Successful Week of Prayer Services. Much Sympathy Felt For Mr. Harry Hardwick in Loss by Fire. Personal Notes.

Annapolis Royal. The exercises of the past week have been devoted to the annual "Week of Prayer" - the services being arranged as follows: Monday, at the Baptist church, Rev. A. Gibson, chairman, Rev. T. C. Mellor, speaker; Tuesday, at St. George's United Church, Rev. T. C. Mellor, chairman, Rev. M. H. McIntosh, speaker; Wednesday, at St. Luke's Sunday school, Rev. T. C. Mellor, chairman, Rev. M. H. McIntosh, speaker; Thursday, at the Methodist church, Granville Ferry, Rev. R. B. Thomas, chairman, Rev. A. Gibson, speaker. The services closed on Friday evening with a community meeting in the town hall, which was largely attended, and marked by a most enthusiastic spirit of unity. Town Clerk, P. W. Harris, presided, and the singing was led by the combined choirs, with Mrs. Robert Hardwick at the organ. The general theme of the service was "Christ's Supremacy in Social and Industrial Life" and prayers were offered by Rev. D. C. Jordan and Mrs. L. B. Braine. Scriptures reading by Rev. R. A. Neish, Granville Ferry, and earnest and inspiring addresses given by Mrs. P. C. Gilliat on "Child Welfare and Social Service," Mrs. E. W. Robinson on "Youth of Today," Mr. C. C. King on "Home and School" and Mr. W. A. Livingsstone on "Sunday School and Taxis Boys." The chairman spoke very warmly on the community spirit, so strongly shown, and a universal vote was taken, to have another meeting very soon, after which Rev. M. H. McIntosh pronounced the Benediction.

Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. Harry Hardwick of Upper Clements, who lost a valuable pair of oxen, a cow, two young cattle and his hay and tools, in a fire which destroyed the barn where they were housed; on Monday night. No quite five years ago, Mr. Hardwick and family lost all their belongings in a fire which burned their home to the ground during a short absence, and he had since built a barn, and used this barn which, being to his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ferguson, the origin of the fire, is a mystery.

Mrs. S. Dennison and her daughter, Mrs. L. D. Shaffner returned on Tuesday from Boston, where they had spent the vacation with Dr. Dennison.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Roy Smith entertained at a Bridge party of six tables on Saturday evening. The prizes were won by Mrs. A. E. Allee, Mrs. C. C. King, Mr. F. M. Buckler and Mr. J. M. Owen.

Miss Louise Harris spent New Year's with her sister, Mrs. John Jackson at Paradise, N. S., and returned home on Saturday.

THE COAL-MINING SITUATION

It is a well-known fact that the coal-mining industry in Nova Scotia is one of the most important and profitable in the Dominion. The industry has been the backbone of the province's economy for many years, and it is expected to continue to be so for many years to come. However, the industry is currently facing a number of challenges, and it is important to understand the nature of these challenges and the steps that are being taken to address them.

The first challenge is the issue of coal prices. In recent years, the price of coal has risen significantly, and this has had a major impact on the industry. Many coal mines are now operating at a loss, and this has led to a number of mines closing their doors. The industry is currently working to address this issue by negotiating with the government for a price control scheme. This scheme would allow the industry to set its own prices, and this would help to ensure that the industry remains profitable and viable.

The second challenge is the issue of coal reserves. The industry is currently facing a shortage of coal reserves, and this is a major concern. The industry is currently working to address this issue by exploring new coal reserves and by improving the efficiency of its operations. This will help to ensure that the industry has a sufficient supply of coal to meet its needs for many years to come.

The third challenge is the issue of coal quality. The industry is currently facing a decline in the quality of its coal, and this is a major concern. The industry is currently working to address this issue by improving the quality of its coal and by exploring new coal reserves. This will help to ensure that the industry has a sufficient supply of high-quality coal to meet its needs for many years to come.

The fourth challenge is the issue of coal transportation. The industry is currently facing a shortage of coal transportation facilities, and this is a major concern. The industry is currently working to address this issue by improving its transportation facilities and by exploring new transportation routes. This will help to ensure that the industry has a sufficient supply of coal transportation facilities to meet its needs for many years to come.

