THESE JUDGES MUST QUIT BEHARRED AS DIRECTORS

Partial List of Members of Judiciary Who Are on Company Boards.

When the new scale of salaries for judges goes into effect those judges who are directors of banks and loan companies, industrial concerns, etc., will be called upon to resign their places on the board. Quite a number of the judiciary are identified with these commercial concerns. A few of them are:

Chancellor Sir John A. Boyd, Canada Land and National Investment Company, the Union Trust Company.

Mr. Justice Britton—The Mutual Life Assurance Company, National Trust Company, Ontario Building and Savings Society of Kingston.

Mr. Justice Garrow—The Mutual Life Assurance Company.

Hon. J. A. Guimet—Montreal City and District Savings Bank.

Judge Snider of Hamilton—The Hamilton Provident and Loan Society.

Chief Justice Sir William Ralph Meredith—The North American Life Insurance Company.

Judge Bell of Chatham—Chatham Loan and Savings Co.

Judge Ilderton—London and Western Trust Co. Was a member of the board before being appointed judge.

Mr. Justice MacMahon—National Trust Co.

Mr. Justice Maclean—Queen City Fire Insurance Co. Judge Maclean was a director of this company before he was appointed to the bench.

The resolution increasing the salaries says:

"That no judge heretofore mentioned shall, either directly or indirectly, as director or manager of any public corporation or firm, or in any other manner whatsoever, engage in any occupation which is not his judicial duty, but every such judge shall devote himself exclusively to such judicial duties."

A legal gentleman points out that although the corporations with which the judges are identified are not "public corporations" in the legal sense the resolution is sufficiently clear to preclude the possibility of their engaging in any occupation other than their judicial duties.

END OF HISTORIC SESSION SENATE DELAYS DEPARTURE

Business of Commons is Finished, But Time of Prorogation is as Yet Uncertain.

Ottawa, July 18.—(Special.)—The house of commons today completed the business of the session. On motion to adjourn shortly after 4 o'clock Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated that the time of prorogation could not be announced definitely, because the senate had not completed their consideration of certain important measures.

The bills providing for increases of salaries and indemnities were finally passed this afternoon, the one regarding salaries of judges being amended so as to provide that the chief justice of the supreme court of the Northwest territories shall receive $7000 annually, and each of the puisne judges $6000 a year.

The house went into committee of consolidated means to provide out of the consolidated revenue fund for supplies voted since the first supply bill was sanctioned earlier in the session.

The balance of supply for the present year, ending June 30 last, amounted to $160,430, and the balance for the current fiscal year was $25,794,975. Resolutions were carried and the supply bill based thereon was introduced, given its third reading and passed.

This is the 17th session of the present session. Sir Wilfrid announced that the governor-general would reach Ottawa at noon tomorrow.

Stanley McNulty Is Drowned in the Welland Canal.

St. Catharines, July 18.—(Special.)—A 15-year-old boy, Stanley McNulty, son of John McNulty, owner of the Mansion House at Merriton, was drowned in Lock 14, On Canal, this morning about 10 o'clock. The boy was swimming in the lock and suddenly disappeared from sight.

The body of the boy up to 7 this evening have been unavailing.

BOY'S BODY RECOVERED.

Peterborough, July 18.—(Special.)—The body of Joseph Richea, a 14-year-old son of Michael Richea, was found about 10 o'clock this morning in the water near the wharf at Onabaw, where he was drowned last night. A discharge of money was made in the water, and this brought the body to the surface.

JUMPED FROM CANOE.

Montreal, July 18.—Langford Higgins, 19 years old, was drowned near Lake Beauport. He was canoeing with four other boys when he jumped from the canoe, thinking it was about his neck, and before he had gone twenty rods he cried for help.

Yachtmen's Attention.

In fitting out for a cruise and making a list of supplies, above all things, do not omit a case of radnor water. When in the middle of Lake Ontario a bucket over the side will get you all the water you want, but if you are anchored in any harbor, you are lost without a really good mixer, and it is just in these places where the casual steward is blessed by the thirsty crew if he has a good supply of radnor water.

Hot? Yes, But It Has Been Worse 92° is Not So Bad for a July Day

Windor Was Warmest Place in Ontario With 94—When It Once Nearly Touched 100—How Toronto Feels the "Wave."

Just by way of a little variation, the weather to-day will be fine and warm. Yesterday it was just warm and fine. This morning we enter upon the third day of our July thaw, and at this evening it will be time to stick a fork in ourselves to see if we are done.

