

TO HER WHOM I LOVE.
BY STEVEN.
I love thee ever; though the seasons change,
And the thick leaves fall from the forest trees,
Unending blooms love's summer in my heart,
There shall the memory fresh for ever live
Of every dear delight by thee confessed;
Thy image these sustained for ever;
Blows and contorts each impulse of my soul;
Inspires each gentle thought, each sacred Sublimity to the sweet dearest of love.
Though I were buffeting the sea's mad waves,
Or traced my solitary way the desert o'er,
Or 'mid the Arctic horrors shuddering stray,
Still pure and ardent burns that vestal fire,
And time shall change it not. The outward man,
Though sickness may assail, it cannot change
The aspect of a heart by love inspired,
But never wavering, steady and serene;
Through every evil, every good report,
Through sickness and through health, through life, through death,
Through time's vicissitudes, and through the far Eternity, whose days no more shall be,
Brighter and purer still that love shall glow.

English Mail of March 6.

The chief topic of interest in Great Britain is the policy of the new administration, which has been partly disclosed by the Premier. In the House of Commons on the 27th, the Earl of Derby rose to explain the motives which induced him to accept office, and said, that though the resignation of the late administration had taken him completely by surprise, he had determined not to shrink from the responsible office of forming a new government. He said they would all agree with him on the necessity of maintaining universal peace, which could best be effected by observing towards foreign powers a calm and temperate policy, and by respecting in all nations, both great and small, their right to manage their own affairs; that nations should act towards one another with dignity and forbearance, and that no state, any more than any private individual, should be ashamed to make reparation for injuries. He alluded to the strength of the army, and said he believed it would be effective for all purposes, and that it was never more efficient than at this moment. The military force was sufficient to repel invasion, and though he felt no alarm on that subject, he thought that the present moment was favorable for so organizing the undisciplined valor of the country, that they might resist to the greatest advantage the trained arms of an invader. He then warned political refugees, that the government would not tolerate any attempt on their part against the foreign powers. He approved of the principles adopted in the United States, of taxing all those imports which entered into competition with the produce of their own soil; but though this was his opinion, he thought the question could only be satisfactorily solved by a reference to the clearly expressed opinion of the intelligent portion of the community. He stated, that it was not his intention to proceed with the Parliamentary Reform Bill.

NOVEL AND STARTLING PROPOSAL.—A metropolitan correspondent of the Illustrated describes a somewhat Quixotic scheme, which, he says, is being concocted by the Admiralty; no less, in fact, than the enclosure of the Irish Sea, by breakwaters thrown across from Anglesea to the Wicklow mountains, and from Donaghadee to Portpatrick. Thus, it is argued, Dublin, Belfast, Liverpool, Whitehaven, and other exposed towns, will be placed beyond reach of any hostile fleet, while by the shutting out of the tidal water, many thousands of acres of land, formerly, no doubt, cornfields, will be reclaimed, sufficient to yield the fifteen per cent. of corn now imported from foreign countries. The whole estuary of the Dee, large tracts of land on the Solway, the entirety of Morecambe Bay, across which the railway will be forthwith completed, so as to bring the mineral districts of Cumberland into immediate contact with the coal fields of Lancashire.

THE NEW CHANCELLOR OF THE EXCHEQUER AND HIS CONTEMPORARIES.—Mr. Disraeli has just published an address to the electors of the county of Buckingham, in which he says, "The late Administration felt to pieces the internal dissonance, and not from the result of their opponents; and notwithstanding the obvious difficulties of our position, we have felt, that to shrink from encountering them would be to leave the country without a government and her Majesty without servants. Our first duty will be, to provide for the ordinary and current exigencies of the public service; but, at no distant period, we hope, with the concurrence of the country, to establish a policy conformable with the principles which in opposition we have felt it our duty to maintain. We shall endeavor to terminate that strife of classes which, of late years, has exercised so pernicious an influence over the welfare of this kingdom; to accomplish those remedial measures which great productive interests, suffering from unequal taxation, have a right to demand from a just Government; to cultivate friendly relations with all foreign powers and secure to them an honorable peace; to uphold in the rights, as well as in their form, our political institutions; and to increase the efficiency, as well as maintain the rights, of our national and Protestant Church. An Administration formed with these objects, and favourable to progressive improvement in every department of the state, is one which, we hope, may obtain the support and command the confidence of the community, whose sympathies are the best foundation for a strong Administration, while they are the best security for a mild government."

LATE FROM THE CAPE OF GOOD HOPE.
The barque Springbrook arrived at Boston on Friday last, in the short run of 45 days from the Cape of Good Hope, bringing dates to the 27th of January, twenty-six days later.

The war with the Kaffirs continued. On the 6th of January news was received at Cape Town of the death of Major Wilmet, of the Royal Artillery, commanding at Fort Peddie. He was shot on New Year's Day, while leading his men in an attack on the enemy in a jungle of fish river, where it is said that the great Kaffir Chief, Sandhill, had taken refuge.

