kaiser with the Kaiserin at a garden party given by King Humbert at the Palace of the Quirinal. On all these occasions and on many others he seemed "abnormal" in a way which was not only quite "inevitable" (they used to speak of him in old days as "der unberechenbare Kaiser") but also potentially dangerous.

The glamo- of the mailed fist and shining sword which the imperial lunatic has so often shaken in men's faces has blinded his subjects for this many a long year to the brutality of his policy, the absurdity of his arrogance and the vulgarity of his posturing. His Germans have followed him like "moutons de Panurge" and (though not always without protest) his rank and file and at times worshipped him. They are responsible with him for all the crimes which President Wilson has attributed to the militarists and the Hohenzollerns. The day will come, and it may come ere long, when the scales will fall from their subservient, bloodshot eyes, and they will shudder, as the world at large has shuddered, at the consequences of their insanity.

For those consequences the mad Kaiser and the degenerate Kronprinz will be damned by history and I hope, punished, in this world or in the next—if not in both. But I protest, with all the vigor of John Durroughs, against acquitting the Germans as a people of the crimes which have been committed, with their approval, by a ferocious madman and his abominable offspring.

"Are we Bolsheviks that we should forget the wholesale massacre of harmless children, the dishonoring of dear mothers and pure maidens, the crucifixion of brave soldiers in the field, and, above all, the black, sordid, hideous treachery which Germany has put into the whole wide world?"

Or are we free men and free women, bound together by our love of justice, our hate of wrong, and our resolve to do our best, as best we may, to end the shame, the grief, the horror of these days?

HANSELMAN'S SENTENCE IS SUSPENDED

Was Shown Leniency After His Two Months' Incarceration

Hamilton, Jan. 29.—Dr. H. L. Hanselman, of Brantford, who was found guilty some days ago by a jury on a charge of fraud on the department in connection with the plugging of shells at the factory of Gould, Shapley and Muir, was allowed to go on suspended sentence by Chief Justice Falconbridge yesterday afternoon. His lordship said that in view of the evidence of the foreman that Hanselman had been instructed to plug shells in 1916 and on the recommendation of the jury for mercy, he felt that the two months that the defendant had been incarcerated met the needs of the case. He delivered a strong warning to munition workers everywhere that hereafter they cannot plead ignorance of orders of superiors for their dangerous practices. In view of what is now known they will be liable to be tried for treason, punishment being death.

THEATRE CLOSING TO COME UP TODAY

War Council Will Consider Question of Curtailing Amusements

MANAGERS PROTEST

Ottawa, Jan. 28.—The war council at its meeting to-morrow, will take up the question of closing the theatres of Canada three days each week. The theatre owners are understood to have been apprised of the intended action in order that they may make whatever representations they deem advisable.

Ottawa, Jan. 28.—A delegation of theatre and moving picture men, who wired to Ottawa to-day, retained counsel and sought an appointment with the Government to protest against a supposedly impending order closing theatres three days of the week, cancelled their trip when advised that the rumor was quite unjustified.

The original report was that the motive of the alleged prohibitory order was the conservation of fuel, but it is also learned that it was one of the fruitful suggestions made by certain agriculturists who represented the whole of the screen is so strong as to keep young men, otherwise eligible and willing away from the farm.

The Government is quite unlikely to come with any view that the movies detract from the fields. Rather in communities adjacent to theatres such entertainments would be regarded as providing a pleasant diversion.

The general subject of fuel conservation is under consideration. If the conditions become very acute drastic action may be necessary, but there is nothing to indicate the singling out of theatres, nor has there been a decision that any action would be taken.

When fuel Controller Magrath comes home from Washington, where he is in consultation with the American authorities, the situation and any measures it calls for would be considered.

Numerous Protest.

Ottawa, Jan. 28.—A rumor that all theatres and moving picture houses throughout the Dominion were to be closed for three days to conserve fuel has brought a flood of telegrams to Ottawa. Numerous protests have been received. A couple of delega-

Delegation to Ottawa.

St. John, N. B., Jan. 28.—On receiving information that the Dominion Government might close the theatres three days a week to save fuel the local managers and film agents to-day held a meeting authorized a delegation to go to Ottawa and order advertising in all the Ottawa newspapers protesting against such an order.