The fifth challenge is the issue of coal taxation. The industry is currently facing a high level of taxation, and this is a major concern. The industry is currently working to address this issue by negotiating with the government for a reduction in its taxes. This will help to ensure that the industry remains profitable and viable.

The sixth challenge is the issue of coal safety. The industry is currently facing a high level of accidents, and this is a major concern. The industry is currently working to address this issue by improving its safety standards and by providing more training for its workers. This will help to ensure that the industry has a sufficient supply of safe coal to meet its needs for many years to come.

The seventh challenge is the issue of coal environmental impact. The industry is currently facing a high level of environmental impact, and this is a major concern. The industry is currently working to address this issue by improving its environmental standards and by providing more training for its workers. This will help to ensure that the industry has a sufficient supply of clean coal to meet its needs for many years to come.

The eighth challenge is the issue of coal social impact. The industry is currently facing a high level of social impact, and this is a major concern. The industry is currently working to address this issue by improving its social standards and by providing more training for its workers. This will help to ensure that the industry has a sufficient supply of socially responsible coal to meet its needs for many years to come.

The ninth challenge is the issue of coal economic impact. The industry is currently facing a high level of economic impact, and this is a major concern. The industry is currently working to address this issue by improving its economic standards and by providing more training for its workers. This will help to ensure that the industry has a sufficient supply of economically sound coal to meet its needs for many years to come.

The tenth challenge is the issue of coal political impact. The industry is currently facing a high level of political impact, and this is a major concern. The industry is currently working to address this issue by improving its political standards and by providing more training for its workers. This will help to ensure that the industry has a sufficient supply of politically sound coal to meet its needs for many years to come.

Correspondence

To the Editor of the Monitor:

Sir: I notice by a recent issue of your valuable paper that there is a move being made by the people of Lawrencetown and vicinity to induce our Provincial Highway Board to open up the Trout Lake Road (so called) running from Lawrencetown to Albany near the centre of the settlement. This road was surveyed out and some money expended on it some fifty or sixty years ago. At that time there was much travel and heavy trucking of various kinds from Spring Lake, Lake Pleasant, Falkland Ridge and Dalhousie East. The principal idea for the road then was to give the people from these places a less arduous and perhaps a little shorter road to Lawrencetown. I am persuaded that the difference of distance between that and the present route would not be worth the trouble. At that time the air and now over the Summit, which is a very heavy hill instead of the present road.

Since the railroad has been built through these regions all this has been changed. There is now almost no travel and no trucking from these places and no probability that there ever will be again. It was no doubt because of these facts the road was never finished.

Now let us note a few facts. The section of this road from Lawrencetown to the Inletville road is already a "public highway" and it is here that the abundance of gravel available for the other roads is found. And if there is any quantity on the other section of it (for which I am in doubt) it will never be sought until the supply handy is exhausted. So the plea to obtain gravel has almost no foundation in fact. Then the road passes through land that offers no inducement for settlement and could offer no hospitality to travellers, and places them in very difficult circumstances in case of accident. Then there would be three or more quite expensive bridges. The one at the head of Trout Lake and its approaches would certainly be an expensive one. There is no doubt but what there would be a few people from the South of Albany go through to Lawrencetown occasionally in the summer time by this road if it was finished. But they would go by the present route just the same if it was not. So Lawrencetown would receive no more influx of customers or travellers, than it does now. The distance from the main Albany road to where Mr. Ralph Connell lives on the Lawrencetown road is less than two miles. Two years ago this winter from early in January to near the first of April this piece of road was closed by heavy snow fall. There was not sufficient demand by the people of this place or the travelling public to force it open. What would the condition be with the settlement divided and four or five miles of this class of road added to be kept open? It must certainly become evident that the advantage of this road to the public can never justify the expenditure.

