AMERICAN SCHOONER CAPTURED BY "CANADA"

Caught Fishing Illegally Near Schut Island and Brought to Time.

HALIFAX, N.S., June 16.—(Special.)—The first seizure this season by the Canadian fishery protection cruisers was made on Saturday, when the "Canada" captured the schooner Lewis E. Prescott of Boston for taking mackerel within territorial waters. The American fleet of about thirty sail was after the mackerel, which were schooling very thick along the coast, the fish being close in shore. The "Canada" was cruising near the three mile line off Schut Island, ten miles east of Halifax. Her commander saw two vessels, one of which made the line, yet was close to it. The other was two miles within the limit and not more than one from Schut Island. By using glasses he saw the crew taking mackerel. The cruiser bore down on the Prescott, which did not attempt to escape. Captain Knowlton boarded her, and took the vessel as a prize and moved her into Halifax and notified Ottawa. She has about 100 barrels of mackerel on board. It is a vessel of eighty-four tons, and worth twenty-five thousand dollars.

UNIVERSAL PEACE LIKE STAR IN HEAVENS

Too Far Above the Mundane Sphere Ever to Be Attained by Nation.

RUSSIA'S MESSAGE

Cast Dampers at Opening of Hague Conference—M. Nelidoff Chosen President.

THE HAGUE, June 16.—The keynote sounded by M. Nelidoff, on behalf of Russia, at opening of Saturday of the second international peace conference, was a crushing blow to the pacifists. There was no mistaking of words when he declared the idea of ultimate disarmament and the inauguration of a regime of universal peace was relegated to the limbo of dreams. M. Nelidoff described this idea as a star floating far above this mundane sphere, to be always striven for but never attained. Nations, like individuals, he said, quite frankly, "are human, and not the most perfect, judicial system ever invented could put an end to strife and violence."

When honor and vital interests are at stake," the speaker declared, "regardless of consequences, neither the former nor the latter will recognize any authority except personal judgment and personal feeling. Stripped of its fine phrases, the speech of M. Nelidoff is considered a deliberate warning to the conference to keep to the plan of the earth, to continue the work of the first conference in the direction of alleviating the horrors of war and narrowing the chances of conflict by opening wider the door of arbitration and to aim toward "conciliation and justice," but not to go further. The view that powers should study the question of lightening military establishments with which the first conference concluded its labors was not even mentioned.

Causes Offence.
The speech, however, at least clears the atmosphere and shows that Russia is determined to try to keep the conference within her program, and that so far as the discussion of the question of the limitation of armaments is concerned she lines up with Germany and Austria on her side. In face of this initial reverse it remains to be seen what the powers favoring a consideration of a reduction of armaments will do. The delegates who insist that this subject must not be allowed to drop, no matter what it costs to make an actual step in the direction of limitation or not, manifest some resentment. They say that they would not have been dissatisfied had Russia steered clear of the subject altogether, but they expressed the opinion that this bold attempt to influence the conference by a declaration of the question of limitation is highly improper.

Permanent President.
A perceptible coldness seemed to spread through the hall during the latter half of Nelidoff's speech, and the round of applause at the conclusion of his remarks seemed cold and perfunctory. However, the suggestion of Dr. VanTets Van Goudriaan, the Netherlands foreign minister, that M. Nelidoff should assume the permanent presidency of the conference was unanimously agreed to. The following friendly message was proposed, to be dispatched to the czar: "At the commencement of its labors, the second peace conference lays at the feet of your majesty its respectful homage and expresses to your majesty its profound gratitude for having taken the initiative in continuing the work begun in 1899."

The conference began your majesty to believe in its duty to work with all its strength to accomplish the delicate task of peace.

Railways Must Follow New Uniform System

Interstate Commerce Commission Promulgate Act Passed at the Last Session of Congress.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Under the provisions of the act passed at the last session of congress, the interstate commerce commission has promulgated a uniform system of accounts, which must be followed by railroads. It will go into effect July 1 next, and after that time monthly reports must be filed by the railroads. The system was prepared by Henry C. Adams, statistician for the commission, who has devoted many months to the work. Formal depreciation charges are set up in operating expenses for all classes of equipment. The purpose of these depreciation charges is that the cost of a particular month or a particular year shall be assigned to the earnings of that month or that year, and thus enable a correct statement of net revenue from operations. The definition of betterments and additions is also set out. In keeping the cost of improvements out of operating expenses, and, therefore, of excluding them from the cost of performing current business. Another feature of the new classification of operating expenses is that the expense of soliciting traffic is separated from the expense of hauling the traffic. All of these classifications have been worked out with assistance and co-operation of the railway accounting officers. The significant feature is that the accounting officer of each carrier is made personally responsible for the application of the rules of accounting promulgated by the commission. This is regarded by the commission as the most important step that the federal government has ever undertaken in the development of administrative supervision over a quasi public business like that of the railways.

LOTS OF SMALL FRUIT
COMMISSION MEN SAY

Outlook in the Niagara Peninsula Has Never Been Better.

The wholesale fruit commission men, who are in close touch with the growers all over the Niagara district, are greatly elated over the prospect for small fruits of all kinds.

Dave Spence, who just returned from an extended trip up through the Niagara and St. Catharines sections, and says that the outlook was never better. The season is late, but the last week has worked wonders, and Mr. Spence looks for a few advance boxes of strawberries next Saturday. In some few places the plants were frozen during the winter, but the loss from this cause will be small, compared with the winter preceding.

The damage to raspberries during the winter was somewhat heavy, and this will serve to reduce the output. The apple bloom is simply magnificent, and Mr. Spence says that the plum crop has never in his experience been so abundant.

