THE SCOTT PARTY IS NOW ON THE RUN

Seeking New Constituencies--Splendid Reports From All Parts of the Province--Haultain Party Sure of Success
This Time.

Since the elections were announced last week much bustling has been done by both parties. Many Liberals who supported the Scott party last time have either deserted them altogether or are only lukewarm. The record of the machine made premier and his party has been very black, and their administration of the public affairs very far from what it should be. However, they were given one chance but the people will not give them another. The people from all parts of the province are demanding that Mr. Haultain should be placed at the head of affairs and in the position which was his by right. Every constituency has the same story to tell. The people want

HON. WALTER SCOTT
Who was afraid to face a contest in Regina County.

Haultain and if they get anything like a square deal in the carrying on of the election, they will have him to form a government after Aug. 14. As soon as the elections were announced the people in every constituency rolled up their sleeves and started in to work. What did it matter though the Provincial Rights party did not have a dollar with which to pay election expenses. It is the justice of the cause and the supporters of the party in each constituency is financing its expenses. The greatest enthusiasm prevails and it is expected from present estimates that Mr. Haultain's party will practically sweep the country. The ministers themselves are alarmed. The premier is in the lead on the run. He would not face his old constituency again. He feared defeat. He secured the nomination for Swift current and he accepted it on the off chance that his prestige as premier would carry him through. His opponent is W. O. Smyth, who is very popular in the district, and his supporters say that he will defeat even the premier.

Mr. Calder is trying to secure another seat than his old constituency. Mr. Turgeon wants to run in Duck Lake. Mr. Motherwell will run to defeat in North Qu'Appelle and the party does not care if he is beaten for they feel that he has bungled his department terribly and is a source of much weakness. If these other ministers were confident that they could appeal on their own record why are they so anxious to avoid facing the electors in their old constituencies.

MOOSE JAW CITY
There are three candidates in the field. O. B. Fysh, the Liberal candidate at the last election is running as an independent. J. R. Green is the Liberal candidate. J. H. Wellington carries the standard for the Provincial Rights party. This seat is conceded by all parties to Mr. Wellington.

MOOSE JAW COUNTY
Sheppard runs again for the Liberals and H. Dorrell is the Provincial Rights candidate. The latter is a very strong candidate and will probably win.

MAPLE CREEK
D. J. Wylie is practically assured of a win here. His record for the past term has made him stronger than ever. He will be opposed by H. R. Abbott.

WEYBURN

The fight here will be between Geo. Belschel, a popular farmer and implement dealer who is a thorough provincial righter and the Scott candidate, Dr. Mitchell.

ROSTHERN

Dr. A. Stewart will without doubt carry the Provincial Rights banner to victory in this constituency. Gerhart Ems who is again the Scott candidate has not been a representative to suit the people and is to be left at home.

CANNINGTON

J. D. Stewart is the Scott candidate. The Haultain candidate is P. McLellan who was nominated last Wednesday.

MOOSOMIN

Dr. Ellis is again the Haultain candidate. He is opposed by Alex. Smith, who, it is conceded, will not make as strong a run as he did last time.

NORTH QU'APPELLE

In this constituency the betting is that Hon. W. R. Motherwell will lose his deposit. He is being opposed by J. A. McDonald, a man who knows personally every elector in the constituency.

HUMBOLDT

Dr. Nesley wants the nomination in this constituency and if he gets it he will be opposed by L. L. Kramer, an independent Liberal, whom the people want and who will probably be elected.

SASKATOON CITY

Mayor Wilson is the Haultain candidate and will surely defeat McNab, the Scott candidate.

REGINA CITY

In Regina city it is a safe prediction that H. W. Laird will win the seat which was stolen from him in the last election. J. E. Bole is again the Scott candidate.

SOUTH QU'APPELLE

This is the seat which will be represented in the next house by Hon. F. W. G. Haultain.

YORKTON

W. D. Dunlop will be the Haultain candidate against T. H. Garry. Mr. Dunlop's friends are confident of victory this time.

LLOYDMINSTER

R. H. Miles will be the Haultain candidate. He is well known and popular. The Liberals haven't chosen a man yet and they are dis-united.

PRINCE ALBERT CITY

J. E. Bradshaw is the Haultain candidate. Hon. A. Turgeon has been forced by the Liberals to again contest the seat.

PRINCE ALBERT COUNTY

S. J. Donaldson will carry this seat for Haultain without doubt.

MILESTONE

The fight here will be between J. A. Calder, the minister of education and A. E. Whitmore.

KINISTINO

G. H. Johnston has been nominated in the Haultain interests. T. Sanderson will again run for the Liberals.

OTHER SEATS

The other seats where Provincial Rights candidates are already in the field are as follows:

N. Battieford, A. E. Craig, S. Battieford, H. Dewar, Wadena, R. H. Nicholson, Canora, W. Johnston, Touchwood, J. Hollis, Moose Mountain, Dr. Elliott, Poystone, A. B. Gillis, Estevan, H. Yardley, Souris, A. Riddle, Pheasant Hills--H. Willway.

Choose Thine Own Time

Clocks should be wound regularly

SINCE Alfred the Great divided time into periods eminently to his liking by means of a series of wax-candles, clocks have developed into wonderful affairs that grow more wonderful with each year. Not more intricate, for nothing could be put together in a more complicated way than some of these famous old clocks, like the Strasbourg clock, for instance, which, although the machinery was most delicate in construction, was finished by a blind man (the maker himself, whose sight had given out, but whose delicacy of touch accomplished the apparently impossible. Clocks have fashions, like everything else, crystal clocks being the most popular at the present.

But there never were such wonderful crystal clocks before. Some of them are still to be seen in their beauty, the exquisite clearness of the crystal being the only ornament, and some of them are enamelled, in patterns like mosaics, with every color of the rainbow, and with bits of black and white to throw the colors into sharper contrast. Almost all of them have brass mountings, which set the colors off still more.

There's variety even in the enameling, for some are enamelled up quaint little columns in a winding pattern, and others have the open "floor" of the clock set in regular patterns of colors like miniature tiling; and still others are more ornate, and use enamel as jewelry.

Here and there you see a crystal clock with the dial set high and the lower part of just the clear, beautiful crystal; it runs with a spring, instead of a pendulum, though pendulums are more satisfactory ten times over. Even pendulums vary, the most crystal of all crystal clocks having a pendulum-crystal, too, but curiously cut. Or a pendulum is set with a miniature from which some famous old-time beauty smiles at you perpetually, and glows with the soft pale colors so exquisite when ivory is the background.

The queerest idea of all is a brass pendulum, moulded in an emblem of the sun, with the funniest rays in the world striking out around a beaming face.

There are round and square and oddly shaped crystal clocks, with an occasional one patterned after the clock that perhaps the very beauty misinterpreted told time by.

Colonial clocks are coming in style again rapidly, and make mighty attractive mantel clocks for library or sitting room. Most of them are made of mahogany, which seems to carry out the idea of the style better than any other wood. Some are inlaid with a lighter wood—the merest tracery of line, though.

Grandfather's clocks have a place in the home of everybody who can afford it. It's a lot nicer, of course, to have had some ancestor look out that his should come to you; but if he hasn't, there are some very dignified ones to be had, and some which serve double purposes.

Mission ideas have invaded clocks, naturally enough, and some unusual ideas have found expression, such as a hall clock with a lot of little brackets for the keys and bits of bric-a-brac for the householder's own. Or, perhaps, the lower part does duty as a little closet.

But mission clocks are only good where the hall is distinctively mission all the way through. And the plainer, simpler styles of making are always best.

The chimes ring out, you close your eyes for a moment and slip away in fancy to some dim old cathedral. You open them, your cathedral vanishes, but you're standing before a hall clock.