The weather man was in a particularly cheerful and accommodating mood when The World's staff went to him last night. He always seems fine during torrid weather and intensely cold spells. The fact that the temperature reached as high as 92 degrees and stayed there undecided whether to go up or down for two or three hours yesterday afternoon seemed to make him feel flattered. He affirms that 92 was the highest temperature of the day, but if he had said 100 everybody would believe him, for it seemed to be the hottest day in remembrance.

The temperature has never been 100 degrees in Canada yet, but it came mighty near it fifty years ago. On Aug. 24, 1854, the mercury soared to 92.6, but there is nobody handy who recollects it. There is nobody who recollects it, but it was a very hot day, and it was a very hot day, and it was a very hot day.

HUNDREDS ARE VICTIMS OF HEAT LOWER HUMIDITY A SAVING GRACE IN NEW YORK'S HOTTEST DAY YET

All Sorts and Conditions of People Affected—Thousands Spend Night on Park Grass or on the Street Sidewalks.

New York, July 18.—An area of oppressive heat that brings to mind the record breaking summer of 1901 has settled down over the Eastern and New England States, already numbering hundreds among its victims and causing indescribable suffering in this and other cities.

From all points tonight came the story of the hottest day of the summer, with frequent repetitions and not a few deaths. Philadelphia reported a maximum temperature of 94.4, the highest figure officially noted. In this city the weather bureau's high mark was 92, while in Boston, where the street cars were idly idling, the temperature was 94.4, the highest figure officially noted.

There is a relief in the fact that the heat is not so bad as it was in 1901. In that year the temperature reached 100 in Philadelphia, and in Washington it was 98. In New York it was 94.4, the highest figure officially noted.

JURY CENSURES OFFICIALS BUILDING INSPECTION LAX

City Official, Architect and Contractor Not Sufficiently Careful to Prevent Winnipeg Accident.

Winnipeg, July 18.—(Special.)—After sitting three consecutive nights, and hearing many witnesses, the jury today returned a verdict favorable to the defense, the coroner's jury regarding the death of Will Stelmohr, Bert White and Jennie and Minnie O'Reilly, killed early last Saturday morning by the collapse of the reconstructed burnt Hoover block, brought in a verdict censuring the provincial architect, building inspector and various contractors and putting the blame on the contractor.

REGULAR CIRCUMSTANCES SURROUND THIS DEATH

Mrs. Bond, Who "Bossed" the House, Arrested for Being Disorderly—Inquest on Robert Bradford.

Coroner Young last night issued a warrant for the purpose of enquiring into the death of Robert Bradford, 566 Parliament street.

The circumstances which led up to the inquest being held are somewhat peculiar. Deceased was taken ill about a week ago. His wife has been an invalid for years. A Mrs. Sarah Bond, 323 Weller street, had been in the habit of "coming in and taking care of things." She did so during the illness of Bradford, and assumed responsibility and took upon herself to telephone for Dr. Clark, who had been attending the sick man, but his services were refused. She then called on a number of people, friends of deceased, were also refused admission to the house by Mrs. Bond. This made some of the neighbors suspicious.

Denver, Oct. 7.—The faces of a dozen English visitors to the Colorado mine under ground, to find a narrow strip of ground affording temporary safety crumbling away inch by inch into the black waters lapping at their feet, to see their only hope of rescue just an inch above their outstretched hands and, finally, to be saved after the engineer and broke it. The cage continued downward, and when the water was up to their chests they jumped for a ledge and reached it.

BIG PACKING HOUSE AND ABATTOIR ADDITIONS TO UNION STOCK YARDS

D. Gunn Co., Limited, Will Erect a $225,000 Pork Packing Factory and U. S. Syndicate to Establish Abattoir.

Arrangements have practically been concluded by which a big abattoir and a large pork packing factory are to be built on the property of the Union Stock Yards at Toronto Junction. The abattoir company includes a number of prominent American capitalists, as well as at least one local live stock dealer. The pork packing plant will be erected by the D. Gunn Co., and it is understood that, besides a large tract of land they have held for some time, additional land has been secured, and that the building will cost in the neighborhood of $225,000. Plans are completed, and work may commence at almost any time now.

M. P.'s Line Up for Pension $6000 Every Year for Them

Retired Members of the Cabinet Who Will Draw $3,500 a Year Pension and $2,500 Indemnity As Well.