Fitzpatrick Bros. of St. Catharines, Mr. Lowrey of Queenston, and a number of other large growers who have recently been in the city, confirm this view.

It is said that out around Oakville and Burlington, the strawberry crop is backward, the outlook is for a bumper crop of the finest fruit. T. J. Russell, who has some 20 acres of raspberries, and several lawns, has a great showing. Around Hamilton and the head of the lake growers state that there will be an abundance of all kinds of fruit.

McBride Bros., commission men, say that fruit will be a little late in coming on the market, but there will be lots of it.

Joseph Rush, a representative gardener, living out at Humber Bay, says that, locally, the small fruits and vegetable crop is looking well. He says that otherwise everything is all right. Strawberries are looking well. A leading commission man said on Saturday that, in all probability, the late raspberries and the early raspberries would all be in together, with the result that there would be two or three days of a glut on the market. That would be the best chance. Otherwise he believed his belief that eight cents a basket will be the prevailing price through the season.

On the whole market at the present the only strawberries arriving come from Maryland and sell to the trade at from 15c to 20c a basket.

The farming editor of The World, who has somewhat recovered from the shock of his interview with the hired man on Thursday, was again on duty Saturday morning and the first man he met in the city was Peter Christie, M. P. for South Ontario. He put the greatest emphasis on the fact that the hired man in Scotland among the Celtic people to receive the weary guest by washing his feet, and for that matter, in most cases an old woman retainer of the house offered to do this.

He was glad to see that this ancient custom about to be revived in Canada.

FIRST SUMMERY SUNDAY
ENJOYED BY THOUSANDS

Cool Places in and About Toronto Patronized by Many Rest and Pleasure-Seekers.

Citizens of Toronto, and especially Young Toronto, went to the limit of the pleasures last yesterday to enjoy the first summer Sunday.

From the standpoint of weather it was a real rational Sunday. Everybody was out and nearly everybody went some place. And there is still some place left to go.

The parks were crowded all day. Queen's Park attracted a large number of citizens and their families, who wandered all day and up and down University-avenue to get a breath of fresh air and a little sunshine. Allan Gardens was also crowded with school children, and the lake between Balm Beach and Sunnyside, a delightful ramble from lake and shore.

But the big crowd went to the island of the lakes. From east to west the lake shore was a long, cool promenade. Thousands of boats of every description dotted the bay, and a big fleet of sailboats were on the lake between Balm Beach and Sunnyside, a delightful ramble from lake and shore.

DEATH AT NIAGARA CAMP.
Pte. William Irwin Succumbs From Acute Kidney Trouble.

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, June 16.
Specially Pte. William Irwin, a cook of the 4th Regiment, died in the camp hospital this afternoon, of acute kidney trouble. This is the first fatality which has occurred on the camp-ground in five years.

Deceased was a single man. He was enlisted as being 47 years of age, although he does not look over 35. His home is supposed to be at Englehart, but his mother resides at Belleville. Up until April he was employed as cook in one of Mackenzie & Mann's Northern Railway camps.

Early to-day it was obvious that the patient would not recover, and the medical board of the camp, which was in the hospital, reported to headquarters.

When enlisted into the regiment, Irwin appeared in good health, but he was taken with chills the first night and suffered from intermittent convulsions until his death.

Arrangements have been made with the local undertaker to transport the body to Belleville.

shes put it over the Cornwalls, conquerors of the world's champions, in a N. L. U. match at the Island on Saturday afternoon. The sun was red hot. The big Tecumseh defence was too strong for the Factory Town boys and there was no difficulty in penetrating the latter's citadel.

Only two men were ruled off during the contest, and that was near the finish. Lalonde left the goal and went down the field, roughing it with Querrie, and was ruled off.

Adams was the only Tecumseh player put on the fence. His was a minor offence.

Rough Game at Guelph.

GUELPH, June 15.—(Special.)—In a game that became tiresome because of the frequent delays caused by the players, rendered hors de combat through toughness, which the referees should never have tolerated, the Guelph Shamrocks defeated Brantford this afternoon by a score of 11 to 6. Both teams were pretty evenly matched, with a slight edge to the locals in field play.

Most of the play was in the Brantford goal and had it not been for the almost marvelous play of their goalkeeper, the score would have been much larger against them.

THE CHURCHES AND PUBLIC LIFE

That the public life of Canada is ready in need not alone of purification but of elevation to an altogether higher plane is too palpable to be denied. While the Anglican synod, and for the matter of that, the courts of other churches, deserve credit for making open acknowledgment of the common evils and for the strength of their occasional denunciations it is but a lame and impotent conclusion to let the passing of a report or a resolution, with or without a recommendation, be the first and the last result of so much good passion. Soul stirring declarations that something must be done, when that something is never done may bring the glow of self-congratulation, but if they disappear with the voice that utters them, and with the closing of the record, that ennobles them, they might, for any real public service, as well never be uttered or inscribed.

In no country to-day could the churches perform a more excellent public service than is open to them here and now. Their influence individually, socially and politically is undoubted—is apparent indeed along the lines where it is effectively exercised. If the same energy and particularity were displayed in tracking and exposing the grievous and rampant political, financial and business corruption, and prosecuting petty dealers in Sunday newspapers and ice cream no long time would elapse before substantial amelioration and improvement.

The absolute failure of the churches in these graver concerns to indulge in anything better than glittering generalities is one of the most hopeless signs of the times. Can any other explanation be given of it than the fear of injuring governments and political parties and of alienating wealthy contributors to church funds?