FINE COMET AT UPPER GRANVILLE.
The Christmas entertainment recently given by pupils of Chesley school, under the direction of Miss C. A. Young, was pronounced the best ever given at Upper Granville. A very large number of children from the surrounding parishes, besides the pupils of the school, were present. The programme was most attractive and the singing was especially fine. The children were very well prepared and their efforts were most commendable. Each of the thirty-six members was vigorously applauded. Those taking leading parts in the playlets showed great intelligence and ability and the reading of Miss E. A. Plimley was excellent. The musical numbers were most delightfully given, showing great talent in that direction. Mrs. A. E. Hibberd was organist. After the last musical chorus, Christmas 1924, Santa arrived and distributed to all the children a generous supply of candy, fruit and peanuts to each school. Miss Armstrong was the recipient of a beautiful miniature set.

Correspondence

To the Editor of the Monitor:
Sir: I notice by a recent issue of your valuable paper that the move being made by the people of Lawrencetown and vicinity to induce our Provincial Highway Board to open up the Trout Lake Road (so called) running from Lawrencetown to Albany near the centre of the settlement. This road was surveyed out and some money expended on it some fifty or sixty years ago. At that time there was much travel and heavy trucking of various kinds from Spring Pond, Lake Pleasant, Falkland Ridge and Dalhousie East. The principal plea for the road then was to give the people from these places a less arduous and perhaps a little shorter road to Lawrencetown. I am persuaded that these differences of opinion between that and the present route would not be worthy of notice. At that time there was no gravel. The sand, gravel and stone were a very heavy bill instead of the present road.

Since the railroad has been built out through these regions all this has been changed. There is now almost no travel and no trucking from these places and no probability that there ever will be again. It was no doubt because of these facts the road was never finished.

Now let us note a few facts. The section of this road from Lawrencetown to the Inglecliffe road is already a "public highway" and it is here that the abundance of gravel available for the Valley roads is found. And if there is any quantity on the other section of it (of which I am in doubt) it will never be sought until the supply handy is exhausted. So the plea to obtain gravel has almost no foundation in fact. Then the road passes through land that offers no inducement for settlement and could offer no hospitality to travellers, and places them in very difficult circumstances in case of accident. Then there would be three or more quite expensive bridges. The one at the head of Trout Lake and its approaches would certainly be an expensive one. There is no doubt but what there would be a few people from the South of Albany go through to Lawrencetown occasionally in the summer time by this road if it was finished. But they would go by the present route just the same if it was not. So Lawrencetown would receive no more influx of customers or travellers than it does now. The distance from the main Albany road to where Mr. Ralph Connell lives on the Lawrencetown road is less than two miles. Two years ago this winter from early in January to near the first of April this piece of road was closed by heavy snow fall. There was not sufficient demand by the people of this place or the travelling public to force it open. What would the condition be with the settlement divided and four or five more of this class of road added, to be kept open? It must certainly become evident that the advantage of this road to the public can never justify the expenditure.

FINE CONCERT AT UPPER GRANVILLE.

The Christmas entertainment recently given by pupils of Chesley Street under the direction of Miss Armstrong was pronounced the best ever given at Upper Granville. A very large number of people were present. The evening was very pleasant. The programme was very interesting and the singing was very good. The concert was given in the school building and was very successful. Each of the thirty-six numbers was vigorously applauded. Those taking leading parts in the playlets showed great acting ability and the one reading by Miss E. A. Blunney was excellent. The musical numbers were most delightfully given, showing great talent in that direction. Mrs. A. E. Blunney was organist. After the last spiritual choruses Christmas Bells, Santa arrived and distributed to all the generously filled trays of candy, fruit and peanuts to each scholar. Miss Armstrong was the recipient of a beautiful miniature set.

CHICAGO LOSES SUIT FOR DIVERSION OF LAKE WATER AND FACES SERIOUS PROBLEM

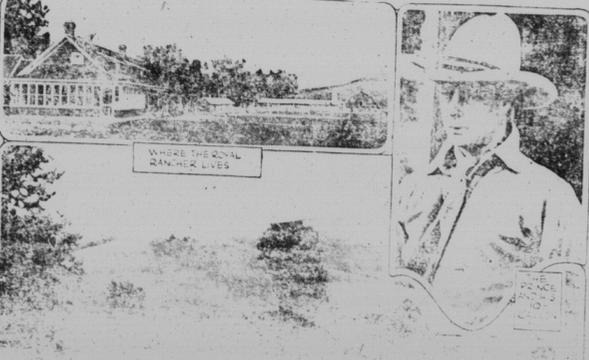

Washington, Chicago lost the sanitary district suit in the supreme court. The injunction of the Federal district court at Chicago restraining the sanitary district from diverting from Lake Michigan more than 200,000 cubic feet of water per minute, was affirmed by the highest court. PUBLIC HEALTH NOTES.