WHAT THE PENSIONERS GET.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell, $6500 a year.
Sir Charles Tupper, $4000 a year.
John Haggart, Sir John Carling, George E. Foster and Clifford Sifton, each $6000 a year.
Sir Adolph Caron, Sir Hibbert Tupper, Sir Hector Langevin, A. G. Blair and J. Israel Tarte, each $3500 a year.
Total, $58,000 a year.

Ottawa, July 18.—(Special.)—The pensions provided in the resolutions brought down in the house yesterday are very much larger than they appeared at first sight to be. For some of the beneficiaries it is in effect a dual pension system, the beneficiary being entitled not only to the pension allowance, but to the indemnity which he is at present drawing as a member of the senate or of the house of commons. Sir Mackenzie Bowell, for instance, as ex-prime minister, will draw $6500, which includes half his salary as premier and his seasonal indemnity. Sir Charles Tupper, another ex-prime minister, will draw $4000, or half his salary while premier.

WITTE'S INTERVIEW DIPLOMATIC HE DIDN'T MEAN WHAT HE SAID

War Party Designs to Make it Impossible for Him to Conclude Peace and He is Bitterly Indignant.

St. Petersburg, July 18.—Evidence of the government's consternation over interior conditions is found to-day in its abrupt recession from the position it assumed in respect of the All-Russian zemstvo congress. It practically was decided this morning to let the zemstvo meet in Moscow without serious molestation, although it is understood semi-officially that the governor-general of that city was instructed privately to make a prolonged show of resisting the popular will and to deal out the concessions in another way. Attempts were made yesterday to trammel M. Witte, chief peace plenipotentiary, with limitations devised by the grand duke party, which would prevent the statesman from obtaining a cessation of hostilities in the far east save on terms imposed by the emperor himself. It is public opinion, M. Witte said bluntly in a war basis if possible, and if not possible they must keep their hands off his policy.

A SCANDALOUS PENSION LAW.
 Why should the people of Canada be asked to confer the benefits of a pension system on retired cabinet ministers who hold seats in the Dominion parliament? A seat in either the senate or the house of commons has to-day a cash value of $2500 a year. Is this sum not sufficient for the ordinary wants of a retired cabinet minister? It is to be noted that it is as much as the Canadian public is willing to concede, and it is all that the Canadian taxpayer is prepared to bear.
 To pension an ex-minister who is already drawing $2500 from the national treasury with an additional $2500 a year is to outrage every segment of the population. It is to justify the introduction of the pension system in Canada. Six thousand dollars a year is more than a pension. It is only $1000 less than the salary received by a member of the cabinet in active service, and it is out of all proportion to the country's indebtedness to retired cabinet officials.
 The country has practical as well as sentimental reasons for protecting retired ministers against want. This is a simple measure of justice due ministers who have given faithful public service in the past. It is also encouragement to present and future ministers to display their independence at critical moments in the country's affairs. On these grounds the public might be expected to approve a pension system which would provide retired ministers with an income sufficient to maintain a decent livelihood in the hour of old age or misfortune. A pension of $1500 or $2000 would be adequate for this purpose. A pension of $5000 is for this country a most generous recognition of ministerial services rendered. There the country's beneficence should most assuredly stop. If the beneficiary is drawing further on the national treasury, whether as a member of parliament or in any other capacity, the amount of these receipts should be deducted from the pension.
 This apparently is the very thing the government does not propose to do. Under the scheme of pensioning retired ministers and ministers that it may be found expedient to give of, a $5000 annuity is being provided. Twelve retired ministers are already qualified for the pension. On the principles laid down in justification of the pension system the two ex-prime ministers would each receive $4000 a year and each of the ten ex-ministers would receive $2500 a year. In the practical working out of the system one of the ex-prime ministers receives $5000 a year, the other $4000 a year, five ex-ministers receive $3000 a year and the five remaining ones $2500 a year.
 That John Costigan and Clifford Sifton should in the practical operation of a pension system receive $4000 a year is a scandal. The four others who qualify for both pension and indemnity are made eligible to funds which they cannot conscientiously accept.
 And the end of the dual pension system is not yet in sight. Sir Richard Cartwright and Hon. R. W. Scott will soon retire from the cabinet. They will forthwith become entitled to an annuity of $5000. Other ministers now members of the house of commons may at any time after five years' service be transferred to the senate and draw the double stipend. Few better that the sum which is being voted in pensions to retired ministers now members of parliament should be used to broaden the scope of the pension system to include ministers with less than five years' service.
 The government has really created a powerful engine for the manipulation of portfolios for disciplining refractory ministers and for enhancing the purchase price of seats in the senate. These evils are inseparable from a pension plan which makes salaried members of parliament eligible for pensions. The resolutions seem to have been devised, not in any broad conception of a nation's duty to retired ministers, but with a single eye to the political possibilities of a pension law.