Were every church to appoint a standing committee composed of men of mark, of courage, of ability and inviolable resolution who would deal with the high placed offenders in the political, financial and business worlds in the method meted out to illicit whiskey sellers and such like, far greater benefit to the community would result. Infinite pressure brought to bear on the responsible authorities in the one case—in the other it is conspicuous by its absence.

The churches ought not to be in the same category as politicians that save themselves by saw-offs and as party newspapers that prate of their independence while they compound the iniquities of their political friends by damning the no greater offences of their political opponents. Yet churches that admit and deplore the rank order of public life are open to worse censure when they stand shivering on the brink of duty and comfort themselves with the verbiage of a report or a resolution.

In his address at the commencement exercises of the University of Illinois, Professor James Bryce, British ambassador to the United States, declared that when things go wrong it is not so often from errors of judgment on the part of the people as it is from an excess of party spirit which has led them to follow blindly an unscrupulous leader or from an indifference and negligence which has enabled unscrupulous and selfish men to pursue their own advantage at the expense of the public good. The leaders of the churches might do an infinite service to Canada by awakening these blind partisans to a sense of the obligation resting upon every citizen to obey not individuals, but principles.

Party distinctions in the Dominion, never very fundamental, are to-day thoroughly artificial. Nothing divides the ins and the outs but the fervent determination to retain or regain the fleshpots of office. No condition is more favorable not only for the retention and development of direct political corruption in all its forms, but for the endeavor to conceal by every possible device political scandals and to screen every individual, the publication of whose wrongdoings might affect electoral confidence. Publicity is the cleansing medium of politics, of finance and of business, and governments, churches and newspapers that fail to institute or instigate necessary processes of investigation when these are imperatively called for in the interest of public decency and order fall in their primary duty.

LA DOUMA EST MORTE.
No very long period has elapsed since St. Henry Campbell-Bannerman electrified Europe with his declaration, "La Douma est morte—Vive La Douma!"

The second Douma is dead, and when the third meets it will be not the same but different from its immediate predecessor. Notwithstanding the absolute character of the fundamental law of the empire as first proclaimed, the czar by his ukase of dissolution has carried thru a veritable coup d'état.

Unable under its provisions to secure a parliament to his liking and his advisers evidently perceiving the impossibility of securing this under existing franchise conditions, they advised the cutting of the gordian knot by resuming the autocratic powers solemnly renounced immediately before the assembly of the first Douma.

In the case of a country like Russia, it is impossible, and, if possible, would be useless for the disinterested members to ask for constitutional relief. The czar has still behind him the armed force which, in the first resort, is the arbiter of constitutionality. As such, he is that to which he has committed himself can only be justified by success, and it is only fair to acknowledge the difficulties that beset him on every side.

Yet there are grave reasons to doubt whether history will justify this reversion to autocratic methods. Certainly the classes he dreads, having once tasted the forbidden fruit of electoral power, will not rest content with the loss of their franchise rights. Agitation, which found partial vent in open parliamentary discussion, will again be confined to secret methods of propagation. Only very wise and prudent action on the part of the government could suffice for the piloting of the nation thru the coming crisis, and this the drastic muzzling of the press attempted by the prefect of St. Petersburg scarcely promises.

Unfortunately the personal character of the czar appears to unfit him for the onerous burden he has to bear. While sincerely desirous to rule in the interest for the good of his people, and in sympathy with their evident determination to secure a sufficient measure of representative self-government, his record shows a lack of self-confidence and determination. Swayed by the contending factions of the court, his vacillation and constant oscillation between the old despotism and the advanced aspirations of the nation afford the worst of all possible conditions for the peaceable progress of a constitutional revolution. Unless the lessons of history have to be reconsidered, the whole course of the government's relations to the Douma, culminating in its arbitrary dissolution, will not meet with ultimate justification. Possibly its constitution on an irrevocable and widely popular basis was premature, but once established its maintenance became the vital factor in the fabric of the state, its extinction, even if followed by its reappearance under a restricted suffrage law, can hardly bring other than national disintegration.

THE GREAT CANADIAN HAM.
One man in Canada is known from coast to coast by an unbroken chain of hand-shakes and other familiar tokens of good-fellowship. Do you know him?

Born, reared and partially educated in the serene town of Whitby, thirty-three years ago, he drifted west to Winnipeg to get-rich-quick. For a time on the upper-upper of his uppers, he struggled for a single meal a day and a place to lay his head. He survived and became a tycoon. From that time he accumulated wealth. Finally he bought a newspaper, was elected alderman and naturally got a job as registrar of deeds; still in the City of Winnipeg. Do you know him?

And now he is the past-president of the Universal and Amalgamated Union of Convivial Spirits. The in the service of the C.P.R., no man speaks ill of him. If he has a failing it is his generosity. A millionaire with a long face could borrow his last dollar and be blessed for asking it. The names and postoffice addresses of his friends would fill the Book of Record, and there are thousands of the writing-list. He is the man with the Big Heart, the Open Hand, the Ready Reply, and the Kind Word Spoken in Season. Human being, with your frailties laid away and your right attributes in abundance, you are he.

The 35th anniversary of the opening of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Sherburne-street, took place yesterday.

The morning service was conducted by the rector, Rev. A. H. Baldwin, M. A., and there was special music by the choir.

In commemoration of this anniversary a new brass reading desk has been installed in the church, and also a memorial window, in memory of the late Bishop of Huron, brother of the present rector of All Saints' Church.

Canon Baldwin's morning sermon was of a reminiscent character. He gave some statistics of his 35 years' work in All Saints' showing 3171 marriages, 3862 baptisms and 1839 communions.