THE BRANT.

"The Judgment House," dramatized by J. Stuart Blackton from the novel of Sir Gilbert Parker, heads a powerful program at the Brant for the first of the week. It is the first of a series of the works of the eminent Canadian novelist which are being placed upon the screen by Blackton as his first production under the Paramount program. "The Judgment House" is a gripping story with an appeal to every one. Many of its scenes are laid in the diamond fields of South Africa, and throughout the photography is of a very high order. An exceptionally capable cast is headed by Violet Heming and Conway Tearle. The Montana Five have an offering of genuine merit, a western novelty singing number. The eleventh episode of Paramount's serial supreme "Who is Number One" is replete with the thrills and mysteries which won the picture its reputation.

EARLY CLOSING FOR THEATRES AND RESTAURANTS ENFORCED BY COUNCIL

Former Must Close at 10 p.m., and the Latter at Midnight—Merchants Requested Also to Curtail Hours—Ald. Montgomery Quits Buildings and Grounds Committee When Purchase of Wood Was Placed in Hands of Fuel and Food Committee Matters relative to fuel and hydro power occupied the attention of the city council almost exclusively in a three hour session last night, the only matter not pertinent to either of these issues dealt with being the council's consenting to the construction by the T. H. & B. railway of a scale track across Newport St. A deputation of farmers waited upon the council to protest against alleged discrimination practised against rural residents by the fuel commission in the matter of obtaining coal. While the council was in session, the fuel commission was responsible only to the Dominion fuel controller, Mayor MacBride promised the deputation that with relief in eight farmers would in future be able to obtain coal upon the same basis as city residents. Theatres within the city must close at ten o'clock, and restaurants at midnight, in consequence of a by-law passed after a very spirited nature. The council also by resolution requested merchants of every class to adhere to schedules of shorter hours drafted among themselves. Following upon the appointment by the fuel and food committee, and his placing in the hands of authority the removal of the matter from the hands of that body. He was offered a seat upon the fuel and food committee, but declined. In the latter stages of the meeting, word was received that a discussion took place upon the subject of hydro conservation, several of the aldermen voicing a demand for more light when the city was paying for light it was not receiving under the new restrictions.

Although the hour of meeting is fixed for seven o'clock, and according to statute, the meeting is automatically adjourned if a quorum is not present at 7.30, the Council did not commence its session until 7.45.

Sale of Wood Ald. Bragg submitted a report on the sale of civic wood, 374 orders having been filled and an aggregate of $1,345.25 received in return. A duplicate order system had been adopted in the sale of all wood, whereby all possibility of error is eliminated. "I would suggest that you take some action to let the public know we have wood for sale," suggested the Mayor. "Some are aware of it and some are not."

Ald. Montgomery declared Ald. Bragg's report "a one man affair as the Buildings and Grounds Committee had not had a meeting to deal with the matter. Ald. Burrows corroborated Als. Montgomery. "Then I rule the report out of order," declared Mayor MacBride. "There is no haste, and it should come through the committee."

Consent to Scale Track. The Railway Committee reported: That the consent of the corporation be given to the construction of the T. H. and B. Railway of a scale track at grade across Newport street upon condition that the railway crossing shall for all time be properly maintained as a highway crossing by the railway company and that this consent is accepted by and acted on by the railway company without prejudice to the objections filed by the corporation to the construction of further railway tracks upon Newport street owing to the city's plans with reference to the future of the said street and without prejudice to the right of the city to have protection furnished by the railway company on said street as a term of the construction of further tracks thereon, including said scale track.

The report is in connection with an application by the T. H. and B. to the Dominion Railway Board, the city solicitor explained to the Council. There are no dwellings on Newport street, but there are in all twelve tracks, crossing the street. The matter was referred to the railway committee by the Council of 1917, too late for action to be taken. He expressed the opinion that under the conditions outlined there could be no harm in authorizing the construction of the scale track.