CHINA AND JAPAN.
 Those pessimists who have been croaking so long and so persistently over the apprehended extension of Japanese influence in China should take heart at the evident determination of the Chinese government to fight for its own hand. Signs are not wanting that, far from welcoming the prospect of Japan acting in the dual role of mentor and schoolmaster, any attempt to reduce it to fact will be both resented and resisted. No love has been lost between the two nations of the far east, and the Chinese literati have always been accustomed to regard Japan with an admixture of contumacious and contempt, from which they have not yet become free.
 It not infrequently happens in the case of nations, as of men, that advice and leading is more readily taken from strangers than from neighbors and friends. It requires some greatness of character to sit at the feet of an individual or a people who have been long looked upon as inferior, and who have suddenly displayed great and remarkable qualities. Nor in this case have the Japanese always used the best of tact in their dealings with this northern and conservative nation. In all likelihood, the influence of Japan will not be felt so much in direct effect upon the Chinese as in providing them with a free field for working out their own salvation. China will be encouraged to oppose European encroachments, and will be supported in this, but it does not follow that she will in tutelage to the Britons of the east, nor, perhaps, is it altogether expedient that she should be.

UNITED THEY STAND.
 During last year a difference of opinion undoubtedly developed between Mr. Chamberlain and the premier, not so much over the fiscal reform program, as in connection with the party tactics. Evidence was not wanting that Mr. Chamberlain had made considerable headway, not only with the Unionist members, but even more in the ranks of the party. The Conservative associations had pronounced by a large majority in his favor, and he was in a hurry to secure an appeal to the country in order that the strength of the following might be disclosed, and the party more definitely committed to fiscal reform. In this attempt he, however, failed. The premier, while evidently in sympathy with the movement, was not prepared to adopt so heroic a step, which, in the light of the results of the by-elections, would have resulted, not only in the loss of the office, but in the disruption of the party. He, therefore, decided to hang on, and Mr. Chamberlain somewhat grudgingly accepted the decision.
 It was at this stage that rumors of disagreement began to be bruited, and these were intensified when Mr. Balfour declined to refuse official recognition to Lord Hugh Cecil, his free-trade cousin, as the government candidate for Greenwich. On the other hand Mr. Chamberlain actively supported the fiscal reform candidate, and the opposition press were loud in their prophecies that the way in the beginning of the end, and that Mr. Chamberlain and his scheme were therefore to be numbered among the lost causes. Mr. Chamberlain, with the same self-assertion which has marked his whole conduct on this question, summoned a private conference of his own supporters and friends, the result of which a statement was drawn up and presented to the premier embodying conditions for joint action. This was followed by meetings between the two statesmen at which the situation was discussed. More recently Mr. Balfour's approval of fiscal reform has been almost taken for granted. Mr. Chamberlain openly declared in the house of commons that Mr. Balfour and he were of one mind in the matter, and that he would continue to give the government full support.
 Mr. Balfour's supreme desire has been to keep the Unionist party together during the lifetime of the present cabinet, and he has strenuously objected to the ostracizing of any section of opinion. To accomplish this he went persistently near causing a revolt. But further consideration has satisfied Mr. Chamberlain that a premature dissolution would be inadvisable, and he now sees no good reason why parliament should be dissolved so soon. Another reason for delay is the determination of the government to pass a redistribution bill. Owing to the ruling of Mr. Lowther, the new speaker, that the bill cannot be passed except after discussing the clauses in detail and the consequent extension of the session, for which time cannot be spared, the bill has been withdrawn and will be reintroduced next year. As the effect of redistribution on a proportional basis cannot be so favorable to the Unionist party, there are obvious reasons why the premier and Mr. Chamberlain desire to have it in their own hands. Anyway Mr. Chamberlain's patient and disinterested action has achieved its purpose, and correspondingly advanced the prospects of the fiscal reform movement.