Rev. Canon Colby, rector of St. Paul's Church, preached at the evening service. He spoke in high praise of Canon Baldwin's work among the people of All Saints', pointing out the value of some term pastorates.

Canon Baldwin was appointed to All Saints' Parish in May, 1872, and the first service was held in the church on Sunday, June 16, of that year. Right Reverend the Bishop of Toronto preached and Rev. Canon Seabright assisted in the service. The present church was opened on Sunday, Nov. 29, 1874.

This week Canon Baldwin and Canon Colby leave for Italy and other European countries, for a prolonged rest, sailing on Saturday next from Montreal, on the steamship Etna. Meanwhile, and returning about the middle of August.

A Name for a New City

The World wants to present the twin Canadian cities of Port Arthur and Fort William with a single name for that splendid emporium of greater Canada that now sits on the vigorous northern shore of the greatest lake on the globe.

To secure such a name we offer a prize of $25 to be awarded on July 1 next by a committee of impartial men. We want a name that sounds well, and, if possible, fits so great a position.

It is evident by the number of suggestions offered already to The World, that the residents in the east lake area are deeply interested in the affairs of New Ontario. Many English, Indian, Canadian and historical names have been submitted, but ample scope still remains for the exercise of patriotic ingenuity.

This new city will be one of the great cities on the North American continent. That it has a vigorous climate only means that it will have vigorous business methods and an absence of any of that distemper that sometimes gnaws the soul in more torrid parts.

It will be a new and better Chicago, and the centre of enormous iron industries to supply the new and greater west.

Such names as "Superior," "Twit City," "Alexandria," "Great Lake City" and "Union City" seem to be favored mostly by our readers thus far.

NEW ONTARIO LIMITED INAUGURATED BY G.T.R.

Canada's Pioneer Railway Puts on Additional Train to Relieve International Limited.

The Ontario Limited, the new fast train of the Grand Trunk Railway between London and Toronto, was inaugurated on Sunday.

It left London at 9 o'clock in the morning, picking up railway and newspaper men at every station on the line, and reached Toronto at 12:13, two minutes ahead of schedule time. A number of Toronto newspaper men and Grand Trunk officials went out on the regular 7:35 train and met the Ontario Limited at Brantford.

On reaching Toronto the party were taken to the Hotel Edwards for lunch. Before leaving the hotel several of the newspaper men expressed the thanks of themselves and colleagues for the pleasure of being invited to take part in the inauguration of the new train, to which G. T. Bell, general passenger agent of the Grand Trunk, replied by briefly referring to the general improvements of the service and increased accommodation afforded the patrons of the Grand Trunk, particularly in this section of the province.

A drive around the city followed, the party visiting the two large electric railways of the Imperial coast. The train returned to the city at 4:15, the time of the departure of the new train.

Besides Mr. Bell, the following Grand Trunk officials were present: J. D. Macdonald, district passenger agent; A. J. Nixon, assistant passenger agent; C. E. Horning, city passenger and ticket agent; Toronto; C. S. Proctor, T. R. A.; H. R. Charlton, advertising agent; W. B. Dupont, T. P. A.; D. Crombie, master of transportation; London; J. Crombie, chief despatcher, London.

Benefit to Western Towns.

Mayor Patterson of Paris was also of the party. He purchased the first ticket for the new train and was provided by the officials that it would be returned to him, to be kept as a souvenir of the occasion. Speaking of the improved service, he said the people of Paris were grateful to the Grand Trunk for the splendid new station just erected in that town, which is conceded to be one of the most elaborate in the country, and for the additional service which would prove of lasting benefit to the towns of western Ontario.

Another improvement was inaugurated on Sunday in the handling of trains from the west to Toronto. Formerly the trains backed down from the Junction cut to the Hamilton depot, but to avoid accidents the Grand Trunk officials decided to attach an engine to the rear of the train and pull it then to the Hamilton depot, not working under its own steam. This will be done with all trains backing into the Hamilton depot.

The purpose of the Ontario Limited, which runs ahead of the International Limited, is to relieve the latter of the local traffic. Henceforth the International will not take passengers at Toronto for points east of London. The great increase in the volume of business of the International has made this step imperative, and is another evidence of the expansion of Grand Trunk passenger service in Ontario.

Equipment of New Train.

The equipment of the new train is the latest advance in the comforts and luxuries which the Grand Trunk is constantly making. The train consists of a baggage car, a dining car, a passenger car, a day coach, and a smoking car. The coach is two days coach from the shops of the company at Montreal, and an unusually commodious and beautiful buffet parlor car.

The combination car is 60 feet long over the buffer. Of the inside 34 feet is devoted to baggage, and this balance to passengers. This car is considered to be very popular with smokers.

The day coaches are 75 feet over buffers, will seat 61 people in the body of the car and 13 in the smoking room. These cars are provided with six-wheel trucks, steel platforms, wide vestibules, high-speed, quick-action brakes, air signals, and gas light and weigh exactly 108,000 pounds. The inside finish is high polished mahogany wood, and the ornamentation is especially attractive. The seats are of the latest swing-back pattern, upholstered in green plush. A strip of Wilton carpet covers the centers of the car, and linoleum is used as the floor covering for passages and smoking room. The exterior of the cars is painted green with gold lettering.

Comfort in Parlor Car.