Wood From Walsh Ald. Montgomery reported as follows: To His Worship, the Mayor, and Aldermen, City of Brantford: Your committee as authorized to purchase wood for the use of citizens, proceeded to Walsh lumber camp, which is 50 miles via the G. T. R., and after looking over the wood there purchased a quantity, which has been cut one year, and is dry elm, chestnut and soft maple in equal quantities classed as No. 2 selected and considered good heating and cooking fuel.

For guidance in future purchases we may say that the wood there as chopped and piled by the chopper at a certain rate per cord. All kinds and quantities, dozed, dead, crooked and small limbs piled together and sold at chopper's measure to dealers, factories and others as it is in the piles. No. 1 wood is hard maple, beech, birch and hickory. As our contract shows, all small limbs, dead or dozed wood and unreasonable crooked sticks is to be culled out, effecting a saving of one cord in eight over chopper's measure, and we save on the basis of the measurement of the wood on the arrival of the car here and after loading, shunting and setting in the car, there will be a saving in measurement of at least a cord in each car over pile measure-

Sporting Comment

Now that they've put the B (for boycott) on Weeghman and he has reported to his millionaires that he can't spend more money for players because nobody dares sell him, it may be presumed that the David Harving in the big baseball show has eased up enough for us to safely review the effects of the trades made and talked about so much.

During the frenzied period of buying the Chicago Cubs and the Boston Red Sox, as we remember got the bulk of the swag. Therefore hasty prophets pick them for the flags in their respective leagues. But let us pause and consider.

The Cubs got Alexander, Tyler Paskert and Killifer. They got rid of Larry Doyle, Fred Williams, a no-account pitcher and a couple of inconsequential catchers. It looks like they might have been helped a lot, but were they? Even the Chicago boosters doubt. George Tyler didn't put the Boston Braves anywhere last year, and Dode Paskert is about balanced by Fred Williams who was given up in exchange. Grover Alexander—if he doesn't get caught in the draft, ought to help of course, but winning 30 games for the Phillies and copping as many for the Cubs is a different proposition, as all will discover. The Cubs have built a pitching staff that ought to run up a good many wins with anything back of—but where did Walter Johnson ever land Washington?

McINNIS BEST RED SOX GET
The Boston Red Sox come next as chief beneficiaries in the trade mart. They got Bush, McInnis, Schang and Strunk. They give up several players and a lot of cash in exchange, but if Uncle Sam doesn't let go, the Red Sox won't have made up by these trades what they have lost. Staffy McInnis is the best thing they have to show for putting Connie Mack in bad at Philadelphia and Uncle Sam had his eyes on Staffy.

Joe Bush will have to improve 100 per cent to win a great many games with a team that can't get more runs than do the Red Sox. Strunk will be better on the offence than Lewis, who goes to war, but not enough, Wally Schang was a good catcher two years ago when he had something to catch, but not much since.

The sweet Brooklyn-Pittsburgh trade already has been dwelt upon in a previous issue. All the commentators said it looked like an even break, both clubs benefited and all hands satisfied. We have reserved our say, which is this: The trade was 60 per cent Brooklyn and 40 per cent Pittsburgh. Stengel is a hustling but uncertain fielder, who seems to have lost his stride as a hitter and his temperament is such that he never has worked in harmony with his club. Cutshaw has been a grand second baseman, but his decline is indicated by the fact that the Brooklyn club probably could have sent him to the minors had it insisted on waivers on him.

Chuck Ward is a coming star as a shortstop or third baseman. Al Maunax will pitch his head off for Robinson and Burleigh Grimes is a good pitcher with a good hitting team like the Dodgers behind him.

Herzog Helps No Club.
Now we come to the Braves and the Giants, who did a little trading after the Braves had manoeuvred the Cubs out of Larry Doyle. The Braves shift Doyle over to the Giants, along with Jess Barnes, a pitcher, in exchange for the neurotic Charley Herzog, who had a miserable year in 1917 and shows no more signs of a comeback than does the Kaiser. He won't play 60 games for Stallings next year and in those he does play he will never get along with Ed. Koney. Think of Herzog trying to fill the place vacated by Rabbit Maranville and then guess what's going to happen to the Braves. It's too pitiful for words.