Novelty clocks are innumerable, from the hall crystal clock—the giant crystal watches, with "stem-winders"—to clocks made from ideas borrowed from the new lamp shades—frames set with bits of colored glass, like a miniature stained-glass window.

The prettiest of these stained-glass clocks were made for the French people at the time of the miniature-painted, of course, on ivory. An interesting clock is a little framed picture, painted on ivory, of a group of men clad in all the old-time splendor of dress, sitting around a table. On the wall hangs a clock which really goes, although it is no bigger than a watch—runs by a watch movement, in fact.

For invalids several wonderful clocks have been made. These dial clocks which fit over the gas jet and serve as shade and clock in one are very expensive, and a big comfort in wakenful nights. There's never was an invalid yet who didn't find a clock comforting in the long, dreary night hours, when nobody else in the whole wide world seemed awake!

There's another invalid clock, with a tiny electric bulb, which flashes its light directly on the face of the clock when you press a little bulb attached to a long rubber tubing.

Automobile and driving clocks have the most ingenious ways (we've beaten the French people at it) of screwing on, so that the clock has to be unlocked before it can possibly be screwed. It's a way of getting around the screwing of dashboard clocks, which has flourished freely that one man dryly remarked that it cost him "a clock for each trip."

Traveling clocks that strike the hour (and half and quarters), and repeat as often as you press a certain spring—come in a hundred styles, the prettiest of them all looking like a small leather miniature case, with the clock set in like a miniature, and made to prop itself up against the sides or feet up into the smallest possible space.

And the silver clocks to go with the silver set on her bureau; and the chess stop-clocks, by which the most rabid chess fiends time each other's moves, and make the other fellow get through his turn in three minutes; and the old-fashioned Swiss clocks, with cuckoos calling the hour; and the clocks that show the lunar months, and those that keep tabs on the very days of the week—there are dozens of kinds for dozens of uses, a new clock for a new use, cropping up every day.

"How do you take care of a clock?" a practical clock man was asked. His answer was graphic: "Don't! Hire the trouble with clocks comes from their being tinkered at by well-meaning amateurs. Keep them wound regularly and then let them alone. If something goes wrong, take them to clock specialists—it's a long way cheaper in the end."

Comfort for the Hands

With a celluloid for base

built on simple, dignified lines; and if you've got to be reminded of the hours, pleasant to be told so in tones "so mysteriously, musically, mellow."

Clock makers match woods, now—

OLD AND NEW MAY DAYS

MAY DAY is one of the prettiest times in all the year to give a child's party; for the day itself, in "Merric England," a few hundred years ago, was the most popular of all. There were no laggards on that morning, in those days, but through the village hurried those earliest up, waking the rest with glad shouts and calls to "hurry up." And the others, straggling up, dressing in their prettiest for this great May party.

Then off to the woods, to gather May blossoms, and then straggling them into garlands and bunches, and most difficult of all—only to be intrusted to the dearest flower-arrangers of all—the crown for the prettiest girl in the party.

WORKING FRENCH IDEAS INTO YOUR LINGERIE

WITH all the wonderful French ideas for inspiration, and a very pretty knack of her own, of adapting them and of creating ideas radically different, yet as lovely as the French, the girl of to-day turns out some exquisite bits of lingerie.

It is no longer the fashion not to be able to sew; needlework has its devotees, and the wonderful work we hear of our grandmothers doing is no whit more perfectly executed than our own.

In one of those curious freaks of fashion that in a strenuous age, where women spend their time grappling with great problems, work in offices, teach or study, constantly striving for development and the power to do things, needlework should be taken up in a passion of relaxation.

Rolls of gauze, delicate veining put in so well that the seam is lost, and the piece seems put together in some miraculous way, embroidery that is like a bit of engraving, so delicately it is designed and executed, and the tiniest of baby bird stitchings—these are some of the characteristics of the work.

The chemise and corset cover pictured are designed especially to show the prettiest way of using the little bell-shaped medallions so popular this year.

A trick worth knowing is that some of the allover embroideries are made up of figures in just this shape, which can be cut apart, if they are to be set in the material, or edged with lace, and, of course, they're a lot cheaper that way. Some of them are even defined by a little line lace beading, and can be cut out close to this line.

Swiss embroidery should be chosen for the work, and German volutes, insertion of a rather narrow width—used to outline them. Sometimes each medallion is outlined and then the rows of insertion whipped together, leaving two widths of insertion between the medallions; but more often the medallions are edged by a single short row of insertion, the lower row outlining the points—put in in a single piece, mitring the corners.

At the top runs the usual strip of lace insertion, perhaps joined onto the rest by the narrow row of binding. This, in turn, is finished with an edge of lace, and ribbon draws the cover, or chemise, up into place.

The idea might be carried out through a whole set, making them French fashion—the corset cover in three pieces and the chemise with the fullness taken out in the back from the waist up by a box pleat, finished with heading like the rest. Both long and short petticoats could be included in the set.

The simplest fashion of all for these hand-made things (and by the way, every stitch should be taken by hand) is the plain little scalloped edge, finished with the narrow row of binding.

Summer glove with a new fastening

A LITTLE clasp has been arranged to fit on the inner wrist of gloves, which makes them comfortably closed about the wrist, instead of slipping over the hand in a way that is both ugly and uncomfortable.

The clasp is of heavy kid, and the clasp adjustable, consisting of a strong little strap of the kid, which is slipped through a silvered loop, and means light with regular glove clasps. The two clasps allow the glove to be made more or less loose.

Old Easter Beliefs

AN OLD belief which prevailed over almost the whole continent of Europe, in Catholic countries, at least, was the silencing of the bells from Good Friday until Easter. No bells were rung during these days, except for tolling, the reason given being that all the bells were away, at Rome, learning a message for Easter.

