We do not walk on the sidewalks, and therefore, do not obstruct them, but all such cold-hearted christians as Methodist will not prevent us going on the streets to win souls for Christ. I believe that had the church done its duty and not gone to sleep there would to day have been no salvation army in Toronto. Methodist clergymen in this city thank God that the army ever came to Canada, but Methodist is one of these persons who want to go to heaven in a sleeping car, or sneak in any way but the right. I am sorry to see that one of your correspondents advocates further restrictions, on the principle that the fewer the workers the more the pay. Its in-tirnsic selfishness ought to be enough to con-denn this plan. The Salvation of Souls.

To the Editor of The World.

SIR: I see your correspondent Methodist in to-day's issue takes umbrage at the modus operandi of the salvation army, maintains it should not be allowed to parade our streets playing bands, and that it should conduct its services on the principle adopted by other "denominations." Paul believed in "being all things to all men if by any means he might save some." Metho-dist would have it done in a genteel way or peace, and should be dealt with real as in other cities. He evidently means imprisonment. I am not aware that they do obstruct the sidewalks, not being allowed by the authorities to parade on them, which I think is an act of severity. Should Bond street church be arraigned before the proper author-ities for obstructing the sidewalks every Sun-day evening for typenty minutes with persons eager to gain admissions there would be more ground for a conviction than has yet appeared against the salvation army, which would be ridiculously absurd in either case, but which would no doubt gratify pharasaical correspon-dents. Again he says the army may be doing some good among the lower and degraded classes, and in the same breath he accuses them of breaking the Sabbath day. I feel as-sured from personal observation that the army in this city is doing agood work, a work which the churches have failed to accomplish, if they ever tried to go out in the highways and by-ways and bidding the outcast and fallen to come into the feast which the Lord had spread and which was spurned by the respectable in-vited guests.

How many of our fallen sisters and daughters have they raised from a life of sin and shame? This is the work the salvation army is doing in our city, and this is what John Wesley, the founder of the salvation army is doing in our city, and this is what John Wesley, the founder of energy of the salvation army is doing in our city, and this is what John Wesley, the founder of respondent is surely cognizant of. I would avise A Methodist to become better ac-quainted with the salvation army, and throw the Master's standpoint. Oct. 28 unconscious in the parlor of 98 Sumpter street, Brooklyn, by members of his family, who had heard the report of a pistol. A 22-calibre Smith & Wesson revolver lay by his side, and a bullet from it had entered his brain, The ease is now regarded as remarkable; be-cause, although the bullet is yet in, his brain, he is as well in mind and body as he ever was. He says the shooting was entirely accidental. Dr. J. Nehrbas of 441 Bedford avenue and Dr. Solon F. Bliss of 652 Herkimer street make the following statement: We found that the ball had entered the mid-die of the right side of the head, an inch and a half above the right car and that it took a slightly downward course six inches directly through the reasoning facultics. The pulse was forty-eight. We probed for the bullet, going three inches into the brain and finding the passage made by the ball leading still further in. Then we agreed to leave further probing until the next day and put the young man on treatment to allay the inflammation which we expected. We confidently ex-pected his death within twenty-four hours. His pulse rallied before evening, rising to 55, and very little inflammation set in. These were favorable symptoms, but we did not deem that there was the least chance of his surviving. Next day we probed again five inches into the brain and octated the bullet an inch further in. We judged that it would only hasten death to work at removing the ball and concluded to let it stay there. He spined every day till at the end of two weeks, he was comparatively out of danger. He is now fully recovered and has gone back to work in sound health, mind and spirits. Dr. Bliss said that the bullet had become en-cysted. A Chat With This Well-Known Breeder of Shorthorns. A World reporter found Mr. John Hope of Bow Park, the well-known shorthorn breeder, in the Rossin house last night and embraced the opportunity to have a pleasant chat with that gentleman. Mr. Hope was very enthusiastic over the collection of prize animals that were brought together at the fat cattle exhibition just closed. "But," he continued, "something will have to be done ere next year in the way of providing suitable quarters to induce exhibitors to return." Mr. Hope gave an interesting account of a similar exhibition just closed in Chicago; in which the Canadian breeders in Chicago; in which the Canadian breeders carried off no less than fifteen first prizes. Bow Park carried off seven firsts. He said that the Chicago exhibition was in its fourth year, and the entries this season numbered 300. The exposition buildings, the scene of the national republican convention in 1880, the great Parnell meeting and other momental descriptions, were used for the isso, the great Farnell meeting and other memorable gatherings, were used for the exhibition, which lasted one week. Great rows of stables were erected, and the most scrupulous care was observed in keeping everything clean. The elite of Chicago and the west visited the show. The same dame on which the statement of the same loors on which the statesmen of the repub-lie had gathered were afterwards tenanted by the blue-blooded stock of the south and west. So much has been said regarding the won-derful cures made through the aid of the spirometer, the invention of Dr. M. Souvielle of Paris ex-aide surgeon of the French army, that many eminent physicians have been induced to investigate the instrument and also the scientific standing of the International Throat and Lung Institute. All who have so investigated express themselves satisfied that the physicians, comprising the staff of the institute are thoroughly qualified medical men, that patients receive the latest and most scien-tific treatment, and that the spirometer is really a valuable addition to medical science. One very prominent physician said: "If there is anything in inhalation it can be got ut of the effects produced." Any one suffering from Asthma. 'Bronchitis, Catarrh, Catarrhal Deaf-ness, Consumption in its first stages or Laryn-gits should consult the physicians of the institute personally and be examined; if not, write for a list of questions and copy of "Inter-national News," published monthly.