WHERE THE RESPONSIBILITY BELONGS.
 There is no disguising the fact that the public resents the kindly interest which politicians at Ottawa have just manifested in themselves. If the public knew all, its resentment would be more vigorous. The people generally see only what has been done. They do not know how it was done. They do not know, for instance, that the double-barrel pension scheme was hatched by members of both parties who had a personal interest in making the emoluments as large as possible. Conservatives sat cheek by jowl with Liberals and considered ways and means of how best to pension themselves on the country. The result of their efforts is seen in the inauguration of a pension law which nets the twelve ex-ministers now eligible an average income of $5000 each. The parties to this shameful proceeding conducted their negotiations with the full knowledge and consent of the leader of the government and the leader of the opposition, and the country will hold Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. R. Borden responsible for the fruits of the negotiation.
ABOLISH SPECIAL FEES.
 It would be easier to commend the increased salaries to judges if a condition had been attached abolishing commission fees and similar forms of emolument. The British system aims to make the judiciary independent, and to carry out this object it is necessary to give judges a salary sufficient to enable them to live and to provide for their families. The independence of the bench is not promoted but is rather menaced by the prevailing practice of appointing certain judges to commission fees, not only in their offices, but in the house of commons so that defeat of the government on a snap vote might be rendered impossible. Conferences of this character are not very frequent, and are only resorted to when the ordinary means of securing the safety of the ministry have proved insufficient. The spur thus given to the Unionist members will probably enable the government to maintain its position and to meet another, and the last, session of this, in many respects, remarkable parliament.

 Still, we should all remember that it's just what the farmer has been praying for.

POLICE ATHLETES ARE SORE
 Toronto's Physically Finest Object to Representing the Force if They Must Lose Days Off.
 It looks now as if Toronto will not be represented in the annual police games at Montreal, Ottawa, or Hamilton. The athletes on the Toronto force are sore and are kicking.
 They certainly have a grievance. They devote their spare time to training for these athletic events. They also spend their own money in making preparations to take off for any of the two days used in going to these games will be taken off their day a month.
 This state of affairs is anything but encouraging to those who are trying to uphold the prowess of the Toronto force on the athletic field.
 It would be much better, said one who knows well, "if there was less attention paid to these alleged duties and more officers who do not know their business, and more time given to exercises in the open air."

 Farm help is scarce in Central New England, and many farmers are expected to be disappointed in harvesting the hay crop. In some towns, $40 and $45 per month with board is offered for farm help.

A GOOD NIGHT.
 "He giveth his beloved sleep."—Psalm cxvii.
 "Sleep dwell upon thine eyes, peace in thy breast."
 The stars drift slowly down into the west.
 The drooping breeze sighs faintly on the hill.
 Save for the song the wide world is still.
 Night has one cure for Day's one thousand cares.
 One healing balm within her clasp she bears.
 The blessed sleep that makes our brows grow smooth,
 And for Day's trumpet challenges her to soothe.
 The battles of the day have left their scars;
 There is no warfare now; the marching host has broken.
 Wheel patiently and surely from the east.
 And for Day's trumpet challenges her to cease.
 From the limitless depths of night
 There breathes a lullaby no pen can write.
 A melody that lives thru ages long—
 The half-hushed, mystic, wistful, wondrous song.
 There are no wounds that ache, no stings that smart.
 Once steep has fled her spell about the heart.
 Forget the weary road, the endless quest.
 "Sleep dwell upon thine eyes, peace in thy breast."

And Does These Two Things Better Than Any Other Preparation—Such is Dr. Chase's Ointment.
 The difficulty of stopping the dreadful itching, burning sensations and of healing the raw and irritated skin is what has made eczema, said rheum and other skin diseases seem impossible to cure. But there is a cure for everyone who will persevere in the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.
 There has scarcely a neighborhood in this country where Dr. Chase's Ointment has not produced some remarkable cure, and for this reason we request you to ask your neighbors about it. We publish hundreds of testimonials in the papers, but may not happen to refer to anyone known to you personally.
 By its antiseptic influences Dr. Chase's Ointment thoroughly cleanses the sore to which it is applied, then soothes the irritation and heals the skin. It is useful in scores of ways—wherever there is itching skin or a sore that refuses to heal; 60 cents at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates Co., Toronto.