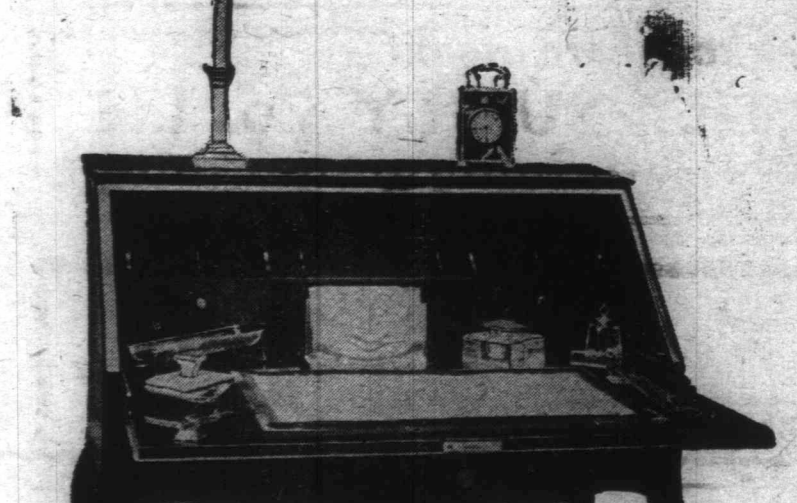

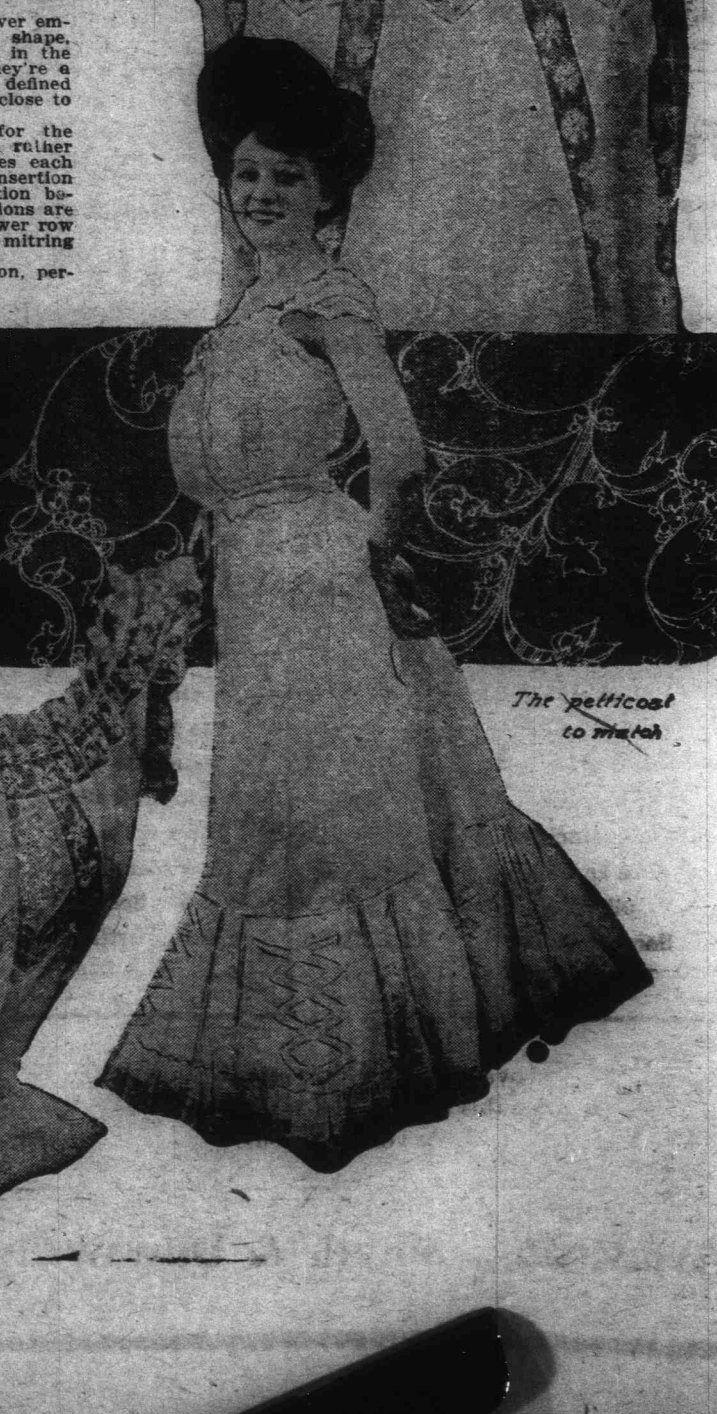

The "Easter Bunny" is fabled to have been a bird at one time, which drew the chariot of the goddess of Spring; and in remembrance of the original bird nature, lays the eggs as an offering to Spring, and to to which she symbolizes.

Some considered had luck not to wear something new on Easter Day, as the rhyme from "Poor Richard's Almanack" bears witness:

"On Easter see your clothes be new, Or else be sure you'll be true."

Among the many charms tried by young girls to win lovers and husbands, none has been more popular than wearing of the yellow garter. It should always be the round garter, as that is the shape of the wedding ring; and the shape, of course, must carry out the idea.

The garter must be given you by your dearest married friend—a bride, if possible, and should be worn (as successful readers say) night and day upon the left leg for a year. Inside of the year it will bring you a husband who will become a husband within three years.

Furnishings for the Boudoir Desk

A DESK SET made all of the clearest crystal set off by the neatest touch of silver, has just come along. Everything that is used about a desk is represented—almost too many things for the average woman to spare room for, with her stationery and her bridge scores and the thousand and one things that make a desk a torment and a delight at the same time. The ink-well is a joy, if the writer is a neat desk, for the great square block of crystal has a comfortable large well, instead of the miserable little hollows found in so many of the cut-glass ink-wells that let the ink dry out constantly.

Besides the ink-well, there's a pen-tray and a mullage pot, a roll blotter (it's a beauty), a candlestick—as severe and plain as a thing can be, and as rich—even the penholder and the letter-clip are made of it, and the ink-scraper, of course.

With a mahogany desk the set is shown off at its prettiest; but it's mighty good looking with any wood. Most of the new desk fixings are the plainest sort of things—the fancy styles are almost impossible to keep clean, and the plain things where they are made of stunning materials, are richer than any of the others.

Couch Covers

TO THE woman who stays in town most of the summer, linen (or cotton) furniture covers are almost a necessity.

When covers have to be considered, linen is much better; that is, wears better and is cooler than cotton. But cotton covers come, too, which wear very well and look almost as well as plain as a thing can be, and as rich—

Couch covers are especially easy to adjust, unlike chairs and other furniture, which have to have the covers cut and fitted to them. But the couch covers are just straight wide things, with fringe to them, which are thrown over the couch and allowed to hang straight down around the sides.

There are two sorts of linen or cotton material to match; so that the whole couch can be turned into a cool, comfortable thing, without the worry of working over it.

POLICY OF PUFF

Well Exemplified at Scott Meeting in City Hall Last Night --Scott Shows Responsibility on Architect and Mr. Dagger

There was a full house at the city hall at times last evening when J. F. Bole, A. Turgeon and Walter Scott addressed the electors. Before Mr. Scott finished, however, there were about as many on the platform as there were in the audience. The meeting was a splendid example of the puff, puff, puff, policy of the Scott party.

J. F. BOLE

Who will contest Regina City in the Liberal interests.

The chair was occupied by Wm. Peterson.

The first speaker was Mr. J. F. Bole who was yesterday nominated as Liberal candidate for the city. He tried to defend the ballot box scandal of the last election and made a strong bid for the labor vote. He charged Mr. Laird with having asked him (Bole) to use his influence with the government to have them specify sand lime brick for the parliamentary buildings. It was done Bole was to get 5 per cent. on the transaction.

Mr. Bole thought this should be construed into a charge of bribery.

The reference the speaker made to aspirations said to be cast on his private life was decidedly weak and childish and it is admitted by Liberals today that Mr. Bole did not help his chances of election by his strange exhibition last night.

Mr. Turgeon, the whirl-wind orator of the government, while fluent enough, had nothing much to say. He dealt with the educational policy of the government making special reference to the Supplementary Revenue Act, the University Act, the High School Act and the school books contract and in each case eulogized the course the government had taken.

Mr. Scott on rising at 9.30 was greeted with considerable applause. He did not deal with any new subjects.

He put forth claim for the support from Regina on the ground that he had done much for the city. He claimed credit for all local improvements which had taken place in the city.

With regard to charges against his colleagues he stated that if they were persisted in in this contest he would say things back. His opponents were not spotless characters and he stated that H. W. Laird was a grafter when he was in the Regina city council. He did not make any definite specific charge, however.

He denied Sir Wilfrid Laurier had forced him to bring on the elections now. He did not say, however, that he had given the promise that there would be another session of the assembly this fall, nor give any reason for going back on his word. The only reason he gave for springing the election was the redistribution.

He made a strong bid for support on what he termed his transportation policy. He had to admit, however, that so far all that was done had been done by the Dominion government. He failed to show where the money would come from if the province did anything.

He dealt at some length on the government's telephone policy, and threw all the blame for their action in not helping the farmers out on Mr. Dagger their expert.

On the school books contract he again upheld their actions and in a dramatic pose produced the readers and slapping one across his knee tried to prove that the binding was strong.

After this stunt C. C. Knight rushed forward on the platform and moved a resolution condemning Mr. Haultain for his action on the question. A number voted for it but the majority in the hall sat back and laughed at the childish play that was being made.

The parliament buildings contract got a good deal of time from Mr. Scott and in this he put the blame on Architect Maxwell. He didn't accept the lowest tender because of the recommendations of that gentleman.