The buffet parlor car is also a product of the Grand Trunk shops at Montreal. Its outside length is 81 feet, and the exterior is painted the standard color—pale green. Its weight is more than 58 tons. It contains a parlor with 29 splendidly upholstered revolving chairs. There is an exceptionally large buffet, from which steaks, chops and other refreshments will be served in the car. The inside finish is carried out in a handsome design of mahogany, with antique bronze trimmings, while the upholstery is done with green plush, and the ceiling of the car painted green with gold ornamentation. The result achieved being a happy blending of color and harmony throughout. The lighting features are combination fixtures for gas and electricity. Hand some Wilton carpets of choice design cover the parlor and ladies' dressing room, and rubber-tiled the smoking room, buffet and passages. The cars are equipped with six-wheel trucks, Westinghouse high-speed brakes, air signals and other modern appliances. The train will leave London daily at 9 a.m., stopping at Ingersoll, Woodstock, Paris, Brantford, Hamilton and South Parkeville, reaching Toronto at 12:15 p.m. On the return trip it will leave Toronto at 4:15 p.m. daily, making the same stops, and reaching London at 7:30 p.m.

G.T.R. Justified.

With its double track between London and Toronto, the most popular section of Canada, connecting three of Ontario's leading cities, and passing thru two others of smaller size, the Grand Trunk management have felt justified in establishing this additional limited train service, believing that from the outset it will be greatly appreciated, and at least fairly remunerative.

This event marks the introduction of the second limited train in Ontario. The Grand Trunk have also added a third limited train on the new timetable, taking effect June 16, and the management are satisfied that they are giving in Ontario a passenger service which is unequalled, certainly not excelled, in any way on the American continent, allowing for the density of population and other conditions essential to earnings from passenger traffic.

ate, and, at the same time, arduous task which has been confided to it."

M. Nelldorf, after expressing his gratitude for the honor conferred on him in choosing him for president, spoke as follows:

"I will know that in so doing it was your intention to pay homage to the sovereign, to whose initiative the peace conferences have been due and to whom His Excellency, Dr. Van Gouda, has just alluded in terms which deeply touch me. You also doubtless wish to perform an act of deference towards the distinguished statesman who presided over the task."

He then moved that Dr. Van Gouda be made honorary president and M. de Baatfort, the first Netherlands delegate, first vice-president.

"It is unnecessary," he added, "to say that I shall do everything in my power to render our labor most fruitful by endeavoring to preserve harmony, seeking points of contact and avoiding anything which may give rise to too marked divergencies of opinion. I hope to be able to count on your kindly co-operation and amiable indulgence to second the goodwill I bring to the task."

A Word For Roosevelt.

M. Nelldorf then asked for authorization to send in the name of the conference a telegram to the Queen of the Netherlands, expressing gratitude at the gracious welcome accorded the delegates and their homages and respectful devotion.

"I cannot but feel deeply moved at seeing an assemblage of representatives of nearly every constituted state held. It is the first time such a meeting has been held. It is the desire for peace that led the different governments to send their most eminent men from all parts of the world to discuss in common the most cherished interests of humanity, namely, civilization and justice. May I regard this as a happy augury of the progress of our labor and express the hope that the harmony which animated the various governments will also reign among their representatives and contribute to the successful completion of the task which devolves on us."

"This task, gentlemen, is set forth in the program of the conference accepted by all the powers, is divided into two parts. On one hand we seek means to bring about an amicable settlement of the differences which may

WHAT ONE WEEK IN CAMP DOES FOR MAN AND HORSE

Raw Recruits Take on the Appearance of the Seasoned Veteran.

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, June 16.

(Special).—All along the line there has been a most phenomenal improvement in a week in the appearance of the troops in camp.

The raw infantry who stumbled into camp Tuesday in disorder are now executing manoeuvres with a decided, military swing and precision.

The progress made in the cavalry brigade is most remarkable. It is about nip and tuck between the men and horses as to which have taken to the manual most readily. There were hundreds of men who a week ago were afraid to ride above a brisk walk, while to-day there is not a mounted man who cannot gallop into line at top speed with but one hand on the rein.

The horses also have learned discipline. There is no more rearing and bucking, and when the brigade officer bellowed the command, "Left wheel into line," it only requires a touch on the ribbons and a prod with the right spur to start the whole squadron on a majestic swing to front round the prancing pivot. The alignment is perfect and the pigment on the "march best" look most formidable.

As to the general behavior of the men, Sergt.-Maj. Widgery, the camp sergeant-major and chief of police can testify. There has been only one desertion and two arrests for misdemeanors. Few men have been seen under the influence of liquor.

The army medical corps up till Friday had not been called upon to do much work. Minor cases of sickness have been practically the only ills the doctors have had to attend. Friday afternoon, however, an accident occurred under very peculiar circumstances.

While making a tackle in a football game, Pte. Baker of the 38th got his upper jaw broken thru contact with another fellow's elbow.

One case of mumps and one case of measles are reported from No. 11 field ambulance. These have both been isolated. When it was learned that one of the men in the regiment had measles the other nine men sleeping with him in the tent were marched under guard to the medical corps, placed in a separate tent and stripped naked until their clothes were all fumigated.

Divine service was the only duty the army in camp was called upon to perform to-day, and the sight of almost 4000 bright uniformed soldiers formed in an immense square and enclosing six white-robed chaplains and the brigade staff was grand to behold. The service was held in the centre of the commons and lasted 35 minutes during which the soldiers remained standing.

The senior chaplain in his sermon strongly denounced profanity among militiamen and emphasized the importance of obeying the third commandment. The combined bands of the 39th and 44th regiments and the hymns. After the service the various corps were marched back to the tents and dismissed, shortly after which the camp was practically deserted except for the transient sightseers.

Special excursions were run to Niagara Falls by the Niagara Navigation Co. and the M.C.R., and every outgoing boat and train was packed to capacity. It is estimated that over 3000 people from Toronto were in town to-day.