TO ESCAPE HAMILTON COP
LEAPS FROM HIGH WINDOW
 Hamilton, July 18.—(Special.)—There was some talk at the meeting of the hospital board this afternoon, when the appointments to the outdoor staff of physicians came up. It was finally agreed to reinstate Dr. Peters, to appoint Dr. Bauer, and add Dr. Carter to the staff. Dr. Edgar was re-elected pathologist, and all the other members of the staff were reappointed. The work on the new wing has been started. The receipts for June amounted to $154,000. It is estimated that for June last year, John Billing was re-elected chairman. Dr. Roberts, medical health officer, was appointed accoucheur, although the two other doctors were willing to do the work without salary.
 The police were called to 51 Merrick-street, the home of John Brockmeyer, this evening by a report that a man had stabbed his wife. He was overtaken by P. C. James Clark, and taken to the cells. His wife refused to prosecute, and he was turned loose.

DRINK SCHLITZ BEER

DRINK WHITE ROCK WATER

"ON TOP AND IN THE BOWELS OF CHEOPS' PYRAMID."

By SIGMUND KRAUSZ
From the Gentleman's Magazine, May-June, 1902.

"Walking up the road which leads from Mena House to the plateau of the Desert, I noticed a small camel caravan being photographed there, with the Cheops Pyramid as a background. The animals were laden with cases, and great white blankets hanging down their sides showed in large letters the words: 'DRINK SCHLITZ BEER, the Beer that made Milwaukee famous; DRINK WHITE ROCK WATER.' I had to smile at the Yankee business spirit which knows how to get advertisement even out of the Pyramids. I was only wondering that the enterprising advertiser had not made his legend read as follows: 'Drink Schlitz Beer, the beer that Cheops drank.'"

This proves that SCHLITZ and WHITE ROCK WATER can be found everywhere, and that these beverages have a world-wide reputation.

SAYS TEST WAS SUCCESSFUL.

Maritime Provinces Served With Mails 48 Hours Earlier.

Ottawa, July 18.—The new North Sydney mail route was discussed in the House this morning. D. A. McKenzie of North Cape Breton and Victoria asserted that the recent test with the Virginia's mails was a satisfactory one. There had been a delay of 15 hours due to fog, but this had been encountered on other routes. There had also been some loss of time in transferring the mails to the Intercolonial at North Sydney, but the Intercolonial carried the mails from North Sydney to Montreal at the rate of 43 1/2 miles per hour, crossing the mile of water between Cape Breton Island and the mainland in nineteen minutes. According to Mr. McKenzie's showing, the maritime provinces get their mails two days ahead of the usual time.

Hon. W. B. Fielding suggested that as there was a benefit at least to the lower provinces, the mails might be landed at North Sydney when the steamers took the route south of Cape Race, crossing the time when the route was thru Belle Isle the mails could hardly be carried back to North Sydney. The minister of railways told the House that a final statement was being prepared of the result of the test. Mr. Commerce also announced that the transatlantic railway commission expected to let contracts before the end of this year.

The bills respecting the salary of the first minister and respecting the senate and house of commons passed the final stages. J. J. Hughes (King, P. F. L.) said the bills were passed in a spirit of compromise. "We will have to consider the opposition," replied Mr. Hughes. "And if we decide to do it, it will be done in a spirit of compromise. The respecting annuities for certain privy councillors was also put thru and some progress made on the bill respecting the judges of provincial courts."

HARBOR TO BE KEPT CLEAR.

After Aug. 1 No Boat Must Moor South of Windmill Line.

The board of harbor commissioners met yesterday morning in the harbor masters' office. Board of Trade Building, and considerable matters were dealt with. Controller Spence (chairman) presided, and there were also present Commissioners J. H. G. Harty, Ald. Church and J. T. Matthews. A resolution of regret was adopted with the relatives of the late Klava Tully, C. E., engineer of the board for 50 years. The complaint of the Argonaut Rowing Club regarding small yachts and boats being moored south of the Windmill line was dealt with, and a bylaw was passed along the water front. The board received several complaints about small boats without lights, and the attention of the steamboat inspectors and collectors of the port was called to the breach of the law which states that boats without lights are liable to a $50 fine.

The board will lay their views before the international deep waterway joint commission regarding lake levels at a meeting in September here.

The several accounts were passed, and the commissioners will visit the Queen's Wharves when improvements are contemplated. The chairman will consider what steps are to be taken to improve the western part of the harbor and a report will be made. Controller Spence is making a most active and suitable chairman.

PACIFIC CABLE CONFERENCE.