Hon. Walter Scott holds $10,000 worth of stock in the Saskatchewan Valley Land Co., an organization which got about 250,000 acres of Saskatchewan lands from the Dominion Government at $1.00 an acre. Is it a wonder he did not fight for Provincial control of the lands? Mr. Elector, can you buy any land for $1.00 an acre? Will you vote for a man who was willing to sacrifice the interests of his province to serve his own ends?

In conclusion he pointed to some of the acts the government had placed on the statute books and asked his opponents to point to one plank of the Liberal platform of 1905 that had not been fulfilled.

The meeting broke up with cheers for the speakers.

BALFOUR FOR HAULTAIN

Prominent Regina Liberal will Oppose the Scott Administration Because of its Record.

The Scott government by its record cannot expect to hold the thinking men of the province to its policy.

Jan. Balfour, an estimable citizen of Regina, was a supporter of the Scott party at the last election and even took the stump in support of Mr. J. A. Calder. However, he has since changed his views and will cast his lot with the Provincial Rights party. His character is above reproach and his pronouncement as a supporter of Mr. Haultain cannot but be looked upon as an example of many thinking Liberals in the province.

BOLE'S STATEMENTS ACT AS BOOMERANG

Bole Himself was After Rake-off--Laird Refused to Pay Him a Commission for Doing His Plain Duty.

Mr. H. W. Laird, Provincial Rights candidate in Regina City, was seen by The West this morning and was asked as to the statements made by Mr. Scott and Mr. Bole at the Liberal meeting last night.

"I have just been looking over the proceedings," said Mr. Laird, "and it looks as if the flood of Billingsgate was let loose at last night's meeting in the hope that it might stampede the voters who are deserting the government camp. The Liberals have evidently sized the situation up as a losing game and in order to stem the tide they have started on a policy of discrediting their opponents by the most careless abuses and mud-slinging. My own opinion is that this kind of political warfare is a relic of the past and no candidate ever makes any headway by getting on a public platform and abusing his opponent on personal grounds. I am quite certain, from statements made to me by Liberals and Independents this morning, that the dirty campaign outlined by the premier and Mr. Bole last night has already proved a boomerang, and that they have lost considerable prestige by their low attacks."

What about Mr. Bole's charge that you offered him a commission on a brick contract?

"I notice that Mr. Bole, in making this statement, stated that he expected that it would be denied. This is the best evidence of a guilty conscience for he knew full well that it could be denied. The facts of the case are these. Last April a contract was let for the Moose Jaw court house, and being sales agent for a brick concern in Saskatchewan, I went to Mr. Bole, with whom I have always been on cordial personal relations, and told him that we were representing a Saskatchewan brick concern and wanted to get business, and asked his influence with the government to have the bricks we were agents for accepted by the government for the Moose Jaw contract. After talking the matter over in a general way, Mr. Bole broached the question of a commission by wanting to know what there was in it for him and demanded 5 per cent. I went to Mr. Bole, who got the government to accept the bricks. I explained to him that the manufacturing company fixed the price unalterably, that we were the sales agents and had to pay the brick company whatever price they put on their

H. W. LAIRD FOR REGINA

Former Candidate Receives Unanimous Support of Provincial Rights Party in this City

A very enthusiastic convention of the supporters of the Provincial Rights party was held in the Borden club rooms last Thursday evening to select a standard bearer for the Regina city constituency at the elections to be held on Aug. 14th.

Only one name was placed before the convention and that was the name of H. W. Laird who was the candidate at the last election, and who, it is believed by the great majority, honestly won the seat. P. McAra Jr., and Dr. W. D. Cowan nominated Mr. Laird, and there being no other names put up the unanimous nomination of the party was tendered to Mr. Laird. His friends have since got to work with a will and are confident that he will be elected on Aug. 14th by a substantial majority.

H. W. LAIRD

Who will contest Regina City in Mr. Haultain's interests.

bricks, less our commission of five per cent. for selling, and in addition we had to guarantee all accounts. We consequently could not afford to pay 5 per cent. or any commission, as our margin was so slight that it would not warrant any middleman's profits. I left the matter in Mr. Bole's hands and spoke to him some days after again about the matter and found he had taken no action. I came to the conclusion that there was no use attempting to get Mr. Bole's sympathy on any other but a purely financial basis, and the secretary of the company, Mr. P. McAra Jr. and myself, then waited upon Mr. Scott and asked his assistance in getting our material accepted. I never offered Mr. Bole 5 per cent. commission, because that was all we received ourselves and we had the expense of operation and risks of accounts in addition. It was Mr. Bole himself who suggested that he be paid a commission, and when he found he could not get it, he apparently dropped the matter without taking any action. I was rather amused at Mr. Bole's strange pose when he held his hands aloft and challenged the Almighty "to strike him dead if what he said was not true." It was certainly taking big chances, but the bluff was out. His action reminds me of the old school boy trick of proving to his companions that he had no more candy in his pockets by holding up his hands and invoking the aid of the Almighty to witness the truth of his statements. I consider that he acted like a great big baby and if he had faith in his reputation for veracity, he would have made his statement like a man and trusted to the public to accept it."

What about Mr. Bole's reference to his personal character?

"I know nothing whatever about that matter and have no opinion to express. I have no desire whatever to make personal insinuations about Mr. Bole personally. We have always been friends and I hope will continue to be. If I cannot win this election on the issues before the people, I am prepared to accept defeat with good grace. I am not concerned in Mr. Bole's personal affairs and will not discuss them. He can do as he likes in his daily life and it is none of my business, and I would be the first to resent the suggestion of using any personal matters against Mr. Bole in this election. Life is altogether too short for such things and the election will be over in three weeks and we will have to settle down and live together.

er, I hope for many years thereafter. I would greatly regret any hasty words in the next three weeks that would jeopardise any personal friendships I may have in future years."

What about Mr. Scott's charges?

MARATHON EVENTS

Some Newspaper Comment--Americans Win 100 Metre Hurdle and 1,600 Metre Relay Race.

London, July 6--If the beginning of the Olympic games showed some lukewarmness in the United Kingdom, the morning papers today amply reflect the enormous interest and enthusiasm aroused by the strange scene witnessed in the stadium yesterday. There is but one voice, however, in the whole hearted tribute to the greatest of American victories, together with the faintest sympathy for the pitiful fate of Dorando. There is not a single note against the judges' decision, which on every hand it is granted could not have been other than it was. Much regret is expressed that over zealous officials could not have kept off the track, so that Dorando might be left to his own efforts to complete the journey, if that was humanly possible, which most observers think he was not in a condition to achieve.

Newspapers Comment.

The Daily News in an editorial says: "Nothing more painful or deplorable was ever seen at a public spectacle. It was painful in the exhibition of human exhaustion, deplorable in the exhibition of official folly. It may be questioned whether so great a trial of human endurance should be sanctioned. We hope the stadium authorities will severely reprimand the sanction of officials who helped the Italian. We congratulate America, on her complete, and conclusive victory. It left England entirely out of the reckoning." The sporting papers are equally convinced that the judges had no other course to pursue. They congratulate the Americans for their splendid showing, and express disappointment at the poor performance of the British runners.

The Times in an editorial says: "The Queen, with womanly tact endears herself to the people's hearts, and retrieves what all must have thought a somewhat unfortunate ending to the Marathon race."

Dorando by his gallant struggle proved again that Italy is able to breed men of pluck and endurance. At the same time Englishmen will rejoice in the victory of an American, and in the splendid display made by the representative of the United States.

Halswell Wins 400 Metre.

Halswell, the English runner, this morning had a walk over in the final of the 400 metre flat race in the olympic games, which was originally run Thursday and won by J. C. Carpenter, Cornell University. The race was declared void by the judges on the allegation denied by the Americans, that Carpenter fouled Halswell. Carpenter was disqualified from competing again, and J. B. Taylor, Irish-American A. C. and W. C. Robbins of Cambridge, Mass., withdrew and would not run today.