On the 20th of December, at Manzanara, the English troops had a battle with the Kaffirs and rebels, in which 300 of the latter were defeated, with a large number killed and wounded. On the 24th another engagement took place, in which 88 of the enemy were killed.

The whole British force has concentrated at Botterworth, and Sandhill and his people are flying before it into the Bushmen country, a track being between the slopes of the Bushen and the other rivers of Kaffir land, and the Drakenberg mountains. This is a very fine country, and although estimated at some 4000 square miles, is uninhabited, except by a few bands of roving plunderers. The Fingoes have risen against their old taskmasters, the Kaffirs. On the 3d, at Kawestone, an engagement took place in which twenty-three Kaffirs and four British were killed. The British forces have recaptured 20,000 cattle from the enemy. An attack has been made upon Whitless and Shiloh, in which nearly all the inhabitants had been massacred, fourteen only escaping. It was probable that the whole of the mission stations in that part of the country would be ravaged and destroyed.

The last accounts are to the effect, that the Kaffirs desire peace and are suing for it, but the Government refused to see their messengers. It will be a long time, however, before peace can be established in this unhappy country. The papers contain columns of accounts of murders and assassinations by the roadside at noon-day; where the houses of the inhabitants are burnt down and their crops destroyed.

The factory hands, to the number of between three and four thousand, belonging to 18 firms and 23 factories at Redcliff and Pilkington, turned out against an attempted reduction of the winter's wages.

IRELAND.
The people of Drogheda celebrated the downfall of the Russell ministry by bonfires and other demonstrations. A true bill has been found against Mr. Joseph McCartan, editor of the Democratic Review, for sedition. The Earl of Shaftesbury offered £10,000 to build a Roman Catholic cathedral at Chester, and a Memorial for a similar purpose in Shrewsbury, and Ireland. Dr. Murray, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Dublin, died on the 29th of Feb., in the 83rd year of his age.
Thomas Moore, the Irish poet, died at Sloperton Cottage on the 27th, aged 78.

THE ROAD TO HEALTH!
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS
CURE OF A DISORDERED LIVER AND BAD DIGESTION.
Copy of a Letter from Mr. R. W. Kirrus, Chemist, T. Franco Street, Liverpool, dated 6th June, 1851.
To Professor Holloway:
Sir—Your Pills and Ointment have stood the highest experiment of Prescribers for some years. I can refer to my case. She had been troubled for years with a disordered liver, and bad digestion. On the last occasion, however, the violence of the attack was so alarming, and the inflammation set in so severely, that doctors were entertained of her not being able to bear up under it; she was induced to try your Pills, and she informs me that after the first, and such succoring dose, she had great relief; she continued to take them, and although she used only three Boxes, she is now in the enjoyment of perfect health. I could have sent you many more cases, but the above, from the severity of the attack, and the speedy cure, I think, speaks much in favor of your astonishing Pills.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF RHEUMATIC FEVER, IN VAN DIEMEN'S LAND.
Copy of a Letter inserted in the Hobart Town Courier, of the 1st of March, 1851, by Major J. Walch.
Margaret McConnigan, nineteen years of age, residing at New Town, has been suffering from a violent rheumatic fever for upwards of two months, which had entirely deprived her of the use of her limbs; during this period, she was under the care of the most eminent medical men in Hobart Town, and by the most judicious treatment, she was restored to her feet; she then tried Holloway's celebrated Pills, which she continued to use, and in an incredibly short space of time they effected a perfect cure.

CURE OF A PAIN AND TIGHTNESS IN THE CHEST AND STOMACH OF A PERSON 84 YEARS OF AGE.
From Messrs. Thos & Son, Proprietors of the Lynn Advertiser, who can reach for the following statement.—August 2, 1851.
TO PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY.
Sir,—I desire to bear testimony to the good effects of Holloway's Pills. For some years I suffered severely from a pain and tightness in the stomach, which was also accompanied by a shortness of breath, that prevented me from walking about. I am 84 years of age, and notwithstanding my advanced state of life, these Pills have so relieved me, that I can devote to my usual avocations, and take my daily exercise with ease and without inconvenience or pain, which I could not do before.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF THE GRAVEL, AND A MOST PAINFUL LIVER COMPLAINT.
Copy of a Letter addressed to J. E. Heydon, Esq., Sydney, New South Wales, dated February 23, 1851.
Sir,—A Mr. Thomas Clark, a settler at Lake George, Sydney, has suffered from the Gravel, and his medical attendants, after trying all their skill, finally told him that his case was hopeless, and any further effort would be useless. In this situation, and when expecting every day to terminate his existence, a friend recommended him to try Holloway's Pills, and he soon began to feel better, the first dose gave him considerable relief, so that he persevered in taking them according to the directions, and is now restored to perfect health. He will be glad to give evidence in confirming the statement, or even make an affidavit to the same effect, should it be required.
(Signed) Wm. JONES, Proprietor of Goulburn Herald, New South Wales.