Doyle may not help the Giants a lot, but he won't hurt them. He has the spirit, knows McGraw's ways and harmonizes with him, and is still a better ball player than most people imagine, because they judged him when he was out of sorts. He'll try for a new start with the Giants, Jess Barnes, who goes with Doyle in the Herzog trade, looks like a good pitcher. He will be under McGraw and with good company.

Now over to the American League end of the trading bee again, and we have the dicker between Washington and the Browns. St. Louis got rid of two players impossible as long as Fielder Jones manages the team. It got in exchange a fair sort of a pitcher, but he won't be of much use, for he'd have to be at tight to win for Jones. Washington may lose Lavan, who says he means to go into the navy as a surgeon. He may. He's more likely not to, and if he sticks by baseball he'll help Griffith's team as soon as he's fumigated of the disease that spoiled him in St. Louis. That disease, understand, isn't physical. Johnny is as sound as a dollar bodily.

Shotton will do good work for Griffith and help his outfield a lot. He is a more valuable man than ever given credit for being in St. Louis, where they said he wasn't a smart ball player. His answer is his record. It speaks for itself.

The Browns, of course, have a trade still brewing that cannot fail to be of advantage, however, it may be made. Reference is made to the disposal of Second baseman Herri Pratt, a great ball player when he's right, but well understood to be not "right" as a member of Fielder Jones' team. It was expected that before this Pratt would have been shifted to the Yankees, but the deal is temporarily blocked and in the end the second baseman may land with some other club. However, as this screech deals with trades actually made, possibilities such as a Pratt transfer have no part in the conclusions that are drawn.

Taking up the case of Connie Mack though it's hardly worth while, he got a better catcher in Thomas than he gave the Red Sox in Schang. He got a good prospect in Kopf and if Gregg's work in the International last year is any criterion he struck near a balance for Joe Bush. But it really doesn't matter what Mack got. For that, it doesn't matter much whether the Browns or Washington got for the players they swapped will neither make nor break them. For Boston's Braves, trading operations weakened them, unless one figures Gregg's work in the International. The Red Sox got enough out of their deals with Mack to keep them in just as contenders, no more.

The two teams really helped are the Giants and the Cubs, as a result of the past month's changes. The Cubs are helped because they might find themselves fighting to keep out of last place without Alexander and Killifer—now they may get in the first divisions. The Giants are helped because the fans will be in good humor over the return of Doyle. They didn't need any help on the field, anyway.

So much for trading results as we go to press—except this: The game has been helped because the fans will like to see new faces.

STRIKE IS ON IN FINLAND

Fighting With Red Guards Is Reported at Helsingfors
By Courier Leased Wire

Strike in Finland
Stockholm, Jan. 25.—The long threatened revolution in Finland is proceeding in the eastern provinces, according to sparse reports reaching Helsingfors and forwarded here.

The railway station at Helsingfors is reported to have been occupied by the Russian "Red Guard." Sharp fighting has taken place at Viborg. Russian soldiers are said to be aiding the "Red Guard" and reinforcements are reported to have been sent from Petrograd.

In answer to a protest made by Finland, the Russian Government said that it must support the proletariat against Finland's bourgeois. Helsingfors is commanded by the guns of Russian warships, under control of Bolshevik sailors.

A Bolshevik organ at Helsingfors says the Red Guard got out of hand and was guilty of murdering and plundering. Conditions of anarchy are said to be prevailing in the region of the disturbances.

Attitude of Opposition.
Amsterdam, Jan. 25.—The Hungarian Independence party of which Count Michael Karolyi is the head, has decided to adopt an attitude of opposition toward the government formed by Premier Puskas. He will support the so-called chise bill, a Budapest party.

In political circles this decision is believed to be due to a difference between Count Karolyi and domestic questions. Karolyi asked Count Theodor Bismarck, member of the Independent party, who was minister of put in the cabinet which has been formed, to retain his portfolio, but he should be in the cabinet. This is believed to be one of the principal causes of the government's fall.

Count Karolyi now openly opposed to the Hungarian Government, has been one of the foremost advocates of Hungary. He caused sensation in December 1915, by demanding in the Hungarian parliament that the government should make peace proposals. Last year he was reported to have initiated a movement to obtain peace for Hungary with or without the consent of Germany and Austria. In November he went to Switzerland to further his peace plans.