Some Difficulty in Way of Settlement of Concessions.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.) London, July 18.—Almost daily meetings of the Pacific conference are now taking place. The delegates are considering the bill recently passed by the federal house, substituting the concessions to the Eastern Telegraph Company for ten years for the whole of Australia, for the perpetual concessions granted them by the New South Wales government. The bill will be re-introduced, was thrown out by the senate. It is likely they will be guided by the decision of the conference.

The difficulty is a serious one, but the C. A. P. is informed that some hope is entertained of a satisfactory arrangement as the outcome at next Thursday's meeting, but there is some uncertainty. It is rumored that the other country and Canada are willing that the bill, with considerable modifications, shall pass, but Queensland and New Zealand are at present opposed to it.

How to Fool a Lazy Liver with Artificial Exercise

EVERY serious sickness has its beginning in a lazy liver. And, in nine cases out of ten that small beginning is made in the bowels.

Indigestion, is the beginning of most diseases.

It paves the way for all others. Lack of exercise, hasty eating, improper food, are its first causes. It grows into Chronic Constipation, which means life-long Discomfort. It isn't necessary to be sick-a-bed, you know, in order to be mightily uncomfortable.

Even slight indigestion affects the nerves, dulls the mind, and obscures the merry sunshine of life.

And, indigestion once started, grows fast, corrodes temperament, and discounts happiness, good cheer, capacity.

It does that long before it puts you on the sick list.

Every thinking Doctor knows why.

Professor Rand knew it. That's why he framed up for Students his famous formula for Happiness, viz., "Trust in God, and keep your Bowels open."

The Bowels need adjustment from time to time, just like a clock, or a watch.

No "Good time" is humanly possible without this.

And, the time to adjust the watch is not when it has run down, nor when the main spring is broken, but at the very minute adjustment is discovered necessary.

The time to adjust the Bowels is not merely when your Head Aches, when your Liver is Sick, your Stomach in Revolt, and Nature's Food Proceeds retarded for 24 hours, or longer.

The proper time to adjust them is the very minute you suspect they need adjustment.

If your tongue is slightly coated.

If your breath is under suspicion.

If your Head feels a trifle heavy, or dull.

If Digestion seems even a little slow.

If Heartburn, Belching, Colic, or Restlessness begin to show themselves.

That's the time to eat a Cascares.

Don't imagine the Cascares is ineffective because it is pleasant to eat as Candy.

It acts as pleasantly as it tastes. It is as pleasant to your Bowels as it is to your Palate.

It is not a "Bile-driver" which floods out your stomach today with fluid juices needed for tomorrow.

But, it acts like Exercise, instead. It stimulates the muscular lining of the Bowels and Intestines, so that they mechanically digest food and drive out the waste.

This is why Cascares differ from all Purgatives, Physic, Cathartics and Whitening Drugs that help today at tomorrow's expense.

Cascares are the only Bowel and Liver medicine that do not need to be used in larger doses every month you use them.

They do not gripe, weaken, nor "upset your Stomach."

Because, they are simply a Tonic to the Muscles of the Bowels.

They are safe to use as often as needed, and the doses can be diminished from time to time, because previous doses permanently help to tone up the Muscles and Nerves that operate the Bowels and Intestines.

The time to use a Cascares is when you first suspect you need one. Begin carrying a box today, and note how Cascares help your Happiness as well as your Health.

You can try Cascares FREE before you buy. Write for Free Sample and booklet, "The Curse of Constipation," best ever printed on the subject. Address Sterling Remedial Company—374 St. Paul Street, Montreal.

NEW FLAG FLIES AT OTTAWA

WILL REPLACE TRI-COLOR

Ex-Aid, Vincent Describes the Emblem, Which is Religious and National.

The first French-Canadian flag to be flown in the Ottawa Valley is flying over the summer residence of ex-aid.

meaning of the flag in a letter to The Journal:

Editor Journal: As requested by you I enclose herewith a cut of the flag that is being generally adopted by French-Canadians. You are aware that up to the present time we have had no special flag which we could claim as our own. The pale blue shade in this flag is the color carried by the French-Canadian troops in the battle of Carillon, one of the principal events of Canadian history. The fleur-de-lis in each corner represents our history under the French regime, being also a symbol of our origin. The white cross, which is a sign of Christianity and is also part of the Union Jack, represents our history under the British crown, to which all French-Canadians are loyal subjects. The Sacred Heart represents one of the most virtuous devotions of our religion, and is an expression of our faith as Catholics, which is one of the chief characteristics of French-Canadian history. The maple leaves represent Canada as a whole, to which we have given our love also symbolized by the heart, which is the centre of love in the human being. Trusting that these few explanations will be satisfactory, I am, dear sir, yours very truly, J. U. Vincent.