HAD TO DRAW REVOLVER.

Criminal Defended Himself With Club, But Was Captured.

BOWMANVILLE, June 16.—(Special).

Chief of Police Richard Jarvis was a lively time yesterday when he went out to arrest William Thompson, a Dane, in Darlington.

The charge against Thompson was that he stole an overcoat, pair of pants and a bicycle last night from John McCullach, Kilmarnock town line, between Durham and Ontario.

Thompson engaged yesterday morning at Walter Criderman's farm, but the chief arrived there shortly after. The former saw the officer come to the farm and hid in some straw, protecting himself with a club.

Jarvis, however, was armed and it was fortunate for him, for he had to draw his revolver on Thompson before he would surrender.

Thompson has already served a term in Central prison.

Missing Boy Returns.

Claude Thomas, the 15-year-old boy who was missing from his home at 381 Carlton-street last Friday night, was located at Oshawa on Saturday, where he had gone to visit friends. He has returned home.

Police Arrest Beggars.

Yesterday four women and one man were taken into No. 2 station, charged with vagrancy. The women worked in pairs, and accosted people at different intervals along the public streets telling of their woes.

World Powers in Front.

Altho the delegates have been seated in alphabetical order, according to the names of the countries they represent, by a trick of manipulation the world powers have all been given prominent places in front and on the right hand.

Motto of Progress.

"Excelsior" is the motto of our progress. Let us set bravely to work. Our path is lit by the bright star of universal peace, which we shall never reach, but which will always guide us for humanity's good, for whatever within the modest limits of our means we can do for individuals by lightening the burdens of war and for states by preventing conflict, will enable the governments we represent to the gratitude of humanity."

The Gathering.

As a spectacle the congress of 239 envoys representing 47 powers was not particularly imposing. It lacked the pomp and glitter which add such an outward dignity to the old world ceremonies, yet the immense significance of the fact that for the first time every civilized country on the globe was represented under one roof, impressed the mind as the product of some great event.

The Unattainable.

Let us not be too ambitious, nor forget that our means of action are limited, that nations are living beings, just like the individuals composing them, that they have the same passions, aspirations, weaknesses and impulses, and that if in our daily life in the courts of justice, despite the severity of the penalties with which they are armed, we fail to prevent quarrels, brawls and fights between individuals, it will be the same between nations, altho progress and civilization, and the

AT SCARBORO BEACH.

Visitors to Scarboro Beach this week will enjoy two attractions which rightfully belong to a big touring circus. In the spacious open square in the centre of this park the Kishizura troupe, who come direct from Japan, will every afternoon and evening give their startling exhibitions of wire walking, ladder balancing and head and foot juggling. The extra attraction will be provided by the four Balthus, a quartet of acrobats who have recently amused New York at the great Hippodrome.

BREWERY WORKERS VOTE FOR FIGHT.

The referendum taken among the men of the United Brewery Workers on the question of obeying or defying the American Federation of Labor on the order to expel from their ranks the engineers, firemen and drivers, has resulted in a vote of 397 to 34,707 in favor of fight.

The grades in dispute are said to enjoy better hours and wages affiliated with the brewery workers than if associated with their brother craftsmen.

Barn Burned.

WELLAND, June 16.—Saturday R. Moore & Son's barn and storehouse were burned, at a loss of $2000, the roof of the Methodist Church also being damaged. To-day E. H. Clark's barn and outbuildings at Crowland were burned.

HOW CAN THE HIRED MAN WASH HIS FEET?

What concerns the hired man most is not "how can he wash his feet?" but how can he prevent them from becoming tired, sore and sometimes odoriferous once they are washed. The hired man of to-day, like the soldier in camp, the weary walkers of hot city pavements, and the thousands of other people who earn their daily bread while on their feet, is looking for foot comfort. Feet may be washed several times a day without the desired results being accomplished, so the hired man requires something more than water, soap, a towel and a convenient place to wash in. The something more is Foot Elm for the Soldiers.

At the time the first Canadian contingent was despatched to South Africa the Quebec Telegraph published the following:

Conspicuous among the numerous boxes sent to South Africa for the use of the Canadian contingent were two large tin-cases marked "Foot Elm." Those who have not had any experience in long marches know nothing of the misery endured by the soldiers, owing to their feet becoming tender from sweating and chafing. They often get so inflamed and blistered that walking is almost impossible. Foot Elm has been so successful in relieving these troubles that the authorities very wisely secured a supply for the entire contingent. It is doubtful if any article ever became more popular in so short a time as "Foot Elm." It seems to be just what the people were needing, and Messrs. Stott & Jury, of Bowmanville, Ont., certainly deserve credit for their enterprise in placing so valuable a remedy on the market.—Quebec Telegraph.

Col. Otter Praises Foot Elm.

Messrs. Stott & Jury,
Bowmanville, Ont.

Dear Sirs,—I have much pleasure in testifying to the excellent quality of your preparation for the feet, called "Foot Elm." It was largely used by all ranks of the 2nd Royal Canadian Regiment during its long marches in South Africa, 1899-1900, and always with best results.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) W. D. OTTER, Colonel,
Late Com. Royal Can. Regt.

Foot Health and Comfort.

In each of your feet are twenty-six bones, separated by delicate membranes, and surrounded by a compact set of muscles, sinews, etc., the whole protected by an outer covering of skin of varying thickness; the latter liberally supplied with sweat glands and pores for cooling the feet and expelling waste matter.

The health and comfort of the feet depend almost entirely on the condition of the skin. If the skin is too dry, it is unduly thickened, or so relaxed that perspiration is profuse and unhealthy, a train of evils is set up that may in time almost ruin the feet.