Dollar Day's Most Important News

EVERY LINE AN AID TO ECONOMY. EVERY ITEM A MONEY SAVER

A Fair Warning to Our Patrons

We want the customers of this store to know that merchandise of all descriptions is now at the lowest ebb in price that can be hoped for, or, in fact, is possible for years to come. All pure woollens, such as blankets, wearing apparel, etc., will be practically a thing of the past in a very short time. A few who are alive to these facts are stocking up in every line as much as they think they will require for two or three years; others as much as their means will allow. We say, Follow Suit—You Won't Be Sorry.

IT WILL PAY YOU

A year ago we earnestly advised our patrons and the public to buy Linens, forecasting a rapidly advancing market. Those who acted on our advice have reason to congratulate themselves. Now we again advise the public to buy Linens in this Dollar Day Sale, because of the many price advantages offered, and the fact that prices will never be as low again after this Sale closes, because stocks cannot be duplicated at old prices.

THE H.S. FALLS CO. OF SIMCOE

FALLS' FEBRUARY SALE

More than ever before since we originated the annual sale, 30 years ago, our 1918 sale will be the most welcome, a Bigger and Better February Sale than any of its predecessors.

Many stores will hold "February Sales"—some are real—occasions prepared for with more or less thoroughness and scope, according to the ability of them—others are not real sales. The borrowed Lion's Skin does not change the bray or hide the hoofs—comparison is your only safeguard. FALLS' FEBRUARY SALE goes deep into preparations, not only to right kinds of goods but plenty of them, and the scope of this sale also includes the complete chain of related acts that make for the entire satisfaction of every customer from our store to your home.

LINENS

From far and near Falls' Store is known as a good Linen Store. We are not recommending haste or hurry in anything, especially in selecting linens, but there will be on sale Friday morning when the sale begins, thousands of yards of linens and thousands of pieces of lovely linen things at most reasonable cost, that are not replaceable at the price this year or for several years, at this store or any other store. REMEMBER THAT. They include:

- Pure linen bleached and Table Damask, 60, 66 and 72 inches wide.
- Unbleached all Linen Damask, 60 and 72 inches wide.
- Pure Linen Table Cloths, 2x2 to 2 1/2 x 3 1/2 yards, 200 pure linen Table Cloths, slightly imperfect; sizes 2x2 1/2 and 2x3 yds; reg. $6.48 $4.50 to $10; This sale, each $2.98 to $4.50

- Hundreds of pure linen Towels at 30c to each $2.00
- 50 dozen good quality linen Towels, 17x33 inches; Sale price, 2 for 35c

WOMEN'S WINTER COATS

A RENDEZVOUS FOR HOME LOVERS

People who love their homes and like to fill them with pretty Rugs, Art Pictures, Odd Pieces of Imported Furniture, dainty China, correct Curtains and Rugs, will be interested in the reduced prices for these goods during the February Sale.

AFTER ALL IT IS THE FURNITURE THAT MAKES A FURNITURE SALE

The test of the sale, like the test of the furniture, is—standard. Please note that the space occupied by furniture alone is 8,400 square feet. One of the finest Furniture Stores between Toronto and Detroit.

Perfect fitting White Chamoisette Gloves, two dome fasteners, good quality; Falls' February Sale, per pair 58c

The Store That is Appreciated

We have been told this is the largest, most convenient, most sanitary, best built and best conducted store on the continent—perhaps the world—to be found in a town the size of Simcoe. Somebody, some day, will build a better store in a town—we would like to help do it ourselves, right here in Simcoe. This we can do anyway: We can keep abreast of the times and hold the store up to the people's highest needs, that it may serve its day and generation. The big merchandising going on here the past twelve months shall be surpassed the next twelve months, if possible.

THE STOCKS IN THE BUILDING INCLUDE:

- A Complete China and Glassware Store.
- A Complete Luggage Store.
- A Complete Furniture Store.
- A Complete Men's and Boys' Store with everything for them to wear.
- A Complete Dress Goods and Silks Store.