Halswell did not really walk, he actually ran, and ran hard in an effort to establish a new olympic record. His performance was a great disappointment after all that had been confidently expected. It was firmly believed that the most talked of athlete in the stadium, until the Marathon races replaced him in regard, would slip at least a fraction of a second off the record of 49.15. Instead it took Halswell, a full 50 seconds to cover the distance. He started hard, but just as in the case of last Thursday, he was all out when he came to the stretch after rounding the turn where all the trouble in the previous race occurred. A great cheer went up when Halswell finished, but much to the surprise of the spectators it was several minutes before a flag was unfurled, and sent to the top of the staff to denote a British victory. The blue jackets having this job in hand had mislaid their Union Jack, and they had to requisition one from the decoration of the stadium. Halswell had done what he believed to be right, but the experts feel that he was hardly justified in his predictions that he was able to beat Carpenter, and Robbins, both of whom made better time on Thursday, than Halswell did today.

American Wins 110 Metre Hurdle.

The final in the 110 metre hurdle race was won by F. C. Smithson, Multnomah, Oregon A. C., J. C. Garrels, Chicago A. A., was second, and A. B. Shaw, Dartmouth University was third. Smith-son's time was 15 seconds, which is the world's record. He came in two yards in front of Garrels.

American Team Wins.

The final of the 4000 metre relay race was won easily by the American team.

The German team was second and the Hungarian third. Time: 3 minutes 29.25 seconds. This was the last event of the olympic sports.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 29, 1908

What Will Happen?

What will become of the local cabinet ministers after the provincial elections is now a matter of logical conjecture, and it is felt that shortly after their defeat they will occupy the following positions: Mr. Scott, Lieut.-Gov.; vice His Honor, the present incumbent, who will resign; Mr. Calder, Saskatchewan and Alberta agent for the American Book Co.; Mr. Turgeon their western solicitor; Mr. Motherwell—back to the hay.

Serious Suspicions.

Many Liberals throughout the province will vote against the Scott government on August 14, because they think that the sudden dissolution means that the government is committed to some colossal steal which they are afraid to announce. Supplementing this reason was the admission to Mr. Scott, when he was recently at Ottawa that the Dominion government cannot carry the country at the fall elections. The only way therefore, for the local government to stand any chance to further plunder the provincial treasury is for them to take the electorate unawares and try if possible by a snap verdict to get another lease of power.

Quite a Difference.

The Liberals try to make out as a justification for bringing the election on with only three weeks' notice, that Mr. Haultain did the same thing in 1902. The general elections in 1902 for the North-West Territories were not held until after the legislative term had practically ended and it was not the intention to hold another session before a general election and the public knew that fact. Did this government serve the full term before calling on an election? Oh, no, there could have been two more sessions of the legislature under the Scott regime. In fact Premier Scott with all the seriousness of a cabinet minister stated that there was to be a session of the house this fall. There is quite a difference between calling an election at the end of a term, when everyone knows there must be an election before another session and the bringing on of the election in the middle of the term.

The Issues.

Mr. Scott in his address to the electors emphasised the importance of the new municipal act which was ready for the legislature during the recent session but for the passage of which the government was unprepared. The electors must not be led to believe that this act provides revenue for local improvements, for it does nothing of the kind. The municipal bill merely provides the machinery for the farmers to tax themselves for the improvements required. Municipalities may either tax themselves as they are doing at present or issue municipal debentures and saddle the cost of improvements on their children, which is only another process of incumbering their farms.

The salvation of the farmer in this province is not the municipal bill, but in the restoration of the lands, forests and minerals in the province to the people here to administer.

Then and only then will it be possible to have local improvements without taxation, and this is the only hope of revoking the cent an acre tax.

Railways.

Everybody admits that Saskatchewan wants railways for the settled districts that are not at present accommodated. Scott says he will guarantee the bonds of companies who will extend their lines. That is all right, but who will pay the interest on the bonds, and where is the money to come from. It must come from the public lands. But we have no control over these in the province and if these bonds are guaranteed by the province the money must come from the province, and as we do not get enough money from the Dominion government in lieu of our lands to pay the necessary services of the country, the money would have to be raised by direct taxation. Do the people want to pay more taxes, or do they want the lands handed over to the province from the Dominion so that we may have ample revenue and can build and manage our own railways? We believe the people in this province have no right to be taxed directly. There would be no need for it if the province got its rights. We want railways and we want our lands. Vote for Mr. Haultain and the rights of the Province.

Issues Converge.

The government here and the Laurier administration are jointly responsible for the protection of the speculator at the expense of the farmers of the country. Those who take the trouble to look at the map will find that where the Saskatchewan Valley lands are located in this province the pre-emption clause of the Oliver land bill does not apply. For instance, no farmer north of the Soo line, east of the third meridian north to township twenty-four, or from that north and east of the Saskatchewan river can get an exemption, and the act does not apply west of this line in any township where the railway companies have made a selection of railway lands. This is the biggest graft that has ever been forced through parliament and Mr. Scott has worked in collusion with Ottawa to protect his friends, who got the lands of this province at one dollar an acre.

A vote for Mr. Haultain's candidates will be a vote against this protracted injustice to the farmers of the country, who, if the Scott government and the Ottawa government are defeated, will have the remaining public lands handed over to the people, who will also be compensated for lands previously alienated for federal purposes.

This is truly the farmers' opportunity, and if they exercise it, their children will rise up and call them blessed.

Is It Right?

That the settlers of this province should be paying direct taxes while our lands are being exploited by grafters?

That the people of this province should be paying $100,000 more than was necessary for the building of the parliament buildings?

That our school books should be printed in the United States?

That Saskatchewan should be dictated to by Ottawa in matters which only affect this province?

That an election should be held on short notice, when the term is little more than half finished?

That the province should be run deeply into debt with nothing to show for it?

That the electors should return to power men who have no respect for their promises?

That men should be returned to power who have made such a jumble of the finances of the province?

That men should be returned to power who refuse to prosecute election crooks?

That men should be given another chance who have once "worked" the back townships, and used unscrupulous methods to get elected?

That a bunch of men who have made a gigantic failure, should be given another chance to dissipate the people's money?

That men who deliberately attempted to deceive the people should be trusted again?

That men should be trusted, who claimed this, that and the other, about two years ago and now cannot make good?

Of course it is not right, and the electors now have an opportunity to strike a blow at fraud, corruption, deception, grafting, financial juggling in fact to depose a bandit bunch and place in charge of their affairs a man who for years had charge and didn't have even the finger of suspicion pointed at one of his public acts.

The Provincial Fair.

The provincial fair held for four days in the city last week was a distinct success from every point of view and too much credit cannot be given to those who had charge. Secretary Andros has been a busy man for months past and will be for a month yet. To his untiring efforts must most of the credit for the success of the fair be ascribed. President Bredt also gave a good deal of his time as also did Vice President Pope and many of the directors.

Never was seen a better array of live stock in Western Canada that was on exhibition this year. If for nothing else the show was a success from the stockman's point of view. The machinery on exhibition was also a credit. The main building also contained many excellent exhibits. There was not this year such a number of local men exhibiting in this building, the reason being that the charge made for space was higher than on former occasions. However, that may be, it is true that all the space was taken and Secretary Andros informs us that more space could have been disposed of at the schedule of prices set.

The poultry exhibit was very creditable, but the exhibit of farm produce could have been more abundant as could also the dairy produce, what was shown was excellent, but there is no reason why more farmers do not compete in these classes.

The platform attractions were better than last year and there was no kick on that score. The midway was not up to last year but brought more money into the treasury. Last year Nat Reiss was paid, but this year each side-show paid a license to the exhibition board.