Owing to the absence of light and ventilation, and the presence of moisture, the shoes are a favorable lurking place for a variety of harmful germs. To their presence offensive odors are due, and when the skin loses tone or health these germs set up irritation, poisoning and disease.

"Foot Elm" gives immediate comfort and cures all foot troubles by its healing, tonic and antiseptic action. It destroys germs and restores the skin of the feet to normal condition and activity.

"FOOT ELM" also makes new shoes comfortable.

Foot Elm

The Great Foot Tonic

WHAT FOOT ELM IS AND DOES

"Foot Elm" is a white, harmless, odorless, soothing powder, containing several ingredients, each of which has a special purpose and all of which act in harmony.

"Foot Elm" is antiseptic, which means that it destroys impurities, foul odors, and all bacteria or germs.

"Foot Elm" is healing, overcoming all forms of irritation or inflammation, and restoring the feet and toes to normal condition.

"Foot Elm" is tonic, correcting any relaxed or diseased condition of the skin of the feet, and regulating any disordered condition of the sweat glands or pores, thus overcoming excessive perspiration, etc.

"Foot Elm" by its power to control and regulate the perspiration, and its action as a dry lubricant, prevents rubbing and chafing, thus stepping at once one of the most disagreeable of foot troubles.

"Foot Elm" also cures and prevents chilblains.

Foot Elm Facts.

From time immemorial remedies have been prepared for every organ of the body, but until we introduced "Foot Elm," there was nothing to help poor, tired out feet.

Now here is what "Foot Elm" does:

- It rests tired feet.
- It eases aching feet.
- It prevents chafing and blistering of the feet.
- It reduces swelling of the feet.
- It cools hot feet.
- It relieves painful, smarting feet.
- It cures sweaty feet.
- It cools a burning burn.
- It soothes a sensitive corn.
- It cures ingrowing toe-nails.
- It dispels perspiration odors.
- It "breaks in" new shoes.
- It permits the wearing of a size smaller shoe.
- It preserves the leather.

With "Foot Elm" in your shoes you can walk and not be weary.

If you are troubled with your feet in any way, don't you think it would be worth your while to buy a box of "Foot Elm"?

The comfort and ease you will have far surpasses anything you ever thought of.

Foot Elm is sold by all leading druggists at 25 cents a box, containing 18 powders, or 5 boxes for $1.00. Should your druggist not happen to have either of them on hand it would not be advisable to experiment with anything else, but send direct, enclosing price, and the preparation will be mailed you promptly, postage free. Shake "Foot Elm" Into Your Shoes.

A large share of the discomforts we suffer is due to neglect or oversight. This certainly is the case with those who know about "Foot Elm" and then fail to use it.

You want good, healthy, tireless feet—feet that never trouble you at all. You can have such feet by simply forming the habit of using "Foot Elm" whenever there are any signs of burning or irritation.

Remember that "Foot Elm" is harmless; that it is beneficial to the feet at any and all times; that used occasionally, when the feet are in good condition, especially in hot weather, it will prevent any possible scalding or irritation, and will keep the feet cool, comfortable and in a firm, healthy condition.

Every person who has to do much standing or walking should keep "Foot Elm" at hand all the time and use it frequently.

This is a habit that will pay. It will pay in comfort, in health and in actual money saved, for "Foot Elm" has such a preservative action on shoe leather that it will invariably save more than it costs.

"FOOT ELM" cures sweaty feet.

EX-GOVERNOR TESTIFIES IN THE HAYWOOD TRIAL

Was Not Cross-Examined by Defence—Orchard's Testimony Corroborated.

BOISE, Idaho, June 16.—In support of its case against Haywood Saturday, the state submitted to the jury the testimony of a dozen witnesses, testimony which confirmed details of the story of Harry Orchard, and at adjournment announced that it would close its case this week. The announcement as to the conclusion of the prosecution's case was a surprise to the defence, and clearly placed the prisoner on his guard.

In response to a request from the defence for notice from the state as to the time it should assemble its witnesses, Senator Borah fixed next Wednesday as the time. He explained later, however, that he had given an early day, in order to avoid delay. The trial now stands adjourned until Tuesday morning, the prosecution would not be able to conclude before the end of the week.

Against a sustained fire of objection and motions to strike out, the prosecution got the admission of much evidence bearing on points of Orchard's testimony.

Sent to Haywood For Money.

First, it was shown that Steve Adams, while imprisoned in Oregon, in 1905, on the way home from California, where it is alleged he went to kill Fred Bradley, sent a telegram to Haywood at Denver, for money. It showed by the contents of six drafts on New York banks, five of which were purchased at the First National Bank of Denver by Haywood himself, that during 1904, 1905 and 1906 money was frequently remitted by Haywood to L. J. Simpkins, formerly a member of the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners, who, as "Simmons," went to Caldwell with Orchard and assisted in the first attempt to kill Steinbock.

The last draft, sent in January, 1906, after the murder of Steinbock, was cashed by Mrs. Simpkins, presumably after Simpkins' flight.

Then came the statement and twisted fragments of the device by which the vindicator mine bomb was set off. This led to an extensive enquiry by the defence into conditions and events concerning the mine, and Orchard's testimony was corroborated.

History of Bomb.

Next, the state completed the legal history of the Peabody bomb by showing that it was dug out of the ice in the Coeur d'Alene River, brought to Boise, and taken to Denver, and by showing its casing identified by the plumber who made it. Ex-Gov. Peabody and his family watched the bomb cover every moment that it was discovered before the witness stand.