The Menace of the Common Cold.

Doctors and laymen agree that the common "cold" is one of the plagues of human kind. But, too often, it is only the doctors who realize the far-reaching effects of colds in lowering the bodily resistance and opening the way for more serious diseases, the best of troubles arising from infections which flourish on weakened mucous membrane.

It is said that if one is in perfect condition one will not "take cold" even under adverse conditions, and probably this is ideally true; but actually, it is as if every individual is at the mercy of every other individual in the matter of "catching" their colds. The person who by long and careful exercising and right living has brought his body to a fine state of vitality, and who merits the reward of health, is nevertheless brought low by his careless, sick and sneezing neighbor. Community diseases are a price we pay for our civilization—possibly because we are yet only partially civilized. It ought to be a punishable offence to go about spraying the germs of colds into the air, just as it already is an offence to spit on streets or floors.

HE WOULD CURB SOCIAL EVILS WITH FIRM HAND.

Regulation of Vice is "Nefarious."

Quebec Health Department Official Would Smash Red Light District—His Remedies.

Montreal. Equal sentences alike for men and women found guilty in prostitution, were advocated by Dr. A. H. Desloges, director of anti-venereal disease activities and director of asylums of the Provincial Health Department testifying before Mr. Justice Coderre at the police enquiry.

If there were no clients, the doctor argued, there would be no prostitutes. He favored jail sentences in every case, as there is no other system that would give adequate provision for medical examination and treatment in cases where the prisoners were found to be diseased.

"War to the death" was the witness slogan. All prostitutes were diseased, he said. So-called regulation was "nefarious," for it meant worthless examination, and, far from curbing clandestine vice, stimulated it by giving the unfortunate woman legal status. Examination of conscripts for the Great War had awakened the world to the ravages of venereal disease; in Canada 17 per cent of the conscripts had been victims. Half measures were useless, and though prostitution could never be banished while human passions existed, yet the future of all races demanded that the sternest possible repressive measures be applied at all times.

The witness advocated the smashing of the red light district and the deportation of the alien trust gripping it and those living on disorderly house earnings.

Even Abolish Kissing.

Hovels, undesirable plays and moving pictures, dance halls, cabarets, and notably Canadian lax immigration policy all encouraged prostitution here, Dr. Desloges found. The result was healthy people were in such danger of infection that he would even favor abolition of kissing.

Antecedents of each immigrant should be delved into and he should be given a thorough examination to ascertain that he was free from all venereal disease, the witness said. The immigration law was faulty, he found, in that an alien who had resided in Canada for five years then had right of domicile and could not be deported for anything except outright crime.

BERWICK CHURCH HAS NEW PASTOR.

Berwick.—Rev. H. E. Allaby, recently called to the pastorate of the Berwick Baptist church, arrived on Friday, from Davisville, Rhode Island and entered upon his work. He preached in the Baptist church on Sunday morning to a large congregation, and assisted at the Union service in the United Church in the evening, making a very favorable impression at each service.

Mr. Allaby is a native of Nerton, N. B. He attended Acadia College, where, in 1913, he received his Arts degree. Following his graduation, he was engaged for two years, in Y. M. C. A. work at Truro, and then entered the ministry of the Baptist church. Before going to Rhode Island, he held pastorates in New Brunswick, where he was credited with excellent work. Mrs. Allaby, who before her marriage was Miss Nina Habley, of Halifax, is also a graduate in arts of Acadia College.

BATTLE OF THE ALLIED DEBTS OPENED.

No Attempt in Official Quarters in London to Minimize the Gravity of the Situation.—Churchill Must Not Retain Empty Hand.