Underpriced Items Throughout The Store

MEN'S SUITS AND OVERCOATS

Desirable in every way and worth up to $18.00. Falls' February Sale, choice $12.90

The danger signal for next season's prices for Overcoats and Suits are set. Better get in on these February reductions now. When the old lady stood in the centre of the track and asked where she "could get the next car," the officer said, "I would hate to tell you." It takes a bump to make some people understand even the most obvious things. If conditions make it impossible to produce these Suits and Overcoats to-day at their original cost to us, what is it going to do to next season's prices, and to you?

IF A WOMAN WANTS ANYTHING IN FURS, NOW IS THE TIME TO GET THEM

Furs at this store have struck bottom; it will be a good while before there is another opportunity to buy fine, dependable Fur Sets and Fur Coats at the prices they will be offered at during the sale

BLANKETS, SHEETS, BEDSPREADS, PILLOW CASES AND DOWN COMFORTERS

It is almost as difficult to get the above goods at reduced prices as it is to break into a bank. Yet Falls' February Sale offers these goods at prices that are possible only once a year. When you attend the sale see the tables and counters heaped high with snowy white sheets, blankets, pillow cases and bedspreads.

- 25 hat filled Comforters, full size, fancy chintz covering, a special at $3.00; This sale, each $2.47
- Fancy Silklike covered hat Comforters, plain silklike border; colors of sky, yellow, mauve and pink; worth $6.00; Falls' February Sale, $4.89
- Down Comforters, fancy sateen covering, satin border; guaranteed down proof; worth $16; for $13.68

THE SALE OF WHITEWEAR

The tables are heaped high with snowy Underwear—Corset Covers, Skirts, Drawers, Gowns, Princess Slips, Brazers, Camisoles, Silk Bloomers and Silk Underwear. Stocks will get fine and full when the sale opens. We simply cannot get more of certain things at the same price. "Take your share of the February Whitewear Bargains while you can," is the moral. —Second Floor

PRINTERS' DEVILS BRING PANTOMINE TO THE TRENCHES

A Gripping Tale of New Year's Eve on the West Front

(By W. A. Willison, Canadian Press correspondent in France.)
New Year's Eve—The insignia of the Maple Leaf distinguished them, but their friends call them the Printers' Devils. And they will live in history—not only because of their battles, but because they brought to the firing line the first pantomime in the history of the western front. And now just out of the trenches a clean, sweet touch of home that sent them out into the night refreshed and strengthened after hard days. There are those who dined at the Savoy with members of Canada's veteran division on the night that ushered in the second year of the war. There are others who will remember the first night at Daly's when members of that same division crowded the boxes and Betty won their hearts in "A Kiss for Cinderella." They were privileged. But those who were with the Printer's Devils to-night saw the New Year come in bringing with it their own production—"Aladdin France." A Lad in France was the heart of that performance. Other lads were with him. The play they produced was nothing short of miraculous. It seems exaggeration, perhaps. But the theatre—or lecture room—held a thousand. Electrically lighted the footlights. The scenes were of an Emperor's palace—a village in England—a Demon's Cave. The music was partly from Chu Chin Chow, partly from The Maid of the Mountains, partly from Les Cloches de Corneville, partly from the Palace Revue. "Airs and Graces," partly composed by the men of the party themselves. There were other airs, too, from New York. The orchestra was supplied by a Manitoba regiment, and very well supplied. Now will you believe that the performance was a miraculous one? Not, come to the theatre yourself. Remember that it is New Year's Eve. A Highland battalion has just come out of the line and has celebrated the occasion and the night at dinner. The theatre is crowded with men and officers. You will notice that there are benches for every body, that the floors are earth save for the aisles, which are paved with brick, and that four stoves in the corners of the large building do not serve to warm it. Then you will take your seat, and, counting the 14 men in the orchestra and studying the many musical instruments, you will turn your eyes upwards where you will see the Maple Leaf, carved in wood above the top of the stage. A stage hand slips from behind the scenes as the orchestra begins and the voices of men are heard in the distance, singing the old, old song, "Come all ye Faithful." The theatre is strangely silent. The curtain goes up. It is England, indeed. The painter of scenes has excelled himself. This inn, this lane, this sky—these are as well done as the three yokels who drink their ale, while the widow Twankey—in a voice that never was before on sea or land—sings to them of her husband for "No one would think I was his wife, he treated me more like a friend." Having sung, she takes the audience into her confidence. "Don't you think I am married?" she asks. "Don't I look as if I had had an accident?" The point is well taken. But it is when she is telling of her elder son that she really catches the birds back from the line. Son was a "bird" himself. He won the Military Medal. "Why? He wouldn't tell me—he didn't know—said it was a military secret. But if he had called heads instead of tails the sergeant would have got