Then the state once more took up the general thread of Orchard's story and successfully offered the testimony of Miss Peabody, as to the testimony of Orchard, that he and Steve Adams followed the Peabody carriage home.

Various times in 1905, Haywood, Peabody and Orchard were seen together, and confirmation by William Vaughan of the trip that Orchard and Vaughan made to Canon City. Lastly, proof was adduced that Steve Adams was at the trip that Orchard and Vaughan made to Canon City. Finally, proof was adduced that Orchard was at the trip that Orchard and Vaughan made to Canon City. Finally, proof was adduced that Orchard was at the trip that Orchard and Vaughan made to Canon City.

BOILERMAKERS TO GET AN INCREASE IN WAGES

All Shops Except One Compromise With Employees—Shorter Day Demand Withdrawn.

With one exception the firms with which the boilermakers have been negotiating for shorter hours and increased wages have come to terms with their men and there will consequently be no strike in this trade.

The settlement effected in the nature of a compromise. The men agreed to drop their demand for a nine-hour day and a ten-hour working day, and the employers gave way on the question of wages. The increase will amount to about 10 per cent.

The agreement was not brought about by the union, but was made by each shop individually with its employees.

What effect the action of the boilermakers will have on the position of the machinists remains to be seen.

FUSHIMI IN WINNIPEG.

Japanese Prince Given Great Reception in the West.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 16.—With all the honors which are incident to a friendly nation, H. I. Prince Fushimi was accorded the welcome of Western Canada on his arrival in the city at noon. The prince made a brief stop at Keewatin to witness the operation of the new mammoth mill of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company.

The lieutenant-governor, the mayor and the members of the city council and the board of control were on hand at the depot to welcome him on his arrival. The prince made a brief stop at Keewatin to witness the operation of the new mammoth mill of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company.

A feature of the reception to his imperial highness was the presentation of the homage of C. L. Ishiguro and W. G. Takagi, the two Japanese residents of Winnipeg.

The prince expressed himself as most pleased and delighted with all that he saw at Ogilvie and was particularly struck with the electrical power machinery arriving at the bins, where the various qualities of flour are shown, the prince said a few words to Councilman Nagasaki, who turned to Mr. Black and asked: "Is this the flour which is exported by your company to Japan?" Mr. Black answered in the affirmative and the prince nodded in approval.

MURDER'S WIFE AT DOOR.

Then Telephoned For Police—A Buffalo Tragedy.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 16.—Frank E. Jackson walked up to the door of his house to-day and rapped. His wife opened the door and Jackson stepped inside. Then he shot the woman three times and she fell dead at his feet.

Looking for the doors to the room in which the murder occurred, so his little children could not come upon their mother's body, Jackson went to a neighbor's house and telephoned the police that there was trouble at his house. Then he walked out to meet and gave himself up.

As Jackson was walking to the telephone when he reported the killing to the police, he passed his wife's father. He bowed and continued on his way as if nothing had happened.

Woman Found Dead in Bed.

Deceased went to board at the above address last Monday, and was last seen by Mrs. Ayers on Sunday at noon. RUSSIAN PRESS GAGGED CRITICISM MEANS JAIL

Edict is Issued That Forbids Publication of Comment on the Dissolution.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 16.—Active preparations for the dissolution of the Russian Duma included an order from Gen. Dragochefski, prefect of St. Petersburg, addressed to the municipal press, announcing that the publication of any article inimical to the government will be considered a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $1500 and three months in jail.

This is the most drastic measure proclaimed against the press since the days of the Black Reaction, and if it is enforced it will entail the suspension of every Liberal newspaper in St. Petersburg. The Socialist Tovarisch has already thrown up the sponge, and did not attempt to appear Sunday morning.

THREE INQUESTS OPENED ON TORONTO FATALITIES

Coroner Crawford Begins Investigation of Killing of English Girl by Fall From Car.

To-night Coroner Crawford will investigate the death of the Italian Cross, who was crushed to death by a cave-in on Dunvegan-road on Saturday.

Saturday afternoon the inquest into the death of Margaret Hunter, who died from injuries received by falling off a street car, was opened at Grace Hospital by Coroner Crawford and adjourned until Wednesday night at the city hall.

The Miller inquest was opened at the morgue on Saturday night by Coroner Greig, and was adjourned until Wednesday night at the city hall, as the jury wished more particulars.

Margaret Hunter, the English girl, who was killed by falling off a street car, Friday night, was employed as a waitress in Sutherland's restaurant, 157 West King-street. She either slipped from the steps of an eastbound Bell Line car at the corner of King and John-streets or stepped off backward with the result that she was thrown on her head on the pavement and sustained a fracture of the skull, from which she died an hour afterwards in Grace Hospital.

The girl came to Canada from England about a year ago.

CHANCE FOR CHURCH UNION

Dr. Symonds Thinks That Anglicans Would Not Strongly Oppose It.

MONTREAL, June 16.—(Special.)—Rev. Dr. Symonds, vicar of Christ Church Cathedral, preaching to-night on the subject, "The Presbyterian General Assembly and Church Union," declared that it was a matter for deep thankfulness that the tide of Christian fellowship was flowing so strongly and apparently so surely to some great and practical result.

Dr. Symonds pointed out that there were really no insurmountable obstacles to such a union. As to the attitude of the Anglican Church, he said that owing to certain difficulties representatives of the Anglican Church had not yet met the representatives of other churches, but he added, "we have not hanged or shirked or bargained any of the doors. On the contrary, they are wide open for an amicable discussion when the time is ripe."

Dr. Symonds emphatically declared that the consummation of such a union would be the greatest event in a religious sense since the days of reformation.