The racing this year was good and so far we have heard very few kicks on the way the events were handled. Taking it all through the fair was a very creditable one and those having the management deserve the thanks of the community for their efforts.

Editorial Notes.

See Scott Skidoo!
 Do you want five years of direct taxation? If you DO, vote for Scott.

Vote for Haultain and secure honest, progressive and provincial government.

The $100,000 extra given to Lyall would build a long road or several big bridges or numerous culverts.

What do you think about this extravagance, Mr. Elector?

Scott is already on the run. He was afraid to try it again in his old constituency.

Scott takes his orders from Ottawa. Haultain will take his from the people of Saskatchewan.

Those generous terms that the Liberals boasted of in 1905 did not keep the government from imposing direct taxation, nor did it prevent a deficit in 1908 of about $300,000.

One-seventh of the revenue of Saskatchewan is raised by direct taxation, and yet in 1905, Scott said we got generous treatment in the way of terms under the autonomy act.

Any patriotism about the Scott-Calder aggregation? School books secured from New York! Contractor for parliament building comes from Quebec! Campaign literature from Morang! Nothing can be done in the province is their motto.

Press Comment.

(Winnipeg Tribune)

The dissolution of the Saskatchewan legislature without any notice, and with the open design of snatching a verdict from the people of the province before they can come seized with the issues, is the latest act of the bold hand of political buccannery which is dictating the policy of the country in the name of Liberalism. Walter Scott, the premier of Saskatchewan, is merely a plant tool in the hands of the directors of the band, whose headquarters are at Ottawa. The daring pirates have been forced to recognize by the trend of events that their pirate ship is in danger, that the people have at last become aroused to the game of plunder that has been carried on so long in the country; that the day of reckoning is at hand. They are fearful of risking a general engagement, and so a scheme has been concocted to test the west by ordering Mr. Scott to appeal to the people before the supreme risk of a general federal engagement is taken. Scott was recently summoned to Ottawa. The little game was put up, and here we have the legislature dissolved, and the province thrown into the vortex of a general election. There is absolutely no reason for an election at the present time. The legislature has not run much more than half its time, but for the purpose of aiding and abetting the game of the Ottawa buccannery, Saskatchewan is selected to make a test. If the Scott government succeeds in holding the province, it may be taken for granted that the Dominion general elections will be immediately brought on. If, on the other hand, the Scott government is defeated, the pirates will hesitate before risking a general fight.

It is pretty difficult for the ordinary lay mind to conceive the deprivations to which the Ottawa administration will resort in order to maintain itself in office. The frightful carnival of corruption that will be involved in the railway subsidies and guarantees, to say nothing of the money that will be secured for election purposes is enough to make the average citizen stand aghast. If by the little sham battle with loaded dice, to be fought in Saskatchewan, it can be made to appear that "Liberals" are still in the ascendant a general orgy will be witnessed a little later, that will put anything that has ever occurred in the Dominion, utterly to the bad.

Mr. Frederick Haultain, the leader of the opposition and Provincial Rights Party, will no doubt sound the tocsin at once, and can be relied upon to engage in the fray with vigor and force. Shrewd, impartial observers say that there is no doubt that the trend of opinion in the province has been distinctly against the Scott government. Under anything like fair auspices that administration would be wiped off the slate. Every sincere friend of good government and square deal will trust that, even taken unawares, Mr. Haultain will be able to dislodge the Scott government.

Contrast the shell game of Scott with the statesmanlike conduct of Mr. Whitney who announced long before the general elections in Ontario that he would give ample warning, and who nobly redeemed his pledge. The fact that Mr. Scott weakly yielded to the Ottawa game and has allowed himself to be made a cat's paw to serve the reprehensible ends of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, stamps the Saskatchewan premier as a man utterly unfit for the position he holds.

Vote for HAULTAIN and No Direct Taxation

All male British subjects other than Judges, Indians and Chinese, who are 21 years of age, who have been in the province one year and in the constituency three months, are entitled to vote. Don't be fooled. Have the enumerators put your name on the list.

MR. HAULTAIN RECEIVES A SPLENDID RECEPTION

He Outlines His Policy at Regina Meeting on Friday Evening--Province Suffering Because of Poor Autonomy Terms--The Extravagance and Inability of the Scott Government.

That the issues of the last campaign are not dead and never will be dead so long as Saskatchewan is deprived of its rights and so long as there are men bold enough to stand out against the powers that attempt to strangle the province, was pointed out by Hon. F. W. G. Haultain last night at the opening meeting of the campaign, when he, along with H. W. Laird, the city candidate, was accorded a magnificent reception. The auditorium of the city hall was packed to overflowing, and there was a large sprinkling of ladies in evidence. When the chief of the opposition party entered the room he was cheered to the echo and as he stepped onto the platform the enthusiasm of the crowd knew no bounds. The people rose to their feet and cheer after cheer rang through the building, in eloquent tribute to the hold which the leader of the party has upon the hearts of his followers. The reception tendered Mr. Laird was similar to that given to his leader. The circumstances under which Mr. Laird appears before the people at this election is gaining for him sympathy and that sympathy was clearly shown last night.

Mr. Laird did not occupy much of the time of the meeting, vacating the floor to Mr. Haultain, who spoke for over two and a half hours. The issues of the campaign were outlined and disclosures made which startled the people. Everyone knew that the Prince Albert district seat was stolen last election by the voting of dead men and ladies in the interests of the Liberal candidate, but everyone did not know that the same practices were carried on by the Liberal workers in Battleford, and in the north end of the Redberry district. When the statement to that effect was made by Mr. Haultain last night the audience was dumbfounded, and it is safe to say that from that point along he gained support.

The leader of the opposition struck by people. The government hoped to steal another election and thereby be safe for five years in spite of the change of feeling on the part of the people. Mr. Scott had definitely promised a session this fall and the springing of the election was a deliberate breach of faith with the people and with the House.

They were told that the Rural Municipal Bill was to be placed before the people of the province and yet there were not half a dozen copies of the bill ready for distribution. They were now trying to stifle discussion by stopping the holding of public meetings in the city hall and they were not anxious for a discussion of the issues.

The Old Issues.

The old issues of lands, schools and railway exemption were alive and always would be alive so long as there were people in the province who would stand up for the best interests of the country. Lands were being disgracefully squandered, while the province was faced with financial difficulties. This brought up the whole question of the financial arrangement, which he reviewed and showed that had the province got the lands it would not have had to worry about finances for years to come. When the population reaches four hundred thousand the province gets $375,000 a year, which was a mere bagatelle compared with the revenues which would be secured if the province had control of the lands. Already we had direct taxation and were faced with a deficit before we got rightly started as a province. Mr. Scott a few years ago said the matter of compensation for railway lands was the supremely important item, but today he said he did not even want that compensation at all. Yet if we had secured that compensation we would have $800,000 a year from that source of revenue alone, and besides that the province should have control of its own lands. We could administer the lands better from Regina, anyway, and they would not be squandered in the way they were being at the present time.

Some Figures.

The lands of the province, after making allowance for homesteads and schools would amount to eighty or one hundred million acres. On the government figures of twenty-five million acres, if the lands were held for bona fide farmers of the province at three dollars an acre and interest at three per cent. it would mean over two million dollars a year in interest alone. We were only going to get $1,125,000 a year when we reached the highest limit of population allowed.

The Police.

Reviewing the terms in general, he pointed to the fact that we were promised free police protection, but were paying seventy-five thousand dollars a year for their services. In addition to this the province paid for a corps of game guardians and other officials supposedly doing work of a police nature, but really doing campaign work for the party.

Direct Taxation.