MAD SNAKE SCARE NOW

Pennsylvania Fears Serpents are Afflicted with Hydrophobia

Hawstone, Pa., Jan. 29.—A mad snake scare has seized the town of Richfield, as a result of the biting of John Watt's dog by a rattler December 9. The dog shows almost all the symptoms of a developing case of rabies. The bite has become very sore, swollen and painful. Snakes have never before been so restless in these parts as this winter, and owing to the biting of Watt's dog, the natives are catching all they can find roaming at large and are confining them for observation, to determine whether they have hydrophobia. Henry Baird, foreman at the Hwek quarry, caught an eleven-foot racer the other day and is keeping him in an abandoned whiskey barrel. If he acts queerly Henry will chop off the head and send it to the anatomical laboratories for analysis.

VETERAN PRINTER AND EDITOR DEAD

T. J. Shanks, of Hamilton Spectator Called by Death

By Courier Leased Wire
Hamilton, Ont., Jan. 29.—T. J. Shanks, chief editorial writer, of the Hamilton Spectator, who was stricken with paralysis last week, died yesterday at St. Joseph's Hospital. Mr. Shanks was born 64 years ago near Belleville, and learned his trade as a printer with Sir Mackenzie Bowell. He declined an offer to take charge of the Belleville Intelligencer because he did not agree with some of Sir Mackenzie's protection ideas. Mr. Shanks was on the staff of the Montreal Witness for a time, and later joined The True Witness of New York. He also became associated with the Wall Street Journal, and in this position met Sankey and Moodie, the famous evangelists. For years he acted as Moodie's private secretary, editing many of his books and assisting in the establishment of the Northfield Institute. Returning to Canada, he took charge of The Kingston Standard, and in 1902 returned to Hamilton and became editor of The Royal Templar. For the past five years he was The Spectator's chief editorial writer.

Rippling Rhymes

A Winter Day.
It is a bitter roaring day, the wind comes whooping down the hill; the skies are of a leaden gray, and I would give ten cents for May, with azure sky and babbling rill. The winds each moment colder grow, that through my whiskers blow apace; and there are symptoms now of snow; my cordwood pile is getting low; such weather is a rank disgrace. It's sad to see the furnace eat the costly coal, and call for more, then shed around some sickly heat, not strong enough to melt the snow, that drifted underneath the door. It's sad to shovel in the coal, and know that each expensive lump, diminishes your hard-earned roll, and puts you deeper in the hole, and brings you nearer to the dump. My scanty wages I have earned by labors fierce, that made me yell; it's hard to see such money burned, to see one's savings hourly turned to ashes, which one cannot sell. An asphaltic all I have to show for long weeks in the clanging mart; for endless journeys to and fro, for weary trips in rain and snow and things that rend the human heart. The day wears on to evening, each minute brings an added jar; I sit as gloomy as a king, the while the girls waltz round and sing. "Brighten the corner where you are."

How to Stay a Champion

It is of course, first necessary to annex the championship. For instructions with regard to this, read the life of almost any present day champion. If by any chance you should happen to win in a genuine battle with a worthy opponent, no advice is needed, you are not likely to lose it during the present generation; the authorities would not permit of it.

Having annexed the title, you should immediately proceed to purchase a circus, burlesque troupe, or farm. Then get married. It is absolutely essential that the lady should hold the strongest views with regard to pugilism. It should be allowed to leak out that every time you don the gloves, even an exhibition bout, that she had to have a medical man in attendance.