London.—The battle of the Allied debts opened last week. Winston Churchill is at Paris to attend the meeting of the Finance Ministers of the Allied nations. There is no attempt in official quarters to minimize the gravity of the situation, or the importance of the meeting as affecting the future of Europe.

Discussion of debts is not as a matter of fact officially on the agenda paper of the conference, but it is not questioned that the British Chancellor of the Exchequer will raise the issue with Herriot, and Clementel the Finance Minister of France, and will make a strong effort to secure from France a categorical statement that she has no intention of repudiating her debt, and also offering some definite plan of the terms and methods of repayment.

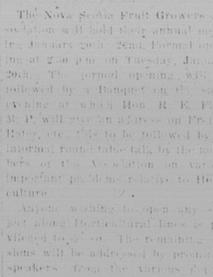

If Winston Churchill comes back from Paris empty handed and without any satisfactory terms of settlement at least in skeleton form, his own position may be seriously imperilled since there is a spirit of determination apparent in all classes to see that Britain no longer carries the entire burden of debt on her own shoulders.

Former Premier Lloyd George is beginning his big Liberal campaign when he addresses the Council of the young Liberals Federation, and after this opening gun has been fired, speakers will tour the entire country in an effort to revive Liberalism and incidentally begin to prepare for the next general election.

The prospects of any such rejuvenation are however, not very bright for labor is quietly strengthening its forces, and the mass of the working people show a disposition to favor Labor, rather than Liberalism.

"Which weeds are the easiest to kill?" asked young Flickers of Farmer Sasstrass, as he watched that good man at his work. "Widow's weeds," replied the farmer. "You have only to say 'Widow' and they will."

KEEP LITTLE ONES WELL IN WINTER

Winter is a dangerous season for the little ones. The days are so changeable, one bright, bright cold and sunny, that the children are afraid to take the children out for the fresh air and exercise they need so much. In consequence they are often cooped up in overheated, badly ventilated rooms and are soon seized with colds or grippe. What is needed to keep the little ones well is Baby's Own Tablets. They will regulate the stomach and bowels and drive out colds, and by their use the baby will be able to get over the winter season in perfect safety. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PATIENCE WITH THE LIVING

Sweet friends with thou and I are gone Beyond earth's weary labor, From ceasings of our neighbors, Passed all the strife, the toil the care And come with all the sighs, What tender truth shall we have gain'd, And why simple dying?

Don't let two eary of their pain Will tell our friends over, And eyes too swift our faults to see Shall new sorrows discover, Don't hands that would not lift a stone, Where stones were thick to cumber Our steep hill path will scatter daisies, As do our pillow'd slumber,

Sweet friends, perchance, both thou and I, Ere long is past forbearing, Should take the earnest lesson home, Be patient with the living, Today's repressed rubric may say, Our blinding tears tomorrow, Then patience when with kindest eye May what a needless sorrow?

It is easy to be gentle when Death's silence shames our clamor, And easy to discern the best, The prudent majority's plan, But easy is not to be done, Ere peace is past forbearing, Be patient with the living, Today's repressed rubric may say, Our blinding tears tomorrow, Then patience when with kindest eye May what a needless sorrow?

QUEEN OF THE FAIR

It is some time since you have read from our section, we assure you we have not forgotten you, and in wishing you Mr. Editor and your staff a happy and prosperous New Year.

In common with the rest of the world things have been happening here of more or less interest. At present every one who ventures out with our croppers is having a most interesting time of it and giving the spectators one also. We have the Glacial Period with us again.

It was a surprise and a grief to the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hartwick to learn that on Monday night they lost their barn by fire with a pair of oxen, a fine cow and six or eight head of cattle, and all the hay and contents. It took place between 11 and 12 p.m. and was discovered by Mr. Reg. Thomas, who was up with his sick mother. It was so far from being that nothing could be done to save the barn and in fact it was with difficulty the other buildings in the vicinity were saved. This is a great loss to Mr. Hartwick as there was no insurance.

Palpwood and stove wood are coming in in spite of icy roads. Capt. Elias Rawling is having the pulp wood, as Mr. Bailey of the Lincoln Pulp Co., Bangor, Maine.