His policy had been associated with direct taxation, but already we had that class of tax in its most obnoxious form. The new settler on the homestead was being taxed to pay for higher education. This policy was not conducive to bringing in new people to the country, and would surely retard development of the province. We had been told we could go on for years without having to worry about finances, and today, in two years and a half, the province was raising one seventh of the total revenues by direct taxes. They began government with a surplus of half a million from the Territorial Government. In one year they had only $380,000 of that left, and this year they had only a thousand dollars in the bank. Today the government was going to mortgage the province for two million dollars to pay back money expendent on capital account, and thus to figure out a surplus.

The province was in a most alarming financial position as a result of the policy of the government. It was confronted with a debt of between three and four million dollars; and in a couple of years the government was going to incur a debt of five million dollars. Four per cent. on this would be two hundred thousand a year. The province will then not get enough increased subsidy in lieu of lands to pay the interest, on a basis of a population of four hundred thousand people.

Last year the government spent all the surplus and sent over three hundred thousand dollars of accounts into this year to be paid. Altogether last year they spent one million dollars more than they had estimated. They even handed over a hundred thousand on the parliament buildings contract without the slightest worry. The present session was going to cost seventy-five thousand dollars more than necessary owing to the duplication of the lists. In the purchase of a site for the parliament buildings the government showed extravagance, allowing seventy thousand dollars profit.

He reviewed the scandal in connection with the parliament contract and pointed out that a hundred thousand dollars was wasted therein.

Text books were bought in New York, parliament buildings were secured in Montreal, and local men were not given a chance to sell anything. That was a policy which was knocking the West, and was economy in the wrong direction.

A. B. GILLIS

Who will carry Pipestone for Provincial Rights.

They could have justified paying more to have the work on the parliament buildings done by a Western firm, but Sir Wilfrid Laurier ordered the contract to go to Peter Lyall for services rendered, and Scott had to obey.

On the school book contract made with the American Book Co. through Morang's firm, he briefly reviewed the facts. Prices were being paid for books which were fifty to one hundred per cent. higher than tender offers of other publishing houses. He repeated that it was a profitable and improper deal. There were degrees of graft, and while Mr. Calder might be in a state of semi-purity by keeping free of personal graft, there was graft somewhere in the deal, and there was no question this was allowed with the personal knowledge of Calder. Comparing the order for books given, he pointed out that Morang's price was thirty-three per cent. higher than that of the Canada Publishing Company. The Government had tried to suppress information regarding this deal. In addition to the difference of the price of the books they were being printed in New York. Even campaign literature was coming from Toronto, and it was quite possible they were getting that thrown in with the free text books. The books were being printed by non-union labor in one of the biggest "sweat" offices in the country. Even the contractors for the parliament buildings were notorious for their unfair treatment of labor. Lyall's employment on this job would keep the wages of working men down in Regina.

The Telephone.

In the matter of telephone development the government was providing the luxury of long distance lines, while the farmers had to construct and pay for their own lines. He was a firm believer in government ownership of the whole system, but the primary effort should be to give farmers the rural lines.

The government had been urged to take up the question of elevators, but had refused to do so. They should reform the system of doing local public works, as a great deal of money was now being lost by the present system.

The policy of using prison labor while workmen were out of jobs was one which he opposed, and showed the attitude of the Scott government toward the laboring classes of the province. That was a policy which the people would not forget in the coming elections.

School Question.

On the school feature of the Saskatchewan Act Mr. Haultain stated that his position today was the same as three years ago. He first wanted the right for the people of the province to decide what system of schools they should adopt, and then let the matter be settled within our own borders. That was the position he took three years ago when he demanded a test case and that was the position he took today. At the time Mr. Scott had written a letter stating that he (Haultain) was not called to the premiership because he had asked for a test case, and he was pleased to congratulate his fellow rebel and conspirator on the fact that he fared better with the Lieutenant governor in his demands. He did not know what our most constitutional representative of the king up at government house would think of his chief adviser committing the act for which he (Haultain) was disqualified from holding that important office in this province. But the province had been deprived and robbed of its rights and he wanted them back. That was his position today.

It was simply a question for the people to say whether they would have government by themselves or government by Ottawa. Would they be a self-ruling province, or a sort of donkey engine attachment to the Ottawa machine? After the record of this government he believed that no honest man could approve of their work and vote for them.

Throughout there was a suspicion of meanness, and a suggestion of wrong in their every action. In view of this who could support them? What he wanted was fair play, clean government, independent government, government of our own, for ourselves and by ourselves. Upon concluding, Mr. Haultain was vigorously applauded and cheers were given for him and for the candidate.

J. A. MACDONALD TO DEFEAT MOTHERWELL

Minister of Agriculture Will Not Be Returned--Has Done Nothing During His Term of Office--How He Shirks Paying Taxes.

Lipton, July 24.—What? Election! Why Motherwell was here only last week, and told us there would not be any election. On the news coming here this was a frequent remark heard in town: "Now, we know it was his usual bluff." Already a convention has been called at Cupar and nominated J. A. MacDonald, who has been in business here since the town started. It has been well known for some time that a strong man would go up in this district and win out. Now the word goes round: "Motherwell will go out." There is every confidence in the Provincial party, and much disappointment, even among Motherwell's former supporters, at his record. What Motherwell has done for the farmers cannot be traced. On every occasion, that he had an opportunity to stand up for their rights, he sided against them, notably in the evidence he gave before the commission he pointed blank refused to recommend support reciprocal demurrage, and again when the grain growers of Manitoba were fighting the Grain Exchange in Winnipeg, he wrote columns in the Free Press deprecating their action, and making certain statements which were not true, and using these statements against the grain growers. Shortly afterwards a letter followed from Partridge, the secretary of the grain growers, and reciting that Motherwell's statement was not true, since that day Motherwell has ceased to write on the subject. His administration of public works has been just to gain support without regard to their general benefit. Already there are many of his old supporters enrolled against him, notably S. B. Musselwhite, who was his returning officer in 1903, and his friends are no longer deceived by Motherwell.

A Walk-Over.

Port Qu Appelle, July 24.—Messrs. Govan, Ferguson, McCaul and McKay were here looking over Haultain's inter-ness has disgusted people with Motherwell. He takes all he can from the people, and will not pay income tax if he can help it. The farmers of this province also realize that notwithstanding Motherwell's speech last session, saying the Government was going to tax railways, the Scott government has already given the railways exemption from the time the Province was formed to date, and we contrast this with Alberta where the Government has taxed the railways and secured $60,000 a year. Putting that money into the treasury equals $180,000 for them. This shows what Motherwell, Scott and Calder have lost to this Province. Everybody pays taxes except the Railway Companies and they have saved $180,000 in three years by having protection from Scott. Motherwell Scott and Calder are responsible for this, as according to long established parliamentary rules, only those on the Treasury benches can bring in bills for raising revenue.

MacDonald Knows Country.

Abernethy, Sask., July 27.—The electors of North Qu'Appelle are to be congratulated on the choice of a candidate made at the Cupar meeting. John A. MacDonald was the candidate chosen and though he has not the political experience of his opponent, he is the right man in the right place. He comes of good stock and was born and reared in the Northwest. He has not sought the honor of being the standard bearer of the Provincial Rights of North Qu'Appelle. It is his sterling qualities that commended him to the electors of the constituency. It is a fitting reward to his honorable dealings with the bulk of the electors of North Qu'Appelle that he has been asked to represent them in Regina. He is personally known to almost every elector, and has been over every acre of land in the district. Mr. MacDonald's excellent appearance before the nominating convention, his frank and straightforward manner, and his lucid ests. As far as this place is concerned Haultain has a walk-over.

Motherwell and His Taxes.