SIX CASES TO BE HEARD.

County Criminal Court Calendar Before Judge Morgan.

This morning Judge Morgan will commence a busy day. Amongst those who will appear for trial before him without a jury are Mrs. Thompson, the alleged pickpocket, whose record has been traced, and who is well-known in various cities in the States.

Another who will face his honor is George Westman, who it was supposed, "stuck up" Ald. Dymond of Barrie for $200. This charge against him has been withdrawn, and he will only be arraigned on the charge of robbing Lewis, Sons & Co.

Ed. Stanley, who has a record as a pickpocket across the line, will also go up against the judge. He was arrested on the Yonge-street wharf on the charge of picking the pocket of a man named Wickham.

Lawyer Hall of Victoria-street will answer to the charge of defrauding a young Englishman out of some $100, fraud in Vancouver, B.C. Advice from Vancouver is that a warrant for him has been sent the Toronto authorities, but it has not yet been executed.

MEN, Here's an Offer.

I Don't Want Your Money Till I Cure You

You've doctored and doped till you are sick of it all. You would pay for anything that would give you back your old vim. You don't want to pay out any more money till you are sure.

I will cure you first and you can pay me afterward. Is that fair? Then get in line.

I know what I can do, because I've done it and am doing it every day. I'm sure that Electricity is the life, and that I can restore it where it's lost. So if you need what I offer, and don't want to risk my price, I'll take the chances and cure you first and then you can pay me.

And when you do pay me the cost is less than a short season of drugging, and how much more pleasant! You put my Belt on when you go to bed; you feel the soothing, electric, bilinearizing view flowing into your weak body, and while you sleep peacefully it fills you full of the fire of life. You wake up in the morning feeling like a giant.

Now, I can't cure everything. I don't claim to, and I won't take a case that I don't feel sure of, but all these troubles which come from an early waste of vitality, from dissipation of any kind, from decay of nerve power, or from any organic, stomachic, liver or kidney weakness I can cure, and those are the cases I am willing to tackle and take the chances on.

I'm curing them every day. Here are a few men who recently answered "Cured."

Chicago Markets. Marshall, Spader & Co., U. G. Beatty, King Edward Hotel, reported the following fluctuations of the Chicago Board of Trade to-day:

Table with columns for Wheat, Corn, Oats, Rye, and Flour, showing prices for various grades and contracts.

Chicago Cattle. Marshall, Spader & Co. wired J. G. Beatty (King Edward Hotel), at the close of the market to-day:

Wheat—This market reached the culmination of the long decline. With opening dip on lower cable and another favorable weather report, it soon became dead, however, that the selling pressure had exhausted itself and a sharp rally of 1 1/2c followed with buying both to cover shorts and to replace holdings, which had been abandoned.

Corn—There was again a rush of selling on favorable weather for the growing crop, and offerings were well taken care of and again the buying of old Sept. was an evidence of the character which has heretofore caused congestion in this delivery.

Oats—This market was dull and featureless. The bulls maintain the security of support to the market, claiming that cash demand will justify them not to mention the damage to the crop, which they say was too great to be reduced by any weather, no matter how favorable.

Flour—The market was dull and featureless. The bulls maintain the security of support to the market, claiming that cash demand will justify them not to mention the damage to the crop, which they say was too great to be reduced by any weather, no matter how favorable.

Weston, July 18.—About 10 o'clock last night a respectable looking woman, who gave her name as Annie Moore, called at the residence of Rev. Eight people from this place took in the C.P.R.'s homestead excursion to the North on Saturday last. Fearen & Co.'s ice cream and soda water parlors are extensively patronized. The boys were fairly noisy for the man, woman or child who makes it convenient to drop in and imbibe these refreshing and delicious beverages. Come with the crowd.

Toronto Junction. Toronto Junction, July 18.—An Italian named Pasquale Tetrucchi attempted to board the C.P.R. train at this station. He slipped and fell, the wheels passing over one of his legs, cutting it off below the knee. A physician's services were brought to Dr. G. W. Cleland's office, where he was then removed to the West-ern Hospital.

James Hutchinson, a C.P.R. employee, met with an accident in the yards today, when he was struck by a train. He was taken to the hospital.