The only remaining danger is, of course, conscription. However, any successful slacker will supply you with sufficient data to ensure your being placed in class D, category E4. This having been done you should then make public your intense longing to be with the boys in the trenches, taking care, however, not to overdo this, in case the authorities should be moved to make an exception on your behalf.

You are now ready to get up to your weight—if a feather, anything but a middleweight will do; if a middle, slightly above the heavyweight, and if a heavy from three hundred to three hundred and fifty, should ensure safety.

You are now prepared to enter into negotiations with regard to the defence of your title, the color line having of course, been drawn before you reached your dressing room on the night of the big battle.

Your first challenge is at once got rid of by being ordered to get a reputation. Should he succeed in doing so, he can be then asked to get another. By this time he will either be too proud or irritated to fight. We will suppose, however, that he persists. You can then state that you will fight him on his own conditions as soon as you have settled up your business in connection with your circus, or sold your farm, provided, of course, that you can gain your wife's consent. You then name a date which will permit of your setting down to the proper weight, say 18 months ahead. By this time your opponent will either be dead or licked by an unknown, and similar negotiations may again be entered into.

With ordinary care those methods should ensure your remaining champion for the remainder of your natural life, and in the remote contingency of your having any misgivings as to your reception in Paradise at the hands of old time champions, you may refer yourself with the reflection that such a meeting is scarcely within the realms of possibility, as all evidence points to its being a region where class distinction is most strictly observed.

GOVT. OIL CONTROL.

By Courier Leased Wire. Washington, Jan. 28—Early measures looking to government control of the production and distribution of oil were forecast to-day.

BUTCHERS STORMED MARKET

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Jan. 28—Retail butchers many of whom have been unable to open their shops for the last fortnight, on account of the shortage of meat, stormed the Smithfield market this morning for the purpose of obtaining their shares of large consignments of Scotch mutton, which had just arrived.

Before the meat could be unloaded the market was crowded with retailers who demanded substantial supplies. The police finally restored order. One carcass was served to each retailer.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL

Look Years Younger! Try Grandma's recipe of Sage and Sulphur and nobody will know.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, bring back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. To dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy, and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

IRVIN COBB OF KENTUCKY, SAH, IS NOW COLONEL

New York, Jan. 29.—Col. Irvin S. Cobb, sub:

That's the proper greeting for the popular humorist from now on, neighbors. Gov. Stanley of Kentucky, the place in which Irv. made up his mind to be funny, has clapped the title on him, making him a member of his staff with the full—even if Kentucky has gone prohibition—rank of colonel. The fact that Kentucky has been doing queer things of late has nothing to do with the appointment. It's Kuhnbel Cobb, and that's all there is to it. Da, da, da, da, da!

The fact that Irv. started for the battle front in France about two weeks ago convinced his friends that he saw the "colonel" shell coming, and hurried abroad to duck it. Another theory is that he went far from the old folks at home so they wouldn't hear him laughing when his well deserved promotion was announced.

O, How He Will Look! Greater was the rejoicing around the Lambs club and other historic places at which Col. Cobb has helped relieve the congestion by removing himself. This is not the first time Mr. Cobb has been to the front. In fact, most of him was at the front before the war started. "What I Saw at the Front" was the subject on which Col. Cobb lectured when he returned to this country.

This line was recalled joyously by his friends as they pictured what his far flung front was going to look like under several layers of red, white and blue cloth, aketoplat and mayonnaise dressing, the photograph of a colonel on the staff of the Old Judge Priest's Chukles.

Bets were made freely that Irv. never would consent to don the disguise, not even for the love he bears Kentucky. It was agreed that he might be willing to appear in his Blue Grass neighbors by wearing the cap, a simple affair with no more color to it than a knitting bag. But no one could picture Irv. wearing the rest of the incumbrances dragging a sword after him and making a noise like a set of memorial chimcs. Even his best friends hoped he would attempt to break into the American army in France on the strength of his appointment. They declared Col. Pershing had enough work on his hands without tackling the problem of how to move Col. Cobb around the battle front.

"Well, sub," observed Old Judge Priest when he heard the distressing news, "I calculate that appointment makes me hunk for everything that youngster has ever said about me."

All together now, my lady!