Abernethy, Sask., July 26.—Never in the history of the province has there been such excitement over elections. As this is Motherwell's home we hear many criticisms of his bad management of the affairs of the district and the province. He has spent money regardless of the good it would do the public, only it pleased him so long as his friends got something. When he went into office three years ago he promised there would not be any direct taxation, this only lasted until the beginning of 1907 when we had direct taxation, the farmers only and land owners having to pay into the Provincial treasury on account of the Scott government extravagances. One of the first things they did was to raise each Minister's salary $1500, and each session allowance $500. This for the time they have been in power has taken $20,000, and Scott, Calder, Motherwell and Turgeon, salaries $19,500 a total of $39,500, and yet as we see by the Scott organ, that on July 3, last, at Regina City Court of Revision Motherwell actually appealed against paying taxes on his salary in Regina, making the excuse that he should be assessed at Abernethy, all the time knowing that his Abernethy residence was in a Local Improvement District, and that he could not be assessed for income there. This small piece of bus-and forcible denunciation of the inconsistencies of the Scott Government all go to give an extremely favorable impression of his political future, and a good hope for his success in North Qu'Appelle. The constituency is not an easy one to fight, but it can be fought and won if Provincial Rights accord to Mr. MacDonald the support he deserves in his courageous venture.

PROVINCIAL FAIR PRIZE WINNERS

List of Those Who Carried off the Prizes at Last Week's Splendid Show—A Success in Every Way.

The exhibition is now a thing of the past. The weather on the first three days was all that could be wished for.

Wednesday and Thursday were the big days in point of attendance. Both days the grand stand was filled to overflowing and then there was not accommodation for all who wanted to see the show.

The directors will do well to consider the enlarging of this building before another year.

That the exhibit of stock was the best ever held in Western Canada was the statement by many. However that may be, true it is that there was an excellent exhibition of hogs, cattle, horses, and to a less degree, sheep.

The poultry classes were also well represented. The dairy exhibit was not as good as it might not yet be the main building exhibits.

The machinery was an attraction in itself, and was one of the main exhibits.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

Many Important Resolutions Passed at Annual Meeting of Union of Saskatchewan Municipalities.

The attendance at the annual meeting of the Union of Saskatchewan municipalities which was held in Regina last week was not as large as might be expected. However, some useful work was done. Mayor Cook of Prince Albert presided, and on calling the meeting to order delivered an address full of important matter. As a result of the consideration of his address the following report was adopted:

- Disposal of Sewage—That the secretary treasurer be instructed to enquire at various places in the Dominion, the United States and Great Britain as to the different methods of disposal of sewage with a view to the consideration of this matter at the next convention.
- Paving—That the secretary treasurer be instructed to enquire at the various cities and towns in the Dominion as to the different kinds of pavements used and as to their durability, and report to the various municipalities which are members of this union.
- Bonusing—That the provincial government be asked to do away with the provisions in the act permitting bonusing of industries.
- Drainage of Adjacent Municipalities—That the provincial government be asked to devise some scheme whereby the drainage of a rural municipality may be made compulsory, in the interests of public health, and that if the urban municipality be required to do the work of construction of drainage that it become a charge against the rural municipality.
- Municipal Hospitals—That the provincial government be asked to appoint a commission to enquire into the maintenance of hospitals with a view to meeting the difficulty which hospitals have to contend against in having to maintain free of cost indigent patients from outside points.
- Fair Wage Clause—That a circular letter be addressed to all the Saskatchewan municipalities recommending the insertion of a fair wage clause in all municipal contracts.
- Financial Agent in London—That the provincial government be asked to consider the question of appointing a financial agent in London, Eng., for the purpose of placing Saskatchewan municipal and school debentures on the London Stock Exchange, so as to avoid the great loss occasioned at present through having to sell to middlemen or employ them to sell for the municipality.

RESOLUTIONS

The following are the resolutions which were adopted:

Councillor Bradbrook, moved and Ald. Wilkinson, seconded the following resolution relating to the issue of debentures for express purposes:

Resolved that the provincial government be asked to introduce legislation at the next session of the legislative assembly authorizing the city and town debentures upon the credit of the municipality at a certain sum to be used exclusively in installing such water and sewer apparatus and connections as the municipal bylaws require in regard to Sanitation such installation to be made by said municipalities only in those cases where the property owners are either unable to complete the work themselves or refuse to do so, in which case the cost of installation shall be charged against the property with interest at seven per cent. per annum and collectible in seven equal installments as part and in addition to the regular taxes.

Railway Commission

The necessity for the appointment of a western railway commission was dealt with in the following resolution:

Moved by J. Kelso Hunter, seconded by Ald. Wilkinson, and resolved that this Union of Saskatchewan municipalities petition the Dominion government to appoint a western railway commission with headquarters in one of the western capitals, which will hold sittings at least once a year in each of the western capitals and as often as necessary in other places and at their headquarters for the consideration and disposal of all applications concerning railway matters which affect municipalities, particularly with regard to subways, level crossings and union depots; further that this Union petition the provincial government requesting them to support the petition to the Dominion government, by memorial and otherwise.

City Amendments

Amendments to the city charter were left in the hands of the executive, and the following resolution passed:

Resolved that the executive committee to draft and submit to the provincial government such amendments to the city municipal act as are found to be necessary to give effect to the principle of sealing the ballot papers with the corporation seal instead of initialing the ballot papers and placing a mark on the voters' lists opposite the name of the party receiving a ballot paper instead of having to keep a poll book and enter thereon the name and description of the voters.

Returning Officers

The following important resolution was moved by J. Kelso Hunter, seconded by Councillor Bradbrook, and resolved, that the executive committee be authorized to draft and submit to the provincial government such amendments to the City Municipal Act as are found to be necessary to give effect to the principle that the returning officer is the person responsible for the conduct of municipal elections and voting on bylaws, and that consequently, he is the proper person to make all the necessary subsidiary appointments.

BABY'S GREAT DANGER DURING HOT WEATHER

More little lives are lost during the hot weather than at any other time of the year, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum and stomach trouble come without warning, and when a medicine is not at hand to give promptly the short delay too frequently means that the child has passed beyond aid. During the hot weather months Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in every home where there are small children. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent stomach and bowel troubles. Or if the trouble comes unawares the prompt use of the medicine will bring the child through safely. Mrs. J. Renard, New Glasgow, Que., says "One of my children had a severe attack of diarrhoea which Baby's Own Tablets promptly cured. I know of no medicine so good for stomach and bowel troubles." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Irrigation Convention

Present indications are that the irrigation convention to be held in Vernon, B.C., during the week beginning Aug. 10th, will be one of the most important gatherings of the kind that has ever been held in western Canada. Among the notables, whose presence will contribute to the prestige of the gathering, are Lieut.-Gov. Bulley of Alberta, and Lieut.-Gov. Forget of Saskatchewan, Hon. F. J. Fulton, chief commissioner of lands and works. It is expected also that there will be particularly strong representations of irrigation and forestry experts, officials, members of land and colonization organizations, and others particularly interested in the important subjects of irrigation and water legislation.

It is hoped that local irrigation, colonization companies, agricultural, horticultural, forestry and live stock associations, municipal corporations, boards of trade and similar organizations will lose no time in appointing life number of delegates to which each is entitled. There is scarcely a section of Canada which is not directly interested in problems connected with the distribution and concentration of water, forestry, etc., and all should make a point of taking advantage of representation at this convention.

Delegates and their wives make the return trip to Vernon, the centre of the premium fruit growing district of British Columbia, for single fare.

Building Paper Bridges

Earl Grey, July 27.—Provincial Government Road Foreman Cummings has at last appeared with his outfit in this district, but judging from the active canvass he is waging on behalf of the government, and the amount of campaign literature he carries with him, he is devoting more of his time to building paper and wind bridges, over the great gulf which separates the present government from all hopes of return to power, as far as the electoral division of Last Mountain is concerned.

"Jimmie" said the merchant solemnly, at the eleventh hour, "we have forgotten to get a fresh supply of stamps."
